Oil Companies Reveal Higher Profits Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's two biggest oil companies, Exxon and Texaco, announced today substantially higher earnings for the first three months of 1974.

Exxon said that in the quarter that ended March 31 it made $708 million, 39 per cent above the $508 million reported in the same period last year. The company noted, however, that the latest gain was down 10.4 per cent from the last quarter of 1973, when Exxon earned $787 million. Texaco said its quarterly profits rose 123 per cent to $589.4 million, as against $264 million last year. The income is 30 per cent above the $453 million declared in the last three months of 1973.

Earnings by Exxon and Texaco follow by a day similar announcements by Gulf Oil and Standard Oil of Indiana, which retails under the Amoco sign. Both Gulf and Indiana Standard reported first quarter profits more than 75 per cent above the year-earlier period.

Maurice Granville, Texaco chairman, said domestic operations accounted for about 29 per cent of the firm's net and were 15 per cent less profitable than a year ago.

Texaco said its gross sales totaled $4.92 billion as against $2.49 billion in the first three months of 1973. Earnings equalled $2.17 a share, up from 97 cents a share last year.

Exxon said sales for the three months totaled $9.95 billion, compared with $6.24 billion for the same period in 1973. On a per share basis, the company said it earned $3.15 a share versus $2.27 a share.

Commenting on the firm's performance, Exxon Chairman J.K. Jamieson cited an $80 million profit resulting from the sale or appreciation of oil inventories. These inventories increased in value as the price of replacing them rose as well.

President Granted Extension

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has asked for and been granted a five day extension in responding to a House Judiciary subpoena for White House tapes, a spokesman said today.

A high level administration official said committee chairman Peter Rodino, D-N.J., agreed to a White House request that the subpoena deadline be set for next Tuesday instead of this Thursday.

Tickets For Golf Course Donated To Murray Band

Lindy Carr, owner of Lindy's Miniature Golf Course, located at 12th and Chestnut Streets, Murray, has donated free tickets to the Murray High School Band toward their trip to Miami, Fla., in December.

These tickets will be sold by Band Booster Club members. They also may be purchased at the Murray Middle School or Murray High School Wednesday and Thursday of this week, April 24 and 25. The ticket will allow three games for one dollar and there are no restrictions as to date and time to use the tickets.

Persons unable to obtain tickets from any member or at the schools, may call Dr. J. D. Outland, president of the club.

Stubblefield Operetta Will 'Set The Record Straight' On Invention

"The Birthplace of Radio" has revived a defense to its claim in "The Stubblefield Story," an operetta on the life of Nathan B. Stubblefield, to be presented here Friday and Saturday. Advance tickets are now on sale at the Bank of Murray and at Peoples Bank.

Another in a series of Bicentennial events, the operetta will again "set the record straight" on Stubblefield, who doesn't always get credit for his contribution to radio. Marconi is generally listed as the inventor of radio. Underwritten by the Murray Rotary Club and the Murray Chamber of Commerce, the opera was first produced in May, 1963. The music for the production was written by Paul Shahan, a member of the MSU music faculty, who describes the score as "folk-song oriented." The libretto is by Lillian Lowry, a retired teacher.

In the local production, Donald Maley will sing the role of Nathan B. Stubblefield, and Jeannie Ball will play the son. Both are music students at MSU. Janet Reichmuth is cast as Mrs. Stubblefield.

Although some 30-40 people in the cast are local residents, most of the artistic and technical guidance for the production has been supplied by the university. Robert E. Johnson, of the theater-arts department is director and Richard Farrell is musical director.

Supporting the cast will be a chorus and a group of square dancers from the community. It runs through the successful demonstration of the wireless telephone on the Calloway Court Square.

One of the first persons to see a demonstration of Stubblefield's invention was Rainey

Bill Cutchin's Interest In Math Began At An Early Age

By STEVE HALE

For years, the name Bill Cutchin has been the topic of many conversations and at the age of 57 he's still known as a mathematical genius who has, no doubt, one of the sharpest memories in Kentucky.

Being the son of former Murray State coach Carlisle Cutchin, Bill was reared in an athletic environment but never found it worthwhile as a kid to compete actively in sports. Instead, even before entering the first grade, he found the realm of mathematics to be an exciting field. He could add, subtract, divide, and multiply before going to school and says that dealing with numbers has just always been a natural phenomenon with him. Mrs. Cutchin, Bill's mother, says that he could add three columns of numbers in just a matter of seconds before entering the first grade. "It's something we never pushed on him," she said. "It's just a gift."

There have been almost as many stories spread on Bill's mathematic ability as there have been on Paul Bunyan's muscles. For instance, it's been widely circulated that he can add the numbers on the freight cars of a train and give the answer by the time the caboose passes by. Bill laughingly said, "Now many of those stories are not true. It depends how fast the

Local Woman Is Victim Of Attack Friday

Murray City Police have reported that a Murray woman was the victim of an attack by two apparent teenagers last Friday night.

Officers said the woman, who is now in satisfactory condition at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital, was driving in her car on Sycamore St., near Murray High School, when two persons she described as "her late teens," got into her car and attacked her.

Police said the woman was not raped, but was beaten severely and left unconscious in a ditch beside the road.

Officers said that an investigation is continuing as well as a search for the two young men. They added that there seemed to be no motive for the attack, and that the woman was not robbed.

Roberts Issues Plea On Regent Selection

By DAVID HILL
Murray Ledger & Times Writer

Newly-elected student body president Eugene Roberts, Jr. called for appointees to the Murray State Board of Regents that would "keep students and education in mind."

Roberts asked Gov. Wendell Ford, who reportedly will make the appointments this week, to name persons "who will be interested in academics...not just Kentucky politics."

The new student president, elected in March, and inaugurated yesterday, said the action by the Student Senate came after reports that Ford is expected to make two appointments to the board by tomorrow. Expiring are the terms of Chairman H. Glenn Doran and Harry Lee Waterfield.

In a statement issued by Roberts, the Student Government Association said "Another factor to be considered is the traditional lack of women on the board of regents. Murray State presently has none, a situation which in this time and day should not be allowed to exist."

Roberts said he "had no idea" who the governor plans to appoint but that "it has come to our attention that two appointments to the board are being selected now."

The student head added that "We are not in anyway trying to tell Gov. Ford who to appoint, just the type of person that will be interested in the quality of education we are getting at Murray State."

"Contrary to popular belief," Roberts' statement went on, "MSU students are interested in academic quality of education. We hope Gov. Ford will take a number of things into consideration when he makes his choices. We hope he will remember that the students are interested in education and he will help them to obtain the highest quality academic standards possible. For too long politics has ruled education to the detriment of those attending the institution. We implore Ford to keep students and education in mind when he makes the appointments."

Roberts said that a telegram saying essentially the same thing as his statement has been sent to Gov. Ford, as well as a letter.

The newly elected student leader, who succeeds Dave Curtis, was formally inaugurated yesterday in a ceremony directed by Murray State President Dr. Constantine Curris.

The student association is divided into the Student Senate and the Student Activities Board. Roberts will become the student representative on the board of regents at the next meeting, set for Saturday afternoon. Also joining the regents Saturday will be in the new faculty representative on the board, Mark Cunningham, 35, who recently was named by the faculty members of the university.

Friends Of The Library Meet To Elect Officers & Plan Projects

The Friends of the Library held their annual meeting Monday night at the Calloway County Public Library with Dr. Durwood Beatty, president, presiding.

Officers and directors elected were as follows: Dr. Beatty, president for a second term; Dave Willis, vice-president for a second term; Mrs. Norma Paschall, secretary for a second term; Jack Benton, treasurer; Johnny Bohannon and Dr. Alfred Wolfson, directors for a second year; Mrs. Joe Sledd, director.

Dr. Beatty appointed several committees after discussion was made on what projects and programs the group would like to undertake this year.

It was agreed that further landscaping of the library grounds would be the most immediate project. The need for blooming shrubs and flowers will be the primary focus. Mrs. Alfred Wolfson, Mrs. Kathryn Watson, Dr. Roger Macha, and Mrs. Leonard Vaughn will serve on this committee.

The need for inquiry into special collections was another program the Friends would like to help with the emphasis being on local historical material. Dr. Alfred Wolfson, Mrs. Don Reed, Miss Clara Eagle, and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Humphrey will work with Mrs. Margaret Trevathan, librarian on this program.

Bands Will Play Friday At Fish Fry

The Murray High and Murray Middle School Marching Bands will participate in this year's Paris "Fish Fry" Parade and will be in competition with some of the finest bands in the Mid-South, a school spokesman said.

Murray High placed second in this parade last year and is aiming for first place this year, a band spokesman said. The last time MHS won first in this parade was in 1962. They will be entered in the top class, "A." Their marching routine is a special arrangement of "Bugler's Dream" and "Festival Prelude."

The combined seventh and eighth grade Middle School Bands compose the Murray Middle School Marching Band. The band won first place last year in this parade and is hoping to do as well this year, a band spokesman said. Their routine is to the tune, "Meadowlands."

Both bands will introduce a "new" look at this parade. Murray High band members will be wearing their new shako style hats which are ten inch black synthetic with gold trim and gold plume. The Middle School Band will wear the same style outfit as last year with the smaller hats used by Murray High band the last two years.

The parade will begin at ten a.m. Friday, April 26, and all band boosters and friends are invited to come to the event to support the band, a band spokesman said.

MSU's Horsemanship Program Is Drawing Students From Far And Near

By DAVID HILL
Murray Ledger & Times Writer

Murray State University has a new attraction for out-of-state students, the horsemanship program.

They're coming from everywhere, Pennsylvania, Chicago, even Kansas, to take advantage of a program unique even in a state long famous for its horses.

Under the direction of Jim Rudolph, the Murray State Horsemanship Program is developing into the only comprehensive course in the state where a student can get practical experience in riding, training, and raising horses.

And the program is succeeding with a minimum of help from university finances.

Nearly all the horses now owned by the University have been donated; assets worth around $40,000 on the open market. Loans for construction of facilities are being paid off from student fees, and students are paying for the privilege of housing their own animals at the MSU barn.

This is the third year for the program, which many regarded as a mere joke when it began. But it's no joke now, the 79 students enrolled in the program, which offers 21 hours of college credit, are strictly business as they go about preparing for a career in the field of caring for and training horses.

"We have no patterns to follow," explained Rudolph.

who is the only instructor in the program. "We are the leaders in the field, and have no examples to follow, no mistakes to profit from. We have to make our own mistakes and learn from them."

There are 27 horses owned by Murray State, with some of them to be used by the students for riding lessons. Students can use the university horses for a semester fee, or bring their own and house them at the university barn. Rudolph expects from 35 to 40 student horses next fall.

The courses stress management of a horse farm, as well as the technical aspects of the operation.

The courses are now in the (See Horsemanship, Page 10)

Nearly 80 students are enrolled in the Horsemanship program at Murray State this semester, with the number about equally divided between men and women students. The students can bring their own horses or use University-owned animals.

IF YOU WANT TO LOOK YOUNGER—1. Steer away from extremes in everything, pick the middle of the road fashions suitable to the age you can reasonably expect to look. 2. Analyze your physical assets and liabilities. Capitalize on the assets. Overcome the liabilities through cover up, concealment and camouflage. 3. Be fastidious about yourself and your clothing. 4. Avoid too youthful, faddy fashions that make you look like "mutton dressed as lamb". 5. Remember that good health and a happy spirit can take years off your age, and the right cutting can keep them off. —Mrs. Kate Thompson, Hickman.

Try it you may like it! In order to serve non-fat dry milk as a beverage many people find they need to "spark it up". Basically, it must be thoroughly mixed and chilled. Some people find a small amount of vanilla or butter flavoring or a drop of peppermint oil makes a big difference. Many people mix reconstituted dry milk half and half with whole milk for better family acceptance. For added variety use powdered milk for milk flavored beverages, such as chocolate, peanut butter, fruit flavored milk drinks, etc. If you would like some recipes for flavored milk drinks using non-fat dry milk, contact me or your County Extension Office for free recipes. —Mrs. Patricia Curtsinger, 86 North Main, Benton.

How to buy used furniture? If you choose carefully, used furniture can be a good buy. Newspaper ads, bulletin boards, garage sales, auctions—there are any number of places where you can find good, substantial furniture at low cost. You must choose carefully, however, and know what you need most. Budget limited? You can use your own creativity and refinish or repair some pieces that might be purchased for a few dollars. When you go to look for such bargains for your home, you might make a five point checklist. 1. What will the furniture be used for—a couch that will also serve for sleeping, or just one to sit on? 2. Check the framework—is it put together on a good frame? 3. Look carefully at the legs of furniture, especially if they are small. Are they well-balanced? 4. Are the drawers suitable—painted or varnished. Unfinished wood smells in damp weather and causes drawers to stick. 5. Is the piece of furniture repairable? Can you do the work yourself or does it require professional skill? You can seldom return used furniture, so know what you are buying. It can be a good buy—if you choose wisely. —Mrs. Mildred W. Potts, LaCenter.

FOLLOW THESE SIMPLE RULES FOR STAIN

REMOVAL Remove the stain while it is fresh. The older the stain, the harder it is to remove. FIND OUT WHAT THE STAIN IS so you can follow the specific directions for removal. Avoid the possibility of setting it by using the wrong method as hot water will set some stains. KNOW YOUR FABRIC and what products will or will not harm it. If you have doubt try test stain removal products on a hidden seam where damage will not show. Products usually list types of stains they will remove. —Mrs. Maxine Griffin, Clinton.

Poplar-Spring WMU Plans Projects At April Meeting

The WMU of Poplar Spring Baptist Church met at the church at eleven o'clock, Tuesday April 9. They organized a Clothes Closet for needy families in the area. After a sack lunch at noon they had their regular monthly meeting with Mrs. Murial Wright in charge of the program.

For the devotion, Mrs. Dorothy Simon gave a very interesting talk on Easter and the events surrounding Christ's resurrection. She also had some beautiful hand painted posters illustrating the scenes she described.

During the business session the group decided to start a new mission project. They will help sponsor children in the church who are financially unable to attend Jonathan Creek Baptist Camp. Mrs. Grace Maddox is chairman of this project.

The calendar of prayer for missionaries was read and the group was dismissed in prayer by Mrs. Annie Lovins.

Cold Cream Is Ancient Idea

Cold cream was discovered about 150 AD by a Greek physician. The original cold cream formula consisted of a mixture of olive oil, beeswax, and water, with rose petals added for fragrance. Applied to the skin, the water evaporated and produced a cool feeling. This is probably the basis for the name "cold cream".

The basic formula was the prototype for all of today's skin creams, both cosmetic and medicinal. However, modern cosmetic cold creams and cleansing creams contain additional and refined ingredients, and sometimes synthetic substitutes that make the creams much more pleasant and convenient to use.

Today, cold creams in their modern formulations are still very much used for cleansing purposes and for lubrication. However, for those who find the consistency of such creams too heavy, there are cleansing creams and special lubricating creams that are lighter and thinner.

MURRAY LEDGER & TIMES For and about Women

We're all ignorant on certain subjects

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: This is concerning the lady who was irate because so few had responded to the R.S.V.P. on her party invitation. I resent your statement that such people are either ignorant or negligent.

I am a university professor with a Ph.D., have traveled extensively in about 20 countries, have attended socials with ambassadors and other notables, so I don't consider myself an ignorant person. Yet, until you printed it in your column, I never was sure of the meaning of R.S.V.P.

As a professor, I have learned that many college students don't know which way the earth rotates, or the difference in time between New York and Denver, so is it realistic to expect them to know the meaning of R.S.V.P.? Or do I have my priorities reversed?

I suggest that if the lady would substitute "Please let us know whether or not you are coming" for "R.S.V.P." on the invitation, she would have much better response.

UNDERSTANDING IN COLORADO

DEAR UNDERSTANDING: Ignorance is simply the absence of knowledge, which is no crime. We are all ignorant—only on different subjects. No offense intended.

DEAR ABBY: I have recently had a breast removed following cancer surgery. Please don't misunderstand me, I am glad to be alive and thank God it was discovered in time, but there is another problem: My doctor told me that in my case plastic surgery to recreate a natural-looking breast is possible. I was thrilled until I learned that my insurance company takes the view that since the loss of a breast doesn't impair bodily function and is not the result of an accidental injury, it is considered cosmetic surgery.

Although a natural-looking artificial breast isn't essential to my physical well-being, it would do worlds for my morale. Or am I just vain? And don't you think this should be covered by insurance? MRS. F.

DEAR MRS. F.: To quote Dr. Eugene W. Worton, a member of The California Society of Plastic Surgeons, and a consultant of mine: "If a woman has a breast removed because of cancer and wants reconstruction so that she can wear a bathing suit or a low-cut dress, that is hardly cosmetic in the sense of a woman having a face-lift or a nose operation. This woman has a deformity she acquired as a result of cancer and she wants to return to normal. She is not asking to be the centerfold of Playboy." I agree with Dr. Worton.

DEAR ABBY: I sew most of my own clothes and am pleased with most of the things I have made. I attend sewing classes, so the word got around that I make my own clothing. I am annoyed by people who, every time they see me in something new, ask: "Did you make that?" I think it's a rude question to ask as: "How much did you pay for that dress?"

How should I handle this situation without being rude? Please don't tell me I should be proud that I can sew because I could also be proud to wear an expensive ready-made dress, but I don't want to wear the price tag.

LOVES TO SEW

DEAR LOVES: You can't prevent people from questioning you, but you can change your attitude. The ability to make something that resembles an expensive ready-made creation is far more deserving of praise than having the money to buy it. Handmade things are more valuable though less costly when made by your own hands, so don't resent the opportunities to crow a little.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Purchase Area Extension Council Makes Suggestions For Work Here

The Purchase Area Extension Council members were given a review of the State Extension Council Meeting by delegates, Mrs. Jane Miller, Marshall County, and Ray Brownfield, Calloway County.

In a meeting held at the West Kentucky R.E.C.C. recently the delegates said the State Council was pleased to consider resolution and recommendations of the Purchase Area Council for improving Kentucky Extension Programs.

These suggestions were: Request an Area or Multi-Area Clothing Specialist, that the Horticultural Specialist which will be vacant July 1, 1974 be filled, and that the Area Weed Specialist position, vacant for one and one-half years be filled if possible.

Request that efforts be made to get compensation for Farm grain sold by farmers when the moisture content is below government requirements.

Request that State Department of Agriculture be given authority to require grain buyers to discontinue the use of moisture testers that are inaccurate.

Promotion of a string program on the prevention of refuse dumping in any area except designated landfills and garbage dumps.

Request help on new cattle insect and disease problems. Request chemical specialist at Princeton to work with farmers on No-Till farming, use of herbicides and insecticides. (This is being done according to reports)

Request a standardized scoring sheet for all 4-H projects. (This is underway, also) Check into feasibility of exchanging senior 4-H campers with other camping areas of the state.

Recommend use of T.V. time to promote 4-H programs and recruit 4-H leaders. (This is being done)

Again promote the use of cover crops to maintain fertility, prevent erosion and keep Kentucky green.

Present methods of profitable farming that require less fuel and less fertilizer.

Promote hiring of 4-H Agents for all Counties in Area which do not presently have one.

Representatives of all Purchase Area County Extension Councils were present at the meeting to review the reports.

Wedding Vows Solemnized

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Eugene McWherter

Miss Deborah Stom and Thomas Eugene McWherter were united in marriage on Friday, April 12, at the Emmanuel Baptist Church with Rev. Granville Courtney officiating at the ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Stom of Almo Route One. She is a 1972 graduate of Calloway County High School. The groom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aaron McWherter of Route Four, Paris, Tenn., is employed with the Derby Oil Company. Attendants for the couple were Donna McWherter and Paul McWherter.

Following the ceremony the reception was held at the groom's home. The bride's table was overlaid with a wedding cloth with bells on it and held the punch bowl and candles. The two tiered wedding cake was trimmed with blue flowers and was topped with a miniature bride and groom statuette.

Mr. and Mrs. McWherter are now residing at Paris, Tenn.

Beef Specials Expected Soon

ATLANTA, Ga. — The U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA) reports that meat counters over the country generally are well-stocked now, while most cattle feeders are marketing their cattle far below the break-even point.

Due to the current beef situation, supermarkets will likely be advertising numerous specials on beef. This will give consumers a good opportunity to stock their freezers for the upcoming summer season of outdoor cookery — to enjoy beef at your leisure in the future at today's prices.

USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service offers a few simple rules to assure that your beef will retain its top quality while stored.

First, cuts of beef from the rib, round, sirloin, and chuck should be purchased in convenient sizes for the number you intend to serve. Shape ground beef into patties or package in portions for loaves or other dishes. It's a good idea not to season ground beef before freezing since it intensifies most seasonings.

Wrap meat closely and seal tightly in moisture-vapor-proof material, separating individual servings by a double layer of wrapping material. Freeze fresh beef quickly, and store at 0 degrees F. or lower. For best keeping quality, ground beef should be used within 3 months, other beef within 12 months.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR WEDNESDAY, APRIL 24, 1974

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES
(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

A good period for completing unfinished business, starting unusual projects and advancing new ideas. If opposed in the latter at first, try a different strategy.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 to May 21)

Beware of rumors, the "inside information" always available but rarely worth anything. In all matters, investigate for accuracy, details, truth.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

Some new insight could lead to higher achievement or bigger profits now. A fine Mercury aspect stimulates perceptiveness, intuition.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

Keep on your toes now. A competitive factor of which you are unaware could be building up. Watch, too, for some tricky maneuvering.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Tendencies to avoid: indecisiveness and, as with Taurus, an inclination to accept faulty information without careful checking. Otherwise, day should go well.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

You may encounter some difficult persons, even run into unexpected opposition. Remain tactful, tolerant and affable, and storms will blow over.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Planetary influences favorable for overcoming personal limitations, solving problems; are especially helpful in ironing out family difficulties.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

You get a splendid idea for increasing your income. Act on it promptly lest you begin to have doubts as to its feasibility — and drop it summarily.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Certain complexities, indicated in work areas, but you can better straighten them out by working behind the scenes than otherwise. Follow a hunch for best results.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

The methods and tactics you usually employ may be ineffective now, but you can devise some clever variants — perhaps even more result-getting in the long run.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Follow-up on a unique idea could be highly successful — if you are aware that present conditions are without precedent. It will be up to you to accommodate.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

The Piscean's innate intuition and curiosity are legendary. Use these traits well now and you may turn up some highly profitable information.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a lively imagination, remarkable intuition and a gift for sensing the needs of others — even before they themselves are aware of their lacks. Many come to you for advice and help, which you give generously. And your total involvement with your fellowman makes you an outstanding physician, nurse or worker in humanitarian causes. Aside from this all-over altruism, you have a distinct flair for the dramatic and could make an eminent career for yourself as an actor, writer, playwright or trial lawyer. Music also appeals to you, but probably more as an avocation than a lifework. Birthdate of: Anthony Trollope, Eng. novelist; Barbra Streisand and Shirley MacLaine, Amer. actresses.

A Salute To Our Realtors

One of the most complicated businesses in the world is that of a Realtor. The business involves selling from simple lots and homes to mansions, factories, farms, marinas, shopping centers, churches, store properties, office buildings, educational properties, apartment buildings large and small, and even animal hospitals and airports.

Formerly the business was devoted to selling houses and sometimes an industrial plant. The same broker was involved in the transactions.

But with the varied line of properties in today's market, an expert is required. This has resulted in the creation of many specialists in the business.

The real estate business has been a vital part of life in this country for many years, but not until the late 1890s did leaders in the field in America become concerned with the professionalism of their field. They began to organize and they now comprise a group known as the National Association of Realtors and subscribe to its strict code of business ethics.

The National Association of Realtors, with a membership of over 500,000, is one of the largest business associations in the world. The word Realtor is a badge or symbol used to identify a person engaged in the real estate business who is a member of the National Association of Realtors and observes the standards of conduct of the Association.

To acquaint the buying and selling public involved in realty transactions each year the National Association of Realtors observe a "realty week" on a nationwide scale known as Realtor Week.

We take this opportunity during National Realtor Week, April 21-27, to commend and salute the individual Realtors in Murray and Calloway County.

We are indebted to our local Realtors for their voluntary adherence to their strict code of ethics. The real estate business is an integral part of our business community and the manner in which it is conducted is deserving of praise.

Tax Refunds

A sagging U. S. Economy is getting a bigger shot in the arm than usual from federal income tax refunds.

The Internal Revenue Service reports that refunds this year are bigger than ever. So far, nearly $4.9 billion has been disbursed, compared to the $3.3 billion which had been returned at this time last year. The average refund is $366, 5 per cent more than last year's $350 average.

By the time the refunds have all been passed out, IRS expects to have paid out some $25 billion, which would be $3 billion more than last year. The refunds will, of course, give consumers a little extra money to spend and perhaps boost the economy. It can use all the help it can get. —Beaumont (Tex.) Journal

Senator Dee Huddleston

REPORTS TO THE PEOPLE OF KENTUCKY

IMPEACHMENT SPECULATION IS INAPPROPRIATE

I believe it would be inappropriate for members of Congress or the press to engage in needless speculation about the outcome of any possible impeachment vote in the House or Senate.

In my opinion the press should exercise some restraint and avoid trying to ascertain the votes of individual members of Congress at this stage, and also avoid speculating on how they might vote based on past records.

It is also unthinkable that a member of Congress would already have a firm position on the matter even before articles of impeachment are drawn up or one word of evidence presented. And it would be even more improper for a member of Congress to publicly indicate such a position at this time.

I say all this because it is absolutely essential that the American people know and believe that the ultimate decision whatever it might be will not contribute to a responsible and judicious disposition of the matter.

Rather, endless speculations about motives and eventual outcomes — whether they come from within Congress or from the media — can only erode the American people's confidence in the final result. Impeachment is a quasi-judicial process, not a political decision, and members of Congress are in effect acting as jurors.

I believe the vast majority of members will act on the basis of the charges drawn and the evidence presented — when and if that occurs — not on their feelings toward Richard Nixon the man, his political philosophy, or on public opinion polls.

Every member I know wants to handle impeachment in a non-partisan manner with the utmost fairness. Needless speculation at this time will not serve that purpose.

I commend the position of Senator Sam Ervin, the Senate's constitutional expert, who has come out against media polling of House members prior to specific charges being made or evidence presented.

It is always good, of course, to get back to Kentucky and visit around the state with old and new friends. In recent days I have been to Prestonsburg, Jackson, Columbia, Williamstown and Bowling Green. I try to visit as many different counties and sections of the state as I possibly can when Congress is not in session.

On Simon's Appointment

By MIKE BRANDON

Now that federal energy chief William Simon has solved the energy crisis, he is going to be put to work in another area of our American bureaucracy.

President Nixon has designated Simon as his nominee for the next Secretary of the Treasury.

We will remember it was Simon's courageous idea of raising gasoline prices to a dollar a gallon and in this way people could not afford to buy gasoline and thus the shortage would be avoided.

It seems as if a man with such knowledge as Simon would be left in his present position instead of now being designated as the next man to put his signature on paper money.

Could it be that since Simon has produced the high prices the oil companies wanted that this genius of a man might be getting his reward from President Nixon, who himself received over five million dollars in contributions from major oil companies?

Simon has done his work so well that if he were to become a Republican candidate for the Presidency in 1976, he could probably rake in more money from oil companies than did Nixon in 1972.

But the American people fail to see the danger of such a man getting promoted in the ranks of government.

Let us hope the United States Senate will not confirm this appointment of Nixon's.

We'd hate to have oily hands sticking to our money in the Treasury.

Energy Is Still Problem

The energy crisis hit with enough impact last fall to awaken most Americans to the fact that the nation as a whole had to cut down on the consumption of fuel.

We did cut down, enough to get through the Arab oil embargo without gas rationing or major industrial shutdowns from lack of fuel oil. Now, with the embargo lifted, with the disappearance of waiting lines at gasoline pumps, with shorter nights and warmer days making us less mindful of our consumption of natural gas and electricity, we may be drifting back to sleep so far as the need for energy conservation is concerned.

As Environmental Administrator Russell Train observed recently there are signs the nation is "going back to its wasteful ways."

The need for energy conservation has not changed, even if tankers carrying Arab oil are arriving again at our ports. We are still dangerously dependent on foreign fuel sources. Paying for foreign oil is still creating a serious deficit in our international accounts. Despite frequent prodding by President Nixon, Congress still has not passed the energy legislation which would give the United States a coherent energy policy.

The public — at least that segment of it represented by environmentalist organizations — is still resisting the construction of new oil refineries and nuclear power plants and the resumption of offshore drilling. Federal energy officials had to go on the defensive to retain the 55-mile per hour speed limit as a fuel-saving measure.

In theory, rising fuel prices should reduce demand but that rule of economics may not square with the way many of us regard the fuel and energy item in our budgets. An official of the National Opinion Research Center believes energy prices would have to go much higher before the average American would make significant changes in his driving habits and life-style because of costs.

Those costs may well go higher, and we will then find our energy problem converging more and more with our inflation problem. As the price of gas and utility bills begin to hurt, will we cut down on our driving and the use of electricity — or hit the boss for a raise?

There is a danger in putting too much emphasis on economics in viewing our energy needs. We could not buy oil at any price from politically minded Arabs last winter. Money will not provide us with power from generating plants which have not been built, or gasoline from non-existent refineries.

However, if we remain as aware of the energy problem as we were while waiting in line for gas last winter we can stretch out our fuel resources presently available and make the right decisions when environmental and energy issues come into conflict. If we enjoy a relative abundance of energy this summer, let's keep our memories green.

State Government Report

By Sen. Carroll Hubbard

New State Black Lung Law May Be Questioned

MAYFIELD, Ky.—Glenn W. Denham, president of the Kentucky State Bar Association, says he believes the new state law covering black lung lawyer fees will be questioned in the courts "somewhere along the line." If it isn't, he said, the Workmen's Compensation Board will lose all control over the fees.

Denham, of Middlesboro, said the board has been "moving in the right direction" to make the fees more reasonable in recent months. "I am not sure that under the new law the board can keep it that way," he said. "It's unfortunate that the law got on the books."

The new law, pushed to passage by both chambers of the 1974 General Assembly by State Sen. Kelsey E. Friend, D-Pikeville, the state's leading black lung attorney, sets a $6,500 limit on fees. The law, which becomes effective June 21, limits fees in noncontested cases to $750.

The board at one time awarded what under its policy was the maximum fee — $5,100 — in nearly all instances. This was revealed in a series of stories in The Courier-Journal.

The board started early last year giving its top fee with much less frequency. The board's maximum was awarded 91.1 per cent of the time in January 1973, but a month by month drop carried the rate to 41.5 per cent in December. Even lower marks have been reached this year. The rate was 31.7 per cent in March. "The state bar association as such has not condemned the collection of attorney fees in these black lung cases," Denham told the board last September.

"The only thing that we are interested in is the image of the bar and the lawyers and to be sure that the board... is basing their determination of fees upon the performance of the work done..." The board earlier had adopted a regulation requiring the attorneys to show in sworn statements the amount of time and work involved in individual cases.

Most disturbing about the new law to Denham, he said in the interview, was a provision that says the board shall approve contracts with clients for up to $5,000 in contested cases, or $6,000 for cases appealed to the Court of Appeals. It also says that the attorney fee shall become payable as soon as a benefit award is made by the compensation board, even though awards sometimes are reversed by the Court of Appeals.

Denham said he has talked with some attorneys who will petition only for "reasonable" fees and not hold the board to contracted fees. These talks have led him to believe, he said, that the courts will be asked to rule on the constitutionality of binding the board to a pre-set fee.

There were 800 or more persons last Saturday who joined in a march to the state Capitol in protest of a dam planned for the Red River Gorge. They carried petitions with 17,500 signatures of persons opposed to the dam.

The state Racing Commission recently passed a new rule requiring Kentucky's five thoroughbred racing associations to schedule at least four races for two-year-olds during each week of racing, beginning next March.

The new rule resulted partly from a budget increase authorized by the 1974 General Assembly.

State Parks Commissioner Ewart Johnson recently announced that Cumberland Falls State Park will soon receive a chairlift.

Johnson explained that the chairlift, to be constructed by a private developer, will be operating this summer and will provide more than 300 people per hour with a 12-minute, 3,000-foot round trip offering a "breathtaking" view of the falls.

Justice Secretary Henri L. Mangoot recently contended that the future of corrections in Kentucky largely rests in broad-based planning, incorporating the courts, law enforcement and juvenile delinquency agencies and all other integral parts of the criminal justice system.

Keynoting a recent conference of the Kentucky Association of Criminal Justice Educators, in Lexington, Mangoot said that improved planning and better solutions to corrections' problems will, in part, result from the state's newly created PROBE unit.

PROBE, the State Justice Department's central planning agency, whose nucleus will be formed by five criminal justice professionals, was recently launched under a grant by the federal Law Enforcement Assistance Administration (LEAA). Total LEAA funds earmarked for PROBE will amount to nearly $476,000 to cover the next two years.

Together with a statewide advisory commission on criminal justice standards and goals plus a battery of specialized task forces, PROBE "will represent our best efforts to engage in meaningful, long-range planning," Mangoot said.

While problems confronting corrections deserve specialized attention, he noted "we are not going to plan for Kentucky's future by having police officers, judges and corrections personnel convene in different rooms to discuss problems common to them all." Anything short of system-wide planning, he asserted, "just doesn't make sense in this day and age."

Still, criminal justice planning, he said, must also include input from the public, especially state lawmakers and community leaders, so PROBE will include private citizens as well as professionals in criminal justice.

Assistant Attorney General Carl Miller issued an opinion that streaking fits the definition of indecent exposure and may constitute disorderly conduct. Requesting a student to withdraw from a university, based on identification from a photograph, is not an abuse of process by a school administration.

Final Exams At MSU To Begin Saturday

Final examinations for the spring semester at Murray State University will begin Saturday, April 27.

Dr. William G. Read, vice-president for academic affairs, said examinations will begin at 8 a.m. on that date and continue through Thursday, May 2, leading up to the 51st spring commencement exercises at 10 a.m. Friday, May 3, in the university fieldhouse. No baccalaureate service is scheduled this year.

HONORED AT MSU—Barbara Johnson, a home economics major at Murray State University, was recognized as an Outstanding Home Economics Student and as the Outstanding Member of the Home Economics Student Association during the Honor's Day Program on April 21. Mrs. Johnson lives on Main Street, in Murray.

A total of 861 students have filed for degrees in the ceremonies this spring. The exact number of graduates will be determined when university officials have checked the candidates to certify that requirements have been met.

Both mid-year and spring term graduates will participate in the cap and gown ceremony since no formal graduation exercise is held at the conclusion of the fall semester.

A spring intersession is scheduled on the campus May 6-22. Students may earn three semester hours of credit by enrolling in the short session that spans the gap between the spring semester and summer school.

Summer term registration is scheduled at Murray State Monday, June 10—with classes for the eight-week session to begin the following day.

Yaz Homers Twice As Sox Beat Royals

By DAVE O'HARA
AP Sports Writer
BOSTON (AP) — Closing in on his 35th birthday, Carl Yastrzemski of the Boston Red Sox is playing like a spry little kid. He resembles the Yaz who won the American League's Triple Crown in 1967, but he refuses to look back.

"I'll never forget '67 because I had such a wonderful year and we won the pennant, but there's no sense in looking back," Yaz said Monday night after hitting two homers and a single for three runs batted in in Boston's 4-1 victory over the Kansas City Royals.

It was the only game played in the American League. In the lone National League game scheduled Monday night, the Houston Astros blanked the Atlanta Braves 7-0.

Yaz, named team captain by new Manager Darrell Johnson in spring training, is wrecking opposing pitchers. He is batting .360 with six homers and five doubles among his 18 hits in triggering the Red Sox into the AL East lead with a 9-5 record. His slugging percentage? A whopping .860. And it has resulted in 16 runs batted in. He also leads the Red Sox with 11 runs scored.

Yastrzemski, whose single scored a run in the first inning, drilled a shot over the Boston bullpen into the bleachers in right center for his homer in the sixth. Then, in the eighth, he lined a shot into straightaway center for another homer.

"Yes, I would say that he's swinging a pretty good bat," Boston Manager Darrell Johnson said with a smile after the Red Sox' fourth consecutive victory. "We need him, and he knows it."

Yaz, who will be 35 in August, singled and grounded out against Kansas City starter Nelson Briles. He unloaded the homers against reliever Joe Hoerner, who went looking for another pitch to throw the Boston slugger the next time he faces him.

Astros 7, Braves 0
"I'm only a growing boy," said Cesar Cedeno after blasting a pair of homers to back Claude Osteen's seven-hit shut-out pitching. "I've got some power now and I'm going to get some more."

"I'm only 23. I think my power will be to all fields when I get my full strength."

Cedeno followed Roger Metzger's single with a two-run blast off Roric Harrison in the Astros' three-run fifth. He hit a three-run blast in the seventh, following Greg Gross' double and a walk to Metzger.

His third and fourth homers of the season gave him 23 runs batted in, pushing him into the major league lead.

The shutout was Osteen's first with the Astros and 39th of his major league career, ranking him second to the 55 posted by St. Louis ace Bob Gibson among active pitchers.

Bucks Ends Series As Jabbar Hits For 38

By JERRY LISCA
AP Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — "The Big J," dead as ever, and "The Big O," evergreen pro, have the Milwaukee Bucks primed and ready to strike for the National Basketball Association championship.

The Bucks exploded in the second half for a 115-99 going of the Chicago Bulls Monday night in the Chicago Stadium to waltz off with a four-game sweep of their Western Conference final series.

Milwaukee now marks time, awaiting the NBA title showdown against the winner of the current Eastern final series between the Boston Celtics and the New York Knicks.

The Boston-New York argument resumes Wednesday night in Boston with the Celtics holding a 3-1 edge in the best-of-7 series. In the American Basketball Association, Indiana kept alive Monday night in the Western Division playoff with Utah, winning 110-101 to trail 3-2 in the quest to face New York in the ABA title round.

As Milwaukee advanced to the final NBA round with eight victories in nine playoff games against the Los Angeles Lakers and Bulls, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar sky-hooked 38 points and plucked off 24 rebounds.

But it was the 35-year-old Robertson who applied the coup de grace to the overmatched Bulls. Big O, in his 14th NBA season, went scoreless as the Bulls fought to a 52-48 halftime lead, but then he turned the tide with three quick baskets starting the second half.

Robertson scored 10 of his game total of 16 points in the third quarter when the Bucks broke the game open with 12 unanswered points to surge ahead 75-66 and then coast to an easy victory.

"I never saw Oscar play any better. He simply turned the game around for them," said unhappy Bulls Coach Dick Motta, whose club was obliterated in its first NBA second-round effort in history.

In the ABA, Indiana's Pacers stayed alive against the Utah Stars, after once trailing 3-0 in their series, on 29-points each by Mel Daniels and George McGinnis.

Utah missed the services of ailing Zelmo Beaty, who also may be benched by an infection for Thursday's sixth contest at Terre Haute, Ind. New York gained the ABA title round with a four-game sweep against Kentucky in their Eastern final series.

Austin Peay Meets Middle In Classic Tennis Match Wednesday

Murfreesboro, Tenn. — Sporting a sterling 16-1 overall record the Middle Tennessee State tennis team prepares for the invasion Wednesday of League favorite Austin Peay as the Ohio Valley Conference regular season play draws to a close.

Following wins over Eastern Kentucky and Morehead State by 9-0 scores last weekend, the Raiders and Governors find themselves tied for the lead with 47 points, three more than Western Kentucky.

MTSU and Austin Peay will battle on the Blue Raider courts at 2:00 p.m. Wednesday afternoon in what Coach Larry Castle has called "the biggest tennis match in MTSU history."

Meanwhile, Western will play Murray State, a team that MTSU shelled 9-0 and Austin Peay dumped 8-1. Western, however has beaten both the Raiders and the Governors by 5-4 scores.

"It looks now like all three teams will enter the tournament with 50-53 points, which means that the tournament will decide everything," noted Castle.

"The only thing that could change things would be for Murray to play Western close, say 3-4, and either of us blow the other one out. Realistically, however, I don't expect that to happen," Castle continued.

Castle feels that his team is playing its best tennis of the season right now, and four consecutive shutouts back him up. In their last four outings, MTSU has bounced UT Chattanooga 9-0, dropped Vanderbilt 5-0 in a rain-shortened match, and beaten Eastern and Morehead.

In singles play, Doug Miedaner sports a perfect 17-0 record, Bob Butterfield is 12-1, Lasse Durchman is 12-2, Wally Norwich is 13-2, Eustace Kigongo is 14-3 and Geoff Gilchrist stands at 12-4. In doubles, the team of Durchman and Peetri Pihko is 12-2, Butterfield and Clyde Smithwick are 8-2, and Gilchrist and Norwich are 10-3.

"We have a chance to be seeded at every position in the tournament, out an awful lot depends on how we do Wednesday," pointed out Castle.

HOPING FOR EXPLOSION—Murray State's baseball team will be hoping for an explosion from the big bat of senior Rick Weisman. The big outfielder is hitting at a .288 clip this spring and has driven in 38 runs. Last year, he tied the Murray State record for homers as he drilled 11 four-baggers.

Big Track Meet Friday For Racers

Murray State's track team will have a dual meet Friday at Austin Peay. Also that same day, the 'Breds baseball team meets Middle Tennessee in a crucial playoff game.

For fans who might want to attend one of these events, both the football stadium and the baseball field are near each other.

The track meet will begin with field events at 2:30 p.m. and track events at 3 p.m.

The baseball game gets underway at 3:30 p.m.

Another story in today's sports section is devoted to the baseball game so we will take a brief look at the track meet in the column today.

For years, Austin Peay was the doormat of the conference track competition.

But as the school began to grow, mainly because of the success of the Governor basketball team, the track program began to improve.

And it has improved to the point that where the Racer track team will have a tough time winning the dual meet Friday.

In case you haven't heard the name, write it down and remember it: Anthony Carter.

He does everything. He is one of the top long jumpers in the United States, along with Tommy Haynes of Middle Tennessee. A week ago this past Saturday, Carter went 26-2 in the event.

He also holds the triple jump record with 48-10 plus he holds the school record of 9.6 in the 100-yard-dash.

In addition, he runs on the 440 and the mile relay teams.

For sure, Austin Peay will take first in the long jump and in all probability, the triple jump.

Craig Segerlin, who missed the dual meet this past Saturday at Middle, should win the pole vault, if he is able to compete.

Steve Ford should win the shot put competition with Austin Peay placing second and possibly Murray third with Don Bibbie.

Murray will sweep the first two places in the javelin with Austin Peay getting third.

Austin Peay will win the discus competition while the high jump should be a great contest between Flip Martin of Murray and Pat Osborne of Austin Peay. Flip has cleared 6-9 1/2 while Osborne has cleared 6-8.

The teams should split the two relays, with Murray favored in the mile relay and Austin Peay in the 440.

In the dashes, Murray should take two of three places in the 100 and 220.

Murray should also take two of three places in the 440.

In the 880, Murray could do anything as this is the most inconsistent event for the Racers.

Torres and Benfield should place 1-2 in the mile with Stan Thompson a good shot at third.

Torres will walk off with the three-mile and Murray should pick up one more place in the event.

Gary Craft has the best times in both of his hurdling events.

So far this spring, the Racer track record is 5-2 and a win Friday would give the team one of their most successful seasons in recent history.

Englar, who leads the 'Bred mound staff with a 6-1 spring mark and has an outstanding earned run average of 2.36, will be called on to pitch the most important game of the season for Murray.

Having already won the fall title in the western division of the Ohio Valley Conference, the 'Breds need one playoff win against Middle Tennessee Friday to break the tie and automatically advance into the conference championship series which would be held in Murray.

The system is about as complicated as trying to understand Watergate.

The conference is divided into two divisions, the eastern and the western. The division season is broken into two parts, the fall season and the spring season.

In each division, there can be two different winners, or three can be one, if one team wins both the fall and spring races.

Murray and Middle will be playing for the spring title, since both are deadlocked with a 4-2 record in the division race.

If Murray wins, then they are the spring champions and since they also won the fall, then the 'Breds would be in the conference championship against the eastern division winner.

But if Middle Tennessee were to win Friday, that would make them the spring champions, thus the Racers and Middle would have to play again, since the fall winner and spring winner play for the title in the division.

Last fall, Murray played Middle twice at Reagan Field, winning twinbills 2-1 and 3-2.

Then just two weeks ago at Murfreesboro, the 'Breds and the Raiders split a pair of games, Murray winning the opener 4-3 and Middle taking the nightcap 3-2.

"We feel like we're in good shape," Murray Coach Johnny Reagan said.

"Our pitching staff has had time to rest and we've been able to get in some extra hitting practice.

During the past few weeks, the 'Breds have been in a bit of a slump at the plate as the heavy schedule began to take its toll on the team.

But the schedule has slimmed down now and the hitters are rested and according to Reagan, are beginning to make better contact with the ball.

The 'Breds were to play at Arkansas State today and then play at Southern Illinois Thursday but both games have been postponed. The game with SIU, an earlier 8-2 conqueror of Murray, will be played May 5.

The home season will close Saturday at Reagan Field as the 'Breds return from Clarksville to play a twinbill with Memphis State.

If the 'Breds lose Friday to Middle at Clarksville, the teams will play again on the same diamond Sunday afternoon.

Freshman Mark Wezet, who has a 3-0 record and the best earned run average on the team (0.84), will probably get the nod in that game, provided of course that it is necessary to play the contest.

Wezet, from Evansville, Ind., has pitched 32 innings and given up only 23 hits while striking out 35 men.

Another freshman, Steve Darnell of Reidland, has been very impressive this spring as he sports a 2-1 record and a 3.32 ERA.

Reliever Ernie Mikesell has won two games and has an ERA of 1.50.

Other pitchers on the team and their records include Bill Emerson 3-1, 5.78; Curtis King 2-0, 7.36; Dana Pearson 2-1, 6.66; Mike Sims 2-3, 3.69; and Mike Thieke 2-2, 3.72.

Junior college transfer Don Derrington continues to lead the team in hitting as he is sporting a .359 average and has 15 runs batted in.

Shortstop Leon Wurth continues to lead the RBI race as he has a 41-38 lead over senior outfielder Rick Weisman. Wurth needs just two more RBIs for a school record.

Other players and their statistics (batting averages and RBIs) are Steve Barrett .260, 28; Terry Brown .357, 14; Mike Cathey .208, 11; John Howland .275, 13; David Hughes .213, 13; Bob Mantooth .303, 18; Jack Perconte .328, 21; Gene Steuber .263, 19; Don Walker .289, 12; Rick Weisman .288, 38; and Wurth .328, 41.

Following the playoff with Middle, the 'Breds have the twinbill with Memphis State and the one away game with SIU.

And if the 'Breds win the western division title, then they will host the conference championship playoff on May 3 and 4.

After that, the 17th-ranked 'Breds, who are 27-10 for the spring, must sit and wait for a bid to the NCAA playoffs.

The conference winner does not receive an automatic bid, thus Murray must hope for an at-large berth.

Because of the outstanding seasons of Georgia Southern and the University of Miami, two of the playoff spots have more or less been sewn up already and so the 'Breds are in the running for the final spot.

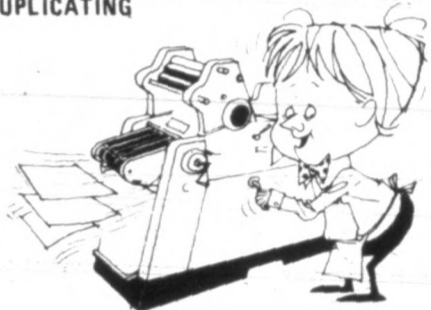

Also vying for the playoff spot with Murray are South Carolina and Tulane.

Cougars Recover To Even Series

TORONTO (AP) — Player-coach Pat Stapleton said his Chicago Cougars "made a lot of stupid mistakes" in the second period of their World Hockey Association playoff game Monday night.

The Cougars recovered, however, and scored a 4-3 victory over the Toronto Toros to even their best-of-7 semifinal series at one triumph each. The third and fourth games will be played at Chicago Sunday and next Tuesday.

It was the only pro hockey action Monday night. The Minnesota Fighting Saints lead the Houston Aeros 2-1 in the other WHA semifinal, while the Philadelphia Flyers lead the New York Rangers 1-0 and the Boston Bruins and Chicago Black Hawks are tied 1-1 in the National Hockey League semis.

The Cougars, who eliminated the defending champion New England Whalers in the quarter-finals, received four of their six minor penalties in the middle session. But Bob Leduc was the only Toronto player to score with a man advantage, tying the game 1-1 at 8:55.

Toronto, 6-4 winners over Chicago in the series opener last Friday, made it 3-1 on goals within 4:32 by Tom Martin and Wayne Dillon. Martin's goal came just 12 seconds after Leduc tallied.

Then Chicago rallied — a surge capped by rookie Francois Rochon's third-period goal — to even the series.

The game was a relatively mild one except for a scrap between Chicago's Darryl Maggs and Toronto's Steve King in the second stanza. Each received a five-minute major penalty and Maggs was given an additional two-minute minor for slashing the Toros' player.

Bill Cutchin, A Math Genius...

train is going." Mrs. Evelyn Linn, Bill's math teacher in high school and college, testifies to the fact that he is a wizard when it comes to numbers. "I remember time after time writing a column of numbers on the board and Bill would already have the answer by the time I had finished writing."

Mrs. Linn, who taught math for 40 years, continued by saying, "Bill is as good as I've ever taught. He had the ability to reason and think the problem through and that's what I think math is. Of course, his character as well as his ability was not only recognized by the faculty, but also by his fellow students."

When he was a freshman in high school, Bill won the state title in algebra and later won a state scholastic test in geometry. The only thing unique about that was that he had taken only one course in geometry.

Jack Gardner, assistant director of personnel at MSU, says, "I remember watching Bill stop by the bank at quitting time and get the tapes from the adding machine and add all the numbers just for the fun of it. He would tear the answer off at the bottom before adding and then compare answers." Gardner added, "Sometimes those tapes would be five feet long and five columns wide."

Steve Hamrick, a graduate of MSU, says, "I've seen Bill sit down and add a column of numbers before an adding machine could."

Gingles Wallis of Wallis Drugs said, "I remember when people would hatch up problems to try and stump him."

Although he's been an avid Racer fan all his life, Bill has been confined to his home for the past two years. In December of 1972 he fell on the ice and broke his hip and has never fully recovered from it. Those who have known Bill admit it's odd to see him on crutches after watching him for years jog around town and hitchhike to both far and near.

When he was a young teenager, he took up the game of tennis and played on Murray's State's first tennis team and was still active in the sport until breaking his hip. In 1956 he won the Jaycees Tournament with Ron Underwood as his partner.

For 12 years, Bill was the baseball scorekeeper for the city park leagues and became so well known among players that by just mentioning the name 'Bill' would need no further explanation as to whom it referred.

Bill's memory is still sharp as ever and County Court Clerk Marvin Harris will agree with that. He says, "Bill used to come in the office and study the deed books. One day a person came in and asked Bill what deed book so and so's name was in. Out of 140 deed books, Bill said, 'I believe it's this one' and sure enough he was right."

In 1932 when Calloway County had only about 1500 automobiles, Bill memorized the license plate number of most of all the cars and who owned them. In fact, Mrs. Cutchin states that he could tell the make of a car by the sound the engine made. "For instance," she said, "I remember driving down the road and a car would pass by and without looking Bill would say that it was a Ford. He would always be right. As a matter of fact, he could tell the make of a car better by listening than by looking."

A 1938 graduate of MSU, Bill took 33 hours of math and also was a physics major. After graduation, he taught math at Shelby County High School in Alabama for two months before having to quit after being bedridden with an iron deficiency illness.

Due to a nervous condition he has never done much work. He was a ditch digger for nine months and worked in a post office for five years.

Currently, Bill is waiting patiently for his hip to heal and is trying to gain back some of the 60 pounds he's lost since the accident. He's gained 12 pounds and hopes to gain 10 more. Reading mysteries and current magazines are two of his favorite pastimes and of course solving math problems, many of which he makes up.

Although he's not been a great coach as was his father, the name Bill Cutchin will long be remembered by former little leaguers and as one citizen put it, "His name will go on record as one of the kindness, most helpful and cooperative person's I've ever known."

T. Wells, a Murray attorney. Wells, one of a handful of persons whom Stubblefield trusted, was invited to the Stubblefield home in 1892 to see the "wireless telephone."

In a later interview, Wells said "He had a shack about four feet square near his house from which he took an ordinary telephone receiver, but entirely without wires. Handing me this, he asked me to walk some distance away and listen. I had hardly reached my post which happened to be in an apple orchard when I heard 'Hello Rainey' come booming out of the receiver. I jumped a foot and said to myself, 'This fellow is fooling me. He has wires somewhere.' So I moved to the side some 20 feet but all the while he kept talking to me. I talked back and he answered me as plainly as you please. His voice sounded much as a human voice sounds over a telephone, but there were no wires, mind you."

In 1902, Stubblefield staged a public demonstration of his invention at the court square here. About 1,000 persons attended and saw Stubblefield and his young son Bernard conduct a successful demonstration.

A news story of this demonstration was published in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch newspaper a few days later under the headline "Kentucky Farmer Invents Wireless Telephone." Later in 1902, several successful demonstrations of the invention were made in Washington, New York and Philadelphia.

At Washington, Stubblefield broadcast from a ship in the Potomac River to a group of persons on shore. This demonstration was reported by the Washington Post.

Despite all these evidences of success, Stubblefield still did not patent his invention. Finally in 1908, a patent was issued. But in the meantime, although no one has been able to prove it, Stubblefield seems to have signed away his rights to his invention for shares in a company that would promote and develop it. These stocks later disappeared, the promotion company's role in the whole affair has remained shrouded in mystery, but it is known that Stubblefield thought he had been cheated out of his invention.

For the last 20 years of his life, Stubblefield lived as a recluse in a shack near Murray. There, he brooded in his disillusionment and conducted other experiments which have become a part of the area's folklore. There are many stories in circulation about brilliant lights appearing in the air about the shack and of sounds that seemed to come from nowhere.

On March 28, 1928, Nathan B. Stubblefield was found dead in his shack. He appeared to have died there days earlier of starvation.

In no way can a 45 minute opera to justice to one of the most brilliant inventors of all time. But perhaps in many of these small ways we can try to make up to Stubblefield what members of our race did to him.

Realtors Adopt New Trademark

The Murray Board of Realtors today announced its adoption of a new trademark in conjunction with a change in the name of its national organization. The new trademark identifies the National Association of Realtors, formerly the National Association of Real Estate Brokers.

According to Edna Knight, president of the local board, the new name and trademark signify the Association's reaffirmation of its dedication to protecting the right of the American property owner to a decent place to live.

"The National Association of Realtors has a tradition of speaking for the property owners of our country," Mrs. Knight said. "We're continuing to work at all levels—in Washington and state and local governments—to achieve legislation that makes home ownership possible."

Mrs. Knight pointed to the Association's recent proposal of national legislation to ease the mortgage money crisis as an example of this work.

The president pointed out that the new trademark identifies the Association's members as trained experts in the real estate industry. The term Realtor is a federally registered trademark reserved for the use of the National Association and only its members are allowed to use it. It is for this reason that the term Realtor now appears in both the trademark and the association name.

The Realtor trademark also identifies the world's largest business association. "Wherever you are—in any of the 50 states of Puerto Rico—there's a Realtor to serve you," Mrs. Knight said.

Harry Furches To Speak, Hazel PTC

The Hazel School Parent-Teacher Club will meet Thursday, April 25, at 7:30 p.m. at the school.

Harry Furches, associate professor in the department of art, Murray State University, will discuss demonstrate arts and crafts.

The devotion will be by the seventh grade. Hostesses for the social hour will be the third and fourth grade mothers.

Mrs. Henry Hutson, president, urges all parents, teachers, and interested persons to attend.

agriculture department at the university, and include: Agriculture 101, Elementary Horsemanship I; Agriculture 202, Horse Production; Agriculture 303, Specialized Horse Enterprise; Agriculture 304, Advanced Horsemanship II; and Agriculture 401, Equine Breeding and Management.

More and more students from out-of-state are listing the horsemanship program as the main attraction that lured them to Murray State. "These students are here to learn," Rudolph said. "They're not just after the three hours credit."

A large riding arena at the University's 355-acre laboratory farm will also be ready for use this fall. The indoor arena will feature a large seating capacity, with a lighted riding ring. The facility will also be used for many community functions.

"It's amazing the change in students from the time they begin the program until they complete their work," Rudolph said. The students begin at the basic course, with little or no previous riding experience. They emerge from the advanced class as accomplished horsemen.

It's a little too early to see how well the business world of horsemanship will accept the training received by these students in school. In most fields, "book-learning" is frowned on by those in the practical field. But the students in the MSU horsemanship program are receiving not only "book-learning," but valuable practical experience as well.

Two MSU Artists To Participate In Literary Workshop

Two Murray State University students with majors in English are among 25 people across Kentucky selected to participate in the Kentucky Arts Commission Literary Workshop in Lexington April 26-27.

They are: Karon Corley of Marion Route 4, a junior; and Kathi Hazelwood of Danville, a sophomore.

Miss Corley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice G. Corley, recently won a first prize award for a short story that was published in "Appalachian Heritage" magazine. She has a double major in English and French.

Miss Hazelwood is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hazelwood of 528 Jean Drive in Danville.

During the workshop participants will be working with literary forms and techniques in poetry and fiction, as well as familiarizing themselves with other essentials of publication.

Serving as co-directors of the workshop will be M. Joe Eaton, Richard Taylor and Bernie Bever, all poets associated with the Kentucky Arts Commission's statewide Poetry in the Schools Program.

R WHAT IS A CHEAP DRUG?

How do you define cheap in the context of health? Sure, some supposedly alike drug products can be manufactured at a "cheaper" price but at what sacrifice to the quality of the medicine? The question is are you willing to rely on your physician to select the drug product he determines best for you or do you want some government regulatory agency virtually telling him what he must prescribe?

In our pharmacy we carry a great many drugs made by a great many companies. Some, of course, will be less expensive than others, but we will only stock products that are made by a drug company in which we have confidence.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs.
