HOMEMAKERS TO HOLD ANNUAL MEET

National Youth Administration jobs will enable approximately 25 youth in Fulton County to continue their education during the 1941-42 school year, Robert K. Salyers, State Youth Administrator, announced.

An allotment of $114 per month to be distributed among 5 schools has been granted this county. A school official, appointed by Mr. Salyers as a non-compensated official of the Federal Government, will administer the NYA program in each of the schools. This official will choose the youth to be given jobs and outline the work to be done. To earn their money, youth might cook or help in the lunch room, repair books, chairs, desks, help with construction or landscaping on the school grounds, do clerical work in a school office, serve as recreational leaders or they might do a number of other kinds of work beneficial to the school they are attending. Youth between the ages of 16 and 24 who could not continue in school without financial assistance are eligible for NYA work.

In this county, the schools granted NYA funds and the officials in charge of the program are:

Cayce High School, A. J. Lowe
Fulton High School, J. O. Lewis
Graves Elementary School, I. Ebert

Hickman High School, John R. Cooper.

Riverview High School, A. W. Green.

The total NYA allotment for schools in the state is $234,716. This will provide work for about 5,200 youth.

Jailbreakers Arrested By Sheriff Henry Recently

Howard Dunn and Novice Lee Gamble, who had escaped from the McCracken county jail in Paducah a few nights before, were arrested by O. C. Henry, sheriff of Fulton county, and his deputies last week. The men were returned to Paducah where they are awaiting federal jury action on Dyer Act charges.

In addition to the counts on which they were being held, they will face possible additional charges of jail breaking and federal and state counts of automobile theft.

Recovery of an automobile which Dunn and Gamble had stolen from Miss Birdie Caruthers of Union City led to the capture of the two men.

Dunn previously served a term in federal prison for theft of a car owned by Miss Helen Tyler about three years ago.

PEACH TREE BEARS TWO CROPS IN SEASON

Mrs. Ernest Poyner, correspondent for The News, has a prolific peach tree, which is not satisfied with one crop of peaches, but has produced a second crop this season. The first crop consisted of well-developed peaches of delicious flavor. It was first quality fruit which ripened the latter part of July. The second crop of peaches, however, are small.

Some men, it is said, will walk a girl all over the floor, and think they are dancing. Well, it's something to show anybody that he or she can walk, and does not have to go everywhere in a car.

Men over 27 may be released from military service, but they are still liable to be drafted for matrimony.

Council Takes Special Action

Members of the Fulton City Council, and Mayor Paul DeMyer, met in special session Monday night. Action was taken on some pressing business matters, which included the decision to employ two more policemen, and to suspend fire chief Lee Roberts and fireman Louie Roberts. Further discussion and action will be taken up at the next regular meeting of the council.

All members of the council, with the exception of Clarence Pickering who is on his vacation, and Mayor Paul DeMyer, were present.

When two extra policemen are named, a drive to enforce traffic and law and order regulations will be made. For some time Chief Dalton has been asking for more officers and readjustments in the police department. Saturday and week-end crowds have been increasing the tasks on local police as times improved, and officials have felt for some time that a move to improve existing trouble centers should be made. Emphasis is expected to be placed upon traffic regulations, parking and nuisances.

BULLDOGS WIN FROM UNION CITY 6 TO 0

The Fulton Bulldogs defeated the Union City Tornado 6 to 0 on Friday night in Union City for their first victory over Union City since 1927. Over 1,000 people witnessed the game and it is believed about one-half of these were Fulton fans.

The Bulldogs played a splendid game and scored the only touchdown in the last few minutes of the game. The entire team deserves praise for the game but special credit goes to Willingham, Whitesell and McClellan. Willingham scored the touchdown as he crashed through the Tornado line and scored standing up with two minutes to go. The kick for the extra point was low.

Fulton had eight first downs against four for Union City. The Bulldogs gained 120 yards from scrimmage and the Tornado 57. Fulton lost 21 yards from scrimmage and the Tornado lost 30 yards. Fulton completed three out of five attempts at passing for a gain of 33 yards. Union City threw eight passes and completed four for 38 yards gain. Fulton was penalized 30 yards while the Tornado did not lose any by penalties. Fulton fumbled eight times and Union City three.

YMBC Backs Drive For Airport Here

At a recent meeting of the Young Men's Business Club, a movement was started to obtain an airport for Fulton. Hendon Wright, former president of this club, was named chairman of a committee, whose job will be to encourage action that will bring this city up-to-date by having a first-class airport. Other members of the committee are J. Paul Bushart, editor of The News; Tolbert Sawyer, W. E. Holloway

Considerable data has already been gathered by the committee in regard to government aid that may be obtained to improve a field, such as leveling, landscaping, and construction of a hangar. Three sites have been investigated, two in Kentucky and one in Tennessee. Development of an airport in Tennessee would hinge on a co-operative plan between Fulton and Union City.

In some locality an airport is started by the co-operation of some civic-minded owner of land, who is interested in seeing his community keep abreast of the times. Usually an airport is named in their honor, like Berry Field in Nashville. Fulton is strategically located for air traffic, and with such fast development in air transportation, something should be done now to put Fulton on the map with a good airport.

C. I. O. ORGANIZERS GET COLD RECEPTION

Factory Payroll Here Is $30,000 A Month; Minimum Pay Now 40c an Hour; Time and Half for Overtime

C. I. O. organizers visited Fulton just recently and endeavored to form a union of local garment workers. Reports from nearby communities in this territory indicate that strenuous efforts are being made to organize various plants but are meeting with no results. Two reasons are responsible for the "cold shoulder" that these organizers are receiving: First, workers are quick to appreciate the protection of the Wage and Hour Law, which guarantees them 40c per hour as a minimum wage in factories, realizing that to unionize offers scarcely any advantage and means deduction from their payrolls for union dues. Second, both workers and other citizens are slow to accept the leadership of an organization which is causing trouble and disturbing labor and payrolls in other sections of the country.

For instance, here in Fulton, the Seigel plant employs between 450 and 500 people, with a payroll approximating $30,000 a month. With this many families gainfully employed, naturally there has been an improvement in the economic condition of this community. Workers and citizens alike realize that such employment is helpful and beneficial, and if such a payroll were lost or decreased by labor disturbances, many families would suffer.

Factories have often moved South to get closer to the product they use in manufacturing, and to avoid interruptions caused by labor trouble. These periods of lost time and wages can prove embarrassing to both employee and employer. In order that these conditions might be avoided, and for the protection of workers, Congress adopted the Wage and Hour Law. It is this law that raised the wage in factories from 32c cents an hour to 40c an hour on October 1. All workers in the local plant receive 40c an hour or more for forty hours work, and time and a half for overtime. This increase in wages has meant a considerable increase in the payroll.

There is now a demand for more floor space in the Fulton plant in order to put more workers on the payroll and increase production demands. Mr. Seigel has been conferring with local officials in an effort to get the building enlarged, but nothing definite has been done along this line. The five-year lease of the building erected by contributions from local citizens will soon expire. This lease is not a profit-making affair—the small rent received is used to pay taxes, insurance, upkeep, etc.

So it can be seen that in order to maintain a plant here that will provide employment, a group of citizens has contributed thousands of dollars to provide a building. Both workers and citizens are thusly co-operating to help themselves, their families and their community. When either neglects to protect their interests, they stand to sacrifice a co-operative institution which they have established.

With about 500 employees receiving wages totaling around $350,000 a year, each worker averaging $16 per week, it would indeed be a serious blow to the workers and the community to lose such a payroll at the hands of unsympathetic "labor organizers." The temper of the community is becoming aroused over such prospects, and there is very little possibility of this type "dry rot" succeeding in Fulton with workers and citizens of one mind . . . and that is to protect their interests in the matter.

POLIO IN GLASSES?

Because a little girl kept a lemonade stand in Western Springs (Chicago suburb) and four of her playmates came down with infantile paralysis, scientists have struck the hottest trail of the virus in the history of epidemiology.

That she was the prime source (of the outbreak) was established early in the investigation. One hot afternoon in July she did a lively business in front of her home. What did it matter if the glasses weren't rinsed after each using? The customers weren't fussy and kept plunking down their pennies just the same.

Then she and four customers came down with the disease. It was its first appearance in the community this season.

Doctors pounced on the case as an opportunity to establish important new facts in the long, discouraging battle against polio. Here was the evident source of a small epidemic. Her associates and those of her playmates could be traced with comparative ease.

The reports of Western Springs doctors immediately attracted the attention of Dr. Edward A. Piszczek, Cook County health director. He sought and obtained a grant of $4,000 from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. Dozens of tiny rhesus monkeys were brought to the Cook County laboratories and tested with injections from the known victims and suspects from the suburbs.

Three members of the five polio cases and four apparently healthy playmates who had not purchased lemonade were found to be carrying the virus. The four had played with the five who became ill.

"Experiments at Yale University two years ago established that healthy persons may be poliomyelitis carriers," Dr. Piszczek said, "but this is the first time the carriers have been located so quickly. One of the chief immediate aims of our research is to learn how little contact spreads the disease and how long the carrier harbors the virus."

Those accomplishments would make the lemonade stand in Western Springs an historic landmark in man's fight against poliomyelitis.

MEN 17 TO 50 WANTED FOR U. S. NAVAL RESERVE

According to Secretary of Navy Knox, "All men now enlisting in the Naval Reserve will be retained on active duty throughout the period of the national emergency, but they will be released to inactive duty as soon after the emergency as their services can be spared, regardless of the length of time remaining in their enlistment."

Here is a set of questions and answers for those desiring information about the Naval Reserve:

I have a trade. Is there any chance for me to continue my work in the Navy? Yes, if you qualify, you can enter the Navy with the rank of Petty Officer, which pays up to $99 per month.

How many men are there in the crew of a battleship? The modern battleship carries from 1200 to 1500 enlisted men, 50 to 75 Chief Petty Officers, 9 to 13 Warrant Officers and from 80 to 100 Commissioned Officers.

When does a recruit's pay start? Immediately upon entering the Navy. You're on Uncle Sam's payroll from the very first day you enlist.

What is the fancy plug stuck in the muzzle of a gun called? It is called the "tompson" and it keeps dust and moisture out of the barrel.

Does a sailor receive pay when on leave? Yes, he receives full pay even though he technically is not working.

Is special leave ever granted? Yes, in exceptional cases, such as serious illness or death in the immediate family.

How tall must you be to be accepted for the Navy? A candidate must be no shorter than 5 feet, 4 inches tall.

What mechanical jobs can I learn in the Navy? You can choose one of many mechanical trades, including aviation machinist, patternmaker, metalsmith, optical mechanic, radioman, boilermaker, aerographer, diesel engineer and welder.

What is the caliber of the big guns on a battleship? The standard guns of the main batteries range from 12 inches to 16 inches. The effective range of a 14-inch gun is 30,000 yards, or slightly more than 15 miles. The range of a 16-inch gun is somewhat greater.

How long must a bluejacket serve before he is given a "rating" in the United States Navy? A seaman must serve at least 12 months and take a Navy training course, his trade or vocational specialty, and pass a required examination before he obtains a rating. Every rated man in the Navy is a Petty Officer.

JUST HUMANS

By GENE CARR

"You Was a Chump T'Match Y'chance T'be President. Now Watcha Got T'look Forward To?"

Can a married man join the Navy? Married applicants are not accepted by the regular Navy, but a married man can enlist in the Naval Reserve.

How much does it cost to feed the crew of a battleship in the U. S. Navy? Enlisted men in the U. S. Navy are the best fed in the world. It costs approximately $175,000 a year to feed the crew of a single battleship.

Federal usage on your old car. If you should buy a new one, the tax will no longer be 3½% but 7%. Every time you light your pipe, cigar, or cigarette with a wooden or paper match, you will be helping Uncle Sam to pay the war cost, for the new tax on matches is 2c per thousand. Do you go to the movies? If so, you will pay larger taxes on your admission tickets. If you enjoy Paul Whiteman's swing music or the New York Philharmonic Symphony's recordings, you will find the price of records up due to taxes.

He will be a poor man indeed who will not pay taxes. He cannot smoke, drink, own a car, use a telephone, go to a movie, buy a deck of cards, buy a box of matches, send a telegram, buy a ticket on a bus or railroad (costing more than 35c) buy furs, jewelry or cosmetics, go to a cabaret.

There is an old saying that only two things are certain—"death and taxes"—and many Americans will realize this year for the first time that this old saying has a modern version.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., a Lesson-Sermon will be read on Sunday, October 5, 1941, on the subject, "Unreality."

The Golden Text will be: "All that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, and the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world. And the world passeth away, and the lust thereof but he that doeth the will of God abideth forever." (I John 2:16, 17). Bible selections will include the following passage from Revelations: "Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created." (Rev. 4:11).

Of the five largest cities in the United States, according to the 1940 census, New York city gained in population 449,813. Chicago 8,118. Detroit 47,887. Los Angeles 258,744. While Philadelphia, the third largest, lost 15,875 in the period 1930-40.

Money Talks

By Frederick Stan, m. Economist Director of Adult Education UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

The greatest tax bill in history, estimated to raise over 15 billion dollars, was signed last week by the President. Very few American citizens or American families will escape paying higher taxes.

Of major importance is the lowering of the income tax exemption for the single person to $750 and the married person to $1500. This means that every single person making more than $14.40 a week and every married couple making more than $28.80 will have to file an income tax return next March 15. It is estimated that over 4,900,000 people will file income tax returns for the first time.

This law includes a new 10 per cent tax on electric and gas appliances, sporting goods, photographic apparatus, and luggage and a 5 per cent tax on electric light bulbs and radio tubes.

If you have a telephone, you will notice a 6 per cent tax on your local telephone bill. If you should use long distance service, you must pay a 10 per cent tax. You may not buy a new automobile next year, but even so, you must pay a $5.00

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

Penalized for an Off-Side Play

By IRVIN S. COBB

EVERYBODY knows who and what Thomas A. Edison is and nearly everybody knows that Mr. Edison is deaf. But the fact that he has a very pretty wit of his own is not a matter of such common knowledge.

A chronic borrower paid the wizard a visit one afternoon. He and the great inventor were old acquaintances and the acquaintance-ship had already cost Mr. Edison considerable sums of money from time to time.

"Tom," said the visitor, "can you lend me a hundred dollars?"

"What?" inquired Mr. Edison, cupping his hand about his ear.

The visitor was emboldened to raise the ante and his voice at the same time:

"I say, can you let me have two-hundred dollars?"

"I wish I'd heard you the first time," said Mr. Edison as he reached for his purse.

People Who "Dig" Must Expect Some Dirt

By PERCY L. CROSBY

WELCH SCHOOL NEWS

Welch School has been in progress five weeks. Everything has moved nicely and smoothly thus far with the exception that Mr. Matheny lost his bow tie for two days. Every one including the faculty mourned for his severe loss.

Never in the history of the Welch School has the faculty been so unique. The composition is two bachelors and two maids and one of the members is a "squire" so don't be surprised at what might happen.

The P. T. A. under the auspices of Mrs. J. W. Thomas has been actively on the job. Highlights of its program has been its participation in the Ken-Tenn Exposition, with a lunch stand nad the starting of the hot lunch project at school. Results of the lunch stand at Fulton—a financial success.

Due to strict governmental regulations, the hot lunch project supervisors suffer many headaches and as a result of high consumptive prices the financiers are and will continue to suffer maladjustments by feeding balanced plate lunches at a most economical rate, five cents per day.

As to the ball teams at Welch this year, purple and gold are on the march again. Saturday, Sept. 27th both teams of Welch met at Palmersville Junior Hi at their gym. The Welch boys defeated their opponents by a large margin while the girls were defeated vice versa. Due to inexperience and limited material, both teams of Welch will have hard going against capable competition the entire year. The next engagement of the ball clubs will be at Chestnut Glade on Thursday, October 2, when they meet Stella Ruth Jr. High at Chestnut Glade's annual Field Day.

October 10 has been set for the Annual Homecoming at Welch. There will be no exhibition of livestock and agricultural products this year. Highlights of the day will be musical contests of all kinds, including the violin, quartet and dancing. Afternoon and evening program will consist of athletic contests and radio artists performance. Everyone is cordially invited back to its alma mater Friday, October 10. Plate lunches, hamburgers and cold drinks will be sold on the ground.

CHECK YOUR WINTER FOOD SUPPLY

Now is the time to check your food budget to be sure you have food sufficient to carry your family until the next growing season.

Since a large portion of the vegetables and all fruits needed for the winter months must be stored or canned a well planned canning and storage budget is necessary to provide the variety and amount of food needed for good health.

According to the University of Kentucky Extension Food Program a family of five should store 27-37 bushels of fruits and vegetables; 50 heads of cabbage; 24 pumpkins and squash; 6 gallons kraut; 26 qts. of dried beans; 234 quarts of canned fruit and 266-314 containers of vegetables.

If your budget doesn't meet your needed requirements its time to do something about it. Your food supply can yet be increased by canning apples, pears, beans, peas, corn, tomatoes, greens and soup mixture. Apples, potatoes, peas, beans, pumpkins and many other vegetables are to be stored. It's a good time to make pickles, relishes, jellies and preserves; but be sure your canning budget is complete for relishes and preserves are less nutritious and can be left out of the diet.

You're in the Army now if you are behind the plow.

TRADITIONAL CHARACTERISTICS

DO YOUR PART - IT'S PARTLY FOR YOU AND YOURS. AS OUR ANCESTORS Banded TOGETHER TO GUARD AGAINST THE INDIANS, SO DOES OUR YOUTH TODAY TAKE PRIDE IN JOINING THE ARMY AND NAVY.

THEY HEWED HOMES AND FARMS OUT OF A WILDERNESS. THEY BUILT STRONG FOR THE FUTURE. THEIR EXAMPLE IS FOLLOWED - INDIVIDUAL AMERICANS OWN TODAY 117½ BILLION DOLLARS IN FUTURE SECURITY IN LIFE INSURANCE AND THUS HAVE EMULATED THE PIONEERS WHO WORKED AND SAVED AND KEPT ON WORKING.

DEPRESSION OR PLENTY

"What lies ahead after we have solved present day problems? A land of milk and honey or another black pit of depression? Where do we go from here?"

In those words NAM President Walter D. Fuller recently stated one of the great issues that America faces today. True, we are in the midst of an enormous defense program, and defense is still our main job. But after defense what? The transition from armament to peacetime manufacture presents a huge and difficult problem. How well we solve it will depend to a considerable extent on how well we prepare ourselves now to solve it.

According to Mr. Fuller, ready the government planners are establishing a shelf for public works projects after the war. But that is not a solution, any more than it was the way out of the depression in the 1930s.

"What is needed even more than a pantry shelf of pills and panacas is a clearing of the air as to what business and industry can expect in the future. Will the wartime controls be revoked? Will the power to kill off any business or any industry through invoking priorities and price controls be relinquished? Will free enterprise be made freer, with more encouragement instead of more discouragement? Or will there be a tendency to spread the TVA idea which the TNEC called 'a Communistic germ'? Will the methods of the bituminous coal act which was labeled a Fascist infection of our democracy be retained and extended to other industries?"

Those are words that America must consider soberly. In the past our free industry has given us the highest standard of living in the world. In the future it can continue to do so if we keep it free—save it from the fate of the goose that laid the golden egg. We hold tomorrow in our hands. Depression or plenty? America must decide.

PLow UNDER THE PORK BARREL

The record breaking tax bill that Americans will have to pay this year emphasizes once again the immediate need for economy in government expenditures. Substantial cuts can be made in non-defense items, providing pork barrel politics can be forgotten long enough to permit them to be made.

Many Americans fail to realize that non-defense spending has doubled within the past ten years. Every year since 1931 Washington has spent more money than it has collected. Today's rate of tax collections is double that of the peak of the World War period. Untold billions of defense spending are being piled on a tremendous level of civic spending. These non-military expenditures have only been reduced by a comparatively few millions since the emergency began—and this in spite of the fact that millions of people recently unemployed are now working. The government debt has reached gigantic proportions and is steadily going up.

This debt has a tremendous effect upon the standard of living of every one of us. Today the average person pays about 25 per cent of his income in direct and indirect taxes. Every wasted dollar—every unnecessary expenditure—means that he has to pay more money to the government. It means that he has that much less to spend for the necessities and luxuries that every American family needs and wants.

Today, when the rest of us are pulling in our belts to help pay for the defense program that we must have, it's time to insist that Washington pull in its belt, too. In the past it has had considerable experience in plowing under pork. Why not plow under the pork barrel now?

CHEER THROUGH THE WAR CLOUDS

The war gets on some people's nerves. Some of them say they can't sleep. Some children show clouded faces, reflecting the looks of parents. Here are a few cheering thoughts.

First—This is a war of machines, not mainly of men. The contribution of the United States will probably be mainly in machines and equipment. If Uncle Sam has plenty of guns and knows how to shoot them, the gangsters are not likely to trouble him seriously.

Second—The Nazis ran all over Europe because the little nations were not united. They licked each one separately, then took the next. The United States is made up of 48 states, all working unitedly and ardently for defense. A very different proposition.

Third—The conquered nations had war systems too similar to 1918. The 1918 war ideas are like a 1918 bathing suit on a 1941 beach. The United States is producing a 1941 war machine. The Nazis met no such machine when they ran round the Maginot line like a football player making a forward pass.

Human life has to meet danger and storms. It emerges stronger and healthier.

The American people should throw themselves into the defense effort with the utmost ardor and enthusiasm. After such tasks are completed, they should try to live a normal life. It does no good to distribute gloom.

An hour in church Sunday morning helps get away from thoughts that do no good. Keep on singing and dancing, going to shows and movies and playing games, as in our ordinary life. It helps build national morale. And remember, we have the most powerful country in the world when that power is concentrated.

It was Epictetus, a stoic philosopher of Rome, who lived during the latter half of the first century, A.

D., who said: "Nothing is smaller than love of pleasure and the love of gain and pride; nothing is superior to magnanimity and gentleness and love of mankind and beneficence."

Only five Senators and fourteen members of the present Congress of the United States were members of the Sixty-fifth Congress, which was known as the "World's War Congress."

Cyclones, hailstorms, strokes of lightning and storms at sea are "Acts of God" in a legal sense.

Swift & Company Assists In Poultry Promotion

Through the efforts of the extension department of Swift & Company of Fulton, several civic organizations of agricultural extension departments in this territory have sponsored poultry projects among 4-H club boys and girls. These projects have proven both educational and profitable to the youths, and will again be adopted next season.

The Kiwanis Club at Dyersburg sponsored a poultry project, in which 241 4-H club boys and girls participated. More than half a car of young roosters, numbering approximately 2600, were shipped to the local plant from Dyersburg just recently. Approximately 10,000 lbs. of poultry came from Dyersburg; 8,000 pounds from Covington; and 7,500 pounds from Decaturville, Tenn.

Two poultry projects were sponsored in this vicinity; one by the Dresden Chamber of Commerce and All projects have turned out well, without loss to sponsor, and with profit to the boys and girls. All sponsors expect to conduct bigger and larger projects this coming season.

An effort was made to sponsor a similar project in Fulton county this spring, but plans failed to mature. Local civic organizations, the county agent, and 4-H club girls and boys should study the results of these poultry projects, and prepare plans for a similar project in this county. C. C. Ivey, of Swift & Company here, stated this week.

LOOKING AT LABOR

By Industrial News Review
The railway labor unions are now demanding wage increases averaging about 441 per cent. If those increases were granted in toto, the additional wage cost to the railroads would be $900,000,000 a year. F. J. Gavin, president of the Great Northern Railway, recently pointed out just how big a sum $900,000,000 is.

It is more than four times the sum that Congress has authorized to be distributed to farmers this year in parity payments on the five basic crops.

It is more than the total annual wheat and potatoes produced in the United States in 1939.

It is more than the total annual gross revenue of the United States Postal Department.

It would take every cent of the total railroad freight revenue for the first two and one-half months of this year.

This gives you an idea of what the railway labor unions are demanding and railway labor is, generally speaking, the best paid on earth. A computation based on Social Security Board figures for 1939 (the latest statistics available) shows that the average annual earnings of railroad employees were approximately 50 per cent more than the earnings of employees of other industries. And railroad working conditions, hour provisions, etc., favorable to the worker.

The increase demanded is more than 20 times the average net income of the railroad industry during the ten years which ended in 1940. If the demanded wages had been in effect last year, the railroads would actually have lost $600,000,000!

EMPLOYEES AND EMPLOYER SHOULD WEIGH WELL THE EVIDENCE

(Editorial)

Every section of the United States has felt the disturbing influence of the C. I. O. This organization is constantly becoming more and more unpopular with the general public because of its nefarious and subversive activities. John L. Lewis, former head of the C. I. O., even tried to set himself up as dictator of all labor, and went so far as to try to intimidate the President of the United States. This heavy-browed nemesis of America, along with his cohorts, is still doing everything in his power to bring the workingman in line with his un-American principles. If he had his way he would be another Hitler.

Incidentally, the disturbing influence of these enemies of "the American way" is causing just the kind of discord that Hitler favors in his campaigns to divide the minds of nations. "A house divided against itself" is headed for a fall. Well do the Dictators of Europe know this.

Now that the South is getting new industries which formerly operated in the East, it seems that our section must be invaded by this racketeering, unethical and presumptuous bunch of hoodlums. Undone. The money-grabbing, power-seeking schemes of racketeering "labor leaders" no longer bear the fruit they once did . . . and with just reason. The working man who is free from the octopus-like tentacles of those leeches is slow to join hands with them, and General Public is fed up on the un-American activities of these so-called unions.

On the other hand many Communists have worked themselves into positions of power in our unions. Former racketeers and even ex-convicts even have places of honor. Investigation by the Dies Committee, Federation Bureau of Investigation and newspapers has revealed some disgusting facts about many of these self-appointed "leaders of the laboring man." As a result the cause of labor is seriously muddled. Unless the unions themselves awaken to the rottenness that exists inside their membership, they will one day find themselves behind the proverbial "eight ball."

Fairness and justice must prevail between employee and employer. The Government has passed a Wage and Hour Law to see that this is done. The money-grabbing, power-seeking schemes of racketeering "labor leaders" no longer bear the fruit they once did . . . and with just reason. The working man who is free from the octopus-like tentacles of those leeches is slow to join hands with them, and General Public is fed up on the un-American activities of these so-called unions.

What do these blood-sucking parasites care about the workingman's family? What did they do to provide a job for the workers before there was an industry to employ them? Citizens of a community may get together and by co-operative effort and contribution of thousands of dollars to erect a building to house a plant in order that jobs may be provided for those desiring employment, in order that a community may be more economically stable. But none of these "foreigners" from some distant city are interested enough to come into our community and help us work out our unemployment problems. They are, however, ready and eager to "organize" and collect much desired dues from the workers after they have a job. Yes, dues are highly important to the "overlords of labor." Without them, and the power they control, their "leadership" would soon cease.

THE PASSING OF AN ERA—I

When my generation said farewell to the customs that they had known as children, it was no mere outgrowing of what we alone had known. Every person outgrows something, but with us it was really a part of a whole change. I almost said a "cosmic" change. The circumstances under which we had lived seemed in our earliest days the only natural ones. They had lasted unchanged for generations. They had been hallowed by their connection with the Old World and with pioneer life in the New. Thousands of people, poor and rich, had had the same early life, had worn home-knit yarn stockings and home-made clothes, had participated in log-rollings and barn-raising and shiverers and serenades, had attended the one-room, ungraded school, where one never dreamed of an orderly pursuit of an education from the kindergarten through the university. Railroads had come long ago, the Industrial Revolution was a fact in many places, slavery had been abolished, but the old, old customs lived on, vital yet in the early nineties in nearly all places and absolutely untouched in remote areas where the roar of machinery had not penetrated.

Then, almost within a dozen years, came the modernizing of this staid world that we had known. Before we were hardly conscious of it, the things that we had known and loved became passing institutions. Unlike many other changes, this one came with a bound and in every part of the country. It was once possible to tell whether a person hailed from one or another neighborhood, up or down the creek. So rapidly have we become standardized that such lines of demarcation have long since passed away. Nothing so brought this to my attention as an experience my wife and I had about 1923 or 1924. We had been invited by the teacher of a rural high school to spend the day with him and some of his pupils in a boat trip on a small river. My wife dressed, rather cautiously, in knickers, a little fearful that she would shock the girls of the community where we were going. Imagine our surprise when we arrived at our destination to find all the girls in manish attire from overalls to fashionable knickers. Thus rapidly had modern methods of dressing found their way into remote corners of the hills.

It cannot fail to be a source of regret to many of us that the lives of our children seldom cut across our own early experiences. Christmas, for instance, is just as real to them as it ever was to us, but something of the picturesqueness of the occasion is dead forever. Oranges and apples are no longer the wonderful fruits they once were; candy is no nine-day's wonder; Christmas trees have largely superseded stockings. Roman candles and firecrackers, since we are on the edge of the South, are still here, usually unheard of in our lives. The scattering out of the Christmas season seems to be an old-timer to destroy much of the thrill we once got out of the one day of the year. Even the parents did not purchase presents until Christmas Eve or a day earlier. Tearing down Thanksgiving decorations to put up Christmas decorations was unknown, partly because we waited until Christmas to celebrate Christmas. For that matter, Thanksgiving Day then meant very little; I can recall that in my early college days no holidays was decreed in my college for it or even thought of, though we always made much of Christmas.

We all advocate safe driving and believe in safety on our highways. At home and in clubs and hotels, we constantly tell others what fine drivers we are, how long we have driven an automobile without an accident, etc.—remarks that emphasize safe driving habits. But on the road—ah, that's a different story.

Safe driving is not a matter of our past record, but of the lessons we have learned from past experience, of the habits we employ on the road today, and of the preparations we take to insure highway safety in the future—and underneath it all lies courtesy. Our cement roads provide for smoother driving, multiple lane highways offer safe facilities for increased and faster traffic, and through highways cut travel time. However, these improvements, designed for convenience and safety, will not serve their purpose unless our driving habits and manners show similar advances. Faster traffic requires greater caution and a recognition of the privileges of other motorists. Our actual driving must confirm the remarks we make in private since a lack of courtesy interferes with the correct driving of others and causes accidents.

"You'll get a kick out of this, Ben Franklin"

I DON'T blame you for looking so dumfounded, Mr. Franklin. There's been a lot happening in this country since you left us 151 years ago.

As you can see, some very able inventors took up where you left off.

I'll bet the biggest surprise to you is the stride electricity has made—remember your experiment with the kite and the key?

Well, sir, electricity stayed just about where you left it in 1790 until nearly a hundred years later when Edison came along, and things started to happen.

He gave us the electric light, Mr. Franklin, and then other inventors developed electric power and heat. It would take all the space in this newspaper to tell you about those marvels. Now factories are run by electricity; we have a wonderful invention called radio that brings us voices, music and entertainment out of the air; we wash, iron, and clean by electricity. Remember the stove you invented? Now we have electric stoves.

And here is something about electric service that will please your thrifty soul: electricity is within the reach of everybody because it's so cheap. What's more, the rates are being reduced all the time. For example, during the last 10 to 15 years the average rate for household electricity has been cut about in half. Today folks get about twice as much electricity as they got 10 to 15 years ago for the same money.

Why? Because of efficient business management of the electric companies. And while the rates under business management are going down, the service is getting better and better.

We Americans appreciate these things, Mr. Franklin. We know a good thing when we see it. And we're grateful to you, sir, for the work you did in electricity!

the RAILROADS SERVE KENTUCKY and the NATION

Railroads Spent $71,322,897 in Kentucky in 1940

paid $18,646,339 in 377 Kentucky cities and towns. In wages they paid $47,376,558 to 28,694 Kentucky citizens. And in taxes they paid more than $5,300,000 to the State, counties, cities and school districts. Thus, their total contribution to Kentucky's economic welfare in 1940 amounted to $71,322,897. Similar payments were made in all other states.

Efficient Mass Transportation Is Essential

Still more important, the railroads at all times support the nation's economic welfare by providing highly efficient mass transportation. Preparation for national defense largely depends on mass transportation by railroad. The emergency and magnitude of the defense program impose a stupendous burden on the railroads. The railroads are doing the job. They will continue to do it because they have the plant, the manpower, the skill, the tradition of service that such a task requires.

The Twofold Contribution to National Welfare

The railroads carry over their own roadways the bulk of the national transportation load in peace and in war. Most of the $4,297,000,000 which the public paid for railroad services last year was turned back to the public in wages of employees, purchases of materials and supplies, and direct tax support of the schools and of city, county, State and Federal governments. Less than 1% on the investment in railroad property was paid to the stockholders who own the railroads and furnish the service.
