St. Clair To Present Nixon's Defense To Impeachment Panel

WASHINGTON (AP)—White House lawyer James D. St. Clair will present President Nixon's impeachment defense to a House Judiciary Committee that already is drafting proposed articles of impeachment.

St. Clair's summation today, aimed at establishing that Nixon was not involved in the Watergate cover-up or any other matters under investigation, brings the committee to the final stage of its impeachment inquiry. Starting Friday it will receive from special counsel John Doar a number of alternative articles of impeachment, together with (Related Story on Page 10) supporting facts, that will serve as the basis for the committee's deliberations next week.

Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., rejected the charge made by some Republicans that Doar was abandoning the objective, nonpartisan stance he has maintained throughout the impeachment proceedings in drawing up proposed articles.

"He is not advocating a position," Rodino said in an interview. "He is saying to the committee, 'Here are theories that apply to the case and here are the facts that support them.'"

Doar also denied that he was assuming the role of a prosecutor by presenting such theories.

Doar's presentation will take at least two days and Rodino has set aside Monday for that purpose, if it is needed. Final deliberations are to start Wednesday.

The debate and voting in the committee may be televised. House leaders reportedly have reconsidered an earlier decision to resist changing the House policy against televised committee meetings and are planning to seek a House vote on the issue.

According to Rodino's plan, a committee final vote on its recommendation of impeachment could come July 27 or July 29. House leaders are hoping to start debate on the House floor in mid-August and to complete it in about two weeks.

The committee moved into the House today.

State's New Minimum Wage Law Termed Unconstitutional In Suit

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP)—The 1974 state minimum wage law, and especially its overtime provisions as applied to many city employees, has been termed unconstitutional in a suit filed here.

Filing the suit in Franklin Circuit Court Wednesday were the Kentucky Municipal League and several cities. The suit seeks a permanent injunction to block the overtime provision of the law, which went into effect June 21.

They claimed the overtime provision was unconstitutional because it applied to many city workers hired for "purely local convenience and purposes," such as traffic engineering, park maintenance and street cleaning.

The suit argued that taxes in the cities do not give revenue for the pay raises or overtime pay, nor are they budgeted. And many of the cities involved already are levying the highest property taxes they are allowed by law, the suit added.

It also said the law gave the legislature absolute and arbitrary power over the cities in violation of section 2 of Kentucky's constitution. That reads: "Absolute and arbitrary power over the lives, liberty and property of freemen exists nowhere in a republic."

It also violated section 181 of the constitution, the suit said, by causing a mandatory and involuntary expenditure of local tax revenues for purely local purposes.

CLARIFICATION

Due to incorrect information supplied in a press release from the Committee for Wendell H. Ford For U.S. Senator, the name of Z. Enix was omitted from a news story earlier this week announcing the Calloway County Ford campaign chairmen. Enix and Ron Christopher are co-chairman of the Calloway County campaign.

purposes. That section says the General Assembly shall not impose taxes for the purposes of a local government.

Filing the suit besides the Municipal League were the Lexington-Fayette County Urban Government and the cities of Louisville, Bowling Green, Henderson, Elizabethtown, Anchorage and Audubon Park.

The suit said the state law involved made "no distinction or separation between those public employees engaged in matters of purely local convenience and interest and those employees engaged in matters of general state authority and interest and accordingly the act as applied to any public employee is unconstitutional and void."

It further said the law involved was unconstitutional because its title said it only involved minimum wages, not overtime pay. The suit said the law thus violated the constitutional requirement that a law can only be on one subject and that must be stated in its title.

Finally, the suit said the minimum wage law is unconstitutional because it amends several previous laws pertaining to city officials and city employees without re-enacting or publishing them at length.

Another state law requires first and second class cities and urban county governments to have three shifts of firemen with each being on duty 24 hours and off 48 hours, the suit said.

Thus, it continued, it requires overtime pay for firemen "regardless of whether any employee on duty is sleeping, eating or actually engaged in fire department work."

Several cities have adjusted the hourly pay of their firemen downward so the total salary paid them under the overtime provision would be about the same as previously. Firemen in some of those cities have filed suit to block such adjustments. Those suits still are pending.

"Nice guys" also known as "suckers."

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I am 18 and Bill is 21 and we're getting married soon. My problem is my mother. She doesn't drive, and she is always offering Bill's driving services to her friends without asking Bill first. She just calls him and tells him to pick up so and so. She also asks him to drive her around and do different errands for her. She has never offered to put any gas in Bill's car and with gas so high, it makes a difference.

Bill isn't dumb. He knows he's being taken advantage of, but he's such a nice guy he never says "no" to her. I've asked Mom not to take advantage of Bill this way, but it hasn't helped. Any suggestions? BILL'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Tell Bill that when your mother's requests are an imposition to tell her in a nice way that he can't accommodate her. People who let others take advantage of them can expect to go through life being used and inconvenienced. They may be known as "nice-guys," but they're also known as "suckers."

DEAR ABBY: To "HAD IT WITH MOM", who visited her elderly mother only occasionally because Mom talked of nothing but illness, death and hardships—present and past. Too bad we can't just consign all the contrary old folks to a gas chamber, so we won't have to bother with them!

Old people complain of "illness" because they are at that stage of their lives when their bodies (and minds) have begun to deteriorate.

Probably the most exciting thing that happened to Mom was her visit to the doctor's last week.

Old folks talk about "death" because they live at death's door. Their friends are dropping like flies, and death seems so near to them.

They speak of "hardships—present and past" because they are proud to have overcome the hardships of the past, and are trying to endure present hardships.

My own mother suffers from all the above. You see, I have memories of Mamma from when I was a child. Of the love, care, time and tenderness she gave me. What she taught me was more valuable than what I learned in college. There is not one single day that passes that I don't use some of the knowledge that Mamma imparted.

Someday I will be visiting Mamma's grave, as I do Daddy's now. I will then wish I could hear a few complaints or hard luck stories from her past.

If we are lucky, we, too, will grow old. Then we will pray that some loving friend or relatives will come to visit us and patiently listen as we talk about the aches and pains of our minds, bodies and hearts.

DIANNE IN BILOXI

DEAR DIANNE: You're beautiful.

DEAR ABBY: Please help correct the erroneous idea that most homes for unwed mothers have closed down because they are no longer needed.

The fact that more unmarried mothers are keeping their babies doesn't necessarily mean that no one needs our services anymore. Many unmarried pregnant girls need a quiet place where they can "think," and get counseling and guidance (not preaching) from people who understand. Delivery of her baby is a small part of her need.

Rainbow Girls SALES RULE Hold Picnic Here NOW IN EFFECT

Murray Rainbow Girls met at the Fair Grounds on Monday, July 8, for their annual Founders Day Picnic.

The Rainbow Booth was cleaned for the opening of the fair before the picnic was held.

Those attending the picnic were Kathy Black, Kathy Coleman, Deldra Folsom, Phyllis Coleman, Rhonda Sledd, Becky Edwards, Debbie Nance, Kathy Higginbotham, Tina George, Linda George, Dale Phillips, Dawn Hutchens, Walter P. Hutchens, and Martha Hutchens.

The Rainbow booth opens at ten a.m. each day during the week of the fair.

A University of Tennessee home management specialist reports that there is a new rule on door-to-door sales.

"The days are over when a glib salesman can lure you into signing for a high-cost item," says LaVerne Farmer, associate professor, UT Agricultural Extension Service. "A Federal Trade Commission rule that went into effect June 7 did away with this risk once and for all."

An individual now has three days to cancel any door-to-door purchase costing $25 or more. Once you notify the salesman, he is required to pick up the item and return your money.

When yogurt is used in a sauce, the heating time should be short and the temperature low; if these precautions aren't taken the yogurt may separate.

Following the ceremony, the reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, 1307 E. Main Street, Princeton, West Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene King Are Named For July Yard Award

Mr. and Mrs. Gene King of 1508 Belmont Drive have been chosen to receive the July "Yard of the Month" award by the Garden Department of the Murray Woman's Club.

Looking across their well-manicured lawn, a combination of 31 Fescue and Creeping Fescue, one's attention is drawn to the equally impressive display of foundation shrubs. These include a variety of hollies, Hellei, Fosteri, Burfordi and Rotundifolia, the smaller forms near the entrance walk graduating to the larger varieties across the front. Red dahlias and red begonia are planted at intervals between these shrubs.

The east foundation shows as espaliered pyracantha flanked by hedges of green Barberry.

The back patio is intimately tied to the house by location and plantings and is a welcome extension of the living area. Potted plants in colorful containers and hanging baskets are pleasingly arranged around bright yellow patio furnishings. A medium height hedge of Japanese holly surrounds the patio and gives a feeling of privacy. An upright Euonymus hedge is used on both back walls on each side of the patio. For added color, Mrs. King has planted bright yellow marigolds nearby.

The upright Euonymus hedge gives easy transition from the back wall to the west side of the house. Here one finds added texture in the hand-laid brick walk extend from the patio to the west carport area. Burfordi holly are found here as well. Extending from this hedge and placed at the end of the carport is a burning bush with red begonias beneath.

Picking up the red and yellow color scheme, are the red Barberry and golden privet placed at the upper end of the paved drive. Two yellow hanging baskets on the carport further complement the plan as does the use of red fill-tile under all the foundation plantings.

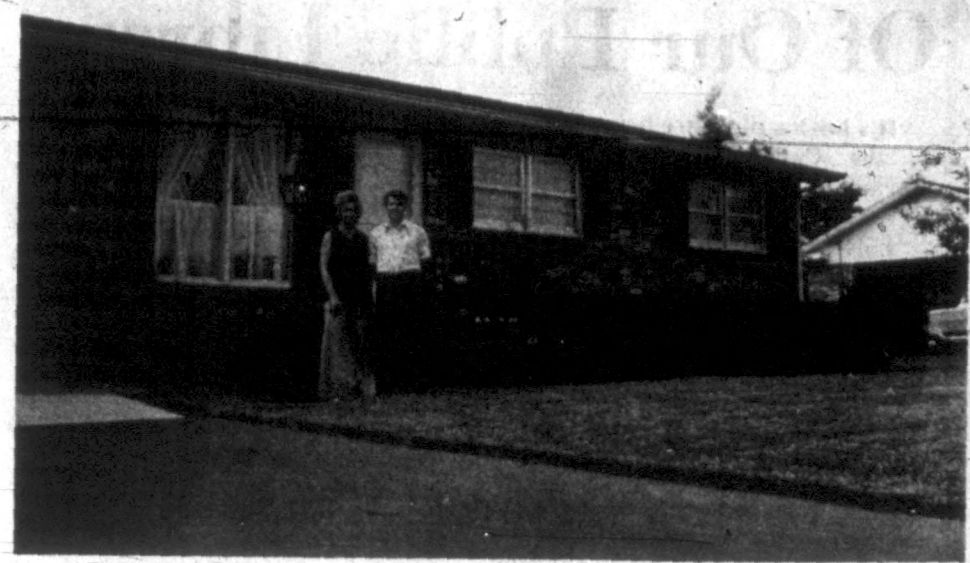

Adding to the overall harmony of the landscaping plan are many varieties of well-placed trees and shrubs in the lawn area and marking the property boundaries. The front lawn has a grouping of yucca, a white birch, a Japanese maple and a flowering crab. The east lawn features a pin oak, while the back, or north lawn, shows magnolia, maple, a corkscrew willow, redbud and holly.

The property boundaries to the north and east feature well-placed plantings of white pine, Euonymus Alatus, burning bush and red twig dogwood. For spring color there are three pink snow-buds, quince, lilac, forsythia, mock-orange and crepe myrtle. Red Barberry is used as a hedge along a portion of the east boundary.

The west lawn area features a white birch, a black locust and a smoke tree.

Mr. and Mrs. King have remembered the birds in their planning; placed at appropriate places are both feeders and bird houses.

Gene and Helen planted their shrubs and trees and both find time for weekly upkeep which makes for an award winning yard.

Residing with their parents are Valerie, age 12, and Brad, age 4.

CHOSEN TO receive the July Yard of the Month award by the Garden Department of the Murray Woman's Club were Mr. and Mrs. Gene King, 1508 Belmont Drive, Murray.

We Should Be Proud Of Our Public Library

"It's been a pleasure being served by the Calloway County Public Library..."

"I do wish to thank you for the children's story hour and for the wide selection of fiction and non-fiction. For a small library, you do an excellent job."

"I enjoyed very much having the opportunity of...seeing all the activities that can go on in even a small library. You are to be complimented for the service you are giving at the library in reaching so many children as well as adults and senior citizens."

These are excerpts from just three of the many letters received by the Calloway County Library each week. They emphasize the fact, taken for granted by most of us, that we have an excellent public library in our community.

Much of the credit for our library goes to a hard-working staff, headed by librarian Margaret Trevathan, and a dedicated library board composed of Max Hurt, chairman, A. H. Kopperud, treasurer, Jean Blankenship, secretary, Mrs. George Hart and Jack Belote.

Other members of the library staff are Carolyn Adams, bookmobile librarian, Diane Johnson, senior clerk, Linda Donoho, clerk, Velva Maupin, clerk and Virginia Swann, part-time bookmobile librarian.

A news article in Wednesday's edition of this newspaper pointed out that the local library has just issued its 10,000th library card and that last week 4,042 library books and materials were checked out. The figures speak for themselves—our library is doing an excellent job of serving our community.

But the local library does not stop at just being a community book depository. Other attractions at the library include children's story hours, book reviews, arts and crafts displays, film festivals and much more.

Those in our community who have never visited our library, who have never combed the shelves or the card file for a book that interests them, are missing out on one of the chief attributes of our community.

All Calloway County residents are eligible for a patron card which enables them to use library services as needed. We urge any citizen who has not yet acquired his card, to stop by the library. The staff will gladly issue the card.

Then, before leaving, browse through the rows of books and just look around. This institution belongs to each and every citizen of the community and we should feel much civic pride in the services being performed at the Calloway County Public Library.

'Academic Con Games'

The National Science Foundation (NSF) is a prestigious arm of the federal government that annually allots large sums of the tax-payers' money to a wide variety of research projects.

By and large, most of them are no doubt worthwhile and contribute to man's knowledge and experience.

But, like most public and private agencies that make research grants, the NSF can sometimes veer into the murky byways of boondoggles.

AT THE RISK of appearing anti-intellectual—which we are not—or niggardly when public funds are concerned—which we often are—it seems proper to support Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., in his assault on some NSF projects, current and projected.

Specifically, Proxmire is fighting a proposed 30 per cent increase in NSF social science research funding. He calls it "capricious budget planning which is simply an attempt to supply more chips for a great many academic con games."

He described a number of the projects "on which the NSF will spend $35.6 million this year and plans to squander $49.5 million next year." Here are just two of them:

—A $55,200 study of two communities in Nepal by a psychiatrist-anthropologist focusing on the "goodness of fit" between psychological orientations of individuals and the sociocultural matrix.

—An $83,100 project concentrating on an examination of the cognitive structure of a reasonably large American city (Columbus, Ohio) which aims to show how coherent cognitive structures emerge over time as information about how the city develops.

WELL, NOW!

If the NSF were to come right out and explain that such projects are really a dignified welfare program for unemployed Ph.D.s, we might feel constrained to go along with the gag.

However, the NSF unfortunately takes such projects very seriously, which makes us wonder about its sense of proportion and priorities. That is why we hope Proxmire wins his point and keeps the "capricious budget" in bounds—except, perhaps, for a sufficient sum to finance a project to teach sociologists to write English using the collected prose works of Winston Churchill as the basic textbook.

An Expert's Opinion

From the Anniston (Ala.) Star

In these days of concern about President Nixon's strong language on the tape transcripts, and the many "expletives deleted," it may be instructive to refer to a voice from the past, a former president and an expert on cussing.

In 1946, President Harry S. Truman said of the then Congressman Richard Nixon, "...In his recent remarks Mr. Nixon used a very mild four-letter word that was not all that bad. I have one observation to make about Congressman Nixon: It seems to me that he doesn't even know how to swear or cuss. He's got the words, but the melody ain't right."

Consumer Comments

Buying Clubs

By Ed W. Hancock
Attorney General of Kentucky

There has recently been much advertising on radio and television by various buying clubs in Kentucky in an attempt to convince the consumer that membership in such a club is the answer to all his buying problems.

Consumers are being told that by joining the club they will derive substantial savings on most consumer commodities. The attractiveness of such promises of savings is not surprising, in a period of ever-rising prices. Everyone is interested in saving money.

Any person intending to join a buying club should consider several factors, usually absent from the advertising.

Invariably, a "membership fee" is required, ranging from several dollars per year to several hundred dollars. The clubs with substantial membership fees promise a lifetime membership but do not provide for any refund should the club go out of business. Since most memberships involving a substantial investment are paid for in installments, and since most of these installment contracts are discounted to finance companies, a member could have to continue paying for a membership in a non-existent club.

If the dues are fairly expensive, a member is very likely to purchase more items than normal to recoup his investment quickly. The result may not be substantial savings but only increased spending.

One also should be aware that buying clubs charge sales tax just as any other retailer does, and that freight, handling and warehouse charges are added to the price. The consumer may in the final analysis save nothing, yet he is under an obligation to pay for his membership.

For answers or suggestions to aid in consumer problems, Kentucky residents may write the Attorney General's Office, Consumer Protection Division, Room 34, Capitol Building, Frankfort, Ky. 40601; or call on the toll-free consumer hotline at 1-800-372-2960.

Letter To The Editor

Disagrees With Harrigan

Dear Editor:

May I make a few comments regarding recent article by Anthony Harrigan, subject, The Right To Know.

His subject is Watergate plus the House Judiciary committee, the Watergate grand jury, some congressmen, big Unionism, particularly AFL-CIO, and although lengthy, to me, the gist of the whole article is that Watergate was just a prank and all those investigating, prosecuting and endeavoring to get the truth are the SINNERS and the culprits SAINTS, so to speak.

He says no-way can justice and fair play come out of the House Judiciary Committee because most are McGovernite Radicals, who favor AFL-CIO Political action arm and viewpoint. The whole proceeding is a sham, he says. He states further that the Watergate indictments were unrepresentative of the country as a whole in both political and racial terms. Then he quotes Patrick Buchanan as saying only one member was Republican and that 17 of 23 grand jury members were black members of a racial minority that voted 10 to 1 against the President. Then he vehemently objects to the fact the foreman of that grand jury is a native of Yugoslavia and a naturalized citizen.

(so were my grandparents on both sides forebears)

The whole tone seems to charge that our courts, our judges, our juries and our politicians are corrupt, (only Democrats?). He charges everything about the people (black) in Washington and the courts to be biased against the President (they are trying to get the truth-not Nixon), and therefore supposedly unfit to be a jury member. It is because of feelings in the past as expressed by Harrigan is why we had and are having racial problems. As far as honesty and integrity are concerned I prefer laboring people black or white, to those Nixon chose for his advisers, friends, aides, policy makers and partners in crime and in CREEP.

Conservatism does not make one holy, nor does liberalism make one unholy. Same with color and ancestry.

Isn't It The Truth

By Carl Riblet Jr.

In the good old days when men were men, women were glad of it. These days we get the idea that women generally aren't very pleased with the directions the male of the species is taking. Now is the time, then, for men to do something that will result in making women gladder—like pushups, leg lifts, weight lifts, no more shoe lifts or face lifts, and a shaving lotion that smells like sweat.

"It is not manly to fear sweat."

Marathon Sessions To Begin In Attempt To Settle Player Strike

By TOM SEPPY
AP Sports Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of the National Football League's owners and players are expected to resume negotiations, probably Friday, after a union proposal that marathon sessions begin to resolve their labor dispute and end the 18-day strike.

Reliable reports indicate the two warring parties will meet with federal mediator James Searce Friday morning, but there has been no confirmation from anyone involved.

The meeting would be the first since a seven-hour session last Friday which proved fruitless. Searce had said, however, he was encouraged by what he called the "more constructive attitude on both sides."

He had asked that the owner and player representatives recess negotiations, begun March 21, and "reconsider and re-evaluate their positions."

Early in the week, both sides said they wanted to resume negotiations to end the strike, which began July 1.

The walkout has caused cancellation of the College All-Star Game and threatened the exhibition season, scheduled to begin July 27 in Canton, Ohio, with the Hall of Fame game between the St. Louis Cardinals and Buffalo Bills.

At a news conference Wednesday, the NFL Players Association proposed that talks with club owners be resumed round-the-clock.

Bill Curry of the Houston Oilers, NFLPA president, said if negotiations under the auspices of the federal mediator fail, the association would be willing to send all but its so-called freedom issues to binding arbitration.

However, he said the freedom issues should be given to a five-member blue-ribbon commission, including one newsman, for recommendations. Recommendations would not be binding.

Curry said the players would not go to training camp until there is a signed collective bargaining agreement, meaning the veterans would not report even if all but the freedom issues are resolved.

Meanwhile, at the Cincinnati Bengals' training camp, a showdown loomed closer between the Players Association and 14 veterans who joined rookies earlier in the week.

Coach Dan Devine said two veteran Green Bay players—linebackers Jim Carter and Larry Hefner—will report to practice Thursday.

The NFLPA told the Bengals' veterans Wednesday that a contingent of about six union representatives would come to the Cincinnati camp Thursday to discuss the situation. The 14 veterans, however, have said they do not wish to meet with union representatives.

In Miami, six Dolphin veterans—center Jim Langer, line-backer Bob Matheson, fullback Don Nottingham, quarterback Earl Morrall, safety Jake Scott and tight end Jim Mandich—joined practicing rookies.

Two Games Played In League Tourney

Marshall County and Mayfield East picked up wins Wednesday night in the Little League Tournament held at the Murray City Park.

In tonight's only game, Murray will go against Fulton at 7 p. m. Alan Gibbs will be hurling for Murray.

Marshall County used two three-run homers by Ronnie Free for their punch against Paducah National in a 16-8 win.

Ronnie Dunn had two hits as did Holt, Ford and Anderson but the big stick was carried by Willett who had three hits.

Kevin Creason got credit for the mound win for Marshall County.

In the other contest, Cochran of Mayfield fanned 14 men and gave up just one hit in pitching his team to a 5-0 win over Paducah American.

Beach and Cochran both had homers in the contest for the winners.

The only hit by Paducah came in the third inning when Cavitt singled.

Susie Berning Aiming For Title

By JERRY LISKA
AP Sports Writer
LA GRANGE, Ill. (AP) — Far from favored, Susie Berning launched a bid for a record successive title today as a 108 pros and 42 amateurs teed off in the United States Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Mrs. Berning, making her 10th tourney start without victory this year, led nine other former Open champions into the prestigious 72-hole medal play at La Grange Country Club's par 72, 6,266-yard course.

But Susie's quest for the $6,000 top prize in the $40,000 event faced the challenge of a flock of much bigger 1974 money winners including the almost deadlocked leaders, JoAnn Prentice and JoAnne Carner.

Miss Prentice, with $58,626 already banked, and the fast-charging Mrs. Carner, with earnings of $58,521, are among contenders far ahead of Mrs. Berning's modest winnings of $16,273, 20th in the Ladies Professional Golf Association's cash standings.

Others who could take apart the compact LaGrange layout despite tricky greens are Jane Blalock ($55,391); Sandra Haynie ($44,935); Carol Mann ($42,305), and Sandra Palmer ($40,572).

Mrs. Berning appears determined to achieve her fourth Open title after triumphing first in 1968 and then scoring consecutive victories in 1972 and last year.

"I definitely would like to do something nobody else has ever done, win three in a row," said Susie. "My putting is better now than ever before which could make up for some parts of my game that haven't been there."

Although Betsy Rawls, among the returning former champions, and sidelined Mickey Wright each won four open titles, neither could put together more than two successively. Miss Rawls last won in 1960.

Heading the amateur contingent and seeking the other Open title by an amateur since Catherine LaCoste's 1967 victory, was Carol Semple, reigning U.S. and British Amateur champion.

The big field will be trimmed to the low 50 scores and ties after today's and Thursday's 18-hole rounds.

Ali Opens Training For Title Bout With Foreman

By ED SCHUYLER Jr.
AP Sports Writer
DEER LAKE, Pa. (AP) — All the corn at Muhammad Ali's picnic wasn't on the cob: "Yesterday I murdered a rock; I injured a stone; I hospitalized a brick. I'm so mean I make medicine sick."

The occasion for Ali's poetry and the picnic-style lunch was the official opening of Ali's training for the fight with world heavyweight champion George Foreman Sept. 24 in the African nation of Zaire.

"This is beautiful," said Ali. "The stage is set now. We got a big, bad giant who is gonna kill me."

Then he did a routine which included his imitation of Foreman—punching in slow motion—and falling on his back and shouting, "that don't look like me, do it? 'There's gonna be a rumble in the jungle.'"

Later sports writers asked Magundu Bula, an official of the government of Zaire, if he thought Ali might ruffle some feelings in Zaire with such statements as "I'm gonna boil George Foreman in a pot."

"Ali is Ali," said Bula. "He is an American. He speaks like an American."

"I see no conflict. It's (the fight) is the most suitable way of getting our country known. The nature of the fighters—Ali being who he is and Foreman being the champion."

"We would like to show what a black nation can do. We want to show that Zaire is a country where anyone can live in peace."

Don King of Video Techniques, Inc., of New York the closed-circuit television promoter, said accommodations will be made available for 7,000 persons from Europe and America, but not on an individual basis. They will be handled by tours through Festival in Zaire, Inc., "because we want everything organized, we want no chaos," said King.

Bula said many visitors from throughout Africa are expected and that "if we had a capacity of 500,000 we could fill it." The stadium in the city of Kinshasa, where the fight will be held, holds 120,000.

Murray Legion Closes Season With 15-5 Loss

Champ Webb of the Paducah American Legion scattered eight hits and struck out 12 batters Wednesday night as he pitched his team to a 15-5 win over Murray in the championship of the First District Legion Tournament played at Holland Stadium.

Webb, a hard-throwing righthander who starred this past spring for Heath High School, was in complete control for most of the game.

Paducah gave Webb five runs in the second inning when with two on and two out, Randy Treece ripped a hard liner into left that skipped off the glove of Murray leftfielder Greg Smith and two runs crossed the plate.

After Webb was hit by a pitch and Al Luigs walked, Gene Roof of Paducah St. Mary belted a double and three more runs crossed the plate.

Murray got two of the runs back in their half of the second as Johnny Shelley reached on a double and Larry McGregor poled a Webb fastball into deep left over the fence for a two-run shot.

In the third, Paducah scored another run on an inside-the-park homerun by Terry Young.

Murray scored another run in the third and trailed only 6-3 as Hewitt reached on a fielder's choice and scored on a single by Greg Mitchell.

Paducah added two in the fourth, two in the fifth, three in the sixth and one each in the seventh and eighth innings.

Mitchell and McGregor each had two hits for Murray while Shelton, Hewitt, Mikez, and Shelley all had one hit apiece.

Roof, Paschall, Adams, Young and Davis all had two hits for Paducah while Treece and Webb each had a hit.

Paducah, now 24-8 for the season, will go on and play in the Sectional Tourney while Murray closes its season with a 15-15 record.

Wilbur Wood Is Hot-And-Humid Pitcher, Chisox Ace Wins 15th

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
AP Sports Writer

Wilbur Wood is hot—and humid—pitcher. "He had a great knuckleball because it was hot and humid," catcher Ed Herrmann said after Wood won his 15th game of the season by pitching a three-hitter Wednesday night in the Chicago White Sox' 7-1 victory over Detroit.

"Don't ask me why, but when it's hot and humid the ball breaks all over," Wood said. At one point, Wood, who snapped a personal two-game losing streak, retired 20 straight Tigers.

The Oakland A's beat the Baltimore Orioles 2-0; Boston topped Kansas City 6-3; the California Angels topped the Cleveland Indians 7-5; the Minnesota Twins pounded the Milwaukee Brewers 10-5; and the Texas Rangers blanked the New York Yankees 2-0 in other American League games.

"It was another good game," said Wood, who has lost 11, and tied Cleveland's Gaylord Perry as the winning pitcher in the major leagues.

But teammate Ken Henderson, who collected three hits and drove in a run, was enthusiastic about the White Sox' sixth victory in seven games which left them six games behind first-place Oakland in the West.

"We're putting it all together," said Henderson. "I just have the feeling we're coming."

Henderson singled in a run in the three-run first inning. Brian Downing also singled in a run and the other came on a sacrifice fly by Dick Allen, who hit his 24th homer, tops in the majors, with a man on in the fourth to increase his RBI total to 66.

Bill Freehan's single and Mary Lane's double produced the Detroit run in the second.

A's 2, Orioles 0
Vida Blue, 10-9, scored his eighth victory in 12 games and Oakland won its fifth straight as Reggie Jackson scored on Mike Cuellar's wild pitch in the sixth inning and doubled home Sal Bando in the eighth. The loss, in the final meeting of the season-series with the A's, which ended at 6-6, was the Orioles' sixth in seven games.

Red Sox 6, Royals 3
Boston moved to a 1½-game lead over second-place Baltimore in the East behind the six-hit pitching of Roger Moret.

Carl Yastrzemski and Tommy Harper hit leadoff homers in the fourth and fifth innings, respectively. Yastrzemski's homer, his 10th, tied the game at 2-2, and the Red Sox went ahead to stay later in the fourth inning when Rick Burleson drove in Rico Petrocelli with a sacrifice fly.

Angels 7, Indians 5
Lee Stanton singled in two runs in a four-round eighth inning and then singled in two more in a three-run ninth as California overcame from a 5-0 deficit. Stanton's single in the ninth came after Paul Schaal

Reds Hang On To Edge Cubs In Kentucky Game

Chuck Wilson saved the day for the Reds and possibly the entire season Wednesday as he ripped a two-run homer in the bottom of the sixth to give his team a 12-10 Kentucky League win over the Cubs.

With the win, the Reds go to 10-3 on the season and remain in a first-place tie with the Cards.

The Reds will close their season play tonight at 5:30 p. m. as they face the Mets while the Cards and Cubs play at the same time Friday in the final regular season game in the league.

In the event of a tie between the Cards and the Reds, a championship game will be held a week from this Saturday.

Wayne Jackson and Bill Milton combined on the hill for the Reds, with Milton, who struck out three men in the top of the sixth, getting the win. Jackson picked up 13 strikeouts in his five innings on the hill.

The Indians, who fell two games behind Boston, scored twice in the fourth inning and then Buddy Bell hit a three-run homer in the fifth to give Jim Perry a 5-0 lead.

Twins 10, Brewers 5
Bobby Darwin came back from three games on the bench to hit a three-run homer, his 12th; a bases-empty homer, a triple and a single in helping the Twins win for the ninth time in 12 games. His 12 total bases tied a club record.

Milwaukee third baseman Don Money, who homered for the Brewers, committed an error on a grounder in the first inning, ending his major league single-season record for errorless games at 86.

Rangers 2, Yankees 0
Jim Bibby, backed by Toby Harrah's two-run homer in the second inning, pitched a three-hitter for Texas to even his record at 12-12. The homer was Harrah's 14th.

The Cubs, behind 10-8 going into the fifth, rallied for two runs and the score remained tied until the bottom of the sixth.

With one out, Mike Nychy reached on an error and then Wilson ripped his long shot into deep center for the game-winning blow.

For the winning Reds, Mark Allen, Wilson and Chris Hutson all had three hits while Bob Daniel and Milton each had two.

For the Cubs, Dan Calhoun and Mike Reed each had two hits. David Reed, Doug Johnson and Jerry Boggess all had one apiece. Boggess' hit came with the bases loaded and two out in the third to send in a pair of runs and tie the game at 7-7.

Bob Gibson Reaches Plateau In Career With 3,000th Strikeout

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Bob Gibson is one up on a lot of superb pitchers and still 505 behind the great Walter Johnson.

By reaching the 3,000-strikeout plateau Wednesday night during the St. Louis Cardinals' 6-4, 12-inning loss to the Cincinnati Reds, Gibson accomplished what no other National League pitcher could do.

In fact, only the immortal Johnson, who struck out a staggering total of 3,508 batters, surpasses Gibson's fancy 3,003 figure.

The durable Cardinal right-hander got his coveted 3,000th career strikeout by fanning Cesar Geronimo with a high, hard one in the second inning.

A crowd of 28,743 at Busch Stadium recognized the history-making strikeout and applauded Gibson wildly as he walked off the mound.

Gibson struck out three more batters before departing after seven innings with the score tied at 4-4.

"I thought he was getting a little tired," St. Louis Manager Red Schoendienst said about the 38-year-old Gibson, in his 16th major league season. "He was leading off an inning and I thought we might get a run."

Long after Gibson had gone, George Foster's two-run double in the 12th inning gave the Reds their victory. A walk to Darrel Chaney and a single by Dave Concepcion preceded Foster's game-winning hit.

Joe Morgan singled with two out in the opening inning, stole his 39th base and scored on Johnny Bench's single for a 1-0 Cincinnati lead. A St. Louis error helped the Reds build the edge to 2-0 an inning later.

Joe Torre hit a three-run homer in the bottom of the second to give the Cardinals a 3-2 lead. It was Torre's sixth of the baseball season and first since June 12. Reggie Smith gave the Cardinals a 4-2 lead with a homer in the third, his 13th.

Dan Driessen doubted when left-fielder Lou Brock lost his routine fly ball in the stadium lights leading off the Cincinnati fourth and scored one out later on Ken Griffey's double. Gibson then gave up the tying run on a sixth-inning single by Dave Concepcion.

Giants 6, Mets 2
Bobby Bonds drove in three runs with a home run and a sacrifice fly, powering San Francisco over New York. Garry Maddox collected three hits, scored twice and stole three bases for the Giants.

Maddox doubled with two out in the first inning off Mets starter Bob Apodaca, 2-5, and Bonds followed with his 12th home run of the baseball season. The Giants added a run in the third, with the help of a throwing error by New York shortstop Bud Harrelson.

Chris Arnold's double, John D'Acquisto's walk, Mike Phillips' run-scoring double and Chris Speier's sacrifice fly made it 5-0 in the fourth. In the fifth, Maddox singled, stole second and third and scored on Bonds' sacrifice fly for the Giants' final run.

Pirates 11, Astros 3
Richie Zisk had a hand in six Pittsburgh runs and rookie Larry Demery pitched his first major league victory in the Pirates' rout of Houston.

Demery, who had been 0-4 in six previous starts, also rapped a run-scoring triple for his first major league hit in the third inning but failed to hurl a complete game. He was relieved in the eighth by Ramon Hernandez after Houston scored three runs. Zisk singled home a run in the first inning when the Pirates also scored on Manny Sanguillen's single. In the third, when Pittsburgh scored five times off Don Wilson, 6-7, Zisk doubled home two runs and later scored.

In a two-run seventh, Zisk singled and scored again, and then in the eighth he drove in the second run of the inning with a sacrifice fly.

Braves 7, Cubs 2
Dusty Baker's double snapped a 2-2 deadlock in the seventh inning and Rowland Office followed with a two-run single, leading Atlanta over Chicago.

Ralph Garr started the three-run rally with a single and went to second on a slow bounce toward second by Craig Robinson. After Darrell Evans was walked intentionally, Baker drilled his double off loser Ray Burris, 3-3.

Padres 15, Phillies 1
Bobby Tolan hit a pair of three-run homers and Fred Kendall added a three-run blast in San Diego's victory over Philadelphia. The long-ball attack made it a breeze for Randy Jones, 7-13, who pitched a seven-hitter.

Expos 5, Dodgers 4
Willie Davis laced three singles and Mike Jorgensen knocked in the decisive run with a sacrifice fly, helping Montreal nip Los Angeles.

Time Runs Out On Four WFL Teams, Fire Hot

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

Although the clock told a different story, time ran out on the Hawaiians, Jacksonville Sharks, Detroit Wheels and New York Stars Wednesday night. As a result, all four suffered World Football League losses.

The Hawaiians, losing 23-0 after three periods, scored 31 points in the fourth quarter Wednesday night but wound up 33-31 losers to the Southern California Sun at Anaheim.

Chicago's Chuck Ramsey kicked a 26-yard field goal with six seconds remaining to give the Fire a 25-22 triumph over the Sharks.

Florida's Tommy Reamon scored on a five-yard run with 1:37 remaining, then the Blazers stopped Detroit on the one-yard line with 10 seconds left to save an 18-14 decision over the Wheels at Ypsilanti, Mich.

And in New York, Birmingham quarterback George Mira connected with wide receiver Dennis Homan for a 73-yard touchdown with 2:15 left, then the Stars missed a 35-yard field goal with 36 seconds remaining and lost 32-29 to the Americans after leading 29-3 at halftime.

In Wednesday night's other WFL game, the Houston Texans blanked the Philadelphia Bell 11-0. The Portland Storm visits the Memphis Southmen in tonight's nationally televised game.

Attendance was lower in the league's second week of competition. Last week's blockbuster figures of 188,978 for five Wednesday night games far exceeded this past Wednesday's 116,197. But the seating capacity is less than 25,000 at New York's Downing Stadium and Michigan's Rynearson Stadium.

Sun 38, Hawaiians 31

"We didn't lose," said Hawaiians' Coach Mike Giddings after his club's second loss.

"We just ran out of time."

Sun quarterback Tony Adams passed for one touchdown and ran for two others to spark the Southern California triumph witnessed by 32,008.

Fire 25, Sharks 22

Chicago quarterback Virgil Carter started the game-winning drive from his own six yard line, hitting Don Burchfield for 25 yards and Luther Palmer twice for a total of 35 before Ramsey's kick.

Mark Kellar scored twice and Joe Womack once for the Fire, 2-0. Ricky Lake scored twice and Bubba Thornton once for Jacksonville, 1-1, as 29,308 watched.

Blazers 18, Wheels 14

Florida raised its record to 2-0 and dropped Detroit to 0-2 when Reamon capped an 82-yard, 18-play drive before 10,631. The Wheels had two chances from the one-yard line in the last seconds.

Pee Wee Reese Recalls Days With Dizzy Dean

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — "I wouldn't take anything for it," said former major league shortstop Pee Wee Reese of the time he spent in a television broadcasting booth with Dizzy Dean.

Reese recalled his days with "Ol' Diz" after he was informed Wednesday of Dean's death.

Reese was a rookie with the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1940 when Dean was in his next-to-last season with the Chicago Cubs. Both played in the National League again in 1941.

In broadcasting, Reese said, Dean's confidence was contagious.

"I couldn't have started with a better man," he said. "He'd tell jokes, take stuff out of your pockets, pretend to go to sleep, and stuff like that. It made me more relaxed."

Reese said he went to Phoenix, Ariz., one spring to make some tapes and practice broadcasting games during the exhibition season.

"One day at Mesa when I was doing a play-by-play, Diz walked in," Reese said. "He said, 'Podnub, are you having a little trouble? Move over and let me show you how to do it.'"

"All he said was that it was the top of the fifth, or whatever it was. Then he didn't do anything else except sing the Wabash Cannon Ball," Reese said.

Americans 32, Stars 29

Mira unloaded three touchdown passes and scored one himself for the Americans in the second half. The Stars, 0-2, had exploded for 315 yards in the first half. The attendance was 17,934.

Texans 11, Bell 0

Houston cornerback Daryl Johnson returned an intercepted pass 57 yards for a score and Charlie Durkee kicked a 26-yard field goal for Houston, 1-1, in a game witnessed by 26,227 at the Astrodome. Philadelphia dropped to 1-1.

Reese and Dean also spent a lot of time together away from the broadcasts in the six years after they started working together in 1960.

"We'd eat together, then sit around the room talking," Reese said. "Diz usually went to bed early, but there was one time in Cleveland he called my room and said, 'Roy Acuff (country music singer) is in town. You are going with me to see him.'"

"Well if Diz wanted to see Roy Acuff, Pee Wee went to see Roy Acuff. I had the time of my life," Reese said. "I really enjoyed it."

Reese said he went to Phoenix, Ariz., one spring to make some tapes and practice broadcasting games during the exhibition season.

Colt League Tourney Set To Open Tonight At Calvert City

By JIM PIERCE

The Murray Colt League All-Stars square off against host Calvert City in tournament play tonight.

The team is shaping up extremely well with solid pitching anchoring the team.

The All-Star team was dealt a severe blow when starting shortstop Paul Robertson pulled a leg muscle in a practice only one day before game time.

Either David Frank or Donnie Williams is scheduled to get the starting assignment in tonight's 8 p. m. game.

Captain Mickey McCuiston will hold down first base with Lindy Suiter on third and David Hall handling the catching chores.

Tom Chavis will open at short if Robertson is unable to play. Second base is a tossup with Ramond Sims and Dwayne Musgrove battling for the starting spot.

Leftfield goes to Terry Vance while Lindsey Hudspeth will start in right. Tony Bayless will patrol the centerfield garden to round out the starters.

One of the strongest assets of the team is the excellent bench strength.

In addition to the previously mentioned players, Pat Mc-

Millen, Willie Perry and Steve Winchester add valuable depth.

If they win the Calvert City Tournament, the All-Stars will travel to Carbondale, Ill., in their quest toward the Colt League World Series to be held in Lafayette, Ind.

The other game tonight will find Paducah battling Mayfield at 6 p. m. with the Murray-Calvert game scheduled to begin at 8 p. m.

Friday's games will find the losers playing in game one at six while the winners square off at 8 p. m. in the double elimination tourney.

Storen Steps Down

By BERT ROSENTHAL

AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — "My main interest is in owning and operating a franchise," Mike Storen said calmly. "In the profession I've chosen, I think that's the best position a man can occupy."

And with those simple words, the admittedly aggressive, hard-nosed, 38-year-old Storen quietly bowed out as commissioner of the American Basketball Association Wednesday.

But he did not bow out of the league.

He resigned as commissioner, a position he had held since Sept. 7, 1973, and purchased the hapless Memphis Tams, a team that finished with the league's worst record last season. The club had been in receivership of the league since June 21 when the ABA took it over from ailing owner Charles O. Finley.

Storen's replacement as commissioner will be 47-year-old Tedd Munchak, a crusty Atlanta businessman who had owned the Carolina franchise and was ABA president. Before being elevated to the prestigious commissioner's job, Munchak sold the Carolina club to a four-man group of New York area executives who said they were moving the team to St. Louis and calling it "The Spirits of St. Louis."

Then, the St. Louis owners announced they had signed All-American Marvin Barnes of Providence College, the No. 1 draft choice of the Philadelphia 76ers of the National Basketball Association and the NBA's No. 2 pick over-all, behind Bill Walton, the three-time All-American from UCLA.

The purchase price for the Carolina club was not announced, but it was estimated at $1 million. Neither was it announced what it cost Storen for the Memphis team, but reportedly it did not cost him anything.

Storen is considered a master builder within the ABA. While serving as general manager and vice president of Indiana from 1967 until 1970, he made the Pacers one of the league's strongest teams. Then, for the next three years, as president and general manager of Kentucky, he molded the Colonels into another powerful unit.

He often has expressed extreme interest in Memphis as a viable basketball franchise and recently made several trips there for talks with city officials, businessmen and sports representatives. He also bought a home there.

To make Memphis a contender in the East Division, however, will take a major rebuilding job. Since the end of last season, when the Tams finished with a 21-63 record, they have lost their two best ballplayers, forward Wilbert Jones signing with Kentucky and guard George Thompson signing with Milwaukee of the NBA. Both were free agents.

Orioles And Dodgers Win Final Pony League Games

By JIM PIERCE

The Pony League Orioles and Dodgers ended their seasons on a winning note Wednesday night at the Pony League diamond.

The Orioles managed only three hits but still beat the Astros 9-7. Larry Watkins scattered nine hits in picking up the victory for the pennant winning Orioles.

Kevin Shahan, Dean Cherry and Kenn Perkins each had solo hits to propel the Orioles.

The Astros were led by Larry Suiter's two hits. Thomas Kendall, John Denham, Craig Klein, Shea Sykes, Dunn, Hooks, and Noffsinger all hit safely in the losing cause.

The Dodgers punted out 15 hits in mauling the Phils 12-6. Winning pitcher Tim Berkley went three-for-three with the bat to pace the Dodger offense. Owen Moore, who played a superb game on both offense and defense, legged out three infield hits.

Kim Sims, Greg McClure and Terry Workman each smashed two hits while Danny Hall, Bo Reed and Hal Hendricks had one each.

Dan Rogers and Bill Wilson each had two hits to pace the Phils.

Peggy Fee Captures Oaks Ladies Golf Tournament

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

The song used to say that someone from Missouri had to be shown.

But it wasn't like that for Peggy Fee Wednesday afternoon at the Oaks Invitational Golf Tournament in Murray.

Mrs. Fee, a second-grade school teacher from Cape Girardeau, had to be shown only the golf course and from that point on, she did the rest of the showing.

And what she showed was a beautiful putting game that allowed her to walk off with a two-stroke victory in the championship flight of the sixth annual tournament.

Mrs. Fee, who shot a three-over par 78, becomes the second consecutive Missourian to win the tourney as last year's event was claimed by Mary Bain of Sikeston.

Mrs. Bain finished fourth Wednesday with an 82, two strokes behind Mary Jane Alford of Paducah and Beverly Parker of Murray, both of whom shot 80's.

Mrs. Alford, who plays out of the Paducah County Club and who won the Oaks Invitational in 1970 and 1972, was awarded second place by matching scorecards as she had a birdie on 14.

Mrs. Alford lost her shot at the title on the 11th hole when she three-putted the green from eight feet.

On the front side, Mrs. Fee had birdies on the third and seventh holes.

And she almost had something better on the par three, 160-yard third hole.

She hit a four-iron tee shot that landed only six inches from the pin, just missing a hole-in-one.

"I saw it land but I thought I was much farther away," Mrs. Fee said.

"But then when I got near the green and discovered where the ball was, I was really surprised. It gave me a real boost."

Her birdie on the seventh hole came on a 10-foot putt.

Mrs. Fee, who didn't get her degree from Southeast Missouri State until 1970 after her children were grown, nearly blew the tournament on the 12th hole where she had a triple-bogey eight.

Going to the 17th tee, Mrs. Fee was in a three-way tie for first. She parred the hole while Mrs. Alford and Miss Parker both bogeyed and that put Mrs. Fee one up.

Then on the 18th, she hit her drive about 200 yards and reached the green in three.

Her fourth shot left her about eight feet from the pin and then she sunk the birdie putt and added another stroke to her victory margin.

"My putting is what saved me," Mrs. Fee said.

"Lately, it's been really terrible but today I was able to come back very well. I thought the greens were in excellent shape."

Venela Sexton of the Murray Country Club won in a playoff with Frances Hulse of the Murray Country Club for the top spot in the first flight. Both golfers shot 88's.

In third place was Lavada Larkins of Louisville.

Murelle Walker of the Oaks shot a 90 to win the second flight while Emma Lou Story of the host club fired a 91 to win the third flight.

Euvanelle Mitchell of the Murray Country Club fired a 92 to win by eight strokes in the fourth flight.

Gaylord Perry Heads Mound Staff For AL

NEW YORK (AP) — There may be some controversy over what means Gaylord Perry employed to become a successful pitcher in the major leagues.

There is no argument this year however that the Cleveland Indian pitcher is one of the most successful pitchers in the big leagues.

As testimony to his success, Perry, whose string of 15 straight victories recently was broken, was one of eight pitchers named Wednesday to the American League All-Star pitching staff.

In addition, manager Dick Williams picked Steve Busby of Kansas City, who has hurled the only no-hitter so far this year in the majors; Jim Hunter and Rolfe Fingers of Oakland; John Hiller of Detroit, Luis Tiant of Boston, Wilbur Wood of Chicago and Mike Cuellar of Baltimore.

Perry, who is expected to start Tuesday's game against the National League, is no stranger to all-star competition. He has pitched in three mid-season classics, including the 1966 game which he won for the National League.

The right-hander is tied for the major league lead in victories with a 15-2 record and began his winning streak after being beaten in the opening game of the season by the New York Yankees. He did not lose again until July 8 when Oakland edged him 4-3 to stop him one short of the American League record for consecutive victories.

Busby, 13-8, is the only pitcher in major league history to hurl no-hitters in each of his first two seasons in the majors, his latest effort coming over Milwaukee June 19.

Hiller's selection acknowledged a comeback which began when the Tiger left-hander suffered a heart attack in 1971. He missed the entire 1971 season and half of 1972 before joining the Tigers. Last season, he set a major league record for saves with 38. This year he is 11-7 with seven saves.

Hunter, a right-hander with a 13-8 record, was chosen to the All-Star squad for the sixth time. Tiant, 13-7, and also a right-hander, was picked for the second time. The left-handed Cuellar, 12-5, will be making his fourth All-Star appearance, and Fingers, a right-handed relief specialist with a 7-2 mark, appeared in his first All-Star game last year.

Wood, a lefty workhorse with a 15-11 record and a tantalizing knuckleball, has been the American League leader in games started in each of the past two seasons. This was his third All-Star nomination.

The National League pitchers, named earlier Wednesday, were Andy Messersmith and Mike Marshall of Los Angeles, Ken Brett of Pittsburgh, Jon Matlack of New York, Buz Capra of Atlanta, Lynn McGlothen of St. Louis, Steve Carlton of Philadelphia and Steve Rogers of Montreal.

O'Hern To Defend Irvin Cobb Title

PADUCAH, Ky. (AP) — Jim O'Hern of Goshen will be defending his title Friday when the annual Irvin Cobb golf tournament begins at Paxton Park Golf Course.

The Harmony Landing Country Club pro also will be trying to increase his 25-point advantage in this year's PGA Player of the Year race, which he has won for the past two years.

O'Hern has 150 points toward the title after local and sectional qualifying.

Gordon Leishman of Lexington's Idle Hour Country Club is second with 125, followed by Alan White of Owensboro with 95.

The 38th annual Cobb tourney begins with the pro-am Friday. The field of 254 begins teeing off for 36 holes of medal play at 5:54 a.m. on Saturday.

House Impeachment Panel Releases Evidence

Nixon Privately Voiced 'After The Fact' Approval Of Burglary

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon privately voiced "after-the-fact" approval of the White House plumbers' burglary despite his public repudiation of it, according to evidence just released by the House impeachment panel.

Documents said Assistant Atty. Gen. Henry Petersen told the Watergate Grand Jury that Nixon ordered the Justice Department away from the case in a telephone conversation April 18, 1973, "I know about that ... you stay out of that."

And John D. Ehrlichman, who overheard Nixon's end of the talk with Petersen, said the President told him moments after hanging up that the plumbers' break-in at the office of Daniel Ellsberg's psychiatrist was "fully justified by the circumstances."

Ehrlichman, who last week was convicted on four felony counts related to the incident, said Nixon again indicated "his after-the-fact approval" in early May, 1973. He quoted Nixon directly as saying "I surely recognize the valid national security reasons it was done."

Ehrlichman's statements were in an affidavit dated April 30 this year.

Nixon claimed publicly last summer that he had no knowledge of the burglary beforehand, that he would have prohibited it if he did, and that he viewed it as "completely deplorable."

The Justice Department, several days after Nixon's talk with Petersen, ultimately informed the judge in Ellsberg's Pentagon Papers trial of the break-in, having first sought — and received — the President's concurrence. The contradictions over the President's role in the case were among four new volumes of impeachment evidence, totaling 2,090 pages, released by the House Judiciary Committee. A fifth volume, 225 pages, contained defense evidence.

The White House defense on the burglary stopped short of claiming legitimacy for it, but hinted strongly that such measures were warranted by concern over leaks.

Nowhere is there any hard evidence that Nixon might have known of the operation in advance, or, for that matter, until John W. Dean mentioned it on March 17, 1973. But it was noted that Ehrlichman spoke with Nixon at length on the same day that Ehrlichman was himself briefed by one of the principals after the operation.

And Charles W. Colson said in an affidavit that Nixon was so worked up over Ellsberg that he declared in July of 1971 — two months before the break-in — that "I don't give a damn how it is done, do whatever has to be done to stop these leaks ... I don't want excuses, I want results. I want it done, whatever the cost."

On another key matter, the documents showed that Nixon's closest aides, using information which the late J. Edgar Hoover had classified "Top Secret" and addressed directly to the President, attempted to turn a national security wiretap into political gain at home.

That disclosure came among a hefty — and heavily censored — sheaf of FBI files sent to the committee on the telephone surveillance in 1969 and 1970 of 13 government officials and four newsmen.

Hoover, in a Dec. 29 letter to the President, noted that one of the men being wiretapped had received a call from former Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford.

Hoover's letter sparked a number of memoranda exchanges among such White House aides as H. R. Haldeman, Ehrlichman, Alexander Butterfield, Jeb Stuart Magruder and Jim Keogh as to "countermeasures" against Clifford.

Ehrlichman wrote Haldeman of the wiretap information: "This is the kind of early warning we need more of — your game planners are now in an excellent position to map anticipatory action."

Also among the wiretap documents were three Hoover memos which listed Dr. Henry A. Kissinger as directly authorizing the interceptions. Kissinger has denied under oath that he did any such thing, and has threatened to resign if he is not cleared of the allegations.

William D. Ruckelshaus, acting director of the FBI last year, has said the Hoover memos were based merely on Kissinger's complaints of leaks, rather than a direct request for tapping.

In the separate volume of evidence compiled by Nixon's lawyer, James D. St. Clair, the wiretapping was portrayed as perfectly legal and highly necessary because of news leaks in that period.

But neither in St. Clair's evidence nor in the four committee volumes is there any indication that any of the wiretaps — some of which lasted proof that the national security was being compromised. Most of the names were censored from the related documents to avoid public invasion of their privacy.

Among the evidence in the Ellsberg break-in, one of the most dramatic documents was the grand jury report of Petersen's testimony of his April 18 telephone talk with Nixon.

Petersen said he thought he was dropping a "bombshell" on Nixon when he informed him that "I got this report that Liddy and Hunt burglarized Fielding's office." The tip came indirectly, he added, from John W. Dean II.

"But the President said 'I know about that. That's a national security matter. Your mandate is Watergate. You stay out of that.'"

"I said, 'Well, I have caused a check to be made and we don't have any information of that nature in the case.' I said, 'do you know where there is such information?' and he said 'No.'"

Petersen testified before the grand jury Aug. 23. Just a day earlier, Nixon had offered a notably different version of his April 18 discussion with Petersen.

According to Nixon, Petersen was asking not for information about the break-in itself, but whether it had dug up anything new about Ellsberg.

Nixon's account: "... He asked me a very critical question, which you, as a nonlawyer will now understand, and lawyers probably will, too. He said, 'Was any evidence developed out of this investigation, out of this break-in?' And I said 'No, it was a dry hole.' He said 'Good.'"

Petersen said the President told him in an earlier conversation on April 18 that he had been recorded. The White House transcripts show one discussion between Petersen and Nixon on that date, but it was in the afternoon and no mention is made of the Ellsberg case. That topic came up in the evening.

Successful Retirement Requires Much Planning

Have you made plans for your retirement? Successful retirement doesn't just happen; it must be planned for, notes Stephen Q. Allen, extension farm management specialist at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

"One's success and happiness during retirement depend to a great extent upon how well he prepares," says Allen. "Successful retirement requires considerable thought and effort."

Allen points out that most people today have jobs which have retirement regulations. In many jobs, retirement is required at age 65. Often, provisions are made so that an individual may retire voluntarily at an even earlier age.

Farmers and other self-employed people have more flexibility in deciding on the time of their retirement. The Social Security law provides the possibility for these people to retire anytime between the ages of 62 and 72.

"Many people in this situation work as long as they are able," Allen points out. "This usually does not lead to a happy retirement period."

Retirement benefits under the Social Security program have continued to increase. However, these benefits are designed to cover only the bare living essentials, and no more.

"If one's income during his working life has been low, Social Security benefits will also be low," Allen explains. "This is true because benefits are based on average income over one's working life. Where income was low, Social Security benefits may not provide for even minimum living requirements. Other sources of income are important to retired people to supplement income received from Social Security."

Many farmers continue to do some farm work after retirement to provide extra income. According to the U. S. Census, there are almost 16,000 farms in Kentucky operated by partially-retired farmers. These farmers receive only a small amount of farm income. Other farmers continue to operate larger farms after retirement and receive reduced Social Security benefits.

Most farmers own their own farms and have most debts paid off by the time they reach retirement. Such farmers may find that renting the farm to a family member or another farmer will provide the extra income needed during retirement years.

"Rental income, regardless of the amount, will not interfere with one's Social Security benefits when one does not participate materially in the operation or management of the farm," says Allen.

Some farmers may want to sell their farm upon retirement. The money received from the sale of a farm can be put into investments or savings to provide supplementary income. The principal from such savings can be used for living expenses if necessary.

"Making an installment sale of the farm is another possibility," says Allen. "This can provide income tax savings on capital gains. To qualify for this savings, the amount received in the year of sale cannot exceed 30 percent of the selling price."

Other methods of providing retirement income may fit your situation better than those which have been suggested. There are many annuity plans, some of which have tax provisions. Your insurance agent or banker can provide you with information on such plans.

In planning for retirement, you should keep in mind that inflation will likely mean that more and more income will be required to live well in the future. "The escalator clause in Social Security benefit will not remove the gap," Allen predicts. "It has been estimated that Social Security will provide only about 60 percent of basic living costs. Other sources must provide the other 40 percent."

Allen says the most important thing to remember is that plans for retirement income should be made before, not after, retirement.

Strike Roundup

Workers Strike Against Telephone System

By CHARLES WHITE
Associated Press Writer

Tentative agreements have ended strikes of Rhode Island prison guards and 4,000 state employees in Ohio, but nearly a quarter of a million other Americans stayed away from work today as a result of labor disputes.

Communications workers authorized a strike vote against the Bell Telephone System and pickets marched at two airlines, Arizona copper mines, San Francisco bus garages, and a Minnesota snowmobile maker. Walkouts also affected municipal workers in hundreds of cities and private industry. Labor experts say the strike surge swiftly followed the end of federal economic controls, and in most instances workers sought to fight inflation with wage hike demands that exceeded 10 per cent.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service said it has tallied more strikes than at any time since it began counting in 1959, with 230,000 workers involved in 588 strikes during the week that ended last Monday.

This was the labor scene early today: TELEPHONES — The Communications Workers of America early today authorized a strike vote against the Bell Telephone System, but a union spokesman said talks would continue while the union's 500,000 members vote on the strike question over the next two weeks.

However, some 1,300 CWA members of Local 2001 in West Virginia went on strike and an official of the local expected 2,500 employees of Western Electric and AT&T to honor the picket lines. Workers in other locals in the state were expected to return to work today.

At midnight Wednesday 33 contracts covering 750,000 Bell employees expired. Neither the company's offer nor the union's demand was disclosed.

RHODE ISLAND — National Guardsmen and state troopers were ordered off duty in Cranston by Gov. Philip Noel, who announced a settlement Wednesday in the walkout of guards at the state prison in the town.

Some of the 247 guards walked off the job to protest what they felt was lenient handling of an inmate who had assaulted a guard. Noel fired the guards, triggering the full-scale strike two days ago.

He said he was assured by officials of the Brotherhood of Correctional Officers that future union policy would not include the use of job actions as a bargaining tactic.

OHIO — A legislative pay raise proposal was reluctantly accepted by 4,000 of the 7,500 state employees striking prisons, mental health hospitals, liquor stores and other facilities.

Local chapter presidents of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees accepted a joint legislative committee's suggested increases in hourly wages of 30 cents for those earning less than $8,000 annually, 10 cents for workers paid more than $12,000 and 20 cents for those in between. The full legislature must approve the raises.

AIRLINES — Negotiations were to resume today in Washington between National Airlines and the machinists' union. A union mediator said major unresolved issues in a new labor contract included a cost of living wage escalator clause, vacations, pensions and other benefits.

The carrier, the nation's eighth largest, has been grounded since Monday. Only about 900 of National's 8,000 employees were on duty Wednesday—all supervisors. There are 1,600 strikers and 5,500 workers have been furloughed without pay.

Also remaining off their jobs were cockpit crewmen and flight attendants for Trans International Airlines, one of the world's largest vacation charter firms. The workers struck the Oakland, Calif.-based carrier Monday, objecting to what they said were dangerously long work shifts.

COPPER — About 30,000 copper workers across the nation were on strike while talks were temporarily recessed in San Francisco with the American Smelting and Refining Co., in Phoenix with the Phelps Dodge Co. and in Tucson with the Magma Copper Co. About 16,000 of the strikers work in Arizona.

About 10,000 employees of the Kennecott Copper Co. in Phoenix reached a tentative contract agreement with the firm.

MINE WORKERS — Two arrests Wednesday in shoving incidents brought to 14 the number of persons arrested since Monday at the Highsplit Mine in Harlan County, Ky.

The United Mine Workers union began picketing the mine last week to seek support for its strike at two other mines owned by the Eastover Mining Co., and the members of the Southern Labor Union honored the lines.

Visitor's Day Scheduled At Local Church

Although visitors are always welcome at the Murray Seventh-day Adventist Church, this Saturday, July 20, has been designated "Visitor's Day" by the congregation, according to Bill Strong, pastor.

"This means that the entire service has been planned with the visitor in mind," Strong said.

Special music for the services will be provided by Ben Parrish, nationally known recording artist for World Records of Nashville. He has appeared on the "It Is Written" television series with pastor George Vandeman, and is widely involved in concert appearances throughout the country.

Ben Parrish

The pastor of the Murray Adventist Church, Bill Strong, will be speaking on the subject "How to Be Happy Though Married," a message that should appeal to everyone.

An invitation has been extended to everyone to attend this special "Visitor's Day." The church service will begin at 9:15 a. m., and the Bible study period will begin at 10:30 a. m. The Murray Seventh-day Adventist Church is located at 15th and Sycamore in Murray.

A Review Presentation A Cultural Highlight

By John C. Winter
The musical presentation of "The Land and the Rivers," a tribute to the Purchase Area, was a cultural highlight of the many faceted bicentennial celebration in Paducah July 4-6. Commissioned by the McCracken County Bicentennial Committee, the poem written by Lillian Lowry was set to music by Paul Shahan.

With roots in Marshall, McCracken and Calloway counties Mrs. Lowry was eminently prepared to tell a story of Western Kentucky. The land and rivers that determined its heritage were recalled as redmen, explorers, pioneers, settlers, whites, blacks, farmers, ministers, doctors, musicians, teachers, artists, actors and writers were conjured from the past, playing the waters, settling the lands, working hard, and dancing and playing in their homes near the waters.

Inspired by the poetry, Paul Shahan's musical setting for wind ensemble flowed with an undercurrent, as it effectively supported and complemented the text. Folk and folk-type tunes were combined with a touch of the modern in an idiom that was immediately appealing, and especially appropriate for the large, varied audience gathered at the waterfront.

Prof. Larrie Clark, with rich voice, narrated the text as Mr. Shahan conducted a wind ensemble from Murray State University in the premier performance.

the summation phase after hearing its last witness Wednesday, Nixon's former personal lawyer Herbert W. Kalmbach. He described his role in a $2 million dairy campaign pledge and in arranging ambassadorships.

Some members said later Kalmbach testified he did not discuss with Nixon any of his activities under investigation, including the raising of alleged hush money for Watergate defendants.

Kalmbach, serving a 6-to-18-month jail sentence for violating campaign fund-raising laws and offering ambassadorships to Nixon campaign contributors, told of receiving a $100,000 offer for Nixon's campaign from J. Fife Symington, who was ambassador to Trinidad-Tobago but who hoped to receive an ambassadorship to a European country.

Rep. Charles E. Wiggins, R-Calif., said Kalmbach called then-White House chief of staff H. R. Haldeman, who was out, and relayed the offer to Lawrence Higby, a Haldeman aide. Higby called back shortly and said "the word is go. Lock it up."

Another presidential aide blocked the appointment, Wiggins said.

In a related Watergate matter, the perjury trial of Lt. Gov. Ed Reinecke of California is continuing after U.S. District Judge Barrington Parker rejected a defense motion to dismiss the case.

Britain Puts Stronger Security In Force Following Explosion

LONDON (AP) — British police put stronger security measures in force today after a bomb explosion in the Tower of London that killed one woman and injured 37 persons.

The bomb blast was the fourth in England in four days, and police believed all were set by the Irish Republican Army.

Guards were strengthened at places of entertainment and government buildings. The public was warned to watch for letter bombs or abandoned parcels in railway and subway stations and car parks.

Scotland Yard appealed to tourists who were taking pictures at the Tower around the time of the explosion to contact them. They were already studying a film taken by Joan Halgran, 29, from Minnesota, who said she saw a man running from the Tower within seconds of the explosion.

The bomb went off at 2 p.m. Wednesday in a stone dungeon in the basement of the White Tower where a crowd of tourists—many of them foreigners—were looking at cannon and suits of armor. Many others had just left the building to watch the changing of the guard.

Police said Dorothy Household, 47, of South London, was fatally injured. The wounded included four Americans and a family of five New Zealanders. Ten were in critical condition, but the Americans—identified as Edward Klein, 27, from Missouri, and Christina Grillo, 24; Jacky Ford, 27, and Shelagh Gray, 23, all of Boston, Mass.—were not among them.

A number of the injured were children. Detectives found a child's foot in the wreckage.

There was little structural damage to the Tower, but some of the historic collection of arms and armor was badly damaged. The government said the Tower, visited by 10,000 sightseers daily in the summer, would be open today, but the bombed area was closed indefinitely.

It was the first such explosion at the 900-year-old Tower in nearly 90 years, since Irish extremists set off a dynamite charge in 1885 and injured 16 persons. A month ago another terrorist bomb damaged the Westminster Hall in the Houses of Parliament, a British landmark even more hallowed than the Tower. Fourteen persons have been killed and nearly 400 wounded in such bombings in London in the past two years.

Tappan Reports Decline

MANSFIELD, Ohio—The Tappan Company announced today that net sales for the second quarter of 1974 totaled $58.1 million, a decline of 4.8 percent from the $61.0 million reported for the comparable period of 1973. First half sales in 1974 were $113.6 million, down 10.7 percent from last year's $127.2 million.

A net loss of $259,000 or $0.09 per share was recorded in the second quarter of 1974, which brings first half losses to $594,000 or $0.20 per share. Second quarter net earnings in 1973 were $762,000 or $0.26 per share; first half net earnings in 1973 were $2,711,000 or $0.87 per share.

W. R. Tappan, president, indicated that the sales decline in the first half was spread between heating, air conditioning and appliance products other than microwave ovens. With the exception of air conditioning, the decline reflected industry conditions which were heavily influenced by depressed housing starts and energy shortages.

Tappan pointed out that in spite of the sales decline in the first two quarters, the Company would have broken even or shown a profit in each quarter were it not for the adverse effects of labor stoppages at its Mansfield and Elyria, Ohio plants. "Exclusive of labor strike effects, first quarter results approximated a break-even position and second quarter results approximated $0.06 per share in earnings," he said.

Teachers Complete Workshop In Horticulture Education

Fourteen high school teachers from across Kentucky and Florida have completed a two-week workshop for agribusiness teachers in horticultural education, conducted at Murray State University and in Louisville July 1-12.

The workshop, according to Dr. Lloyd P. Jacks, an associate professor of agriculture at Murray State, was designed to upgrade the teachers' technical knowledge and skills needed in conducting local secondary and adult instructional programs in the areas of ornamental horticulture and food production.

During the first week of the workshop, which was held on the Murray campus, the group toured horticultural facilities at the new Marshall County High School and the greenhouse complex, tomato grading plant and the 28 acres of tomatoes grown on the General Moore farm in Marshall County.

The second week of the workshop was conducted at the Pleasure Ridge Park Area Vocational Education Center in Louisville. Included was a one-day tour of garden centers and industrial suppliers of horticultural supplies and equipment in the Louisville area, the Louisville Area Vocational Center and Lakewood Gardens.

Lakewood Gardens, with 10 acres of plants in greenhouses, is the largest producer of wholesale horticultural plants in Kentucky.

Partial financing of the workshop was provided with Educational Professional Act funds through the Bureau of Vocational Education, Kentucky.
