Ford Summons Grain Export Executives To White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford has summoned executives of two major grain exporting companies to the White House to discuss the administration's decision to hold up the shipment of 125 million bushels of grain to the Soviet Union.

Treasury Secretary William E. Simon, in announcing the action Friday night, also said Ford had served notice that he expects exporters to seek White House approval before arranging future contracts to ship grain abroad.

Officials of Continental Grain Co. of New York and Cook Industries Inc., of Memphis, Tenn., were to meet with Ford today.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, an outspoken opponent of restrictions on U.S. farm exports, was in California when the move was announced and broke off a six-day tour of western states to fly here for the meeting, an aide said.

Some 91 million bushels of corn and 34 million bushels of wheat were said to be involved in the transaction. Officials did not disclose the value of the shipment.

U.S. officials said the decision to hold up the sale was voluntary, but they declined to say whether the Soviets or the companies or both had acceded to an administration request to place the transaction in abeyance.

Existing law empowers the President to order halts to the export of such commodities.

The action came at the end of a day that Ford devoted to economic matters and that saw these other economic developments:

—The nation's unemployment rate rose to a 2½-year high of 6.8 per cent in September, the biggest increase since January, as an estimated 440,000 persons joined the ranks of the unemployed.

—An Associated Press survey disclosed that the early frost in the Midwest and the Plains states had further crippled crops already stunted by spring floods and summer drought. Corn, soybeans and tomatoes were reported hardest hit.

—Retail beef prices during the week declined 1.6 cents a pound from the week before, according to the Department of Agriculture.

—Amstar Corp., the largest sugar refiner and marketer in the United States, said its wholesale price of grocery sugar in the Midwest went up Friday by 10 per cent.

—The Bank of America in San Francisco and the First National City Bank of New York lowered their prime lending rates by ¼ of a percentage point to 11¼ per cent, effective Monday.

—It was announced that Bangladesh will get $17.1 million worth of U.S. wheat and $17.5 million in U.S. rice under the Food for Peace program, part of the foreign aid plan.

—The House Republican Task Force on Antitrust and Monopoly Problems shelved a confidential staff report urging curbs on farmer cooperatives as means of reducing food prices. The staff report had been opposed by lobbyists for co-ops.

Ford met twice with economic officials and with Republican congressional leaders as he prepared the anti-inflation address he will deliver to Congress at 4 p.m. EDT Tuesday.

Ford will call for "sacrifices from the American people" in the inflation fight but will not ration gas or impose a gasoline excise tax, White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said.

Nessen also quoted Simon as telling the Republicans that the Ford program "will require and encourage Americans to save more, reduce waste and produce more."

In announcing the hold-up of the Soviet grain shipments, Simon said "the contracts for the sale of approximately 125 million bushels of corn and wheat to the Soviet Union during the 1974-75 marketing year are being held in abeyance. These contracts, reported today by the Department of Agriculture, (See Grain, Page 10)

Alumni Banquet Planned For Normal School Charter Donors

Reservations for the Alumni Banquet October 18, honoring Murray State's "Charter Donors," should be made at once, alumni director Mancil Vinson announced today. The dinner is a Bi-Centennial salute.

To be held in Waterfield Student Union Friday evening, October 18, at 5:30, the dinner will also pay tribute to Gilbert Graves, who lost his life in a football game here 50 years ago. Mr. Vinson has asked that all persons planning to attend the dinner make their reservations with the Alumni office as follows:

1. All living charter donors and their spouses will be guests of the University. They are expected to notify the Alumni office of their plans to attend. They will receive special recognition.

2. All descendants of the original 1352 contributors of $117,000 will be recognized as a group. They and their spouses will make their reservations with the Alumni Office at $3.50 per plate.

3. All others — Alumni, faculty and friends of the University, who wish to attend — may make their usual reservations at $3.50 each with the Alumni Office.

Among other special guests at the dinner will be sisters and teammates of Gilbert Graves.

In his honor, a plaque will be dedicated at 3 p.m. October 18, at the Stadium.

Wrather Hall, known originally as the "Normal School Building," was constructed and dedicated in 1924. The citizens of Calloway County contributed $117,000 to secure the location of the new Normal School in Murray. Of this amount, $100,000 was used for the building and $17,000 for the campus and grounds.

Dr. Adron Doran, president of Morehead State University, will be principal speaker at the dinner. His subject will be "Expansion of Kentucky Higher Education — a Bi-Centennial Tribute."

Mr. Vinson has announced two additions and one correction in the list of donors as published in the Murray papers: Additions — Lillie Grogan (Wrather) and W. E. Clark. Correction — the name of D. H. Sirex was incorrectly listed as "Syrus."

The published list was taken from a typed document submitted to the State Normal School Commission on May 31, 1922. Several omissions and misspellings were made by the committee that prepared the document. Mr. Vinson is asking anyone having additional corrections or additions to send the information to the Alumni office.

AN EDITORIAL

The headline on the story in Friday's Murray Ledger & Times concerning the corridor hearing on the four-laning of 12th Street could have left a false impression with readers.

Statements endorsing the project were read by representatives of seven local groups, the Murray City Council, Murray State University, Calloway County Fiscal Court, Murray Chamber of Commerce, Calloway County Industrial Foundation, Murray Planning Commission and the office of the Murray City Planner.

Six private citizens were reported to have spoken against the project.

The editor apologizes for any misconception that could have been created by the headline, which implied a majority of those present opposed the project.

Court Of Appeals Hears Arguments On Change Allowing Judges To Sentence

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Trial lawyers have lined up against judges and prosecutors in opposing a proposal to have judges rather than juries sentence criminals in Kentucky.

The opposing sides spoke Friday at a hearing held by the Court of Appeals, which is contemplating making such a change in trial procedure. The change has been proposed by the Kentucky Circuit Judges Association.

Acting Chief Justice Scottee Reed said later the court has no time schedule for deciding the matter. He indicated it would not act on it for some time.

Several trial lawyers opposed it at the hearing while it was supported by two circuit judges and a prosecuting attorney.

The interim Legislative Judiciary Committee opposed it unanimously last month. Some members maintained the change was a legislative matter, not a judicial one.

State Public Defender Anthony Wilhoit opposed the change at Friday's hearing on those grounds, saying it would be unconstitutional for the court to adopt it.

Wilhoit said the General Assembly had established jury sentencing under the new penal code which takes effect Jan. 1. The Court of Appeals previously has held it would not disturb a legislative act unless it disturbs court administration, which this does not, he said.

Wilhoit maintained the proposed change would touch off an unnecessary constitutional (See Sentencing, Page 10)

Cook Says Accepting Free Flights Has Not Affected Actions In Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Marlow Cook says accepting free flights in corporate airplanes has not affected his legislative actions.

The Kentucky Republican responded Friday to accusations by Washington columnist Jack Anderson, who said Cook received favors from the tobacco industry in return for defending tobacco's cause in Congress.

Anderson's column contended that tobacco industry favors for Cook included free plane rides, speaking fees, cigars, liquor and football tickets.

The column, distributed to about 900 newspapers nationally, said Gretchen Doss, a secretary hired by Cook, sent "documents and reports" to the Tobacco Institute at taxpayer expense and was paid $25 a month by the institute.

The Tobacco Institute is a trade organization based in Washington, representing major cigarette manufacturers.

Cook, campaigning in Owensboro, called the Anderson assertion about Ms. Doss "a lie."

"If I had known she was doing that, I would have fired her," he said.

The column quoted Cook as saying he accepted professional football tickets from a Tobacco Institute lobbyist, Frank Dryden, but Dryden said he gave Cook no more than "an occasional box of cigarettes."

Anderson said Cook occasionally took no-cost flights on a Philip Morris, Inc., corporate aircraft.

Frank Saunders, public relations director for the cigarette producer, said in New York that company records indicated Cook had flown three times on a corporate plane in the past year.

"He has been with our executives on a trip we would be making anyway," Saunders said. "He hasn't flown with us very often."

Anderson's column Friday was his third in three days questioning Cook's legislative activities and contending that the Kentucky senator received favors from special interests.

Earlier columns said Cook had flown frequently on planes provided by Ashland Oil Inc. and by National Industries, a Louisville conglomerate.

When's best moving time?

When it comes to moving, many families wait until the school year is over on the theory that it's not good for their children to have to change schools in midstream; but that may do more harm than good, in the opinion of at least one group.

The American Movers Conference, in a leaflet for its customers called "Moving and Children," says there is strong evidence a summer-time move "may cause more problems than it solves" because children are left stranded without the summer friends they might have made had they been in their new school before classes ended.

And the problem is doubled, it adds, when they start out in a strange school in the fall with no friends.

The booklet also says many parents make a mistake by not sitting down and discussing a move with their children, listening to their problems, answering their questions and trying to explain what is happening and why. Preschool children in particular may develop a fear of being left behind when they see their familiar surroundings being packed up.

The booklet and other moving information is available from local movers conference members, or American Movers Conference, Suite 806, 1117 North 19th Street, Arlington, Va. 22209.

HOSPITAL PATIENT

Mary Watkins of Murray Route Four has been a patient at the Western Baptist Hospital, Paducah.

Health-wise

By Helen F. Andrew, M.S., Health Educator

A Trip to the Hospital

Your child's first stay in a hospital will be an interesting or a frightening experience, depending largely upon the feelings you communicate and what you tell him to expect.

If Johnny hears adults talking about people going to the hospital to die or expressing negative feelings about being a patient, he will naturally be fearful.

If, on the other hand, his parents take time to explain that a hospital is a place where doctors and nurses and many other people work to get people well, Johnny will be able to accept the idea of his own hospital stay more cheerfully.

Check Type of Ground Beef for Best Buy

Although ground beef is recognized as one of the best buys at the meat counter, how good a buy it is may depend on which type of ground beef—regular, lean, extra lean, or other—is selected.

Your decision to buy a certain ground beef may be based on several factors: what the recipe calls for, appearance, taste preference, special diet requirements, price, the cut of beef it comes from and the amount of lean meat for your money.

Nazza Noble, nutritionist with the University of Tennessee Extension Service, points out that many experts believe that the proportion of lean in ground beef is a more important factor than whether the beef comes from a tender cut, as grinding the meat tenderizes it.

"Also, the amount of lean in a pound of ground beef is an indication of the amount of protein it contains; that is, the more lean, the more protein," continues Miss Noble.

"Many people buy lean and extra lean ground beef thinking that they get a better buy in lean meat and protein," adds the nutritionist. "However, the price you pay for lean and extra lean is higher than the price you pay for regular—usually so much higher that regular ground beef gives you more lean, and therefore more protein, for your money."

The UT professor explains that there are regulations covering the preparation of beef that is ground and packaged in federal or state inspected plants.

"A product labeled as ground beef must be ground beef with no extra fat, water, extenders, or binders added," explains the nutritionist.

Federal rule

Canned fruit cocktail is one of a few fruit mixtures which is standardized by Federal law. Peaches and pears make up the greater part of the mixture but it must also include pineapple, grapes, and maraschino cherries.

Slippery salesman's stealing his sweetie

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by The Chicago Tribune

DEAR ABBY: I am an older widower, financially comfortable and, perhaps unwisely, am deeply in love with a 44-year-old widow.

Recently she has been going haphazardly with a man she met by mail. It's "hap" for him because he never calls or writes to let her know in advance that he's coming. It's hazardous for her because he has never given her an address or telephone number where he can be reached although she has asked repeatedly. Nor has he given her a single clue through which he could be traced or identified. He claims he lives in a certain city, but says he travels a lot and his address and phone number wouldn't help any.

He claims he owns a home worth from $90,000 to $100,000, but wants to sell it and buy a home with her, since he thinks she has $50,000. I'm afraid he's only after her money.

I'd like your answer soon, no matter how you see it. I will let her read it. J. IN LAUDERDALE

DEAR J.: I see either a woman so naive that she shouldn't be out alone after dark, or one who is so blinded by infatuation that she can't read the handwriting on the wall.

I also see an older, financially comfortable widower who thinks he could win this lady were it not for the slippery salesman. The widower's strategy is to eliminate his competition by exposing him for the fraud he is, thus capturing the fair damsel.

I wish you luck, but don't get your hopes up. Love abhors logic. LAURIE

DEAR ABBY: A man wrote in complaining that before a party, his wife will call her lady friends to ask whether they are wearing pants or a dress.

He said he'd never heard of a MAN doing this. He's right. I've never heard of a man calling up another man to ask him if he was wearing pants or a dress, have you?

DEAR LAURIE: Yes. But then people tell me things they'd never tell anyone else. CURIOUS.

DEAR ABBY: How do you feel about forcing a man to retire when he reaches a certain age?

DEAR CURIOUS: I like the way a gentleman from Morganton, N.C., put it. He said: "I'm against mandatory retirement. It ought to be left to the individuals. It is a shame to assume that all fools are old fools. I've found there are more young fools than old fools. Nature has a way of getting rid of old fools." (Thank you, Senator Sam Ervin.)

DEAR ABBY: The person who wrote to you saying that big noses and flat bosoms are "in" is out of her (or his) mind.

Since when is a well-developed nose more desirable than a well-developed bosom? If a woman wants to look like Barbra Streisand, I might agree, but if she wants to please a man, the bosom has it over the nose any day.

When a man turns around to get a second look at a girl, you can be sure it's not her NOSE he's looking at. And who ever heard of a movie star getting silicone implants in her NOSE?

What do you suppose would happen to Playboy magazine if they showed nothing but pictures of girls with big noses? I think I'm fairly representative of the average guy, and for my part, if a gal is stacked, I wouldn't even notice her nose. COWBOY—HAMILTON, MONTANA

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

HOW TO GET PRESCHOOLERS TO EAT PROPERLY

There are several ways to meet the challenge of getting preschool children to eat properly, according to a University of Tennessee Extension health and nutrition specialist.

"If your child eats a very limited number of foods and refuses to eat others, you have a problem common to most parents," says Reba K. Hendren, UT nutritionist.

Keep in mind that small children need small portions, but these should include milk, meat, fruit, vegetables, and bread or cereal, she suggests. Avoid excessive fats or sweets. Prepare the food attractively and serve it in a pleasant way.

"Use an optimistic approach, as if you did not question his or her willingness to accept the food," says Mrs. Hendren. "Avoid any sign that would indicate negative feeling."

Include some "finger foods" (easy to hold in small hands) and also some colorful foods. Allow the child to feed itself as much as possible.

"Clean spills without mutiny scolding," she adds. "Also, make certain that your eating habits will encourage the child to eat."

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Civic Music 'Thanks'

Dear Editor:

Season tickets are in the mail for more than 750 members of the Murray Civic Music Association, and we are looking forward to our exciting opening concert "Music For Awhile" this Sunday October 6 at 3 p.m. in Lovett Auditorium. Our ticket sales this year represent a fantastic increase in membership—about 30 per cent.

Such growth in these days of inflation can be attributed to several things. First of all, it shows that a lot of people know a bargain when they see it—we offered an outstanding concert series at the old low prices and hoped that the people of this area would respond in numbers large enough to help us underwrite it. And they did!

Second, we had marvelous promotional help from the Bank of Murray. We are grateful for their hospitality and generosity and particularly for the interest of Mr. Joe Dick, Mr. A. W. Simmons Jr. and Mrs. Neva Gray Albritten in the cultural life of our community.

While I am mentioning promotional support, I must give special thanks to you and The Murray Ledger and Times. We feel that the coverage you gave of the campaign week activities was one of the real reasons for our success. Also, Mrs. Carole Hahn and the staff at WNBS kept our drive before the public and we are most grateful to them.

Special thanks must go to the members of the Board of Directors of Murray Civic Music Association who have given so much time and effort to this drive. And what can I say to express the appreciation the board feels for the efforts of the 80 volunteers who canvassed the area to renew membership and obtain new subscribers! Civic Music could not exist without them.

The backing of Murray State University and of the Kentucky Arts Commission give Murray Civic Music Association a strong base from which to work, but our real success is due to the more than 750 people in the area who believe that in supporting the arts they are truly enriching their lives and enhancing the value of living in this community.

Many thanks to each one,
Mrs. John C. Winter
Chairman of Membership Campaign

Consumer Comments

Door-To-Door Book
And Magazine Sales

By Ed W. Hancock
Attorney General of Kentucky

Kentucky has two laws which give protection to the consumer who purchases books or magazine subscriptions from salesmen who come to the door.

One of these is the home solicitation sale law, which applies to sales solicited in person at the residence of a buyer who agrees to the purchase at his residence. It does not apply to sales under $25.00 or if prior negotiations were made at an established sales room. In any contract subject to the law, the seller must place a conspicuous notice of the "buyer's right to cancel," which provides that the buyer has the right to cancel the sale and not be bound by the contract if he gives notice in writing before the end of the third business day after the contract is signed. Until the seller has given the notice required of him, the buyer may cancel by giving notice in any form and even after the three days.

The other law regulates salesmen of printed material either for cash, or on contract or by subscription. It requires each salesman who solicits orders to register with the county clerk of the county in which he sells (prior to July 1, 1974 with the sheriff or chamber of commerce). The registration given information about the identity and address of the salesman and the company he represents. It is effective for one year. If he does not register in the county, any person to whom he sells in the county, whether in person or by telephone, at home or elsewhere, may consider the contract void and refuse to be bound by it.

But bear in mind, that if the sales contract is paid for by credit card or other loan device, the lender usually will have to be paid, and the buyer must look to the seller to recover the full amount of the sales price.

Registration of a salesman does not mean that any public official has approved or even considered the value or soundness of the product being sold. Information of this type should be obtained locally from informed persons. For instance, before buying encyclopedias or other sets of educational books, get the advice of school teachers and librarians.

But, require the salesman to show his registration card before dealing with him.

For answers or suggestions to aid with consumer problems, Kentucky residents may call on the toll-free Consumer Hotline, 1-800-372-2960, or write the Attorney General's Division of Consumer Protection, Room 34, Capitol Building, Frankfort, Ky., 40601.

Breaking Ground.....

.....Commentary On Issues And Events

Written By Gary Huddleston
Ky. Farm Bureau Federation

Arguments over whether to end burley tobacco quotas for next year revolve around one basic question—how can we get the right amount of burley produced to satisfy cigarette makers, but at the same time protect prices paid to farmers?

Anti-quota spokesmen, including some USDA officials and tobacco companies, say there is no need to continue quotas, as production is not satisfying demand. A lower-than-predicted crop this year, combined with already low carryover inventories, invites the use by cigarette makers of burley substitutes or imported leaf, they note.

Pro-quota tobacco producers and farm organizations, on the other hand, say a quota increase for 1975, combined with super-strong prices on the auction markets this fall, will provide sufficient incentive for farmers to grow more tobacco.

Elimination of quotas, they add, will benefit the big tobacco producers and kill off the small growers, thus causing irreparable damage to local economies where small burley allotments are common.

Kentucky Farm Bureau, the state's largest farm organization, is solidly behind the present poundage control program, including the use of quotas. Most other tobacco grower organizations and associations agree with this position, and any attempt by USDA to eliminate quotas is sure to evoke a storm of protest which might be strong enough to block the action.

In essence, two people can voice the same arguments and come to opposite conclusions as to the benefits of quotas. But most on both sides of the question agree that if quotas are done away with, it would be extremely difficult, if not impossible, to get them back.

The implication is, "you'd better be sure before you decide you can do without them, because the change might be permanent."

Quotas for burley production in Kentucky are a deeply ingrained part of economies in rural counties throughout the Central and Eastern two-thirds of the state.

Allotments have long been a factor in valuing farmland, and their elimination would have an immediate impact on the comparative worth of various land tracts in a burley-producing area.

In addition, the certainty which the quota program gives to the tobacco portion of a farmer's annual income is considered by many commercial lenders as a type of collateral for loans on other higher-risk crops, such as livestock and grain.

The economic impacts of annual allotments are fairly easy to trace, but the effect of quotas on today's total leaf production is subject to differing interpretations.

Some burley experts feel that production and inventories are so low, growers are courting disaster if they try to pressure prices upward with a continuing tight supply of the leaf.

Buyers will begin looking to other markets to satisfy their needs, they say; and in fact have already lowered the burley ratio in cigarettes after last year's small crop.

But many growers tend to discount talk of finding burley substitutes as largely a ploy by tobacco companies to get a big increase in burley production and glut the market. The result would be lower prices for farmers, and the elimination of any need to increase wholesale and retail cigarette prices.

At any rate, Kentucky tobacco growers should have plenty to talk about during the upcoming winter months. This year's weather damage, this year's prices, next year's fertilizer, next year's quotas or next year's quota-less crop—all these items are sure to be the subject of endless discussion between now and next spring.

And even if quotas are retained for 1975, one thing seems certain—if next year's burley crop again falls short of anticipated need, the pressure to change our long-standing quota program may become too great to bear.

Neck Pain Requires
Diagnosis Of Cause

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

Our new first lady, Mrs. Gerald R. Ford, is reported to have had an old, recurrent pain in her neck. Yet, she has managed to obtain some relief and to live an active life.

Neck pain is common. It is often distracting and distressing.

Most cases recover, but it is wise to have an examination to determine the cause so that appropriate treatment can be carried out.

Any unusual swelling in the neck should be evaluated promptly by a physician. The thyroid gland in the lower front of the neck may be the site of a goiter, tumor or cyst. Lymph nodes may be enlarged and tender because of an infection in the scalp, throat or neck. Also, enlarged, nontender nodes may be even more important and require professional attention.

A history of injury, such as a whiplash that occasionally occurs in an automobile accident, may explain the basis for pain.

Joints of the cervical spine may be roughened by rheumatic changes, which can be visualized on an X-ray. X-rays may locate a fracture or a narrowing of the space between the vertebrae, suggesting a herniated cervical disc. Such X-rays may show some disturbance to the normal curve of the spine in the neck.

Many nerves pass out of the skull and spine into the neck, with some of the nerves coursing downward into each of the upper limbs. If one or more of the nerves are inflamed, the distribution of the pain along the usual location of the nerve will be helpful in making a diagnosis. Sore nerves often are made worse by massage.

Rest helps neck pain by reducing the many movements. A pillow or a collar may bring comfort by splinting. Local heat or cold may be required; as well as mild medicine by mouth. Seldom is surgery required.

Q. Does chronic ulcerative colitis lead to cancer?

A. Chronic ulcerative colitis and cancer of the colon are separate and different diseases. However, persons with chronic ulcerative colitis are more prone to develop cancer of the colon than those persons who have a normal large bowel. It is possible for a person to have chronic ulcerative colitis for years and not to develop cancer of the colon.

Q. On my shoulder is a mole which I would like to have removed for cosmetic reasons. Is it likely that the mole will come back after being removed?

A. While a mole may be removed by electric coagulation, freezing, or cutting, surgery is preferable in most instances. The incision can be made in the appropriate direction so that the scar will not be pulled upon and widen. The mole can be completely excised. Also, the removed tissue can be examined under the microscope to be certain whether the cells are normal or malignant. In view of the fact that you mention that you plan the removal for cosmetic reasons, I suggest that you may want to have such surgery done by an experienced surgeon, possibly one who regularly performs cosmetic surgery.

Funny Funny World

ART

In the turbulent days following the Franco-Prussian War, the French painter Renoir went about his work unconcernedly. Ignoring the gunfire, he was out in the field every day with his brushes and easel. Once, when he was caught in a crossfire, he was urged to move to a safer spot.

"What, and give up this light?" demurred the painter. (St. Louis Post Dispatch)

David Stein, the 37 year old French painter who was jailed by the Americans and French after making $3 million by selling art forgeries, has a new job in London, selling his work in a store, labeled "in the style of" Picasso, Van Gogh, Cezanne—for $100 a painting.

Although he owed money to an army of creditors, James M. Whistler made little effort to pay them off.

Once, when he was harassed, an admirer came to his rescue with a substantial loan.

"Sir," said the painter, "I shall be forever in your debt." And he was. (Milwaukee Journal)

Fins 'n Feathers

By Butch Groer
Outdoor Editor

Statewide bow season for deer opened last weekend but I haven't received any reports of hunters downing any deer. It looks as though everyone is waiting for the opening of next week's bow season down Between the Lakes. Just about every bowhunter I have talked to is planning on camping down there for that weekend and will be spending extra effort during the upcoming week to try and increase their accuracy at various distances.

If you have heard rumors that Barnes Hollow in the Land Between the Lakes will be open to hunting they are true. Note the news release elsewhere on this page.

Several around town have bales of hay or straw stacked up behind their house or in a woods somewhere, where they have been preparing for bow season for several weeks. Darrell Parker has been showing his accuracy with a bow from about fifteen yards to thirty yards from a tree stand in his yard by sinking several arrows in an oak leaf on his target bales.

The Lowe brothers have been getting ready for this year's bowhunt for several months now so they will be pretty well prepared when opening morning rolls around. Ricky Lowe has bought a new compound bow like his brother Randy's and reports that he really likes it. I think the compound bow will continue to show its advantages over conventional recurve bows this year and we will all find again that the hunters using the compound bow will have a better percentage of harvest than the hunters using the conventional bow. Several factors are involved making the difference and I firmly believe that the compound bow coupled with hunter preparedness is the major deciding factor.

For those of you using a portable tree stand make sure of your footing on the stand in early morning use and not be like Barry Drew a couple of years ago. Frost was on his stand one morning and during a moment of excitement he slipped and fell. Fortunately he had a safety rope tied on himself. Unfortunately, though, he used parachute cord as a safety line and the length of cord abruptly halted his fall about a foot or two from the ground, almost cutting him into. Keep in mind that Drew weighs 200 pounds plus. I think the incident convinced him to use a larger and shorter length of rope. Frost is a hazard so be careful.

As I have told many others, I wish everyone luck in the upcoming bow season and hope that they might extend me just enough luck to break the four year jinx with a bow. I doubt that I'll turn down a doe this year like I have in the past.

Origin:

In the early part of 1935 a few far sighted sportsmen conceived the idea that there was a great need for one strong statewide sportsmen's organization with which all the sportsmen's clubs could affiliate. By coordinating ideas, efforts and strength it was believed that our natural resources could be better preserved, thereby leading to a more sound conservation policy and program which would benefit all Kentucky citizens. It was believed that by working with the Division of Game & Fish that a more business like administration could be achieved and enable the state to take its rightful place among the leading fishing and hunting states of our country. The organization was named The League of Kentucky Sportsmen.

From that day forward the League of Kentucky Sportsmen grew, each year gaining in numerical strength and respect from all people concerned with conservation of wildlife and natural resources. The League was instrumental in upgrading Kentucky from near the bottom of the fifty states to a ranking in the top ten.

This has been accomplished by the unselfish efforts of dozens of dedicated persons devoting time and effort for the benefit of all citizens. It should be noted here that all of these dedicated people are still interested and continue to make every effort to further the cause of broad conservation of all of our Commonwealth's natural resources. It may well be said that once a Kentuckian has the conservation fever he never recovers.

Objective:

We consider The League "the lay arm" of The Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources. We work hand in hand with them for the upgrading of The Department and exert every pressure and individual influence, as interested private citizens, to deter any legislation which we consider to be detrimental to The Department or the organized sportsmen's programs. Conversely, we put The Department on notice, and use our influence, to correct any inefficiencies we may detect in The Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources. This kind of cooperation, the Department with The League and the League with The Department, has been a most compatible relationship and has been, we think, the greatest and largest single contribution to the sportsmen of Kentucky. We will discuss this "perfect" relationship in other sections.

Achievements:

We feel over the 40 years of our organization we have achieved much in our effort to represent all of the sportsmen of the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

One of the most important of these many accomplishments is the manner in which our Commissioners of The Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources are selected. Our organization proposed, prepared and presented the legislation to The General Assembly for their concurrence. This was achieved in 1944. Since that time, we, through our affiliated district Federations, nominate five men, one of whom is selected from his list, who will represent the sportsmen of his District on the Fish & Wildlife Commission. These names are submitted to the Governor who selects the person he desires from the list of nominees presented to him. This Commission is non-partisan and can at no time, be governed by more than five of the total membership of nine of either major political party. By this method of selection, we feel the people of the Commission represents the sportsmen, of which he is one, and wishes of The League of Kentucky Sportsmen Inc. The advantages of this system are two fold.

First, all proposed Commissioners are already in-

FIRST BASS — Four year old Matthew Weatherford holds up his first bass while his three year old brother, Dan, looks on, when asked what he caught his eleven inch, one pound bass on, he said, "On a fishin' pole down at the lake!" terested conservationists due to their affiliation with our organization. Secondly, in as much as he is one of our number he generally carries out the wishes of some 40,000 members of The League of Kentucky Sportsmen Inc., the only organized sportsmen's group, at the State level, in Kentucky. A further bonus, this Commission, because it has come from The League, finds its policies better accepted by the sportsmen of Kentucky. The terms of the Commissioners are for four (4) years and are so arranged that the Governor appoints one in each of the nine Wildlife districts during his four (4) year term in office.

As you see by the above, the sportsmen and The League of Kentucky Sportsmen Inc., have a responsibility of nominating five competent men. Men of both major political faiths must be nominated because the Governor may select any person from the list submitted, bearing in mind the restrictive balance of political faiths, numerically. The League's and the sportsmen's responsibility is to be certain all five (5) nominees will be acceptable to the majority in their District. By this method of selection everyone shares the responsibility. The League and sportsmen to the Governor and the Governor to The League and the sportsmen by his selection of the Commissioner who, in turn, has a responsibility to all. This responsibility lies with the Governor, The League and all sportsmen in the District and in the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

Prior to 1964 the president of The League appointed a blue ribbon committee to study and recommend a model strip mining law for the Commonwealth. After much study and many meetings legislation was introduced. Public hearings were held by the legislature and with continued support from The League the bill was passed and became law in 1966.

The present water pollution control and air pollution control laws were supported by The League and became law the same year.

Services:

The League of Kentucky Sportsmen Inc. offers many, many services to their 380 (June 1974) affiliated clubs enrolling 35,000 members. We offer decals to be exhibited in prominent places indicating the person owning the car, boat, or what have you, as a bona fide member of our organization. These decals are sold at cost to the clubs. We offer dues cards bearing "The League" insignia on which the name of the purchasing club is imprinted, much the same as every club's regular dues card. These are also sold at cost. Our greatest service, to our way of thinking, is the solicitation, compilation and transferring of our 35,000 plus subscriptions to The Happy Hunting Ground Magazine, a publication of The Department of Fish & Wildlife Resources. In this publication we are allotted space for The President's Message, the Secretary's Report, the Editor's Editorials and club news, complimented often times by photographs. The financing of this arrangement has been discussed in another section. In passing, the Happy Hunting Ground Magazine is published bi-monthly and is accredited as being one of the finest, if not the finest, publication of its kind.

In the year of 1965 the Governors Conservation Achievement Awards program was instituted and more than one hundred outstanding Kentucky conservationists have been recognized for their efforts at an annual banquet in their honor.

The League, through The Kentucky Wildlife Federation Foundation offers scholarships to Kentucky students majoring in environmental subjects, and arrangements have been made with several state universities to match these grants.

Barnes Hollow Open To Deer Hunting In Land Between The Lakes

Land Between The Lakes, TVA's public outdoor recreation and environmental education center in western Kentucky and Tennessee was the center of the first Kentucky Wild Turkey Calling Contest held during National Hunting and Fishing Day activities September 29. Six wild turkey callers vied for top place in the contest. Harold Knight (left), Cadiz, Kentucky, took first place honors while David Hale, Gracey, Kentucky, and Joe Pat Futtrell, Murray, Kentucky, placed second and third respectively. The event was sponsored by the Kentucky Chapter of the National Wild Turkey Federation. Approximately 1,200 people participated in the day of the activities held at Empire Farm in the Environmental Education Center of Land Between The Lakes.

Barnes Hollow, located in the northern sector of Land Between The Lakes, TVA's outdoor recreation area between Kentucky Lake and Lake Barkley, will be open to bow hunting during the regular bow season. The split season runs from October 12 through November 2 and from December 14 through December 31.

The area to be opened will extend from the gravel road boundaries at the upper end of Hematite Lake westward to The Trace (KY453), north to Silver Trail, and south to Mulberry Flat Road, as posted. No vehicular traffic will be permitted within the hunt area. Bow hunters who need additional information should contact the main information office at Golden Pond. Information can also be obtained at the North Information Station and Center Station. The Environmental Education Center will also be open to gun hunting for antlerless deer on November 16 and 23. Hunters drawn by computer for these hunts will be sent a letter explaining the restrictions and limitations of the hunt. The antlerless deer hunts are intended to protect all large fallow bucks and to allow smaller bucks to mature to the point of producing large, palmed antlers. The hunts in the Environmental Education Center have been scheduled to help reduce overbrowsing of the area; reduce deer depredation of row crops for migratory waterfowl; and adjust the overall size of the deer herd to a more manageable population. Center Station and Empire Farm, located within the Environmental Education Center, will be closed November 16 and 23.

Caldwell County Surprises Murray

STRIPPING DOWN—It looks like big Steve Porter (73) of Murray High is trying to rip the uniform off Caldwell County's Tony Franklin (10) as Porter is there on the tackle. Porter had nine tackles in the contest.

BIG GAINER—Murray High tailback Dale McCuiston (20) fumbles the ball only to have it bounce right back into his hands and he winds up getting about a 15-yard gain on the play. The Tigers lost the Homecoming battle 7-6 to Caldwell County Friday. (Staff Photos by Dave Celaya)

Hunter And Cuellar To Get Mound Assignments

By ERIC PREWITT
AP Sports Writer
OAKLAND (AP) — The world champion Oakland A's, after a lackluster September, are back in baseball's money month, October.

You'll see them doing things they haven't done in 15 or 20 days. There's no doubt about it.

Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver said before sending his Orioles into today's American League playoff opener against Oakland.

The A's had 5 game winner

Jim Hunter ready to face Mike Cuellar, 22-10, in the opening game of the best-of-5 series. The teams went five games to settle last year's playoff, with Hunter, 25-12, throwing a shut-out in the finale.

"A good club like the A's feels it can turn it on when it has to," said Orioles third baseman Brooks Robinson.

The A's, seeking a third straight world title, definitely feel they can win again despite a 14-16 record in their final 30 regular season games.

"Put $25,000 out there and we'll play the game over and see what happens," Reggie Jackson said recently of the World Series winners' share.

Baltimore won 28 of its final 34 regular-season games and needed every victory in the drive which carried the Orioles past New York in the Eastern division race.

"We were eight games behind with 30 to play and it was almost time to start thinking about next year," said Robinson, who had a .288 season as a batter.

Weaver said the A's, with a constant lead, were able to play it safe and look ahead in September and he expects them to open up now, especially with their base running.

"They didn't run much in September," he said, "and Jackson and (Bert) Campaneris missed some games with injuries. You couldn't expect much from them with those two out."

A's Manager Alvin Dark said, "I think Campy is 100 per cent and Reggie seems to be all right. We should be 100 per cent healthy."

Dark admitted that Weaver surprised him by naming Cuellar, Dave McNalley and Jim Palmer as his starting pitchers for the first three games. Ross Grimsley, 3-0 against the A's this season, will be in the bullpen.

But he has four good starting pitchers and can't make a mistake, Dark said.

Weaver said: "If Grimsley duplicates his regular season record against the A's, we'll win the playoffs. If I started him, I could only use him twice."

The 24-year-old left-hander beat the A's twice in relief for the Cincinnati Reds in the 1972 World Series.

TENNIS
JOHANNESBURG, South Africa — South Africa won the 1974 Davis Cup title by default when their 3-0 victory over Italy was followed by India's announcement it would forfeit because of South Africa's apartheid policies.

HOUSTON — Top-seeded Chris Evert defeated Wendy Overton 6-2, 6-1 and Pam Teeguarden beat Kate Latham 6-1, 3-6, 7-6 to advance to the semifinals of a $50,000 women's professional tennis tournament.

GOLF
LAS VEGAS, Nev. — Former Masters champion Charles Coody birdied three of his last four holes for a 66 and tied Dave Eichelberger for the second-round lead in the $135,000 Sahara Invitational golf tournament.

SACRAMENTO — Amy Alcott, an 18-year-old amateur from Los Angeles, shot a four-under-par 69 to take a one-stroke first-round lead in the $35,000 Ladies Professional Golf Association Classic.

Homecoming Spoiled By Bomb That Blows Up Murray High Tigers 7-6

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor
"It looked like a couple of cows trying to ice skate," said one fan as he watched Murray High and Caldwell County attempting to play what was supposed to be a Homecoming football game in Holland Stadium Friday night.

And if you can imagine just how clumsy a couple of cows trying to skate on a pond might be, then you might be able to get a clear picture of Caldwell County's 7-6 win over Murray High.

For 46 minutes, Murray High and Caldwell County did nothing but make mistakes. And then, finally, the ice broke and Murray High scored with less than two minutes left in the game.

And if a total of 13 turnovers in the contest wasn't enough, the Tigers from Murray High added to it even more as they made one final and fatal mistake.

"We began celebrating too early," Murray High Coach John Hina said.

"We thought we had the game won and we simply had a let-down after we scored."

But that letdown wasn't near as bad as the one that came in the locker room following the game.

For it was there that Murray High discovered their chances for finishing with a 9-1 record had suddenly been blown up like a bomb.

And the bomb that did it was a 60-yard scoring pass from Caldwell County quarterback Steve Kukahiko to halfback Gordon Rahn.

A few of the people composing the large audience on hand for Homecoming left Holland Stadium early thinking the game would end in a scoreless tie. But unfortunately, for Murray High, it didn't.

With 2:25 left in the game, defensive tackle Craig Suiter came up with what was at that time, the play of the game.

The big senior recovered a fumble at the Caldwell County four-yard line and two plays later, after a loss of five yards, Tiger quarterback Wes Ferguson carried the ball around the left side for a touchdown.

Taking a gamble, the Tigers elected for the two-point conversion, which failed, leaving Murray High with a 6-0 lead.

And then came another big play. The kickoff went out of bounds and the ball was brought out to the Caldwell County 40.

"That was our break," Caldwell County Coach and Murray State Hall of Famer Al Giordano said.

"Instead of getting the ball in poor field position around the 15 like I thought we would, we got it on the 40 and that saved us."

And on the first play of the series, Kukahiko went for the long one and hit Rahn, who outran everyone down the right sideline. Jim McDaniels hit the PAT and with 1:30 left on the clock, Murray trailed 7-6.

Wild Finish
And then began just about the most exciting 90 seconds of football anyone could hope to see.

On a third and nine from the Murray 32, sophomore tailback Lindsey Hudspeth fumbled and it appeared the game was over.

But not quite. A penalty was called on Caldwell County for a personal foul and the ball moved up to the Murray 47.

Murray was penalized five yards for delay of game. Hudspeth had an incomplete pass on the option, Caldwell County was hit with a five-yarder for off sides, Caldwell County was slapped a 16-yarder for unsportsmanlike conduct and four plays later, the series ended in defeat on the Caldwell County 40.

It marked the third consecutive year the Tigers have been involved in 7-6 Homecoming games.

Two years ago, Murray defeated Bowling Green 7-6, last year the Tigers lost 7-6 to Trigg County and then of the 7-6 loss last night.

For Giordano and his Caldwell County team, the win was a very big one.

It improves their worksheet to 3-2-1 and it will give them a big psychological boost as they prepare to play Union County, Hopkinsville, Lone Oak, Madisonville and Christian County.

Different Team

Last week in a Class A battle at Fulton City, the Tigers had their best blocking of the season and amassed over 400 yards in total offense in a 43-7 romp.

But against Caldwell County, Murray High did absolutely no blocking, could not generate any kind of offense against a much smaller Caldwell team and finished with just 89 yards on the ground.

In the passing department, Murray High had three of 15 for 40 yards, giving the Tigers a total net offense of only 129 yards. On the other side of the coin, Caldwell County had 82 yards rushing and five of 12 in the air for 91 yards, a total of 173.

Murray High lost four fumbles and had one pass intercepted while Caldwell County lost five fumbles (one on a fourth down play) and had three passes intercepted.

"We couldn't have asked for a better defensive game," Murray High Coach John Hina said.

"I don't have any alibis, they came to play ball. We didn't practice well all week."

Defensive statistics found Tony Boone with 11 tackles, Steve Porter with 10 and Doug Shelton, Eli Alexander and Tony Thurmond all with seven.

Two Big Plays
Two big defensive plays in the second quarter saved a pair of touchdowns that would have put Caldwell County on the board early.

Brad Barnett intercepted a pass in the Tiger endzone but roughing the passer was called on Murray High. Minutes later, Boone recovered a fumble in the Murray endzone to prevent what would have been a sure touchdown.

If there was a bright side to the contest, other than a good performance, by the Murray High defensive unit, it was that the loss was to a Class AA team.

So Murray High, 3-2 on the season, remains at 3-0 in Class A District play.

The Tigers will play a crucial District game next Friday at Trigg County.

Making Clean Electricity Cleaner

America has more coal than any other fossil fuel. Although coal's cost is escalating, it will still be used to generate electricity, even after nuclear power plants are wheeling out their millions of kilowatts of power.

Coal, unfortunately, has a couple of environmental disadvantages. Flyash and sulfur dioxide. But work — expensive work — is underway to reduce them, one way or another.

Flyash is being zapped by electrostatic precipitators. Sulfur dioxide is being hunted by experimental limestone scrubbers.

Coal itself is undergoing research and experimentation. It is being ground to powder for more complete combustion. It is being "baked" to remove the sulfur. It is being turned into synthetic gas.

Coal. A fuel we'll need far into the future. And many people are working in many ways to make it cleaner.

Dodgers Enjoy Power Advantage Over Bucs

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
AP Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers, conceding an edge in pitching, surprisingly also had a power advantage over the Pittsburgh Pirates as the two teams opened the best-of-5 game series for the National League pennant today.

The Dodgers traditionally have been thought of as a team which bunted, sacrificed and singled for a run or two, then relied on pitching to win. The Pirates, on the other hand, are recognized as a hitting club, one whose power overcame defensive deficiencies.

Manager Walter Alston, indignant when asked what he thought were negative questions, contended the 1974 Dodgers were superior over-all. All I've heard is how the Dodgers choked last year, were going to choke this year, and now I'm asked how we feel about losing all six games (this season) here," Alston said.

"What happened before doesn't mean a thing to me or my players," said the obviously annoyed Alston.

"Why don't you ask me how the Pirates will do in Los Angeles," he asked. The Dodgers beat Pittsburgh in four of six in Dodger Stadium.

"Check the statistics," he said. "Who hit more home runs, scored more runs?"

The Dodgers actually rely on more than just 20-game winner Andy Messersmith, a 19-game winner Don Sutton and reliever Mike Marshall, a 13-game winner with 21 saves.

The Dodgers hit 139 homers to 114 for the Pirates, scored 798 runs to 751, batted in 744 runs to 692, and hit .272 as a team, just two points less than Pittsburgh's .274.

Thus the Western Division champion Dodgers, who won 102 games and finished four ahead of runner-up Cincinnati, are the choice to beat the Pirates and reach the World Series. Pittsburgh won the East by 1½ games in a dogfight with the St. Louis Cardinals that wasn't decided until the final day of the 162-game season.

Right-hander Sutton, who won 13 of his last 14 starts, was Alston's choice to open the series against Pittsburgh's 16-game winner, Jerry Reuss.

Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh wasn't taking any comfort in his team's 8-4 edge against Los Angeles during the season.

"I'd say in a short series past performance means nothing," Murtaugh said.

The big guns in Los Angeles attack are center fielder Jim Wynn who hit 32 homers and drove in 108 runs, third baseman Ron Cey who drove in 97, and Steve Garvey, 21 homers and 111 RBI. The Pirates depend on Richie Zisk, 17 homers, 100 RBI; Willie Stargell, 25 homers, 96 RBI, and Al Oliver, a .321 hitter with 85 RBI.

India Forfeits Cup As Protest

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — India's apparent decision to forfeit the 1974 Davis Cup tennis title to South Africa in a protest against racial segregation has touched off worldwide controversy.

"Something like this has never occurred in the history of the Davis Cup, so far as I know," said Walter Elcock, president of the International Lawn Tennis Federation.

India announced its intention to forfeit the Davis Cup Friday after South Africa clinched its semifinal series here, taking a 3-0 lead against Italy in their best-of-5 tennis competition.

But an I.L.T.F. official said R.K. Khanna, secretary of the All-India Lawn Tennis Federation, promised to immediately ask his government to review the action—sparked by South Africa's apartheid policies.

Among the players affected by the dispute were India's Amritraj brothers, Vijay and Anand, and South Africa's Bob Hewitt and Frew McMillan, whose doubles victory against Italy clinched that series.

South Africa, which has the right to name the site where the final match would be played, asked India to reconsider its planned forfeit and offered to discuss the possibility of a neutral site.

"We assure you our team was selected on merit and non-racial basis," said South Africa in a telegram to Indian officials. Hewitt and McMillan vaulted South Africa into the final with a 7-5, 6-4, 10-8 victory over Adriano Panatta and Paolo Bertolucci.

Air Force senior offensive tackle Tom Peterson of Minneapolis is also a hammer thrower and will captain the track team next spring.

Veer And Wall Collide As 'Cats Play Miami-O

By BOB COOPER
AP Sports Writer

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kentucky's irresistible veer offense collides with Miami's immovable defensive wall tonight as the two resume their football series after a 54-year layoff.

Sparked by Sonny Collins with 109.7 yards a game, Kentucky's offense has gained almost three and a half times as much on the ground this season as Miami has allowed its three opponents.

Collins, who leads the Southeastern Conference in rushing, cruised for 160 yards last weekend in a victory over Indiana after acupuncture treatments erased the effects of a knee injury.

"I might even try voodoo this time if it can be of any help," Kentucky Coach Fran Curci said as Kentucky prepared to face the nation's stingiest defense.

What makes Collins so effective is the Wildcat maneuver than can give the ball to either quarterback Mike Fanuzzi or fullback Steve Campassi — or Collins, of course — for a triple barreled attack.

Fanuzzi is averaging 94 yards a game and Campassi 53.7, all on the ground. Kentucky has passed only 33 times in three games, completing 16 and having three intercepted.

Miami presents a more balanced attack, led by the passing of Steve Sanna, with 36 of 56 passes completed, and the running of Randy Walker, with 273 yards, and Rob Carpenter, with 212.

Miami has dominated its three opponents statistically in two victories and a tie this season and Curci fears the Redskins will be trying even harder against Kentucky.

"Miami has two or three games a year they really crank up for. They cranked up for Purdue and we're next," the Kentucky coach said.

Miami tied Purdue 7-7 the week before the Boilermakers upset then second-ranked Notre Dame.

As defending champions of the Mid-America Conference, Miami hasn't been beaten in 15 straight games, including a 16-7 victory over Florida in last season's Tangerine Bowl.

"The trouble is that people make the mistake of underestimating them and they've got a tremendous defense that leads the nation year after year," Curci said.

This season, Miami's defense has allowed a total of 539 yards to its three foes, just about half the yardage Kentucky's three opponents rang up.

Offensively, the teams are almost equal. Kentucky averaging 383 yards a game, just 4.3 more than Miami.

The 7:30 p.m., CDT, kickoff marks the first time since 1920 the two have met in football. Before that, Kentucky holds the edge in the series that dates back to 1894 with five victories, two losses and a tie.

Field Goal Provides Shutout Win For Auburn

By JOHN R. SKINNER
AP Sports Writer

MIAMI (AP) — "I had no idea that kick was going to win the game," said Auburn kicking specialist Greg Gillis after his 24-yard third-quarter field goal stood up for a 3-0 victory over Miami Friday night.

"We are real happy and mighty pleased to come out with a 3-0 victory," said Auburn Coach Ralph "Shug" Jordan.

Members of both teams said they expected more than a field goal in the game, despite the fact Auburn entered the contest as the nation's best team in defense.

They proved their right to that honor by holding Miami to 11 first downs and only 60 net yards rushing. Miami got 106 yards passing despite a strong northeast wind that gusts to 28 miles an hour.

Miami was equally impressive on defense. The 16th-ranked Hurricanes held Auburn, rated 11th, to 233 yards, all on the ground, and 14 first downs.

Miami Coach Pete Elliott, after his first loss in three outings, said, "Mistakes are part of the game. But I can't say I was pleased with our running and passing game when you don't put any points on the board."

Auburn's defense was led by linebacker and defensive play-caller Ken Bernick, who had six tackles and an assist.

Miami was led by middle guard Rubin Carter, who made 14 tackles and had five assists, and linebacker Rich Griffiths, who added 12 tackles and had four assists.

The only games tonight involving members of The Associated Press Top Twenty are Oklahoma State at No. 10 Texas Tech and Texas-El Paso at No. 12 Arizona.

Ohio State and Oklahoma put their No. 1 and No. 2 ratings on the line this afternoon. The Buckeyes of Ohio State invade Seattle for a meeting with 1-2 Washington State while the Sooners of Oklahoma stay at home to play 0-3 Wake Forest.

Elsewhere, third-ranked Alabama is in Jackson, Miss., No. 4 Michigan visits Stanford and fifth-ranked Texas A&M is at Kansas.

Nebraska, ranked sixth, plays host to Minnesota, No. 7 Notre Dame visits Michigan State, eighth-ranked North Carolina State entertains East Carolina and No. 9 Southern California is at home against Iowa.

Games involving teams in the Second Ten find Texas-El Paso at No. 12 Arizona at night, Louisiana State at No. 13 Florida, California at No. 14 Illinois, No. 15 Penn State at Army, No. 17 Pitt at North Carolina, No. 18 Arizona State at Wyoming, Washington at No. 19 Texas and No. 20 Arkansas at Texas Christian.

First place in the Western Athletic Conference will be at stake when Arizona meets Texas-El Paso.

Tony Dorsett of Pitt led collegiate rushers last season with 1,586 yards. He scored 12 touchdowns.

It is the policy of the Kentucky Department of Transportation, Bureau of Highways and the Federal Highway Administration that no person shall be displaced by a Federal-aid Highway Project until adequate replacement housing has been obtained by him or has been offered to him at a price within his financial means.

The owners and/or tenants of residences, businesses, farm operations, or nonprofit organizations who are displaced by this project will, if they meet the eligibility requirements, be entitled to receive the following payments for:

confrontation between the two branches of government.

Justice John Palmore said earlier he felt 15 years ago that neither judges nor juries were competent to impose sentences — that some other qualified group should do so.

But since "no body of people is available who can do that," he said, an experienced judge is the best alternative. He said it was the same as having a midwife deliver a baby when a doctor was not available.

Fayette Circuit Judge Mitchell Meade said jury sentencing could be unconstitutional because they at times were swayed by a defendant's dress or manner of speech.

involve about 91 million bushels of corn and 34 million bushels of wheat.

Treasury and Agriculture officials later disclosed that the grain contracts had been detected within the preceding 48 hours through the Agriculture Department's recently established requirement that all major grain exports be reported to the department.

The Soviet Embassy here, however, said the transaction actually was part of the 1972 Soviet-U.S. grain deal.

NBC Radio News quoted a spokesman for the Soviet Embassy, Oleg Yermishkin, as saying the grain shipment had been planned but that the Soviets had acquiesced to a U.S. request earlier this year that shipment be delayed.

The U.S. action came while the government was estimating the corn harvest will be 11 per cent below last year's record and soybeans to be down 16 per cent.
