Six Dead In City Of New Orleans Crash With Gas Truck At Magnolia

The streamliner "City of New Orleans," speeding toward Chicago at nearly 80 miles per hour with its whistle blowing smashed into a gasoline truck today, killing six and injuring six others.

The nine-car passenger train rammed the truck at a crossing in downtown Magnolia, a community of about 2,200 in South Mississippi about 100 miles north of New Orleans.

The truck exploded under the impact, spewing flames as high as the trees and the length of the train. The big diesel engine, skidded about 300 yards along the track that splits the center of the town before stopping.

Among the dead were the train's engineer and fireman—J. A. (Jimmy) Livingston of McComb, Miss., and John Collins of Jackson, Miss.—and the truck driver, Morris Piggott, operator of a small store near McComb.

The others killed were identified as Bobby Gwin of Magnolia, a white man who worked in the freight yards, and two Negroes unloading grain from freight cars—Honey Jones and Charles Hughes, both of Magnolia.

Early estimates placed the dead as high as nine, but the Illinois Central claims agent said he could account for only six.

The collision took place at a downtown intersection about 9 a. m., less than two hours after the streamliner left New Orleans. It was due in Chicago at 11:40 p. m.

The train depot is in the heart of town and small shops, stores and offices line both sides of the street. The track itself is on a small neutral ground.

Speeds near 80 are not unusual, IC spokesmen said, even when passing through small communities like Magnolia. The city is not even a flag stop, they said.

There is a red-and-white sign warning motorists to stop at the crossing, but there are no flashing lights or cross bars.

The streamliner was equipped with a "dead man's pedal" which automatically stopped the train when the engineer lifted his foot from it.

Note Book

January is a time for contemplation, at least it always has been in my life and I've been doing some serious thinking about the years gone by. As far back as I can remember something eventful has happened in January to me and my family, sometimes sad and sometimes happy, too! For instance it was in January that we first learned that we were going to be parents of our first born, and Mary Jo was born in January and so was Paul. We first found the Fulton County News listed in a trade publication in January and Paul departed from Manila in 1946 to come home after three years of overseas war service. . . . In World War Two, not the Civil War as his fatigue makes him look sometimes; me too, for that matter.

Both Paul and I had operations in consecutive Januaries for what we thought might have been long illnesses. (they weren't as you notice) and it was in January that Paul received his call to enter the service in those dark days of World War II.

But January has meant something else to us since we came to Fulton and its been a time when those of us at the News and WFUL start looking back on the year just past to review the accomplishment of an individual or individuals who have contributed a great deal to their community and in some small way we have honored them by bestowing on them the grateful title of Citizen of the Year.

For the past two years we have been engaged in some extracurricular activities that kept us out of the city a great deal and prevented us from doing the research and the promotion of such an undertaking and in its place has come a similarly rewarding endeavor of the American Legion to name the Favorite Person of Fulton. Two wonderful Fultonians have been honored in this latter reward and of course it would be somewhat of a duplication for two such events to be held.

So many Fultonians have done so much for Fulton in the years past, and so many are doing so much every day of the year. How nice it would be if we could crown with single glory all those persons who work tirelessly, unheralded and without compensation for the things all of us enjoy. However, it would be nice if we could review all these activities, and in the judgment of a qualified committee honor one individual, or individuals, who could sort of represent all those people who work for their communities.

The Citizen of the Year Award has been staged with some fanfare, there's no doubt about it. It brought some distinguished people to Fulton who might not have come had it not been for the person so honored. We do give a loving cup and we, have always thought it was a nice reminder of a happy occasion to a person who deserved it. We have honored these people in all humility and would like to do it again, but do not want to infringe on the prerogative of the American Legion. I hope you understand what I mean.

Do you think it would be a good idea if the News, WFUL and the American Legion joined in this effort this year. Please let us know.

To The World He's Army Secretary, But Elvis Stahr Is A Friend

By Jo Westpheling

This is a story written in the first person about a person whom I am privileged to call a friend. I cannot presume to call him a close, personal friend because the occasions have been too few when I have had the pleasure of being in his company and enjoying his incomparable personality and ability.

That person is Elvis Stahr, Jr.—Dr. Elvis Stahr, Jr. really—and I first met him several years ago when he honored all of us by being the principal speaker at a Farm Bureau meeting in Fulton. I don't recall the year right now, but this brilliant man was young—er then and already he had achieved his place in the world as a scholar, a University dean, and one of America's ten outstanding young men.

I remember his greeting when we were introduced. He said: "I am a subscriber to your newspaper and I feel that I know you quite well." He asked how we

Workers Needed For Crusade In Mother's March

An urgent plea for Mothers' March volunteers for the New March of Dimes was issued today by Mrs. Morgan Omar, Fulton chairman in charge of the house-to-house drive.

"We need more volunteers to give an hour of their time for our Mothers' March on Jan. 31," Mrs. Omar said. "We need additional workers from every section of the county, and we need them urgently."

The civic leader said that the Mothers' March for the New March of Dimes is the greatest single volunteer effort put forth by the women of America for any cause.

"More than a million women march each year to help The National Foundation raise funds in its battle to prevent crippling diseases—birth defects, arthritis and polio," she stated.

"These women give gladly of their time because they know how vital March of Dimes programs can be to the 250,000 children born in this country each year with significant birth defects, to the 11,000,000 Americans suffering from arthritis and rheumatism and to the tens of thousands of polio patients who still need National Foundation help.

"Please say YES to our plea for volunteers and march to prevent crippling diseases by calling me at number 1872."

Southern Bell Purchasing 125 Poles From KU In South Fulton System

Southern Bell Telephone Company is spending approximately $22,000.00 to improve and expand facilities in Fulton and South Fulton, The News learned this week.

Improvements include installation of cables in South Fulton to provide service for the new Orchard Drive Sub-Division, which will eliminate all excess drop wires running between poles.

The telephone company is not buying approximately 125 poles from Kentucky Utilities Company, the reason being that Southern Bell lines are located on this number of K. U. poles in South Fulton, which now is being served by TVA power. Buying the poles from K. U. will eliminate Southern Bell from having to put up their own poles in these places.

"The telephone company is not buying nearly all of K. U.'s poles, according to Mr. Hayes, and K. U. will remove all other poles not needed in the service of their customers in South Fulton. (K. U. still has customers on the Tennessee side of the twin-cities.)

"The additional cables being added by Southern Bell will provide additional facilities to serve customers on the Mayfield Highway, the Highlands area and the new McDade Sub-Division beyond Highlands on the Middle Road."

In the McDade Sub-Division, the other owns poles in another section, etc.

Brooks Crockett, superintendent of WCMEs, Martin, which serves South Fulton with TVA power, told The News that while stringing the WCMEs lines they had placed them whenever they could on telephone company poles. Whenever they couldn't, they put up their own poles.

According to Mr. Hayes, telephone service is growing in the twin-cities of Fulton and South Fulton. During the year 1960, a total of 135 telephones were added in the twin-city area.

Lions Club To Take Over Radio Auction For City Park Beautification Project

The familiar chant of the auctioneer will be heard again next week over Radio Station WFUL, but it will be for another good cause. Beginning Monday at nine-thirty a. m. Colonel Charlie Burrow and his all-girl band of workers, assisted by the members of the Lions Club of Fulton will auction off everything from soup to wagon wheels, but the proceeds will go to the Fulton City Park for a special beautification and landscaping project.

This year the annual auction for the March of Dimes Fund drive was also broadcast "live" from Hickman, Kentucky and all persons in that area have been given the opportunity to have a radio auction of their own, bringing in more items and bidders. Mrs. Paul Westpheling, general manager of Radio Station WFUL, and chairman of the Fulton County Chapter for the National Foundation issued this statement today:

"The radio auction to raise funds for the annual March of Dimes has been enthusiastic and successful this year as it has in the past. The success this year has been attained with the cooperation of many persons, and with the help of the Fulton Lions Club. The members of the club have made solicitations from the various merchants and friends for items to auction, and have helped greatly in distributing the literature and other material connected with the drive. For their help the Fulton County Chapter for the National Foundation is deeply grateful and turn about is fair play.

"Since the Lions Club had under advisement a money-raising fund to beautify and landscape the fast-growing City Park and since a radio auction is a popular and entertaining way to raise funds I agreed as chapter chairman, and manager of the radio station to curtail our auction for polio and permit the Lions Club to use the fourth week of the auction time for their project.

"The drive to obtain funds to beautify the park has absolutely no connection with the March of Dimes. We simply decided to use only three weeks for the polio drive and one week for the city park, and those persons who had planned to donate items for the March of Dimes are under no obligation to donate those items to the Lion's Club Park Beautification project.

"However, the Fulton City Park is being used more and more by the communities around us and to have a beautiful and well equipped recreation area is the pride of all of us."

The workers who have so faithfully worked at the Fulton auctions, and driven daily to Hickman for those auctions have agreed to work at the auction for city park funds, and moreover every member of the Lions Club has assumed an important post in making the city park drive a success.

On Monday, January 30 the South Fulton polio committee will use the facilities of the station for the Obion County National Foundation chapter and on January 31, the auction will wind up with funds derived going to the Fulton County Chapter.

Meanwhile polio coffees are being held in many homes in the area, the teen-agers are planning a road block for the next two Saturdays and the Derby Cafe is working on a coffee for Monday, January 30 with proceeds to go to the polio auction. The "live" broadcast from Hickman has been a tremendous success and the residents there were grateful for the service rendered so that they could more easily bid and furnish items for the auction.

The Case Of Tom Smith And The Union

We received in the mail this week a vitriolic editorial signed by a "Tom Smith", editor of something called "Action in Kentucky", wherein the writer takes heated issue with Governor Bert Combs for allegedly "bowing to union bosses" in calling off a non-union repair job on the Governor's mansion in Frankfort.

Smith, apparently, is vociferously anti-union and is prepared to call anybody most anything in order to demonstrate his point.

In the first place, we do not believe that Governor Combs is ruled by any bosses—union or not. He has a mind of his own and asserts it as often as the situation warrants. For this he has come to be admired by thousands of Kentuckians during his first year in office.

In the second place, the Governor does not personally let building contracts nor does he have the time or inclination to examine them. His concern over their execution arises only when some trouble arises, such as possible picketing due to non-union labor. Since this would have affected the house he lives in, we don't blame him for remarking that "having the repairs done is not worth stirring up a labor-management dispute around my living quarters".

In the third place, we wonder if writer Smith asked the Stivers Brothers Construction Company whether or not they were unhappy over cancellation of their contract. We understand that they were not.

In the fourth place, Union men have a perfect right to voice their objection to affairs of Government; they pay taxes just like you do, Mr. Smith. If the Governor doesn't want any trouble around his house, we don't blame him. We wonder if Mr. Smith insists on non-union repairmen around his own house, or hires non-union printers for his publication ???

Something Must Be Wrong At Monticello

The Somerset (Ky.) Journal, noting that Monticello, Ky. has completed arrangements to buy electric power wholesale from TVA, stated in an editorial of December 29th that a 13 per cent reduction in rates will result from such arrangement.

Maybe the citizens of Monticello should come look at the new TVA-supplied community of South Fulton. According to many of the householders and businessmen that The News has talked to in South Fulton, rates are down approximately 50 per cent here since TVA power has begun serving that community.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

A Home In The Suburbs

By Edgar L. Harden, President,
Northern Michigan College

A recent graduate declared: "My ambition in college was to get a sound education so that I could get a good job to support a family and build a home in a quiet suburban community."

In a world confronted with deep economic and social dilemmas, the majority of our students would apparently like to escape to "a home in the suburbs."

TODAY'S GRADUATES have benefited from an education unknown to any generation of students before them. Now when our leadership—indeed our national survival—is being challenged as never before in history, many of our graduates seem unwilling to support the goals upon which we have built our American way of life.

Studies in over 100 colleges during the past 15 years reveal students as deeply self-centered, bent on security and comfort. They want to see a world of peace and justice, but they won't join any crusade to work for this end.

WE NEED men and women who are willing to stand up and be counted. It takes courage to take a stand on the issues that confront the free people of the world. But, surely, society has a right to expect that from us to whom much has been given, much will be returned.

As good citizens earnestly trying to live good lives, we have certain responsibilities if we are to live life at our best.

AMONG THEM: If we believe that we have benefited from a good education, it is up to us to see that others share those educational opportunities. If we demand better schools for our children, we must be willing to pay higher taxes to support education.

If we demand good government for our cities, states and nation, we must recognize—that wise and honest government is the product of wise and honest citizens—and nothing else.

If we demand that crime be punished, we must support honest enforcement in our cities without any personal privileges or exceptions for ourselves.

If we demand freedom of worship for ourselves, we must respect the right of other creeds.

If we demand freedom of speech, we must not suppress it in others.

If we really believe that in a profound sense all men are created equal, then we must do everything we can to prevent the recurrence of "the tragedy of Little Rock."

Thomas Paine pointed out that "those who reap the blessings of liberty must, like men, undergo the fatigue of supporting it."

THE DEEPEST satisfactions in life result from meeting our responsibilities. Much has been given. Much is expected in return.

100 Years Ago This Week

An Historical review of THE CIVIL WAR DAY-BY-DAY (Material is from publication of exactly one hundred years ago; original wording from references in the Library of Congress, Washington. Reporting in the papers was usually very one-sided; we seek to be fair in coverage and preserve a national balance . . . ED).

BY WILLIAM H. McHENRY

American greeted the new year of 1860 . . . one hundred years ago . . . with the worst kind of misgivings. It was about three months until South Carolina militia would bombard Ft. Sumter and ignite the already smoldering Civil War.

But in January of that year, no one in the land could tell what the future would bring. Pessimists looked ahead to the time when all the southern states, including Maryland, Kentucky, western Virginia (there was no West Virginia then) and Missouri would secede from the Union. Delaware might even secede, and New York City might become a free city.

If Maryland seceded, then the North would lose Washington City, the Nation's capital. The Washington CONSTITUTION printed a letter from Ex-Governor John Reynolds of Illinois in which he said: "There is no earthly power that can prevent a union of the slave states in this struggle for their lives and existence . . . (if Washington goes south) . . . I hope, but I do not believe, the Northern States will save the Union by agreeing to abide by the compact made in the Constitution by their forefathers."

Said one editorial: "The New Year dawns upon a broken Union . . . upon hostile sections of a common country . . . upon public credit blasted, enterprise paralyzed, all commerce at a standstill. It comes laden with danger . . . pregnant with promise of strife and ruin. It brings us face to face with stern reality."

In Washington the Commissioners from the seceded State of South Carolina had delivered an ultimatum: "The United States must evacuate the fort in the territorial waters of South Carolina, had delivered an ultimatum: 'The United States must evacuate the fort in the territorial waters of South Carolina, or the new nation will fight.'"

President Buchanan asked his steal of some $800,000 in Indian Tribal bonds from the treasury department.) Floyd was never fully investigated, he was never tried, and therefore we must assume, in all fairness, to remember that according to our ideals (not always carried out) "He is innocent until proven guilty."

Unfortunately for the Nation, both North and South, the affair backfired to the discredit of the South. When the Civil War started, Floyd was made a Major-General in the Confederate Army. He was in command of Ft. Donaldson with 22,000 Confederate troops when Grant appeared before the fort with only 15,000 Union soldiers. Floyd's first thought was of self-preservation. He said to his subordinates: "If they catch me, they'll hang me." He fiddled with time until the Union forces outnumbered him, then resigned. The second-in-command also resigned. It was up to the third-in-command, Buckner, to surrender the Fort. Some Confederate troops refused to surrender and escaped. Floyd crossed the river in a small boat and got away. The men the South lost at Ft. Donaldson could easily have turned the tide at any latter battle, for almost never again did the South have numerical superiority in a fight.

But back to the first weeks of 1861. The various states in the South were considering secession. What should they do? Union sentiment in those states were sick of the faint-heartedness of the Administration in Washington.

In South Carolina the people had taken a second look at secession. Said a reporter from Charleston: "The people here have appeared not so jolly as usual."

Most southern states had set dates for a vote on secession.

In Delaware, the citizens of Wilmington fired a salute of 21 guns to honor Major Anderson and his men. (Delaware would furnish the powder for the guns of the North.)

And in the North, "Massachusetts says she will respond with troops as soon as they are called for by the Federal Government." The motto there was: "Sustain the Union and the laws."

Civil War Celebrated Nationally 1961-'65

Kentucky will be a major participant in the national celebration of the Civil War Centennial, 1961 through 1965.

The Blue Grass state has many landmarks, battlesights, memorials and homes dating back to the great struggle between the states. Two of the more notable memorials are Lincoln Memorial National Historical Park near Hodgenville, and Jefferson Davis Monument in Fairview.

Lincoln Memorial is a park dedicated to the memory of Abraham Lincoln, "the Great Emancipator", and Civil War President of the Union. Within the park is a stately granite structure which houses the cabin where Lincoln was born. The 56 steps leading up to the memorial mark the life span of the great liberator.

The picturesque split-rail fences, winding their way through the park grounds, lead an atmosphere reminiscent to the Lincoln era. Other attractions at the park are the huge "boundary oak", estimated to be over 300 years old and the souvenir shop, where souvenirs of the Lincoln age may be purchased.

Standing in Fairview is a tow-

Vanderford Found Guilty; Given Fine And Jail Term

A South Fulton Negro, charged with driving while intoxicated, sought last Wednesday morning to have the charge dismissed on grounds that Negroes were excluded from the list of men from which the grand jury that returned the indictment was selected.

Judge E. A. Morris of Obion overruled the motion and declared that any plea in abatement in the case should have come during the September term of court when the defendant, F. M. Vanderford, sought and was granted a continuance in his case.

Judge Morris then informed the attorneys for the Negro that there was a number of Negroes in the courtroom and that the defense had three challenges on the trial jury.

"If you use your challenges I'll allow you to bring around and examine these Negroes as possible jurors," Judge Morris said. The defense made no such move.

The trial jury Wed. afternoon found Vanderford guilty of the charge. The Negro was fined $50 and cost, sentenced to serve 10 days in jail, and his driver's license was revoked for 6 months. His attorney said they planned an appeal.

The case stimulated unusual interest when Louis McHenry, a Negro attorney from Hopkinsville, Ky., appeared in court to assist in Vanderford's defense. Longtime members of the legal profession there said McHenry was the first Negro attorney to plead a case in Obion County Circuit court since the appearance of Alexander Looby, Negro attorney of Nashville, who represented a Negro man in a divorce trial about 20 years ago.

McHenry made the motion for the plea in abatement but the cross-examination of state witnesses in the case was handled by Robert Fry of Union City.

Vanderford, funeral home operator in South Fulton, was arrested in May, 1960, after officers testified his car ran a stop sign and that he was under the influence of an intoxicant when car was stopped by South Fulton police.

Vanderford took the stand in his own defense shortly before noon last Wednesday.

Farm News, Meetings, Events

(Ed's note: the following information, supplied THE NEWS by the USDA, ASC, nearby County Agents and agricultural agencies will be of special interest to progressive farmers in the Kent-Tenn area):

FHA'S PLACE IN AGRICULTURAL CREDIT

BY

Howard O. Paschall,
County Supervisor, Farmers Home Administration

An important supplement to private and cooperative agricultural credit is provided in loans made by the Farmers Home Administration. The Farmers Home Administration is an agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture using federal funds appropriated by Congress each year. The primary objective of the FHA is to supplement private credit and to provide adequate, long-term credit that cannot be met by local private or cooperative agricultural lending agencies.

In today's farming program, there is an ever increasing need for long-term credit for the small farm operators. They are faced with the problems such as repair or construction of new homes, construction of pole barns, providing safe water supplies for the family and livestock enterprise, repair or building of milk barns, purchase of bulk milk tanks and pipeline milkers. Of course, these are only a few problems they are confronted with.

The Farmers Home Administration provides services to help solve some of the problems listed above with engineering aid and long-term loans in line with the families ability to repay.

The main office of the Farmers Home Administration for this area is located at Mayfield in the courthouse building. This office serves, Calloway, Carlisle, Fulton, Graves, Hickman, and Marshall Counties. Inquiries or applications may be made at the Mayfield office or at the part-time offices which are located at Benton, Bardwell, Clinton, Hick-

TEST SOIL FOR MAXIMUM PRODUCTION

It is just good business and sound agriculture to have your soil tested before you start a new crop. This is especially true, if the soil has not been analyzed within the last two seasons.

Did you know that it takes; 150 pounds of nitrogen, 23 pounds of phosphorus, 72 pounds of potash, about 26 pounds of calcium and 5 million pounds of water to produce 100 bushels of corn? Well, we can not do much about the water situation unless we irrigate, but with a soil test you can get a very good idea of how much plant food is needed for any crop. A test you can get a very good idea of how much plant food is needed for any crop. A test for nitrogen is not too efficient, as it changes with weather and soil conditions, but the test for phosphorus, potassium and calcium is accurate. If you take your samples correctly and at the proper time, then talk with your County Agent concerning the rate of application for the different fertilizers, you can not go wrong.

With farm income down, we need to do everything possible to keep our production from slipping too. We should cut corners on items which have proven to be unprofitable and place emphasis on enterprises that have continued to show an increase in net profit.

In order to get the most income possible from your farming operation in 1961, see that you plan and follow practices known to be sound, safe and above all profitable. Keep cost low as necessary for maximum production and last but of great importance is the use of sober judgment in each venture. Lets make 1961 the best year yet, Down On The Farm.

man and Murray in the local ASC offices.

BARD URGES FARMERS TO PARTICIPATE IN 191 ACP PRACTICES

Farmers of Fulton County who file requests to participate in the 1961 Agricultural Conservation Program may select from a wide list of practices the ones needed on their individual farms to check and control soil erosion, build up the stockpiles of soil fertility and make better use of water.

The list includes: Establishing permanent pastures, applying limestone and rock phosphate, strip cropping, planting forest trees, improving pastures, developing springs, constructing ponds, installing pipelines and water storage tanks, improving a stand of forest trees, sod-waterways, seeding gullies, dams and field borders, constructing terraces and diversion ditches, open drainage ditches, tile drainage, contour farming of row crops, constructing wells, land leveling and winter cover crops.

S. E. Holly, Office Manager for Fulton ASC County Committee, states that he has received the proper applications for which a new grower may file for a 1961 Cotton Acreage Allotment.

The main eligibility requirements are: The applicant must not be interested in the production of cotton on an old cotton farm, must be largely dependent upon the farm on which the application is made on a livelihood and must have team, tools, equipment and labor to cultivate the cotton acreage. Deadline date for filing is February 15, 1961. For further information see the Fulton County ASC Office, Hickman, Kentucky.

New Program To Provide Free Medical Aid To Needy Begins

On January 1 the state's two new programs to provide free medical aid to needy people of Kentucky went into action. Approximately 227,000 Kentuckians are potentially eligible for the benefits.

The first plan, operating on a budget of about $3.7 million in state and federal funds, will pay in whole or part, the doctor, dentist, hospital, and drug bills of all eligible persons who cannot now pay the bills themselves.

Those eligible for aid under this new program include all those now receiving monthly assistance payments from the Kentucky Department of Economic Security, which will administer the two medical plans. There were 1037 eligible persons in Fulton County in November.

In addition to the program for public assistance recipients, there is an additional plan set up for providing medical care to those over 65, who are not now receiving any kind of state aid. This will assist those who have an individual income of $1,000 or less a year, or couples with a joint annual income of $1,500 or less. This program was allotted $2 million in state and federal funds. It provides hospitalization and physician's service, but does not include dental or drug care.

The number of people this additional program will benefit in the county cannot be estimated until after the program has been in operation for two or three months, according to officials of the Department of Economic Security.

Kentucky has had a program to provide public assistance aid to the needy as far back as 1936, but there has never been any type of medical care plan. The state's new revenue program made inauguration of the plan possible this year.

Girl Scout Leaders Honored

During the thirty-fifth National Convention of the Girl Scouts of the U. S. A., held in St. Louis in the month of November, the National President, Mrs. Charles Culmer, made the announcement that in the future all leaders would be identified by yellow ribbons worn on the shoulders of their uniforms. The National Board of Directors had made this decision so that leaders would have a tangible symbol of admiration for the work that they do. An impressive ceremony of pinning ribbons on the leaders present at the convention followed the announcement.

In keeping with the national precedent the Bear Creek Girl

Scout Council proclaimed January 9 through January 13 as "Leader Appreciation Week." During this week yellow ribbons were presented to all leaders and assistant leaders at Neighborhood and District meetings throughout the Council. These were a token of the admiration and thanks of the administrative personnel and professional staff of the Council, Region, and National organizations. The leader of a Girl Scout troop contributes a great deal to the community as well as to the Girl Scout Organization.

The District Chairmen were responsible for the presentation of ribbons within their Districts and meetings were held in Marion, Mayfield, Paducah and Fulton for this purpose. Mrs. Charles Jones Jr., a leader from the Bear Creek Council, received her ribbons at the original ceremony in St. Louis, as Mrs. Jones was attending the convention as a Delegate for Bear Creek Council.

Jimmy Cheatham Has Been Given All-American, Honorable Mention

By Karen Dublin

Jimmy Cheatham, Fulton High senior and a tackle on the 1960-61 football team, has been awarded "All-American, Honorable Mention" among high-school football players. This was announced in the January 18 issue of the St. Louis Sporting News.

The boys named All-American are chosen from high schools all over the United States and Canada. This title is the highest honor that a high-school football player can achieve.

Besides this latest award, Jimmy was also named on the All-West Kentucky Conference team, the All-State First team, an honor never before achieved by a Fulton High player, and the All-Southern team.

Jimmy had offers from many colleges and universities, but has chosen to attend the University of Kentucky and play on the Wildcat team.

Hickman Wins Over Fulton Here

The Hickman County Falcons spurred in the last quarter to defeat the Fulton City Bulldogs by a score of 55-39 here Friday night.

Hickman county held a 25-21 lead at the half, and were ahead by only 34-31 at the end of the third quarter.

Sam Harper scored 25 points to lead the way for Hickman County. Jerry Laceywell scored 12 for Fulton City.

Both teams used a zone defense in the first half and both held well enough to keep the scoring down. Both teams then went to a press in the last half.

Bonnie Usrey Crowned Queen

Miss Bonnie Usrey was crowned Basketball Queen of 1961 in a beautiful ceremony preceding the game at 6:30 p. m. Friday. Her attendants were Miss Rosemary Clark and Miss Mary Jane Cruce.

Miss Usrey, the vivacious niece of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Lee, was chosen by the members of the Red Devil and Devillete squads. She has been an outstanding guard on the Devillete team for the past three years and played on C. D. Parr's championship team three years ago.

She was the 1960 Harvest Festival Queen and was attendant to the football queen in 1959. She has been a class officer for four years, is a member of the Beta Club, student council and was chosen "most dependable" in the Who's Who this year.

South Fulton Boys Lose; Local Girls Win Game

The South Fulton Red Devils, strengthened by the return of Aaron Hawks to the lineup and rated one of the strongest teams in the county, were tripped up Friday night as Paris hit a torrid streak in the final quarter and edged them 41-40.

The South Fulton girls took no foolishness from the Paris girls and clobbered them 33-18.

The South Fulton men led by 12 points at the half and held onto a gradually declining lead until the final six seconds of the game. At that time the devils were on top 40-39 and then Cole got behind a SF defender and came in for a crip.

The ball dropped through and South Fulton was stunned with its fourth defeat of the year.

The Obion countians ran into trouble in the final quarter. The defense was working perfectly and Paris was pushed way out on the court. Then Paris' Mustain, a short scrappy player, opened up a barrage from almost mid-court. Behind these accurate shots Paris was able to cut the lead and finally go ahead.

South Fulton's coach Ual Killebrew said today, "There just wasn't anything we could do but stand and watch as Mustain sank those long shots. We were as cold as a wedge."

Prior to the girls' game, three gals from the teams were honored as the cage royalty of the year. Bonnie Usrey was crowned queen and Rose Mary Clark and Mary Jane Cruce were her attendants.

In the girls game, the SF girls didn't have a worry in the world. Cruce, by her self, more than equaled the point production of the entire Paris team as she put in 20 counters.

Former Pilot Oak Youth Dies Of Accidental Shot

A 14-year-old boy, former resident of the Pilot Oak community of Graves County, was shot to death in a hunting accident near Lone Oak Friday afternoon.

The youth, Randall Carr, a freshman at Lone Oak School, was hunting with a companion, Freddie Howard, 14, also of Lone Oak when the accident occurred near the Lone Oak baseball park. McCracken County officials said Howard slipped in some mud and his shotgun was accidentally discharged. The blast struck Carr in the chest and he was pronounced dead on arrival at a Paducah hospital.

McCracken County Coroner James Davis said Carr was standing about 15 feet from Howard when the shotgun was discharged. He gave a verdict of accidental death.

Carr was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Carr of 536 Columbus Street. His father is an employee of the carbide plant at Paducah and his mother is a teacher in the Lone Oak school. The youth was a member of the Lone Oak freshman basketball team and one of the most popular students in the school.

The youth was an only child of the Carrs.

Funeral services were held at 1 p. m. Sunday at Roth's Funeral Home in Paducah and a second service was held at the Bethlehem Methodist Church near Pilot Oak at 3:30 p. m. Sunday. Burial was in the church cemetery. The Rev. G. B. Clayton and the Rev. William Adams officiated at the services.

Besides his parents the youth leaves his own grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Emerson and Mrs. J. E. Carr, all of Pilot Oak.

Medical Care Program In Kentucky Is Subject Of Series Of Seminars

The medical care program in Kentucky which became effective the first of January has been the subject of a series of seminars over the State to better acquaint the local health department with the program and their part in it.

The seminars were held under the auspices of the Kentucky State Health Department January 5 at Henderson, January 10 at Frankfort, and January 12 at Prestonsburg. Attending were health officers and representatives of all 120 county health departments. Other meetings have been held for hospital administrators.

Patricia K. Conlan, M. D., Director of the Division of Medical Care, lead the seminar discussions, with Mrs. Shirley Wester and Dan S. Tuttle of the State Health Department staff taking part. They explained the new program, unique in the United States, as outlined by legislation and the Governor's Advisory Committee on Medical Care.

In this program, certain physician, hospital, and dental services and specified drugs will be paid for by Federal and State funds for eligible persons on the Public Assistance roles. Persons, over 65 who qualify financially will be entitled to physician's services and hospital care. Because of limited funds, these benefits are now available only for care of acute, emergency, and life-endangering conditions, including maternity care. Eligibility is being established by the Department of Economic Security while responsibility for quantity and quality of medical care is under the Department of Health.

Benefits will be paid to the co-operating physicians, dentists, pharmacists, and hospitals are based on the budget for the program and the estimated needs. As the program progresses and needs are more clearly defined changes will be made to bring the program even more into line with the essential requirements of good medical care for Kentucky's indigents.

The program in Kentucky is possibly more stringent than in other places as there is now less money available and so many needing these services. Kentucky has some 144,000 persons—4 1-2 per cent of the State's population—on the Public Assistance role and an estimated 80,000 who are eligible for medical assistance for the aged.

CHESTNUT GLADE Mrs. Harvey Vaughn

By Mrs. Harvey Vaughn

Perhaps the Polio Drive is one of the most talked of subjects at this time. Mr. A. B. Reed has been asked to serve as the 17th district chairman. Mrs. Brooks Oliver, Mrs. Vascoe Simpson, Mrs. Johnnie Lee Simpson, Mrs. Harvey Vaughn, Mrs. A. B. Reed and probably others will assist in the soliciting funds for this most worthy cause. Some soliciting has been done in the community with no one refusing to make a contribution. If everyone made a contribution our quota could easily be reached without anyone having to make too large a contribution, and the task would be pleasant for those who are soliciting.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvine Brundige and Mrs. Buren Smith visited Mr. and Mrs. Guayon Brundige and family in Springfield, Ky. and Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Brundige and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Whitver and family in Nashville last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Laverne Owensby and Mrs. Glynn Owensby visited Glynn who is a patient at the Veterans Hospital in Nashville last Saturday.

Mrs. Eula Rogers spent last Saturday with the Harry Whitvers in Nashville.

Harvey Vaughn attended the meeting of Tennessee School Board Members in Nashville last Thursday and Friday. He was very pleasantly surprised at the close of the meeting when his number was called for a door prize which was a popup toaster. He felt especially lucky as his number was called at this meeting last year for a ham.

The C. G. Home Demonstration Club will meet in the home of Mrs. V. C. Simpson at 1 P. M. Thursday, January 19. Visitors are welcomed.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

Kaleidoscope of Color

Like the Thoroughbreds which carry them, racing silks originated in England where, in 1762, a "registry" announced the colors of six dukes, one marquis, five earls, a viscount, a lord, a knight and two "Mr.'s". Keeping track of these silks was simple, the only variation from a solid color being a Mr. Greville's "brown trimmed with yellow". Today the Jockey Club has close to 3,000 sets registered, and a card index of colors and patterns is maintained to avoid duplication.

Color definition is no longer as simple as the "all scarlet" which has been for four generations in the family of John A. Morris, or the "all maroon" of Howell E. Jackson, originally used by his great-grandfather, General William Harding. Among the reds today you find Harvard crimson, Cyclamen, Flame, Raspberry, Chinese, Flamingo, Indian and other designations. Blues vary from Teal to Alice, Sky, Flag, Powder, Sea, Yale, Midnight and Cobalt, to name a few.

The variations of the divisions of the blouse and cap exhausted, owners now apply various odd insignia such as geometrical figures, wings, a rabbit foot, musical note, arrow, lightning bolt, or what-have-you.

Untroubled with the problem of choosing distinctive colors are the Campbells, MacDonaldis, MacLeans, MacLeods, Douglasses and others who use the family tartan.

ANSWERS TO YOUR TAX QUESTIONS BY WILLIAM E. SCENT KENTUCKY'S COMMISSIONER OF REVENUE

Section 170 of the Kentucky Constitution exempts certain classes of property and institutions from taxation. This constitutional exemption has caused some misunderstandings in relation to Kentucky's sales and use tax. The following questions are given to clarify this problem area.

Q. What is included as being exempt from taxation by Section 170 of the Constitution of Kentucky?

A. (1) Property used for religious worship or a parsonage (neither exemption is to exceed one-half acre in cities and towns and two acres in the country).

(2) Places of burial if not maintained for profit.

(3) Institutions of purely public charity and institutions of education. If all of the income of these institutions is used within their charitable or educational field, these institutions are not subject to taxation. No tax can be levied on their income, property or endowments.

(4) Household goods of a person used in his home.

(5) Crops grown in the year in which the assessment is made and in the hands of the producer.

(6) Cities may exempt manufacturing establishments from municipal taxation for a period not exceeding five years.

Q. Are institutions exempt from paying the use tax?

A. Institutions of purely public charity and institutions of education are exempt from paying use tax by reason of Section 170 above.

Q. Are merchants who sell to these institutions exempt from paying sales tax?

A. Charitable or educational institutions may apply for authorization to give purchase exemption certificates. If one of these institutions gives the merchant a purchase exemption certificate, the merchant will not be required to pay tax on the sales made to that institution.

Q. Can religious institutions be authorized to give purchase exemption certificates and thereby be relieved from paying sales tax?

A. No. Sales to a church are subject to sales tax.

GOVERNOR-BERT COMBS accepts the resignation of Economic Security Commissioner Jo M. Ferguson (center), as Lt. Gov. Wilson Wyatt looks on. Combs expressed "extreme regret" at Ferguson's action, and termed his service as commissioner of the State's second largest department "most outstanding." Ferguson was instrumental in setting up the State's new program for medical care to the needy aged and indigent, which went into effect January 1.

The remaining 1,113 one-room schoolhouses in Kentucky, similar to the one above, with their poor educational facilities, poor heat and lighting, and outdoor toilet facilities, are slated to disappear from the scene, as new funds from sales tax appropriations are providing the needed money to build modern schools throughout the state. The Rowan County school in the top picture, typical of those still in use, houses 17 students in grades one through eight, and has one teacher. It will be replaced in 1961, along with thirteen other small schools in the county, by two new schools, built with the increased funds.

Plant Pines Successfully

People planting pine in Fulton County should take every precaution to get the best possible survival since it means money saved to the landowner now and a greater economic return in the future.

Stanford Tillman, District Forester, for the Kentucky Division of Forestry, recommends that each person planting pine trees keep in mind the following rules in order to have the best success in planting:

1. Keep the roots moist until they are planted.
2. Place the seedlings in the ground so that the roots are straight and not curled up.
3. Plant the seedlings at the correct depth. The root collar should be at ground level.
4. Protect the plantings from fire and other injury.

Spacing usually ranges from 6 x 7 to 8 x 10 feet, depending upon the soil condition, site location, and species. For information about seedlings and advice on planting, see your local forester, county agent, or SCS technician. Contact your ASC office on the planting cost-sharing in Fulton County. Plant your idle acres!

Use plywood or plastic sheets under the Christmas tree to prevent carpet stains from pitch or evergreen needles. If stains do appear, use a safe drycleaning fluid to remove them.

MEETING PLACE CHANGED

The place and date of the meeting of the Palestine Homemakers Club has been changed from the Palestine Community House to the home of Mrs. Claud Freeman. The meeting will be held Thursday, January 19 at 10:30 a. m.

Make this a safe Christmas! Remember to turn off Christmas lights before leaving the house or going to bed. Use Christmas decorations that will not burn - glass, metal or asbestos, for example. Cotton fabrics and batting used for decorating should be flameproofed. Burn Christmas gift wrapping as soon as you take it off the packages; never burn wrappings in the fireplace.
