THE LISTENING POST

● Somehow there does not seem to be much tragedy when a man on the order of the late W. A. Bell dies. There is sorrow, yes, for he was a man beloved by every person who knew him. He will be missed by one and all, it is true, and his going leaves the family with that light numbness which only the final separation can bring. I will miss him, although I saw him seldom, but in thinking of the busy fruitful years he enjoyed, of the many services he rendered humanity, of his many contacts which brought blessings to so many I can but feel that here was a life that had been lived to its fullest; a life that had been sweetened and made rich by countless deeds for others, and a life that closed as gently as the last dying note of a rich piece of music.

● For many years I have watched the lives of those men who live to extreme age and whose life continues after they have retired from active work. There are so many retired men who seem to miss the richness that can come when there is more leisure for associating with others, and who make life a sorrowful and mournful affair because they no longer are able to carry on the work they have done for many years. There are others who seem to come to full strength in those closing years, and Mr. Bell was one of those who seemed to really enjoy life far more than he ever did in the busy years when he worked at his occupation. Never have I seen or known a man who seemed to enjoy those years of rest and travel as did Mr. Bell.

● I did not see him—at any rate, I did not talk to him a great deal. Now and then he came into the office, and once in a great while I met him at some other place. I remember the last time I ever talked to him at length, and then I saw suddenly his gentle philosophy of life. On this occasion both of us were at the funeral of the late J. C. Cheek, who also lived to great age and never lost his youthful outlook. Mr. Bell and I discussed the life of Mr. Cheek and at the time he spoke of his own age. He laughed gently as he spoke of it. "I know I am an old man who is so old that he no longer has any interest in things and in people. I still have as much interest in doing things as I ever did, and I believe I am more interested in people than I was when much younger."

● I knew then that he was telling the truth, for I had observed him for a long time and knew perhaps more about him than many others did. I had always been particularly interested in the fact that, despite his age, he still traveled about the country and enjoyed his trips very much. Only a few years ago he made a trip to Hawaii, and I remember when he came back he told me a great deal about the trip. He spoke of it with as much interest as a much younger person might have had, and his observations were keen and understanding. He was well past eighty when he made that trip, and this one thing illustrates vividly how much interest he maintained in life up to his closing days. I remember also that only last year an excellent picture of him appeared in a Memphis newspaper and a story about him told of how many years he had driven an automobile without an accident.

● There is sorrow in his going, certainly, but his life was so well

United States Submarine Sinks Three Japanese Destroyers In North Pacific On July Fourth

Fourth Destroyer Is Set On Fire By Submarine Attack

SOUTHERN COOKING COSTS REDUCED TO PRICE CONTROL

Pure Lard Would Be High Without Control

Atlanta.—O. P. A. officials said today that price control is saving southern families an average of at least $8.32 a year on their biscuits, the fried chicken that goes with them and other cooking in their favorite style.

Ware Hutchinson, regional wholesale food specialist, served up these figures:

Last year the average consumption of pure lard in the United States was 14.4 pounds per person, but in the south-eastern states it was 21.5 pounds "because we fry more than other sections and bake southern biscuits."

The average retail price of lard in 1917 was 27.6 cents per pound, but under the present ceiling it's 17.9 cents.

"This means a saving of $2.08 per person a year," Hutchinson said, "or $3.32 per family of four."

117 ENROLLED IN CIVILIAN DEFENSE SCHOOL

One hundred and seventeen persons are now enrolled in the Civilian Defense school being conducted at the high school building by Robert J. Lamb. The class was held last night with the largest attendance ever had.

Yewell Harrison lectured to the group about the different types of bombs and how to control them. A movie was then shown by Lynn Askew which included three films of scenes on actual bombings of German fighters on London, showing how the people conducted their selves during the raids.

These classes will be held for four more weeks.

Washington.—The Navy announced today that United States submarines had sunk three Japanese destroyers in the Aleutian Islands July 4 and had left a fourth destroyer "burning fiercely."

A communique said:

"North Pacific area:

"1. On the Fourth of July U. S. submarine torpedoed four Japanese destroyers in the Aleutian Islands.

"2. Three of these destroyers were attacked in Kiska. Two were sunk and the third, when last seen, was burning fiercely.

"3. The fourth destroyer was torpedoed and sunk at Agattu where enemy transports and escorting vessels were located on July 2 and were attacked by Army bombers."

Today's Navy report raised Japan's losses in her efforts to establish occupation forces on the Western Aleutians to five ships sunk—three destroyers, one cruiser and one transport—and nine damaged, including an aircraft carrier.

All the attacks prior to the Independence Day submarine offensive had been made by Army and Navy aircraft which have been limited in their operations by the infrequency of favorable weather.

All the natives and the few white residents have been evacuated from the Western Aleutian Island and from the Pribilof Islands in the Bering Sea north of Dutch Harbor. William Zimmerman, Jr., assistant Indian commissioner, reported today that the evacuees, numbering somewhat less than 1,000, had been taken by the Navy to Juneau, Alaska, where the Indian Bureau had provided housing.

The Japanese landing at Attu, however, was said by Delegate Diamond of Alaska to have prevented the evacuation of the few residents of that island. There were no natives at Kiska, where the Japanese also have landed.

General Somervell Warns U. S. Of Grim Task Which Is Ahead

Lansing, Mich.—A nation at war had from Lieut. Gen. Brehon Somervell today a warning that "a grim and brutal task lies ahead" in fighting an enemy from whom "we've taken a terrific shellacking all around the globe."

Declaring that there is "entirely too much optimism about the ease with which we'll win this war," Somervell, chief of the Army's Service of Supply, told a group of Michigan industrialists last night:

"The public does not even now realize what a grim and brutal task lies ahead. This is not football game. We're fighting a fight where there are no holds barred. Every mother's son of us has got to get in there and pitch and really pitch. It's appalling what we still have to do." Gen. Somervell said he was "thrilled" by the magnitude of "the things that yet have to be done are appalling. You can't win today's battle with tomorrow's weapons."

Asked at a press conference if the United States had a weapon comparable to the 88-millimeter cannon used by Germany, Gen. Somervell said in language that amounted to:

"We have that weapon."

Senate Committee Approves Funds For Continuing Farm Program

Washington.—A Senate appropriations subcommittee today approved a resolution to continue funds for the Department of Agriculture through the month of July on the basis of appropriations for June.

The resolution, subject to approval of the entire committee Monday morning, would, if passed by both chambers of Congress, clear the way for the big department to meet its fortnightly payroll next Wednesday.

The department has been without funds since Wednesday, when the new fiscal year began and the House and Senate remained in disagreement on controversial sections of the $680,000,000 supply bill.

Farm state Senators hinted strongly that a substitute farm bill passed hastily by the House Thursday night be allowed to die in the Senate appropriations committee. Senator Russell (D-Ga.), floor manager for the farm fund, openly labeled the House action "unfair" and "almost contemptible" to the Senate.

Majority Leader Barkley said Congress should pass a simple resolution continuing last year's appropriations temporarily because "the department can't operate indefinitely without funds."

It has had none since the old fiscal year ended Tuesday midnight without agreement on the farm bill.

With forty-odd Senators absent from the capital over Independence Day, it was difficult to determine how the controversy might be affected by President Roosevelt's letter to farm, labor and religious leaders calling for a speedy settlement.

WAR DEPARTMENT MAPPING ROUTE FOR ALASKAN RAILWAY

Will Run 1300 Miles Along Canadian Coast

Washington.—The War Department is surveying a route for a proposed U. S.-Alaska railroad, running along the West Canadian coast for 1,300 miles to connect with present rail systems in Alaska, it was disclosed last night.

The department said the survey began early last spring and 400 miles of the route has already been located. Work on the Alaska portion is half completed.

The route follows one proposed by the Alaskan International Highway Commission up the Rocky Mountain trench between the mountains and the coast. The engineering corps is conducting the Canadian government which has allowed necessary materials to enter Canada duty free.

In recent testimony before the House appropriations committee Lieut. Gen. Brehon B. Somervell, commanding the Army's services of supply, outlined a four-fold transportation system to Alaska—sea, air, highway and railroad. The inland trans-Canadian highway is now under construction by the Army.

FIRST CADETS ARRIVE AT UNION CITY TRAINING FIELD

Union City, Tenn.—On Union City's new Embury Riddle Air Field, where three months ago there were 13 farms and as many houses and buildings, the first class of Army Air Force cadets started training Monday. The class arrived early Monday morning and was transported to the field in cars of citizens. The men came here from Maxwell Field, Ala.

They were assigned places in the barracks, issued flying equipment and made acquainted with the Army officers and the personnel of the Embury-Riddle Company, operating the field. Each cadet was given a routine medical check up.

Maj. Weldon James said that the men would be started on their ground school courses Tuesday and would receive some instructions on control of the Stearman trainer planes, which they will soon be flying. Additional trainer planes are expected to arrive this week from Maxwell Field.

CRUDE RUBBER PRODUCTION UP IN COLUMBIA

May Have Supply For Export To United States

Bogota, Colombia.—Increased collection of natural rubber in this republic, which formerly produced none for export, was reported as Colombia sought to increase her output of vital war materials.

The government recently took over dealings in crude rubber under a decree which will permit export after the needs of Colombia are filled.

5,000 Tons In '43 Seen
Dr. Rafael Camacho, rubber authority, estimated that Colombia would produce 2,000 tons this year and 5,000 tons in 1943, indicating some would be available for export to the United States.

The shipping shortage, which has cut down exports of coffee, Colombia's greatest cash crop, was paralleled by a scarcity of island transport—trucks and automobiles to supplement the railroads.

If cargo space is available Colombia hopes also to produce strategic metals and ore concentrates, a light wood to substitute for balsa, a fiber to replace lost sources of the East Indies, and surplur.

GROW VEGETABLES IN FLOWER BEDS

Onions, carrots and tomatoes are growing in many flower beds in Northern Kentucky cities, reports Miss Zelma Byerly, home demonstration agent in Kenton county. In many cases flower-bed gardens "are paying dividends," she adds. Owners of these gardens are asking Miss Byerly to tell them how to can and preserve vegetables and fruit. Some city families put up strawberries by substituting honey or corn sirup for a part of the sugar.

Nelson And Norris In Bitter Clash Over Proposed Plan To Manufacture Synthetic Rubber

Nelson Says Change To Farm Products Would Endanger Plan

BARKLEY SAYS CONGRESS ERRS IN ANY CASE

"Blamed If We Do—Blamed If We Don't"

Washington.—Senator Barkley, Democratic leader from Kentucky, thinks Congressmen might as well forget about trying to avoid criticism.

When a statement he made in the Senate about the possibility of having a thirty-day congressional recess by agreement brought objection from Senator Elbert D. Thomas, Utah Democrat, that such a recess would be "severely criticised," Barkley retorted:

"Of course we are criticised no matter what we do. If we adjourn or do not adjourn we will be criticised. There is no use of trying to avoid criticism for everything we do."

"I have become so used to criticism that I am like the country dog that frequently came to town, and when he did the boys would tie a can to his tail."

"Finally, he got so used to it that when he saw a tin can he simply backed up to it."

SCHOOL BOARD HOLDS MEETING LAST NIGHT

The Board of Education held a meeting last night at the school building and at this time Superintendent J. O. Lewis was instructed by the Board to receive bids on painting the inside of the high school building. It was decided that bids will be received on a new stoker for the heating system, after which possibility for this installation will be discussed, and Mr. Lewis was instructed to receive bids on coal for next year.

Reelections were made as follows—Bertie J. Pigue, secretary and treasurer of the board; Mrs. Chester Binkley, matron of the cafeteria; A. G. Baldrige, book dealer; and City National Bank, depositor for school funds.

The Board renewed the contract with the State Vocational Board of Education for participating in the Smith-Hughes home economics program, of which Miss Augusta Ray is teacher at Fulton High.

Mr. Lewis made a report on per capita for the coming year as being $1288, an increase of $237 in the budget. The Board accepted the auditor's report in regard to the income of the school district taxes.

A report was then given on the progress being made on the new Washington.—War Production Director Donald M. Nelson and Senator George W. Norris (Ind., Neb.), dean of Congress, clashed angrily Monday over proposed legislation to undertake production of synthetic rubber from farm and forest products.

Testifying before the Senate Appropriations Committee, Mr. Nelson denounced the proposal as "extremely dangerous" and said it would "interfere with, rather than help" the synthetic program.

The 82-year-old Senator Norris, who is serving his 39th consecutive year in Congress, retorted angrily that he favored the bill because Mr. Nelson was "doing nothing" about increasing rubber stocks through the use of farm products.

Collections Heartening
"That is a very unfair and untrue statement," the director shot back. "I hold you in such deep respect as a senator that I don't like to have you make statements like that about me and the organization of which I am head."

The set-to coincided with heartening scrap rubber collection news from the White House. It said that as of July 3, collections totaled 334,349 tons. This was an increase of 52 per cent over the June 29 figure of 218,998 tons which President Roosevelt described as "disappointing" and which prompted him to extend the salvage campaign for 10 days.

He will serve as commander of the cadet detachment, which is made up of 104 cadets.

He will receive his commission as second lieutenant on August 8th.

school building. It was reported that all material is now on hand, the paint has been ordered and the workers are ready to begin work on the fire wall above the second story.

Gas Rationing Is Certain Unless More Rubber Is Found In Search

Washington.—Interior Secretary Ickes today dropped a broad hint that nationwide gasoline rationing would be necessary unless more rubber was contributed to the scrap pile.

In telegrams to the mayor of principal cities, Ickes said "results reclaimable rubber collections to date indicate the public generally does not appreciate the urgency of the campaign."

He added that "collections so far have not been sufficient to eliminate the necessity for rubber conservation measures which we would like to avoid."

"I earnestly request that you emphasize to all in your community that the rubber which we fall to collect in this campaign might be the rubber that would have made a raft to save the life of some American flyer in the Pacific, or which might have gone into the tires of a plane to bomb the enemy."

He suggested that in addition to public appeals the mayor could help by initiating collections by their city governments.

"Federal agencies are doing this at the suggestion of the President," he said, "and I have asked Governors of all states to initiate similar contributions in the form of worn tires and tubes, rubber stamps, discarded hose, seat pads and all other rubber articles which property can be spared for critical military needs."

"Every effort is needed to insure success during the current ten day extension period authorized by the President."

THE FARM BLOC NOW DEFIES THE NATION

The House farm bloc is now in open opposition to the Senate and the Administration in its determination to hold the Nation's swollen stocks of grain frozen and useless unless it can enforce their sale at not less than parity prices.

Agricultural economists, livestock producers, the Secretary of Agriculture and the President himself all have testified that the sale of grain for livestock feed must be at a price which will enable stock raisers to increase production at a reasonable profit. The Nation's warehouses and grain elevators are overflowing with wheat and corn and a serious storage problem looms before the producers of this year's crops. But we are faced on the other hand with a potential inadequacy in the supply of meats and fats, and with a still inadequate supply of eggs, poultry, pork and beef.

In spite of these easily demonstrable facts, in spite, even, of the recession of the Senate's farm bloc from its former demand for parity prices, the farm Congressmen in the House have arrogantly held up action on the $680,000,000 appropriation bill until their demand is granted. The Department of Agriculture already has been without funds for two days on this account.

Now the President has found it necessary to warn these extraordinarily shortsighted men that the people will hold them personally responsible for the food shortages which must develop if their point is won.

It is almost impossible to understand the attitude of mind which so grimly places a sectional interest ahead of the national good. The investment of the wheat and corn farmer is well protected by the 85 per cent of parity price which the disputed bill will pay them. Even this price raises the cost of fodder to a dangerous height, but the demand of the farm Congressmen for full parity would send the costs of meat and milk production to prohibitive heights. Lean Henderson already has blamed the first serious breach of ceiling prices upon the tactics of the farm bloc. Undeterred by this, the Congressmen continue determined to win this even more serious point, in serene

The naval conference which is being held in Geneva between the United States, England and Japan, appears to have reached an impasse, with disputes over tonnage to be allocated to the three great naval powers. disregard of the important national issues thereby involved.

The costs of food, the confusion of price control, the perilously rising cost of living are all traceable in some degree or other to the determined selfishness of this same group of men. It is to be hoped that the President is right and that the people themselves will show equal determination in November never again to let such outrageous pressure tactics dictate the Nation's course in crisis.—Courier-Journal.

BOY, 13, LOST SIX DAYS IN WOODS, FOUND SAFE

Potsdam, N. Y. — A six-day search for Glen Ford Debiaw, St. Regis Falls, ended today—his 13th birthday—when he was found five miles from where he disappeared into the Adirondack woods last Tuesday.

Game Protector Herbert Reed found the lad, emaciated and exhausted after wandering through the forest eating berries and sleeping under trees while state police and searchers combed a twenty-five mile area for him.

LIVESTOCK HELPS OUT IN DAVIES

The livestock industry continues to increase in importance in Daviess county, says County Agent J. E. McClure. There are more beef cattle, dairy cattle, hogs and sheep. W. J. Foster founded a herd of Angus six years ago, and now has nearly 100 head, about a third of which are registered. Ten steers from the herd topped the market this spring. Mike Ebelhar, after three years of testing, has increased production in his dairy herd to 300 pounds of butterfat a cow. A bull from a cow that produced 800 pounds of butterfat in one year was recently added to the herd.

SAVE EVERY BIT OF RUBBER, WOMEN TOLD

Re-emphasizing the need to save for the county salvage committees every bit of scrap rubber not urgently needed, Miss Myrtle Weldon, state leader of county home demonstration work in Kentucky, calls attention to the following figures released by national officials:

On the B-19 planes, the flying fortresses, the bullet-proof gas tanks require 1,200 pounds of rubber.

Each tire on the main landing wheel of the B-19 bomber weighs half a ton.

In a battleship, there are 150,000 pounds of rubber, as much as in 10,000 auto tires.

This merely shows how much the government needs rubber for war. Much reconditioned can be used for vital national needs, so that "fresh" rubber can go solely for war. Discarded overshoes or boots, rings for cans, atomizers, etc., may be contributed.

Dr. Que stopped here yesterday on a good-will tour of the nation.

The V Means Something

Yes, the V means something—it means Victory, no matter what the cost. The Old Gentleman who shows in the background with his sleeves rolled up also means something—he means the personification of might and power which will bring victory.

Our business is helping people own homes and we have been working at this for a long time. Right now we urge you to take proper care of your home; if you need money for this we can help you. SPORT TALK

The famous grudge tournament at the Country Club is at last decided, and as far as this column knows, the losers will now serve a barbecue dinner to the winners. It will be remembered by the several readers of this casual column that it was believed the issue would be settled with one match, and two weeks or more ago, when Capt. Joe Hall smashed Capt. Davis' team 22 to 18, plans were tentatively made for the dinner. Then President Buck Bushart, who happened to be on the losing side, decided that a matter of such grave importance should not be decided by one match and ruled that it should be decided by the best two out of three. After spirited argument, Capt. Hall finally agreed, and so last Sunday his team again won—this time by three points instead of four. President Buck began to talk at once of setting the matter by adding up the total points for three matches, and this view was ably seconded by Ward McClellan, who also happened to be on the losing side. However, after these two saw they were getting nowhere very rapidly, President Buck said that he believed a rib supper was indicated, and this will be served at no very distant date. It is believed. It was pointed out by various players that several might be called to army service before many weeks and so the rib supper may be served some time soon.

Hugh Mac McClellan served notice on all that he will probably be ready to defend his city title this year by firing a neat 78 in Sunday's match. On his first round he had even 40, but came strongly on the final nine to card a 38. But for a streak of hard luck on Number Eight of the final round he might have given par a beating, for on this short par four hole he registered a six. On his eighteen holes he had three birdies and seven pars.

Charley Fritts, a Union City shotmaker, started out like a flame with a 38 on the outgoing nine, but cooled off with a 42 on the incoming round to card an 80 for the eighteen holes. Two bogies on the last two ruined his chances for medal honors. Jack Moore was another who found the last two holes a barrier for a good score. Going into Number Seven of the final round he held even par, but lost three to par on the last three holes to card a 39, after a disastrous 42 on the first nine. Buck Bushart, after bowing to Fritts in the first round, with a 42 against a 38, fought back in the final nine to tie the match. He carded a 40 on the final nine against 42 for his opponent. Ernest Fall, carded a 40 in the opening nine, but slipped to 42 in the last round, but had easy going against David Homra, who soared to 90 for the eighteen holes. Leslie Weeks, who plays golf very little, but who manages to shoot quite steadily, fired an 83 to wind up among the leaders. He managed a tie with Bud Davis, although Bud's medal score was three points better. Bud dropped the first round when Leslie fired a 40 against his 45, but in the final round Bud, while shooting 41 against 43, managed to get only a tie out of the match, with each player winning a point each.

The largest crowd which has gathered at the Country Club was present yesterday, with 28 players taking part in the tournament, along with several foursomes not in the match. There were many visitors about the grounds watching the players come in, and interest was keen in the scores as they were reported. Another sort of match will be held in the near future, as it is not likely that many out of town matches can be arranged this year. There appears to be considerable interest in the club matches, and it is likely that the last half of the season will see several new members of the club.

SUGAR RATION MAY BE INCREASED

Further studies of the sugar situation to determine whether prospects for our future supplies will now make possible a moderate increase in the sugar ration, are being made by the Office of Price Administration.

While final decision on any increase will depend principally upon prospects for shipments of sugar from Puerto Rico and Cuba during the coming six months, the decision will also be influenced by additional information which is now becoming available on actual distribution under rationing.

OPA officials stated flatly that the stocks of sugar now on hand in the United States, even though somewhat greater than they had been able to count on, do not of themselves justify any increase in the ration. They declared that the invisible supply in the hands of consumers and others today is 50 per cent less than a year ago; that stocks held by primary distributors are 20 percent below last year's, and that the total sugar stocks on hand in the country are one-third less than we had at this time in 1941.

"The real question," officials said, "is how much sugar is going to be brought in from the Caribbean area. Despite advance uncertainties, receipts were fairly good in April and May. If we can safely plan on a continuation of this improved situation, we will feel justified in liberalizing the sugar ration without danger of creating a new shortage that will require a later pinching down of the ration to below even present levels."

Information is now being received which within 10 days or two weeks will furnish a basis for a more reliable estimate of consumption under the rationing program than has been possible heretofore.

A distorted picture of our available sugar supply has been created within the past few days by widespread reports of bulging sugar warehouses. OPA officials said. This situation, it was explained, is created by the necessity for unloading of sugar ships in southern ports not equipped to handle such volume of commodities. Substantial quantities of sugar are being shipped to such great metropolitan areas as New York and are moving by rail from southern ports instead of directly from the Caribbean by boat as in normal times.

Other factors make the available supply appear larger than it actually is, and these must be carefully discounted as factors in any ration change. Important among these is the fact that all sugar distributors from the wholesaler on down to the retailer, due to rationing itself, are carrying much smaller inventories than in normal times, and the household larger itself contains less than in pre-ration days. Sugar normally found in this "invisible" storage now occupies commercial storage space but not constitute additional stock.

"The result of these abnormal factors is that the storage of sugar is becoming a growing problem, but they do not alter the fact that the total amount of sugar on hand in the country at the present time is far below normal," OPA officials said.

Another Year Counted Out!

The month of July marks our anniversary for it was 34 years ago this month that the Browder Milling Company came into existence. While this firm did not "grow-up" and flourish overnight, we are proud of our record of service in this community. It is gratifying to look back over 34 years of service wherein we have enjoyed the confidence and good will of a majority of the people.

So on the brink of a new year in business, we believe it fitting to look beyond the uncertainty which war brings and find time to say THANK YOU for your loyalty during these years. In the months that lie ahead may we continue to merit your confidence.

BROWDER MILLING CO.

ON GUARD!

Along thousands of miles of coast lines, in lonely country areas and crowded cities, our men and guns are on guard to see that our land is defended against all foes.

At home it is our duty to conserve and protect the things we have. Insurance is one of the safeguards which provides this protection. Let us help plan your protection.

And in the meantime, all of us need to buy all the War Bonds we possibly can. In that way we who stay at home are providing the things for our men to use in battle.
