Judiciary Committee Votes To Make Most Of Evidence Public

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Judiciary Committee has voted to make public most of the evidence it has received in secret impeachment hearings during the past seven weeks. When the material will be released remains unclear but some members say all evidence relating to the Watergate cover-up, including the committee's versions of White House tapes, could be made public in a few days. Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., who will have the right to edit the material before it is released, said Tuesday he hoped the entire record of more than 7,000 pages would be available for public scrutiny when the committee starts debating proposed articles of impeachment, now scheduled for July 15.

In other Watergate developments:

—Former top Nixon aide John D. Ehrlichman and three others go on trial today in the break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist.

—The Senate Watergate committee is reported ready to release a report written by Vice Chairman Howard H. Baker Jr., R-Tenn., on possible CIA involvement in the Watergate break-in and cover-up.

—A legal consultant to the Watergate committee proposed that Congress limit a president's use of executive privilege and define exactly what he can do in the name of national security.

The House Judiciary Committee resolution excludes from the evidence to be released material relating to the secret bombing of Cambodia that the Defense Department has refused to declassify.

Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif., who led the fight against release of the material, said (See Committee, Page 12)

City School Board To Meet On Thursday

Several routine items will be considered on the agenda of the Murray City School Board at its regular meeting Thursday. Supt. Fred Schultz listed the following agenda: Consideration of bids on carpeting, review of internal accounts, presentation of bills obligations and transfers, report of cafeteria program, consideration of continuing the policy of paying certain bills prior to the board meeting, consideration of continuing participation in various federal projects and naming a board representative; Request audit of cafeteria accounts by a committee other than a CPA, personnel recommendations, general budget, superintendent's report on a review of the Southern Association and State Department accreditation, and summer maintenance program. The meeting will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the board office.

Dr. Schanbacher Is Speaker At Meeting Murray Lions Club

Dr. E. M. Schanbacher, Associate Professor, Department of Industrial Education at Murray State, was the guest speaker at the meeting of the Murray Lions Club Tuesday night. Dr. Schanbacher presented a color slide presentation of Ancient and Medieval Architecture of Greece, the Middle East and East Africa.

First Vice-president John Belt presided at the meeting in the absence of Ken Winters. Guests at the meeting were Al Gizzi, John Feriozzi, Jack Jackson, and Lion Harrell Wood, a member of the Henderson County Lions Club.

City Planner Denies Allegations Made In Anti-Annexation Motion

By DAVID HILL

Murray Ledger & Times Writer City Planner Richard Nash has strongly denied claims made in a motion for a new trial by plaintiffs on the annexation suit against the City of Murray.

The motion, made to request a new trial on the annexation of a large area north of the present city limits, is made by plaintiffs Clayton Riley, Elizabeth Riley, N. P. Paschall, Robbie Paschall, John Pocock, Rhonda Sue Pocock, and Alfred Wells. In the suit, Mrs. Riley alleges that she "made all reasonable efforts prior to the hearing before the court on June 11, 1974 to ascertain the number of persons living in the prospective area to be annexed by the City of Murray. This included searching the records in the courthouse and consulting with the City Planner and Building Inspector."

Nash, who is the city planner and building inspector, said this morning that none of the plaintiffs had ever approached him before the June 11 hearing concerning a list or the total number of freeholders in the area.

When asked if he would have cooperated with them if they had asked him, Nash said he probably would have directed them to the public records in the Courthouse offices of Clerk Marvin Harris and Property Valuation Administrator Charles Hale. He said that he obtained his list and information from those offices.

The motion for a new trial was made by Mayfield attorney Steve West, and comes after a ruling by Circuit Judge James Lassiter June 11 against the plaintiffs. In the motion, the plaintiffs allege that they were denied access to a list of the freeholders, and therefore could not come up with the required 75 per cent of the freeholders to protest the annexation. Law requires the three-fourths of the residents to protest the annexation.

West had said Tuesday that he would ask for a restraining order to keep the city from annexing the area at its meeting tomorrow night. However, West said this morning that he has decided not to ask for the order. Judge Lassiter could not be reached for comment today.

Mayor John Scott said today that the annexation ordinance is on the agenda for tomorrow night, but that he has not decided if he will call for a vote on the matter.

Scott said that he does not want it to appear that the city is pushing the ordinance through before Friday, when Judge Lassiter will rule on the motion for a new trial.

The mayor added that he will reach a decision tomorrow morning on whether or not to postpone the vote on the ordinance.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY Celebration—Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Littleton, founders of the firm, J. E. Littleton and Company, Inc., visited the store this week as it celebrates fifty years of service to this area. Mr. Littleton became ill in June 1971 and has been confined to his home most of the time since his illness. The store is now operated by their son, Joe Baker Littleton.

Littleton's Celebrates Fifty Years Of Service; Started At Hazel, 1924

By Jo Burkeen

Murray Ledger & Times Writer "Fifty Years of Service to the people of Hazel, Murray, and all of Calloway County" is being observed this week by the J. E. Littleton & Company, Inc., the "Happy Yellow Store" on the north side of the court square in downtown Murray.

It was in February 1924 that Mrs. J. E. Littleton opened a millinery and ladies' ready-to-wear show in Hazel which was advertised in the issue of The Hazel News on February 29, 1924.

The store was in operation in the building behind the Farmers Bank in Hazel until July 4 of the same year when Mr. and Mrs. Littleton moved to a larger building at Hazel and the firm became known as J. E. Littleton and Company.

Littleton's remained in business at Hazel until January 1941 when the store was moved to its present location on the court square in Murray. The store opened here in Murray in March in the building which had been vacated previously by Ryan's Clothing Store.

Four years ago the store added to its space the building just west of their store which was the former location of a long time Murray firm, Diuguid's Furniture Company. It was at this time that the store became known as the "Happy Yellow Store."

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Littleton remained active in the business of the store until June 13, 1971 when Mr. Littleton suffered a heart attack and has been confined to his home most of the time since then.

With the special celebration going on this week at the store, Mr. Littleton came to the store on Monday to visit with friends (See Littleton's, Page 12)

Dr. Morgan To Lecture At Two-Day Conference

Dr. H. Gerthson Morgan, director of the Institute for Child Study at the University of Maryland, will be the lecturer at a two-day Children and Youth Conference opening Thursday at Murray State University.

Dr. Morgan, who also is chairman of the Department of Human Development Education at the Maryland University, will deliver four lectures during the conference, which is expected to attract more than 200 teachers, administrators and other personnel involved in the teaching of children and youth.

Tomorrow, Dr. Morgan will lecture on "Growing, Growing" at 9:50 a.m., and on "The Self: Secure or Threatened" at 1:30 p.m. Friday, he will be lecturing on "The Older Child: His Developmental Tasks" at 9:50 a.m., and again at 2:30 p.m. when he will be speaking on "The Optimum Environment for Learning."

All sessions will be held in the Murray State University School Auditorium, and Miss Rubie E. Smith, chairman of the Department of Elementary Education, is the campus coordinator.

Dr. Morgan's lectures also will be of interest to church school personnel who work with children and youth, Miss Smith said.

The Institute of Child Study, of which Dr. Morgan is the director, is an agency affiliated (See Dr. Morgan, Page 12)

Dill Pickle A Kostly Kosh for Paris Man

It was a costly kosher for James W. Williams of Paris, Tenn. in City Court last Friday.

Mr. Williams was convicted of shoplifting a 19-cent pickle from the Northside IGA earlier this year, and was sentenced to a $100 fine upon recommendation of a six-man jury in City Court.

It was the second jury trial for Williams before Judge Steve Sanders. The first resulted in a hung jury.

Civitan Officers Installed

Members of the Murray Civitan Club attended the annual interclub meeting of Cadiz, Murray, Paducah and Princeton Civitan Clubs held at Paducah, Tuesday evening, June 25. At this annual meeting the new club officers assuming their duties were installed.

Murray Civitans installed for the 1974-75 year were Wayne Williams, president; Don Alley, president-elect; Relman Wilson, treasurer; Leonard Elzie, secretary; Reldon Norsworthy, sergeant at arms; Paul Welch, chaplain and J. H. Nix, director.

The incoming Murray Civitan president, Wayne Williams, said that the main thrust for Murray Civitans for 1974 would be a "Get Out the Vote" program for November 1974, improved community service activities, honoring of Murray citizens that promote good citizenship and Junior Civitans. Guest speakers at the interclub meeting were Charles McConnell, past state governor of Kentucky Civitans and John Martin, Bowling Green, present governor.

Murray Civitans will meet next on July 11 when Roger Wilson, Cadiz, lieutenant governor of Area VII will speak. Other Murray Civitans attending the interclub meeting were Harman Whitnell and Hoyt Roberts and wives of the members.

Knowledge Is Power
Housewives often complain that they can't afford to give their families the best nutrition for health and vitality. However, lack of knowledge is often a greater hindrance than lack of money.

Americans have been brainwashed into spending their food dollars for a vast array of high-cost processed foods that provide few of the essential nutrients.

In order to spend the food budget wisely, homemakers need to understand a principle enunciated by Dr. Albert Sanchez, professor of food chemistry, Loma Linda University School of Health.

Terminology, protein, fat, and carbohydrates (starch and sugar) the major nutrients, Dr. Sanchez points out that the average American diet contains more than adequate amounts. The key to good nutrition lies in a balanced selection of the minor nutrients, vitamins, and minerals. These substances, though used in minute amounts, are essential for the body's production of enzymes. Without these enzymes, the body cannot properly utilize the food taken in.

Translated into its practical application to the shopper's decisions in the supermarket, this means that first place on the shopping list should be given to fruits, vegetables, whole-grain cereals, and low-fat milk. With prices for fresh produce out of sight, many a housewife has settled for cheaper substitutes. But even in these inflationary days, knowledge increases buying power.

In order to provide better nutrition, one of the first places to start is to resist the lure of sweet, artificial drinks, bakery goods, dry breakfast cereals, snack and dessert foods.

If the cost of oranges or grapes or apples seems out of reach, compare them with what you would pay for soft drinks or sweet rolls. If you think you can't afford the whole-grain bread free of additives now produced by a few commercial bakers, compare it with a box of sugar-coated breakfast cereal. Still better, consider the amount of air you are buying in the apparently larger white loaves that cost a little less. (Bread should be measured by the pound, not by its bulk.) If you would like to demonstrate to your family how little you get for the money spent on white sandwich loaves, squeeze a slice into a little ball of dough in your hand.

If you would buy good nutrition on a limited budget, do some homework by studying a simple but sound nutrition handbook. You will find one in your library.

TWO BUS Loads of Calloway County 4-H Club members left Monday for a week of fun at the Dawson Springs 4-H Camp. Fifty-five 4-H'ers, five counselors, and one 4-H agent are at the camp. They will return on Friday at about three p.m. and all parents should be at the Extension Office to pick up their children at that time.

Nancy Herndon Is Honored At Shower At Wooden Home

Another delightful event honoring Miss Nancy Herndon, July 5th bride-elect of Steve Herndon, was a shower held at the home of Miss Joyce Wooden and her mother, Mrs. Glenn Wooden, on Wednesday, June 5.

The hostesses were Miss Wooden, Miss Rachael Baar,

Miss Carol Rolfe, and Mrs. Sandy Johnson Morris.

For the occasion the honoree chose to wear a white and turquoise striped pant suit and was presented an orchid corsage by the hostesses who also presented her mother, Mrs. C. W. Herndon, and mother-in-law to be, Mrs. Earl Herndon, each with an orchid corsage.

Games were played with the winners presented their prizes to the honoree who opened her many gifts including a blender which was a gift of the gracious hostesses.

Refreshments were served from the table covered with a lace cloth and centered with a floral arrangement of the bridal colors and a silver punch bowl containing a cool green punch accompanied with dainty iced cakes, nuts, and mints.

Those attending were classmates and close friends of the honoree.

Luncheon And Swim Party Held, Honor Beth Garrison

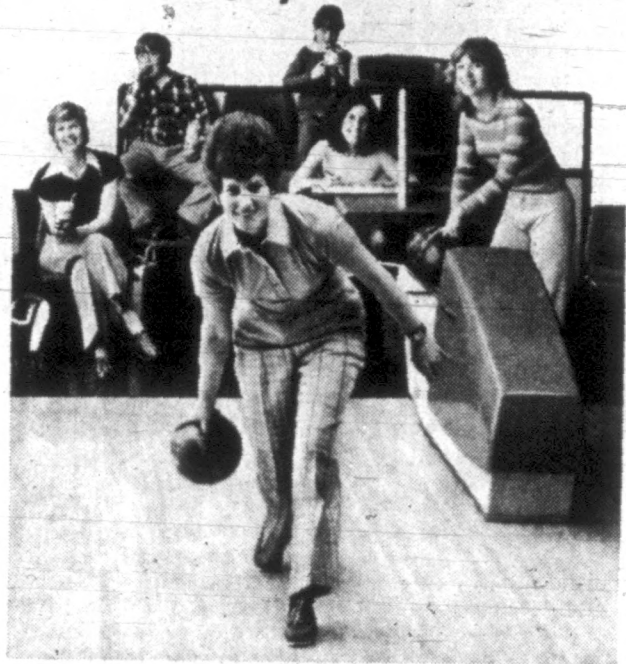

A sunny summer day by the poolside was the setting for a delightful swim party and luncheon, given in honor of Miss Beth Garrison, bride-elect of Mike Johnson. Miss Lillian Tate was the hostess at her home on Oxford Drive on Friday, June 21.

Guests gathered around the pool at 10:30 for a morning swim. Lunch was served at noon, and there was more swimming in the afternoon.

Tables for lunch, covered with gold cloths, were set up on the screened porch. Each table was centered with yellow and white daisies in tall brandy glasses. A delicious salad and sandwich luncheon was served to twelve guests.

Miss Tate presented the honoree with a lei of varied colored gladioli blossoms to wear at lunch time. Her wedding gift to Miss Garrison was a beautiful shell salad set.

Cleaning Saves
Clean bulbs, lamps and lampshades save energy — yours and the local electric company. The extra light lessens eyestrain and uses less fuel if it permits you to use a smaller watt bulb. Keep washable shades clean with an occasional sudsy bath. Clean bulbs and the lamp with a damp cloth — but for safety's sake, unplug the lamp first to avoid shock.

Dear Abby

If husband won't see counselor, go alone

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I can't believe I'm actually writing a letter to Dear Abby! Wow, what a corny trip! I know you're not "God," but you say a lot in a few words and your answers make sense, so here goes:

I'm a 34-year-old married woman with two kids and a million problems. The biggest is my marriage. It's going downhill fast.

My husband and I fight all the time. We've got money problems, in-law problems, he says I'm a lousy housekeeper and he's right, and I say he spends too much time with "the boys" and not enough with me and the kids. [He's a sports freak.] We can't even discuss our problems without ending up in a fight. The only thing we've got going for us is sex. That's terrific, but you can't stay in bed all the time.

Don't tell me we need "counseling." He'd never go. And I can't afford a shrink, so forget that.

All right, Abby, you've got all the answers. Answer this one.

DEAR MISS: The answer I have for you, you won't like. You need professional counseling. [Friends are a waste of time. They tell you only what they think you want to hear.] You say your husband won't go? Well, go alone. If you learn how to handle your husband, you will know more than you know now. And with luck, you can get him to go later.

If you need a shrink and can't afford one, your Family Service or Welfare Department can provide that at a price you CAN afford. Now get going, and let me hear from you in 30 days.

DEAR ABBY: I was a very happily married woman until I went to this mind reader. She told me that my husband was on drugs and also that he was unfaithful to me.

I asked my husband about this and he denied it. I want to believe my husband because we have two kids, and I don't want to break up my marriage.

Abby, why would that mind reader say something like that if it wasn't true?

I don't know what to believe. Can you help me?

DEAR MESSED UP: I'd believe my husband. I would also stay away from "mind readers."

DEAR ABBY: Tell me something. Do I have a right to complain? We've been married for 14 years, and for the last ten years my husband has taken a 10-day skiing vacation without me.

I couldn't go because I had no one to leave the kids with. I took one vacation without my husband five years ago. I went to Florida for a week to visit my folks, and I took my kids with me. Some vacation!

My husband says: "Just because YOU have to stay home doesn't mean I have to."

Rah, rah, for women's lib!

DEAR ANGRY: You made your first mistake when you stayed home with the kids while hubby took to the slopes. They're his kids too, aren't they? The squeaking wheel gets the grease, so give him three choices: [1] The whole family takes a vacation together—kids included. [2] You and hubby vacation together and farm the kids out. [3] You and hubby vacation together, and hire somebody to stay with the kids.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR THURSDAY, JUNE 27, 1974

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

Planetary influences only mildly auspicious. Pursue a cautious but flexible course. View things in their true perspective—not as you would like them to be.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21)

Don't overtax yourself now. No matter how busy, MAKE some time for a quiet review of your present status. A new appraisal needed.

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)

Make the most of any good ideas you have and, if need be, enlist the help of others in putting them across. Favorable Mercury influences!

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)

Brace yourself for some opposition. Prepared, you can cope with it more easily, even outwit it.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)

Adjustments, revisions, unexpected situations will be the order of the day. Take all in stride and channel energies judiciously. Some news from afar in the p.m.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

Personal matters may trouble you. Review them calmly, completely. Perhaps you are overemphasizing certain angles. There is no real need for anxiety.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Expect some obstacles, even setbacks, as you aim toward cherished goals. Consistent effort eventually makes its own "breaks." If calm, you can handle unexpected situations astutely.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Be careful of the way in which you make your moves, whom you include in your plans—and confidences. Wrong decisions could snarl your success pattern.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Not all that transpires will please you, but some of the situations you don't like will actually prove fortunate in the long run. So-o-o? Adapt!

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Step lightly with measured gait. There may be a few delicate spots, perhaps a detour you can take. Just don't blindly crash through ANY situation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Many problems which have been bothering you may be resolved now. Good deeds of the past may also pay off. It should be a very happy day.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

Direct your enthusiasm for worthy causes into progressive channels. You may have to revise previous plans, however. Especially favored now: travel, outdoor interests.

YOU BORN TODAY are conservative, philosophical and extremely practical, with a deep respect for tradition, heritage and culture. Despite a strong leaning toward the scientific, you are also interested in music and art—and may take up either as an avocation. You are a born homebody but must learn to curb overpossessiveness with those near and dear to you. You are outstandingly articulate in speech and could make a good go of politics, statesmanship or diplomacy. Writing would also be an excellent outlet for your talents. Other fields in which you could succeed: teaching, medicine, archeology. Try to bolster your self-confidence. A tendency to doubt your abilities could prove a hindrance to success. Birthdate of: Lafcadio Hearn, noted author.

To freeze fowl

For freezing, wrap poultry tightly in a moisture-resistant material, such as aluminum foil or freezer paper. You can freeze poultry for a short time right in the plastic wrap from the store—as long as it's tightly sealed and free from tears or punctures. If you follow these tips, you'll help assure continued wholesomeness.

Snacks Needed

Children frequently need snacks. Because they are growing, their calorie needs are often as great as those of adults. Yet because their stomachs are smaller they can't eat as much at any one time. So children are likely to feel hungry more frequently than adults.

Adams-Gardner Vows Planned

Miss Donna Adams
and Tony F. Gardner

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Ken Adams of Murray Route Two announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their only daughter, Donna, to Tony F. Gardner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gardner of Murray Route Three.

The bride-elect is a 1974 graduate of Murray High School. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Harrison of Murray and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adams of Farmington.

The groom-elect is employed with Crouse Auto Sales. He is the grandson of Mrs. Hill Gardner and Mr. and Mrs. Ruble-Thurman, all of Murray.

The wedding will be solemnized on Thursday, July 25, at 7:30 p. m. in the Hurt Memorial Garden, Calloway County Public Library.

No formal invitations will be sent and all friends and relatives are invited to attend.

Patio Luncheon And Meeting Held By Paris Road Homemakers Club At The Taylor Home

Mrs. Della Taylor opened her home on the Hazel Highway for a patio luncheon and meeting of the Paris Road Homemakers Club held on Tuesday, June 11, at 11:30 a. m.

After the delicious potluck luncheon was served at noon, the business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Mary Alice Gee.

Mrs. Lucille Grogan gave the devotion using Proverbs 18:21 and the thought, "Have I Been An Active Member This Year?"

Members answered the roll call by an "old proverb you remember as a child." Mrs. Ina Nesbitt read the minutes, called the roll, and gave the financial report.

New officers for the coming year were elected with Mrs. Topsy Brandon as president. Mrs. Mary Alice Gee gave the main lesson on "Food." She stressed to be very careful during the summer months of keeping food from becoming contaminated.

A very interesting lesson on "Terrariums" was given by Mrs. Margaret Roach who also gave the club information on the new proposed metric system.

Mrs. Barbara White was nominated as the "Master Homemaker" of the club.

One guest present was Mrs. Artie Fuqua. Members present were Mesdames Lucille Hart, Rebel Steely, Lucille Grogan, Amy Wilson, Ina Nesbitt, Mary Alice Gee, Margaret Roach, Alice Steely, Barbara White, Ola McIntosh, Topsy Brandon, Lula White, Larue Thompson,

Lochie Hart Is Guest Speaker At Dill Home

The United Methodist Women of Russell's Chapel Church held their regular meeting on Monday, June 10, at the lakeview home of Mrs. Ira Dill.

Mrs. Lora Wilkinson, president, presided and opened the meeting by having the roll call, reading of the minutes, and the treasurer's report.

The spiritual leader was Mrs. Carrie Hicks.

Mrs. Lochie Hart was the guest speaker and gave an inspiring program of her personal tour of her visits to the Holy Land. She also showed slides.

The hostess, Mrs. Dill, served cake and coffee to the twelve members and five guests. After the refreshments the group enjoyed meeting Rev. Ronald Gordon, the new pastor of the Russell's Chapel Church, and Rev. Joe Piercy, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, Benton.

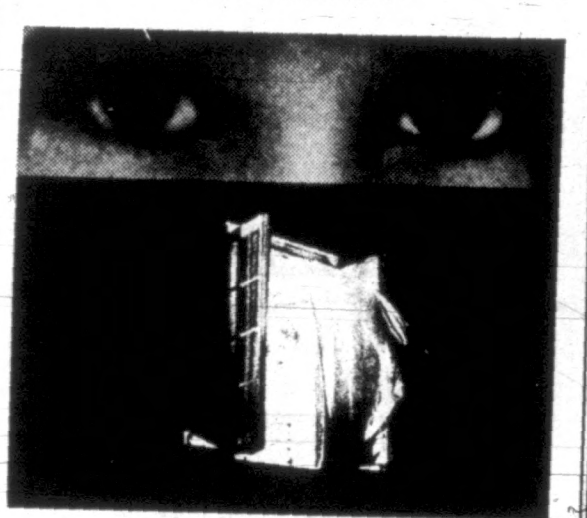

Mrs. Shirley Garland will have the program for the July meeting to be held at the church with Mrs. Ruby Harris and Mrs. Lora Wilkinson as hostesses.

Other members present, not previously mentioned, were Rosezella Outland, Ethel Walker, Martha Crass, Klara Wutzke, Elvie Carson, Irene Donnon, Lavine Carter, and Tony Hopson. Other guests were Mrs. Robert Leahy, Lori Charlton, and Tony Wilkinson.

Dr. Don Rye Speaker At Meet Of Local Parents Without Partners.

The Murray Chapter of Parents Without Partners met Thursday evening, June 20, in the auditorium of the United Campus Ministry building.

Mrs. Arlene Seaford, president, presided during the business session. The first edition of the chapter's newsletter was presented to the members present.

Dr. Don Rye, associate professor, Department of Guidance and Counseling at Murray State University, who serves on the Advisory Council for the Murray PWP, was the guest speaker for the evening. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

The next general meeting will be held Friday, July 5, at eight p. m. at the UCM Building, 202 North Fifteenth Street, Murray, with the guest speaker being Dr. Kris Jeter, MSU Professor, an expert on marriage and family relations. Refreshments and a social hour will follow.

Parents Without Partners is an international non-profit, non-sectarian educational organization devoted to the welfare and interests of single parents and their children. If you are a single parent—widowed, divorced, separated, or never married—and are interested in finding out more about PWP, contact Arlene Seaford at 753-8336, Carol Boyd at 753-7563, or Dot Kornell at 753-0502.

Green soybeans

CHAMPAIGN, ILL.—While mature dry soybeans are a popular source of protein, green soybeans can be used as a vegetable and grown in a householder's garden, says the University of Illinois College of Agriculture. The beans are higher in calcium and vitamin A than peas and contain vitamin C which is lacking in peas. The plants are drought-resistant, productive and easy to grow. Some varieties are better than others as garden plants.

Crafts Festival A Treat For The Family

A super treat will be in store for those persons who attend the Fifth Annual Arts and Crafts Festival this coming weekend in the Land Between The Lakes.

Artists and craftsmen from a wide area — practically every state in the South and Midwest — will be on hand to exhibit all types of art during the two-day show, sponsored by the Murray Art Guild and the Tennessee Valley Authority.

The show opens at 9 a. m. each day (Saturday and Sunday, June 29 and 30) and will remain open until the sun goes down.

A large number of the craftsmen will not only be displaying their wares but will also be at work on new items during the festival.

Handmade Early America rocking chair reproductions, blacksmithing, all types of paintings, macrame, jewelry, sculpture storybook dolls and genealogical charts will be among the varied items on display.

The festival promises to be an outing for the whole family. Located near Center Station, the exhibits are open to the public at no charge and picnic areas are provided within the Environmental Center for visitors. The Murray Art Guild will sell light refreshments on the grounds.

Every family should take in the festival at least one if not both days. We are sure you will not be disappointed.

Plumbers Again

From the Atlanta (Ga.) Journal and Constitution

A Princeton scientist, Dr. Carl Pfeiffer, told a group meeting here at Emory University that there is evidence of a connection between copper plumbing and mental illness, particularly in places where drinking water is somewhat acid.

We knew that the current Washington sickness had something to do with the Plumbers, but we didn't take it that literally.

Depressed

From the Asheville (N. C.) Citizen

For a practical lesson in the sad peculiarities of economics, there's nothing like trying to sell an old car and finding out that the whole thing is worth about half the price of its new parts.

A long way, baby

Just how far the movement for equal rights for women has come is indicated by the proposed settlement of a lawsuit against the world's biggest bank, the Bank of America.

The settlement, which the bank has agreed to, provides goals (not called "quotas") for the hiring of women in the bank's top executive positions. One goal, for example, would be to increase the percentage of women executives in the highest positions from the present 6 per cent to 5.1 per cent by December, 1978.

In addition, the settlement proposes the establishment of a $3.75-million trust fund by the bank to pay for training women employees of the bank for advancement.

Women would get a higher percentage of the slots in the bank's management training program. This is a historic and precedent-setting proposal to settle a suit alleging sex discrimination in employment, an action brought jointly by three women and the federal Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

The economic and social consequences of such an affirmative action program are immense. The Bank of America, as our largest financial institution, was a natural target. It was a target for racial minorities seeking jobs in the 1960s. Now it is the target for the female majority.

The ferment for change in our society is active. No one can say our institutions are not reacting.

Poll conscious

Some persons are so accustomed to polls that when they are asked by the airline stewardess if they want to sit in the smoking or no-smoking section, they reply, "No opinion."

Michael Yeates of Brighton, who is known as Mick the Milkman on his daily route, always kept his temper with customers. "Everybody tries to get a rise out of the milkman with insulting stories," he said. "If a lady has an unexpected baby, it's the milkman who gets the blame." Now Yeates, 30, has been fined $75 for punching his wife in the nose. "When she began a saucy story about me, I lost my temper," he explained. "Wives should not expect the same treatment as customers."

Bob Foulds, a 28-year-old civil service employee, threw out a challenge which he didn't expect any American union member to pick up. Foulds retained his title as Great Britain's pipe-smoking champion and won a $2,480 prize by keeping one pipeful of tobacco going for 121 minutes and 16 seconds. Foulds, fellow unionists didn't think there was any U. S. unionist who could challenge him. "Yanks are in too much of a hurry," they said. "Yanks don't have the patience."

Isn't It The Truth

by Carl Riblet Jr.

The governors of the 50 states all seem to want just three things — more federal handouts, more projects to take up the slack in spending when the handouts come pouring in and the guts to raise taxes when they are not needed.

"Under our system, the chief duty of the governor is running an employment agency."

—Frank Dixon, 1938 inaugural address as governor of Alabama

Alan Gibbs Fans 10 As Twins Take 3-1 Little League Game

Alan Gibbs continued his mastery over the Little League as he scattered four hits Tuesday night in pitching the Twins to a 3-1 win over the Reds.

In his last outing, Gibbs allowed only one hit and fanned 15 men in throwing the first shutout of the season in the league.

Gibbs flirted with a no-hitter for the first three innings but a one-out double in the fourth inning by Fred Kemp of the Reds spoiled the bid.

He lost the shutout when the next batter, Mike Vaughn, doubled for the Red's only tally of the game.

In the sixth inning, the Reds put two men on base but were unable to score.

Gibbs, who fanned 10 batters, got all the help he needed in the third inning when the Twins scored all of their runs.

Mitch McClard opened the frame by drawing a walk and Gibbs laced a hard triple against the leftfield fence, sending in McClard with the first run of the game.

Then Nicky Swift uncorked a deep drive, far over the centerfield fence and the Twins led 3-0.

The score stayed the same until the fourth when the Reds pushed across the final run of the game.

Jimmy Elkins was the only other member of the Reds to hit safely, in addition to the doubles by Vaughn and Kemp.

For the Twins, Swift and Ben Underwood each had a pair of hits while catcher Bradley Wells, Sammy Smith and Gibbs each hit safely.

With the win, the Twins move to 6-3 for the season and trail the first-place Yanks by a single game. The two teams are scheduled to play later in the season.

Bjorn Borg Surrounded By Harem Of Gigling And Admiring Gals

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — At age 18, Bjorn Borg of Sweden travels the world as a modern Magellan—and he travels with a harem and an army.

The harem—a band of giggling, autograph-hunting teen-age girls—is kept at arm's length. "It's amazing this kid can stay as level-headed as he is," said a tennis-playing friend. "The pressure on him is something you wouldn't believe."

Young Bjorn, seeking to add Wimbledon to the Italian and French titles he won earlier this year, is a national idol in Sweden and the heart-throb of the teen-bopper set.

The army that pursues him is a cordon of newsmen, radio and television crews and photographers who dog his footsteps from Stockholm to Dallas, Rome to Paris, New York to London. There are around 30 or 40.

If Bjorn Borg sneezes, it is transcendent news to Scandinavians. They catch it on their radio mikes and transistors. They write it in their newspapers. Bjorn commands the biggest and blackest headlines in the land of the Vikings.

When Bjorn dropped a set to Graham Stillwell of Britain in his opening match Monday, one pundit wisecracked:

"If Bjorn loses, the airport

In the nightcap, the Astros fell from their share of second place as they were nipped 4-2 by the Cubs.

Going into the contest, the Astros sported a 5-3 record and needed a win to keep pace with the second-place Twins. But the Cubs, who came into the game with an even 4-4 slate, had other ideas.

Scoring three times in the bottom of the first and then holding off an Astro bid in the sixth, the Cubs used the fine pitching of Kim Wilson for the important win.

Wilson went the distance on the mound for the winners and gave up only five hits to the Astros.

In the bottom of the first inning, Darren Hooper reached on an error and went to second on Joel Klein's single.

Brian Cook got the first RBI of the game when he doubled to score Hooper.

Then Tummy Graham ripped a two-run double, scoring Klein and Cook and the Cubs led 3-0.

The Cubs scored again in the fourth when Steve Barnett, who had reached base on a walk, scored on Brad Miller's two-bagger.

The Astros made an attempt to pull the game out of the fire in the top of the sixth but the rally just fell short.

Rick Smith singled and Don Rogers unloaded with a run-scoring triple. Rogers then came around to score when Stacy Smith singled for an RBI.

The Astros missed a good opportunity in the previous inning when they left the bases stranded.

Klein and Cook each had a pair of base runs for the Cubs while Graham, Wilson, Barnett, Miller and Mark Young all had one hit apiece.

For the Astros, Rick Smith, Stacy Smith, Todd Rose and Tony Herndon all hit safely.

Tonight will be an off night in the Little League but action will resume Thursday as the Yanks play the Nats at 6 p.m. and the A's go against the Cards in the nightcap.

Chris Evert: Sleeping Beauty Of Wimbledon

By NOEL HUGHES
AP Sports Writer

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Chris Evert, the 19-year-old No. 2 seed from Fort Lauderdale, Fla., bids for one of 32 spots in the women's singles at Wimbledon today on a recipe of at least 10 hours sleep a night.

That's the strategy for victory of Miss Evert's mother, Collette, as this fiesta of tennis enters its third day with many of the world's top players complaining of "too much" and "too little."

The stars say they are tired from an exhausting schedule of too much tennis and too little practice on fast grass courts.

Despite the groans, there have been no major surprises. Billie Jean King, defending champion and top seed seeking a sixth title, opened the women's events Tuesday with a smooth 6-1, 6-1 victory Kathy May, 18, of California.

In the men's singles, veteran Ken Rosewall of Australia and Tom Gorman of Seattle are safely through to the third round.

Referee Mike Gibson said he hoped to get all remaining 10 men's seeds and five women's seeds through their second-round matches by the time play finished today.

Western Open Golf Will Attract Several Champs

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

OAK BROOK, Ill. (AP) — A new course and a couple of old champions are the key attractions in the $200,000 Western Open golf tournament.

Billy Casper, 43, and Arnold Palmer, 44, are the old masters heading the 144-man field for Thursday's start of this, one of the oldest, most venerable of the tour stops.

The new course is the 7,002-yard, par-71 ultratough layout at Butler National Golf Club in the Chicago suburbs which is the pros are tackling for the first time.

It will be the permanent site for the Western, which has skipped from place to place since its inception in 1899.

"From what I've seen," Casper said after an abbreviated practice round over the wooded, hilly layout, "this is the second toughest course I've ever played."

The toughest was Winged Foot, site of the U.S. Open two weeks ago. A seven-over-par score won there. The winner was over par last week in the American Golf Classic at Akron, Ohio, and this could be the chial quarters, chaperoned by Lennart Bergelin, balding former Swedish Davis Cup ace.

"Bjorn doesn't go much for social life," says Borg's tutor. "He is very dedicated. He works hard on his game. He spends a great deal of time practicing."

"When he has played, he likes to go out for a quiet meal and return to his room to watch TV."

Just turned 18, he is working on his driver's license. He delights in driving Bergelin's Saab to the courts.

British newspapers have tried to stir up a romance between Borg and Helena Anliot, a Stockholm junior player, with whom he often is seen.

"Ridiculous," said Bjorn's friend. "Borg has one love right now—tennis. Everything else is incidental."

"My girls must have rest," insisted Mrs. Evert, chaperoning daughters Chris, who has won the Italian and French championships so far this year, and 16-year-old Jeanne. "Ideally, it's at least 10 hours a night for a championship like Wimbledon, a good 10 hours."

But many other players are not so fortunate.

About one-third of the 128 contestants in the men's singles have been playing in the United States since early May, involved in World Team Tennis. WTT activities often involve the players in day-to-day traveling.

"I reckon all the WTT guys could be tired and in trouble," said Yugoslav Nikki Pilic. "They've been indoors, and most haven't had a five-set match on grass for 10 months."

Paradoxically, perhaps the greatest traveler of them all, Rosewall, is the player who has impressed most during the opening shots here.

Rosewall, 39, was the star of Tuesday's play when he beat rising Indian champion Vijay Amritraj 6-2, 5-7, 9-8, 6-1 in a classic second-round match of pinpoint accuracy and flashing skill.

Three-times runner-up at Wimbledon, Rosewall, would dearly love to win although he now is only a parttime player.

"I'm not going to be a push-over for anyone," said the dapper little Australian. "I'm in good shape."

Or so he thought.

After Goetz threatened to forfeit the game when Weaver sent Cuellar back out to pitch, Goetz and the third base umpire finally convinced Cuellar to leave.

Rangers 7, Twins 3

Rookie Mike Hargrove singled home the go-ahead run in the fourth inning and doubled home another in a three-run sixth to give Ferguson Jenkins and Texas a victory.

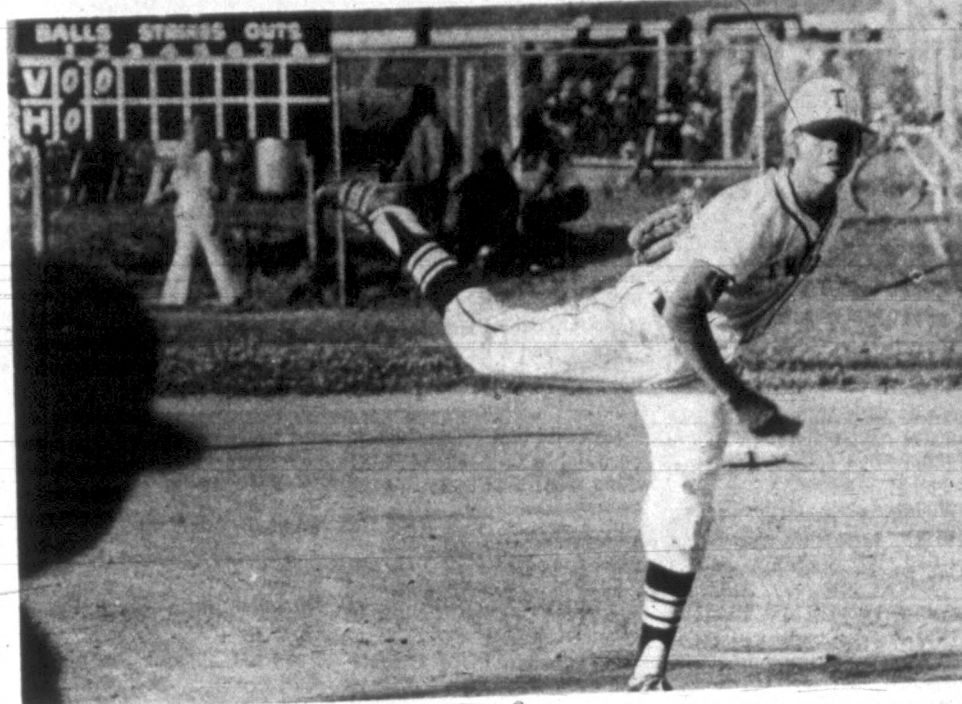

White Sox 10, Royals 9, 12 innings

Bill Melton slugged a home run in a four-run sixth inning, then broke a tie with a run-scoring grounder in the 12th, giving Chicago its victory over Kansas City.

A's 6, Angels 1

Jim "Catfish" Hunter scattered nine hits to gain his 10th victory of the season.

Wake Forest won only one of its 11 football games last season. One game ended in a tie.

THAT'S WHAT THEY SAW—When Alan Gibbs of the Little League Twins pitches, the batters see what this Reds' batter sees, nothing. Gibbs, who pitched the Twins to a 3-1 win Tuesday over the Reds, struck out 10 batters. In other games this season, he has fanned 17, 15 and 13 men. (All Photos by Mike Brandon)

AL Umpire Has Trouble Handling Mike Cuellar

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

Like American League batters, umpire Russ Goetz had trouble handling Oriole pitcher Mike Cuellar. But unlike the hitters, Goetz knocked him out of a game.

It wasn't easy.

Cuellar, the screwball-throwing left-hander, was gunning for his 10th straight victory when he ran into his own wildness and then the long arm of the law.

Cuellar walked Jim Northrup to force in Detroit's second run in the third inning. Only Cuellar didn't see it the same way home plate umpire Goetz did.

"I told him he couldn't see nothing," said Cuellar.

Goetz told Cuellar he couldn't see the game anymore—at least as an active participant. He booted Cuellar out of the game.

Or so he thought.

The next inning, the banished Cuellar still hadn't vanished. He came out to pitch. It seems his manager, Earl Weaver—also tossed out of the game—wasn't willing to give Cuellar the night off.

As it turned out, the Tigers' Mickey Lolich gave all the Orioles the night off. The durable Detroit left-hander struck out nine and limited the Orioles to seven hits in pitching his 11th straight complete game, a 2-0 victory.

Elsewhere in the American League, the Texas Rangers dropped the Minnesota Twins 7-3; the Chicago White Sox outlasted the Kansas City Royals 10-9 in 12 innings, and the Oakland A's whipped the California Angels 6-1. The Cleveland Indians-New York Yankees and the Milwaukee Brewers-Boston Red Sox games were rained out.

After Goetz threatened to forfeit the game when Weaver sent Cuellar back out to pitch, Goetz and the third base umpire finally convinced Cuellar to leave.

Norton Sets Kirkman On Floor In Seventh Round

SEATTLE (AP) — Ken Norton, the fifth-ranked heavyweight who had tired Boone Krikman flat on his back at the end of the seventh round, said part of his strategy was to get the Renton, Wash., fighter early.

The first couple of rounds I just wanted to see what he was going to do—let him burn up his energy," said Norton, who was awarded an eight-round technical knockout when Kirkman was unable to answer the bell Tuesday night.

The 10th-ranked Kirkman agreed that he just ran out of steam. "I felt strong the first couple of rounds," he said, "but then the gas gave out. I might have overtrained. I just blew it."

"He wasn't fast enough," said Norton of his shorter, lighter and older opponent. "He was easy to hit. I knew I could get to him anytime."

The fight, which produced a record Seattle indoor gate, $98,335, started with Kirkman stalking the San Diego boxer and getting in some thudding body blows. But the 28-year-old Norton withstood the attack and by the third round the tide had changed.

The 6-foot-3, 218-pound Norton began using his left jab effectively and combined it with snappy rights and upper cuts.

"Yeah, it was those upper cuts," said the 6-foot-1, 212-pound Kirkman, 29.

Kirkman, although bleeding from the nose and with cuts around both eyes, kept boring in during the fourth and fifth round looking desperately for the blow that would end the fight. But while looking he was uncovered, and Norton took full advantage of that to pour in left and rights.

Norton came into the fight with a 29-3 record with 22 knockouts. Kirkman was 32-3 with 23 knockout victories.

Yanks And Tigers Win League Games

Two games played in the Park League Tuesday saw the Tigers and the Yanks taking wins.

In the opening contest, the Tigers ripped the Twins with a 14-hit attack, 14-8. The losers had four hits in the contest.

The second game found the Yanks shelling the Astros 15-8. The Yanks had seven hits while the Astros were held to three.

Games set for Thursday will find the Astros playing the Cubs at 4:30 p.m. while the second contest will feature the Yanks and the Tigers.

Game Delayed

The Kentucky League game played Tuesday night between the Cubs and the Mets was called after seven innings because of darkness.

The two teams were tied at 9-9 when the game was halted. Action will pick up again at 6 p.m. tonight in the top of the eighth inning.

Every Datsun saves...even before you drive it away.

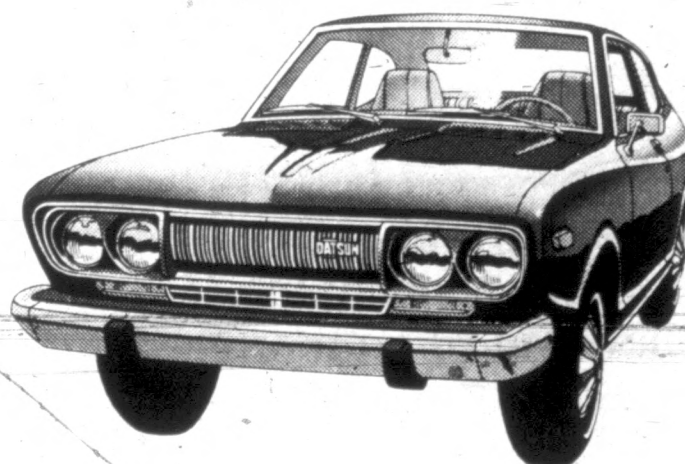

DATSUN 610

There are economy cars, and then there are economy cars. The new Datsun 610 series—4-Door Sedan, 2-Door Hardtop and 5-Door Wagon—is something out of the ordinary run of low-priced models. They're luxury economy cars. Datsun Originals.

The 2-Door Hardtop delivers more power, more unmixed pleasure, more car for the buck than any economy car you've ever met. And it has all the advanced design features that have made Datsun a leader in its field.

DATSUN 710

The new Datsun 710 2-Door Sedan. It's the care you're looking for if you want a bit more room than our new B-210 offers, and a lower price than you'd pay for a luxurious 610. But like all Datsuns, our new 710s (2-Door Sedan, Hardtop and 4-Door Sedan) deliver a whole bunch of ways to save. Like great gas mileage that's way over the national average for passenger cars. And, a list of no-cost extras that just won't quit:

Three Murray Golfers Shoot 71's At Paducah

Three Murray golfers are among those in contention after the first round of the Kentucky State Amateur Golf Championship Tournament being held at Paxton Park in Paducah.

Tied with 71's and three strokes off the pace are Wally Young, Mike Holton and Mike Perlich.

Young, a member of the Murray Country Club, is a former Murray State golfer as is Holton, who now sells insurance. Perlich is a member of the Murray State golf team and makes his home in Louisville.

Other Murray players in the tournament are Buddy Hewitt, Murray State golf coach, and Jerry Caldwell.

Hewitt, a member of the Murray Country Club, carded an opening round of 74, three-over par while Caldwell, a member of the Oaks, shot a 78.

There was a three-way tie for the lead after the first round of the 72-hole event.

Tied with three-under-par 68's were Bubba Clements of Louisville (34-34), Jimmy Brown (36-32) and Steve Gollhofer (36-32), both of Paducah.

Former State Amateur Champion Paul Franke of Louisville, who won the title in 1965, shot a 35-34-69.

Bill Musselman of Goshen, with state amateur championships in 1968, 1970, 1971 and 1972, fired a 35-36-71.

Defending champion Kevin Proctor of Bowling Green had a 75 (40-35) on the 6,108 yard par-

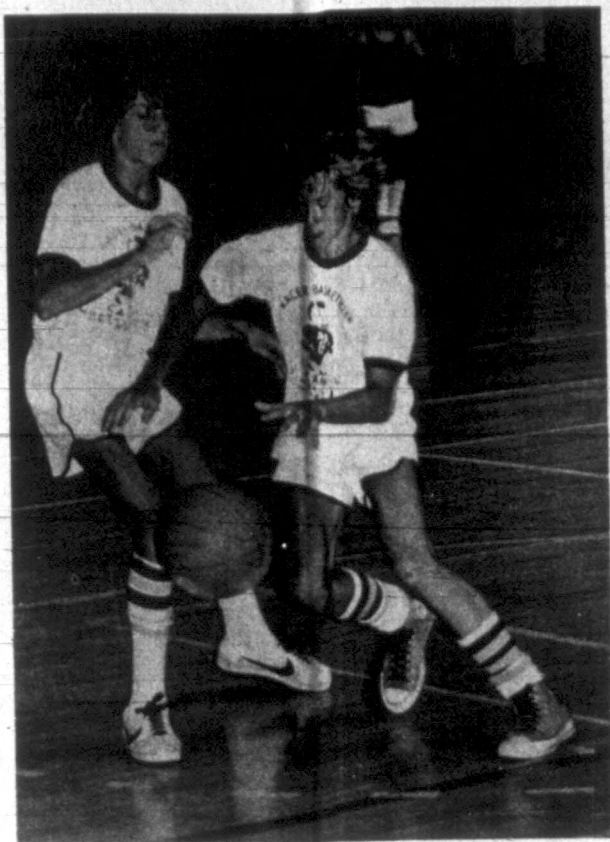

71 (35-36) Paxton Park Municipal Golf Course.

Following Wednesday's second round, the field of 131 golfers will be trimmed to those with the 60 lowest scores including ties.

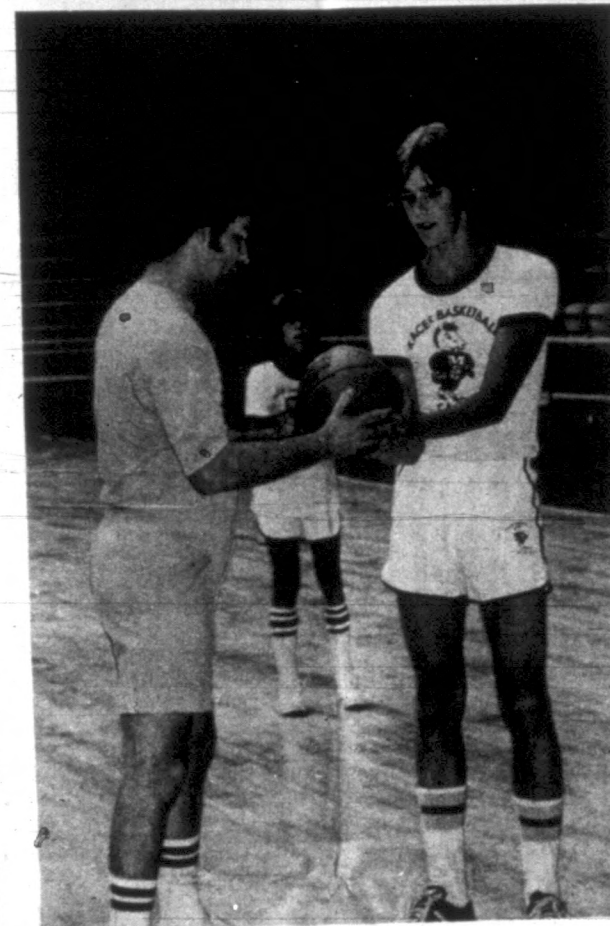

As the veteran amateurs tour the links, they are accompanied by participants in the Insurance Youth Classic. Five young amateurs under the age of 18 will qualify for the National Insurance Youth Classic at Cranston, Rhode Island August 16-20.

The first round leader among the younger amateurs was Russ Cochran of Paducah who shot a 72.

It is possible that one of the youngsters could win both the youth classic and the state amateur title.

ONE-ON-ONE CONTEST—One of the contests in the Racer Basketball Camp is the popular one-on-one play. Bill Wilson (with ball) of Murray and Greg Garfield of Murray played each other in the contest. Both Wilson and Garfield will be freshman at Murray High this fall.

THE PROPER WAY—Murray State Assistant Coach Jim Calvin takes time during the Racer Basketball Camp to show Kevin Miller of Joppa, Ill., the proper way to hold the ball. The camp, which began Sunday, will conclude this coming Saturday.

Renko One-Hits Phils, Cards Outslug Pirates

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

The wind was just right for Steve Renko. The sudden breezes that Larry Dierker felt were caused by the baseballs whizzing past him.

"Renko is a great breaking ball pitcher when the wind is blowing from right field to left as it was tonight," said Montreal Manager Gene Mauch after Renko hurled a one-hitter that gave the Expos a 5-0 victory over Philadelphia.

Dierker also had a one-hitter Tuesday night—for six innings. Then Cincinnati's Cesar Geronimo slugged a leadoff homer in the seventh and Johnny Bench and Dan Driessen drove in runs that wrecked Houston, giving the Reds a 3-2 victory over Dierker and the Astros.

In Tuesday's other National League games, New York beat Chicago 5-1, San Diego defeated San Francisco 3-1, Los Angeles edged Atlanta 2-1 and St. Louis outlasted Pittsburgh 8-7.

"This has got to be my best game so far this season," understated Renko, who wound up with the third one-hitter of his six-year career in the majors. The other two came a month apart, against San Francisco and Philadelphia in 1971.

He gave up only a one-out sixth-inning single by Dave Cash, a pitch punched into right field. "He hit a curve ball," said Renko. "I jammed him with it. He didn't hit it that well."

Reds 3, Astros 2
Joe Morgan, who had singled in the first inning, drew his second walk of the game after Geronimo's belt, and Bench scored him, banging a double to right field. Driessen then singled Bench home.

Mets 5, Cubs 1
Jerry Kosman pitched a four-hitter and Ed Kranepool gave him the big hit he needed, a three-run homer in the third inning, to lead the Mets past the Cubs.

Padres 3, Giants 1
Dave Rader's error at the plate let San Diego's first run in the seventh inning, then Bobby Tolan singled home two more to send the Giants down to their 16th loss in 19 games.

Dodgers 2, Braves 1

Steve Garvey and Ron Cey singled home ninth-inning runs to shove Los Angeles over the Braves. The victory went to Mike Marshall, the hard-working reliever who has won the Dodgers' last four triumphs to boost his record to 8-3.

Cards 8, Pirates 7
Ken Reitz singled in the eighth inning, Mike Tyson doubled him home, then Lou Brock singled Tyson in with the winner, overcoming a four-run Pittsburgh burst in the top of the inning and pushing the Cards not only past the Pirates but past Philadelphia as well—and into first place in the East by one slim percentage point.

Women's State Amateur Golf Reaches Quarters

WINCHESTER, Ky. (AP) — Defending champion Jackie Hacker of Versailles faced Mrs. Walter Conklin of Louisville today in the quarterfinals of the Women's State Amateur Golf Tournament.

Mrs. Hacker turned back Terry Mayes of Lexington 4-and-3 Tuesday in first round action at the Winchester Country Club. Mrs. Conklin defeated Carol Leier of Lexington, 1-up.

Medalist Beth Curdin of Frankfort gained the quarterfinals with a 2 up victory over Charlotte Allen of Louisville.

In other championship flight matches Tuesday:
Myra Van Hoose, Lexington, ousted Kathy Wylie, Richmond, 8-and-6.

Mrs. Kaye Potter, Louisville, downed Cynthia Powell, Winchester, 4-and-3.

Anne Combs, Lexington, defeated Tenny Orr, Irvine, 2-and-1.

Mrs. Gaines Wilson, Louisville, defeated Mrs. James Evans, Mt. Sterling, 5-and-4. Mrs. Ron Hoffman, Louisville, defeated Cece Wilmott, Bardonia, 3-and-2.

Miss Van Hoose was paired against Mrs. Potter in the quarterfinals. Mrs. Curdin against Miss Combs and Mrs. Wilson against Mrs. Hoffman.

Michigan State's new 8,000-seat ice arena has been named Clarence Munn Arena in honor of the former Spartan football coach and athletic director.

Braves And Tigers Pull Upsets In Colt League Games Tuesday

By JIM PIERCE

Tuesday night's Colt League action found the Braves beating the Giants 5-2 and the Tigers defeating the Pirates 8-5.

The Tigers, Pirates and Giants are all tied for first place with 5-4 records.

David Frank struck out nine and limited the Giants to two hits in the Brave victory.

Raymond Sims paced the Braves with three hits while Pat McMillen collected two hits. Willie Perry and Joe Futrell also hit safely.

A Jerry Jones single and a Tom Chavis homerun were the only hits for the Giants.

Frank, who threw a super game at the Giants, walked only two in recording his second victory against three defeats.

The nightcap found Dickie Nesbitt limiting the Pirates to three hits in an 8-5 victory.

Nesbitt struck out 10 in picking up his third victory against two defeats.

Keith Tabers, Linus Kodman, Don Winchester, Mickey Mc-

Cuiston and Chris Kurz all hit safely for the Tigers.

Bill McHugh's two singles and Randy Dunn's single were the only hits the Pirates could muster.

Colt League play resumes Friday night when the Tigers and Giants square off in the opener at 6 p.m. and the Pirates take on the Braves in the nightcap.

NBC Signs Pact For TV Rights For Two Sports

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The National Broadcasting Co. announced Tuesday it has signed contracts to televise the Orange Bowl football game for three more years and National Collegiate Athletic Association basketball championship playoffs through 1976.

The company did not disclose how much it agreed to pay for the television rights.

Carl Lindemann, NBC vice president for sports, made the announcements and also told a luncheon for affiliated station editors that the network telecast 360 hours of live sports programming in 1973.

In another announcement, Lindemann said Red Barber, former broadcaster of Brooklyn Dodger games, will be a guest celebrity in late August on a Monday night major league baseball telecast.

Don Meredith, who left the American Broadcasting Co. and signed a contract with NBC, will make his first NBC appearance July 29 as a baseball commentator.

Season Ticket Sales Are Booming For WFL

By ANDY LIPPMAN
AP Sports Writer

Buying a World Football League season ticket is a little like buying a pigskin in a poke.

But with the July 10 starting date for the new league drawing nearer, the prospect that fans will end up holding an empty bag grows less.

And as the league gains credence, it also gains sales.

The Honolulu Hawaiians say they have sold nearly 7,000 season tickets and hope to boost the figure to 12,000-15,000.

The big sales boost could be the WFL's first appearance on television.

"Fans just want to see that we're for real," said Stu Zanville, the Hawaiians' administrative director. "They want to make sure we really exist before putting out any money."

Most of the 5,000 season tickets and about 80 per cent of the 16,000 tickets sold for the Detroit Wheels' first home game has come in the past three weeks "since we announced our schedule," said Brian Rekiel, team promotion manager.

He said about 70 per cent of season tickets have been sold to companies in blocks of four.

The Chicago Fire is stoking its publicity flame even before the season gets underway, in hopes of reaching 20,000 season ticket holders to fill the 55,700-seat Soldier Field.

"We're close to leading the league in ticket sales," said owner Tom Origer, who said he has spent between $1 million and $1.25 million so far in hopes of keeping losses to around $500,000. "We've done a pretty good job of organizing all the way around, so I think we'll lose maybe only half of the $1 million most of the other clubs may lose this season."

The Houston Texans also have hired a sales force. The result has been more than 4,000 season tickets and a "super" reception, say team officials.

Larry Hatfield, president of the California Sun, reports he is "pleasantly surprised" by the 17,511 season tickets sold through June 18, while officials of the Memphis Southmen report they are pleased by the 5,000 season tickets sold in four weeks.

The Jacksonville Sharks have had to cope with some of the league's early traumas; when the Florida Blazers moved to Orlando from Virginia, the Sharks refunded money to 5,000 persons of the 18,000 who had bought tickets to see the Sharks.

Owner Fran Monaco says Sharks ticket sales have reapproached 18,000. They will play in the 70,000-seat Gator Bowl.

His favorite fish: "The black bass is the sportiest fish in these parts," says Cook.

He uses a lighter rod equipped with an automatic fly reel that retrieves the line by pressing a lever. Cook says it allows him to play a fish better and let out more line if he hooks a larger one.

Cook's idea of a hearty meal is a frying pan full of sizzling fish filets. Even the tricky problem of cooking has been met by the tanned outdoorsman.

Peach remembers the first time Cook's appetite won out over a fear of burning himself.

"He called me to come over during lunch and cook the fish, but I couldn't get away," remembers Peach.

"So Cookie cooked his own fish and ate them. How did he do it? Well, he told me he just put them in the skillet and counted up to 180, which he figured was three minutes of cooking time and then turned off the stove," said Peach.

"I used to fish seven days a week, but now I can only make twice a week. But I still have a mental picture of my best spots. I should. I spent enough time at them. I tell my friends the way I remember it—if there's stump nearby or a big rock. It's just like a professional golfer. You never forget some things," said Cook.

One of his companions says Cook's years of fishing allow him to transcend his handicap.

Casting problems are quickly overcome with some advice from his friends.

"After a couple of casts he can hit that shoreline as well as you or I without fouling the bait, something those so-called experts can't even do," says fishing mate Bob Peach.

The rest of it is reduced to angling instincts and the "feel" technique.

One of his companions says Cook's years of fishing allow him to transcend his handicap.

Casting problems are quickly overcome with some advice from his friends.

"After a couple of casts he can hit that shoreline as well as you or I without fouling the bait, something those so-called experts can't even do," says fishing mate Bob Peach.

The rest of it is reduced to angling instincts and the "feel" technique.

His favorite fish: "The black bass is the sportiest fish in these parts," says Cook.

He uses a lighter rod equipped with an automatic fly reel that retrieves the line by pressing a lever. Cook says it allows him to play a fish better and let out more line if he hooks a larger one.

Cook's idea of a hearty meal is a frying pan full of sizzling fish filets. Even the tricky problem of cooking has been met by the tanned outdoorsman.

Peach remembers the first time Cook's appetite won out over a fear of burning himself.

"He called me to come over during lunch and cook the fish, but I couldn't get away," remembers Peach.

"So Cookie cooked his own fish and ate them. How did he do it? Well, he told me he just put them in the skillet and counted up to 180, which he figured was three minutes of cooking time and then turned off the stove," said Peach.

"I used to fish seven days a week, but now I can only make twice a week. But I still have a mental picture of my best spots. I should. I spent enough time at them. I tell my friends the way I remember it—if there's stump nearby or a big rock. It's just like a professional golfer. You never forget some things," said Cook.

leasing the evidence now, said it would infringe on the rights of Watergate defendants awaiting trial and also could hurt Nixon. He and other opponents favor holding up public release of evidence unless and until the committee votes articles of impeachment, and then releasing only evidence in support of the articles approved.

But Rep. Robert McClell, R-Ill., one of six Republicans who voted to release the evidence, said he thought the importance of keeping the public informed on impeachment was overriding.

Rodino said the material made public would include any evidence furnished by James D. St. Clair, Nixon's chief impeachment lawyer, who will present his rebuttal Thursday.

President Signs Declaration Of Transatlantic Unity In Brussels

BRUSSELS (AP) — President Nixon signed a declaration of transatlantic unity today on his way to a Moscow summit meeting and promised he would sacrifice the interests of the European allies to advance détente.

"In the world in which we live, with the nuclear power that overhangs us, there is no alternative to negotiations," he said later at a luncheon given by Belgium's King Baudouin. "There is no alternative to peace." But Nixon also reportedly told leaders of 14 alliance states at a closed session that he would maintain U.S. troop strength in Western Europe and would guard against "euphoria" when he meets with Soviet leader Leonid I. Brezhnev for talks beginning Thursday in the Kremlin.

The President also declared that defense and détente are inseparable. White House press secretary Ronald L. Ziegler reported him as saying: "Western cohesion provides the basis for conducting détente in the common interest."

The new NATO declaration was signed in a 15-minute ceremony preceding the lunch at the royal palace. NATO Secretary General Joseph M.A.H. Luns, the only speaker for the short, public ceremony, declared that with the declaration "all our countries are stronger and more secure."

The NATO declaration was the one agreed upon the published in Ottawa last week. It reaffirmed that the alliance is indispensable for the security and defense of America "and Western Europe."

During his years active in the business Mr. J. E. Littleton served on the Murray City Council for twelve years. He is a member of the First Baptist Church.

Mrs. Littleton still visits the store frequently. She is a member of the First Christian Church, and a past member of the Murray Business and Professional Women's Club and the Garden Department of the Murray Woman's Club.

Mr. and Mrs. Littleton spent their winters in Florida from 1965 to 1972, but have been unable to go since Mr. Littleton suffered his heart attack.

They reside at 201 South Eighth Street, Murray, and observed their 51st wedding anniversary on February 24. Mr. and Mrs. Littleton have one son, Joe Baker Littleton of Murray, and one daughter, Mrs. Bill (Ann) Caldwell of Paris, Tenn. Their grandchildren are Lt. William B. Caldwell, a Jr., of the U. S. Marines, stationed at Ocean Side, Calif., Alfred Caldwell, and Sally Caldwell of Paris, Tenn., Andy Littleton and Mary Ann Littleton of Murray. One great granddaughter is Christy Caldwell, one year old.

During the store's celebration the public has been invited to visit the store for a piece of the golden anniversary cake and to register for $500.00 in gift certificates to be given away.

Trial Locations Assigned In Perry County Tax Case

HAZARD, Ky. (AP) — Special Perry Circuit Judge J. Douglas Graham has assigned locations for trials of three persons charged with illegally receiving money or property through fraudulent 1973 Perry County tax bills.

Former Perry County Sheriff Estill Pollard will be tried in Leslie Circuit Court at Hyden; the sheriff's former bookkeeper, Mrs. Dorothy Gross Cornett, in Wolfe Circuit Court in Campton, and Perry County Property Valuation Administrator Roy H. Johnson in Powell Circuit Court in Stanton, Graham said.

A Perry County grand jury indicted Pollard and Mrs. Cornett in March on three charges of obtaining money or property by false pretenses through allegedly fraudulent 1973 tax bills sent to three coal companies in the county.

The jury also accused Pollard of having failed to turn over all his official tax records to his successor. Pollard left the sheriff's office Jan. 7.

The grand jury indicted Johnson on four counts of obtaining money or property by false pretenses, through four allegedly altered tax bills sent to Dawa-hare's clothing and department stores in Hazard.

He was also charged with illegally removing from the county tax books a tax bill issued a Hazard sporting goods business in return for personal favors.

In March, Pollard, Mrs. Cornett and Johnson all pleaded innocent to all charges against them.

KNITTERS: Fourth grade students Lynne Loberger, Harriett Hood, and Diana Duncan weave and knit in one of the arts and crafts classes at the Murray State University School. During the regular school year each student at the school receives 90 minutes of instructions each week in art education, which includes crafts such as these.

INDIVIDUALIZED INSTRUCTION: Dr. Janice Hooks, director of the Murray State University School, spends much of her time in the classrooms and becoming acquainted with each of its students personally. Here she listens while Mikal Grimes, 7, son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Grimes, Murray, reads for her.

GREEN THUMBS: Three kindergarten students at the Murray State University School observe plant life in a vivarium, made from a converted aquarium. Left to right, they are: Leslie Foster, 5; Sherri Gallimore, 6; and Brooks Barton, 5. The kindergarten youngsters also spend a day on a Calloway County farm observing animal and plant life.

University School Program Unusual

The Murray State University School, the continuation of which has been a controversial topic in the Murray community for the past few months, is far more than an ordinary elementary school, University officials are quick to point out.

Established in 1924 as a laboratory facility to complement the teacher education program on the campus, the school, which now encompasses a kindergarten and six grades, has gained a wide reputation for its excellency.

Although the necessity for additional tuition has become a cause of concern to many parents who have been long-time supporters of the school, the facility offers many unusual and definite advantages of elementary-age children, according to Miss Rubie E. Smith, chairman of the Department of Elementary Education at Murray State.

Miss Smith points out that the University School reflects to a high degree the essence of an excellent elementary program for children, emphasizing that it "discovers each child's needs and teaches him in such a way that those needs can best be met."

The commitment of the school's director and its faculty is to create an environment which provides a high quality of living for children who can be excited learners "joyously discovering their world in controlled learning situations."

There is a dual commitment to excellency for children at the school and excellency as an observation post and learning laboratory for teacher preparation, she said.

"The faculty and its leadership are committed to the child as an individual," she said, "applying two basic standards of measurement to all decisions: What is good for the individual child, and does this nurture the values basic to democratic living."

Touching briefly on the school's program, Miss Smith pointed out that its offerings — kindergarten through the sixth grade — balance creative expression, academic standards, physical fitness, relaxation and gracious living.

Last year, the school was designated as a physical fitness demonstration center by the Kentucky Department of Education. In the art program, 90 minutes of which is given to every child each week, the children work in varied media — clay, papier-mache, paints and other materials — and have a voice in deciding which medium will be stressed during a specific period.

Every child participates in each of the two major music productions staged at the school each year, and volunteers with special talents present assembly programs for their classmates periodically during the term.

The childlike atmosphere of the spacious, modern facility, occupied in 1969, is now free of distracting noise. The flexibility of the modern, well-equipped facility provides for large open-space activity and small group activities in addition to a library, music room, auditorium, one of the finest gymnasiums in the area, lunch room, art laboratory and a terraced courtyard.

"The University School has the rich tradition of providing a program based on human growth and development," Miss Smith said. "Its staff and the University professors from both professional education and other related fields work closely together to know and evaluate new programs, adopting whatever parts fit the standards of evaluation applicable to the school.

The poise and verbal openness of University School students has often been favorably noted, Miss Smith said, contributing this to the many observers and visitors who come to the school.

"This is a very positive force in helping the children to be poised, gracious and openly verbal as they explain with little or no shyness what they are doing and how they are doing it," she said.

University School students also are active participants in the planning and implementation of various projects and programs to be carried out, she added.

Another unique advantage of the school is its location on the Murray State campus. Within a few minutes, consultants from the various University departments can come to the school to work with the children, or the children can go to them in such areas as the planetarium, science laboratories, the industrial education shops, the reading clinic, art galleries, and concert halls.

"This provides the University School child with unusual opportunities to receive first-hand experiences in many areas of enrichment," she said.

It is a simple matter for there to be daily dialogue between the University School teachers and students and University professors, she said.

In citing the work of Dr. Janice Hooks, the director of the school, Miss Smith said, "The school also has the advantage of having a director whose excellent professional preparation has enabled her to know and care about the child as a total being and which has given her the knowledge to implement programs which build the whole child."

"Dr. Hooks works in and out of classrooms and devotes her entire time to the children and the development of programs most applicable to their entire being."

One feature of a new four-point program adopted by the Board of Regents for the school this spring has been the removal of traditional enrollment priorities for the school, making it accessible to any students on a first-come-first-served basis for the coming year.

Since 1969 preference has been given to children of faculty and staff personnel. The board's plan also specifies:

"That tuition be increased to $25 per month for a family with one student, to $40 per month for two students, and to $50 per month for three or more students."

—That approximately $2,500 be earmarked for 10 scholarships for children of economically deprived families with preference given to children of minority races.

President Curris has repeatedly noted that the University administration is "sincerely committed to maintaining University School and to strengthening it as part of the teacher education program." The tuition increase, he has said, is a measure taken because of strong criticism voiced by the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools about the school's financing.

The visiting team of the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE), however, in its recent study of the school gave support to maintaining the facility and was highly complimentary of its contribution to teacher education.

Alternatives recommended by the SACS were either to phase out the University School or to find a revenue source to ease the financial load on the University. When a faculty committee concluded that the laboratory school should not be phased out, Curris said the tuition increase became that revenue source.

He called the tuition fee schedule "reasonable and appropriate."

"The rate of $25 per month is comparable to kindergartens and nursery schools in this area," he has said. "When compared with private institutions elsewhere, the $225 a year cost is quite a bargain. The newly-opened private school in Hopkinsville charges $650 a year, and private elementary schools in Lexington and Louisville cost $1,000 a year per child and more."

Currently, openings exist for students in all grades, but the director has cautioned that enrollment will be closed when established class maximums are reached.

Dr. Hooks said parents may register students for next year at University School from 8:30 a. m. to 4 p. m. Monday through Friday. A summer school term, now in session, ends July 26, and the beginning date for the next school year is Monday, August 19.

New Business Ventures Appear In Closed Down Gas Stations

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — The recent energy crisis idled dozens of gasoline outlets across the state, but new business ventures are pumping life into the abandoned facilities.

In some cases fuel pumps have been taken up and the windows of stations boarded up — perhaps waiting for a more plentiful supply of gasoline or someone willing to operate a gas station.

Other stations have been closed down permanently and converted to other uses.

As a former gas station operator in Winchester put it, "They told me there was no gas for me and there wouldn't be any in the future." He closed the station and now makes a living elsewhere selling auto parts.

Many of the abandoned stations have been resold or leased to new operators and now house businesses of an entirely different sort.

Harry Wiley, a spokesman for Ashland Oil Co., said service stations lend themselves to new uses.

"They're sturdy buildings, built to last and they're located at places with lots of traffic," he said.

"They have built-in traffic lots, so there are no traffic problems associated with them," he added.

One of the commonest uses for old gas station facilities is for used car lots.

Others have been converted into offices providing other kinds of service for motorists — selling auto insurance at one remodeled station in Paducah and tires at another in Winchester.

One station at Harlan stopped pumping gas and the owners pulled the pumps and turned the station into a repair garage.

Some of the most imaginative uses for the old stations are seen at Paducah.

A cosmetic studio has moved into one gas station, and a host of beauty supplies replaces shelves of oil cans, lubricants, spare fuses and windshield wiper blades.

A dry cleaning operation has moved into another abandoned gas station in Paducah and bread is sold at a discount bakery in yet another former station.

A colorful paint job has transformed another station into a restaurant.

The deserted hulls of old stations are still seen in just about any city in the state.

Despite some local ordinances that require the stations to be maintained and the gasoline distributors' own regulations requiring closed stations to be boarded up and the pumps removed, the abandoned stations remain eyesore.

In one case a new business at Winchester has transformed the concrete and asphalt environment of its former tenant — the abandoned gas station is now a tree nursery.

Hancock Opposes Proposed Judicial Reform Measure

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — State Atty. Gen. Ed Hancock says a proposed judicial reform amendment to the Kentucky Constitution would make little substantial change in the state's court system and says he won't support it.

Hancock, interviewed on a panel program on WLEX-TV here Sunday, said he will not vote for the amendment and said he is doubtful of its chances for approval by the voters in November.

Hancock said he doesn't believe establishment of another level of appellate court would have the effect of decreasing the workload of the present Court of Appeals.

Under the amendment Kentucky would have a four-level court system, including a Supreme Court, Court of Appeals, circuit courts and district courts. The district courts would handle functions now handled by magistrate, police and county courts.

Hancock said later that "no body's shown me any reason that it would make any substantial changes in the judicial system anyhow."

"I think the system of courts we've got now is adequate if we can get enough good quality people elected to office," he said. "Just the fact that you put up a good court system is not going to change anything anyhow."

Hancock also said in the telecast program that he will file suit in U.S. District Court this week against the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency to contest the EPA's approval of a controversial Kentucky stream-classification regulation. He had served notice two months ago that he would do so.

Hancock has contended that EPA's approval of the water-quality regulations are contrary to requirements of the federal Water Pollution Control Act because the regulations don't extend uniform water quality protection to all Kentucky streams.

The attorney general also predicted that U.S. Sen. Marlow Cook's name will be on the ballot in the fall election, even if the Kentucky Court of Appeals rules Cook didn't follow proper filing procedures by failing to list his treasurer when he filed for re-election.

The issue is pending before the state's high court.

Hancock said, however, that, should the Court of Appeals rule against Cook and declare the spot on the ballot vacant, he believes the GOP Central Committee could then appoint Cook to fill that vacancy.

New machine speeds solid waste retrieval

A new machine capable of sorting 10 tons of shredded solid wastes per hour has been introduced by the Wemco Division of the Envirotech Corp., Menlo Park, Calif., recovering valuable resources through the separation of refuse into well defined fractions by water flow and specific gravity.

The separator yields two dewatered products: a "float" consisting of heavy combustibles and a "sink" composed primarily of glass, aluminum and other nonferrous metals.

I'm sure there are few people living today who can remember the 1904 St. Louis World's Fair. But that Fair has a very special place in history... for it was there that the hamburger was born.
It happened when some unknown cook got the idea of putting grilled hamburger patties between two slices of bread, for the convenience of fair-goers who wanted something tasty and nourishing to eat but didn't want to take time to sit down for a meal.
Today the hamburger — served inside a sliced bun rather than between two slices of bread — is the most popular single item of food in America. Nobody really knows how many hamburgers are eaten every year in this country, but it has been estimated that something like thirty percent of all the meat sold here is ground beef. And it would be a safe guess that we will consume well over a billion hamburgers this year... including all the millions sold by such chains as White Castle, McDonald's and Burger Chef.
Of course, long before hamburgers existed, hamburger itself existed. And you may already know that it got its name from the German city of Hamburg. But did you know that it actually originated in Russia. It's a fact. Back in medieval times, people in several Russian provinces liked to eat beef raw; finely chopped and seasoned with salt, pepper and onion juice. German sailors brought the idea back to the port city of Hamburg, where German chefs improved on it by forming the ground beef into little patties and broiling them.
One nice thing about hamburgers, of course, is that there are no dishes to wash. Another is that ground beef itself is still one of today's best food values. Especially at our store. It isn't 1904, but I'm sure you'll agree that Jim Adams IGA has "fair" prices!

Psychologists Succeeding In Helping Obese To Lose Weight

CHICAGO (AP) — Psychologists are succeeding where physicians have failed in helping fat people lose weight, a California psychiatrist says.

And, he said, they're doing it without special diets.

Dr. Albert J. Stunkard said that in the past three or four years effectiveness of weight reduction programs has improved 50 per cent through the use of what psychologists call behavior modification or operant conditioning.

Stunkard, chairman of the psychiatry department at Stanford University, told newsmen at the annual meeting of the American Medical Association Monday that the medical profession "has been very backward" in using this new, proven technique to help persons lose weight. He said "psychologists all over the map are doing it."

The psychiatrist, who described the technique at the AMA meeting, said he has been involved with about 130 obese patients at the University of Pennsylvania, where he formerly taught, and at Stanford.

Obese patients enrolled in these group therapy programs do not have to go on special diets and are not even told to restrict their food intake at first.

It begins with the patients keeping a diary of when, what and how much they eat and how they feel when they do it.

Stunkard said that just keeping records helps patients start losing weight as they become aware of how much they eat.

Patients are advised not to have a lot of food around their homes and to keep away from tempting situations. They are told to eat in just one place in the house.

Persons who eat while watching television, for example, become stimulated to eat in that situation, he said.

Fat persons also tend to eat faster than others, and the physiological signal that they are full is not triggered until after they've overeaten, the psychiatrist said. Therefore, they are advised to put down their knife and fork between bites.

"A lot of obese people are not aware of what they're eating — they don't taste their food," Stunkard said.

On the average, patients lose 1 1/2 pounds a week during the 10 weeks of the group therapy sessions and continue to lose during a period of follow-up and the weight loss is maintained, he reported.

Many become aware from their diaries that they eat when they are anxious or depressed or otherwise disturbed, and when this becomes apparent they develop other ways of coping, Stunkard said.

Marrying McGuires Create Confusion

ELMHURST, Ill. (AP) — After Marianne McGuire weds July 6 she won't have to worry about changing the name on her credit cards or driver's license, and it's not because of a breakthrough on the women's liberation front.

Marianne, 22, is marrying another McGuire, Roger.

Last name introductions shouldn't present a problem for family and friends at the marriage and a banquet to follow, but first name introductions will be something else.

Ten of the 15 persons in the bridal party are named McGuire, and the invited guest list is one McGuire after another.

James E. McGuire and his wife, Rosemary, parents of Marianne, have seven children. James R. McGuire and his wife, Margaret Mary, parents of Roger, have six children.

In addition, there are several duplications of first names across both families.

Roger's brother Kevin and Marianne's brother Kevin are both 19 and members of the bridal party. Roger has a sister who has the same name as his bride, and his bride has a sister with the same name as Roger's mother.

Confusing? "When you begin to get into nieces and nephews, it really gets ridiculous," said James E. McGuire.

He said he enjoyed a few chuckles over mailing wedding invitations which read: "James E. McGuire and James R. McGuire request your presence at the marriage of their children, Marianne Therese and Roger Stephen"

"I'm sure a lot of people thought it was a misprint," he said.

And as for his future son-in-law, McGuire says, "What more can you want? He's of good moral fiber, good character and — he has a good name."

Internal magnetic compass guides birds

A research team at Frankfurt University, West Germany, observed three different varieties of warblers to discover how they find their way so accurately.

Choosing starry nights for their experiment and interfering with the magnetism of the birds' surroundings so that the artificial magnetic fields deviated from earth's magnetic pole by 120 degrees, they found the warblers chose a wrong course of 180 degrees, indicating the warblers fly by internal magnetic compass, using the stars only as a navigational aid.

Economists Say Tax Increase May Be Coming

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the Senate considers a scaled-down package of tax cuts and tax reform, administration economists are saying a tax increase may be necessary in the years ahead.

Presidential economic adviser Kenneth Rush said Monday, "We've excluded nothing in terms of how to balance the budget."

And Herbert Stein, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, termed a tax increase an "arithmetical possibility" but not a close or immediate one.

Their comments came after President Nixon announced he will try to balance the 1976 budget to restrain inflation.

In the Senate, sponsors of the tax cut-tax reform package lost 33-44. They had expected the defeat and readied a smaller proposal for an income tax reduction combined with one reform measure.

This new plan, offered by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., is to be debated today.

Sponsors expect the new provision to be filibustered since its reform provision would repeal the 22 per cent oil depletion allowance. Oil state senators have pledged to fight it.

The tax cut in the Humphrey amendment would be achieved by raising the personal exemption for the taxpayer and each dependent from $750 to $800. As an alternative, a $175 tax credit could be used.

The package plan defeated Monday provided for an $825 exemption and $190 tax credit. Humphrey told reporters his amendment might be divided into its two parts for separate votes.

Liberals have been confident all along that a tax cut would pass but expected much greater opposition to the reform provisions. They proposed the reforms in part to provide revenues to offset the loss from tax reduction.

Nixon said after meeting with his economic advisers that he will try to cut $5 billion from the 1975 budget of $305 billion. That would reduce the 1975 deficit from $11 billion to $6 billion.

The deficit will be $3 billion for fiscal 1974, which ends June 30.

Stein told a reporter the administration hopes to achieve balanced budgets by cutting expenditures. But he indicated a tax increase would be possible if Congress refused to allow sufficient spending cuts.

Farmers work less — and feed more

Farmers, working 48 million fewer acres since 1950 and working 6.5 billion hours compared to 15 billion hours in 1950, fed and clothed a population which increased by 34 per cent, according to International Harvester Co.

In 1950, one farmer fed and clothed 15 nonfarmers, compared to more than 47 in 1970, the latest figures available.

Mistrust Dims Outlook For Soviet-American Security

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

In this time of detente, the murky mist of mistrust that persists in Soviet-American relations seems to have deepened since last year. It dims the outlook for a result from this week's new summit in Moscow that might mean a genuine sense of security for both sides.

The mistrust has many sources, not the least of which is the constant repetition by Soviet propaganda that real peace is impossible because ideological warfare must go on until "imperialism," meaning the camp led by the United States, has been wholly vanquished.

Other sources include Soviet suspicion of American intentions, the recent jolts delivered by the Middle East war and its consequences, the continuing reality of the strategic arms race, the clash of national interests.

President Nixon and General Secretary Leonid I. Brezhnev alike have stakes in a look of success for their Summit III starting Thursday in Moscow. Added to his triumph in the Middle East, a Moscow success for the President would be a welcome antidote to pressures from Watergate woe. For Brezhnev, it could promise something tangible to show his critics from the policy for which he assumes full responsibility.

"To live in peace," declared Brezhnev during the wave of euphoria emanating from Summit II in Washington last year, "we must trust each other, and to trust each other we must know each other better."

But Moscow angrily denounces as intended subversion the West's proposal for freer exchange of people and information, and the 35-nation European Security Conference became snagged on that point.

The very genesis of Moscow's "peaceful coexistence" policy gives the West good reason for nagging misgivings about Soviet motives. The official Kremlin line is that the detente policy was approved by a meeting in Moscow in June 1969 of leaders of 75 Communist parties from around the world. It was then reaffirmed at the 24th Soviet party congress in 1971.

Why detente? Soviet statements strongly suggest that detente is part of tactics and strategy for expanding Communist authority around the world. Right now Moscow is campaigning hard to convince foreign Communists that yet another international meeting is needed to coordinate efforts at this time when "intensification of political and economic instability of capitalism opens unprecedented opportunities."

Pravda made that assessment June 5. The Soviet Communist party paper also noted the 1969 meeting had fixed "the main direction of the anti-imperialist struggle" and the ensuing five years proved the effectiveness of the Soviet "peace offensive."

Pravda noted that efforts to make the detente process "irreversible" would be difficult, but held out enticing prospects to Western Communists of a coming collapse of the whole capitalist system, now a favorite Kremlin theme. The press constantly stresses what it calls the "deep all-around crisis of the whole capitalist system" as it dwells on Western economic woes.

The implication: Detente is the road to victory of world revolution under the Communist banner.

However, there are practical, nonideological gains for the Kremlin to consider from the detente policy, just as there are practical benefits in prospect for the West from lessened tensions.

sions. In the current situation of the Soviet consumer economy, detente has begun to look like a necessity, at least so far as Soviet civilian politicians are concerned.

The problem is the extent to which the Kremlin intends or hopes to turn practical necessity into ideological virtue. Americans and Europeans find themselves asking whether a policy heartily endorsed by 75 Communist parties intends any good for the Western system.
