Several persons came to the informal corridor public hearing on the four-laning of 12th Street, held at City Hall yesterday. Mayor John Scott said that as many as 200-300 persons came to view the proposals. Although most were interested in isolated lots and the effect of the improvements, Mayor Scott said that only three or four were "violently opposed" to the improvements. A formal corridor public hearing will be held next Thursday at the University School auditorium.

Council Handles General Business Of City Thursday

Reports this week of a possible electric power shortage this winter have prompted many inquiries at the Murray Natural Gas System concerning installation of gas appliances, Tommy Marshall, superintendent of the system told the Murray City Council last night.

Marshall explained that the system could not hook up additional homes to natural gas service or add gas appliances at homes already serviced by natural gas due to a resolution adopted by the city council in December of 1972. Marshall pointed out that again this year Texas Gas Transmission Co., which supplies natural gas to Murray, would not increase the allotment of gas to the city for the coming year.

"We should be able to get through the winter, unless it is an unusually cold winter, with a curtailment on gas usage by major industrial customers only," Marshall said.

In other business the council: —hired two new patrolmen for the Police Department;

—accepted bids on the purchase of four items, including two vehicles;

—authorized the advertising for bids on new radio equipment for the Fire Department; and;

—adopted a resolution supporting the four-laning of 12th Street from Sycamore to the present four-lane on the north side of the city.

New patrolmen hired for the Police Department are David Wayne Coker, 404 S. 9th St., and Phillip R. Simpson who has recently moved to Murray from Franklin County, Ohio, where he was a patrolman for the sheriff's department. Coker has previously worked for the Murray Police Department as dispatcher and has been a part-time patrolman on the Hazel Police Force. Police Committee Chairman Ed Chrisman, speaking for the committee and Police Chief Brent Manning, recommended the two over four others who applied for the positions.

The council accepted the lone bid of $12,263 from the Power and Telephone Supply Co. of Memphis for lighting for the new tennis courts being constructed adjacent to Murray High School. The Murray Electric System was authorized to act as the agent in the transaction.

Band Participation Near Double In Last 3 Years Board Of Education Told

Interest in the instrumental music program in the Murray City Schools has nearly doubled in the last three years, the Murray Board of Education was told last night.

Meeting in regular session, the board heard a report from Band Director Joe Sills. A letter of commendation and praise toward the band was read from Carlton Barnes, of Memphis, concerning the band's performance at a recent Memphis pro football game.

The letter praised the band for its performance, saying it was the best high school band to have performed there, and cited a standing ovation for the band at the end of its halftime performance.

Sills showed a sound film of the band's performance, and also gave a report on the band's enrollment. He said that 240 students were enrolled in the program three years ago, 325 last year, and 433 this year.

A report on the band's trip to the Orange Bowl Parade this year noted that the Brooks Bus Lines will provide the transportation for the members.

Costs for the trip will amount to nearly $27,000, about $2,000 more than was originally estimated. Costs will include $10,300 for bus transportation; $7,328 for lodging; $1,200 for activities and tours; $6,800 for food; and about $1,000 for miscellaneous expenses, including insurance.

Following a discussion of the reports, Vice-Chairman of the Board Donald Henry commended Sills and the band for its outstanding work and pledged the continuing support of the board of education.

An audit of the Headstart program was approved by the board, showing federal receipts of $25,614, with expenditures of $25,604.98.

Two MHS Seniors Get Commendations

Two seniors at Murray High School have been named "Merit Program Commended" students by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Principal Eli Alexander announced that Laurie Beatty, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Durwood Beatty, 1662 College Terrace, and Ken Grogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Grogan, 805 Doran Road, have received letters of commendation.

These students are among the 38,000 commended students named on the basis of their high performance on the 1973 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test. Commended students are in the upper two percent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1975.

Laurie has been very active in speech work; band; the stage band; Student Council; Tri Alpha, serving as chaplain this year; the French Club and the newspaper staff as assistant editor.

Ken has been in football, track, speech, and the French Club. He was in the cast of the junior play last year.

Edward C. Smith, president of National Merit Scholarship Corporation, said: "The high standing of commended students in the Merit program shows their great promise, and their attainment in this nationwide program deserves public recognition."

Ford Rules Out Wage-Price Controls As Summit Convenes

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford convened a summit conference on inflation today by again ruling out wage and price controls and condemning those who seek to take some advantage of economic uncertainty.

Ford declared in his opening remarks that there is no miracle cure for the nation's economic ills, then listened while congressional leaders, government officials, economists and labor leaders outlined proposed battle plans.

Top congressional Democrats criticized administration economic policies as inadequate.

"Credit curbs alone are not enough. Budget cuts alone are not enough," said Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield.

"It is time to try something different," AFL-CIO President George Meany told Ford after saying that administration policy is plunging the nation toward a depression.

Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., drew applause from the delegates, and a smile from Ford, when he declared it was time "to get rid of the holdovers who contributed to a series of economic mistakes."

When Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y., noted that some private advisers are urging their corporate clients to raise prices in anticipation of government controls, Ford termed such suggestions most unfortunate.

Calloway High Band To Perform In Marching Festival Saturday

The Calloway County High School Band under the direction of Terry Goodwin will perform at the Kentucky Music Education Association Marching Festival at Murray State University this Saturday for the first time in the history of the school. The Murray High Band will also be performing.

This year marks the first time for the CCHS Band to prepare a field competition show, as the Calloway County System does not have a football program. The band performed at the Owensboro Field Competition Sept. 14 and the Central City Field Competition Sept. 21.

Although not finishing in the top three places in their class, the band did an outstanding job for their first year, a spokesman said.

Saturday will be the first time that local citizens can see the band in action.

The band also plans to compete at the Mayfield Parade and Field Competition Oct. 19. Of special interest to Murray, the CCHS Marching Lakers have been invited to perform pre-game activities at the Murray High - Marshall Co. football game, Friday night Oct. 18 at the Roy Stewart Stadium.

Job Not Complete On Road In Hazel

(Editor's Note—This is the first appearance of a new column in the Murray Ledger & Times, "Between The Lines," which will be handled by staff writer, David Hill is designed to look into matters in Murray and Calloway County which have been overlooked or ignored by those responsible. It will not be run on a regular basis as such, but will appear if and when the need arises. Readers with possible subjects for the column should call or write to the newspaper, and the issue will be considered for publication.)

At the last regular Calloway County Fiscal Court meeting, a request came from Cy Miller, chairman of the Hazel Town Council for help on Hazel's streets from the Calloway County Road Department.

Although no formal voted action was taken by the court, the magistrates agreed that Hazel should be assisted, and promised some action.

After Miller left, the road supervisor, Rob Walston, was told that the road department should "get a good base" on roads to be paved before the paving was begun.

This column professes to know very little about road work, but will cite one example for public scrutiny.

The street leading north out of Hazel, in front of the cemetery, and turning east and then north again near the home of Floyd Barrow, was one of those paved by the county road department.

The road was gravel not too many months ago, and the road department put a layer of oil and rocks on the gravel last year. The road had since re-developed a "washboard" effect, and the road department was told to correct this problem before more pavement was put on the road. This was not done.

On another matter, Chairman Miller asked that ditching be done along the road. This has also not been done, although, according to one resident of the street, the road crews were out there, and the grader was idle long enough to have completed the job.

Perhaps this problem is in the process of being corrected, but the proper procedure has not been followed, and it has taken too long to accomplish.

We realize the road department has many tasks to perform, and many areas to work in, but a job should not be started unless there is the intent to finish it within a reasonable time.

Without ditches along this road, the winter's bad weather will necessitate the repaving of this road again next year—causing unnecessary taxpayer expense, and keeping the road department off other important jobs.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney K. Lowe

Parker And Lowe Wedding Vows Read In Ceremony At Murray Church Of Christ

Miss Cynthia Carol Parker and Rodney K. Lowe were united in marriage in a lovely summer wedding on Sunday, August 25, at three p. m. with the double-ring ceremony being performed by Bro. John Dale at the Seventh and Poplar Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe M. Parker of 2012 College Farm Road and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Lowe, Sr., of 307 North 8th Street.

A program of A Capella music was presented by Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Bolls, Mr. and Mrs. Kent McCuiston, Mrs. Charlotte Lamb, Mrs. Judy Caldwell, Ernie Rob Bailey, Mrs. Joanne Cavitt, Don Maley, and Mrs. Sherry Harris.

The selections included "O Perfect Love," "Sunrise, Sunset," "My Own True Love," "The Wedding Song," "One Hand, One Heart," "The Lord Bless You and Keep You," and the traditional wedding march and recessional.

The wedding vows were exchanged before a brass arched candelabrum of white burning tapers entwined with boxwood greenery. The arch was flanked by two white-columned pedestals holding urns filled with mums in pastel shades of blue, pink, and yellow, white daisy poms, shasta daisies, baby's breath, and blue and white satin ribbons. Two brass spiral candelabra containing burning white tapers entwined with boxwood greenery were placed on each side of the altar. The family pews were marked with baskets of white and blue daisies, baby's breath, greenery, and white satin ribbon.

Bride's Dress

The bride, given in marriage by her parents, was escorted to the altar by her father. She was radiantly lovely in a regal Alfred Angelo gown fashioned in sate peau and imported Chantilly lace. The gown was designed with a natural fitted waist, high neckline, and long flowing sleeves with wide lace cuffs. Lace formed the neckline and pinafore bodice. The neckline and bodice was edged with crystal pleating and adorned with tiny seed pearls. Chantilly lace and crystal pleating cuffed the Victorian sleeves. Scalloped lace bands edged with double crystal pleating fashioned a deep garland on the skirt front and bordered the longer-than-chapel length train. An overlay of lace formed a godet effect at the sides of the skirt.

Her headdress was a raised Juliet crown of Chantilly lace, richly adorned with tiny seed pearls. A two-tiered elbow length veil of silk illusion was attached to the headpiece. Matching Chantilly lace completely encircled the tiers of illusion.

She carried a bridal cascade bouquet fashioned of white orchids, miniature white carnations, blue daisies, baby's breath, white satin and velvet ribbons tied in love knots and accented with a single strand of white pearls.

Mrs. Barbie Knepper of Boonsboro, Maryland attended the bride as matron of honor. She wore a floor-length gown of blue overlaid in white bonded lace featuring a sweetheart neckline, empire bodice trimmed with blue satin ribbon, short puffed sleeves, and a flared skirt. Her headpiece was a Southern Belle picture hat of blue. The crown was encircled with a satin blue ribbon which formed a bow at the back and extended down to her waist. She carried a bouquet of blue, pink, and yellow daisies, baby's breath, purple status, and white satin streamers.

The bridesmaids, in identical gowns, were Mrs. Janie Parker sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Mary Eva Lowe, sister-in-law of the groom, Miss Risa Lowe, sister of the groom, and Miss Susan Emerson.

Little Miss Wendy Lynn Parker, niece of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a floor-length dress of blue overlaid in white bonded lace featuring a high neckline, empire bodice trimmed with blue satin lace, short puffed sleeves, and a softly gathered skirt. She wore blue and white daisies, accented with blue satin ribbon and baby's breath, in her hair. She carried a white straw basket with daisies, baby's breath, and streamers on it and dropped pink and white rose petals in the path of the bride.

Master Chris Drew served as ring bearer. He wore a white tuxedo and carried a white heart-shaped satin pillow trimmed with lace.

Mr. Lowe chose his brother, Randy Lowe, as his best man. Groomsmen were Robert and Ricky Lowe, brothers of the groom, Sammy Parker, brother of the bride, and Paul Thurman. The groom and groomsmen wore formal tuxedos of light blue. The groom wore a white rose and the groomsmen wore boutonnieres of white carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Parker wore a formal floor-length gown created in mint green polyester knit featuring a white empire bodice enhanced by a matching full length sleeveless coat adorned with white beading. She wore matching accessories and a white cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Lowe, mother of the groom, was attired in a floor-length gown of pink knit featuring a natural waistline. The v-neckline and long tapered sleeves were edged with a small ruffle. She wore white accessories and a white cymbidium orchid corsage.

Mrs. Eva Mai McDaniel and Mrs. J. O. Parker, grandmothers of the bride and Mrs. Myrtle King, grandmother of the groom, were presented corsages of white carnations.

Miss Katie Kemp presided at the guest register. She wore a floor-length yellow floral dress of jersey with a white carnation corsage.

The wedding was directed by Mrs. Shirley Smith of the Showcase.

Reception

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Church.

The bride and groom's table was covered with a softly gathered white satin cloth decorated with blue ribbon and white pearls. The centerpiece was a large silver vase filled with blue daisies, blue carnations, pink zinnias, fugi mums, and baby's breath. Silver candelabra holding white burning tapers were placed on each side of the floral arrangement.

At one end of the table was placed a three tiered white wedding cake trimmed with blue rosebuds, white sugar bells, and doves, and topped with a bride and groom statuette. Completing the table was a silver punch bowl from which pink punch was served. Mints and nuts were served from silver appointments. Serving the guests were Miss Melanie Hutchens, Miss Susan Johnson, and Miss Bonnie Johnson. They wore corsages of white carnations.

Also assisting at the reception were Mrs. Earl Herndon, Mrs. J. R. Watson, Mrs. Ronnie Hale and Mrs. Hazel Berkley.

Little Miss Wendy Parker and Chris Drew distributed rice bags to the guests.

After the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip with the bride wearing a blue, brown, and white knit pant suit. Pinned at her shoulder was her mother's corsage.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Lowe are residing at 307 South 13th Street.

Out-of-town guests included Miss Bernadette Brown, Morganfield; Mr. and Mrs. Derrill King and Carol, Benton; Mr. and Mrs. Alvis Wall, Puryear, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Dentis McDaniel, Clinton; Mr. Tom Hoderby, Decatur, Ill.; Mrs. Debbie Hein, Henderson; Mrs. James Sims and Mr. and Mrs. William Sims, Reidland; Miss Allegra Jones, Mrs. Wade McNabb, and Mr. and Mrs. Ronnie Hale, Paducah.

Rehearsal Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Lowe, parents of the groom, entertained the wedding party and members of the family with a dinner at the Colonial House Smorgasbord Saturday evening after the wedding rehearsal.

The table was decorated with three arrangements of red, pink, white, and yellow roses and baby's breath in crystal cut glass vases. Burning tapers completed the lovely table. Covers were laid for twenty-five persons.

The bridal couple chose this time to present gifts to their attendants.

He eats the fruit of the pits she strings

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1974 by The Chicago Tribune

DEAR ABBY: I am dating a very interesting widow. She is highly talented and artistic. We are both in our 60's. Last winter, she hit on the idea of drying olive pits, drying them exotic colors and stringing them together to wear around her neck. A neighbor drilled holes in them for her. She fed me olives by the pound just to get the pits. Then she got the bright idea to do the same thing with avocado seeds, and now I don't care if I ever see another avocado as long as I live.

What do you think of this idea?

GENTLEMAN FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: It's novel. But if she decides to make a necklace of prune pits—that's where I'd draw the line.

DEAR ABBY: I need your advice. My husband disappeared 18 years ago. I have tried to find him, but I can't. All I want is for him to sign some divorce papers so I can be free to marry again.

I went to a lawyer a few years back, and he said my husband would have to sign some papers before I can get a divorce, but I would like for someone to tell me how can I get a man to sign something if I can't find the man? He has completely vanished.

Time is running out. There must be some way out of this bind. It doesn't seem right that I must stay married to a man I haven't seen in 18 years and may never see again. Maybe he isn't even living.

Please, please help me.

MARRIED WITH NO HUSBAND

DEAR MARRIED: You don't say which state you're living in. Laws differ in different states, and laws are constantly changing. See another lawyer. The law surely must provide for a way out of that bind.

DEAR ABBY: My boyfriend, Mike, walked me home from school the other day. I knew that my older brother was home because I saw his bike, but I invited Mike in, anyway. I know Mike well enough to have invited him into my bedroom. We were partially lying down on the bed—not all the way, and we weren't doing anything wrong. Unless you consider kissing wrong.

Well, my brother walked in on us and I know he thought we were doing something other than just that.

I don't want my brother to think I'm a cheap tramp because I'm not, but how can I convince him? And if he tells my parents, what should I tell them?

I've never gone all the way with a boy, and I don't plan to until I'm married.

How can I convince my brother that we weren't doing anything wrong? I am 15.

INNOCENT

DEAR INNOCENT: If you walked into your brother's bedroom and found him and his girlfriend on his bed kissing, what would you think? The Bible tells us to avoid the appearance of evil. That's good advice. Keep your boyfriend out of your bedroom and if you're questioned by your parents—tell the truth and hope they buy it.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please. For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

The surest sign that the gasoline crisis has eased comes not in a pronouncement from the federal energy czar but from a sign outside a service station in Ramseur: "Customers Wanted—No Experience Necessary."

Letter To The Editor

Cooperation Commended

Dear Editor:

May I impose on your newspaper by asking that this letter be published in the Ledger & Times so as to reach as many people as possible.

The Police Committee of the Murray City Council wants to express their sincere appreciation to all of those involved who have been so cooperative in observing the parking meter ordinance. The majority of the downtown merchants, the banks, professional men and county officials and their personnel have really made a special effort to carry out the intent of the ordinance.

As a result, the turn-over of parking space has been excellent and with only one or two exceptions, the comments have been most favorable. The availability of parking space appears to have possibly stimulated downtown business and services and the additional off-square parking provided by several concerned people, has actually reduced some traffic congestion.

We feel there will soon be a 100 per cent cooperative effort on everyone's part as this will continue to improve downtown parking and hopefully will inconvenience those working in the metered area as little as possible.

Mrs. Kathleen McKinney, the city meter maid has been an important factor in assisting in this transition, as she has been most considerate, and helpful and the Police Committee appreciates the excellent manner in which she has carried out her responsibilities.

Please accept the thanks of the Police Committee for your cooperation in presenting our appreciation in letter form to so many people who cooperated in eliminating a downtown parking problem and creating a more favorable atmosphere.

Sincerely,
H. Ed Chrisman, Chairman
Police Committee

Isn't It The Truth

by Carl Riblet Jr.

Science has advanced steadily all through the ages in all things except government, which is still locked fast in ancient ways; little better understood and little better practiced now than it was 5000 years ago — which is to say, the principal difference between the Egyptian pharaohs and the political leaders of today is, that the pharaohs are dead.

"Unquestionably, there is progress. The average American now pays out twice as much in taxes as he formerly got in wages."

"Low Down"

FROM THE CONGRESSIONAL RECORD

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

MR. NIXON'S LAST VETO

Rep. Harry F. Byrd, Jr. (Va.) . . . In one of his final acts as President, President Nixon sent to Congress a veto message on the $13.6 billion appropriation for the Department of Agriculture, including the environmental and consumer programs. . . . "The Richmond (Va.) News Leader . . . published an interesting editorial . . . There being no objection, the article was ordered to be printed in the Record." (The condensed editorial follows):

The Last Nixon Veto

If ever a bill cried out for a presidential veto, this appropriation bill did. It may be recalled that agricultural subsidies to farmers have all but been eliminated in an effort to increase harvests to feed a hungry world. Therefore, it might have been expected that appropriations for the department might show at least some small decline. Not so. In the past fiscal year, the department operated on an appropriation of $10.5 billion. The appropriation bill passed by Congress for fiscal 1975 reflects an increase of more than $3 billion.

(Some) expenditures included in the department's appropriation have nothing whatsoever to do with farms or farmers. The bill includes the expenditure of $1.3 billion for environmental programs and millions of dollars for "consumer programs." The bill included $175 million for an anti-pollution program on the Great Lakes.

Funds for water and sewer grants had been increased by 800 per cent; this was an excessive increase. Congress appropriated more than $400 million in excess of appropriation requests for loans to farmers. . . .

As they awaited the swearing-in of Gerald Ford as Mr. Nixon's successor, Congressional leaders indicated that Mr. Nixon's veto would be sustained. The inflationary bill would be redrafted in House committee before being returned to the House, and then to the Senate for a vote. It had been Mr. Nixon's 43rd — and last — veto.

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

No president, be he Democrat or Republican, should have to be in the lone position of having to veto bloated appropriation bills in an effort to control inflation caused by an irresponsible congress.

Religious Contemporary Thoughts

Try It: You'll Like It

By David L. Haley

Dexter-Hardin United Methodist Church

He who is given the task of commenting on current religious thought may find himself resembling the impassioned horseman in one of humorist Stephen Leacock's stories, who "flung himself upon his horse, and rode madly off in all directions." Today, a vast cacophony of voices clamor for one to heed their particular creed, cult, or ideology. In the midst of such metaphysical madness, which way is one to turn? Does one simply heed those who yell the loudest?

With Christianity again as "a voice crying in the wilderness", why should one choose it over any of the other systems? Of all the available systems, Christianity stands unique in its absolute dependence upon the historical person of Jesus Christ. Without Christ, there is no Christianity. Even more specifically, Christ based his claims upon his resurrection from the dead. "If Christ be not risen," admitted the Apostle Paul, "then our preaching is in vain and your faith is in vain." (1 Cor. 15:14)

On the other hand, if Christ is risen, there exists the possibility of a unique relationship which has the potential of transforming all of life. C. S. Lewis expressed it admirably when he wrote, "He (Christ) has forced open a door that has been locked since the death of the first man. He has met, fought, and beaten the King of Death. Everything is different because He has done so." Millions of Christians from all times and places have testified to the subjective satisfaction which they have found by trusting in the objective reality of the Risen Christ.

To those seekers who will be intellectually honest, the challenge still stands. A case in point comes from the eighteenth century, where unbelief abounded as rampantly as today. The philosopher Bishop Butler made this comment on that cynical, pleasure-seeking society, "It has come to be taken for granted that Christianity is not so much a subject for enquiry but that it is now at length discovered to be fictitious." Against such a background, two young men went up to Oxford and set out to undermine the very basis of the Christian faith. Lord Lyttleton set out to prove that Saul of Tarsus was never converted to Christianity and Gilbert West to demonstrate that Jesus never arose from the tomb. Some time later, they met to discuss findings. Both were a little sheepish, for they had come independently to a similar and disturbing conclusion: Lyttleton found, upon examination, that Saul of Tarsus had become a radically new man through his conversion to Christianity, and West found that the evidence pointed unmistakably to the fact that Jesus did rise from the dead. The resulting book, published in 1747, was entitled Observations on the History and Evidence of the Resurrection of Jesus Christ. On the fly-leaf they had printed this telling quotation from Ecclesiasticus 11:7, which might be adopted with profit by any modern agnostic: "Blame not until thou hast examined the truth."

Unfortunately, the sad truth is that few will accept the challenge. It will always remain easier to hid behind the walls of self-imposed agnosticism and to drift gently along among the doubts of the uncommitted. For with this, easy morals may be justified, casual indifference excused, and the god of self remain unchallenged. The good news of Christ will not be neglected, until that time when all stand before the God who judges not according to what one's teacher says, or what one thought, but according to truth. (Romans 2:2)

GOD'S PEOPLE DEMAND A KING

For more than 400 years after the death of Joshua judges ruled the Israelites, the last and best of whom was Samuel. In spite of his devotion to God and his service to the people, a crisis developed during the latter part of his administration. In his declining years he appointed his sons as his assistants, but they did not measure up to the standard which he had set. They "took bribes and perverted judgment." That caused much dissatisfaction, numerous complaints, and increasing resentment among the people.

Unwilling to be judged by the unworthy sons of Samuel when the aging father passed from the scene, wanting to be like the other nations around them, and thinking that a king would give them better protection from their enemies, the elders approached Samuel and shocked him with the announcement that the people were anxious for their country to be changed into a monarchy. Displeased at their rejection of him, Samuel took the problem to God in earnest prayer, asking for the proper solution. Samuel's grief was assuaged to some extent when God told him: "They have not rejected thee, but they have rejected me, that I should not reign over them" (8:7). Their sin was that of abandoning God and replacing Him with a man. God told Samuel to accede to their request, after warning them frankly of the inevitable consequences. God wanted the people to know in advance that their having a king would not solve all of their problems, that their taxes would be too much and their help too little, and that He did not have any intention of abdicating His position and relinquishing His authority, because He was supreme over any and all forms of earthly government.

Inasmuch as Samuel was relinquishing his official duties as judge, the occasion afforded him a splendid opportunity to review many of the things which God had done for the Israelites and to remind them of numerous evidences of His favor upon them. Samuel also reminded the people of their great indebtedness to God for His goodness in choosing them and in blessing them in so many ways, which wonderful expressions of His grace certainly merited their gratitude.

A Presentation — 1 Samuel 12:13-15

Saul was chosen as the first king of Israel. He was very handsome, tall in stature, graceful in build, princely in bearing, and kingly in appearance. Saul had the benefits of health, height, and handsomeness to the degree of striking superiority. Towering above the crowd, but so modest that he concealed himself on the day when he was chosen king, his majestic and impressive appearance commanded the admiration and respect of a nation whose people were fond of pomp and grandeur.

Samuel brought Saul before the multitude and presented him as their king, but made it quite clear that God was still their heavenly King. Saul's coronation was a brilliant and long-to-be-remembered affair, one that marked an epoch in the history of Israel. Samuel assured Saul and the people that the future of their nation would be bright, if both the king and the people, all of whom were answerable to God, would serve, obey, and love God, but he warned them that the nation would suffer tragic consequences if the king and the people refused to comply with the divine will. The king and the people had a clear choice with reference to the course which they were going to pursue. If they chose to rebel against God and travel the way of disobedience, they would feel the weight of the chastening hand of God upon them.

A Perception — 1 Samuel 12:16-18

In order that the people might have a clear perception of their great wickedness in replacing the heavenly King with an earthly one, Samuel announced that he was going to ask God to send a great storm of thunder and rain during the season when they harvested the wheat. At that season of the year even a shower was most unusual. Following Samuel's prayer a terrible storm rumbled out of the heavens as an immediate revelation of God's displeasure with their behavior and a vivid rebuke for it. Upon the performance of that miracle, Samuel's listeners got the message that they could not ignore God and get by with it, or rebel against the divine will with impunity. They perceived that God was still on His throne and that they were His subjects and therefore accountable to Him.

A Promise — 1 Samuel 12:22-23

After warning King Saul and his people, as well as us, that when people walk in the pathway of disobedience, it is certain that they must pay for it in one way or another, sooner or later, Samuel urged them to repent toward God and to serve Him faithfully thereafter. He assured them that, inasmuch as God had brought glory to His matchless name on numerous occasions through them, He would not forsake them. Since God's honor and name were both at stake among the heathen, according to His own trustworthy promise He would not abandon them.

Samuel's twofold promise to continue praying for them and to teach them "the good and the right way," even though they had rejected him and his leadership, and had willfully disobeyed God, must have been a source of great encouragement and inspiration to them. This faithful servant of God magnanimously promised them that he would continue to pray for them. It takes devotion on the part of a child of God to love and to pray for those who reject and mistreat him, but Samuel did just that.

A Plea — 1 Samuel 12:24

Instead of complimenting them for their accomplishments, Samuel reminded them of what God had done for, through, and with them, and then with all the earnestness of his soul he pleaded with them to fear God and to serve Him faithfully and wholeheartedly during the remainder of their lives. He pleaded for their loyalty to God, assuring them that He would bless and use them.

Breaking Ground

Commentary On Issues And Events

Written By Gary Huddleston
Ky. Farm Bureau Federation

It's that time again.

That old time problem, one which has plagued Kentuckians for decades, has reared its ugly head again.

And under existing laws, Gov. Wendell Ford is the state's official timer, with the power to decide just which direction—forward, back, or some confusing combination—the big and little hands take.

As it stands now, Congress is about to reamend its most recent amendment to the national time law, and go from year-round Daylight Saving Time to eight months of DST a year, from March through October. Except for wartime, or the current energy-imposed year-round fast time, this eight-month period would be the longest fast time observance to date.

Kentucky has for almost a year now been in the Central time zone, with the exception of 12 northeastern Kentucky counties. These 12 counties have remained in the Eastern zone due to their close economic ties with adjacent Ohio and West Virginia counties in the Eastern zone.

If the amendment now in Congress is enacted into law, Kentucky will have several time options, most at the discretion of the state's chief executive. These include:

(1) The state can return to the time-zone boundaries in effect before last year's change, with 78 counties, mostly east of a line from Brandenburg to Whitley City, in the Eastern zone, the remaining 42 counties in the Central zone.

This would involve two time changes for Kentuckians between now and next March. On Oct. 27, the date year-round DST will end under the current bill, those 42 Central zone counties would turn clocks back one hour, to Central Standard, the 12 northeastern counties would go back one hour, from Eastern Daylight to Eastern Standard, and the other 66 counties would not change their clocks, moving only from Central Daylight to Eastern Standard, the same time.

Then, next Feb. 23, all counties, both Central and Eastern, would move up one hour, and go on DST, unless Gov. Ford asked for an exemption from the change until April 27, the normal date of the semi-annual time change under the 1966 law.

(2) The legislature, and probably the governor, can act to exempt all of the state, or those counties in either time zone, from observing DST. Thus, if the 78-42 county split is returned to, the Eastern time zone counties can be exempted from observing fast time, and the entire state could observe the same

The Inevitable Reform

Inspired by exposure of 1972 campaign tactics during the Watergate investigations, Congress has moved with uncommon alacrity to reform campaign financing and spending.

But despite the pressures of lobbyists who believe that the cure for all campaign ills is public funding, a Senate-House conference committee seeks to limit tax support to presidential candidates and only to the extent of a fund created by taxpayers' "checkoff" on federal income tax forms.

Presidential candidates of the two major parties would be eligible for $20 million each in the general campaign. Primary aspirants could qualify for as much as $5 million. Limitations on individual and organizational contributions and spending ceilings in all federal contests will also be part of the compromise bill.

The Watergate revelations made inevitable the fascination with campaign reform, but we cannot help but believe that the solution to campaign abuse lies as much in law enforcement as in new laws.

The Legislation shaping up in committee may be useful in focusing public attention on the evils of wanton, uncontrolled spending. We must be wary lest it open the door to total public campaign financing, which could destroy the two-party political system and rob us of our right to a free choice in support of candidates.

Side By Side

Mass production is the backbone of American industry. A company of men can turn out more goods in one day than a single handed operation could in many months. Many men must work side-by-side in this specialized harmonious effort. If one worker fails, the others are hurt. The end product will be substandard.

True, when so many produce a single item they may lose pride in their work. It is easy to think, "But my part is so small." Yet without that small part, the whole would not be complete. Proverbs 16:3 says, "Commit your work to the Lord." That means all of it, no matter how small or insignificant you might think it is. Your faithfulness on the job is a testimony to Him. Commit your job to the Lord. Do your part well as you work side-by-side.

DEFENSIVE STAR—Alfred Caldwell, right, receives a plaque from Murray State Booster Club president Dr. Stout after he was named "Defensive Player of the Week" in the Ohio Valley Conference. Caldwell, the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Caldwell of Paris, Tenn., won the honor for his 14 tackles and 6 assists when Murray beat Morehead 25-24 last Saturday. A graduate of Henry County High School, the 6-1, 205-pound Caldwell plays both defensive end and linebacker and leads the Murray defense in tackles for the season with 25.

Blazers Douse Fire In Aerial Show

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Bob Davis, who kept the Florida Blazers on top in the World Football League Eastern Division with a 297-yard aerial circus, says, "We're not a great powerhouse yet, but we're a coming team."

Even with his three touchdown passes, he had to share credit for Thursday night's 29-0 shellacking of the Chicago Fire. Also instrumental in the victory were a defense, that's the best in the league statistically and a skittering, twisting 191-pound running back named Tommy Reamon, who can also throw the ball.

Reamon ran for 71 yards, caught five passes for 64 yards and set up a key touchdown in the third quarter with a 41-yard halfback pass to wide receiver Matt Maslowski.

Chicago, after a weak first half, threatened to get back in the game on the still-brilliant running of 10-year National Football League veteran Leroy Kelly and two long-pass completions by sub quarterback Leo Hart.

But the Blazers' defense shut off the Fire's deepest penetration at the 14-yard line and the Blazers promptly marched 80 yards to take a 21-0 third quarter lead. Reamon's pass was the big play.

The victory gave Florida a 9-4 record, one game ahead of the Charlotte Stars, who moved out of New York this week. Chicago, now 7-6, dropped four games behind Central Division co-leaders Birmingham and Memphis.

Like some other WFL franchises, the Blazers are financially pinched. The players missed one payday and have asked the league to put up their money if the franchise owners don't.

The 16,679 spectators in the Tangerine Bowl — double that of the previous game — included 14,156 paying customers, which may calm the troubled waters a bit.

And they were coming to Shea Stadium, scene of a series of nightmares last year when they had folded and helped the Mets win the title.

But Manager Danny Murtagh put the whole matter into perspective in about 10 seconds, just before the Pirates went to sleep in the pre-dawn hours.

"Forget last night...forget last year," he told them. "Just think about tonight."

NEW YORK (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates were shot, mentally and physically. They had lost a gut-busting game in St. Louis Wednesday night, with the Cardinals scoring four runs in the bottom of the 11th inning for a 13-12 victory.

Now it was Thursday morning—5 a.m., EDT, to be exact—and the Pirates were just getting into New York, a second-place team again. They trailed the front-running Cardinals by one-half game in the National League East.

And they were coming to Shea Stadium, scene of a series of nightmares last year when they had folded and helped the Mets win the title.

But Manager Danny Murtagh put the whole matter into perspective in about 10 seconds, just before the Pirates went to sleep in the pre-dawn hours.

"Forget last night...forget last year," he told them. "Just think about tonight."

And on Thursday night, the nightmare belonged to the Mets, thanks mainly to Al Oliver and Willie Stargell.

Oliver, batting third in the Pirates' lineup, went 5-for-5, with a run-scoring single and his 10th and 11th home runs of the year, each a two-run shot. And Stargell, batting fourth, drove in four runs with a single and a three-run homer, his 25th of the season.

And with veteran Juan Pizarro, a refugee from the Mexican League, turning in eight solid innings of pitching, the Pirates battered the Mets 11-5 and muscled their way into a share of first place with the idle Cards. Each team has six games remaining.

"Naturally, most pitchers would rather face me than Willie," said Oliver, having his best year with a .320 average and 85 runs batted in.

"If they've gotta get burned, they'd rather it was by a base hit than a home run. So when Willie's hitting good, like he is now, I know they're not gonna walk me because he's right behind me...waiting," said Oliver.

Jerry Koosman, 14-11, got burned by both sluggers in the first inning, when the Pirates erupted for four runs. Singles by Rennie Stennett, Manny Sanguillen and Oliver scored one run, then Stargell belted his homer into the right-field seats.

The winning runs came one inning later when Stennett singled again and Oliver homered for a 6-0 lead. Three more runs in the fifth, one on Stargell's single, and Oliver's second homer, in the sixth, sealed the victory.

"When you're fighting for a pennant," Murtagh said of the weary Pirates' pre-dawn arrival in New York, "it doesn't matter what time it is—except that it's time to get out there and give it everything you've got."

"There's no such thing as a second-division club in the majors in the last week of a season. Everybody's getting paid a major league salary and everybody's got pride."

"I wasn't worried about a let-down after the game in St. Louis," Murtagh added. "Any time you get beat, it's not because you let down. At least, not on this club."

Stargell, too, said the loss to the Cards no longer concerned him. "I don't think about the negative things, just the positive. We went into St. Louis knowing we had to win at least

Timeout With Brandon

Rodney Jones Wins On Seventh Try

Rodney Jones has finally done it! After finishing second at least three times in the contest for the free meal at Rudy's Restaurant, Rodney finally won the meal Thursday.

He was the first person to call with the correct answer to the following question: "What great Cardinal outfielder of recent years wore the number 21?"

Jones, a junior at Calloway County High School, correctly identified that man as being Curt Flood, one of the greatest Cardinal outfielders of all time.

Jones said it was his seventh time he had tried answering the question for the free meal at Rudy's, which is worth up to $2.50 of your choice on the menu.

The Classics

Every now and then there are classic things which happen, such as last night's Johnny Carson show and Wednesday's Cardinal-Pirate ballgame.

For some reason, I felt the Cardinals would win the game in the 11th inning because I just couldn't see 1963 happening again.

I was 12 years old at the time and I will remember when the Dodgers came into St. Louis, the two teams deadlocked for first place.

The Dodgers swept the three game series and that was the pennant race. Sandy Koufax beat Bob Gibson in the first game, Don Drysdale beat Ernie Broglio in the second one and I can't remember who pitched the third game for either team.

11 Crawlers

There are currently 11 people who have promised to join in the crawling behind the Murray High Fieldhouse on the new track.

Last week, I publicly promised to crawl one lap around the track if Muhammad Ali loses to George Foreman in their heavyweight title fight October 30.

However, I had to find 10 Foreman fans who would do the same.

I will let Bob Wilder take a photo of me and it will run in the paper the day after the fight.

If Ali loses and I have to crawl around the track on my hands and knees.

On the other hand, I expect the 11 other people to be on their hands and knees for a lap if Foreman loses, plus I'll put their picture in the paper.

Not all of the 11 people are actually for Foreman, some just want to see me have the opportunity to crawl and they got on the list to bring the number up to the 10 I asked for.

Thus far, the following people have promised to crawl at 3 p.m. the day after the fight if Ali defeats Foreman: Lindsey Suiter, David Frank, Bob Wilder, Donnie Williams, Phil Miller, Mark Williams, Ed Harcourt, Brett Harcourt, Stanley Bone, Brad Taylor and Mitchell Mowery.

If anyone else would like to join this list and crawl around the track, call me up and let me know.

Grid Forecast

Last week's predictions found me hitting seven out of 10. This week, I might do well to break even as this promises to be one of the best weekends for football that the season can bring.

I will make predictions and admit that they may be off because playing conditions are going to be poor everywhere in the area tonight and anything can happen.

Predictions are as follows: MURRAY HIGH at Fulton City; HEAT at Fulton County; Christian County at MAYFIELD; TRIGG COUNTY at Crittenden County; FORT CAMPBELL at Russellville; Tilghman at HOPKINSVILLE; LONE OAK at Marshall County; Webster County at TODD CENTRAL and Reidland at McLEAN COUNTY.

The Tigers' biggest problem is going to be bouncing back from the loss last week at Mayfield.

You might know as early as the first period tonight just how the Tigers will fare against Fulton City.

If the Tiger defense does as I think it will do, Murray High will win. But if Fulton comes out and scores early and the Tiger defense has a letdown, it might be a long night.

Jimmy Wins In 'Frisco

Defending champion Roy Emerson is out — beaten by an Australian admirer who once served him as a ball boy — and Jimmy Connors is favored to move in as champion of the $100,000 International Open Tennis Tournament at the Cow Palace.

And in a $50,000 women's pro tournament in Denver, top-seeded Chris Evert had no trouble defeating Kathy Harter 6-2, 6-1.

"I never really got going," conceded Emerson, 37, after losing the second-round match Thursday to Ross Case 6-2, 6-2. "The other guy played very well."

Case, 22, a curly-haired right-hander with a strong forehand volley, said Emerson had been his idol, and it was a "great thrill" to beat him. Case said he once was a ball boy in a Davis Cup match Emerson played for Australia in Brisbane.

This was only the fourth tour-namment this year for Emerson, now of Newport Beach, Calif., and his game is rusty. He was seeded No. 8.

Connors, No. 1 seed, ran his string of victories to 14 matches in a row since a default because of illness at Orange, N.J. He won a second-round match from John Yuill of South Africa 6-3, 6-3, whom he played for the first time Thursday.

Connors plays Eddie Dibbs, No. 10 seed from Miami Beach, today for a place in Saturday's quarter-finals.

Three quarter-final slots were filled Thursday by Arthur Ashe of Miami, Alex "Sandy" Mayer of Wayne, N.J., and Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico.

Third-seeded Ashe beat Tom Leonard of Carlsbad, Calif., 6-4, 7-5. Mayer, who led Stanford to a 1973 NCAA championship, eliminated Raz Reid of Greenville, S.C., 6-2, 6-4. Pasarell beat Colin Dibley of Australia, 6-4, 4-6, 7-6.

Tiger Freshmen Win 8-0

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor
There's no place like home but the Murray High freshman football team got there only once Thursday night.

But that one time proved to be enough as the Tigers drove home into the endzone early in the first period and hung on to win an 8-0 contest over Heath in Holland Stadium.

"We just couldn't get it home when we needed to," Murray High coach Mark Brady said.

"We didn't get hungry enough when we got the ball in good field position."

The Tigers received a severe psychological blow when in the second play of the ballgame, tailback Grettis Bumphis was injured.

In last week's 16-0 win over Lone Oak, Bumphis had 144 yards in an outstanding game. After the Tigers won the opening coin toss against Heath, fullback Kenn Perkins took the ball up the middle for a short gain.

The next play went to Bumphis and he went around right end for a gain of five yards before being hit. And that was the last time Bumphis carried the ball because on that play, he received a broken arm.

He was taken to the Murray-Calloway Hospital where he underwent surgery and remains in the hospital today, listed in satisfactory condition.

After Bumphis' injury, the Tigers seemed to lose part of their spirit.

Hunting For Coach

COLUMBIA, S.C. (AP) — A committee has been named to look for a new football coach at the University of South Carolina.

President William H. Patterson said Thursday he hopes to get a report for the Board of Trustees, who will take final action, by the end of the season when Paul Dietzel is resigning as coach after nine years.

Dietzel has asked to remain as athletic director, a question that also will be decided by the trustees.

tailback was Bob Thurman who, following a 10-yard gain by Perkins, came up with a big 13-yard gain and the Tigers were on the Heath eight-yard line.

Two plays later, Thurman went over from five yards out and the Tigers led 6-0.

The two-point conversion pass from quarterback Greg Garland hit right end Andy Harrell in the endzone and with 4:55 left in the first period, Murray led 8-0.

It was the same play the Tigers converted twice on last week against Lone Oak with Garland finding Harrell in the right corner of the endzone.

Heath's first drive began on their own 34-yard line and in 14 plays, which ate up all the remaining time in the first period and several minutes in the second, the Pirates went all the way down to the Murray 10.

But on a fourth and two from the Tiger 10, the Pirates were stopped as the Murray High defense dug in and held its ground.

Statistics in the first half found Murray with 95 yards on the ground while Heath had 37. Individually, Thurman ran for 44 yards while Perkins had 30 for the Tigers.

In the second half, Murray had the ball only twice, once in each quarter.

Heath took the second half kickoff and returned to their own 47. Using the powerful running of tailback Jerry Thomasson, the Pirates drove all the way to the Tiger eight-yard line in six plays.

Thomasson carried three consecutive times, after the fullback carried on the first down call.

And on the last carry by Thomasson, from the three on a fourth and goal situation, he gained only two yards and the Tigers' goal line stand was successful.

The Tigers got nowhere in their next series and were forced to punt on the final play of the third period.

On a second and eight from their own 15, the call for Heath again went to Thomasson and this time, he broke loose up the leftsideline and appeared headed for a touchdown.

Thomasson had at least a five-yard lead in the race downfield but Murray High's Bill Wilson never gave up and was able to bring the speedy Heath tailback down on the Tiger 35.

Wilson's game-saving tackle seemed to inspire the defense as Heath was held on downs.

"It looked like our defensive unit played about as hard as they had to in order to win," Brady said.

"I thought we had good performances from Brian Chapman, Perkins, Frank Gilliam and in particular, Wilson, who had two-game saving tackles for us."

"Offensively, I was somewhat disappointed with our blocking. We got out early and scored and I thought we might have a good offensive game. I was impressed at times with the running of Perkins and Thurman."

Perkins finished as the leading rusher for Murray as he had 64 net yards while Thurman netted 50. However, the game honors went to Thomasson who ran for 124 yards on the ground.

Final stats found the Tigers with 135 yards on the ground and seven in the air for a net of 142 while the Pirates had a net of 137, 114 on the ground and 23 in the air.

The Tigers will put their 2-0 record on the line next Thursday night when they host Benton Junior High at 6:30 p.m.

LEADING RUSHER—Kenn Perkins (36) of the Murray High freshman football team was leading ground gainer for the Tigers as he racked up 64 tough yards. Behind Perkins is (61) Terry Grogan. The frosh Tigers extended their record to 2-0 by winning an 8-0 contest over Heath in Holland Stadium Thursday.

A's Win While Texas Drops Pair

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

The Oakland Athletics moved to within the pop of a champagne bottle cork of their fourth straight division title Thursday night with a 2-1 victory over the Minnesota Twins.

And they hope to pop it tonight.

"I'm not even going to talk about the playoffs until we win," said a cautious A's Manager, Alvin Dark. "Ken Holtzman will pitch tomorrow night (against Chicago) and then after that, if we win, we'll worry about the playoffs."

"We still need one more," added Oakland third baseman Sal Bando. "We haven't won yet."

The A's haven't won, but they have clinched at least a tie for the American League West Division title. Thursday's victory coupled with Chicago's 5-1, 7-2 doubleheader triumph over Texas took care of that. Oakland now leads the Rangers by six games. The A's would have to lose their last five games and Texas win their last seven in order to force a playoff for the division championship.

The champagne is on order for tonight's game.

Elsewhere, Boston beat Detroit 5-3 in 10 innings and Kansas City swamped California 10-1.

Catfish Hunter hurled a seven-hitter for Oakland to notch his 25th victory, the most for an American League pitcher since Mickey Lolich won 25 for Detroit in 1971. Hunter, who has lost 12, struck out seven batters and didn't walk a man.

"I had my best fastball of the year so I just kept throwing it," explained Hunter.

"I've never seen a pitcher who is so consistent," added Dark. "You just know he will do a good job for you."

Oakland picked up its first run off loser Dave Goltz in the first inning when rookie Claudell Washington singled with two out, stole second and scored on Sal Bando's single. The final A's run came in the fourth. Joe Rudi singled and came all the way home when Minnesota third baseman Eric Soderholm threw Gene Tenace's ground ball into right field.

Hunter lost his shutout when Bobby Darwin homered with one out in the ninth.

Chicago 5-7, Texas 1-2

"I don't feel good about anything right now," said a dejected Billy Martin, Texas manager.

Jim Kaat posted his 20th victory with a five-hitter in the opener and Jorge Orta drove in three runs. Kaat, who became the ninth 20-game winner in the American League this season, has allowed just two earned runs while winning six games in September.

Jim Bibby, 19-19, failed in his bid to join the 20-win circle in the nightcap as Bill Stein and Bill Sharp drove in two runs apiece for the White Sox.

"Bibby wanted me to win 20 and he gave me every chance," said Bibby. "I'm pleased with the number of wins I have but also disappointed with the number of losses."

Red Sox 5, Tigers 3, 10 innings
Bob Montgomery sent the game into overtime with a two-run homer in the ninth and then ended it with a two-run single in the 10th. Both of Montgomery's hits came off Tiger relief ace John Miller.

The victory kept Boston's fading East Division title hopes alive, but barely. The third-place Red Sox trail front-running Baltimore by four games with just six to play.

"It is still open," said Boston Manager Darrell Johnson. "Strange things have happened—and certainly they'd have to."

Royals 10, Angels 1
Hal McRae clubbed a grand slam home run and Steve Busby notched his 22nd victory for Kansas City. Busby, who has lost 14, struck out eight batters and walked two.

George Brett added four hits and two runs-batted-in for the Royals.

tucky entertains Austin Peay Saturday in the first full weekend of Ohio Valley Conference football action.

Morehead is at Middle Tennessee and East Tennessee at Eastern Kentucky in the other games.

Murray is 1-0 after a last-second 25-24 victory last week over Morehead and Racer Coach Bill Furgerson expects another tough game Saturday night at Cookeville.

"Tech is a fine team," he said. "They're always tough and physical on defense and they've added some wrinkles to their offense that are helping them to move the ball much more effectively than they did last season."

"I think they proved how strong they were when they beat South Dakota in their opener," Furgerson added, referring to Tech's 17-13 verdict.

Tech Coach Don Wade says Murray has a more sophisticated passing attack than Western Carolina, which clipped his team 9-7 last week.

"And the thing about Murray is that they've got a good ground game, too, with this all-levelling tailback, Don Clayton," Wade said.

Murray beat Western Carolina 10-3 two weeks ago.

Austin Peay is coming off a 28-17 victory over Carson-Newman while Western Kentucky, ranked second in the college division, has had two weeks to prepare for the Govs.

"It's going to be just as we thought—we'll be facing a much improved football team when Austin Peay comes to town Saturday," said Western Kentucky Coach Jimmy Feix.

The Hilltoppers opened their season two weeks ago by routing C. W. Post 48-0.

Eastern Kentucky and East Tennessee will be seeking their first victories of the season. East Tennessee is 0-3 and the Colonels lost to Dayton 23-17 in their only game two weeks ago.

CBS To Air 'Good' Music Show This Sunday Evening

NEW YORK (AP) — There's a good and I mean good music show coming up early Sunday evening on CBS-TV. The only evening on CBS-TV, the only place to see it, is the "Good Music Show" which is not on prime time. It should be a "vamp" or syncretized best works and sounds. He isn't excessively technical, but a interpreter at home might help untrained young viewers get a better grasp of what Thomas is discussing — harmonic and starts at 6 p.m. EDT. The program is a brilliant analysis, complete with musical illustrations, of the serious and popular works of George Gershwin and the various jazz, ragtime, popular and classical influences from which he drew. The tour guide is Michael Tilson Thomas, a young pianist-conductor who took over the series' baton from Leonard Bernstein last season. He's an excellent choice, a friendly, articulate guy with whom young listeners will readily identify. Parents whose kids may not be music students: try to locate the neighborhood music expert who might be able to elaborate for the kids on some of the points Thomas discusses. So watch the show Sunday. It's even recorded well, a claim few shows on television can make these days.

Harry Guardino guest stars as a gangster who takes over a small hospital, in the "Death on the Run" episode on the second half (9:00-10:00 p.m. EDT) of "THE DETECTIVES," starring CANNON and THE MANHUNTER, Wednesday, Oct. 2 (9:00-11:00 p.m., EDT) on the CBS Television Network.

FLORIDA (ESTHER ROLLE) puts her sons Michael (Ralph Carter, left) and J.J. (Jimmie Walker) to bed early the night before Michael is to be based at a new school he doesn't want to attend, on "Good Times" Tuesday, Oct. 1 (7:00-7:30 p.m., CDT) on the CBS Television Network.

Evening At Symphony Premieres

It's a black tie, white glove, up-town affair when Seiji Ozawa conducts the Boston Symphony Orchestra in 1970 premiere showing of EVENING AT SYMPHONY, Friday, Oct. 4 at 9 p.m. CDT on Kentucky Educational Television (KET).

The new EVENING AT SYMPHONY series features twelve superb concerts by the Boston Symphony Orchestra with five great conductors: Seiji Ozawa, Michael Tilson Thomas, Erich Leinsdorf, Colin Davis and William Steinberg.

This week, Ozawa, the flamboyant music director of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, conducts Hector Berlioz's "Fantastic Symphony" and "The Roman Carnival" Overture. Ozawa, born in Hiden, Manchuria, began studying western music at the age of seven. His hope to become a great pianist was abruptly shattered when he broke two fingers in a rugby game. Ozawa switched to conducting and graduated from the Toho School of Music in Tokyo.

After studying in Europe for a short time, Ozawa, at the age of 24, came to the United States to practice with the San Francisco Symphony, a position he still holds concurrently with his position at Boston.

Sally Struthers stars as a terrified girl with a rare blood disease whose doctor (James Franciscus) plans to use her as the donor in a heart transplant, in "Aloha Means Goodbye," suspense drama that has its world premiere on "The CBS Friday Night Movies" Sunday Oct. 13 (10:30-12:30 p.m., CDT) on the CBS Television Network.

Mofield On Committee

Dr. Ray Mofield, chairman of the Department of Communications at Murray State University, has been named to serve on the Nominators Committee of the Emerson College-Edward L. Bernays Foundation Award.

The committee will nominate the most socially significant nationally-televised program broadcast during 1974. At a later date, a final selection group will vote on the 10 most frequently submitted programs from which the winning program will be selected.

Dr. Mofield is one of a number of distinguished leaders from the fields of law, business, communications, philosophy and psychology, and public and commercial television named to serve on the preliminary selection groups.

Through their selections, the final selection group will be able to identify issues and events which clearly reflect society's concerns and interests, according to Seymour N. Siegel, chairman of the final selection group and president of the Broadcasting Foundation of America.

Siegel, who has served as communications director under five New York City mayors and is a former recipient of the Hearst Publishers Service Silver Medal, went on to say that "the most effective way to improve television programming is to honor the positive achievements of television."

The Emerson-Bernays Award will encourage writers to test the medium and to use the medium for promoting constructive social change," he said.

Snyder And Cook Receive Awards

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Marlow Cook, R-Ky., and Rep. Gene Snyder, R Ky., have received "Watchdog of the Treasury" awards from the National Associated Businessmen, Inc., a fiscally conservative group of small businessmen.

The awards to 185 members of Congress were based on 12 key votes on spending issues, a spokesman for the group said Thursday.

Fourth District Congressman Snyder was one of six members of the House considered to have voted "right" on all 12 issues. Cook's rating was 70 per cent.

A native of Hardin, Dr. Mofield has been a staff or faculty member at Murray State since 1964. He received his undergraduate degree at Murray State, his master's degree from Columbia University, New York, and his doctorate from Southern Illinois University. He served two terms as president of the Murray State Alumni Association.

Calley Remains Imprisoned While Army Makes Decision

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Army Lt. William L. Calley Jr. is remaining in prison while the Army decides whether to appeal the reversal of his conviction for murder in the My Lai massacre.

Calley's release was blocked on Thursday when a temporary stay was granted by Chief Judge John R. Brown of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals. That stay is to allow the Army time to prepare a written motion for a 15-day stay while it decides whether to appeal.

Calley was ordered freed on Wednesday by U.S. District Judge J. Robert Elliott of Columbus, Ga., who ruled that Calley's rights to a fair trial were violated during his court-martial 3½ years ago. He was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment. The sentence was later reduced to 10 years.

One of Calley's lawyers, Kenneth Henson, commented that "if they haven't decided on appeal, they are a little early in applying for a stay. If Solicitor General (Robert H.) Bork hasn't made that determination, it is highly unusual."

Henson also said Brown might have disallowed himself from the Calley case because of a remark made during an earlier hearing on the granting of bail to Calley.

Henson quoted the judge as telling J. Houston Gordon, another Calley lawyer, "You may win the case, but you are not going to win it on pretrial publicity."

One of the main points of Elliott's decision was that pretrial publicity had made a fair trial impossible.

Calley had been preparing to leave confinement at Ft. Leavenworth disciplinary barracks. "It's nothing more than Army arrogance," said Henson of the move to keep Calley behind bars.

Calley, 31, was convicted in March 1971 of the murder of at least 22 South Vietnamese civilians while acting as a platoon leader in the American Division.

He served three years under house arrest at Ft. Benning, Ga., until Elliott freed him on bail last Feb. 11.

He remained free until June 26 when Elliott took his appeal under advisement. At that time the Army took legal steps to return him to custody and he has been working as a clerk-typist in the disciplinary barracks at Ft. Leavenworth.

Lexington Firemen Ordered To Appear In Court On Contempt

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — About 315 Lexington firemen are ordered to appear next Thursday in Fayette Circuit Court to show cause why they should not be found in contempt of court for walking off their jobs.

The city law department filed three separate motions with Circuit Judge L.T. Grant Thursday in the third day of the firemen's strike.

The first two motions involved 213 firemen who left their jobs Tuesday or failed to report for work Wednesday. The third involved 102 men who failed to report Thursday.

The city also cited firemen who have picketed fire stations, construction sites and city buildings, and those who demonstrated in front of City Hall on Tuesday before the strike started.

The motions also named the International Association of Firefighters, which the firemen seek to have recognized as their bargaining agent, and some of the union's officers.

The walkout Tuesday followed a refusal by the Lexington-Fayette County Council to recognize the union as bargaining agent for the firemen.

The firemen have sought union representation for months and staged a two-hour walkout last month.

Judge Grant issued a restraining order at that time barring strikes by firemen, and the city contends the firemen are violating that order in their current walkout.

Complexity Of Rockefeller Returns May Delay Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The complexity of Nelson A. Rockefeller's tax returns seems likely to delay Senate action on his vice presidential nomination until after the November elections, informed sources said today.

The sources said that audits of Rockefeller's taxes being prepared for the Senate Rules Committee, which ended its public hearings on Thursday, won't be ready until at least the third week in October.

That was the estimate earlier in the week by Chairman Peter W. Rodino Jr., D-N.J., whose House Judiciary Committee won't even start its hearings until after the elections.

However, Chairman Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., of the Senate panel had been hopeful the material being prepared by the Internal Revenue Service for the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, would be ready next week.

Both houses are scheduled to quit work for the month-long election recess in two weeks, so the delay would assure that neither could finish Rockefeller's confirmation by then.

Cannon said at the close of public hearings on Thursday that the panel won't be able to decide until after it gets the tax audits whether it will have to recall Rockefeller for further questioning.

The Thursday hearing produced anti-Rockefeller testimony from conservatives and critics of Rockefeller's approval of liberalized abortion legislation.

Two blacks hailed the former New York governor's civil rights record, and two other witnesses urged his approval because he favored the liberalized abortion proposal.

Republican committee members occasionally introduced material to counter criticism of Rockefeller's handling of the 1971 Attica prison uprising, in which 43 persons lost their lives.

The biggest name of the Rockefeller critics was black activist Angela Y. Davis, who testified in behalf of the National Alliance Against Racism and Political Repression. She said Rockefeller should be rejected because he permitted "state police and prison guards to stage one of the most wanton massacres in the history of the United States" at Attica.

On the abortion issue, which Rockefeller had called the most controversial he had faced in his 15 years as governor, he was defended by New York State Republican Assemblywoman Constance Cook and Carol Burris of the Women's Lobby Inc., and denounced by Edward J. Golden and Notre Dame Law Prof. Charles E.

Rice, representing two so-called "Right-to-Life" groups.

Conservative criticism of Rockefeller came from Curtis Dall, board chairman of Liberty Lobby, and from Rev. Kenneth E. Lee, president of the Washington Christian Action Council.

Lee was the only witness all week to mention — and criticize — Rockefeller's much-publicized 1962 divorce and 1963 remarriage.

The hearing set on surplus funds suit.

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A hearing was scheduled today in Franklin Circuit Court on a suit challenging the law that allows Gov. Wendell Ford to allocate surplus state funds.

The action, filed three weeks ago by two Republicans, contends the 1974 legislature had no authority to grant such powers to the governor.

The General Assembly granted high discretionary powers to reallocate funds in the event of a budget deficit.

At the time the budget was passed, the legislature anticipated possible deficits because of the energy crisis, but instead a vast surplus has accumulated.

The Democratic governor has spent $43 million and allocated $31 million more for various projects.

NEA Action Possible In MSU Tenure Squabble

The National Education Association has threatened to take the side of the Murray State University Faculty Organization, if it does not receive a favorable response from the Board of Regents regarding the controversy over tenure.

Dave Graham, an NEA representative from Washington, D.C. told about 150 faculty members on Wednesday that, "I am ready to recommend that NEA take the case if the board does not grant you due process of law."

The controversy arose several months ago when 21 faculty members were notified they had not been granted tenure. Of those, 11 have been employed at Murray for seven or more years.

In a meeting last month, the regents denied a request for a hearing by one of those denied tenure and said that all tenure decisions were final and that no one would be given a hearing.

Faculty members who will be dismissed contend that the board's denial for a hearing has deprived them of "due process" because they have not been informed why they were not granted tenure.

"You have a very good case here," Graham said. "Tenure is supposed to be denied or granted after a set probationary period. That period is to be for evaluation and if you are not evaluated, it is not serving its purpose."

Tenure at Murray State must be granted under written school policy by the end of the sixth year of employment, or faculty members will be given a one-year terminal contract. The members who have been employed at MSU for seven or more years, claim that they have "de-facto tenure" since they have been at the university for more than six years.

President Dr. Constantine (Deno) Curris and the board feel that since the current tenure policy did not go into effect until 1969, that years of service before then do not count toward the granting or denial of tenure.

"If you are not granted hearings with the board to learn why you are being dismissed, then you are being denied due process—and I think it should be taken before the courts,"

Graham said.

The faculty organization met earlier this month and adopted a resolution demanding that the board reopen the tenure issue. If the tenure issue is not reopened by the board, the faculty organization said it will take one or all three alternatives: To cast a vote of no confidence in the Curris administration; to censure the president and the board, or a "stronger course of action appropriate to the circumstance at the time."

Dr. Charles Daughaday, acting chairman of the organization, said that the third alternative was left open in case "as a last resort we have to go to the courts."

The board was given until last Monday to respond to the demand, but that time was extended and Board Chairman Dr. Charles Howard said he would issue a statement by the end of the week.

Others to speak at Wednesday's meeting were Dr. J. M. Dodson, executive secretary of the Kentucky Education Association (KEA); Gerald Jagers, director of publications for the KEA, and Martha Dell Sanders, KEA district representative. Also present was John Slattery, KEA attorney.

Dodson told the group that they must join with the other state universities and state colleges to put pressure on the state legislature to pass specific tenure law that "a board of regents cannot change in a minute."

He said that as the law now stands, the regents can take tenure away as fast as they give it. "Once a tenure law is adopted (by the state government) faculty members will be guaranteed job security without having to depend on board policy," Dodson said.

Group Says Bad Roads Could Mean High Prices

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A group of road builders and others involved in highway construction says bad country roads and inadequate bridges could mean higher food prices for Kentuckians.

A spokesman for The Road Information Program (TRIP) said Thursday the organization has conducted a study indicating that the flow of Kentucky farm goods to market is being hampered.

At Dix said the study shows that an estimated 60 per cent of Kentucky country roads are considered intolerable by federal standards.

He said 37,369 miles of country roads in the state need improvement at an estimated cost of $2 billion.

Efforts by the state Transportation Department and local road agencies to upgrade rural roads are hampered by lack of money, Dix said.

"Road budgets are not keeping pace with the combined problems of inflation and rural growth," he said.

Information for the TRIP study came from the U.S. Department of Transportation, the U.S. Department of Agriculture, the Interstate Commerce Commission and state road agencies.

TRIP identifies itself as a nonprofit, educational group which researches, evaluates and distributes information on road transportation matters.

Action On Time Bill Postponed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate action on a bill to restore standard time from November through February has been postponed until next week.

The postponement was agreed to on Thursday after controversy arose over a non-germane amendment to eliminate discriminatory state taxes on wines.

That amendment, introduced by Sen. John Tunney, D-Calif., would prevent states from levying more taxes on wines produced outside a state than on those produced inside it.

The Senate refused, 43 to 39, to table it, and Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., began a filibuster against it. Consideration of the daylight saving time measure then was put off until next Tuesday or Wednesday.

The DST measure would set clocks back one hour on the last Sunday in October and forward one hour on the last Sunday in February. It already has been passed by the House and is thought to have little opposition in the Senate.

Year-around daylight saving time went into effect last January as a means of saving energy. Transportation Department studies found that it resulted in savings of almost 1 per cent in electricity, mostly during March and April.

"Judgment Bound" Is Subject For Sermon

"Judgment Bound" will be the subject of the sermon by Rev. E. Edd Glover at the eleven a. m. worship services on Sunday, September 29, at the North Pleasant Grove Cumberland Presbyterian Church.

His scripture will be from Proverbs 14:34 and Romans 1. Sunday School will be at ten a. m. and evening worship at 6:30 p. m.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Robinson will be greeters at the morning service.

Staff recommendations included a request from food service director Margo McIntosh to be relieved of part time teaching duties so she could devote full time to the food service program. Glenda Tutt was employed to take Mrs. McIntosh's place on the Murray Middle School teaching staff.

Property Must Be Assessed At 100 Per Cent Court Rules

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Franklin Circuit Judge Henry Meigs has ordered the state Department of Revenue to require that real estate be assessed at 100 per cent of fair cash value, effective Jan. 1.

One attorney involved in the case described the decision Thursday as the most significant in the property tax field.

Marjorie Hatton Is Featured Artist

The local artist began painting as a child and enjoys all media. She had had no formal training, but has displayed her paintings in numerous shows. She is a member of the Murray Art Guild.

Seats Available For Tour, Senior Citizens

Seats are still available for the bus tour by the Murray-Calloway Senior Citizens to Fontana Village, North Carolina, October 14, 15, and 16.

The bus fare of $29 must be paid by October 1, according to Verona Grogan, director of the Senior Citizens Group. For information persons may call 753-0929.

since a state Court of Appeals decision in 1965 which required 100 per cent assessment.

In enforcing that 100 per cent assessment ruling, the Department of Revenue decided administratively that an 85 per cent minimum would be acceptable.

In recent years, the department has accepted county assessments that are at least 85 per cent of market value, measured by comparison of assessments with real-estate sales.

Meigs' order would require many counties to raise their assessments, according to an attorney involved in the case.

The order, which could be appealed, came in a suit filed last

Blood River Singing To Be, Old Salem

The Blood River Baptist Association Singing will be held Sunday, September 29, at 1:30 p.m. at the Old Salem Baptist Church, located approximately 2 1/2 miles east of Murray.

The public is invited to attend, according to an associational spokesman.

Macedonia Church To Hold Gospel Meeting

A gospel meeting will start tonight (Friday) and continue Sunday at the Macedonia Church of Christ, Mayfield, with James Long, minister of the Lebanon Church of Christ, Sedalia, as the speaker.

Jim Sloan, minister of the church, said services will be held at 7:30 each evening with the Sunday services at ten a.m., 10:45 a.m., and 2:30 p.m.

A singing will be held at 2:30 p.m. Sunday at the church located on the Old Dublin Road, off Highway 80 west of Mayfield.

Council...

Pa., was the low bidder on a new sludge pump for the sewerage plant with a figure of $5,418. The only other bid on the pump, which replaces a pump in use at the treatment plant since 1947, was $5,927 submitted by Milner Equipment Co. of Newton Square, Pa.

The special investigative division of the Murray Police will now have an automobile at its disposal. The council last night authorized the purchase of a 1974 Plymouth Duster for the division from Jim Fain Motors at a cost of $3,775. Other bids submitted were Dwain Taylor Chevrolet, $3,553 on a 1974 Nova and Parker Ford, $3,725 on a 1974 Maverick.

Councilman Chrisman explained that the committee and the police chief felt the higher priced Duster would be the better buy for the department since it carried a 50,000 mile warranty while the other vehicles were only guaranteed for 12,000 miles.

The council also authorized the purchase of a cargo van for the Fire Department. Parker Ford submitted a low bid on the van, $3,577. Dwain Taylor Chevrolet bid $3,987 on a similar vehicle.

The resolution supporting the four-laning of 12th Street will be presented to the state highway department at the public corridor hearing next Thursday at the University School Auditorium.

Mayor John E. Scott, who supports the four-laning, said that recent studies have revealed that 95 per cent of the traffic on 12th St. is local and that the thoroughfare handles an average of 10,000 to 12,000 vehicles per day.

Traffic on the major artery through town has increased by 12 per cent per year since 1970, Scott added.

In a related matter, Councilman W. R. Furches requested that the planning commission study the possibility of rezoning property along 12th St. for commercial use.

Councilman Chrisman reported that the Police Department had issued 133 citations during the period from Sept. 6 to Sept. 19. Of the 133, 116 were found guilty as charged in city court. The department also investigated 28 traffic accidents, opened five other criminal investigations and solved one investigation.

August by the Jefferson County Board of Education and 10 other school districts. Fifteen additional school districts later intervened in the suit.

Defendants were State Revenue Commissioner John McD. Ross and the Revenue Department.

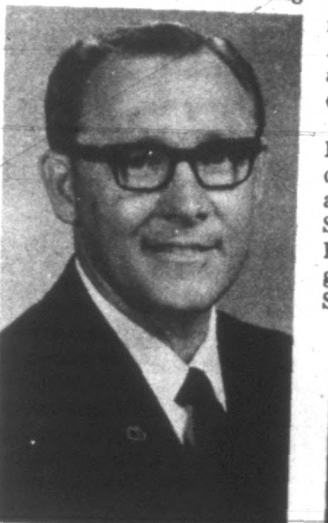

One state official giving a preliminary opinion of the ramifications of the Thursday's order said the resulting growth in assessments would not be subject to the 1965 state "rollback" law.

As a result, schools, counties, cities and other local taxing units would have the option of raising additional revenue from the assessment growth.

The 1965 "rollback" law forced all taxing districts to roll back their tax rates as assessments were raised to 100 per cent in 1966.
