County School Board Handles Routine Matters

Several routine matters were handled by the Calloway County Board of Education at its regular meeting held last Friday.

Resignations were received from Pam Vaughn, Margaret Sims, Carol Barrett, and Jo Williams, and new teachers selected were Ann Hopkins, Ruth Ann Majors, and Marie Manning.

A change order in the new elementary schools was approved, to change the floors in the gymnasiums, for a savings of $700. A change order for a slight re-routing of water lines was also approved.

A resolution to the Calloway Fiscal Court was approved, thanking the court for its cooperation in the school program.

Transportation reports were approved, and daylight savings time was discussed by the board, but no action was taken. A report was given on school opening, and also insurance for the school system. Special Education was also discussed, and the effects of HB 271 on the local system.

The greenhouse at Calloway High was approved, and will be accepted as soon as it is inspected by the state board of education.

Final payment was also approved for engineers fees and plumbing costs for the new schools.

Supt. William B. Miller said the evaluation of the new schools for accreditation purposes has been set for January 9-10.

Grand Jury Selected For Court

The Grand Jury for the September term of the Calloway Circuit Court was named this morning as the fall term of court opened here.

Bobby R. Manning will be foreman for the grand jury, which will return the grand jury report and indictments to Judge James Lassiter Thursday.

Members of the panel are Billie Paschall, Hawley Bucy, Larry Harris, James Tipton, Herbert Alexander, Mrs. W. J. Pittman, Carolyn Byars, Joe Pat Coleman, Orlene Bucy, Mrs. James Hart, and Ben Armstrong.

All 88 Persons On Jet Flight Believed Killed In Sea Crash

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — All 88 persons aboard a TWA jetliner that crashed Sunday in the Ionian sea are believed dead. At least 17 of the 79 passengers and some of the nine crew members were Americans.

The Boeing 707 jet was en route from Tel Aviv to Los Angeles with stops in Athens, Rome and New York. It plunged into a stormy sea 60 miles west of Kefallinia island 40 minutes after leaving Athens.

By midnight Sunday, 12 hours after the crash, seven bodies had been recovered by the crew of a Greek freighter, the first step to reach the scene.

A telephone caller in Beirut reported that an organization called the Nationalist Youth or the Liberation of Palestine had sabotaged the plane. But the Palestine Liberation Organization, the umbrella group for the major guerrilla organizations, said the call was a hoax and a "Zionist fiction" to discredit the Palestinian cause.

Ford Encounters First Signs Of Protest Over Pardon Today

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — President Ford today encountered the first signs of public protest over his unconditional pardon of Richard M. Nixon, a surprise move that pushed his young administration into the backwash of Watergate.

"The honeymoon is over," one sign proclaimed in red letters as Ford arrived at a downtown hotel for a speech to an urban transportation conference.

His pardon for Nixon on Sunday ruptured his rapport with Congress and sparked the protest resignation of a top aide.

More than a dozen signs protesting the Nixon pardon were sprinkled through a crowd of more than 500 persons who waited on the sidewalk for Ford's arrival.

Several of the signs demanded amnesty for Vietnam draft resisters and Nixon top aides.

"There is law, no justice. Pardon all criminals," said one sign. "No pardon, Nixon trial first," said another, and one said: "Okay Jerry, now pardon war resisters."

Newsmen a few feet from Ford heard no boing or catcalls. The President shook hands with those along the rope barriers. The crowd applauded as he passed.

Presidential advisers in Washington were assessing the probable political damage from Ford's disclosure of a "free, full and absolute" pardon for Nixon for any criminal conduct during his presidency.

The pardon was followed within minutes by a Nixon statement of remorse at "my mistakes over Watergate."

And, in the ensuing hours, there were these major disclosures and developments:

Jerald F. terHorst, a close Ford friend and adviser, quit as White House press secretary, saying "mercy, like justice, must... be even-handed" and "I couldn't in good conscience support the President's decision... even though I knew he took that action in good conscience."

Many Democrats and some Republicans in Congress voiced dismay at the pardon, contending it set a double standard of justice. But other Republicans, including Vice President-designate Nelson A. Rockefeller (See Ford, Page 12)

Regents Vote Down Proposal Expanding Tenure Policy At MSU

A proposal to expand the number of faculty members at Murray State University granted tenure this year was voted down by the board of regents in a meeting Saturday.

Based on longevity, the move was an effort by Dr. Mark Cunningham, faculty representative on the board, to amend a motion unanimously approved by the board Aug. 2 to grant tenure to a list of 25 people recommended by Dr. Constantine W. Curris, university president.

Action on the proposal, which Curris and Cunningham agreed Saturday would affect from 10 to 15 faculty members, was delayed at the earlier meeting.

A reported 21 faculty members were sent letters of nonreappointment last spring under the terms of a board policy adopted in 1969. That notice means that their contracts for the 1974-75 school year are terminal.

Cunningham had sought by his amendment to expand tenure awards to include "all other members of the faculty who have completed seven years continuous service since an initial appointment at the rank of instructor, assistant professor, associate professor or professor."

His amendment, based on what he called the "defacto tenure argument" and "on principle—not names," was defeated by a voice vote of the 10-member governing body of the school.

Cunningham had contended that faculty members who had served seven years or longer and who were not terminated at the conclusion of the maximum six-year probationary period provided in the policy had in essence been accorded tenure.

However, Curris countered with the position that there is "no such thing as de facto tenure at the university" and that none of the people who would be affected by the terms of the amendment "are entitled to tenure as a legal right."

Curris, who called the tenure procedure "a thorough and deliberate process" that involves department chairman, deans, and the leave, tenure and promotion committee, as well (See Regents, Page 12)

Regional Services Center Established By University

A Center for Regional Services, designed as a one-contact point for businesses, governmental units, school systems and other organizations and individuals to obtain cooperative services from Murray State University, has been established on the campus.

Harcourt added that services will be provided to the client at the most convenient point for the client, whether the courthouse, business place, school, or in the field. He emphasized that facilities on the campus are also available if it works to the advantage of the client.

and normal office expenses and materials, according to the proposal presented to the board.

Authorization was also granted by the board for the university, through the center, to contract with the Office for Local Government of the Kentucky Executive Department for Finance and Administration and other government agencies to provide services to local governments in the region.

A proposal presented to the board of regents, which authorized the center in a meeting Saturday (Sept. 7), described the purpose as "to assist in the improvement of the quality of life in the region served by Murray State University."

Operating costs of the center will be borne by the users of its services with the exception of the release time of Harcourt

'Life and Learning' Series Instituted At Murray State

About 25 courses will be offered in a new "Life and Learning" series to be initiated at Murray State University in October as a community service adult education program.

Designed to serve the special interests of adults in the immediate area and in the region, the program proposed by the Center for Continuing Education was approved Saturday (Sept. 7) by the university board of regents.

Dr. Donald E. Jones, dean of continuing education, said the non-credit courses will be offered generally in the evenings for $1 per contact hour to persons who wish to broaden professional, technical, cultural or recreational interests. He emphasized that there will be no entrance requirements, no grades and no examinations.

"Nobody will be under any kind of pressure," he said. "The idea is to provide opportunities for people of this area to learn the kinds of things not offered in a strictly academic curriculum."

Among the courses he listed for the fall are: making a Kentucky long rifle, cake decorating, decoupage, parliamentary procedure, beginning bridge, how to reseat cane-bottom chairs, bass fishing for beginners, food and tobacco addiction, parent effectiveness, and bird identification.

He said instructors for the courses are people from both inside and outside the university community who have expertise in specialized areas.

"Suggestions are welcome from anyone who has an idea for a course at some future time," Jones added. "If an instructor is available and interest justifies it, we will likely offer it."

Courses this fall will be taught on the campus, but Jones noted that "it is possible that we will eventually move out into areas where similar programs do not already exist."

Classes will meet weekly, usually for two-hour sessions, beginning at either 6:30 or 7 p.m., according to Jones. He said the length of courses will vary, in most cases from five to 10 weeks.

Jones explained that registration details and descriptions for all courses will be announced within the next few days. He said persons with inquiries or requests for further information may contact:

Dr. Donald E. Jones, Dean of Continuing Education, Administration Building, Murray State University, Murray, Ky., 42071 (telephone 502 762-4159).

Outside Consultant Sought On Vet School

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A special veterinary medical school study committee decided today to seek to hire an outside consultant to recommend whether Kentucky should have a veterinary school.

John Nelson of the legislative staff said invitations to bid would be sent out in about 10 days to about 15 consulting firms or authorities in the field. He said he anticipated a firm could be selected and work begun on the study by Jan. 1 with the results expected by July 1975.

The study would determine whether there was the need for such a school and whether it should be at Murray State University or elsewhere.

The 1974 General Assembly passed a resolution calling for the study after attempts failed to get a bill through directing such a school be set up at Murray State.

Area Firms Donate Toward Purchase For Murray State

Four West Kentucky firms have contributed $2,000 to Murray State University for the purchase of a petrographic microscope to be used in the teaching of geology, the science which deals with the history of the earth as recorded in rocks.

In making the announcement, Dr. Pete Panzera, chairman of the Department of Chemistry and Geology, emphasized that the gift was the first piece of equipment ever provided from outside sources for geology students.

The gift, made in the form of a check, was presented to Murray State President Constantine Curris at a luncheon Saturday in the Waterfield Student Union Building.

The firms sharing in the contribution are: Rudd-Woodall Ford-Mercury Co., Paducah and Metropolis, Ill.; King-Woodall Leasing Co., Paducah; Lester Ford-Mercury Co., Central City, and Old Hickory

Clay Co., Hickory. Attending the luncheon as special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Woodall and Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Woodall, and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Powell, all of Paducah, and Mrs. Martha Lester, Central City.

"This equipment will greatly enhance the teaching facilities in both our introductory and advance geology courses," Dr. Panzera said, "as well as programs involving research in coal and related industries."

Murray And Hazel Aid Programs Are Announced

Governor Wendell H. Ford and Transportation Secretary Billy Paxton today announced the 1974-75 Municipal Aid Program for the City of Murray and the City of Hazel.

The program is based on an anticipated allotment of $61,255 for the coming fiscal year for Murray and $1,919 for Hazel.

The program provides for curbs, gutters, initial blacktop resurfacing, and blacktop resurfacing for certain streets within the Murray city limits and for resurfacing West Barnett Street in Hazel.

The activities authorized will be accomplished by the two cities with the Bureau of Highways financing all or a portion of the work in accordance with the Municipal Aid Agreement. The Municipal Aid Program, which became effective July 1, 1973, is the product of Governor Ford's concern about the money problems of Kentucky's cities and towns and his campaign commitment to find some manner of helping local officials meet them.

The program is supported by a one-half cent per gallon gasoline tax. The funds derived from this tax are distributed among the incorporated and unincorporated areas according to the terms of a formula chosen by the General Assembly in 1972.

The program is selected annually after consultation with the city or urban place. A formal agreement has been signed by officials acting for each party.

Improvement Project Announced For County

Governor Wendell H. Ford and Transportation Secretary Billy Paxton today announced an improvement project in Calloway County.

The project as authorized provides for initial blacktop resurfacing for 1.6 miles of the Herman Darnell Road beginning at KY 1836 and extending west to the Graves County Line.

Short or long?

Invited to a wedding that takes place around two in the afternoon? Should you wear a long or short dress? It's a matter of to each her own in solving the dilemma. You probably won't be out of place with a long dress, but you might feel so in a short dress. The reason? The long dress has become socially acceptable even for brunch events. When in doubt about the wedding ceremony or reception attire, check with the hostess.

Lid locks

If your pressure canner has a lid of the locking type, fasten opposite locks simultaneously so the lid is held in place evenly.

Bride sees ad for gift she returned

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Chester and I were recently married. We received a lovely pewter bowl and matching candlesticks from Cindy and Paul, who are close friends. They came from Cindy's father's jewelry store and looked very expensive. Chester and I are furnishing our apartment in English country, but this gift is ultramodern and would never go with our decorating scheme. Rather than bury it in a cupboard, I called Cindy and told her the truth. She seemed to appreciate my frankness and said: "I will pick it up tomorrow."

She picked it up and seemed pleasant enough, but imagine how we felt when a few days later the following ad appeared in the local paper:

"Will sell at a sacrifice, returned wedding gift of Chester and Yvonne Douglas. Beautiful modern pewter bowl and matching candlesticks. Cost $70, will sell for $35." Then the name of Cindy's father's jewelry store.

Chester and I are so humiliated, we can't hold our heads up. This Canadian city is buzzing.

Do you think we were wrong in being so candid about the gift? And what do you think of people who would do a thing like that?

MAPLE LEAF READERS

DEAR READERS: Obviously you should not have been so candid with Cindy and Paul. They showed a shocking lack of taste in placing such an ad in the newspaper. Don't worry about the "talk." It will be about the tastelessness of your friends—not you!

DEAR ABBY: What is your opinion of a 27-year-old man who refused to speak to—or even recognize—any member of his immediate family on his own wedding day?

When his aunt tried to congratulate him, he turned away, saying, "Don't get lipstick on me." (The only words he spoke to any of us all day!)

I was so disgusted that instead of going to the reception, I changed my clothes, went downtown and returned the wedding gift I had bought for the couple. But then, I am only his mother.

HURT

DEAR HURT: The bridegroom could have been understandably uptight, nervous or preoccupied. And you could have been understandably sensitive and emotional. This would have been a good time for charity and restraint on both your parts.

DEAR ABBY: I was happy the councilman in my area voted against those kooks who wanted to go around naked on the beaches near where I live.

What's the matter with people today, anyway? Are they trying to make a big nudist colony out of our country? Don't we have enough trouble without letting those perverts and sex maniacs take off their clothes and run naked?

How do you stand?

DISGUSTED IN VENICE, CALIF.

DEAR DISGUSTED: Clothed. But nudity has little to do with immoral behavior. There are nudist camps for entire families, and there is nothing "immoral" about them.

CONFIDENTIAL TO CLYDE B.: If you are the American sailor who has a mother in Alaska and a brother in Oklahoma, and are one-half Cherokee Indian, please write to me IF you want to hear from Jayn, that girl you met in Greece. She is looking for you.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Similar events will be held in every congressional district in the state, and will continue through October 31 when Mrs. Cook will close her "Here's Nancy" tour with a visit to Lexington.

The chairwomen in charge of the Paducah event are Doris Sharpe and Gloria Little.

A Consumer Tip from Extension Specialists at the UK College of Agriculture

Knowing what part of the steer a particular beef cut came from can help you decide how it should be cooked, UK Extension consumer economics specialists say. The parts of the steer with often-used muscles are less tender. Rib and loin cuts, for example, come from the middle of the steer and are more tender because the muscles were used less; these cuts can usually be broiled or roasted. More heavily muscled cuts like chuck (front shoulder) and round (hind leg and rump) are usually less tender and require longer cooking with moisture at low heat.

INDOOR PLANTS NEED DUSTING

Without Mother Nature's cleansing rainfall, indoor plants need help to keep leaf surfaces dust-free, points out a University of Tennessee Extension specialist.

"Keep houseplants looking their best by cleaning them carefully once or twice a month," advises James L. Pointer, UT horticulturist.

A wet sponge or soft cloth rinsed frequently in clean water is a dependable method of cleaning smooth-leaved plants, he says. If the leaves are extremely soiled, use a solution of mild soap and water.

Plants with many small leaves can be sprayed outdoors, using a gentle spray with plenty of water, he continues. Either way, water should be at about room temperature. Cold water can cause leaf blemishes.

Water the plant thoroughly several hours before applying a commercial leaf polish, emphasizes Pointer. Otherwise, you may damage the plant.

Plants with hairy leaves require special attention, he adds. Dust the leaves carefully with a camel's hair brush to avoid bruising them.

Deborah Johnson And Joseph Hein Exchange Vows At Murray Church of Christ

The Seventh and Poplar Church of Christ, Murray, was the setting for a summer wedding on Saturday, August 17 at 11:00 a.m. uniting Miss Deborah Johnson and Joseph Hein in marriage with John Dale officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Al Wendell Johnson of 1304 Wells Blvd., Murray and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E. Hein of Baraboo, Wisconsin.

A program of A Capella music was presented by Mrs. Judy Caldwell, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Boles, Mrs. Joanne Cavitt, Mrs. Sherry Harris, Ernie Rob Bailey, Randy Travis and Mrs. Linda Payne.

As the guests arrived they were given programs by Miss Jennifer Williams. Mrs. Debbie Grogan kept the guest register.

The vows were exchanged before a white wrought-iron arch entwined with greenery and blue daisies. Placed on each side of the arch were white columns with arrangements of white glads and blue daisies. The family pews were marked with arrangements of blue daisies, greenery and baby's breath with blue and white ribbons.

Bride's Dress
The bride was escorted to the altar by her father and was given in marriage by her parents. She wore a formal gown of old-fashioned design of white polyester satin featuring an empire waistline. The waistband was covered and edged in lace. The same lace trimmed the neckline, bodice and sleeves. More lace bordered the hemline of the dress, completely encircling the bell-shaped skirt.

Her train length veil of lace was attached to a Juliet cap covered in lace. The bride wore an antique cameo necklace belonging to Mrs. G. Thomas Carruthers as her something "borrowed and old." She carried an old-fashioned nosegay of white roses accented with blue daisies, greenery and baby's breath tied with white lace ribbons.

Miss Melinda Johnson, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor and Miss Ginger Bond of Caruthersville, Missouri, cousin of the bride, was the bridesmaid.

The attendants wore identical floor-length gowns of white sunrise flock with tiny blue and green flowers, featuring a scoop neckline, empire waist trimmed with blue ribbon, short puffed sleeves and a flared skirt. Their head-pieces were headbands of blue daisies and greenery, and each carried two long stemmed white roses surrounded with baby's breath and blue streamers.

Mr. Hein chose his brother, Alvin R. Hein of Cary, Illinois, as his best man. Groomsman was David A. Hein of Racine, Wisconsin, also a brother of Mr. Hein. Ushers were Robert Johnson, brother of the bride, and Michael Gough, friend of the bride and groom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Johnson wore a street-length dress of light blue and white textured knit with blue accessories. Mrs. Hein, mother of the groom, was attired in a street-length dress of rose-pink knit with white accessories. Both mothers wore white cymbidium orchid corsages.

Reception
Immediately following the ceremony a receiving line formed at the rear of the church building and the guests were directed to the reception held in the fellowship hall of the church.

The bride's table was overlaid with white net over a blue cloth. A silver unity candle arranged with blue daisies and baby's breath centered the table. The three-tiered cake was covered in blue daisies and topped with wedding bells. Punch was served from a silver punch bowl. Nuts and mints were served along with the punch and cake.

The groom's table featured the traditional groom's cake, and a buffet luncheon. The center piece for the luncheon was a watermelon half filled with many kinds of fresh fruit. Also featured were Wisconsin cheese logs made by the groom's mother.

Serving the guests were Mrs. Rosella Williams, Miss Jennifer Williams, Mrs. Wanda Gough, Mrs. Virginia Chapman, Mrs. Cindy Herndon, Mrs.

Suzanne Schroeder and Norma Wells.

Miss Lori Ann Caldwell, cousin of the bride, and Miss Kimberly Hein, niece of the groom, passed out rose petals from white wicker baskets to the guests to throw as the bride and groom departed.

Mr. and Mrs. Hein are now residing in Henderson at 1818 N. Elm St., Apt. No. 22.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E. Hein, Baraboo, Wisconsin, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin R. Hein and children of Cary, Illinois, Mr. and Mrs. David A. Hein of Racine, Wisconsin, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Johnson, paternal grandparents of the bride, Kennett, Missouri, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bond, maternal grandparents of the bride, Deering, Missouri, Mrs. Myrtle Hall, great-grandmother of the bride, Dexter, Missouri, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Bond and Julie, Caruthersville, Missouri, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bond and family, Memphis, Tennessee, Jesse Bond and Miss Tamra West, Kennett, Missouri, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith, Lexington.

Rehearsal Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. Alvin E. Hein, parents of the groom, entertained the wedding party and members of the family with a dinner at the Triangle Inn on Friday evening after the wedding rehearsal.

Prenuptial Events
Before her marriage the bride was honored with a miscellaneous shower at the lovely country home of Mr. Lillian Steele. Hostesses for the occasion were Mesdames Lillian Steele, Rosella Williams, Cindy Herndon, Suzanne Schroeder, Wanda Gough, Joanne Cavitt and Virginia Chapman.

Miss Johnson chose to wear a pink wrap-around skirt and white blouse with pink accessories from her trousseau. The honoree was presented a corsage of white gardenias. Her mother, Mrs. Marcia Johnson, received a corsage of pink baby mums.

Games were played and Miss Johnson opened her many lovely gifts, including an avocado green mixer, gift from the hostesses.

Refreshments of cake, punch, nuts, mints and small sandwiches were served from a beautifully decorated table. A multi-colored arrangement of summer flowers complimented the table. Approximately fifty persons attended or sent gifts.

Nature's Remedy

Dazzled by the claims made for the so-called miracle drugs and awed by the achievements of modern surgery, our generation undervalues the single most effective agent provided by the Creator for the maintenance of health and the cure of disease.

Perhaps it is the ready availability of water which has made it so little appreciated. With the national health-care bill passing the $80 billion mark, it would seem time to remind ourselves that we have as handy as the nearest faucet the means of avoiding many a visit to the doctor.

Water accounts for about 70 percent of body weight, varying from 30 to 40 percent in bones to 80 percent of blood and brain tissue and 90 percent of other body fluids.

The chemical composition of water gives it certain unique properties. One of these, its ability to dissolve many other substances, gives it value as a cleansing agent.

In the body, water provides the solvent for the many impurities produced by the life processes. Daily intake of six to eight glasses of water is recommended, in order to permit the kidneys and skin to excrete impurities properly. Two glasses of the daily quota taken on rising help to prevent constipation.

Water is best drunk between meals when it does not interfere with digestion of food in the stomach. If used in large amounts at mealtime, water, or any other liquid, dilutes the gastric juice. It also causes the food to leave the stomach more quickly without thorough digestion.

Space does not permit discussion of the drinks commonly substituted for pure water which are undesirable because of the presence of harmful substances such as caffeine, sugar, acid or alcohol. If drinking water is unpalatable because of purifying agents or minerals, a few drops of lemon juice will help the taste.

Extremes of temperature are undesirable. Ice water if taken in more than small sips reduces the amount of gastric juice produced and hinders digestion. At least one study links the Japanese custom of drinking very hot tea with the larger amount of cancer of the esophagus in that country.

Water is the great regulator of body processes. If the amount available in the tissues varies more than 10 percent either way, serious symptoms result, and when the variation reaches 20 percent death occurs.

There is no better way to begin the effort to follow a more healthful lifestyle than by establishing the habit of drinking pure water regularly in liberal amounts.

The Singular Team

The World Football League, other than extending the football season, has added something else new, although it is more grammatical than gridiron.

We now have "The Singular Team."

Like The Chicago Fire and The Philadelphia Bell.

Instead of the Chicago Bears and the Philadelphia Eagles.

Not entirely new, come to think of it. We have known for a long time of The Crimson Tide (Alabama) and The Green Wave (Tulane).

But never before in national pro football have we had this nomenclature suggesting that a team is a sort of single unit rather than a group of players, each one of whom is a Ram, a Dolphin, a Packer, a Viking, etc. Not except of course as all coaches emphasize the value of teamwork.

We're not sure what it all means, pro and con. It will be somewhat difficult, however, to refer to a player from one of these singular teams in the singular. What, then, is an isolated member of the new Chicago squad? A Spark, maybe?

An isolated member of the Philadelphia team? Surely not a Ding Dong? Nor do we think he'd particularly like being known as a Clapper.

Presumably, he would be "of the Fire" or "of the Bell."

Now We Know

Remember how grateful we were last winter when, in the midst of the energy crisis, the weather turned warmer than normal and required less gas, oil and electricity for heating our homes? Well, that nice weather had other consequences. Because of it, agricultural experts say, insects are worse this year than in many a growing season. That just reminds us that every silver lining has a cloud.

General George Washington in his log book, kept during the Revolutionary War, expressed a deep concern for the growing use of "bad language" by his soldiers. His fear was well founded because "bad language" has now reached the top.

CONSUMER COMMENTS

Bait And Switch

By Ed W. Hancock
Attorney General of Kentucky

Bait advertising is an insincere and dishonest offer to sell a product or a service which the advertiser actually does not intend or want to sell. Its sole purpose is to lure the consumer into the store where his attention is "switched" to a much higher priced item or service.

Bait and switch tactics are forbidden by Federal Trade Commission's Guides and are contrary to the Kentucky Consumer Protection Act which prohibits "false, misleading and deceptive acts or practices." The theory behind bait and switch tactics is very simple—and obvious to most consumers. But some dishonest merchants have developed sophisticated bait and switch practices to sell carpets, freezers, beef, furniture and many other types of articles and services.

For example, an advertisement may offer a home freezer at a "fantastic, end-of-the-summer price of $150." This looks very appealing, especially to the many consumers who hope to fight increasing food prices by freezing food for winter. When the consumer rushes down to the merchant to save money on both the freezer and food prices, he may find a small, dusty or even damaged freezer stored away in the corner of the store.

The salesperson tells the consumer that the freezer really isn't very practical, hold only a few pounds of food, and probably isn't worth even $50. However, surrounding the freezer on sale may be numerous new freezers for only $400—that's only a couple of dollars extra per month. The salesperson may even refuse to demonstrate or sell the "bait" item in order to "switch" the consumer to the more expensive product.

It is an illegal trade practice for a merchant to discourage the purchase of advertised merchandise as part of a bait scheme to sell other merchandise. If a merchant refuses to demonstrate or sell an advertised article, uses disparaging words about the advertised article, or fails to have a sufficient quantity of the advertised product available at all outlets listed in the advertisement, he may be engaged in illegal bait and switch tactics.

The Division of Consumer Protection has the responsibility to administer and enforce the Kentucky Consumer Protection Act which prohibits the use of bait and switch tactics by merchants. Any consumer who has any knowledge of a merchant using this practice should contact this office by writing to the Office of the Attorney General, Consumer Protection Division, Room 34, Capitol, Frankfort, Ky. 40601; or call toll free on the consumer hotline 1-800-372-2960.

From The Editor's Mailbag

Edited By GENE McCUTCHEON
Murray Ledger & Times Editor

(A compilation of notes gleaned from the daily mail—some of which will interest many, others that may interest only a few.)

—A campaign to "blow the whistle on crime" has been launched in Chicago, New York and a number of other cities.

Its goal is to make the streets of America safer by reducing the number of holdups, muggings and assaults that are endangering the lives of pedestrians.

The technique is simple. Men, women and children too are urged to carry the kind of whistles police use and blow them when danger arises.

An example of how a "whistle alert" works is provided in the Uptown section of Chicago, where an entire neighborhood is "in" on the effort to free the streets of crime.

Brochures explaining the whistle alert were printed in English, Spanish and Chinese. Whistles are sold for 50 cents to individuals or are being given to tenants by building owners.

To be effective the whistle alert depends on community cooperation—a kind of chain reaction against crime. Anyone who hears a blast on a whistle is supposed to rush to the nearest telephone and summon the police. He then dashes to the aid of the person in distress, blowing his own whistle as he goes. Residents also are urged to blow their whistles into telephones to discourage obscene calls, and people who live alone, particularly the elderly, are encouraged to keep whistles handy to use to call for help in case of illness or injury.

Policemen in Uptown reported several instances in which would-be attackers have been discouraged by whistle blasts. A mailman bought a whistle to ward off growling dogs. A fire was put out soon after it started because a woman blew on her whistle.

alerting a resident of a nearby building to call police, who in turn summoned fire equipment. Randall advises that whistles should be standard equipment for anyone walking on the streets of any city. They can be carried on a neck chain, a bracelet or a key chain, he said.

A Look At The Record

One healthy result of the Watergate mess is that the American people may scrutinize potential officeholders much more closely than in the past. Even those leaders who have been on the political scene for many years should be reexamined not only for personal probity but for public philosophy.

The most prestigious figures should be called on to explain their views and to square those views with their records in public office. This is especially important as the nation gears up to deal with the runaway inflation which threatens the security of millions of its citizens.

At no time in its history has the United States had greater need of leadership that is committed to reducing the cost of government. The soaring cost of government is the principal cause of the inflation now afflicting the country.

Among the prominent Americans whose views should be examined in depth is Nelson Rockefeller, who has been nominated by the President to serve as Vice President. If approved by the Congress, he would be a heartbreak away from the Presidency.

Former Gov. Rockefeller has been presented to the public as a symbol of the free enterprise system. But a number of observers question Mr. Rockefeller's ability to understand the problems of ordinary, middle class Americans who have worked for everything they possess. In the judgment of some observers, Gov. Rockefeller's outlook is that of the international banker and not the typical American business man.

Equally important, there is considerable concern about Nelson Rockefeller's beliefs regarding government spending. President Ford has vowed to reduce government spending and to put the nation's economic house in order. But some critics regard Gov. Rockefeller's stewardship of the fortunes of New York State as considerably less than responsible.

Barron's Financial Weekly, one of the nation's most respected journals of economic commentary, recently said:

"From 1959 through fiscal 1974, New York State's budget increased from $1.9 billion to nearly $9 billion. Under Rockefeller, taxes were imposed or increased at least every other year: in 1959, 1963, 1965, 1966, 1968, 1969, 1971, and 1972. During Rockefeller's tenure in office, the maximum rate on the personal income tax more than doubled, from 7 per cent to 15 per cent.

"Over the same period, the state gasoline levy advanced from four to eight cents a gallon, the cigarette tax from three to 15 cents per pack. A 4 per cent sales tax went on the books.

"All told, in 15 years, the tax load nearly quintupled, to the point where, according to the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey Inc., taxpayers in New York State are the most overburdened in the land."

This is a very disturbing record. It suggests that Nelson Rockefeller is prepared to spend taxpayers' money as though it were his own. The heavy taxes imposed under the Rockefeller administration have resulted in penalties for the state. Since the mid-1950's, according to Barron's, New York State has suffered a major decline in manufacturing activity.

Nelson Rockefeller's record as a high, tax spender governor is a key part of his record. Congress has a duty to dig into this record and reveal the facts concerning the Rockefeller philosophy of government.

AP News Analysis

Ford's Honeymoon With Congress Appears Over

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford's congressional and political honeymoon appears to have ended with his pardon of Richard M. Nixon, a decision that revived the Watergate issue and complicated the campaign for Republican candidates this fall.

Ford said he acted to write "the end" to Watergate, but the immediate reaction was a rekindled debate over the scandal and the propriety of an advance and absolute pardon for his resigned predecessor.

The prompt resignation of Press Secretary Jerald F. Ter-Horst, who as Ford's first appointee was a symbol of his pledge of an open atmosphere at the White House, underscored the controversy. Ter-Horst said he could not in good conscience accept the decision on Nixon, particularly while former officials of lesser rank face prison or trial.

That judgment from a member of the Ford inner circle seemed certain to heighten criticism of the pardon the President granted Sunday.

There was praise from many Republicans, including GOP congressional leaders. But there also was substantial Republican criticism, along with general Democratic protest against the Ford move.

However sharp the immediate criticism, in the long run Ford may have acted at a relatively opportune time in taking a step he seemed likely to take eventually.

Ford's unprecedented move came two months before congressional elections in which it is sure to be an issue and may prove an added burden for Republican candidates already facing questionable prospects.

But it also comes two years before the 1976 presidential campaign in which Ford, the first president to hold office without election, is expected to be a candidate. Had the Nixon case dragged on, it could have proved even more troublesome later.

Much of the initial criticism of Ford came from Democrats and liberal Republicans who ultimately could have found themselves at odds with the President whenever the honeymoon phase ended.

The pardon hastened that process. It may have an impact on other areas, too.

Ford's announced intention of attaching conditions, such as alternative service, to his proposal for amnesty for draft resisters and deserters may run into the criticism that Nixon was pardoned without conditions.

In Congress, Democrats already had started to criticize Ford for inaction in dealing with economic problems. They almost certainly will step that up against the President, who now seems more vulnerable to criticism.

Another imponderable is Nixon on himself.

Although the former President went further Sunday than ever before in admitting Watergate wrongdoing, Rep. John B. Anderson, R-Ill., expressed the view that Nixon backers might now step up their contention that he was hounded unfairly out of office.

That theme would certainly stir new controversy and could prove embarrassing for Ford's efforts to put the Watergate issue into the history books.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

AGENTS CAN SECRETLY SCAN YOUR BANK RECORD

Senator L. P. Weicker Jr. (Conn.)...The issue of the confidentiality of bank records is of overriding significance to the preservation of our constitutional democracy. Frankly, I considered urging my colleagues to reject the conference report which deleted the Senate amendment.

"Instead, however, I today issued a statement of policy relative to those legislative initiatives which strengthen the rights of the individual in our free society...

"The American people expect and deserve leadership with a vision and a will. They are deeply cynical of the shrill rhetoric of reform which swells the Congressional Record but rarely reaches the United States Code...

"My amendment as approved by the Senate, would have required that notice be given to a bank customer when the Government subpoenas his or her bank records.

"Today, the field investigators from the IRS, other investigative branches of the Treasury, the Post Office Department, and the Executive office can subpoena or by administrative summons, obtain bank records of any citizens, organizations, or corporation, enter the bank vaults, find out all about your personal transactions, use that information any way they please—and you will never be told about it.

"In every other instance where subpoenas are used to gather evidence, the target of that subpoena knows full well what evidence he must hand over...

"Only bank records, records that contain some of the most personal information about you, are unprotected. Just because your confidential information resides in a bank vault is no reason to change the rules...

"As a member of the Senate Banking Committee, I am requesting of Chairman Sparkman and Senator McIntyre, chairman of the Financial Institutions Subcommittee that hearings be expedited on S.2200. This legislation, while it may require certain modification, is much too important to languish on a committee clerks cluttered desk..."

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

We doubt if any American is aware that an agent of the government can review his bank record, unknown to him. Much valuable information is buried in the Record.

BACK TO SCHOOL

So summer is just about over, the kids are back in school, and while we don't like to admit it, it's possible that some children are eating better than they did at home.

If this is so, it is for one of two reasons: Either the child's family cannot afford sufficient food, or ignorance—nutritional ignorance—is depriving that family of adequate meals. Such ignorance can and does exist at all economic levels—so it's not always just a matter of money.

The Value Of School Lunch

But if your child is in a school that serves school lunch you have a lot going for you. And in recent years great effort has been made to extend the school lunch program to schools that do not have facilities for preparing lunches. Even breakfast programs have been put in operation.

More and more schools are being served. Airline-style, prepared meals are brought in. And school feeding programs increasingly provide that children receive meals without discrimination when they cannot afford to pay for them.

A bonus on school breakfast and school lunch programs is that besides giving the child a healthful meal, the programs are a practical demonstration for the pupil of the foods that make up a good meal.

When this experience is coupled with modern nutrition education in the classroom there is promise that we are raising a generation of Americans who will know how to eat more wisely than their parents.

Nutrition is increasingly being taught in the schools in a manner to excite real interest and create motivation. It used to be a sort of dull subject, full of "this-is-good-for-you" stuff. Not today. Nutrition is now taught in special units of study that are fun, relevant, and that lead to including nutrition in the teaching of mathematics, geography, social studies and particularly in helping children arrive at values that will guide them throughout their lives.

Taking Lunch To School

If you or your children prefer, for one reason or another, that they take their lunch to school, it isn't difficult to give them a balanced meal. The four-food-group formula will do it. A sandwich or two can easily provide your child with meat, cheese, or, say, egg salad and that will give him the meat and breads and cereals groups.

To help complete the meal, give your child some kind of fruit, and/or celery or carrot sticks, or vegetable soup in a thermos. If your girls want to get fancy, make a small salad and put it in a plastic container. Then have your children buy milk at school.

Bible Thought

Brethren, be followers together of me, and mark them which walk so as ye have us for an example. — Phillipians 3:17

We are all hero-worshippers. Men who follow in the steps of Jesus present an example for their children and their friends.

Isn't It The Truth

What the computer does to us is awful. It sometimes charges us too much but never too little; it counts us and measures us and the only human the computer has been unable to screw up is the political candidate, who never believes anything he sees, hears, feels or smells, if it can't vote.

Not Another One Of Those Seasons

"Not another one of those seasons," said Joe Tom Erwin Saturday night in the press box following Murray State's incredible comeback win over Cameron State.

The reaction of the veteran Sports Information Director of the Racers seemed to be the reaction of most of the people who were at the game.

Somewhat, I have the feeling it's not going to be another one of those seasons.

That's not saying Murray State isn't going to be a tough ballclub. It's simply giving credit where it's due, to Cameron State.

Fact is, this could be the most exciting game Murray fans will see in Stewart Stadium this year. Because in forthcoming games, I think you'll see the game decided much earlier, and, with the Racers on top and not having to mount more miracle comebacks.

You had to be on the sidelines to really know just how tough Cameron State was.

They hit harder than any team I've seen since I've been here in Murray and that's been three years. Cameron State played to win, although they did some things I didn't approve of, such as piling on late after a play was already over. They also got away with it, except for once when a penalty was called.

Football fans will never see a team with more depth at the specialty positions than Cameron State had.

They used a total of 14 different people in the backfield.

Although we know a team makes its breaks, we still know the Racers were extremely lucky to win this one. But there's something else we know: this ballclub is one body of individuals, all believing in themselves and sharing each setback and each triumph in the course of a game. And that sense of brotherhood is a factor that can win games, when all seems lost.

Big M Club Meeting

Tonight's Big M Club meeting is one of great importance to football fans of Murray State University.

Among things to be discussed at the 6 p. m. meeting in the Racer Room at Stewart Stadium are of course, the game Saturday, and plans for taking a bus to Western Carolina.

The latter depends upon how many people are interested in going to the game.

If enough people come to the meeting or contact a Big M Club member and want to go on a bus to Western Carolina, there is a good chance the trip will come to pass this weekend.

Win Meal At Rudy's

Nobody was able to answer last week's question for the free meal at Rudy's Restaurant. So we'll give anyone who thinks he might know another chance.

The question is: "When Murray State and East Tennessee were first scheduled to play in a basketball game, something unusual happened. What was it?"

Hint: If you still have a copy of last Tuesday's paper around, compare the questions very closely and you might see the hint.

Since this is still last week's question, there's no certain time to call so the first person who calls me at 753-6977 anytime with the right answer will win his choice of up to $2.50 on the menu at Rudy's.

The regular question for this week will appear in Tuesday's Timeout With Brandon.

Cage Recruits?

Murray State had some of the best high school basketball players in the Midwest down for the football game Saturday.

I went with Murray assistant coach Jim Calvin Friday afternoon to the Paducah airport to meet the prospective recruits, all seniors this year.

The first off the plane was a seven-footer, a highly touted ballplayer. Another was 6-11 and another 6-9.

NCAA regulations do not allow me to print the names or show pictures of these people but if in passing, anyone would like a little more information, it probably wouldn't hurt to talk about them privately.

A half-dozen or more people saw me with my camera, saw Coach Calvin and saw the group of ballplayers. Everyone asked, "Are they basketball players?"

And then, "I hope they are all going to Murray State!" Same here.

battling to retain Australian supremacy of the U.S. Open for the second straight year.

Miss Goolagong topped America's tennis princess, Chris Evert, for the right to meet the nation's tennis queen, Billie Jean King. Rosewall out-dueled defending champion John Newcombe and set up a rematch of Wimbledon, where Jimmy Connors needed only three sets to take the title — the only major crown to elude Rosewall in his long, illustrious career.

Miss Evert, the favorite among the women, came back from a two-day break caused by bad weather and gave Miss Goolagong a good run. But Evonne, with a 6-0, 4-3 lead when the day started, survived the eager Miss Evert, 6-0, 6-7, 6-3, and increased the chance that Australia would keep the crown won last year by Margaret Court.

Connors, Chris's finance, protected his No. 1 seeding against a tough Tennessean, Roscoe Tanner, 7-6, 7-6, 6-4 after Rosewall eliminated Newcombe, 6-7, 6-4, 7-6, 6-3.

It was the first setback for the 19-year-old bride-to-be since Billie Jean beat her in an indoor tournament in New York last March. Since then, she had won 56 straight matches and 10 tournaments, including the Italian, French and Wimbledon championships.

Ms. King, the "old lady of tennis," was well rested for today's final. She hadn't played since Friday when she beat Julie Heldman, 2-6, 6-3, 6-1 in a match as dismal as the weather.

If honing hard shots is what it takes, Miss Goolagong has the edge. She played 15 games Sunday before finishing off Miss Evert.

The finalists in the men's singles were equally worn down — or keyed up — since both played Sunday.

But age is the difference in both title bids. Miss Goolagong is 23 and Ms. King 30. Rosewall is 39 and Connors 22.

Ms. King has won three U.S. Open crowns and Rosewall two. Miss Goolagong was seeking her first, as was Connors.

Ms. King has won five Wimbledon titles but was thwarted in 1971 when Evonne, on the horizon of tennis stardom, stunned her before she reached the final round. Their over-all record is 4-1, Mrs. King.

GOLF

INZAI, Japan — Masashi "Jumbo" Ozaki of Japan won the $82,500 Suntory Open Golf Tournament by three strokes over countryman Kosaku Shimada with a 72-hole total of 272.

DALLAS — Joann Carner carded a final-round two-over-par 74 and held on to defeat Kathy Whitworth by a stroke in the $40,000 Dallas Civitan Open with a 54-hole total of 217.

Marshall Breaks Record While Brock Needs One To Pass Wills

By ALEX SACHARE
AP Sports Writer

Mike Marshall is one of a kind—and for the Cincinnati Reds, that's one too many.

Marshall, making his record-breaking 93rd appearance of the season, came on in the eighth inning to snuff out a Cincinnati rally, then struck out the side in the ninth to preserve the Los Angeles Dodgers' 7-4 victory over the Reds.

"We found out we're as good as we think we are," said the outspoken Marshall. The victory gave the Dodgers two out of three in their weekend series against the Reds and put them 3½ games ahead of the second-place Reds.

"Flash in the pans don't play good baseball for six months of a season," he added. "You have to be consistent, and that's what we've been."

Marshall pitched in all three games of the series to break his own record of 92 appearances in one season, set with the Montreal Expos last year. He also broke a record for innings pitched in one season by a reliever. He now has 1802.3, surpassing his former mark of 179.

He thinks the record for appearances may hold up for a few years.

"It would take an awful lot of the right combinations for someone to break it," he said. "I don't think it's probable."

But Marshall is not quite satisfied just yet.

"My ultimate goal is to go through a season without making a mistake," he said. "The individual statistics mean nothing to me."

Elsewhere in the National League Sunday, New York beat St. Louis 5-3, Pittsburgh defeated Montreal 8-2, Houston edged San Diego 3-2, Philadelphia outscored Chicago 11-10 and Atlanta beat San Francisco 5-3.

The Dodgers' victory, before a sellout crowd of 51,465 at Cincinnati's Riverfront Stadium, was Los Angeles' 11th in 15 meetings with the Reds.

The Dodgers chased Cincinnati ace Jack Billingham, 18-9, in the sixth, taking a 4-3 lead on Dave Lopes' bases-loaded grounder. Bill Buckner then greeted reliever Pedro Borbon with a double off the right field wall for a three-run lead.

"But now we just have to start over again," Marshall noted, referring to next weekend's final series of the year between the two contenders, in Los Angeles.

Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson agreed that the issue in the NL West is far from over.

"The loss is not going to change our club one iota," Anderson said. "It still boils down to who wins 100 games."

As of today, Los Angeles had won 87, Cincinnati 84. Meanwhile, controversy continued to swirl around a remark Marshall is alleged to have made—and which he vehemently denies making—about the Reds following Friday night's game.

Before Saturday's game, word went through the Cincinnati clubhouse that Marshall had said facing the Reds "was like pitching batting practice to a bunch of high schoolers." That quote was first publicized by Reds broadcaster Marty Brennaman, who said he "heard it in the Reds locker room from a very reliable source."

"If he didn't say it, I'm sorry," Brennaman said Sunday. "But if I was in his shoes, I wouldn't have admitted it either."

Marshall angrily denied the statement and attacked the media for perpetrating "something as low-grade as that. I'm not that dumb."

"Mike is too intelligent to make a statement like that," added Dodger Manager Walter Alston.

Mets 5, Cards 3

Despite two stolen bases by the Cards' Lou Brock, who drew within one of equalling Maury Wills' single-season record of 104, St. Louis was beaten by the Mets and fell 2½ games behind Pittsburgh in NL East.

Wayne Garrett's three-run homer capped a four-run rally in the eighth inning that won the game for the Mets.

"It was the same pitch he struck me out on the third inning," Garrett said of the 3-2 curveball from Lynn McGlothen which he hit out.

Brock raised his season theft total to 103 by swiping second base in the second and eighth innings off Tom Seaver. He also equaled the National League career mark of 738 held by Max Carey.

"Outstanding pitchers like Seaver don't have good moves," said Brock. "How are they going to practice when nobody gets on base that much against them?"

Pirates 8, Expos 2 Red-hot Pittsburgh posted its 13th victory in its last 15 games, exploding for five runs in the eighth inning, including a grand-slam homer by Dave Parker.

"I'm just happy to contribute," said Parker, a utility man whose homer came as a pinch-hitter. "Grand slam was the first thing that jumped in my mind when I left the on-deck circle. I waited for my pitch and I got it."

Montreal lost its sixth in a row, and starting pitcher Steve Rogers suffered his 20th loss against 12 victories.

Astros 3, Padres 2 Wilbur Howard's first major league home run, in the seventh inning, lifted Houston to victory and handed Padres starter Randy Jones his 20th loss of the season. Jones, who allowed just four hits, has won seven.

"I go out and give 110 per cent each time and learn something in every game," said Jones, not discouraged by his 20 losses. "It was the kind of game you just have to accept."

Phils 11, Cubs 10 Bob Boone's three-run double capped a seven-run third inning for the Phils, who then held off repeated Cub rallies. Chicago's Jerry Morales accounted for the Cubs' final four runs in the ninth inning with the first grand-slam homer of his major league career.

Braves 5, Giants 3 Vic Correll, drove in three runs with a double and a single and Ron Reed, 10-8, scattered six hits for the Braves.

Kniewel Says Failure Of Metal Caused Crash

By JIM WILLSE
Associated Press Writer
TWIN FALLS, Idaho (AP) — Stuntman Evel Kniewel says a weakness in the metal holding the parachute system in place was responsible for his rocket ride into the Snake River Canyon rather than over it.

"There was a metal failure," Kniewel told a news conference Sunday night less than four hours after he was lifted by helicopter from rocks at the base of the 600-foot canyon.

"To lose to a beautiful river and canyon like this to me is not a real loss," said Kniewel, the cuts on his right cheek and lip standing out as red lines on his tan face.

The chutes began deploying even as the red, white and blue Sky-Cycle cleared the launch ramp Sunday, pulling the missile back like a yank on a shirt collar.

The vehicle was halted before it had traveled half the needed distance, and seconds later Kniewel was on the canyon bottom, the bloodied survivor of yet another fall.

Despite the failure of the stunt, probably the most widely publicized in history, Kniewel was assured of $6 million and stood to earn much more from proceeds of a live closed-circuit telecast and related deals.

Promoters of the telecast had been predicting the total take could reach $20 million, but they said Sunday evening that it would be at least 24 hours before ticket sales were known.

Asked if he would attempt the stunt again, Kniewel responded, "I don't know what I'm going to do. I sat in it and gave it my best."

In a late night telephone call to television station KUTV in Salt Lake City, Kniewel said that "metal fatigue" had caused bolts holding a canister containing the parachutes to shear off when the engine fired, sending the chutes spilling out behind.

canyon shelf and onto rocks about 20 feet from the Snake River, where it came to rest right side up. Kniewel said that piece of luck saved his life.

Even for skeptics, Kniewel's attempt to hurtle himself over the canyon was spectacular, dangerous and suspenseful. And the Montana-born huckster-stuntman carried off the defeat with characteristically arrogant style.

Gripping his custom-built black cane, Kniewel walked along the metal fences surrounding the launch area to shake hands with his assembled admirers. "You are the living god," one group cried out to the figure in the stars-and-stripes jump suit.

In his telephone call to KUTV, Kniewel cautioned adventurous children: "Maybe because I made this jump, young children will realize that even with the best help in the world, maybe this is not the thing to do."

Yanks And Bosox Tied For Lead Crucial Series Opens Tonight

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

Doc Medich can stop watching the scoreboard and keep his eyes on the Boston Red Sox instead.

"Now it's head to head," says the New York Yankee pitcher.

It is, indeed. The Yankees and Red Sox, tied for first place in the American League East with the Baltimore Orioles perched on their shoulder, open an important two-game series tonight in Boston.

The Yankees, beaten 11-3 Sunday by the Detroit Tigers, have named Medich to pitch against the Red Sox. Boston, an 8-6 winner over the Milwaukee Brewers Sunday, will pitch Roger Moret.

The Orioles, who stayed one game from the top after a 7-4 loss to the Cleveland Indians, visit Milwaukee tonight in the opener of a two-game series before playing the Yankees in Baltimore Wednesday and Thursday.

In the other American League games Sunday, the Texas Rangers clipped the Oakland A's 5-1; the Minnesota Twins beat the Kansas City Royals 8-4 and the Chicago White Sox defeated the California Angels 1-0.

Bill Freehan had a grand slam homer and three singles and drove in seven runs as Detroit slowed New York's pennant drive. Joe Coleman, 12-12, held the Yankees to seven hits.

"It makes me feel good that we have a lot to say about the pennant race," said Coleman. "It makes this last month of the season worthwhile."

The Tigers are hopelessly out of the East race, 9½ games behind in last place.

Freehan's homer, his 13th of the baseball season, capped a five-run, two-out, third inning against Dick Tidrow, 11-12.

Gary Sutherland singled in the first run, Al Kaline followed with an infield hit and Ben Oglivie walked to set the stage for Freehan.

Freehan also singled in the fifth to score Kaline from second with a single to center field, then lashed a two-run single in the sixth to highlight a three-run inning.

Red Sox 8, Brewers 6
Dwight Evans belted a two-run homer, Dwight Evans hit a key double and Dick Pole pitched sparkling relief ball to lead Boston over Milwaukee.

The victory, Boston's second straight after an eight-game losing streak, gave the Red Sox an identical 74-65 record as the Yankees.

"This is a definite lift for us," said Boston Manager Darrell Johnson. "Having a young guy like Pole come in and do a great job and coming back from a 4-0 deficit is a big plus."

Taking over for starter Juan Marichal after Milwaukee scored two runs and had the bases loaded with one out in the first, Pole gave up a two-run single to Tom Johnson, but was in command until the eighth inning when the Brewers scored their final two runs.

The Red Sox used two more pitchers to put down the eighth-inning rally, including Diego Segui, who earned his 19th save of the season.

Losing 4-0, the Red Sox rallied to tie the game with a run in the fourth and three in the fifth, then went ahead in a two-run sixth highlighted by Griffin's RBI double.

Evans' homer in the seventh provided Boston with its eventual winning runs.

"I threw well until I got a little tired," Pole said. "I guess I'll have to call home tonight and tell them I finally won a game."

The Indians took a 4-0 advantage in the third on Spikes' run-scoring double off loser Jim Palmer, 6-11.

The Orioles struck for three runs in the fourth off winner Jim Perry, 15-10. Enos Cabell hit his second homer with Don Baylor aboard and Ellie Hendricks later scored on Mark Belanger's single.

Frank Duffy's double drove home Luis Alvarado in the seventh, then Duffy scored on an error. Spikes' leadoff homer in the eighth, his 20th of the season, provided the Indians with their final run.

Rangers 5, A's 1
Ferguson Jenkins scattered seven hits, pitching Texas over Oakland and moving the Rangers within 5½ games of the A's in the American League West. Jenkins, 22-11, struck out 10 and walked one.

Twins 8, Royals 4
Light-hitting Phil Roof, who came into the game with a .213 batting average and just nine runs batted in for the season, belted the first grand slam of his major league career to lead Minnesota over Kansas City.

White Sox 1, Angels 0
Lee Richard's third-inning double—the only hit off Andy Hassler—led to the only run of the game as Chicago beat California.

Americans Remain Unbeaten 41-40 Heartstopper Over Fire

By The Associated Press
The Birmingham Americans, the World Football League's cardiac kids, have done it again. They pulled out a thrilling 41-40 victory over the Chicago Fire to keep their perfect record intact.

Earl Sark booted a 34-yard field goal with just 52 seconds left to enable Birmingham to win for the 10th time in as many outings. It was the sixth time the Americans have rallied late in the final quarter to pull out a victory.

George Mira threw two touchdown passes as Birmingham built a 38-19 lead going into the fourth quarter. But Virgil Carter rallied Chicago with three touchdown passes of his own, giving him five for the game, as the Fire went on top 40-38 with less than three minutes to play.

Reserve quarterback Matthew Reed then engineered the Americans into position for Sark's winning kick.

Memphis quarterbacks John Huarte and Danny White bombed Houston into submission with five touchdown passes. Huarte connected on scoring passes of 42 and 12 yards to Ed Marshall and 21 yards to J.J.

49ers Lose Steve Spurrier As Quarterback Injures Shoulder

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

The San Francisco 49ers lost more than an exhibition game Sunday afternoon when quarterback Steve Spurrier was knocked out of action for about two months.

Spurrier, a former Heisman Trophy winner from Florida, was looking forward to starting the National Football League campaign as the 49ers No. 1 quarterback for the first time in his eight pro seasons. But the Ram defense ended his plans, knocking him out of action in the third quarter with a right shoulder separation.

Joe Reed took his place but Los Angeles wound up with a 17-7 victory anyway to close out the preseason with a 5-1 mark.

In Sunday night games, the New England Patriots dumped the Philadelphia Eagles 27-17 and the Atlanta Falcons beat the Denver Broncos 20-14.

Spurrier was to be operated on today.

Reed, a three-year veteran out of Mississippi State who sometimes sings the National Anthem before ballgames, inherited Spurrier's starting spot.

Reed's efforts Sunday were highlighted by two pass interceptions and a five-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter.

Los Angeles led 3-0 at the half and wrapped it up in the third period with a pair of touchdowns. Defensive end Fred Dryer sacked Spurrier early in the quarter, the ball popped loose and Jack Youngblood, the other Ram end, grabbed it and raced 54 yards for one score. John Hadl tossed a 10-yard pass to Harold Jackson for the other.

Jim Plunkett completed 14 of 19 passes for 184 yards and one touchdown for New England. John Tarver and Sam Cunningham scored on short runs for the Pats, 4-2.

Atlanta cornerback Tom Hayes picked off a Randy Johnson pass on the first play of the fourth quarter and raced 62 yards for a touchdown to put the Falcons, 4-2, on top for good. Bob Lee combined with Louis Neal on a 42-yard pass play for the other Atlanta TD, while Johnson threw a pair of scoring passes in the first half for Denver.

In Saturday's action, Earl Morrall tossed a pair of third-quarter touchdown passes to lead the Miami Dolphins past the Chicago Bears 30-7; Bob Berry hit on 13 of 15 passes for 198 yards and three TDs as the Minnesota Vikings crushed the San Diego Chargers 42-0.

Also, the Detroit Lions dumped the Cleveland Browns 21-7 as Jimmie Jones scored one touchdown and set up another with a 53-yard kickoff return; Ken Stader hit on 13 of 20 passes for 169 yards over the first two periods as the Oakland Raiders whipped the New York Jets 31-6; and Doug Winslow's 17-yard run in the final quarter helped the New Orleans Saints top the Houston Oilers 24-16.

Americans And Russians To Renew Cage Series

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — The College All-Stars, seeking a fourth victory, resume their basketball series with the Soviet National team tonight in Greensboro Coliseum.

The meeting is expected to produce the largest crowd of the series so far because six of the U.S. players are members of the North Carolina State University team.

In addition to All-American David Thompson, Wolfpack players on the team are Monte Towe, Moe Rivers, Phil Spence, Tim Stoddard and freshman forward Kenny Carr. N.C. State Coach Norman Sloan is coaching the U.S. team.

Spence, a burly forward, and the tiny 5-foot-5 Towe, a guard, have sparked for the U.S. Towe led all scorers with 18 points in the fourth game Saturday, won by the Americans 75-69. Spence added 14 and Thompson 13.

The fourth game, played at Spokane, Wash., almost ended after the first half because of protest signs, an Expo '74 official said.

Tommy Walker, entertainment director for the world's fair which sponsored the series of games between the two teams, said the threat was issued by Boris Kokorev, the Soviet pavilion director, and Leonid Ivanov, the leader of the basketball delegation.

Walker said the pair declared "quite forcefully" that their team would not return for second half play unless the signs protesting treatment of Soviet Jews were removed.

The signs were not removed, but Walker said his efforts to convince the protestors not to display them were sufficient to obtain agreement to continue the game.

Kokorev denied he had shown any interest in the protest in a telephone interview. But when pressed on the point, he abruptly hung up on a reporter. U.S. Commissioner General Claude Bekins, who participated in negotiations with the demonstrators, refused to comment.

Never-Say-Die Gang Does It Again

Three Touchdowns In Final Minutes Send Racers To Incredible 35-27 Comeback Win

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

There have been men on their death beds, so close to eternity that they could feel the chill from the hand of death. But yet, they refused to die.

Tom Pandolfi felt that same chill Saturday night. And his Murray State football teammates felt it too as they walked the sidelines, watching as the Racers' unbeaten string in Stewart Stadium neared an abrupt end.

Beside the Murray State quarterback stood offensive tackle Dan Helfrich, walking up and down the sidelines screaming with an emotional cry, "talk to my defense, talk to my defense!"

Moments later, Pandolfi was up and on the field, staring at the scoreboard which showed Cameron State leading Murray 27-14 with just over eight minutes left to play in the game.

To a closely-knit football team, a loss is death. And for this team, which had faced the same situation so many times last season and still managed to come through, there was too much faith to accept what many of the 11,000 fans thought was now inevitable.

Faith can move a mountain, the faith of the Murray State offensive line began moving the huge defensive line of Cameron State. Pandolfi got the much needed protection and in six minutes, the crowd watched as the senior quarterback fired three touchdown passes as the Racers came up with another miracle win, 35-27 over the rugged Oklahoma team.

"Anytime a ballclub with a bunch of transfers is away from home," Murray Coach Bill Furgerson said, "they can play well for much of the game."

"But when it gets down to the pressure and you have a group of closely-knit people who believe in themselves, the school and the community, the other folks are going to break down."

The first sign of that breakdown began to show when the Racers took over the ball with 9:46 after Cameron State had scored its fourth touchdown of the game.

In the following series, Pandolfi connected on three consecutive passes, moving the ball all the way down to the Aggies' five-yard line. And on a second and goal, the Racers swept fullback B. F. Behrendt out of the backfield and down the sideline for a six-pointer with 5:51 left in the game.

Flip Martin, who is one of the top high jumpers in the Ohio Valley Conference, booted the PAT and with 5:51 left in the game, Murray trailed 27-21.

Martin's kickoff went into the endzone and the ball was brought out to the Cameron 20, where on the first play from scrimmage, tailback Jesse Cohee fumbled and middle linebacker Don Hettich recovered for Murray.

Same Play
Five plays later, Murray used the same play, sending All-American tailback Don Clayton down this time in the right corner where Pandolfi put the ball in Clayton's hands for a 20-yard scoring pass.

The PAT by Martin split the uprights and with 3:28, Murray led 28-27 as the audience, once again silent, turned into a lake of cheers, spilling across the turf and into the ears of the shocked Cameron State team.

"The play fake in the backfield holds the linebackers for a longer time," Pandolfi said of his two passes to his runningbacks, Behrendt and Clayton.

"The cornerbacks take after the run action and so if I can get the protection from our offensive line, there is usually someone downfield who is free."

Trevino Wins On 7th Playoff Hole

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Lee Trevino beat Gary Player with a par on the seventh sudden death playoff hole today—the second hole of the day—and claimed the $50,000 first prize in the World Series of Golf.

The playoff went through five holes before being stopped by darkness Sunday and resumed at 10 a.m. EDT Monday.

Both Player, the little South African who won the 1974 Masters and British Open titles, and PGA champion Trevino birdied the par four 14th hole Monday.

Trevino holed out from 40 feet and Player scored from 12. On the 15th, a long par three, Player bunkered his tee shot and Trevino was 30 feet behind the hole.

Player came out to 15 feet, Trevino got down in two and Gary missed the putt that would have extended the playoff.

Trevino and Player tied at the end of the regulation 36 holes Sunday with scores of 139, one-under-par on the 7,180-yard Firestone Country Club Course.

Canadian Open Champion Bobby Nichols and U.S. Open champion Hale Irwin had scores of 143 and 146, respectively.

Player and Trevino matched pars on five playoff holes before darkness settled Sunday night.

It was Trevino's first victory in this elite event that brings together only the winners of the world's major titles.

Racer Soccer Team Loses 4-1 To Vandy

Murray State University opened its soccer season Sunday afternoon with a 4-1 loss to Vanderbilt in Cutchin Stadium.

Vandy, which had already played three games this season, led throughout the 90-minute contest.

Murray's only goal came with about 10 minutes left when Laken Biobaku scored.

The Racers had a lot of opportunities to score in the first half but the ball simply wouldn't go in the net.

Pandolfi used the play numerous times throughout the game, with the biggest one being a 26-yard pass to Clayton on a fourth and two from the Cameron State 32 in the series where Behrendt scored on a five-yard pass to cap the drive.

On the kickoff following the touchdown pass to Clayton that put the Racers ahead, Martin again booted the ball into the endzone.

And once again, the Aggies turned it over on the first play from scrimmage.

Quarterback Vince Hobbs' pass was picked off by Racerback Al Martin on the Aggie 30.

Three plays later, on a third and 16 from the 36, Pandolfi hit wide receiver Willie DeLoach with a pass in the end zone with 1:34 left and Martin's PAT gave Murray a 35-27 lead.

And if twice wasn't enough, Martin's kickoff sailed into the endzone for the third consecutive time and for the third consecutive time, the Aggies lost the ball as cornerback Don Deichen recovered a fumble and the win in the dedication game of Stewart Stadium was assured.

Best Game
Pandolfi finished the contest hitting 15 of 20 passes for 207 yards and four touchdowns, while running for the other six-point himself.

"Nobody ever had any doubts whether or not we'd win," Pandolfi said. "As for myself, I'd have to consider this the best game of my career."

"Protection wise, our line did a good job when the chips were down," the pre-season All-Conference selection added.

Cameron State's quarterback Vince Hobbs also had an outstanding game as he passed for three touchdowns and 222 yards on a 10 for 14 evening.

But on the ground, it was a different story, at least for the Racers.

Murray could pick up only 86 yards rushing while Cameron State had 179.

Clayton, who had two pass receptions for a total of 46 yards, was able to get just 82 on the ground.

Last year as a junior, Clayton amassed 1403 yards in 10 games.

"The problem was we couldn't cope with their size," Furgerson said.

"We were playing all out, doing the best we could. I told everyone last week this would be one of the biggest and best teams we'd ever play."

"What saved us was two great calls by Carl Oakley (Racer offensive coach), the one to Clayton and the one to DeLoach that got us out of the woods."

Score Early
On its second series of the game, Cameron State scored with Hobbs drilling a 65-yard scoring pass to Billy Lynn, giving the Aggies an early 6-0 lead as the extra point failed.

The first big break in the game for Murray came on the only Racer scoring drive of the half when a pass interference penalty was called as Willie DeLoach was hit on the one-yard line.

That carried the ball from the 32 of the Aggies to the one where on the first play, Pandolfi crossed on a keeper. Martin hit the PAT and Murray led 7-6.

Just five seconds into the second period, fullback Don Brown went in from 12 yards out and Cameron State took a 14-7 lead as the two-point conversion was successful.

"At halftime, besides the usual talk, we talked about somebody coming up with the big performance in the second half."

"Pandolfi became the hero of the bench. Mr. Cool sat back there against the rush and picked out his open receivers and found them," Furgerson said.

Early in the third period, Cameron State scored on a 29-yard run and the PAT left the Aggies with a 21-7 lead.

Near the end of the quarter, Pandolfi hit Doug Sanders with a three-yard pass and again Murray trailed by seven.

Then with 9:46 left in the game, Cameron State went ahead 27-14 as Hobbs hit split end Bimbo Herron with a 26-yard pass and the stage was set for the miracle comeback, led by Pandolfi.

One Injury
The Racers suffered one major injury in the contest.

Junior tight end Marty Strouse broke his collar bone and will miss the remainder of the season.

Other than that, there were a lot of bumps and bruises but nothing major.

Murray will now face a crucial three-game road stand beginning Saturday at Western Carolina.

The conference season opens in the road on the 21st at Morehead. The Racers next game will be against Martin on October 12.

Irish And Tech Meet In Televised Contest

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Ap Sports Writer

ATLANTA (AP) — "We're not the No. 1 team in the country right now," says Ara Parseghian, coach of Notre Dame's defending college football champions.

That's Parseghian's honest opinion as the Fighting Irish prepare to open their season tonight in a nationally televised game (ABC-TV, 9 p.m., EDT) against Georgia Tech. And the sports writers and broadcasters who vote in The Associated Press poll agree with him. They have the Irish ranked third behind Oklahoma and Ohio State.

There's just one small catch to Parseghian's assessment of his team.

"It's not significant to be No. 1 at this stage of the season," he says. "It's more of a handicap right now than an advantage. I'm not saying we won't be No. 1 at the end of the season. Our objectives are always the same — we'd like to go undefeated, we'd like to go to a bowl and we'd like to win the national championship. It's just going to be a lot more difficult this year."

Parseghian seemed to be sitting pretty following the 24-23 Sugar Bowl triumph over Alabama that nailed down the 1973 national crown. He expected 17 starters back to defend the title, but for one reason or another — injuries, accidents, university suspensions — five of them have been lost and three of their backup men also are sidelined.

Parseghian doesn't know too much about Georgia Tech, but neither does Pepper Rodgers, Tech's new coach. The Yellow Jackets will use the Wishbone offense, which helped Rodgers mold an awesome rushing attack at UCLA.

In Saturday's action, UCLA and Tennessee battled to a 17-17 tie. The Bruins, ranked 12th, had a shot at winning in the final 14 seconds but Brett White's 40-yard field goal attempt went wide.

Quarterback Condredge Holloway got the 16th-ranked Vols on the scoreboard in the first quarter, connecting with Stanley Morgan on a 74-yard touchdown pass play on the second play of the game. Bruins quarterback John Sciarra ran and passed UCLA into the lead in the final period, but Holloway tied Tennessee 80 yards for the tying TD, capping the drive with a 12-yard run.

Dave Buckley threw for two touchdowns and ran for a third as No. 18 North Carolina State piled up 30 points over the final two quarters to whip Wake Forest 33-15. The Wolfpack gained 265 yards rushing while holding the Deacons to just 46.

No. 15 Arizona State upset No. 11 Houston 30-9 with sophomore Freddie Williams racing 69 yards for one touchdown and going four yards for another.

In other top games, Syracuse downed Oregon State 23-15. Tailback Ken Kinsey gained 169 yards on 38 carries for Syracuse.

New Mexico State shaded Wichita State 13-12 with Jim Germany running for 118 yards on 28 carries.

Tampa shut out Tennessee-Chattanooga 28-0 as Freddie Solomon scored two touchdowns and passed for another.

Senate To Take Up Commodity Trading, Copyrights This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Control of commodities trading and copyright regulations top the Senate agenda this week, while the House returns from an extended Labor Day recess.

A showdown is expected in the Senate over whether to require broadcasters and other record users to pay copyright royalties to singers and other performers.

But first, at today's session, the Senate was to take up a bill providing for expanded government regulation of the nation's commodities-futures market.

A strengthened version of a measure already passed by the House, it would set up an independent commission empowered to seek injunctions against abuses in the $500 billion-a-year commodity trading business.

The House returns Wednesday from an extended Labor Day recess. The Senate returned a week earlier.

The initial measure before the House will be a bill, prompted by recent controversy over floating rate notes, that would give federal agencies discretionary authority to control the issue of debt obligations by banks and other financial institutions.

In mid-week the Senate Post Office and Civil Service Committee is to consider a resolution to disapprove President Ford's deferral for three months of a proposed 5.5 percent pay raise for federal employees.

Delaying the increase from Oct. 1 to Jan. 1 would save $700 million, but government employee unions have mounted a campaign against the postponement.

The President's action, part of his budget-cutting efforts to fight inflation, can be overridden by majority vote in either the Senate or the House.

The Senate Rules Committee also has set a meeting for Wednesday at which it hopes to be able to announce a time for starting public hearings on Nelson A. Rockefeller's nomination to be vice president.

Chairman Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., said it also would try to decide how to deal with the vast financial holdings of the former New York governor.

The House Judiciary Committee, also considering the nomination, is expected to lag behind the Senate in conducting hearings. Some House leaders said they did not see how action on Rockefeller's nomination could be completed until after the Nov. 5 elections.

Pardon Receives Praise And Criticism From State Officials

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — President Ford's pardon of former President Nixon Sunday received both praise and criticism from Kentucky officials.

"Although I don't condone any actions concerning Watergate, I stand with President Gerald R. Ford; I strongly support his action," said Rep. Tim Lee Carter, a Republican.

He said he believed the American people "want to see this thing brought to a conclusion."

Nixon "has been through a great mental torture for the past year, Carter said. 'Regardless of what his detractors say, he rendered great service to the United States...'

The two major party candidates for the U.S. Senate cited the same principle in commenting on the pardon—no man is above the law.

U.S. Sen. Marlow W. Cook, a Republican seeking re-election, without actually endorsing the President's action, suggested that Nixon and his family "may have been punished enough" for his involvement in the Watergate affair.

Gov. Wendell Ford, Cook's Democratic opponent in the Senate race, said: "I seriously question whether the President considered what is best for America, or what is best for one man..."

In a statement released through his press secretary, Ford said: "We are a nation of laws and not of men. This matter was in the hands of the special prosecutor, Mr. (Leon) Jaworski, who had been following a standard legal procedure to very thoroughly look into the Watergate episode."

"The President's unusual action takes that away from the special prosecutor, and apparently a full revelation, insofar as any particular role played by Mr. Nixon, will not be possible," Ford said.

Cook, at a news conference in Louisville, called the President's action unprecedented, but added that "obviously he has the authority to do it."

Cook, an attorney, said he was unaware of any former instance of a blanket pardon being granted prior to the lodging of a charge or indictment of an individual, but he said it was possible there may have been a precedent "way back in history."

U.S. Sen. Walter (Dee) Hud-leston, a Democrat serving his first term, said he believed Ford's pardon was "an unwise decision at this time."

Huddleston, speaking from his home in Washington, said: "While I personally do not see the need for further punishment of Mr. Nixon, I do believe the record as to the former president's culpability in Watergate should be clearly presented and proven to the American people."

He said that such a presentation is now impossible.

"Certainly any pardon should be accompanied by a clear admission of guilt to specific crimes of Mr. Nixon," Huddleston said. "The pardon at this time and the subsequent statement by Mr. Nixon does not fulfill this requirement."

Charles Coy of Richmond, state GOP chairman, said the pardon was the President's "sole prerogative."

He said that Nixon "left off because of the pressures brought to bear upon him as a direct result of the matters which could result in his indictment."

"The latter of these two factors was itself a severe punishment of Richard Nixon," Coy said.

Nixon Admits He Made Mistakes And Misjudgments In Watergate

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon, newly immune from Watergate prosecution, admits he made "mistakes and misjudgments" in handling the scandal.

"The way I tried to deal with Watergate was the wrong way. I shall bear for every day of the life that is left to me," Nixon said Sunday of the scandal that shadowed his administration for two years and led to his resignation.

The former chief executive made his remarks in a statement released less than 10 minutes after President Ford announced he had granted Nixon full pardon for any offense he may have committed in the White House.

"In accepting this pardon, I hope that his compassionate act will contribute to lifting the burden of Watergate from our country," Nixon said.

"Looking back on what is still in my mind a complex and confusing maze of events, decisions, pressures and personalities, one thing I can see more clearly now is that I was wrong in not acting more decisively and more forthrightly in dealing with Watergate, particularly when it grew from a political scandal into a national tragedy."

"I know that many fair-minded people believe that my motivations and actions in the Watergate affair were intentionally self-serving and illegal. I now understand how my own mistakes and misjudgments have contributed to that belief and seemed to support it. That burden is the heaviest one of all to bear," he said.

Nixon said "here in California, my perspective on Watergate is quite different than it was while I was embattled in the midst of the controversy, and while I was still subject to the unrelenting daily demands of the presidency itself."

"No words can describe the depths of my regret and pain at the anguish my mistakes over Watergate have caused the nation and the presidency—a nation I so deeply love and an institution I so greatly respect."

Later Sunday, Nixon and his wife drove to the Palm Springs estate of Walter H. Annenberg, U.S. ambassador to Great Britain. Daughter Julie Nixon Eisenhower said in Washington that her parents had gone to Palm Springs for a rest and planned to spend the night there.

Reading, Writing, Watergate To Highlight Nation's Schools

By TERRY RYAN
Associated Press Writer
From grade school to college, it will be reading, writing and Watergate this fall in many classrooms across the country.

A sampling of public schools from New York to Hawaii showed that the Watergate scandal, its implications and effects, will be discussed in many social science, civics, history and government classes.

At the college level, there are special Watergate courses at some schools and professors elsewhere said they will include it in political science and other classes.

Samuel Dash, formerly chief counsel of the Senate Watergate committee, will be teaching a criminal law course at Georgetown University in Washington. Some students are calling it "Watergate One," a university spokesman said.

Students at Parkrose High School in Portland, Ore., will use Watergate tape transcripts as a textbook for their current issues class. In Columbus, Ohio, Watergate will be part of a 12th grade social studies course called "Principles of Democracy."

Many school officials said they expect the subject to come up spontaneously.

"Good teachers of history or political science would automatically include Watergate and its ramifications," said Roland Okenchek of the curriculum department of Milwaukee public schools.

The chancellor of New York City's public schools said this week that Watergate and its long-term implications for students and the country would be part of the social studies curriculum in all elementary, junior and senior high schools.

"The basic responsibility of schools is to train students for citizenship, and we're obviously going to have to do something to avoid cynicism of young people toward their government as a result of the scandal," said Chancellor Irving Anker.

Dorm Space In Many State Universities At A Premium

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Officials at college campuses in Kentucky cite spiraling off-campus prices as a major reason for the fact that dormitory space at half the state's colleges is at a premium this year.

"I think that a lot of students are moving back to the campus now because of the high costs of living in the city," said Dr. Eddie Morris, Kentucky State University's registrar and dean of admissions.

He said off-campus food costs and rent in Frankfort have nearly doubled in the past two years.

At Kentucky State, most students will pay from $280 to $333 a year to live in dormitories, or about a $30 increase over last year.

Food costs slightly more than $500 this year, about a $100 increase.

Other reasons cited for dormitory popularity included increased enrollment and liberalized dorm policies.

Most of the schools have eliminated curfews for women. "A trend toward trying to make dormitory living more like apartment living has brought students back to the campus," said University of Kentucky Housing Director

Ford Criticizes Lawsuit On Surplus Spending

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Wendell Ford has criticized the filing of a lawsuit that challenges his right to spend surplus state funds, and says he may suspend all campaigning as the Democratic nominee for the U. S. Senate to battle the suit.

Ford, speaking at a news conference in Louisville Saturday, called the suit "a cold-hearted move by my opponent" and an "inhuman action."

The suit was filed Friday by Republican state Rep. Larry Hopkins of Lexington and Albert Christen, finance commissioner under former Republican Gov. Louie B. Nunn.

Ford's Republican opponent in the Senate race, U.S. Sen.

Marlow Cook, said he knew nothing about the suit before it was filed Friday.

The suit says in essence that the 1974 legislature acted unconstitutionally in delegating broad power to Ford to appropriate surplus funds over the next two years.

The governor had asked for the leeway because of the uncertainty of the effects of the energy crisis. Thus far, however, state income has greatly exceeded that predicted in Ford's original budget, leaving millions in surplus funds.

Ford has already earmarked $73.6 million of the actual and estimated surpluses.

Ford says he is withholding all surplus funds until after the suit is settled.

Ford's Press Secretary Resigns Abruptly Sunday

WASHINGTON (AP) — White House Press Secretary Jerald F. terHorst has resigned abruptly, saying his credibility as spokesman for President Ford was irrevocably tarnished in the pardoning of Richard M. Nixon.

"The President acted in good conscience and I also found it necessary to resign in good conscience," terHorst said later. He told Ford he was quitting shortly before the President announced the pardon Sunday.

terHorst will be succeeded at least temporarily by John W. Hushen, who becomes acting press secretary. Hushen, 38, who had been top spokesman at the Justice Department for four years, joined the White House press office three weeks ago as deputy to terHorst.

Hushen, like terHorst a former Detroit News reporter, said he did not disagree with Ford on the pardon. He said, "I personally think he did the right thing."

terHorst, 52, a veteran Washington newspaperman whose career has been intertwined with Ford's off and on since 1948, was not consulted about the pardon. White House sources said he learned of it Saturday when it came time to prepare for a public announcement of Ford's surprise decision.

terHorst said he did not use threats of his resignation in any effort to dissuade Ford.

In a telephone interview from his Alexandria, Va., home, terHorst said his conscience told him it was unfair for Nixon to be pardoned while his former subordinates continue to be prosecuted for Watergate-related crimes.

"Mercy, like justice, must also be even-handed," terHorst said.

Some Watergate figures are already in jail, others are under indictment and "their reputations and families also have been injured," he said.

"I knew my credibility would be difficult to sustain... in the absence of a like decision to grant mercy to persons of lesser stations in life," terHorst said.

Ford issued a statement saying "I appreciate the fact that good people will differ with me on this very difficult decision."

"I deeply regret Jerry terHorst's resignation," Ford said. "I understand his position."

During his tenure as press secretary, terHorst won the praise of White House newsmen for speaking in simple declarative sentences and attempting to give reporters regular access to Ford's staff.

When Ford persuaded terHorst to turn in his press card and become at least an interim press secretary, the Grand Rapids, Mich., native was Washington bureau chief of the News. He was then about to start the final chapter of a biography of Ford, a book soon to be published.

He was the first man named to the new White House staff under Ford.

ler, hailed it as an act of compassion and courage.

—Lawyers for former Nixon aides and associates began reshaping their strategy for the Watergate cover-up trial and at least one defendant, H.R. Haldeman, planned new efforts to delay the trial now set to begin Sept. 30.

—Ford aides made public an agreement they had reached with Nixon to preserve his White House files for at least three years for possible court use. But the agreement allows the former president to destroy any White House tape recordings after September 1979.

Although Ford's announcement caught the capital and the country by surprise, sources said it had been preceded by 10 days of legal deliberations and negotiations with Nixon and special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski.

It also represented a reversal of Ford's previous public statements. During his vice presidential confirmation hearings, Ford said, "I do not think the public would stand for" such a pardon. And at a news conference Aug. 28 he said it would be "unwise and untimely" for him to commit himself until "any legal process has been undertaken" against Nixon.

White House counsel Philip Buchen said Nixon faced likely indictment prior to the pardon. He said it was granted without strings attached, but acknowledged Ford knew in advance the gist of Nixon's follow-up statement.

Three hours after he knelt in prayer at early morning communion services, Ford summoned a television crew and a few newsmen into his Oval Office to announce the pardon prohibiting any federal criminal prosecution of Nixon "for all offenses against the United States" during his 2,027 days in office.

"I feel that Richard Nixon and his loved ones have suffered enough," Ford said.

Investigations Made By Police

Murray City Police made three investigations over the weekend, according to department reports.

Dwain Taylor reported vandalism and attempted theft to a car parked in his driveway, when an attempt was made to remove a tape player. Damage was estimated at $300 to the car.

T.J. Gardner reported the theft of a gas lantern from his car it was parked on the Palace parking lot.

Will Ed Stokes, Stokes Implement Co., reported a calculator, tools, and a shotgun taken from his office. Entry was made by breaking a window. The value of the goods was placed at $375.

Investigations are continuing into the incidents, police said.

speaking slowly and glancing often at a 950-word statement.

"My conscience tells me clearly and certainly that I cannot prolong the bad dreams that continue to reopen a chapter that is closed. My conscience tells me that only I, as President, have the constitutional power to firmly shut and seal this book."

He said it is "common knowledge that serious allegations and accusations hang like a sword over our former president's head and threaten his health as he tries to reshape his life...."

As Ford delivered his decision, his spokesman-for-a-month stood in the rear of the Oval Office, grim-faced and silent. Later it was learned that a half-hour prior to the statement, terHorst, 52, had told Ford he was resigning.

"It was... after a great deal of soul searching that I decided I couldn't in good conscience support the President's decision... even though I knew he took that action in good conscience," terHorst said Sunday night in an interview with The Associated Press.

He noted that former Nixon aides are either in prison or under indictment for Watergate-related offenses and added: "Mercy, like justice, must also be even-handed."

"I knew my credibility would be difficult to sustain... in the absence of a like decision to grant mercy to persons of lesser stations in life."

John Hushen, 38, hired by terHorst last month as his deputy, was named acting press secretary.

Ford said in a statement issued by the White House press office Sunday night that he deeply regretted terHorst's resignation but "I understand his position."

Democrats led the parade of congressmen disagreeing with Ford's action, and they were joined by some Republicans.

"... A serious mistake," said Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass. "It raises very real questions... about whether we have a double standard of justice in this country."

"... A dangerous precedent," said Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn.

Several Senate Republicans joined in the criticism, among them Charles McC. Mathias of Maryland, Lowell P. Weicker of Connecticut, Clifford P. Case of New Jersey and Richard Schweiker of Pennsylvania.

But some prominent Democrats, notably Sens. John C. Stennis and James O. Eastland of Mississippi, said Ford took the correct action. And leading Republicans rallied to his defense.

"It was a courageous decision," said Senate GOP Leader Hugh Scott.

"... It was the only decent and prudent course to follow," said Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona.

Miss Texas Crowned New 'Miss America'

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — One of the new Miss America's favorite people is television talk show host Johnny Carson.

And it was visions of Carson that danced before her eyes as she was winning the title.

Shirley Cothran, the former Miss Texas, played a jazzy flute melody before a live crowd of 20,400 and a nationwide television audience Saturday night.

Before going on stage, she recalled, "I thought, 'jeeees, Johnny Carson's probably watching me.'"

The 21-year-old guidance counselor from Denton, Tex., cried when she was crowned just before midnight Saturday; cried at a ball later and resumed weeping Sunday morning at a brunch for all 50 contestants. Her predecessor, Rebecca Ann King of Colorado, shed no tears last year.

Between tears, the hazel-eyed brunette told reporters that she loves apple pie; supports abortion, the equal rights amendment and President Ford's pardon of former President Richard M. Nixon; opposes marijuana, and is undecided on amnesty for draft evaders.

Miss Cothran, a devout Baptist who neither smokes nor drinks, is Denton's second Miss America in four years. The other, Phyllis George, was a co-hostess at this year's pageant.

Authorities said about 14,000

as the president and vice-presidents, explained his position this way:

All faculty members in question held either instructor or assistant professor rank and were not eligible for tenure under policy prior to 1969. Hence, their probationary years did not begin until the 1969 policy was adopted and they were actually included among those eligible for tenure consideration.

The board also denied a request for a hearing made by Bill Wells, a member of the recreation and physical education faculty, who was one of those denied tenure last spring.

James Davis, regent from Owensboro, made the motion to deny the request "and all other similar requests" growing out of the tenure issue. He was joined by several board members in expressing his apprehension that granting such a hearing would set an undesirable precedent.

A faculty member denied tenure may turn to the civil courts for recourse.

Cunningham, arguing for granting the hearing, said the implications of tenure denial may force a faculty member out of higher education the rest of his life "therefore he is entitled to challenge the reasons for which he was terminated."

He was joined on the minority side of the 7-3 vote by Skip Neale of Murray and Gene Roberts, student representative on the board.

The board did, however, adopt a motion by Bill Carnela, also an Owensboro regent, to organize an appropriate committee "to study and reevaluate the tenure policy so the board can either amend it or reaffirm it."

Carris told the board he will support a change in tenure policy if the faculty consensus favors a change. He added that he admits it has some shortcomings but said he has not seen any alternative yet that he considers acceptable.

In other action, the board approved a Center for Regional Services and a "Life and Learning" adult education series as new regional programs, adopted a uniform work and holiday calendar for the new school year for 12-month employees and designated Dr. Kris Jeter as acting chairman of the Department of Child Studies for 1974-75.

The new holiday schedule reduced the number of established and legal holidays at the university from 16 1/2 to 13 1/2 for the year.

Carris, in a brief enrollment report, expressed optimism, although he said final figures are not yet available. He called preliminary data on full-time students "most encouraging" and said the size of the freshman class appears to be the largest in five years.

He also termed the new Master of Business Administration program in Owensboro "a resounding success" with more than 90 enrolled in the program.

Students in the Owensboro area may earn the M.B.A. degree by attending all evening classes in Owensboro.

Watergate Defense Lawyers Reshape Cases After Pardon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Defense lawyers in the Watergate cover-up case are reshaping their strategies, hoping the unconditional pardon of former President Richard M. Nixon will turn the jury their way or even result in dismissal of charges.

At least one defendant, H. R. Haldeman, planned to make new efforts at delaying the six-man conspiracy trial, scheduled to begin Sept. 30.

President Ford's "free, full and absolute pardon" of Nixon, for all offenses he may have committed while President, does not extend to the numerous former Nixon lieutenants who already have pleaded guilty, been convicted or still face charges in Watergate and related cases.

One of Haldeman's lawyers, Frank J. Strickler, suggested it should.

"From what the President said, if you follow it logically, he could find grounds to do the same thing for Haldeman," Strickler said Sunday. "It's a logical extension. It seems to me something that might follow."

But he would not say whether an appeal will be made to Ford.

Although the grand jury named Nixon an indicted co-conspirator in the case, no charges had been brought against him. But Ford's counsel, Philip Buchen, said "I think it would be very likely that he would be indicted."

He said there were "lots of precedents" for pardons in advance of charges, citing one during the administration of Woodrow Wilson and others granted by Abraham Lincoln.

"As far as I know, no thought has been given" to granting pardons to the cover-up defendants, Buchen said. They are, in addition to Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman, John N. Mitchell, Gordon Strachan, Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson.

President Ford's action does not mean the end of Nixon's legal involvement, however. He has been subpoenaed by Ehrlichman, his former chief domestic adviser, as a witness at the trial, and numerous civil suits name him as a defendant.

The pardon applies only to "all offenses against the United States" during his presidency. That would preclude any federal prosecutions for income tax fraud, for example, but not state charges if brought.

Legal sources said that as a witness at the cover-up trial, Nixon will not be able to claim his constitutional right against self-incrimination because he can no longer be prosecuted for any incriminating admissions.

Watergate defense lawyers were divided in their evaluation of the pardon's impact on the trial.

One said he doubts any jury can convict any of the defendants when the "leader of the so-called Watergate has been relieved of any responsibility for his acts."

Another lawyer said: "He's (Nixon) been named as an unindicted co-conspirator and he's been let off. The jury is going to know that before the trial... (and) during the trial... I think it's going to be favorable to the defendants."

But a third attorney said: "I can't think of any way it's going to help. To me, it's just not in the books."

Quarter-Inch Shy, Porter Is Finally A State Trooper

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — It's taken Glenn Porter six years and one quarter inch—but today he's a member of the 49th cadet class at the Kentucky State Police Academy.

When he first applied six years ago, Porter was a quarter of an inch shy of the 5-foot-9 1/2 inch height requirement.

Since that time, the Greenup native has undergone chiropractic treatment, physical therapy and stretching exercises to attain the extra height.

"It's been a struggle," he said. "Regulations are regulations, and I understand that they (State Police Personnel Selection Board) have to draw the line somewhere."

Asked if any of his 44 classmates ever call him "shorty," Porter pointed out that they hardly tower over him, since his height is "just a little shy of average."
