PLANS FOR SCHOOL BEING CLEARED UP

Although some difficulty has been experienced by the school board in obtaining the final okay on plans for the new grammar school building here, the new $120,000 building has now been approved by the WPA and the President, according to Supt. J. O. Lewis. It is necessary for the board to get definite assurance in writing that all steel, electric wiring, fixtures and plumbing and heating fixtures can be secured, before a working order will be issued for construction work to begin.

John T. Waller architect, has secured roof trusses and lintels for the doors and windows at Evansville, and reinforcing steel at Memphis, and anticipates no trouble in locating electric and plumbing equipment. Working orders are expected by September 10, after which work will start promptly. The first task will be to build classrooms in the Science Hall and high school to take care of grades now in Carr Institute. This work should be completed in a few days, and then work will be started in razing the old building.

The new building will cost approximately $120,000, with about $70,000 of this amount furnished in labor and materials by the WPA. The first floor of the building will contain a gymnasium or auditorium 56x94, including a stage, with seating capacity in the auditorium for 1200 people. In addition there will be six class rooms, lunch room, cafeteria, health room, and two rest rooms. The primary department, located on the first floor, will be separated from other departments.

On the second floor there will be seven class rooms, a library study hall, PTA room, music room, two rest rooms, and recessed lockers for the students.

The new building will have five entrances, two off Pearl street, two off College street, and one off State Line. Considerable landscaping will be necessary on State Line, including grading and leveling the ground for a drive-in front where cars may park.

Hickman Man Killed In Auto Crash

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in Hickman for Charles E. Fordyce, 32, of Hickman who was instantly killed about 12:15 Sunday morning in an auto crash on the Union City-Hickman highway, 4 1/2 miles from Union City, in which seven others were injured. Services were held at the home of his brother, James B. Fordyce, and burial took place in the Hickman cemetery.

He was born and reared at Dresden and was employed as fireman in the boiler room of the Mengel plant in Hickman.

Fordyce was riding in a 1936 Chevrolet driven by Thomas Owens of Hickman and they were going toward Hickman.

It is said that the crash occurred when a car driven by Bill McKenzie, also of Hickman, swerved to his left side of the highway to pass a pick-up truck going toward Union City.

Occupants of the Owen car were Mr. Owen, his wife, his sister, Mildred Bishop Owen, John LaMar and Miss Betty Rose. All suffered cuts and bruises and were given treatment at the Union City clinic. All were released immediately after being attended except LaMar, who suffered a dislocated hip and several scalp wounds. He was taken to his home in Hickman Monday.

Mr. McKenzie suffered a broken arm and cuts, and the other occupant of his car, Brester Hammock, of Hickman received bruises and cuts.

Don't complain to the editor because he doesn't print all of the news. You'll probably see the time when you'll be mighty glad that he doesn't.

It takes an income of six figures to get a man into the rotogravure section, but one figure will get a girl there.

CASEY'S PAY

Editorial from The Charlotte (N. C.) News, August 9, 1941.

Railroad Unions Demand A Modest $900,000,000

Casey Jones: Said, "I want nine hundred million."

Casey Jones: "And I want it on the line."

Casey Jones: "I got to have more money."

Casey Jones: "Or I'll strike this lousy railroad."

Casey Jones: "Till they're ready to sign."

Casey Jones (chorus) 1941 version: "If somebody will please tell that guy over on the other side of the roundhouse to make less noise, we'd like to ask a few questions. Now as we understand it, the railroad brotherhoods and unions are demanding higher wages. You want a total of $900,000,000 a year added to your wages and salaries. That is a sizable chunk of dough. According to American Railroads, which we admit is an organization sponsored by your bosses, $900,000,000 is enough to equip completely 4,250,000 soldiers in the U. S. Army. With that sum, you could build eighteen of the new 50-million-dollar dreadnaughts or 150 brand new (and badly-needed) destroyers.

O. K. So what? So if you railroad men really deserve a pay raise, if the railroads can stand the gaff and you've got it coming to you, it's all right by us. But that brings up those questions we mentioned.

You know better than we that for the first time in more than ten years, the railroad industry is starting to get back on its feet. Scores of railroads have been and still are in receivership. Many are just beginning to show black ink on the ledger. And now here you men come along and demand extra pay amounting to more than double the aggregate fares paid by all railroad passengers in the nation last year. Is that reasonable?

You, Casey, what kind of pay are you getting? We'll tell you. You're engineer on a passenger locomotive. Your "basic" pay (for 100 miles) is $7.34. If your daily run is 150 miles, you get $11.01. But the union—not the railroad—says you can't run more than 4,800 miles a month. So you make $352.32 a month—about $4,228 a year. In our business, mister, that ain't hay.

And there's this matter of "featherbedding." The magazine Railway Age cites this example:

A regularly assigned fireman made a round trip of 50 miles. On the first leg of the trip the train carried only passenger cars. At the turning point the crew was required to back its passenger cars to a point where the engine was turned and given necessary attention by the enginehouse forces. Returning, the train carried only freight cars back to its starting point. The adjustment board held that the fireman was entitled to three days' pay for the one day he worked: (1) a day's pay in passenger service for hauling the passenger cars from the initial terminal to the turning point; (2) day's pay as hostler for taking the engine to the engine house; and (3) a day's pay in local freight service for taking the freight cars back to the starting point. And, furthermore, the board held that all other firemen who had performed similar service on that train over a preceding period of three years were entitled to "back pay" on the same basis. Such flim-flamming as that, rare as it may be, has no place in union practice.

Well, that's how we see it. We believe that railroad employees, in general, have been better paid than almost any other big group of workers. You have kept your wages high by building strong unions. The public has a good deal of confidence in your patriotism and loyalty. But if you insist on a $900,000,000 wage increase, or any large part of it, and keep on threatening about how you will tie up railroad transportation if you don't get it, you will lose public sympathy and support. You will become as unpopular in the eyes of the people as that old fussy grumpet, John L. Lewis. Than which there is none whither.

"BEHIND THE SCENES IN AMERICAN BUSINESS"

INCREASED REDUCTION—Adoption of a definite schedule for long-banded curtailment of passenger auto production—with OPM and OPACS "compromising" on 25% per cent cut for four months and greater cut-downs later—signals the time has arrived for more stringent clamping down on civilian industries all along the line, to help assure men, materials and machines for defense goods. Washing machines, refrigerators, and the like will soon get similarly definite restrictions. Aside from mandatory cuts, measured in specific percentages, many other lines of consumer durable goods are finding that their output is being reduced—some to the complete stopping point—by reason of raw material priorities which simply make it impossible for manufacturers to get the materials they need to keep going at normal speed. Threat of whole peacetime industries being dried up for lack of materials is no longer a remote bugaboo, but an immediate possibility. Hence feverish efforts are being made, within industry and by state employment services, to do everything possible to effect an orderly transfer of workers from drying-up non-defense jobs, into positions in defense work.

FORESIGHT—The ability of industries to cushion blows the defense program rains on their supply lines depends in many cases upon the foresight exercised in past months. For example, over a year ago attention began to be focused on expedients which might be necessitated by stringency of crude rubber supplies. So it's interesting to note from a recent statement of the B. F. Goodrich company, which for the past year has sold on the open market automobile tires made with synthetic rubber, that more than 100 important American companies took this cue and bought those tires, to gain familiarity with the new product. Here was a conspicuous case of industry's willingness to cooperate and invest in an understanding of future needs, for each purchaser willingly paid the higher price made necessary by the higher cost of Ameripol. Despite efforts to build up stocks of raw rubber, restrictions on its use are now in force, and the day may well come when synthetic rubber will have to play a large role in keeping our cars and trucks moving. In the deliberations of at least those hundred or more companies, doubts as to what the switch will mean will be negligible.

BITS O' BUSINESS—Still zooming, nation's department store sales for week ending August 16 were 40 per cent ahead of same week of 1940. . . . Survey of retail gasoline outlets in East indicated that the 7 p.m. to 7 a.m. "curfew" was proving more effective than wholesale delivery figures had indicated—for first 18 days of the curfew set-up it showed retail sales of gas had gone down 19.4 per cent, whereas wholesale figures had indicated an increase. . . . Senator Vandenberg of Michigan proposes a 3 per cent manufacturers' sales tax—exempting food, clothing and medicine—to raise $1,250,000,000 new revenues. . . . But the American Farm Bureau took an opposite tack at about the same time: opposing any new excise levies but recommending, through President Edward A. O'Neal, broadening of the income tax base by cutting in half present personal exemptions of $2,000 for married and $800 for single persons and the $400 credit for dependents. . . . We're keeping clean, anyway: Soap sales in U. S. for first six months this year are up 26.3 per cent—about $1.30 per person for the half-year!

U. S. O.—When the final chapter has been written in the saga of United Service Organizations, the contributions and cooperation of American business firms will loom as a major factor in the success of this gigantic undertaking. To date, it is reported, contributions from companies, executives and workers account for as much as 90 per cent of the U.S.O.'s total "take" in the campaign to raise $12,000,000 for recreation centers near army camps and naval stations. Typical is the $100,000 given by American Telephone and Telegraph, General Motors' $75,000 and Sears Roebuck's $50,000. Such firms have also aided by gathering contributions from employees. U.S.O.'s own news letter reported recently that more than 2,000 firms are thus cooperating, with additional offers coming in at the rate of 200 a day. Among first employee gifts were $2,500 from New York Life Insurance company, $2,500 from New York City postoffice, $1,901 from Schenley Distillers corporation and $1,127 from Lord & Taylor department store—27 firms in all. It's just a start, but what a start!

SPECIAL NOTICE

TO LONG DISTANCE TELEPHONE USERS

Never before in history have our long distance switchboards been so busy. Long distance calls this year have already far exceeded 1940's record-breaking average, and the volume grows greater every day.

Industries with vital defense orders and booming Army and Navy posts are relying heavily on long distance service. In addition, calls from the general public have increased by leaps and bounds.

Despite our "all-out" effort to meet these rapidly expanding demands, our facilities, are at times operated at near capacity. Occasional delays may be expected on some long distance calls. "Hold-the-line, please" service is not always possible.

To relieve the situation we are engaged in an expansion program costing millions of dollars. Many thousands of miles of new long distance circuits have been placed in operation this year, and more are on the way. Additions to many switchboards have been installed. Others are being set up as fast as they can be secured and our men can place them in operation.

But manufacture and installation of telephone equipment takes time, and defense priorities are making it increasingly difficult to secure essential materials.

Long distance telephone users can do their part in this present emergency by avoiding as much as possible placing calls during the peak long distance hours of 9 to 11 a.m. and 7 to 8:30 p.m.

The understanding and cooperation of those we serve will be most helpful and will be genuinely appreciated.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Christ Jesus" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon which will be read in Churches of Christ, Scientist, throughout the world, on Sunday, August 31, 1941.

The Golden Text is: "I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ: for it is the power of God unto salvation to every one that believeth." (Romans 1:16.)

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him." (John 1:18.)

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ expresses God's spiritual, eternal nature." (p. 333.)

A shotgun wedding is an "I Do" or die affair.

"PROTECT OUR CHILDREN"
By Fred W. Braun, The Safety Man
Again the opening of school is but a few days away and with this event comes increased driving hazards for motorists. Children will crowd the streets, especially near schools, and it is a wise motorist who will exercise great caution in entering these vicinities when school has begun.

Many of the children will be starting to school for the first time and are not familiar with the hazards of crossing streets. Soon they will learn to look out for your car, but until that time you must look out for them. The rule is drive slowly and keep your car under absolute control so that you can stop in an instant—ready to save that child who may dash across the street in front of you.

Watch out especially for kids on bicycles. They have been taught certain rules of the road with respect to automobiles; but like automobile drivers, they too slip out of line once in a while and you must be prepared for such an emergency.

Hundreds of little children are killed or injured each year going to and from school and the motorist invariably gets the blame regardless of the circumstances. To avoid this responsibility, avoid the accident and the solution is: Drive Carefully!

HOW TO PRESERVE A HUSBAND OR WIFE

"Be careful in your selection. Do not choose too young. When once selected give your entire thought to preparation for domestic use. Some insist on keeping them in a pickle, others are constantly getting them in hot water. This makes them sour, hard and sometimes bitter. Even poor varieties may be made sweet, tender and good garnishing them with patience, well sweetened with love and seasoned with kisses. Wrap in a mantle of charity. Keep warm with a steady fire of domestic devotion and serve with peaches and cream. Thus prepared they will keep for years."

Any girl can start a man on the road to matrimony if she has the right map.

Many a girl brags about the men she's hooked, but she never speaks about the ones who got away.

The surest way to establish your credit is to work yourself into the position of not needing any.

The smallest actual good is better than the most magnificent promises of impossibilities.

A GOOD NAME

A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches.—Proverbs

Yes, a good name is something to be proud of, something to be guarded jealously, to be protected at whatever cost.

Kentucky's $20,000,000 legalized beer industry is proud of the good name enjoyed by beer, the wholesome beverage of moderation. Hence, we do not want the patronage of Kentucky's few law-breaking retail beer outlets.

In order to eliminate such places, Kentucky's beer industry is cooperating with state and local law-enforcement officials to maintain clean, wholesome conditions wherever beer is sold.

Results to date: 18 retail beer licenses revoked; 7 suspended; 2 outlets padlocked forever; 4 licenses refused.
