MSU-TV Auction Nets $1,400 For Equipment

The total now stands at approximately $1,400 for the MSU-TV auction held this week.

Dr. Robert Howard, director of the television studio, said today he is "extremely pleased" with the public response to the auction, and was "surprised" at the number of calls received by the station.

Howard said the money will be used to buy equipment for the station, in order to improve the news coverage of local events.

Dr. Howard estimated at 400

the number of calls received during the auction, which lasted from six p.m. to one a.m. About 100 visitors also came to the studios on the top floor of the MSU Fine Arts Building.

Rowland Brightwell was in charge of the auction, with auctioneers Gil Gilbert, Tom Peterson, and Glen Gilbert.

Dr. Howard said an evaluation will be made of the results of the auction, and added that he hopes it can be an annual affair.

Local merchants donated merchandise, which was offered for auction on the live program on Cablevision Channel 11.

Dr. Rose Named Secretary Of State Association

Dr. Joseph L. Rose, associate professor of political science at Murray State University, is the new secretary of the Kentucky Political Science Association.

He was elected and installed for a one-year term during the recent annual meeting of the organization at Western Kentucky University. Membership of the association is made up of political science educators from public and private colleges and universities throughout Kentucky.

Rose, a faculty member at Murray State since 1966, earned the A.B.J., M.A., and Ph. D. degrees at the University of Kentucky.

Sen. Hubbard To Speak At Murray State JC Banquet

State Senator Carroll Hubbard, Democrat of Mayfield, will be the special guest speaker at the spring installation of officers banquet of the Murray State University Jaycees, according to Alan Gaddie, Jaycee spokesman. The banquet will be held Saturday night, April 19th at the Murray Holiday Inn, at which Senator Hubbard will be honored and presented with a special honorary membership in the University Jaycees.

Senator Hubbard, a candidate for First District U.S. Congressman, has been named 'Outstanding Young Man In Kentucky' by the Kentucky Jaycees and has been especially honored as 'Outstanding Young Man In America' by the United States Jaycees. Hubbard is 36 years old and a long-time Jaycee active at the local, state, and national levels.

The Jaycee organization at Murray State was formed in October of 1973 and became the first college Jaycee chapter to be formed in the state of Kentucky. Since that time the organization has been active in various activities for students at the university, as well as with special charitable activities for the community in cooperation with the Murray-Calloway County Jaycees.

Representatives from other Jaycee organizations in Western Kentucky are also expected to attend the banquet.

Nixon Names Simon Treasury Secretary

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon named federal energy chief William E. Simon to be Treasury secretary today and pledged to play an expanded personal role in directing the government's economic policy.

Simon's selection had been expected for weeks.

If confirmed by the Senate, Simon, a millionaire former Wall Street bond dealer, would succeed George Shultz, who departs next month after five years as a key Nixon administration official.

Unlike Shultz, Simon is not an economist. But he earned high marks from the White House for his brisk, sometimes brusque, handling of the energy adviser's post he was given four months ago.

Nixon promoted Simon's chief assistant, John C. Sawhill, to federal energy administrator.

In announcing Simon's nomination, Deputy Press Secretary Gerald L. Warren also announced that the President "intends to play an increasingly expanded role," in coordinating

Woodruff Named Teacher of Year By Lambda Chi

Dr. J. Neil Woodruff, associate professor of journalism at Murray State University, has been selected as Teacher of the Year by the Lambda Chi Alpha social fraternity on the campus.

He was presented a plaque of recognition Saturday evening during the annual Lambda Chi Alpha banquet at Ken Bar Inn. Making the presentation was Jim Heady of Morganfield, vice-president of the fraternity chapter at Murray State.

Woodruff, who was chosen by a vote of the Lambda Chi Alpha membership, said he considers

Dr. J. Neil Woodruff
Teacher of the Year

the award as "an honor not just for me, but for my family, the journalism staff and the entire faculty."

A member of the journalism faculty since 1971, Woodruff earned the B.S., M.A., and Ph. D. degrees at the University of Mississippi. His professional journalism experience includes work for several newspapers, among them the Memphis Commercial Appeal, the New Orleans Times Picayune, and the Hattiesburg American.

He is a native of Booneville, Miss.

Whitneys Ready For Royal Family Visitors

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — C.V. and Marylou Whitney are readying their farm near Lexington for the arrival of a pair of old acquaintances, Princess Margaret and her husband, the Earl of Snowdon.

The princess and her husband plan a three-day visit to Kentucky to see the 100th running of the Kentucky Derby on May 4.

They are scheduled to arrive May 2 at Bluegrass Field in Lexington and spend most of their stay in the Lexington area.

The Whitneys have been acquainted with the royal couple for many years. Whitney met Princess Margaret in England in the early 1950s and the two couples have gotten together several times since.

Policemen, taking notes for security precautions, took a four Tuesday of the farm, where Whitney has been breeding and training horses for more than 40 years. The farm belonged to his father.

The 75-year-old multimillionaire met the group outside the large main house.

"This gentlemen, is the place where we've had all our Derby parties," Whitney said. "Here we entertained the governors from all over the United States."

Some 31 Republican governors met in Lexington before the 1969 Derby. Vice President Spiro Agnew and some cabinet officials also were in Lexington at the time.

Security for the visit of the princess, her husband and their party won't be as much of a problem as it was that year, said John Hiten, deputy chief of the Lexington Metro police force.

"It's a task, that's what it is," Hiten said.

Princess Margaret and Lord Snowdon will stay in a large, two-story white brick guest house near the main house of the Whitney farm.

They plan to spend Thursday, May 2, at the farm and tour horse farms in the Bluegrass area on Friday.

Saturday they will travel to Louisville for the Run for the Roses and accompanying social events, and then return to Lexington that night.

The royal party plans to leave Bluegrass Field at noon on Sunday.

Tennis Court Meeting Thursday

A special meeting between the Murray City Council and the Murray Independent School Board, to discuss the location of five new tennis courts in the city, has been scheduled for 5:15 p.m. Thursday at City Hall.

MRS. JULIE LOVINS, named as Outstanding Citizen for 1974 by the Tau Phi Lambda Sorority, is congratulated by Gover Burkett, Area Manager of the Woodmen of the World.

Mrs. Julie Lovins Named, Honor As Outstanding Citizen For 1974

Mrs. Julie Lovins, Assistant Professor of Social Work, Department of Sociology and Anthropology, Murray State University, has been selected as Outstanding Citizen for 1974 by Tau Phi Lambda Sorority of the Woodmen of the World.

She was presented with a plaque by the sorority with the presentation being made by Gover Burkett, Area Manager of the Woodmen of the World.

This award is presented to someone who has given above the call of duty, a sorority spokesman said. Mrs. Lovins has been involved in many aspects of helping people, spends many hours beyond her teaching duties in helping students and others with their problems, and has done much voluntary work in the community, a sorority member said in announcing Mrs. Lovins as deserving of this award.

Mrs. Lovins and her husband, Gene, reside on Murray Route Five with their three children, Jennifer, age 13, Eric, age 10, and Kelley, age 9. She has membership at First Baptist Church, secretary of Kentucky Association of Social Work Educators, National Association of Social Workers, Academy of Certified Social Workers, and Kentucky Welfare Association.

The Murray profession was named as Outstanding Woman Professor at MSU 1973-74, is coordinator of Calloway County Case Conference, helped in establishing Need-Line in Murray, worked with Murray Ministerial Association in coordinating Christmas Charities Survey, and is on the Advisory Guidance Council of Murray Middle School.

Local Red Cross Drive Tops Goal

A final summation of the Calloway County Red Cross Fund Drive reveals that the goal of $10,000 has been exceeded, according to Holmes Ellis, chairman, and the amount raised now stands at $10,750 in cash and pledges.

The last effort of the drive, a roadblock conducted on Saturday by Alpha Omicron Phi and Lambda Chi Alpha, netted $629.35. Half of this will be immediately sent to the Kentucky tornado victims, along with other special donations being received.

Ellis emphasized the chapter's appreciation to all the workers and contributors. Acting as co-chairman was Robert Moyer, with Harvey Ellis, county chairman, George Stockton, university chairman, David Dickson, civic chairman, M.C. Garrott, publicity, and Sid Easley, coordinator.

Captains were Max Hurt, Marshall Jones, Henry Holton, William Boyd, Fred Schultz, Ed Shinnars, W.R. Fuches, Walt Apperson, Leonard Vaughn, Alice Koenecke, and Stuart Poston.

The kick-off breakfast was sponsored by the Bank of Murray and the Peoples Bank, and newspaper promotion was provided by the banks, the West Kentucky Rural Electric Association and the Murray Ledger & Times.

"We are extremely grateful to all participants, especially the 100 workers, and to each and every donor," said Ellis. "We pledge ourselves to work with the community in all aspects of Red Cross service."

The American Red Cross, oldest service organization in the country, is most active in service to military families and veterans, disaster, safety services and educational programs. The summer swim program, first aid, expectant parents, nursing and volunteer services, and numerous other programs are all supported solely throughout the local fund drive.

Pledges and donations to the disaster campaign will continue to be accepted at the chapter office in the courthouse or by mail to P.O. Box 488, Murray, Kentucky c-o Mrs. Jean Blankenship, Chapter Executive.

Considers Her Criminal

Saxbe Convinced Miss Hearst Not A 'Reluctant Participant'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe said today he is convinced that Patricia Hearst "was not a reluctant participant" in a San Francisco bank robbery and that he considers her a common criminal.

In San Francisco today, Saxbe's view was bolstered by

Symphony Orchestra To Present Concert Thursday Evening

Under the direction of Neale B. Mason, the Murray State University Symphony Orchestra will present a "Concert for Spring" Thursday night, April 18, in the University School Auditorium.

The Orchestra consists of fifty-six musicians made up of students and players from Murray and surrounding areas.

The concert of symphonic music will feature Dr. Carl Mowery as tuba soloist in a performance of "Concerto for tuba and string orchestra" by Arthur Frackenpohl.

Prof. Mason will also conduct the Orchestra in the Beethoven eighth Symphony and music by Rimsky-Korsakov and Berlioz.

The concert will start at 8:15 p.m. and will be open to the public without charge as another of the public offerings of the College of Creative Expression of Murray State University.

bank guard Edward Shea, who said Miss Hearst "was full of curse words" and appeared ready to fire a sawed-off carbine if necessary during the robbery.

Shea, 66, who was disarmed during the holdup, said Miss Hearst "absolutely was a participant" in the bank heist Monday in which two passers-by were shot.

"She wasn't scared, I'll tell you that," he said. "She looked as though she knew what she was doing. She had a gun and looked ready to use it. She had plenty of command in her voice. She was full of curse words. She let it be known that she meant business."

Saxbe said he believes the FBI would be justified in breaking into a dwelling to capture Miss Hearst and SLA members.

"The entire group we're talking about are common criminals," Saxbe said. Asked if he was including Miss Hearst in that description, he replied, "Miss Hearst is part of it."

In response to questions about the bank robbery, Saxbe said, "it would appear to me that she was not a reluctant participant in this robbery. My personal conclusion is that she was not a reluctant participant. There's room for others to say she was coerced into it, the two

Sally's Farewell Recipes

Today's "Asket Basket" recipe column by Sally DuFord will be the last, at least for a while.

Mrs. DuFord, a graduate dietitian, has continued to write her weekly column for the Murray Ledger & Times even though holding down a full-time job with the University of Tennessee at Martin. But the workload has become too great, and today she lays down the pen to devote full time to the spatula.

Since its inception over a year ago, the column has devoted space to contributed recipes and queries. Her final column, on page 19 of today's edition, consists of a collection of contributions from her readers.

Down the Garden Path

I usually get the planting fever just about this time of the year, but spring is coming late so I may just wait a couple of weeks and get the plants for all my annuals. They are inexpensive and will start right off as the weather warms up. I don't intend to do a great deal of planting this spring, but when fall comes I plan to set out shrubs and really get into the swing. It looks now as if it will be fall before I can get my yard graded and fixed as it needs to be, and until then there can be little planting.

I hate to be without flowers all summer, so will use the annuals to fill in the gaps. There are so many colorful plants that take up only a small space, such as gailardia, calendula, agerath, alysium and dozens of others. Petunias take a little more room, but a few plants, especially of the trailing variety will bring in a wealth of bloom. The trailing nasturtiums are lovely planted at the top of a wall or in a hanging basket.

A hanging basket is the answer to those who have no yard of their own. There are so many pretty plants that seem to be made for a basket. One with an odd sounding name is Dipladenia with its dainty pink blooms that go well with Ageratum or pink coleus.

The best way to choose plants for a basket is to go to a nursery and select the ones you want. Don't be afraid to mix them up and make it your own basket. The dwarf zinnia or marigold will fit in nicely. You might try the Tuberosa Begonia, which are very pretty. I have not had very good luck with them as they are rather temperamental. It is easy to give them too much water, or too much sun. The pictures in the catalogues and magazines have always intrigued me and tempted me to try again, because of their beauty. And I may try them one more time just to prove to myself that I can raise them.

The dogwood trees are in full bloom and although some of them have a sort of frost bitten look, they are still lovely. I saw a big bowl of the pink ones yesterday and they were gorgeous. The fragile beauty of the dogwood is hard to surpass. Now the warming trend will bring forth many spring flowers.

Darnell Home Is Scene Of Kirksey PTA Board Meeting

The executive board of the Kirksey Parent-Teacher Association held its regular meeting Tuesday, April 9, in the home of Mrs. Ralph Darnell.

Mrs. Howard Darnell's devotion was entitled "The Family That Listens." Mrs. Darnell pointed out if parents would take the time to listen to their children's problems when growing up, chances are they would always come to you with their problem. Lack of listening and problems goes hand in hand, she said.

Mrs. Earl Lamb, secretary, read the minutes. Mrs. Jerry Kirkland reported on Mrs. Bazzell and her trip to Mayfield for the Spring Conference.

Dr. Glenn C. Wilcox Speaks At Meeting Of The Delta Department

Dr. Glenn C. Wilcox spoke on "The Communications Explosion," at the meeting of the Delta Department of the Murray Woman's Club held Tuesday evening, April 2.

He was introduced by Mrs. Ewen Albritten, program chairman. Mrs. Walter Baker, chairman of the department, presided over the business. Miss Hazel Tarry, secretary, read the minutes.

Mrs. Thomas Hogancamp, chaplain, read the prayer. "For a Meeting for Women." Mrs. J.D. Rayburn, chairman of the Cancer Drive, announced plans of the committee for solicitations for funds. Mrs. Garnett Jones made the treasurer's report, and announced donations of the department to the following: Civic Music Concert, $20.00 for two tickets that were given one to each high school; $25.00 to the high school band trip; $35.00 to the reading diagnostic fund; $21.38 taken by collection from the attendance and given to Care; $50.00 to Mental Health.

In introducing Dr. Wilcox, Mrs. Albritten gave a list of interests and offices held by him. He is Associate Professor of Communications, Murray State University, chairman of the Board of Kentucky Lake Folk Festival; consultant of Kentucky State Parks Department Summer Entertainment programs. Before coming to Murray his native home, he earned degrees from Wayne University with a major in physics and a master of Arts. Later he majored in music and minored in Radio and speech, and received a doctorate in Philosophy from the University of Southern California and a major in musicology.

He has been assistant director of admissions; director of school of public relations in University of Southern California. In 1968 was with the Entertainment Tour in the South Pacific Theater.

Dr. Wilcox served as staff member and assistant director of Music WJR & CBS; was soloist and pianist in Wayne King's Orchestra; chorus master of The Detroit Civic Light Opera and instructor in voice in Detroit Conservatory of Music, Wayne University.

"Communications is the transmission of a message—a chain of events from a sender to a receiver, basically a person to person involvement" was the opening statement of Dr. Wilcox's message. "According to the Bible the first com-

Boren Home Scene Memorial Church Night Circle Meet

The Night Circle of the WMU of the Memorial Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Lillie Mae Boren on Thursday, March 28, at seven p.m.

Mrs. Nola Lewis, chairman, opened the meeting with prayer and read the poem, "On The Wings of Prayer" by Helen Rice. Reports were given and visits to patients in the rest homes were recorded.

A love offering was voted for Janet Davis Dillard, missionary to Kenya, on her forthcoming visit to Memorial Church. She formerly served as pianist of the church.

Mrs. Thyra Crawford, program chairman, had charge of the program on how the "Annie Armstrong Easter Offering is Used."

Appearing on the program were Mesdames Norma Bone, Modelle Miller, Nola Lewis, and Thyra Crawford.

Mrs. Lois Sanderson gave a thumb nail sketch of the life of Annie Armstrong. Mrs. Pauline Wainscott taught the eleventh chapter of Romans.

The hostess served a party plate to the ten members and one visitor, Patricia Futrell.

munication was that which took place in the Garden of Eden between God, Adam, Eve, and the serpent." The ways of communication include the eyes, head, body parts, voice—not just words but inflection, pacing, and others, he said.

He stated that communication is a constant attempt to expand farther, faster to more people. "When communication fails, then trouble begins," and referred to the conversations in the Garden of Eden, the Tower of Babel and the battle of New Orleans.

"The general development of communication comes in different manners—infants communicate their wants even though they do not speak," he said. Communication can be transmitted through artistic endeavors, dancing, rain, harvest sacrifice, music, drums, painting, sculpture, writing, signs, signals, lights, fires, watchmen, sounds. He traced communication through history and concluded with modern methods—radio, TV, printing, computers—all leading toward control of power. "The greatest problem," the speaker said "is the manipulation and control of mass media. The great explosion is caused by the widening circle of knowledge."

Responding to special request after the meeting closed, Dr. Wilcox played on the piano some of his Wayne King favorites—"Smoke Gets in Your Eyes," "Stardust" and others.

Miss Ruby Smith presented the slate of nominees for offices for the coming year. The following were nominated and elected: Mrs. Thomas Hogancamp, chairman; Mrs. James M. Mouser, vice chairman; Miss Frances Brown, secretary; Mrs. Garnett Jones, treasurer; Mrs. Harry Sparks, chaplain.

Mrs. George E. Overbey

Long-time worker wants 'divorce shower'

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY For years I have contributed to office collections for coworkers on the occasion of their engagements, marriages, anniversaries, births, deaths in the family, new homes, etc.

My wife and I separated a year ago, and I've been rooming with another man since then. Now I'm getting my own apartment, and I need all the things a couple needs to set up housekeeping—sheets, towels, dishes, appliances, etc. [My wife took everything when we split up.] Since I can't afford to buy all these things at once, I have proposed a "divorce" shower at work. It might even be appropriate for the gifts to be used items, since it's a second start for me.

The general reaction in the office was favorable, but some were on the fence. We agreed to abide by your advice as to whether this idea was too outrageous or actually a sensible way to help me out with a problem. POTLESS

DEAR POTLESS: The idea makes a lot of sense to me. But you shouldn't "propose" the shower yourself, anymore than a bride should "propose" her own shower. [P. S. Yours is not actually a "divorce shower," it's a miscellaneous shower for a man who's setting up housekeeping and doesn't have a pot.]

DEAR ABBY: I work in an office building. There's a woman down the hall who smokes about a pack of cigarettes a day, and she bums every one of them!

She knows there are several smokers in this office, so she runs in just about every 30 minutes and asks if "anybody" has a cigarette.

I asked her why she didn't buy some, and she said: "I'm not supposed to be smoking at all, and if I buy them I'll only smoke them." [I wonder what she thinks she is doing with the cigarettes she bums off us?]

Is there some real sharp answer we can give her when she comes in here to bum a cigarette? SUCKER

DEAR SUCKER: Don't look for a "sharp" answer. Tell her if she's going to smoke she'll have to buy her own. That's sharp enough.

DEAR ABBY: I have been dating Henry for six months. He says he does not have a telephone at home. I do not have the phone number of the night or day jobs where he works. He says they allow only emergency calls, so he does all the calling.

One day I asked him where he lived and he said: "I can't give you the address because I'm moving right now." When I asked him where to send his Christmas card, he said: "Just hand it to me."

I have never been introduced to any of his friends, and he says he doesn't have any family.

Once I came right out and asked him if he was married, and he said no. He is always telling me I ask too many questions. I have a feeling he is not being honest with me. There are things I would like to know about him because I am falling in love with him. Why do you think he's so secretive?

IN THE DARK

DEAR IN: It's just a wild guess, but I'd say he's either married or living with someone. Unless he's willing to let you know where he lives and where he works, you'd be wise to forget him and look for a man who's not afraid to answer a few simple questions.

Salute To Mrs. Willis

When Mrs. Simeon Willis stepped down as executive director of the Kentucky Heritage Commission April 1, she ended nearly a decade of dedicated service to the Commonwealth in that field.

In fact, no person can claim a larger role in the difficult task of preserving those years. The subject was her quiet passion. The widow of a former governor, Mrs. Willis has held a long-abiding concern for the state's heritage.

The accomplishments made during her tenure are many:

- Acquisition of state and federal matching money for many restorations including $100,000 for renovating the old Capitol Building in Frankfort.

- Increasing Kentucky's listings in the National Register of Historic Places from 18 to 125.
- Development of a professional staff of eight, including an historian, an archeologist and an architectural historian.
- Two publications promoting preservation, including one with a listing of 2,000 historic sites in Kentucky.

Mrs. Willis deserves the state's utmost appreciation. The Ledger & Times wishes her well in her well-deserved retirement.

Saxbe Sounds No Ringing Themes In First 100 Days

WASHINGTON (AP) — In his first 100 days of office, Gen. William B. Saxbe has sounded no ringing themes and promised none.

He has set forth some modest and tentative objectives for the Justice Department he runs while moving to narrow the scope and influence of his own role in the national policy-making scheme.

He insists that he is and ought to be the decision-maker on the department's broad policy questions. Yet his personal style and limited experience point to broader and more influential roles for the department's lesser officials, particularly the deputy attorney general.

Those assessments emerge from conversations with Saxbe, dozens of department officials and outsiders who deal regularly with the nation's chief law enforcement agency. There is an obvious caveat: A public official's early record does not always set an unchanging pattern.

Saxbe frequently describes the department as a law office and, in a recent discussion of his long-term objectives, he said: "The only general priority that I have is that we furnish the government the best possible legal representation."

On another day, he went further in defining a limited role for himself and the department in the Nixon administration.

"One thing I'm determined to do here in the Justice Department is to stay away from national policy except where we have a responsibility," he said. "If Congress sets out an area for us to fulfill, we're going to do it. If we differ from that, we'll tell them. But we're not going to change policy internally. I think the very essence of a police department for a city or anything else is to not assume a policy-making role."

The statement grew from a discussion of internal security laws, but the thought is consistent with other issues as well.

Saxbe expresses deep concern with such pressing law enforcement problems as kidnapping and terrorism, rising crime rates and drug abuse.

He says he is studying ways to deal with those problems but, when pressed for details, he answers vaguely, mentions old proposals, occasionally mistakes the facts and sometimes seems surprised to learn of projects already under way in the department.

On kidnappings, he says, "The best way I know to discourage them is to catch the kidnapers."

When FBI figures showed a 1973 increase in the crime rate, he reacted by suggesting a conference of the nation's law enforcement officers. After other officials questioned what it would cost and whether it would accomplish anything anyway, he agreed to reconsider.

Saxbe suggests that social and economic factors play a part in the rising crime rate, but insists that the department must limit its approach to law enforcement because the socio-economic ills are "beyond the ken of the Justice Department."

Saxbe also expresses concern with a range of difficult constitutional problems lingering over the department, but he has presented no proposals of his own to deal with them.

The issues brought to the fore by Watergate and disclosures of possible government abuse of civil liberties during the tur-

Arms Guidelines Vital

While the world has been nervously watching the Israeli-Arab conflict as a continuing threat to world peace, another volatile source of conflict has been developing in the nearby Persian Gulf.

Former Defense Secretary Melvin Laird warns that an "awesome arsenal of armaments" built up by such states as Iran, Iraq and Saudi Arabia has created a tinderbox situation that needs to be defused. The recent announcement that the United States plans to discuss selling war material to Saudi Arabia provides fresh and meaningful emphasis to that warning.

The basic issue, of course, is oil, compounded by high multiples of national self-interest by Third World nations, border disputes and international military power equations.

Iran is the most powerful non-Arab nation on the Persian Gulf. Quarreling with Soviet-supplied Iraq, she has a sophisticated and large arsenal of aircraft, tanks and naval ships.

The U.S. policy has been to provide the military hardware cautiously to protect Western interests and to receive much-needed Iranian and Persian Gulf oil. Each day, some 20 million barrels of crude are shipped through the narrow Strait of Hormuz at the foot of the Persian Gulf to ports around the world.

The long-standing hostility among Iran and such oil-rich states as Saudi Arabia and Kuwait has a potential for provoking major conflicts, particularly if the possession of sophisticated aircraft, missiles and other weaponry leads one or another potential belligerent to think aggression might better settle disputes than diplomacy. Not much escalation of a Persian Gulf war would be needed to involve neighboring Pakistan, Afghanistan or India. The United States, the Soviet Union and Communist Chinese would be hard put to stand aloof.

The U.S. policy of providing massive military help to Persian Gulf nations has been necessary for them to defend themselves against neighbors armed by the Soviet Union and to prevent them from falling into the Soviet orbit. However, prudence dictates that well-defined guidelines be established on further sales of modern, effective offensive-style equipment to the potentially combative gulf nations, most of whom are oriented to the West.

Certainly there is a need for a more forceful diplomatic effort to allay the major gulf powers' mutual — and indeed quite genuine — fears of one another.

Senator Dee Huddleston

REPORTS TO THE PEOPLE OF KENTUCKY

ELECTION REFORM, MR. NIXON'S TAX RETURNS

During debate on a campaign finance reform bill, the Senate adopted an amendment I offered dealing with the equal time provision of the Communications Act of 1934. The bill, as written, would have suspended the equal time provision for all broadcast stations for all political races. The theory behind such a provision is that it will facilitate political debates and better broadcast coverage of elections.

My amendment provides that before a broadcast station can suspend the equal time provision, it must first offer five minutes of free air time to all candidates in that race. (This provision would not apply to the Presidential and Vice Presidential races).

I offered the amendment as a protection against any minor, non-established candidate being blanked out of any coverage at all. While I have a background of 20 years in broadcasting, and while I have found station owners and managers to be eminently fair in their treatment of all candidates, the suspension of the equal time provision does give extraordinary discretion to the individual stations.

I think my amendment gives protection to the public, to all political candidates, and to the stations. It assures that all candidates will have at least minimum access to the media should stations suspend the equal time provision, and thereby it will protect the stations against unwarranted criticisms of bias and unequal coverage.

I share the outrage of many of you that have written concerning the fact that over a two-year period the President paid only $1,600 in federal income taxes on a salary of more than $400,000.

Even if all the deductions which Mr. Nixon used are ultimately deemed legal — which is highly questionable at this time — his tax situation certainly does not reflect credit or honor upon the office of President or his leadership responsibility.

The average American, who is now completing the painful annual process of paying up to the Internal Revenue Service, is not very happy to learn that his President used every available tax dodge to avoid paying all but the barest minimum of taxes. If the President doesn't pay his fair share, many Americans will doubtless lose faith in our tax system.

Griffin Hits And Hurls Astros Past Giants 4-0

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

Houston's Tom Griffin has the hitting power of a moose and the memory of an elephant when it comes to recalling his home runs.

But pitchers are supposed to remember things like shutouts and earned run average and innings pitched...aren't they? "You know how it is with pitchers," said Griffin after his 4-0 victory over the San Francisco Giants Tuesday night. "Home runs are something special to a pitcher when he hits one."

And Griffin unloaded the fifth of his career—a two-run shot—in the fifth inning of his three-hit triumph over the Giants.

Elsewhere in the National League, the Philadelphia Phillies bombed the St. Louis Cardinals 10-3; the Pittsburgh Pirates defeated the Chicago Cubs 8-5 in 12 innings; the Montreal Expos tripped the New York Mets 4-1; the Atlanta Braves nipped the San Diego Padres 4-2, and the Los Angeles Dodgers topped the Cincinnati Reds 5-3 in 11 innings.

Ask the 26-year-old right-hander how many shutouts he has, and you'll get a blank stare. Griffin didn't know Tuesday's whitewash was the sixth of his career.

Griffin used only 93 pitches in dispatching the Giants. He retired the last 18 batters consecutively and threw only seventeen pitches in the last five innings.

Griffin had an infield single in the third inning before the home run raised his batting average to .429.

The triumph, meanwhile, lowered Griffin's earned run average to 1.22 and raised his record to 2-1.

Phillies 10, Cardinals 3
Steve Carlton pitched the Phillies to their fifth straight victory while Mike Anderson hit a two-run double and Dave Cash drove in three runs to defeat St. Louis.

Carlton surrendered nine hits but won his first game this season. He comes off a 20-loss season in 1973.

The Phils scored five times in the sixth inning and added three in the seventh—one of them on an RBI single by Carlton.

Pirates 8, Cubs 5
Frank Taveras drove in Willie Stargell with the winning run and Manny Sanguillen added two more in the 12th inning to spark the Pirates to their second victory in nine games.

Pittsburgh's Richie Hebner went three-for-four in the contest, including a home run and a fifth-inning single which put his team in front 5-4. Al Oliver had a three-run homer for Pittsburgh.

The Cubs had tied it in the sixth on a sacrifice fly by Dave Rosello. Chicago had scored four times in the bottom of the first, including Jose Cardenal's two-run shot.

Expos 4, Mets 1
Montreal got three runs in the eighth inning on Ron Fairly's single and a two-run error by New York shortstop Ted Martinez.

Rusty Staub's first-inning home run was matched in the seventh by the Expos' Bob Bailey.

Steve Renko and Chuck Taylor combined to hold New York four hits and hand 1973 Cy Young award winner Tom Seaver his first loss of the season.

Braves 4, Padres 2

Darrell Evans clubbed a two-run homer, Dusty Baker extended his hitting streak to 10 games with a single to center, and Ron Reed pitched eight innings of seven-hit ball to carry Atlanta past San Diego.

Reed left the game in favor of Jack Aker in the ninth inning, and the game nearly got away from the Braves. Aker loaded the bases and Danny Frisella relieved Aker, only to give up a two-run single to Dave Winfield. But Frisella got out of the jam later.

Dodger 5, Reds 3
Los Angeles caught Cincinnati with a two-run ninth inning, then Bill Russell doubled home two runs in the 11th for the victory.

Jimmy Wynn hit his fifth home run of the season and pinch runner Rick Auerbach scored another to tie the game in the ninth.

Russell's double came with the bases loaded after Auerbach singled and was sacrificed to second; then Joe Ferguson was walked intentionally and Steve Garvey singled to load the bases and set the scene for Russell.

Miss Evert, who won last week's women's pro event at Sarasota from the Australian, had the easier time of the two in Tuesday's opening rounds, defeating Pat Bostrom of Seattle, 6-0, 6-1.

Miss Goolagong defeated Kathy Kuykendall of Miami, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4.

In other first-round matches, Jeanne Evert, Chris' sister, beat Kerry Harris of Australia, 6-4, 7-6; Glynis Cole of England defeated Kate Latham, 4-6, 6-2, 6-4; Terry Holladay of La Jolla, Calif., beat Zenda Liess of Daytona Beach, 7-6, 7-6; Kerry Melville of Australia defeated Sue Stap of Deerfield, Ill., 6-1, 6-1; Donna Ganz of Miami Beach beat Sharon Walsh, 6-4, 7-6; Betty Stove of Holland defeated Betsy Nagelsen of St. Petersburg, 6-4, 6-1.

Celtics Take 2-0 Lead By Pulverizing Knicks

By BERT ROSENTHAL
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Boston Coach Tom Heinsohn gambled and won.

New York Coach Red Holzman took a chance and lost.

And because of those two decisions, the Celtics beat the Knicks 111-99 Tuesday night and took a commanding 2-0 lead in their National Basketball Association Eastern Conference best-of-seven final series, which continues in Boston Friday night.

In the only other pro basketball action Tuesday night the Milwaukee Bucks whipped the Chicago Bulls 101-85 in game one of the NBA Western Conference finals.

The moves by Heinsohn and Holzman both came in the decisive third period, when the Celtics turned a 60-53 halftime deficit into an 86-74 lead, outscoring New York 33-14.

Heinsohn took his calculated risk with 3:10 remaining in the quarter when his superstar and captain, John Havlicek, incurred his fifth personal foul. The Celtics, spurred by a 19-4 run early in the period, including 10 consecutive points, were leading 78-70 when Havlicek charged into Dean Meminger for his fifth foul.

But instead of taking him out and having him available for the usually vital fourth quarter, Heinsohn left him in the game.

"I kept him in because that's where the game was going to be won or lost," explained Heinsohn. "If I take him out, it's like he committed his sixth personal."

The decision paid off. Havlicek, who had fired in a remarkable 19 points in the first period—only three short of Boston's final 14 points of the quarter, didn't draw another foul. He played the rest of the way and wound up as the game's high scorer with 27 points.

Holzman's decision came earlier in the third quarter. After the first minute, he took out his defensive bulwark, Dave DeBusschere, who was limping. But less than a minute later, he decided to reinstate the veteran forward.

DeBusschere, playing with what he said was an injured groin muscle, was completely ineffective, missing all seven of his field goal attempts in the second half.

Don Nelson chipped in with 23 points and 10 rebounds for the Celtics, Jo Jo White contributed 22 points and Cowsens had 15 points and a game-high 18 rebounds. Walt Frazier led the Knicks with 21 points, one more than Bill Bradley.

'Breds To Face Vandy As Season Winds Down

The Murray State baseball team, 27-10 after splitting a doubleheader at Middle Tennessee Saturday, will play defending Southeastern Conference champion Vanderbilt in doubleheader Thursday at Nashville.

The Racers will play Louisville at Murray Sunday, and Arkansas State at Jonesboro, Ark., Monday.

The split at Middle Tennessee gave the Racers a 4-2 record in the Western Division of the Ohio Valley Conference and left them a game behind Middle on the loss side in division standings. Middle, 3-1, will play Western Kentucky, 2-2, a doubleheader Saturday. Austin Peay, the fourth team in the division, is 1-5.

If Middle and Western split the Saturday doubleheader, Murray and Middle will tie for the division championship. A Western sweep would make Murray and Western co-champions. Murray won the fall championship of the division and is already assured of a spot in the division play-offs which will determine the team to meet the Eastern Division winner for the league champions.

Infant WFL stirs Woodard memories

By JACK MURPHY

Another pro football league is starting up, and that's probably a fine thing because it will provide a living for a lot of athletes who otherwise would be obliged to go to work.

But Milt Woodard, who midwived the birth of another frail infant, would rather know about the quality of ownership in the new World Football League than the playing talent.

"I wonder if they'll find a group with the character of our original eight club owners," muses Woodard. "They were pretty solid people."

He refers to the eight iconoclasts—the "Foolish Eight," as they came to describe themselves—who disregarded the advice of family and friends to form the American Football League in 1959. Woodard was part of that wonderful madness. He was principal administrative assistant to the AFL's colorful commissioner, Joe Foss, and he did most of the work and made many of the hard decisions because Joe wasn't comfortable in an office.

Now Woodard is adjusting gracefully to retirement. He and his wife have purchased a lovely home in La Jolla, Calif., and when he isn't golfing with Jack Bell, the pro at La Jolla Country Club, he hitches himself up to a typewriter and works on a novel or light essays for magazines.

He is a writer who tried to go straight by working at administrative jobs in baseball, golf and football. But the monkey is still on his back. He had been a sportswriter, and a good one, with the Tacoma News-Tribune and the Chicago Sun-Times.

It would be a fascinating story if he would give his special view of the early struggles of the league put together by Lamar Hunt because he felt slighted by the aristocracy of the National Football League. Denied a franchise in Dallas, Hunt phoned a few rich friends—Bud Adams, Barron Hilton and Ralph Wilson among them—and invised them to join him in financing a new league.

Woodard knows the full story, but he is a kindly sort and he'll keep his secrets.

Woodard goes back to a day when the Jets were known as the Titans and playing before gatherings of 1,200 at the Polo Grounds. It was the custom of the owner, Harry Wismer, to announce attendance of 15,000.

Wismer had other problems, the foremost being that he was broke. During his last season of ownership, before the club was sold to Sonny Werblin and associates, the league was obliged to meet the Titans' payroll. Woodard distributed the checks.

"Harry was busted but he made an important contribution to the league," says Woodard. "He had the biggest market but it was his idea that all clubs would share equally in TV revenue."

In 1960, the AFL's first season, that was not a spectacular sum. Each franchise received $100,000 annually from the American Broadcasting Co., and the package included the championship game. The Foolish Eight were competing with a league, the NFL, where the TV revenue per team was $1 million per season.

There are many theories as to how the AFL survived and all contain merit. But Woodard's hero is Werblin.

Werblin will be remembered as the daring fellow who signed Namath to a $400,000 contract, but he made another contribution of greater significance.

Werblin, according to Woodard, negotiated a new TV contract with the National Broadcasting Co. for the 1965 season which was worth $850,000 per team annually for five years. Foss has been credited with that achievement, but it was the work of Werblin.

"It was the contract with NBC which caused the merger," says Woodard.

The merger came on June 8, 1966, giving the AFL owners the parity and common draft they had charished.

Lamonica Joins List Of Players To Jump As He Goes To WFL

By JACK STEVENSON
AP Sports Writer

ANAHEIM (AP)—Oakland quarterback Daryle Lamonica joins the increasing list of professional players jumping to the new World Football League which now has 1-2 punched the Raiders.

Ken Stabler of Oakland earlier announced that in 1976 he would join Birmingham and now Lamonica has signed to join the Southern California Sun in 1975.

Both have contractual obligations left in the National Football League and both will be striving to be No. 1 at Oakland for 1974.

Then Lamonica will start collecting on a multi-year, possibly $1 million contract.

He and the team were careful not to announce any money figures but a league official said, "I understand that figure isn't far out of the ball park."

Lamonica, from Fresno, Calif., starred at Notre Dame and will be starting his 12th year in pro ball. He has been an All-Pro and led Oakland to titles but was relegated to second string last season.

The Sun also announced former Southern California All-American Marlin McKeever, a veteran of more than a dozen years in the NFL, had been signed to a playing contract, also a multi-year pact with no salary figures announced.

Coach Tom Fears said the veteran linebacker would not automatically become the defensive captain but indicated his long experience will be put to good use. In the NFL, McKeever played with Los Angeles, Washington and Philadelphia.

General Manager Curly Morrison said the signing of the two did not necessarily end the Southern California pro team's aspirations to NFL talent.

"We are still negotiating with some of them," he said. "We're trying to get six or seven or maybe eight by the 1975 season."

The Sun is trying to land All-Pro offensive guard Tom Mack of the Los Angeles Rams, among others.

The Sun now has 81 players under contract with the practices due to start on June 8 at Fullerton State College.

The Southern California team's first big signings were college players—running backs Kermit Johnson and James McAllister of UCLA and tackle Booker Brown of the University of Southern California.

Owner Larry Hatfield of the Sun, said his organization expected to lose at least $1 million but not $2 million in becoming established over the next two years.

New Leader In Classics Bowling Congress Event

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Ed Ditolla of Hackensack, N.J., led a 747 Tuesday to replace Bud Tufts Jr., of Miami, Ohio, atop the Classics singles standing in the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Ditolla also took over for Dick Weber Jr., of St. Charles, Mo., at the top of all-events with 2,042. Weber is second with 2,012.

Dave Juric, Hammond, Ind., fired 708 for third in singles, and Craig Mueller, Hackensack, had 703 for sixth. In all events, Mueller came up with 1,996 for fourth, and Paul Petescola, Hackensack, counted 1,947 for 10th.

There also were three doubles revisions behind leaders Bus Oswalt and Bob Perry, Muncie, Ind., 1,351. Ditolla and Mueller rolled 1,294 for fourth; Ken Vincek and Juric 1,282 for fifth, and Petescola and Mike Brady, 1,278 for sixth.

None of the three pro teams in action shot a score which might qualify for the rollofts. The best was 2,978 by Anything Goes, Claremont, Calif.

Two regular teams took the spotlight away from the pros. Village Bowl, Muncie, shot 3,128 for sixth place, and Skyway-Scottsdale Lanes, Chicago, had 3,118 for seventh. Village's games were 964, 1,089 and 1,075. Skyway had 992, 981 and 1,145.

There was an international flavor in Tuesday's round with individuals competing from Venezuela, Finland and Sweden plus a team of all-stars from Tokyo on hand for tonight's Classics firing.

The Valencia Stars paced all regular teams with 2,936, while the Maracay quintet hit 2,824.

Racer Women Destroy SIU In Meet 106-11

The Murray State Women's track team took first place in each of 14 events Tuesday at Stewart Stadium to crush Southern Illinois University 106-11 in a dual meet.

Only three days before, the Racer girls had taken third place in an outstanding field at the Murray State Invitational which found Illinois State winning team honors.

The dual match with SIU serves as a warmup for the State Tournament which will be held Saturday in Stewart Stadium. Western Kentucky, Eastern Kentucky, Centre, University of Kentucky and Murray will all be bidding for the championship.

Debbie Hafer, Glenda Rudolph and Babs Laha all took double wins in the meet with SIU.

Hafer took first in the 400-meter run with a 69.0 while teammate Nan Grant was second and Patty Earner was third.

Miss Hafer came back in the other hurdling event, the 100-meter hurdles, to win with 17.4 while Glenda Rudolph was second.

Glenda Rudolph took both of her first-places in the field events as did Miss Laha.

Miss Rudolph won the high jump, with an effort of 4-7 with teammate Pattie Fitzhugh taking third with 4-4.

In the long jump, Miss Rudolph led a Murray sweep with a first of 16-5 with Hafer second with 16-0 and Fitzhugh third with 15.6.

Laha won the shot put with an effort of 33-2 with Sue Sewing's 31-11 taking second.

In the discus, Miss Laha won with 117-6 with Sewing second with 101-1 1/2.

Sewing came back to win the javelin with 119-1 1/2 while Laha was second and Linda Rudolph third.

Linda Rudolph was the winner in the 100 with an effort of 12.4 against the wind with Nancy Lemaster second in 12.9 and Pam Irvin's 13.2 taking third. Pattie Fitzhugh took individual honors in the 220 with a 29.9 and Lemaster was second in 30.9. The race was run in a downpour and against a strong wind.

Brenda Bennett took the 440-yard dash with a 65.0 while in the 880, Murray swept all three places with Nan Grant's 2:41.6 winning the event while Patty Earner was second and Meg Cammack third.

Earner won the mile run in 6:04.9 while Nan Grant was second in 6:10.

Only two relay events were held and Murray won both of those with no trouble.

The 440 relay team of Lemaster, Rudolph, Fitzhugh and Bennett won in 5:37 while the 880 medley team of Fitzhugh, Linda Rudolph, Lemaster and Bennett won in 2:01.

Saturday's State Meet will begin with the field events at 9 a.m. with track events getting started at 10 a.m.

McCarthy Says Colonels Might Have Lost Poise

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky Colonel Coach Babe McCarthy says he believes his team may have lost its poise in the first two games against New York in the American Basketball Association Eastern Division final playoff series.

"We just need a good, sound whipping on them to get our confidence back," he said. "If we go out and shoot 50 per cent in the first half and get 10 points up on them, they'll be coming down and missing the forced-up shots, and we'll be going down to the other end and scoring."

Kentucky hosts New York tonight in Louisville for game No. 3 in the best-of-seven series.

"We lost two straight to New York the same way we beat Carolina four straight," McCarthy said. "It wasn't so much our prowess that caused Carolina to lose four in a row as it was the fact that they just didn't play as well as they are capable of playing."

"That's why, he added, "I think we might turn this thing with New York around."

Wendell Ladner and Mike Gale, two former Colonels taken by New York in a mid-season swap, played key roles in Monday's 99-80 victory over Kentucky.

Ladner played 29 minutes and put in 15 points, grabbed down a team high 14 rebounds, had five assists and five steals. He also helped hold Kentucky's Dan Issel to a 4-for-14 shooting night and nine points.

Each of the nine points that Gale scored seemed to come when Kentucky couldn't afford to let him score.

The current series is reminiscent of two years ago when the Nets downed Kentucky 4-2 in the first round of the playoffs.

At that time, Kentucky lost the first two games. But Kentucky's Issel says there is no comparison.

"Two years ago, they had beaten us twice on our home court and we were in big trouble, he said.

Rangers Look Bad Even When Winning A Game

By KEN RAPPOPORT AP Sports Writer

Even when the Texas Rangers win, they look bad.

The American League's worst team turned a misplayed fly ball and a misfired squeeze bunt into a run—and beat the Kansas City Royals 3-2 despite themselves Tuesday night.

"We got the kind of luck tonight that we have been looking for," said Texas Manager Billy Martin.

Yes, but the Royals carried it to a ridiculous extreme in the eighth inning.

Pinch-hitter Jim Spencer was credited with a triple when Cookie Rojas and Al Cowens collided running after his short fly to right.

Then came the play that broke the Royals' back.

Len Randle was on third, pinch-running for Spencer, when Dave Nelson missed a suicide squeeze bunt. In the rundown that ensued, catcher Fran Healy threw wildly past third baseman Paul Schaal, allowing Randle to score the winning run.

Steve Busby was the victim of the Kansas City mistakes.

ABA Following In Footsteps Of New World Football League

AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Basketball Association, following the lead of the new World Football League, raided its major opposition for talent today, drafting players from the National Basketball Association.

But the ABA was unlikely to be able to sign its NBA choices for several years, because most of them were under long-term agreements, whereas the WFL already has signed numerous National Football League players for more immediate use.

"The best the ABA can get out of this is about a dozen players for future delivery, maybe for the 1976 or 1977 season," an NBA owner said prior to the draft, which was to consume five rounds.

"Basketball players are much different than football players," he continued. "You can't sell tickets with announcements that they will be playing for a team two, three or four years hence."

One of the few NBA big-name players expected to jump to the ABA—provided, of course, the financial offer is substantial—is streak-shooting Cazzie Russell of the Golden State Warriors. Russell has expressed dissatisfaction with being the Warriors' sixth man.

As for some other NBA stars, such as 7-foot-2 Kareem Abdul-Jabbar of Milwaukee, the league's most valuable player this season, and 6-11 Bob Lanier of Detroit, expected to be among the ABA's high draft choices, both are working on long-term contracts. Jabbar is committed to the Bucks through 1978 and Lanier to the Pistons until 1979, including one-year options following the expirations of their contracts.

While the 10 ABA clubs planned an all-out effort to sign the total of 50 NBA stars it drafted, it also had a big jump on its rival in the bidding war for the top collegiate talent.

The younger league, now in its seventh season, picked most of the stars of the 1973-74 season last year in special player or undergraduate drafts, including All-Americans Bill Walton of UCLA, David Thompson of North Carolina State, Marvin Barnes of Providence and John Schumate of Notre Dame.

The NBA, which limited its 1973 collegiate draft to seniors, has not yet tapped any of the big names. It will hold its 1974 college draft following the playoffs and the expansion draft to stock the new New Orleans franchise.

Walton, twice the Colgate Player of the Year and a three-time All-American, is expected to command a multiyear contract worth millions of dollars. He was selected by the ABA's San Diego Conquistadors and is expected to be taken by the Portland Trail Blazers, who hold the NBA's No. 1 selection.

Thompson, only a junior, also figures to sign a lucrative contract if he decides to turn pro. He was chosen in last year's ABA draft by the Memphis Tams and only could gain entrance into the NBA next season as a hardship case.

Two From Murray Run In Boston Marathon

Most people take to the beach or relax on a holiday but not the 1,700 plus runners who showed up at Hopkinton Senior High School to run in the 78th annual Boston Athletic Association's Marathon held Monday, Patriot's Day.

A total of 18 countries were represented with one them being Ireland, the home of the winner, Neil Cusack, a senior at East Tennessee and very familiar to persons in Murray who follow Ohio Valley Conference track and cross country each season.

Cusack hit the tape in two hours, 13 minutes and 39 seconds, just shy of the record held by Ron Hill of England which is 2:10:30 set on a cool, rainy Patriot's Day in 1970.

Finishing in second place for the second consecutive year was Tom Flemming of New Jersey who ran an impressive 2:14:25.

Of the over 1,700 runners, Murray had two entries.

Dr. Adam Lanning III, 43, who is a member of the sociology department at Murray State, ran for the first time at Boston. He has run six marathons, this being his third in two months.

Mark Bauman, a 24-year-old graduate student in Health, Physical Education and Recreation, was competing in his fifth Boston Marathon in as many years and his 15th overall.

In order for the Murray runners to qualify to run in the race, they had to run a 26-mile 385-yard race just to be able to participate at Boston.

Bauman qualified with his time at Boston last year and Lanning ran his qualifying time (maximum 3:30) at the Smokey Mountain Marathon in February at Knoxville.

He ran another qualifying time "just for the fun of it" two weeks later at the Olympic Memorial Marathon in St. Louis.

Monday the two Murray runners rode the bus from near the finish line at the Prudential

Center in downtown Boston to the starting point at Hopkinton Senior High.

At 10:30 a.m., they started the half-mile walk to the starting point with some friends to wait for the noon gun. As gun time drew closer, more runners crowded into the street.

When the gun went off, Bauman, a native of Flint, Mich., was standing behind Lanning. After a few seconds, they started moving with each runner having his hands on the back of the runner in front of him for support.

It was not until after a mile and a half of the race had gone by that Bauman finally got along side of Lanning, who is a native of Memphis.

It was not that he could not see Lanning that they weren't running together; it was because of the mass of bodies in between the two.

Bauman went on ahead another half of a mile closer to the finish line and eventually finished with a time near three hours and a place in the upper 400's.

Lanning finished about 17 minutes later and about 200 places farther back. Neither runner will find his exact time and place until they receive their certificate of finish in the mail or find a newspaper or magazine with a complete list of finishers.

Despite sore legs and tired bodies, both Bauman and Lanning plan to spend Patriot's Day 1975 on the road from Hopkinton to Boston along with about 2,000 others that would rather spend their third Monday of April running in the Boston Marathon than doing anything else.

Wins Boston Marathon

Neil Cusack of Limerick, Ireland and a student at East Tennessee State University crosses the finish line Monday to win the Boston Athletic Association Marathon. Cusack covered the 26 miles 385 yards in two hours, 13 minutes, 39 seconds, the second fastest time in the marathon's history.

Austin Peay Signs 6-8 Player As First Recruit

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn.— Gary Green, a 6-8, 215-pounder from Northeast High School in Macon, Ga., has signed an Ohio Valley Conference letter-of-intent with Austin Peay State University.

Selected among the "Top 25" high school players in Georgia the past season by The Atlanta Constitution, Green averaged 22.9 points and 21.1 rebounds a game his senior year.

"Versatility appears to be Gary's greatest asset," said APSU assistant coach Leonard Hamilton, who scouted Green several times.

"His strength and leaping ability will enable him to become a dominating force under the boards and his agility and quickness will enable him to become equally effective out on the floor. This is very coherent with our style of play."

Green hit 51 percent of his field goal attempts, averaged five-blocked shots a game and had career highs of 41 rebounds and 40 points in individual single game performances.

Green earned a starting spot on his Northeast team 10 games into his freshman season. He averaged 8.8 points and 11 rebounds his initial year of high school competition.

"Without question, he's one of the top three high school players in the entire state," said Northeast coach Fred Priesley. "He's a tremendous offensive rebounder and has a knack for being where the ball falls. He has excellent range and can shoot effectively with either hand."

Green was an All-Region performer for two years and was selected on the All-Bi-City and Tom Porter Christmas tournament squad three years.

He is Austin Peay's first signee of the current basketball recruiting campaign.

Minimum Of 10 Grand To Get Horse In The Derby

By BOB COOPER
AP Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The $7,600 in nominating and starting fees is only a fraction of what it costs to have a horse in next month's 100th Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs.

At the very best, you would have spent $10,028.22 just to have a nominee alive and running up to this point—and that's even if someone gave you the horse in the first place.

William Q. Muir, whose derby hopes ride with Joint Agreement, totaled the costs of his one-horse stable as an example of what racing costs.

Of course, he warned, the costs can vary widely.

"My veterinary bill last year was only $79, for example," Muir said, "and that's far below the average. But my horse is practically in perfect health—not even a pimple on him."

Dr. Arnold G. Pressin, a Lexington veterinarian, said the average costs for a horse in training is more like $300 a year.

In addition, Muir's horse has done a minimum of traveling and usually goes in a van with other people's horses so expenses can be shared—a sort of equine car pool.

In a year and three months, Joint Agreement won $16,471.24, showing a net profit of, at most, $3,923.02.

That doesn't count the costs of acquiring the horse, a private matter for Muir.

Some of the expenses listed by Muir include $7,921.47 for training, $720 for breaking the colt as a yearling, $867.50 for travel, $180 last year for blacksmith fees and $60 for pictures when he won.

Joint Agreement won three of 17 starts last year, was second once and third three times. This season, he has been second in all of his five starts.

Silver Star Awarded Vet

ROCK ISLAND, Ill. (AP) — after he knocked out a German machine gun nest. "I promise I'll take good care of it," said Ernest A. Sheer after receiving the Silver Star for valor more than 55 years hand during the presentation Monday at the Rock Island Arsenal's Court of Patriots by Maj. Gen. John C. Raean Jr., arsenal commander.

REFLECTIONS — Melting snow in Clinton, Ia., formed a pool big enough to reflect Hawthorne School.

He praised Sheer for a "magnificent act of valor" on Aug. 31, 1918, when Sheer and a comrade braved a hail of enemy machine gun bullets on a French battlefield to capture a German machine gun, turn it on the enemy and capture 47 German soldiers.

After the presentation, Sheer pulled out a hankerchief and fought back tears.

At the time of the action, the Army promised him a medal. But it never came, apparently because the recommendation was never entered into official Army records.

Several years ago, a Rock Island woman, Shirley Barrett, began looking into the case. After an investigation the Army decided to award Sheer, now a resident of a nursing home, the Silver Star.

"While the Army has an eye to the future it also has a fond remembrance for past deeds," said Raean.

Sheer brought with him his Purple Heart and a citation for the Croix De Guerre, France's highest military decoration, which he received in 1919.

"I don't think he ever lost faith that his medal would come some day," said Mrs. Delbert Nicholson, a nurse who helps care for Sheer. "And he's very proud now."

Persons can now enlist in the Army for two years and choose Military Police as an enlistment option. The Military Police Corps is a very special outfit with a long and colorful history. The men in the Corps wear the distinctive uniform with pride. Along with the two year enlistment, starting salary is $326.10 a month with a raise to $363.30 in just four months.

To get the kind of training that could start a solid foundation in the law enforcement field, talk to your Army representatives, Sergeant Jerry Work or Sergeant Don Tippens, at the Mayfield Shopping Plaza, or call 247-4525 (collect) for more information.

Ice skates were common in Scandinavia during the Viking era, and Norse warriors ranked prowess on the ice nearly as high as fighting.

Lebanon Asks For Action From U.N. Security Council

Lebanon has asked the United Nations Security Council to take "appropriate and efficient means" to stop Israeli raids across the border, arguing that condemnation would not be enough.

The council debated Monday for 2 1/2 hours on Lebanon's complaint about an Israeli raid Friday night on six Lebanese villages.

Israel was retaliating for the attack by three Arab guerrillas the day before on the town of Qiryat Shmonah in which 18 Israelis and the three Arabs were killed.

Foreign Minister Fouad Nafa of Lebanon told the 15-member council Israel would react with "indifference and contempt" to a condemnation. Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy accused Israel of endangering the fragile Middle East truce by its actions in Lebanon and on the Syrian front.

"Israel must choose between war and peace," he said.

Israeli Ambassador Yosef Tekeah replied that Lebanon must "prevent the use of its territory for attacks against Israel."

"If the Lebanese government permits Lebanon to become a lawless gangland, it is obvious that its neighbors will treat it as a gangland," he declared.

A spokesman for the United States, Israel's traditional ally, told newsmen that any condemnation of Israel must be balanced by a condemnation of Palestinian terrorism.

Meanwhile, Israeli and Syrian forces on the Golan Heights, after close combat and Israeli air attacks Sunday, returned to the artillery exchanges that have characterized most of the fighting there in the past month.

Both the Israeli and Syrian defense ministers visited their troops at the front Monday. While the Israeli minister, Moshe Dayan, was on Mt. Hermon, Syrian shells hit the area, but Dayan was unhurt, the Israeli command said. Two Israeli soldiers were wounded.

Radio Damascus said Syria's defense minister, Mustafa Tlas, also made a quick trip to Mt.

Hermon and inspected the forward command headquarters of Syrian forces there.

In Jerusalem, Israeli President Ephraim Katzir's office said he has granted the Labor party more time to name a new premier to replace Golda Meir, who resigned last week and is now heading a caretaker government.

The statement said Katzir asked the country's biggest party to name its candidate "as soon as possible." Some sources said the president had given the Laborites until April 24, while other reports said his deadline was April 28.

Labor's leading contenders for the premiership are Minister of Labor Yitzhak Rabin; Yosef Almog, the mayor of Haifa, and Justice Minister Haim Zadok.

More Than Two Factors Holding Down Stock Market, But They Are Enough

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — More than two factors are holding down the stock market but you'd find yourself with a following if you chose only two: High interest rates and the activities of institutions.

High rates mean that bonds compete with stocks for the investment dollar, reducing the flow of money that in more normal times might be expected to tend in the direction of equities. Moreover, high interest rates cut into the profits of corporations by adding to costs, just as do increases in labor or raw material prices.

The activities of institutions, it is argued, are resulting in a two-tier market, with shares of a favored group of less than 100 companies attracting considerable interest and the rest of the market little interest at all.

Officers of some companies complain that they simply cannot interest portfolio managers of the institutions — mutual and pension funds, bank trusts and insurance companies — in the attractiveness of their wares. In addition, they contend that when the institutions do become involved with shares of some of the smaller and lesser known companies they tend to dominate the market and sometimes produce sharp price movements.

"These practices alienated — and still do — the small investors and harmed many well-managed second- and third-tier companies," said C.V. Wood, Jr., chairman of the Committee of Publicly Owned Companies earlier this month.

The committee, observing its first anniversary, is made up of 632 corporations with total assets of more than $55 billion and 2.5 million shareholders whose shares are traded on most of the big exchanges.

Wood noted that for the second straight year, there are 800,000 fewer shareholders of American companies. Indicative of lagging interest in the market, only 99 new issues were marketed in 1973 compared with 568 in 1972.

This lack of interest in stocks has led to some of the lowest price-earnings multiples in decades. The committee claims that three-fifths of "leading" companies have multiples below 10, meaning their shares are priced at less than 10 times earnings.

Multiple problems result from low price-earnings multiples, and it's anyone's choice as to which are the worst.

For one thing, corporations badly need equity capital in order to maintain and expand their plants and equipment. The committee estimates that between now and 1985 the country will need $3.3 trillion in new capital simply to provide jobs and goods for an expanding population.

A problem of perhaps equal magnitude is that many of the companies in the second tier have stock prices so depressed that they are increasingly the target of takeovers by foreign concerns.

FLEETS STILL HUNT WHALES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Along with 57 other members of the United Nations, this country last year vainly urged that killing whales be suspended for 10 years. Scientists warn that several species of the great mammals are being hunted to extinction.

Since December, however, Soviet and Japanese factory vessels and their flotillas of hunter ships have been in Antarctic waters seeking their annual quotas of whales. But each year the catch grows smaller, and so do the fleets.

Council Trying To Reassure Consumers Of Stable Prices

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Cost of Living Council is seeking to reassure consumers that food bills will not rise sharply in the months ahead as a result of the end of economic controls from retail and wholesale food. The council lifted price and wage controls from both the retail and wholesale food industries Monday, two weeks earlier than it had to. All of the administration's waning price controls program is scheduled to expire on April 30. But the council said that while some stores might increase prices, the decontrol would not have any over-all adverse impact on food prices during the remainder of the year. Actually, many consumers might hope for lower prices on the food shelf, since the cost of many agricultural products has been declining at the farm level for several weeks.

But a decline in food prices at the retail level is not in the works either, council officials say. Kenneth Fedor, head of the council's food division, said retail prices probably will remain about the same as food stores seek to recover some of the profits lost in earlier months when farm prices were rising sharply.

Although food prices rose 20 per cent last year and strained many a family food budget to the breaking point, the council said the retail food industry was not responsible. It said the industry generally complied very well with the administration's price control programs of the past 2½ years and that profitability of food retailers only began to recover last year after a general decline from 1969 through 1972.

The council said of the $18 billion increase in consumer food expenditures last year, $12 billion went directly to pay for rising farm prices, $5.9 billion for higher costs of such items as transportation, wages and taxes, with only $100 million of the increase going to the food industry.

Still subject to the administration's price control is much of the food manufacturing industry, including bakeries, the dairy industry, the cereal industry and processors of frozen foods. The canning industry was decontrolled previously.

Only a few major industries remain subject to controls with only two weeks to go in the controls program.

The decontrol of the retail and wholesale food industry freed from wage controls about 2.5 million employees in the food industry.

Problems Of School-Age Parents To Be Discussed

LEXINGTON, KY., — Between 1960 and 1971, one in every five births in Kentucky was to a mother aged 19 or under. The national ratio was one in seven. "Pregnancy among our high school youth is a growing concern and one of the prime contributing factors to the dropout rate," said Dr. Lyman V. Ginger, state Superintendent of Public Instructions.

Problems encountered by school-age mothers, fathers and their infants will be the topic of a statewide conference on "The Special Needs of School-Age Parents" on May 6th and May 7th. The conference will be held at the Holiday Inn North, located at the junction of I-75 and Newtown Pike in Lexington, Kentucky, will last from 9:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. each day, and is open to all.

"The goals of the conference are to bring about a realization of the seriousness of the situation and the cooperation of resources: state, private and federal, to deal with the problem and find solutions," said Secretary Laurell W. True of the Kentucky Department for Human Resources.

Kentucky's Department for Human Resources and Department of Education are among the sponsoring agencies of the conference.

An overview of the national situation will be given during the first day of the conference. Ms. Marion Howard, consultant to the Consortium on Early Childbearing and Childrearing, will be the keynote speaker.

The following day, particular attention will be directed to Kentucky's problems. Robert C. Long, M.D., Associate Professor of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at the University of Louisville School of Medicine and Director of the Division of Human Sexuality, Department of Obstetrics, University of Louisville, will be the featured speaker.

Some of the highlights of the conference include:

—A young parents' panel. —Group discussion on educational options for young parents; infant care, health needs, counseling for young mothers and fathers, and available resources.

—Regional discussion groups to assess local resources and recommend improvements in services for young parents.

—Film showings and book displays.

—Conference summary and recommendations for citizens action.

Kentucky is joining the twenty states that have held school-age parents' conferences. Utah, Tennessee and Kentucky will hold conferences this spring. Kentucky's is the largest of the three, according to Ms. Anita Jones, the Washington, D.C. conference coordinator.

"As a result of the conference in other states, focus on follow-up-solutions, better educational programs and more access to improved health services have been actualized," commented Ms. Jones.

For further information and/or registration materials contact: Ms. Krista Williams, Bureau for Social Services, 403 Wapping Way, Frankfort, Ky., 40601.

Britishers work on ghost guide

Historians and residents in Lincoln, England, have been asked to help compile a "ghost guide" to attract tourists and as a basis for official tours of haunted buildings.

Lincoln's publicity officer, Robin Ruston, says, "There are several places which ghosts are supposed to haunt, including Lincoln Castle, where several people were once hanged. . . ." — CNS

A Horse! A Horse! The Bard Joins Gasoline Line

(Receiving from an unimpeachable source a tip that William Shakespeare was making his tedious way through a gasoline line at a filling station, the City Editor assigned the Young Reporter to interview the Bard, agent of the energy crisis, and any other matter that might be brought up. Sans teeth, sans eyes, sans tapes, sans everything.)

YOUNG REPORTER — Good Morning, Mr. Shakespeare. I'm surprised to find you here, smiling, in a line where you may face quite a wait to refuel your carriage.

WILLIAM SHAKESPEARE — How poor are they that have no patience! What would it ever be but by degrees?

Y.R. — "Othello." I'm amazed; you sound almost cheerful.

I've heard these gasoline lines tend to fray the tempers.

W.S. — And make us rather bear those ills we have than fly to others that we know not of?

Y.R. — "Hamlet." These other people, in these other cars, have told me that of all the messes they have ever been in, this is the worst.

W.S. — The worst is not so long as we can say, "This is the worst."

Y.R. — "King Lear." You know, this waiting in line isn't fun. Yet people high in government keep telling us that we aren't as bad off as we think.

W.S. — Every man can master a grief but he that has it.

Y.R. — "Much Ado About Nothing." Look, Mr. Shakespeare. When we started talking, this line extended only back to the next corner. Now it goes halfway around the block.

W.S. — What! Will the line stretch out to the crack of doom?

Y.R. — "Macbeth." Some of those folks won't get through the line until noon.

W.S. — The miserable have no other measure, but only hope.

Y.R. — "Measure For Measure." Boy, can you imagine all this gasoline tie-up on top of inflation, and brownouts, and taxes, and everything?

W.S. — When sorrows come, they come not single spies, but in battalions.

Y.R. — "Hamlet." Everybody in government, from the President on down, keeps telling us that the crisis has been passed, that all we face now is a problem.

W.S. — Oft expectation fails, and most oft where most it promises.

Y.R. — "All's Well That Ends Well." Have you heard about the new plan they've worked up to spread the distribution of gasoline? It's done by your license plates: odd or even plate numbers get serviced on odd or even days.

W.S. — Though this be madness, yet there is method in it.

Y.R. — "Hamlet." A lot of people say it'll never work.

W.S. — Our doubts are traitors And make us lose the good we oft might win By fearing to attempt!

Y.R. — "Measure for Measure." One thing that amazes me is that everybody now wants a small, compact car. The big cars are suddenly obsolete.

W.S. — They sell the pasture now to buy the horse.

Y.R. — "King Henry V." We're doing a lot of strange things these troubled times.

W.S. — Now is the winter of our discontent.

Y.R. — "King Henry VI." But if we work together, and really try, our good old American spirit will carry us through to success and victory.

W.S. — 'Tis true that we are in great danger; the greater therefore should our courage be.

Y.R. — "King Henry V." Hey, Mr. Shakespeare! Look at this poor tyke, a victim of the gasoline shortage!

W.S. — The whining school-boy, with his satchel and shivering morning face, creeping like snail unwillingly to school.

Y.R. — "As You Like It." Well, we've moved a bit since we started, Mr. Shakespeare, but we're still a long ways from the pump. Do you have one last comment?

W.S. — A horse! A horse! My kingdom for a horse! And I don't mean for Richard III.

Sweeping Demand For Tapes Could Bring Confrontation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A sweeping new prosecution demand for President Nixon's Watergate tapes could mean another confrontation between the White House and the special Watergate prosecutor.

There was no immediate comment from the White House on how it will respond to Tuesday's bid by special prosecutor Leon Jaworski for court permission to issue a subpoena for 83 conversations.

and Ehrlichman, formerly the President's principal aides, and asked for a few that included Charles W. Colson and John W. Dean III.

Washington Roundup

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon sources say Secretary of the Army Howard Callaway went far beyond the recommendation of a clemency board in halving Lt. William Calley's prison sentence to 10 years for the My Lai massacre.

The special prosecutor said he needs the tapes and supporting documents to prepare for the Watergate cover-up trial of H.R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman, John N. Mitchell and four others scheduled to begin in Sirica's court Sept. 9.

The special prosecutor said he felt "obligated to seek these materials by subpoena," because he has received "no definitive response" to requests by letter.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Consumer Product Safety Commission, which estimates that about 62,000 accidents occur annually from exploding bottles, is opening hearings on the subject.

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate-passed campaign reform bill that includes little-noticed financial disclosure provisions will be before a House committee next week when Congress returns from its Easter recess.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Teamsters union has threatened retaliation against any unions that support the AFL-CIO's nationwide boycott of California grapes and lettuce.

Tornado Makes Shambles Of Lifetime Of Derby Material

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—"I spent all my mature life, 50 years, gathering that material," George B. "Brownie" Leach says.

scribed two tornadoes he had witnessed down there. "He told us in a telephone conversation that it sounded just like a freight train going through St. Matthews (Louisville suburb). I went to the other side of the house where Mrs. Leach was taking a nap," Leach says.

collection began when Leach was a boy. "If you jumped over the fence in my backyard you were on the Henry Clay farm," he says. "I spent all my childhood over there."

They contained full details of the first 99 Derbies by the time Leach and his wife huddled in the basement as the tornado swept through on April 3.

guns pointed at her and so on." Earlier, Miss Hearst's fiancé said he believes the SLA contrived the bank holdup — in which she carried a carbine — to make people think she had joined the terrorist group.

Tuesday for escaped convict Donald D. DeFreeze, the alleged SLA General Field Marshal Cinque. It was the first time the FBI publicly stated DeFreeze was the SLA leader.

"Mrs. Leach and I built a home where the old brood mare barn was," he says. "I liked the newspaper business but the necessity of making enough money to buy the groceries forced me to get out of it."

"I had a reference file of I guess 500 stallions over the last 40 or 50 years, I had been working with them and they were laying around loose on the desk. I found them for miles around."

Farmers Stick With Resolve To Expand Crops

"Farmers have stuck with their New Year's resolve to expand their crop acres this spring," reports David E. Riley, Jr., Executive Director of the Calloway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. As of January 1, farmers intended to plant more wheat, corn, and cotton than they did in 1973.

"A 2.1-billion-buskel wheat crop has come into view," Riley said. Spring wheat plantings may total 19.6 million acres, over half a million more than farmers intended in early January. For the 1974 total wheat crop acreage may total almost 71 million acres, the largest wheat crop sown since 1953. "While some Southwest wheat has not fared well, because of lack of rainfall," Riley added, "better winter wheat conditions in other areas may offset losses."

Farmers intend to plant over 126 million acres to feed grains, four per cent more than in 1973. "All the increase appears to be in corn," said Riley. Acreage for the other three feed grains are down: barley 16 per cent, sorghum and oats each down two per cent.

Farmers' plans indicate about 79 million acres of corn, a 10 per cent increase from 1973. Many of the newly intended corn acres lie in the western Corn Belt, where farmers changed from soybeans. Farmers in Iowa and Nebraska, for example, intend to plant 200,000 acres more corn than they had planned as of January 1.

Intended corn acreage could produce a 6.7 billion-buskel crop, nearly one-fifth above the production of the past three years. Domestic corn use will probably total 5 billion bushels during 1974-75; and the Nation will likely export 1.2 billion bushels. Carryovers this October will measure somewhat over half-a-billion bushels; Carryovers for October 1, 1975 have been projected at about 1 billion bushels.

"Farmers have eased their soybean plans further since the new year began," continued Riley. They now intend to plant 55 million acres, 2.3 million acres less than last year and 400,000 less than intended on January 1. Production is projected at 1.54 billion bushels, compared to 1973's 1.57 billion bushels.

"Cotton farmers intend to plant 14.7 million acres this spring, almost one-fifth more than last spring," Riley said. "That's 1.5 per cent more than they intended in January."

Much of this year's increase lies in the Mississippi Delta areas, which was ravaged by a record-high flood last spring. Mississippi, the area's largest producing State, is up by a third, as is Tennessee. A prospective 34 per cent increase in Delta cotton plantings compares with a 27 per cent increase in the West, and a 9 per cent increase in the Southeast and the Southwest.

"Production should run ahead of last year," noted Riley, "but that's all USDA reports can say. It's illegal to forecast production right now. But they do note that exports will run at about 5.5 million bales, and mill use at 7.75 million bales, reflecting moderating competition from manmade fibers."

"Supply and Demand Estimates," are available free on postcard request (please include zip code) from Office of Communication, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250.

MSU Junior Awarded Prize For Short Story

Karon Corley of Marion Route 4, a junior at Murray State University, has been awarded a first prize in the "Appalachian Heritage" fiction competition for a short story.

Notification of the award was received by George Perkins, assistant professor of English, who selected her story from a creative writing class he taught last fall as the entry from Murray State.

Entitled "Yield Not to Temptation," the story is one of two prize winning stories to be published in the April issue of "Appalachian Heritage." It was also selected for "Notations," Murray State's student magazine.

Sponsored by Alice Lloyd College at Pipa Passes in Knott County, the fiction competition was open to all college creative writing students in the Appalachian states. Each college was permitted one entry.

Miss Corley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice G. Corley, is a 1971 graduate of Crittenden County High School. She is president of the French Club at Murray State where she is working toward a double major in English and French.

LARRY CALHOUN, of Murray, has been promoted assistant vice-president and Medicaid coordinator by Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Mississippi. He will be responsible for supervising the Medicare and Medicaid Claims Departments from his Jackson, Miss., office.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Calhoun, and his maternal parents are the late Mr. and Mrs. Ernest C. Jones. His paternal grandmother is Mrs. Sally Calhoun Wilkinson.

Bands Rated Superior At Festival

Thirteen of the 31 high school and junior high school bands were rated superior in the Regional Band Festival at Murray State University Thursday and Friday, April 11-12.

Richard W. Farrell, chairman of the music department at Murray State and festival manager, said a judging panel of three music educators rated the following bands as superior: Class D (junior high level)—Murray Middle (two bands), Koffman Middle of Hopkinsville (two bands) and Reidland Middle.

Class CC—Ballard Memorial. Class BB—Caldwell County and Reidland.

Class A—Lone Oak, Christian County and Murray High. Class AA—Hopkinsville and Christian County.

Other ratings were: Class D—Mayfield Junior High, Caldwell County Junior High, Trigg County Middle and Lone Oak Middle, excellent; and North Marshall Junior High, fair.

Class CC—Livingston Central, excellent; and Fulton City, good.

Class B—Trigg County (woodwind), Trigg County, and Lyon County, excellent; Trigg County (brass), good; and Crittenden County, fair.

Class BB—Hopkinsville and Heath, excellent; and Calloway County and North Marshall, good.

Class A—Mayfield and Paducah Tilghman, excellent. Classifications for bands, besides the Class D for junior high and middle school groups, are determined by the difficulty of music selected for presentation.

Sponsored by the Kentucky Music Educators Association, the festival was the fourth and final in a series of four music festival events on the campus this spring. About 2,000 band students from West Kentucky were involved in the program.

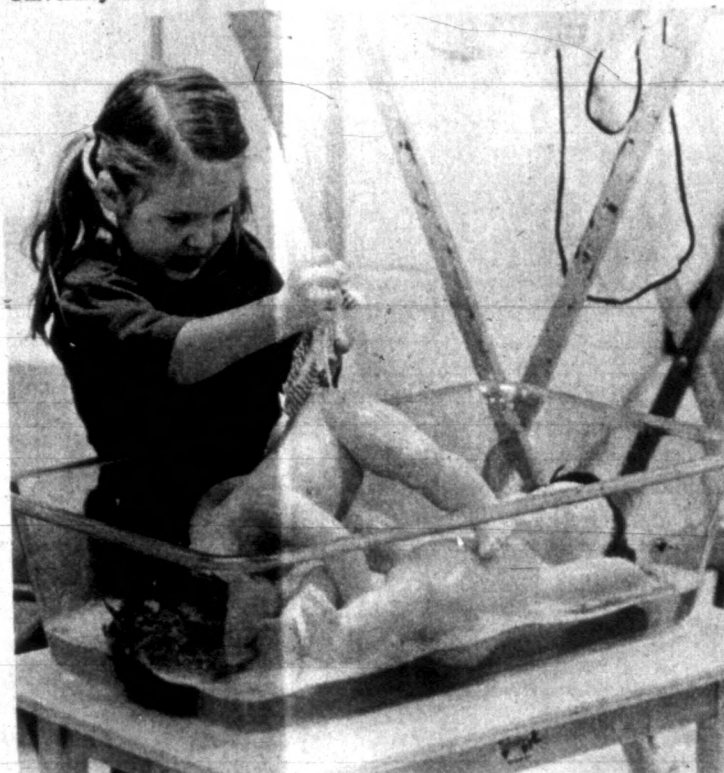

Judges were: Richard Brown, band director at Lambuth College, Jackson, Tenn.; Paul Davis, band director at Meade County High School, Brandenburg; and William Gravely, band director at Danville High School.

Practice Makes Perfect

Donna Dean, the five-year-old daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Ken Dean, concentrates on the skills of motherhood in the kindergarten at Murray State's University School.

RUB-A-DUB-DUB—Donna uses a soapy cloth to give her dolls a scrub down.

HIDING PLACES—Donna knows that even dolls get dirty in places that are difficult to clean.

THE DRY LOOK—The dolls' bath comes to a pleasant end with a fluffy towel.

DIRTY WORK—Donna doesn't mind cleaning up, which is a good trait for every girl who hopes to be a mother someday to have.

Batch Of Contributed Recipes Swansong For 'Basket'

The Asket Basket
By Sally DuFord

Dear Readers,

There was such a response to recipe requests this week I am devoting the entire column to printing these recipes.

Regretfully, this is my last article. Family and professional duties force me to abandon the typewriter and the testing of recipes. I have enjoyed getting to know you through your letters. Thank you making THE ASKET BASKET possible.

Sally

JAM CAKE

- 1/4 C. Crisco
- 1-3 C. brown sugar
- 2 eggs
- 2-3 C. strawberry or blackberry jam
- 2-3 C. chopped nuts
- 2-3 C. plain flour
- 2-3 C. raisins
- 1 tsp. salt
- 4 tsp. baking powder
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. nutmeg
- 2-3 C. milk

Blend Crisco, sugar and eggs in one stirring. Add jam, nuts and raisins.

Sift dry ingredients together. Add to batter alternately with milk to creamed mixture. Pour into greased tube pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour.

From Mrs. D. E. McCutcheon, Paris

JAM CAKE

- 6 eggs, separated
- 1 C. butter
- 1/2 C. sugar
- 3 C. flour
- 1 C. buttermilk
- 1 tsp. soda
- 1 tsp. cinnamon
- 1 tsp. allspice
- pinch salt
- 1/4 C. blackberry jam
- 1 C. frozen or fresh coconut

Beat egg yolks until creamy. Beat egg whites until stiff. Set aside. Cream butter and sugar, add egg yolks. Blend in flour, soda, buttermilk, spices, jam and coconut. Fold in egg whites. Pour into a greased tube pan. Bake at 350 degrees for about 1 hour.

From Mrs. John Morgan, Hazel

JAM CAKE ICING

- 1/2 sticks margarine
- 1 C. Pet milk
- 1 box powdered sugar
- 1 tsp. vanilla
- 1/2 C. coconut
- 1/2 C. chopped nuts

Combine margarine and milk. Bring to a rolling boil, stirring all the time. Boil for 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Add powdered sugar, vanilla, nuts and coconut. Stir until cool and ice the cooled cake.

From Mrs. Wayne Hudgins, Paris.

VANILLA WAFER CAKE

- 2 sticks margarine
- 2 C. sugar
- 6 eggs
- 1 - 12 oz. box vanilla wafers
- 1 C. pecans
- 1 - 7 oz. can coconut
- 1/2 C. milk

Cream margarine and sugar, beating until smooth. Add eggs one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add vanilla wafers alternately with the milk. Add coconut and pecans. Pour batter into a greased and floured tube pan. Bake at 275 degrees for 1 1/2 hours.

From Mrs. Estell H. Clark, Paris; Mrs. Gerald Colson, Murray, Ky.; Mrs. D. E. McCutcheon, Paris.

MARSHMALLOW FROSTING

- 2 egg whites
- 1/2 c. sugar
- 6 Tbs. water
- 1/2 tsp. cream of tartar
- Dash of salt
- 3 tsp. vanilla
- 1 C. diced marshmallows

Combine egg whites, sugar, water, cream of tartar, salt, and vanilla in the top of a double boiler. Place over boiling water and beat with an electric or rotary beater for seven minutes or until frosting thickens and holds its shape when dropped from beaters. Remove from heat and add marshmallows. Continue beating until stiff enough to spread and the marshmallows are melted.

From: Mrs. Bennie Roaten, Paris, and Mrs. Jack Robinson, Paris.

MARSHMALLOW CREME FROSTING

- 2 eggs
- 1 C. brown sugar
- 3 Tbs. all purpose flour
- 2 Tbs. margarine
- 1 - 9 inch unbaked pie shell

Add enough water to milk to make 2 cups. Beat in eggs. Combine brown sugar and flour; cut in margarine until mixture is like coarse crumbs.

Add milk mixture to brown sugar mixture. Beat until well blended. Pour into the unbaked pie shell. Bake at 400 degrees about 30 minutes or until a knife inserted in the center comes out clean.

From: Mrs. D. E. McCutcheon, Paris.

Oliver Hood Retires From U.S. Air Force

At a Headquarters USAF retirement ceremony in Washington, D.C., on 28 February 1974, Lt. General Robert A. Patterson, Surgeon General of the U.S. Air Force, presented the Legion of Merit (Second Oak Leaf Cluster) to Colonel Oliver C. Hood, USAF, MC. At the time of his retirement Colonel Hood was Deputy Director of Medical Plans and Resources, Office of the Air Force Surgeon General. He is presently with the Federal Aviation Administration, Washington, D.C., as Chief of Aeromedical Services Division.

Colonel Hood received his B.S. degree from Murray State University in 1943 and his M.D. degree from the University of Louisville School of Medicine in 1946. He entered on active duty in 1947 and his assignments include: commander of USAF hospitals in Japan, Korea, California, and France; Surgeon of the 13th Air Force, and Commander of the First Medical Service Wing (PACAF).

He is board certified in general surgery. He is a Fellow of the American College of Surgeons and the American College of Preventive Medicine, and a member of the American Medical Association, Aerospace Medical Association, Association of Military Surgeons, American Burn Association, and Royal Society of Health.

Colonel Hood is married to the former Betty Phillips of Boerne, Texas, and they have three children—Russell of Sacramento, California, Oliver, Jr., of Jacksonville Beach, Florida, and Melissa (Mrs. C.P. dePoix) of Arlington, Virginia.

Colonel Hood is the son of Mrs. Mary Lee Hood of 703 S. 16th Street, Murray, Kentucky.

Doctor in the Kitchen

A NATIONAL NUTRITION POLICY?

In nutrition today, many professionals are saying America's major need is "putting it all together." What they mean is we must now decide how we are going to best approach the nutritional needs of our people. We know what many of the needs are. The technology is available to add to that knowledge. But there has been no central agreement on how we are to get the job done.

The movement for such agreement has grown steadily since the 1969 White House Conference on Food, Nutrition and Health. Now, a National Nutrition Consortium has been formed by four organizations—the American Institute of Nutrition, the American Society for Clinical Nutrition, the American Dietetic Association, and the Institute of Food Technologists. Others, I feel sure, will join or be involved in the consortium's deliberations. This would mean the 40,000 members of the original four groups will be augmented by still more professionals and thus the resources of the whole movement will be greater to bring about a national nutrition policy.

Problem Is Complex

No one believes the development of such a policy should be done by food scientists and nutritionists alone. The problem is too complex for that. But these professionals must play an important role.

Political sensitivity to the problem is indicated in the recent announcement of the U.S. Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs that it plans to hold a National Nutrition Policy Conference. It is tentatively set for this June.

And a recent food-industry indication of alertness to the problem occurred at the National Dairy Council's 59th annual meeting in Atlanta. More than 700 dairy industry and Dairy Council leaders attended sessions at which a national nutrition policy was discussed.

Is it really all that important?

Fred Clark, Native Of Murray, Appointed Supervisor, Program

(Editor's note—the following article appeared in the Elmwood Park, Ill., newspaper about Fred Clark, formerly of Murray, and is being reprinted in the Murray Ledger & Times.)

"Fred Clark, veteran administrator in Elmwood Park School District 401, has been appointed supervisor of the new school building program. Construction of new facilities and renovation of the four district schools was made possible by the passage of a $4.4 million bond referendum Feb. 19.

"As building project supervisor Mr. Clark will serve as coordinator of the input from all of the people involved in the building program," says Supt. Harold Scholle. "He will act as my right hand. He has worked on this application and he also has long experience in the preparation of capital outlay budgets, and in completing the myriad government forms we are required to file. Clark has also been overseer of the district's Life, Fire, and Safety work. Mr. Clark's diligence and observation of contractors has paid off in the correction of certain items that might otherwise have been overlooked. He's the ideal man to look after the details that will bring our school buildings."

"Clark is familiar with all of the Elmwood Park school buildings. He began teaching in the village in 1944 at Mills and became principal at Elmwood.

"Clark was appointed Elmwood principal in 1946 and held that post for 17 years, until he became full-time administrative assistant to former Supt. C. C. Loew.

"I've been here through all the school building programs in Elmwood Park," says Clark. "I went through the building of Elm, the new Elmwood building, additions at Mills, the high school—and the addition of portables."

"Clark is a native of Murray, Ky. He holds undergraduate and graduate degrees from Murray State University in education and school administration.

"Clark lives in Franklin Park with his wife, Mayrelle, a fifth grade teacher at South School. A daughter, Mrs. Dick Miles, lives in Raleigh, S. Car. and a son, Rodney, lives in Evanston, Ill.

Mr. Clark is the son of Mrs. M. O. Clark, 304 S. 16th St., Murray, and Mrs. Clark is the daughter of Mrs. Pearl Jones, 408 S. 12th Street, Murray."

Quebec wants to speak French

The Quebec government says it intends to present legislation to the provincial parliament making French the official language.

About 81 per cent of Quebec's population is French-speaking, 13 per cent speak English and 6 per cent other languages.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake
FOR THURSDAY,
APRIL 18, 1974

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

A down-to-earth attitude needed. Don't let yourself be drawn into a whirlwind of rumor and speculation, now rife in many quarters.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21)

You may not size up occupational situations as accurately as usual. Better double-check! On the personal side, romance and travel favored.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)

Avoid a tendency toward lethargy. Rewards will be commensurate with the efforts you expend. Keep your own counsel in personal affairs.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)

Bonuses indicated from past efforts. These should give you new incentive, perhaps a wholly new approach in certain areas. Long-range plans favored.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)

Opposition from unexpected sources should not disrupt routine or plans previously made. Accept all challenges with your innate sturdiness and affability.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Look well into proposed suggestions or you may find yourself involved where you least desire it. Some definite "no" answers will be required.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

A good period for branching out into new fields in your regular activities allow you the time. Creative interests especially favored.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23)

Where you are not certain of your course, take time to gather more facts. Be sure you are not following "blind leads" or ill-informed persons.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

A day for reflection. Give careful thought to decisions you must make soon. Outcomes could be extremely important to the future.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Originality will not be necessary to succeed now, so don't waste time by trying to be "different." You will do better by following past, well-tested procedures.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Under unusually generous Uranus influences, your creative urges are strong, may impel you to do something unusual and outstanding. Make the most of this fine period.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

You may encounter what seems to be undue opposition. Take whatever steps are necessary to overcome it, but do not mistake honest discussion for hostility.

YOU BORN TODAY are highly individualistic, creative and possessed of driving ambition. You usually attain your ambitions, too, since your persistence and stamina are outstanding. In your relentless drive toward success, you often inspire others to follow your lead, but you could lose their support unless you overcome your overaggressiveness and an inclination to "dictate." You are extremely versatile and many fields are open to you in choosing a career. As a business executive or lawyer, you could be an outstanding success but, if your talents along artistic lines seem to dominate your choice, follow your desires since, properly educated, of course, you could become an eminent painter, musician, actor, playwright, composer. Birthdate of: Clarence Darrow, renowned attorney; Leopold Stokowski, famed symphony conductor.

Happy Numbers

For anyone who still thinks that cancer is always fatal, the American Cancer Society reports that there are 1,500,000 Americans alive today who are cured of cancer. They know that cancer is most curable when caught early and you should too.

LEADS FOURTH LIFE—Herbert A. Philbrick, the counterspy famous for leading "three lives," is spending his fourth life in Bethesda, Md., a quiet suburb of Washington, D.C. Famous Spy Now Leads 'Normal' Life Again

By HANK PLANTE
Montgomery County Sentinel
BETHESDA, Md. (AP) — Herbert A. Philbrick, the counterspy famous for leading "Three Lives," is spending his fourth life in this quiet Washington suburb.

"Who am I today?" asks the 59-year-old Philbrick, then answers, "Just an ordinary citizen."

It is just 25 years since Philbrick made a surprise court appearance in Boston and testified against 11 alleged Communist conspirators. All were convicted and spent five years in jail, although the high court later threw out the Smith Act, under which they were convicted. The court ruled that an overt act of conspiracy was needed, not just talk.

And the public became aware of Philbrick's three lives as citizen, Communist, and FBI counterspy.

"It was like a thunderbolt in the courtroom when I walked in, since four of the 11 knew me personally," Philbrick recalled in an interview. And the public became aware of Philbrick's three lives as citizen, Communist and FBI counterspy.

But the furor seems far removed from the brick colonial house where Philbrick now lives with his 31-year-old second wife, Shirley. "I'm just like everybody else," he said with a grin. And he looks the part. He now runs a small weekly newsletter and printing shop.

Cashing in on the Philbrick name is not his style. In fact, he says he finds the name can be a hindrance.

He says when he talks with people on Capitol Hill to get material for his newsletter, they often ask if he is related to the famous Philbrick.

"I always say, 'Yes, I'm related,' without explaining any more," he said. "Otherwise you get into a two-hour discussion about how it was back then. I'd never get any work done."

So his phone is unlisted, his business cards carry just his company's name, and even plane tickets are bought under an alias.

Eventually, he says, the family will move back to New England.

That's where he spent nine years gathering evidence on "youth councils" and other Communist-front groups.

"Communism is much stronger today as part of the whole world movement," he says. "It's a religion. Like good Christians figure they're going to heaven, every good Marxist-Leninist figures he's going to win."

Women And Health Conference To Be Held At UK On Saturday

By MARIA BRADEN
Associated Press Writer
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A day-long conference on women and health will be held Saturday at the University of Kentucky.

Tree Planting Incentive Seen In Tree Demand

The rising demand for wood in the Tennessee Valley is creating an added incentive for landowners to plant more trees on idle and eroding lands and to boost production through forest protection and management, according to TVA's Forest Resources Inventory Section. Tabulations from U. S. Forest Service figures show the Valley's ten pulp and paper mills using 2,600,000 cords of wood a year, double the amount reported 15 years ago.

Foresters predict the demand will reach 3 million cords by 1975. A new 650-ton-per-day hardwood pulp mill is now under construction at Stevenson, Alabama, and a major expansion of a large pine-using mill was announced recently.

The pulpwood industry is having an increased economic impact in the Tennessee Valley as well, TVA said. Timberland owners are receiving some $4 million a year from the sale of pulpwood on the stump, and another $24 million goes to woods workers and haulers for their service in getting this wood to the pulp mills.

All but 16 of the 125 Tennessee Valley counties are now producing pulpwood. Currently pine species account for 63 percent of all wood pulped. The long fiber of the pines gives strength to products such as box linerboard, newsprint, milk carton stock, and various papers. The rest is hardwood, used chiefly for corrugated boxboard, books, and other fine papers.

There's big money behind each worker

Manufacturing firms invested nearly three times the average amount of capital per employe in 1971 as they did at the end of 1968.

In 1968, capital invested per employe was $13,210; in 1971, $33,000.

WIRY BUILD — Mrs. John Horn pulls out the waist-band of her pants to show how much weight she's lost since she had her jaws wired shut. She'll keep them wired until she loses 85 pounds.

Topics include childbearing, birth control, legal rights and specific medical problems. The workshop is sponsored by the Women's Center of Lexington in conjunction with the Lexington-Fayette County Health Department and the Council on Women's Concerns.

It is the second one-day workshop sponsored by the Women's Center, an organization aimed at helping women meet specific needs and solve problems.

The first conference, held in February, dealt with women and the law.

Conference coordinator Ellen Grist said she expects at least 200 to attend the conference on health.

Now in the process of incorporating, but still without a permanent home, the Women's Center provides a central meeting place and a resource center for women to obtain information on economic, legal, medical and educational questions.

The idea for the center originated last summer with a small

Fleming Now With Insurance Company

Delbert Fleming has been appointed as a sales representative in Murray by the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company. He resides at 1005 Westgate Drive, Gatesborough Estates.

Mr. Fleming and his wife, Sean, have four children Joanna, age 12, Patrice, age 10, Danny, age 8, and Kevin, age 3.

group who wanted to meet to talk over things of concern to women. Now the center has a mailing list of more than 300.

Because they lack money — there are no membership dues — members meet wherever free space is available — usually in a church hall or at someone's home, but the next step is to find a place to house the center permanently.

General meetings are held every month, attended by from 20 to 50 women, and there are several branch-off committees that meet at their members' initiative to discuss specific problems.

Those groups include committees on health services, day care for children, legal help, and on specific personal needs — for example, there's a group for middle-aged women, and another is being formed for divorced women.

Also in the formative stage is the establishment of a "rape crisis center." Research is being done by center members to determine the need for such a group in the Lexington area.

By mid-May the center hopes to have published a "yellow pages" for women which will include sections on health care, education, lawyers and day care services.

Later the center hopes to provide a backup to the guide — a central file offering evaluation of the various services provided women.

For example, if a woman wants to have natural childbirth and would like to have her husband present at the delivery, she could check the central file to see which doctors are sympathetic and which hospitals would cooperate.

The group's by laws bar it from involvement in politics. Partly because the center hopes to gain tax-exempt status and partly because members want to preserve the concept of the center as a place for discussion of topics of mutual interest, the group does not plan to lobby even on behalf of women's interests.

As stated in the by laws, the center's main objectives are to provide:

— A research and reference center to gather information on the local needs of women and to share that information with the community.

— A vehicle for change.

— A social center where women of all backgrounds can meet.
