OLD IRON BRIDGE—The Coldwater Iron Bridge, built in 1910, now stands as a monument to a bygone era, after being closed in 1971. The bridge, which spans the West Fork of Clark's River, was a masterpiece in its day, according to Mr. Sherwood Potts, who has gathered information on the bridge. It once spanned the creek for the main highway from Murray to Mayfield. It was once a meeting place for swimming on Sunday afternoons, and baptizings were also held there. It cost an estimated $3,500 to build. The sign above the east entrance reads "Vincennes Bridge Co., 1910, Vincennes, Ind., T. W. Patterson, Co. Judge, A. B. Perry, W. J. Geurin, J. W. Wade, W. O. Hargrove, J. P. (Justices of the Peace.) After being closed in 1971, the bridge is now on the property line between land owned by Sherwood Potts and Bill Adams.

Dr. Cunningham Wins Runoff For Board of Regents

Dr. Mark Cunningham, associate professor of psychology, was elected Friday by his faculty colleagues at Murray State University to be their voice on the school's board of regents.

He defeated Dr. Howard Keller, associate professor of foreign languages, in a tight runoff election to win the seat for a three-year term. Cunningham will be installed at the next board meeting April 27.

Cunningham, a member of the faculty since 1967, got 144 votes, compared to 139 for Keller. He will succeed Dr. M.D. Hassell, associate professor of biology, who has served as faculty representative on the board since the spring of 1971.

Expressing his gratitude to the faculty who supported him by voting for him and by working in his behalf, Cunningham said he is pleased at the interest reflected in the size of the vote—about 80 percent of those eligible.

"Now I am looking forward to working with the board of regents and to helping the faculty join with the board to go forward," he added.

Balloting Friday was the third and deciding attempt to determine who will be the faculty spokesman on the 10-member board until the spring of 1977. Two earlier elections failed to decide the issue when none of the candidates polled a clear majority of the votes.

Eight candidates were on the ballot in the first election

Monday, four in the first runoff Wednesday, and finally two—Cunningham and Keller—in the final runoff.

Cunningham, 37, is a native of Princeton whose specialization is experimental psychology. He earned the A.B. degree at the University of Tampa, the M.A. degree at the University of Kentucky, and the Ph. D. degree at the University of Montana.

He and his wife, Gloria, have three children—Deborah 15, Stephanie, 14, and Mark, 12. The Cunningham family lives at 1613 Sunset Drive in Murray.

MSU Awarded Funds For LEEP Program

Murray State University has been awarded additional funding of $3,804 for the Law Enforcement Education Program (LEEP) for the current fiscal year.

Authorized by the Law Enforcement Assistance Administration, an agency within the U.S. Department of Justice, the supplemental funding increases to $10,330 the total amount available for LEEP grants this year at Murray State.

Johnny McDougal, director of student financial aid, said the LEEP grants are made by the Students Financial Aid Office directly to students who are employed full-time in criminal justice work such as law enforcement, courts or corrections.

"We are pleased that our request for additional funds was approved," McDougal added. "The increase in the funding level will make it possible for the university to assist full-time employees in the criminal justice area in taking courses during the spring intersession and the summer term."

McDougal said 25 students have been benefited during the 1973-74 school year from LEEP grants which assist eligible students in the payment of registration fees and books.

Grants recipients must agree to remain in the service of a public law enforcement agency for at least two years following completion of their courses. If that condition is not met, the grant must be repaid with seven percent interest.

McDougal said students presently enrolled or new students in full-time criminal justice work who are interested in the program are urged to contact: Student Financial Aid Office, Basement, Administration Building, Murray State University, Murray, Ky., 42071 (telephone 762-2546).

35 Years Of Coaching To End This Term For 'Dub' Russell

By DAVID HILL, Ledger & Times Staff Writer

After 35 years of molding the lives of young men, the coaching career of W.P. "Dub" Russell will come to an end at the end of this school year.

Mr. Russell, a deceptively young 60, will leave the coaching and teaching profession to enter private business.

His list of credits is long and impressive. He was the first Murray High School athlete to be named to the All-State football squad, an honor he achieved in 1932. After graduating from Murray State College, he taught and coached for one year in Mississippi, and then returned to Murray to coach until 1961. A year in Brownsville, and he was back in Murray for good.

Coach Russell dominated the Fourth District baseball scene, taking two regional championships and making it to the state finals in baseball. He has also been regarded as one of the finest football line coaches in the region throughout his years with Murray.

"He has been a great asset to the Murray High athletic program," Athletic Director Ty Holland said. "I can't put into words how I feel about him, he's just tops in every way. We're certainly going to miss him."

"He is an unusual man," Superintendent Fred Schultz said. "Unusual to the extent of his dedication and loyalty. He is always ready to help anyone; I'm afraid we have imposed on him many times in the past. He's quite a talented person."

"He even donated his time to the Murray High athletic program while he was in college here," Schultz remembered. "I just can't say enough about him."

Although Mr. Russell has not been active in the coaching field this year, Schultz gives him credit for organizing what will soon develop into a fine athletic program at the Murray Middle School.

Mr. Russell has also served as assistant principal at M.M.S., although he does not officially have that title—only another in an increasingly long line of helping tasks that he has performed, and the list will undoubtedly continue.

Coach Russell has enjoyed his life as coach and teacher. "There is very little I would change, even if I could," he said. "But most of the credit must go to the students themselves."

"It's good to see kids make it who shouldn't have," the Coach said. "Sometimes their determination will fool you."

The list of boys who have emerged young men under the helpful guidance of Coach Russell is impressive, too, including many of the physicians, lawyers, businessmen and other professional men in Murray.

What did he enjoy most in 35 years? "Football, I guess. We

Taylor Selected As Conference Delegate

George Taylor, Rt. 7, Murray, will serve as Calloway County representative to the 1974 Youth Conference on the Campus of Centre College in Danville, Ky., according to an announcement made today by the Kentucky Youth Development Foundation.

This year's conference, the eighth annual summer meeting, will bring together some 350 high school age young Kentuckians for four days of seminars, workshops, speakers, films and other activities focusing on the role Kentucky youth can play in planning and organizing significant projects in their local communities.

As in the past, the announcement said, the delegates to the conference will be depending on the interest and generosity of businesses and civic organizations in their local communities for payment of their registration fee.

Any Calloway County residents interested in attending the 1974 conference, which will be held June 13-16, and any local civic organization or business interested in sponsoring a Calloway County delegate should contact Taylor at Rt. 7, Murray, phone 435-4465.

Local Youth Named Recipient Of Presidential Scholarship

Two high school seniors from this area have been selected among the award recipients in the new Presidential Scholars Program at Murray State University.

They are: Quentin Lee Fannin, Calloway County High School; and Kathleen Denise Doyle, Trigg County High School. They rank at the top of their respective graduating classes academically.

Their selection places them in the first group of recipients in the program announced earlier this year by Dr. Constantine W. Curris, Murray State president, to recognize outstanding high school scholars by awarding them full scholarships to the university.

As Presidential Scholars, Fannin and Miss Doyle will receive "essentially the same benefits given to outstanding athletes," explained Curris. The scholarship covers tuition and fees, dormitory accommodations and a meal ticket.

Renewable each year for four years, the scholarships have been described by Curris as "the first in any Kentucky university which give the same emphasis to scholars as is given to athletes and which allow recipients maximum academic flexibility in planning programs of study."

Fannin, the son of Mr. and

Quentin L. Fannin

Mrs. Talmadge E. Fannin of Murray Route 5, plans to concentrate his studies in the fields of biology and chemistry in preparation for a career as a marine biologist.

A National Merit Finalist, Fannin is listed in "Who's Who" and has won the National Forensic League Degree of Excellence—and academic awards in biology, geography, English, physical science, debate and health.

His activities include vice-presidential officer of the Ruling Expected Thursday On Whether Cook Can Be On Ballot

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Franklin Circuit Court is expected to rule next Thursday on whether U.S. Sen. Marlow Cook can be on the ballot May 28 as a candidate for re-election in the Republican primary election.

Circuit Judge Henry Meigs set that day for a hearing on the merits of the case Friday and said he planned to hand down his decision then as well.

Attorneys for both sides said

Friday they felt the issue strictly was one of law and so little evidence would be needed. Some pleadings are expected to be introduced before the hearing.

Meanwhile, Meigs modified the original restraint Cook had obtained against Secretary of State Helma Stovall, a Democrat. He granted Cook a temporary injunction Friday preventing Mrs. Stovall from certifying any candidate for the Republican nomination for senator until Cook's status is settled.

On Monday, Cook obtained a restraining order preventing Mrs. Stovall from certifying any candidate in the primary, including both Republicans and Democrats running for Congress as well as senator.

State law required Mrs. Stovall to certify the candidates by Friday so county clerks can start preparing ballots and voting machines for the election.

County clerks and some others might get confused, Meigs said, if she were to certify the other two GOP candidates for senator now and then get an amended certification on Cook later, if he wins his court suit.

The other two Republican candidates are William Klein, Louisville, and Thurman Jerome Hamlin, London, both of whom have run for political offices in the past but never have won.

Cook went to court to get on the ballot this week after Atty. Gen. Ed Hancock, a Democrat, said he could not be certified to appear on the ballot because his filing papers had been incomplete. Cook failed to file a report naming his campaign treasurer until two days after the April 3 filing deadline.

Symphony Orchestra In Concert Thursday

The Murray State University Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Neale B. Mason will present "A Concert for Spring" on the campus Thursday, April 18.

Scheduled at 8:15 p.m. in the University School auditorium, the program will feature Dr. Carl D. Mowery of the music faculty as the guest artist. He will perform as a tuba soloist during the playing of three movements from "Concertino for Tuba and Strings" by Frackenpohl.

Other numbers by the 56-member orchestra on the program are four movements from "Symphony No. 8 in F Major, Opus 93" by Beethoven, "Introduction et Cortège de Noces" (from "Le Coq d'Or") by Rimsky-Korsadow, and "Overture to 'Benvenuto Cellini,' Opus 23" by Berlioz.

Sponsored by the music department and the College of Creative Expression, the spring concert is an annual program by the orchestra, which is one of the major performing organizations on the campus.

Mason, an associate professor of music who has been on the faculty since 1949, said the concert is open to the public at no admission charge.

Mowery, who earned the Doctor of Music Education degree at the University of Oklahoma, joined the music faculty at Murray State in 1970.

Murder, Suicide Ruling In Deaths Of Marshall Couple

Marshall County Coroner Jess Collier has ruled the deaths of an elderly Marshall County couple as murder and suicide.

The bodies of Otis L. Mohundro and his wife Vera were found in an automobile in the driveway of their home at Calvert City Friday morning. Collier said that Mrs. Mohundro was shot in the left temple and Mr. Mohundro in the right temple. A .22 calibre pistol was in Mr. Mohundro's hand, according to the coroner.

Mohundro was a retired civil service employee. He and his wife were 79 years of age. Marshall County authorities said Mrs. Mohundro has been a patient at Cedar Crest Rest Home for about 10 days, and that Mohundro had picked her up at 9:30 Friday morning to take her driving.

MURRAY LEDGER & TIMES For and about Women

Don't hurt hostess,
avoid other guest

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Here are the facts: A lady was invited to a dinner party. While being greeted by her hostess, she saw a guest whom she had good reason to dislike intensely. She turned around and left immediately.

We [her friends] are divided in our opinions. Some of us think she should have stayed and ignored the guest she disliked. Others say she was justified in leaving.

What would you have done if you had been in that situation?

DIVIDED

DEAR DIVIDED: Offhand, out of consideration for my hostess I'd probably have stayed and avoided the guest I disliked. But what I would have done cannot be used as a fair criterion. For that I would have to have walked for at least two miles in that lady's moccasins.

DEAR ABBY: Please help settle a dispute between my husband and me. We've been married a year, and until last week everything was fine and dandy. Last Saturday night we were invited to a party at some friends' house. I bought myself a new dress for the occasion. It had a plunging neckline, and as I am sort of bosomy, it was a little revealing.

I thought it looked good. However when I put it on, my husband refused to take me to the party unless I changed to something more conservative. Well, I refused, so we ended up staying home.

I think my husband is wrong in dictating what I should wear. I am young and pretty and enjoy admiring looks from other men. Is this so wrong, Abby? I could understand my husband's objections if I were too fat or old to wear a dress like that.

He said he wanted to protect me from unwanted advances, and secondly, he wanted me all to himself; he doesn't want other men to see that much of me. What do you think of this?

MAD AT MY HUSBAND

DEAR MAD: Some husbands do not object if their wives wear revealing clothes, in which case, fine. But since your husband does—don't!

DEAR ABBY: We are members of a small junior college baseball team who are going through the same problem thousands of high schools and colleges are going through each year. The coach insists upon our getting our hair cut off at the ears and at the top of our collars. This is his first year as a baseball coach, and he expects us to sacrifice our hair for baseball, although this college offers no scholarships, and the team agrees that they would give 100 per cent at all times. We can't see how the length of our hair can make a difference in how we play.

In order for our college to play baseball we must have at least 15 guys out, and when a coach makes such stiff demands, it causes some guys to quit. This in turn hurts the school's chances for a winning team.

What's your opinion, Abby?

TALL CORN STATE
DEAR CORN: I don't want to throw you a curve, but I'm with you 50 per cent. An athlete's hair should be short enough in front so it doesn't get into his eyes, but what goes on in the back should be his decision.

CONFIDENTIAL TO CONCERNED IN TARENTUM, PA.: Your husband is 100 per cent wrong! Men can have breast cancer. He should see a doctor about that lump in his breast at once.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L. A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Cal. 90212.

Area Traffic Fatalities Shocking

The Kentucky State Police released a shocking and dismaying report on traffic fatalities in the Post One area earlier this week. The report, which covers the 11-county district served by the post, listed a total of 26 traffic fatalities in the district for the first three months of 1973 was only 14, nearly half as many.

The shocking thing about this report is that drivers are supposedly slowing down in order to conserve fuel as well as observe the relatively new 55 mile per hour speed limit on the nation's highway. Plus most people are reported to be driving less, and for shorter distances.

Early reports on the 55 mph speed limit revealed that fewer and less serious accidents were occurring across the nation and some states now report a reduction of up to 20 per cent in the number of traffic fatalities compared with statistics from a year ago. Apparently the motorists of Western Kentucky have slowed down but it is obvious from the number of deaths reported that we are still driving carelessly.

As we have said before, if the average driver will depart for his destination 10 to 15 minutes earlier and drive 10 mph hour slower on the way, he'll still get wherever he's going in plenty of time and probably enjoy the trip more at the slower pace.

We urge our readers to slow down. It is tragic for lives to be snuffed out in preventable traffic accidents.

Letters To The Editor

Comments On Comments

Dear Editor:

The Copley News Service's Guest editorial (4-11-74) against public financing of national political campaigns is so loaded with factual errors and baseless conclusions that we can comment on only a few of them:

Editorial: public financing "would give unfair advantage to incumbents."

Comment: Wrong. Under the present system in the 1972 Congressional elections, a study by Common Cause has shown, the incumbents of both parties were on the average able to raise TWICE as much as challengers in campaign funds. Public financing provides that all qualified candidates will have funds necessary to communicate their views to the voters, under certain spending limits.

Editorial: Public financing "would encourage frivolous candidates who enter primaries on the strength of the federal handout."

Comment: The fact is that a House candidate for one example, would have to raise $10,000 in amounts of $100 or less before qualifying for any federal funds, hardly a task to encourage frivolous candidates.

Editorial: Public financing "would almost certainly weaken the two-party system."

Comment: Such dedicated party leaders as Senators Hugh Scott, Republican, and Senator Mike Mansfield, Democrat, disagree with this opinion of the anonymous editorialist and, indeed, favor public financing.

The fact is, as evidenced by the Senate passing the clean elections bill which includes public financing, that most of us now realize that someone has to pay for political campaigns. As costs have sky-rocketed in recent years, political candidates have increasingly found it necessary to lean heavily on big-money contributors-wealthy persons and special interests.

It is clearly preferable that we all share the expenses of our electoral process and take politics out of the hands of the few who can afford to pay. The cost to the individual taxpayer would be small, about a dollar a year, one of the best buys we will ever get for a buck.

Oil Support Urged

Dear Editor:

There is no way we can get something for nothing. We must pay more for energy than we are accustomed to because it is more scarce than it once was. There is no way to roll back crude oil priced without rolling back crude oil development.

The oil companies deserve everyone's support in providing proper incentives to explore and discover new sources of badly needed crude oil. This is very risky and expensive.

The future of our energy depends on proper Congressional support. You are urged to get involved for your own protection.

Sincerely,
C. C. Moseley

EASTER - THE RESURRECTION

Luke 23:50, 55-56 & Luke 24:1-9
From The Living Bible

Then a man named Joseph, a member of the Jewish Supreme Court, from the city of Arimathea in Judea, went to Pilate and asked for the body of Jesus. As the body was taken away, the women from Galilee followed and saw it carried into the tomb. Then they went home and prepared spices and ointments to embalm him; but by the time they were finished it was the Sabbath, so they rested all that day as required by the Jewish law. But very early on Sunday morning they took the ointments to the tomb - and found that the huge stone covering the entrance had been rolled aside. So they went in - but the Lord Jesus' body was gone. They stood there puzzled, trying to think what could have happened to it. Suddenly two men appeared before them, clothed in shining robes so bright their eyes were dazzled. The women were terrified and bowed low before them. Then the men asked, "Why are you looking in a tomb for someone who is alive? He isn't here! He has come back to life again! Don't you remember what he told you back in Galilee - that the Messiah must be betrayed into the power of evil men and be crucified and that he would rise again the third day?" Then they remembered, and rushed back to Jerusalem to tell his eleven disciples - and everyone else - what had happened.

With the dogwoods in full bloom and the service berry bushes jeweling the forest, spring warblers and many of the familiar sounds and smells of spring are with us again.

A recent arrival, the chuck willows longing call rings through the forest once again. Spring just wouldn't be the same without this bird.

For those of you that have never heard a wild turkey gobble, they're Gobbling in the LBL. Racetrack and currie hollow may be the best place to hear one if you have the urge.

Many fishermen are out again in search of old Mr. bass.

Jim Knight says he wanted everybody to know that the bass he took in Florida didn't weigh 14 pounds. But he did catch a 10 pound hawg earlier in the year.

ubb Polley and Fred Herndon took a hefty string of lunker bass out of Cypress Springs last week. The two took 13 bass and 10 crappie; the little scooper was the hot bait for these men.

Cypress is on the murky side of muddy after all this rain lately and 57 degrees, according to the Lowrance Surface Temperature Meter. Don E. Jones has been at those lunkers again. It seems Cypress is the honey spot this time of the year.

Blood River is producing a few crappie, but very slow. Lyle Underwood lugged in a hawg bass weighing seven pounds eleven ounces along with several nice smaller bass on his hefty string. Charlie Scott reports that you fishermen can get your breakfast now at the Cobb restaurant from 5 a.m. to 1 p.m.

Lake levels fluctuate at 355 with an average temperature of 58 degrees. The time is right, so grab your Lure Speed Stick and your Tackle box, Lets go Fishing.

Say we missed your fish by a ounce or 2, maybe even a pound, huh? If we got the message from you instead of Second-Hand maybe you'd like more of what you read about yourself in the Fins 'n Feathers.

Terry Tatlock, Murray Rt. Five, holds a lunker Bass that will push the 8 pound mark.

Fishing Report

BARKLEY — Crappie fair in inlets and bays, over submerged cover and below dam; muddy, stable, three feet below summer pool, 59 degrees.

KENTUCKY — Crappie fair to good around submerged cover; black bass fair on spinner baits around rocky points and banks; sauger and white bass below dam; murky to muddy.

Eddie Youngblood proudly displays the eight pound-two ounce lunker he took out of Cypress last week. He took the bass on a rocky point.

West Ky. Wild Turkey Federation To Meet Monday Night

Turkey hunters will congregate above the Murray city hall Monday night for the first meeting of the Kentucky Wild Turkey Federation. The meeting will convene at 7 p.m.

A turkey call will be given as a door prize.

George Wright, Auburn, Alabama, turkey biologist will present the program on hunting and management of the wild turkey.

Officers for the year will be elected. Club dues are expected to be very low and gains from the Club very high.

Whether you're a novice or pro turkey hunter, come on up Monday night to see what we're all about. You may improve your skills of turkey hunting.

One of the nation's most elusive game birds, the wild turkey gobbler, will be the pursuit of hundreds of hunters who will converge on Land Between the Lakes for the opening of the spring turkey hunt April 18. Three 3-day hunts will be held this spring. April 18, 19 and 20; April 25, 26 and 27; and May 2, 3 and 4. Sportsmen interested in participating in the hunts can pick up their free Land Between the Lakes permit by presenting their Kentucky hunting license at the information office in Golder

Pond, at Center Station in the Environmental Education Center, and at North Information on The Trace. The hunts will be held in the Kentucky sector of Land Between The Lakes north of U.S. Highway 68 to Barkley Canal. Hunters are not required to check in but must check out by 11 a.m. prevailing time. Check stations are located near the junctions of The Trace and U.S. 68, and at the North Information station on The Trace.

Safe Boating

By Lloyd Ford

Boating, fishing, and all of the other related outdoor sports are wonderful recreational activities. Unfortunately there will probably be over 7,000 deaths due to drowning in the United States this year. Deaths due to motor vehicle accidents, falls, and burns will probably be the only categories to outrank accidental death due to drowning. The following suggestions should cut down on the chances of you becoming one of these drowning victims.

You should learn to swim, if you can't swim wear a life preserver. Although a life preserver cannot be counted on to prevent drowning certainly your chances are greater with it. Most accidents occur so suddenly that passengers are thrown into the water without ever having time to put on a life jacket.

You should know the capabilities of your boat and how it will handle under any given conditions. If you are going to rent a boat be sure you understand completely its operation. Use your boat for the purpose for which it was built don't overpower, or overload it.

Learn how to be a safe boater, take a course in small craft operations from the Coast Guard or the Red Cross. If you are new to boating, practice under an experienced operator before going out alone. Always obey marine law, and the rules of the road. Stay alert to underwater objects that you might collide with. Watch the other boats in your area if you see someone in trouble lend a hand, someday you might need help yourself.

Keep your craft seaworthy and in good repair. Know what equipment the law requires you to have for your class of boat. Before going boating check your equipment so that you may spot trouble before it happens. Look for leaks, check your motor or sails.

Limit your load to your craft. A boat will become unstable if it is improperly loaded. You should keep the center of gravity low, balance should be maintained from bow to stern as well as side to side. It is important to distribute your passengers evenly as well.

Getting into a boat for a lot of people is a tricky maneuver, always come in over the bow if you are entering from a dock. Step lightly, on the floor not the seats, keep low, and move evenly along the boat. Leave the boat from amidship, always move as smoothly as possible.

Be a cautious pilot watch your wake, and avoid high speed turns. When passing beaches or other boats reduce speed. Be able to read signs and signals on rivers and lakes. Avoid discourtesies such as blowing your horn without reason and using your spotlight unnecessarily.

Always carry lifesavers, small children should wear them at all times. Keep your fire fighting equipment in good order. Check it often to be sure it is still serviceable. Have markers, lines, and boat hooks handy for emergency use. If someone falls overboard balance the boat while they crawl in over the bow or stern. If your boat capsizes stay with it until help arrives, don't try to swim ashore.

Be familiar with storm warning, high winds are always dangerous even for the experienced pilot. In bad weather head for the nearest anchorage or landing. Squalls come up quickly over water so learn to read cloud formations. If you are caught out in the water in bad weather head your boat into the wind and reduce speed.

We need not fear water, only respect it. If you understand your limitations and those of your boat then certainly the world of water sports is wide open to you and your family.

Fred Herndon and Dubb Polley hold a hefty string of bass and crappie they took on a little scooper. The two were fishing out of Cypress Springs Resort.

Discovering The Outdoors

By Butch Greer

For a lot of us, finding our way through the woods is no problem. On occasion, though, we get turned around and end up "temporarily" lost and walk what seems to be 10 miles before we find the car or truck. To prevent being kidded by his friends, a veteran outdoorsman will rarely admit he ever really got lost - he may say he was momentarily misplaced, though.

Interpretation of the predicament makes little difference when trying to find our way out of the situation. "Which way would I go?" Even though we might be generally familiar with the area and still not sure of which way to go, a system can be employed to aid us.

stick is so simple and reliable that the U. S. Army is expected to adopt it.

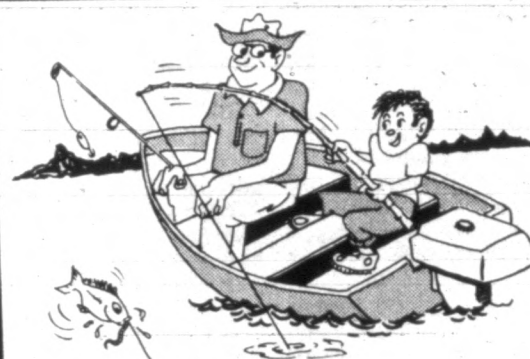

An open area where the sun will cast a shadow is needed and a stick about 3 or 4 feet long. Set the stick in the ground vertically and find a rock or other object to mark the tip of the shadow. After a few minutes the shadow will have moved. Mark the tip of the shadow with another stone. Now draw a straight line from the first rock to the second. This line runs east and west with the first rock being the west end. North is found by drawing the shortest line from the base of the stick to the east and west line.

Simple? Of course it is. Try it in your back yard and familiarize yourself with it. It may save you some unnecessary walking if you ever get "turned around" in the woods.

"FISH TALK"

By Don Latta

THE BIGGEST THRILL OF ALL

A person can spend a lifetime learning all there is to know about fishing but when that "final cast" is made, he can still wind up with an "empty stringer". Yes, if mere personal satisfaction was the sum total of his experience, he missed out on the biggest thrill of all. The thrill of sharing his knowledge with a youngster! If you'd like to become a kid's "fishing instructor" here's a few rules to observe. Above all, keep it simple! A cane pole, bobber and can of worms is an ideal rig for the first-timer. And avoid giving too much advice. Let them foul up things their own way - most will learn from their mistakes. Keep them from feeling bored - take frequent breaks for a pop or candy bar. But most important, try to find where the small perch are apt to be. Now, watch the expression on the kid's face when something yanks that bobber under - it will match any fishing thrill you've ever had!

And there's a personal satisfaction in achieving financial independence - to know you are free of money worries. Regular deposits to a savings account is the secret. Why wait, start a security account of your own now.

Atlanta Flames Down Swinging

By The Associated Press
The Atlanta Flames are going down, but never let it be said they didn't go down swinging — at referees as well as opponents.

"I admit I hit the referee," said Atlanta goalie Dan Bouchard after his team's 4-1 National Hockey League playoff loss to Philadelphia Friday night.

"If he had been a good, competent ref, I should have been thrown out of the game."

Referee Pete Newell did not banish Bouchard after the second-period incident, which may have been even crueller punishment. The Flames now trail 3-0 in the best-of-seven series and face elimination Sunday night at home.

The other three NHL playoff series resume tonight. The Montreal Canadiens visit the New York Rangers after splitting two games in Montreal, the Boston Bruins take a 2-0 lead into Atlanta against the Flames, and the Chicago Black Hawks, leading 2-0, visit the Los Angeles Kings.

There were three World Hockey Association playoff games Friday night. The Toronto Toros downed the Cleveland Crusaders 4-2 to take a 3-0 lead in that series, the Chicago Cougars beat the defending champion New England Whalers 4-2 to take a 3-2 lead and the Edmonton Oilers won their first game in four tries — a 2-1 decision over the Minnesota Fighting Saints.

The fourth WHA series continues tonight with the Winnipeg Jets, down two games to none, visiting the Houston Aeros.

The Flyers and the Flames spent much of last night's contest fighting each other as well as referee Newell. The clubs ran up a total 144 penalty minutes, 90 of them resulting from a wild free-for-all that halted play for 25 minutes in the second period.

Just 16 seconds after order was restored, Rick MacLeish scored a disputed goal for Philadelphia, prompting another hassle. The Flyers led 2-1 when MacLeish's shot appeared to carom off the right post. The red goal light didn't go on but Newell immediately proclaimed it a goal.

At which point Bouchard skated up the referee and punched him.

"It hit the crossbar, no way it was in," said Bouchard. "That killed the game. That was a crucial call. We had momentum."

Al Downing of Los Angeles gave up another homer. The first, of course, was Aaron's momentous 715th. The second was Lee May's three-run bomb that carried Houston to a 5-3 victory over the Dodgers in the night's only other National League game.

Padres Top San Francisco For Season's First Victory

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer
The San Diego Padres finally did something they'd been unable to do all year, the Pittsburgh Pirates still can't do it.

Cincinnati's Merv Rettenmund hit a big one Friday night in Atlanta, a grand slammer. Not that the Reds exactly needed it. They beat the Braves' brains out, waltzing to a 14-2 victory.

The Padres, the whipping boys of the National League until now, finally put some clutch pitching, hitting and fielding together for nine innings and got their first victory of the season, beating San Francisco 3-2.

The Pirates are still looking for their first victory, though. It took them 11 innings to lose their fifth of the year, a 7-6 thriller to the St. Louis Cardinals.

Buffalo Coach Files Protest Following 106-104 Loss Friday

By JOHN NELSON
AP Sports Writer
Time just ran out on Buffalo Coach Jack Ramsay's 4-year-old child. Or did it?

Ramsay, acting the part of a disappointed parent, fussed and fumed, then filed an official protest Friday after the Braves were apparently eliminated from the National Basketball Association playoffs by Boston 106-104.

The Celtics, who are scheduled to move on to the Eastern Conference finals against New York Sunday, won the game when Jo Jo White connected on two free throws, standing by himself on the court and no time left on the clock.

"You don't end a playoff series on a foul like that," Ramsay said after the game and before he'd seen the video tapes. Then, after Ramsay checked the tapes, a Braves' spokesman said a telegram was sent to NBA headquarters protesting the game.

"There was a gap of about two seconds after the alleged foul when time was allowed to run out," Ramsay said. "I believe the game should be restarted with two seconds remaining."

New York clinched its berth in the Eastern Conference finals by beating the Capital Bullets 91-88 in a series that had gone down to its seventh game.

In other games today, the Kentucky Colonels and New York Nets open their ABA East Division finals in New York, and Detroit and Chicago decide the winner of their NBA Western Conference semifinal series at Chicago.

Cleveland Picks Up First Win Of Season Friday Night

By BERT ROSENTHAL

What appeared to be a "juicy" rerun of a rhabarber-filled game played earlier this season — controversial Gaylord Perry of Cleveland and his alleged spitter pitching against the New York Yankees with umpire Marty Springstead working behind the plate — turned out to be just a relatively "dry" run.

Not once did Springstead formally charge the Indians' balding right-hander with wetting his pitches Friday night — as he had done on opening day when the Yankees beat Perry 6-1 in New York.

Springstead questioned only one pitch, in the eighth inning of the Indians' 9-1 romp — their first victory in six games this season. And by that time, it didn't matter. And the home plate umpire didn't even bother warning Perry, only cautioning catcher Dave Duncan that the pitch looked suspicious.

Meanwhile, in other American League games Friday, the Baltimore Orioles downed the Milwaukee Brewers 5-3, the California Angels massacred the Chicago White Sox 15-1, the Boston Red Sox beat the Detroit Tigers 6-3, and the Kansas City at Minnesota game was postponed because of wet grounds.

The Yanks, however, were not convinced of Perry's innocence, charging that he still was delivering illegal pitches. The Indians clipped loser Pat Dobson for two runs in the second inning, then wrapped it up with a six-run barrage in the fourth, highlighted by Frank Duffy's three-run homer and John Ellis' two-run single. Buddy Bell's solo homer in the eighth completed the scoring.

Meanwhile, Perry — wetting the ball or not — was mowing down the Yanks. He didn't allow a hit after Bill Sudakis' one-out single in the fourth, and retired the last 14 batters after Roy White led off the fifth with a walk and was erased on a double play.

Stockton Fires 6-Under 66 To Take Master Lead Friday

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — He's a scrambler, a spoiler and a scrapper and he's the thunder-clap that snapped the 38th Masters Golf Tournament out of its 48 hours of lethargy.

"I don't remind anybody of Ben Hogan," says Dave Stockton, "but I get the job done. Nobody wants to play Jack Nicklaus head-to-head but I like the idea of trying to beat him here, where he owns the air."

Stockton, 32, from Westlake, Calif., with the dark good looks of a Hollywood matinee idol, fired a six-under-par 66 to take the lead into today's third round over the 7,020-yard, submissive Augusta National course.

He provided the shock needed to wake everybody up. "I am confident," he insisted. "Sometimes I pump myself up and tell everybody I'm playing super. It's just a show because I'm scared. Now I really feel it. I don't feel scared of anybody."

Stockton's 71-66-137, seven under par, gave him a single stroke advantage over Hubert Green and Hale Irwin, each with 68-70, and two shots over the veteran Frank Beard, 69-70, and Jim Colbert, the first round leader, 67-72.

The six-foot Californian didn't have to look much farther back to see the menacing shadows of some of the game's most potent practitioners: the 3-1 favorite Nicklaus, British Open king Tom Weiskopf, Gene Littler, Jerry Heard and Dan Sikes, were all bracketed at 140.

Before Stockton scrambled in near the end of the day Friday with his spectacular round — bouncing the ball off trees, slamming out of constant trouble and fending off disaster with a blast-hot putter — everyone was decrying the fact that no player was making a move.

"So many of us are playing head-to-head, nobody is springing out in front," Irwin said. "There's nobody out there to chase."

Nicklaus, shooting for his fifth Masters crown quickly agreed. "If somebody shot real wet," Jack said, "the others would follow. The course is sitting out there, ready to be taken."

Most of the players and the other observers felt that Big Jack was the man to do it in the closing rounds today and Sunday. Although he has played two rather mediocre rounds — for Nicklaus — the blond bombardier was only three shots off the pace after a 71. Stockton's 66 was the best round of the day, with Miller Barber getting a 67 to place at 142. Tied at 141 were former champion Bill Casper, J.C. Snead, Ray Floyd, Phil Rodgers and Bobby Nichols.

The cutoff for the low 44 players and ties was 148. Casualties included Tommy Aaron, the defending champion, 77-73-150; former champion Gay Brewer, 75-75-150, and Tony Jacklin, former U.S. and British Open champion from England, 81-71-152.

For the first time, no amateur qualified. Britain's Trevor Homer, 1972 British amateur champion, had the best score — 77-72-149. He was a 5,000-1 shot in the British books.

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Leading second-round scores Friday in the 38th Masters Golf Tournament on the 7,020-yard, par 72 Augusta National Golf course:

Friday's Sports In Brief
HOUSTON — The Houston Texans of the new World Football League named Jim Garrett, a former assistant coach for the New York Giants, as their new head coach.

NEWPORT BEACH, Calif. — World Team Tennis agreed to pay a sanction fee of $98,000 to the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

HATTIESBURG, Miss. — Heavy rains forced a halt in second-round play in the $35,000 Magnolia Golf Classic.

Newcombe, Laver Advance

By The Associated Press
Australians John Newcombe and Rod Laver, nemesis of the Americans in last year's Davis Cup finals, have advanced to the semifinals in separate World Championship Tennis tournaments this week.

Newcombe, touring with the WCT Blue Group, beat Raul Ramirez of Mexico 6-4, 6-3 Friday to advance in a $50,000 tournament at Orlando, Fla., setting the stage for a possible rematch of his Davis Cup clash with Stan Smith. Smith beat Cliff Richey 6-1, 6-3.

In Tokyo, Laver and Bjorn Borg of Sweden won their quarter-finals in a Green Group tournament. The veteran Laver eliminated Ray Moore of South Africa 6-3, 4-6, 6-4, and Borg beat Guillermo Villas of Argentina 6-4, 6-3.

In a Red Group tournament, top-seeded Ilie Nastase of Romania gained the semifinals of the Monte Carlo Open Tennis Championships by beating John Alexander of Australia 7-6, 6-4. Nastase will meet Marty Riessen in the semifinals. Riessen won his quarter-final match over Cliff Drysdale of South Africa 7-4, 6-3.

Two Named To Hall Of Fame

Fred Faurot, head football coach at Murray State University from 1948-1955, and Al Giordano, an All-America guard and linebacker for Murray, have been named to the University's Athletic Hall of Fame.

The two new hall of fame members will be recognized at the University's All-Sports Banquet, April 24.

Faurot's teams at Murray State won 43 games, lost 29, and tied 3. His 1948, 1950, and 1951 teams won Ohio Valley Conference championships and his 1948 team played in the Tangerine Bowl, tying Sul Ross College 21-21. His 1952 team missed by only a one-point loss tying for the OVC title and his 1954 team was second in the league. The 1948 team compiled a 9-1-1 record. The 1951 team was 8-1 and the 1950 team 7-2-1.

Faurot was head coach at Central Missouri College and Parsons College before coming to Murray and for his 16 years of college coaching was 79-54-10. He is a graduate of the University of Missouri where he played fullback for the Tigers.

Faurot is currently assistant principal at David Hickman School, Columbia Mo.

Giordano played for the Racers from 1954-56 and was twice chosen to All-America and All-Ohio Valley Conference teams. He was ineligible to play his senior season because he had played professional baseball after high school. The OVC had permitted athletes who had been a professional in one sport to participate in others until 1956.

Giordano graduated from Murray in 1958 and has taught and coached at Caldwell County High School since. He was assistant football and baseball coach until 1972 when he was named head football coach. In 1965, Giordano was named the Outstanding Athlete for the last 25 years at his Farmingdale High School in New York, where he earned four varsity letters in football, five in baseball, three in basketball, and one in wrestling. He played professional baseball three seasons.

LEADS ARMY ELEVEN

WEST POINT, N.Y. (AP) — Army's 1974 football team will have its first black captain in history next season. He is Bob Johnson, a junior defensive end. Johnson is a graduate of Mitchell High School in Memphis. He also competes for the Cadets as a 190-pound wrestler.

6-cylinder Comet

February 19, 1974: In a 379 mile highway test through Arizona and California, supervised by General Environmental Corporation, a Comet and a Capri with standard engines and transmissions delivered the kind of gas mileage you'd like to get. Each car was broken in the equivalent of 6,000 miles and driven by non-professional drivers, never exceeding 50 mph. You yourself might actually average less, or for that matter, more! Because mileage varies according to maintenance, equipment, total weight, driving habits and road conditions. And no two drivers, or even cars, are exactly the same. MOST PEOPLE GET MOST OF THEIR NEWS FROM DAILY NEWSPAPERS with the advent of instant news from Electronic media, highlights of international & national news are rapidly brought to people. Because tv is limited by time, details necessary for complete understanding cannot be presented.

IF YOU WERE TO GET ALL INTERNATIONAL NEWS FROM TV YOU WOULD NOT GET BUT 5% OF THE NEWS YOU REQUIRE TO BE FULLY INFORMED.

Each daily newspaper is tailored to give the people thousands of items of local news never presented on tv because it would be impossible in their time limits to present it.

Walter Cronkite was baited by an area tv newscaster in a recent interview concerning the false conception that people get most of their news from tv. Mr. Cronkite said he didn't think they did and if so, he was sorry for the people.

It is obvious that Mr. Cronkite, who himself, gets most of his information from reading believes it would be dangerous for the American people to believe that they can be informed from one source. Mr. Cronkite suggested that to be fully informed, people should turn to all media and that all are helpful in various ways.

ABOUT 95% OF THE NEWS YOU READ IN THE MURRAY LEDGER & TIMES IS LOCAL NEWS.

Television, because it cannot give you details of news and the thousands of items of local interest feels compelled to distort the definition of what news really is.

NEWS IS WHAT INTERESTS YOU

We feel safe in saying you are more interested in these things that affect your immediate community and family and which you would not know if it were not for your local newspaper.

THE NEXT TIME YOU HEAR THE QUESTION: WHERE DO YOU GET MOST OF YOUR NEWS? REMEMBER MOST NEWS IS LOCAL AND SO ARE ALL DAILY NEWSPAPERS.

YOU PROVE THIS TO YOURSELF WHEN YOU ASK YOURSELF: WHERE DID I LEARN ABOUT

1. What Abby had to say
2. What club is meeting and where
3. Who died
4. Who was born
5. Box scores
6. Athletic statistics

Interest Ceiling To Jump On Federal Loans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal interest rate ceiling on government-backed mortgage loans will jump from 8 1/2 to 9 percent Monday, matching an all-time high.

James T. Lynn, secretary of housing and urban development, announced the quarter per cent rise in the ceiling on Federal Housing Administration and Veterans' Administration loans Friday night, saying the change was necessary because of higher interest rates across the economy.

"I have reluctantly taken this step because it is vital to keep the FHA as an available, practical, mortgage money source for American home buyers," Lynn said.

Entomology Americana Display Set

A display entitled Entomology Americana will be presented by Special Services in the Cultural-Media Center at Murray State University April 15-19.

To be on exhibit from 8:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily in Room 1, Basement, Wrather Hall, the display, which is open to the public, will include a personal collection of insects collected in America by Vicki Fernengel of Murray, a graduate student in biology at the university.

Emphasizing the approach to the science of entomology (study of insects), the display includes samples of several insect orders, Coleoptera, Neuroptera, Ephemeroptera, Homoptera, Orthoptera and Lepidoptera.

Special Services is a federally funded post-secondary educational program which offers student assistance at Murray State. The Cultural-Media Center, designed to provide the student with the resources and a facility to encourage investigation of his cultural heritage, is one phase of the Special Services program.

The Entomology Americana display is the second in a series of programs to be offered at the center in April.

Further information about the center may be obtained by contacting: Linda Shepard, TRIO Center, Basement, Wrather Hall, Murray State University, Murray, Ky., 42071, (telephone 753-3825).

Uninsured Damage To Schools Can Be Paid By Government

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Federal officials say any uninsured school property in Kentucky damaged by last week's tornadoes would be paid for by federal funds.

All officials of schools affected by the storms in Kentucky were invited to a meeting in Frankfort Friday, where available programs were outlined by two federal officials.

"We don't know how many schools were damaged in this state or any other state," said Tom Bowen, field engineer in the Atlanta office of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. "But we are working on a priority basis—some of you have been hurt worse than others. We will be there to inspect all school systems."

Bowen and Albert Beatty, assistant program manager for school assistance in federally affected areas, said federal law provides for federal funds to replace any school-owned property not covered by insurance—from buses to chalk.

Such funds can even be used for architects' fees for designing renovation or repair work, they said.

The initial grant would be .5 per cent of the total cost, and the rest would come later.

Episcopal Church Plans Services

The service of Holy Communion will be celebrated at 9:30 a.m. on Easter Sunday, April 14, at St. John's Episcopal Church, 1620 West Main Street.

Rev. Stephen Davenport, III, Vicar, will be the celebrant.

Larry Clark and Bailey Hendricks will serve as lay readers. Acolytes will be John Whitmer, John Harcourt, and Sam Smith. Mrs. Leonard Whitmer is organist.

Church School classes will have an egg hunt in the church yard at 10:30 a.m.

tical, mortgage money source for American home buyers," Lynn said.

The FHA insures mortgages for eligible Americans while the VA guarantees them. The federal ceiling has been at 8 1/2 per cent at times in the past four years, as interest rates have surged upward.

Fewer Americans have been able to use the government-supported loan program because of the price of homes has gone up sharply. The maximum loan insured by the government is $33,000.

Lynn's move is ironic, since only a few weeks ago he was considering reducing the rate rather than increasing it. But that was before large banks began boosting their prime lending rate to record levels, apparently because the availability of money has become tighter due to Federal Reserve policies.

Public Bath To Highlight MSU Series

Matthew Campbell of Paris, Tenn., is expected to attract some interested onlookers when he takes a public bath at Murray State University next Monday evening, April 15.

Despite the breach of the generally accepted standard against nude public bathing, his immodesty is not expected to precipitate a great cry of protest, however. Matthew is not yet four months old.

He will be assisted by his father, Lamar Campbell, while mother lends moral support, in a demonstration for the final class in a special series for expectant parents. The series is sponsored by the department of nursing as a community service.

Matthew will be the star during the first half of the class, which is scheduled from 7 to 9 p.m. in Room 206 of Mason Hall (nursing building), as his father explains the technique for bathing Matthew, who is the young couple's first child.

Sharing the billing during the second half of the class will be three babies from Murray, all younger than Matthew. Their parents will offer tips on child care and discuss things that are helpful during labor and delivery.

The babies, each of whom is a first child, are: Janie Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Martin; Jonathan Smotherman, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Smotherman; and Shannon Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Randy Barnes.

Mrs. Shirley Spratt, assistant professor of pediatric nursing and a co-instructor of the class, will also speak to the group during the first hour of the class. She will cover the growth and development of a baby during the first year and discuss such health factors as diet and immunizations.

Mrs. Linda Clark, assistant professor of maternal and newborn nursing, shares the role of class instructor with Mrs. Spratt.

A new series of classes for expectant parents will be offered during the fall semester.

Bro. John Dale Church Speaker At 7th & Poplar

Bro. John Dale will speak on the subject, "Freed Is Not Free," at the 10:40 a.m. service on Sunday, April 14, at the Seventh and Poplar Church of Christ.

The scripture reading from Galatians 5:1 will be read by John Miller. Prayers will be led by Ted Howard and Ronnie Sils.

"There's A Great Day Coming" will be the subject of the six p.m. sermon by Bro. Dale with the scripture from Acts 17:30-31 to be read by Joe Mark Ales. Earl Nanny and David Wright will lead in prayers.

Johnny Bohannon will make the announcements and Josiah Darnall will direct the song service. Presiding for the Lord's Supper will be Steve Steele and Larry Evans.

Two Bays In LBL Now Open

Taylor and Jake Fork Bays will be reopened to fishing and boating today, April 13, according to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and TVA. The bays were closed in February when an eagle nest was sighted on the Lake Barkley shoreline in Land Between The Lakes, TVA's outdoor recreation and environmental education center in western Kentucky and Tennessee.

Officials announced last week the two mature bald eagles sighted in the vicinity recently abandoned the nest site without laying eggs and continuing the nesting process. The eagles had been sighted near the nest site as late as early April. During late March and early April eagles visiting Land Between The Lakes normally migrate back to their summer homes. It is not particularly unusual for eagles to build a nest and fail to use it.

The eagles in Land Between The Lakes were virtually free of disturbance since the area around the nest site was closed by land and water. Fishermen and other visitors were very cooperative in the effort to provide the eagles privacy.

In addition to reopening the two bays, the boat launching ramp at Taylor Bay Lake Access Area will also be opened to boaters and fishermen.

Regular Services At Baptist Church

Regular worship services will be held at the First Baptist Church on Sunday, April 14, at 10:45 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. with the pastor, Rev. Richard Walker, speaking at both services.

The Adult Choir, directed by W. Rudolph Howard, minister of music, with Mrs. John Bowker as organist, and Mrs. J.D. Rayburn as pianist, will present special music at both services.

Their selections will be "Sing, Make A Joyful Sound," "I Walker Today Where Jesus Walked," "King All-Glorious," and "God So Loved The World."

Fred Schultz, deacon of the week, and G.T. Moody, minister of education, will assist in the morning services.

Sunday School will be held at 9:30 a.m. and Church Training will be at 7:30 p.m.

The Senior High Youth will have a retreat at Camp Energy from Friday, April 19, to Sunday, April 21.

Music Department To Hold Open Meeting

The Music Department of the Murray Woman's Club will have an open meeting on Tuesday, April 16, at 7:30 p.m. at the club house.

Erwin Chandler, Carl Rogers, and Paul Shahan will present the program on "Concert of Kentucky Composers Related to Bicentennial Celebration of the U.S.A."

Hostesses will be Mesdames Eugene Berrill, Max Brandon, Millard Carman, Josiah Darnall, H. Glenn Doran, Harold Gish, Irma LaFollette, John Taylor, and H.W. Wilson.

Coach Russell has watched many changes in all the sports he coached, football, baseball and basketball. But he feels the changes have improved the sports, not weakened them.

"There are lots fewer injuries now, with better equipment. But the kids have to be smarter now, especially to play football."

It's difficult to try and give credit to a man who defies description, but Coach Holland seemed to sum it up very well—"He's just tops in every way."

Kirksey Adult Farmer Class Has Dinner Hosted By Peoples Bank

Members and guests of the Kirksey Adult Farmer Class, taught by W. H. Brooks, were entertained with a dinner at Seven Seas on Thursday, April 11, with the Peoples Bank of Murray, Ky., Inc., as host for the event.

Jewell McCallon, president of the class, presided and thanked the bank for sponsoring the dinner for the class. Mr. Brooks also expressed his appreciation to the local bank for their continued cooperation and support to the class.

Representing the bank at the dinner were Ray Brownfield, vice-president, and Harvey Ellis, senior vice-president, who both spoke briefly concerning the economic situation. Gifts were presented to both the men and women by the bank officials.

New officers of the class elected for the coming year were Jewell McCallon, president; Billy Tidwell, vice-president; Clinton Burchett, secretary.

Class members and wives attending were Messrs and Mesdames James Brandon,
