"Open House" At New Cities Service Station

After weeks of preparation, plans have been announced by D. J. Perry, local Cities Service dealer, for "open house" at the new station located on corner Depot and Fourth streets, this Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Special souvenirs will be available for men, women and children. In addition 6-bottle cartons of Pepsi-Cola will be distributed to customers on these days. Mr. Perry has gone to considerable expense to make this the biggest opening ever staged by Cities Service in Fulton. He wishes to call your attention to his formal advertisement in this issue, in which he sets out plans for Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. Perry is introducing for the first time in this vicinity a novel, new type of service for motorists. He has engaged three charming girl attendants who will aid in servicing the cars of patrons. This is something new for Fulton, but is proving popular in other sections of the country, and should be an interesting feature in the distinctive service being offered by the Cities Service Station here, which handles high grade gasoline, motor oils, tires and batteries.

SOUTH FULTON MAN HELD IN SHOOTING

Jack Jones of South Fulton, about 35 years of age, was carried to the Obion county jail in Union City Monday morning, following the shooting of G. L. "Doc" Nanney, roadhouse proprietor of near Fulton, on Monday morning. Jones is charged with felonious assault with a shotgun with intent to kill in a state's warrant sworn out by Nanney. He was carried to jail by Sheriff John S. Burcham, Deputy Bob Hamilton and Constable John Smith.

The shooting occurred from about 100 yards, with a 12-gauge shotgun loaded with No. 6 shots. Nanney was sprinkled liberally with the shot and a few pellets lodged under the skin but he was not seriously injured.

Jones was a former employee of Nanney, having worked for him for eight years until recently. He was hiding in Nanney's barn and fired immediately upon Nanney's appearance. With the aid of persons nearby, Jones was barricaded in the hayloft of the barn and held until officers arrived.

Jones, officers stated, declared that he had intended to kill Nanney but did not state any reason. No motive has been found by officers.

"THE DUKE"

Famous Comic Cast In New Republic Hit

The Duke of Paducah—more formally known as "Whitey Ford"—who is prominently featured in Republic's "Country Fair," playing at the Strand Theatre, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, September 9, 10 and 11 is an old time showman, having been in vaudeville, medicine shows, carnivals and dramatic tent shows for many years.

He was a radio veteran, having started his radio experience over Station KTHS in Hot Springs, Arkansas, intending to be the leader of a nine piece band, but winding up finally as a hillbilly comedian. Later he teamed with Bob Van for four years in a double banjo act for both radio and vaudeville, then switched to master of ceremonies roles, and finally to hillbilly monologues.

A radio pioneer as well as a theatrical veteran, he had the first idea of broadcasting from a "mythical train," and also is said to be the first performer to have a radio program lasting an hour and a half. This was back in Hot Springs in the days when anything running more than an hour was extravagant.

He has been featured on all the major networks, from coast to coast, and from the Canadian border to Mexico, but is perhaps best known on the NBC Plantation Party show.

"Country Fair" presents an all star cast including Lullubelle and Scotty, Eddie Foy, Jr., June Clyde, Harold Peary (alias "Gildersleeve"), the Vass Family, William Demarest, Guinn ("Big Boy") Williams and Harold Huber.

OFF TO A GOOD START!

(Editorial)
Plans were discussed this week at the regular meeting of the Rotary Club for making a permanent playground and park out of the old fair grounds. Definite steps were taken toward forming a central committee, composed of leaders in all local civic organization, and this committee is to push such action as is necessary to get the job done.

So again another worthy movement in Fulton is off to a good start. There seems to be rising tide of civic pride and initiative here, and this enterprising spirit of cooperation is highly commendable.

Every local organization and every civic-minded individual in Fulton and Fulton county, should rally to the cause initiated by this meeting to bring about a community center. Often have we heard expressions made by citizens and farmers alike that the old fair grounds should be renovated and improved as a public meeting place and playground.

Now it looks like the job is going to be done, with the aid of NYA and WPA. The Young Men's Business Club through its efforts in behalf of the Ken-Tenn Exposition has demonstrated that the Fair Grounds is a real asset that should not be allowed to lapse into disuse.

Let the good work go on. Develop the park into one of the finest playground and entertainment centers in West Kentucky and North-west Tennessee.

Slight Labor Trouble Develops At Factory

Tuesday morning of this week slight labor difficulties developed at the Seigel Garment Factory here, which is believed to have arisen when a rumor started that factories in neighboring towns had put into effect 40c per hour wages which are scheduled to go into effect October 1, under the Wage and Hour Law pertaining to factory workers, it is said. After an investigation was made it was found that surrounding plants had not yet put the new wage scale into effect.

Settlement was reached with employees of the local plant, when the management agreed to allow a small weekly increase in pay for third floor workers, as had already been done for the first and second floors. Mr. Seigel, owner of the plant here, and one at Bruceton and Dickson, Tenn., is expected to be in Fulton this week pertaining to the matter.

During the discussion here between employers, employees and local citizens, the workers pointed out that increased living costs have reduced the power of their earnings. Some of the girls said they used to pay $4 and $5 per week for board. Now they pay $7. This condition of inflated and rising wholesale costs seems to prevail throughout the country, and as a result it upsets the economic stability and value of the purchasing power of workers incomes.

Mrs. Liza White returned Wednesday morning from several days visit in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Witty of Jackson spent the week end with their parents in Fulton.

Mrs. Lucy Boyd of Bardwell was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Boyd on Fairview-av last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thomas and Charles Edward Ray were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Samons.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Allen were in Paducah Tuesday evening visiting the former's sister, Miss Mary Zou Allen, in the I. C. hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cooper and daughter, Juanita, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Colley and sons, Robert and Otis Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Whelge, all of Centralia, Ill., visited Mrs. Fred Cooper and sons on Carr-st over the week end.

Miss Doris Branch left Tuesday for several days visit in Jackson, Tenn.

The world is populated by two classes of people, those who want publicity and those who get it.

ROTARY CLUB IN MEETING TUESDAY

At the regular meeting of the Rotary Club held Tuesday at the First Methodist church, plans were discussed to make a community center and recreation park of the fair grounds, recently purchased by the City Board of Education. Brunswick stew was served, prepared by Joe Browder, for which squirrels were killed by Supt. J. O. Lewis, his son, Jimmie Lewis, Rev. Woodrow Fuller and Dr. N. W. Hughes.

Special guests were the following: Mr. Curlin, representative of the National Youth Administration, Mr. Goodykuntz, representative of the W. P. A., Forrest Riddle of the Lions Club, F. A. Homra of the Y. M. B. C., T. T. Boaz, mayor-elect of Fulton, Walter Evans and Roper Fields, representatives of the school board, Mrs. J. M. Martin and Mrs. Charles Gregory of the Woman's Club, Mrs. B. J. Pigue of the West Fulton Parent-Teachers Association, Mrs. Doran Colley of the East Fulton P. T. A., Rev. E. R. Ladd of the Ministerial Association and Will Creason of Mayfield.

The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the possibility of developing the fairgrounds into a recreation center, with the aid of the N. Y. A. and W. P. A. Mr. Curlin and Mr. Goodykuntz, both assured the group that their organizations would help in every possible way.

A committee was appointed to work with the W. P. A. and N. Y. A., in the development of this project. This committee is composed of the following who are presidents of their respective organizations: Ford Lansden, Rotary Club; Bob White, Chamber of Commerce; W. W. Evans, Board of Education; Forrest Riddle, Lions Club; T. T. Boaz, mayor elect of the city; Rev. E. R. Ladd, Ministerial Association; Mrs. Martin, Woman's Club; Mrs. Pigue, West Fulton P. T. A.; Mrs. Colley, East Fulton P. T. A., and F. A. Homra, Y. M. B. C. This committee later held a meeting and elected Mr. White as chairman.

The committee members will hold a meeting soon and will then be ready to work on the project. Work will be begun immediately on improving the grounds to use as a park. It will be necessary to clear off much underbrush and fill many holes. Several buildings that are badly in need of repair will be torn down.

No other place in Fulton could be used to more advantage as an athletic field and playground center, and every public organization is urged to co-operate to the fullest extent.

EXPLAINS NAZI INTENTIONS

The President recommended a book to the American people the other day. It is entitled, "You Can't Do Business With Hitler," written by Douglas Miller, U. S. commercial attache at Berlin from 1925 to 1933.

Mr. Miller is a first-hand observer of Nazi tactics and understands the Hitler purpose to dominate world economy. He points out that:

"The Nazis have invaded and enslaved fifteen nations. They have looted Europe; poisoned the minds of children; attacked the Church, the school, the press. They renounce the truth, justice and mercy. They replace private enterprise by slavery. They assert their right to rule the world as a master race. They have a dictatorship controlling industry, commerce and money in Europe.

"They propose to make the rules of international trade. They fill this country with spies, trying to break our morale, disrupt our government, divide our people. We must oppose them and beat them in the end, or lose our liberties and all that makes America worth fighting for."

This is the testimony of Mr. Miller, who was in Berlin for fourteen years. He probably knows more about the situation than Wheeler, Lindbergh, Johnson, and the other isolationists, put together. It is time for the people of this country to decide what leadership they intended to follow.

SCHOOL DAYS ARE HERE AGAIN

Millions of children are returning to school and hundreds of thousands of young men and women will soon begin their work at the colleges and universities of the nation.

Naturally, the reopening of school days is an event, not only in Fulton, but throughout the United States. In many family circles it is the major undertaking, requiring sacrifice and unselfishness in order that children may continue their work at school.

The cause of education in the United States has had the support of nearly every American because of the conviction that education developed children, making them better citizens. There has also been the economic motive lying behind the belief that an educated man, or woman, is better able to make a satisfactory living than an uneducated person.

Those charged with the responsibility of educating future Americans should not lose sight of the burden that rests upon their shoulders. It is not enough that they make education popular. They must make it worth while, whether measured from the standpoint of economics or of culture as perfected in individuals.

Certainly, we would say nothing to prevent any boy or girl from continuing his, or her, education, but frankness compels the observation that very often, particularly in reference to college and university courses, the time is wasted and the money expended lost. This is not due to the variation that may occur in students because human nature does not change sufficiently to explain the trouble.

Anyway, so far as The Fulton County News is concerned, we gladly recommend school work to all boys and girls, men and women. We hope every student will have a profitable year and that, as a result, become better fitted for modern life, economic, social and cultural.

To teachers, about to begin again the hard task of training the inexperienced and confident youth of the land, we offer our salutations. They have a hard job ahead of them. Their work is often unappreciated, even by those they help the most and, in every community, there are some who think that teaching is a half-holiday profession.

EDITORIAL SOLILOQUY

The editor of The Fulton County News is an ordinary person, whose business requires him to attempt to keep up with what is happening in Fulton and the world at large.

There is no secret system by which any editor acquires the gift of prophecy and whatever opinions are voiced upon this page represent the considered reflection of any individual who has time to take advantage of the many sources of information that are available in this era of the printed word.

It is not always possible for any editor and his readers to agree exactly upon matters discussed. Sensible readers should not expect to agree with the reflections of any one person. Those who are more interested in their own mistakes than they are in the truth, are the only people to dislike a discussion that does not coincide with their own impressions.

This article is not written because anybody has expressed disagreement with our editorials. In fact, we are extremely grateful for many expressions from readers who are nice enough to say that they enjoy our editorials and agree with them.

The point we are making, and to these people as well as others, is that the day might come when they will not agree with what we write but, on that day, we will be doing just what we are doing now, writing as intelligently as possible and as honestly as possible.

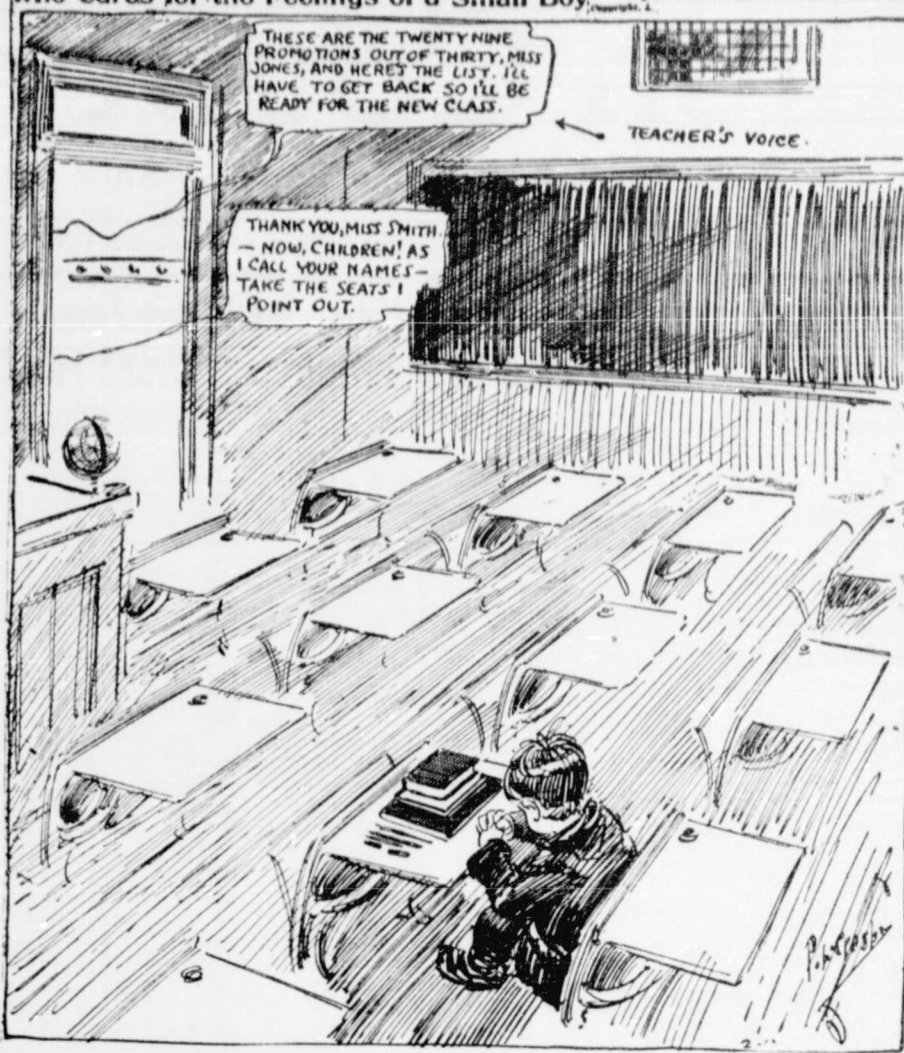

LET'S SAVE LIVES ON THE ROAD

Now that the summer vacation season is about over and you have escaped death on the highway, it might not be amiss to repeat again the old warning that careful driving is what the nation needs if it is to reduce the horrible cost of speed on our highways.

One hundred Americans a day is too high a price to pay for modern transportation. It is remarkable that the public is as apathetic to the loss of life and that the injured are hardly noticed by the public. If some strange, unknown disease was taking a hundred victims a day in the United States, there would be a hysterical reign of terror throughout the land.

Fulton, like every other community furnishes its quota of victims of the automobile-highway toll every year. With the best intentions we continue to permit drunken drivers to operate cars and get off free when apprehended. We like to think that we can violate traffic regulations without having to pay the penalty. It is time, however, that we lost this foolish notion.

Rigid enforcement of every traffic regulation, with stiff fines imposed for minor violations, would do much to make the average automobile driver safety conscious. Let's support the work of the traffic policemen and give them the satisfaction of knowing that we are behind them when they arrest careless and reckless drivers.

THE MAJORITY SHOULD RULE

John T. Whitaker, an American newspaper man, was recently expelled from Italy because his dispatches to the New York Post and Chicago News did not please the authorities of that totalitarian state.

Mr. Whitaker has a thorough knowledge of what is going on in Europe. He is also familiar with what is happening in the United States.

Emphasizing that "in a democracy the minority has the right to exist but by the same token the majority has the right to rule," Mr. Whitaker thinks it is time for the majority of Americans to assert themselves against this militant minority.

"Lindbergh and Wheeler ought to wear the uniforms of Nazi generals. They are winning more battles for Hitler than Brauchitsch or Keitel. They are winning Japan, France and Spain to the Germans today and part of South America tomorrow."

GERMAN INTRIGUE IN BOLIVIA
John Gunther, author of the widely circulated books, "Inside Asia" and "Inside Europe," has just returned from Latin America.

He says, "It is boiling with Fifth Column agitation. If Hitler wins in Europe, he will tackle Latin America next, which is our exposed and vulnerable frontier. We must stop the Nazis now."

If you think Mr. Gunther is talking through his hat, let us call your attention to what happened recently in Bolivia. This South American country recently published a letter, written by the Bolivian military attaché in Berlin to the German Ambassador in La Paz, the capital of Bolivia.

The letter reveals a planned "putsch," acknowledges the work of the German diplomat, tells of the time for the revolt, where the forces will be concentrated, advises that meetings be avoided to escape suspicion, explains that detailed plans for "suitable landing fields" have been received and suggests that "we act rapidly because the time is ripe."

The military attaché complains over the transfer of the air line to "Yankee imperialism," admitting that this is a disadvantage and announces that the writer waits for the "last word" before leaving in a plane to "save Bolivia and the whole South American continent from North American influence."

The Bolivian government promptly expelled the German ambassador and deprived the military attaché of his office and civil rights.

A CALL FOR PATRIOTS

There exists, it seems, an undercurrent of dissatisfaction about the extent of American rearmament.

One reason for this popular concern, we believe, is the lack of definite information about the defense program. This, however, seems to be more or less unavoidable.

Generally, it appears certain that the process of constructing planes, tanks, ships and equipment, the manufacture of guns, ordnance supplies and the procurement of supplies, as well as the training of an army, requires more time than some optimists thought when the defense program began.

A serious handicap has been the unfortunate division of public opinion, kept alive by the isolationists and those who hate the British and the Soviet government. The United States, it should be recalled, is attempting to do a war-time job under peace-time conditions, which is extremely difficult.

The time is close at hand when loyal Americans must give practical expression to the patriotism of nouns that the writer waits for more than lip service to the democracy plane to "save Bolivia and the

Money Talks

By Frederick Stamm, Economist
Director of Adult Education
UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Installment buying must be restricted, we are told. Americans have been buying too much on a "shoestring," and this must be stopped. The Federal Government is determined to curtail the use of consumers' goods so it will have more to pour into defense industries. It also believes this is a good way to put a curb on inflation. If we are going to buy automobiles, radios, washing machines, etc., from now on we must have more money in our pockets for down payments.

Just how large a down payment must we make to present plans? In the case of new and used automobiles we must pay one-third down and the remainder in eighteen months. The down payment on radios, household refrigerators, washing machines, and vacuum cleaners will be twenty per cent and the balance in eighteen months. If you buy a furnace or a stoker, or put in plumbing and sanitary fixtures, you must pay fifteen per cent down. It looks like the dollar-down-and-a-dollar-a-week era is gone.

How will the business man be affected? Under the proposed plan retailers as well as banks, finance, and loan companies will be subject to strict regulations.

Retailers will probably be given blanket licenses good until December 31, 1941, but thereafter they will probably have to apply for licenses. It will be well for all retailers doing installment sales business to contact their trade association, if they belong to one, or to have their Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce write to Washington in order that they may know the latest developments.

Extension of installment credit will greatly increase the paper work of retailers. All installment transactions will have to be evidenced by a written record including such items as a description of the article, price, down payment, balance, and terms of payment. All this will undoubtedly add to the cost of doing business.

Is it necessary to be a high school graduate in order to enlist in the Navy?

No. Navy enlistees need not be high school graduates. All applicants will be given an examination containing approximately 100 questions. A grade of 50 per cent or better on this examination is sufficiently high to pass the Navy educational standards. However, a high school education will be valuable to the seaman during his Navy enlistment.

If I enlist in the Navy or Naval Reserve, will I be sent to a Navy Trade School?

All new recruits are sent to one of four Naval Training Stations and after a training period they may take examinations for entrance into Navy Trade Schools. Those recruits who pass their examinations with sufficiently high grades are sent to Navy Trade Schools before assignment to the fleet. While attending these schools, they will receive regular Navy pay and free schooling valued at $1500.

What is the greatest possible pay I can expect to earn during my first term of enlistment? It is possible to earn as much as $126 a month by the end of your first term of enlistment, and remember that your clothing, lodging, medical and dental care are all supplied free.

After I have served my term of enlistment, what benefits do I get for re-enlistment?

Depending on your rate and length of service, you can get a cash bonus up to $300 plus 30 days leave with pay.

What does the term "ash can" mean in the Navy?

An "ash can" is a slang term applied to the depth charge used to combat submarines. The average "ash can" is a container filled with approximately 200 pounds of T.N.T. and can be dropped overboard from a ship and so controlled as to explode at depths ranging from 35 to 300 feet. These are generally carried by the fast ships in the fleet, as a boat dropping a charge regulated to explode at 70 feet depth must move away from the explosion area at a speed of 25 knots or more. These "ash cans" are either rolled off the stern or shot from "y-guns" which hurl one right and one left simultaneously.

99 WHEAT LOANS MADE

Ninety-nine loans have been made to Kentucky wheat farmers on their 1941 crops by the Commodity Credit Corporation, the State AAA office announces.

The loans totaled $73,646.69 on 33,957 bushels of wheat stored in approved warehouses. These loans are the first to be made on the grain under the new 85 per cent of parity loan law which has strengthened the market despite the record carry-over of wheat now in storage and this year's bumper crop.

The total number of loans for the nation made by the corporation on 1941 wheat up to August 6 is 12,987. These loans totalled $3,856,998 on 3,925,808 bushels of wheat.

ADMINISTRATOR OUTLINES DEFENSE WORK

The Agricultural defense effort will be concerned primarily with production and with adjustments in production, R. M. Evans, AAA Administrator, stated recently in outlining the job of AAA County Chairmen who head county Agricultural Defense Boards of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

"We are living in a time of swift change and we must be prepared to adapt our thinking and our action to the times," the Administrator urged.

The defense board task will be two-fold, Evans said. First will be specific defense projects of the department and second will be coordination of agricultural defense with agencies outside the department.

SEEDING RATES FOR 1942

AAA PROGRAM GIVEN

Minimum seeding rates for legumes and grasses adopted by the Kentucky AAA Committee for all farmers in the State qualifying for soil building payments in the 1942 Agricultural Conservation Program have been announced by the State AAA Office.

These rates are as follows: Alfalfa, 12 pounds per acre; red clover, 8 pounds per acre; alsike clover, 6 pounds; sweet clover (hulled), 10 pounds; sweet clover (unhulled) 20 pounds; crimson clover, 12 pounds; vetch, 15 pounds; sericea, 15 pounds; blue grass, 12 pounds; orchard grass, 10 pounds; redbud, 5 pounds; timothy, 8 pounds; reed canary grass, 10 pounds; rye grass, 15 pounds; and meadow fescue, 12 pounds.

No credit will be allowed for seedlings of lespedeza except when the lespedeza is part of a mixture or when it is seeded in perennial grasses, it is pointed out. When lespedeza is seeded alone in perennial grasses the minimum rate for credit is 12 pounds.

No credit will be allowed for seedlings of lespedeza except when the lespedeza is part of a mixture or when it is seeded in perennial grasses, it is pointed out. When lespedeza is seeded alone in perennial grasses the minimum rate for credit is 12 pounds per acre.

When most of the approved legumes and grasses are seeded as a mixture, the minimum amount of each type of seed is governed by the number of kinds of seeds in the mixture. If two types of seeds are used, the minimum rate for each is one-half the rate for that seed alone. If three types of seeds are used, the minimum for each is one-third of the rate for that seed when sown alone; etc. These rates for mixtures do not apply to crimson clover and vetch, however. These legumes must be seeded at the full minimum rates whether they are seeded alone or in mixtures.

Inoculation is required for seedlings of vetch for credit as soil building practice, and agronomists of the Kentucky College of Agriculture recommended inoculation for alfalfa and sweet clover.

AAA officials point out that these minimum rates may not be sufficient under certain conditions to insure a good stand. Where good farming practice indicates a need, they advise a heavier seeding.

WORLD PEACE HAS A PRICE, NO LESS THAN WAR

The Way To Peace Is Long and Hard and The Price To Be Paid Is High

The people of Fulton County, along with many millions of persons in the United States, are against war.

We desire peace because we know the futility of battle. We prefer the development of civilization, which means the unfolding of human personality, rather than the butchering of men on the red fields of carnage.

Certainly, every normal parent prefers to have boys grow into manhood without compulsory military service, made necessary by the brute strength of nations ready to use war as an instrument of national policy, and shrinks from the thought of youth trained to become cannon fodder.

How The World Missed Peace

Because we ardently desire world peace, and because world peace is not easily foreseen for the future, it behooves us to objectively examine the processes by which we have attempted to create a peaceful world and to seek the proper path for this nation, in order that world peace may bless all peoples and, particularly, those of us who live in this republic.

Experience since the last World War leads to the conclusion, which seems inevitable, that something broke down in the machinery that, it was hoped, would prevent another holocaust. The League of Nations, we readily admit, without our participation, could not be more than an association of European nations and the present conflict demonstrates beyond argument that it was insufficient.

American Sacrifices For Peace

Let us not make the mistake, in our thinking, of considering the first World War as a useless battle that cost the lives of millions of men. It determined that for more than twenty years, the powerful nations of the earth would have the chance to work out a procedure that might result in a more permanent peace. The work failed but one can hardly say that it failed because the nations did not seek to outlaw war.

The United States took a leading part in the development of a world sentiment against war. We were in the forefront of the disarmament conferences, making unparalleled contribution and junking hundreds of millions of dollars worth of warships.

We helped to engineer the Kellogg-Briand pact, under which the nations of the world agreed to outlaw war as an instrument of national policy. For many years we have frowned upon aggression, resolutely refusing to recognize territorial acquisitions made by force of arms.

Insulation, Isolation Impossible

For years the United States has taken the official position that, while we want a peaceful world, we will accept no commitment of any kind in relation to other nations, peacefully inclined or aggressively bent.

We told the world, in short, that we were big enough to sit behind the oceans and let the rest of the world solve its problems, which we asserted would not concern us.

The economic ills of the globe did not bother us. We felt confident that prosperity would be ours, even though the rest of the world went to the dogs. The misery of other people, their lack of buying power and the political discontent that inevitably followed their sufferings, was blandly ignored.

Recurring Wars or Permanent Peace?

Now, in the midst of a world shattering impact we are beginning to wonder whether we will again be compelled to fight for our national existence.

We are slowly pondering the possibility of peace, a just and ordered peace, and, for the first time, suspecting that if we fail to take a hand in arranging the world about us it will be set-up by those who advocate a new order that means death and destruction to our ideals, our democratic freedoms and, perhaps, the life of our nation.

Eventually, as somebody says, this war will end. Some day in the future the basis must be established upon which people will live on the same globe. Whether we get involved in the fighting, or not, we will have contributed mightily to the sum total cost of the decision reached.

No isolation saves this nation the immense cost of rearming, or protects it from the consequences of what is happening in other lands across the seas.

If we want peace, as a people and as individuals, surely we have now concluded that we must assume our national responsibility in a world that is becoming closer and closer every day.

Peace Has A Price, No Less Than War

Slowly, we say, the American people begin to understand the price that they must pay for world peace. For the assured privilege of raising our boys to become good men and great citizens, without facing the blight of war, we must contribute to the stability of the world. It is our world, after all, and we are not immune from its catastrophic calamities.

We offer no suggestion now as to what role this nation must assume in relation to other nations. It is certain that it cannot be one of affected aloofness, based upon the theory that we live apart from other peoples and that their misfortune is our gain.

A Few Questions For You

1. Is there anything wrong with your eyes, ears, nose or throat? If you have suffered defects of vision or hearing, have lost voice entirely, don't give up hope, but investigate Chiropractic.
2. Have you so-called Rheumatism, Pleurisy, Catarrh, Asthma, Bronchitis, Tonsillitis, Goiter, Paralysis, Epilepsy, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Piles, Insanity, Appendicitis or a Constant Headache? Chiropractic will adjust the cause and permit nature to bring about a cure.
3. Have you stomach, lung, heart, liver, kidney, bowel or bladder trouble?
4. Have you Sciatica, Gallstones or Diabetes? The results are wonderful. Try Chiropractic.
5. Perhaps you have stiffness in the joints in the arms or legs. This system is most effective.
6. Our methods not only stimulate, but eliminate the cause, thus permitting nature to perform her work. Health is the greatest blessing we can have.

MOVEMENT IS CHIEF ACTIVITY OF CAMP SHELBY

38th Division Field Headquarters, Cooper, La.—Movement has been the chief activity of the 38th division during opening weeks of Uncle Sam's greatest maneuvers and, according to Major General Dan I. Sultan, Division commander, may so continue for the remainder of the war games.
"Speed and efficiency in transporting a large body of troops with equipment and establishing them in a new camp are factors of tremendous importance in modern warfare," General Sultan said. His statement came as the Division completed a four-day rest period at this rest camp on the outskirts of Camp Polk, near Leesville, La.

In the field many soldiers, never before interested in books, have taken to reading. Meeting this new calls for books, the 38th has inaugurated a traveling field library, believed to be almost unique in the Army. Plans for this library, contained in a truck carrying more than 1,000 books in addition to magazines and writing materials, were worked out by the general and Col. Norman A. Nicolai, Indianapolis, Ind., chief of staff.

OCEAN-TYPE HULL ON STEAMER PRESIDENT CONTAINS 42 WATERTIGHT COMPARTMENTS

Applying principles of ocean vessel construction to a river steamer for the first time, the builders of the new all-steel luxury steamer "President," largest and finest excursion boat on the Upper Mississippi, divided its hull in 42 watertight compartments to assure the utmost safety for passengers. This is exactly the same number of compartments as in the hull of the famous "Queen Mary," Britain's largest vessel. As many as 11 of these could be flooded simultaneously without affecting the steamer's buoyancy. The President's ocean-type hull also contains the boilers, fuel tanks, turbo-generators and all auxiliary machinery, making the Main Deck open and unobstructed for use by passengers, another big advance in steamboat construction.

General Sultan was enthusiastic in his praise of the 38th's performance, as a part of Maj. Gen. Edmund L. Daley's Fifth Army Corps, in the Third Field Army's opening field problem, just completed. "It was the first time most of these men had seen tanks," he declared, "but their performance in meeting this new type of attack showed they were not terrified of a blitzkrieg."

NEW METHOD OF CURING SWEET POTATOES

The new fall style for curing sweet potatoes will be different from past practices. The streamlined method is the use of electric heat, reduced ventilation, and higher humidity, says W. C. Pelton, U-T Extension horticulturist.

In the past, the idea has been to put the potatoes in the store house, fire up the stove or furnace to heat the house to 85 or 90 degrees F., and open the doors and ventilators in an effort to dry the potatoes. That accounts for the term curing, or kiln drying.

Tests have shown that a more desirable method is to place the potatoes in the house as nearly at the same time as possible, warm them to 85 degrees, and hold the humidity as near saturation as possible without causing moisture to condense on the walls or ceiling. This can be accomplished by reducing the amount of ventilation. At the same time, there will be a reduction in fuel cost. Electrical heating is ideal for this, but of course, stoves can be used, Mr. Pelton states.

Improved curing methods will result in potatoes with properly healed cuts and breaks which are incident to digging and handling. In addition, there will be a higher percentage of repack, he says.

CUBA COLLECTS

FOOD PRICES AND THE PRICE OUTLOOK

Factory payrolls are 50 per cent greater than a year ago, and average earnings 23 per cent higher.

Earnings of employees in other industries average 6 per cent higher. Retail food prices have advanced only 7 per cent since June 1940 so per capita factory workers' wages increased 14 per cent in terms of food.

Compared with 1929 the factory worker as of June this year had 42 per cent greater food purchasing power; other workers 28 per cent higher.

Retail food prices are 20 per cent under 1929 levels and non-food items in cost of living index are within 12 per cent of 1929 levels—a disparity of 10 per cent.

Because of this, on an annual basis, consumers saved 13-4 billion dollars on their food bill.

Prices received by farmers are 24 per cent greater than a year ago.

Wholesale food prices are up 22 per cent in the year.

Today's retail food prices are extremely reasonable—but inevitably will rise because of:

1. Increase purchasing power—greater demand for shorter supplies;
2. Government policy—to secure high agricultural prices, laying for army, navy, and lend-lease program, food stamp plan, red cross, direct relief, school lunches, etc.;
3. Higher costs of doing business, higher labor cost, higher taxes, higher costs of supplies.

Price controls probably will be authorized; ceiling prices, controlled margins, credit regulation. Later probably broader tax bases, lower exemptions, high excise taxes, forced loans to government, new Social Security taxes—to restrict purchasing power and reduce demand to production levels.

But prospect is for higher prices—only question is: Can they be prevented from getting out of hand, bringing inflation?

Fall days will soon be here. With them come frequent weather changes, such as rain, snow, fog, mist, and ice, all of which contribute to hazardous driving conditions.

Now is the time to think about these things and to prepare yourself to cope with such conditions when you are behind the wheel.

A sudden squall of fog in a low dip in the road might be a death trap. If you are not prepared for this condition, if you are not aware of it, and if you do not know what to do when you meet it suddenly, you may be on the short end of a long ride. It doesn't take long to bury people. Be alert—face these conditions and meet them with some good safety judgment.

Funny how everybody still calls it the "Light" bill

"WELL, mom, here's the light bill for last month. Funny, isn't it, how we still call it the light bill! I can remember when it really was the light bill.

"Yes, I can remember when we were mighty proud to have just electric lights . . . and in those days we paid about as much every month as we do now, and all we got was light. Sometimes we weren't even too sure of that.

"But now it's different. For about the same amount of money we spent 10 to 15 years ago for lights alone, we now light the house a lot better and also wash and iron the clothes, vacuum the rugs, toast the bread, run the radio, and shave my face. That's what I call getting a lot more for your money."

Yes, most folks still call it the "light" bill. Maybe a better name for it would be the "living" bill, because modern electric service has helped make living a lot more pleasant. It has taken away a lot of drudgery and added a lot of enjoyment. And it has been doing these things for less and less money. This has been possible because business men have been running the electric companies in the American way of business operation. So long as free enterprise has the say-so you can look for progress and improvement in the customer's direction.

This company and the other electric companies under business management have one constant aim—to keep on giving you better and better service at less and less cost.

Yes, training that would be worth $1500 to you in one year's time. Training that will assure you of a well-paid job in civil life. Yet you get paid while learning—get your keep and a complete outfit of clothing free.

Where else in the world are there such opportunities for thrill, for fun, for a future as in Uncle Sam's Navy?
