Congress Votes To Restore Standard Time Across Nation

By JIM LUTHER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has given more weight to public convenience than the energy shortage by voting to restore standard time in the nation this winter.

Senate passage without debate or dissent Monday sent the bill to President Ford, who is expected to sign it.

As a result, virtually all Americans will set their clocks back one hour Oct. 27, ending 10 straight months of daylight saving time. The only exceptions will be residents of eastern Indiana, Hawaii, Arizona, Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and Samoa, who observe standard time 12 months a year.

Next Feb. 23, clocks will be set forward an hour. Then, unless Congress intervenes again, the regular pattern of daylight time six months a year would be resumed in October 1975.

Year-round daylight time was approved by Congress last December as an energy-conservative measure, and became effective Jan. 6 for a 22-month period.

The Senate Commerce Committee, in recommending a return to standard time during November, December, January and February, reported the equivalent of 100,000 barrels of oil per day was saved during the first four months of 1974 because of daylight time.

But such savings "must be balanced against a majority of the public's distaste for the observance of daylight saving time" during the winter, the committee said.

Kentuckians May Go Back On 'Old' Time

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Kentuckians may go back to their "old" time zones on Oct. 27.

Under a bill passed Monday by the Senate and sent to President Ford, the nation will return to standard time for the winter months.

But Gov. Wendell Ford's office said Monday he will ask the federal government to permit Kentucky to return to time zones that existed before year-long Daylight Saving Time began as an energy-saving experiment last January.

If the exemption is granted, 78 counties in the central and eastern part of the state would be on Eastern time and the 42 counties roughly west of Louisville would be on Central Time.

The proposal to restore the old time zone boundaries is supported by many Louisville-area businessmen, who wish to be in the same time zone as their East Coast competitors and associates.

Kentucky Farm Bureau President J. Robert Wade has written the governor urging that the current time line be retained. Wade cited increased safety for schoolchildren and the desirability of having most of the state on the same time.

MOBILE HOME DESTROYED—Sparks fly as electric power lines are shorted out in a fire which destroyed the mobile home of Teresa McClure, Route Five. The cause of the fire was not known, but the blaze originated in the kitchen. The fire was extinguished with the booster by the Calloway County Fire-Rescue Unit. She was treated for smoke inhalation. Both the home and its contents were a total loss. Thirteen men and three units from the rescue squad answered the call. Firemen also answered a call to the summer cabin of L.A. Richardson in the New Concord area Sunday evening. The building was completely destroyed by the fire, which was thought to have been caused by a gasoline explosion in the garage.

Family Food Bill Follows Upward Pattern In September

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer

The family grocery bill followed an all-too-familiar upward pattern during September, an Associated Press market basket survey showed, although there were a few bargains at the meat counter.

The cost of eggs, laundry detergent, cookies and sugar generally went up last month, while the price of pork chops and chopped chuck went down.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the prices on March 1, 1973, at a supermarket in each of 13 cities and rechecked at the beginning of succeeding months.

The latest check showed that during September the bill for the 15 items went up in 11 cities and down in two — Seattle, Wash., and Salt Lake City, Utah. On the average, the bill at the start of October was 2.3 per cent higher than it was at the beginning of September and 12 per cent more than at the start of the year.

The latest price boosts in the AP survey generally reflected higher farm prices caused by drought and bad weather in the Midwest. There is some hope for the future, however.

The Agriculture Department said Monday that prices paid to farmers dropped 2 per cent from Aug. 15 to Sept. 15, the first decline since last spring. The lower farm prices could mean lower supermarket prices in a couple of months — if retailers pass along the savings.

Administration officials have said that food prices will continue to rise in 1975, although at a slower pace than in 1974. The 1974 boost in food prices is expected to be between 15 and 17 per cent, officials say.

The latest AP survey showed that the price of a dozen, medium white eggs went up during September in 12 of 13 cities checked. Eggs were not available at the 13th supermarket. Despite the increases, however, eggs remained cheaper than they were at the start of the year, averaging 13 per cent less than they did at the beginning of January.

Meat May Be Lower This Fall But Rise Expected Later

WASHINGTON (AP) — A decline in prices paid farmers for cattle and hogs holds out a possibility of lower retail prices this fall — but higher prices for meat later on.

Elsewhere on the economic scene, airline costs may be headed upward and a 10-cent-a-gallon gasoline tax remains under study by the government.

The Agriculture Department reported Monday that its farm price index declined two per cent from Aug. 15 to Sept. 15, the first drop since spring.

But the report contained a warning of possible future problems. It attributed much of the decline to lower farm prices for cattle and hogs, because farmers have been sending more to market. This could mean lower meat prices at retail later this fall — if the middlemen pass the reductions along.

But, said the Agriculture Department, at least part of the extra animals are breeding stock, which means there will be fewer pigs and cattle next year and therefore less meat later on. That's what happened earlier during similar cutbacks by poultry farmers. Eggs and poultry went up 13 per cent the following month.

In related developments, it was announced the executive committee of President Ford's new Economic Policy Board is meeting daily to consider proposals put forth during a month of economic summit meetings completed last weekend.

The Civil Aeronautics Board reported Monday that four of the nation's airlines have asked to increase domestic fares by 4 to 7 per cent Nov. 1 because of increased fuel costs.

Carmon Parks To Receive Award For State Group

Carmon Parks, vocational agriculture teacher at Calloway County High School, will be presented with the Professional National Vocational Agriculture Teachers' Association award at the national convention to be held December 8 in New Orleans, La.

The announcement of the award was made by James Wall, executive secretary for NVATA, who said the Kentucky Vocational Agriculture Teachers' Association had fulfilled requirements for the award.

Parks is president of the Kentucky Association. Walls said the NVATA has always recognized that the national association can be no stronger than its affiliated state organizations. He said state associations are encouraged to conduct activities designed to serve the best interests of members, the NVATA, and the profession.

The executive secretary said activities considered most essential include the use of an organized program of work, keeping members informed through regular newsletters, and attaining at least 95 per cent of the potential membership.

The NVATA recognizes the winning associations annually by presenting a framed certificate of appreciation to the president of associations meeting the established requirements.

Parks was elected Kentucky NVATA president at the conference held at Eastern State University, Richmond, last year. He has thirty-six years teaching experience in vocational education and has served in many capacities in the field of education.

Former Nixon Administration Officials Go On Trial Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once-mighty officials of the Nixon administration went on trial today on charges they tried to block the investigation of the June 1972 Watergate break-in.

At 9:29 a.m. by the courtroom clock, U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica entered the courtroom to preside in the case of "The United States versus John Mitchell, et al."

Most of the seats in the courtroom were taken by a panel of 170 prospective jurors. Sirica told them he would begin by asking general questions to weed out any obviously unqualified and then question the remainder in private.

Twelve jurors and six alternates will be chosen. Sirica has said he hopes to complete the trial before Christmas.

The five defendants include former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and ex-White House aides H.R. Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman.

The defense and prosecution have subpoenaed former President Nixon as a witness.

Neither Nixon nor his lawyer, Herbert J. Miller, has made any public response to the subpoenas. Monday, however, Dr. John C. Lungren, the ailing former President's physician, said he believes it would be "at least a month, maybe three months," before Nixon could travel from California to Washington.

Nixon entered Memorial Hospital Center of Long Beach, Calif., a week ago suffering from a recurrence of the phlebitis that troubled him during his last year in office. After he entered the hospital, doctors disclosed that a small blood clot had moved from Nixon's left leg to his right lung.

While still president, Nixon was named an unindicted co-conspirator in the case. President Ford subsequently granted him a pardon for any federal offenses committed while Nixon was in office.

The defendants sought unsuccessfully to delay the trial until next year on the grounds the unprecedented publicity generated by Watergate, including the resignation and pardon of Nixon, would make it impossible to find unbiased jurors.

Defendants along with Mitchell, Haldeman and Ehrlichman are former Assistant Atty. Gen. Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson, one-time attorney for Nixon's reelection committee.

Sirica granted a prosecution motion Monday to hold a separate trial for former White House aide Gordon C. Strachan. However, Sirica refused to dismiss the charges against Strachan, who claimed the case against him was based on testimony he gave under what he thought was an agreement it wouldn't be used against him.

He will attend a meeting in Williamsburg, Va., the weekend

Ford Charges Cook With Political Interference In Red River Matter

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP) —

Gov. Wendell Ford charged here Monday during a Democratic political rally that Powell County farmers may be hampered in attempting to obtain federal aid due to recent flooding because of a "political conspiracy."

Ford, a Democrat, attached incumbent U.S. Sen. Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky. his foe in the Nov. election saying "the matter reeks of interference and collusion because one U.S. Senator is trying to make the Red River matter a political decision."

Powell County farmland was flooded three times in September and estimates of the extent and damage have varied, depending on whether pro or anti-dam forces make the assessments.

Ford contends federal authorities have not assessed damage in Powell County caused by the September floods.

"In fact a department of agriculture official said a Washington team would visit the flooded area, but he said that visit could be as much as three months away," Ford said.

"This doesn't make an ounce of sense when crops, pasture, livestock, fencing and other variables are involved," he added.

The governor challenged statements by professors at Eastern Kentucky University and the University of Kentucky last week. They said, in effect, that Powell County flood damage has been exaggerated.

"They're wrong and are trying to misrepresent a serious occurrence," Ford said. "Let those professors go up to Powell County and tell the victims they weren't hurt."

Before the rally, approximately 25 members of the Eastern Kentucky University Veterans Club marched in front of the courthouse where the governor was scheduled to speak.

Several of the veterans had met with Ford earlier in the day.

Tom Schultz, vice president of the Kentucky Collegiate Veterans Association, said "The governor did not seem to pay any attention to our problems."

The group is seeking more benefits, Schultz said.

By MRS. W. P. WILLIAMS

I had almost forgotten some of the interesting happenings of the Roosevelt era until I read about a massive program he started while president. In 1934 he had a two mile strip from the Dakotas to the Texas panhandle planted in trees. This was to break the force of winds and help prevent the shifting sand through the midwestern states. It was to help protect cattle as well as people from a hot sun in summer and freezing weather in winter.

It was a splendid idea and was accomplishing its purpose, but through the years it has been kept up, so that many acres of the trees have died. But interest is being revived and just last year 50,000 acres of the "shelter belt" have been replaced. Perhaps we will yet learn to care for our land in the right way. It was started to create jobs but now it is being kept up by ranchers and farmers whose lands adjoin the belt. They have found the value in it.

The African Violet Society of America has announced the two African Violets that have won the most awards in the country. One is "Tommy Lou," a double variety with plain quilted leaf and of a whitish-orchid color. The plant grows to be an unusually large one, measuring over 15 inches.

The other Violet is "Lullabye," a double in two tones of light blue making a plant of about eight inches.

I am not an African Violet fan myself, although I have seen some very lovely ones. The range of color is interesting.

Now someone has brought out another reason for not smoking tobacco. They say tobacco stained fingers can spread virus disease that will affect tomatoes and, to a certain degree, potatoes, peppers and similar plants. So the Horticulturist Society says that a green thumb that is tobacco-stained is no longer a green thumb.

If you want your trees to take a fresh start next spring and really grow, just give them applications of fertilizer this fall. During the winter months they will be absorbing the nutrients and will be ready to burst forth in the spring with renewed vigor and freshness. Trees also need water during the fall and it is this combination that really does the work. Water puts the fertilizer in proper condition to be absorbed by the roots. Try it this season and I think you will see some fine results.

These crisp mornings remind us that whatever jobs need to be done before cold weather should not be put off much longer. If we wait, we may find ourselves with a nice white frost some morning—and our job not nearly done.

Larry Hurt Attends Dealer Sales Meet

More than 60 persons, including Larry Hurt of Murray Supply, recently attended a key dealer sales meeting at the Ariens Co. in Brillion, Wis.

The firm, which manufactures riding mowers, garden tractors, tillers, and snow blowers, invited the dealers to tour the recently expanded factory and test the Ariens line along with competitive equipment. Hurt and about 20 others who attended are Ariens dealers for E. Blankenship & Co., Inc., the regional distribution with headquarters in Marion.

Michael S. Ariens, president, who attended said, "We feel that a dealer who is familiar with many other makes of outdoor power equipment is better able to demonstrate the advantages of the Ariens line. We also acquaint our dealers with our manufacturing facilities, as well as update their sales and service techniques."

At the close of the field testing program, the Blankenship dealers were introduced to the 1975 Ariens product line.

Abby definitely doubts "DAT"

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1974 by The Chicago Tribune

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem I sure hope you can help me with, as everyone I've told this to just laughs at me. I know I read an article in the Orlando Sentinel Star stating that someone actually mated a dog with a cat, and the offspring was called a "DAT". (Half dog and half cat.) I read that it looked like a dog, but had fur instead of hair. I'm sure they even ran a picture of it. Now I could kick myself for not cutting out the article and keeping it as proof. I even went to the newspaper and asked for a back copy, but because I couldn't tell them the exact date, they couldn't help me. That paper runs your column so maybe if you ask them they will try to find it.

DEAR PINKY: If such a piece ever did appear in the Orlando Sentinel, it was either a spoof or a goof. A "DAT"? DAT'S an impossibility!

DEAR ABBY: Grandma thinks she was "done wrong" by her son and daughter-in-law because they asked her to babysit for them while they took a course in landscaping, when they really took a series of dancing lessons. (They knew Grandma wouldn't babysit if they told her the truth.) Well, tell her she's lucky. My daughter got us to take her child for five months. She told us she was trying to get her life straightened out, and was working overtime to earn money to fix up her house so she and the baby could have a nicer place to live.

We knocked ourselves out looking after the boy. It cost us a bundle to fly up to get him, also for babysitters (I work part-time), not to mention loss of income for clients I had to turn away.

Now we find out that our daughter had taken up with a man who didn't want the child around. Three weeks after the baby went back with her, she phoned and asked if we wanted to adopt him because she was going to give him up and marry the man she'd been living with. It's one thing to have kids who are liars. Some are bigger liars than others.

DEAR GRANDMA: Yours not only flew the coop, she used you to feather her love nest.

DEAR ABBY: You had a letter in your column from a handicapped person who resented seeing perfectly able-bodied drivers zip into parking spaces marked "Reserved for the Handicapped," then walk a few steps to the store or building.

The writer complained that he often hobbled on crutches a long way to his destination while some inconsiderate, selfish clod took the parking place reserved for the handicapped.

Abby, one need not be crippled to be handicapped. Many disabilities are not visible. A heart patient, or one with severely reduced lung power may be more seriously handicapped than someone on crutches.

You should have said, "Before calling people 'inconsiderate, selfish clods' for having grabbed your parking space, consider that many who appear to be able-bodied and healthy may be in far worse physical condition than you are."

DEAR WIFE: Thank you for pointing out something that never occurred to me. You are far more insightful than I.

DEAR ABBY: I didn't know how to address letters to my daughter who lives with her boyfriend out of town, so I asked my psychiatrist who has a son who lives with his girl friend. He said he addresses his letters to Jane and John Doe. Now that's what I do.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

A Mild Case Of Flu

Probably few Kentuckians other than doctors and the staff of the Health Department paid much attention to the notice from the Public Health Service a while back that the flu season is likely to be a mild one.

For most of us, flu—more properly influenza—is nothing worse than a bad cold. Headache, sniffles, aches and pains.

A few days of bleary eyed congestion and wheezing—a kind of annual toll we pay to old man winter.

For some of our children, regularly immunized against the disease, flu is only something the other kids at school get.

But it was not always so.

There are many west Kentuckians alive today who remember the flu epidemic of 1918-1919 during which thousands—hundreds of thousands—died in the U. S. alone.

Hardly a family was spared.

Men, women, children—none was safe. All were potential victims.

Grandparents still speak with horror of the railroad box cars with bodies stacked like cord wood.

Other than the legendary Black Death of the 14th century, it was the most deadly epidemic in human history.

Flu is still dangerous of course—mostly to those with respiratory problems, heart conditions, kidney disease and diabetes.

But the fact that it is not the killer it once was doesn't mean that we can afford to be lax about prevention.

Better to get a shot than risk a return to "the bad old days."

From The Editor's Mailbag

Edited By GENE McCUTCHEON

Murray Ledger & Times Editor

(A compilation of notes gleaned from the daily mail—some of which will interest many, others that may interest only a few.)

The average doctor today seems to have weight, exercise, nutrition and smoking on his mind.

That's why, says the Health Insurance Institute, the next time you visit your doctor for a physical, the chances are good you'll be advised on at least one of these categories.

This prognosis is based on an analysis of a national survey, conducted in June 1974 by the Roper Organization, of patient visits for medical examinations.

According to the survey, more than 1 out of every 2 patients who came for a check-up, received specific medical recommendations much of it dealing specifically with cutting down on food and smoking, while improving dietary and exercise habits.

Less than 1 in 3 persons over 60 years of age came away with a clean bill of health, while overall, nearly 1 in 5 was given this solemn advice: "You must go on a diet to lose weight."

But the struggle to slim down was strongest among the middle-aged, nearly 1 in 4 of whom was put on a diet by his doctor.

Younger people, presumably, have less need for diets; older people, perhaps, have either won or given up the battle.

Among the other medical advice given to 1 in 10 people were:

Get more exercise.
Take vitamins or mineral supplements.
Go on a special diet because of a health problem.

Meanwhile, about 1 in 20 people were told to stop smoking, while 1 in 20 were told to exercise less strenuously.

Only 1 in 50 were told to cut down on alcoholic beverages, and 1 in 50 were instructed to cut out alcohol completely.

For nearly half of the men, no treatment was recommended. But more men than women were told to reduce their smoking and/or drinking.

Women, on the other hand, were more likely to be prescribed a variety of treatments, from medicines (women 33 per cent, men 18 per cent) to surgery, to diets and supplemental vitamins.

Not surprisingly, according to the survey, older people got the most medical advice with nearly 2 in 5 people over 60 given medicine and about 1 in 10 told to take it easier.

But despite the current emphasis on diets and exercises, the most frequently prescribed medical solution—for 1 in every 4 patients—was medicine.

Quality of Life in Later Years

"I would like to live a long time—but only if I am in good shape and able to enjoy life."

That statement indicates a fairly typical attitude of people who look ahead to their later years.

Those who manage to avoid death by disease or accident should be able to enjoy life no matter what their age. The human aging process alone apparently does not greatly impair the quality of life during the advanced years.

That was one conclusion of a study supported by the National Institute of Mental Health, a component of the Alcohol, Drug Abuse, and Mental Health Administration. The research report acknowledged heredity as an important factor in long life, but stated that the data "encourage considerable optimism about the potential quality of life within the genetic limits."

Any such statement must, of course, assume a living situation in which the person's minimal economic, personal safety, and other basic needs are met. Beyond that, psychological factors are important. Being "in good shape" means maintaining both physical and mental health.

Believing that studies of aged persons already in ill health have given a distorted picture, the NIMH-supported researchers started with a group of men, average age 71, who had no significant health problems. The subjects were examined, tested, and studied by specialists in psychology, social psychology, and various branches of medicine including psychiatry.

Those still living were studied again 11 years later, at an average age over 80, and comparisons were made of several factors in the original study among the survivors and non-survivors.

One factor which seemed most significant for survival was "organization of behavior"—having things to do, avoiding an aimless or nonmeaningful way of life. The sustaining of "effective life goals" was important.

The goals did not have to be large or noteworthy projects. The researchers said their subjects maintained meaningful goals through continued work, recreational activities, and caring for people—a sick wife, for example—or caring for material things such as a house.

Method Of Regent Selection Needs Changing

Dear Editor:

The editorial of September 24, 1974 calling for Tenure Review at Murray State University is fine and timely, but the problem here is not an isolated one, not only with respect to that subject, but with others at all other State Universities.

Offering no opinion with respect to the qualifications, integrity, etc., of any and all Regents, it is the truth, the method of receiving such appointment should and must be changed. I do not feel qualified to suggest exactly how Regents should be chosen, but such power should not rest with the Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, only. I recommend divestiture but extensive study is a must to insure proper correction.

Be the Governor, Republican or Democrat, too many of these appointments as Regents are political re-imbursements. Notwithstanding, some are fair and qualified, but others follow the whims and directions of the man who appointed them and that is a sad situation at all State Universities.

I should like to suggest that someone everybody and anybody, far more knowledgeable than I, demand of all aspirants to the office of Governor, that this power be diminished by the Governor, so that politics are removed from control of our State Universities, and that each aspirant take the first step.

None of the aforesaid should be construed as demeaning with respect to the Board of Regents at MSU collectively or individually. The manner in which they were and are, appointed is what I object to.

Everyone who has concern with this problem and wishes to correct this situation, should write the Senators and Congressmen of their area and voice objection and suggest a different method non-political.

State Government Report

By Sen. Carroll Hubbard

Appeal Planned On Property Assessments

MAYFIELD, Ky.—The state Department of Revenue plans to appeal an order of last Thursday by Franklin Circuit Judge Henry Meigs that real estate in Kentucky be assessed at 100 per cent of fair cash value, beginning next Jan. 1.

State Revenue Commissioner John McD. Ross doesn't believe the decision of Judge Meigs is correct and Ross says his department will take its case to the Kentucky Court of Appeals.

Ross is quoted by Linda Stahl, a reporter for The Courier-Journal, as saying: "I don't think you can predict what property is going to sell for to the dollar. It's ridiculous."

In reaction to the ruling made by Meigs, Ross said he heard from property-valuation administrators from across the state. "They're a little upset," Ross said, "and primarily concerned about whether we'll appeal."

Under Meigs' ruling the Revenue Department would have to abandon its current policy of accepting county assessment figures that come within at least 85 per cent of full market value. This policy has been carried out by comparing the assessments with samples of real estate sales figures for each county.

If Meigs' ruling is upheld, about 90 per cent of Kentucky's counties will have to raise their assessments significantly. It could mean property taxes would increase and that county governments, city governments, school districts and other local taxing units would have more property tax revenue to spend because of the assessment growth.

Last year property assessment figures across the state averaged about 89 per cent of fair cash value and this year they're expected to average about 90 per cent, said Ross. He believes that the "precise requirement" of Meigs' ruling would be impossible to meet through individual assessment of each property in every county because of insufficient manpower.

Ross said the only way the department could abide by the ruling would be to implement "blanket increases" in assessment reached through computations and put into effect every year. Ross said individual property owners still would have the right to appeal any individual increases if across-the-board assessment changes were made. Ross also said inflation wreaks havoc with the assessment process and Jefferson County Property Valuation Administrator Robert Butler Jr. agreed.

"I don't see how you can do this (carry out Meigs' order) unless inflation turns around, unless the economy reverses," said Butler. "We try to get it to 100 per cent because that's what it is supposed to be, but by the time you finish the tax roll, the inflation over the past year has overtaken you," Butler explained.

Ross used the example of a house sold for $25,000 July 1 this year. Come next Jan. 1, its assessment would be changed on the books to $25,000. Tax collections would proceed based on the assessment data. But perhaps just a month or two after January, the house sells for 10 or 15 per cent more because of inflation.

I am sympathetic to those, deserving, being denied tenure, but at the same time the new president is being criticized for a situation not his making. I hope he personally reviews each case individually. If so I am confident there are at least two to my personal knowledge who deserve retention on the faculty. As to the others I have no idea.

Now You See It

Berkeley physicists have discovered a new "Element 106" that remains in existence less than a second before its atomic particles dissipate. Since some Russian scientists also are claiming to have found the same element, the Americans are waiting to give it a name. Ordinarily, new elements are named for the persons who discovered them.

The way to solve the problem is to call the new element "detentium," in honor of the detente which has occupied American and Russian diplomats for the last couple of years. Detente has proved to have the same properties as Element 106. As soon as someone thinks he has seen it, it disappears.

Ross said inflation often outstrips the assessment process in this way.

In response to James S. Secrest of Scottsville, the Attorney General's Office states that any person who knowingly and unlawfully possesses for his own use or transfers marijuana shall be confined in county jail for not more than 90 days or be fined not more than $250. Furthermore, any person found guilty of violating the above law may be ordered to a facility designated by the commissioner of the Department of Mental Health where a program—not to exceed 90 days—of education, treatment and rehabilitation shall be prescribed.

In response to Attorney M. J. Jones Jr. of New Castle, the Attorney General's Office states that a county or public office may close one day a week other than Sunday but may not close on two half-days. The closing day is left to the discretion of each public official maintaining an office. While there is no statute requiring publication of the closing day, publication would be in the public interest.

The peaceful waters at three Kentucky State Resort Parks—Rough River Dam, Barren River Lake and Lake Cumberland—will be splashing aplenty with hooks, lines, sinkers and, hopefully, fish, as the popular "Fishing Unlimited" programs get under way in their fall edition.

The first Fishing Unlimited weekend will be at Rough River Dam State Resort Park, Falls of Rough, Oct. 11-13. Barren River Lake State Resort Park, Lucas, will have its angling competition the next weekend, Oct. 18-20, and the last Fishing Unlimited will be held at Lake Cumberland State Resort Park, Jamestown, Nov. 8-10.

The General Fund receipts for the first two months of the new fiscal year (July and August) were $148,314,109 or 26.6 per cent above the same two months last year. Sales and use tax receipts of $61,706,709 were up 11.1 per cent over last year. Individual income tax receipts of $45,230,516 were up 42.6 per cent, with part of the increase being a result of processing. Coal severance tax receipts continued at more than double last year, primarily because of much higher prices. Receipts from the other sales and gross receipts taxes and the inheritance tax continued strong.

Greenbo Lake State Resort Park, located on 225-acre Greenbo Lake near Greenup, will remain open until Dec. 1 and will offer lodge rates reduced up to 30 per cent throughout November, according to the Kentucky Department of Parks.

Park Superintendent Jeff Raines reports the November operation this year will be a trial period to determine whether Greenbo should become a year-round park.

"Since November is still an autumn month," he added, "it's a perfect time for guests to enjoy some beautiful mountain scenery."

Let's Stay Well

'Test Tube' Babies

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

A few weeks ago a prominent British physician, Prof. Douglas Bevis, announced that three "test tube" babies were living and well. His decision to protect their privacy by refusing to give their identity and location added to the general interest in his revelation. Giving his story to the press prior to publishing the facts in scientific journals created criticism and brought expressions of concern and skepticism.

Research on reimplantation of fertilized eggs has been in progress on animals for years, and one of the objectives has been to find a method applicable to humans. No researcher is interested in the production of a human fetus outside the body. However, the research may give information that will assist in reducing genetic diseases, in gaining more knowledge regarding early pregnancy that could lead to improvement in birth control, and in aiding women who have defects in their tubes which prevent pregnancy.

The eggs are collected from the ovaries after they have been stimulated by giving the women pituitary hormones (gonadotropins) and then fertilized with the husband's semen in a test tube which contains nutrient fluids. The ova are kept at normal temperature for five to seven days during the preimplantation phase.

The fertilized eggs grow—two cells appearing 12 to 24 hours after fertilization; eight cells at the end of the third day; and the blastocyst potentially capable of attaching to the inside of the uterus, by the end of the fifth day of growth. These small embryos are introduced by a catheter into the uterus through its cervix.

Most such embryos die rather than become attached to the lining of the uterus. No successful implantations of fertilized eggs in humans have been reported in the United States.

The success announced by Dr. Bevis has created a stir. This story will no doubt stimulate research efforts. Factors which influence early human development are little understood and more knowledge is needed.

Q. My physician has measured the length of my legs and found one shorter than the other. He says that nothing need be done since I am comfortable and have no symptoms. Do you agree?

A. I agree with your physician. Q. What makes certain persons develop into homosexuals?

The reasons are not completely understood. Family circumstances are said to be a contributing factor—for example, a young man who hates his father is more likely to develop homosexuality. A recent study showed that individuals in a group of male homosexuals produced less male hormones than normal male heterosexuals. Homosexuals had more homosexual relatives than average. Such findings indicate a chemical or hormonal basis for homosexuality and that heredity may be a factor. Remember that most homosexuals are capable of living otherwise normal lives.

Furgerson Doesn't Make Any Excuses

"There are no excuses, we just lined up and they beat us," Murray State football coach Bill Furgerson told a small group last night at the weekly meeting of the Big M Club.

Furgerson spent about a half an hour discussing the Racers' 26-0 loss suffered Saturday at Tennessee Tech.

"It's tough to take the first loss but anytime you play in the Ohio Valley Conference against good folks, you're going to lose a few games."

Furgerson looked back to the time before the season began when he went on record as saying that the greatest question about the 1974 Racers was the offensive line.

And that, the offensive line, is what Furgerson believes is the main reason for the downfall.

"The aggressiveness of the Tech defense made the difference in the game," Furgerson said.

"But I'll assure you that when we look at the percentages of the blocking, you will find out we helped them quite a bit."

Blocking percentages with the number of errors following included: Doug Sanders, 23 per cent and five errors; Mark Lacy, 24 per cent and four errors; Charlie Carpenter, 45 per cent; Tony Menendez, 51 per cent and nine errors; Russ Carlisle, 75 per cent and no errors; Dan Helfrich, 37 per cent and eight errors; Willie DeLoach, 15 per cent and four errors; Gary Brumm, 35 per cent and three errors; Tom Pandolfi, 30 per cent and four errors; Mike Hobbie, 31 per cent and two errors; Bernie Behrendt, 36 per cent and one error and Don Clayton, 25 per cent and two errors.

Furgerson had praise for Carlisle, the left offensive guard.

"He stays after them," Furgerson said of the 5-10, 190-pound senior. "He's like the kind of guy you used to play in basketball, the little 5-7 guy who stands in your way and is just a damn pest."

"If a little guy like Russ Carlisle can block a gainst Tech we know the rest of us could have done it."

Furgerson said there were two or three plays that made a difference in the game.

One came when specialist Flip Martin bobbled the ball when he was getting ready to punt and instead of trying to run into the endzone for a safety or even trying to punt it, he was downed on the two.

Of course the Golden Eagles took the ball in from the two and scored.

"He should have picked the ball up and attempted to kick it," Furgerson said.

"We didn't tell him before the game if the situation came up to try and kick it if he fumbled it. Knowing to run the ball into the endzone if he couldn't kick it is just a part of basic football knowledge."

We're Human

"Everybody knows we're human now and they are going to be after us the rest of the season," Furgerson said.

One of the big plays in the game that might have turned the momentum of the game came early in the fourth period.

On the Tech 31, quarterback Mike Hobbie fired a pass down the right side to Don Clayton, coming out of the backfield. The ball hit-Clayton in the hands and bounced off. Of course, it would have been an outstanding catch had he indeed caught it. But, against Cameron State, on the same play, Clayton caught the pass for the go-ahead touchdown and Murray went on to win 35-27.

"At the time, we were behind 19-0 and a touchdown there would have made it 19-7 and they would have gotten the feeling that maybe we were about ready to come back and beat them."

Furgerson will have a two-week break to get his team physically and mentally ready to play again.

Backyard rival UTM will be in Stewart Stadium the 12th of this month for a 7:30 p.m. contest.

Although he did not say who, Furgerson did say there would be some changes in the lineup when the Racers take the field.

So after three tough road games, the Racers come back to play five of the next seven at home.

Jacobs To Face Surgery

Cuthbert Jacobs, the star track runner at Murray State University and a star in soccer also, will undergo knee surgery today at Lourdes Hospital in Paducah.

Local sports fans will well remember Jacobs for his performance last spring at Stewart Stadium in the Ohio Valley Conference championships.

Jacobs ran away with the field in the 220 and then less than a half an hour later, he came back with a surprisingly easy win in the 100-yard dash.

Three years ago, the West Indian tract star was honored as the Outstanding Freshman Athlete at Murray.

This past summer, Jacobs ran a 9.2 100, his best ever, and he sincerely believed he could lower that mark to 9.1 this year.

His injury came Saturday when the soccer team won a 3-1 match at Bellarmine.

Racer Track Coach Bill Cornell said last night he doesn't know how long Jacobs will be out.

"We think he has torn cartilage in the knee but if he has tendons torn too, that could be really bad news for us."

Jacobs will probably remain in the hospital all week and needless to say, he is going to be one sad young man.

For those who would like to send him a card, his address is: Cuthbert Jacobs, Room 525, Lourdes Hospital, Paducah. His phone number is 444-6341.

Win Meal At Rudy's

Two games to go and still tied. And if all the Cardinal fans in the area are as nervous as I am, you too will be glad when Wednesday is over. Of course if the Cards and Pirates tie, we'll be glad when Thursday is over.

Since the Cardinals are still in the race, today's question for the free meal at Rudy's Restaurant will again be about the Cardinals.

Once again, this one should be rather easy for Cardinal fans as this question requires a memory of about five years.

"Name the Cardinal pitcher who came up from the minors at the age of 29, pitched one great season in which he won 16 games, and then faded back into the minors. Hint: This pitcher was almost blind."

If you think you have the answer to this one, call me at 753-8977 at 5 p.m. Thursday.

Dairy Farmer Shocks Arthur Ashe Monday

By The Associated Press

The biggest triumph so far in a tennis career that took Ross Case from a Australian dairy farm was achieved, appropriately enough, at San Francisco's Cow Palace.

He upset Arthur Ashe of Miami 6-3, 5-7, 6-4 in Monday night's final of the $100,000 Fireman's Fund International Open Tennis Championship.

In women's tennis, first-seeded Chris Evert, the leading money winner on the women's pro tour this year, met Susan Mehmedbasich today in one of the top matches of the $50,000 women's pro tournament in Houston.

Case, 22, who calls Too-wombas his home and was brought up in dairy farm country west of Brisbane, hadn't won a tournament this year. The only first prize of his career was $5,000 at Manila last year.

The curly-haired right-hander wasn't even seeded, and Ashe, whom he's never beaten in several previous matches, was No. 3.

Case, who plays for Hawaii in World Team Tennis and says he wants to play for Australia in next year's Davis Cup, earned a $10,000 first prize and moved from 44th to 21st in the Grand Prix tennis standings. He also shared a $2,000 doubles prize with Australian Geoff McMillers for reaching the quarter-finals.

Ashe got $8,000 as runner-up, and is now 12th in the Grand Prix standings.

Stan Smith of Sea Pines, S.C., and Bob Lutz of San Clemente, Calif., the top-seeded doubles team and the year's big doubles winners, beat Australians John Alexander and Sydney Ball 6-4, 7-5 for the $6,000 doubles prize. The losers shared $3,500.

Smith-Lutz won the tie-breaker 8-6 on two fine service returns by Smith, and in the first set broke Ball's service in the seventh game.

The eight-day tournament which drew 36,000, with 6,000 for the finals, saw No. 1-seeded Jimmy Connors eliminated in the quarter-finals by Onny Parun of New Zealand, who then lost a semifinal Sunday to Ashe. Case ousted defending champion Roy Emerson in the second round.

In the Houston women's tournament, other favorites besides Miss Evert to see action in the second half of the split first round were second-seeded Virginia Wade, third-seeded Rosemary Casals and fourth-seeded Evonne Goolagong.

Two seeded players won their opening matches Monday but both had troubles.

Fifth-seeded Helen Gourlay defeated Betty Ann Grub 4-6, 6-2, 6-3 and seventh-seeded Marcie Louie defeated Donna Ganz 4-6, 7-6, 7-5.

Jerry Howard Takes Fourth In CC Race

HENDERSON, Tenn.—Jerry Howard of Murray, Ky., won fourth place recently in the five mile race at Freed-Hardeman College's first cross country meet of the year.

The sophomore finished with a 30:02 timing in the meet against Southwestern of Memphis.

F-HC took the meet with a near-perfect 19-39 score. "We did extremely well," said Lion coach Cliff Bennett. "We almost reached a perfect score against a team we lost to twice last year."

A perfect score in cross country is 15.

Bruce Kison of Pittsburgh and Bob Forsch of St. Louis, a pair of pitchers who were pretty much overlooked in the pre-season analyses, matched three-hitters Monday night to keep the National League East race in a flat-footed tie.

Kison rode pinch-hitter Richie Zisk's tie-breaking seventh-inning triple to a 2-1 victory over the Chicago Cubs, while Ted Simmons' three-run homer in the first inning provided more than enough of a margin as Forsch pitched the Cardinals to a 5-1 victory over the Montreal Expos.

Meanwhile, in the NL West, the Houston Astros prevented Los Angeles from clinching the title by beating the Dodgers 4-1. Los Angeles now leads second-place Cincinnati by two games, with two to play.

In the only other National League game, the New York Mets beat the Philadelphia Phillies 5-2.

Kison had a shaky first inning, allowing two singles, a hit batsman and a bases-loaded walk to force in a run, but then settled down. He credited some scoreboard baseball with providing the settling effect.

"I was sitting on the bench after the first inning when I saw the scoreboard message that the Cardinals were leading 3-0," Kison said. "It really made me mad at myself, so I kicked myself in the butt and went out there to do the job."

Kison, 9-8, allowed just one single and a walk the rest of the way—by far his strongest game of the season and his first complete game since 1972. He has been in and out of the Pittsburgh starting rotation this season, after being plagued by arm trouble in 1973.

"Sure I was scoreboard watching, just like everybody else," said Pirate Manager Danny Murtaugh, "but we really can't be too concerned about what St. Louis is doing. Our job is to beat the Cubs."

Pittsburgh and St. Louis each have two games remaining. The Pirates play host to the Cubs while the Cards are at Montreal.

Zisk, batting for shortstop Frank Taveras, clouted his game-winning triple in the seventh to score Manny Sanguillen, who had singled and taken second on a wild pitch.

"I made a perfect pitch," said loser Bill Bonham, 11-22. "It was a change-up, low and away. I don't see how he hit it."

After the last-place Cubs took

Cards And Bucs Both Win

Bob Gibson To Try And Keep Cards In NL Race

"It was chilly, but I didn't really notice it," Forsch said. "I think I was the most active guy on the field all night. It was the guys in the dugout who were suffering."

Forsch's effort was quite a turnaround from his last start, when he was pounded for five runs in just one-third of an inning by Pittsburgh Friday night.

"It felt good to come back and pitch so well," he said. "I knew I had a chance at a no-hitter, but I thought to myself, the most important thing was not to make bad pitches."

Mike Jorgensen broke up the no-hit bid by hitting what Forsch called "a bad pitch, a fastball up and over the middle of the plate" for a two-out double in the seventh. Ken Singleton followed with a single for Montreal's only run.

Simmons' first-inning blast was his 20th home run of the year.

"It was a high fastball," he said of the pitch from Steve Rogers, 15-22. "When I hit it, I knew I hit it well."

Reggie Smith added a two-run triple in the seventh, but Forsch had more than enough runs to work with as he raised his record to 7-4.

"Bob threw strikes tonight," observed Simmons, his catcher. "He had a good fastball, and had good movement on it. He used his curve sparingly but effectively. He used it to keep the hitters off balance."

Astros 4, Dodgers 1
The Dodgers, who clinched a tie for the NL West title on Saturday, still need either a victory or a Cincinnati loss to win the crown outright.

They were stopped Monday night by the six-hit pitching of Larry Dierker and Ken Forsch. Dierker, 11-10, went the first six innings but left when his arm stiffened.

"Playoff-wise, not wrapping it up tonight hurts," said Los Angeles Manager Walt Alston. "If we had won, we could have arranged our pitchers the way we wanted to."

"I know we're all disappointed," he added, "but the other club (Cincinnati) is hurting, too. They've got to play two and win two."

Mets 5, Phils 2
Wayne Garrett's three-run homer backed the seven-hit pitching of Jerry Koosman for the Mets. Garrett's homer capped a four-run outburst in the sixth inning off Phils starter Larry Christenson.

Eighth Grade Tigers Take Win At Heath, Seventh Graders Lose

The Murray Middle School seventh and eighth grade football teams split a pair of games Monday night at Heath.

Entering the game, both Tiger teams sported marks of 1-0 as the seventh graders won their openers by belting Heath 38-14 while the eighth grade team won a 14-0 shutout over the Pirates.

But for the seventh graders, Monday night was different as they were dumped 22-8 by the Pirates. Meanwhile, the eighth grade Tigers used a strong performance from wideout Thomas Kendall and went on to claim a 20-6 verdict over the Pirates.

Heath grabbed a 14-0 lead in the first half of the seventh grade contest before Murray finally managed to get on the board.

Just before the end of the half, tailback Nicky Swift went in from six yards out for the six-pointer. On the two-point conversion, Swift went around the left side and Murray trailed just 14-8.

But Heath added another touchdown and the Tigers weren't able to come back. The coaching staff gave credit to Kenny Bogard for his fine play in the defensive secondary and for his offensive wideout post.

The seventh grade Tigers had four passes intercepted and lost one fumble.

In the eighth grade contest, quarterback Howard Boone hit Kendall with a pass just before the end of the first half and tied the game at 6-6 after Heath had taken an early 6-0 lead.

Then in the third quarter, the eighth grade Tigers moved in front with Kendall going up the middle for 45 yards and into the endzone. He picked up lead blocks from Chuck Wilson and John Denham.

On the two-point conversion, Boone connected with Greg Cohoon and Murray led 14-6.

Then in the last part of the fourth period, the Tigers put the game in the win column as Kendall went 25 yards over right tackle for the final touchdown, posting the final score of 20-6 on the board.

The coaching staff gave its plaudits to offensive performances by Jeff Kursave, David Stephenson, Kendall, Boone, Brett Warner, Hal Hendricks and Mike Hibbard.

On the defensive side, Alan Warner, Nick Hibbard and John Alexander were cited for their work.

The seventh and eighth grade Tigers will play Mayfield in Holland Stadium at 5:30 p.m. on October 10.

Tennis Wedding Postponed

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP)—The scheduled Nov. 8 wedding of America's tennis sweethearts, Chris Evert and Jimmy Connors, has been indefinitely postponed, the Berkshire Eagle says.

In Monday's edition, the Pittsfield newspaper quoted an Evert family source and said the delay was "due to the crush of an unyielding tennis schedule and a desire by both youngsters to slow down an onrushing wedding date."

Miss Evert won the Wimbledon women's singles championship during the summer and Connors won both the U.S. Open and Wimbledon men's singles crowns.

Neither Miss Evert, in Houston for a women's pro-tennis tourney, nor her family in Florida could be reached for comment.

In San Francisco, where Connors had competed over the weekend in a men's tourney, his mother, Gloria, said her son was ill and could not come to the telephone.

Asked about the report that the marriage had been postponed, Mrs. Connors said: "I haven't heard anything about it."

Orioles Win Another Big One, Yanks 1/2-Game Out

By LARRY PALADINO
AP Sports Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver is being cautious.

He doesn't want to say anything to psychologically aid the New York Yankees.

But the Yankees need more than a slip of the tongue today—they need to win their last two games while Baltimore must lose at least one of its last two for New York to even tie for first place in the American League East.

Monday night the Detroit Tigers sure didn't do anything to aid the Yankees, psychologically or otherwise.

Baltimore battered Detroit for 12 hits and nine runs the first four innings enroute to a 12-6 victory before a chilled, rain-dampened crowd of 6,575 at Tiger Stadium.

In the only other American League game scheduled, the Cleveland Indians edged the Boston Red Sox 2-1.

The Orioles' triumph was their seventh consecutive and their 14th in the last 16 games. They have posted a 26-6 record since Aug. 29 when they were third, eight games behind leader Boston.

"I'm not going to say anything controversial," Weaver said above the din of a noisy clubhouse kangaroo court.

Jim Palmer, 7-12, was the Baltimore probable today against Joe Coleman, 14-12.

An Oriole victory would force New York to win tonight and Wednesday in Milwaukee. That would give the two contenders a 90-72 final record and force a one-game knockout playoff Thursday in New York.

The Yankees are sending Doc Medich, 19-14, to the mound against Kevin Kobel, 6-14, of the Brewers.

Should Baltimore win one and New York lose one of its next two, the Orioles would win their fifth East crown since the major leagues went to divisional play six years ago.

The only way New York can win the title without a one-game playoff is to win twice against the Brewers while Baltimore loses the final two to Detroit. That would give the Yankees a 90-72 record and the Orioles an 89-73 mark.

"This is a big one for us because all we have to do is win one of two games to tie. The pressure is definitely on the Yankees," said Oriole second baseman Bobby Grich, who drove in three runs in three separate trips to the plate.

"Having a good day today with everybody hitting like we did will help us when we come out here tomorrow. The guys will have confidence. It will help us mentally."

Another thing that has seemed to help Baltimore mentally is the post-victory "court," presided over by catcher Elrod Hendricks.

"Things started to go well after we got together and decided to have court," explained designated hitter Tommy Davis. "That seemed to loosen everyone up. Nobody wanted these awards. It made them more alert out there."

On-the-field boo boos are spotlighted at the noisy court sessions. One player might get a lousy base-running award, another a hot dog award for showing off, or another a chronic complainer award.

Former Tiger Jim Northrup, acquired by Baltimore a couple weeks ago from Montreal, was one of the victims of the good-natured jabbing.

One Oriole announced to his teammates that before the game he told the players to be careful in warmups because they might slip and be injured because of the wet grass. He said Northrup commented, "That's okay. Then maybe I'll get his spot on the playoff roster."

Everyone hooted and taunted Northrup about that.

Baltimore didn't waste time against Tiger starter Mickey Lolich, who became the first 21-game loser for Detroit since Hooks Dauss was 13-21 in 1928.

Lolich, who has lost six successive games since winning his 16th, gave up four of Baltimore's five second-inning runs.

Davis singled, Don Baylor doubled, Brooks Robinson hit a two-run single and Earl Williams belted a two-run homer. A walk by Mark Belanger, a stolen base, a walk to Paul Blair and a single by Grich produced run number five.

Bill Freehan doubled in two Tiger runs in the third off starter Ross Grimsley after Baltimore added a run off Dave Lemanczyk in the top of the inning. That tally came on an RBI single by Williams after Baylor singled and stole second.

Baltimore pulled further away with three runs in the fourth. Belanger singled and stole second again. Blair doubled him home and scored on a double by Grich, who came in on a single by Davis.

Grich hit a solo homer off Fred Holdsworth in the sixth while Belanger singled in two unearned runs off him in the ninth.

In a modest comeback, Detroit scored three times in the fifth, one on a single by Freehan and two on rookie Leon Roberts' single.

A single by Ron LeFlore and Gary Sutherland's double gave Detroit a run in the eighth off winner Grant Jackson, 5-4.

Indians 2 Red Sox 1
Jim Perry posted his 17th victory, scattering nine Boston hits. The Indians scored twice in the fourth inning on Charlie Spikes' single, John Ellis' double, an infield out and Dave Duncan's two-out single off Bill Lee.

Redskins Romp To Easy 30-3 Win Over Broncos

By TOM SEPPY
AP Sports Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bill Kilmer, limping with a pulled calf muscle, tried unsuccessfully to tell everyone that he was only a small part of the Washington Redskins' victory over the Denver Broncos.

"It was a team effort ... the offense, the defense and the special teams," he said. "We didn't make any mistakes and they did. We didn't have any interceptions. We didn't have any fumbles."

Despite his comments, Kilmer threw two touchdown passes to Charlie Taylor, including one early in the first quarter, to lead the Redskins to a 30-3 victory in the National Football League nationally televised interconference game.

The victory put the Redskins in second place in the NFC Eastern Division with Philadelphia, each with records of 2-1, behind undefeated St. Louis, 3-0. The loss gave Denver a record of 0-2-1, last in the AFC Western Division.

In addition to Kilmer's two touchdown passes to Taylor, Mark Moseley kicked field goals of 37, 22, and 18 yards.

and Duane Thomas scored a touchdown with 11 seconds remaining in the game to give the Redskins more total points than they have scored in two previous contests this season.

Denver's only score came on a 34-yard field goal by Jim Turner in the third period.

"The Redskins are back," said Washington Coach George Allen. "We're back together as a team. We had the old spirit tonight."

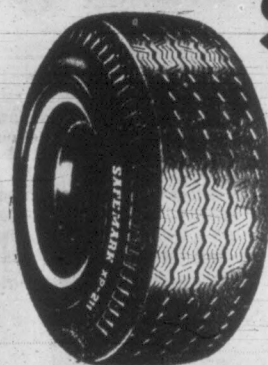

Denver Coach John Ralston said: "Bill Kilmer did an outstanding job. His execution was never better. It was just one of those nights when Kilmer was at his best."

Kilmer had 17 completions in 23 attempts for 223 yards and two touchdowns.

Braves And Astros To Keep Present Managers

By The Associated Press
The Atlanta Braves and the Houston Astros both announced the rehiring of their managers Monday and both men immediately began planning for future glories.

"We hope we can strengthen our team in a couple of spots," said Clyde King, given a two-year contract with the Braves. "We feel like we don't need too many new faces to make us a contender."

"If we can make one or two moves to give us that little something extra we need, we'll be okay," said Preston Gomez, after signing a one-year pact with the Astros.

"We have to make some changes and build for the future but the nucleus of a good team is already here." More news on the managerial front is expected soon from Cleveland where incumbent Ken Aspromonte has already been fired. A replacement is expected soon after the season ends Wednesday and Frank Robinson is considered most likely to succeed.

King took over the Braves from Eddie Mathews during the All-Star break and led the club to a 36-24 record, enabling Atlanta to finish third in the National League West, its best finish since winning the division in 1969.

The 50-year-old King says he doesn't think his club is outclassed by division mates Los Angeles and Cincinnati.

"I certainly don't feel we can't contend with them," he said. "From the All-Star break on, I think we kept up with them pretty good."

The Braves trailed the first-place Dodgers by 14 games when King took over and they trail by 14 going into tonight's action.

Gomez replaced Leo Durocher at the Houston helm a year ago today. His club had pennant aspirations when the season began but never recovered from a 10-game losing streak in May.

The Astros trail Los Angeles in the West by 19 games heading into tonight's play.

In Kansas City, Manager Jack McKeon's contract has been renewed but batting coach Charley Lau was fired Friday, apparently the result of differences with McKeon.

except for Jefferson County's Class AAA and Paris, No. 1 in Class A, the experts are somewhat confused when it comes to rating high school football teams in Kentucky.

Mayfield's debut in the top five of Class AA, up from seventh last week, and Ballard's entry into the Class AAA inner circle were the only major changes of the week.

Grooms Honored As OVC Defensive Star Of Week

(AP)—The Ohio Valley Conference has named Everett Talbert, Eastern Kentucky, Elois Grooms, Tennessee Tech, and Keith Tandy, Western Kentucky, as its players of the week.

Talbert was chosen offensive player of the week and Grooms and Tandy shared honors for defensive player of the week. Talbert and Grooms won their awards for the second time this season.

Talbert, a 5-foot-8, 175-pound sophomore from Lexington, Ky., gained 222 yards on 39 carries in a 21-20 victory Saturday over East Tennessee. He scored one touchdown and set up Eastern Kentucky's winning score by carrying the ball eight times for 38 yards.

Grooms, a 6-foot-5, 225-pound senior defensive end from Tompkinsville Ky., had 11 tackles, seven assists, sacked the quarterback five times, blocked two passes and nailed the punter on his own 2-yard line in a 26-0 upset over Murray.

Foreman Waiting For His Return To Ring

N'SELE, Zaire (AP)—"It feels good to be back in the ring again," world heavyweight champion George Foreman said Monday.

"I've been doing my road-work for the past five days and when (trainer) Dick Sadler says it's okay, we'll be sparring again."

Foreman appeared in good spirits as he resumed gym work after a two-week layoff in preparation for his title defense against Muhammad Ali, now scheduled for Oct. 30 in Kinshasa, Zaire.

The bout, originally planned for Sept. 24, was postponed when Foreman caught an elbow over his right eye in a sparring session with Bill McMurray.

The much-heralded cut has caused severe difficulties for journalists, publicity people and especially promoters of the bout. Many of the problems have to do with rescheduling theaters and stadiums that were to show the bout on closed circuit television but have prior commitments on Oct. 30.

Foreman was examined by a World Boxing Council doctor Monday and proclaimed fit for training.

"I'm very happy with the way George looks and feels after the injury and the layoff," said Sadler. "We've still got four weeks to go and I kept all six sparring partners here for George to work with."

"The champ has 250 rounds of sparring under his belt for this fight and I'm sure we'll have the opportunity to get in a few more before the 30th."

Another interested party who was pleased to see Foreman working out again was Ali. Ali has worked out only sparingly since the accident.

"Now I can get back to the serious work again with a clear head," said Ali. "I'm glad that George has kept in shape and felt that the eye is in good shape."

"I don't want anything to cheat me out of getting my crown back."

SHOULDERING BLAME
GREAT NECK, N. Y. (AP)—Coach George Paterno of the Kings Point, N.Y., football team says his funniest moment in football came when he sent a player into the game with one play. "My fingers got caught in his shoulder pads," says Paterno. "And as he ran on the field, he broke my finger."

Guess you could say, Paterno shouldered the blame.

FOOTBALL
PHILADELPHIA — Baltimore Colts' head Coach Howard Schnellenberger was fired following the Colts' 30-10 defeat by Philadelphia and Joe Thomas, vice president and general manager, was named as his replacement.

CRUNCH—A Fulton City player is left on the ground as he is smothered by Cliff Dibble (33) of the Tigers and Dale McCuiston (20). Coming up to join are Craig Sulter (75) and Steve Porter (73).

Rev. Charles Quigley Explains 'Kill' Prayer

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — The Rev. Charles Quigley, who said fellow Christians should pray for God to kill three members of the Kanawha County Board of Education, said Sunday he only wanted God to make up His own mind about the matter.

"I wanted the people to pray that God's will be done. If it's God's will to kill them, then that's God's business," the Rev. Mr. Quigley explained in an interview with the Associated Press.

His original remarks, published Sunday in The Charleston Gazette, set off theological tremors even in his own fundamentalist circle, the minister admitted.

At church Sunday, Quigley said his own minister, the Rev. Marvin "Bus" Melton, noted during services that "he didn't like the statement that people should pray for God to kill somebody."

Quigley said he had been quoted correctly in the story, but said he should have explained himself further. "I said it, but I didn't mean it that way," the 35-year-old graduate of the Baptist Bible College in Springfield, Mo., said.

"As a theology graduate, I'm trying to point out the fact that it was possible that God would kill them like he did Goliath and Pharaoh. I don't want to see anything happen to these men, I don't wish them any bad luck."

His remarks were directed at Albert Anson, Harry Stansberry, and Russell Isaacs, all of whom supported the use of the textbooks.

The textbook controversy here began Sept. 3 when school opened Sept. 3. Parents, upset over textbooks they believe are un-American and anti-Christian, boycotted schools and picketed mines and businesses.

Three weeks of protest culminated when three ministers, one of them Quigley, were sentenced to 30 days in jail for violating a court injunction against picketing at the board of education offices. The three are free on bond pending appeal.

Quigley is administrator of the Cathedral of God Christian School here, a 135-student institution affiliated with the fundamentalist Baptist Church. He teaches Bible classes.

When a Presbyterian pastor suggested Sunday that Quigley's remarks "could provoke someone to the point where he believes himself to be the avenging arm of the Lord," Quigley said he doesn't believe anything like that will happen.

Another minister involved in the protest, the Rev. Marvin Horan, said the statements were "not becoming to a Christian and especially a minister." Although it did not hurt the protest cause, "it does hurt Charlie's name," he said. "Personally, I would like to see God strike these three men down with the same power he used on Saul on the road to Damascus" when he was converted to Christianity.

4. In Memory

Dedicated to the family of Uncle Buck Dunn.

Jesus called uncle Buck To join him around the great white throne But he left with you his memories So you wouldn't feel so alone.

He's waiting just across old Jordan In that great promise land And he'll be the first to greet you With his out stretched hand.

Can't you just hear him singing In Heavens great choir And when you gaze into the heavens Just look for the brightest star.

He's at peace with his Saviour With no more suffering and pain And oh how we miss him But some day we'll meet him again.

Written by Evell Colley
