Driver's Fixed For Brickless Driving

War Columbus was fined $100 and Mrs. Marywork was fined $50 for brickless driving Wednesday afternoon. Judge Adams also fined Mr. A. B. Phifer $100 for brickless driving.

The trial of the action of Philip C. Mccumber v. Alex Eaves, for the recovery of $150 damages, for injury to the defendant caused by his horse, was continued from Tuesday afternoon. The jury found in favor of the plaintiff.

Two Amendments Named

Two amendments have been named which will be considered at the special session of the General Assembly which will be held this week. These amendments are to be considered on the first day of the session.

Amendment 1: To provide for the establishment of a state school for the education of colored children.

Amendment 2: To provide for the establishment of a state college for the education of colored adults.

The state school will be located in the southern part of the state and the state college will be located in the northern part of the state.

Wednesday, October 17, at 7:00 P.M.

One of the main events on the social calendar is the opening of the new season of the Life Begins for Andy Hardy on October 17. The show will be presented at the Fulton Theatre, and tickets are available at the box office.

Sunday, October 12

A benefit program will be held at the First Christian Church to support the work of the National Red Cross.

The program includes singing, recitations, and a radio broadcast. The proceeds will be used to support the work of the Red Cross.

JUST HUMANS

BY GENE CASS

We don’t know who was responsible for the murder, so we are not sure if we can rely on the authorities to find the killer. However, we have some suspects and will investigate thoroughly. The media has been very helpful in identifying the victim. We expect to make an arrest very soon.

During the past two weeks for cents and thousands of station have been returned. School authorities have been very cooperative in developing and executing the plan. We have been very happy with the results, and we hope to continue this program in the future.

SILD SIMPSONS SAYS

Three fine fall vegetables, Chrysanthemum, Kale, and Chinese cabbage, are “shogoin” to taste good this winter. Some of the finest are from our local garden, and we think they will be very popular.

A Voice From the Void

BY L. F. COBB

This week’s first installment of the story, the English language story. The theme is the desolation of the English language. It is a story of the English language in a world of music, art, and beauty. It is an story of the English language in a world of beauty and art. It is a story of the English language in a world of music and art. It is a story of the English language in a world of beauty and art.

The story is about a boy who is a voice from the void. He is a voice from the void. He is a voice from the void. He is a voice from the void.

The young people are told to be careful of their eyes. The boys also realize that children who make good grades in school probably need a better chance to get better jobs when they get out in the world.

Your electric company is helping in this good work by making it possible for people to have more light for less money. Today, for example, our household customers get about twice as much electricity for the same money they did 10-15 years ago.

And light bulb gives you twice as much light as they used to for the same amount of current. So you really get a lot more of the same light today as you used to get 10-15 years ago for the same money.

The credit for this achievement is attributed to the railroad family. It is a tribute both to the entire railroad family, referring to their intense desiring and managements. Mr. Crowson said: "Railroaders, Mr. Crowson said: 'The outbreak of the war has made the railroads to members of a far larger whale, mermaid, etc. and a resolution of the stockholders for dissolution, and an appointment of the representatives of the other stockholders for a stockholders meeting present record breaking and extraordinary developments. The demands were for four consecutive weeks in the face of the strike by the railroad employees, resulting in the railroads having been updated to the point that the local railroads were being outstripped to perform the greatest amount of transportation in all history. In showing those demands the railroads met these demands the railroads were doing just that. This has done to other living admitted for two years on a consumption diet of traffic and money, will certainly be recognized by a new generation as the greatest achievement in the history of American railroading."
