Barometer Reveals Savings Up $22 Million, Retail Sales Expected To Reach $64.7 Million

Assets in local banks and savings and loan associations increased by over $22 million between December of 1972 and December of 1973 according to the 1973 Business Barometer, compiled by the Murray Chamber of Commerce and released this week.

The statistical survey also showed that citizens of Murray were saving by other means than just salting the money away in savings accounts. Local natural gas users cut consumption from 791,896,000 cubic feet of fuel in 1972 to only 630,076,000 in 1973, the lowest rate of natural gas used since 1967.

Not all of the reduction can be construed as better conservation by consumers, however, as a nationwide natural gas shortage forced many users to convert to other types of fuel. Natural gas users increased from 2,768 in 1972 to 2,774 in 1973.

One favorable aspect of the survey, which was published in Tuesday's Murray Ledger & Times, was a projected total retail sales figure for Calloway County of $64,667,000 for the current year. This sales figure is almost $4 million greater than the retail sales figure for 1973, $60,888,000.

Even though there were 136 more water meter users during 1973 than 1972, water consumption also showed a drop, from 739,697,200 gallons in 1972 to 724,486,200 last year.

The barometer listed the number of babies born at the hospital at 414 in 1973, the lowest number of births since 1960. The survey, which included comparable figures for ten years from 1960 to the present, listed the highest number of births, 588, for the year 1962.

Other areas which showed increases from the previous year were:

—Building permits, up to 122 from 119 in 1972.

—Sewer connections, an increase of 78 to 4,065.

—Electric power usage, up to 185,843,840 kilowatt hours from 181,271,200 kilowatt hours in 1972. Electric customers at the Murray Electric System increased from 5,206 to 5,311 while West Kentucky Rural Electric

Conley Resigns As Calloway Cage Coach

Jerry Conley, varsity basketball coach at Calloway County High School for the past four seasons, has resigned from his position.

In a letter to the Calloway County Board of Education, Conley said he was giving up his duties as coach and as an instructor at the school to accept a fulltime position with the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The announcement was made by William B. Miller, Calloway County Superintendent of Schools.

Miller said the board would act on the resignation at its next meeting, the first Monday in May. Conley, who was an All-Ohio Valley Conference basketball selection for two years at Morehead, received his bachelor's degree in 1969 and earned his Master's Degree in Education a year later.

He began his coaching at Calloway County during the 1970-71 season.

Besides his position as coach, Conley also served as a physical education and driver's education instructor.

Conley, 27, who is originally from Jenkins, Ky., guided the Lakers to a 16-10 record this season.

His most successful year was the 1972-73 season in which the Lakers posted a 21-8 record in winning the District Tournament and the Mayfield Invitational.

For the past two summers, Conley has worked with the TVA and is presently employed by the government agency on a parttime basis.

"I had a good opportunity to get started in TVA and I believe it will present a good future for me," Conley said.

"I've had my ups and downs while coaching at Calloway and

Tickets To Stubblefield Story Available At Door

Tickets will be on sale at the door for "The Stubblefield Story," the folk opera to be presented Friday and Saturday, April 26-27, at Murray State University, as part of the Bicentennial Celebration in Calloway County.

Dr. Joe N. Prince, dean of the College of Creative Expression and producer of the show, said sales will begin in the lobby of Lovett Auditorium an hour before curtain time on each date. The show will begin at 8 p.m. Friday and at 9 p.m. Saturday.

Prices are $2 for adults and $1 for children 12 and under. Tickets may be purchased in advance at the Bank of Murray or Peoples Bank of Murray.

Presented by the Calloway County Bicentennial Committee in cooperation with the College of Creative Expression at the university, the four-scene production revolves around Nathan B. Stubblefield, and his dramatic role in the invention of radio.

About 100 people are involved in the show, with about 50 in the cast and about 50 on the production staff. The opera includes story-libretto by Lillian Lowry and music by Paul Shahan, who is also serving as assistant to the producer. Robert E. Johnson, chairman of theatre arts at Murray State, is the director.

Prince, noting that the cast and production staff are made up of students, faculty, local residents and people from surrounding counties, said the show has taken shape very nicely.

"It is an excellent opportunity for the community and the university to work together," he continued, "and for people to see what we can do when we work together."

Mrs. Trotter, Mr. Hurt, Honored By Local Secretaries' Association

Buford Hurt and Mrs. Delma Trotter were named honorees at the annual banquet of the local chapter of the National Secretaries' Association Tuesday.

Hurt was chosen "Boss of The Year" and Mrs. Trotter was named "Secretary of the Year" for 1974.

Mrs. Trotter is a legal secretary for the firm of Hughes and Gregory in Murray, a position she has held for 12 years.

She is vice-president of the local chapter of NSA, and is past chairman of the Education and CPS Service committee and presently is chairman of the Rules and Bylaws committee. She has also served as a member of the Program,

National Secretaries Week, Civic, and Hospitality committees.

Mrs. Trotter has participated in various projects while a member of the Murray Woman's Club, and has helped each year in various fund raising drives by door-to-door contacts. She has assisted with Kidney Foundation work, worked as a Girl Scout leader, and has done volunteer work at the local hospital.

She has taught at different levels in Sunday School at the First United Methodist Church, and has performed numerous other tasks in church work. She is a past member of the Zeta Department and Creative Arts Department of the Murray Woman's Club, and is a charter member of the Oaks Country Club and a past member of the Board of Directors.

In a resume submitted by her employer, Mrs. Trotter is described as "a very able

Local ASCS Disburses $713,031 To Calloway Farmers Last Year

A total of $713,031 was disbursed by the Calloway County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS) in the local area last year, according to the annual report issued today by the service.

The amount includes a cropland adjustment program of $43,164 feed grain and wheat program of $225,008, and wool and lamb incentive payment of $123 or a total of $268,295 payments to farmers; commodity loans on corn and soybeans of $284,692, and from storage facility loans of $83,428 for total loans to farmers of $368,120; and administrative costs of $76,616.

The cropland adjustment program is a voluntary measure to encourage farmers to divert cropland from the production of surplus crops to conserving uses for a period five to ten years. Agreements were signed in 1966 and 1967, but no funds have been appropriated for new agreements since then.

There were 49 farms participating in 1973, with 908 acres under contract.

The feed grain and wheat program provided for the voluntary reduction of corn, grain sorghum, barley and wheat grown on individual farms. The program also provided for price support loans to farmers who participated in the program.

There were 2,061 eligible feed grain farms, 694 eligible wheat farms, a feed grain base acreage of 31,947, a wheat allotment of 1,148 and 631 farms participating for a total payment of $225,008.

Payments are made to wool producers after the marketing year is over at the rate in effect for the marketing year during which the wool is sold. One application was filed in 1972 and paid in 1973.

Producers may place eligible commodities under loan at the price support rate on farm storage or warehouse storage. However, warehouse storage is available only of soybeans in Calloway County. Commodity loans enable producers to store their commodity until maturity or repay any time prior to maturity date.

Loans disbursed in 1973 included 23 for farm-stored soybeans, for 112,756 bushels and $252,582; four for farm-stored corn, for 26,633, and $30,628; and one for warehouse-stored soybeans for 663 bushels and $1,482, for a total of 28 loans for 140,052 bushels and $284,692.

Farm storage facility loans are available to eligible producers on price support commodities, 85 percent of out of pocket costs not to exceed maximum approval, and can be disbursed at the time the facility is completed. The

Mental Health Program Here Has Made Many Improvements

By Melissa Easley

What was it like before the mental health movement became recognized by science and concerned citizens? The conditions typical of mental hospitals around the turn of the century were described by a former patient, Clifford Beers. His hands cruelly restrained, he was cursed and spat upon by untrained physicians.

In spite of a leg injury, he was jerked roughly from a bed by a doctor who was irritated at his silence. While in the home of a concerned attendant, he recovered. In an effort to improve the treatment of the mentally ill, he publicized his experiences; thus the beginning of the mental health movement in the U. S.

In the past 10 years Murray and Calloway County has been a part of this growing movement. The center has come from the days of one visiting psychiatrist a month and one over-populated institution to a complete staff of 12 professional workers in a building equipped for a variety of services. This community-based center is an asset to Murray. And to the patient who improves more rapidly within reach of family and friends, it has meant recovery.

Federal grants and patient fees are not enough to maintain the center. Donations are needed. The general public can help by purchasing a tax deductible ticket to the Charity Ball (753-1599 or 753-9368); or by sending a donation to Mrs. Robert McCoart, 300 S. 5th St., Murray, Ky.

All proceeds from the dance will go for the Murray Comprehensive Care Center located at 702 and 704 Main St.

The dance will be held June 1 at the Harry Lee Waterfield Student Union Building from 9-1:30 a.m. Two bands, The Amusement Company and the Berl Olswanger Orchestra, will provide continuous music. The Bicentennial theme will be carried out with "Ole South" decorations.

DAY CARE CENTER STUDENTS, Melinda Butterworth, Melody Kernell, Cheri Anderson, Carl Perry and Melissa Butterworth wash their hands after a session of finger painting. All proceeds from the Charity Ball will go to the Murray Comprehensive Care Center.

CHICKEN GIBLETS
Keep chicken broth in the refrigerator no longer than five to seven days (preferably just five) to preserve its best quality. If you leave too much fat in the broth, your flavor may not be as rich. Try to skim most of the fat off the top. The amount of fat varies according to the size of the chicken. After cooking, cool both chicken and broth in the refrigerator, not at room temperature.

Carl Rogers and Paul Shahan Give Program On Kentucky Composers Related To Bicentennial Here

Carl Rogers and Paul W. Shahan of Murray State University Music Faculty presented a program about Kentucky composers related to the Bicentennial of the USA at the meeting of the Music Department of the Murray Woman's Club held April 16.

Mrs. Charles Moffett, Chairman, welcomed all guests and the guest artists of the evening.

Carl Rogers spoke first about Anton Philipp Heinrich (1781-1861), a Bohemian, who immigrated to America and became known as the "Beethoven of America." He performed and lived around Lexington, Bardonia, and Louisville. He composed a great deal of music and most of the music in his first published volume, "Dawning of Music in Kentucky" was written while living in a log cabin near Bardonia.

Mr. Rogers accompanied by Tom Baker at the piano sang "Hail to Kentucky" from "Dawning of Music in Kentucky" by Heinrich.

Paul Shahan gave some very interesting information about "The Nathan B. Stubblefield Story" to be presented in Lovett Auditorium April 26 and 27. Lillian Lowry wrote the story and then in 1961-62 developed the Folk Opera with Mr. Shahan. He remarked that it is purely folk in sound and character. He then played excerpts from the fourth scene of the Opera.

During the business meeting that followed, it was decided that $25 would be contributed to the Speech and Hearing Clinic for records, $25 to the Senior Citizens, and $100 for Murray High School Band Trip to Florida. Also $350 would be set aside for a special musical attraction to be presented in the future.

Mrs. Garnett Jones was appointed Chairman of a committee to investigate suitable memorials for deceased members.

Members were reminded of handicrafts for the State Convention where they would be sold and the proceeds given to the kidney fund and also that free evergreens were available to beautify the highways.

Mrs. Donald Brock presented the slate of nominees for officers for the following year. The following were nominated and elected: Mrs. Donald Burke, chairman, Mrs. Douglas Abbott, vice-chairman, Miss Rebecca Dublin, secretary, and Mrs. L.M. Holloway, treasurer.

Hostesses for the evening were: Mrs. Eugene Berrill, Mrs. Max Brandon, Mrs. Millard Carman, Mrs. Josiah Darnall, Mrs. H. Glenn Doran, Mrs. Harold Gish, Mrs. Irma LaFollette, Mrs. John Taylor, and Mrs. H.W. Wilson.

Many Visitors In To See R. D. Key; Other Guests In Homes

By Mrs. R. D. Key April 8, 1974

Mrs. Ovie Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Clerris Wilson, and Mrs. Maburn Key were in Martin, Tenn., Tuesday for the funeral of Mrs. Claud Gardner.

Mrs. Jessie Paschall and Mrs. Ralph Gallimore visited R. D. Key Tuesday who is still confined at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Coy Kuykendall visited Mrs. Ella Kuykendall Friday afternoon.

Gary Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Gaylon Morris visited R. D. Key Thursday.

Bailey Grooms returned home Saturday after being in the hospital for the week. His children, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Grooms, Mr. and Mrs. Kennon Grooms, and Mrs. Lettie Stafford were called here to help Mrs. Grooms care for him.

Bro. Warren Sykes was in Monday for a check up with Dr. Newman. He shows improvement.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Kuykendall and Mr. and Mrs. Rickie Orr and son visited Miss Sylvia Kuykendall Sunday.

Adolphus Paschall visited R. D. Key Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Tellus Orr visited Mr. and Mrs. Robert Orr Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Orr visited Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cryer in Obion County over the weekend.

Mrs. Charlie Wicker was in Monday for a check up with Dr. Newman. She is not too well.

Mr. and Mrs. Milford Orr visited Mrs. Bertie Jenkins Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Stewart visited Mr. and Mrs. Tony Sykes Sunday night.

Mrs. Ovie Wilson was in to see Dr. Newman Monday.

COOKING TIME
It takes longer for a whole chicken to reach the required internal temperature of 190 degrees than it does for chicken pieces. Therefore, cut-up chicken cooks in a shorter time than whole chicken.

STUFFING
Liquids and sauces aid heat transfer and cut the cooking time needed for chicken to reach the necessary internal temperature of 190 degrees.

Conversely, stuffing acts as a barrier and delays heat transfer. Stuffing can double cooking time of chicken.

Mr. and Mrs. Vergil Paschall attended the revival services at Oak Grove last week.

Mrs. Ovie Wilson visited Mr. and Mrs. Maburn Key Sunday. Arlin Paschall is not so well. He was in Paris, Tenn., to see Dr. Jones Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Glynn Orr, Howard Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gallimore, and Bro. and Mrs. Jerry Lee visited R. D. Key Sunday afternoon.

Beautiful character can make up for ugly face

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-H. N. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I wish to speak for the ugly men in this world, including myself. Ugliness is a terrible curse. It makes us ugly people feel inferior to the point where we seriously consider suicide.

Our social lives are deficient, for few people seem willing to associate with physically ugly people. Without sex appeal we miss a very important part of life that the average person takes for granted.

My ugliness is not a bodily one. I am not grossly fat or painfully thin, neither am I deformed in any way. It's facial ugliness that has caused strangers to come up to me and say: "Gee, you're ugly." That is the God's truth. Can you imagine anyone being so cruel?

Abby, you could perform a great humanitarian service if you would devote a little space to a possible solution to this problem. Or perhaps a reader who has overcome his ugliness can tell me how he did it.

DOUBLE UGLY
DEAR DOUBLE: Did it ever occur to you that "ugliness"—like beauty, could lie in the eye of the beholder? Some of the world's most attractive and appealing people do not conform to the generally accepted concept of beauty, but that doesn't make them ugly.

The qualities that make one loved and wanted have nothing to do with the way his face is formed. Honesty, kindness, generosity, patience, compassion—all the virtues—can be developed. A beautiful character counts for more with people who count than physical beauty.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a man who watches television while making love to his wife? My husband never makes love to me in the bedroom anymore, always on the sofa in the living room so he can watch TV, too. And it's usually on the spur of the moment, which is not to my liking.

He was a lot more considerate and loving when we were dating. He's so afraid he's going to miss something good on television it has practically ruined our sex life.

Will you please tell me how I can get him back in the bedroom?

DISSATISFIED

DEAR DIS: Move the TV into your bedroom!

DEAR ABBY: How can we thank you? Because of a message in your column telling runaways about a program called "Operation Peace of Mind," our runaway son let us know that he was alive and well. He is only 16 and had been gone for nearly a year.

Abby, please publish that toll-free telephone number again so other runaways can let their parents know they are alive. It meant the world to us to hear from our son.

GRATEFUL IN SEATTLE

DEAR GRATEFUL: With pleasure: Runaways, call this toll-free number: 1-800-231-6946. An operator will telephone your parents anywhere in the United States and convey a message to them from you. There will be no lecturing or counseling. Your call will not be traced, and the only question asked of you is: "Do you need anything?" If you do, you will be told where you can obtain it free of charge. I repeat, no one will attempt to contact you or bring you home regardless of your age.

Runaways, please forget the past and send that message to your parents now. They will sleep better tonight, and so will you. God bless [P. S. This wonderful program is staffed entirely by volunteers in Houston, and was aided by Gov. Dolph Briscoe of Texas.]

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Cal. 90212 for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Ritual of Jewels Initiation Is Held By Xi Alpha Delta Chapter

The regular meeting of the Xi Alpha Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was held on April 18 at 7:30 p.m. at the Community Center on Ellis Drive.

Following the opening ritual, the group was reminded of the Founders Day Banquet to be held on April 30 at 7:30 p.m. at Kenlake Hotel. The next regular meeting, May 2, will not be held due to the close timing of Founders Day.

Following the business session, the Ritual of Jewels initiation was held for Mrs. Bobby Martin, Mrs. Richard White, Mrs. Joe Suiter, and Mrs. Ronnie Hutson. They were each presented a long stemmed yellow rose.

The formal installation of the officers for 1974-75 was held. Those being installed were: President - Mrs. Tommy Brown, vice-president - Mrs. Joe Ginn, treasurer - Mrs. Donny Lyons, recording secretary - Mrs. Ronnie Hutson, corresponding secretary - Mrs. Danny Workman, and extension officer - Mrs. Bobby Martin.

After initiation and installation, delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses, Mrs. Charles Chilcutt and Mrs. Ronnie Hutson.

Chicken Cooking At Low Temperatures Discussed, Council

With everyone talking about the energy crisis, the National Broiler Council has received several questions concerning cooking chicken at low temperatures.

Simmering chicken at the lowest temperature on the range is one method of conserving energy. Using a new low-heat slow electric cooker is another.

But some have wondered if low heat will cook chicken sufficiently to kill any bacteria which might be present.

The National Broiler Council's Scientific Advisory Committee replied that the one safety essential is an internal temperature of 190 degrees, maintained for at least 10 minutes.

Slow electric cookers (such as "Crockpot"), which use a very low wattage over a period of several hours, produce an internal temperature of 200 degrees at a low setting, if manufacturer's directions are followed. A high setting on this cooker produces an internal temperature of 300 degrees.

However, it is important NOT to lift the lid during cooking. Steam will escape and the necessary maximum temperature will not be maintained.

THE TERMITES ARE SWARMING!!

Dorinda Starks Is Honored At Tea At Thompson Home

Miss Dorinda Starks, bride-elect of Charles Craig, was honored with a bridal gift tea recently held in the home of Mrs. Van Thompson with Mrs. Elmer Middleton as cohostess.

Alice Craig kept the register. Mrs. Max Middleton assisted in the serving.

Miss Starks chose to wear for the occasion a lovely long beige dress trimmed in brown with which she wore white carnations as her corsage.

In the receiving line with Miss Starks were her mother, Mrs. Charles Starks, and her mother-in-law to be, Mrs. Alfred Craig. Mrs. Starks wore a long two piece green dress while Mrs. Craig wore a long blue dress. Both mothers wore corsages of white carnations.

Guests who called between the hours of 6:30 and eight p.m. were served individual cakes, nuts, mints, and punch from a table covered with a cloth overlaid by white lace.

Cook Two

Another fuel-saving tip from the National Broiler Council is to cook in quantity. It takes no more energy to cook two broiler-fryers than it does to cook one. And you'll have chicken cooked ahead for salads, casseroles and other quick and easy dishes.

Madell Talent Is Elected President Of B.&P.W. Club

The Murray Business and Professional Women's Club met Thursday, April 18, at 6:30 p.m. at the Murray Woman's Clubhouse for the regular monthly meeting.

Mrs. Betty Riley, president presided at the business meeting. Laura Jennings presented a slate of officers for next year who are Madell Talent, president; Lucille Thurman, vice president; Frances Shea, recording secretary; Helen Basil, corresponding secretary; Frances Whitnell, treasurer.

Delegates to the Kentucky State Convention were elected as follows: Betty Riley, Madell Talent, Ruby Pool, Christeen Graham and Jessie Shoemaker.

Miss Vivian Hale introduced Dr. Frank Kodman, professor of psychology at Murray State University who spoke on "Acupuncture, Shiatsu, Amma and Mental Health."

Other guests were Connie Hanna who won the club's annual scholarship to Murray State University and her mother Mrs. Virginia Hanna, and Linda Carter who was welcomed as a new member.

Jaycettes Elect Mrs. Youngerman As New President

The Murray Calloway County Jaycettes met Thursday, April 18, in the home of Mrs. Diana Youngerman. Mrs. Jan Emmert, president, presided.

The minutes of the March meeting were read and approved. The treasurer's report wasn't given due to the absence of the treasurer.

Several items of internal business were discussed. The election of officers was held. The newly elected officers for 1974-75 are: Mrs. Diana Youngerman, president; Mrs. Judy Rickman, vice-president; Mrs. Jan Emmert, secretary; and Mrs. June Yurcus, treasurer. The new officers will be installed at a joint Jaycee-Jaycette banquet to be held in May.

A special meeting will be held on Thursday, May 16, with a special invitation to all Jaycees wives to attend.

Members present for the meeting were Mrs. Jan Emmert, Mrs. Linda Waugh, Mrs.

Dr. H. L. Oakley Given Honor By Beta Gamma Chapter of EPT, Inc.

Beta Gamma Chapter of EPT, Inc., International Honorary Fraternity in Industrial, Arts and Vocational Education, held its annual Spring installation banquet at Paris Landing Inn on Friday evening, April 12, with 75 members and guests in attendance.

Don Tharpe, Senior Industrial Education major from Mayfield, served as Master of Ceremonies and introduced Dr.

James Wells, Assistant Professor, Department of Management at Murray State University, who spoke on "Women's Role in Business and Industry."

Dr. C. Dale Lemons, Chairman of the Department of Industrial Education, and Trustee of the chapter presented membership certificates to the following students, selected on the basis of their academic records.

James P. Almand, St. Louis, Mo.; Dwayne F. Bucy, Murray; Gary L. Childs, Covington; Va.; Lee C. Garrett, Mayfield; Jackie R. Hancock, Benton; David H. Morris, Murray; Rodney R. Pickering, Brandenburg; Michael E. Riley, Paducah; W. Francis Ronnau, III, Louisville; William T. Runner III, Louisville; Michael R. Sens, Belleville, Ill.; Ralph

F. Story, Murray; Robert D. Summers, Mt. Carmel, Ill.; Richard A. Vaccaro, Louisville; and Abebe A. Yirgou, Addis Ababa, Ethiopia.

Bobby Woods, outgoing vice president of the local chapter, was recognized for his outstanding work during the past year. He was designated as "Outstanding Student Member" for 1973-74 and will be awarded an appropriate plaque at the Honors Day program at the University on April 21.

A special event of the evening was the presentation to Dr. H.L. Oakley, Dean, School of Applied Science and Technology at the University of a resolution in recognition of his service to the chapter, to the International Fraternity, and to the field of industrial education. He was honored for his work in obtaining the charter for the local chapter and for his service to the chapter, especially during the thirteen years he served as Trustee.

As a testimonial of their appreciation, the members of the chapter also presented to Dr. Oakley an Honorary Life Membership in Beta Gamma Chapter. Professor G.T. Lilly, member of the faculty of the Department of Industrial Education and long time friend and associate of the honoree, was chosen to make the presentation.

Cancer Meeting Held for Girls; Drive Now On

The local Committee of the American Cancer Society, in collaboration with Murray High School, sponsored a meeting with senior girls to provide education for the detection of uterine and breast cancer on Wednesday, April 10.

A question-answer period was directed by Dr. Richard Cunningham, gynecologist. Gene Nipp, area representative of ACS, Paducah, showed two films.

In an interview with Superintendent Fred Schultz concerning the session, he made the following observations: It is effective to cause young girls to become conscious of progress being made in the area of cancer detection and particularly important to alleviate, by education, the fear that many presently have of periodic examinations.

Mrs. Stanford Hendrickson, Cancer Committee, and Mrs. Franklin Fitch, MHS, coordinated plans for the activity.

The Annual Fund Drive of ACS continues. Volunteer workers report progress and all citizens are urged to be as generous as possible with their support. Solicitors for the drive are to return funds to Mrs. Mary Frances Bell, Bank of Murray by April 25.

Jaycettes Elect Mrs. Youngerman As New President

The next regular monthly meeting will be Thursday, May 2, at 7:30 p.m. All Jaycee wives are cordially invited to attend.

Secretaries Deserve Praise

The secretaries of our community as well as the rest of the nation are being honored during this week, National Secretaries Week, a time set aside to honor this important segment of the business community.

Few businesses could survive without the vast amount of detail work done by the secretary. The legal profession, for example, relies heavily on secretaries to produce the voluminous amount of documents involved in the profession.

The businessman, harried by countless decisions, relies on the cool efficiency of a secretary to write letters, give answers, make inquiries and to act as a buffer in general.

We take this opportunity to extend congratulations to the secretaries of our community and especially to the Murray Chapter of the National Secretaries Association. The Murray Chapter of NSA, although fairly new in its inception, has rapidly taken a place among the business and professional groups in the city.

Their aim and goal is to uplift their vocation, recognize and become cognizant of their true role in business, and to take pride in their ability and accomplishments.

We applaud their aims and offer our best wishes to the secretaries of our community in this, their special week.

Politics Fuels Inflation

It is difficult to accept House Speaker Carl Albert's disclaimer of political purpose in his charge that the Nixon administration policies are largely to blame for the nation's economic ills.

The sad fact is that there are no national heroes in our losing battle against inflation. It is true that Mr. Nixon's economic policies, that have included a series of unbalanced budgets, have not helped to curb inflation. Nor have wage and price controls, which have been a prime U.S. economic tool since Aug. 15, 1971. On the other hand the authority for wage and price controls, as Mr. Albert must remember, were forced upon Mr. Nixon by a Congress controlled by Democrats intent on making political hay.

However, if Mr. Albert is saying that politics should be removed from the U.S. economic policy to the extent possible, we would agree. A good start in this direction has been made in the understanding in Congress that the remaining controls on wages and prices will be allowed to expire on April 30, which will focus efforts to control inflation where they belong — in the market.

The market has not had much opportunity to exert its dynamism in recent years, nor has it had much help from international circumstances lately. A poor grain harvest throughout the world in 1972 raised the price of food everywhere dramatically. Dollar devaluations have made American goods more attractive overseas — raising the price at home. Additionally, all of the world's economies began booming at once creating a substantial shortage of raw materials. The straw that broke the camel's back was the trebling of the price of oil during the last year. Most assuredly it would be difficult for all of these circumstances to recur again in any one year.

One of the strangest aspects of the current inflation is the frank admission of most economists that nobody really knows what the remedy might be — contrary to Mr. Albert's thought that there is a known formula if only the administration would grasp it.

If any premise achieves concurrence it is the belief that the tried and true remedies of a balanced budget and letting prices find their own levels in a free market — which haven't been tried in recent years — are unacceptable to those in politics. These cures, it is said, would work against the poor people and would create unemployment — ignoring the fact that inflation is doing the very same things.

It is clear in the dialogue between the administration and Mr. Albert that neither is yet quite ready to bite the bullet and do the things that have to be done. Politics on both sides prevents it.

The Inflation Anger

The average American worker's real spendable income is nearly 5 per cent less this year than it was a year ago — the sharpest decline in at least 25 years.

This is the source from which a great deal of anger flows.

It is probably more responsible for public dissatisfaction than any other factor, including the Watergate and its sequels in Washington, D.C. People in this country tend to think of Washington affairs as remote from them. But they all carry their wallets and purses around with them every day and are constantly reminded of the decline in the purchasing power of their income.

The rate of inflation has been accelerating. In February, the consumer price index was up 10 per cent above 12 months earlier, the highest point in the current spiral.

Weekly real spendable earnings were down about 5 per cent in February from a year ago.

The last month in which weekly real spendable earnings were up from a year previous was in February, 1973. Every month since then they have been down from the month 12 months earlier, and the drop has been steadily increasing until it neared the 5 per cent figure.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics defines weekly real spendable earnings as take home pay after adjustment for federal withholding and Social Security taxes, changes in work hours, and inflation.

Many workers have never before known a period when their real spendable income dropped so far.

The adjustment is difficult. The political and economic consequences of this decline in real pay are unpredictable, but it is clear it will contribute to the anti-incumbent vote in elections and to high wage demands in labor negotiations this year.

TRANSPORTATION

A short, squat middle-aged lady with a shopping bag got on an RTD bus at Alvarado Street in Los Angeles and tried to squeeze her frame into about three inches of seat. "I'm really very small," she kept repeating as the passengers on both sides of her were forced to create sitting room out of non-existent space. "See how little I am?" she smiled. One of the disgruntled hunched-up, crunched-up passengers told her, "Look, lady, if you're so little, why don't you go by baby carriage."

At a New Year's Day party, novelist David Chandler asked the house guests of his neighbors how long they planned to stay. "Well," said the man thoughtfully, "the estimated number of deaths in automobile accidents for this weekend is 472, and we're not leaving until the quota is filled."

Belgrade, Yugoslavia—A frustrated motorist whose car frequently was hemmed in by double-parking guests of Zagreb's Laguna Hotel finally retaliated by throwing a tear-gas grenade into the lobby. A British research firm, for no understandable reason, discovered that American tourists, driving abroad, honk their horns much less than other nationalities. The worst horn-honkers are easily drivers from the Arab nations who seem to believe that their horn is a command for everyone to get out of their way. Second worst are South Americans (It's a machismo and also they just love the sound"), third the French ("They just lean their elbows on the horn every time they come to an intersection or a pretty girl"), fourth the Spanish ("They think that honking the horn proves their masculinity"), fifth the Japanese (They madmen in their Tokyo techniques racing up behind another car at 40 miles-an-hour, slamming on the brakes and the horn at the same time and stopping less than an inch from your rear bumper"). The British are weird, the international survey found. Often instead of honking, their drivers will get out of the car, come up to your window and "waggle their fingers at you."

What To Do About The Mail?

What can be done about the U.S. mail? No matter what we do the costs to the users keep going up, service keeps going down.

From 1885 until 1932 Americans paid two cents to mail a letter. In 1958 it went to four cents, and in 1963 to five cents. In 1968 it cost six cents to send a letter, in 1971 eight cents and, now, 10 cents. The time between increases keeps getting shorter.

In 1971 Congress reorganized the Post Office Department into the U.S. Postal Service, a public corporation, and ordered it to break even. Since that time mail rates have jumped 25 per cent for the average person, well ahead of the rate of inflation.

Post Office employees are probably the best paid semi-skilled workers in the country, but somehow the image and the performance of the Postal Service is not impressive. There are fewer deliveries and slower service than there was a decade ago.

Perhaps it is a mistake to try to make the mails pay their own way. Postal service is an essential governmental function, necessary to the functioning of our economy, like the highway system, the schools, police protection. We don't attempt to perform these functions on a profit and loss basis, so why must the Postal Service break even?

Why not concentrate on providing the best service possible for the people and the business community? If this means operating at a loss, so be it. Government does not provide essential functions in order to make money, but because we need and want them. The mail is such a function.

If we are so concerned about the costs of Postal Service and if we believe that the mails are not an essential function, then we can get completely out of the postal business and leave it up for grabs by private entrepreneurs.—Anniston (Ala.) Star.

Remember

Remember those good-old windy days of March a year ago when some of the service stations in town were giving away kites free with each fill-up at the gas pumps?—Florence (S.C.) Morning News.

Roll Call Report

WASHINGTON—Here's how area Members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes on April 11, the last day before Congress' Easter recess. Congress reconvenes April 22.

HOUSE
COMMODITIES—REGULATION—Rejected, 158 for and 179 against, an amendment to hire full-time commissioners to regulate the trading of agricultural commodities. The amendment was offered to H.R. 11313, which was later passed and sent to the Senate.

The overall bill would regulate trader-manipulation of the commodities market, which last year had a volume of about $500 billion. At present, the market is largely self-regulated.

In rejecting the amendment, the House voted approval of part-time advisory commissioners, appointed by the President with Senate approval, to work with the Secretary of Agriculture.

Supporters argued that the proposed commission needs independence to effectively oversee commodity trading, and that part-time commissioners would "rubber-stamp" policies drafted by the Secretary of Agriculture. Rep. Neal Smith (D-Iowa) said that commodity traders want full-time commissioners who are "just as independent as the Securities Exchange Commission."

Opponents of full-time commissioners argued that the proposed board's policy should be wedded to the Agriculture Department's nationwide farm policy. Rep. William Wampler (R-Va) argued against creating another "unnecessary bureaucracy."

Rep. Carl Perkins (D-7) voted "yea."
Reps. Frank Stubblefield (D-1), William Natcher (D-2), Romano Mazzoli (D-3) and John Breckinridge (D-6) voted "nay."

Reps. Gene Snyder (R-4) and Tim Lee Carter (R-5) did not vote.

SENATE

TAX AUDITS—Passed, 69 for and 20 against, an amendment to require the General Accounting Office to audit the income tax returns of any federal officeholder or employee who makes more than $20,000 a year.

The amendment was attached to the public campaign financing bill (S. 3044). If the language becomes law, congressmen, presidents, federal judges and high-levels government employees will be subjected to yearly tax audits, which will be made public by the GAO.

Supporters argued that such audits will help restore public trust in politicians. Sen.

John Tower (R-Texas) said the Congress should be subjected to "the same, intensive audit that President Nixon underwent."

In opposing the amendment, Sen. James Buckley (C-N.Y.) said, "I see no legitimate purpose in...this gratuitous invasion of privacy." Other senators argued it would cost too much to audit so many federal officials.

Sens. Marlow Cook (R) and Walter Huddleston (D) voted "yea."

CAMPAIGN HELPERS—Rejected, 40 for and 48 against, an amendment to limit free help from labor unions and corporations to candidates for public office. The amendment was attached to the public campaign financing bill.

The overall bill calls for a $6,000 limit on any organization's contribution to an individual's campaign. The rejected amendment would have set a "fair market value" for services rendered by employees of a corporation or members of a union.

The value of such services would have been considered as part of the $6,000 limit.

Supporters argued for closing a loophole, that permits labor unions, in particular, to provide limitless "volunteer" services to favored candidates. Sen. John Tower (R-Texas) said that without the amendment "this so-called campaign reform bill will be nothing more than a sham."

Opponents argued that it would be impossible to determine when such aid is voluntary and when it is subsidized by a corporation or union. Sen. Joseph Biden (D-Del) asked, "How could anyone legitimately enforce" the amendment's provisions?

Cook and Huddleston voted "nay."

PUBLIC FINANCING—Passed, 53 for and 32 against, a bill calling for public financing of campaigns for federal office. It now goes to the House.

Among its major provisions are:
—Federal subsidies to serious candidates for federal office. The subsidies will come from taxes collected under the "dollar check-off" provisions on income tax forms.

—Campaign contribution limits of $3,000 from individuals and $6,000 from organizations to all campaigning (primary and general election) of a candidate.

—Uniform, nationwide poll closing times to prevent media projections of presidential elections before western state voters have cast their ballots.

—Public tax audits of federal officials (above) and income source disclosure for candidates for federal office.

Huddleston voted "yea" and Cook voted "nay."

Perry Defeats Oakland, First Time In Career

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Spitter, spitter, who's got the spitter? Not Gaylord Perry. "I didn't see a spitter," said Oakland's Gene Tenace after hitting against Perry Tuesday.

The reknown "greaseball" pitcher beat the A's 2-1, but they did not see his special pitch. As a matter of fact, they did not see much of anything else.

Oakland Manager Alvin Dark looked on and also saw no spitter.

And what did Gaylord Perry say? Not much — he was just happy to beat Oakland for the first time in his career.

"I think the law of averages was long overdue," said Perry after eight straight defeats at the hands of the A's.

In the other American League games Tuesday, the Kansas City Royals whipped the Boston Red Sox 5-2; the Baltimore Orioles nipped the California Angels 4-3 in 10 innings; the Minnesota Twins nudged the Detroit Tigers 1-0 in another 10-inning affair and the Chicago White Sox downed the Milwaukee Brewers 3-2.

National League scores: Cincinnati 5, Chicago 3; St. Louis 8, Houston 2; San Diego 10, New York 2; Los Angeles 5, Philadelphia 3 and Montreal 8, San Francisco 4.

Without his No. 1 pitch, Perry scattered eight hits. He got support from Charlie Spikes, who hit a two-run double for the Indians' winning margin.

Spikes' two-out double in the seventh broke a scoreless pitching duel between Perry and Oakland's Jim "Catfish" Hunter, who went the distance and allowed just three hits.

Ray Fosse provided Oakland with its run on a two-out homer in the ninth, his second of the American League baseball season.

Royals 5, Red Sox 2
Buck Martinez' single knocked in the winning run during a three-run, ninth-inning rally that carried Kansas City over Boston.

Orioles 4, Angels 3
Rich Coggins stroked a two-out single in the bottom of the 10th inning that snapped a tie and gave Baltimore its victory over California.

Twins 1, Tigers 0
Steve Braun smashed a lead-off home run in the 10th inning, powering Minnesota over Detroit.

Murray High Golfers Win Match by 30

The Murray High golf team ran its spring record to a perfect 4-0 Tuesday at the Oaks Country Club by winning 166-196 over Calloway County High School.

Lee Stewart of Murray High was the medalist as he shot a four-over par 40. Brad Boone fired a 41, Gary Sullivan a 42 and Tim Philpot a 43 to round out the top four scores for Murray.

Kevin D'Angelo and Anthony Fike both carded 47's for Calloway County while Bobby Fike shot a 49 and Joey Janacek a 53.

Murray High will host Henry County today and Fulton City Thursday.

The Lakers are 1-2 and will host Mayfield Thursday.

Boston Favored Over Knicks In East Game

By DAVE O'HARA
AP Sports Writer

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Celtics, smelling championship money as in their glory years in the 1960s, are favored to defeat the New York Knicks and wrap up their playoff series tonight at the Garden.

With a 3-1 advantage in the best-of-7 series, the Celtics already are looking ahead to a showdown with the Milwaukee Bucks for the National Basketball Association title.

However, Boston Coach Tommy Heinsohn guardedly warned his charges against looking beyond the Knicks, noting: "We still have to win one more in their series."

The Knicks were put on the brink of elimination in a 98-91 loss in the fourth game in New York Sunday. Things don't look much brighter for them, although the record shows that the visiting team has won the last three games in the Eastern Division final playoff.

O. J. Simpson Predicts NFL Players To Strike

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "It looks like we're going to have a strike," says superstar O.J. Simpson, in discussing the current negotiations between National Football League players and owners.

And, adds pro football's greatest single-season ground gainer, it couldn't happen at a worse time for the owners. He referred to the efforts of the fledgling World Football League to lure NFL stars when their contracts expire.

"It makes you wonder why the owners don't start talking seriously about a contract," said the former University of Southern California halfback. "For the players, the new league is the best thing since the AFL. I think it ought to mean an average yearly increase of $10,000 to $15,000 for the players."

"For the owners, a strike would be a disaster. If the World Football League were the only game on television — and they're supposed to start in July — then people will watch it. The new league would be off to a great start."

Fisher Wins Trophy In Muzzle-Loading Shoot

Dave Fisher of Gilbertsville was the winner of the flintlock competition at the April shoot of the Kaintuck Muzzle Loaders.

Dick Allen broke out of a slump, stroking two hits and scoring two runs, to lead Chicago over Milwaukee.

It seemed that the hopping was done by a baseball and for the Tigers, it was good and bad.

The good part was that the ball hopped the right way several times and plugged gaps for extra basehits.

As for the bad part for the Tigers, the ball did some hopping for the Lakers as four of the Calloway County runs scored on either passed balls or wild pitches.

New York is faced with a "must win" situation — for three games in a row. And no one in the game thinks the Knicks can win three in a row from Boston. The Celtics won five of seven regular season encounters before taking command in the playoffs.

"We know what we have to do," New York super star Walt Frazier said. "We're not conceding anything. If we play as well as we did at home Sunday, we can win."

The Knicks, though, just don't appear to have the muscle or the speed to cope with the Celtics. Boston captain John Havlicek is having a ball as the team's leading scorer. Dave Cowens, Paul Silas & Co. are dominating the boards.

With center Willis Reed and veteran forward Dave DeBusschere hurting, the Knicks hardly resemble the same team which won the NBA title by defeating Los Angeles after eliminating Boston in seven games last year.

During a rare respite between movie and television jobs, Simpson relaxed in the living room of his trophy-filled hilltop home. His life has been kinetic since the end of the 1973 season in which he rushed for a record 2,003 yards for the Buffalo Bills.

Simpson admitted that he had received feelers from the World Football League, "but I decided to go for security for myself and my family." He decided to stay with the Bills and has told them that he will play this year and next.

"Then I'll see what happens," said Simpson, 26. "My contract calls for me to play until 1977, but I'm not sure I want to play that long."

Tigers Open Season By Shelling Calloway 12-5

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

Things were hopping on the Calloway County baseball diamond Tuesday afternoon as Murray High opened its season by defeating the Lakers 12-5.

And just like one of Johnny Carson's monologues, there was some good and some bad about the hopping.

It seemed that the hopping was done by a baseball and for the Tigers, it was good and bad.

The good part was that the ball hopped the right way several times and plugged gaps for extra basehits.

As for the bad part for the Tigers, the ball did some hopping for the Lakers as four of the Calloway County runs scored on either passed balls or wild pitches.

Murray High was supposed to have played a road game with North Marshall Tuesday and the Lakers were to have been at Ballard Memorial for a game.

But both games were called off because the diamonds weren't in shape because of the recent heavy rains.

Calloway County Coach Dennis Potts and his team did some work on their diamond and got it in shape to play and so the Laker coach contacted Murray High Coach Clayton Hargrove and the game was scheduled in a matter of minutes.

It was a matter of minutes too in the first inning when the Tigers threatened to get on the board only to have two runs robbed on a great fielding play.

Tiger centerfield Glenn

Jackson opened the game by slamming a Randy Conner pitch into left and then Murray shortstop Johnny Hewitt reached base on a walk.

With runners on at first and second, Terry Melton lashed a drive into leftcenter which would have easily plugged the gap and scored both baserunners.

But Laker centerfielder Craig Dowdy ran to his right, dove for the ball and came up with a spectacular catch for the first out of the inning. After that, Conner settled down and retired the Tigers.

Then in the bottom of the first inning, the Lakers started a two out rally when catcher Greg Howard walked and third-baseman Rick Scarborough reached on a base-on-balls.

Both runners advanced a base on a passed ball and then on a wild pitch, Howard came in with the first run and the Lakers led 1-0.

The Tigers came back and took the lead in the second inning when Craig Suiter reached on a walk and Steve Miller singled.

The two runners were sacrificed up by Johnny Shelley and then pitcher Tony Thurmond aided his own cause by drilling a two-run single into right and Murray led 2-1.

Another run was cut down at the plate when Jackson followed with his second consecutive hit and Thurmond was tagged out by Howard to end the inning.

In the third inning, the Tigers exploded for six runs and chased Conner from the mound. Two more hurlers came on to pitch for the Lakers before the uprising was finally settled.

The big inning opened with Melton reaching on a walk and then catcher Ricky Garland grounded to short and Melton was out at second and Garland was on first with a fielder's choice.

Following a single by Gary Dick, big Craig Suiter sent a rocket-shot into rightcenter that almost chased the Laker outfielders to the parking lot behind the high school.

Suiter wound up on third with a pair of RBI's and the Tigers led 4-1.

Miller smacked an RBI double, Shelley walked and then Jackson again reached on a hit to drive in Miller.

Hewitt cleared the bases with a triple that produced an 8-1 Tiger bulge.

Murray added two more in the fourth after Garland and Dick reached on singles when Shelley unloaded a triple into rightcenter.

Calloway got back onto the scoreboard in the home half of the inning on a pair of walks and then the run scored on a passed ball.

In the fifth, Mark Miller reached on a walk and Greg Howard doubled for the first and only hit for the Lakers.

Four errors by the Tigers in the inning allowed three runs to come home for Calloway.

Both benches emptied in the final innings as the two coaches gave their reserves a chance to see action.

Murray added single runs in the sixth and seventh. In the sixth, freshman Lindsey Hudspeth doubled and scored on a wild pitch.

Anglers Say Put Fish Back Into Water

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Man is not a fish's best friend, but some bass anglers are trying hard to make the relationship livable for the fish at the wrong end of the hook.

Putting the bass back into the water instead of into the frying pan is the aim of a new program called "Don't Kill Your Catch," and schools of bass should be happy to read the project's statistics.

tween the bases — faster than he can throw. The St. Louis speedster tested Edwards' arm three times and three times the arm came in second.

"I don't think he's slowed down that much," said Houston Manager Preston Gomez after his team was victimized by Brock and the Cardinals 8-2. "And he probably knows how to run better."

Elsewhere in the National League, the Cincinnati Reds downed the Chicago Cubs 5-3; the San Diego Padres whipped the New York Mets 10-2; the Los Angeles Dodgers overcame the Philadelphia Phillies 5-3 and the Montreal Expos trounced the San Francisco Giants 8-4.

Brock, who has now stolen 646 bases in his career, the ninth best mark in history, is off to his fastest start with a league-leading 11.

The spring has not always been the best base-stealing season for Brock, who has now stolen three bases in a single game 14 times.

Besides his steals, Brock contributed three hits and two runs to the St. Louis attack which backed Sonny Siebert's eight-hit pitching.

Reds 5, Cubs 3
The Cubs ended Roger Nelson's no-hitter in the sixth and Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson ended his night in the seventh, lifting him for a pinch-hitter with the Reds ahead 2-1.

The pinch-hitter, Terry Crowley hit a sacrifice fly, making the score 3-1, and the Reds added two runs in the eighth.

Dodgers 5, Phillies 3
Pinch-hitter Tom Paciorek slugged a three-run homer in the bottom of the ninth to rally the Dodgers over the Phillies, who had taken a short-lived 3-2 lead in the top of the inning.

Padres 10, Mets 2
Even the last-place Padres are picking on the defending National League champs.

Randy Jones tossed a seven-hitter and John Grubb knocked in four runs with a single, double and three-run homer to drop the Mets for the 10th time in their first 13 games.

The Padres shelled Jon Matlack, 0-1, Harry Parker and Ray Sadecki for 16 hits. Jones, 1-4, blanked the Mets until the seventh when Cleon Jones singled and scored on Wayne Garrett's triple.

Expos 8, Giants 4
Montreal scored five unearned runs in the sixth inning, two on Tim Lincecum's single to beat San Francisco.

An error by Montreal first baseman Ron Fairly led to three unearned San Francisco runs in the fifth, giving the Giants a 4-2 lead.

But the Giants returned the favor an inning later when an error by rookie third baseman Steve Ontiveros triggered the five-run outburst, capped by Ken Singleton's RBI single.

Special Olympics To Be Conducted Saturday

Final plans have been made for the third annual Murray Special Olympics for mentally handicapped children, to be held Saturday at 9 a.m. in Murray State University's new Roy Stewart Stadium.

More than 250 youngsters from 21 West Kentucky school districts are expected to participate in the seven track and field events scheduled: the 50-yard dash, 300-yard run, 440-yard run, mile run, standing broad jump, high jump and the softball throw.

The winners in these events will become eligible to compete in the state championships later in the spring, the winners of which will be entered in the national championships later in the summer. Two years ago, Cathy Crutcher of Murray won first place and a gold medal in the softball throw at the national championships on the West Coast.

In charge of this year's event is Mrs. Billie Downing, an associate professor in the Department of Special Education at Murray State. She is being assisted by Dr. Brinda Smith, an assistant professor in the University's Department of Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Rodney King, a graduate student in physical education, will be in charge of the track and field events, and he will be assisted by students at Murray

State majoring in special education and physical education.

Lunch for the youngsters will be provided by the Burger Queen restaurant in Murray. Dipper's Delight will also be providing ice cream for the participants.

Everyone who participates in the events will be awarded a ribbon.

Seven dignitaries will be on hand when the events get underway.

To be present for the Olympics will be Sen. Carroll Hubbard, Rep. Kenneth Imes, Murray Mayor John Ed Scott, Judge Robert O. Miller and a representative for Congressman Frank Albert Stubblefield.

NFL Owners Discussing What Seems To Be Certain Expansion

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — National Football League owners went back into session today to consider the details of what seems to be an almost certain expansion beyond its current 26 clubs.

After listening to what Commissioner Pete Rozelle called, "a lengthy, comprehensive report," from the league's expansion committee Tuesday, the owners adjourned for the day. "We hope," said Rozelle, "to have a vote tomorrow."

That meant another day of waiting for five cities bidding for NFL franchises. They are Memphis, Honolulu, Tampa, Seattle and Phoenix. "We've waited this long," said a representative of one of the bidding cities. "We can wait another day."

It appears that the wait will be worthwhile for some of the cities. The committee's report to the NFL owners supported expansion and touched on all aspects of the matter from a timetable to stocking new teams to financing. Rozelle said the owners had held considerable discussion following the report but would not indicate whether the issue could be resolved quickly.

Rozelle indicated that the discussion among the owners now centers not so much on whether the NFL should expand as it does on how, when and to where it should expand.

Rozelle admitted that expansion wasn't the only thing the owners discussed in their day-long meeting. "I think," he said smiling, "the World Football League was touched on."

The Commissioner said he did not feel that the development of the rival league had anything to do with NFL expansion. "It's not really relevant to their operation as far as we can see," he said. He did, however, note that seven of the 12 NFL cities already had NFL teams.

Rozelle said he was deeply troubled over the signing of future contracts with the new league by NFL stars such as Larry Csonka, Calvin Hill, Kenny Stabler, and others.

"I think it's very bad for pro football," the commissioner said. "It creates conflicts of interest and divided loyalties. I consider it very, very unhealthy."

Merchants Help DECA Students To National Conference

Murray Area Vocational Education Center

18th at Sycamore

Murray, Ky.

Donna Adams is pictured accepting her First place trophy at the state conference. She will be competing in National Competition for her Studies in Marketing Research Project.

Terie Stephenson accepts the Second place award for the Chapter of the year at the state conference. Vicki Shell, her advisor looks on. They both will be attending the National Conference.

With the help of these merchants the Distributive Education Club of the Murray Vocational School is able to send nine students to the National DECA Conference held in Chicago Ill. on April 26- May 2.

Suzette Hughes accepts her First place award for her manual at the state conference. She will be competing at the national conference for her Area of Distribution Manual.

Ricky Lowe accepts his first place trophy for sales demonstration at the state Conference. He also will be competing at the National Conference.

TIMBER WOLVES

TO GET A NEW HOME

NEW YORK (AP) — The often maligned timber wolf will be reestablished in the Huron Mountain area of northern Michigan if a conservationist project works out.

Experimenters are trapping a pack of five wolves in northern Minnesota, the one area south of the Canadian border with a comparatively healthy wolf population. After getting medical checks, rabies and distemper shots and after being fitted with radio transmitters so that their movements can be followed easily, the wolves will be released.

The project is sponsored by the National Audubon Society, Northern Michigan University and Huron Mountain Wildlife Foundation.

TERMITE-CONTROL Salesmen may be unsavory pests.

Termite swarms are not the only things that emerge with warm days. So do door-to-door salesmen who would like to sell you termite control or protection.

If you feel your house has a termite problem, seek out a professional pest-control firm in your area. Check to make sure it has an established place of business.

Don't hesitate to ask a firm for business references and check them. Reliable firms welcome this approach.

Kelley's Pest Control, 100 South 13th., Street, an old reliable establish firm-locally owned and operated for over 30 years. Members National Pest Control Association, Kentucky Pest Control Association and Murray Chamber of Commerce. Free inspection, call 753-3914 Sam Kelley owner.

NOTICE OF HIGHWAY DESIGN APPROVAL

The Bureau of Highways is planning to proceed with the development of the proposed highway improvements on the Murray-Benton Road (US 641), in Calloway and Marshall Counties, from approximately 1.5 mile South of US 641 KY 464 junction to approximately 0.5 mile South of the South City Limits of Benton, project numbers, SP 18-3-11L and SP 79-153-4L, F193 (17). Since the Federal Highway Administration has approved the Design proposed for this project, the Bureau of Highways will begin work on the next phase of engineering necessary for the development of this project.

Plans for this project as shown on the map accompanying this notice provide for four 12' lanes with 60' median, grade, drain, and high type surface. Access will be partially controlled.

Maps, drawings, displays showing geometric design, Final environmental Impact Statement approved April 1, 1974, and other information concerning the approved design are available for public review at the Bureau of Highways District Office at Reidland.

Pallbearers were Donald Crawford, Glenn Crawford, Ruble Taylor, Leslie Douglas, Otto Chester, and Gene E. Watson. Burial was in the Salem Cemetery.

Mrs. Carter, age 80, died Sunday at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. She was a member of the Salem Baptist Church and the daughter of the late Warren Dixon Warren and Martha Jane Taylor Warren. She is survived by her husband, Ed Carter of Mayfield Route Seven; three sons, James Elmo, Andy Duell, and Clyde Orr Carter; one sister, Mrs. Margie Erwin; one brother, John Warren; eight grandchildren; six great grandchildren.

Alie Guppton Dies At Hospital; Rites To Be On Thursday

Alie Guppton of 508 Pine Street, Murray, died Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. He was 81 years of age.

The deceased was a member of the Seventh and Poplar Church of Christ. Born August 25, 1892, in Graves County he was the son of the late Jim Guppton and Missouri Anderson Guppton.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Lucille Guppton of 508 Pine Street, Murray, to whom he was married on January 3, 1948; one stepson, Ray Elkins of North 18th Street, Murray; several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at two p.m. at the chapel of the Blalock-Coleman Funeral Home with Bro. John Dale officiating. Burial will be in the Murray Memorial Gardens.

Friends may call at the funeral home.

Funeral Thursday For Mrs. Byers

Funeral services for Mrs. Viola Byers of Hardin will be held Thursday at one p.m. at the chapel of the Linn Funeral Home, Benton, with Rev. Eura Mathis officiating.

Interment will be in the Barnett Cemetery in Marshall County. Friends may call at the funeral home.

Mrs. Byers, age 81, died Monday at seven p.m. at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. She was a member of the Maple Springs United Methodist Church.

She is survived by her husband, Frank Byers of Hardin; seven daughters, Mesdames Maydell Lee, Pauline Henderson, Mildred Johnson, Erene Hill, Louise Chess, Ava Lou Nance, and Thelma Thorn; three sons, Willard, Charles, and Lynville Byers; half brother, Harvey Smith; two step brothers, Claude and Joe Smith; forty-seven grandchildren; eighty-two great grandchildren; five great great grandchildren.

Mrs. Jimmerson Dies; Operated Grocery Store

Mrs. Mary Jimmerson, a Puryear, Tenn., grocery operator, died at her home in Puryear on Monday morning. She was 78 years of age.

Funeral services are being held today at two p.m. at the Foundry Hill Latter Day Saints Church with burial to follow in the church cemetery. The McEvoy Funeral Home of Paris, Tenn., is in charge of the arrangements.

Mrs. Jimmerson was the daughter of the late Bud and Annie Bennett Griffin and was born August 24, 1895, in Henry County, Tenn. Her husband, Ernest C., preceded her in death in 1950. She was a member of the Reorganized Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints.

Survivors are two sisters, Mrs. Bobbie Chapman and Mrs. Herman Luken, both of Independence, Mo., and two brothers, Shelton Griffin of California and George Carroll Griffin of Independence, Mo.

Watson; and Beth Wilson, daughter of Mrs. Peggy Wilson.

Mark Blankenship, an alumni member, presided at the impressive ceremony and lighted candles which symbolized the four requirements of scholarships, service, character, and leadership for membership in this society. Alumni members were recognized and they pinned the new members.

Conley . . .

I have enjoyed it and I am satisfied with the job I did," Conley added.

Conley said he will be stationed at Golden Pond, and hopes he can continue living in this area.

His official duties will begin on a fulltime basis at the end of the present school term.

Conley will serve with the TVA as the Recreation Area Supervisor.

The resignation of Conley leaves two vacant spots in the coaching positions at Calloway as assistant coach W.T. Patterson resigned from his duties at the April board meeting.

Patterson will remain at Calloway County as an instructor.

Conley, who is married to the former Libby Woods, has one child, a five-year old daughter, Kela Sharee.

customers increased from 6,886 to 7,214.

—Railroad cars. In 1972 1,122 cars delivered freight into Murray and 2,575 carried freight out. In 1973, 1,235 cars came in and 2,891 went out.

—Propane gas users increase by over 700, from 1215 in 1972 to 1976 in 1973, marking the largest increase in the period.

—Vehicle registrations in Calloway County were up to 21,520 in 1973, more than 1,000 greater than the 19,253 registered in 1972.

—Telephone stations surpassed 14,000 during the year to 14,287. Additional areas in the survey which show a decrease from 1972 to 1973 were:

—Postal receipts, down to $497,362 in 1973 from the record high of $507,978 in 1972.

—Fish and wildlife receipts, which were $71,908.50 in 1972 were down to $68,762.75 in 1973.

—Parking meter revenues in the city were also down, from $19,010.04 in 1972 to $17,304.21 in 1973.

The population of Calloway County for 1974 was listed as 30,957 with over half of that figure, 16,158, residing within the City of Murray.

Elementary and high school enrollment in the city and county totaled 4,755 students with the lion's share of that total, 1,798, enrolled in the Calloway County elementary system. The survey revealed an overall pupil-teacher ratio in the elementary and high schools of 20 to 1.

Total assessed valuation of property in Calloway County was listed as $194,952,754 while the projected individual income for all residents of the county totaled $98,244,000 for 1974.

The income figure was broken down into comparable household averages for the State of Kentucky of $12,461, for Calloway County, $9,567, and for Murray, $10,068. Per capita income for the county was tabulated as $2,797.

Of nine retailing groups that were compared in the barometer, auto dealers received the greater portion of the local purchasing dollar in 1973, a whopping $18,851,000. Food store were not far behind with $15,403,000 in sales.

Next down the list was lumber and hardware stores with sales totaling $6,954,000; gasoline dealers, $5,133,000; furniture stores, $3,944,000; general merchandise dealers, $3,203,000; apparel stores, $2,909,000; eat and drink outlets, $2,812,000; and drug stores, $1,191,000.

Mrs. Helen Hodges will present the life story of Nathan B. Stubblefield at the special reception to be held at the Calloway County Public Library on Thursday, April 25, from two to four p.m. as a part of the observance of Treasure Trails Month for the Kentucky Bicentennial Celebration.

Mrs. Helen Hodges

Calloway County Judge Protem Harold Hurt recently signed a proclamation proclaiming April as Treasure Trails Month as sponsored by the Calloway County Homemakers Clubs. Members of the clubs will have a display of crafts and be hostesses for the reception on Thursday afternoon at the library.

The library will have a display of books on Kentucky and travel through Kentucky. A booklet called "Treasure Trail" has been compiled by the state and area cultural arts chairman which lists all the parks, festivals, fairs, dramas, memorial museums, cemeteries, old buildings, and other areas of interest in the Purchase area.

The Nathan B. Stubblefield opera will be presented at Lovett auditorium, Murray State University, on Friday, April 26, at eight p.m. and on Saturday, April 27, at nine p.m. Tickets are two dollars each.

Brass Choir To Give Concert Here Thursday

The Murray State University Brass Choir presents its fourth concert of the 1973-74 school year Thursday, April 25, at 8:15 p.m. in the Recital Hall Annex.

The concert will feature the Faculty Brass Trio in the Concerto Antiphonale by Vaclav Nelhybel. The trio composed of Robert Scribner, trumpet, Raymond Conklin, trombone, and David Elliott, horn, are members of the MSU Music Faculty.

This piece is cast in the form of a baroque concerto grosso with the trio as the featured group backed by two larger groups in an antiphonal arrangement. The barbaric nature of Nelhybel is superimposed over the baroque format yielding a completely 20th century piece of brass choir music.

Also featured on the program is Music for Brass Instruments by Ingolf Dahl. This is a virtuoso piece for six part brass ensemble. The Symphony from Fairy Queen by Henry Purcell and Sonata Octavi Toni by Giovanni Gabrieli will also be performed.

The major work for the full Brass Choir is the Symphony by Gunther Schuller. This piece written in 1950 is a tour de force in Brass Choir literature. It is in the standard four movements and the scoring makes fullest possible use of the various instrumental combinations.

The concert will be directed by David G. Elliott and Dr. Carl D. Mowery, Jr. and it is free and open to the public.

Robertson And Carter Schools Plan Programs

The annual Spring Music Programs for the Murray City Elementary Schools will be presented on the following nights:

Robertson Elementary School—Monday, April 29, 7:00 p.m. at the Murray Middle School Auditorium.

Carter Elementary School—Thursday, May 2, 7:00 p.m. at the Murray Middle School.

This year's musical is entitled "Happiness Is," starring Snoopy, Charlie Brown, and the famous "Peanuts Gang."

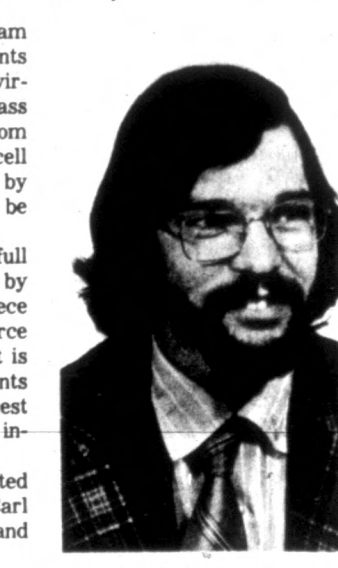

The leading characters for Robertson School will be Mark Austin, Jim Parks, Lisa Russell, Paul Austin, and Mark Hussing.

Carter Elementary students with leading roles are Sharlisa Ford, John Lee, Kathy Roberts, Mark Scroggins, and Brent Clark.

Every child in grades 1-4 will participate in this colorful and exciting musical event, a school spokesman said. There will be a small admission charge, with proceeds going toward the purchase of school equipment.

HONORED AT MSU—Cindy Steele Herndon, a senior with an area in business education, was recognized during the Honor's Day Program at Murray State University on April 21, for being selected to Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities and as the recipient of the National Business Education Association Award. She is the daughter of John C. Steele of Route 8, Murray.

HONORED AT MSU—Jerry D. Ferguson, a senior radio-television major at Murray State University, was the recipient of the Murray State University Broadcaster Scholarship Award and as a member of Alpha Chi honorary scholastic society during the Honor's Day Program on April 21. Ferguson is from Murray and is the son of Henry A. Ferguson of Murray Route 5.

assistant and good friend. Her pride in her work and her eagerness to please has continued to keep her work at the highest standard, and it improves as each year passes. She has not yet reached her highest attainment. I am fortunate to have this type of person as my secretary."

Buford Hurt has held the position of state manager of the Woodmen of the World Life Insurance Society since 1948. He received his Bachelor's degree from Murray State University and Master's from the University of Kentucky. Hurt taught school in Calloway and other counties in West Kentucky before joining W.O.W.

He is an active supporter of community projects, a member of the Murray Rotary Club, and was chosen in 1961 as the "Man of the Year" by the Murray Chamber of Commerce, the fourth person to receive the award.

Hurt was an original member of the Murray-Calloway County Airport Board, serving several years as chairman. He was also an original member of the Murray Municipal Housing Commission and continues to serve in that capacity.

Hurt is married to the former Stella Ray, and has two sons, Harold, a local attorney and Richard, a resident physician at the Mayo Clinic. He is also an active member of the First United Methodist Church.

"Jesus '74", a TV special presented by the Maranatha Christian Centers of Murray and Paducah will be aired on Channel 11, WKMS, on Thursday, April 25, at six p.m.

The Maranatha Center of Murray is located on the corner of 12th and Olive Streets and has been open since late August 1973 to students and all other ages. Many Murray State students and other people have found Christ through the ministry of the center and have been taught and disciplined there throughout the year, a Center spokesman said.

Several MSU students give testimony to the complete change in their lives resulting from total commitment to Jesus Christ in the program to be aired on TV. Bruce Walker, football player, and Linda Mitchell, graduating senior education major, along with Alan Tomlin, former MSU student from Paducah, are among those appearing on the program.

Singing on "Jesus '74" will be the "Praise" musical group from Paducah whose first album is soon to be released. Immediately following the special, the hotline number of the center, 753-6666, will be given for those who wish to make inquiry, a spokesman said.

Analyst Says Miss Hearst Was Unwilling Participant In Holdup

HILLSBOROUGH, Calif. (AP) — Photographs of Patricia Hearst taken by security cameras during an April 15 bank robbery indicate she was an unwilling participant in the holdup, a photo analyst says.

Peter Davies of New York City said in a letter to the Hearst family that one picture indicates the gun Miss Hearst held was strapped under her coat to her right hand. The letter was released Tuesday.

Davies said Miss Hearst appears to have been "very much an unwilling participant" and may have been strapped to the gun to prevent her from discarding it "in a surrender or die situation."

Miss Hearst's father, newspaper executive Randolph A. Hearst, said the analysis "reinforces some of the things I thought. I am sure she's either being coerced — brainwashed — or being forced, but I don't know which it is, and I'm sure he (Davies) doesn't either."

Charles W. Bates, FBI agent in charge of the case, said only, "Photos are subject to various interpretations."

Davies is author of a book called "The Truth About Kent State." In the book he analyzed photos of National Guardsmen firing on a crowd of campus demonstrators in the 1970 incident in which four students died.

There has been speculation whether Miss Hearst, 20, was a willing accomplice in the $10,692 holdup in which four alleged members of the Symbionese Liberation Army are named in warrants.

Tappan Shareholders Elect New Directors

Shareholders of The Tappan Company, a diversified manufacturer of appliances, cabinetry and air conditioning equipment, based in Mansfield, Ohio, met at the Company's Annual Meeting, held at the Company's Home Center located in Mansfield.

Shareholders elected three Directors: T. B. Clark, President, Appliance Group, and Vice President of the Company; Niles H. Hammink, President and Chief Executive Officer, Scott & Fetzer Co., a diversified manufacturing company, Cleveland, Ohio; and J. H. Tappan, Partner, Pillans, Ream, Tappan, Wood, Roberts & Vollmer, Attorneys-at-Law, Mobile, Alabama, to a three year term, ending in 1977.

Shareholders were given a review of operations for 1973, and a review of the Company's first quarter 1974 operations.

At an Organization Meeting following the Shareholders' Meeting, Directors re-elected the present slate of officers.

The directors also declared the Company's 153rd consecutive quarterly dividend. The dividend of 10 cents per Common Share, is payable June 14, 1974, to shareholders of record May 31, 1974.

WEAVING, SPINNING, WHITTLING, and caning will highlight the Rivers Workshop, Crafts and Culture, to be held April 26-28 at Land Between the Lakes. The weekend is sponsored by TVA, the University of Tennessee at Martin and the Rivers Society. The Stubblefield Family in the "Stubblefield Story"—Pictured are Nathan B. Stubblefield, his wife, and children, as they posed in 1902, after the radio inventor and his son, Bernard, had returned from their demonstration trip to Washington, D.C., Philadelphia, and New York.

Bernard is pictured hat in hand, at the extremum left. He was 14 or 15 years of age at the time the photograph was made.

The home pictured above in the background was the center of operations for Stubblefield and his invention. It was probably the first "broadcasting station" in the world. It was located about 100 feet west of the Stubblefield monument erected on the front campus March 28, 1930.

The reader will note that the members of the Stubblefield family are well dressed and are in no sense "backwoods hillbillies" as some writers are prone to declare. In front are pictured the various pieces of equipment—receivers, transmitters, batteries, coils and motors—that comprised the first radio, or "wireless telephone" as it was known then.

"The Stubblefield Story" will be presented Friday and Saturday, April 26 and 27 at Lovett Auditorium at MSU. Advance tickets are on sale at the Bank of Murray, Peoples Bank and in the office of MSU Dean of the Fine Arts Department, Joe Prince, on the campus.

Jackson Blames Government For Oil Profits

By JOSH FITZHUGH
AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The oil companies report: Exxon, net income after taxes of $705 million in the first three months this year. Texaco, profits of $589.4 million. Occidental, income for the first quarter up 817 per cent over the same period last year.

Speaking of the substantial increases in profits being announced by the oil companies, Sen. Henry M. Jackson says they show "the bankruptcy of the government's energy policy."

The Washington Democrat, chairman of the Senate Interior Committee, said higher oil profits and prices "make the working man and the people who employ him the orphans of neglectful — even reckless — government actions."

Jackson made the comments in Washington on Tuesday after four more oil companies released first-quarter 1974 earnings reports which showed sharp increases over the January-February-March 1973 period.

Exxon, the nation's number one oil company in terms of sales, said its profits of $705 million for the three months ended March 31 were up 39 per cent over 1973 period. But Exxon said its earnings were down 10.4 per cent from the fourth quarter of 1973.

Texaco, which squeaked by Mobil last year to become the country's second biggest oil firm, said its first-quarter profits of $589.4 million represent a 123 per cent increase from the $534 million disclosed for the same period in 1973.

Occidental Petroleum Corp., the 11th largest, reported first-quarter 1974 profits of $67.7 million, up 817 per cent over profits of $8.28 million during the first quarter of last year.

Occidental said gross revenues for the period jumped from $681.4 million in 1973 to more than $1.3 billion this year. Earnings per common share increased from six cents to $1.14.

And Skelly Oil Co. of Tulsa, Okla., said its first-quarter 1974 profits were $19.7 million, up 97 per cent from 1973 on a 40 per cent jump in gross revenues to $214.4 million. Skelly's first quarter earnings per share jumped from 84 cents to $1.66. Profits or earnings are corporate net income after taxes.

The announcements Tuesday by Exxon, Texaco, Occidental and Skelly follow reports earlier in the week by Gulf Oil and Standard Oil of Indiana listing first-quarter earnings more than 75 per cent above year-ago levels.

The strong earnings have caused the oil companies to repeat the announced purpose to which they will be put. Officials for both Texaco and Exxon said the profits would go mostly into capital development and exploration for new energy supplies.

At a New York press conference, the newly named head of the Federal Energy Office, John C. Sawhill, said his agency would analyze oil company profits "to see if price increases have led to increased investment, especially in drilling and development rather than in marketing."

Economists Hoping For Rise In Housing Activity This Year

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — Many economists are hoping for an increase in housing activity to help boost the economy out of the hole into which it tripped during the past year.

Unpredictable at the moment, however, is whether housing will be able to provide that push. The uncertainty of it all has many an economist in a quandary. Housing, it seems, hasn't made up its mind.

After plunging from an annual rate of nearly 2.5 million housing starts early in 1973 to fewer than 1.5 million this January, activity resumed in February. In that month the start rate rose to 1.8 million units.

Came March, however, and activity dropped again to the January level. That was bad news. However, housing permits, an indicator of future activity, rose, and that was good news.

To the rescue of forecasters who find the erratic activity too much to tolerate comes Saul Klamman, housing authority and vice president and chief economist of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks. Said he:

"My hunch is that the coming housing upturn will proceed at a relatively slow pace. My fear is that even a sluggish recovery may be prematurely aborted." The long-awaited housing upturn, he said, "may prove disappointing."

In an address here, Klamman cited some of the most compelling factors underlying his relatively bearish view:

1. The large backlog of unsold new units. Buyer resistance in private housing markets was mounting last year, he said, at the very time many new homes were coming on the market.

"As a result, unsold inventory mounted and by early 1974 was equal to one year's sales, substantially above a year earlier."

2. Mounting land costs and housing prices. Some potential buyers, he said, may have been discouraged by the rapid acceleration in costs. "They have second thoughts when they see their favorite $30,000 house sporting a new $50,000 price tag."

3. Nagging energy uncertainties. "Uncertainties about where and whether to build or buy have not disappeared," said Klamman. Neither buyers nor builders have forgotten the trauma of the energy shortage.

4. General consumer malaise. Caution, concern, confusion and constraint tend to dampen prospective housing buoyancy, he said. "A four Cs frame of mind is not conducive to long-term housing commitments." He added, however, that "A reduced willingness to purchase will be offset in part by an increased willingness to rent. In the climate postulated here, building for rental markets is likely to be stimulated more than for sales markets."

Until recent weeks the brightening aspect of the housing market seemed to be the renewed availability of mortgage credit, probably at declining rates. "This hope is now being shattered," he said.

Public Outcry Demonstrates Doubts On Business Ethics

By JOHN CUNIFF
AP Business Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The outcry against those big oil company profits illustrates the public doubts about the established ethics and goals of business and the slow, frustrating search for something new.

Isn't it the goal of business to make money? Every last nickel it can earn within the law? Until the game rules are changed it can be argued that to do so is the responsibility of corporate officers to shareholders.

But off and on for the past few decades the country has showed little faith in that philosophy. During the past weekend Commerce Secretary Frederick Dent said:

"If everyone rushes to grab every fast nickel, the inflation fires will be ignited anew and there will be a certain and volatile reaction from Congress and the people."

Dent was referring to the removal of Phase 4 price restraints April 30, but neither he nor anyone else has declared what should be the new criterion of corporate performance. If not profits, what?

One of the problems, it seems, is bigness itself. Another is shortages.

Bigness has long been feared in the United States because of the dangers of monopoly. But it is possible for small companies to compete internationally with the European and Japanese giants? Unlikely.

Is it fair for a company to profit from shortages? The old supply-demand law is that prices rise when demand exceeds supply. But can it apply in an age of pervasive and critical shortages?

A curious, shortage-related problem involves the dichotomy of thought that must be assumed by some corporate officers, such as in oil companies and utilities, in telling customers not to buy their product.

If it isn't the duty of a company to sell as much as it can and make as much profit as it can, then what is its duty? The need for an answer is pressing; forthcoming, it would relieve much confusion.

Various businessmen, government officials, academicians and others have probed this endlessly deep question, but a consensus hasn't yet been developed. What agreement there is appears to be this:

A corporation's duty is to make money for stockholders and workers but only if in the process it can also be a good corporate citizen.

The requirement isn't that it merely operate within the law, in regard to ecology and fair wages and working conditions, but that it promote the good of the community in ways that aren't immediately remunerative.

That is, the structure of the corporation can be called upon for more than profits and wages; it can also improve health, solve urban problems, provide education, offer retirement security.

Philosophers To Meet Next Week at Transylvania U.

By MARIA BRADEN
Associated Press Writer
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A group of philosophers will gather at Transylvania University here next week to exchange ideas on the structure of western society and to anticipate on the future.

The four-day meeting — billed by the university as "an intellectual happening" — will bring together 10 scholars to discuss the issue culture vs. counterculture.

The program's coordinator, Dr. Benjamin F. Lewis, said in a recent interview that few people understand the word "counterculture" and tend to associate it with a threat to the established society.

Most people in the western world "believe that our culture has achieved the highest mode of life ever expressed and it is firmly believed that any suggestion to the contrary has to be the product of some alien and evil force—even if it is based on the bible and carries with it profoundly human sympathies," Lewis said.

"Counterculture is not a group of maladjusted kids trying to overthrow the establishment — it is a serious effort to evaluate the present cultural conditions...and at the same time find some new system of ideas and values that will once again inspire and motivate people into the building stage of culture," he said.

Chairman of Transylvania's Department of Philosophy and Religion, Lewis conceived of the meeting as a way of helping ing people realize there can be another approach to life, another way of doing things.

He predicted that if we follow the direction that our technological mentality has led us that we may soon reach "the end of the road."

But he believes that if we examine alternatives — such as making technology subservient to human needs and values, by "reordering priorities," we could pave the way for a cultural rebirth.

He criticized the present culture for its emphasis on the superficial, saying society is dominated by "milkers" rather than builders, people who are interested only in getting all they can from the culture without putting anything back into it.

The 20th century has been described as a time of profound crisis, Lewis said with evidence that something is wrong in the fact that young people are no longer inspired by traditional ideas and values.

He said "young people are asking why a life of speed, technology and machines is superior to life led at a slower pace—with emphasis on human relationships." Participants in the conference — which is open to the public without charge — will present papers in their particular field of study. They are all Transylvania graduates who have gone on to careers in philosophy and religion at other institutions.

Among the participants are Dr. Larry McGehee, chancellor of the University of Tennessee at Martin; Dr. Robert Wilson, Yale Divinity School, and Dr. Malcolm L. Warford, St. Louis University Divinity School.

The opening address will be given at 8 p.m. Sunday by Dr. Clark M. Williamson, Christian Theological Seminary.

Refugee population declined in 1973

There are, at last estimate, 15 million to 16 million refugees and displaced persons in the world, a number which has declined slightly in the last year.

Asia has the largest number with over 10 million, followed by the Middle East, Africa, the Western Hemisphere and Europe, each with less than two million. — CNS

Financial Efforts Of Lobbyists Tie With Controversy

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Louisville law firm of Wyatt, Grafton & Sloss apparently was the largest single spender among registered lobbyists in the 1974 legislative session.

The company represented 10 banks throughout the state and it listed $14,951 as the total spent during the 60-day session on their behalf.

The deadline for filing such statements with the attorney general's office was Monday, 30 days after the close of the session.

An aide in the office had no tally of those who did not report by late in the day, saying additional statements were being brought in by the hour.

A check of the reports showed financial efforts seemed often to go along with controversial legislation.

For example, Tom Duncan, president of the Kentucky Coal Association at Lexington, reported spending $9,224. The KCA vigorously opposed several strip mining control bills.

James Hunt of Coal Operators & Associates, Pikeville, reported a total of $8,625, and Cloyd McDowell of the Harlan County Coal Operators Assn. said he spent $3,030.

Since the statements do not require details of legislation promoted or opposed, there is no definite way to pin down a lobbyist's pet bills.

The so-called usury bill which took the interest ceiling off home loans over $15,000 apparently would directly benefit the Mortgage Bankers Association of Louisville, which spent $5,265, according to George Dudley, the lobbyist who also is treasurer of the state Democratic party.

The Kentucky Savings and Loan League of Louisville spent $4,013. Bank Management Associates of Lexington spent $4,372. The Home Association of Louisville also reported $4,013.

The successful no-fault automobile insurance measure may have prompted extra financial efforts by both sides.

The American Insurance Association reported spending $5,248, the Kentucky Association of Trial Attorneys $4,953 and the Independent Insurance Agents of America $4,844.

However, Eric Tachau, a Louisville insurance man and one of the prominent no-fault backers, reported no expenses. He had registered as a lobbyist in the final hours of the session.

The unsuccessful effort for a collective bargaining law cost Public Employees United for Legislative Action about $4,500, according to lobbyist John Frith Stewart of Louisville, who listed detailed expenditures for a variety of things, but did not come up with an exact total.

The Kentucky Oil & Gas Association, presumably deeply committed to passage of the heavily modified exploration bill spent $5,971, according to lobbyist Albert Barber of Owensboro.

The Save Our Community Schools group from the Louisville area, trying to block court-ordered busing for racial balance, reported little spent.

Rita Rountree, one of the lobbyists, had no expenses listed. Mrs. Joyce Spond, another lobbyist and leader of the organization, reported $86 spent.

One difficulty in comparing expenditures was the lack of standardization under the salary category. Some lobbyists listed nothing, declaring they were on the regular company payroll, while others nonetheless itemized salaries.

Many lobbyists listed amounts spent under "miscellaneous" without elaboration. Others broke it down into "entertainment" and other classes.

Two candidly listed some $400 spent for "beverages."

VA Head To Resign Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Donald E. Johnson, sharply criticized on both sides of Capitol Hill and by several veterans organizations, plans to resign as head of the Veterans Administration.

But administration sources reject suggestions that he is being fired as administrator of the sprawling agency that provides benefits for 29 million veterans.

One well-placed source said Johnson had planned for more than a year to return to private life when his term expires June 23.

Johnson announced his resignation plans on Monday after President Nixon's chief of staff Alexander M. Haig Jr. met with congressional veterans affairs committee leaders and later with Johnson.

Johnson said he had enjoyed his five years "of dedicated service" to the veterans and considered that his administration achieved a great record.

But critics frequently charged his administration was — as one put it — one of "frustrating inefficiency and bureaucratic bungling."

There also have been charges that the VA under Johnson had become a "dumping ground" for former Nixon campaigners.

In March, Nixon ordered Johnson to head a management team to study complaints about paperwork snarls and VA hospital conditions.

A national commander of the American Legion in 1964, the 49-year-old Johnson left a successful farm supply business in Iowa to head the agency.

Speculation about possible successors centered on Fred B. Rhodes, former top aide to Johnson, former Rep. Richard L. Roudsbush of Indiana, who succeeded Rhodes, former Sen. Gordon Allott of Colorado and Rep. Olin E. Teague of Texas, ranking Democrat on the House Veterans Affairs Committee.

There have been rumors that Johnson plans to run for public office in Iowa.

Tussock moth damage spreads

The tussock moth has damaged 1,400 square miles of forest lands — mostly Douglas fir essential to the home-building market — in Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Montana.

The outbreak, which had defoliated and killed trees on 200,000 acres when EPA refused to approve DDT early last year, now has spread to more than 800,000 acres.

Pi Sigma Alpha Chapter To Be Installed, MSU

A Murray State University chapter of Pi Sigma Alpha national honorary political science society will be installed at a 7 p.m. banquet and ceremony at the Holiday Inn here Wednesday, April 24.

Dr. Constantine W. Curris, university president and a member of Pi Sigma Alpha, will be the banquet speaker and will serve as the installing officer for the Zeta Phi chapter and its 27 charter members.

Dr. Farouk Umar, chairman of the political science department at Murray State, said an effort has been underway for the past two years to have a chapter of the society installed on the campus.

"Naturally we are proud that it has come to fruition because it reflects a recognition of the strengths on the department of political science—its curriculum, its faculty and the outstanding students enrolled in the program," he added.

Chapter advisers will be rotated among professors in the political science department from year to year, Umar said.

Dr. Joe Rose, associate professor, will serve in that capacity during the first year.

The stated purpose of Pi Sigma Alpha is to foster interchange of ideas and information regarding political science through sponsorship of speakers, forums, conferences and similar means.

To be eligible students must be juniors, seniors or graduate students who have completed 10 or more hours in political science with an academic standing of at least 3.00 on a possible 4.00.

Petition Halts Hearing On Movie

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — A petition was filed Monday asking for removal of the X-rated film "Deep Throat" case from circuit court to U.S. District Court—and halted a scheduled hearing for an injunction against its showing.

Attorney Joseph S. Freeland, representing the theater company showing the film at the 4th Street Cinema here, the Western Corp. of Nashville, Tenn., told the circuit court he had filed the petition for removal 15 minutes before the hearing was scheduled.

Circuit Court Judge J. Brandon Price agreed with Freeland that further action on the injunction be barred "until or unless" the case is remanded to the state court.

In other court action involving the film, U.S. Judge Charles M. Allen declined Monday to issue an order restraining the showing of "Deep Throat" at the Ohio Theater in Louisville.

He said his reasons for not halting the showing were largely jurisdictional, and noted that "Deep Throat" already had been found obscene by a federal jury in Covington. He gave attorneys additional time to file briefs on the jurisdictional question.

Graham Completes Management Course

Jerry D. Graham, parts manager at the Parker Ford Inc., in Murray, has recently completed a Parts Management course conducted by Ford's Atlanta Marketing Institute.

The course is one of a number offered by Ford Marketing Institutes to benefit Ford and Lincoln-Mercury customers by emphasizing after-purchase service and customer relations, according to Lester C. Brock, director of Ford's Atlanta Institute.

Subjects range from management and merchandising courses for dealers and their department managers to selling courses for salesmen. In addition, there are courses for selected Ford Motor Company personnel. Courses are developed from methods used by successful dealerships. Full-time, professional instructors conduct the classes.

The institutes employ the latest personnel development techniques and equipment, and stress group participation in simulated selling or management situations.

Ford Marketing Institutes are located in Atlanta, Dallas, New York, Chicago, San Francisco and Detroit. The first institute was opened in 1959.

Juror Bawls Out Judge Over Treatment Of Jury

DETROIT (AP) — Helen Mueller is a shy, 102-pound housewife who said she "really felt sort of proud" when she was called for federal jury duty.

But that was before she found out what jury duty was like.

After 20 days' service over three months, she stomped into U.S. District Court here to give Judge Fred W. Kaess a good bawling out.

"If I ever get in trouble, I'll never ask for a jury trial," she told the startled judge. "I don't want to be judged by a group of angry, frustrated people."

"We were herded around like animals, from one pen to another. Nobody says welcome, or tells you what the rules are, or what your rights are or what's going on around you. Most of the time you just sit, not knowing what it is you're waiting for. "People become very resentful," Mrs. Mueller told the judge last week. "You'd be surprised how many jurors say they'll never vote again, because jurors names are drawn from the registered voters. I think that's terrible!"

Judge Kaess agreed and said a judicial committee was working on jury system reform.

The Drayton Plains woman said that the required 20 days of jury duty can stretch into six months if a juror is never chosen for a trial. So jurors stretch the truth a little during their examination just to get on a case and get the whole thing over with, she said.

"I don't mean the jurors lie," she said. "But for example, I've learned not to say 'what my husband's profession is. If I say he's a social worker, I'm excused right away. I learned very quickly to say he is a director for a family service agency. That's OK."

For another, the jurors aren't notified when a case is dismissed or settled out of court. "You might have to come in and sit all day only to be told to go home. And you never knew why," she said.

But Mrs. Mueller said the capper was the day she telephoned the emergency number to tell the court she couldn't show up because of a medical problem. She said she got a recorded message that told her what time to be on duty.

Magnets In Stomachs May Save Cattle

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky cattle may have magnets shoved down their throats before grazing this summer in fields littered with shattered lumber, nails, metal roofing and other debris scattered by the April 3 tornadoes.

A University of Kentucky dairy specialist, John Nicolai, predicts a high incidence of "hardware disease" — ingestion of metal debris — among cattle in the state for the next six months to two years.

Nicolai recommends that farmers who must graze cattle in debris littered fields implant magnets in the animals' stomachs.

A small magnet designed for the purpose can be shot down an animal's throat with a balling gun normally used to get pills into cattle, Nicolai explains.

The magnet lodges in the second compartment of a cow's stomach where it collects and immobilizes metal debris, preventing it from moving around and injuring or killing the animal.

Nicolai says stomach acid will eat away and dissolve the metal debris and the magnet itself in 1 to 1½ years.

While giving advice to help the living cattle, the university has also been counting animals killed and surveying damage in 32 Kentucky counties hit by the tornadoes.

The UK survey indicates the storms destroyed 1,042 rural homes and damaged 1,812, demolished 554 mobile homes and damaged 551, leveled 1,797 barns and damaged 1,317, ruined 75 silos and damaged 55, and destroyed an estimated 800 miles of farm fences.

About 2,130 head of livestock were killed and 1,996 injured, UK farm experts say.

John Burris, head of Kentucky's Farmers Home Administration (FHA) said low interest loans will be available to farmers with no check for credit.

Five per cent loans will apply to farm houses, buildings, fences, livestock and machinery, Burris said, with loans on farm homes repayable in 33 years, loans on farm buildings and fences repayable in 20 years, and loans for production items such as livestock and machinery repayable in 7 years.

Economy On Decline

NEW YORK (AP) — The poorly plotted play now being enacted on the economic stage could hardly be more diabolical, short of a depression.

Few economists predict that ultimate blow, but in the year's first quarter the economy took its biggest decline in 16 years and still may not be on the road to recovery.

The ingredients of the real-life economic drama are similar to those in the make-believe world of theater: pathos, tragedy, despair, irony, crisis, desire and a good measure of cynical humor.

Prices are rising and restraints on prices are coming off at the end of the month. The stock market is almost lifeless. Mutual funds continue to be cashed in. The savings rate is well below the 7.3 per cent for 1973's final months.

Widespread shortages are reported, adding to price pressures and lessening the buying power of the paycheck. And the job market, although strong in the latest reports, is threatened with weakness.

The housing market has dipped after showing signs of strength early in the year. And now, with interest rates so high, money reportedly is abandoning the relatively low yields of savings and loan accounts for bigger things elsewhere. That lessens the ability of the S&Ls to grant mortgages.

This is bad enough, but many of the scenes are being played against a backdrop of soaring profits for some companies and desperate fights for life by other businesses.

And while the great American dream of upward mobility continues as a goal, reality intrudes with its somber report that millions of Americans are going nowhere, and haven't for three years or more.

Not everyone is in that predicament, however. Managers of some huge, publicly owned corporations are receiving salaries, fringes and stock options several times the salary of the president of the United States.

The explanations given for such managerial incomes is that today's big companies employ thousands of workers whose pay scales must be graduated to provide incentives to advancement.

At General Motors, there are 811,000 employees below the chairman, R.C. Gerstenberg, and the president, E.N. Cole, which helped push their salaries to $923,000 and $833,000 respectively.

GM had a good year, with net income up more than $235 million to $2.4 billion, but the percent of each sales dollar that turned up as profit dropped to 6.7 per cent from 7.1 per cent in 1972.

Such pay scales may or may not be justified. Enormous responsibilities accompany the top position at any large corporation. GM and others are large almost beyond comprehension, more powerful than many of the world's nations.

It is the contrast that is bound to upset many Americans — the expanse between their own financial condition and the comfort and ease they feel is possible on the executive's salary.

But many of these same people are forgetting another ingredient of the economic script — their level of expectations. Twenty years ago many would have been satisfied with much less than they now have

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR THURSDAY, APRIL 25, 1974

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES
(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)
Watch your competition carefully. Indications are that some tricky maneuvers may be employed. Alert, however, you can spot them.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 to May 21)
A new contact made now could be diverting as well as thought-provoking. In fact, you should find personal relationships in general highly stimulating.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
Stellar influences now give you a sharp, practical outlook on projects in which you are interested. Take advantage of the situation.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
Don't expect associates to be amenable to the usual approaches now. Certain situations will call for extreme delicacy in handling.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Other people may play an important part in day's activities. Much will depend on your reactions. Don't split hairs in discussions of minor importance.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Curb tendencies toward lethargy. Sidestepping obligations (not normal with you) and trying to bluff your way through could have unfortunate results.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
An excellent period in which to establish the basis for a more settled way of life. Plan all moves wisely and with future security in mind.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
If you expect too much, day may prove disappointing. Keeping your objectives within reasonable bounds, however — and working toward them only — will be your winning ticket.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Opposition to your ideas could cause some indecisiveness but, if you're sure you're on the right track, go ahead as planned.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
Attempts to alleviate an economic situation should be most successful now. The resources of another may even be put at your disposal.

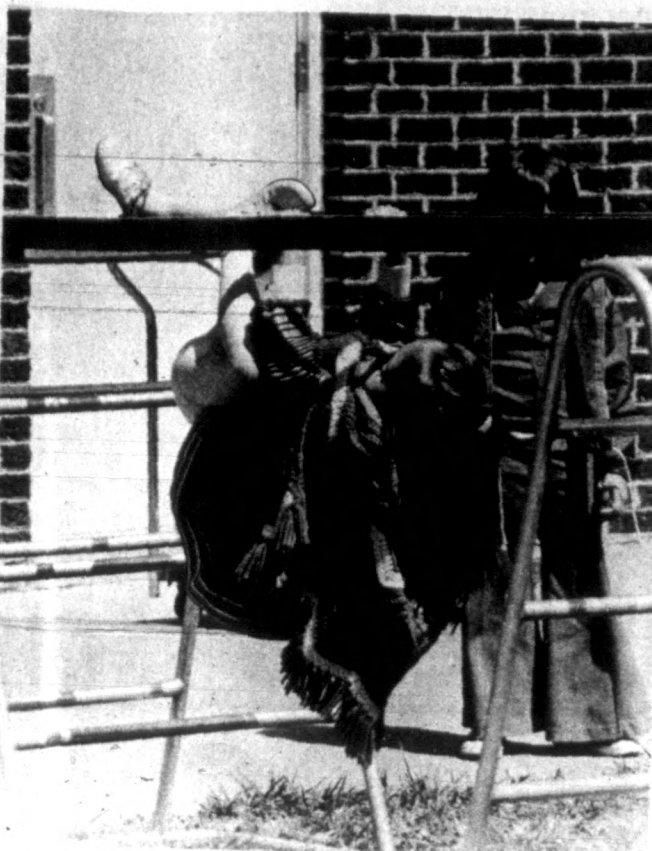

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Confusion could result if you misinterpret instructions, miscalculate in any way. A day for checking ALL situations.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
Financial matters favored — especially in the a.m. On the personal score, however, you may run into a bit of difficulty in a romantic situation.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with a fine intellect, remarkable powers of intuition and outstanding creativity. You are inventive and could go far in technical fields; could also excel at engineering, chemistry or architecture. You have a great love of beauty, are imaginative and idealistic, almost to a fault. An unusual number of Taurus often take up art as an avocation and wind up making it a vocation, though they are quite capable of carrying on two careers simultaneously. Traits to curb: obstinacy and a tendency to be dictatorial. Birthdate of: Edward R. Morrow, news commentator; Ella Fitzgerald, singer; Guglielmo Marconi, inventor of wireless telegraphy.

Oil Price Rise Hurting Struggle For Food In India

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — The rise in world oil prices is undercutting Prime Minister Indira Gandhi's struggle to feed the hungry masses of India.

Fuel and fertilizer shortages blamed on the oil crisis, combined with inadequate winter rains, have raised fears that the 105 million to 108 million tons of food grains predicted for this year's crop will not materialize.

The result could be empty stomachs because precious foreign reserves that could buy food abroad are already flowing out to pay for oil.

Official policy here is that India is self-sufficient in food. But the World Bank predicts that in spite of recent agricultural progress the country will have to continue importing about two million tons of grain a year for the next five years.

The cost of oil and related products also is helping escalate prices of the Indian staples, wheat and rice. This is contributing to growing dissatisfaction among millions of lower and middle class families whose subsistence-level incomes can't keep up.

The widespread sense of insecurity over food played a major role in student-led unrest that toppled the Gujarat State government last month and forced Mrs. Gandhi to send thousands of troops to control rioting mobs in Bihar State last week.

Ironically, the oil price boom has hit Indian agriculture particularly hard because of much-heralded progress in use of fertilizers and artificial irrigation.

The relation is close: fertilizers contain petroleum products; when petroleum costs more and becomes rare on the market, so does fertilizer.

The Indian Minister of State for Petroleum and Chemicals, Shah Nawaz Khan, estimated last week that India will fall about 1.3 million tons short of its 4 million ton fertilizer needs this year. India imported about 112 mil-

NUTRITION A LA CARTE

Scientists are now discovering that poor nutrition in the first three years of life prevents full mental development, and that this can't be entirely corrected. The tragedy of this is apparent in that it's estimated that two-thirds of the world's children—300 million youngsters—are undernourished and have some degree of growth retardation.

Food is the source from which you replace material your body loses. Bone, fat, muscle, organs, blood—all these things need constant replacement in your body. You may be an exact duplicate of what you were a year ago, but you are to a very large extent of new substance. This is why proper eating is so important.

The three methods for cooking vegetables to conserve as much of their nutrients as possible are: Steaming, pressure cooking, or cooking quickly in a covered pan with only enough water to prevent scorching. You'll save vitamin C if you cook vegetables only until they are done — no longer.

As one of the four food groups, dairy foods are important because these foods are your very best source of calcium. You need calcium, even when you're an adult, for upkeep of bone and for proper functioning of nerves and muscles. Milk and its products are important, too, for protein, and the B vitamin riboflavin, as well as other vitamins and minerals.

There are some warnings you should heed about losing weight. Starving yourself is the wrong answer. It can upset your body chemistry including decreasing your muscle more than fat, and if continued too long it may create permanent damage involving vital functions. If you have a serious weight problem, see your doctor.

Here are ways to help your preschool child. Serve small portions of foods, like smaller glasses of milk or juice; also medium temperature foods, rather than too hot or cold. And finger foods are easier for tiny hands to handle, like wedges of egg or tomato, or little cubes of meat or cheese, or carrot sticks.

Fats are a chief source of energy, and some vitamins. But that's not all. Fats make our foods more appetizing. They also delay the time your stomach takes to empty. This makes meals "stick to your ribs" and you don't have to eat again as soon.

Hardin Elem. bldg. transferred to county

By Lowell D. Atchley

By unanimous vote, the Marshall County Board of Education recently proposed to transfer the Hardin Elementary School building to the Marshall County Fiscal Court.

Contacted in his office Thursday, Reed Conder, Marshall County school superintendent said that the school board voiced the desire to have the building used by the public as a municipal-county building.

Conder said the board had proposed that the building be used by Marshall County Senior Citizens, various county agencies, the city of Hardin and various youth groups in the county. Conder explained, "We voted to transfer the building to the fiscal court if they would take it, provided the building is used by the public."

city of Hardin.

White said, "We plan to use the building as a south satellite center. Senior citizens will use a portion of the building for recreation, crafts and various meetings." The Senior Citizens Executive Director also noted the building could be used as a meeting place for certain service organizations operating in the county. "Services like social security, mental health or HEW could be made readily available, especially to those with limited means of transportation," said White.

Originally a high school built and operated by the city of Hardin, Hardin Elementary became a part of the Marshall County school system in the mid-1950's.

Survey notes small cars are in favor

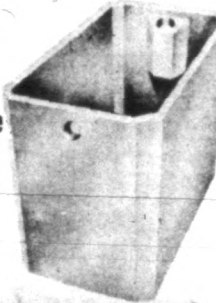

If gas rationing were instituted, as few as 20 per cent of present big car owners would buy another standard size automobile, according to a survey commissioned by Automotive Age-Kelley Blue Book Reporter.

Pinto, Vega, Mustang II and Dodge Dart were the most popular domestic small cars mentioned as replacements.

King Charles I, barely over five feet tall, was the shortest English monarch.
