Fulton's Oldest Resident Observes Birthday In Bed

Mrs. Ethel Byrd observed her birthday here Monday, but this time not in the usual fashion. Fulton's oldest citizen, Mrs. Byrd spent her 106th birthday in bed, victim of a recent fall that fractured her pelvis.

It has become traditional for Mrs. Byrd to hold open house on her birthday. This year, however, only a few friends called.

The usual big birthday cake, though, was presented to her as usual by a Union City bakery.

And Gov. Bert T. Combs has commissioned her a Kentucky Colonel, and the commission was presented Monday by Mrs. Jo Westpheling, editor of the Fulton News and manager of Radio Station WFUL.

Mrs. Byrd lives with her daughter, Mrs. S. L. Craver and Mr. Craver.

Note Book

For as long as we can remember the exchange of Christmas greetings has held a special excitement in our lives. We just love to open the mail these days and get greetings from distance and near-by friends wishing us cheer for the holidays. We, in turn, make a real production out of sending Christmas cards, because it is a time when we take time out from our busy lives to remember and to greet those people whose friendship we cherish.

It was with more than excitement that we opened and read a Christmas card from W. L. Holland, superintendent of city schools. Usually, we open them, glance at them for a moment, and then after Christmas, we read and re-read them and remember many nice things about the people who sent them. But the card from Mr. Holland captured our emotions with such force that we had to let you in on the most beautiful, the most sincere, the most thought-provoking message we have ever read.

Mr. Holland's Christmas card contained a letter addressed to him and Mr. Abe Martin from one of our all-time favorite people, Lucille (Mrs. Jack) Burton. It so expressed my own sentiments and those of hundreds of parents who wish that they could do half so well, that we thought we would re-print it for your consideration.

The letter is so true, so humble and shows such gratitude I think I would be in order if I thanked Lucille for her beautiful words to all teachers, for you and for me.

Here's the letter:

Fulton, Kentucky
May 14, 1960

Mr. Lawrence Holland
Mr. J. M. Martin and Faculty

Dear, dear teachers:

So often we human beings have thoughts and feelings, noble feelings—yet we do not take time to express or let them be known. My feeling of appreciation for you this week is so strong—I certainly wanted to make it known to you. I can never express my thanks to each and everyone of you for your wonderful leadership, guidance, your time, patience, encouragement, helpfulness and cooperation toward Judy.

Her high school days have been so rewarding—and the many honors she has received would have never been possible without your help and interest.

The basic mold of Judy's life has been made. You have made imprints on that mold—some deeper than others—but all will go with her through life.

As time goes by, and the future becomes the past, I hope Judy will be a person of whom you can proudly say, "She was my student."

For today, with deep gratitude and humble thanksgiving for our educational leaders, I can proudly say, "They were Judy's teachers."

With sincere respect,
Mrs. Jack Burton

Governor Says Sales Tax Helps County's Needy

Gov. Bert Combs announced this week that increases in public assistance payments will more than cover the sales tax paid by these needy people. He said the increased payments, resulting from the sales tax will amount to $7.7 million, when matched by federal funds, and that if the needy receiving the payments spend it all on taxable items (which is doubtful) they will pay only $2 million.

Monthly checks are given to the needy aged, dependent children, needy blind, and the permanently and totally disabled. In Fulton County, the aged received an average payment of $49.41; dependent children received an average payment of $49.16 per family; the needy blind received an average payment of $58.00; and the permanently and totally disabled received an average payment of $51.82.

Sam Siegel Boosts Community Center With Generous Donation Of $250 Cash

The Civitan Club's Community Center project got a shot in the arm this week when Sam Siegel donated $250 to the fund drive. Mr. Siegel, generous, civic-minded and practical said that he wanted the entire $250 to be donated to the fund, which amount represents the profit on 750 cakes being sold by the club to start the community center next Spring.

Mr. Siegel put it this way: "If I bought 750 cakes and gave them away the profit would amount to $250. So here's what I want to do . . . I'll give the $250 and you keep the cakes and sell them again, that way you'll make another $250 to go toward the Community Center fund."

The conversation above transpired between the big-hearted Mr. Siegel and Mrs. Paul Westpheling, News editor and general manager of Radio Station WFUL. Mr. Siegel called on Monday and evinced his personal interest in the project and looked forward, he said, to the not too distant future when he would be at the opening ceremonies of the community center.

The donation to the community center is one of many generous acts performed by Mr. Siegel. The Clothes Bank has distributed many a garment deposited there through the year by the Siegel plants. He assists local civic leaders in their efforts to make a better community and is always available to add his personal support to any endeavor that would add to the progress and development of the twin cities.

The Civitan Club was some 2000 cakes short of selling its goal of 6000 cakes on Wednesday. The lack of sales may delay the starting date of the Community Center, but President John Simrell and his hard-working band of members have other projects up their sleeve for accumulating the $2000 needed to get the project under way.

Meanwhile members of the club are urging merchants and individuals to take advantage of last minute shopping and gift giving to

Santa Will Bring Cheer To The Needy On Christmas As Jaycee Goal Is Passed

" . . . and Santa Claus will come to see you on Christmas morning," that's the word from the Fulton Junior Chamber of Commerce to more than 100 needy families in the Fulton area. And the members of the club did it the hard way, yet the satisfying way when they pleaded for nearly twelve hours over Radio Station WFUL on Monday.

The entire broadcast day was turned over to the Jaycees for their special Christmas Basket Fund appeal, with members saying the first good morning to area listeners at five A. M. Loaded with coffee, warm clothing and urgency in their voices the Jaycees started getting donations, large and small almost immediately. The Jayceettes went out to the station as soon as the household chores were out of the way and the baby-sitters were on duty. The wives of the Jaycee members kept their husbands in condition for announcing with hot coffee, doughnuts and moral support. Some mothers even brought the small fry to the station to watch the mammoth undertaking to raise more than $1800 dollars to bring happiness to boys and girls and adults who might never have known the joy of Christmas had it not been for the Jaycees.

Each year the young men of the Junior Chamber of Commerce set the goals a little higher, embrace a few more families, spread a little extra cheer for the needy families in the area. This year, a basket of food, totalling $1750 in merchandise will be distributed to families. Two Christmas parties will be held for the children on Saturday and each child will be given a brand new one dollar bill to spend to their heart's desire. All this happens comes from the generosity of area residents who gave from one dollar to 25 dollars to swell the fund past the $1800 mark. On the first day of the broadcast the boys left the station somewhat down-hearted because they lacked nearly $400 dollars to make the total needed. On Tuesday morning appeals on WFUL's live-wire brought in another $100 and on Wednesday morning another $25 was added. Other donors, who were not identified on the air brought their donations to the various stores down-town.

It was a jubilant Jim Young, president of the Jaycees who called WFUL on Wednesday to say . . . "We're over the top and we can do everything we planned to do." He took the opportunity to thank his loyal workers, the donors and the staff and management of the radio station for their efforts in making the drive a success.

" . . . and Santa Claus will come to see the needy on Christmas morning."

Whitnel Presents Assembly Program

Mr. Win Whitnel, a member of the Fulton City School Board of Education, was the assembly program speaker on November 9, 1960. His program topic was OUR PERSONALITIES. Mr. Whitnel told the assembly the different methods by which they might improve their personalities.
On November 16, the Fulton High band and chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Mike Hernon, presented the assembly program. The 25 member band and 38 member chorus rendered a total of eight numbers.
On December 7, a debating team from Murray State College debated the issue: RESOLVED: THAT THE UNITED STATES SHOULD ADOPT COMPULSORY HEALTH INSURANCE FOR ALL ITS CITIZENS.
Under the direction of Mrs. Hernon, the Fulton High band and chorus presented a Christmas program on December 14. The chorus sang a number of popular Christmas songs. The band played some carols and "Christmas Parade March", which featured the majorettes. The program was closed with the singing of "Joy To The World" by the whole assembly.

Tripp Proposes Plan For Youth Council

In a talk to the Future Homemakers of America, Mayor Nelson Tripp suggested that a Youth Council be formed in Fulton and South Fulton.

This council would be composed of a representative from each youth organization in the twin cities.

At regular intervals the representatives would meet with an adult advisor to discuss the various problems which arise concerning young people.

Ways in which the youth could take an active part in various projects would also be discussed at the meetings.

If this council is formed immediately, one of the projects to be discussed will be the formation of a Teen Center.

This plan has proved effective in several large cities.

Board, City and State Make Plans; New High School Within Ten Years

In order to keep abreast with the expanding enrollment, the Fulton City School system will soon need a new high school building.

After studying this situation, the Board of Education asked the State Department of Education for help in planning a new school. The State Department sent men to the Fulton City School District to make surveys and suggestions during the month of April, 1960.

In the meantime the State Department asked the Board to catalogue all prospective school sites west of Edgewood Cutoff and north of the Tennessee State Line.

When the team came down they evaluated prospective sites and recommended to the School Board that they option one of these sites in the future.

A school site must basically contain fifteen acres and one additional acre for each prospective 100 students.

Since the proposed new high school will be built for a present load of 500 students, the Fulton City School Board of Education will option 20 acres.

The proposed 20 acres must be well drained with sewer and water connections available at the site boundary and must have two hard surfaced access roads leading to the school site. These access roads must not be built at school board expense.

The number one proposed site lies west of the city limits of highlands, north of 8th Street Extended and south of the Middle Road.

Variety of Programs

The assembly programs in store for FHS students during the next two months vary greatly.

For example, on February 1, 1961, at 9:00 a. m. there will be a Safety film in the gym sponsored by the State Safety Department.

Then on February 2, an expertly trained tumbling team from Freed-Hardeman College will perform in the gym at 9:00 a. m.

Other programs have not yet been scheduled.

Surprise Snow Blankets Fulton

A "runaway" snowstorm rode a cold wave and brisk winds into Western Kentucky, Southern Illinois and West Tennessee Tuesday afternoon and Tuesday night.

Fulton, Ballard, McCracken, Carlisle and Hickman Counties were quickly blanketed with from one to three inches of snow and more was still falling Wednesday morning.

Streets and highways were glazed with ice and packed snow, and within two hours after the storm reached Fulton, District Headquarters of the State Police at West Viola said some roads were "all but impassable." Late Tuesday night state police reported that traffic over a wide area was "practically at a standstill," and that there had been a number of minor accidents.

In the Fulton area there were a number of minor accidents.

In the Fulton area there were a number of minor accidents, but not major ones were reported.

Many basketball games throughout the area were called off soon after the storm struck.

A large trailer truck was overturned in a ditch Wednesday morning on the Union City Highway near the Plaza Court in Highlands.

Our Christmas vacation starts December 21, 1960, and ends January 4, 1961. In those two weeks many big occasions and festivities will be taking place. People will be visiting relatives and many will be going on vacations. Most of the high school girls and boys will be going to parties and dances. During these weeks of activities we must not forget the real reason for Christmas. All should observe this occasion and be thankful.

All I Want For Christmas Is A Quiet Peaceful Night

From The FHS "KENNEL"
By Santa Claus

Oh me, it's Christmas again. Have you ever thought of all the experiences I have had on that day? Let's take the case of the chimney. Who ever heard of such a crazy way to get into a house!

It all started on Christmas Eve, 1820. As usual, I was three hours behind schedule. On top of that my gift list was completely backwards. Mrs. Claus wrote it for me and you know how she becomes excited and confused during the holiday season.

Ten miles out of Dover, by way the reindeer flies, I noticed something very strange. What would little Edward Conwood, who is two months old, do with a pearl to a window. Unh. It wouldn't budge. It was locked. Now I really had to think.

Oh, it was a silly idea, but I had to try. I had never heard of a plated snuff box and what would Lord Bonruff, who is 92 years old, want with a baby rattler? As you can tell, Mrs. Claus had the gifts backwards or, er, the wrong people. No, I mean she had the right gifts with the wrong people. Well anyway, you can tell what I mean. Can't you?

Well I made a U-turn and returned to the scene of the crime er-accident. Wouldn't you know it, they had locked the door! (You see back then normal people used doors to get into a house.)

Slowly I crept around the house chimney used as a door, but there is always a first time.

Everything was going fine (or so I thought). Wouldn't you know it, I was stuck. What's worse they

The UK test will be given Jan. 26, 1961 to all seniors. This test is a placement test and many colleges accept this as an entrance exam. This test will also be given by Mrs. Bennett and will last two hours.

Oh, you should have seen me. I was back with soot from head to toe. Boy was I a mess. I'll tell you this, from that day on I wrote the list. Oh no, Mrs. Claus now you stay out of here! Mrs. Claus . . . .!

Merry Christmas

At this season of the year when we pause to reflect on our blessings, we realize our good fortune in being associated with the good people of the twin cities of Fulton and South Fulton. We appreciate your friendship and your loyalty to us over the past twenty - three years, and value it as one of our most important assets.

OBION COUNTY AGRICULTURAL COMMENTS AND EVENTS

One hundred and four County Livestock Producers attended the Annual Meeting of the Obion County Livestock Association last Monday night. Guest speaker was Jesse Safley, Public Relations Director, Nashville Chamber of Commerce. Three directors were elected, J. M. Mayberry, Bruce Wisener and W. T. Garrigan, Jr. Some $500.00 in checks were awarded corn producers in the State and County Contest for 1960. The County Livestock Association now has 150 members.

Obion County Fertilizer and Lime dealers met last Thursday night to see Soil Fertility work that has been done in other counties. Dr. Jim Brown, Southeastern Representative from the National Plant Food Institute from Auburn, Alabama presented information on what a good soil fertility program can do to increase farm income. Joe Matthews, Extension Agronomist, discussed soil testing and how recommendations are set up on the state level. Slides were shown on the 52 soybean, 13 corn and 6 cotton fertilizer demonstrations yield checked in Obion County in 1960. Committees will be set up and a vigorous soil test campaign started in January. Thirty-eight dealers and manufacturer representatives attended the meeting.

MANAGEMENT IN FARMING

It seems that as we look at businesses all over the country, the by-word is "efficient management". Many new ideas and innovations are being placed on the preferred list of changes wherever business men meet. Most every publication we read has something to say regarding more efficient and better management personnel; mergers are frequently mentioned and has become a very popular subject to talk about. Then also, much is being done regarding mergers; we see evidence of it in all kinds of business today.

All these subjects and discussions are also being applied to the farmer and his farm. He is no longer a "one gallus" operator but he is also in the same classification as any other successful business man. He is the executive type today, rather than just the man who follows a plow and puts in ten or twelve hours of hard work in the field. He is the one who reads important subject matter about his business and other businesses. He is the one who constantly has his radio tuned to stations from which market reports are beamed and he has favorite times of the day to be at his television set in order that he may know what is happening in the world that directly affects his business. He is up and about, attending the important conferences and meetings that will help to shape his destiny. He is among the leaders of his community who are interested in change and in trying to help bring about constant and practical changes.

There the things that today help separate the efficient farmer from the man who simply continues to follow the plow, in order to make a full day, and who also continues to plant and cultivate as well as was practiced years ago. The successful farmer of today is the man who has sold his bull and is now using the services of the nearby artificial insemination association which is in most cases farmer owned. In the place of the bull he once kept, he now has one or more milk cows in the herd to produce him enough milk to pay for all and more of the services he buys from his local association. All of these, and many more is what determines the successful and efficient farmer of today and the future.

This pattern is now going to change. In fact, the requirements for the successful business man in tomorrow's economy, whether he be a farmer or industrialist will be even more emphasized by the adoption of more efficiency and the introduction of those practices that will allow less mistakes to be made.

This year has not been the best by any measurement for farmers or those engaged in industry. The cost price squeeze today applies to many and will continue to be a determining factor in most all businesses. It is not easy to begin making plans for the year that is ahead and see if some changes in your business cannot be made that will make it more efficient, thereby resulting in more success. Some ideas and suggestions are some of the many that will require adoption by the successful business of the future.

Letters To Santa Claus

From The FHS "KIDNEL"
To start the season off right, the students of Fulton High have written their letters to Santa, hoping that their request will be filled. Here are a few of the letters.

Dear Santa:
We are two little girls, 16 and 17 years old. We have tried to be good so we have a long list and here it is.

Being the youngest, my letter is first. I would like a South Fulton football player. He has brown hair, blue eyes, is about 5'7" and very handsome. (to me) You will know him, for he is always out in front of the school spraying water on everyone.

My sister wants a little boy doll that is 6'2", has brown eyes and a blue, 1954 Ford convertible, some typing paper for the problems that she has to do over for Mr. Jackson, a visit from Mr. Kennedy so he can help her in Civics, and a larger chemical chart for the unknown metals she dreams up.

There will be some cookies and gin under the tree.

Love Ya,
Those Beggs Girls

Dear Santa,
I don't really want too much this year, but it hasn't been easy, believe me. With people running around hiding my head all over the place, it's awfully hard not to get mad.

I don't really want too much this year, but if you could possibly find a great big band-aid for my poor broken nose and a gum scraper for my buttons, I would really appreciate it.

Also, you could bring a statue of Mr. U. S. Grant, so then maybe the kids could steal his head instead of mine.

Thank you for the presents you brought last year.
See you soon,
Robert E. Lee

Dear Santa,
I am just a small 14 year old Freshman at Fulton High. Christmas is just around the block and I thought I would remind you of the FEW things you might be able to bring me for Christmas.

Here is the list of things I want: One red fire engine to drive all the sophomore boys around in; one "Betty Crocker Cooking Set", so my knowledge of FHA can be advanced; one "Betsy Wetsy Doll" to practice on in Future Nursing Club; a miniature adding machine so my algebra problems won't be so hard.

Also you could send me a miniature map of the world so I can find Miss Martin, and a picture of a "Brave Bulldog" to hang in the hall and remind the students of school spirit.

That's all except for the teachers. Bring Mrs. McKnight her colored chalk, Miss Martin a red pencil, Mrs. Haws a book entitled "The Key to Latin Translations", Mrs. Rice three diagraming rulers, and Mrs. DeMyer a rake to rake her yard if she ever gets rolled again.

Bye-bye,
Sandra Ballow

Dear Santie Claus,
I am a wittle girl 16 years young. I have been a very good girl.

This year for my truckload of toys, I would like these things: some white lipstick so my mommie can't tell you know what; a dog collar and chain for Paul Jr.; and I also want him to come down the chimney with you, if both of you can make it. Last of all, I want at least six boxes of Kleenex so I'll have enough for Judy Copeland, Kay Morris, and me.

Don't forget there will be cake and champagne under the tree for you.

Happy Christmas
Merry New Year,
Joyce Owens

Dear Santa,
I am a little (?) girl seventeen years old. After a year, I'm finally forgiving you for drinking the last Coca-Cola I had last Christmas. Since I have forgiven you, I decided to write you and tell you what I want for Christmas this year.

First of all, I would like for you to give Lynn Newton some compliments to pass on to me instead of all those cracks about my fat. I also want a Bulldog that can run faster than Lumbar Bowden. I think it would be nice to have a computer installed in Mrs. Mc-

I hope I haven't asked for too much and you can make all these things come true. Thank you.

Dear Santa Claus,

I am a little boy about 1 month old. I have tried to be a real nice boy, and so don't blame me for what happened on October 26.

I don't have a very long list, but here it is.

First, I want a new leg. My first one was burned up. Second, could you please have me sewn up again. Sandra tried, but I was so far gone by then, that she couldn't do too awful good a job.

Third and last, Santa, please, PLEASE, let me stay over here at Fulton High. They treat me so nice. They hung me up in study hall so that I could see everything that was going on. And everyone spoke to me during the day. Why you would think that I was a celebrity or something. Any way, don't make me go back to South Fulton. They are really mean over there. Why they were even going to burn me up!!

Well, that's all for this year, Santa, I'll try to be real good next year. Maybe they'll hang me up again!!

Your little pal,
The Dummy

Dear Santa,

We are three good little girls. We want you to bring a lot of spirit to our school.

The black-headed girl wants to win all the basketball games and to hold on to that special little-bitty boyfriend.

The blonde-headed girl wants you to bring many, many toys, and also a new love.
The brown-headed girl wants all the love of the big muscle-bound boys of FHS.

Please be good to us little bitty girls. We will have some yummies under the tree.

Love,
Blondie, Brownie,
and Blackie

Dear Mr. Claus,

I am a Junior at Fulton High. I've tried to be good all year long. Thanks for the things you brought last year.

This year, I want a girl by the name of Patsy Burge. She is a cheerleader at Wingo High School. If you have any candy or nuts left over, leave them in my stocking.

Your little pal,
Jim Burton

The True Meaning of Christmas

(Guest Editorial by Susan Stokes, Fulton High School)

Over and again people have written on the true meaning of Christmas. Some have exposed the present practice of commercialism. Then you ask, "Why are you writing this?"

Once a problem is solved, you hear little fuss over it. Can you, the reader, say we have done away with the monetary values during Christmas time? No. Therefore we still have the problem.

In the opinion of this observer, this is a season for a song in the air, a star in the sky. This is a season for all men to sing "Joy to the World, the Lord has come, Let earth receive her King." This is the day to come bearing gifts to our King. These gifts cannot be bought in the department stores or in mail order catalogues. They can only be bought through our individual love for God and man.

The Christmas Season

(Guest Editorial by Dave Austin, Fulton High School)

The Christmas season, with all its hustle and bustle, merriment and excitement has rolled around again. It is time to rush out and buy that last minute gift for a close friend or relative or to rush to the post office to mail hearty Christmas greetings to some distant kin.

Most people are either having company, going visiting and meeting friends, decorating the house, or going to numerous parties or dances—but is this the true Christmas spirit? Is Christmas becoming just a time for frolic and merrymaking with the real spirit forgotten?

Christmas is supposed to be a time when people are filled with the joy of life and the love of God, not just a time when gifts are exchanged according to what was received last year. This is when the birth of Christ is celebrated, and this season is rapidly becoming an elongated Fourth of July holiday.

The true spirit of Christmas is in giving and appreciating the things you have to be thankful for; not simply looking forward to the Jones' party or what someone is going to give you this year.

This is supposed to be the most reverent time of the year, but, unfortunately, most people have forgotten the true meaning of Christmas.

The Forgotten Meaning

(Guest Editorial by Karen Dublin, Fulton, High School)

Christmas—one of the most joyous and heartwarming times of the year.

Christmas is a time for gift giving and receiving; a time for parties and dances and receptions; a time for cookies and candies and fruitcakes and huge holiday feasts; and somewhere, squeezed into this gay, mad rush, it should also be a time for reverence and love.

This year Christmas falls on Sunday, and many churches will have a Christmas morning service. A great many people, however, will probably be too busy opening presents, cooking dinner, and such, to go to church. They will have forgotten the real meaning of Christmas.

So while rushing around on Christmas morning, stop and remember the reason for all this happiness and joy—it is Christ's birthday.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Christmas

By Harold C. Gardiner

Literary critic and author of In All Conscience

Things are prone to be upside down at Christmas time.

CAN ANYONE recall ever having been spanked on Christmas Day? No rules, no discipline that day—and that was an upside down state of affairs in itself.

Yes, Christmas is gloriously upside down. Even the very word that names Christ's birthplace, that lovely word Bethlehem, got into the mix-up. Our English ancestors, in their love for shortening names, used to call it "Bedlam." Then in the course of time, there was a priory established in London, which gradually became a hospital devoted to caring for the insane. It was called St. Mary's of Bethlehem. As Bethlehem had been commonly called Bedlam, so was the asylum for the insane and so gradually were all such places, so that now our word "bedlam" means confusion and disorder and says nothing to us of the little Judean town which saw the birth of the Christ Child centuries ago.

BUT BETHLEHEM was no Bedlam, we protest. There was no trace of Babylon there, no confusion. Rather, there was peace when "all things were in quiet silence, and the night was in the midst of her course" and

100 Years Ago This Week

An Historical review of THE CIVIL WAR DAY-BY-DAY (Material is from publication of exactly one hundred years ago; original writings from references in the Library of Congress, Washington. Reporting in the papers was usually very one-sided; we seek to be fair in coverage and preserve a national balance. . . . ED.)

BY WILLIAM H. McHENRY

Because it happened only a hundred years ago, the Civil War seems to be rather recent to most of us. Those Americans past middle-age can remember grandparents telling stories of the War between the Confederate and Union forces. In comparison, the Revolutionary war is very ancient indeed.

Believe it or not, to the people of 1860, the War of the Revolution was so close behind them that there were then many people still living who had fought in the War for Independence . . . just as some people in the South in 1860 were wondering if they would not soon be fighting a new war . . . for Southern Independence!

The newspapers of October, 1860, told of three different individuals who had lived through the Revolution . . . one was the last man alive who had fought at Bunker Hill, another had been in the British army under Cornwallis, and the third had been a slave in South Carolina.

Boston was planning an affair to commemorate the Siege of 1775. The last survivor of the Battle of Bunker Hill was invited, and accepted. Ralph Farham, the old soldier, lived in Maine, said the papers, and though he was then a hundred and four years old, had a good memory and was still in good health. In his letter of reply, the Veteran said: "I receive every year my pension of $61.66, though I had to pay a lawyer $4 to get the pension for me." Farham served through three campaigns, and was present when Burgoyne surrendered. "There is no need for any special praise for me," he said. "I only did what others did."

Farham was only 18 when he enlisted with Col. Prescott and walked down to Boston to help dig the ditch on top of Breed's Hill (where the Battle of Bunker Hill actually took place.) What did Farham remember best about the War of the Revolution?

"The buckets of ale and grog offered when his company marched through one town." (G. I.s never change!)

Mr. Henry Church, who had lived on the B. & O. Railroad near Burton's Station, died in October of 1860. He was 120 years old. Church was a native of England, but came to America with the British army under Cornwallis. He fought in the campaigns in the South against Green, "Swamp Fox" Marion, and other noted American patriots. Church was taken prisoner during the Battle of Yorktown, and afterwards decided to remain in this country. When he died, he left several children who were over 80 years of age.

In October of 1860, the new census report at Charleston, S. C. showed a total of 40,195 persons. Of these, 23,327 were white, 3,257 were free colored, and 13,600 were Negro slaves. A similar report was made of the population of Savannah. One of the Savannah slaves was a colored woman named Cornelia Leslie. She was 125 years old.

Cornelia was born in Georgia at Silver Bluff, and had a distant recollection of the War of the Revolution and remembered the siege of Savannah in 1778 when that city was taken by the British. In October of 1860, times had changed for Cornelia . . . she was no longer the slave of a white man . . . now "she was the slave of her own son, who was a free Negro."

Now that the War between the States has been over for ninety-five years, we Americans often say: "How was it possible that states could fight each other? The answer was much simpler in 1860 than it would be today. People were sectional-minded (they still are today, but to a lesser sense). They had customs and institutions which were ancient and . . . at the time . . . honorable, but which other sections did not admire. And there were many who had lived before there had been a United States! Ralph Farham, Henry Church, and Cornelia Leslie were only three . . . there were and there had been a host of such people. To many of them, the United States was still on trial. "And," they said to each other, "if we don't like it, we'll get out of the Union." And so we had a War.

X-MAS or Christmas ?

(Guest Editorial By Hal Warren, Fulton High School)

As one walks down the main street of our city, he will see many season's greetings. All are meant in a cheerful and friendly way, wishing each of us a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Over half of these greetings will read Merry X-Mas, mainly because it takes up too much room to put Christ in Christmas. Let's think about this for a moment. Are we putting Christ in our Christmas or do we push him to one side because he takes up too much room? Have we gone so far off base as to forget that this is the birthday of our Savior Jesus Christ?

By thanking the Lord for the many blessings we have received and remembering that 1,960 years ago our Savior was born, we can put Christ back into Christmas.

FROM THE FHS "KENNEL"

The Christmas season has finally arrived, bringing with it parties, vacations, relatives, and the third edition of the KENNEL.

In the very near future the KENNEL Staff and the annual staff will be moving down stairs and into the new publications room. From all present appearances it will be very nice and much roomier than our present home, but we will kinda miss the old place.

What is now the publications room will become a badly needed science storeroom. A concrete floor has been laid in the home ec sewing room and other improvements are to be added. All this is causing no end of disturbance at FHS, but it will almost be over by the time we come back to school after the holidays.

All the Bulldogs should be really proud of going to the Christmas tournament at Mayfield. The boys have worked real hard to get there and they deserve all the credit we can give them. The fans did a lot better at the Benton game about razzing the referees and the opposing team, and the whole student body has got good school spirit. Could it be because we have a good team?

Several students around FHS deserve congratulations and we are going to give it to them. Take a bow: Jimmy Cheatham and Bill Burnette for receiving four-year scholarships to UK; Susan Stokes for being chosen student band director; the five people elected to the Quill & Scroll; the Bulldogs for beating Benton, 20th in the state; last but not least the KENNEL Staff for their support and enthusiasm during the first semester.

Until the KENNEL Banquet in February, when Professor L. H. Edmondson of Murray will speak, this is the last edition of the paper. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!

Pep Jug Boosts Fulton High Spirit

As you know this summer our cheerleaders went to Ole Miss, where they learned many yells and skits. While there, they found out about "a pep jug".

This is a large bottle covered in blue crepe paper and has PEP JUG written on the side.

The "pep jug" has a blue cork on the top, and whenever the cork is taken off everyone is supposed to yell. The cheerleaders hope that all will co-operate with them and have plenty of pep. They want all the students to join in and cheer to support the "Bulldogs" in their coming games this season.

FULTON HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

By Karen Dublin

The drawings for the Mayfield Christmas Tournament were held Sunday, and the Fulton Bulldogs drew one of the top teams in the region, the host team, Mayfield. The game will begin at 9:00 on Wednesday night, December 28. A huge crowd of Fulton fans are expected to go to Mayfield and cheer the team on to victory.

The Big Blue really started rolling last week, as they knocked two teams out of the unbeaten ranks, and won another in an overtime thriller.

Last Tuesday night, before a jubilant home crowd, the Bulldogs downed the Benton Indians, 53-47. The Indians were undefeated and were rated the No. 20 team in the whole state, and No. 2 in the region, but the Fulton team was just too much for them.

On Friday night, the team scored eight points in an overtime period to edge the Carlisle County Comets, 58-55. Don Burnette was high pointer for the Bulldogs.

Then on Saturday night, they really poured in the points in the fourth quarter, and scored a 55-42 victory over the Calloway County Lakers. Calloway County was also previously undefeated.

This Tuesday night, the Bulldogs took on the South Marshall Rebels in Carr gym. It was the last game before the holidays.

This week, in the Courier-Journal's ratings of high-school basketball teams, the Bulldogs were rated in the No. 6 spot in the region. Only 5 teams—North Marshall, Benton, Mayfield, Hickman Co., and Lowes—were rated above them.

The Carl Hurst Benefit Game, to be held on January 10, 1961, with Calloway County, is the first regularly scheduled game after the holidays.

Improvements in the high school building have been partially completed. The home ec department has its new concrete floor, the KENNEL and the annual have their new publications room, and the typing room has been enlarged. The workmen have also started on the new science laboratory.

The musical Christmas program which the Fulton City Schools Music Department presented on Sunday afternoon, proved to be very enjoyable. Many college students home for Christmas, couldn't quite believe that it was the same band as last year!

Tuesday night, the Band Parents Club gave a Christmas Dance at the Country Club for the band members and their dates.

Right after school on Tuesday afternoon, the KENNEL sponsored a Christmas reception for all the staff members and faculty members. It was held in Mrs. Bennett's room.

The FHS's Christmas Tree for the Needy, proved to be a successful project. The tree was placed in the study hall, and students were asked to bring canned food for needy people and place it under the tree. A great deal of food was collected.

The KENNEL came out on Monday morning. It was the last issue for this semester. The next issue will come out at the KENNEL banquet on February 25, 1961.

The senior class selected their "Whos Who" last Friday afternoon. Chosen for the high honor of "Best All-Around", were Judy Moore and Jerry Lee Laceywell. "Best Personality" went to Sandra Stephenson and Carl Hurst. The "Best School Citizens" are Lynn Bushart and Hal Warren. The "Wittiest" seniors are Sandra Williams and Tommy Bowden. Chosen "Most Dependable" were Dortha Duke and Tommy Carney. The two students chosen as "Friendliest" are Elaine Beggs and Jimmy Williams.

The "Most Talented" are Ophelia Speight and Jimmy Clark. Those chosen "Neatest" are Barbara Bone and Charles Rice. The "Best Sport" is Karen Dublin, and the "Most Athletic" is Bill Burnette. The two seniors who are "Most Likely to Succeed" are Susan Stokes and Bobby Joe Hancock. The "Prettiest" senior girl is Chan Covington, and the "Most Handsome" senior boy is Jim Bushart. And last but not least, chosen for "Leadership", are Brenda McKeel and Mike Walker.

On Tuesday afternoon, at approximately 2:50 P. M., the FHS students were "set free" for two full weeks. The vacation ends on January 4, 1961.

So, until then, "Merry Christmas and a real Happy New Year!"

Disabled Veterans And Dependents Are Reminded To Report Annual Income

Approximately 20,765 disabled veterans and dependents of some 13,093 deceased veterans in Kentucky who receive monthly pension payments, are being reminded by the Veterans Administration to report their annual income promptly and avoid the risk of having their payments stopped.

Olney B. Owen, Manager, Veterans Administration Regional Office, Louisville, Kentucky, said that VA is now mailing to all pension recipients a tabulating card upon which the income report may be made. Pensions cease under the old pension law if the income of a single individual exceeds $1400, or $2700 if the recipient has dependents.

Under the new law, Owen pointed out, pensions will cease if the income of a single individual exceeds $1800, or $3000 if the recipient has dependents. The amount of pension may be reduced if the recipient's annual income rises from one of the lower income brackets—$600 and $1200 for a single veteran or widow without dependents, and $1000 and $2000 for a veteran or widow with dependents.

42 Cities Reporting Have Fluoridation

More than 50 percent of Kentuckians obtaining drinking water from municipal systems now receive the benefits of fluoridation, the Kentucky Department of Health reports.

Water supplies of 42 communities, serving 859,000 persons, now contain fluorides, the agency said. The fluorides help prevent dental caries (tooth decay).

The agency said the number of Kentucky communities having fluoridation puts Kentucky in a leading position among the states in this regard.

F.H.S. Band Members Select Council

A band council has been elected for the first time by the members of the Fulton High Band. The Council was suggested by the director, Mrs. Mike Herron. Its primary purposes are to promote cooperation among the members, consider its problems, establish the policies, and help make decisions concerning the band.

The Council has had one meeting. It was decided at this meeting to adopt a new Merit System of Points to determine eligibility of the band members for band letters and other awards. This system is based on a designated number of points awarded for grades, performance, extra activities, service, and other achievements. To be eligible for a band letter, a student must earn 350 points and must be at least a freshman in Fulton High School.

The Merit System replaces the old system of awarding a letter to each member who had served two years in the band while in school.

The Fulton High students, faculty, and school board decided to give the proceeds to Carl this year. This money will be put in a fund to pay for Carl's medical expenses.

The Bulldogs will play Calloway County on January 10, the date of the game.

Persons With Mental Problems Assured 'Rights And Dignity'

Department of Mental Health personnel have increased their effort to "assure that persons with emotional and mental problems are accorded the rights and dignity that belong to all humans living in the Twentieth Century", Commissioner H. L. McPheeters said today in submitting his Department's annual report to Governor

Bert Combs.

Among the accomplishments of fiscal year 1959-60, the report mentions that more freedom was given to patients; some physical improvements were made to the four state mental hospitals; the 1960 General Assembly appropriated $3 million for a major building program for Lakeland's Cen-leaders. The Division introduced a school mental health program in Louisville and Jefferson County during the year when it employed a consultant to work with school personnel on mental health principles and problems.

The report also notes that Bridgehaven, Louisville's Psychiatric rehabilitation center, served one-third more recovering mental patients this year than last and that it received a grant of $13,000 a year for three years from the National Institute of Mental Health to establish a program to work with the families of its members.

In concluding his report, Dr. McPheeters pointed out that: "The Department of Mental Health did accomplish a number of things during the year... But the accomplishments should not blind us to what remains to be done. "... During the last year, Kentuckians spend $3.58 a day on each of the patients in the mental hospitals - an increase of 6c over the previous twelve months. An increase, yes, but a pitifully small one when all patients' needs and treatment had to be taken care of

In the year from July 1, 1959 to June 30, 1960, there were 4,124 admissions to the hospitals, an increase of 1.4 per cent over the previous year; there was an increase in readmissions: 1.2 per cent; there was a decrease in the number of direct discharges, but a 23 per cent increase in the number of leave placements, and it is thought that these two figures are related. Figures also show that 90 per cent of those discharged were in the hospitals less than one year.

Because of salary limitations, the report states that the Department still has a paucity of professional employees but "by the end of the year it was felt that the Department's employees were offering Kentucky's mentally ill a higher level of treatment and care than ever before."

Reorganized at the end of the year, the Department's Division of Community Services realized an increase in staff members who devoted the major portion of their time to educational efforts and to consultations with community

I understand that judges for the annual school press contest sponsored by the Kentucky Tuberculosis Association and its local affiliates have been named by Theodor Sanford, association president.

They will judge school papers which have won local contests in Kentucky by carrying news and feature stories, editorials or cartoons about "Careers in Health Work in our Community" or "How Our School Fights TB."

At this writing don't know how they came out, but the local Jaycees and Jayettes were really busy Monday collecting money over WFUL for their Christmas baskets project.

Joseph L. Rauh, Jr., Chairman, and Mrs. Ernest K. Lindley, Co-Chairman of the Concessions Committee of the 1961 Inaugural, announced today that their committee is prepared to consider sample merchandise to be sold as inaugural souvenirs. Offices have been established at the Liberty Loan Building, 14th and D Streets, S. W., under the supervision of Charles W. Hughes, Executive of the Concessions Committee.

The Inaugural Grandstand Committee hopes to be able to discourage all those birds who are expecting to get free seats for the Inaugural Parade.

In this case, the birds are real and the seats are the limbs of trees which overhang the grandstands along the parade route.

The Grandstand Committee has let a $5500 contract to The American Building Cleaning Contractors to bird-proof 44 trees between 10th Street and 17th Street on the route that the 1961 Inaugural Parade will follow.

Fifteen million Americans suffer from recurring headaches but more than 90 percent of these occur in a setting of emotional stress and can be reduced or avoided by a change in living habits. So reports Lin Root in a January Reader's Digest article, "Headaches: What You Can Do About Them."

"Avoid, as much as possible, needless, useless worry," is one of several medical suggestions for headache sufferers reported.

Regular exercise is a by-word to those on a diet. And it can bring about a gradual loss of excess fat even without dieting, according to nutritionist of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"If you're 'worn out' from shopping for Christmas gifts, you'll want food shopping for holiday cookery to take as little time and energy as possible. So use your head to save your heels—plan before you shop, suggests Mrs. Letta Jasper, UK Extension specialist in consumer marketing.

Give gifts of food this Christmas—especially to the person who "has everything." A ready-to-stuff turkey, a stand rib of beef, several steaks, or canned foods are some suggestions given by Mrs. Letta Jasper, UK Extension specialist in consumer marketing. Such gifts can be served immediately or stored in the freezer, refrigerator or on the cupboard shelf for later use.

Here's wishing all of you a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

A "ticket-happy" local policeman informs me that I must get my car washed, or he is going to start sending me his laundry bill. It seems that when he gives me a ticket, he has to lean against my car and the coal soot ruins his clothes. Woo, is me! The trouble is that I pay so many overtime parking tickets, I don't have any money left to have my car washed. P. S. the policeman says he is only trying to earn that recent raise he got.

Put your Christmas tree in a spot away from the drying heat of radiators, the fireplace or warm-air registers. Be sure the tree holder has a good-sized water container, and keep it filled. Make a new cut on the bottom of the tree when you bring it in the house; this lets the tree absorb more water.

Visitors Throng Busy Hong Kong

East and West meet in crowded Hong Kong in a setting so colorful that many experienced travelers consider the British crown colony one of the most interesting places on earth.

Here visitors can see brightly painted junks cluster by the hundreds around ocean vessels, rickshas mingle with automobiles, and wooden shacks sprout next to modern buildings. A single acre of Hong Kong's scarce land may be home to 3,000 people, the National Geographic Society says.

Women in split skirts called cheongsams stroll under sidewalk arcades, businessmen in western suits stride to offices, and shoe-shine boys in bare feet yell in English, "You, mister, shine shoe?" Since the price of a shine is less than five cents, they do a good business.

Looking down from the famed 1,810-foot Victoria Peak on the Island of Hong Kong, one sees a blue harbor dotted by sampans, junks, ferryboats, and liners. Tall bank, office, and hotel buildings line the central district on the water front below. The harbor, along with San Francisco and Rio de Janeiro, ranks as one of the best in the world.

With limited tariff controls, Hong Kong offers low prices for items such as American cigarettes, British tweeds, French perfume, German cameras, Swiss watches, Japanese pearls, and tailor-made suits.

There are unique customs at this East-West crossroad. The government builds sharp-angled roads to reassure the Chinese who believe evil spirits cannot turn sharp corners.

When a temple stands in the way of a projected highway, ranking government officials take solemn part in a ritual to placate the gods who will be irritated at having to adjust to new housing.

While the government prohibits automobile horn blowing in downtown areas, funerals equipped with three or four bands may parade through main streets playing loud, fivetone music.

There are two New Years in Hong Kong, the Western Gregorian and the Chinese. The government authorizes a holiday for each. The Chinese usually observe their lunar calendar New Year in February. Fireworks displays and dragon and lion dances last at least a week.

Though it is already bursting at the seams, last year 138,000 travelers, including 50,000 Americans, flocked to the "Riviera of the Far East."

New Hotels Rising

New hotels are being constructed, but Hong Kong still has trouble housing all its visitors. The government asks tourists to be sure of hotel reservations before making the trip.

The Crown Colony is a 391-square-mile speck on the south China coast. More than 3,200,000 people, including 1,000,000 refugees and 20,000 foreigners, live in the territory.

On January 24, the advertising staff will begin selling the advertisements for the 1961 Annual. This is one of the most important tasks because if no ads were sold the annual would not be possible. This year over $600 worth of ads have to be sold before the first deadline. The staff consists of Lynn Bushart, adver-

Those whose themes were sent to the county were: Cleta Beggs - junior; Bill Leneave - junior; Barry Roper - sophomore; Hal Warren - senior; and Lynn Williamson - sophomore. Bill Leneave and Hal Warren's themes were also sent in last year to be judged in the county. Hal's theme was the winner in high school.

The winner for this year in high school has not been named yet. The county judges will pick the county winner and then will name the winner for Fulton High School.

The first - place entry from each district will be judged for state awards. Winners of state awards will receive $100, $75, $50 bonds.

Party Ideas For A Happy Holiday

By Wanda Cash

Religious services, the exchange of gifts, and merry-making—these are symbols of Christmas activities. As this merry time approaches, everyone is either planning a party or going to one.

An afternoon tea dance may SOUND old-fashioned, but it doesn't mean that you sit around, sip tea, and dance the minuet. It is a more formal way of entertaining. The tea can be held from 4:00 to 6:00 at a place with an adequate dancing area. Twelve makes a nice number of guests. Serve warm cider or hot chocolate with small sandwiches.

For gals who want to sparkle during the Christmas season, there are some festive ideas that will make you a Christmas sparkler. Wear a sprig of mistletoe in your hair.

Wear bells on your shoe laces. Cover a plastic headband with black or white velvet, sprinkled with shiny sequins.

Pin a piece of red-berried holly at the neck of your blouse.

An Open House on New Year's Eve is a good way to say goodbye to old 1960 and hello to young 1961.

While the guests are waiting for midnight, the party can be kept lively by mixing games and dancing. After the magic hour of blowing horns, ringing bells, and singing Auld Lang Syne, the prominent people of 1960 can be reviewed by playing "Twenty-one Questions."

Refreshments will prove to be the easiest way to any guests' heart.

Attention Seniors

By Mike Walker

If you plan to go to college next fall, make your choice and apply now. With more and more students attending colleges and universities now than ever before, your chances of entering the college or university of your choice are growing slimmer.

If you haven't made your decision, write the director of admissions or the registrar of several colleges you might be interested in. Information will be sent to you free of charge. Many colleges will also send an application form.

When you have considered the programs of these colleges, make application to the two or three you would most want to attend. By that method you will have a better chance of gaining entry to one, even if the college of your first choice turns down your application.

Your admission fees to the other colleges will be returned provided you give them notice several weeks before school begins.

In any event, if you plan to enter college next fall, APPLY NOW.
