FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

Fifteen years ago the Fulton Daily Leader published a story about the War Department's decision to send a large number of soldiers to the Southwest Pacific for an unspecified mission. The story mentioned that the soldiers were being sent to reinforce the troops already stationed in the area. The story also noted that the mission was part of the broader strategy of the United States to expand its military presence in the Pacific region.

Today, the same area is still a significant hub for military operations, with numerous bases and training facilities that contribute to the national defense. The story reflects the ongoing nature of military operations and the importance of maintaining a strong presence in strategic locations around the world.

ON GUARD!

Along thousands of miles of coast lines, in lonely country cities and crowded cities, our men and guns are on guard to see that our land is defended against all foes.

At home it is our duty to conserve and protect the things we have. Insurance is one of the safer-guards which provides this protection. Let us help plan your protection.

And in the meantime, all of us need to buy all the War Bonds we possibly can. In that way we who stay at home are providing the things for our men in use to battle.
