Carneal And Paxton Named To MSU Board

J. W. (Bill) Carneal of Owensboro and Frank Paxton of Paducah were named Wednesday to four-year terms on the Murray State University board of regents by Gov. Wendell H. Ford.

They replace H. Glenn Doran of Murray, chairman, and Harry Lee Waterfield of Frankfort, whose terms have expired. Carneal and Paxton will be administered the oath of office at their first meeting with the board.

Carneal, a 1940 graduate of Murray State with majors in agriculture and physical education, is the vice-president for public affairs with Texas Gas Transmission Corporation of Owensboro.

Paxton is the president of the Paducah Bank and Trust Company, a position he has held since July, 1972. He is a 1948 graduate of the University of Notre Dame.

Carneal, 55, has held a variety of positions with Texas Gas since he joined the firm in 1949. He became a vice-president in 1963.

A native of McCracken County and a graduate of Barlow High School in Ballard County, he was an outstanding basketball player at Murray State. He served as captain and led the team in scoring his senior year.

Carneal has remained active in alumni affairs at Murray State down through the years, serving as president of the Alumni Association in 1967-68. He was also instrumental in founding the Century Club, an organization which supports a scholarship fund for deserving students.

A former member of the city commission and major pro tempore in Owensboro, Carneal has also been active in many other areas of public, civic, business, and church affairs. He served as a Navy officer in the South Pacific during World War II.

Paxton, 47, has held key positions with Paducah Newspapers, Inc., the corporation which owns the Sun-Democrat and WPSD-TV in Paducah.

Prior to accepting his present position with the bank, he

What Is The Murray Day Care Class?

By Melissa Easley

A four year old hasn't begun to talk in sentences. A five-year-old has cerebral palsy and cannot talk. A six year old could not adjust to first grade. Parents of these children become anxious about their children's future schooling. They are referred by a physician or an agency to the Murray Comprehensive Care Center. The child undergoes testing and is diagnosed as having a "developmental disability." What does this mean?

It means that he is eligible for a special class which attempts to meet the needs of pre-school handicapped children and those children who have physical or developmental problems so severe they cannot attend public school.

The goal of the class is to prepare each child for entry into public school either in a regular class or a special education class. Last year five children progressed either to Headstart, Kindergarten, first grade, or other special education classes.

There are presently 11 children, ages 3-9 yrs., attending the class from 8:30-11:30 a.m. five days a week. They are transported to school by a mini-bus which was purchased by the 1972 Charity Ball proceeds.

Mrs. Bill Holt teacher, Mrs. Pat Fleener children's Specialist, Mrs. Frank Kodman, Speech Therapist, and Mrs. Jennie Garret bus driver and aide make up the teaching staff.

There are many enriching experiences for the children, and here are a few.

Margaret Trevathan of the public library is host to the group each week with a planned story hour.

A speech therapist spends one day a week with the children. The garden Dept. of the Murray Woman's Club is organizing a nature study for the students.

Fisher-Price presented each child a toy at Christmas time.

A Parent Awareness Program has been organized this year to involve each parent of the students. The parents are asked to work at the Center two days a month as aides.

Judiciary Committee Says Nixon Failed To Comply With Subpoena

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee has charged President Nixon with failure to comply with its subpoena for Watergate tapes.

The committee's chairman and chief counsel said Nixon's noncompliance could be an impeachable offense.

By a narrow, 20-18 vote that shattered its bipartisan approach to the inquiry, the committee directed Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., to notify Nixon that his delivery of edited transcripts instead of tapes does not meet the committee's request.

"In this country there are no exceptions to the command of law," said John Doar, chief impeachment counsel for the committee, at a rare nighttime meeting that lasted until nearly midnight Wednesday.

The committee declined, however, to recommend that Nixon be cited for contempt of Congress. A motion by Rep. John Conyers Jr., D-Mich., to do so was tabled, 32 to 5.

Although the committee members, all lawyers, agreed that Nixon had failed to meet the terms of the subpoena, the Republicans urged a further attempt at negotiation rather than a blunt declaration of non-compliance.

"In our system of government it was never contemplated that the separate branches should confront each other," said Rep. Edward Hutchinson, R-Mich., the ranking Republican member. "It should be avoided at all costs."

In the end, however, it was a Republican, Rep. William S. Cohen of Maine, who cast the deciding vote which authorized Rodino to send a letter to Nixon citing him for failure to comply.

Two Democrats, Conyers and Rep. Jerome R. Waldie, R-Calif., who favored sterner action, had voted against the motion and it appeared headed for a losing 19-19 tie vote when Cohen, a freshman and one of the last to vote, cast the sole Republican vote for it.

Cohen earlier had tried to get the committee to send a more conciliatory letter that specified the shortcomings in Nixon's response and suggested means for improving it, but this move was defeated, 27-11.

The letter Rodino is sending to Nixon today is short and to the point. It reads:

STEVE COMPTON, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Compton of Murray, was honored recently at the University of Kentucky College of Pharmacy's 15th annual honors banquet. He received the dean's award which provides a replica of a Revolutionary War era mortar and pestle for a fifth year student who demonstrated outstanding performance in pharmaceutical administration. He is a graduate of Murray High School.

CONNIE LORRAINE HANNA, daughter of Mrs. Virginia Hanna of Riviera Courts, Murray, and James Hanna, Dexter, won the annual scholarship award given by the Murray Business and Professional Women's Club. She attended Robinson High School, Robinson, Ill., for three years and is now a senior at Calloway County High School. She has a grade point average of 91.74, and ranks forty-fifth in her class of one hundred eighty-nine. Extra curricular activities of Miss Hanna are Future Homemakers of America, Spanish Club and Pep Club. She plans to use her Murray Business and Professional Women's Club scholarship at Murray State University this fall and major in Home Economics. She has special interests in a career related to textiles and clothing.

Z. Enix Honored As 'Man Of Year'

By DAVID HILL

Murray Ledger & Times Writer

"...I only pray that I will have time left to earn this honor," said the 1973 man of the year.

Z. C. Enix was named as the most honored man of 1973 by the Murray Chamber of Commerce Wednesday at its 48th annual anniversary banquet.

Enix, Democratic party chairman of Calloway County, has operated the Enix Interiors furniture store for the past ten years, and has been active in Chamber of Commerce activities. He began his business career with a small business in Stella.

In introducing Enix, 1972 Man of the Year Joe Dick described him as "truly a self-made man."

The naming of the honoree climaxed the 48th annual affair, held at the Student Union Ballroom at Murray State University. The banquet was dedicated to Max B. Hurt, former president of the chamber, and president of the Murray-Calloway County Industrial Foundation.

Featured speaker at this year's banquet was Charles J. Weinschreider, vice-president in marketing of the Fisher-Price Toy Co., which last year opened a new toy plant north of Murray.

"We keep trying," Weinschreider told the audience. "We have earned the respect of mothers and grandmothers all over the world."

"We are the second largest toy manufacturer in the world," he added. "It is not corporate objective to become the first, but we do care that we remain the best."

"We have very important things planned for 1975," Weinschreider continued, "and Murray, Kentucky will be the center of much of the activity."

Weinschreider prefaced his remarks by saying he would try to make the community more aware of the Fisher-Price organization, and that the local plant is "here to stay, and be a part of the community."

"We make toys durable, safe, and fun," he said. "We make toys you can trust a baby with." The Fisher-Price executive noted that the $5 billion toy industry as a whole sees 100,000 different toys each year, and 5,000 new toys each year. Most of the new toys never make it through the first year, he said. Fisher-Price makes about 100 different toys, mostly for preschoolers.

The invocation at the banquet was given by H. Glenn Doran, chairman of the board of directors at Peoples Bank. Max Hurt was the toastmaster, and 1974 chamber president Grayson McClure welcomed the visitors and guests. Introductions were made by Jim Johnson, executive secretary of the chamber.

WELCOME—1974 Murray Chamber of Commerce president, Grayson McClure delivered the welcoming address at the annual chamber banquet last night.

Total of 859 Students File For Degrees In MSU Commencement

A total of 859 students filed applications for degrees for the 51st annual spring commencement exercises at Murray State University May 3.

Among that number are 687 for bachelor's degrees, 146 for master's, 18 for associate degrees, five for specialist in college teaching, and three for specialist in education.

Charles W. McDowell, a 1962 graduate of Murray State who is now the mayor of Providence and a teacher at Webster County High School, will deliver the commencement address at 10 a.m. in the university fieldhouse.

Both mid-year and spring graduates will participate in the cap and gown ceremony since no formal commencement program is held following the fall semester.

Wilson Gantt, dean of admissions and registrar, said the exact number of graduates will be determined when school officials have completed a check of each candidate's credentials to certify that all graduate requirements have been met.

Candidates for degrees represent 24 states and 10 foreign countries. Among the candidates are these from Calloway County:

Dear Abby

He'd like to exorcise fears of P.E. course

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: You have got to help me before I do something really dumb. I am a 12-year-old boy and this is my first year in junior high and I have to take physical education whether I like it or not and I just hate it. I am no good at sports, and I am scared to death to play football or basketball and even baseball. I've tried and my coordination is lousy.

Is there any way I can get out of taking P.E. I am a good student but I am what people call a "sissy." I have been thinking that maybe if I accidentally cut off my finger or poked a hole in my ear I could get out of taking P.E. [I wear glasses, but that won't get me off.]

Please help me, Abby, but don't use my right name or school. Thank you.

HATES P.E.

DEAR HATES: Honesty is the best policy. Have a frank talk with your favorite teacher or a counselor at school, and come right out with the truth. It's nothing to be ashamed of. But sometimes the easiest way to get around something is to go right through it. So if you have to take P.E., remember, it's no disgrace to fail if you do your best. At least you'll have tried.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think about this new streaking craze?

SAN DIEGO SUE

DEAR SUE: I think it's overboring.

DEAR ABBY: My husband used to refer to me as "the old lady" when speaking to his friends. I disliked that very much and told him so, but it didn't penetrate.

One day one of his friends asked my husband if he wanted to go fishing, and I heard him say: "I'll have to ask the old lady." I said "I don't think your mother would care if you went, darling!"

He hasn't called me "the old lady" since.

OKIE

DEAR OKIE: Maybe his mother wouldn't care to be called "old" either. In my book, a person isn't old until he thinks he is.

DEAR ABBY: This has been on my chest for two years, and now I am going to get it off.

My husband has always liked those great big bath towels so I keep them on hand for him.

Well, my husband had to go back to his hometown for a funeral, so I packed two of his favorite bath towels because I've often heard him say that nothing does the job for him like they do. I suppose I should mention that my husband stayed at his mother's.

When he came home he said: "I have a message for you from my mother. She said to tell you that you had better not send another towel to her house."

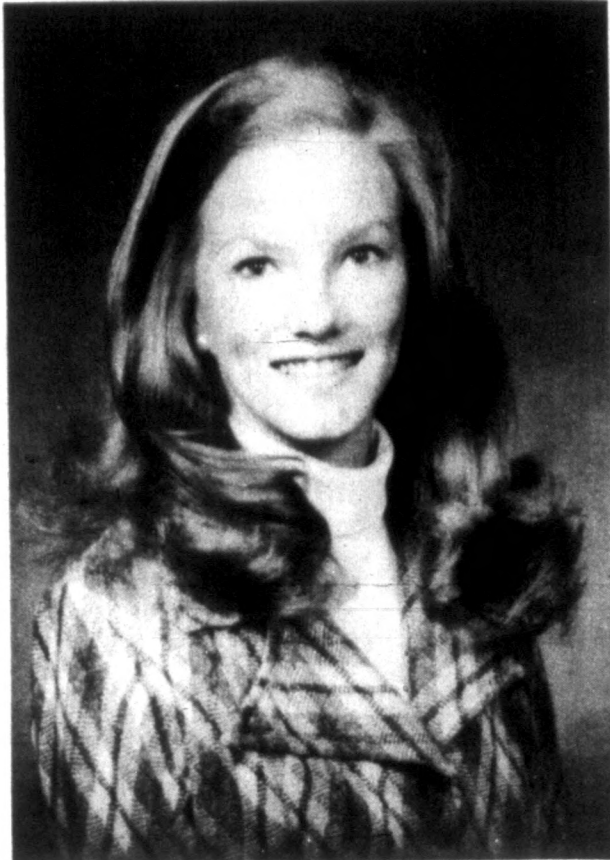

Abby, was I wrong to have packed those towels? I always thought a person could pack anything they wanted as long as it wasn't against the law.

MEANT WELL

DEAR MEANT: Don't let it bother you. The next time your husband goes to visit his mother, let him do his own packing. And if he packs his favorite towels, his mother can blame him—not you.

Mrs. Bryan Tolley Hostess For Arts And Crafts Club

Mrs. Bryan Tolley was hostess for the April meeting of the Arts and Crafts Club held at her home on Main Street.

Lovely refreshments were served to the twelve members present. Mrs. Edna Holland was welcomed as a new member into the club.

Mrs. Carl Harrison, president, presided, and appointed the nominating committee consisting of three members, Mrs. A. M. Thomas, Mrs. Gatlin Clifton, and Mrs. Neva Waters.

The election of the slate of new officers will be held at the May meeting. Further nominations from the floor may also be made.

A period for sharing of their handwork was enjoyed by the members, but much visiting was also done, a member said.

Other members present, not already mentioned, were Mrs. Ed Adams, Mrs. Ronald Churchill, Mrs. Edgar Morris, Mrs. Dewey Ragsdale, Mrs. C. B. Ford, and Mrs. Greene Wilson.

Mrs. A. M. Thomas, 803 Shaw, will be hostess for the May 8th meeting at 2:30 p.m.

Mrs. Charles Roach Honored, Surprise Baby Shower

Mrs. Charles Roach was honored with a surprise baby shower on Friday, April 19, at the home of Mrs. W. A. Erwin.

The honoree was presented a baby decorated corsage. She opened her many lovely gifts from the appointed gift table overlaid with a white cloth and a centerpiece of a large doll with blue and pink streamers.

The guest table was covered in a blue-pink cloth with a centerpiece of small pink carnations, snapdragons, and blue baby's breath. Party cakes, mints, nuts, and pink punch were served.

The hostesses were Mrs. Erwin, Mrs. Kenneth Roach, Mrs. Rob Dick, and Mrs. Glenn Hale. Thirty-five persons were present or sent gifts.

Miss Karen Jo Haley Becomes The Bride Of Ronnie Dale Birdsong

Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Dale Birdsong

The Independence United Methodist Church sanctuary was the setting for the wedding of Miss Karen Jo Haley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rob Haley and granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Haley and Mr. and Mrs. Brooks Dcores, to Ronnie Dale Birdsong, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Birdsong.

Rev. Richard Schorey, minister of the church, read the private double ring ceremony on Friday, April 19, at seven p.m. An ivy covered arch, flanked on either side with pink and white gladioli accented with pink ribbons, decorated the sanctuary.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in her floor length gown of white peau de soie satin with a princess waistline. Chantilly lace covered the bodice and fashioned the bell form sleeves. Her bridal bouquet was a cluster of white and pink daisies accented with pink and white streamers.

Miss Lynnette Burkeen was the maid of honor and wore a floor length pink dress trimmed with white medallion trim.

Serving as best man for Mr. Birdsong was Lowell Davis.

The bride is a senior at Calloway County High School, and the groom is a senior at South Marshall High School and employed at the Ratterree Boat Dock.

Mr. and Mrs. Birdsong are now residing in their mobile home on Almo Route One.

Pre-nuptial events held in honor of the bride included a shower given by Mrs. Polk Tyler, Mrs. Henry Oglesby, Jr., Mrs. Terry Tyler, and Mrs. Donnie Birdsong, and a miscellaneous shower given by Miss Rebecca Burkeen, Miss Barbara Rowland, Miss Melinda Fulkerson, and Mrs. Gary Cunningham.

Mrs. John Belt Elected As President Of Murray State University Women's Society

The Murray State University Women's Society recently held its annual spring luncheon at the Kenlake Hotel.

New officers elected for the 1974-75 school year were unanimously elected by the membership present and are as follows: Mrs. John (Judy) Belt, president; Mrs. Walter (Sophie) Sagera, vice-president; Miss Rebecca Dublin, secretary; Mrs. Eugene (Priscilla) Schanbacher, treasurer.

Mrs. Vernon (Margie) Shown, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. John (Norrine) Winter, entertained the group by singing a lovely medley of songs from the musical, "Oliver."

Presiding over the short business meeting that followed, Mrs. Donald (Bonnie) Jones, retiring president, thanked her officers, committee chairmen, and the membership for their work and support which made the events of the past year so successful. Mrs. Jones was presented with the beautiful dried flower centerpiece arrangement in appreciation for her service and leadership.

Yearly reports were heard from the vice-president, Mrs. Joseph (Janet) Hendon, the secretary, Mrs. Robert (Mary Jo) Johnson, the treasurer, Mrs. J. D. (Inez) Rayburn, and social chairmen, Mrs. Doris Cella and Mrs. Bess Owen.

The devotion was given by Mrs. J. Matt (Clarice) Sparkman.

Four-H Gals Club Has Regular Meet

The Four-H Gals Club held its regular meeting with new members being Margie Underhill, Sue Woods, Tina Todd, Rita Hendricks, Karen Bynum, and Carol Bynum.

Reading the scripture from Mark 16:1-7 was Tina Todd. Plans for rally day were discussed.

Baptist Women Of Kirksey Church Hold Program Meet

The Baptist Women of the Kirksey Church met at the church for the April meeting with the program on the subject, "Mission Minded Portuguese," being directed by Mrs. Phillip Bazzell, program chairman.

Others participating in the program were Mrs. W. A. Erwin, Mrs. Isaiah Treas, Mrs. Orland Tubbs, Miss Fay Boggess, and Mrs. Jack Cain.

The Calendar of Prayer was read by Mrs. Bazzell. As she read the names of missionaries having birthdays, a miniature flag was pinned on the state the missionary represented.

The scripture was from Romans 15:21-29 and prayer was led by Mrs. Jackie Treas.

Mrs. Pete Carlisle, president, presided. Mrs. Jack Cain gave the treasurer's report. Plans were made for the women to furnish lunch for the Baptist Student Union on April 23.

The closing prayer was by Mrs. W. A. Erwin.

BIRTHS

HUGHES BOY
Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Hughes, Jr., of Novi, Mich., announce the birth of a baby boy, Robert Mitchell, weighing seven pounds one ounce, measuring 20½ inches, born on Tuesday, April 23, at nine a.m. at the Providence Hospital, Southfield, Mich.

They have one daughter, Jennifer.
Grandparents are Mrs. Hilton Hughes of Murray and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Godwin of Whitmore Lake, Mich.

Muffin Cup Clean-up

If you grease more muffin cups than you need, fill the empty greased cups half full with water. This prevents the grease from baking on the cups and making them difficult to wash.

To add sauce to chicken, dip pieces of chicken in a barbecue sauce before broiling, then baste often with the barbecue sauce during the broiling.

Certainty Of Punishment Would Be Deterrent

Those who for whatever reason commit violence against their fellow man have been much in the news lately. Kidnappings and holding for ransom have become quite popular. This form of crime was not so attractive when the death sentence was the penalty for kidnapping.

To judge the effect of penalties on crime reduction, consider airplane skyjacking. Between 1968 and 1972 there were 147 attempted skyjackings in the United States and 91 of them were successful.

Then came tougher rules and penalties and skyjacking virtually ended. The last successful skyjacking of a U.S. domestic airliner occurred on November 10, 1973, almost 18 months ago.

This does not mean that no one has tried. During 1973, some 3,500 passengers were prevented from boarding their aircraft at U.S. terminals. Over 3,000 were arrested and, according to U.S. News and World Report, some "60,000 weapons or potential weapons were seized, including 2,162 guns and 23,280 knives."

The lesson to be learned from this seems obvious. If society wants to stop violence-prone people from committing atrocities, law enforcement has to be beefed up, the officials whose duty it is to protect society must be given the necessary means to do their job and most important, the fear of apprehension and punishment has to be felt by the potential perpetrators of a crime.

That is the only thing that will stop them.

AP News Analysis

Nowhere In Transcripts Is The Simple Answer

WASHINGTON (AP) — For all the pages of the White House diaries, all the 33 hours of Watergate conversations they cover, nowhere is there a simple answer to the central question of President Nixon's knowledge and motives when the scandal burst.

The edited transcripts are, instead, like evidence in a trial, raw material to be weighed in seeking a verdict. In yielding them, Nixon made public evidence sure to be used by his accusers as well as his defenders.

Through the 1,308 pages recounting their tape-recorded discussions, Nixon and the men who served him thus could become star witnesses for both the prosecution and the defense of the President.

The White House maintains that the transcripts prove Nixon is innocent, that he knew nothing of the Watergate burglary engineered by men who worked in his 1972 campaign organization, and that he learned of the cover-up only on March 21, 1973.

They reflect Nixon's apparent surprise at disclosures about the burglary and high-level involvement, information that came from John W. Dean III, his former counsel now turned accuser, at that March 21 meeting.

They also record Dean's statement that he had worked on "a theory of containment" to keep the Watergate stain from spreading during the 1972 campaign.

"Sure," said Nixon. "To try to hold it right where it was," Dean added.

"Right," the President said. In those transcripts, the President at some points talked of complete disclosure; at others about keeping the cap on the scandal, isolating the presidency from the problem.

The White House said the President at that March 21 session rejected any hush money payments to hide Watergate, but the transcript reflects no flat veto — and shows that he questioned whether Dean had any choice but to make one such payoff.

It recounts also Nixon's lengthy conversation with Dean about how money could be raised in cash, how it can be delivered, the drawbacks and dangers, and whether it would work.

The published transcript is what Nixon long ago said it would be: inconclusive. In refusing to release the tape recordings to the Senate Watergate Committee last July 23, Nixon wrote:

"The fact is that the tapes would not finally settle the central issues before your committee ... as in any verbatim recording of informal conversations, they contain comments that persons with different perspectives and motivations would invariably interpret in different ways."

Now, delivering the transcripts in lieu of tapes demanded by House impeachment investigators, Nixon has said that they do contain evidence to show that he tried to find and do what was right.

"I am confident that for the overwhelming majority of those who are willing to study the evidence ... those who are willing to look at it fully, fairly and objectively, the evidence will be persuasive," he said.

James D. St. Clair, Nixon's lawyer, said the transcripts need to be studied in full. "The danger of this is to pick out a phrase here or a sentence there," he said.

That is a risk for those who would demonstrate Nixon's innocence as well as those who would allege his guilt.

It is a problem illustrated by the White House brief St. Clair drafted using quotations from the transcripts as evidence of his innocence.

The White House brief quotes the President as saying to Dean Sept. 15, 1972, the day the original Watergate defendants were indicted:

"But the way you have handled all this seems to me has been very skillful putting your fingers in the leaks that have sprung here and sprung there."

The document goes on to say that the statement was made not in the context of a Watergate cover-up as Dean later asserted, but about the politics of the situation.

The transcript shows that Nixon's remark continued: "The grand jury is dismissed now?"

And Dean replied: "That is correct. They have completed and they have let them go so there will be no continued investigation prompted by the grand jury's inquiry."

The White House also noted that at the March 21, 1973, meeting, Nixon tentatively decided to have another grand jury investigation of Watergate with his aides to appear and testify. In context, the transcripts show that discussion involves a way to avoid testimony before the Senate committee. Nixon aides eventually testified there anyway.

The White House brief quotes this exchange:

Nixon: "... I think I want another grand jury proceeding and we will have the White House appear before them. Is that right, John?"

Dean: "Uh huh."

At that point the White House quotation ends but the transcript continues.

Nixon: "That is the point, see. Of course. That would make the difference. I want everybody in the White House called. And that gives you a reason not to have to go before the Ervin and Baker committee. It puts it in an executive session, in a sense."

St. Clair said the transcripts will provide grist for arguments for weeks, months and even years. Nixon said his transcripts are all the evidence needed "to get Watergate behind us and get it behind us now."

The juries are out, in Congress with its impeachment inquiry, and in the nation, among the citizens to whom Nixon really addressed his words.

Chips Off The Old Deficit

Mortgaging our tomorrows to get what we need or want today has become an acceptable practice.

Within bounds, borrowing is a sensible way to finance major expenditures.

But government, with its perennial deficits, steps out of bounds when it fritters money away on projects that are non-essential — even frivolous.

Here are a few we could do without:

— $12,600 to investigate the chromosomal makeup of chipmunks.

— $80,000 for a zero-gravity toilet for the space program.

— $230,000 for environmental testing of the zero-gravity toilet.

— $60,000 to study Polish bisexual frogs.

— $59,000 for upkeep of the government's 3-million-pound cache of goose feathers.

— $35,000 for five 5-minute films on recommended procedures for brushing one's teeth.

— $70,000 to study the smell of Australian aborigine sweat.

Compared to a projected federal deficit of $4.7 billion and a national debt of $400 billion, these sums are trifling. But if thousands are so easily wasted, we wonder about some of the millions and billions.

Only Chicken Feed?

Everybody feels sorry for those Mississippi farmers who had to destroy millions of broiler chickens which had been contaminated with a pesticide. Sen. James O. Eastland feels so bad about it that he wants the government to pay them $10 million in cash to cover their losses. After all, he says, it was a government regulation that brought about the "massacre."

The Senate has gone along, but surely the House will keep its head, and reject this proposed raid on the taxpayer's pocketbook. If the government starts to reimburse citizens for all the losses and expenses which they can attribute to compliance with its laws, we might as well unlock the Treasury and invite everyone in with a shovel.

SURVIVAL RATINGS

Aid Keeps Peace Alive

Congressional adrenalin began to flow again recently when U.S. Secretary of State Henry Kissinger said in a letter to Sen. Edward M. Kennedy that the United States has a moral and political commitment to continue assistance to South Vietnam.

The congressional discussion was familiar — a resumption of the dialogue about American obligations in Indochina, a stirring of latent hawks and doves in support of aid to South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos — or against it — and an expression of fears that the United States was becoming more deeply involved militarily in the Asian subcontinent. Just what is the national interest in Indochina and what do we get in return for more than $2 billion in aid to that region, the Asian theater doves are asking. It is a fair question, one that merits deep thought.

Obviously if we give money to the nations of Indochina we will not get an equivalent return in rubber, rice, kapok, tea or shellac. Thus, immediate material returns are not our goal. And the abstractions of a "moral or political" commitment expressed by Mr. Kissinger are far more difficult to understand.

Americans can begin their deliberations, we believe, if Mr. Kissinger's abstraction is held against the historic tapestry of U.S. foreign aid. We did not, for example, expect an immediate return when we inaugurated the post World War II Marshall plan in 1946. Our goal was to benefit from a stable and prosperous order in the world. We have spent nearly $170 billion in aid since then, a bit more than the cost of the Vietnam War, and we have received our money's worth many times over. The Common Market has been a boon to our economic well-being for example, and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization has kept the peace.

More currently, we could not possibly justify the billions in assistance that we are extending to Israel in terms of what we could expect to get back immediately in fruit or minerals. On the other hand, it would be unthinkable for us to toss Israel to the wolves.

The point is that the United States does have moral and political commitments as well as strategic and material ones. Moreover, they are not mutually exclusive but complementary.

Having established the nucleus for peace in South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos we can no more desert those nations to the Communists than we can desert a potentially independent Israel in the Middle East.

If independence from communism is maintained in Asia we also eventually may realize substantial material returns — natural resources — from the region. In the meantime, it is not an abstraction to say that an investment to keep peace alive is still less expensive than the material and emotional costs of the war that such an effort prevents.

Soft Or Hard?

The energy crunch, a housing industry slowdown and a slackened demand for durable goods are collectively blamed by government economists for the nation's worst economic report since 1958, a recession year.

Some hope is offered that the 5.8 per cent first quarter drop in the gross national product — the value of the economy's total output — will be followed by a better showing in the second quarter as the auto industry moves back to virtually full production. Little is heard from Washington, however, about how to get a handle on the second part of the gloomy economic report: living costs soaring at better than a 10 per cent annual rate.

The truth may be that Washington does not have any of the answers to the inflation problem beyond the obvious need for prudent monetary and fiscal policies. There is a need for the American people to become more active in the anti-inflation cause. This means restraint, in the way businessmen price their goods, in the way unions decide on their wage demands, and finally in the way we all spend money. It is time to question whether we need as much as we are inclined to buy.

If each of us eases off gently in his demands on the economy we could indeed see the "soft-landing" of the business slump. If the business slowdown and inflation of the first quarter of 1974 gain momentum, however, we will be heading for a landing that cannot help but be hard.

REPORTS TO THE PEOPLE OF KENTUCKY

RETIREMENT INCOME TAX CREDIT

Many retired state and municipal employees, who do not receive Social Security, are currently discriminated against because Social Security is not subject to taxation while they receive only a tax credit against a portion of their retirement income.

These retired state, municipal and other non-Social Security retirees receive a 15 percent tax credit on the first $1,524 income for single persons and $2,286 for elderly couples. This retirement income tax credit has not been updated since 1962 for single elderly persons and 1964 for aged couples.

I will be supporting legislation which should come before the Senate soon to increase the base amount against which the 15 percent credit is applied to $2,500 for single aged persons and $3,750 for aged couples. Such an increase is essential to provide tax justice to many millions of Americans.

I am hopeful that the Federal government will soon reinstate programs providing assistance for debris clearance and repair of farm fencing destroyed by tornados earlier this month.

On March 12, 1974, the Department of Agriculture issued an administrative order eliminating farm fencing from the national list of materials eligible for cost-sharing assistance and severely restricted debris clearance under the Emergency Conservation Program of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Service.

I have been working with the Senate Agriculture Committee, the Public Works Subcommittee on Disaster Relief, and the Department of Agriculture in an attempt to get that decision changed.

Many Kentuckians have expressed their opposition to year-round Daylight Saving Time (DST). I have opposed it since its enactment in December on the ground that there is no proof that Daylight Saving Time will save energy. Public opinion polls indicate that a growing number of American people share that view.

The Department of Transportation has asked its consumer affairs office to poll the public on the issue. If you would like to voice your opinion to the federal agency handling the matter, write to: U.S. Department of Transportation, Box 1813, Washington, D.C. 20013.

by Carl Riblet Jr.

In recent times, as in earlier times and, it would seem, all the times that have gone before, there is this to say in regards to politicians: when we tally their votes, read their reports to constituents, listen to their speeches, watch them at play and then put it all together, we cannot help but think there can be few, if any, who are honest.

Dock Ellis Literally Mows Down Cincinnati

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Dock Ellis mowed them down Wednesday night—literally. Losing all control, the Pittsburgh Pirate pitcher hit Cincinnati's first three batters and not only caused some discomfort but also tied a major league record.

"I've never seen anyone that wild," said Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson after Ellis' control problems led to a 5-3 victory over the Pirates. "I've never seen anyone hit the first three batters like that."

Pete Rose, Joe Morgan and Dan Driessen were struck in the back by Ellis pitches and that tied a record held by eight others. Emerson Hawley did it twice—with St. Louis in 1874 and with Pittsburgh in 1896. The last pitcher to do it was Raul Sanchez of Cincinnati in 1960.

In the National League's other games, the San Francisco Giants bombed the Philadelphia Phillies 13-8; the San Diego Padres beat the Montreal Expos 5-1; the Atlanta Braves nipped the St. Louis Cardinals 6-5; the Houston Astros tripped the Chicago Cubs 11-7 and;

In the American League, the New York Yankees nudged the Oakland A's 4-3; the California Angels stopped the Boston Red Sox 4-2; the Detroit Tigers turned back the Kansas City Royals 2-1; the Milwaukee Brewers ripped the Texas Rangers 11-3 and the Chicago White Sox blanked the Baltimore Orioles 2-0.

Giants 13, Phillies 8
Doubles by Garry Maddox, Bobby Bonds and Steve Ontiveros sparked a nine-run, fifth-inning rally that powered San Francisco's rout of Philadelphia.

The Giants sent 15 batters to the plate in the fifth, overcoming a 6-3 Philadelphia lead with six hits and six bases on balls.

Padres 5, Expos 1
Rookie Dave Freisleben pitched a four-hitter for his second victory in as many major league starts, leading San Diego over Montreal for its fifth straight victory.

Astros 11, Cubs 7
Houston's Lee May hit a pair of two-run singles, rallying Houston past Chicago.

Pinch-hitter Frank Tepedino broke a tie with a ninth-inning single, triggering Atlanta past St. Louis. Craig Robinson led off the rally with a single and walks to Ralph Garr and Leo Foster eventually loaded the bases for Tepedino, who drilled a base hit to right.

Dodgers 2, Mets 1
Steve Garvey's run-scoring single in the 14th inning off relief pitcher Harry Parker led Los Angeles over New York. Tom Seaver pitched splendidly for the Mets, striking out a major league season high of 16 batters before retiring after 12 innings.

In Milwaukee Sunday, but then dropped a 105-96 overtime decision in the second game Tuesday night. Now the series moves to Boston Garden for games Friday night and Sunday.

"We went to Milwaukee and won one ball game out of two, and came very close to winning the second one," Heinsohn said. "I'm very pleased with our team. We didn't play our best Tuesday and it still took overtime to beat us."

The Celtics, who rely upon the fast break and a hard-nosed defense, are hoping for better shooting than in the second game. They were only 19 for 48 from the floor in the first half and finished 43 for 99 as the Bucks equalled the series 1-1.

Boston captain John Havlicek, a true super star in leading the Celtics into the finals and in the first game against Milwaukee, had a letdown, hitting on just seven of 21 field goal attempts and winding up with just 18 points.

The Celtics figure to give Kareem Abdul-Jabbar his points while trying to stop other Milwaukee shooters. Jabbar has scored 36 points in each of the first two games. However, he got plenty of help from Bob Dandridge in the second game. Dandridge scored 24 points after being handcuffed in the series opener.

"All we have to do is maintain our poise," Boston backcourt specialist Don Chaney said. "We overcame a big deficit in the second game, and then just got beaten. Now it's good to get back home."

TENNIS
HILTON HEAD ISLAND, S.C. — Evonne Goolagong defeated fellow Australian Helen Gourlay 6-7, 7-5, 6-2 in the quarter-finals of a $100,000 women's tennis tournament.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — You take a mild, sunny afternoon, two gallant steamboats bedecked with pennants, a noble, muddy river, a water show, a Marine band and thousands of spectators, and you have the scene Wednesday afternoon as the 11th annual Great Ohio River Steamboat Race got under way here.

The Delta Queen of Cincinnati won the race by nearly a dozen boatlengths, steaming from the Clark Memorial Bridge upriver to Six Mile Island and back again to defeat the Belle of Louisville for the second year in a row.

It would be wrong to say there was gloom aboard the Belle as she dropped farther and farther behind in the race. There was so much joy and merry-making before and during the battle, in fact, that the fierce inter-city rivalry living the contest seemed all but forgotten.

Some 800 passengers on the Belle and 300 aboard the Queen watched a speedboat race, several devil-may-care water acrobats and a kite-skier perform on the river before the big boats swung ponderously into action. With stunning disregard for life and limb, a high diver did an end-over-end into the river from the Clark Memorial Bridge.

Once the race itself began, passengers on both boats crowded the rails to watch the progress of the opposing vessel. Capt. Charles Brasher neatly maneuvered the Belle into a running start while the Queen, with four times the tonnage, was trying to get straightened out from the wharf.

Brasher—who once skipped the Queen before returning to Louisville—held a lead of one or two lengths for the first mile. Then the Queen's powerful engines brought her even with the Belle. Before the second mile was out, the Queen was four lengths ahead.

Going into the midway turn at Six Mile Island Capt. Ernest Wagner brought his Ultimate Weapon into play. Called a bow thruster, the mechanism is a reversible propeller located near the bow which pushes the boat sideways, making turns easier.

It worked with devastating efficiency. By the time the Belle had reached the turning point, Wagner had the Queen under full steam in the direction of the finish line. On the way back Wagner opened an increasingly larger lead, then slowed his engines and maintained about 11 lengths between the two steamers.

After the decisive turn-about, passengers aboard the Belle settled down to more serious matters. A steel drum band that had been rattling out catchy tunes on the vessel all afternoon launched furiously into The Maple Leaf Rag. More bottles came out of brown paper bags, and the snack bar had a rush of business. Women in smart-looking pants suits, and some bare-shouldered in sun dresses and floppy straw hats, chattered in groups and squeezed through crowded companionways. With victory clearly out of reach all tensions relaxed, and the dainty Belle floated home amid the mixed aromas of perfume, cigar smoke, bourbon, hot dogs and river water.

The Queen set her calliope going merrily as she neared the finish line, and the Belle, chugging far behind, boomed a mournful protest on her whistle. The steel drum band struck up a Beatles number and dancers crowded the floor.

Capt. Brasher had complained before the race began that the Belle "had three strikes against her before she even gets started." He was referring to the Delta Queen's bow thruster—new this year—her great speed, and the Belle's heavy load of passengers.

Brasher found support in several notables on board. Mrs. bellie Brown, principal owner of the Kentucky Colonels of the American Basketball Association, said the Belle's passenger haul should be reduced considerably next year. Her husband, former Kentucky Fried Chicken King John Y. Brown, Jr., agreed.

"We had about 800 people on board this time. That's far too many. We've got to cut it down some," he said.

Jefferson County Judge Todd Hollenbach said staunchly that the Belle would win again next year. But some other passengers weren't so sure.

Said one: "The only way we're ever going to win another race is to cheat like hell."

WINNING HIT—The first and only run of the baseball game crossed for Murray High when Gary Dick reached out and smashed the ball for a single to center. Dick drove in Steve Miller with the run. (Staff Photos by Mike Brandon)

Lindy Suiter Fires Gem As Tigers Shutout South

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

The major criticism of baseball has always been the game takes too long to play.

But for those people who were at Holland Stadium Wednesday afternoon, the game passed so quickly that a person could have well missed the only run of the game, if he wasn't watching closely.

An hour after the start of the game, Murray High and South Marshall were locked in a scoreless tie in the sixth inning. Just about 10 minutes later, the game was over and the Tigers were celebrating a 1-0 win.

It could have been one of the quickest and best baseball games played in Murray during the past few years.

Larry McGregor, a junior righthander, started on the mound for South Marshall and went the distance. He didn't walk a batter and his teammates didn't commit any errors behind him.

The other reason the game didn't last long was because of sophomore righthander Lindy Suiter, the starting hurler for the Tigers.

Suiter, who scattered just six hits and walked only one batter, hardly gave the Rebel batters enough time in between pitches to keep their stride.

It was the first game Suiter has started for the Tigers, and it certainly won't be his last.

He consistently hit the corners and kept the ball down low. Suiter, who at one time broke off four consecutive curve balls for called strikes, had a fastball that was moving well as it dipped and tailed like a bird in flight.

Only Gary Mitchell of South Marshall was able to solve Suiter's pitching.

Mitchell, who started on the Rebel basketball team, lashed three hits off Suiter and skied deep to center his last time up.

In the second inning, the Rebels had two men on base but Suiter worked his way out of the jam.

The in the third, South loaded the bases with two out but Tiger third-baseman Terry Melton came up with a fine play on a slow roller and he stepped on third to nail the runner in a photo finish for the third out.

With two men out in the fifth, Mitchell doubled and McGregor followed with a single to put men on the corners. McGregor, hoping to draw a possible wild throw from Tiger catcher Ricky Garland, stole second.

Joe Smith smacked a hard grounder in the hole between first and second but second-baseman Steve Miller was there with his glove down and the inning was over and two runs were saved by a good play.

Murray, who did not have more than one runner on base in the first five innings, finally got the run which won the game in the sixth.

It all started with two men out when Miller beat out an infield hit on a very close call at first.

Garland then smacked a hard single into right and the Tigers had men on at first and second.

Leftfielder Gary Dick, who had singled earlier, reached out and poked the ball into center and Miller came across with the run which broke the string of gooseeggs.

Craig Suiter ended the inning by flying out.

South put a man on with one out in the seventh when Youngblood singled.

But instead of trying to bunt for a sacrifice to play for a tie, the Rebels gambled and swung away.

Mitchell was retired for the first time of the afternoon when he lofted a deep drive into center which Jackson parked under for the second out.

The game ended when McGregor flied deep to Johnny Shelley in right.

Besides Mitchell's three hits and safeties by Youngblood and McGregor, the only other hit was by Chris Coble.

Dick had a pair of hits for Clayton Hargrove's Tigers while Miller, Garland and Melton all hit safely.

Murray High is 4-1 for the season and was scheduled to play at Lone Oak today and at Heath Friday.

The next home game will be next Tuesday when Paducah Tilghman is at Holland Stadium.

Tilghman, who won an earlier game with Murray, 12-2, is the only team to put a blemish on the Tigers' worksheet.

Kelly Not Happy

With OVC Tourney

CLARKSVILLE, Tenn.

(AP)—Austin Peay Basketball Coach Lake Kelly says Ohio Valley Conference coaches do not favor Middle Tennessee State University as the site of the OVC's first post-season tourney next March.

Athletic officials of the conference decided last week to have the tourney at the neutral court Municipal Auditorium in Nashville if it will be available or MTSU. The auditorium is not available March 7-8 so the tourney is slated for MTSU — which is expected to be a strong contender for the OVC title.

"I do not like it at all," Kelly said. "It's ridiculous. We the coaches don't think it should be on anyone's campus — especially a team that figures to be in the playoff."

"We think they (league officials) are defeating the whole purpose of the tournament."

Kelly also said coaches believe all eight OVC teams should be involved in the tournament — not just the top four.

Kelly has guided Austin Peay to two straight OVC titles.

Angels Pleased With Former NL Pitchers

By DAVE O'HARA
AP Sports Writer

Manager Bobby Winkles of the California Angels thinks he has "a pretty darn good ball club," thanks to contributions from the National League.

What do Nolan Ryan, Bill Singer and Bill Stoneman have in common as pitchers? All are former National League standouts now comprising three-quarters of the Angels' starting rotation.

"Hey, that's right," Winkles said with a grin Wednesday after Stoneman earned his first American League victory in California's 4-2 decision over the slumping Boston Red Sox.

"Those three and my 20-year-old kid, rookie Frank Tanana, give us four solid starting pitchers," Winkles said. "There are some nonbelievers around, but we're not a bad ball club. We're in second place and now we're going home thinking big."

Winkles used his three National League castoffs as the Angels snapped a five-game losing streak and swept a three-game series with the Red Sox, who have lost eight of their last nine starts.

Yankees 4, A's 3

Bobby Murcer and Ron Blomberg started the eighth inning with doubles, powering New York over Oakland. Murcer got his first hit of the two-game series, an opposite-field bloop double to left off Jim "Catfish" Hunter and Blomberg, who tied the score with a sixth-inning homer, followed with a double to right. The Yankees battled from behind three times, tying the score 3-3 when Blomberg belted Hunter's first pitch of the sixth inning for his fourth homer this year.

Tigers 2, Royals 1

Lerrin LaGrow's five-hit pitching and Ed Brinkman's two-run single helped Detroit beat Kansas City for the Tigers' fourth straight victory. Al Kaline and Willie Horton started Detroit's game-winning rally in the second inning with singles.

Jerry Moses was walked intentionally, filling the bases. With one out, Brinkman delivered his single that scored Kaline and Horton. The Royals' run was unearned.

Brewers 11, Rangers 3

Dave May slammed a three-run homer and Johnny Briggs and Pedro Garcia added two-run shots, propelling Milwaukee over Texas. Briggs' fourth homer of the baseball season came off loser Steve Hargan in the third inning and put the Brewers on top to stay, 4-3.

White Sox 2, Orioles 0

Jim Kaat and Terry Forster combined on a six-hitter and Bucky Dent and Dick Allen delivered run-scoring singles, carrying Chicago past Baltimore. While Kaat was keeping the Orioles in check, the White Sox chased loser Dave McNally in the fifth inning on consecutive singles by Buddy Bradford, Carlos May and Allen.

Pancho Martin Didn't Want Rube The Great

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
AP Sports Writer

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Trainer Frank "Pancho" Martin, whose Sham finished second to Secretariat last year, will try to win Saturday's 100th Kentucky Derby with Rube The Great, a colt he didn't want.

"We bought Accipiter. We didn't want this horse," said Martin staring at Rube The Great, who has turned out to be a triple stakes winner this year.

"It was a package deal."

In order for Sigmond Sommer, who owned Sham, to buy Accipiter, also scheduled to start in the Derby, from the estate of James Cox Brady, he also had to buy Rube The Great and a filly named Tourniquette.

Rube the Great and Accipiter were entered Wednesday for the 1 1/4-mile Derby at Churchill Downs, as were Judger, Cannonade and Hudson County.

About 18 more three-year-olds were expected to be entered today by the time the entry box closed at 10:30 a.m. EDT. Post time Saturday is 5:30 p.m. EDT, with television coverage by CBS set for 5 p.m.-6 p.m.

No more than 24 can start in the Derby under a rule passed Wednesday by the Kentucky State Racing Commission. This meant the race cannot be split but put Downs officials in the position of telling an owner or owners they cannot start if more than 24 were entered. That situation was not expected to occur.

The early favorite for the race was the Woody Stephens-trained entry of Seth Hancock's Judger, winner of the Florida Derby and Blue Grass, and John M. Olin's Cannonade, winner of the Stepping Stone last Saturday.

Rube The Great, who once was trained by Stephens, won only one of eight starts as a 2-year-old. This year he won two of seven races, including the Santa Catalina, in California. But it was not until he got to New York that he emerged as a serious Derby contender.

The bay son of Bold Lad-Ready Room won a division of the Gotham at Aqueduct and then two weeks later won a division of the 1 1/4-mile Wood Memorial.

"It was a big race, the Wood," said Martin. "He impressed me because at the quarter pole I didn't think he had a chance. He had to make his way home."

Somehow jockey Miguel A. Rivera got Rube The Great through a hole with an eighth of a mile left and he flashed past Friendly Bee in the last 100 yards to win—and Martin had a second straight strong Derby contender.

"Maybe everything will come out different this year," said Martin.

Tiger Golfers Finish Second In Triangular

Murray High's golf team placed second in a triangular match held Wednesday at the Murray Country Club.

Paducah Tilghman took team honors with a 144 while the Tigers were three strokes back and Mayfield was third with 150.

The outcome of the match wasn't decided until the last player for each team was in.

Bobby Cronin of Tilghman and Jones of Mayfield shared medalist honors for the afternoon as both carded one-under par 35's.

Gary Sullivan was the medalist for Murray as he shot a 36 while Lee Stewart, Tim Philpot and David Frank all shot 37's.

Howard Boone had a 39. The Tiger golfers, now 7-2 for the season, play at Caldwell County Friday.

Arnie Tells His Army He Retains His Desire

DALLAS (AP) — Arnold Palmer, golf's first millionaire, who stands 84th on the 1974 money list, wasn't rated much of a threat in today's opening round of the Byron Nelson Golf Classic, but he had this word for his Army: "I still have the desire."

Palmer also appeared to have the ability to win Wednesday as he shot an impressive 69, three-under-par, in his pro-am round.

However defending champion Lenny Wadkins, peppery Lee Trevino, Bruce Crampton and Master's runnerup Dave Stockton were the favorites in the $150,000 tournament at the Preston Trail Golf Club.

"I feel better than I have in a long time and I still enjoy playing," said the 44-year-old Palmer, who last won a tournament in 1973 at the Bob Hope Desert Classic.

Palmer said "I guess I have played less this year than I have in 20 years. I haven't played well. But I'm working hard and I'm staying in good shape."

Field Named For Kentucky Derby

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
AP Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — With five of the top favorites entered even before the deadline, Kenneth Opstein's Destroyer and Dr. H.M. Boyce's Confederate Yankee were the first horses entered this morning for the 100th Kentucky Derby.

The favored entry of Seth Hancock's Judger and John Olin's Cannonade, Sigmund Sommer's Rube the Great and Accipiter and Robert Cohen's Hudson County were placed in the entry box Wednesday afternoon—their papers to become official this morning.

Trainer Monti Sims dropped Destroyer's name in the box, saying that the Santa Anita Derby winner would not start in Saturday's Centennial Derby if the Churchill Downs track is exceptionally muddy.

Trainer Jerry Dutton said Confederate Yankee also would prefer a dry track, "but he can run in the mud and did so at Golden Gate."

Owner John Meeken of Beverly Hills, Calif., dropped in California Derby winner Agitate's name and Roger Braugh entered Bold Clarion to raise the field to nine, 50 minutes after the entry box opened.

Meeken's trainer, Jim Jimenez, confirmed that Bill Shoemaker would be in the saddle Saturday on the son of Advocate, and Braugh, both owner and trainer for Bold Clarion, said Wayne Chambers would be his rider.

Trainer Gene Cleveland, trooping through the rain to the racing secretary's office on the back stretch, said wet weather would not bother Ga Hai, but he feared too large a Derby field.

Asked what size field he would prefer, Cleveland said, "One."

Samuel Lehrman's Triple Crown was entered in the main secretary's office, with trainer W. Preston King saying he hoped the rain would continue right through Saturday.

"If it keeps raining, everything's fine," King said.

Darby Dan's Little Current was entered by stable foreman R.C. Lewis, because trainer Lou Rondinello is in a hospital here after suffering a kidney stone attack. His doctor said he hopes to have the trainer at Churchill Downs for the Derby at 5:30 p.m. Saturday.

Gold and Myrrh, who has never raced on anything but a fast track, was entered by trainer Lou D'Casseres, who said he didn't feel that mud would slow his horse "since he has galloped on off tracks several times."

Trainer Mervin (Magoo) Marks dropped in the name of Pat McGroder after he watched the colt work a mile in 1:40.

"I'm very pleased and I think he's up to the Derby," Marks said.

The 18th horse entered was Arkansas Derby winner J.R.'s Pet, with trainer Harold (Baldy) Tinker saying an off track would be no problem for his colt.

"We're very confident and he had a fine workout this morning," Tinker said.

Trainer Joe DiAngelo dropped in the name of Sharp Gary, the third finisher in a division of the Wood Memorial, saying he still has no rider for the Carry Back colt.

DiAngelo said the weather won't bother Sharp Gary, either. "He has run well on an off track and won three times that way," he added.

Trainer Charles Milbank, accompanied by rider Bill Hartack, added the name of Sir Tristram to the list 90 minutes after the entry box opened.

Right behind them at the backstretch office was Manuel Azpura, who dropped in the Venezuelan raced Set N' Go.

Milbank said the Derby "is all an experiment" for Sir Tristram, who has raced only three times in France.

"I'm interested to see what he does on this track, but I'm sure he'll do well," Milbank said.

Azpura said Set N' Go doesn't care whether it rains or not. "Our horse will just run," he added.

Carroll Matherne, brother of the trainer for Crimson Ruler, dropped the colt's name in the box at the main office without commenting on what kind of weather the Crimson King Farm steed would prefer.

Tryouts, Kirksey Ball Club To Be Held Saturday

The Kirksey Ball Club will hold tryouts for both boys and girls of all ages on Saturday, May 4, at the Kirksey School Ball Park, according to Kenneth Simmons, president.

Tryouts for the girls of all ages will be from ten a.m. to twelve noon, while tryouts for boys of all ages will be held from one to three p.m.

All interested boys and girls are invited to attend, Simmons said.

Murray To Host Tourney

Murray has been awarded with the Great Lakes Regional American Legion Baseball Tournament for 1975. The announcement was made today by Cleo Sykes of American Legion Post 73. It is only the second time a Kentucky city has ever hosted the tournament, the last city being Ashland. The selection was made by the National American Legion Baseball Committee. Teams from six states will be in the tournament with Illinois, Indiana, Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio and Kentucky being represented.

The Murray American Legion team will receive an automatic bid to play in the tournament, since it will be the host city for the prestigious event. The tournament will be held in August of 1975 at Holland Stadium.

In order to secure the tournament, many arrangements and a lot of work was put forth and the city of Murray should extend its congratulations to Post 73 for receiving this outstanding honor.

Woody Has Judger In Secretariat's Stall

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)— Judger munched his oats placidly in Stall 21, Barn 42 on the backstretch of ancient Churchill Downs, seemingly impervious to the prying eyes of parading visitors.

"Isn't that the same stall Secretariat occupied last year?" someone asked W. C. Stephens, the slender, bespectacled trainer.

"Yep," replied Stephens. "And Riva Ridge the year before?"

"Yep." "How did you happen to get that stall? Do you think it will have any significance on the race?" the interrogator pursued the matter.

"Just lucky, I guess," the trainer said. "Maybe it's a good sign." Horse "race buffs are notorious hunch players and are bound to seize on the fact that Judger, the favorite in Saturday's 100th Kentucky Derby, is getting his meals in the same confined, white-boarded quarters held by the last two winners of the sport's most coveted prize.

"I don't know when something like this has happened," said Jerome Hubers, the superintendent of barns at Churchill Downs. He oversees scores of red-roofed stables at the track. "Just chance," said Raymond Johnson, the Derby's publicity director. "Stalls are assigned as the horses arrive."

There's nothing lavish about the stall numbered 21 in Barn 42. It's like all the other facilities, with a hay rack in one corner and a thick layer of straw for a bed.

But the recent tenure of Secretariat and Riva Ridge has left an aura of majesty about the place.

Names of race horses always are intriguing, and Judger is certain to appeal to office secretaries and guys at the neighborhood pub who see a corollary in the current Watergate news.

Judger's mother was named Face the Facts. There's another good horse in the race named Agitate, also with a legal lilt. His dad was Advocate and his ma was Give Or Take.

There's a royal ring, apparently in honor of the visiting Princess Margaret, to a handful of others—Crimson Ruler, Rube the Great, Sir Intram and Gold and Myrrh, which may come out "Golda Meir" if the telephone connection is bad. Military names, a throwback to Man o' War, still abound with Cannonade, Destroyer and Bold Clarion among the possible starters.

You have to admire the optimism of those owners who are bidding with Eric's Champ, Set n' Go, Silver Hope and Sharp Gary.

But there's one horse's name which tells it all: Triple Crown. Why not?

Scoreless Tie

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP) — A Brazilian all-star squad played a scoreless tie with Austria in an exhibition soccer match at Morumbi Stadium Wednesday night.

Briles To Return

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Right-hander Nelson Briles of the Kansas City Royals will be eligible to return to the line-up June 22 following knee surgery described as "very successful." The former St. Louis Cardinals and Pittsburgh Pirates pitcher should be walking within a week, said Dr. Paul Meyer, team physician.

NFL Has Productive Day But Season Is Five Months Away

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

The National Football League had one of its most productive days of 1974 Wednesday ... and its season still is five months away.

The NFL generally has adopted two lines of attack in attempting to blunt the effect of its rival, the World Football League, and the established league scored victories on both fronts.

One area is the courtroom. The other is the bargaining table.

In Dallas, a State District Court judge issued a temporary injunction prohibiting the WFL from grabbing any more players from the Dallas Cowboys.

Meanwhile in Philadelphia, Harold Carmichael signed with the Eagles, and in Los Angeles, Tom Mack signed with the Rams, both players turning down larger money offers from the WFL. Carmichael, a wide receiver who led the league with 67 receptions last year, signed a three-year contract for an estimated $175,000. Mack, an All-Pro offensive guard who played out his option and would have become a free agent Tuesday midnight, signed a multi-year contract.

Carmichael's attorney, James N. Solano, elaborated on what could become a NFL rallying cry: "More considerations than just money."

"We did turn down more money from the WFL than we got from the Eagles," Solano said. "But you have to figure that playing in the NFL, with its pension plan, other fringe benefits, endorsements, is worth $500,000.

"So actually there is not that substantial a difference between the WFL and NFL offers."

That's apparently the NFL line in its battle to stay competitive with the WFL in the bidding war for players' services.

And Paul Brown, coach and general manager of the NFL's Cincinnati Bengals, gave the same advice to Bill Bergey when the star linebacker was weighing a WFL offer of $525,000 for three years from the Virginia Ambassadors.

"I said, 'Bill, sometimes all that glitters isn't gold,'" Brown testified in Cincinnati's district court where the Bengals have filed a preliminary injunction against Bergey, who did accept the offer, and the WFL.

"He said, 'Coach, the figures are beautiful,'" Brown added. The loss of Carmichael and Mack, when the WFL was courting, was a disappointment, but the decision in Dallas has the more serious implications for the new league.

Bergey signed for the 1976 season since he had another year on his Cincinnati contract but his name gave prestige and publicity to the Virginia franchise, commodities it needs as it opens its first season this fall.

But if the injunction against the WFL tampering with the Dallas players sticks—and the WFL has 20 days to appeal—then the rest of the NFL might be inclined to go to court.

This could prevent the WFL from making future signings, depriving the league of publicity and commitments from established players.

Mrs. Vinson To Take Big Interest In Derby

Mrs. Anne Vinson of Murray is going to the Kentucky Derby Saturday.

But she will be going as more than a spectator.

For Mrs. Vinson, wife of Murray State Alumni Director Mancil Vinson, will be taking a great personal interest in the 100th Run for the Roses.

When she was a young girl, her brother, W. C. (Woody) Stephens already had a great interest in horses. As a matter of fact, three years before she was born Woody Stephens rode his first winner at Hialeah Park.

And for racing fans throughout the nation and particularly in Kentucky, the name Woody Stephens is a household word.

For Stephens is the trainer of Derby co-favorite Cannonade and Judger.

"As long as I can remember, my family has been interested in Thoroughbred racing, Mrs. Vinson said.

"Woody loved horses and at an early age, began to ride as a jockey. After three years of being a jockey, he began his successful career as a trainer.

Woody Stephens success as a trainer has been unrivaled.

In 1963, one horse he trained, Never Bend, finished second in the Derby.

He is the leading trainer this year at Hialeah Park.

And in the Florida Derby, his two entrees, Judger and Cannonade, finished first and second in the Kentucky Derby prep race.

In 1960, Stephens was honored by the National Turf Writers' Association by being presented the "Outstanding Training Achievement Award."

Stephens now lives in Long Island, N.Y.

Mrs. Vinson said that she sees her brother four or five times each year.

"There are five of the six children still living and our mother lives in Lexington. We all get together each Christmas."

The highlight of Stephens' career came when he won the International Handicap in Washington, D.C., for two years in succession with Bald Eagle, owned by the late Captain Harry F. Guggenheim of New York.

It was for that achievement he won the Turf Writers' Award.

Each morning, Woody Stephens is on the track at 6 a.m.

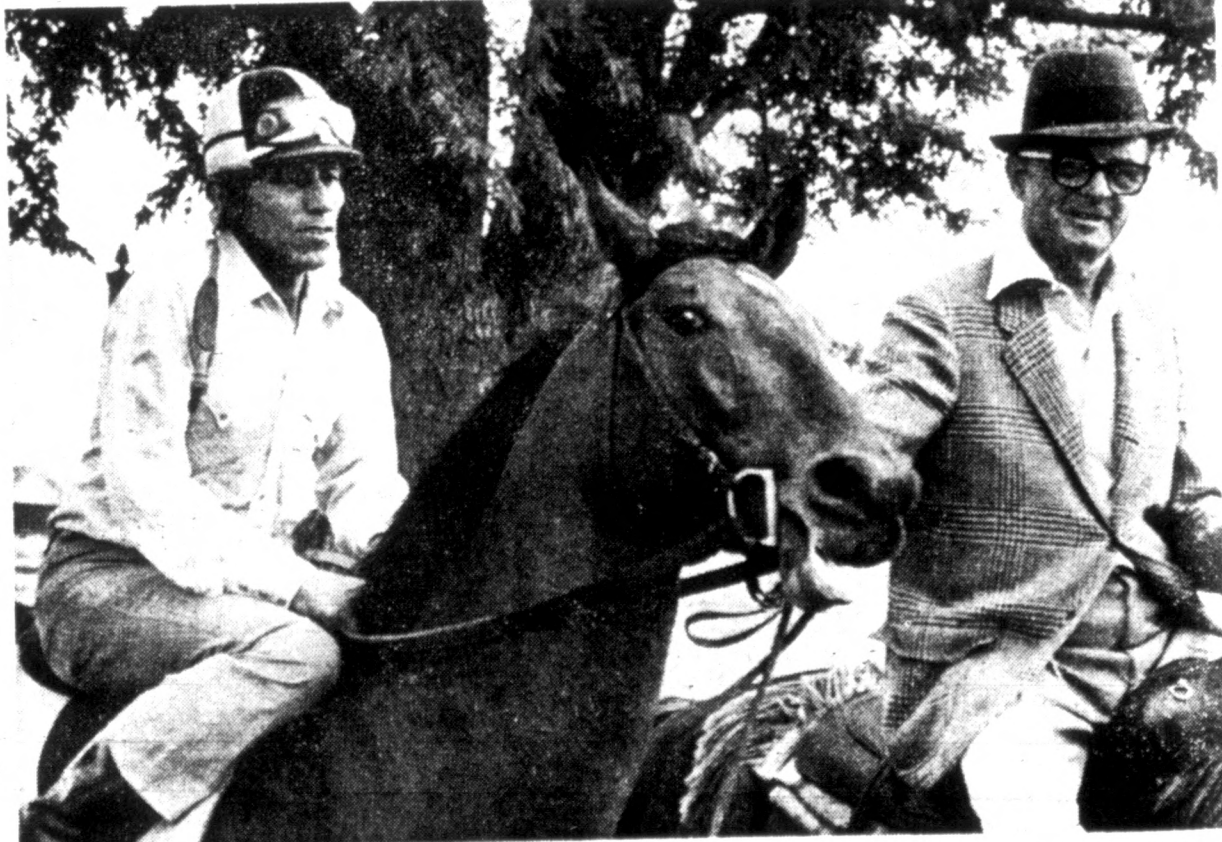

Saturday, he'll be awake long before then, experiencing the excitement that only a few people at the Derby will have ever the honor of doing.

And Mrs. Vinson will likewise share in the experience.

"It's going to be an exciting day for all of us," Mrs. Vinson said.

"Our whole family will be there and boost my brother and hopefully see either Cannonade or Judger win the 100th Run for the Roses," Mrs. Vinson added.

And if the experts are right, Woody Stephens just might experience the thrill of his life. And his sister will join in sharing the success and joy of the number one stakes winner living in America today.

CANNONADE is led by trainer Woody Stephens after a gallop with Juan Aguilar up. Cannonade will run as an entry with Judger in Saturday's Kentucky Derby with Angel Cordero in the irons.

Kenneth (Jack) Bailey Retires After 35 Years With The TVA

Kenneth (Jack) Bailey retired, April 18 from the Maps & Surveys Branch of TVA, after serving 35 years with the US Government.

Bailey went to work for TVA on April 10, 1939, at the time Kentucky Dam was under construction. Three years of that time was spent in the military service during World War II. With a survey section of the Field Artillery, he took part in five major battles in Europe. Working as a civil engineer during the years with TVA he lived and worked in all areas where TVA dams are located and at most of the steam plant sites in the Tennessee Valley. He also worked at LBL when the property was being surveyed and acquired.

Maps and Surveys is a branch of the Division of Water Control Planning and is responsible for surveys and preparing maps which are required for the investigation, planning, design and operation of TVA projects. With headquarters in Chattanooga, Tenn., there are survey sections and unit offices located throughout the Valley.

Several times Bailey and other members of his branch have been loaned to other agencies of the government that do mapping, and at those times they worked outside the Tennessee Valley. Some of the states where they worked include Texas, Minnesota, California, and Nevada. At the time of his retirement he was stationed at Lexington, Tenn.

Bailey and his wife, Thelma live on Olive Street in Murray. He is the son of Mrs. Ernest Bailey and the late Mr. Bailey. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Riley.

He said he has no immediate plans, but just wants to take life easy and do a little fishing.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR FRIDAY, MAY 3, 1974

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

Above-average opportunities—especially in money matters, but take care not to overexpand. Success along these lines will depend largely on good judgment and resourcefulness.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21)

Don't leave things to chance. Here is a time for reviewing with an eye to tightening up action, making plans for next week. A change of scene will help now.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)

Curb your innate tendency to scatter energies. Neither direct them into unproductive channels. If you concentrate on your most important objectives, you can accomplish handsily.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)

Narrow-minded insistence on sticking to old practices without regard for new or more fitting ones could be a big drawback now. Look forward!

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)

Solar influences beneficent. Take advantage of the situation. Don't expect the unreasonable in returns, however.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Especially favored now: students, teachers, technicians in all lines. Make the most of your skills and adaptability. Complete unfinished business smartly, painstakingly.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Some tricky situations to handle. As with Taurus, don't leave anything to chance. Keep alert — all day! Look for some unexpectedly pleasant news in the p.m.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23)

Take care in counselling others, repeating information. Avoid arguments as such, but discuss calmly important trends, transactions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23)

Discontinue, if you will, whatever has had its fair chance and failed to show improvement, but do not be too quick to turn down a remedial suggestion without hearing ALL its points.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20)

Stellar influences hint at new activity or a happy repetition of something that pleased before. Notice "little" things: They often open the widest doors.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

You rarely imitate. You prefer to produce in your own way. However, this day will require more attention to others' methods and know-how.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

A day for action! Get right to the heart of matters requiring immediate attention and shun persons and activities which could distract you from top priorities.

YOU BORN TODAY have been endowed with a gift of leadership not usually found in the Taurean who, generally speaking, finds greater success when working with others. You also have a better head for business and finances than most born under your Sign and could make a great success in the world of commerce. However, for the sake of your own happiness, you SHOULD take up one of the arts as an avocation, at least. Your love of beauty and intense idealism could never be satisfied with business alone and, depriving yourself of such outlets can only bring on emotional conflict. You have a strong sense of drama, and could excel in the theater — as actor, playwright, director or manager. Other professions in which you could shine: teaching, medicine, statesmanship, painting, fashion design and horticulture. Birthdate of: Niccolò Machiavelli, Ital. statesman; William Inge, playwright.

New Supplemental Income Plan Helps Aged, Disabled In Need

Aged, blind and disabled persons who do not have enough money to live on may be eligible for a regular monthly cash income supplement under a new federal program that became effective the first of the year. This Supplemental Security Income (SSI) program establishes a nationally-uniform income floor for people in need, according to Barletta Wrather, County Extension agent for home economics. SSI is a federal system, with uniform eligibility requirements and uniform payments, instead of different plans in every state. It is administered by the Social Security Administration and replaces three federal-state programs — old age assistance, aid to the blind, and aid to the permanently and totally disabled.

People who are eligible and have no other income will have a basic cash income of at least $130, a month for one person and $195 for a couple. People in institutions or with other income may get reduced SSI checks.

So if you know someone who might benefit from this new income supplement, says Barletta Wrather or if you need such help yourself, the place to get more information is the district Social Security office. Or you could talk to a Social Security field representative about it. These representatives call regularly at county courthouses. Their schedules are posted in public places and published in local newspapers.

Anyone who was already on state public-assistance rolls in December started receiving payments in January under the new SSI program.

THE TAPPAN Company, Murray operation, held its Value Improvement Awards Banquet April 19 at the Murray Woman's Clubhouse. Recognized as the top team for the first quarter was the assembly team which achieved 118 per cent of its annual goal. Jerry Crouch, Value Improvement Program chairman, presented each team member a cash award and Dave Dickson, general manager, complimented the entire group on their performance and reported that 55.9 per cent of the plant's goal had been achieved. Left to right are Eunice Henry, Joe Fridy, Tom Wells, Cliff Campbell, Tom Lyles, Bill Edwards. Team members not pictured are Harold Kilgore and Allen McCuiston.

Misunderstandings A Common Problem

FRANKFORT, Ky. — Being sick is no fun and many persons, due to improper insurance arrangements, can't afford it. Almost everyone in the United States is covered by some form of health insurance. Insurance officials estimate about 89 per cent have some form of private insurance. And, most persons over 65 are covered by federal medicare.

But, many find—usually when it's too late—that their insurance does not provide the benefits they thought.

According to Harold McGuffey, commissioner of the Kentucky Department of Insurance, misunderstanding the benefits and limitations of an insurance policy is a common problem—and, one which carries with it the potential of financial disaster.

"People buy health insurance to protect themselves from the unexpected and often heavy expense of injury or sickness," McGuffey said. "Unfortunately, it is after an accident or illness strikes, that many find their insurance will not pay the expenses."

"The thing is," McGuffey continued, "it doesn't pay to be sick unless the malady you have and the conditions under which you have it, fit the specifications on the insurance policy. And, those specifications can be both numerous and confusing."

Since 1970, Kentuckians have had a second chance to evaluate their health insurance. After buying a policy, they have 10 days to look it over. If it is not what they thought, they can return the contract for a full refund.

The state insurance department recommends anyone purchasing health insurance should study the policy thoroughly. A few things to look for include:

Exclusions and limitations—All health insurance policies leave out payment for some illnesses. Some leave out more than others. What's more, some policies cover accidents only, not sickness. And, the definition of what is an accident can vary.

Pre-existing conditions—Many policies will not pay for medical problems which were present before the policy was sold. Some may cover illnesses which existed before purchase of the policy, if the policyholder did not know about the condition. In most cases, applicants must answer questions about their medical history and, a company generally can cancel coverage anytime during a specified period if any of those answers are false.

Services—The state insurance department urges everyone to obtain a basic hospitalization plan before buying a supplemental plan. Hospitalization benefits generally apply to hospital room and board, services and supplies and surgical expenses. However, surgical expenses may be excluded. In 1972, Kentuckians under age 65 maintained 2,414,000 hospitalizations and 2,202,000 surgical policies.

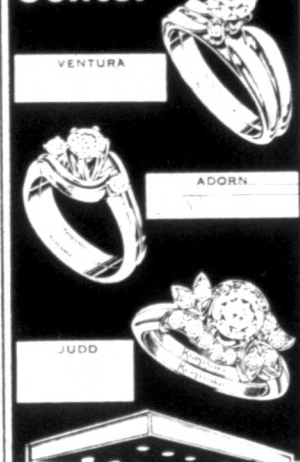

Typical supplemental policies include medical supplements, in-hospital income plans, major medical and comprehensive coverage and disability income. Waiting periods and time limits—In some cases, coverage begins immediately after purchasing a policy. But, many policies don't pay until a specified time has passed. Some policies begin payment on the first day of hospitalization while others wait until several days have passed. What's more, payments generally continue for a specified number of days or up to a certain cost, and no more.

Benefit payments—The average stay in a hospital costs about $100 a day. So, even if the payments begin on the first day of hospitalization, a policy that pays $1,000 a month will absorb only one third of the cost of a month's stay.

Coordination of benefits—If a person has two policies, the benefits paid by one company may be reduced by the amount the other company pays on a particular claim. That could greatly reduce the worth of a policy.

Finally, when in doubt, discuss the policy with your insurance agent. If you still don't understand, contact the Kentucky Department of Insurance in Frankfort.

Nixon And Advisors Spent Many Hours Agonizing Over Problems

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon and his closest advisers were flustered, confused, sometimes angry and sometimes bemused by the growth and persistence of the Watergate scandals.

They spent hours agonizing over their troubles, trying to decide on a course of action that would neutralize the Watergate mess. Considerations ranged from getting the whole truth out to paying hush money to cover up the truth.

They talked of protecting their friends and destroying their enemies. Their conversations were informal, free-wheeling, wide-ranging and frequently profane.

This is the portrait of a besieged presidency that emerges from a 1,308-page volume of transcribed White House tape recordings turned over to the House Judiciary Committee Tuesday.

On several occasions Nixon expressed exasperation that his administration was under fire for political activities he considered common occurrences in political life and ordered that federal muscle be used to hurt anyone who tried to hurt him. Nixon also believed that the scandal wouldn't last long.

"This is a war," Nixon said in a Sept. 15, 1972, conversation with his chief of staff, H. R. Haldeman and his counsel, John W. Dean III. "We take a few shots and it will be over. We will give them a few shots and it will be over."

"I want the most comprehensive notes on all those who tried to do us in. They didn't have to do it. They were doing this quite deliberately and they are asking for it and they are going to get it."

"We have not used the Bureau (FBI) and we have not used the Justice Department but things are going to change now."

The most intense discussions occurred in two meetings March 21, 1973, during which Nixon, Dean and Haldeman debated whether to cover up high administration involvement in the Watergate scandal or "let it all hang out."

Conversations about proposed cover-ups took several forms, one of which was a discussion of paying hush money to silence the original Watergate conspirators.

Nixon: How much money do you need?

Dean: I would say these people are going to cost a million dollars over the next two years.

Nixon: We could get that. On the money, if you need the money you could get that. You could get a million dollars. You could get it in cash. I know where it could be gotten. It is not easy, but it could be done. But the question is who the hell would handle it. Any ideas on that?

Dean: That's right. Well, I think that is something that (John) Mitchell ought to be charged with.

Nixon: I would think so too.

At another point, Dean told Nixon he wasn't at all confident of being able to maintain silence among the people involved at the various stages of the scandal. And Nixon proposed that full disclosure might be the only solution.

HOUSING STARTS

Housing starts rose 6.1 per cent in January to a 1,486,000-unit seasonally adjusted annual pace after having slumped to a three and a half year low in December, the Commerce Department reported. — CNS

Dean: ... Everybody is now starting to watch after their behind. Everyone is getting their own counsel. More counsel are getting involved. How do I protect my ass?

Nixon: They are scared.

Dean: That is bad. We were able to hold it for a long time

Nixon: Your cover is broken?

Dean: That's right and it's Nixon: ... Complete disclosure, isn't that the best way to do it? ... That would be my view.

But shortly thereafter they are back to discussing a cover-up. Dean: Well, I have been a conduit for information on taking care of people out there who are guilty of crimes.

Nixon: Oh, you mean like the blackmailers?

Dean: The blackmailers.

Right. Nixon: Well, I wonder if that part of it can't be—I wonder if that doesn't—let me put it frankly: I wonder if that doesn't have to be continued? Let me put it this way: Let us suppose that you get the million bucks, and you get the proper way to handle it. You could hold that side?

Dean: Un, huh. Nixon: It would seem to me that would be worthwhile.

At a later point, with Haldeman in on the conversation, Nixon appeared ready to smooth over the reasons for the break-in at the Los Angeles office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

Nixon: National security. We had to get information for national security grounds.

Dean: Then the question is, why didn't the CIA do it or why didn't the FBI do it?

Nixon: Because we had to do it on a confidential basis.

Haldeman: Because we were checking them.

Nixon: Neither could be trusted.

In the end, the meetings adjourned with essentially nothing decided.

Switch To Metric On Horizon

FRANKFORT, Ky.—Thomas Jefferson wanted it, John Quincy Adams proposed it, the British have adopted it, and the U. S. Congress currently is studying it—with that kind of moving force, it appears inevitable that Kentucky and the rest of America will some day adopt the metric system of measurements.

George L. Johnson, director of the state Department of Agriculture's Division of Weights and Measures, explained recently that the proposed conversion to the metric system is necessary for American industry to compete in the world marketplace.

The United States is the last major power in the world still using the old English system of measurements. Ironically, the British Commonwealth nations began a 10-year switch to the metric system in 1965 with completion scheduled for next year.

Johnson said that the conversion, if approved by Congress, will take about 10 years, but steps must be taken soon, or American products won't be in line with their metric system competitors.

Since American products use parts measured in traditional inches, feet, pints, quarts and other units of the old English system, it is difficult to replace them in a world marketplace that is almost entirely on the metric system.

Devised in France in 1799 the metric system bases all weights and measurements on units of 10. Variations are calculated by moving the decimal point.

For example, the millimeter is the smallest unit of linear measurement, with 10 equaling a centimeter and 10 centimeters making a decimeter—the equivalent of just under four inches.

Ten decimeters add up to a meter and 1,000 meters form a kilometer. Generally speaking, meters would replace yards and kilometers miles in linear measurement.

The changes also extend to liquid and dry measurements with liters replacing quarts, hectoliters bushels, and grams grains, etc.

One of the advantages of the metric system is its uniformity in graduation of units of ten from, say, the tiny millimeter to the two-thirds of a mile long kilometer.

Johnson said that after the initial growing pains, conversion to the metric system will be a boon to Kentucky's economy. "Some of the biggest at the outset will be the conversion of tool and die sizes, scales, gas pumps and other measuring instruments," he noted.

Kentucky, with agriculture, coal and distilling among its chief industries, probably wouldn't feel the conversion crunch as much as states that depend chiefly on manufacturing, Johnson said, although as Kentucky's manufacturing sector grows, this will become a major factor also. A change from bushels of crops to the metric hectoliter or from a metric ton of coal to its current equivalent of 2,204 pounds isn't as drastic as a machine manufacturer changing all of his equipment sizes, he added.

Johnson said that the metric system already is in use in Kentucky by engineers, pharmacists and many others in the scientific field and noted, "We are ready to begin converting here in the Division of Weights and Measures the day Congress passes the bill."

Iron blades for ice skates first appeared in Iceland and quickly spread to other lands.

Botulism is a puzzling killer

Scientists aren't sure why botulin is as toxic as it is. One group confessed they couldn't establish a toxicity-to-weight ratio for botulin—in other words they couldn't name a small enough quantity of the poison that wouldn't be likely to kill the biggest man.

Type A botulism kills about 70 per cent of the time, attacking nerve centers controlling the muscles of the eyes, throat and lungs. Death is usually brought on by respiratory failure. — CNS

'Death Angels' Reported Linked To Zebra Murders

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — To win recognition and get promoted, they must kill.

They dress neatly and purport to live according to a puritanical code of moral conduct. But they educate their young in what they call "martial arts," teaching them the "techniques of killing or incapacitating."

Mayor Joseph L. Alioto described the group Wednesday and said it calls itself "Death Angels." He said it is a nationwide organization "dedicated to the murder and mutilation of whites and dissident blacks."

Alioto says the group is responsible for the so-called "Zebra" slayings of 12 whites and the wounding of six others here since last November. All were shot down by young blacks in apparent unprovoked street attacks.

Alioto says the group may be responsible for a total of some 80 "murderous assaults" throughout California since December 1970.

"The pattern of killing is by random street shooting or hacking to death with machete, cleaver or knife," Alioto said. "Decapitation or other forms of mayhem bring special credit from the organization for the killers."

Law enforcement officials, including the San Francisco police and State Atty. Gen. Evelle J. Younger, said they were unaware of a statewide pattern of murder.

"We have no indication that any of the murders in San Francisco are connected with those others around the state," Younger told newsmen in Sacramento. "We have no evidence of a statewide conspiracy."

The mayor spoke after more than 100 heavily armed officers in bullet-proof vests struck before dawn Wednesday, arresting seven black men in a three-hour period.

"The police have pierced the veil of a vicious ring of murderers called Death Angels. We have the principals involved in the Zebra slayings," said Alioto.

Among those arrested was Tom Manney, 31, a former outstanding football halfback at San Francisco State University from 1960 to 1963.

It was the first major break in Operation Zebra — code-named after a police communications channel — since police began controversial stop-and-search procedures two weeks ago to try to find the killers.

It wasn't the questioning of hundreds of blacks that led to the major break in the case, Alioto said. Instead, it was an informer who may have been enticed by the $30,000 reward put up by organizations and the city.

"I have to assume he was influenced by the reward," said Alioto. He would give no clues as to the identity of the informer.

Nor would police release anything except the names and ages of those arrested. Those to be arraigned along with Manney today were identified as J.C. Simon, 29; Larry Green, 22; Dwight Stallings, 28; Manual Moore, 23; Edgar Burton, 22; and Clarence Jamerson, 27.

All were booked for investigation of conspiracy to commit murder, said Chief of Inspectors Charles Barca.

Declining Fatalities Attributed

CHICAGO (AP) — The National Safety Council says lower speed limits figured significantly in a continuing decline in traffic deaths on the nation's highways during March.

Traffic deaths dropped 25 percent in March, as they did in January and February after highway speed limits were lowered to 55 miles per hour to conserve gasoline because of the energy crisis, Council President Vincent Tofany said Tuesday.

About 3,200 persons died in March, compared with 4,320 in March 1973, he said. In the first three months of 1974 there were 8,920 fatalities, down from 11,880 last year, he added.

"We think that lower driving speeds have been an important factor in this reduction," Tofany said. "We hope that government authorities will examine these factors carefully before any moves are made to raise the speed limits."

Tofany said that if the trend keeps up for the rest of the year, traffic deaths would be reduced by 14,000 persons from last year's toll of 55,600. Such a reduction would place the fatality toll at the 1963 level.

Disabling injuries and traffic accident costs also declined sharply during the first three months of 1974, he said.

Tofany said there were about 320,000 disabling injuries in the first three months of 1974, compared with 420,000 in the same period last year. The cost of traffic deaths and injuries declined from $3.3 billion to $2.9 billion, he added.

Tofany said he fears that as the gasoline shortage eases, public pressure might bring back higher speed limits. crash increase dramatically over 50 miles per hour," he said, adding that the chance of survival is four times as great at 50 as at 70.

Homecoming Former Brewers students to gather Sunday, May 5

By SUSAN SOLOMON

Sunday several hundred former teachers, principals, students and friends of Brewers school will converge at the school grounds for a homecoming from 2:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m.

This will be the last year for Brewers school due to it being consolidated with Hardin Elementary into South Elementary School.

According to Ralph Fisher, former principal of Brewers Grade School in 1920 and 1921, the school was built in 1920. The gym was added in 1928 (it was the first gym in Marshall County).

Fisher noted, "Harry Peters was county superintendent, at the time I taught at Brewers." Classes were held from 8:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m. with lunch being held from 12 to 1:00 p.m.

The first school did not have a cafeteria, thus the children brought their lunches and, according to Fisher, ate in the yard or wherever suited them. He added the first Brewers school had "outdoor conveniences."

In noting another consolidation, that of Brewers and Hardin, Fisher recalled when Hale Springs and Phipps schools consolidated. "There was a little discontent at first, but later the children forgot their differences and had good school spirit."

he related the parents of Brewers school had been very cooperative. Fisher noted, "They decided they wanted a piano. I think it was 12 citizens that signed the note at the bank for the $200 for the piano. We had plays and other school activities to pay for it."

The school had the "regular curriculum...history, mathematics, English, Civil Government." He noted Millie Mathis was the principal of the Brewers High School while he was principal of the grades.

"There were about 65 children in the grades," he explained.

Seventy-five year old Fisher related being paid $70 a month as principal of Brewers in 1920. "I thought I was flying high," he said.

Brewers played Sharpe and Calvert in basketball games. "They used to have a county fair with an outdoor court where we'd play," he said.

Brewers school has records of winning basketball teams which attended the state tournament four out of the five years from 1944-1948. In 1948 Brewers won the state championship in (boys) high school teams.

Fisher noted the first school, a three room frame building, burned. Members of the first graduating class of Brewers High School were: Winston Cole, Marvis Bean, Helene Smith, and Blanche Cole.

Some of the former principals planning to come to the homecoming Sunday are Robert Fisher, Hubert Jacob, Emma Lenne Telle, Bob Morris, and Joe Wilson. Teachers planning to attend include Mildred Hoover, Margie Treas, Marguerite Mohler, Lois Nelson, Ada Lyles, Reed Conder and Bob Norsworthy.

The Brewers school building and land will be returned to the heirs of Dr. A.J. Bean. The heirs are Forrest Bean, (deceased), Mrs. Virgie Lyles, and Mrs. Ollis Mason.

served five years as president of the corporation's Chicago firm dealing in the manufacturing and the distribution of photographic equipment and supplies.

From 1961 to 1967 Paxton was corporation president and publisher of the Sun-Democrat. Earlier he had served as business manager and general manager of the newspaper. Named as an Outstanding Young Man of the Year by the Jaycees in 1957, Paxton has served as a two-term president of the Paducah Chamber of Commerce, as president of the Greater Paducah Industrial Development Association and as president of the Paducah Rotary Club.

He has held positions at the state level with the Kentucky Industrial Development Finance Authority and the Kentucky Economic Development Commission. Carneal and Paxton become the third and fourth new members of the 10-member board of regents at Murray State to be determined within the past several weeks. Dr. Mark Cunningham, elected as the faculty representative, and Gene Roberts of Mayfield, elected as Student Government Association president and student representative, were installed at a meeting last week.

Other members of the board are: Dr. Charles E. Howard, Mayfield; James A. Davis, Owensboro; Alton B. Mitchell, Smith's Grove; Graves (Skip) Neal, Murray; O. B. Springer, Henderson; and Bob Long, Benton.

Study Indicates Incentive Will Help Reduce Energy Consumption

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP)—A study by two University of Kentucky psychologists indicates that people reduce their energy consumption more if they have an incentive to do so.

Dr. Mike Nietzel and Dr. Richard Winette studied about 30 households in the Lexington area for a two-month period in February and March to determine whether paying participants not to use energy would affect their energy consumption pattern.

They found that those receiving a financial bonus each week cut back their use of electricity by 19 per cent, while those who were given no money but were urged to "do as much as possible" to conserve energy cut back by only five per cent. To their surprise the researchers found there was a "virtually equal" reduction of gas use by those receiving a bonus and those getting no incentive to cut back—about 24 per cent.

Nietzel and Winette can't explain why there was such a gap between reductions of gas and electricity. "We don't know if it's because the incentive procedure isn't going to be effective or whether it was the severe weather, since gas is used primarily for heating," Nietzel said.

"Looking at our results with electricity suggests it is feasible," he said, "but we don't know whether it would work with more people, what incentives would work best—and what the cost effect would be on the public utilities and what their reaction to it would be."

Both researchers emphasized that their project was a demonstration study to see if the idea of incentives to save energy was worth pursuing.

If they can get a grant on the basis of their research to date they hope to follow up the experiment and want to meet with environmental groups and utilities to see how an incentive plan could be set up.

The experiment worked as follows: For the first two weeks volunteers were asked to continue to use natural gas or electricity the same way they had been doing to get a "baseline" reading of their energy use. After two weeks the volunteers—mostly from middle class households—were divided into two groups.

Half were mailed an 8-page brochure by the UK College of

Hancock Says Meetings Not Open To Public

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—State Atty. Gen. Ed. W. Hancock says the board of the Kentucky Occupational Safety and Health Review Commission is not subject to requirements of the new open meetings law.

In an opinion issued Wednesday to Mrs. Iris R. Barrett, the executive director of the commission, the attorney general said the three-member board was not a "public agency" as defined by House Bill 100.

The board thus was not subject to the requirements of the law which becomes effective June 21 because it is a quasi-judicial body, the opinion said. The bill requires most state agencies to hold open meetings. The commission conducts hearings to determine whether or not an employer has violated the occupational safety and health standards and to fix penalties if violations occurred.

The opinion said it "appears obvious" that the purpose of the Review Commission is to conduct judicial types of hearings, although it is an administrative agency.

monthly home visits to talk with the students' parents. It is hoped that a summer program of five weeks can be funded this summer with local matching money. In addition to the above development of communication skills, social adjustment, self-care skills, emotional growth, motor coordination skills and academic readiness are a part of the major objectives. Five years ago when this class first began in the Presbyterian Church there were five students and one teacher. Thanks to community interest, it now stands on firmer ground.

The Charity Ball offers concerned citizens an opportunity to donate to this worthy cause and at the same time attended a delightful evening of entertainment. The dance will be held June 1 at the Student Union Building from 9:00-1:30 a.m. The Berl Olswanger Orchestra from Memphis and The Amusement Company, a local rock band, will provide continuous music. Tickets will be $20 and they are tax deductible. For a ticket call 753-1599 or 753-9368. For donations contact Mrs. Robert McCoart, 300 S. Fifth St., Murray, Ky.

ORRVILLE, OHIO—Loman D. Brown has been appointed industrial sales manager for The J. M. Smucker Co., a new position in which Brown will be responsible for the sales of manufactured industrial products. William P. Boyle, Jr., Smucker's vice-president of marketing, reports that the heaviest concentration of Brown's division will be directed to developing the use of fruit fillings in yogurt and bakery goods. Brown moves up from the research and development department of Smucker's, the leading producer of preserves and jellies. A graduate of Murray State University in Kentucky, Brown lives in Akron, Ohio.

Nixon

"Dear Mr. President: The Committee on the Judiciary has directed me to advise you that it finds that as of 10 a.m. April 30 you have failed to comply with the committee's subpoena of April 11, 1974."

Waldie called it meaningless. "It would seem to inform the President of something he is probably aware of," he said.

But Waldie's questioning of Doar established that noncompliance with the committee's subpoena could be an impeachable offense if it was a willful act.

"Was the failure to supply the tapes willful?" asked Waldie.

"Yes," replied Doar.

Rodino, arguing later against Conyer's contempt citation, said the letter was a significant action. "We can consider the noncompliance of the President when we consider possible grounds for impeachment," he said.

The committee will begin to receive the evidence gathered by the inquiry staff next week, and the hearing room will be equipped so that all 38 members can listen to tapes on headsets, Rodino said.

He said that is a major reason the committee should have the actual tapes instead of transcripts.

Doar said the committee's sound-reproducing equipment is far superior to the White House's and is able to bring out sections of tapes that are marked "inaudible" on White House-supplied transcripts.

The committee counsel said that in checking White House transcripts, numerous errors have been found, but he did not say they were deliberate.

Doar told Rodino it would not be prudent for the chairman to accept Nixon's offer to come to the White House to listen to the tapes and verify the White House-edited transcripts.

That is a job for tape experts and the lawyers putting the case together, while under Nixon's terms no one but Rodino and Hutchinson would be permitted to do it, Doar said.

Rodino said he would not accept the offer. Hutchinson said he would be willing to, but not unless Rodino went with him.

Nixon's response to the committee through a nationally broadcast address rankled some committee members as much as his failure to comply with the subpoena.

"To respond to a lawful subpoena by going on television was not a decent thing to do," said Rep. John F. Seiberling, D-Ohio.

Rep. James R. Mann, D-S.C., said that after keeping the committee waiting 2½ months for an answer to its request for tapes, "the President mounts his electronic throne and tells the American people what is or is not available to the committee."

Rodino, who has tried hard to avoid a partisan split, said he was not alarmed over the prospects for the future of the inquiry in the wake of Wednesday night's vote.

"The discussion showed that no member was really satisfied with the President's response. They still hope there will be some compliance, and so do I," Rodino said.

Brother Of Party Chairman Makes $58,102 In Land Sale

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—A brother of the state Democratic chairman has made $58,102 as an auctioneer's commission for about four hours' work in selling state land.

John A. Sullivan of Harrodsburg auctioned 945 acres at Kentucky State Hospital in Danville for one-third more than the appraised value.

His 6 per cent commission was arranged under a personal service contract without competitive bidding. The auctioneer pays all expenses and other preparation costs for the sale.

The 19 tracts sold 10 days ago were appraised at $620,000 by Robert Moore of Frankfort and brought a total of $968,374 from 15 different purchasers, according to Giles Sutton of the property division in the finance department.

Special Sales Planned At Christian Church

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the First Christian Church will hold a rummage, baked goods, and handmade items bazaar in the basement of the educational building on Friday, May 3, and Saturday, May 4.

Persons are asked to bring their rummage items to the church today for the sale. The bake sale will be held on Friday. Proceeds from the two days' sale will go to the Need-Line.

Sullivan, a brother of State Sen. William Sullivan, D-Henderson, the state chairman, completed the sale in about four hours, according to the finance report.

Finance Commissioner Charles Pryor had said Sullivan was selected because he was experienced and competent. He added that politically, "all things being equal, we take care of our friends."

Pryor said Wednesday the state is highly pleased with the auction. Pryor added: "The main point is not how much commission Mr. Sullivan earned, but the revenue that will go to the commonwealth and the restoration of the land to the tax rolls of Mercer County."

He said the entire transaction is subject to his approval, "and I have no qualms about approving it."

An additional parcel of land was leased for five years to prewitt hundley and M.R. Webb, both of Danville, for five years.

Under the contract they will use it to graze cattle and raise hay instead of corn and other row crops.

The state bought all the land about 30 years ago so hospital patients could raise produce. The farm equipment and animals were sold 10 years ago and the land was leased.
