Ford Hasn't Decided On Final Anti-Inflation Proposals Yet

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Ford apparently has not made final decisions on the anti-inflation proposals he will present to Congress next week, a Republican congressional leader said today after a 90-minute White House meeting.

House GOP Whip Les Arends of Illinois, talking with reporters on the White House driveway, would give no details of the Cabinet Room meeting that also included other GOP congressional leaders.

"There was a general discussion," Arends said, adding that Ford "did not go into minute details" on the proposals he will outline for Congress and the American public in his Capitol Hill appearance.

Asked if the Republican leadership would support any Ford requests for a tax increase, Arends responded, "I don't know... It depends on what they have in there."

He said, when asked if Ford had settled on the shape of his anti-inflation program, "I don't think so."

Ford's meeting with the congressional Republicans came shortly before the Labor Department announced a September jobless rate of 5.8 per cent, up four tenths of a per cent from August.

Motorists had at least some temporary good news. There were price cuts by two major oil companies and renewed indications that Ford is against increasing federal gasoline taxes.

But Melvin R. Laird, a friend and informal adviser of Ford, called Thursday for the adoption of standby authority for gasoline rationing, saying it will be needed sooner or later.

The gasoline price cuts were announced by Mobil Oil Corp. and Amoco Oil Corp., a division of Standard Oil Co. of Indiana.

Mobil reduced gasoline prices by 2 cents a gallon and Amoco made a 3-cent-a-gallon cut. Amoco also lowered its price on No. 1 and No. 2 distillate oil by 3 cents a gallon. The cuts were effective immediately, and are in line with federal regulations linking wholesale gas prices to firms' crude oil costs.

Both oil companies confirmed that cost cuts for motorists are certain only at company-owned stations. Independent dealers will pay lower wholesale prices but they determine their own pump prices.

The indications that Ford opposes raising the federal gasoline tax came both from Rep. Bill Archer and White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen.

Archer, R-Tex., said Ford disclosed that he has "no intention of sending a proposal for a 20-cent gasoline tax increase to Congress."

And Nessen said that while the tax was among options suggested to Ford, the President opposed it.

Laird issued his call for standby rationing authority while moderating a conference on world oil problems. "Sooner or later a rationing system is going to be needed," he said.

He said some $100 billion per year is flowing to oil exporters and in six years the transfer

Tucker Leads Registration Campaign Here

Don Tucker, Murray realtor, has served as director of voter registration in the Wendell Ford for U.S. Senator campaign in Calloway County for the fall election.

Named to the campaign post by Ron Christopher and Z. C. Enix, county co-chairmen, Tucker has organized an effort to contact people not on the registration rolls to remind them of the deadline to register Oct. 7 and to provide voter registration opportunities in several locations in the county.

Tucker, a native of Murray and graduate of Murray State University, is the vice-president of the Kentucky Association of Realtors, a past president of the Murray Rotary Club, and a former member of the board of directors of the Murray Chamber of Commerce.

His work in the voter registration drive was described by Christopher and Enix as "extremely thorough and effective in getting people qualified to participate at the polls" when election day rolls around a month from now.

Majority At Hearing Oppose Four-Lane Of 12th Street Section

By DAVID HILL
Murray Ledger & Times Writer
Just under 100 persons attended a corridor public hearing for the proposed four-laning of U.S. Highway 641 through Murray, held last night at the University School Auditorium.

The vocal majority of the persons there seemed to be opposed to the project, but written statements submitted at the meeting, and within the 10-day period following could even the balance.

Although resolutions endorsing the project were read from several municipal and civic groups, statements from residents of the street in opposition to the project met with the most approval of the audience.

Statements endorsing the project were read by representatives of the Murray City Council, Murray State University, Murray Planning Commission, Murray Chamber of Commerce, Murray-Calloway County Industrial Foundation, Calloway County Fiscal Court, and the office of the Murray City Planner.

Harold Douglas, 309 North 12th, opposed the project, calling it expensive, and saying that to four-lane by a football stadium would be dangerous. He blamed part of the "bottleneck" conditions of the street on the traffic light at 12th and Main, saying it was improperly timed to allow for the flow of traffic on 12th.

His, and the other opposing statements, were greeted by rounds of applause from over half the audience.

Mrs. Wayne Williams expressed her opposition to the project, saying she had been living on North 12th for 21 years, and opposed the idea of destroying "beautiful trees and shrubs" along the proposed route of improvement. Wayne Williams, who arrived later at the meeting, echoed his opposition, and called for a bypass around the city.

Henry Hargis, who lives on South 12th Street, based his opposition on the damage to the residential section of Murray. Several homes and lots would be destroyed, he said, and called for other alternatives to be considered.

Ron Talent who lives at 12th and Olive, asked that the strip be zoned commercial in order that the property owners who were damaged could convert their property to business lots, which would not be affected as much by the noise and traffic.

Don Crawford, who represented his grandmother who lives on 12th, said he would be in favor of the project if the Murray Planning Commission would zone the area for business, but as the situation is now, went on record against the project.

Reports from both sides have been heard on letter-writing campaigns that will be started to express opinions on the project.

State Highway officials explained some of the procedures of the project, saying that the entire project had been divided into three sections: Section I, Sycamore to Chestnut; Section II, Chestnut to Highway 121; and Section III, 121 to Utterback Road. The entire project would cover 2.5 miles.

121 to Utterback Road. The entire project would cover 2.5 miles. (See Four-Lane, Page 14)

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR SATURDAY, OCTOBER 5, 1974

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES
(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)
Don't insist on your own way if others disagree, except where right must prevail. Enjoy friends whose interests revive your spirits.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 to May 21)
Curb tendencies toward extravagance, pacing yourself too hectically. Tendencies toward extremism abound.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)
Mercury influences stimulate your mental abilities and promise happy personal relationships. Let the other fellow know you value his good will.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)
Negative factors need not disturb if you keep situations in hand and study the reasons. Emphasizing the positive, you can take appropriate measures as you go along.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)
Ease a driving pace, accelerate a sluggish one. Stay on the sure, logical route to steady accomplishment — with even disposition. You can impress others with your poise.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Favorable influences give you many advantages, but you must promote your own interests to keep the ball rolling, of course. Romance favored.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Don't permit bright ideas to wither before you've tried them out. Try to dovetail some unique endeavor into your regular program.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Give everyone and everything careful appraisal. Listen attentively, but don't be swayed against your better judgment by some "smooth" talker.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Some optional choices for you now. Weigh each thoughtfully, carefully evaluate potentials and then embrace the most promising.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
A good outlook, but reject dubious ideas and suggestions. As with Sagittarius, determine the worth of all propositions before commitment.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Favorable influences. You can now pursue the difficult tasks with as much assurance as the easier ones. Especially favored: written matters, intellectual pursuits.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
Stellar aspects now suggest reappraisal of forthcoming undertakings in the light of recent developments. A time for broadening your mental horizons, too.

YOU BORN TODAY are highly idealistic, versatile in the arts and are willing to work hard to achieve your lofty ambitions. Your sympathies and great understanding of others fit you for a position in the fields of medicine, the law or sociology. But you have a light side, too, and are extremely popular socially, a scintillating performer in the theater, a born entertainer, generally. You have a great affinity for music, sculpture and painting and enjoy them all. Lacking the patience to perfect yourself in them, however, they are unlikely to provide a source of income. Birthdate of: Joshua Logan, theatrical producer; Chester A. Arthur, 21st Pres., U.S.A.

One hundred and thirty-one persons from all over the western part of the state of Kentucky were present for the Acteen fling held for seventh, eighth, and ninth grade girls in the Swann Fellowship Hall of the First Baptist Church, Murray, September 27 and 28. Two other events of this type are planned this year in other parts of the state.

Special missionary speakers for the meeting were Miss Edna Hughes, teacher at Cadiz and former journeyman to Ethiopia, and Miss Dottie Lane, teacher at Sturgis, and former missionary to Japan. Each led group sessions on Friday evening and Saturday morning.

missionary to Jerusalem, and assistant director of BSU at Jefferson Community College, led the singing and played the guitar. Miss Annette Winkler, student at Southern Seminary, was the pianist.

Edwards Home Scene Meet;

Mrs. Stubblefield Gives Lesson

Mrs. T. R. Edwards opened her home for the September meeting of the New Concord Homemakers Club with the president, Mrs. Charlie Stubblefield, presiding.

The devotion was given by Mrs. H. A. Brantley. Members answered the roll call by telling "Something A Friend Did For Me." Members baking foods for the bake sale September 27 are Mesdames W. D. McCuiston, Pat Swisher, Symone Taylor, Charlie Stubblefield, Curtia Cook, H. A. Brantley, Ralph Rowlett, I. B. Mayfield, Frank Spiceland, and Jack Rice. Mrs. Rainey Lovins was in charge of the club's sale that day.

Basic instructions on "Making Safety Pin Jewelry" were given, the issues and concerns were read by Mrs. Ralph Rowlett, landscape notes were by Mrs. Frank Spiceland, and recreation was led by Mrs. Rainey Lovins.

The lesson on "The Look of Fall" was presented by Mrs. Charlie Stubblefield who said the sweater is more important than ever before as it worn to give a suit look or casual look, and for evening is glamorized with lace or fur trims. She said fabrics, designs, and colors are many, accessories can strengthen a weak wardrobe with a limited investment, and hats are definitely back in fashion as the most important accessory for that total look.

Mrs. Edwards, assisted by Mrs. Ralph Rowlett and Mrs. Ruby White, served refreshments buffet style with Mrs. Edwards serving the punch. Seventeen members and one visitor, Mrs. White, were present.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Miss Erin Montgomery on Wednesday, October 9, at one p.m.

Less water

One-half to one cup water usually is enough water to boil for six servings of fresh young, tender vegetables. You must cook over low heat in a pan with a tight-fitting lid — and watch them — they boil fast.

Officers of the newly organized Xi Alpha Kappa Exemplar Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi are pictured following their second meeting of the year, Thursday, September 26, at the Calloway Public Library. Officers, left to right, are Mrs. Jack Rose, first vice president; Mrs. Larry Cain, extension officer; Mrs. Jerry Bolls, recording secretary; Beverly Herndon, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Larry Overbey, second vice president; and Mrs. Wally Parkin, treasurer.

She says "converse," he says "convert!"

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a high school senior. I attend church regularly and am active in our church youth group. My problem is a friend of mine. He's a nice guy and we study together, but he belongs to another church, and keeps hassling me about my religion. He thinks it's his mission to go around converting people to HIS religion. We've had some pretty hot arguments about this, and I've told him he is wasting his time if he thinks he's going to turn me off my religion and on to something else.

I don't want to end our friendship because he's the most intelligent friend I have, but how can I convince him that I am happy with my own religion and don't want to change?

DEAR J.: Send him this quote from a letter that Thomas Jefferson wrote to Mrs. H. Harrison Smith in 1816: "I never told my own religion nor scrutinized that of another. I never attempted to make a convert, nor wished to change another's creed. I am satisfied that yours must be an excellent religion to have produced a life of such exemplary virtue and correctness. For it is in our lives, and not from our words that our religion must be judged."

And J., if your friend is as intelligent as you say he is, he will get your message and act accordingly.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I work together delivering morning newspapers. We start out at 1 a.m. and finish up about 5 a.m.

It's dark out at that time and many of the house numbers are hidden by big bushes, and some house numbers have been painted over and are impossible to read from the street, so my husband has to get out of the truck and look around for the house numbers with a flashlight.

With so much meanness in the world today, he could be mistaken for a prowler. Not only that, but it's time-consuming to get out of the truck, set the brakes, and go looking around for house numbers. I hope you use this in your column to let folks know how they can solve our problem.

PAPER PEOPLE

DEAR PEOPLE: Your letter could solve that problem for others who must make deliveries at night.

DEAR ABBY: "Stumped" asked how to say no to sex, since she was a divorcee and couldn't use that old "I'm saving myself for marriage" excuse. You told her she didn't need an excuse — just give him a flat "no!" Well, that would run a guy off permanently, which may not be what the lady wants to do. Perhaps she would like to get to know him better.

I suggest that she say, "Don't rush me." That's not a flat "no," and she doesn't run the risk of hurting the man's ego. ODESSA, TEXAS

DEAR ODESSA: "Don't rush me" has a ring of promise to it that may be misleading. And how long must a man remain in a holding pattern before the lady no longer feels "rushed?"

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Septemberfest For Square Dancers Attended By Over 280 Persons

The Septemberfest was held for eight days at Kentucky Dam Village opening September 21 and closing on Saturday, September 28. Over 280 square dancers from several states attended the event.

Activities for the week included the grand march on the first night of the fest, round dance workshop each morning, and square dance workshops in the afternoon.

Each evening costumed dancers gathered in the two halls at the village to dance to the calls of a world-famous staff. Many of the skirts of the colorful square dance dresses are as much as seven yards in circumference and are worn with 50-yard petticoats.

Western square dancing performed during Septemberfest is the type popular 'round the world. The brother of the Emperor of Japan is a square dance caller, according to Sid Jobs of Murray, fest chairman.

One of this year's more popular numbers was "Juanita Jones" called by Frank Bedell of Mira Mar, Fla.

Septemberfest was born in 1968 when Col. Tom Brown and Sid Jobs of Murray approached Kentucky Western Waterland to underwrite the first event. Believing this would be a good way to promote the area after the regular tourist season, KWW agreed. Since that time the happening has continued to grow in popularity.

Local hosts were Nix and Margery Crawford; Helen and Walter Michael; Chuck and Betty Weber; Jancie and Kent Binkley; Myrtle and Harold Douglass; and Col. Tom and Barbara Brown.

Initiation For New Members Held At Meet Of The Eastern Star

The chapter was opened in regular form. Frances Churchill, worthy matron, assisted by William E. Moffett, worthy patron, presided at the meeting. Guests were welcomed by the worthy matron with introduction of special officers as follows:

Bonnie Perkins, Grand Chapter committee member, Burlene Wraether, Deputy Grand Matron of District 22, and Ollie Portis, Deputy Grand Patron of District 22. Worthy matrons and worthy patrons of visiting chapters were also introduced.

A short recess was called after which the degrees of the order were conferred upon Miss Marilyn Lasater, Miss Susan Solomon, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Webb.

The impressive obligation was given by William Moffett, worthy patron, assisted by Joe Lasater, associate patron. Other officers assisting were Frances Churchill, worthy matron, Sybil Lasater, associate patron, Judith Jackson, secretary, Nell Robbins, treasurer, Brenda Newberry, conductress, Martha Hutchens, associate conductress, Fay Lamb, chaplain, Twila Coleman, marshal, and Mary Louise Short, organist. Star points were Susan Moody, Adah, Marie Jones, Ruth, Mary Beth Carruthers, Esther, Eva Lamb, Martha, Patricia Hendless, Electa, Bea Henry, warder, and Eunice Henry, sentinel.

Chapters represented were Calvert City-Estlin 73, Fulton City 41, Hardin 277, Temple Hill 511, Cuba 519, and Mayfield 443. Following the closing of the chapter a social hour was held with refreshments being served by Brenda Newberry, Martha Hutchens, and Alma McNeely to approximately sixty members and guests.

"Housekeeping In Brazil"

Discussed By Mrs. Walker

The Alpha Department of the Murray Woman's Club met at 12 noon for its first luncheon of the new club year, September 28. The new chairman, Mrs. Henry McKenzie, presided over a brief business meeting. Several new members were welcomed, as well as one guest,

Mrs. Richard Walker
Mrs. Rue Beale of Louisville, a former member of Alpha.

Mrs. Harlan Hodges, program chairman, introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Richard E. Walker, who spoke on the topic, "Housekeeping in Brazil." Mrs. Walker lived in Brazil for eight years where her husband served as a missionary. She contrasted housekeeping where they lived in the Amazon Valley with the duties of a housewife in this country.

Mrs. Walker said many things we take for necessities were unknown there. Marketing, cooking, laundry, and even keeping cool, were very different. In addition her duties included teaching her children and keeping her home open to their many visitors. She concluded with a description of the way in which the church services were conducted, with each member bringing a small oil lamp to light the services.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. McKenzie, Mrs. William Adams, Miss Frances Brown and Mrs. Jean Bordeaux.

As usual, the freshmen, sophomore, junior, and senior classes have been working on displays for homecoming and the winning class will be announced today. Meanwhile the French club is preparing the "run-through" for the game. The "run-through" is the framed paper that has a spirited cheer or picture painted on it that the players "run-through" at the beginning of a game. There are always two lines of kids, students, and cheerleaders on either side of it, yelling for the Tigers to win the game!

2 slices bacon
Beat eggs with milk until combined. Add all the remaining ingredients except the bacon; mix well; mixture will be very soft. Turn into the center of an ungreased 11 by 7 by 1 1/2 inch baking pan or similar utensil; with a spatula, shape into a loaf that is about 8 by 6 inches. Place bacon crisscross over top, tucking in ends. Bake in a preheated 325-degree oven for 1 1/2 hours. Let stand about 5 minutes before cutting. This meat loaf is moist but slices well. Any leftover is good sliced cold and used in a sandwich. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Family Budget Increase Predicted For Year 2000

CHICAGO (AP) — Salaries up by 177 per cent — sound impossible?
No, not if you look into the crystal ball at the year 2000.

"And that is good news for the family budget custodian," says a recent report. Offering a glimpse of how 21st-century families will be living, the report from the financial services arm of Esmark predicts that income for a husband and wife with two school age children will average $38,041 — compared to today's $13,721.

Homemakers will delight in the fact that food costs will be down.
"Approximately 23.6 per cent of gross income will be spent on filling the family larder, as opposed to 25.3 per cent today. Modern, automated food processing technologies will help bring food prices down.

"Shelter will go up slightly compared to 1974. Americans today spend roughly 24.5 per cent of their income for housing — 25 per cent will be spent in 2000."
The forecast is for more of the family dollar going into savings, insurance and investments 25 years hence — 8 per cent. The probability of longer life for the average American will automatically trigger the need for meaningful retirement programs.
R and R — rest and recreation — will figure prominently in the 21st-century budget.
"With more leisure time and shorter work weeks families will earmark a larger share of the familial pocketbook — 5 per cent — to recreational activities.

"The family of 2000 will also have very definitive attitudes on where they live," the report emphasizes.
"Planned communities — now in their infancy — will be the futuristic life style. These new towns will feature one-stop living, work and play areas."
"Taxes will probably take a bigger bite from the income — simply because of an over-all increase. But, by and large, things look good for the budget of year 2000."
More money, better health, easier life and more recreation in the year 2000?
"Emphatically yes," the report concludes.

Oil And 'Interdependence'

The apparently orchestrated drive by the Ford administration to inspire global resistance to the oil price spiral initiated by the Arab nations falls far short of the "declaration of war" described in Arab newspapers.

And even the warning to the oil producing nations of "disastrous consequences" linked to a refusal to share "nature's gifts," must be considered a remote threat — if it is a threat at all.

Nevertheless, President Ford, Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and Treasury Secretary William Simon have revealed in separate speeches hard-line opposition to Arab decisions to further curtail oil production and drive prices still higher.

The President, in an address to the World Energy Conference at Detroit, said the Arab policy "threatens the breakdown of world order and safety."

In a period of worldwide inflation, Mr. Ford's assessment cannot be disputed. American utility rates jumped by an average of 55 per cent in the first six months of 1974, compounding the agony of families already pinched by escalating food and health care costs.

In the developing new nations, the price of oil stalls, the machinery that produces the agricultural crops necessary to sustain populations on the brink of starvation. A dearth of petroleum by-products used in fertilizer and in some manufacturing processes further depressed their faltering economies.

But the strong rhetoric of administration spokesmen is unlikely to persuade the Arabs, who are elated over the Western currency money flow from the West — a flow that intensifies as the oil spigot is closed.

Mr. Ford's vision of an "interdependent" community, with the oil clients turning to each other for assistance or solace, will be of improbable influence on the skeptical Arabs who concede their expectations of a continuing "expansion of sales."

The Arabs can hardly be blamed for their confidence.

Despite the self-sufficiency goal of the U.S. Project Independence, Mr. Ford has conceded America will still need foreign oil.

The outspoken administration condemnation of Arab oil pricing practices promises little immediate benefit. It just might discourage some of America's friends from the "everyone for himself" response that featured last winter's fuel crisis, however, and that alone would brighten the long-range outlook.

Paying The Piper

Over the last decade the government has paid $3.4 billion to medical schools to subsidize the education of new doctors. Now Sens. Edward M. Kennedy and Jacob K. Javits have gained approval of a Senate committee for a bill that would require all medical graduates who benefit by such aid in the future to practice for at least two years in a community where the government sends them in order to reduce the doctor shortage.

Medical schools are resisting this effort to impinge on the freedom of their graduates, but federal funds now account for about half of a typical medical school's budget. What school could afford to reject government aid for the sake of principle? If this bill is passed, it will not be the first time the medical profession has learned that when government money gets into medicine, the pills become increasingly hard to swallow.

Hospital-Acquired Infections

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

Hospital-acquired infections are common, costly and dangerous.

Approximately 18 million Americans received hospital care in 1973. Of these, one out of every 18 acquired an infection while in the hospital.

The cost of these infections was nearly $300 million.

Twenty thousand persons died as a result of hospital-acquired infections.

Writing on this subject in Science News, Joan Arehart-Treichel points to programs of detection being established in efforts to monitor the sources of the offending bacteria so that programs of prevention of infection may be instituted.

For example, Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, Howard Medical School related, is routinely culturing microbes in critical areas of the hospital and using the information to prevent infections. Lutheran General Hospital in Park Ridge, Ill., which also carries on a surveillance program against pathogens, recently picked up evidence of staphylococci in the nursery before they caused infections in patients. Other hospitals have similar prevention programs.

Certain locations in the hospital are more likely to be the source of infections — the operating room, catheters, the sinks, and mops, to mention a few. Certain employees may be a source of infection. Patients with infections are a source of pathogens.

In addition to the average patient being susceptible, certain patients (e.g., premature infants, organ transplant cases) are exceptionally vulnerable.

Some observers feel that hospital-caused infections have reached an alarming rate and that not enough is being done to monitor and prevent such infections.

Such surveillance is expensive, and the personnel for such prevention programs is in short supply. An upsurge of interest in hospital infections is needed.

Q. Is a vaccine against cancer being developed?

A. No vaccine against cancer is available, and I know of no research being done to develop such a vaccine. Some hope exists for a vaccine for cancer in the future because certain cancers appear to be related to viruses. Vaccines (for example, BCG) are currently being used to stimulate the immune system of the body to increase its resistance against an existing cancer.

Q. I have been told that the brain can feel no pain. Does the brain hurt when one has a headache?

A. The brain has no sensation of pain. The distress of headache arises in the structure covering the brain and outside of it — such as the meninges.

GOD'S CONCERN FOR LEADERS

By H. C. Chiles

After Saul's death, David was promptly made king of Judah, and he reigned over it seven and one-half years, with Hebron as his capital. When Ish-bosheth was assassinated, the northern tribes heartily offered David the crown of Israel, and he accepted it. David's first act as ruler of the united kingdom was to capture Jerusalem and make it the political and religious capital of the nation. David took 30,000 chosen men and went forth with the intention of bringing the Ark of the Covenant to the city when they returned, and it was housed temporarily in a tent.

One day as David sat relaxed and musing in the regal splendor of his beautiful and luxurious palace, he was haunted by a vision of the ark being sheltered only by a frail canvas tent. To David it seemed a disgraceful incongruity that the ark should be left to abide "within curtains," while he occupied a palace sealed with cedar. He promptly decided that something had to be done about that. Desiring to glorify God, to Whom he was grateful, David resolved that he would build a fine temple to house the ark and to be a place of worship for the people.

To Nathan the prophet, his spiritual adviser, David expressed his desire to build a suitable temple in which to enshrine the ark of God, and in which the worship of Him should be conducted with due solemnity and in His honor. Without consulting God about the project which David had proposed, Nathan hastily gave the king his hearty approval, saying, "Do all that is in thine heart." That very night God revealed to Nathan that the project which he had endorsed was not in accordance with the divine will. Frequently God's children make plans which are beneficial in purpose and worthy of commendation from many standpoints, but are not in accordance with God's will. God revealed to Nathan that David was not to build His house, inasmuch as he had been a man of war and bloodshed, but that glorious task was being reserved for Solomon, who was a man of peace. David's past deeds rendered impossible his dreams for the future, as has been the case with many others. David deserved commendation for having this noble desire and purpose in his heart, even though the temple was actually erected under the supervision of his successor. We admire him because of his recognition of the importance of worship in the lives of the people of his nation, and his interest in the establishment of a center for that purpose.

II Samuel 7:8-10

Even though God vetoes David's proposal to build a temple for Him and in His honor alone, through Nathan He informed David that he had not been rejected. Through the prophet God reminded the king that He had been with and blessed him from the days when he had served faithfully as a shepherd in the fields until that very hour when he was the most powerful king in that area of the world. God assured David and his people of improved and more secure conditions and better times as they fulfilled the divine purpose for them in the future.

II Samuel 7:21-23

As David contemplated his rise from a shepherd lad to the position of king over a great nation, he was overwhelmed by the greatness of God's grace to him, and amazed that God's power could and would do so much. David sought to express his gratitude to God for all that He had done for him. How grateful we should be for God's goodness to us! David said, "Oh that men would praise the Lord for His goodness, and for His wonderful works unto the children of men!" (Psalm 107:8). Knowledge of God's plan for his posterity created such a joy in David's soul that he was almost speechless. David expressed great wonder at God's dealings with him in the past and at His announced plans for him in the future. Like David, we should rejoice in God's grace towards us and in His goodness to us.

David never ceased to marvel at God's greatness and goodness. He knew that God's dealings with him were due to His inherent love for him, and not because of any merit of his own. Out of His Own graciousness God so wonderfully blessed David. God's deliverance of the Israelites from bondage in Egypt was a foretype of the deliverance of sinners from slavery to Satan through the atonement of Christ on the cross.

God promised David that the throne of his kingdom was to be established forever, a prophecy which was to be fulfilled in Christ. In humility David thanked God for this wonderful promise. He frankly confessed his unworthiness to receive such an unmerited favor, and expressed his gratitude for it. We certainly admire David's willingness to bring his will into complete subjection to God without the slightest complaint.

Disappointed at not being able to erect the temple, but without any complaint or bitterness, David submissively and obediently went into the tent, humbled himself before God, and ascribed to Him the greatness and glory which rightfully belonged to Him. In his prayer David spoke with great humility, and acknowledged his own unworthiness, as well as that of his family. He prayed for the fulfillment or confirmation of God's promises.

David's prayer ended with a petition for God's blessing. He pleaded for that by which any child of God may rise to greatness: "With thy blessing let the house of thy servant be blessed forever." In the measure in which the blessing of God is accepted and His will is sought any may become great.

Like David, we should trust God to keep His promises. In this connection we are reminded of the statement: "Every promise is built upon four pillars: God's justice or holiness, which will not suffer Him to deceive; His grace and goodness which will not suffer Him to forget; His truth which will not suffer Him to change; and His power which makes Him able to accomplish."

Calley: Villain Or Victim?

We hope that the federal government and the U.S. Army will accept gracefully the order of a federal court judge freeing My Lai figure William Calley.

The decision of Judge J. Robert Elliott focused on the improbability of fairness in Calley's court-martial in the wake of columns and columns of adverse news publicity and on legal technicalities in the charge that Calley killed at least 22 civilians at the Vietnamese village of My Lai at the height of the Indochina conflict. The ruling can be appealed.

But the former Army lieutenant has been confined for three years for, as many believe, merely "following orders." There was little enthusiasm behind a perfunctory probe to fix the ultimate responsibility for the My Lai tragedy. And there is no evidence that Calley's extreme actions in an emotional wartime situation should mark him as a threat to the society to which he will return.

There is no persuasive reason for the continued imprisonment of Calley, who may himself be just another victim of our long and dreary war in Vietnam.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

(A Column for Readers Who Haven't Time to Review the Congressional Record Daily)

WHY THE SUGAR ACT WAS DEFEATED

PRO:

Rep. Peter A. Peyser (N. Y.). . . Many sugar producers are quick to say that because of the defeat of the Sugar Act by Congress this year the price of sugar is spiraling. There is absolutely no truth to this statement. The Sugar Act does not expire until Dec. 31 of this year. . .

"What many overlook is the fact that the taxpayers of this country who are the consumers, have been paying over $90 million a year on subsidies to the sugar growers. The real problem in sugar is being caused by the increasing world consumption and lagging production. . .

"I am certain the increasing concern in Congress will result in the termination of this quiet little game of unjustifiable farm subsidies which has come to typify many sectors of our agricultural economy. . .

CON:

Senator Q. N. Burdick (N.D.). . . The essence of the sugar program is very simple. A fair price objective is established for sugar supplies to the domestic market. Prices have been maintained in this country by means of a tariff and quota system. In addition, there is a tax on sugar, which provides funds for making conditional payments to growers and for meeting the general expenses of government. . .

"The defeat of the Sugar Act told foreign suppliers that they would no longer have an assured market at a fair price in the United States. In effect they were told to sell their sugar to the highest bidder anywhere in the world. Domestic consumers were told that henceforth, they could obtain imported supplies only by outbidding all other buyers. . .

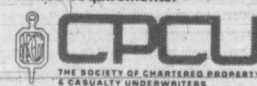

"Do we want to put foreign countries in complete control of our sugar supplies? Our recent experience with oil imports and our current sugar problems would seem to give sufficient warning not to get into further difficulties of that sort. . .

CRUMP'S GRASS ROOTS COMMENT

Sugar Act opponents claim the only reason the price of sugar was low was because consumers were paying tax dollars to subsidize the growers. In the future, Congress wants sugar sold, without subsidies, on a free market. They want high prices to the consumer to stimulate production and stabilize retail prices.

Prepared by The Society of Chartered Property & Casualty Underwriters, the national professional society whose members have earned the CPCU designation by meeting high educational, ethical and experience requirements.

Q. To tell you the truth, I think people who say "be sure to read your insurance policy" are like signs that say "in case of fire, walk, do not run." It's advice nobody follows. But I wouldn't mind reading certain sections, if there are some parts that are especially important for me to read. Are there?

A. There are. Be especially sure to read the parts that have been filled in, as distinguished from the parts that have been printed. In many policies many of the filled-in parts come under the heading of "Declarations." But the advice about reading your policy is not really like the "don't run" advice. Sometimes you can't help yourself from running. But you can help yourself by reading your policy. This isn't as hard as many people think, and you may learn about protection you had no idea you have!

I have no doubt that many a homeowner, unaware of what's in the policy, has spent over $1,000 to repair damage caused by a tree or branch hitting the house in a storm — without ever realizing that the insurance company would be glad to pay!

Clowning around

Emmett Kelly, Jr. never smiles. It is part of his sad-faced act to make other people smile. The "Crown Prince of Pantomime" speaks his belief in his Creator with action designed for laughter. He lives his religion in making fun without saying a word. His sad face, big red nose and 6-X-13" shoes create miles of smiles for sad-faced kids, troubled teen-agers and oldsters alike. He makes his own mold for making many happy. In pantomime, he told us he has visited thousands of hospitals in America and truly hopes to visit many, many more.

"Laughter is God's greatest gift to the world," Kelly says with his hands. It is really the answer to most of our problems. Born of circus parents, he carries the tradition that the show must go on. Living his "belief" he lives in a suitcase 365 days a year, and literally creates laughter for millions.

"There's never enough laughter in this world," he writes on his slate.

"Maybe God is using me to help start smiles." Obviously, Emmett Kelly, Jr. believes in America, her churches and all they stand for as he laughs inside his unsmiling mask. "Here, we are free to smile," he pantomimes. In America our Creator makes room for laughter. It is a healthy sign.

You too, can smile on your way to worship in your favorite church this week.

Murray Junior Varsity Edges By Three Rivers

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

Greg Crews has a long way to go before he can catch up with Steve Barrett but at least he's making a good start.

Crews is a freshman south-paw from tiny Goreville, Ill., and he is at Murray for the same reason Barrett was here: to play baseball and basketball.

And of course we all know the success Barrett enjoyed as he turned into a star in each sport.

Crews got his first chance Thursday afternoon as the Murray State University junior varsity 'Breds hosted Three Rivers Junior College of Poplar Bluff, Mo.

All Crews did was fire four shutout innings of two-hit ball, strike out eight batters, and pick up credit for the win in the 10-9 comeback victory by the 'Breds.

"He was just outstanding under pressure," Murray Coach Johnny Reagan said of Crews.

"He kept the ball down, worked the corners well and showed great poise out there," the 'Bred coach, now in his 18th season, added.

Freshman Mark Hargis of Belleville, Ill., started on the mound for Murray and was banged for six runs in the first inning. Hargis went on to pitch the second and gave up another run before freshman Scott Durham of Mount Vernon, Ind., entered the game.

Durham hurled three innings and gave up a pair of runs while fanning five men in an impressive performance.

Hargis served up one bad pitch in the first inning and it cost him three runs as Bill Volderkerk of Cape Girardeau belted a three-run homer.

Murray got a run back in the home half of the first but Three Rivers scored again in the second and after two innings, the visitors held a 7-1 lead.

The 'Breds put another run on the board in the third to trim the margin and then in the fourth, Murray scored five times to tie the game at 7-7.

Sophomore Al Luigs of Paducah St. Mary led off the fourth with a walk and then freshman Greg Tooley of Evansville, Ind., followed with a shot that hit the building behind the leftfield fence.

After two men were out, sophomore Terry Brown walked and Murray High graduate Mike Cathey singled. Then sophomore righthander Steve DeVoss of Henderson uncorked a three-run shot and the game was tied.

Three Rivers scored twice in the fifth to take the lead 9-7. Murray added a single run in the seventh on a double by Terry Brown.

And then in the eighth, the 'Breds wrapped the game up as Tooley reached on an error, David Hughes singled and Brown singled in a run, tying the game.

The winning run crossed when Cathey lofted a sacrifice fly, scoring Hughes with the tie-breaker.

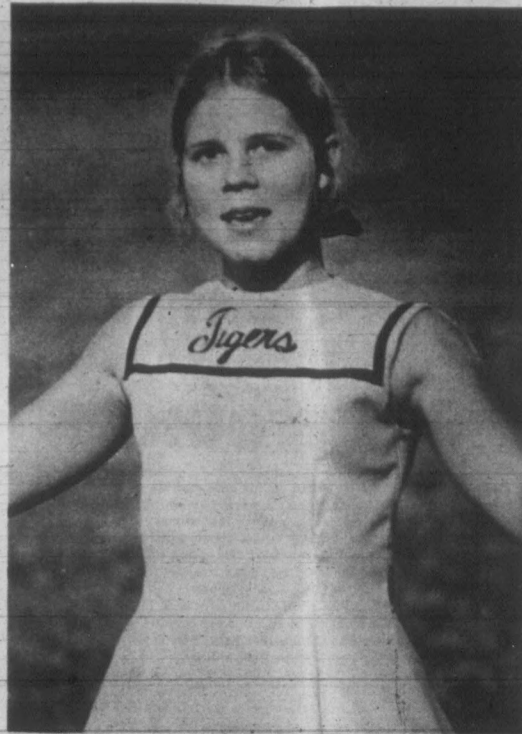

Everyone in the lineup, including one of the pitchers, hit safely for the 'Breds.

Terry Brown had three hits while Murray High grad Brown Crouch had two.

The victory leaves the jayvees with a 1-0 mark.

The varsity 'Breds, now 2-0 for the season following their twinbill sweep last week at Middle Tennessee, will host Austin Peay to a twinbill Saturday at Reagan Field.

The important conference doubleheader is set to begin at 1 p.m.

PLEASED WITH VICTORY—Murray High freshman cheerleader Lisa Morton seems happy as she gives her support during the Tigers' impressive 24-0 win over Benton Thursday night in Holland Stadium.

Frank Robinson Hopes Baseball Won't Forget Blacks In Future

By RICHARD BILOTTI
AP Sports Writer

CLEVELAND (AP) — Frank Robinson, the first black manager in the 105-year history of the major leagues, says he doesn't know what baseball people are thinking, "but I hope — I hope — that they don't say 'now we have one here' and then forget about hiring any more."

He also said he doesn't want to get involved in worrying about the ratio of blacks to whites on his coaching staff.

"I hope if I name three black ones and a white one you don't get on me; and I don't want you to get on me if I name three white coaches and one black one," he said.

Robinson was honored Thursday — just after his selection to manage the Cleveland Indians was formally announced — by President Gerald R. Ford, baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn and others, including newsmen.

"I know millions of Americans join me in sending warmest good wishes for every success in future seasons," Ford's telegram said.

Robinson — in a contemplative mood when talking with newsmen and repeatedly trying to minimize the racial aspects of his appointment — also alluded to a color barrier broken in 1947 by Jackie Robinson when he joined the major leagues.

"If I had one wish in the world today," Robinson said, "that wish would be to have Jackie Robinson here to see this happen."

But he added that he did not want to be known only as the first black manager in the majors.

"I want to be judged by my expertise on the field," Robinson said. "I was born black and now that I'm a manager, I guess I have to be a black manager."

Robinson said he is aware of the pressure that will be put upon him, but explained it will come from outside. "I don't feel any pressure from within and that's the most important thing to me," Robinson said.

Robinson will make an estimated $180,000 a year from his one-year pact as player-manager of the Indians.

Bob Robertson Thinks Bucs Can Beat Dodgers

By ED PHILLIPS
Associated Press Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Pittsburgh Pirate slugger Bob Robertson had a prediction about the National League championship playoffs between his team and the Los Angeles Dodgers. At least he had a prediction about predictions.

"The sports writers are going to look at Los Angeles' record and our record and say we don't have a chance."

That record shows the Dodgers with 102 wins and 60 losses — the best in baseball this year — compiled in the tough NL West Division. The Pirates were 88-74 — the lowest total of victories by any first-place club — in the NL East where only one other team finished above .500.

Those numbers didn't phase Robertson, though.

"We beat them here and we beat them out there during the year. In a five-game series it's a dog-eat-dog situation and anything can happen."

In the regular season, the Pirates were 8-4 against the Dodgers, sweeping all six games in Pittsburgh and going 2-4 in Los Angeles. Against all clubs in the Western Division, Pittsburgh was 44-28, encountering much rougher sledding in the East with a 44-46 mark.

But there are some other numbers floating around that tend to favor the Dodgers. Take 19-9 and 20-6.

Those are the won-lost records of Don Sutton and Andy Messersmith, who will be starting the first two games for Los Angeles. Toss in their earned run averages of 3.22 and 2.59 and stack them up against their opponents on the mound.

Jerry Reuss, who had more triumphs than anyone on the Pirate staff with a 16-11 record, will carry a 3.50 ERA into the playoffs Saturday. Jim Rooker take a 15-11 record and a 2.77 ERA into Sunday's game.

Further, Messersmith struck out 221 batters, second in the league, while Rooker led the Pirate staff with 139. So the numbers look like they favor Los Angeles.

That's on paper. On the field, there were some other numbers. Specifically, Sutton was 1-2 and Messersmith 1-1 against the Pirates. Reuss was 2-1 and Rooker 1-1 versus Los Angeles.

The numbers also show the different roads the clubs took in winning their division titles. Los Angeles got off to the best start in the majors and was able to coast through a late charge by the Cincinnati Reds. They won when necessary.

Pittsburgh got off to the worst start in the majors and climbed past five clubs to a September-long dogfight with St. Louis that went to the last day of the season. The Pirates, too, won when they had to.

The Dodgers, who arrived in town Thursday to rest up for a workout today, are in possession of their first division championship. Los Angeles' last pennant came in 1966, before the inauguration of division play.

Game time Saturday is 1:05 p.m., EDT, and the contest will be nationally televised on NBC. Sunday's game, starting at the same time, will not be carried by the network due to a football game.

Tuesday, the best-of-five series shifts to Los Angeles.

South Africa Out To Clinch Semis

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — South Africa could clinch its semifinal Davis Cup match today, and possibly capture the Cup itself.

Ray Moore needed only one more point to beat Italy's No. 1 player, Adriano Panatta, when play was stopped because of darkness Thursday. The long-haired Moore, a veteran of the tennis tour, was leading 4-6, 6-0, 6-3, 5-4 when the match was halted.

Rumors Say Aaron May Go Back To Milwaukee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee Brewers' President Bud Selig remained virtually close mouthed, but rumors persisted Thursday that home run king Hank Aaron would join the team next season to finish his baseball career in the city he represented in his first 12 major league seasons.

The Braves reportedly do not want to sign Aaron as a player, even if he agreed to the maximum 20 per cent cut in his $200,000 a year contract.

"We could win the pennant with him," Brewer outfielder Dave May said. "We would have won it last year if we had Hank."

Selig said only that "Aaron or quite a few others would help" the Brewers as a designated hitter.

May said Aaron could have a great season in the American League as a designated hitter, freed from fielding duties. The National League does not have the designated hitter rule.

Signs Pact

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Defenseman Gerry Methe has signed a contract with the New England Whalers of the World Hockey League, a club spokesman said.

Methe, 22, played for the Hershey Bears of the American Hockey League during the past two seasons after being selected as a fourth-round draft choice by the parent club.

Unheralded Bobby Heins Leads Sahara Golf Play

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — Johnny Miller, five shots back of the surprise rookie leader, said he isn't out of it going into today's second round of the $135,000 Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament.

But Miller, admittedly weary and lacking desire, sounded very much as if he were trying to convince himself.

"I'd be lying if I said I was up for this tournament," said Miller, who had to get "maybe the biggest break of my life," to salvage a par 71 in Thursday's first round.

That put Miller, the winner of eight tour titles and a record $346,000 this season, well behind stocky Bobby Heins, a 23-year-old native of Monticello, N.Y., who surprised even himself with a five-under-par 66.

"I only hit three or four shots I was really satisfied with, but every time I looked up, the ball was going straight for the flag," said Heins, who hasn't come close to making expenses and has survived the cut only five times in his brief pro career.

J.C. Snead and journeyman Dave Eichelberger matched 67s in the bright, warm sunshine that bathed the 6,800-yard, par 71 Sahara-Nevada Country Club course and were tied for second, one shot out.

Former champion Chi Chi Rodriguez, Mike Hill, Ken Still and John Schroeder were at 68 while defending title-holder John Mahaffey was in a big bunch at 69.

Tom Weiskopf, who was paired with Miller, managed only a four-over-par 75 and must improve today if he is to qualify for the final two rounds.

Jack Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer, Gary Player, Lee Trevino and U.S. Open champion Hale Irwin are not competing.

Timeout With Brandon

By MIKE BRANDON
Sports Editor

Lakers To Play Henry County This Year

About four months ago, I received a letter from a local man who wanted to see local schools start playing basketball games with Henry County, Tn.

And this coming season, Calloway County High School will meet the Patriots in Paris for the first time ever on the basketball floor. Laker Basketball Coach David King has released the schedule and sometime next week, it will be printed in the Murray Ledger & Times.

The season will open for the Lakers at home November 8 against Sedalia.

Just five weeks from tonight, local fans will watch high school football end as Murray High hosts Fort Campbell and on the same night, high school basketball season will begin.

The remainder of the schedule for November finds the Lakers at Fulton County on the 22nd, at home on the 23rd with Earlinton (a new team on the schedule) and at home on the 26th with Hickman County.

In all, the Lakers play nine at home, 11 on the road and one in the Murray State Fieldhouse against Murray High, with that game being set for January 24. It will be the only meeting of the regular season between the two arch-rivals.

The Lakers will also be playing in the Mayfield Christmas Tournament December 18th through the 21st.

Other schools on the schedule for the first time include Henderson City, Hopkinsville and Reidland. Henderson will be at Calloway on January 10 and on the following night, they will complete their two-game roadstand with a contest at Murray High.

As for girls' basketball, the Laker gals will play three games with the varsity and the rest will be played with the freshmen.

Practice began at Calloway about two weeks ago and King said he is stressing fundamentals and drills at the present.

Jacobs Doing Well

Cuthbert Jacobs remains in Lourdes Hospital in Paducah, recovering from knee surgery.

The star track runner for the Racers suffered torn cartilage in a soccer game last Saturday at Bellarmine.

Surgery was performed Tuesday afternoon and it appears Jacobs will remain in the hospital until later next week. He is, however, up and walking on crutches.

Jacobs said Wednesday night his doctor told him the operation was a success and he should be able to run indoor track this season. Jacobs, a senior and carrying 21 hours this semester, will be in cast about 10 days after he is released from the hospital.

I would like to urge readers of this column to send this outstanding athlete a card. You have no idea how much it can cheer up a person. After all, he is a long way from home

(Antigua) and you know he has to be worried about his future.

His room number is 525.

Grid Forecast

I hit six of eight high school football predictions last week and tied one.

The surprises were Marshall County's win over Lone Oak and Reidland's victory at McLean County. The tie was the 0-0 standoff between Tilghman and Hopkinsville.

Tilghman played at Cape Central last night and returned home with a 17-6 win, boosting the Blue Tornado to 3-1 for the year.

Since I started making prediction two weeks ago, I've hit 13, missed five and tied one for an accuracy mark of .722, which isn't bad for high school football.

Here are predictions for games tonight: Caldwell County at MURRAY HIGH, RUSSELLVILLE at Crittenden County, FORT CAMPBELL at Fulton City, Franklin-Simpson at MAYFIELD, HOPKINSVILLE at Madisonville, LONE OAK at Reidland, Marshall County at TRIGG COUNTY, Webster County at HENDERSON COUNTY and HEATH at Cairo Senior.

The Russellville-Crittenden County game should be interesting but I'm picking the Panthers because of their near-upset of Fort Campbell last week. Otherwise, there shouldn't be any surprises tonight.

OVC games this week include EASTERN at Austin Peay, WESTERN at East Tennessee, Appalachian State at TECH, UT-Chattanooga at MIDDLE and Morehead at WESTERN CAROLINA.

Wins Meal At Rudy's

Katie Letterman of Murray Route 2 was the winner this week for the free meal at Rudy's Restaurant.

She correctly answered the following question: Name the St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, who at the age of 29, came up from the minor leagues and won 16 games in his first year. He later vanished back into the minors, mainly because of his poor eyesight.

The correct answer was Dick Hughes. Last week's winner, Rodney Jones, was the second person to call with the correct answer and the third one to call in was Susan Carlisle, wife of Murray State football star Russ Carlisle.

There will be another Cardinal question next week in Timeout With Brandon.

In the past, a couple of the questions were so hard that nobody called in and this one, the question was so easy that only a few called simply because they thought everyone else would be calling.

So regardless of how easy the question is, you should call because you might just win the meal at Rudy's, which is worth up to $2.50 of your choice on the menu at Murray's most popular restaurant.

Mack Herron And Patriots To Host Winless Baltimore Colts

By HOWARD SINGER
AP Sports Writer

The entire National Football League list of unbeaten teams includes a total stranger, a rebounding veteran and a familiar champion. Their names, respectively, are New England, St. Louis and Minnesota.

With the topsy-turvy NFL stumbling into its fourth week of regular season action, the unlikely trio puts its 3-0 records on the line Sunday. And New England, surprisingly, could have the easiest time.

Among the biggest NFL games this weekend are Baltimore at New England, St. Louis at San Francisco and Minnesota at Dallas.

Elsewhere, it's Washington at Cincinnati, Buffalo at Green Bay, Denver at Kansas City, Oakland at Cleveland, Detroit at Los Angeles, Pittsburgh at Houston, Philadelphia at San Diego, New Orleans at Chicago and Atlanta at New York in New Haven, Conn.

The nationally televised NFL game Monday night matches the visiting New York Jets against the defending champion Miami Dolphins.

High-flying New England, led by Jim Plunkett's six scoring passes, has faked the experts by upsetting Miami, New York and Los Angeles. The running of little Mack Herron and Sam "Bam" Cunningham has been an important factor, too. So has the newly stingy Patriot defense.

Winless Baltimore, shocked by the post-game firing last week of Coach Howard Schnellenberger, has General Manager Joe Thomas taking over the coaching duties. The Colts are still rebuilding with quarterbacks Marty Domres and Bert Jones taking their lumps.

But the rebuilding may be nearly finished for St. Louis, off to its best start in eight years. The Cards — lacking a single representative among the NFL's top ten rushers, passers and receivers — has limited the opposition in three games to a total of just 20 points.

San Francisco, 2-1, coming off a 21-3 loss to tough Cincinnati, might be in the mood to prevent St. Louis from getting by with its usual big plays on offense and defense. Quarterback Joe Reed of the 49ers will try to throw against the Cardinal defenders.

In a rematch of the 1973 NFC championship game, Minnesota's veteran team invades Texas Stadium to face Dallas, 1-2, unexpectedly beaten by Philadelphia and the New York Giants in its past two games.

The Vikings have scored just one touchdown in each of their past two victories despite the efforts of scrambling quarterback Fran Tarkenton and running back Chuck Foreman, who has 224 yards so far.

Cowboy quarterback Roger Staubach, leading the NFL with 725 yards gained passing, tossed three interceptions against the Giants and was sacked six times. But the Dallas defense is still pretty tough.

In an evenly matched game, Washington, 2-1, faces Cincinnati, 2-1. The Redskins rely on quarterback Bill Kilmer's passing — 223 yards and two TDs — and Larry Brown's running. The Bengals use QB Ken Anderson, receiver Isaac Curtis and runner Boobie Clark.

Super runner O.J. Simpson, off to a slow start with "only" 258 yards, leads Buffalo, 2-1, against Green Bay, 2-1. Fast-learning QB Joe Ferguson has given the Bills a passing attack, too. The Packers edged Detroit 21-19 last week on a field goal with 63 seconds left.

Against Denver, 0-2-1, Kansas City, 2-1, expects to start sub QB Mike Livingston in place of injured Len Dawson. Ed Podolak remains the all-purpose Chiefs back. Denver, hurt by a tough early schedule, has Charley Johnson throwing to Riley Odoms and Haven Moses.

Oakland, 2-1, which just shut out Pittsburgh, will turn its mean defenders loose against Cleveland, 1-2. Raider passer Ken Stabler gets help from runners Marv Hubbard and Clardence Davis. The Browns have so-so quarterback Mike Phipps and young runner Greg Pruitt.

Shocked 20-14 by New England, Los Angeles, 2-1, turns its anger on winless Detroit. The talented Rams had been winning due to the passing of John Hadl and their strong running. The Lions' ground attack is led by Albie Taylor and Steve Owens.

Pittsburgh, 1-1-1, jolted 17-0 by Oakland the last time out, will try to recover. Hot-shot Steeler passer Joe Gilliam gets the starting nod again. Hapless Houston, 1-2, which lost two crucial fumbles and two key passes last week against Kansas City, wants to try again.

The defense for Philadelphia, 2-1, has allowed just 27 points this season. It averaged 28 points a game in 1973. San Diego, 1-2, has a new discovery in rookie Don Woods. He rushed for a NFL season high of 157 yards last week in a 28-21 loss to Miami, scoring two TDs.

New Orleans, 1-2, stopped Atlanta 14-13 last week for its first victory. Saints QB Archie Manning fired a scoring pass and runner Jesse Phillips ran for an eight-yard touchdown. Chicago, 1-2, has a tough defense and a new-found passer, quarterback Gary Huff.

The Giants, 1-2, hope they are finally getting together behind rookie coach Bill Arnsparger, a defensive expert. Aging Norm Snead still runs the team. Winless Atlanta has Pat Sullivan passing, Gerald Tinker catching and Nick Mike-Mayer kicking field goals.

The Jets, 1-2, stymied by rain last week in a 16-12 loss to Buffalo, hope to unleash passer Joe Namath against Miami, 2-1. New York's John Riggins, who has 216 yards, is an improved rusher. But Miami has Griese, Csonka, & Co. to test the questionable Jet defense.

BOWLING

DEERFIELD, Ill. — Betty Morris, of Stockton, Calif., rolled 1,690 for eight games and a total of 6,664 to lead Lorrie Koch of Carpentersville, Ill., by 59 pins in the $75,000 Brunswick Women's Bowling Open.

A's Juggling Second Base As They Prepare To Meet Orioles

By ERIC PREWITT
AP Sports Writer

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland A's are juggling second basemen again. It must be playoff time.

Dick Green will start at second in the American League playoffs which open here Saturday against the Baltimore Orioles. Manny Trillo is the new backup man because of Ted Kubiak's ankle injury.

At some other positions, Manager Alvin Dark isn't so sure of how he'll play things.

"We have problems, like whether Reggie Jackson can play in the field," Dark said.

Right-fielder Jackson, the A's leading home run hitter and the league's Most Valuable Player in 1973, pulled a hamstring muscle Sept. 22 and didn't play in the field through the final 10 days of the regular baseball season.

"I probably could have come back last weekend, but they wanted to make sure I was ready for the playoffs," said Jackson, who took part in a special batting practice session with most of the other A's regulars Thursday.

Dark would like Ray Fosse to start as catcher for defensive purposes, but the .196 hitter may be replaced by power hitting Gene Tenace, the regular first baseman. The move would start a chain reaction, with Joe Rudi moving from left field to first.

"If we change three positions, we've got inexperience, inexperience, inexperience," admits Dark.

The A's and Orioles both had workouts scheduled this afternoon at the Oakland Coliseum, where about 40,000 fans are expected Saturday to watch Jim "Catfish" Hunter, 25-12, pitch against the Orioles' Mike Cuellar, 22-10, in the opener of the best-of-five playoff.

Oakland, en route to a second straight world championship, advanced to the World Series by beating the Orioles in five games last season.

"I figure this year's series will be just like last year's, very tight and probably down to the last game," said A's third baseman Sal Bando, who drove in 103 runs this season.

The A's beat the Orioles last year despite a .200 team batting average in the playoffs. Their three victories were by scores of 6-3, 2-1 and 3-0, with Hunter pitching a shutout in the final game.

Henry Clay And Danville Clash Labeled Big Game

By BOB COOPER
AP Sports Writer

Two unbeaten Class AA Kentucky football powers clash Friday night when Lexington Henry Clay visits Danville in one of the highlights of this weekend's high school card.

For Danville, 5-0, it is the second of three battles this season against Lexington teams, but the Admirals already have put down Lafayette 21-0 and Lafayette nipped Bates Creek last week.

Henry Clay, 4-0, has three shutouts to its credit, with only Richmond Madison able to put 12 points on the boards. After edging Elizabethtown by a point in the opener, Danville has shut out four straight.

Other top games of the weekend include Cawood-Middlesboro, East Hardin-Bullitt Central, Highlands-Erlanger Lloyd, Madison-Madison Central and Ballard-Waggener, the latter in Jefferson County's Class AAA.

Cawood, one of the two dozen teams still unbeaten and untied, hasn't had any runaway victories this season and could be looking forward to next week's meeting with Lexington Bates Creek.

Middlesboro, 4-1, fell only to Lexington Bryan Station and since has had handy victories over Corbin, 20-8, and Knox Central, 21-0.

East Hardin is 5-0 with four shutouts, but Bullitt Central has lost only to the Newport Catholic team that is 4-1 against pretty stiff northern Kentucky competition.

Highlands, too, has lost only to Newport Catholic—and that by just a point two weeks ago—and Lloyd is 4-1 with the loss an 18-8 affair to Newport that same evening.

Madison is 3-1 this season and while the loss was to No. 3 rated Henry Clay of Class AA, the Purples took two of their victories by a total of only four points in Class A.

Madison Central, meantime, has won four games handily while falling 15-6 to Clark County and settling for a 20-20 tie with Franklin County.

After a one-point loss to Durrett in the season opener, Ballard has put down Moore, Thomas Jefferson and Pleasure Ridge Park without allowing a point to the opposition.

Waggener was edged by Pleasure Ridge, 22-21, to open the season and since has dropped Atherton, Seneca and Moore.

Jerry West Calls Quits To His Brilliant Career

By JACK STEVENSON
AP Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jerry West has retired because he doesn't feel he can play the way he wants, but West still can be winning basketball games for the Los Angeles Lakers.

"Although he won't be playing, he can help us in so many ways that he'll be winning more games for the Lakers," said Coach Bill Sharman, who envisions West working with younger players.

The Lakers had expected their superstar to perform one more season, but after 14 campaigns, the veteran called it quits Thursday. It was his own decision, but his youngsters had a part.

"It got to a point where the other kids didn't think their daddy was the best," West said, in announcing his decision.

At 36 and an All-Star selection 13 of his 14 seasons, West explained, "Physically I was sound and would have been able to play this year, but not able to play the way I would want to play. If you sacrifice standards, you are not being honest with yourself." General Manager Pete Newell declared West was "the greatest guard who has played the game ... the most totally skilled back court man this game has seen."

West will remain with the Lakers although his exact duties have not been spelled out.

He made the All-NBA 12 times, 10 as a first team selection.

He finishes his career as the third highest regular, season scorer with 25,192 points. In 1969-70 he was the top scorer with an average of 31.2 points per game.

He scored 63 against the New York Knicks on Jan. 17, 1962, the most scored by a guard in one game.

He has tallied the most points in playoff history for a career with 4,457 and for a single season with 562 in 1970.

BASKETBALL

BOSTON — Paul Westphal, a guard, signed a multi-year contract with the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association.

Surging Western To Be On Road Against Bucs

By JOE EDWARDS
AP Sports Writer

Western Kentucky, building a dynasty in Ohio Valley Conference football, plays at winless East Tennessee Saturday night and Eastern Kentucky invades Austin Peay in the only other league game.

Non-conference contests send Appalachian against Tennessee Tech, the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga against Middle Tennessee and Morehead State against Western Carolina. Murray has an open date.

Western Kentucky, which has won the OVC title three of the last four years, is 2-0 this season, 1-0 in conference play and ranked second in the college division.

East Tennessee finally will be playing at home after losing the first four games away, one of them a 21-20 loss to Eastern Kentucky last week.

Western Kentucky Coach Jimmy Feix says East Tennessee is improving.

"East Tennessee was having some trouble putting their offense together in earlier games after losing Alan Chadwick," he said, referring to the Bucs' quarterback last season.

"But they apparently began to get their attack rolling last week against Eastern," Feix said. "They moved the ball pretty well and played pretty good defense, too. They led Eastern 20-7, at one time. All the way 'round, I'd call that a pretty doggone good showing."

The Hilltoppers will be seeking their 15th straight regular season triumph and 17th victory in their last 18 games, including post-season play.

Austin Peay Coach Jack Bushofsky said Eastern Kentucky has "a very explosive offensive squad" and is "sold at every position" defensively.

"They have outstanding personnel," he said. "They have the ability to beat you in many different ways."

UT-Chattanooga Coach Joe Morrison has made wholesale lineup changes for the Middle Tennessee game in an effort to turn around his team's 0-3 record.

"It wouldn't surprise me if Middle Tennessee won the OVC this year," said Morrison, former New York Giants star. "They have a sound, well coached and big defensive ball club."

Timeout With Brandon

By MIKE BRANDON
Sports Editor

Lakers To Play Henry County This Year

About four months ago, I received a letter from a local man who wanted to see local schools start playing basketball games with Henry County, Tn.

And this coming season, Calloway County High School will meet the Patriots in Paris for the first time ever on the basketball floor.

Laker Basketball Coach David King has released the schedule and sometime next week, it will be printed in the Murray Ledger & Times.

The season will open for the Lakers at home November 8 against Sedalia.

Just five weeks from tonight, local fans will watch high school football end as Murray High hosts Fort Campbell and on the same night, high school basketball season will begin.

The remainder of the schedule for November finds the Lakers at Fulton County on the 22nd, at home on the 23rd with Earlinton (a new team on the schedule) and at home on the 26th with Hickman County.

In all, the Lakers play nine at home, 11 on the road and one in the Murray State Fieldhouse against Murray High, with that game being set for January 24. It will be the only meeting of the regular season between the two arch-rivals.

The Lakers will also be playing in the Mayfield Christmas Tournament December 18th through the 21st.

Other schools on the schedule for the first time include Henderson City, Hopkinsville and Reidland. Henderson will be at Calloway on January 10 and on the following night, they will complete their two-game roadstand with a contest at Murray High.

As for girls' basketball, the Laker girls will play three games with the varsity and the rest will be played with the freshmen.

Practice began at Calloway about two weeks ago and King said he is stressing fundamentals and drills at the present.

Jacobs Doing Well

Cuthbert Jacobs remains in Lourdes Hospital in Paducah, recovering from knee surgery.

The star track runner for the Racers suffered torn cartilage in a soccer game last Saturday at Bellarmine.

Surgery was performed Tuesday afternoon and it appears Jacobs will remain in the hospital until later next week. He is, however, up and walking on crutches.

Jacobs said Wednesday night his doctor told him the operation was a success and he should be able to run indoor track this season. Jacobs, a senior and carrying 21 hours this semester, will be in cast about 10 days after he is released from the hospital.

I would like to urge readers of this column to send this outstanding athlete a card. You have no idea how much it can cheer up a person. After all, he is a long way from home.

(Antigua) and you know he has to be worried about his future.

His room number is 525.

Grid Forecast

I hit six of eight high school football predictions last week and tied one.

The surprises were Marshall County's win over Lone Oak and Reidland's victory at McLean County. The tie was the 0-0 standoff between Tighman and Hopkinsville.

Tighman played at Cape Central last night and returned home with a 17-6 win, boosting the Blue Tornado to 3-1-1 for the year.

Since I started making prediction two weeks ago, I've hit 13, missed five and tied one for an accuracy mark of .722, which isn't bad for high school football.

Here are predictions for games tonight: Caldwell County at MURRAY HIGH, RUSSELLVILLE at Crittenden County, FORT CAMPBELL at Fulton City, Franklin Simpson at MAYFIELD, HOPKINSVILLE at Madisonville, LONE OAK at Reidland, Marshall County at TRIGG COUNTY, Webster County at HENDERSON COUNTY and HEATH at Cairo Senior.

The Russellville-Crittenden County game should be interesting but I'm picking the Panthers because of their near-upset of Fort Campbell last week. Otherwise, there shouldn't be any surprises tonight.

OVC games this week include EASTERN at Austin Peay, WESTERN at East Tennessee, Appalachian State at TECH, UT-Chattanooga at MIDDLE and Morehead at WESTERN CAROLINA.

Wins Meal At Rudy's

Katie Letterman of Murray Route Two was the winner this week for the free meal at Rudy's Restaurant.

She correctly answered the following question: Name the St. Louis Cardinal pitcher, who at the age of 29, came up from the minor leagues and won 16 games in his first year. He later vanished back into the minors, mainly because of his poor eyesight.

The correct answer was Dick Hughes.

Last week's winner, Rodney Jones, was the second person to call with the correct answer and the third one to call in was Susan Carlisle, wife of Murray State football star Russ Carlisle.

There will be another Cardinal question next week in Timeout With Brandon.

In the past, a couple of the questions were so hard that nobody called in and this one, the question was so easy that only a few called simply because they thought everyone else would be calling.

So regardless of how easy the question is, you should call because you might just win the meal at Rudy's, which is worth up to $2.50 of your choice on the menu at Murray's most popular restaurant.

Mack Herron And Patriots To Host Winless Baltimore Colts

By HOWARD SINER
AP Sports Writer

The entire National Football League list of unbeaten, includes a total stranger, a rebounding veteran and a familiar champion. Their names, respectively, are New England, St. Louis and Minnesota.

With the topsy-turvy NFL stumbling into its fourth week of regular season action, the unlikely trio puts its 3-0 records on the line Sunday. And New England, surprisingly, could have the easiest time.

Among the biggest NFL games this weekend are Baltimore at New England, St. Louis at San Francisco and Minnesota at Dallas.

Elsewhere, it's Washington at Cincinnati, Buffalo at Green Bay, Denver at Kansas City, Oakland at Cleveland, Detroit at Los Angeles, Pittsburgh at Houston, Philadelphia at San Diego, New Orleans at Chicago and Atlanta at New York in New Haven, Conn.

The nationally televised NFL game Monday night matches the visiting New York Jets against the defending champion Miami Dolphins.

High-flying New England, led by Jim Plunkett's six scoring passes, has fooled the experts by upsetting Miami, New York and Los Angeles. The running and receivers — has limited the opposition in three games to a total of just 20 points.

San Francisco, 2-1, coming off a 21-3 loss to tough Cincinnati, might be in the mood to prevent St. Louis from getting by with its usual big plays on offense and defense. Quarterback Joe Reed of the 49ers will try to throw against the Cardinal defenders.

In a rematch of the 1973 NFC championship game, Minnesota's veteran team invades Texas Stadium to face Dallas, 1-2, unexpectedly beaten by Philadelphia and the New York Giants in its past two games.

The Vikings have scored just one touchdown in each of their past two victories despite the efforts of scrambling quarterback Fran Tarkenton and running back Chuck Foreman, who has 224 yards so far.

Cowboy quarterback Roger Staubach, leading the NFL with 725 yards gained passing, tossed three interceptions against the Giants and was sacked six times. But the Dallas defense is still pretty tough.

In an evenly matched game, Washington, 2-1, faces Cincinnati, 2-1. The Redskins rely on quarterback Bill Kilmer's passing — 223 yards and two TDs — and Larry Brown's running. The Bengals use QB Ken Anderson, receiver Isaac Curtis and runner Boobie Clark.

Super runner O.J. Simpson, off to a slow start with "only" 258 yards, leads Buffalo, 2-1, against Green Bay, 2-1. Fast-learning QB Joe Ferguson has given the Bills a passing attack, too. The Packers edged Detroit 21-19 last week on a field goal with 63 seconds left.

Against Denver, 0-2-1, Kansas City, 2-1, expects to start sub QB Mike Livingston in place of injured Len Dawson. Ed Podolak remains the all-purpose Chiefs back. Denver, hurt by a tough early schedule, has Charley Johnson throwing to Riley Odums and Haven Moses.

ence Davis. The Browns have so-so quarterback Mike Phipps and young runner Greg Pruitt.

Shocked 20-14 by New England, Los Angeles, 2-1, turns its anger on winless Detroit. The talented Rams had been winning due to the passing of John Hadl and their strong running. The Lions' ground attack is led by Altie Taylor and Steve Owens.

Pittsburgh, 1-1-1, jolted 17-0 by Oakland the last time out, will try to recover. Hot-shot Steeler passer Joe Gilliam gets the starting nod again. Hapless Houston, 1-2, which lost two crucial fumbles and two key passes last week against Kansas City, wants to try again.

The defense for Philadelphia, 2-1, has allowed just 27 points this season. It averaged 28 points a game in 1973. San Diego, 1-2, has a new discovery in rookie Don Woods. He rushed for a NFL season high of 157 yards last week in a 28-21 loss to Miami, scoring two TDs.

New Orleans, 1-2, stopped Atlanta 14-13 last week for its first victory. Saints QB Archie Manning fired a scoring pass and runner Jesse Phillips ran for an eight-yard touchdown. Chicago, 1-2, has a tough defense and a new-found passer, quarterback Gary Huff.

The Giants, 1-2, hope they are finally getting together behind rookie coach Bill Arnsparger, a defensive expert. Aging Norm Snead still runs the team. Winless Atlanta has Pat Sullivan passing, Gerald Tinker catching and Nick Mike-Mayer kicking field goals.

The Jets, 1-2, stymied by rain last week in a 16-12 loss to Buffalo, hope to unleash passer Joe Namath against Miami, 2-1. New York's John Riggins, who has 216 yards, is an improved rusher. But Miami has Griese, Csonka, & Co. to test the questionable Jet defense.

BOWLING

DEERFIELD, Ill. — Betty Morris, of Stockton, Calif., rolled 1,690 for eight games and a total of 6,664 to lead Lorrie Koch of Carpentersville, Ill., by 59 pins in the $75,000 Brunswick Women's Bowling Open.

A's Juggling Second Base As They Prepare To Meet Orioles

By ERIC PREWITT
AP Sports Writer

OAKLAND (AP) — The Oakland A's are juggling second basemen again. It must be playoff time.

Dick Green will start at second in the American League playoffs which open here Saturday against the Baltimore Orioles.

Manny Trillo is the new backup man because of Ted Kubiak's ankle injury.

At some other positions, Manager Alvin Dark isn't so sure of how he'll play things.

"We have problems, like whether Reggie Jackson can play in the field," Dark said.

Right-fielder Jackson, the A's leading home run hitter and the league's Most Valuable Player in 1973, pulled a hamstring muscle Sept. 22 and didn't play in the field through the final 10 days of the regular baseball season.

"I probably could have come back last weekend, but they wanted to make sure I was ready for the playoffs," said Jackson, who took part in a special batting practice session with most of the other A's regulars Thursday.

Dark would like Ray Fosse to start as catcher for defensive purposes, but the .196 hitter may be replaced by power hitting Gene Tenace, the regular first baseman. The move would start a chain reaction, with Joe Rudi moving from left field to first.

"If we change three positions, we've got inexperience, inexperience, inexperience," admits Dark.

The A's and Orioles both had workouts scheduled this afternoon at the Oakland Coliseum, where about 40,000 fans are expected Saturday to watch Jim "Catfish" Hunter, 25-12, pitch against the Orioles' Mike Cuellar, 22-10, in the opener of the best-of-five playoff.

Oakland, en route to a second straight world championship, advanced to the World Series by beating the Orioles in five games last season.

"I figure this year's series will be just like last year's, very tight and probably down to the last game," said A's third baseman Sal Bando, who drove in 103 runs this season.

The A's beat the Orioles last year despite a .200 team batting average in the playoffs. Their three victories were by scores of 6-3, 2-1 and 3-0, with Hunter pitching a shutout in the final game.

Henry Clay And Danville Clash Labeled Big Game

By BOB COOPER
AP Sports Writer

Two unbeaten Class AA Kentucky football powers clash Friday night when Lexington Henry Clay visits Danville in one of the highlights of this weekend's high school card.

For Danville, 5-0, it is the second of three battles this season against Lexington teams, but the Admirals already have put down Lafayette 21-0 and Lafayette nipped Bates Creek last week.

Henry Clay, 4-0, has three shutouts to its credit, with only Richmond Madison able to put 12 points on the boards. After edging Elizabethtown by a point in the opener, Danville has shut out four straight.

Other top games of the week include Cawood-Middlesboro, East Hardin-Bullitt Central, Highlands-Erlanger Lloyd, Madison-Madison Central and Ballard-Waggener, the latter in Jefferson County's Class AAA.

Cawood, one of the two dozen teams still unbeaten and untied, hasn't had any runaway victories this season and could be looking forward to next week's meeting with Lexington Bates Creek.

Middlesboro, 4-1, fell only to Lexington Bryan Station and since has had handy victories over Corbin, 20-8, and Knox Central, 21-0.

East Hardin is 5-0 with four shutouts, but Bullitt Central has lost only to the Newport Catholic team that is 4-1 against pretty stiff northern Kentucky competition.

Highlands, too, has lost only to Newport Catholic—and that by just a point two weeks ago—and Lloyd is 4-1 with the loss an 18-8 affair to Newport that same evening.

Madison is 3-1 this season and while the loss was to No. 3 rated Henry Clay of Class AA, the Purples took two of their victories by a total of only four points in Class A.

Madison Central, meantime, has won four games handily while falling 15-6 to Clark County and settling for a 20-20 tie with Franklin County.

After a one-point loss to Durrett in the season opener, Ballard has put down Moore, Thomas Jefferson and Pleasure Ridge Park without allowing a point to the opposition.

Waggener was edged by Pleasure Ridge, 22-21, to open the season and since has dropped Atherton, Seneca and Moore.

Jerry West Calls Quits To His Brilliant Career

By JACK STEVENSON
AP Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jerry West has retired because he doesn't feel he can play the way he wants, but West still can be winning basketball games for the Los Angeles Lakers.

"Although he won't be playing, he can help us in so many ways that he'll be winning more games for the Lakers," said Coach Bill Sharman, who envisions West working with younger players.

The Lakers had expected their superstar to perform one more season, but after 14 campaigns, the veteran called it quits Thursday. It was his own decision, but his youngsters had a part.

"It got to a point where the other kids didn't think their daddy was the best," West said in announcing his decision.

At 36 and an All-Star selection 13 of his 14 seasons, West explained, "Physically I was sound and would have been able to play this year, but not able to play the way I would want to play. If you sacrifice standards, you are not being honest with yourself."

General Manager Pete Newell declared West was "the greatest guard who has played the game ... the most totally skilled back court man this game has seen."

West will remain with the Lakers although his exact duties have not been spelled out.

He made the All-NBA 12 times, 10 as a first team selection.

He finishes his career as the third highest regular season scorer with 25,192 points. In 1969-70 he was the top scorer with an average of 31.2 points per game.

He scored 63 against the New York Knicks on Jan. 17, 1962, the most scored by a guard in one game.

He has tallied the most points in playoff history for a career with 4,457 and for a single season with 562 in 1970.

Surging Western To Be On Road Against Bucs

By JOE EDWARDS
AP Sports Writer

Western Kentucky, building a dynasty in Ohio Valley Conference football, plays at winless East Tennessee Saturday night and Eastern Kentucky invades Austin Peay in the only other league game.

Non-conference contests send Appalachian against Tennessee Tech, the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga against Middle Tennessee and Morehead State against Western Carolina. Murray has an open date.

Western Kentucky, which has won the OVC title three of the last four years, is 2-0 this season, 1-0 in conference play and ranked second in the college division.

East Tennessee finally will be playing at home after losing the first four games away, one of them a 21-20 loss to Eastern Kentucky last week.

Western Kentucky Coach Jimmy Feix says East Tennessee is improving.

"East Tennessee was having some trouble putting their offense together in earlier games after losing Alan Chadwick," he said, referring to the Bucs' quarterback last season.

"But they apparently began to get their attack rolling last week against Eastern," Feix said. "They moved the ball pretty well and played pretty good defense, too. They led Eastern 20-7, at one time. All the way 'round, I'd call that a pretty doggone good showing."

The Hilltoppers will be seeking their 15th straight regular season triumph and 17th victory in their last 18 games, including post-season play.

Austin Peay Coach Jack Bushofsky said Eastern Kentucky has "a very explosive offensive squad" and is "sold at every position" defensively.

"They have outstanding personnel," he said. "They have the ability to beat you in many different ways."

UT-Chattanooga Coach Joe Morrison has made wholesale lineup changes for the Middle Tennessee game in an effort to turn around his team's 0-3 record.

"It wouldn't surprise me if Middle Tennessee won the OVC this year," said Morrison, former New York Giants star. "They have a sound, well coached and big defensive ball club."

New Strain Of Flu To Strike U.S. In Winter

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A strain of influenza related to the London Flu that caused widespread illness two years ago will strike the United States this winter, says the National Center for Disease Control.

The virus, which will hit throughout most of the nation, is Port Chalmers flu, so named because it was first isolated in Port Chalmers, New Zealand.

Dr. Lawrence Corey, acting chief of the influenza section at the CDC, said Port Chalmers is similar to London flu, but is not likely to be as serious as the Hong Kong virus that caused more than 33,800 deaths in the winter of 1968-69.

Port Chalmers flu already has caused outbreaks in Australia, the Far East and South America.

"This indicates that if it occurs there, it will occur here," Corey said.

A few cases have been reported in Georgia and Mississippi, he said.

Personnel Department Claims State Merit System A Reality

By SY RAMSEY
Associated Press Writer
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The Personnel Department claims in an annual report that the state's merit system now is a reality.

"There have been no mass dismissals," it said. "Solicitation of political funds from employees has been firmly prohibited. State agencies have learned to abide by personnel law and rules."

The agency, headed by Cattie Lou Miller, a Democratic appointee, said 389 workers have been dismissed for all causes in the past 2½ years of the current administration.

This compares with 1,474 firings in the first year only of the prior Republican regime, the report said.

The merit system was established more than a decade ago and is supposed to protect state employees from arbitrary and capricious actions by their superiors, especially in the political arena. It replaced prior systems that were created and then abolished by succeeding administrations.

Only 69 state workers were dismissed last fiscal year, the report said.

One major step the past year, it said, was extension of the merit system to an additional 4,200 workers in the laborer, truck driver and light equipment operator categories.

Such employees always had been outside of the merit picture and their jobs had been regarded as local patronage plums. The 1974 legislature put the move into the statutes.

The personnel department also claimed it is continuing the "rifle shot" approach to recruiting in contrast with what it called the "shotgun" approach before 1972.

The agency said it has zeroed in on job categories where applicants are fewest and turnover greatest rather than what it called blind recruiting with little attention to actual needs.

"The most prevalent need was for clerical, secretarial and typing personnel, who simply were not applying for jobs at state government pay levels," the report said.

To bolster the recruitment of these people, the state has resorted to administering merit examinations at high schools.

The report also showed that in mid 1973 minorities comprised 6.2 per cent of the state work force, which it called an all-time high and up from 4.9 per cent at the beginning of the administration.

There was no breakdown of the types of jobs held by minorities. There have been periodic complaints from them that they are clustered on the lower scale in pay and responsibility.

The Personnel Department also reported women comprise 38 per cent of the states work force, but said their average earnings are only $474 monthly compared with $644 for men.

The Pacific Ocean, 64.1 million square miles in area, contains 48 per cent of the world's water.

Businesses Again Being Warned Of Coming Natural Gas Shortage

By LOUISE COOK
Associated Press Writer
Public utilities are warning businesses across the country that they may not get natural gas for heating this winter. Some utilities are refusing to accept new customers, industrial or residential.

An Associated Press survey showed there is a shortage of natural gas in almost every area, with the East Coast apparently facing the most severe problem. Natural gas provides 31 per cent of the energy used in the country.

Spokesmen for the utilities and some state officials blame the Federal Power Commission for the shortage. They say the FPC ceiling price for natural gas is too low and discourages exploration. "The companies need more money to explore and get additional gas," said George I. Bloom, chairman of the Pennsylvania Public Utilities Commission.

Other officials note that as fuel oil became more expensive, many people switched to natural gas, boosting the demand over a short period of time without development of new supplies.

Meanwhile, The Associated Press learned that federal officials are preparing contingency plans to deal with a possible shortage of coal if miners walk out when the current coal contract expires Nov. 12.

The plans include diversion of some coal supplies from electric utilities to other industries, an embargo on coal exports and by legislation under which industry could be ordered to cut back on production. They also include plans to seek legislative authority for an excise tax on electricity in the event of a need to reduce demand.

The contingency plans are outlined in a memo from the Federal Energy Administration to the Interior Department. The AP obtained a copy of the memo.

Last June, the FPC revised its pricing system for natural gas, replacing a series of regional limits with a single national price of 42 cents per 1,000 cubic feet for so-called "new" gas from wells that began operation after Jan. 1, 1973. Previously, the price ranged from 19.9 to 34 cents per 1,000 cubic feet and averaged 27 cents, the commission said.

The government action was expected to mean another boost in prices for consumers who already are paying more than last year. A spokesman for Minnesota Gas Co. said, for example, that rates for residential customers are 12 to 14 per cent higher than last year and industrial customers are paying 30 per cent more than they did in 1973.

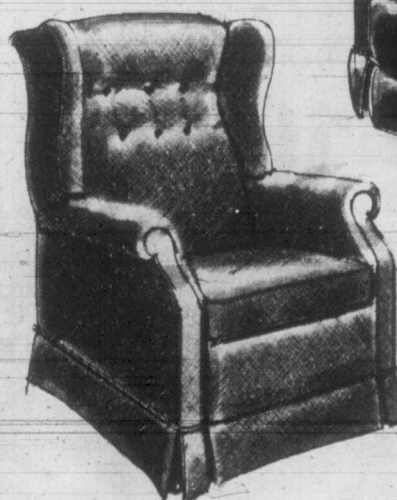

The shortage will hit hardest at "interruptible" customers — large industrial users whose contracts call for them to be cut off in times of trouble. These customers make arrangements for alternate sources of energy like heating oil. Cold weather frequently has meant cutoffs for the "interruptibles" in the past and officials say the situation will be worse this year.

WONDERFUL CHEESE

An old saying declares "there is a cheese for every taste and every pocketbook." I have to agree, for cheese has been a favorite food for thousands of years. Its history goes back to even before the time of Homer. Caesar's banquet tables featured cheese and cheese was an essential part of the rations of the Roman armies. Armies today rely on cheese as an important part of their rations.

The discovery of cheese goes back to several thousand years before Christ. An Arabian traveler, it is said, put milk into a pouch made of a sheep's stomach. During his journey the combined action of the sun's heat and enzymes in the stomach lining changed the milk into cheese.

Many Varieties
Since that time countless varieties of cheese have been produced, ranging in texture from soft to hard and in flavor from mild to pungent and sharp.

Cheese, of course, is merely a delightful form in which we can preserve the energy and nutrition of milk. It was a "natural" in ancient times and even more in modern times before refrigeration. Cheese probably has saved lives over and over again down through the centuries.

Cheese possesses a wide variety of the nutrients we need for health. After it is digested, it releases its nutrients to us to 1) provide energy (calories), 2) help build, maintain and repair body tissues, and 3) help regulate body processes. All foods contribute, each in their own way, to such needs. But cheese is really quite a basic food.

May I remind you that cheese is also a very versatile food? You use it from appetizers to dessert with many stops in between. It can be used alone or in combination with bland foods that need sprucing up. Like in sandwiches, or baked dishes, or in a cream sauce to add flavor to vegetables. Chunks of cheese are great in salads.

And cheese dips are festive and good tasting.

We Owe Europe
We owe it all to Europe when the Crusaders brought back the secrets of making cheese. Europeans kept the craft going. When the Dark Ages occurred, Trappist Monks in the monasteries kept the secrets alive and also developed many varieties.

The conditions and methods for making cheese varied with locality and this produced many varieties of cheese. Today most of the cheese made in the United States is made from cow's milk. Goat's milk is used widely in Norway, sheep's milk in France. With fall just beginning and the Holidays approaching, cheese will be an even greater factor in our lives. Enjoy the festivities.

New Barn Design Cuts Tobacco Housing Cost

You have a problem shared by many tobacco producers in 1974—you will be growing more tobacco than you have barn space to put it in. You will have to build a new barn, but you want to keep the cost per stick of housing capacity to a minimum.

This was the situation in which Hiter Woods, who farms 232 acres east of Nicholasville in Jessamine County, found himself in last spring. And Woods came up with a solution to the problem—a two-tier, partially enclosed tobacco barn constructed according to plans drawn up by agricultural engineers at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture.

"We had some extra tobacco this year which we had to do something with," Woods explained. "Using this type of barn seemed to be the best way to get the most tobacco into the smallest space."

The barn is 28 feet wide and 42 feet long and holds about 1600 sticks of tobacco in two tiers. This is the amount of tobacco produced on about 1.2 acres. Woods said the cost of the barn including labor and materials was about $2400. He figures the cost of building a conventional three-tier barn with the same capacity would be twice as much.

The complete air ventilation allowed by the open design of the barn makes it possible for Woods to house his sticks of tobacco closer together in his new barn than in a conventional barn. He puts 35 sticks on a 14-foot tier rail, rather than 16 sticks on a 12-foot rail, as would be common in a conventional barn. The barn has five-foot-high tiers and a horizontal tier rail spacing of 42 inches.

Woods said the two-tier design reduces the amount of labor needed to house tobacco. He said two men can house tobacco in the barn, although a three-man crew can do the job more efficiently.

After the tobacco is in the barn for three weeks, the top ten feet of the sides and ends of the barn are enclosed with clear plastic, leaving only the bottom part of the barn open. Later, wood siding will be used to enclose the top part of the barn.

Woods feels an important advantage of the barn is that it can be used for other things besides housing tobacco. He said he will probably use the barn for machinery storage or livestock shelter when it is not full of tobacco.

When asked if there were any disadvantages to the barn, Woods replied, "There is nothing I don't like about it so far."

George Duncan, UK Extension agricultural engineer, said the barn design used by Woods was drawn up last April to meet the need for low-cost tobacco housing. He added that the need for low-cost barns was greater this year because of the large crop and because of the destruction of a large number of barns by the April 3 tornadoes.

Duncan pointed out that plans for the two-tier, partially enclosed barn and for many other kinds of barns are available through local County Extension Agents.

Unemployment Rate Up To 5.8 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wide-spread layoffs pushed the nation's unemployment rate up to 5.8 per cent of the work force last month, the highest level in 2 1/2 years, the government reported today.

Another 440,000 workers joined unemployment rolls in September, bringing the total to a seasonally adjusted 5.3 million, the Labor Department said.

The increase in the jobless rate, from 5.4 per cent in August, was the largest monthly increase since last January when it also rose four-tenths of one per cent.

Unemployment has been creeping up gradually for the past several months and is expected to rise above six per cent late this year or in early 1975. Last October the jobless rate had dropped to a 3 1/2-year low of 4.6 per cent. Since then the number of unemployed persons has risen by 1.2 million.

President Ford, who will send his economic program to Congress next week, has indicated he will propose an expanded public service jobs program using federal funds to enable state and local governments to hire the unemployed.

Most of the unemployment last month took place among women aged 25 and older and among teen-agers, particularly males 18 to 19 years old. Declining college attendance among young men, coupled with the slower growth in jobs, contributed to the higher joblessness among youth, the government said.

Total employment was reported up by 350,000 from August to September. Over the past year, total employment has climbed by 1.4 million, half the year-to-year gain recorded in the previous year. The increase was negated in the unemployment picture by additional job seekers.

Both white and blue collar workers felt the effects of the slowing economy. Both categories registered increases in joblessness. Heavy layoffs were reported in manufacturing, construction and wholesale and retail trade. Construction's unemployment rate, at 12.4 per cent, rose to its highest level in four years.

Representatives Of MSU To Attend Meet

Two representatives of Murray State University will be among project directors and deans from 35 colleges and universities involved in the Right to Read program across the country to meet in Washington, D.C., Oct. 7-8.

Dr. Yancy Watkins, associate professor of special education and project director, and Dr. Jerome Hainsworth, assistant dean of the College of Human Development and Learning, will participate in the orientation meeting.

Murray State was awarded a $49,072 grant by the U.S. Office of Education for 1974-75 to develop a preservice teacher preparation program to improve reading instruction at the elementary level.

Emphasis in the program, according to Watkins, who wrote the grant proposal, is on the individualization of instruction in the reading component at the elementary level and on the adjustment of course content to meet individual needs.

Public school personnel who teach reading in the regular classroom in several systems are serving as consultants. School systems represented include Paducah, McCracken County, Murray, Calloway County, Trigg County, Louisville, Jefferson County, Union County, Christian County and Owensboro.

The program at Murray State is part of a nationwide Right to Read effort aimed at eliminating illiteracy by 1980.

Anderson Continues Attack On Sen. Cook

WASHINGTON (AP)—Jack Anderson, for the second consecutive day, attacked U.S. Sen. Marlow W. Cook, R-Ky., in his syndicated newspaper column as he said Thursday Cook had accepted the free use of "everything from automobiles to apartments" during his Senate tenure.

Anderson said "for Marlow Cook, the Senator's code of ethics hasn't deterred him from improving his life style at the expense of others."

The columnist made no effort to link Cook's acceptance of favors with the senator's legislative actions.

Cook admits that he borrowed a car from Louisville auto dealer Jim Cooke "for a couple of months."

Citing other examples of what Anderson termed Cook's "improved life style," he said Cook lived in and had use of a Louisville apartment "for about one dollar a month" until he recently took an apartment in his own name in the city's 800 apartment building.

Cook told Anderson he was taking care of the apartment for his tenant James E. Barnett who was out of the country.

Anderson charged Cook with accepting a retainer of $200 to $300 dollars a month from National Industries, a Louisville-based conglomerate and said the regular payments were concluded with a lump sum of $2,500.

Following up on his charges of Wednesday that Cook had taken free rides on an airplane owned by Ashland Oil Inc., Anderson charged the senator with taking no-cost transportation from National Industries and the Phillip Morris Co.

Cook informed Anderson that the payments received from National Industries was for legal work and said he still does "spot work" for the firm but that such payments do not affect his Senate conduct.

Stanley Yarmuth, board chairman of National Industries, said the retainers to Cook were paid before the senator's election and are no longer being made. He said they were "in the neighborhood" of $200.

Yarmuth said Cook was used as a legal consultant for 10 to 15 years and that his use of Cook's services predates the election of Cook to any public office.

The lump sum $2,500 payment mentioned by Anderson was compensation for a speech Cook made to National Industries company meetings, Yarmuth said.

He said Cook has flown on National Industries planes at no charge to the senator. "Over the years, maybe it's been half-a-dozen times," Yarmuth said he never makes special trips for Cook, "But if we're in Washington and he asks if he can bum a ride back home with us, we take him. I'll take anyone on my plane if I have the room and he's going the same way."

He said despite his long relationship with Cook, the Kentucky solon has voted "against my position 100 per cent of the time."

Asked then why he supports Cook, Yarmuth said, "Because I respect him and his independence. The SOB is pretty darn clean—even though he's wrong."

Yarmuth added, "The senator has been very unfriendly to legislation affecting our companies."

Pregnant Hostage Escapes Unharm

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP).—An eight-month pregnant bank bookkeeper, abducted during a robbery and left bound and gagged in a motel room some 160 miles from her home in Kentucky, escaped unharm early today when she pulled her ropes off and walked out of the room, police said.

Betty Ison of Sandy Hook, Ky., who expects her baby in five weeks, was abducted from the Peoples Bank of Sandy Hook at lunchtime Thursday when an armed gunman took her and $14,000 during a hold-up.

A relative of the 21-year-old woman in Columbus said Mrs. Ison told police here that two men left her in the small motel room on the city's south side about seven hours after the robbery.

The relative, Mrs. Robert Fraley, said Mrs. Ison told police the men tied her and warned her not to attempt to escape. About five hours later she walked out of the room and told her story to the motel manager who called police.

Mrs. Ison told police she was "treated very well." She declined a medical examination, police said.

An armed man walked into the rural eastern Kentucky town of 800's only bank about noon Thursday, stood in line before handing a note to a teller, revealed a small revolver and demanded money.

The man then began to scream obscenities at two female tellers, a bank executive said. Mrs. Ison, who managed the bookkeeping room behind the tellers, went out to the main room to investigate the commotion.

Two tellers said the man threatened to kill them if they set off the alarm. One cashier put her money into a white sack the gunman gave her and returned his note when he demanded it.

Navy Airman Apprentice Valerie J. Harrison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Harrison Jr. of 503 S. Seventh, Murray, qualified as a sharpshooter with the .45 caliber pistol while undergoing recruit training at Orlando, Fla.

She is scheduled to begin training as an air traffic controller. The training included instruction in seamanship, military regulations, fire fighting, close order drill, first aid and Navy history.

Butler Speaks To SDX

Tom Butler, news director for WPSD-TV in Paducah, addressed Sigma Delta Chi's membership as well as representatives of local-print and electronic media at its first meeting of the academic year.

Stressing that the Federal Communications Commission exercises some necessary power, Butler said there was a need to re-evaluate the force behind FCC regulations.

The Society for Professional Journalists, Sigma Delta Chi, in conjunction with the Murray State University Student Government Association, has made arrangements with Gerald TerHorst to appear on the campus Oct. 24, announced Susan Clem, West Frankfort, Ill., president.

TerHorst, former press secretary to President Gerald Ford, will be making his first appearance in Kentucky since his Sept. 8 resignation.

SAN ANTONIO—Airman Stephen G. Geurin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill G. Geurin of 1611 Dodson Ave., Murray, has been assigned to Chanute AFB, Ill., as a duplicating specialist after completing Air Force basic training. During his six weeks at Lackland AFB, Tex., he studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations. Airman Geurin is a 1974 graduate of Murray High School.

IT WAS one year ago today,
October 4, 1974, that I lost my sister, Mary Frances (Mauzy)
Hill. I write this in remembrance of her and all the wonderful people that helped me at this time of need. It would be impossible to list all the names of these people, but I would like to mention Brooks their help and prayers, my own three children and my sister's

ASCS, an agency of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, is responsible for farm program administration. On the local level, ASCS operates under a farmer-elected committee system. This year's election will be by mail ballot between November 18 and December 2.

Anyone who meets the following requirements is eligible to vote in these farmer committee elections: Any individual of legal voting age with an interest in a farm as owner, tenant, or sharecropper who is eligible to participate in any ASCS program.

Persons not of legal voting age who supervise and conduct farming operations on an entire farm are also eligible to vote in ASCS elections. No person can be denied the right to vote because of race, sex, color, religion, or national origin.

Several general provisions relate to ASC voter eligibility. A wife who operates a farm with her husband can vote if her name is on the deed of conveyance. A youth under 18 years of age can vote if he runs a farm, and a legal guardian who runs a farm for a child can vote for the child.

A person may cast a ballot in any county in which he is an eligible ASC voter, but he or she can not vote in more than one community in the county. If an eligible voter has separate farm interests in more than one community in the same county, special care will be taken to see that only one ballot is issued to that voter.

CLERK'S OFFICE
OPEN SATURDAY
County Court Clerk Marvin Harris will keep his office open until noon Saturday to allow residents who have not registered to vote an opportunity to do so. The deadline for registering to vote in the November general election is Monday, Oct. 7.

may amount to $600 billion, an amount more than the value of all stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

So Laird predicted that eventually rationing will be necessary, coupled with taxes to discourage energy use.

Administration sources, meanwhile, said Ford will announce soon that Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton will replace Treasury Secretary William E. Simon as chairman of the cabinet level Committee on Energy.

The panel is to develop options and recommendations on major energy problems and has been headed by Simon since it was formed June 14.

The shift apparently indicates a larger role for Morton in the development of energy policies. Nessen reported Thursday that Ford will unveil his new economic plans in a speech early next week, but he said the time and forum have not yet been decided upon.
