ANNEXATION AREA — This map shows the area to be annexed to the City of Murray upon final passage of an annexation ordinance. The Murray City Council approved the ordinance on the first reading Wednesday night. Final approval is expected at the next regular meeting of the council on June 27.

Regional Atlas By MSU Professor Now Available

An atlas of the eight-county Jackson Purchase area in West Kentucky prepared by William A. Franklin, associate professor of geography at Murray State University, is now available. Entitled "Regional Atlas of the Jackson Purchase, Kentucky," the 137-page first edition includes 326 maps and graphs representing a comprehensive geographic inventory of the counties—Ballard, Calloway, Carlisle, Fulton, Graves, Hickman, Marshall and McCracken.

Franklin, who began the atlas project about two years ago, noted in the introduction that it is the first such volume dealing with the Jackson Purchase and that he believes it to be the first of its type dealing with any region in Kentucky.

No written text except the introduction and legend information is included in the atlas. Franklin said the use of the map as a tool "enhances the reader's ability to grasp in almost a single glance the social, economic, cultural, demographic, and physical patterns which make up the Jackson Purchase counties." Sections in the volume include: location and land use; physical geography; population; voting patterns; education; recreation; business, finance, employment, income and taxes; transportation, communication and selected services; industrial sites; manufacturing; and agriculture.

Printed and copyrighted by Murray State University, the atlas includes a foreword by Dr. Constantine W. Curris, university president, which

Dr. H. C. Chiles Elected Trustee, Baptist Seminary

The Southern Baptist Convention, which is meeting in Dallas, Texas, this week, on Wednesday elected Dr. H. C. Chiles, pastor emeritus of the First Baptist Church in Murray, as a trustee of the Golden Gate Baptist Theological Seminary at San Francisco, California, for a five year term.

The Golden Gate Seminary is one of the six theological seminaries owned and operated by the Convention.

On various occasions in previous years the Southern Baptist Convention has elected Dr. Chiles to serve in different and important positions on boards and committees.

Prior to his moving to Murray, the Convention elected him as a member of the Executive Committee, which transacts the business of the

Dr. H. C. Chiles

Convention between the annual sessions. In this responsible position he served for two three year terms.

Henry Named To Council; Annexation, Motorcycle Laws Get Initial Approval

Jerry Henry, 1400 Vine Street, was named to a vacancy on the Murray City Council last night during a meeting in which the city governing body handled several items of business.

Also approved by the council on the first reading was an ordinance of annexation of a large area north of the present city limits and an ordinance designed to control the use of motorcycles and other recreational vehicles within the city.

Henry, who is assistant personnel manager at Tappan, was nominated to the vacancy by councilman Melvin Henry. Councilman Howard Koenen nominated Marshall Jones for the vacancy and a tie vote, five for each, resulted on the ballot between the two nominees. Mayor John E. Scott broke the tie by casting his ballot for Henry.

Councilman voting for Henry for the position were Rex Alexander, Jo Crass, Art Lee, Dave Willis and Fred Workman. Councilmen voting for Jones were Koenen, W. R. Furches, Henley, Tibbs and Jones.

The annexation ordinance, which cleared a major hurdle earlier this week when Circuit Judge James Lassiter ruled in favor of the city in a suit filed to stop the annexation, was approved on a unanimous vote.

City planner, Richard Nash, said that the area included approximately 1,167 acres. The ordinance must be approved on a final reading before the annexation takes effect.

Motorcycle Ordinance — The motorcycle control ordinance, which has been the topic of much discussion for the past several meetings, also received unanimous approval of the council.

The ordinance stipulates that all dune buggies, go-carts, all-terrain vehicles, motorbikes, motor scooters, trail bikes, motorcycles, snowmobiles and similar vehicles operated within the city must be equipped to meet federal, state and municipal restrictions and controls governing emission of noise, noxious fumes, smoke or other nuisances that infringe on the rights of others within the city.

The ordinance says that motorcycles and other related vehicles are prohibited from operation within any city park in Murray except on existing roads, streets, parking lots or any other area specifically designated by the council for the operation within any city park in Murray except on existing roads, streets, parking lots or any other area specifically designated by the council for the operation of such vehicles.

The ordinance also prohibits the operation of the recreational vehicles at any time on private property in residentially zoned

Continuation Grants Awarded To Murray State

Continuation grants totaling $152,600 have been awarded to Murray State University by the U. S. Office of Education for Upward Bound and Special Services programs on the campus in 1974-75.

Both programs have been funded at the same level as for the current year—$12,600 for Upward Bound and $40,000 for Special Services—according to notification from U. S. Sen. Marlow Cook.

The Upward Bound staff at Murray State, with Jim Biggs as director and Paul Ross as assistant director, supervises both programs. Funds are administered through the Murray State University Foundation.

Seventy-five high school students from the eight-county Jackson Purchase area are currently involved in the Upward Bound developmental education program. A total of 80 Murray State students will benefit from the Special Services program on the campus during the 1974-75 school year.

Ross said the main thrust of Upward Bound, begun on the campus in 1966, is "to give secondary level students an opportunity to take a look at an exact replica of college life with emphasis on such essentials as academic programs, dormitory living and registration procedures."

Special Services is a parallel to Upward Bound, except at the college level. Initiated on the campus last year, is a tutorial-based program designed to assist eligible students in problem areas such as academics, financial aid and guidance and counseling to enable them to remain in school.

ATLAS PRESENTATION—William A. Franklin (right), associate professor of geography at Murray State University, is shown as he presents a copy of his newly-completed atlas of the eight-county Jackson Purchase area of Kentucky to Dr. Constantine W. Curris, president of Murray State. Now available in the university bookstore, the 137-page volume contains 326 maps and graphs representing a comprehensive geographic inventory of the counties—Ballard, Calloway, Carlisle, Fulton, Graves, Hickman, Marshall and McCracken.

TRENCHER AT WORK — City officials got to see their new $55,000 trencher in action at the City Dump Wednesday. The new piece of equipment is used to dig huge trenches where refuse is dumped. When the trenches are full, they are covered with topsoil and reseeded. This is the third trench at the dump. The trenches usually last about seven months. From left, Hollis Hale, dozer operator at the landfill, Rex Billington, superintendent of the sanitation department, Mayor John Scott; Councilmen Hoard Koenen and Dave Willis; City Planner Richard Nash; and Councilman Art Lee. Wadesboro Club Has May Meeting

With Mrs. Mavis Hurt

The May meeting of the Wadesboro Homemakers Club was held in the home of Mrs. Mavis Hurt who opened the meeting by reading the 100th chapter of Psalms.

Eight members and one visitor, Miss Jarris Cobb, answered the roll call by a virtue they thought becoming to a mother.

Mrs. Paula Palmer, president, conducted the business meeting. Officers were elected for the coming club year with Mrs. Mavis Hurt being chosen president.

Lessons for the coming year were also assigned. The members voted to send a child to an underprivileged camp.

Mrs. Edna Cobb and her daughter, Miss Jarris Cobb, gave the craft lesson on "Seed Pictures."

The main lesson on "Kentucky—A Vacation Favorite," was presented by Mrs. Hurt.

After the delicious refreshments were served the group enjoyed a walk through the lovely grounds and gardens of Mrs. Hurt's home.

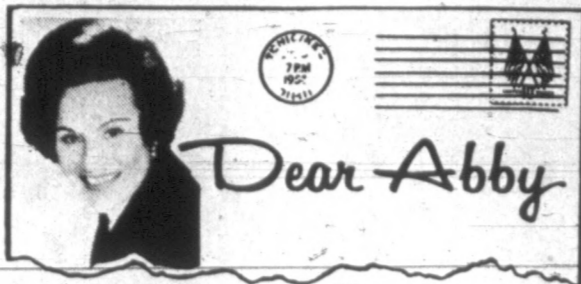

Milk Increases Protein Content

The protein content of many entrees (casseroles, soups, chowders, etc.) may be increased by the addition of milk. Nonfat dry milk, which supplies the same amount of protein as fluid milk, may be added to a variety of menu items. Its low cost and convenient dry form make it especially useful.

Dear Abby

Husband wants wife to pose in the nude

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am approaching 40 and so is my wife. We've been married for 22 years. Like most couples our age, our sex life isn't what it used to be. My wife can take it or leave it. I'm no sex maniac, but I'm not exactly dead yet.

Last Christmas the wife gave me a Polaroid camera, and just for the heck of it, she let me take some pictures of her in the bedroom, unclothed. That's when I discovered those pictures really turned me on.

Now, all of a sudden the wife tells me she is no striptease model, and she doesn't want to pose for any more pornography. I say it's not pornography as long as we're married because I'm the only one who sees those pictures.

We are both born-again Christians. I'd like your opinion. AM I kooky or not?

SHUTTERBUG
DEAR SHUTTER: Not kooky, just a little far out. Whatever you do behind closed doors that is mutually agreeable is all right! I'm sold. Now all you have to do is sell the wife.

DEAR ABBY: I am so upset, I don't know what to do anymore. I've called the police, military base, Chamber of Commerce, the base chaplain and three lawyers. As I write this I am crying and have a knot in my throat.

I've been married to a serviceman for 15 years and now he is involved with a red-headed woman who works where he works. [He got her the job.] He picks her up and drives her home, and I see him only when he comes here to change his clothes.

He has told me he doesn't love me anymore and as soon as he can afford it he will officially divorce me. He's even tried to push me at me. I am so hurt I could die!

I would do away with myself, if I didn't have five kids who need me. When I complain about the way he treats me, he beats me up. I know you'll think I'm crazy, but I still love him and want to know how I can get him back.

MISERABLE
DEAR MISERABLE: Your chances for getting him back are small, and from your letter, I think you're better off without him. But if you considered doing away with yourself, you need help in handling your problems. It's available through your County Mental Health Association, and Family Service Association. Give them a call.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "AM I AN ALCOHOLIC?": That's a tough one to answer because there is no absolute definition of an alcoholic. But here's a partial checklist drawn up by The National Council of Alcoholism:

- Do you drink heavily after a disappointment or a quarrel?
- Did you ever wake up the morning after to discover you couldn't remember part of the evening before even though you didn't pass out?
- Do you try to have a few extra drinks when others will not know?
- Have you often failed to keep a promise to yourself about controlling or cutting down on your drinking?

If the answer is "yes" to any one of the above questions, you have a problem. And the best solution for that kind of problem begins with one telephone call—to Alcoholics Anonymous. They're in your telephone book. It's your move.

CONFIDENTIAL TO H. IN OMAHA: I don't recommend marrying a man for his money. You may have to divorce him to get it.

Give me the Heart to fight—and lose. Let me go into battle with a song in my heart, even though I am afraid that the battle will never be won. It is the fighter who dares to fight against odds—insurmountable odds—who keeps in trim.

Let me see truth, God—and let me, at times, catch a glimpse of the gold that lies at the foot of the rainbow. And if the rainbow fades before I have reached the end of it, let me remember the colors that made it beautiful—and let me plan my conquest of the next rainbow.

Keep me from doing things slowly—or by half—make me too proud to slight my work, and to take the easiest way because I am tired.

And, God, when I have finally accomplished something worth while, keep me to some degree unsatisfied with the result. So that I will reach after new goals.

I have tasted sorrow,
I have lived with pain,
I have watched a rainbow
Smiling through the rain!

I have fled from failure,
I have sipped with grief,
I have seen tall larkspur
Blue beyond belief!

I have known disaster,
I have sobbed from fright,
I have seen pale star-shine
Silver all the night!

I have lived with heart-break,
Lived with it alone—
I have felt God's fingers
Softly touch my own....

The departments were involved in many activities during the past year in addition to the projects of the general club. The following is a summary of the departmental activities of the past year.

Thank You, Murray Lions Club

The Murray Lions Club deserves all of the thanks and gratitude that every citizen of our community can muster. We do not mean to say that the Lions Club is the only Murray civic club that is deserving of praise, but we do wish to single out the Lions Club at this time for its contributions to the community. Murray fortunately has many strong civic clubs and other organizations.

The Lions have been instrumental in establishing a much needed blood bank at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital. During the past year alone, the Local Lions Club has donated equipment and funds in the amount of $2,500 to the blood bank program.

Including the blood bank program, the Murray Lions Club has made charitable donations totaling $5,507.50 in the past year. These donations were made to the Murray High Band, sight conservation, shut-ins at Christmas time, Project Grow, Need Line, and scholarships to deserving students.

The Murray Lions Club, which was organized in 1939, now has a membership of 86 citizens of our community. The club supports its projects with five fund-raising events each year: a broom and mop sale, a light bulb sale, a radio auction, chewing gum machines, and trash can advertising.

The number one project for the Lions Club has been sight conservation. In the past 16 years over $5,700 has been spent to provide needy children with eyeglasses, a total of 528 pairs of glasses to be exact.

Since 1961, the Lions have provided scholarships to enable 21 needy local high school students to attend one year of college.

From 1960 to 1972, the Murray Lions Club spent an amazing total of $27,381 on charitable projects.

The founder of Lions International, Melvin Jones, once said: "You can't get anywhere in life until you start doing things for other people." The present members of the Murray Lions Club, and all past members, will obviously go a long way in their individual lives, as evidenced by the contributions they are making to their community and fellowman through their civic organization.

We salute Lions everywhere, and particularly the Murray Lions Club: We are proud of your efforts toward the betterment of our community.

'GOODNESS, IT'S TAX CUT TIME!'

Tax Proposals Political

Without resorting to other intelligence, an observant congressional watcher could easily tell the arrival of a political year — the biennium in which the entire House of Representatives and about one-third of the U.S. Senate faces elections.

Nor would the watcher have to look beyond the tax bills in Congress to get the full story. In an election year there will be bills to soak the rich, bills to impose higher taxes on business, bills to close "loopholes" — which in nonelection years are considered laws that serve essential social purposes — bills to sock it to oil companies, particularly those of multinational scope, tax breaks for the poor and, more recently, bills to ease the burden on the middle income wage earner who is becoming increasingly restive. And, of course if all of these fail to miss a voter, there always is a bill for a general tax cut that touches everybody.

The second session of the 93rd Congress now meeting in Washington fits the classic mold. This is an election year and both houses of the Congress are flooded with tax reform measures.

Senators and representatives have introduced bills that would:

— Give Americans a $6.5 billion tax reduction. For sweeteners, it contains a provision that would, for the first time, rebate Social Security taxes to persons with low incomes. A tax cut in a period of uncontrollable inflation flies in the face of reason.

— Force repeal of the 22 per cent oil depletion allowance or impose excess profits tax on petroleum at a time when the need, for investment in wells, refineries and new fuel sources is pressing.

— Fiddle with the capital gains tax to divert more of its benefits to the lowest end of the investment spectrum.

— Repeal the accelerated depreciation tax on business and the 50 per cent tax deferral law for certain exports at a time when business expansion and increased foreign trade are more essential than ever to help the U.S. over an economic hump.

— Tighten up the minimum income tax payments.

Undoubtedly some of these and other tax proposals now in Congress have merit. Many assuredly do not. The danger of acting precipitately on any of them is that we might have to repent at leisure.

No One Appears In Rush For Impeachment Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Neither Congress nor the White House appears to be in any rush for judgment on the impeachment of President Nixon, and each blames the other for delaying the process.

So, while a congressional committee investigates the issues, there is cloakroom discussion and speculation about the politics of the case and the timetable for action. In an election year, politics and timing are intertwined.

It is evident that a Senate impeachment trial, if it comes to that, will coincide with the fall congressional election campaign.

One White House official contended that is what Nixon's critics have wanted all along, to have the Watergate issue peak while voters are deciding between Republican and Democratic candidates in the Nov. 5 elections.

The counter-argument in Congress is that the White House is stalling the impeachment proceedings by withholding evidence, and by pressing the House Judiciary Committee to summon witnesses for public testimony.

There is congressional speculation that Nixon strategists might seek to delay any Senate vote until after the elections, on the theory that, freed of election pressures, some Republicans might more easily be won to the President's defense. A White House official denied there is any such plan, saying the President simply wants to make his case and put it to a House vote.

Israeli's Fearful Of Effect

JERUSALEM (AP) — The Israelis will greet President Nixon next week as one of their best friends, but they are apprehensive about the effect on them of the new Arab-American rapprochement.

Henry A. Kissinger's adroit diplomacy has not only disengaged the warring Middle East armies—it has revolutionized America's standing in the Arab world.

The grass-roots fear in Israel is that the Jewish nation will have to pay for this new standing in the form of territorial and diplomatic concessions to the Arabs.

"Why else does Egypt suddenly love Nixon?" one Israeli argued. "Because it knows that only Nixon can squeeze concessions out of us."

A senior Israeli official, sounding more reserved, said the new friendship between the United States and the Arabs "might cause difficulties for us, but in the final summary it is a positive development."

"I'd rather have America giving the Arabs military aid than the Soviets," he added.

Relations between the U.S. and Israeli governments have blossomed anew since Nixon took office. But now "a new chapter has begun," the official said, "and it is not yet clear where we are going."

Differences may arise, he continued, especially over Washington's reported wish to have Israel negotiate directly with Palestinian leaders. The Israeli government refuses to deal with those it refers to as "terrorists."

"But we have a vital interest in continuing relations with the U.S. government," he added. "For us, President Nixon's visit is an outstanding event."

The government is readying a mammoth welcome for Nixon, the "first U.S. president to visit us in 2,000 years," one cabinet official said jokingly.

Officials are showering the local newspapers with glowing summaries of U.S.-Israeli relations during Nixon's administration. Bright lights are being strung along the route the President will take from the airport to Jerusalem.

Such a vote is unlikely before August, and if a House majority then favored impeachment, the case would go to the Senate for a trial that might start shortly after Labor Day.

A Senate source said that on such a timetable, a verdict could be rendered during the current session of Congress, although probably not before the elections. It would take a two-thirds vote in the Senate to convict and thus oust him.

If a post-election vote might work to the President's advantage, a delay into 1975 likely would hurt his cause, since Democrats are expected to increase their Senate majority.

But at this point, politicians are in uncharted territory. Impeachment is not an issue they have encountered before.

The Judiciary Committee is aiming for a July 15 windup of its inquiry, although some members think it will take longer, and such deadlines have been slipping by since April 30.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

FLOUR PRICE DOWN; BREAD PRICE UP?

Rep. Keith G. Sebelius (Kansas) "... I call for an end to silence within the baking industry. After the American Baker's Association leadership announced to the public that bread would soon be $1 a loaf and that this spring bread shortages would produce lines that would make the customers forget gas lines, we have heard nothing from this organization.

"At the time, I stated that this was a shameful and factless scare tactic. Since that time, wheat prices have declined almost 50 percent. What has happened to bread prices? They have not declined one penny and in many instances have actually increased. Why?

"If the earlier comments were not self-serving, I ask the ABA to state their case and make a full explanation to the American consumer. They should explain why a twofold increase should precipitate a threefold increase in bread prices when a similar decline in wheat prices does not produce even a marginal reduction in the price of bread.

"Without such a followup, I can only question the motivation of these statements and call for a wheat export embargo. I call upon consumers and producers to draw their own conclusions about the credibility and attitude of the ABA and their high officials towards the two segments of our national food chain which are vital to our survival."

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT
Check-out girls and managers of supermarkets are unjustly the targets of complaints about rising food prices; the blame belongs elsewhere. A hike in bread prices was blamed on the Russian wheat deal; a phony excuse. Scare tactics of a wheat shortage found the elevators full; transportation to market was the problem.

We suspect that an investigation into the marketing practices of the bread companies might shed some light on the "great bread price hike mystery."

Has anyone priced bananas lately? Shades of Ralph Nader.

MAKING SURE—Marty McCuiston of the A's squeezes the ball in his glove to make sure he doesn't drop it after catching a pop fly. He is backed by his teammate, centerfielder George Bell. (All Photos by Mike Brandon)

GOOD BREAK FOR A'S—Ricky Garland of the A's gets a break as he is safe at second on what would have been a force out but the ball was thrown past Cards' second baseman David Ryan.

Cards And Yanks Take Little League Games

A two-way tie for the lead in the Little League exists after games played in the circuit Wednesday night.

The two contests, both makeup games, found the Cards using a nine-run first inning to take an 11-4 win over the A's while the Yanks scored a run in the seventh inning and defeated the upset-minded Nats 10-9 in an excellent played game.

Both the Yanks and the Cards own 4-1 league marks while the Cubs, who tangle with the Cards in tonight's nightcap, are 3-1 and a half-game out of the lead.

Bruce Taylor went the distance in the opening game for the Cards and was supported by the 10-hit barrage of his teammates.

Half of the Cards' hits in the contest came in the opening inning.

Gary Sims started the game with a solid single, David Ryan singled and Bob Murray lashed an RBI double.

Bruce Taylor followed Murray's blast with a two-run double and by the time the Cards had their next hit, another single by Sims, they already led 8-0.

The Cards scored twice in the fourth while the A's scored two in the first and two in the fifth.

For the Cards, Sims, Murray and Kevin Wright each had a pair of hits while David Ryan, Taylor, David Carman and Dwight McDowell all had one hit.

Ricky Garland had a pair of hits for the A's while Trent Jones, Donnie Howard, Bill Leslie, George Bell and Joe Kim Harmon all had a hit apiece.

In the second game, the Nats surprised the Yanks by scoring a run in both the first and second innings and then exploding for four in the third.

Vic Marshall, who walked for the Nats in the opening inning, scored the first run of the game and then in the second, James Morganti, who had walked, came home on an RBI single by Darwin Burnphus.

The big blow in the third inning for the Nats was a two-run double by Rich Rollins, driving in Kevin Chapman who had singled and Robin Roberts who reached on a double.

Following walks to Morganti and Marshall, Burnphus again singled, this time driving in two more runs and leaving the Nats with a 6-0 lead.

But then in the home half of the third, the Yanks erupted for five runs and nobody else scored again until the fifth when both teams got into the act.

The big blow in the Yanks' third was a two-run double by Robert Santagado, driving in Donnie Thompson who had singled and Gary Emerson who drew a walk.

Mark Erwin, who had earlier walked, scored the third run of the frame when Charles Wells singled and then the final run came in when Mark Overby tripled.

The Nats scored three times in the fifth and took a 9-5 lead with Darwin Burnphus driving in one run with a single and Kevin Chapman's double sending home the other two.

But the Yanks came back with two in their half of the inning and trimmed the margin down to a pair of runs. The big hit in the frame was a two-run single by David Billington.

The game was forced into extra innings in the sixth when the Yanks used Dan Key's double and a single by Charlie Santagado to score a pair of runs.

The contest finally ended in the seventh when with one out, Billington walked and stole second and then scored when Donnie Thompson reached on an error.

Eddie Rhodes, who hurled the last four innings for the Yanks, picked up the mound win.

For the Nats, Burnphus and Chapman each had two hits while Roberts, Rollins and Eddie Requarth all hit safely.

Overby had two hits for the Yanks while Key, Emerson, Erwin, Robert Santagado, Wells, Thompson, Billington and Charlie Santagado all hit safely.

In games tonight, the 6 p.m. opener will find the Reds (1-3) playing the Nats, who are now 1-4.

The nightcap will find the Cubs and Cards battling in an important game which will drop one team a game out of first on the loss side.

Jinx Hits Snead As He Has Mysterious Fracture

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — The U.S. Open jinx has slapped old Sam Snead down again—and in a tragic fashion.

The 62-year-old Virginian, one of the game's immortals, turned up with a mysterious fractured rib on the eve of the 74th Open, starting today at the Winged Foot Club and had to withdraw.

"I don't know how it happened," Snead, oldest man ever to qualify for the event, said after undergoing tests at the United Hospital in nearby White Plains.

"My left side started bothering me at the Kemper Open in Charlotte a couple of weeks ago. Then the pain became worse in practice here but I didn't think anything about it until my final practice round."

Snead played nine holes in one-over-par and then went to the locker room in pain. Friends took him to the hospital.

"I was afraid at first it might be a heart attack," he said. "It hurt like hell. I couldn't even get my sweater off."

At the hospital X rays showed Snead had a broken rib on the left side.

"The same thing happened about 10 years ago in California," he said, "only it was on the right side."

Snead had been playing so well in practice that Bill Campbell, former U.S. Walker Cup captain and a close friend from Huntington, West Va., said he thought Sam had "the best chance to win here."

"I've never played better before an Open," said Snead, who was preparing for his 31st Open test. "I had practice rounds of 70, 71 and 70."

Snead has won 154 tournaments, including three Masters, three American PGA titles and the British Open, but the U.S. Open always escaped him. He came within inches on several occasions and was runner-up five times.

Gaylord Perry Takes Eighth Consecutive Win

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

It was supposed to be a pair of aces. But one of them turned out to be the four of clubs.

The ace was Cleveland's Gaylord Perry, who dealt Chicago a six-hitter Wednesday night for his 11th victory of the season—his 11th straight since an opening day loss.

The other ace was the White Sox' Wilbur Wood, who was also going for No. 11 but got clubbed for eight runs in the fourth inning, a bombardment that enabled the Indians to breeze to a 10-1 romp.

"He's still a hell of a pitcher," Perry said of Wood. "Nobody knows better than I that he beat us eight times in a row."

But now it's Perry who's beating everybody in a row.

"I take a great deal of pride trying to finish what I start out there," he said. "When you get a big lead, there's a tendency

The Atlanta Braves would love to match the Los Angeles Dodgers' record. But they may have to be content just matching their style of play.

"We're playing Dodger baseball," said Carl Morton, who was the pitching survivor in a duel at 60.6 paces with the Mets' Harry Parker. "Good defense, great bullpen, bunting and managing to get two or three runs and win."

Then Morton sighed and added: "It's excellent baseball if only our hearts can hold out."

Morton's concern for the Braves' hearts is understandable. The Braves squeezed by the New York Mets 1-0 Wednesday night for their fifth victory in six games and 19th in their last 26, but are still running far behind the pace-setting Dodgers in the National League West.

Even though Los Angeles dropped a 6-3 decision to the St. Louis Cardinals, third-place Atlanta is eight games behind the Dodgers.

It's like being a 3-year-old horse in the year of Triple Crown winner Secretariat.

Elsewhere in the NL, the Chicago Cubs clobbered the San Francisco Giants 10-1; the Cincinnati Reds downed the Montreal Expos 3-1; the Philadelphia Phillies blanked the Houston Astros 3-0, and the San Diego Padres beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 5-2.

In the past, it's been power to the players in Atlanta Stadium. The Braves boast Hank Aaron, the world's most prolific home run hitter, and last season had Dave Johnson and Darrel Evans join Aaron with 40-plus homer seasons.

This year appears to be different as the Braves' hitting is down—eighth—but their standing is up.

Phillies 3, Astros 0
Philadelphia left-hander Steve Carlton pitched his eighth straight complete game for his teammates, in first place in the NL East, a five-hitter, striking out eight and walking three. He is now 9-4.

Reds 3, Expos 1
Clay Carroll relieved Clay Kirby and together they molded Cincinnati's victory.

Cubs 10, Giants 1
Rick Reuschel scattered 10 hits and contributed three singles in a 16-hit Chicago attack that sent the Giants to their fourth straight loss.

Cardinals 6, Dodgers 3
Joe Torre slugged a two-run homer and Mike Curtis gave up six hits before needing eighth inning relief help, giving the St. Louis Cardinals a sweep of their three-game series.

Padres 5, Pirates 2
John Grubb climaxed a four-run rally in the sixth inning with a tie-breaking three-run homer that catapulted San Diego past Pittsburgh.

Correction

Information regarding the Little League game played Tuesday between the Yanks and the Twins was incorrectly given to the Ledger & Times. Donnie Thompson pitched the distance and won the game for the Yanks 4-3.

Slumping Arnie Still Has His Fans As He Prepares For Open

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — Arnold Palmer lashed into a drive on the 448-yard finishing hole at Winged Foot and typically almost lost his balance as he followed through on his violent swing.

"Oooh!" chorused the sizeable gallery around the 18th tee. "Yeah! Yeah!" came the roar from down the fairway.

When Palmer reached his ball he found himself 10 to 20 yards behind his companions in the practice round—Tom Weiskopf, Bert Yancey and Tony Jacklin, all of whom comfortably reached the green in two.

Using a wood, Palmer hit the ball fat, picking up a divot, and watched the ball fall some 40 yards short of the green. His shoulders slumped. He muttered something under his breath. Then he tossed his club toward his bag in disgust.

"Kinda fat on that fairway shot," commented a friend. "Fat, hell," blurted Palmer. "I almost struck oil."

It's been this kind of year, you might say almost this kind of a decade, for the onetime miracle charger from Latrobe, Pa., whose birdie finishes in the late 1950s and early 1960s sent golf into a heady, multi-million-dollar spiral from which it is still spinning—and from which others are still profiting.

"Sure, I get discouraged at times," the graying, 44-year-old four-time Masters winner said afterward. "But I always feel that some day I'm going to put everything together again."

"If I didn't think I could still win, I'd never pick up a bag of clubs in a big tournament again."

Palmer refused to be chastened by unofficial odds which made him a 30-1 outsider in the 74th U.S. Open Championship, beginning today over the tight and demanding Winged Foot Club course.

Palmer's last major victory was the 1964 Masters. His last tournament triumph was the Hope Classic in the winter of 1973, and it followed a 17-month drought.

Despite his slump, Palmer remains the idol of the crowds. He has lost few of his so-called Arnie's Army to the successful Jack Nicklaus and Gary Players and the new young lions such as Johnny Miller and Hubert Green.

"That's what bothers me more than anything, not being able to deliver for all the people that are pulling for me," Palmer said. "I worry about them, more than I worry about myself...."

Players Plan To Resume Talks Today

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League Management Council, acknowledging the lack of key progress during initial talks, planned to resume labor negotiations today with the Players Association.

A spokesman for the NFL owner's group said discussions Wednesday had resulted in a "vigorous and profitable exchange of views" in the face of the NFLPA's July 1 strike deadline.

The Management Council of Blues Sign Buynak

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Blues of the National Hockey League announced Wednesday signing defenseman Gordon Buynak, selected in the second round of last month's amateur draft.

Official indicated, however, a clash erupted between what the league owners feel is "the structure of the game" and what the players view as major "freedom issues."

There was no reported conclusion involving NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle's right to designate compensation for teams losing an athlete who plays out his option and signs with another club.

The Management Council said the players were not responsive to a suggestion that bargaining agreements reached in other professional sports might serve as examples for their talks.

An NFL official said the council, for example, wanted to look into the major league baseball policy that guarantees the right to veto a trade to a 10-year-veteran or a player with five years on a single team.

The Management Council, meanwhile, promised that the Miami Dolphins would receive no compensation if a strike canceled their scheduled July 26 game in Chicago with the College All-Stars.

People Still Don't Know Green

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — He's won three tournaments already this year. He's the No. 2 money-winner in the game this season. His fellow pros say he's been the outstanding player on the tour for the past two months.

And people still ask, "Who's he?" when the name Hubert Green comes up.

"It's getting to be a joke with him now," Hubert's wife Judi said. "It really bothered him for a while, for a long time. I guess it still does a little bit, but it's more a joke now than anything."

"I don't know what you have to do," said Green, whose overwhelming credentials make him one of the outstanding favorites for the United States Open Golf Championship that begins Thursday at the Winged Foot Golf Club.

"I guess I'm just another pretty face on the tour."

"It's not as bad as it used to be. A lot more people know me now since I've had this good season...."

He has come into his own this season.

"In the last two months, Hubert has been the outstanding player on the tour," said Johnny Miller, the only man who has won more titles—five—and more money—$203,000—than Green this year.

Green took titles in the Bob Hope Desert Classic, the Greater Jacksonville Open and last week's Philadelphia Classic. He was second in another and could have at least won three others. He's collected $156,000.

"Obviously I'm playing pretty good. I won last week. My performance over the last month or so hasn't been anything to hang your head about. But I am getting tired, mentally tired."

"Playing good and winning takes a lot more out of you than just plugging along each week."

He says he and a lot of the other good young players will skip more tournaments next year. "You just can't play them all."

But, he adds, "Right now I want to win. I want to stack up titles...."

"You can make a lot of money finishing second. But I've got my money for the year. And finishing second is like kissing your sister."

"I want to win. I want to win a lot of them."

Greg Smith Demolishes Paducah With 6 RBI's

Greg Smith failed to hit safely in two times at bat in Paducah's Brooks Stadium Wednesday night.

But what he did the other three times combined with his pitching was more than enough to carry the Murray American Legion to an 8-3 win over Paducah.

Smith, a Farmington High School graduate, drove in six runs, had three hits, including a grand slam homerun and scattered 10 hits on the mound to star in his one-man show of baseball skills.

The win evened the Murray record at 2-2 entering tonight's home twin bill with Paducah. The first game will begin at 6 p. m. in Holland Stadium.

It was a five-run explosion in the fifth inning that gave Smith all the runs he needed to earn the victory. And guess who provided four of those runs!

Going into the fifth, Murray had been shutout, without a hit at that.

But with two men out, Mike Thurmond reached on an error by the shortstop and then Gary Mitchell, Johnny Hewitt and Mike Shelton all walked, with the latter forcing in a run, tying the game at 1-1.

Smith, a righthanded batter, laced a clothesline drive into right and the fielder dove for the ball, only to have the ball go all the way to the wall and by the time it was recovered, Smith was already back at the plate with an inside-the-park grand slam and Murray led 5-1.

In the sixth, Shelton doubled and Smith picked him up by drilling an RBI single.

And in the ninth, Hewitt led off with a single and came around to score when Smith uncorked a triple.

Smith came around with the final run of the contest when catcher Joey Mikez of Mayfield singled.

Paducah had taken a 1-0 lead in the opening inning when Al Luigs, who played for Murray State this spring, drew a walk and later came around to score on a single by Adams.

Smith pitched shutout ball until the eighth when Paducah scored twice, one run coming in on Mike Whitehead's double and the other scoring on an error when Gene Roof reached base on a bobble.

Smith was the only member of the Murray team to have over one hit, as he needed only a double to complete the circuit.

Hewitt, Shelton, Mikez and Jeff Wilson each added a hit.

Murray will play a twinbill with Henderson Saturday beginning at 6 p. m. in Holland Stadium and then on Sunday, will play the same team a twinbill at Reagan Field beginning at 1:30 p. m.

In tonight's games, Johnny Shelley, a Murray High southpaw, will draw the mound assignment in the opening game.

Holiday Softball Tourney Scheduled For Mayfield

All mens softball teams in the entire area are invited to participate in the annual Fourth of July Slow Pitch Invitational Tournament to be held again this year in Mayfield.

Tournament officials said that they want as many teams as possible and except over 30 teams to enter.

All that is necessary is to have a team or organize a team and enter the tournament. A team may use up to a 20 man roster.

It is a double elimination tournament. That is, each team must be beaten twice before it is out of the tournament. It will begin on June 29 and continue through July 7. All games will be played at night with the exception of Saturdays and Sundays and the July 4 holiday.

With the two weekends and the holiday included, a given team would not have to play but once or perhaps twice on regular week nights. Therefore, it will not interfere greatly if a team is playing in a league in another town.

All teams are encouraged to enter. Areas that do not already have teams are encouraged to organize teams and enter the while Gary Latta of Mayfield will pitch the second contest. Charlie Rains of Murray High will be used in relief, if needed.

The entry fee is $25.00. To enter, this fee along with the name of the team and the name, address, and phone number of the manager must be received by Saturday, June 22nd. Entries should be mailed to Mr. Raymond Bailey, 809 Valley Drive, Mayfield, Kentucky 42066. Checks should be made to the Graves County Softball League.

The drawing for the tournament will be at 8:00 p.m., June 24 at the softball park in Mayfield. All managers who enter are invited to attend the drawing. However, this is not necessary. The information will be mailed to those who do not attend. A team cannot wait until the night of the drawing to enter. All entries must be received by June 22.

Up to a 20 man roster will be turned in at the time of your first game. To take care of situations where a team may be short of players during the tournament, a team will be permitted to pick up two players not on its roster for any game providing these players are not on any other teams A.S.A. roster anywhere. This is an A.S.A. sanctioned tournament.

Local Rabbit Breeders Take High Show Honors

Members of the Jackson Purchase Rabbit Breeders' Club have taken top honors in the Blue Grass Rabbit Breeders' Show at Shelbyville, Kentucky. Five hundred forty rabbits were shown, representing 20 breeds. Bill Bailey, secretary of the local youth club, won three first places on three entries and Best of Breed and Best Opposite Sex of the Netherland Dwarf (this miniature breed of rabbits has an adult weight not to exceed 2 1/2 pounds).

Paul D. Bailey, President of the Jackson Purchase Club, had first place winners in Senior Buck, Senior Doe, 6-8 months old Doe, and Junior Doe of the Californian breed. His Californians won Best of Breed, Best Opposite Sex, Best Junior, Best Display, and Best Fur of the show. The Blue Grass Show Secretary reported that no other single breeder has been able to dominate the meat breed as Bailey did in the 20-year history of their classic show.

Don Burchfield (ZMO Rabbitry) captured top honors in the other popular meat breeds with a New Zealand White. His Junior Doe entry was given Best Junior, Best White, and Best of Breed over 120 other New Zealand Whites, Reds, and Blacks entered in the show.

The Jackson Purchase Rabbit Breeders' Club is only six months old and the membership is already listed in contention for national honors. The club will have its next meeting on Thursday, June 20, at 7:00 p.m. at the A. Carman Livestock Pavilion on the Murray State University campus. Membership is open to any interested rabbit breeders of the Jackson Purchase region served by Murray State University. The club has made plans to assist with 4-H rabbit projects and the Murray-Calloway County Fair in July.

Pirates Sign Four

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates said Tuesday they have signed four players from last week's free agent draft.

Little League Allows Girls To Play-At Last

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Women have broken another sex barrier—Little League baseball.

If a gal can play shortstop better than she knits or cooks, there is a place for her in Little League's 9,100 leagues.

It all happened Wednesday when Little League Baseball, Inc., announced that because of "the changing social climate" girls can play on its teams.

The announcement was made by the organization's board and the trustee of the Little League Foundation, headquartered here.

The new policy is effective immediately.

The board said it has petitioned the U.S. House Judiciary Committee to introduce appropriate legislation to amend Little League's federal charter under which it has operated since 1964.

The decision should end the numerous actions in American courts seeking to break Little League's sex barrier.

In a statement issued by Peter J. McGovern, board chairman and chief executive, the Little League said: "In reaching a decision on an issue of landmark significance, the board has taken the position that it would be imprudent for an organization as large and universally respected as Little League Baseball to allow itself to become embroiled in a public controversy. Implication that the program is unwilling to change or incompetent to solve its own problems is simply not true."

Whether girls' play would depend on managers and coaches of individual teams, the statement said. "The girls would have to prove equal competency in baseball skills, physical endowments and other attributes scaled as a basis for team selection."

McGovern said acceptance and screening of young girls should be done locally, and "in good faith and without prejudice."

He urged settlement of local squabbles by civil rights or human relations hearings.

Such groups as the National Organization for Women (NOW) and the American Civil Liberties Union have challenged the Little League in courts of nearly a dozen states.

The Little League began in 1939 in Williamsport with three teams and has grown to 9,100 leagues for 2.5 million youngsters in 31 nations. It is a private corporation operating under a federal charter. It has steadfastly opposed the sexual integration of its baseball program.

A New Jersey appeals court ruled in March that state Little League teams must let girls play. About a week later, the executive board of Little League, Inc., voted to appeal the ruling to the New Jersey Supreme Court.

Little League officials have attacked the female challenge on two fronts—legality and the safety and psychological needs of children.

Based on a decision in November 1973 of its Civil Rights Division, New Jersey became the first state to order Little League baseball teams to permit girls to play.

Later, Martha W. Griffins, D-Mich., said she planned to introduce legislation to amend the Little League charter to include the words "and girls."

McGovern said the 35-year-old Little League also would retain its separate and optional program for girls of Little League age. The Little League now has a program for 50,000 girls in the United States.

CAMPERS RIDE bicycles, pitch horseshoes, or just relax under the trees at the campsite at Reelfoot Lake State Park. Many of the different types of rigs used by campers can be seen in the background.

Camping has become one of the major forms of recreation in the area in the past few years. Whether camping in a tent, trailer, self contained trailer, truck camper, or motor home, the joys of camping are unlimited.

In April fifteen families were at Piney Campground in the Land Between the Lakes where a family potluck supper was held on Saturday night.

Some of the many joys of camping include sitting by a campfire at night, taking a walk on the beach or in the wooded area, fellowship with fellow campers, fishing, reading, bicycle riding, and just relaxing and seeing the fruits of nature.

This month the campout is again at Piney Campground with a barbecue supper planned clubs. A club campout is held each third weekend of the month by the club composed of local families.

Twelve families went in a caravan to Reelfoot Lake State Park in May where they took a boat cruise and had a family style dinner for forty-eight persons at Boyett's Restaurant.

This month the campout is again at Piney Campground with a barbecue supper planned

Saturday night along with special entertainment.

The club has its own devotional services each Sunday morning unless at one of the campgrounds in the area where the LBL Camp Ministry holds worship services.

With the many area campsites where campers may hook their rigs to have electricity and water, the joys of camping are many. Area campgrounds are filled to capacity almost every weekend during the summer months.

Many of the Local Good Sam Club members as well as other local campers camp the year around. Twin Lakers Good Sam Club is affiliated with the national club and campers may be identified with the special Good Sam Emblem.

Pioneer Dress Emphasized Usefulness In Its Design

Just a few hundred miles from a colonial world dressed in brocades, hoop skirts, waist coats, powdered wigs, corsets and ruffles, the early Kentucky pioneers went about their business of taming the wilderness in leather shirts and linsey-woolsey.

Clothing can be fashionable or plain, decorative or utilitarian, but to Kentucky's first settlers some 200 years ago, it was primarily designed for usefulness and was made of whatever was available, usually homespun cloth and animal skins.

Men's wear on the frontier was a classic example of clothing shaped by the environment. Designed to give as much protection and freedom of movement as possible, it was primarily an adaptation of Indian dress. The main garment was the hunting shirt or "wamus," a loose tunic slipped over the head with the neck opening often laced together with buckskin thongs.

The shirt, which was usually cut to just above the knees, had a broad cape or collar and close fitting sleeves. The seams of the sleeves and the bottom edges of the shirt were often decorated with leather fringes or fur. These decorations were usually fairly short, again to facilitate movement.

The shirt was belted and tied in the back. Mittens, bullet bag, food, tomahawk, knife, and other items may have been hung from the belt, all within easy reach, leaving both arms and hands free.

The hunting shirt was probably made from linsey, a rough homespun linen, or from carefully tanned buckskin. The linsey shirts were often dyed blue and sewn with a yellow fringe. A leather shirt of white elkskin was considered the height of fashion on the frontier.

Men's leggings were again copies of those worn by the Indians. They were made of leather, often fringed, and were tied below the knee so that they would not hamper the wearer's movement. For footwear, Indian moccasins were usually worn.

Two types of men's headgear were popular. A close-fitting cap of coonskin, fox, bear, or squirrel was worn in the dense forest. In open country a flapping felt hat, decorated with wampum or the tail of a small animal, was worn.

The frontier woman's dress copied the basic style of the popular colonial gown of the period. However, the frontier costume lacked the hoops, fine fabrics, laces and trains of the ladies of the East.

Necklines were usually fairly deep and skirts, full cut but not wasteful of scarce fabric, fell in fairly straight folds to the ankles.

Frontier skirts were shorter than those worn in settled areas because of the more active life on the frontier. Sleeves were usually elbow length and slit at the bottom seam to allow freedom of movement.

Women seldom wore hats; in bad weather a hood or shawl protected the head. The women went barefoot in summer, but wore moccasins or square-toed shoes in cold weather. For accessories, a few strings of beads or a ribbon or two were luxuries.

The pioneer women usually had one good dress and one good petticoat. She used the natural dyes of berries, roots, and herbs to color her homespun fabrics, so her clothing was rather drab compared to modern day standards. Blues, purple and berry red are some of these natural colors. Striped fabrics and pastels could be had only by the wealthy and a small floral print was a luxury suitable for a wedding dress.

A few of the more wealthy and "refined" settlers to Kentucky attempted to keep up with the style of the Eastern colonies where the fashion was dictated by the dress of England and France. They had to import silks, brocades, velvets and laces to try to copy these styles.

These fashions and fabrics were quite unsuited for most of Kentucky frontier life, however, where the work was hard, the materials scarce and the hem even shorter. As a result, most of the pioneers made do with what was at hand — furs, leather, homespun cloth and scraps of fabric sewn together.

Power Never More Sure In Office Of Kentucky Governor

FRANKFORT, Ky. — The power of the Office of the Governor of Kentucky has never been surer.

Some say that of all governors' offices in the nation, the office of the Kentucky governor was already the most powerful. But, just to make sure a Kentucky governor never finds himself powerless and in the dark, Gov. Wendell H. Ford had his office connected to an emergency power source.

Ford ordered that his offices in the Capitol Building in Frankfort be connected to an emergency power generator located in the capitol basement after the April 3 tornado knocked out electricity in his office. Then, Ford carried on emergency operations, answering phones and coordinating rescue procedures, by candlelight.

Candles won't be needed in the governor's office ever again.

The state Bureau of Facilities Management in the Executive Department for Finance and Administration recently completed the tie-in of the governor's offices with the 20 kilowatt diesel fueled generator that has been used by the Civil Defense.

If normal power is interrupted, the emergency generator automatically supplies power to the governor's office. The generator can power the governor's office for twenty-four hours before the 250 gallon tank which fuels it must be refilled.

(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) Be careful of details, avoid doubts and a trend toward misunderstandings. You can avoid possible friction if you are on your toes, thinking ahead every step of the way.

(Apr. 21 to May 21) You may face moments of uncertainty. As with Aries, stand firmly against wavering and doubting. Concentrate on significant issues only.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21) Caution should be day's keynote. Don't create unnecessary problems through impulsiveness, and take no reckless chances.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23) Favorable lunar influences now promise increasing gains. But some minor points may have to be ironed out before you go ahead with long-range plans.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23) Excellent solar influences now give you the "go ahead" signal to complete pending negotiations, initiate new agreements which could have an important bearing on future security.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) Study new propositions and the persons who make them. Don't make hasty decisions, and do be alert to schemers and daydreaming optimists.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Not a good day for making important moves or decisions. Certain situations may be so confusing that you will need time to fully understand them.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 23) Gains indicated in unexpected areas; also a chance to increase your prestige with superiors. On the personal side, travel and outdoor interests especially favored.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 24 to Dec. 23) Stellar influences somewhat mixed, but generally on the favorable side. You may get unexpected help in a personal problem through a business associate.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 24 to Jan. 20) A good day for achievement. You should not only gain through regular activities, but may even have an opportunity to cash in on an avocational skill.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Try to talk with individuals important to your aims. A bit of diplomatic maneuvering could have fine results. But avoid intrigue.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Your creative ideas may need some revision before they can be carried out, so be sure to study all angles of feasibility before presenting them.

3. Card of Thanks

THE FAMILY of Burnett Waterfield wishes to express appreciation to everyone who helped make our burden a little lighter in the passing of our loved one.

The services and thoughtfulness administered by the doctors, nurses, and staff of the Murray Calloway County Hospital were excellent.

The consoling words of our ministers, Dr. James A. Fisher and Rev. Mickey Carpenter, will be beautiful thoughts to remember. The entire staff of the Blalock Coleman Funeral Home seemed to go far beyond what we expected.

We especially appreciated our neighbors and friends who prepared our food. The many floral arrangements and cards were lovely.

All of the expressions of love and sympathy will be cherished and long remembered.

Kent Letterman, reporter; Tim Letterman, assistant reporter; Thomas Murdock, sentinel; Jeff Waters, assistant sentinel.

Steve McCuiston who is also Purchase Region treasurer, gave a report on activities of the chapter at the annual FFA convention in Louisville. He reported that the chapter was awarded a silver emblem rating which is the second highest rating a chapter may receive. The rating is based on accomplishments of the chapter's program of activities.

McCuiston also reported that four members of the chapter — Phil McCallon, Larry Flood, Ronald Armstrong, and Larry Tucker — received the Kentucky Farmer degree, highest degree an FFA member may receive in the state and based on a member's occupational experience program while in high school.

Two members of the chapter also received plaques for their excellence in soil judging. They were Tim Letterman and Don Nance.

The next meeting date was set for July 8 at eight p. m. at Calloway County High School.

Atlas. . .

points out the responsibility of the school to focus its research efforts on regional needs.

"His (Franklin's) data and analysis, previously inaccessible, will be of immense value to business, industry, local government and education. Through this Regional Atlas and with continued research and recommendations, the Jackson Purchase will grow and develop in harmony with our environment, and with respect for the quality of life in West Kentucky," Curris' foreword said.

Franklin, a member of the faculty at Murray State since 1965, said the maps and graphs in the volume emphasize the present, but that it also includes historical maps so that readers can observe developing trends, along with projections for the future.

He said he expects periodic updating of the information through the publication of revised editions.

Kentucky's 2,400 square-mile Jackson Purchase area was part of a parcel of land in Kentucky and Tennessee purchased for $300,000 from the Chickasaw Indians in 1818 by Gen. Andrew Jackson and Kentucky Gov. Isaac Shelby upon the instruction of President James Monroe.

Another 6,100 square miles of that total land parcel makes up the 20 westernmost counties in Tennessee.

Franklin dedicated the atlas to Dr. R. B. Parsons, professor emeritus of Murray State, and offered it as a contribution to Kentucky's Bicentennial Celebration. He credited several students and university colleagues with lending assistance on the project.

A native of Marion, Franklin earned both the B. S. and M. A. degrees at Murray State. He has completed all course work and is working on his dissertation for the Ph. D. degree at the University of Tennessee.

On sale at the University Bookstore on the campus, the atlas is selling for $2 a copy.

areas of the city except on private streets, driveways or parking lots. The ordinance will make it unlawful for anyone to operate such a vehicle on the property of others without the owners written consent and makes it unlawful for a property owner to allow the illegal operation of the vehicles on his property.

A person found to be in violation of the ordinance will be guilty of a misdemeanor and subject to a maximum fine of $500, six months in jail or both.

Dog Ordinance Amended
The council approved on the second and final reading an amendment to the dog control ordinance which will enable dog owners to reclaim their dog from the pound by contacting a city police officer. As originally written, a dog owner was required to make an appearance before the city judge in order to have his dog released.

In other business, the council approved the employment of a sexton for the City Cemetery who will be in charge of opening and closing all new graves at the cemetery.

The contract between the city and the Murray Independent School Board governing the operation of the new tennis courts being constructed adjacent to Murray High School received unanimous approval of the council. The parks department also received authorization to replace the metal nets presently being used on the tennis courts in the City Park with nylon nets.

Councilman Dave Willis, chairman of the sanitation committee, announced that new hours would be in effect at the city landfill beginning July 1. From that date, until the end of October, the landfill will be open from 9 a. m. to 6 p. m. Monday through Friday, 9 a. m. to 3 p. m. on Saturdays, and closed on Sundays and holidays.

An audit of the Murray Natural Gas System was distributed to the council members for review purposes. A full report on the audit will be presented at the next council meeting.

Thousands Of Egyptians Cheer President Nixon In Cairo Today

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — Thousands of Egyptian workers, peasants and schoolchildren cheered President Nixon today as he and President Anwar Sadat traveled to Alexandria by train.

Nixon and Sadat sat on the open end of a century-old coach once used by Khedive Ismail, who opened the Suez Canal. An American helicopter circled over the train, and some 10,000 Egyptian troops were deployed along the route, primarily to keep the surging throngs off the tracks.

Egyptian security agents predicted as many as 10 million persons would turn out to see the flag-decked, 13-car train as it moved through the fertile Nile delta to the ancient port the Greeks founded on the Mediterranean.

Nixon and Sadat were relaxed and obviously enjoying the clear weather, enthusiastic crowds and happy children running alongside the train.

Chiles. . .

The Baptist Sunday School Board in Nashville will sponsor the East Central Bible Conference to be held October 14-17 in Louisville for the benefit of the people in several states at which a minimum attendance of 3,000 is expected, and the Board has invited Dr. Chiles to lead a conference each evening and each morning during that week.

After their midafternoon arrival, Nixon and Sadat were to talk at the Ras el Tin Palace. After an early-evening reception President and Mrs. Nixon were giving a state dinner, reciprocating for the banquet the Sadats gave for them Wednesday night in Cairo.
