Ford Proposals To Include Surcharge on High Income Individuals, Corporations

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford is reported ready to recommend an income tax surcharge on corporations and upper income individuals as part of his anti-inflation program.

The President spent much of Sunday working on the package of proposals he will outline to Congress and the nation in a nationally televised and broadcast address from Capitol Hill at 4 p.m. EDT Tuesday.

White House spokesmen said Ford has settled on more than a dozen specific proposals, centering on problems with food and energy prices, the depressed housing industry and record high interest rates.

Administration sources said they expect the income tax surcharge to be among the President's recommendations. According to Time magazine,

Ford is ready to seek a 5 per cent surtax on corporations as well as individuals in the higher income tax brackets.

Time said the surcharge "probably" would be on individual incomes of $7,500 and above and on family incomes of $15,000 and above.

The President, asked about the magazine report as he left Bethesda Naval Hospital after visiting his wife Sunday night, said "I make no comments on what we're going to talk about on Tuesday."

Administration sources acknowledged the 5 per cent surtax had been discussed at high level economic meetings.

It probably would be coupled with tax reductions for those in lower income brackets who are hit hard by inflation, the sources said.

The surtax presumably would apply against taxes paid — not the full income of an individual or a corporation — but details were scanty as Ford put the final touches on his major economic address.

The President's proposals on housing are expected to include a recommendation for tax exemptions to encourage the flow of savings into financial institutions for use as mortgage

Carris To Discuss Tenure On 'Focus'

Tenure will be the topic and Dr. Constantine W. Carris, president of Murray State University, will be the guest to be interviewed Monday, Oct. 7 on Focus, the daily talk show on MSU-TV.

Scheduled from 5 to 6 p. m., the show is part of the color television programming available to cablevision patrons on Channel 11 in Murray and Channel 4 in Mayfield.

Carris will be interviewed by Mrs. Ruth Howard and Jim Biggs, who serve as the hosts for Focus.

Dr. Robert Howard, station manager, said Carris will not discuss individual cases during the live interview, but will address himself to the tenure policy at the university and his role as president in the administration of that policy.

The tenure issue has been in the front of the news on the campus since last spring when 21 of 46 faculty members were notified that they would not be recommended for tenure and that their 1974-75 contract is terminal.

Calloway Band To Participate In Band Day Show October 12

Calloway County High School's Lancers Marching Band under the leadership of Terry Goodwin will be among 19 high school bands participating in a special Band Day halftime show at Roy Stewart Stadium at Murray State University Saturday evening, Oct. 12.

Kathy Calhoun and Kathy Jackson will be stepping high as they direct the 63-piece band onto the Poly-Turf to take part in the second annual Band Day Colorama during halftime of the football game between Murray State and the University of Tennessee at Martin. Gametime is 7:30 p. m.

To be introduced individually, the bands will form a mass band on the field and play three numbers associated with the Bicentennial Celebration—"America the Beautiful," "Our Director," a march dedicated to visiting band directors, and "March of American Hymns," which includes "Chester," one of the first tunes by an American composer.

Richard W. Farrell, chairman of the Music Department at Murray State, will conduct the mass band. Murray State's Marching Thoroughbred Band under the direction of Wendell Lewis will also be featured during the halftime extravaganza.

Paul W. Shahan, director of bands on the campus, said each participating high school band will be presented a Band Day plaque as an expression of appreciation by the university.

He called the Band Day Colorama "another excellent example of the university's continuing awareness of the desirability of strengthening the ties between the people of the West Kentucky area and their regional university."

Participating high school bands are: Ballard Memorial, Caldwell County, Calloway County, Carlisle County, Fulton City, Fulton County, Heath, Henderson City, Henry County (Tenn.), Livingston Central, Lyon County, Madisonville, North Hopkins, Marshall County, Mayfield, Paducah Tilghman, Providence, Reidland, South Fulton (Tenn.), and Trigg County.

Calloway Takes Sweepstakes In Speech Tourney

Both local high school speech teams fared well Saturday, with the Calloway County High School speech and debate team taking the first place sweepstakes trophy at the Paducah Tilghman "Big Wind" Speech Tournament.

Over 240 students from 25 schools and five states participated in the tournament. Receiving first place trophies from Calloway County High were Jimmy Burken, Randy Herndon, and Randy McDaniel. First place finishes were awarded Jana Jones, and Marian Holloway from Murray High.

Bobby Scott took second place for Calloway in humorous interpretation, and Mike Farris placed second in broadcasting.

Teri Erwin and Pam Robertson placed third in duet acting, Vicky Butterworth took third in prose, and Kathy Calhoun was fourth. Krit Stubblefield received third place in original oratory.

Calloway's varsity debaters Tommy Riley and Rick Wilkerson came home with three wins and one loss. Junior debaters Karen Edwards and Gail Tucker won three and lost only one.

For Murray High, Johnny Cannon and Barbara Kemper placed second in duet acting, and Laurie Beatty took third in poetry and fourth place in original oratory.

Lezlee Bartholomy, Lisa Hill, and Ann Tutt reached the semi-finals in the competition.

Investigations Made By Police

Several investigations were made by Murray City Police over the weekend, including a suspected arson on an automobile.

Police reported a suspected arson when a car owned by Robert Brelsford, 1005 Olive, was completely destroyed by fire early Sunday morning.

Officers said the car was valued at $950, and a pistol and stereo tapes lost brought the damage to $1,200.

A battery was stolen from a truck owned by Steve Thompson, of Fancy Farm, while it was parked on the lot of Chrisman Popcorn Co. over the weekend, according to police.

A $50 tire and wheel was also stolen from the home of J. C. Maupin, 1602 Ryan Ave.

Kenneth Humphreys reported the theft of four hubcaps, cigarette lighter, radio knobs, and a quantity of gasoline while his car was parked near the Murray State University business building.

Murray Woman Injured In Mishap Sunday

A Murray woman is in the intensive care unit of Lourdes Hospital in Paducah after suffering injuries in a car-motorcycle accident Sunday. Norma Bennett, 25, 504 South 11th, is listed in fair condition today at Lourdes Hospital, according to hospital authorities.

Kentucky State Trooper Charles Stephenson, who investigated the accident, said Miss Bennett was a passenger on a motorcycle driven by Steve Bell, who also sustained injuries in the accident.

According to Stephenson, the motorcycle was going north on Kentucky 972, 13.5 miles east of Murray, when it collided with a car driven by Robert Blalock, of Murray. The Blalock car was going south on 972 at the time.

A Paris man died and a Hazel man was seriously injured as a result of a two-car collision near Paris Friday night.

Weather Forecast

Clearing today, fair tonight and Tuesday. High today and Tuesday in the mid- to upper 60s. Low tonight in the mid to upper 40s.

Partly cloudy with a warming trend Thursday and Friday. Low from the low 40s to the low 50s. High from the mid 70s to the low 80s.

Bike-A-Thon Nets $950 For Local Council

BIKE-A-THON HELD SATURDAY — 106 youngsters participated in a Bike-A-Thon held Saturday sponsored by the Murray Kiwanis Club, Council for Exceptional Children and the Calloway County 4-H club.

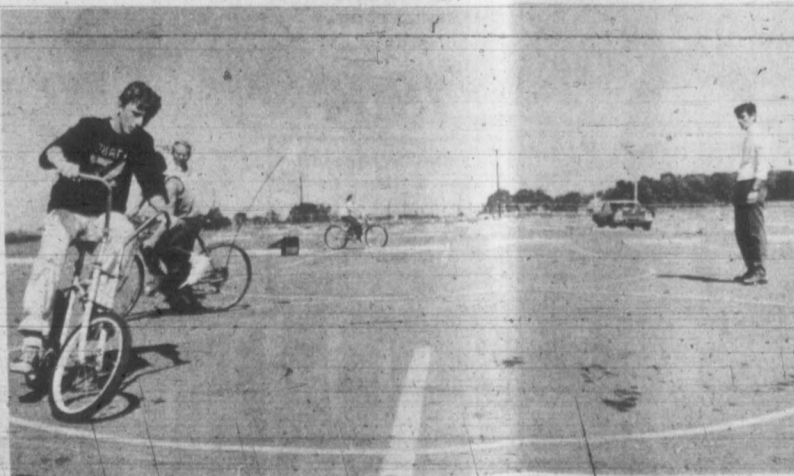

Pledges in the Bike-A-Thon which covered a five mile route, amounted to approximately $950 according to Dr. Jim Clark who thanked Murray Mayor John E. Scott and the Kentucky State Police for their assistance.

Dr. Clark said that some of the participants completed the route eight times covering a distance of 40 miles from 1 p. m. to 4 p. m. Saturday afternoon.

The Kiwanis Club sponsored a safety check and "rodeo" prior to the start of the Bike-A-Thon and 55 youngsters with their bicycles participated in that event on the parking lot of Murray High School.

Proceeds from the event go to the Calloway County Council for exceptional children.

For Cold Weather, Warm Coats

WINTERIZED WARDROBE—From left to right, hail to the suit, especially when it's in menswear tweed and the short double breasted jacket takes on dashing wide notched lapels, and the skirt moves with high inverted pleat. The shoulders are slightly padded. The Loden is a junior petite coat laden with back to school news that qualifies it as the recommended cover-up for pants, skirts, sweaters and shirts. Noteworthy is the wide collar, detachable hood, envelope pockets and toggle closing, in a Loden wool blend. The big move, the voluminous poncho is one of the big cover-ups in new fall fashions. Here it's in your favorite gray flannel reversing to rain-defying British tan poplin, roomy enough to go comfortably over its own patch-pocketed gray flannel pantsuit, or over the incoming bulkiest sweater knits and longer skirts. Plaid takes the long route, the big coat, sash-tied, extends down to leg covering length. There's new, young fashion flair in the widened shoulder-spanning revers and in the bold glen plaid fabric. ## "A Little Girls Tea Party" Theme Of Sorority Meeting

The Xi Alpha Delta Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi met at the Community Center on Ellis Drive on October 3 for the regular meeting.

The theme for the meeting was "A Little Girls Tea Party" which was a party to welcome new members. The room was appropriately decorated with balloons, rag dolls and a tea table. The tea table was delightfully set with a linen cloth and silver and crystal appointments.

Mrs. Mike Morgan and Mrs. Donnie Lyons served tea cakes and tea to those present.

The highlight of the evening was a fashion show of children's clothes presented by the Youth Shop. The children who modeled the different types of attire were Denise Cunningham, Deena Cunningham, Dana Cunningham, Hanna Lari Shapla, Mitchell Canup, Lisa Canup, Eric Faure, Mikel Morris, Linda Bidwell, and Brenda Adams.

Games in keeping with the theme were played with Mrs. Doug Willoughby and Mrs. Gerry Requarth being the recipient of the prizes. Mrs. Tommy Brown was given the prize for being the best dressed "little girl".

At the close of the meeting a gift was given by the Chapter to Mrs. Joe Ginn as a parting gift. Mrs. Ginn will be moving to Christian County in the near future with her family.

Members enjoying the festivities of the evening were Mesdames: John Emerson, Tommy Carraway, Franklin Robinson, Jerry Caldwell, Doug Willoughby, Gerry Requarth, Tommy Brown, Mike Holton, Mike Morgan, Greg Holt, Reggie Griffin, Joe Ginn, Richard Ford, Bruce Thomas, Mac Hulse, Charles Chilcutt, Bobby Wilson, Ronnie Hutson and Donnie Lyons. A guest for the evening was Mrs. Jerry Ford.

By MRS. W. P. WILLIAMS

Do you have a good safe place for your potted plants this winter? Where will you put your hanging basket? or your poinsettia? or your caladium bulbs?

It is a good idea to have a place ready for them, for frost may come at any time now. In fact I heard several people say there was a touch of frost in the early morning last week. I know leaves are beginning to tumble down and others are turning red and yellow, so we need to make plans for the plants we have cared for and enjoyed all summer.

I hope the frost is delayed a couple of weeks anyway, as my dishrag gourd has produced some more tiny ones that should grow and ripen.

If you have a basement with a window, or an unused room, it is good to make plans to be ready to bring your plants in on short notice.

Poinsettias, as I have said before, do not like artificial light. They like long dark nights and will not bloom if put in a living room, or den where lights are on until ten or eleven o'clock at night. Wait until they begin showing the red color before they are brought into the light. Then they are safe and will bloom luxuriously. I have two that I am bringing in this coming week.

I think the poinsettias of last Christmas were among the loveliest I ever saw and they seemed to hold their blooms much longer than usual. It is a perfect flower for Christmas.

Keep the flower beds clean and free from grass and weeds. Put fertilizer around the roots of trees. The winter winds and cold takes the strength from trees, especially the younger ones. Spread the fertilizer out around the tree as far out as the spread of the limbs. The winter rains will soak it in to the roots and give it the needed help to maintain itself.

Since the leaves are beginning to fall, it should remind us to fix a compost pile. It is even better if you can enclose it with concrete blocks or fence wire, but if you have none, just pile the leaves up. I know that if you ever try this you will never be without a compost pile again. It is better to allow the leaves to stay two years, so have two piles.

By the second year it is pure black gold, rich and loose and a valuable asset to your garden. Next spring it can be worked in the soil or spread around the roots of plants as a mulch. However you use it, it is impossible to have too much.

Gather up the pine needles, if you are lucky enough to have some pine trees in your yard. There is no better mulch for your azaleas, camellias and rhododendrons or any other acid loving plant. Pile them around the roots and it will protect them from heavy freezes and at the same time give them some of the essentials they must have. By the way, have you bought or ordered your crocus yet?

Dear Abby

Spend three minutes to insure your life

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR READERS: If statistics bore you, please read this anyway. The information may come in handy if you're ever on a quiz show. It could even save your life:

Q. When was the Chicago fire?
A. October 9, 1871. Exactly 103 years ago this week. But let's get a little more current, shall we? Did you know that last year in the U.S.A. 11,900 people died in 2,815,000 fires? And that in Canada, there were 830 deaths in 78,900 fires? Even more tragically, a large percentage of deaths were children, elderly persons and invalids who had been left alone for just a few minutes.

The chief causes of fires, in order of the toll taken, were:
1.) smoking, 2.) electrical wiring, 3.) heating and cooking equipment, 4.) children playing with matches, 5.) open flames and sparks, 6.) flammable liquids, 7.) suspected arson, 8.) chimneys and flues, 9.) lightning, 10.) spontaneous ignition.

The total fire loss in 1973 was an estimated 3 billion, one million dollars in the U.S.A. and 254 million dollars in Canada.

Now for some tips that could save your life:

- * Be sure your cigarette is out. Matches, too. And never leave matches and lighters within the reach of children.
- * Don't run cords under rugs or over radiators where they may get damaged. And replace a cord if it is frayed.
- * Never leave small children alone in the house. Not even for a few minutes.

- * Have your wiring and electrical installations done by a professional.

- * Store oily rags and paints in a cool place in tightly sealed metal containers.

- * Never use flammable liquids for dry cleaning indoors.

- * Never smoke in bed.

- * Have a fire drill in your home to be sure everyone knows what to do in case of fire.

Remember, fire extinguishers put out 97% of all the fires on which they are used. Most large fires started as small fires. So invest in a compact, easy-to-use fire extinguisher and keep it handy in your kitchen, or be a sport and buy one for your cottage, car, boat, and the back bedroom, too.

NOW, in case of fire:

Most fires occur between midnight and 6 a.m., so always sleep with your bedroom door closed. If you suspect fire, feel the top of the door. If it's hot, don't open it. Escape through the window. But first alert the rest of the household.

If you can't open the window, break it with a chair. Cover the rough edges with a blanket and sit on the window ledge with one leg hanging outside and one inside, and wait for help.

The phone number of your fire department should be taped on every telephone. If it isn't, don't fumble around trying to call them. Get out—and call from a neighbor's house.

If you live in an apartment building, use the stairway. Don't take a chance on the elevator. If it fails, you're trapped.

Once out, stay out. No treasure—not even the family pet—is worth risking a human life.

It took less than three minutes to read this column. Was it worth it? I hope so. God bless. Have a good day! ABBY

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR TUESDAY,
OCTOBER 8, 1974

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES

(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

Some block to progress indicated but, if determined, you can remove any obstacle. Breakthrough could be achieved through a new method, idea, concept.

TAURUS

(Apr. 21 to May 21)

Distant interests take the spotlight. You may now be able to take a trip that was postponed or you may hear some excellent news from afar.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21)

Even if balked in a certain plan, don't let yourself be pushed into a corner. Have alternatives ready. You are good at improvisation.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23)

Your intuition at a peak. A good day for backing your hunches with zestful, optimistic performance. Travel and romance favored.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23)

Avoid a tendency to "fly off the handle" if you feel wronged. If you MUST express grievances, do so in a diplomatic manner.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

You can achieve most in your own surroundings now—discussing ideas and plans with compatible friends and associates. Results should be most worthwhile.

LIBRA

Uncertain Push To Reform

Proponents of congressional reform won a victory of sorts when the House Rules Committee voted to allow floor debate on the issue.

But the committee action, dumping two competing reorganization plans before the representatives to permit a choice and providing unlimited opportunity for amendment, does not enhance the prospects for approval.

Few lawmakers will dispute the necessity of modernizing methods of conducting House business. The creaking legislative machinery, with its emphasis on seniority and with its power concentrated in committee chairmen, has long been under attack as anachronistic.

The beauty of reform, however, is in the eye of the beholder.

Sweeping changes proposed by a bipartisan special committee after a year of deliberation would streamline procedures and allow fresh viewpoints in the initiation and shaping of legislation.

Fresh viewpoints, unfortunately, are not all that appealing to House veterans who believe that change is a prelude to chaos.

Controversial aspects of the bipartisan plan include limitation of House members to service on only one of 15 major committees.

The jurisdiction of the Ways and Means Committee would be confined to tax matters and it would be relieved of consideration of such issues as health, foreign trade and other programs except as they relate to tax impact.

The Education and Labor committee would be split. The Post Office and Civil Service Committee would be abolished with its functions transferred to other committees. A new Energy Committee would be created to centralize jurisdiction over energy problems, now scattered among more than a dozen committees.

Democrats hold the key to House procedural change.

As the majority party, they sit in all chairmanships. They control the leadership positions. Powerful Democrats have the most to lose in the proposed reforms. Frustrated young Democrats, on the other hand, see much to gain.

But the American people would be principal beneficiaries of a breath of air in the dusty halls of Congress.

The outlook for significant improvement, however, must be regarded as dim. The aging, but inflexible powers in the House are unlikely to trigger the blast that would bring the structure they created tumbling down about them.

Energy Crisis Key In U.S.

Frustration, impotence, disappointment and affront are words being directed at the national administration as it speaks out bluntly to warn Arabs and other oil producers that the tourniquet they are applying on the industrial world is self-defeating.

The main concern of the critics appears to be that jawboning of the Arabs—or fist shaking as the Wall Street Journal recently called it—as overdone and futile. The example frequently used is that on a single day recently President Ford, Secretary of State Kissinger, Treasury Secretary William Simon and Federal Energy Administration chief John Sawhill warned the Arabs of the folly of their course.

Good for them. It shows, if nothing else, that there is some coordination of effort in Washington. But, beyond this, we wonder what the feelings of Americans could be if their leaders simply took the oil price extortion meekly without saying a word.

The critics also assume that the administration is speaking only to the Arabs and other oil producers. Could it be that the administration also is doing a little missionary work among the American citizens, warning us all that leaner times lie ahead?

It is plain that the United States of America cannot tolerate for long the hemorrhage of dollars to other nations. It also is plain that we cannot in the national interest formulate our policy on the basis of the on-again and off-again benevolence of the Arab nations. Nor can we put all of our chips on the ability of the United States to convince other industrial oil consumers to unite with us against the threat of exorbitant oil prices. When the chips are down, national interests will certainly take precedence over collective efforts.

The ultimate solution to our energy shortage problem lies at home and it rests on the pedestal of self-sufficiency. Whatever the cost, whatever the sacrifice, we must make useable the enormous energy resources of the United States as soon as possible.

Even that, unfortunately, will not gain immediate credibility with the Arabs. It will take some time and some visible effort to show them that we mean business.

What the administration might be preparing us for is the fact that we never will go back to the halcyon days of unlimited use of energy that preceded the Yom Kippur war and the subsequent oil embargo by Arabs.

Or, putting it another way, if we all began to behave as if there still were long lines at the filling stations, we will have taken the first step on the long road toward gaining the attention of the Arabs.

Agree Or Not

I Say What I Think

By S. C. VAN CUREN

By S. C. Van Curen
FRANKFORT—The Court of Appeals may get a chance to decide whether it really meant what it said in its 1965 opinion that property in Kentucky must be assessed at 100 per cent of fair cash value.

The chance will come on appeal from a decision handed down last week by Franklin County Circuit Judge Henry Meigs on a case filed in his court by school people. Judge Meigs ruled that 85 per cent, which the Revenue Department has been accepting, is not in compliance with the 1965 Court of Appeals decision. Kentucky's Constitution says property must be assessed at 100 per cent.

Judge Meig's first order said it must be assessed at 100 per cent of fair cash value, but he amended the order last week to say "fair cash value."

Before the 1965 court opinion, property in Kentucky was assessed at about one third of its fair cash value. After the court opinion, Governor Edward T. Breathitt called a special legislative session and passed a law that just about negated the court's ruling. The compensating tax rate bill that passed said in effect that a branch of government couldn't get any more money from property than was received in the 1965 tax year. The inequity of assessments was transferred to inequity in rates across the state. Later legislative acts have amended this somewhat and all growth or increases in values are allowed as additional tax sources, hence more money for the taxing districts.

Escalating values in property have kept property evaluation administrators busy trying to keep their assessments up to fair cash value. There seems to be a feeling among some property owners that some persons are getting a better deal than others, and the only way they can check this is to go to the property evaluation administrator's office. This would be physically impossible for all property owners to do.

Since this is National Newspaper week, it seems fitting to say this is an area where newspapers could provide a very valuable service to their readers, and particularly property owners. All property assessments should be published in the newspaper just as the delinquent tax list is published. The property owner could sit in his home or office and compare his assessments with others. Public opinion will do more than anything else to keep property assessments equitable in a county.

Kentucky's open meetings bill, passed in the 1974 session of the General Assembly, is rated second in the nation. An open records bill failed, but there is a chance that it can pass in the 1976 session.

Publishing the property assessments would be a real chore, and there are counties where a newspaper couldn't get them all in one issue, but it could be done in a period of two or more weeks. Since most newspapers are printed by the offset method now, type composition wouldn't be a real big problem; for assessments in all counties are now on computers. The tax evaluation administrator could give the newspaper a computer print out and the newspapers could reduce this by camera and make their printing plates.

True, it might be expensive, but it would be well worth the cost to virtually guarantee equity in assessments. The people would see to that.

Revenue Commissioner John McD. Ross says most of the counties in Kentucky have average assessments around 85 per cent of fair cash value, and the Revenue Department has been accepting this, but is trying to get them nearer 100 per cent through re-evaluations every year. He said increasing values of property have made the assessment job difficult and it is hard to keep values at 100 per cent.

Judge Meig's decision may cause a new round of increasing assessments. It is effective January 1, for the 1975 taxing year.

Comments From Others

HILLSBORO, ORE., ARGUS: "Publishing a newspaper has become an extremely costly business. Costs of labor, administration, services, supplies and distribution have escalated like everything else. If readers of this newspaper had to bear the entire cost of its publication, they would pay copy rate. They actually pay a small percentage of the cost. Advertising pays the difference. Advertising is a helpful and wanted service for newspaper readers. People long ago recognized newspapers were an ideal means of bringing buyers and sellers together. No newspaper has existed for long without advertising, although some have tried. Time after time polls have shown that, given a preference, people prefer newspapers with advertising. In a survey... advertising placed second only to local news in reader popularity. It's an essential and informative part of this and every other newspaper."

COLUMBIA, TENN., HERALD: "The private sector—the area in which private citizens are allowed to conduct their affairs with a minimum of government interference—is shrinking. Many of the powers of the local and state governments have been submerged in federal programs. The fight to save some semblance of the principle of local initiative is real and grim. The only way this fight can be won is to do a job so well at the state or local level that no leverage remains for federal action."

MOULTON, TEXAS, EAGLE: "Our poor should be taken care of locally, not from Washington. We did not have any hungry people here before, and no one has to be hungry today if willing to work like the other people. Is there any other way to preserve the government of the people? So something else is needed than politicians with their worthless politics. Always promising only more and more welfare—out of the people's pockets!—No, communists do not have to destroy us: our politicians would do it for them."

MARSHALL, ILL., HERALD: "Our government is supposed to be for the people and the people for the government. We have just the opposite. The people try to get everything they can out of the government and our politicians are more than willing to bust the government."

BUSINESS

A young engineer disgusted with working for others started his own manufacturing business. A friend asked him how he liked being his own boss. "I'm not sure," he said. "The police won't let me park in front of my building, the IRS tells me how to keep books, the unions tell me how much I have to pay, the banks tell me what I cannot borrow, the post office tells me how my goods have to be packed...and if that isn't enough I'm getting married on Sunday."

A traveling salesman who got stranded by the floods caused by the first Hurricane, finally telephoned his boss and asked for instructions. The answer was: "Start your summer vacation as from yesterday." (Weston Smith)

A large corporation which keeps swallowing up smaller ones just appointed a young lady who merely happens to be a close and constant companion of the conglomerate boss. She has a new position of some importance. Her title? It is "Community Relations Assistant in the Human Relations Unit of the Press Relations Division of the Public Relations Department."

A restaurant owner in Menton, France kept his membership in the waiter's union for nostalgia's sake. The union went on strike and the owner got a notice to report for picket duty at his own cafe or face a 100 franc fine.

A secretary in a Philadelphia insurance office told the girl at the next desk. "My fiancé is telling everybody he's going to marry the most beautiful girl in the world." The other girl exclaimed, "That is a shame. After all the time you've been going with him."

A Frantic Search

By Ronald Hampton
Associate Pastor
Memorial Baptist Church

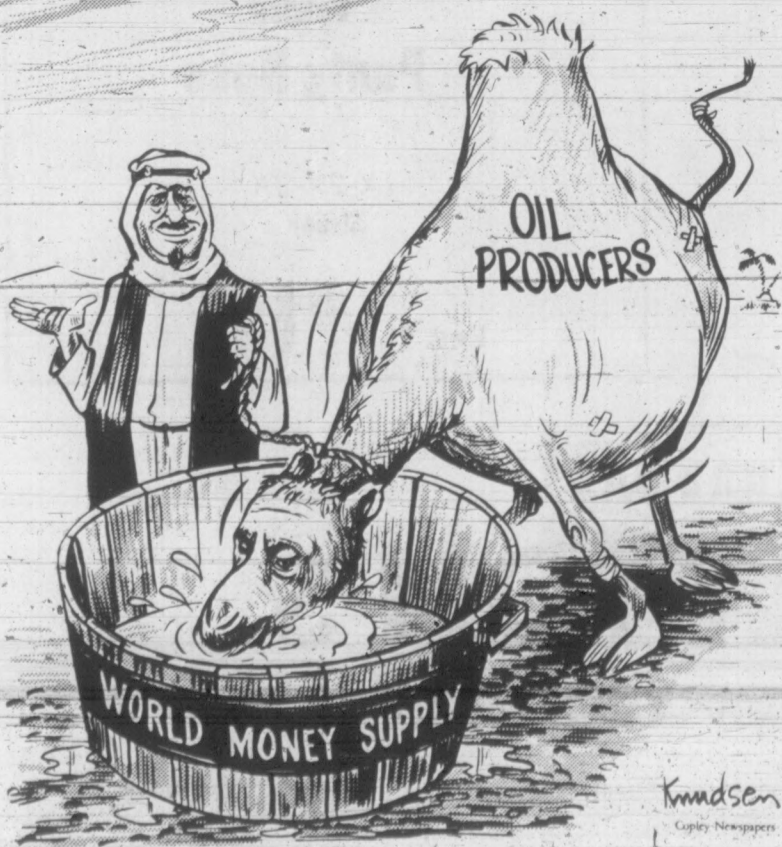

"Come unto me, all ye that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest." Matthew 11:28. How beautiful, how inviting to a weary Twentieth Century world. Tension... stress... depression and other such terms are all too familiar to us today. Much of our time is consumed by a frantic search for relief from the pressure with which we find ourselves compelled to live. Even though it's usually in vain, the search goes on.

A young songwriter responds "What the World Needs Now is Love, Sweet Love" and the remedy is probably valid. Christ ministered in love. As he encountered he met the total needs of individuals with much compassion and understanding. They departed at peace with God and self. This peace, this rest is sorely needed today in our homes, churches and world. Christians have a great opportunity through Christlike expression to minister in love to so many who need so much.

Is your home a calm retreat from the work-a-day world or do you allow external forces to dictate the atmosphere there? Is your church a source of compassionate understanding to persons in need? Can they... can you find physical and spiritual relaxation in its function and fellowship? Hopefully you can, answer in the affirmative but street talk suggest far too many cannot.

Surely these two Christian institutions, the church and home, must reflect Christ in character and be a stabilizing force in a troubled world. They should provide retreat for the family and any who enter with need. May we as Christians dedicate ourselves to this end that we, like Christ, may give rest and direction to a turbulent, confused world.

Average New House Price Up Sharply

NEW YORK (AP)—The biggest components in the selling price of a new, single-family house are generally considered to be the cost of construction materials, 32 per cent, land, 25 per cent, and labor, about 15 per cent.

Since the price of all three has risen sharply in the past few years, so has the sales price of the average new house—from $30,500 in 1972, to $35,500 last year, according to The Conference Board.

Over a 10-year period to 1973, states the board, a business and economic research organization, the price of comparable new homes rose 84 per cent. It Board figures to indicate that the price tags on existing homes doubled in the same period.

But now the catch. With mortgage money tight and with many families unable to come up with the substantial down payments required, the housing market has shriveled almost to nothingness in many areas.

This means the proud homeowner who brags about his hedge against inflation — "I can get double what I paid for my house" — may be living in an illusory world. If there isn't a market, how can there be a selling price?

True, when the market comes alive again, he might obtain double his money. But if he were to sell today, he might find that big price tag cannot be converted into dollar bills.

Even before the economic summitry of the past month, the subject of credit allocation was being discussed in banking and housing circles, among others.

Advocates of allocation claimed that some deserving sections of the economy, such as housing, were being starved for funds because they couldn't pay the price. Allocation of credit by price alone was unfair, they said.

The arguments against allocation by other criteria, such as social good or greater productivity, were immediately attacked by economists and financial men. Controls on credit, they claimed, would only make matters worse.

What they really were saying, however, was that controls by government would be bad but that controls by private industry, that is, the bankers, would be permissible. The fact is, that banks must control their distribution of credit.

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union boasts it is the world's largest publisher—yet there is a book shortage that has spawned a flourishing black market for a public hungry for literature.

"Now, as never before, it is difficult to buy a good book although they are issued in bigger numbers than ever before," the Writer's Union newspaper, Literary Gazette, lamented recently.

It recently criticized publishing houses for putting out "fantastically big issues" of unwanted books.

In Tashkent, a publishing house issued 600,000 copies of the novel "The Headless Horseman" by Wayne Reid and most piled up in stores and warehouses unsold, the newspaper said.

It added that one Moscow publishing house put out 30,000 copies of its own publishing plan for 1973 and nobody wanted them.

"On the same paper, they could have printed Pushkin's children's stories and would have paid for the book," Literary Gazette said.

Authors such as Mikhail Bulgakov and poet Osip Mandelstam who pose ideological problems for Soviet literary czars were issued last year in tiny editions. But there was no public sale in the Soviet Union and they are best purchased in New York, Copenhagen or some other Western cities where a large share of the copies were shipped.

The Soviet book publishing scene is replete with such ironies. Among the greatest is that Soviet literature is best known abroad for authors like Solzhenitsyn or Pasternak whose novels are not published here for political reasons.

Like most enterprises in the Soviet Union, publishing is run by the state and books and their authors are supposed to serve the state. Thus scientific and technical literature along with Marxist-Leninist works on politics and economics get first call over other nonfiction, fiction and poetry, whose range is narrowed even further by censorship.

That's one more reason that books of real appeal to average readers are in short supply.

NUTRITION A LA CARTE

• Here's an idea for breakfast your teenagers might like. You can buy frozen, breaded fillet of sole like those that are so popular in a bun at the drive-ins. Or fish sticks in a bun. Either one takes little time to pan-fry for breakfast, in butter. Or deep-fry or broil them and pop them in a bun.

• Vitamins weren't even known in 1900. We knew our food contained proteins, fats, carbohydrates, minerals and water. But when mixtures of just these nutrients were fed to animals, they died; so scientists concluded that there had to be unidentified factors in food that were essential to life. These factors turned out to be vitamins.

• Leftovers are fine food, a convenience, and they help out on the food budget. You should know, though, that even under refrigeration, cooked vegetables, for example, do lose some of their vitamin C. Then, re-heating takes an additional toll. So plan as wisely as you can, and avoid having leftover cooked vegetables if you can.

• Medical research has shown that the great majority of babies in excellent or good condition at birth are babies of mothers whose diets are excellent or good. The mothers, too, enjoyed better health and had fewer complications in pregnancy. This is why mothers-to-be should know and practice good nutrition.

• Snacks should be nourishing, and they should help meet your daily need for nutrients. There is little to be gained if snacks are simply candy and soft drinks. Make your snacks small-portion servings of meat, eggs, fish or poultry, fruits and vegetables, breads and cereals, and milk and other dairy foods.

• This time of year especially, one relishes the thought of cheese in dips, in hot delicacies such as cheese fondue, on cheese trays, and as a meat substitute. Ounce for ounce, cheese will give you the same high quality protein as meat, poultry, or fish. Three ounces of cheese will give you the same protein as three eggs.

• Physical fitness calls for adequate exercise, rest, and good nutrition. Good nutrition means a balanced diet including fish, meat, poultry and eggs, fruits and vegetables, whole grain or enriched bread and cereals, milk and other dairy foods. This kind of eating helps promote physical fitness.

Western Harriers Take Easy Win At Indiana

Western Kentucky University, well on its way toward a national title in cross country, scored an unbelievable 21 points Saturday to win the 21-team Indiana Invitational held in Bloomington, Ind.

The Hilltoppers had the first four men in the race, all crossing with their arms locked.

Here are the results of the meet: Western Kentucky 21, Wichita State 88, Kentucky 116, Indiana 184, Murray State 186, Auburn 208, East Tennessee 224, Southern Illinois-Carbondale 267, Purdue 273, Air Force Academy 280, Morehead 319, Alabama 369, Eastern Kentucky 378, Indiana (Second Team) 410, Lansing Community College 459, Cincinnati 502, Southern Illinois-Edwardsville 506, Butler 512, Wright State 578.

In addition to the 19 teams, there were two track clubs on hand and many other runners who were running unattached to a team.

The four Western runners to cross were Nick Rose, Chris

Local Runners Place High In Nashville Run

Little Thais Lanning, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Adam Lanning and youngest member of the Murray Marathoners, competed in the fifth-grade girls division of the 1.6-mile race of the Old Hickory run in Nashville, Tenn. on Saturday; she placed sixth against strong competition.

Two other members of the Marathoners, Dr. Adam Lanning and Rev. Martin Mattingly, ran on the rugged course of the 11.2-mile competition. Lanning placed first in the masters division, with a time of 1:19:00. Mattingly finished third in the masters division with a time of 1:33:36, an improvement of 9 minutes and 32 seconds over his performance of a year ago on the same course.

The Murray Marathoners are a local roadrunners club open to any serious runners in Murray and Calloway County and students at MSU. Their next definite competitive run will be the Turkey Day Races in Jackson, Tenn., in November.

Ridder, Tony Staynings and freshman Dave Long, all Englishmen.

Murray's two Englishmen, Brian Rutter and Martyn Brewer, were 27th and 35th respectively.

However, in calculating the team standings, they moved up several places since some of the runners in front of them were running unattached.

Rose, Ridder, Staynings and Long all crossed in 30:31 and actually took it rather easy the final two miles of the six-mile run. In fifth place was Jim Buell of the University of Kentucky, seven seconds behind the winning times while in sixth was Paul Bannon of Memphis State with a 30:43.

A total of 167 runners finished the race, with many dropping out of competition after several miles.

Rutter was over a minute and a half off the winning pace as he had a 32:02 in what was not one of his best performances. Eight places behind Rutter, in 35th, was Martyn Brewer who had a 32:18.

Senior Gordy Benfield appeared to be coming back from his slow start as he finished just five places and 10 seconds behind Brewer. A steady improvement by Benfield could be enough to give the Racers a second-place finish when the conference meet is held here in November.

Rounding out the top five for Murray were Bob Arnet, 51st, and Rod Harvey, 53rd.

The Racers of Coach Bill Cornell will be running a five-mile meet at home next Saturday against Western Illinois.

The dual meet is set to begin at 10 a.m. at the Murray Country Club.

It is being billed as the "Racer Run" as immediately after the boys leave, the girls will run.

The Murray State girls cross country team will host a quadrangular, including the Racers, Southern Illinois-Carbondale, Western Illinois and Kentucky.

Louisville Wins Game In Lou Brock Fashion

By The Associated Press
Louisville's A.J. Jacobs stole the ball from Wichita State quarterback William Hudson and ran 85 yards for a touchdown that gave the visiting Cardinals a 14-7 college football victory.

That play in the first half, and a ruling on an onside kick that cost Wichita possession of the ball in the fourth quarter, drew a blast at officials Saturday from Wichita State Coach Jim Wright.

Jacobs said he has been laughed at in practice for trying the play that succeeded Saturday.

His chance came after Wichita, down 7-0 with 2:37 remaining in the first half, took over on its own 20-yard line. With :51 left, Wichita had advanced to the UL 25 and Hudson was being tackled as he ran past the 15.

"Somebody had the man and he was carrying the ball loose as he was going down," Jacobs said. "I just grabbed it and turned around and kept going."

"Everybody used to laugh at me when I tried it in practice, but this time it paid off," he said.

Coach Wright fumed at the officials. "If you ask me if I am upset with the officials, I am," he said. "And if you ask me if they blew it, I think they did."

"I'll see it in the films," he added. "He indicated to me that he was down."

Jacobs' run gave Louisville a 14-0 halftime advantage which Wichita couldn't overcome.

Another Kentucky school fared poorly on the road Saturday. Washington (Mo.) University rolled over Centre 51-15 in St. Louis.

Back in Kentucky, substitute quarterback John Hillman led Georgetown to a 16-7 win over Northwood (Mich.) while Lincoln University of Missouri beat Kentucky State 20-15 in Frankfort.

Washington University built a 37-0 halftime lead and only 5:11 remained in the third quarter when Roy Beard threw a 39-yard pass to Jim Akin to put Centre on the scoreboard for the first time.

Another Beard pass in the final quarter set up Centre's only other touchdown. Washington University's defense held Centre to seven yards rushing while home team substitutes racked up points.

At Georgetown, quarterback Ron Pinchback had the wind knocked out of him and left the game after the third play. Freshman Hillman replaced him, throwing for two touchdowns and finishing 10-19 for 174 yards.

Northwood took an early 7-0 lead on a 21-yard run by Mike Smithingell. Georgetown scored to tie it 7-7 after the first quarter.

A home team touchdown and field goal in the second period gave the final 16-7 margin. The second half was a defensive battle with no scoring for either side.

Lincoln University intercepted 10 passes and linebacker Howard Harris scored two touchdowns to end a three-game Kentucky State winning streak and spoil the Frankfort school's homecoming.

Larry Scott ran 12 yards to score for the home team in the second quarter. Mike Thomas caught an Edgar Hanna pass for the final Kentucky State score in the fourth quarter.

Sophomore Danny Kush of Arizona State kicked 49 extra points and six field goals last season.

'Breds Take Two From Austin Peay

Mantooth Finds Another Way To Get Recognition

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

Bob Mantooth is going to try to find a different way to get on the Paul Harvey Show.

As a matter of fact, he's even going to use force, a baseball bat, that is.

It was this past spring when Mantooth, called "the tooth" by his teammates, made the popular radio show by striking out three times in one inning against the University of Illinois-Chicago.

He was cheered by his teammates, the crowd at Reagan Field and was even presented a plaque for tying a world record, a dubious one indeed!

Saturday afternoon, "the tooth" was cheered again, by his teammates and the fans. But this time, he wasn't presented a plaque because Mantooth was doing the presenting

And what he presented was a grand slam homerun in the fourth inning of the first game of a twinbill at the Murray State Thoroughbreds went on to blast Austin Peay, sweeping the doubleheader 15-3 and 12-3.

The win boosts the Murray record to 4-0 in the fall season of the western division of the Ohio Valley Conference.

Last week, the 'Breds' had opened the season by winning 2-0 and 3-2 contests in Middle Tennessee.

In those two contests, it was the hurling of seniors Mike Sims and Randy Oliver that provided the wins as the 'Bred bats were all but silenced. But against Austin Peay, Murray rapped out a total of 23 hits and 27 runs, not bad considering they were seven inning contests.

"I don't know when I've had a club pound the ball more than we did," Murray Coach Johnny Reagan said.

Sims went the distance in the first contest and gave up seven hits while fanning three and walking two.

Little Super Bowl Game To Be Tuesday

The "Little Super Bowl" will be played Tuesday night at Holland Stadium when the undefeated Browns and Steelers clash in a Middle School League football game.

Both teams will carry a 2-0-1 record into the contest.

Neither team has allowed a point to their opposition in three previous games.

And when the two teams met to open the season three weeks ago, they played to a scoreless tie.

The contest will begin at 5:30 p. m. In the second game, the Bears will tangle with the Colts.

John Siemanowski singled in a run, Wurth walked to load the bases and then Marvin Kiel walked to force in a run, giving Murray a 4-2 edge.

And then came Mantooth to the plate. No, he didn't homer this time.

But he did single in a run and Murray led 5-2 before the final two tallies crossed when first-baseman Don Derrington doubled.

Then in the bottom of the fourth, Siemanowski singled, Wurth walked and Marvin Kiel drew a pass to fill the sacks.

Mantooth's blast went well over the fence in almost dead-centerfield, some 400 feet away from home plate and the 'Breds were well on their way to an easy win.

Mantooth, a senior from Valley Station who bats and throws right-handed, had two hits in the game and drove in five runs.

Brown, and Siemanowski also had a pair of hits for the 'Breds to pace the 13-hit attack.

Second Game
In the second contest, catcher Gene Steuber joined Mantooth's act.

After Austin Peay had taken a 2-0 lead in the second inning, the 'Breds loaded the bases in their half of the frame.

And with two men out and the sacks loaded, Steuber came to the plate. Seconds later he was back at the plate with four RBI's to his credit and Murray had a 4-2 lead.

Steuber's shot was also to center and when the ball left the bat, the centerfielder for Austin Peay didn't move out of his tracks as the drive soared far past the fence.

Former Murray High star David Hughes, who had his best day of his Murray State career, drilled a long triple into the power alley in right and then scored the fifth run of the frame when Perconte singled.

The 'Breds added a single tally in the third, two in the fourth and four in the fifth.

Hughes had three hits in the game to lead Murray while Perconte and Steuber each had a pair.

Big Randy Oliver worked on the hill until one out in the sixth when he was relieved by Mark Wezet, who pitched the final one and two-thirds inning without giving up a hit.

The Murray Junior Varsity, which opened its season last week with a 10-9 win, will be playing today at Three Rivers. On Wednesday, the varsity 'Breds will host the University of Tennessee at Martin in a 3 p. m. exhibition contest.

The regular conference season will end Friday when Murray visits Bowling Green for a doubleheader against Western Kentucky.

Racer Soccer Team Falls 5-0 To Salukis Saturday

By MIKE CAMPBELL

An injury-plagued Murray State soccer team was defeated by Southern Illinois Saturday afternoon in an away contest.

Playing on artificial turf for the first time, many of the MSU players had difficulty controlling the fast-moving ball.

SIU had the better of play in the first half and they rallied to score three goals.

The Racers came out much more determined in the second half, however, they failed to capitalize on several opportunities. The day belonged to SIU as they scored two more goals to make it 5-0 and to seal the issue.

The injuries of Bert Jacobs, Sylvester Emodi and Hamid Siadat, along with the fact that goalkeeper Trevor Athill had to be left home, dampened the spirit of the MSU team.

"We have some tough games left and we are determined to hang in there and do our best," said Coach Schellas Hyndman.

Murray, now 3-2 for the season, will play Bellarmine next Saturday.

Tech Wins 222-0 Over Cumberland, In 1918

By BILL RAWLINS
Associated Press Writer
LEBANON, Tenn. (AP) —

Join Cumberland College, if you will, to remember a piece of history and mourn the most lopsided score in college football history: Georgia Tech 222, Cumberland College 0.

It happened on a sunny October in Atlanta, just 56 years ago today.

"I think one of our best plays of the game was when one of our players got the ball on a pitchout and he lost only 10 yards," recalls Haysler Poague, 76, one of the survivors of the massacre.

The game was scheduled with the Rambling Wreck at Georgia Tech guaranteeing Cumberland $500 if the Tennessee team would show up. Football was almost dead on the Cumberland campus in Lebanon and, as Poague recalls from his home in Clinton, Mo., some of the players were interested.

"We were more interested in the money than anything else. We figured we didn't have much of a chance, but we didn't think it would be that bad."

And, as might be suspected, if football were almost dead before, it was buried in Atlanta. Cumberland College never again took the field. Some even suspect the game led to the demise of the college's once famous law school several years later.

"We really didn't have such a bad team," recounts Poague. "We were just so ridiculously outclassed that day that it was, well, ridiculous."

How did the crowd react to the slaughter?

"I guess I can describe them better than most of the guys since I heard most of what they were saying when I was on the bench," said Poague, who was lucky enough to suffer a knee injury that took him out of the breach early in the contest.

"At first they thought it might be a good game, but it didn't take them long to realize that it wasn't going to be too difficult. They did a lot of laughing after that."

The Tech coach at the time,

John Heisman, later was immortalized by having the Heisman trophy named after him. The Cumberland coach?

Nobody really remembers.

Racer Golf Team Takes Second In Sewanee Play

Mike Hoyle paced Murray State University to a second-place finish in the Sewanee Intercollegiate Golf Tournament here Friday and Saturday.

Hoyle won the individual championship over Jan McClain of Middle Tennessee State University on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff. Hoyle ran in an eagle putt on the first hole to capture the title.

Hoyle and McClain both matched par for 36 holes, 144, on the Sewanee course. Another MSU golfer, Bruce Douglass, was third at 146.

Ohio Valley Conference schools finished in the top four positions. Middle Tennessee had a two-day total of 583 to edge Murray by three strokes.

Tennessee Tech was third at 593 and Austin Peay fourth at 598.

The University of Tennessee at Martin won the college division and wound up fifth overall at 599. Behind UTM were: University of Tennessee-Chattanooga, 615; Christian Brothers, 616; Southwestern of Memphis, 633; and Sewanee, 660.

Hoyle was one over after the first day but came back with a one-under 71 Saturday.

The Racer golf team will play in the Tennessee Tech Invitational at Cookeville October 18 and 19.

and remaining. But after Fred Cox booted a 27-yard field goal, the Dallas Cowboys were losing 23-21 to the Vikings at the worst possible time — the final gun.

The Cardinals felt their 34-9 victory over the San Francisco 49ers was on ice while they were cooling their heels during intermission.

"They were tired and dragging," said St. Louis quarterback Jim Hart of the team he victimized for three third-period touchdown passes. "We were in better shape and we knew if we sustained a drive we could tire them out."

Down 9-7 at the half, the Cards took the lead for good on Hart's 57-yard scoring pitch to Mel Gray, who gathered in a 59-yard touchdown strike 10 minutes later. In between Gray's work, Hart hit Donny Anderson on a four-yard touchdown pass.

The surprising Pats took the lead on the third play of the game, a 69-yarder from Jim Plunkett to Reggie Rucker, and laughed all the way to the final gun for a 42-3 rout of the Baltimore Colts.

Elsewhere, Atlanta defeated the New York Giants 14-7; Cincinnati tripped Washington 28-17; Buffalo bounced Green Bay 27-7; Oakland pounded Cleveland 40-24; Chicago beat New Orleans 24-10; Pittsburgh clipped Houston 13-7; Denver defeated Kansas City 17-14; Los Angeles dropped Detroit 16-13 and Philadelphia downed San Diego 13-7.

The New York Jets are at Miami to meet the Dolphins tonight, rounding out the NFL's fourth week of play.

Quarterback Fran Tarkenton guided the Vikings 68 yards in the final two minutes to set up Cox' third field goal of the game. Calvin Hill's eight-yard touchdown run had given the Cowboys, 1-3 and off to their worst start since 1965, a 21-20 advantage.

Bills 27, Packers 7

The Buffalo Bills can't be billed a one-man show anymore.

"O.J. (Simpson) has some leg problems, but teams can't just worry about O.J. anymore," said quarterback Joe Ferguson, who completed 13 of 16 passes, seven of them to Ahmad Rashad.

Jim Braxton cracked into the end zone for three short-yardage touchdowns and Ferguson accounted for 175 yards and one TD to Rashad.

Broncos 17, Chiefs 14

Little Calvin Jones was a big pain to Kansas City.

The 5-foot-7, 169-pound cornerback swiped a Mike Livingston pass and ran it back to the Kansas City 11, setting up rookie Jim Keyworth's winning touchdown run that gave the Broncos their first victory of the season.

Steelers 13, Oilers 7

Joe Gilliam completed four straight passes to set up Preston Pearson's game-deciding, nine-yard touchdown run in the third quarter.

Bears 24, Saints 10

Practice paid off for the Chicago Bears when Gary Huff passed 39 yards to Bo Rafter for the clinching score.

"I really wasn't surprised, though, because we ran the play all week," said Huff, who also scored on a quarterback sneak.

Rams 16, Lions 13

The Rams' Lawrence McCutcheon, who says he's "not faster, but I think I have better quickness," proved quicker than the Detroit defense by gaining 124 yards on 21 carries and catching five passes for 43 more.

Eagles 13, Chargers 7

Philadelphia intercepted four San Diego passes, with Randy Logan taking one 46 yards for a touchdown, to beat the Chargers.

The A's, who defeated the Orioles in five games last year, were "uptight" Saturday, said Bando and Fosse.

Holtzman said the A's were "determined" Sunday. Bando used the word "inspired."

"We were more relaxed," Bando added, somewhat amazed at Baltimore's mistakes afield.

"Those two errors make a lot of difference," he said. "Baltimore doesn't usually make mistakes, so when they do make them, you better cash in on them."

Women's Cross Country Team Loses To Salukis

Murray State's women's cross country team opened its season Saturday at Southern Illinois, losing 27-29 to the Carbondale school.

The course, just over three miles long, proved to be tough as several Murray runners got lost and thus since they didn't know where the finish was, were unable to come up with a final effort.

Anne McRae of Southern took first in the meet with a 20:41 while freshman Lissa Moore of Frankfort took second for the Racers as she was clocked in 20:49.

SIU took third and fourth place before Kathy Schafer came in fifth for Murray with a 22:01. Lee Reed, a senior pre-med major from Benton, was sixth with 23:02 while Camille Baker was seventh with a 23:06.

Murray had two others in the top ten, Nan Grant ninth with a 24:13 while Jewel Hayes was 10th with a 25:06.

The Racers women will be at home Saturday for a quadrangular featuring Murray, Southern Illinois-Carbondale, Western Illinois and Kentucky.

The meet, to be run after the boys' dual meet with Western Illinois at 10 a. m., will be the first girls' cross country meet at home.

Western Rips Bucs To Remain As Undefeated

By JOE EDWARDS
AP Sports Writer

East Tennessee State played in Johnson City Saturday night for the first time this season and it wasn't exactly home sweet home.

Second-ranked Western Kentucky won its 16th straight regular season game and 17th victory in its last 18 contests by ripping the Bucs 24-0 in one of two Ohio Valley Conference football games.

In the other one, Everett Talbert piled up 221 yards rushing and scored once in leading Eastern Kentucky past Austin Peay 22-9.

Tennessee Tech decked Appalachian 24-14, the University of Tennessee at Chattanooga beat Middle Tennessee State 24-7 and Western Carolina whipped Morehead 31-12 in non-conference games. Murray had an open date.

Western Kentucky boosted its overall record this year to 3-0 and its conference mark to 2-0 as Lawrence Jefferson gained 100 yards against East Tennessee, which played its first four games on the road and lost all four.

Talbert, who already has been OVC offensive player of the week twice this year, scored on a 37-yard first quarter run as Eastern Kentucky won its second conference game against no losses.

Terry Johnson ground out 115 yards and the Tennessee Tech defense held Appalachian to 73 yards rushing as the Golden Eagles improved their record to 3-1.

The Grange drew 36 boats with skippers from Kentucky, Illinois, Indiana and Tennessee.

Middle Tennessee slipped to 2-2 and UT-Chattanooga won its first game after three losses. UT-Chattanooga blitzed the Blue Raiders with 21 first quarter points and held them scoreless until the final period.

Western Carolina broke a 3-3 tie by scoring 21 second quarter points against Morehead, now 1-3. Morehead scored on two Dan Russell field goals and a seven-yard run by Frank Jones.

Watkins Cup Race Held In Aurora

AURORA, Ky. — Cully Cobb and Chris Draper, both of Nashville, and David McDowell of Radcliffe won divisions of the Kentucky Lake Sailing Club Watkins' Cup Regatta last weekend.

Cobb took the Lightning Class ahead of another Nashville boat skippered by Walter England. Tom Brizendine of Greenville finished third and Dick Keith of Mayfield was fourth.

Draper captured first in the Sunfish Class. Runner-up honors went to Davis McConico of Springfield, Tenn. Will Fosse of Evansville, Ind., wound up third and David Roberts of Nashville took fourth.

McDowell took the Handicap Class over Cecil Etheredge of Bowling Green. Gwin Anderson of Dresden, Tenn., was third and Jed Delker of Owensboro was fourth.

The regatta drew 36 boats with skippers from Kentucky, Illinois, Indiana and Tennessee.

OAKLAND (AP) — It was a familiar script: Oakland trailing Baltimore in the American League playoffs until Sal Bando started swinging at Dave McNally's pitches.

There were a few new wrinkles thrown in, such as two errors by the usually sure-handed Baltimore Orioles. They enabled Bando and Ray Fosse to drive in four unearned runs with home runs as the A's rebounded from Saturday's 6-3 defeat to whip the Orioles 5-0 Sunday behind Ken Holtzman's five-hit pitching.

The A's, two-time defending World Series champions, victimized McNally for the second straight year to square the best-of-five-game series at 1-1. A year ago in Baltimore, Bando homered twice against McNally, and had a third homer taken away by a leaping catch.

Bando led off the fourth inning by watching two pitches miss the strike zone. Then, he said, "I tried to hold up on my swing and popped it up. I was just depressed."

But Bobby Grich, Baltimore's Golden Glove-caliber second baseman, dropped the high pop in foul territory.

"I had it right in my glove," Grich said. "It wasn't like the ball was right in the sun—just a little bit."

The reprimanded Bando lined a three-ball, one-strike fast ball over the left-field fence, just eluding the glove of Baltimore's Don Baylor.

"I thought he caught it," Bando said of a play that would have been a re-run of Al Bumbry's leaping grab in Game Two of the 1973 playoffs in which Holtzman outpitched McNally, 6-3.

Fosse, sidelined much of the season from surgery on a disc in his back, credited teammate Jesus Aloy's "magic wand" after belting a double in the seventh inning and the three-run homer in the eighth off of Grant Jackson. An error by substitute shortstop Frank Baker kept the inning going for Fosse.

"It's heavier, 35 ounces, and has more wood," said Fosse, who wasn't sure he'd be a starter behind the plate until Friday night. "I dreamed I'd hit a three-run homer. It came two days later," he said.

The playoffs move to Baltimore Tuesday for the third and fourth games, plus a fifth if necessary on Thursday.

"It doesn't bother me at all," Dark said of the task of winning twice at Baltimore. "With these two teams, it doesn't matter where we play."

"It looks like it'll go the distance," Orioles third baseman Brooks Robinson said. "I'm glad we're going back home."

Manager Earl Weaver of Baltimore said that Sunday "I just wasn't our day. Our line drives were just within reach and those homers just made it."

Baylor's leap almost was enough to haul down Fosse's home run, too. And Bill North, Oakland center fielder, denied Mark Belanger of perhaps a run-scoring triple with a leaping catch.

"The name of the game in the playoffs is good pitching," said Dark, who sends left-hander Vida Blue, 17-15, against Baltimore's Jim Palmer, 7-12, Tuesday.

Blue is winless in four decisions as a post-season pitcher, and Palmer, last year's AL Cy Young Award winner, started 1974 with a sore arm.

"Palmer's pitching just as good as he ever did," Weaver said. "Two starts ago he pitched 12 scoreless innings. I just hope Blue walks a lot of people."

The A's, who defeated the Orioles in five games last year, were "uptight" Saturday, said Bando and Fosse.

Holtzman said the A's were "determined" Sunday. Bando used the word "inspired."

"We were more relaxed," Bando added, somewhat amazed at Baltimore's mistakes afield.

"Those two errors make a lot of difference," he said. "Baltimore doesn't usually make mistakes, so when they do make them, you better cash in on them."

Doctor Develops Home Treatment that

RINSES AWAY BLACKHEADS HELPS DRY UP ACNE-PIMPLES . . .

QUEEN HELENE MINT JULEP MASQUE 15 MINUTE HOME TREATMENT MUST SHOW IMMEDIATE IMPROVEMENT OR—YOUR MONEY BACK!

A leading New York Doctor, working with a cosmetic laboratory, has developed a simple home treatment that rinses away blackheads, helps dry up acne, pimples, and shrinks enlarged pores. The name of this medicated product is QUEEN HELENE MINT JULEP MASQUE. Apply this delightfully Mint-Scented Cream and within 2 or 3 minutes an absorbing agent called Argilla, dries and turns this cream into a plastic-like masque. You will now feel as though hundreds of "tiny fingers" are kneading the skin, loosening pore-caked dirt, blackheads, and other foreign impurities. As it firms and hardens, its suction action draws out waste matter from the pores. . . In 15 minutes you simply rinse the masque away with lukewarm water which dissolves it immediately. When you wipe your face, you can see that blackheads and other pore "filler" actually come off on your wash cloth. And your skin feels clean . . . really clean . . . refreshed, smooth like velvet. Women 35 and over will enjoy the skin tightening experience as the masque relaxes tired facial muscles and eases tension lines on face and throat. If you suffer the agony of blackheads, acne-pimples, and enlarged pores, give yourself this home treatment and see the breath-taking results. Ask for it by name, QUEEN HELENE MINT JULEP MASQUE.

Women's Cross Country Team Loses To Salukis

Murray State's women's cross country team opened its season Saturday at Southern Illinois, losing 27-29 to the Carbondale school.

The course, just over three miles long, proved to be tough as several Murray runners got lost and thus since they didn't know where the finish was, were unable to come up with a final effort.

Anne McRae of Southern took first in the meet with a 20:41 while freshman Lissa Moore of Frankfort took second for the Racers as she was clocked in 20:49.

SIU took third and fourth place before Kathy Schafer came in fifth for Murray with a 22:01. Lee Reed, a senior pre-med major from Benton, was sixth with 23:02 while Camille Baker was seventh with a 23:06.

Murray had two others in the top ten, Nan Grant ninth with a 24:13 while Jewel Hayes was 10th with a 25:06.

The Racers women will be at home Saturday for a quadrangular featuring Murray, Southern Illinois-Carbondale, Western Illinois and Kentucky.

The meet, to be run after the boys' dual meet with Western Illinois at 10 a. m., will be the first girls' cross country meet at home.

Wolfpack Heads List Of Undeclared Teams

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
AP Sports Writer

If this season's wave of college football upsets is driving coaches up the wall, how do you think the bowl people are taking it?

"With the traumatic college experience going on nowadays, I don't think anyone is going for a so-called championship game this year," says Dan McNamara, general manager of the Orange Bowl. "You've got to look to most teams to lose a game or two."

Most have already lost a game or two. The list of teams with perfect records is down to 15, with four more clubs unbeaten but tied.

Heading the chart is 5-0 North Carolina State. At 4-0 are Alabama, Arizona, Auburn, Florida, Michigan and Ohio State. Hawaii, Lamar, Oklahoma, Temple and Tulane are 3-0 while Ivy Leaguers Penn, Cornell and Yale are 2-0. At 3-0-1 are Miami of Ohio and Texas Tech, Rutgers is 2-0-1 and Princeton 1-0-1.

Unfortunately, Oklahoma is on NCAA probation and can't play in a postseason bowl. Ohio State must play Michigan, and the Big Ten champion is committed to the Rose Bowl anyway. In the Southeastern Conference, Alabama must play Auburn and Auburn must face Florida.

The chain of events — with such teams as defending national champion Notre Dame, Nebraska and Southern California already owning one loss apiece — has virtually ruled out anything like last year's national championship Sugar Bowl showdown between Notre Dame and Alabama.

There may not even be 20 teams in The Associated Press rankings this week.

The moment of truth arrived for eight previously unbeaten teams over the past weekend. Texas A&M, ranked fifth in The AP poll, was the biggest victim, bowing to Kansas 28-10. No. 14 Illinois fell to California 31-14 while 11th-ranked Auburn shaded No. 16 Miami of Florida 3-0.

Elsewhere, N.C. State, ranked eighth, ended East Carolina's unbeaten dream 24-20. Kansas State lost to Mississippi State 21-16. Richmond was topped by Furman 24-14. New Mexico State fell to Fresno State 9-7 and Harvard was done in by Rutgers 24-21.

Meanwhile, the 1-2 teams continued their winning ways...handily. No. 1-ranked Ohio State creamed Washington State 42-7 while runner-up Oklahoma battered Wake Forest 63-0. Third-ranked Alabama came from behind to defeat Mississippi 35-21 and No. 4 Michigan turned back Stanford 27-16.

Nebraska, rated sixth, walloped Minnesota 54-0 and No. 7 Notre Dame held off Michigan State 19-14. Rounding out the Top Ten, ninth-ranked Southern California trounced Iowa and No. 10 Texas Tech edged Oklahoma State 14-13.

In the Second Ten, No. 12 Arizona trimmed Texas-El Paso 42-13. No. 13 Florida downed Louisiana State 24-14. No. 15 Penn State overcame an early two-touchdown deficit and beat Army 21-14. No. 17 Pitt bowed to North Carolina 45-29. No. 18 Arizona State got past Wyoming 16-10. No. 19 Texas outslugged Washington 35-21 and No. 20 Arkansas crushed Texas Christian 49-0.

Ohio State broke Archie Griffin loose for 196 yards against Washington State, including a 75-yard scoring run. It was the 15th game in a row in which Griffin passed the 100-yard mark.

Wesley Forest's bowed to Oklahoma after the Sooners' Joe Washington galloped for 145 on only 10 carries, one for a 65-yard touchdown.

Kansas' Scott McMichael completed 10 of 12 passes against Texas A&M, including a 61-yarder to Emmett Edwards that put the Jayhawks ahead to stay. Meanwhile, Robert Miller ran for 141 yards and Laverne Smith added 135.

Fumble Costs Kentucky Loss To Miami Of Ohio

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) —

"The little kid at nose guard," Brad Cousino, forced a fumble that let Miami of Ohio overcome a 10-0 deficit for a 14-10 football victory over Kentucky.

Wildcat quarterback Mike Fanuzzi unleashed a 63-yard touchdown run on UK's second play from scrimmage. And John Pierce's field goal after Miami fumbled in its own territory gave Kentucky a seemingly commanding 10-0 first-quarter lead.

Neither team scored in the second quarter. "We were loggy as hell when the game started after sitting around the hotel all day, and it took us a half to get started," Miami Coach Dick Crum said.

Early in the third period Cousino forced a fumble by Fanuzzi and Miami's Brad Miller recovered.

The fumble "seemed to turn the whole game," Kentucky Coach Fran Curci said.

Nine plays later Miami substitute quarterback Sherman Smith threw a six-yard touchdown pass to cut the UK lead to 10-7.

Cousino then blocked a punt that gave Miami another touchdown. "I put a slight move on the fullback who had been blocking me all night and the punt attempt hit my arm," he said.

Miller fell on the ball for the touchdown and Miami took a 14-10 lead with 4:01 left in the quarter and held on.

Kentucky was driving in the final quarter when Cousino hauled down Fanuzzi from behind at the Miami five. The Redskin defense held.

"Yeah, I caused it," Cousino said. "Tell you something, though, Fanuzzi is one helluva quarterback — the best we've faced in three years."

"In fact that's the best backfield I've ever played against," he said.

Coach Crum gave one of the game balls to Cousino and the other to Smith. He said he was glad his team got moving when it did. "We were mighty lucky Kentucky didn't score a lot more points in the first quarter," he said.

PITTSBURGH (AP) —

There's nothing like two victories on the road before going home to make a team feel like the National League champions.

"I'm not saying we're going to sweep, but we're the National League champs," said Jim Wynn, the power behind the Dodgers' season long drive that has left them one victory short of the NL title and a World Series berth after Sunday's 5-2 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates.

"We're in the driver's seat," said Ron Cey, who rapped a homer, two doubles and a single to tie the playoff record of four hits in one game set by Pittsburgh's Bob Robertson in 1971.

"Now the Pirates got to pull all the stops," echoed Willie Crawford, whose pinch-hit single brought Cey home with the winning run against Pittsburgh's relief ace Dave Giusti.

No team has overcome a 2-0 deficit since the best-of-five intra-league playoffs began in 1969 and the Pirates task is made more difficult by the series shifting to Los Angeles. It's like the Dodgers are serving and have match point with three cracks to get it.

"I'd say we have our backs to the wall," Pittsburgh Manager Danny Murtaugh said after the Dodgers scored three runs off Giusti to snap a 2-2 tie.

"But we've been counted out of it nine or 10 times this year, and here we are playing in the big series," added Murtaugh, whose club was 14 games under .500 early in the season.

While Murtaugh took the "chin-up" approach, it was business as usual for Walter Alston, silver-haired Dodgers manager whose club had the best regular season record in baseball.

Had he realistically expected to win both games in Pittsburgh and blunt the normally potent Pirate hitting?

"To tell you the truth, I really didn't give much thought to it," he said. "But I've been in baseball long enough not to be surprised at anything."

The Dodgers, who won 3-0

Saturday behind the pitching of Don Sutton, led 2-0 into the Pirates' seventh Sunday, and Pittsburgh's 15 scoreless innings matched the playoff record they set in two games against Cincinnati in 1970.

The Pirate famine ended in the seventh inning when singles by Paul Popovich, Richie Zisk and Al Oliver helped Pittsburgh pull to a 2-2 tie against Dodger starter Andy Messersmith.

However, Murtaugh had to sacrifice starting pitcher Jim Rooker for a pinch-hitter in that inning, and the Dodgers broke the game open in the eighth against Giusti.

"It was very disappointing for me. What can I say?" Giusti muttered after the game, sitting with his head bowed.

Cey, who made two errors in the Dodgers' first-game victory, opened the inning with a double into the left field corner. He then beat catcher Manny Sanguillen's throw to third on a ball tapped weakly in front of the plate by Bill Russell and scored on Crawford's bloop single to left.

"He didn't exactly kill that ball," Murtaugh said of the hit by Crawford.

"That's the way it goes," mumbled Giusti.

A single to right by free-swinging Manny Mota then chased Giusti and scored Russell, before Dave Lopes stroked another single off rookie Larry Demery to score Crawford with the final run.

Ramon Hernandez, the third Pirate reliever, got Steve Garvey to hit into a bases-loaded double play to end the inning, but Dodger relief ace Mike Marshall shut out the Pirates over the final two innings.

"Good pitching stops good hitting sometimes," said Stargell, sitting on his locker stool with his legs outstretched and his hands folded.

Stargell looked about the Pittsburgh clubhouse as his teammates, calloused by past adversity, chattered casually while awaiting the airport bus.

The Pirates will pin their hopes on Bruce Kison, 9-8, when the series resumes Tuesday, while the Dodgers will counter with Doug Rau, 13-11.

"They say only one out of 20 million people makes it to the major leagues, and we're here because we've learned to deal with all kinds of circumstances," he said.

"We'll go out there to L.A. and do what we can do. As long as there is a chance, we have a chance."

Pearson Edges Petty At National 500 Car Race

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP) — Superspeedway veteran David Pearson put it all together Sunday and held off a Richard Petty charge to win the $161,877 National 500 stock car race.

For Pearson, who beat Petty to the checkered flag by 1.4 seconds, it was his second straight victory at Charlotte Motor Speedway. For Petty, it was a continuation of his jinx at Charlotte. He has failed to win in 27 races here while finishing second five times.

The turning point in the 500-mile race (334 laps) came on lap 281 when Pearson's Mercury took the lead after experiencing tire and handling trouble. He led early in the race and then surrendered the front-running spot to 10 other drivers. Eventually, Pearson led four times for a total of 90 laps.

Fishtrap Families Request Corps To Build Better Roads

FISHTRAP, Ky. (AP) — Pike County and Army Corps of Engineers officials may meet this month to discuss requests for a road to serve families isolated by the Fishtrap dam and reservoir.

County Judge Wayne T. Rutherford says U.S. Rep. Carl D. Perkins, D-Hindman, has offered to set up a meeting after the current session of Congress recesses.

The mountain families, who live along Jonikan, Hurricane, Upper Pompey, Miller's and Island creeks, pleaded when the project was being built not to be relocated from their homes.

The reservoir flooded level routes to the nearest paved highway, KY 194, and the corps built graded roads over several steep mountains in their place.

But the families say four of the corps-built roads are so steep they are often impassable during the winter, leaving residents on the north side of the reservoir isolated.

Spokesmen for the residents say they want the corps to build a new, all-weather road or to buy their homes and land so they can move.

"If they (the corps) refuse to help with the problem," Rutherford said, "I would think the next thing to do would be to invite a congressional committee to investigate and see the mess these people are in."

Burton Harris, a disabled coal miner who lives on Jonikan Creek, said "everybody wants the road or to be bought out."

"Something has to be done, or we aren't going to survive," Harris said.

Harris led a drive that obtained 294 signatures on a petition presented Sept. 17 to the Pike County Chamber of Commerce, calling for immediate action.

Residents said they have trouble getting groceries in winter, and that children in the area sometimes miss school because the buses can't negotiate the roads. "When they do run you worry about those buses on these roads in the mountains," said Lee Harmon, a disabled miner from Hurricane Creek.

Ambulance service is another problem, especially in winter, residents said.

"A real emergency in the winter and I don't know what you'd do," James Perry Justice said. "Four-wheel drive and chains and you might get out. That'd be your only chance."

The corps notes that the roads were accepted for maintenance by the county in 1963 and 1964.

"Since the roads are now fully under the jurisdiction of the county, the (federal) government has completed its obligations under the contract, and purchase of the lands is not necessary as a result of the project," Harold W. Berner, engineering division chief in the Huntington district, wrote Rutherford in July.

Marcia A. Durrant, assistant professor of art at Murray State University, will have a show of her work on exhibit at the Capri-Cheri Theatres in Murray from Oct. 15 to Nov. 15.

Each of the 10 to 15 pieces in the exhibit, which will include paintings and mixed media, will be available for purchase.

Durrant, a member of the faculty since 1970, currently has two silk-screen prints in the Georgetown College Invitational Print Exhibition at Georgetown. That show will continue through Oct. 11.

Prints by two other artists who have worked as students with Durrant are also in the Georgetown show. They are Spencer Mills of Madisonville, who is now working toward the M. A. C. T. degree with a specialty in art at Murray State, and Carol R. Elliott, a Murray State graduate who is completing work on the M. F. A. degree at The University of Oklahoma.

Besides having had her work in a number of shows in several locations around the country, Durrant has become well-known as a director of workshops for art guilds and other interested groups.

She earned the B. A. degree at San Diego State University and the M. F. A. degree at The University of Oklahoma.

Historians Meeting Set In Lexington

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Historians from several Southern states meet this week in a symposium on the South's role in the American Revolution.

Topics at the Lexington meeting will include American and British military strategies and leadership in the South, the music of the colonial South, and the use of public records, especially state archives, in research on the revolution.

Among the speakers will be Will Frank Stealy, president of Northern Kentucky State College, and Kenneth E. Harris of the National Archives and Records Service.

The meeting, which begins Thursday, also will include programs by speakers from Tulane, Vanderbilt and Murray State universities, the universities of Georgia and Florida, and Marietta College.

The group will tour Central Kentucky historic sites, including Harrodsburg, Frankfort and Shakerstown at Pleasant Hill, on Saturday, the last day of the meeting.

Several Thousand Children Reported Jailed Illegally In State Each Year

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Child welfare officials in Kentucky are working to halt imprisonment of children in adult jails.

Officials say several thousand Kentucky children — most of them held for non-criminal offenses such as truancy, running away from home or traffic violations — are illegally jailed in adult prisons each year.

Mort Stamm, general counsel for the state Human Resources Department, said this occurs in spite of state laws indicating that detention, especially in jail, should be a last resort in juvenile cases.

Stamm said some of the jails are "unfit for human habitation," and added that children could be "ruined for life" by jail experiences.

He said he knows of several "desperate acts" by jailed children, including suicide and attempted suicide.

A survey by the state Bureau of Social Services indicates about half of all juveniles taken into custody are jailed for more than a day, a secure detention rate five times greater than recommended by the National Commission for Crime and Delinquency.

The survey involved 98 of Kentucky's 120 counties and covered the fiscal year that ended July 30. Of 5,420 juveniles apprehended, 2,731 were held in jail for at least two days, it showed.

It indicated that 47 per cent were held for "status offenses" such as truancy and 4 per cent for moving traffic violations. Only 26 per cent were held for crimes against property and 2 per cent for acts of violence, while 21 per cent were charged with drug-related offenses.

According to bureau records, only 18 Kentucky counties have the kind of separate juvenile quarters required by law. Five other counties have a separate area in their county jails for juveniles.

Therefore, Stamm said, holding juveniles in most county jails apparently violates a recent Court of Appeals ruling that jailed children must be "physically separated from sight and sound of all portions of the jail."

"Almost all the children are placed in jail illegally by those sworn to uphold the law," Stamm said.

This means many county judges, jailers and police officers may be subject to civil and criminal penalties, he said.

Stamm and Jack Lewis, residential services director for the bureau, listed several proposals to help solve the problems, including an application to the Kentucky Crime Commission for about $700,000 in federal funds.

The money would be used to construct 12 group homes and two regional treatment centers for juveniles. Kentucky has only five group homes — three in Louisville and one each in Lexington and Owensboro — to provide supervised residence for juveniles who attend school or work on regular schedules.

Another proposal would involve hiring 14 district juvenile court liaison specialists to "help resolve the communication gaps that long have existed between judges and social service workers."

Independent Analysts Forecast Little Improvement In Car Sales

DETROIT (AP) — Independent analysts forecast little improvement in car sales in 1975, but their predictions conflict with those offered by the automakers themselves.

Top executives at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler recently estimated that 1975-model sales, including imports, would be between 10 and 10.5 million cars, up from 1974-model sales of 9.6 million.

However, Wall Street analysts forecast far fewer sales in the coming 12-month period. Their predictions range as low as 9.3 million for the 1975 calendar year, compared to 9.4 million for calendar 1974.

"The product this year is not smashing. The cars look the same," one independent analyst says. "Gas mileage is a little better, but 11 or 13 miles per gallon is nothing to write home about."

These pessimistic sales predictions are based partly on expectations there will be little real growth in the Gross National Product in 1975 — perhaps a percentage point or two.

Stagnation of the GNP, a measure of the goods and services produced in the United States in a given year, means little change in the amount of money consumers have available to spend on a new car.

Consumers also face sticker prices that have mushroomed about 20 per cent in the past 14 months and higher gasoline prices.

Detroit auto dealers indicate sales of new models are moving slowly, with many prospective buyers taking a wait-and-see attitude.

Imports are expected to hold onto about 15 per cent of the U.S. market, despite a surge to nearly 18 per cent in September. Analysts say imports indulged in something close to a "fire sale" last month in an effort to clear large inventories.

Price increases averaging almost $1,000 per vehicle are expected to help the makers improve their profits picture following record declines in the first quarter of the year.

In addition, analysts note, the makers spent hundreds of millions this year converting some plants to production of smaller-size cars to accommodate growing consumer concern about fuel economy.

The expensive process will not have to be repeated in 1975, and the domestic firms are now in a better position to compete in the small car market, financial analysts note.

Less strike activity is expected in 1975. A series of walk-outs in local disputes and at supplier firms have caused many missed production schedules this year.

Attorneys Prepare Petition To Return State To Old Time Zones

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Attorneys for the state have been preparing a petition and consulting the U.S. Department of Transportation about returning Kentucky to two time zones.

President Ford signed a bill Saturday to put the nation on standard standard time Oct. 27 and then restore daylight saving time Feb. 23.

The bill amends a 1973 law that instituted year-round daylight saving time as an energy-saving experiment.

Gov. Wendell Ford has indicated he would petition the federal government to let Kentucky counties return to the time zones they were in before the 1973 law took effect.

Before the change, 78 Eastern Kentucky counties were on eastern time and 42 western counties, roughly west of Jefferson County, were on central time.

When the nation went on daylight saving time, all but 12

Eastern Kentucky counties went on central time.

Thomas Preston, the governor's press secretary, said Sunday that attorneys have been at work on a petition to return to the earlier arrangement.

"Attorneys for the state have

Nixon Has Not Spoken With Doctor

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Richard M. Nixon has not spoken with his physician since Friday night, and the doctor says that apparently is a sign the former President is recovering normally from phlebitis.

"I assume that means things are going along satisfactorily," Dr. John C. Lungren said Sunday.

Nixon, 61, was released on Friday from Memorial Hospital Medical Center at Long Beach after a 12-day stay for treatment of phlebitis, an inflammation of a vein, in his left leg.

Nixon is receiving oral doses of an anticoagulant drug, Coumadin.

Aides at the former Western White House made no comment Sunday on Nixon's condition, but a spokesman said Saturday the former president was resting and following his doctor's orders to limit his activity.

Lungren, who described Nixon as more exhausted when he left the hospital than when he entered, said his patient told him on the phone Friday night that he was glad to be home.

Lungren has said Nixon, who resigned as President in August, should avoid traveling long distances for at least one month and perhaps three.

The American Party has nominated Ed Parker for senator.

The only hotly-contested congressional race is in the 4th District, where Democrat Kyle Hubbard challenges incumbent Republican U.S. Rep. Gene Snyder.

Inflation Devaluing Language And Dollar

CENTRALIA, Ill. (AP) — Inflation is devaluing the language as well as the dollar.

For instance, when you want to point out a ridiculously low price you might say, "It's dirt cheap." But dirt's not so cheap anymore.

Illinois highway officials building Interstate 64 say they paid 72 cents a cubic yard for dirt fill in 1972, $1.30 last year and $1.55 this month.

Chicken feed, another synonym for cheapness, has doubled in price in two years. A 100-pound sack, about as much as a chicken eats in its life, now costs $9.50. That's $7 more than the purchase price of a chicken.

Then there's the American expression: "Not worth a Continental."

Inflation spawned that one when the Continental Congress issued so much unsecured currency it wasn't worth the paper it was printed on.

But inflation has pushed the worth of a 1776 vintage Continental in good condition to $40, compared to about $15 two years ago.

The paper it's printed on? Well, the paper you have in your hand, standard grade newsprint, costs about $11 a hundred weight. Fifteen months ago it was about $8.50.

If you're angry at something you might say: "It's not worth the powder it takes to blow it up." Gunpowder prices have shot up 22 to 40 per cent, de-

New car owners apparently won't have to worry about finding unleaded gasoline for their 1975 models this fall. But some service stations are worrying about finding enough customers for the new grade.

A nationwide survey by The Associated Press indicates that at least half the stations in most states already carry unleaded gasoline and many more, mostly in rural areas, plan to stock it later this fall.

Virtually all American-made cars will require unleaded fuel. The only 1975 models which can use leaded gasoline are Chryslers equipped with either of two optional V-8 engines, the 318 cubic inch displacement power plant available in compact and intermediates and the 360 c.i.d. engine, an option on larger Chrysler Corp. cars.

And while about 80 per cent of the new cars will have anti-pollution converters, even those autos which do not come equipped with the devices must use unleaded gas.

"All the stations required to carry unleaded gas have stocks of it," says Gerald Kroll, president of the Missouri Service Station Dealers Association. "Our only problem has been getting customers for it."

The head of the Pennsylvania-Delaware station dealers association says up to 70 per cent of the two states' stations now carry unleaded gasoline. But he adds, "It's the slowest-selling."

WKPGA Meeting Held At Mayfield School

The fall meeting of the West Kentucky Personnel and Guidance Association was held at the Mayfield-Graves County Vocational School on September 27, 1974, with coffee and registration from 8:45 until 9:15 a. m.

Mrs. Sue Warmath, President of W. K. P. G. A., began the morning session with introductions and announcements followed by a warm welcome from Don Sparks, superintendent of Mayfield City Schools. New counselors in the area were introduced and presented to the group.

Robert Lamb, specialist, pupil services, Tennessee Department of Education, gave an interesting and informative talk on "Peer Counseling."

A report from the program committee and plans for W. K. P. G. A.'s participation in the fall conference was given by Sharon Moffitt.

Others participating on the program were Dr. Fred Williams, executive secretary of K. A. S. A.; and Jim West and Neil Tucker who explained the services offered by the education Development Districts to guidance personnel in Areas I and II. A business meeting and a tour of the facilities of Mayfield Vocational School and Mayfield High School followed lunch.

Counselors attending from Murray were Mrs. Alberta Korb, Calloway County High; Mrs. Charlotte Barker and Mrs. Geneva Brownfield, Murray City Schools; and Mrs. Jo Lovett, Murray University School.

Section Of Boone Parkway Now Open

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The 14-mile section of the Daniel Boone Parkway from Big Creek to the Thousand Sticks toll plaza near Hyden was opened Friday.

Gov. Wendell Ford, in making the announcement of the opening, said the state hopes to open the last section of the Boone Parkway, from Thousand Sticks to Hazard, early next month barring unexpected weather delays or complications in delivery of materials.

Residents of Southeastern Kentucky have a shorter route to Interstate 75 with the Friday opening as the section is an improvement over existing KY 80.

The complete parkway eventually will go from London to Hazard, a distance of 56 miles, at a cost of $106.6 million. The two-lane road was financed by the sale of bonds by the state.

The 14-mile section from Manchester to Big Creek was opened last June.

Safety Requirements May Raise School Bus Prices

CHICAGO (AP) — Safety requirements for next year's school buses may push price tags beyond the reach of many school districts, industry and safety officials say.

Some school districts already are feeling the pinch of price hikes of 25 per cent or more in the last year, said Edward T. Clayton of Blue Bird Body Co. of Fort Valley, Ga. The firm is one of six major school bus producers.

Much of the increase in prices is due to higher raw material costs. But officials who gathered for a National Safety Congress meeting in Chicago said Wednesday they expect additional hikes to result from safety advances such as padded seat backs and guard railings.

Exact costs have not been tabulated, they said. A 66-passenger bus now costs from $14,000 to $16,000, depending on safety specifications in a given state, Clayton said.

Clayton predicted that continuing cost hikes would mean

"schools in some states will be operating 10-year-old buses."

Robert B. Kurre, an engineer for the Wayne Transportation Co. of Richmond, Ind., said in a telephone interview that it's too early to measure the sales impact of price increases.

He said most school districts submit orders early in the calendar year for fall delivery. A spokesman for the School Bus Manufacturers' Institute in Washington, D.C., agreed.

James Tidings, chief engineer for Thomas Built Buses Inc. of High Point, N.C., said from 12 to 25 school bus passengers die annually. Government figures put the annual death toll at 25 to 35, with some 5,000 injuries.

One major change proposed by the government would require foam padding on top, back and sides of seats on next year's models.

"Seat design has completely changed in the last two or three years," Clayton said during a panel discussion on school bus safety. Some states already require seat back and guard rail padding and some manufacturers have made them standard equipment.

He cited other recent safety improvements, including elimination of rough interior metal edges and corners.

Tidings said safety improvements not only push prices higher, but such features as safer seats cut available space, meaning districts will need more buses to carry the same number of children.

Officials said the new seats may cut bus capacity by as much as seven children.

NOT SHORT OF WATER
NORWALK, Conn. (AP) — "Water is one natural resource that we'll never run out of," according to Robert B. Hilbert, president of the American Water Works Assn.

"Unlike other natural resources," says Hilbert, "we have as much water available today as we did thousands of years ago. And we'll have just as much in 2074 as we have today."

He noted that the increasing need to recycle water is generally not because of water shortages. "Economically," he says, "it is more feasible to purify and recycle water after it has been used once than to develop new water sources."

MINI-MINISTER — Roy Peden Jr., 11, is an associate minister at the King Solomon Baptist church in Louisville, Ky.

Western Union Offers New Money Service

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP) — A new service through which a person can send money using a telephone call and a credit card has been announced by officials of the Western Union Telegraph Co.

The experimental service, which will be in operation in Missouri and in some adjacent counties of Kansas, Illinois and Kentucky, will enable any Master Charge credit card holder to call Western Union toll free and arrange to send up to $300 anywhere in the 48 contiguous United States and charge it to his account.

Walter E. Girardin, executive vice president for field operations, said Tuesday Western Union guarantees that the funds will be available within two hours at any one of the specified 6,000 company offices and agencies throughout the country. He said the charge for using the service is similar to that for sending a money order.

Educators To Meet At Dam

FRANKFORT, Ky. — A conference to bring personnel of Kentucky's teacher-educator institutions up to date on Title III, ESEA, innovative and/or exemplary educational programs will be held Oct. 7-8 at Kentucky Dam Village State Resort Park.

All 22 teacher-educator institutions of higher learning—public, private and parochial—have accepted invitations. The college or university personnel will be given time to share information about higher education programs with the Title III representatives.

The conference is being sponsored by the Title III Division of the state Education Department under the U.S. Elementary and Secondary Education Act (ESEA).

Representatives of all eight Kentucky Title III regions and a state-wide facilitator project will make presentations regarding their programs. The facilitator project provides a means of disseminating information on projects which are deemed worthy of adoption or adaptation by other schools.

The conference will begin at 1 p.m. CDT, Oct. 7, with Dr. Mitchell Davis, Glasgow, State Title III Advisory Council chairman, presiding. Don E. Bale, assistant superintendent of public instruction, will make introductory remarks. The Title III Division, directed by Richard L. Winebarger, is in the Bureau of Instruction, headed by Bale.

A banquet will be held the evening of Oct. 7 with Dr. Constantine Curris, president of Murray State University, as guest speaker. He will be introduced by Dr. Don Hunter of Murray University, Advisory Council vice-chairman.

Congress To Hear From Ford In Last Week Before Recess

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress, in its last week before a month-long campaign recess, has two appearances by President Ford and a resumption of the foreign aid battle on its schedule.

President Ford will outline his anti-inflation proposals to a joint session of Congress Tuesday afternoon. On Thursday he is scheduled to appear before a House Judiciary subcommittee to answer questions about his pardon of former President Richard M. Nixon.

Foreign aid is scheduled to come up in mid-week, in House and Senate action on a compromise continuing resolution money bill under which military aid to Turkey could be suspended.

Under threat of a veto, Senate and House conferees dropped a mandatory cutoff on aid to Turkey and substituted language acceptable to the White House. Under the substitute, aid would be suspended until the President certifies that Turkey is "making good faith efforts to reach a negotiated settlement with respect to Cyprus."

Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., sponsor of the mandatory cutoff language twice adopted by the Senate on 57-20 and 59-29 votes, said he would seek to recommit the conference report.

Rescue Squad Answers Two Weekend Alarms

The Calloway County Fire-Rescue Unit answered two calls over the weekend, according to squad reports.

A car-fire was extinguished with the booster at three a. m. Saturday. Two units and ten men answered the call to the car owned by Walter R. Jones, on 94 East. The car was listed as a total loss.

A barn used for storing hay was a total loss after a fire destroyed the structure Sunday morning. The barn, owned by Edd McLeod, was located in the Almo area.

The Professional Ambulance Service dispatched two units to the scene. Personnel answering the alarm were Bill Marcum, Ron Barnett, Bernard Steen, Randy Linn, Ed Jennings, Loyd Key, Jerry Edwards, Ron Stout, Stan Stout, Marvin Weatherford, Bud Miller and Gordon Wirt.

Tickets are now on sale in the lobby of the University Theatre of the Price Doyle Fine Arts Center for "She Stoops to Conquer," the first major production this fall by the University Theatre at Murray State University Oct. 8-9-10.

Curtain time each night at the University Theatre is 8 p. m. with Tuesday night being the opening night instead of the customary Thursday.

The five-act comedy written by Oliver Goldsmith contains a cast of 19 students. It is a hilarious story of young love in the 18th century centering around a caper devised by a mischievous stepbrother.

The show will have three interiors which according to Robert E. Johnson, director, was very complex, requiring the use of flying sets.

Tickets are $2 each or $4 for season tickets for all productions during the year.

He contends that an aid cutoff is mandatory under existing law because of Turkey's use of U.S. military equipment in the invasion and partial occupation of Cyprus.

The House is scheduled to devote the first part of the week to a continuing battle over committee reorganization proposals, then take up agriculture appropriations, and conference reports on mass transit subsidies, veterans education and campaign financing.

The Senate takes up today bills to set a 10-year term for FBI director and to terminate the four states of national emergency proclaimed at various times since 1933 and still in effect.

The first of the existing emergencies was proclaimed March 6, 1933, by President Franklin D. Roosevelt to meet the depression crisis. The others were the 1950 Korean war proclamation by Harry S. Truman, and two by President Richard M. Nixon to cope with a post office strike in 1970 and to implement currency restrictions and foreign-trade controls in 1971.

"That was when we went to see (U.S. Interior) Secretary (Rogers) Morton to give our proposal for a liquefaction plant in Eastern Kentucky," Ford said.

"As you know, Ashland Oil and several other private enterprises of that nature are very much interested in trying to secure the liquefaction plant."

While Ford said he saw no conflict of interest in his use of a free Ashland flight on that occasion, he added "I think for personal trips and Santa Claus trips and Derby trips and things of that nature, that those of us who are trying to represent the people in the, I think, best way we can, should shy away from them."

Ford also defended his stand regarding the Red River Dam and his actions on the abortive Cumberland Falls State Park chairlift, two projects that have been criticized by Cook.

Karen Boyd Has Woven Sculpture Show In Frankfort

Karen Boyd, assistant professor of art at Murray State University, has a one-person show of woven sculptures on exhibit at Kentucky State University in Frankfort.

Entitled "Fiber Odyssey," the seven-piece exhibition in the Gold Room Gallery of the Carl M. Hill Student Center on the campus will run through Oct. 27. Boyd said the weavings represent an art form rather than a craft form.

She was extended invitation to put her work on exhibition by Homer E. Allen, chairman of the Art Department at Kentucky State and a graduate of Murray State. The show is sponsored by Kentucky State in conjunction with the Kentucky Arts Commission.

Boyd, who joined the faculty at Murray State in 1967, has been invited to exhibit her work along with that of artists from around the globe in the Seventh Tapestry Biennial in Lucerne, Switzerland, in June through September of next year.

She earned the B. S. in art education and the M. A. at Kent State University and is completing the M. F. A. degree at Temple University.
