FARM BUREAU IN MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Will Start Monday With Entire Week to Be Devoted to Canvass; Quota of 700 Must Be Reached

Starting next Monday and continuing throughout the week, a membership drive will be conducted by the Fulton County Farm Bureau, according to J. B. McGehee, secretary. Every effort will be made to reach the quota of 700 members during the week. Rev. W. O. Parr, district organization director, will be in charge of the campaign.

The Farm Bureau, with the assistance of County Agent S. V. Foy, merchants and other advertisers, have made it possible to secure a motion picture machine with camera and loud speaker, and screen presentations will be made at the following places:

Crutchfield school house, Tuesday night, October 14, at 7:00.

Cayce school house, Wednesday night, October 15, at 7:00 o'clock.

Sylvan Shade school, Thursday night, October 16, at 7:00 o'clock.

Graves school, Friday night, October 17, at 7:00 o'clock.

"Every farmer, member or non-member, should attend and hear (Continued on Page 4)

Truck Drivers Fined For Reckless Driving

Earl Crittenden was fined $150 and Arvin Milner was fined $125 by City Judge Lon Adams in city court Tuesday afternoon. Crittenden had entered a plea of guilty to the charge of reckless driving and, after hearing the evidence, Judge Adams also fined Milner.

It is alleged that Milner, driving an M. Livingston truck, and Crittenden, driving his own truck, were racing on the Martin highway coming into Fulton about 1:30 Saturday morning. The two trucks were racing side by side and on Church street Crittenden ran into a parked car, owned by Luther Slaughter, evidently losing control of the car. The truck then was forced up on the sidewalk, striking another parked car, and smashing into the window of a vacant building between the LaCharme Beauty Salon and Andrews Jewelry Shop. Crittenden's truck also knocked down a light pole and tore loose a fire plug.

Crittenden and Milner were immediately arrested on charges of reckless driving.

OBION CO. RAISES TEACHER'S SALARIES

The Obion County Court, in session Monday in Union City, voted to raise the salaries of all high school teachers in the county system from $80 to $90 per month. The court also granted increases in the salaries of janitors by $5 a month and of county school bus drivers $5 per month. Janitors have been receiving $9 per week while the maximum pay for bus drivers has been $40 per month.

An appeal for the increase was made before the court by County School Superintendent Milton Hamilton, who stated that there had been 25 resignations of high school instructors since the start of the present school year and that most of these teachers had obtained positions in other schools paying higher salaries.

The raise in salary will affect some 60 high school principals and teachers, 30 bus drivers and janitors.

Two Amendments Named For Kentucky Constitution

When voters go to the polls on Tuesday, November 4, to elect candidates nominated in the August primary, they will have to decide whether two new amendments should be added to the Constitution of Kentucky.

One of these constitutional amendments pertains to the state school fund, and reads as follows: "Are you in favor of amending the Constitution of Kentucky so as to provide that the General Assembly may be general law distribute not to exceed ten per cent (10%) of the school fund on other than a school census basis?"

The present educational funds totals approximately $9,600,000, and under present laws is allotted according to school census figures on percentage basis. The new amendment would equalize educational opportunities in pauper counties, it is said, but would not benefit counties like Fulton county.

The other amendment appearing on the November ballot seeks to permit counties desiring to do so to install voting machines at their own expense.

New Real Estate Firm Opens Here

H. L. Bushart and Irad Bushart have opened a new business in Fulton to be known as the Bushart Realty Company, and will be located in the old First National Bank building over Atkins Insurance Agency. This firm will deal in city and rural property. An advertisement appears in this issue listing properties for sale.

Fame is vapor, popularity an accident, riches takes wings. Only one thing endures and that is character.

GARMENT WORKERS MET MONDAY NIGHT

As a result of recent activity by labor organizers to stir up strife in the Henry I. Seigel garment plant here, workers held a special meeting at the city hall Monday night. This meeting was for the purpose of protecting their best interests, according to statements made by the workers.

After a thorough discussion of the situation, 269 employees went on record as opposed to the action of these organizers, with the view in mind of protecting their jobs, subject to wages as laid down by the Wage and Hour Law. Under this law, employees of the local plant recently received a wage increase from 32½ cents to 40¢ an hour as minimum pay, each worker averaging $16 or more a week. This increase in hourly pay will mean a raise of about $70,000 a year in the annual payroll.

For the past two weeks labor "organizers" have been here, working quietly at night, visiting homes of workers, in an effort to create a union, it was pointed out. Dissenters or workers who are opposed to labor disturbances decided to do something about it, and called this meeting Monday night. Two hundred and sixty-nine workers attended to form the nucleus of a body that will work to preserve the best interests of workers who dislike trouble-making outsiders, explained spokesmen of the workers.

Between 450 and 500 employees of the local plant now have a total annual earning power of about $350,000, and it is felt that to allow anything be done to upset this payroll which benefits so many, would be a serious mistake. Thus, the workers themselves are determined to decide for themselves, and the action Monday night was an expression of an attitude that permits no racketeering collection of assessments and dues, by doubtful and unsympathetic organizers who leave no assurance that their jobs will be protected, and their families fed, in case more serious trouble might develop.

Welch School To Hold Annual Homecoming

The Welch Junior High School of Dukedom will hold its annual homecoming on Friday, October 10. In the morning a musical program and contests will be held and prizes will be awarded to the best in the following contests: all around quartet, pianist, duet, violinist, harmonica player, tap dancer, jitter bug, all around song leader, musical rendition by single family, string band.

In the afternoon, teams from Stella Ruth and Welch will play basketball games beginning at 2:30 p. m.

Hal Burns and his radio artists from WMC, Memphis, will present an entertainment at 8 p. m.

Singing Convention At Beelerton Sunday, Oct. 12

The Fulton-Hickman counties singing convention will be held on Sunday, October 12, at Beelerton High School, beginning at 10:00 o'clock, and a large crowd is expected to attend.

Among noted singers present will be the Girls' Harmony Four of Paris, Tenn., the Gansus Quartet of the Gansus Music Publishing Co., Water Valley Girls Quartet, Paducah Mixed Quartet, the Hawkins Junior Quartet, Mr. Kieffer Vaughan of the Vaughan Publishing Co., the Hickman T.A.S. other solos, duets and special numbers.

Lunch will be spread for singers at noon. Any communities desiring the spring meeting of this convention in their church or school should come prepared to bid.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

BOB WHITE NAMED ON STATE COMMISSION

Bob White, local automobile dealer, has been appointed to a post on the advisory state Game and Fish Commission to fill an unexpired term. Charles Riley, who was first nominated, was declared ineligible for the appointment because he is Boone County Attorney.

Work Goes Forward On School Project

Work is progressing nicely on the new grammar school project, which when completed, will cost in the neighborhood of $190,000; with $130,000 provided by WPA and $60,000 by the Fulton Board of Education. Class rooms are being arranged in the Science Hall and in the basement of the high school to take care of pupils now in old Carr Institute, which will be razed and materials salvaged for use in the new building. Parley Harkins, WPA supervisor, has been busy with thirty workmen all this week, in preparing for removal of the classrooms.

After the old grammar school is torn down a modern, new building will be erected, facing State Line. Besides ample class rooms, it will contain a large and spacious gymnasium. Science Hall will be retained also as an auxiliary athletic center.

COUNTY HOMEMAKERS TO MEET MONDAY

The Fulton County Homemakers will hold their 14th Annual Meeting at the First Christian Church in Hickman, October 13, at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. Paul Williams, County President, will preside during the business meeting. Mrs. Homer Weatherpoon, accompanied by Mrs. Paul Stahr, will conduct the music. The county leaders will give reports of the year's work in Foods, Kitchen, Home Improvement, Clothing, Landscaping, Junior Club Work, Child Training, Score Card, Leisure Time, Recreation and Farm Bureau. Mrs. L. B. Hampton will report on Homemakers vacation and Mrs. Ethel Browder will review Farm and Home Week. Hattie Be-thea, colored H. D. A., will report on the colored work in the county. Mrs. Catherine Thompson will give the Agent's report.

Lunch will be served by the Missionary Society of the Christian Church, at which Miss Zelma Monroe, Assistant State Agent of H. D. A., will introduce the luncheon speaker, Mrs. Harrison Randolph, District Chairman of the Kentucky Homemakers Federation, who will speak on "Our Strength of Tomorrow."

The afternoon meeting will be held in the Ritz Theatre where Mr. William Landess, Chief Program Exposition Unit, Agricultural Relations Department, TVA, Knoxville, Tenn., will speak on "The Life that will not Yield." It is urged that the men will come at 1:30 and hear Mr. Landess.

SOUTH FULTON FAIR TO BE HELD FRIDAY

The Parent-Teachers Association of the South Fulton school is sponsoring its annual community fair today (Friday) on the school grounds and a full day of fun and activity has been planned.

A baby show will be held at 11:30 and during the day prizes will be awarded in the following classes: Flowers, quilts, cakes, biscuits, needlework, hobbies, canned foods, art and farm products.

Closing the fair program the six-man football team from Portageville, Mo., will come to the South Fulton field to play the local team. The game will begin at 8 p. m.

WAR VETERAN ROBBED BY NEGRO FRIDAY NIGHT

James C. Baber, of Memphis, World War veteran, was held up and robbed near the Illinois Central passenger station here last Friday night. Wilson Rogers, 30, negro, of Jackson, Tenn., was apprehended Saturday night by local police, and later identified by his victim, Mr. Baber, who was enroute by train to Outwood Hospital at Dawson Springs, Ky.

The negro waived preliminary trial. His bond was fixed at $750, which he was unable to make, and he will be held at the county jail pending trial at the January term of circuit court.

Agricultural Association Elects Committees For '42

The Fulton County Agricultural Conservation Association recently elected committees and officers for 1942. Each community had a nomination election on September 23, to confirm eligible nominees whose names appeared on ballots that were mailed to all eligible voters in each district, to be returned for tabulation on October 2.

For community committees the following were elected:

Community No. 1 (East of the M. & O. Railroad to Hickman county and east of Fulton)—J. R. Elliott, re-elected chairman; Charles E. Wright, re-elected vice chairman; C. A. Binford, regular member; T. A. Arrington, first alternate.

Community No. 2 (West of the M. & O. railroad to Brownsville Bluff)—Chris Ledwidge, chairman; Hugh E. Garrigan, Jr., vice chairman; A. Lattus, re-elected regular member; George M. Davis, first alternate; R. E. Adams, second alternate.

Community No. 3 (All territory west of Brownsville Bluff)—Charles Love, chairman; W. A. Nipp, vice chairman; Martin Conder, regular member; Wayne Yates, first alternate.

Delegates and alternate delegates were elected as follows:

For community No. 1—T. E. Williamson, delegate; Charles E. Wright, alternate.

For community No. 2—R. E. Adams, delegate; J. B. Lattus, alternate.

For community No. 3—J. J. Wells, delegate; Martin Conder, alternate; Charles E. Wright, R. E. Adams and Martin Conder met on October 4, and named the county committee as follows:

H. M. Pewitt, re-elected chairman; H. J. French, re-elected vice chairman; O. L. Sutton, regular member; E. D. Johnson, first alternate; J. I. Taylor, second alternate; J. B. McGehee, re-elected as secretary-treasurer.

A total of 271 eligible ballots were cast in all districts, out of a possible 1046.

REGULAR COUNCIL MEETING POSTPONED

The regular monthly session of the Fulton city council was postponed from Monday night of this week until next Monday night, according to the city clerk's office.

An important meeting is expected this month, with several civic matters to be taken up at the next session.

Girls of the old days had to be good cooks, because they couldn't throw a bunch of left-overs onto a lettuce leaf, bury it under mayonnaise and call it salad.

CONGRESS MUST ACT!

All of us who have the sense God gave geese know that this law, that is no law, the Neutrality Act, must be repealed at once, if we are to avoid much bloodshed than a second AEF would inevitably mean.

Let's do a little simple thinking today—NOW—and not in our spare time, as most of us have been doing recently. In the next couple of weeks Congress's ears are going to ring from the din set up by a small and willful group of men who seem to feel that Americans are duty-bound to talk first and fight afterward—if at all—when being attacked by a blood-crazed madman. From this tiny but loud group of the men we have sent to Congress, the nation will hear charges again and again that the President has (1) exceeded his authority, and (2) has given orders to the Navy NOT reflecting the will of Congress.

Well, let's nip charge No. 1 in the bud. Mr. Roosevelt's duties are stated in words of mostly one syllable in the Constitution of the United States. Among other things, he is made responsible as commander-in-chief of the military and naval forces of the United States. He would be derelict in his Constitutional duties, and subject to impeachment, if he had not ordered our naval units anywhere to "shoot first," once American cargo ships as well as our naval units had become the target of unrestricted warfare by the Nazis on the high seas.

As for the second charge—hugged desperately by isolationists in and out of Congress—how in the name of common sense can a Congress that approved the lend-lease bill and repealed the arms embargo have any use for a Neutrality Law that renders both these acts next-to-useless?

No, there is not any sympathy for the Neutrality act on the part of the large majority of Congress, and it will be repealed—some time. But in the meantime we are building our bridge of ships to the fighters against Hitler with broken toothpicks. We shall continue to do so until we are released from the binding chains of the Neutrality Act.

Congress must act NOW! Hitler must be shown that the will of a democracy can decide things just as quickly—quicker—than the mind of a half-crazed dictator. As yet we are not being bombed—our telegraph lines are still up, our mails are still going through. Let's use them before it's too late. Let's use them to tell our representatives in Washington that we, the American people, want the suicidal Neutrality Act repealed—NOW!

ARE CRIMINALS SICK FOLKS?

Some kind-hearted persons think criminals should be treated like sick or insane people, since their offenses are claimed to be due to a kind of mental malady.

Crime, according to theory, is a kind of abnormality, and should usually be so treated, instead of by severe punishment.

This is a generous thought. The typical gangster, if placed in a hospital for mental treatment, would probably turn mighty pious. He would obey every rule to prove his conversion.

But if given special liberties because of his seeming change of heart, it would not probably be safe to leave any ladders around with which he could climb the prison walls. And if he gets loose, peaceful citizens would better leave their money at home when they go out on dark nights.

A criminal has an abnormal mentality, but he usually got it in early youth, as the result of insufficient outlet for an active nature. If you ask a nurseryman, he will say that the way to grow a straight tree is to remove the obstacles that bend it out of shape. It's the same with a human life.

America is your home; love it—or leave it!

If a man keeps sowing wild oats he begins to look seedy.

The old maid who is hungry for love doesn't know where her next meal is coming from.

To some men love is just one dame after another.

Sea of matrimony is the only sea containing hot water.

The only time some girls show pluck is when they're out to feather their nests.

We don't know who was responsible for the meeting of the workers of the local garment plant Monday night. But it showed excellent judgment and was managed by the workers themselves. If the working man or woman does not protect his or her own interest, or allows labor difficulties to be fostered upon them by hoodlums, who have done nothing to see that they have a job in the first place, then they deserve the reaction that is occurring in many sections of our country. We are for the workers every time, and for upholding law and order. The workers themselves are speaking out for the good of the majority; they want nothing to upset their jobs and income. That is as it should be.

Directors and citizens of the Chestnut Glade community fair deserve praise and commendation for the splendid event they staged last week. Their fair would do credit to much larger communities, and the fine displays in all departments would do credit to any community. A job well done!

There's still talk going around about an airport for Fulton. But a good head of steam is needed to get real action before it is too late. Let's get that airport started.

K. P. Dalton, our chief of police, besides being an experienced officer, is a man of good judgment and discretion. Sometimes he will amaze you by his understanding of human nature. Imagine an officer arresting a fellow, with no show of force, and making the offender like it. It must be all in the way you approach a fellow. We'd call it using your head, or super salesmanship, that comes from long experience as an officer.

Next Monday, the Fulton County Farm Bureau will start the annual drive for membership. This organization, one of the strongest farm co-operatives in the state, has done untold good work. Farmers of this county should realize much benefit from such an organization in the next few years. Every farmer will be asked to become a member.

Bailey Huddleston, Fulton postmaster, has recently returned from a vacation trip. He remarks that he went through Yale and Harvard in one short week. That's a record for a fellow who never got to college when he was a young man. He also visited Boston but never saw any baked beans except in a can. One of Bailey's greatest feats is to smoke a cigar longer, or should we say shorter, than anyone else. He likes to hold the ash on his cigar as long as possible. Despite a brisk wind at the football game the other night, he managed to keep the ashes on his cigar until he had practically smoked it all.

Harold Thomas, manager of the Malco theatres here, is "going to town" in exploiting screen productions shown here. He has won three first places in a nation-wide showman's contest, which is, indeed, a real distinction. This remarkable record was established in competition with theatre managers throughout the nation, including large, metropolitan theatres. Go to it, Harold. Here's hoping that you win that much-coveted award of a free trip to the movie capitol in California.

Dr. Jones, who has a handsome office in the old Farmers Bank building which he purchased some time ago, has made another improvement. Conveniently arranged rooms have been partitioned off for sulphur baths, a new feature recently innovated by him. He's not trying to replace Hot Springs, but catering to those who need this type of treatment and are unable to get away to some resort.

During the past two weeks thousands and thousands of children have returned to school.

School authorities have been very co-operative in developing and assisting in safety programs. They have been very successful in the prevention of accidents to school students. Accidents that have happened to school children have therefore not been the fault of school authorities because of their lack of interest, but rather due to the indifference of the motorist in providing his share of co-operation to make the school area safe.

Let's be especially careful around schools—slow up—protect these children.

Laughing Around the World

A Voice From the Void

By IRVIN S. COBB

ONCE upon a time I was asked what I considered to be the funniest short story in the English language. After due thought I decided on this one:

A group of big leaguers on their spring training trip were marooned by rain one morning so that they could not go to the ball field for practice. They sat under the portico of the Texas hotel where they were quartered and swapped small talk. An admiring ring of villagers surrounded them.

A languid, ragged negro drew near, anchoring himself at the outer edge of the audience. He laughed with loud appreciation at every sally from this or that visiting notable. He had the look about him of one seeking a suitable opportunity to solicit the gift of a small sum from some generous white stranger. But hour after hour passed with no proper opening until the forenoon was spent.

Suddenly the whistle on the canning factory across the street from the hotel let go with a blast and the hands came trooping out bearing their lunch pails.

"Uh uh, dar she goes," said the darky, as the siren voice died away. "Hit's dinner time fur some folks—but jes' twelve o'clock for me."

LARGE EASTERN TRUCK INTERESTS MENACE US

(Bonneville Courier)
There is no mystery about Kentucky's reluctance to increase truck load limits. It simply is a matter of protecting its citizens and guarding its highways from the destructive pounding of huge gasoline and Diesel-motored juggernauts lugging barn-like "trailers" weighted to groaning springs with heavy freight that common sense shows could easily, and certainly more safely for the public, be moving over steel rails away from highways.
Because of the hilly nature of the Kentucky country, road-building and maintenance is much more costly than in many other states. The up-and-down hill, curving, narrow nature of most Kentucky highways can hardly withstand the stress now placed on them by the present 18,000-pound gross load limit much less the 72,000-pound ceiling big trucking interests of the Wall Street sector are trying to put over on the State.

Road making is a vastly more expensive undertaking in Kentucky than in such states, for example, as Florida, where the flat land and even climate make it a simple matter to lay and maintain straight, level highways at low cost. They have none of the dangers Kentucky motorists find lurking around the next curve or hill top.

Propagandists for Eastern trucking monopolies are putting out a smokescreen now about moving freight for national defense, and declaring that Kentucky therefore should drop its well-considered bars against further highway death and destruction. The truth is that the railroads are moving most of the national defense freight, just as they did in the last great national emergency, so the answer to this is obvious.

Kentucky has shown real wisdom in making laws to protect as much as it can its citizens and highways from the menace of huge freight trucks plunging through our countryside, ruining our roads and endangering the lives of our road users.

Kentucky should stand firm and protect itself against the threatened onslaught of the trucking monopolies.

NUTRITIONIST GIVES LOW COST DIET PLAN

The less money there is to spend for food, the more important is a homemaker's good food judgment to the health for her family, points out Miss Maude Guthrie, nutritionist with the U-T Agricultural Extension Service.

Following is a low-cost master diet plan worked out by food economists with the U. S. Department of Agriculture and others.

MILK—3 to 4 cups daily for children; 2 to 3 cups for adults; 1 quart for every expectant mother; 1½ quarts for a nursing mother.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES—Potatoes and sweet potatoes, about twice a day. Dry beans, peas, and peanuts, two to four times a week. Tomatoes, citrus fruit, or other vitamin-C rich food, five times a week; every child under 4, however, is allotted one serving a day, and a nursing mother one to two servings daily. Leafy, green and yellow vegetables at least six times a week. EGGS—3 to 4 a week for every one.

LEAN MEAT, FISH, OR POULTRY—6 small servings weekly.

CEREAL DISH—Once a day, sometimes twice.

BREAD—In some form at every meal.

DESSERT—Once a day if desired.

A family of four—two moderately active grown-ups and two children of school age—can get meals that measure up to the yardstick of good nutrition for $6.50 to $9 a week, using this low-cost diet plan.

Kentucky's Columbus-Belmont Battlefield State Park Created When Civil War Fortifications Rediscovered

—telling Kentuckians about Kentucky—

Prepared by The Hickman County Gazette.

The Red Cross representative for West Kentucky was sent to Columbus in April, 1927, to handle the flood problem. Since the town was virtually wiped out and its municipal levee cut away by the boiling muddy waters, it was necessary to move the little pioneer city, the first county seat in the Jackson Purchase, up on the nearby bluff.

Upon examination of the terrain for the new town site the great trenches of the Civil War fortifications, constructed by the Bishop General Leonidas Polk, C.S.A., were rediscovered. The physical evidences of the immense work; the war equipment lying all about; the wonderful views from the 200 foot high eminences covering the majestic Mississippi, with its galaxy of accompanying oxbow lakes, marshes and woodlands, caused this group to make the effort to create a park on the site. It was clearly evident that such an undertaking could be made to dovetail into the proposed city removal plan, since the lot owner in the old town would surrender it for the selected lot in the new Red Cross city.

A park association was organized and incorporated and the collection of funds begun. It was found that over 2,500 city lots were involved in the area required. This arose from the fact that a tract of 33,000 acres was here platted by Kentucky-Virginia realtors in 1821 as a site for the capital of the nation and the name of the settlement was at the time changed from 'Iron Banks' to 'Columbus'. The idea resulted from the Louisiana Purchase of 1803 which reached to the Pacific, thus being too large for the pre-rapid transit era and, too, had not Admiral Cockburn of the British Navy burned our Capitol in 1814 and was it not necessary that it be placed where British sea lanes ran not, thus making it more safe from America's early antagonist, the United Kingdom?

After several years of effort some 360 acres were obtained and a CCC camp was established on the area July 17, 1934. For three years these 200 men worked steadily under competent leaders to create the present splendid center, which now has a constant stream of visitors during the park season.

Parks should always reflect values in scenic, historic or recreational interests. The Columbus-Belmont Battlefield State Park bears elements of all three of these interests. No visitor comes but is immediately struck by the historic aspect touching our national life. Then,

(This is one of a series of articles sponsored by the Kentucky Press Association which in 1941 would tell Kentuckians of Kentucky as Kentucky should tell the world in 1942 — Sesqui-Centennial Year.)

Former town site of old city of Columbus, Ky., laid out in 1821 as a possible Nation's Capitol. The town was moved to the high Mississippi bluffs by the American Red Cross in 1927.

one stands in amazement on the great loess soil bluff at the sublime and far reaching views up and down America's greatest river.

As for recreational facility the job was well done. Long, winding trails call the visitor onward. Trail-side shelters at needed points let him rest and meditate. The picnic area has a splendid large shelter house; a well arranged concessions building and rest rooms as well as a plentiful supply of seats, tables, ovens. Space and facilities for all-night camping, games and for vacationist groups are at hand in the former CCC camp site.

On the whole, Columbus Belmont Battlefield State Park serves well the some half-million people living within a radius of 150 miles from it as well as the thousands that come from afar to rest, learn and enjoy. Its solid worth and its location insure its continuous growth and its constantly increasing contribution to not only the beloved Commonwealth, but the entire Nation as well.

Kentucky's Columbus-Belmont Battlefield State Park is easily available by the great Mississippi itself; the Mobile and Ohio railroad and five modern all-weather highways that radiate from it.

Travelers in the Jackson Purchase of Kentucky, by all means, should see the park. Travel U.S. highway 51, north or south, or highway 58 to Clinton, the county seat of Hickman county, then 9 miles to Columbus on highway 58. At Clinton, ample tourist accommodations will be found, in a modern hotel and well-kept tourist homes. Camping facilities at Columbus are provided and tourist homes available.—by F. Marion Rust.

From the Columbus-Belmont Park, the Mississippi River is seen bursting over its banks into the low sub-marginal lands (between Columbus and Wickliffe.)

The difference in cost depends on the selections made in different food groups. But farm homemakers can get the same diets for much less outlay of cash by a well-planned home-production and home-canning program, Miss Guthrie says.

The young people are told to be careful of their eyes. The boys say it rests them to look at the pretty girls.

REMEMBER, how you used to sit around the dining room table at night and study by the light of an oil lamp? Sort of cozy, perhaps. But hard on your eyes.

Today, your children get a better break, because they have better light. And neither you nor any other mother or father would want them to go back to the light you had to use.

We know, because parents have told us so. Six out of ten have told us that they need more light in their homes.

Nine out of ten feel that protection of eyesight is the most important reason why homes should be better lighted.

Almost all parents can understand that children who have plenty of light are more likely to get better grades than children who study with poor light.

They also realize that children who make good grades in school probably stand a better chance to get better jobs when they get out in the world.

Your electric company is helping in this good work by making it possible for people to have more light for less money. Today, for example, our household customers get about twice as much electricity for the same money as they did 10—15 years ago.

And light bulbs give you twice as much light as they used to for the same amount of current. So you really get 4 times as much light today as you got 10—15 years ago for the same money.

HOME AGENT NOTES

Miss Vivian Curnutt, Home Improvement Specialist from the University of Kentucky, met Wednesday, October 1, at the Hickman Homemakers club room with the Fulton County Home Improvement Leaders for the first lesson of a series of six on making of Slip Covers. They studied the repairing of frames of old chairs to make them substantial, how to glue furniture, put on webbing and to tie springs in chairs. The next lesson will be on padding the chairs to get them ready for slip covering.

Those attending the meeting were Mrs. Jessie Dillon and Mrs. Jack Hughes of Hickman; Mrs. Ethel Browder, Mrs. Harvey Pewitt and Mrs. Roy Bard of Palestine; Mrs. Edd Young and Miss Pearl Williams of Brownsville; Mrs. Murrell Williams and Mrs. Donald Mabry of Rush Creek; Mrs. J. B. Kearby and Mrs. J. R. McClanahan of Crutchfield; Mrs. Annie Turner and Mrs. A. J. Lowe of Cayce; Mrs. Harry Hancock and Mrs. J. D. Moss of McFadden; Mrs. Joe T. Johnson and Mrs. E. E. Dublin of Western; Mrs. Forrest McMurry and Mrs. Edward Harrington of Sylvan Shade; Mrs. Billie McCollum and Mrs. B. M. Tull of Montgomery; Miss Marjorie McGehee, Mrs. Catherine Thompson, Home Demonstration Agent, and Hattie Bethea, Colored Home Demonstration Agent.

A farm production campaign for 1942 providing for a complete mobilization of American agriculture to adjust production to domestic needs for National Defense and to the needs of the nations resisting aggression, was announced recently by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard.

At a two-day conference in Memphis last week, Secretary Wickard with more than 350 farmers and agricultural leaders from 13 Southern States, made plans for increasing the South's production of foodstuffs.

"For the first time in the history of Agriculture in this country," said Secretary Wickard, "production goals for all essential farm commodities have been established." They have been established on the basis of a thorough canvass of the needs for improved nutrition in this country and the needs of the nations that will stand between this country and Hitler.

"Every farmer in the United States will be contacted by local farmer committees under the supervision of U. S. D. A. Defense Boards and will assist with individual farm plans to determine the extent to which each farm can contribute to agriculture's task in National Defense.

"Of all the farm commodities of which increases are needed, the urgent need is for more milk. We need to consume more dairy products in this country for improved health and strength and the British will need tremendous quantities of cheese, evaporated milk and dried skim milk. To reach the production goals for 1942 the greatest effort will be required in dairying."

The south under quotas outlined and described as "minimum" requirements at the Memphis conference, must increase its milk production 7%, must produce 12% more eggs, raise 15% more cattle and calves and 4% more sheep and lambs.

"Remember Farm Bureau got us Parity, and what did we do about it? Nothing. Farmers, Wake up! We should have called a Holiday the day Congress passed the bill, and we only got that for one year.

"The fight is now on; if we don't do something about it we are going to lose it. Members, and more of them than ever before, is what it will take. We must again join hands and put Fulton County on the top, as we have done in the past. Each of the above communities will elect their new officers on those nights as scheduled. See that your neighbors attends. We must carry on stronger than ever before."

Bulldogs Lose To Paducah In First Defeat

The Fulton High Bulldogs suffered their first defeat of the season last Friday night in Paducah when the Tilghman Tornado won 19 to 0. However, the plucky Bulldogs made an interesting game of it and forced the Tornado to fight hard for their three touchdowns. For the first time in many years the Tornado faced a team from Fulton that equaled them in size.

The Tornado scored the first touchdown in the second quarter after 16 line smashes, a pass and two penalties against Fulton. The half ended 6 to 0.

Paducah's second touchdown came in the third quarter when Brown smashed through guard to score after Hunt had carried the ball 20 yards on an end sweep. In the last few minutes of the game Willingham fumbled a pass as he started to kick and Paducah took over on the ten yard line and scored.

The president appointed Mrs. Annie C. Turner as chairman of the membership committee. Mrs. James Ammons was in charge of the program which consisted of group singing led by H. W. Wallis.

People will sit up and take notice of you if you will sit up and take notice of what makes them sit up and take notice. He that will be angry for anything will be angry for nothing. Kindness is a powerful weapon too seldom fought with. He's no failure. He's not dead yet. Ability is a poor man's wealth.

Mastering Circumstances

BUSINESS men are constantly beset upon to face conditions or circumstances which must be mastered if they are to be successful. To ignore them is to invite defeat and failure. Occasionally one hears it said that religion and business do not mix. This indicates a lack of understanding of what constitutes a successful business enterprise and of what true religion consists. The first three verses of the first Psalm give a recipe for attaining true success in whatever undertaking one may be engaged. Here we read: "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor standeth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night. And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper."

Thus one who would attain true success must not listen to the counsel of those who ignore God's laws and are therefore unqualified to give sound advice. Neither does he seek help of the dishonest and sinful; nor is he found in the company of the boastful and worldly-wise. He looks alone to the one source of true wisdom, infinite Mind, God, for guidance in the solution of every problem. Turning to the Bible, which contains the statement of God's law, he finds therein valuable counsel which he puts to practical use in his daily activities.

On page 254 of Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, Mary Baker Eddy makes a statement which, when understood in its spiritual meaning, relieves one of a false sense of responsibility, with its attendant fear and worry. She says, "When we wait patiently on God and seek Truth righteously, He directs our path." What is it to "wait patiently on God"? Patience is not simply sitting down calmly and waiting for something to turn up, nor is it putting up with evil conditions and grimly bearing them. Patience is really the persistent expectancy of good. To seek Truth righteously is to endeavor to learn God's plan and purpose for man. So, when we wait on God, persistently seeking only good, and through prayer endeavor to learn God's plan and purpose, the right human footsteps will surely be made plain to us. And it is not necessary for us to know today the human footsteps which may be necessary for us to take tomorrow. The business man who is persistently seeking only good for his customers, for his employees, and for himself, and prays understandingly for divine guidance, may be sure that the right way will unfold to him and true success will be certain.

The one who is without remunerative employment may feel that the circumstances with which he is faced are beyond his control. While the immediate condition may have been brought about by events or circumstances which he could not foresee or prevent, the mastering of adverse circumstances is to be achieved within his own consciousness, with spiritualized thinking based on a right understanding of God. One may well begin with a clear realization that his real business is to express or reflect God in his every thought and activity. Mrs. Eddy writes (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 307), "God gives you His spiritual ideas, and in turn, they give you daily supplies." The source, then, of all true ideas or thoughts is infinite Mind, God, and as one turns with confidence to Him in fervent prayer for guidance, the right human footsteps will appear. Christ Jesus said (Matthew 6:33), "Seek ye first the kingdom of God, and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." Just before Jesus gave utterance to this profound spiritual admonition he had been speaking of the ordinary human needs for food and clothing, so we may be sure that when we apply this rule intelligently in working out our human problems of employment, business, and supply, every need will be met.

Whatever the conditions or circumstances with which one may seem to be faced, if one seeks first a right understanding of God and of man's spiritual relationship to Him, he may be sure that "whatsoever he doeth shall prosper."—The Christian Science Monitor.

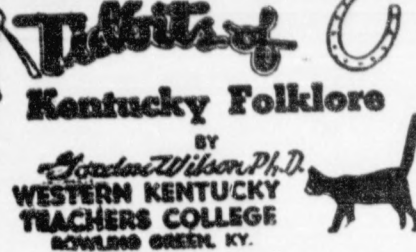

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., a Lesson-Sermon will be read on Sunday, October 2, 1941, on the subject "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?"

The Golden Text will be "Heal me, O Lord, and I shall be healed; for thou art my praise." (Jeremiah 17:14). Bible selections will include the following passage from Habakkuk: "Thou art of purer eyes than to behold evil, and canst not look on iniquity." (Hab. 1:13).

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which reads as follows: "Sin, sickness and death must be deemed as devoid of reality as they are of good, God." (p. 525).

Industry produces about 163,600,000 miles of wire a year for 160,000 different uses—ranging from paper clips to piano wires!

THE PASSING OF AN ERA—II

When you consider that the passing of our well-known customs is contemporary with the passing of free land and the closing of the frontier, you begin to see what happened to us is no mere local event, interesting only to those concerned. Until 1890 there was a frontier, to which the restless spirits were forever going, a frontier that was a sort of safety valve for all the country. As long as it existed, the same cycle of development was likely to recur endlessly. The scouts arrived to hunt or to explore; the settlers came in behind them; the woods fell, rafts went down the streams, wild animals became rare, log cabins were succeeded by boxed houses, and there by frame and brick structures, the muddy trail through the woods became a road that by and by was paved, the railroad plowed its way through the half-opened land. And every farmhouse had to be a veritable establishment, self-sufficient, even through a long, hard winter. Sugar and coffee represented about the extent of the purchases, but even these could be dispensed with when very severe weather came.

"Raise it, make it, or do without it" might have been taken as sage advice to the average person in those days. Anything not from the farm itself became a positively luxury that nothing today can even remotely resemble. I can recall how thrilled we were to buy some tasteless jelly in a bucket, tasteless, that is, except for the taste of the bucket. We canned quantities of preserves and jellies of all the known kinds, but this stuff seemed like nectar and ambrosia to our palates, jaded by contact with home-made preserves and jellies. Equally thrilling it was to purchase "brought-on" salt pork or bacon or cabbage. "Baker's bread" was almost the supreme mark of daintiness, to be expected only on some rare occasion, like Quarterly Meeting dinners on the ground. Shoes, it is true, were no longer made by hand, but ordinary cobbler's work was common for repairs; there were few of us who could not half-sole a pair of work shoes. The one-crop system, though it was ruining the soil elsewhere, was never a very serious menace in our little world. The nearest approach to it was the importance attached to the tobacco crop. The few people who raised tobacco and sold it to buy feed for their stock were looked upon as freaks. Corn for the stock and for your own larder, sorghum molasses, hogs for the smokehouse supply of meat and for sale, cattle, chickens, sheep, and numerous minor things we had, usually in sufficient quantities for our own needs and enough for the unobserved charity that we shared what we had with less fortunate people.

We watched the picturesque life we were leading, unconscious of its being on the verge of extinction, like Poe's beautiful young women that formed for him the only subject for great poetry. What we knew and practiced had been before our time, it was the common experience of our ancestors as far back as we could trace, and we had no fears that the institutions so halcyoned would soon be lost to the world. Sometimes we longed for the strange things that we read about in the papers and books that came to us from a more modernized world; basically I know that we feared that anything else besides our ways was undesirable and probably wicked. The few who had been away on a train bragged cautiously, for even they were not sure that these things were to last; such things had not been in existence in Bible times; they might even be forerunners of the Judgment Day. Abraham and Isaac and Jacob had lived only a little more primitively than we; the successors of Moses and Joshua certainly had houses and lands. Our own agrarian instincts identified the land with God's purpose for His children. How we could ever come to discarded our cherished ways was beyond our dreaming.

High blood pressure is called a serious disease. Also called pressure from too sentimental charmers has gotten many boys into trouble.

Too many motorists are driving on the wrong side of the road. The police say some of them will find themselves on the wrong side of the lock-up, if they are not more careful.

What is the gayest city in the world? One good answer is, Any American town on pay day.

Some husbands in Fulton say they are in the doghouse. They should be let out long enough each day to provide food for the family.

The United States normally uses about 60 percent of the world's rubber production, 40 per cent of the nickel, 40 per cent of the tin, 45 per cent of the chromium.

Helping to Keep Prices Right

The month in which this advertisement is published (October, 1941) will find the Illinois Central System handling one of the largest volumes of freight traffic for many years, if not in all its history. The same will be true, almost without exception, of practically all the active railway mileage in the United States.

Levels even higher are predicted, moreover, for the corresponding months of 1942 and 1943, provided national rearmament continues its projected pace.

That's DEMAND—and it comes face to face with what is still a rather limited SUPPLY. In most markets that would be a signal for a rise in price, a rise which would be reflected beyond in ever widening circles, as a ripple goes out over a pond.

But not so on the railroads. Their charges seldom rise merely because the traffic will stand it. They rise—and will rise in the future, if they rise at all—only upon a showing that railway expenses have been markedly and unbearably increased.

A factor in the price of every commodity is of course the sum of the transportation costs entering into its assembly and delivery. Therefore an important stabilizing factor in prices today is the knowledge that railway rates as a whole are actually LOWER than they were even at the start of the depression and very substantially BELOW their peak of 1921.

That's ONE REASON average wholesale prices have risen only a little more than 20 per cent in the last two years of emergency—and that means correspondingly greater protection to the customer who buys at retail.

SUPER SERVICE NOW OFFERED BY RAILROADS

The greatest achievement in the history of American railroading is now being enacted, according to George M. Crowson, assistant to the president of the Illinois Central Railroad. That achievement is the fine job the railroads are doing in meeting present record-breaking demands for transportation.

Addressing a gulf states meeting of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen here today, Mr. Crowson said: "The outbreak of war in Europe two years ago was immediately followed by an upturn in business in this country which naturally produced a corresponding increase in the demands for transportation. These demands were further increased by the lease-lend program and by our own rearmament program. These increases have now accumulated to the point where the railroads are being called upon to perform the greatest amount of transportation in all history. In meeting these demands the railroads have made a perfect record up to now. That they have done so after having subsisted for ten years on a starvation diet of traffic and earnings will certainly be recognized by future historians as the greatest achievement in the history of American railroading."

The credit for this achievement was declared to belong to all railroaders. Mr. Crowson said: "Railroad operation is a matter of teamwork all along the line. Therefore this magnificent achievement is a glowing tribute to the entire railroad family. It is a tribute both to the managements and to the workers in the ranks."

The speaker likened the workers on the railroads to members of a family, referring to their intense loyalty to railroading, to the fact that generation so often follows generation in railroad service and to the pleasant relations between men and managements. Mr. Crowson praised the understanding that is being shown by both sides in the railroad wage case and expressed the hope that the five-man emergency board named by the President would reach a conclusion that does full justice to all.

WORK-COLTHORP

Miss Ruth Colthorp and Jimmie Work, both of near Dukedom, were married Saturday evening, October 4, with Esq. S. A. McDade officiating at his home in South Fulton. The only attendants were Miss Mary Jo Reed of Dukedom and Harold Jones of Fulton.

Mrs. Work is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leander Nelson, while the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Work.

The young couple left for St. Louis for a brief honeymoon shortly after the ceremony.

EXPRESS AUXILIARY MET TUESDAY

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Railway Express Company held its monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. O. M. Johnson on West street, with Mrs. Pete Green as co-hostess. Mrs. Charles Cook, president, conducted a brief business session.

A social hour was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the hostesses. In November the group will meet at the home of Mrs. R. B. Allen on Green street, and Mrs. Charles Bowers will be joint hostess.

WOMAN'S CLUB IN FIRST MEETING

The Woman's Club held its first Fall meeting last Friday afternoon at the club building. Roses, dahlias and a variety of other flowers were attractively arranged throughout the rooms. Members of the hospitality committee were hostesses for the afternoon and they were Mesdames Abe Jolley, Mozelle Terry Smith, B. B. Henderson, W. H. Atkins, A. G. Baldridge and Guy Gingles. Pages were Mrs. R. C. Long and Mrs. Ward McClellan. Mrs. Bertie Pigue presided at the register. One hundred and eight members, including twenty-five new members, and six visitors, were present.

Mrs. Mansfield Martin, president of the club, presided over the business session. She also welcomed the new members and stated that the new group was the largest ever to be taken into the club at one time, and congratulated members of each committee for making the first meeting a success. Mrs. Ky., were the only attendants

James Warren, secretary, read minutes of the last spring meeting and of the executive board meeting.

Delegates elected to attend the district meeting in Murray on October 23 were: Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Jake Huddleston, Mrs. G. G. Bard, Mrs. Warren Graham and Mrs. L. O. Bradford. Alternates — Mrs. Charles Gregory, Mrs. Bertie Pigue, Mrs. Wilmon Boyd, Mrs. W. H. Atkins and Mrs. Louis Weeks.

Mrs. J. C. Suggs, chairman of the legislative committee, read articles from the Constitution and Mrs. Wilmon Boyd made the librarian's report.

Mrs. Warren Graham, chairman of the program committee, was then presented and she introduced Mrs. J. T. Fowlkes in two vocal numbers, "Autumn," by Pearl G. Curran and "Let My Song Fill Your Heart," by Ernest Charles. Mrs. Graham then presented Prof. Fred Schultz of Murray State Teachers College in an interesting talk on the subject "Facing Outward."

At the close of the meeting the hostess committee served refreshments.

New members present were: Mesdames George Alley, Robert Batts, W. T. Browning, Chris Damiano, K. E. Dawson, G. W. Dimmitt, Glenn Dunn, J. W. Elledge, Herbert Goald, Paul Hornbeak, C. C. Ivy, R. C. FLAKE-WEAVER WEDDING SUNDAY

Miss Ava Love Weaver, daughter of Mrs. Pearl Weaver, Norman St., and John Howard Flake, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Flake, of Jackson, Tenn., were married in a quiet ceremony Sunday afternoon, October 5, at the Methodist parsonage. The pastor, Rev. L. O. Hartman read the single ring ceremony in the presence of a few friends and members of the immediate families. Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Bailey, Jr., of Murray, Ky., were the only attendants

The bride wore a fall model of dark green chiffon velvet, with a matching hat and brown accessories. Her shoulder corsage was made of yellow pompons. Mrs. Bailey wore wine velvet with matching hat and black accessories. Her corsage was also of yellow pompons.

Mrs. Flake was graduated from South Fulton High School and attended the University of Tennessee Junior College in Martin and Memphis Teachers College. Later she became a registered nurse, attending the school of nursing at Memorial Hospital in Jackson and at St. Joseph's Hospital in Memphis. She was recently employed in the office at the Fulton Hospital.

The groom is a graduate of the Jackson High School and since then has been employed as clerk with the Illinois Central System. He now holds the position as yardmaster at the Wolf Creek Ordnance plant in Milan.

Immediately following the ceremony the couple left on a brief southern trip and will return to Jackson next week to make their home.

Out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Flake of Jackson, the groom's parents, and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Brazzell of Clinton.

CIRCLE NO. 6

Circle No. 6 of the Baptist W. M. U. met Monday afternoon at the church. The meeting was called to order by the acting chairman, Mrs. M. L. Rhodes. The secretary, Miss Lillian Tucker, read the minutes of the last meeting and called the roll, which was answered by six members. A new member, Mrs. Parley Harkins, was present. A report on personal service work was made by Mrs. J. C. Suggs, followed by prayer by Mrs. W. E. Flippo.

The meeting was then turned over to the program leader, Mrs. L. V. Brady. The devotional was given by Mrs. Suggs, who read as her scripture Acts 18:24-26. Mrs. Brady read a discussion on Mountain Missions by Rev. L. W. Martin.

Mrs. R. B. Allen led the closing prayer.

MRS. GHOLSON HOSTESS TO CIRCLE

Mrs. Ben Gholson was hostess to Circle Five of the Baptist W. M. U. Monday afternoon at her home at Maple Avenue. The opening prayer was led by Mrs. Earl Taylor. Mrs. Fred Patton, chairman of the business session.

Mrs. Foster Edwards was program leader and she also gave the devotional from Acts 13, followed with prayer. The subject of Mrs. Edwards' topic was "Looking Unto the Hills." She was assisted by Mrs. C. B. Roach who gave the subject, "Missionary Ministers in the Mountains," and by Mrs. L. M. Maxey with "Pioneers of the Cross," by Dr. W. B. Bagby. The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Guy Duley.
