Junior Women Say Homes Match Tastes Of Occupants; Tour Is "Fun"

Miss Wanda Holland (center) president of the Junior Woman's Club admires a blown glass decanter seen in one of the homes they visited on the annual tour of homes. Just as interested in the lovely antique are Mrs. Nathan Wade (left) and Mrs. Virgil Barker (right) who were hostesses for the event.

The members and guests of the Junior Woman's Club had a real "fun" evening Tuesday night when an entourage of more than 50 women visited the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Westpheling, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Homra, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Lamascus and Mr. and Mrs. James Weeks. It was the consensus of the visitors that each of the homes they visited reflected the personalities of its occupants.

As the visitors entered the homes visited they presented the hostess with a gift as a memento of the occasions. The tour ended at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Weeks and refreshments were served with the motif of the party indicative of the desert and card party the group will sponsor on April 20. The sandwiches and the decorations carried out the card playing pastime.

Bryan Kearby In Race For Representative

TO THE VOTERS OF FULTON AND HICKMAN COUNTY

Having retired on disability from the U. S. Railway Mail and Highway Postoffice Service of 41 years of arduous but colorful service, I should like at this time to announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination of State Representative.

Many of you know me and will agree, I feel sure, that I am qualified to hold this office. I attended school at Hickman College and Marvin College at Clinton and graduated from Crutcherfield High School and studied both law and agriculture while attending the University of Kentucky. My family has served the State of Kentucky for many years. My father was the late Judge Hiram M. Kearby, who was elected Judge of Fulton County in 1897 for two terms. My son, Jennings Kearby, in recent years was State Representative. My sister Frances taught school at Western, Cayce and Rock Springs in 1907, 1908 and 1909. I am a land owner in both Fulton and Hickman counties.

I feel the voters should know my attitudes on several issues.

Hope Fades For Complete Options In Columbus

About 2,000 acres of the 7,000 acre proposed industrial site south of Columbus have still not been optioned, and are not expected to be. This includes several key farms in the heart of the site.

Joe Marshall of Paducah, who is the agent for the unidentified industry that is seeking to locate in Hickman county, said that there would be no further negotiations and that the project would be presented to the officials of the company as it stands at the present.

The company's decision could come almost any time, as options now held do not terminate until the middle of 1963.

Fulton Welcomes New Part Owner Of Drug Store

Charles Wade Andrews

The twin cities welcomes its newest young businessman to the ranks of the business and professional people of Fulton with the purchase of a half interest in the Southside Drug Store by Charles Wade Andrews. Charles Wade bought the interest in the drug firm formerly owned by Dr. Eddie Crocker who is leaving Fulton to take special training in Nashville.

A popular young man who is as expert in the music field as he is in the pharmaceutical profession, Charles Wade is a graduate of the University of Tennessee School of Pharmacy. He graduated from Fulton High School in 1955.

Young Andrews, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Andrews of Fulton, has been employed at a Union City drug store since his graduation. He is married to the former Lucy Anderson and they have one small daughter Connie. Fulton's very active group of young business people welcome Charles Wade to their ranks to prevail upon his personality and energy to participate in the progress and development of the twin cities. And the active group of young matrons in Fulton is mighty happy to have Lucy in the social activities closer to home.

Charles Wade and Lucy and Connie are making their home at 206 Sunset Drive in Fulton.

City Officials Puzzled At Disappearance Of 20,000,000 Gallons Of Water In March

The Fulton City Council met Monday night for their regular April meeting and ran headlong into a startling mystery: where is all the water going that the city pumps each month? In the month of March, just concluded, 74 percent of all water that the city pumped from its wells flowed into the mains and apparently disappeared from the records.

Let's re-state the problem. During the month of March 1961, the City of Fulton pumped 27,198,000 gallons of water into the city mains but only 7,000,000 gallons of it could be accounted for from watermeter readings of consumers. That means that 20 million gallons just "disappeared"!

The mystery of "missing water" has been with Fulton for a long time, McCoy points out. Here are a few of his figures to bear it out:

Mar. '61	27,198,000	7,000,000	(74% Loss)
Feb. '61	21,000,000	8,000,000	(65% Loss)
Dec. '60	25,846,000	9,000,000	(65% Loss)
July '60	30,000,000	11,000,000
June '60	28,000,000	9,000,000

J. W. McCoy, Madisonville, an engineer who is serving as "water consultant" for Fulton, points to the figure as cause for concern and immediate action by the Council to find the trouble and correct it without delay, inasmuch as the local plant is almost at capacity now and cannot afford such extravagant waste.

McCoy pointed out that the normal loss of total volume supplied free to schools and public facilities should be around 15 percent but no more; in the month of March this would have accounted for only four million gallons, still leaving 16 million gallons unaccounted for.

The Council accepted McCoy's strong recommendation that a "leak survey" be made immediately by a competent firm which specializes in this work and such a survey is anticipated here before summer.

James Warren, attorney representing the Meadowview subdivision and various residents on Wells Avenue and Maiden Streets, submitted a proposal for a sewer system in that area to be constructed by the city and paid for by property owners involved; a resolution was approved by the Council to proceed into the initial steps of the project.

In other action, the Mayor and Council:

—Received bids for a new 2-way police radio system but decided to study the bids before awarding a contract;

—Announced that aerial easements over the Hancock and Pettitt properties at either end of the new Fulton airport had been obtained and thus airport construction could soon begin;

—Accepted the resignation of Clarence Pickering as city tax assessor and announced that the city is in the market for a suitable replacement (the job pays $300 and takes about 2 months);

—Announced city vehicle tag reciprocity agreements with all neighboring towns around Fulton with the exception of Mayfield and Hickman, with Mayfield a definite "no" and Hickman still a "possible"; (If, for example, you live in Clinton and buy a city vehicle tag there, you don't have to buy a Fulton tag even though you work in Fulton);

Mrs. Kennedy, Other First Ladies Send Special Gifts For County Cancer Drive

The First Lady of the World, Mrs. John Fitzgerald Kennedy, will take part in Fulton County's Cancer Drive, in absentia. So will several first ladies of Kentucky. While all of the ladies will take part in the national Cancer drive, by their special gifts they will also take part in the Fulton County Drive.

The idea to have the ladies participate in the county drive comes from Mrs. Susan Stokes of Hickman, chairman of the drive in that city, who wrote to Mrs. Kennedy, Madames Bert Comb, Wilson Wyatt, Thruston Morton, John Sherman Cooper and Frank Albert Stubblefield to send special gifts to the drive that will be auctioned off next week in a special radio auction over WFUL. The auction will be held at the REA building in Hickman next week, with a special "beeper" hook-up with the radio station. Time of the auction will be announced over the station next week. If his schedule permits, the famous radio auctioneer Col. Charles Burrow will be on hand.

Nature of the gifts sent by the distinguished ladies is a deep secret. Mrs. Stokes said, until the time they will be offered for sale by bidding. All of the ladies have responded with gifts and they are well worth some high bidding.

Meanwhile the aim of the drive in the City of Fulton is to collect $1000.00. It is hoped to contact through both business and residential efforts every person in Fulton. It is desired that everyone give once and only once.

No other project will be held if the quota is reached. Remember when you give, this is the only gift you will be asked for to help fight cancer.

The special gifts drive will take place the week of April 10th. Co-Chairmen of special gifts are: Professional—Dr. and Mrs. R. T. Peterson, Jr., Business—Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Fossett.

Special gifts workers are: Mrs. Riley Allen, Mrs. William Stokes, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Binford, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Homra, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wade, Mrs. Tom Lane, Mrs. Jospo Vowell, Mr. and Mrs. Max McDade, Mrs. Billy Joe Forrest, Mrs. Jimmy Weeks, Miss Diane Palmer, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Wade.

Residential drive will take place Sunday April 16.

South Fulton Residents Get Attorney Seeking Integration In Local School

A group of South Fulton residents have employed a Nashville negro attorney, Alexander Looby, try to force integration in the Obion County schools. Supt. C. D. Parr announced that he has received a letter from Looby expressing the hope that desegregation could be worked out without any trouble.

The Obion County School Board has hired Fenner Heathcock of Union City as counsel, and he is studying the situation. A possible adoption of the grade-a-year plan for South Fulton has already been discussed by the Board, but no definite plan has been adopted.

Notebook Counts The Passing Years, And Adds The Memories Too

You're getting old when you reminisce a noted columnist said recently. And that figures, because you've got to be old to have memories. While the young folks take a dim view sometimes of old-time conversation, they also miss a lot by not having the years to look back upon. Such was an experience I had last week-end when all four of us drove down to Clarkdale, Mississippi to spend the Easter holidays with family and friends. It was the first time in many years that I had the opportunity to just wander around town, visit in the stores and say hello to friends I had worked with and grown up with.

It has been nearly 18 years since I have been a resident of Clarkdale. It was during World War II that I took off for Washington to be with Paul only until he went overseas, and stayed for four years. We never went back to Clarkdale to live, but came to Fulton, as you probably know by now.

"Going back home" is a strange and nostalgic feeling. The nostalgia comes, of course, from the reminiscing of events gone by. The people you once knew are now gone and the amazing speed with which one generation grows into another, is fantastic!

For instance at church on Sunday we sat in the choir, not to sing, mind you, but because somehow people go to Church on Easter Sunday when they don't go other times in the year, and it was crowded to overflowing. But we were glad that space limitations made it necessary for us to sit upstairs near the choir because as we listened to their youthful voices singing hosannas for the resurrection we looked at them closely and tried to decide what faces belonged to what families whose parents were our long time, long time friends.

In our storehouse of memories we shall always picture these people we knew as they were when we knew them, some carefree, some serious, some sad and some happy. You can well imagine then, to keep alive the memory of a person at 25, blithe in spirit and young and gay to have them appear all of a sudden, a wrinkle here and there, gray at the temples, sans "touch-up" and more than anything to have them say: "This is my grand-son, or grand-daughter as the case may be." Believe you me, its gruesome, especially when we retaliate by introducing our barely teen-age son, and still not a teen-age daughter.

It is strange what the years do to different people. For instance Mary Jo and I went into a department store and were waited upon by a very charming young man, and we were impressed with his manner and his maturity. While we knew the owners of the store, he didn't resemble the family I had known, but it didn't take long for his father to come up and give me a cheery greeting, tell Mary Jo she was a pretty little girl and "my, how you've grown," only to turn to the charming young man and say this is my youngest son. The "young" son was the "baby of the family" and the others, all older, weren't even thought of when I lived there and went to school with his father.

I have never been able to figure out whether my old time friends live faster, or is it that I have lived slowly.

But all was not lost. I had such a pleasant visit with a person I did not know when I lived in Clarkdale, but whom I have met since the war years were over. She is Shirley (Mrs. Newt) McWilliams and her native home is in the East. Shirley and I were talking about this sadness and joy of growing old and she told me that not many years ago, she went "back home" for a three weeks visit and returned to Clarkdale after one week, because she just

A Profitable Farm Product For This Area

The first car of pine to be used in the manufacture of paper was shipped from Mayfield recently. Although pine does not have the growing season in this area that it has farther South, area farm leaders see the growing of pine as an important farm industry for this area. Thousands of acres of land in Graves County and in adjoining counties can be utilized in growing this profitable product. As tobacco allotments have been cut year after year, we have experienced a continual loss of farm population. Many of these people have had to seek employment in industries in the large cities of the North.

We feel that every effort should be made by our farmers and farm leaders to find new sources of revenue from the soil. The cultivation of pine is now a new source of revenue, which when added to others can help immeasurably in the economic welfare of our farmers. Unless we can arrest the decline in farm income, we cannot expect the young people to remain on the farm. When they leave, it seriously effects the balance of industry and agriculture and serves to lower the income of all.

The interest shown by many farmers who already have marketable pine and the others who want to get into the business is encouraging. The help being given by forestry and farm leaders throughout the area should make it easy for farmers to go into this business. The Messenger is printed on paper made from pine like that shipped out of Mayfield recently. Paper making from southern pine is one of the South's fastest growing industries. Mayfield can be proud of its central location that makes it the ideal shipping point for pine marketed in West Kentucky. We hope that any farmer who has available land will think in terms of growing pines. It would be a worthwhile project by such organizations as our service clubs to give assistance to this industry.

—Mayfield Messenger

'Drive Carefully' Applies To ALL Vehicles

We feel sure that the Fulton Fire department does its best to respond to all alarms as quickly as possible.

Sometimes we wonder if the truck doesn't speed too fast through downtown Fulton enroute to a fire... especially crossing heavily-traveled Lake Street at high speed, and traveling at high speed through narrow, congested streets such as Commercial Avenue. One accidental step in the wrong direction, one car door inadvertently opened while the truck is speeding within inches of parked vehicles, could spell disaster.

Last Tuesday afternoon an elderly lady was walking slowly and carefully across Commercial Avenue at Lake Street as the fire truck came roaring across the railroad tracks from the city hall. The lady was hard-pressed to get across the street as the truck sped toward her without slackening speed.

Now we well realize that it is important to put out a fire, but we submit it is equally important to observe caution while getting there. We refer specifically to blind intersections and congested traffic areas as well as those abovementioned.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

God Loves You!

By Rev. M. Raymond, Trappist monk and author of THE MAN WHO GOT EVEN WITH GOD

'Do we realize what it means when we say God loves us? The words are easy to say, but do we really believe them? We must be deeply persuaded of God's love for us, if we are ever going to be happy.

To be persuaded that God loves us all we need do is face facts. Look! God ran his eye over billions on billions of possible beings. He alone knows how many billions He passed by until He came to you. You were the one He made. Before time was, you were a chosen soul. That choice spelled love.

THE SUN will one day burn out and the stars weary in their flight but you will go on in existence so long as God is God. He chose you to live forever. That spells love.

And how did He bring you forth? Blind? No! He sat twenty-one million mirrors in each of your baby eyes so you might enjoy the beauty He has scattered over land and sea and sky; so you might thrill to the rose of a dawning, the gold of a sunset. That is love.

You were not born deaf. God tuned twenty-seven harp-strings and placed them within the frame of your ear. They have given you the magic of melody and the mystery of music. That is love.

Just think of the one billion cells in your human brain, each connected with every other one by fleshy wires, thinner than threads but truer in their task than the compass needle in pointing to the pole. Can you imagine any telephone exchange of a billion lines in which no call goes unanswered? That is what God set up and manages under the dark cover of your 'anium. Need I say that that spells love?

Who keeps you alive? The throb of your heart is not like the tick of a timepiece, you know. God is not like a clockmaker who merely winds up his productions and lets them run. He is more nearly like the singer and you the singer's note. So long as He breathes on His vocal cords you will exist; let Him stop for a split second and you will cease to be.

Sam Hicks, a farmer residing near Beelerton was injured in an unusual accident last week. While working with a mule, the animal dropped dead, falling on him and breaking his leg.

Last Saturday the Greyhound Bus and a car driven by a tourist from Ohio had it round and round in front of the Orpheum theatre. It appeared that neither would back up at the sharp curve and there wasn't room for either to go ahead. So it was a deadlock, until some fellow came along and moved his parked car permitting the man from Ohio to drive on around the bus.

BY WILLIAM H. McHENRY

By William H. McHenry
First Week in April 1861

April of 1861 started with some hope left in America that there might not be a shooting war. It was less than two weeks until Ft. Sumter would be bombarded by South Carolina troops. There had been settlements and postponements before. There might be again! History still had a few rather unimportant events to unfold before the start of the "irrepressible conflict" and four years of the most bitter war.

The Confederate States of America had been formed at Montgomery early in February. Men had been sent to Europe to buy arms for a possible war. The Confederacy had voted the sum of fifteen million dollars for defense, and the Southern railroads had offered the use of their roads for the carrying of troops and supplies.

No sooner had Jefferson Davis been selected Provisional President of the Confederacy than he sent Capt. Raphael Semmes, resigned U. S. Naval officer, to the Northern States to buy arms and ammunition. (Semmes was later to command the famous raider "Alabama") Within one week of March of that year seven carloads of ammunition were shipped to the Confederate forces facing Ft. Sumter in Charleston harbor.

Northern foundries were busy making guns and shells for the South. In New York City, the police had seized some guns destined for Georgia. In reprisal, the Governor of Georgia seized five ships belonging to New Yorkers. The State of New York offered to release the guns, but the New York Police Commissioner, John Kennedy, claimed the guns were contraband and refused to turn them over to Georgia officials.

News was unreliable. On April 6, the Charleston Mercury reported this: "Seizure of the Federal Capital. Major Ben McCulloch has organized a force of 5,000 men to seize the Federal Capital the moment the first blood is spilled. This intelligence is from a Virginia Gentleman now in this city, who had it directly from McCulloch's own lips."

The Charleston papers reported that by the first week in April, South Carolina had 63,000 men enrolled. 10,000 were volunteers (actually, every soldier the State had must have been a volunteer) The State was said to have 140 pieces of ordnance of which 60 were brass cannon.

Lt. Col. Robert E. Lee had been rebuffed as commander of the U. S. forces in Texas. Oddly, Lee had not been removed for Secession activity, but because he refused to join in with it! Texans had asked Lee for the Federal property in Texas, and Lee had refused. ("It would be treason," he said.) Texans had Lee replaced by Gen. Twiggs, who accommodated the local people by turning over to them all Federal posts, forts, and arms.

Twiggs then resigned from the U. S. army to escape a court-martial. He returned to his home in the south where he was welcomed as a hero.

Lee had returned to Virginia. Before he left Texas he had written his son: "Secession is nothing but revolution. But... if the Union is dissolved... I shall return to my native state and, save in defense, will draw my sword on none..."

The U. S. soldiers left in Texas were stranded. The U. S. sent $30,000 to pay the soldiers. The money was carried openly, and a band of "Secession Rangers" seized the money in Austin. Said the San Antonio Herald "A formidable body of men, under authority of the commissioners, acting under pressure of public necessity, on the Lord's day, entered the house where the money was... and brought it out without even getting their hair singed."

Ft. Sumter's garrison of less than a hundred men were almost without food. Capt. Doubleday (who would be credited with the invention of the game of baseball) later wrote that during this time he had an argument with Major Anderson over slavery. Anderson, a Kentucky man, argued that the Bible permitted slavery.

In the North, the newspapers in late March, reported that "... the country is sick at heart over the necessary withdrawal of Anderson from Ft. Sumter." Said the New York Tribune: "It had better stop crying over what can't be helped, and spend its time in preventing a similar humiliation at Ft. Pickens." (Anderson had said it would require 20,000 men to reinforce Ft. Sumter.)

Lt. Talbot of the Sumter garrison had been allowed to pass through the South Carolina forces carrying dispatches to the Federal government in Washington. However, when Talbot tried to return to Sumter, the same forces refused to pass him. Said a reporter to a Northern paper: "The Charlestonians generally 'say there shall be no more boy's play. Evacuate or fight is the prevailing sentiment."

In Washington, that week before Ft. Sumter, soldiers were drafted for guard duty in the public buildings. On April 11, seven militia companies reported to Gen. Scott in Washington. (A company was usually made up of about sixty men and five officers.) One of the companies, Schaffer's National Rifles, was so secessionist in spirit that the papers suggested they be "sent South."

Southern commissioners had been in Washington trying to arrange for the evacuation of Ft. Sumter. On April 11, the commissioners left for home, saying: "We have been humbugged and deceived."

On April 5, the batteries on Morris Island had fired three times at a strange schooner. One shot went through the ship. It was all a mistake... the ship was from New Jersey, but was loaded with ice for the mint-juleps of Charleston!

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

Many people, not prepared for the sudden cold snap that hit Fulton Friday, had to shiver and shake in their spring dresses and suits on Easter morning. Due to the warm weather that has been predominant during the past couple of weeks, no one dreamed that there could possibly be snow two days before Easter, but it sure did happen! We all pictured ourselves plowing through foot-high drifts in our needle toes and high-high heels. But luckily, the snow was long gone by Easter morning and the sun shone brightly. It was a perfect day except for the chilly breeze that blew constantly.

This Easter was a "purple" one in Fulton. Everywhere you looked, there were purple hats, coats, dresses, suits and gloves, ranging in shade from the very deepest purple to pale lavender. Huge purple orchids decorated the shoulders of many of Fulton's female set.

Another popular color was yellow. Many Easter paraders wore sunny yellow hats and gloves with black, green or gray outfits. Yellow orchids were also favorites for sashes.

Several young pre-teens received their first pair of "heels" for Easter and from all reports, they managed pretty well for the first time. (We wonder how many long hours were spent walking back and forth in front of a mirror until they ironed out all the wobbles!)

The kiddies also had their fling on Easter morn, as the Easter Bunny visited homes all over town.

Youngster were up bright and early to find their brightly colored Easter eggs. Once again the favorite egg color was a bright purple! Other surprises which the kids reported finding were chocolate bunnies, chocolate lambs and little live baby chicks dyed pink, green and (of course) purple.

A very special Easter reunion was held in the home of Mrs. J. W. Norman of Norman street over the weekend. All of her children were present for the first time in 25 years. Those participating in this happy occasion were Mrs. Ruby Philpot of Jackson, Tennessee; Mrs. Mary McGinnis of New York City; Mrs. Annarene Williamson of Speed, Indiana; Everett (Nappy) Norman of Akron, Ohio; Harold Norman of Middletown, Ohio.

We bet that the happiest boy in the whole South Fulton School is Mike Cantrell, son of Mrs. Ralph Cantrell. Mike has been ill with rheumatic fever for the past 20 weeks, but finally received the OK from his doctors to go back to school. He started back Monday morning.

Don Edward Cloys, a student at Carson Newman College in Jefferson City, Tennessee, was a weekend guest in the home of his sister, Mrs. Ray Jackson of Highlands.

He spent Saturday evening reminiscing with old friends at a

Did you know Gasoline is Taxed at a Rate 5 Times as High as Diamonds?

IN KENTUCKY, YOU PAY $1.10 TAX ON 10 GALLONS OF GASOLINE

Gasoline taxes will be lowered—if the latest temporary Federal gasoline tax increase expires on June 30th as scheduled by the 1959 Federal Highway Act.

Along with all good citizens, we are in favor of building the roads that the motoring public needs. But, in the last 10 years alone, Federal and State taxes nationwide on gasoline have skyrocketed 51%—skyrocketed to a point where gasoline, a basic commodity, is actually taxed at a rate five times as high as luxuries like diamonds and mink coats.

Must gasoline taxes be so high? Most people believe that gasoline taxes are high because the money is needed to pay for our national highway program. This is not so.

The fact is that out of every highway-user tax dollar collected last year by the Federal government, more than 40 cents was diverted to non-highway purposes.

If these highway-user tax revenues were spent for highways—as they should be—gasoline taxes could be lowered, and the highway program given a boost.

In fact, the Federal-Aid Highway Act of 1959 provides that when the added temporary Federal gasoline tax expires on June 30th, 1961, as scheduled, some $802 million a year in highway-user taxes—now diverted to the U. S. Treasury's general fund—will instead be deposited in the Highway Trust Fund.

As a result, if the latest Federal temporary gasoline tax increase expires on June 30th as scheduled—the national highway program will actually get $225 million more each year than it now receives from the latest Federal temporary gasoline tax increase.

In January of this year, after an exhaustive 2-year survey of national transportation policy, a special U. S. Senate study group confirmed the wisdom of this decision.

This will be good news for you. You will be able to enjoy a steadily improving highway system, at a lower gasoline tax-rate.

HERE ARE THE FACTS ABOUT TODAY'S HIGH GASOLINE TAXES

- In Kentucky, you pay $1.10 tax on 10 gallons of gasoline.
- You pay 11¢ tax a gallon—4¢ in Federal taxes plus 7¢ in State taxes.
- Gasoline is taxed at a rate 5 times as high as diamonds.
- The average Kentucky motor vehicle owner pays $79 a year in gasoline taxes.
- Since 1951 there have been three increases in the Federal gasoline tax alone.
- In the last 10 years, gasoline taxes nationwide have skyrocketed 51%—yet the national average price of gasoline itself has risen only 5.5% during the same period.

couldn't stand all the changes the years had wrought.

It isn't pleasant when you think about the changes that have come about, but it's such good company to have pleasant memories of pleasant people to look back upon.

This week-end, if all goes well, I shall witness the change of a shorter passing of years when Helen Price and Ellis Merrifield and I go to Clearwater, Florida to visit with an old friend of my war-time Washington years. Kathryn Stull, in whose home I lived in Chevy Chase, has a perfectly lovely home on the beach in Clearwater and has asked me to go down anytime and just stay in that great, big home with the Gulf of Mexico as a back-yard. Helen and Ellis, as you perhaps know are executive assistants in the office of Lt.-Gov. Wilson Wyatt and all of us decided we needed a rest and to get some sun. Paul was all for it and so were the children and Paul's mother and father are coming up to be with the family while I'm away.

But it will be rather strange to see Kathryn's daughter Stephanie, a grown young lady, having recently made her debut and off to the Sorbonne in Paris for her senior year in college. She was a tiny, three year old tot when I read her to sleep many a night while we listened to war-time songs like "I'll Walk Alone," "I'll Never Smile Again," and "When the Lights Come On Again All Over the World." It seems a long, long time ago and I imagine that Stephanie will think Kathryn and I are old foggies for even remembering.

Kathryn has two other children

That is the only way to fairly decide which candidate you should support.

I believe: (1) That Kentucky employment should be given to Kentuckians only and one month's residency should be established prior to employment in this State. (2) That no fishing licenses should be imposed on cane pole fishermen. (3) In a stricter economy, reductions in salaries and expense accounts of the State legislators. (4) That this section of the State should receive a larger share of the Park & Road Bond Fund. (5) That a study should be made of our entire tax structure with the purpose of lowering tax-whom I have never seen and who will be a real surprise, because one's in the eighth grade and the other in high school. I imagine we will take off to the beach when the "young folks" are off frolicking somewhere and talk our hearts out saying "Do you remember?"

Yes, it takes years to have memories and I'm glad I've got every last one of them.

RUTHVILLE NEWS

By Mrs. Jess Grissom

Today the sun is shining. We have had so many rainy days we are happy to have the beautiful sunshine. What we didn't expect was the snow, but now we are hoping that spring is around the corner and farmers can start farming, gardens can be planted, doors can be opened wide, and we can be outside enjoying the many things we look forward to in the Spring.

Easter Sunday was a very pretty day. Just being Easter is a sweet day to enjoy. New Hope Church near Ruthville had their sunrise service and reported a large crowd attending.

There is some sickness to report. Mr. Dewey Grissom is in Hillview Hospital. Cecil Barker is in the hospital at Fulton. Mrs. Nola Barker's condition hasn't improved very much at this writing. Some of her children from Chicago and St. Louis have been visiting her. Mrs. J. Simpson is also sick.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Grissom and Iva Lynn entertained company in their home last Friday night. Mr. and Mrs. Billie Clark and small son Garry of Fulton and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Killebrew and small son of Latham, Tennessee.

Iva Lynn Grissom spent Saturday night with her grandparents and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Grissom and Ada Ruth.

Last Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Grissom and Ada Ruth visited Mr. and Mrs. Beecher Finch and family.

James Wilhaucks received a five day leave from the service to visit his parents and relatives in McConnell, Tennessee.

Mrs. Pond from Fulton visited Mrs. Jeff Grissom Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Clutch of Chicago are visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Onsbey of Ruthville. Mr. Hamp Qualls, the father of Mrs. Marshall Rogers is some improved at this writing.

We are glad to report Mrs. J. Jones is able to be up again after being sick for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Grissom and little daughter Iva Lynn spent the day with Mrs. Grissom's sister and husband Mr. and Mrs. Glyn Edward Onsbey in South Fulton.

Wedding bells rang out near Ruthville for William Larry Taylor and new bride. They are now making their home with Mrs. Eva Taylor near Ruthville where Larry has lived and had the loving care of a mother from his aunt Mrs. Taylor. We wish for them a long and happy life together.

As this writing comes to a close and until we write again may you all be very happy, have many blessings and the sun will shine on everyone.

MORE PEOPLE ARE BUYING CHEVROLETS THAN ANY OTHER MAKE!

When one car outsells all the rest the way this new Chevrolet is doing—there's got to be a reason. And we can think of some pretty good ones. The clean-etched looks of the new Body by Fisher, for example. The eager brand of "git" that's under the hood. The easy way it handles. Plus the added advantage of extra-cost options like triple-turbine Turboglide.

But to sample all these reasons together, you have to get a Chevrolet out on the road. And there's where that Jet-smooth ride takes over with its own gentle kind of persuasion. If you weren't absolutely sure, you'd imagine you were riding in a far costlier car.

No wonder people are buying more Chevrolets than any other make! Chevrolets have more of what it takes to please people!

*Official R. L. Polk & Co. registration figures show full-sized Chevrolets outsold the second-choice make by a record-breaking margin in 1960—and Chevrolets continue to set the pace for the industry this year!

For the seniors: this week was truly the "beginning of the end." Our caps and gowns were ordered on Tuesday after we had been measured and weighed during the morning. There are only seven more weeks of school but the seniors will be out all during the last week. We will take our semesters on Thursday and Friday of the week before. Although most of us will be glad to get out, I think I can safely say that we all will miss it just a little bit during the coming years.

The Fulton High band was well represented at the Murray State College Regional Music Festival last week. Several band members brought home top ratings from the contest. On Thursday, Bob Anderson and Laura Ann Hefley both received the rating of Superior. Bob played an organ solo and Laura played a piano solo. The FHS majorettes also got Superior on their twirling routine. On Friday those receiving the Superior rating were Barry Adams with a trumpet solo and Don Reed with a clarinet solo. A number of other performers got excellent and very good ratings. We are really proud of these students and of the honor that they have brought to our school.

In another sign of the coming graduation, the seniors had a class meeting and selected the people who will perform on Class Night. Charles Rice was selected to be the Historian. Carl Hurst will read the humorous Class Prophecy and Ophelia Speight will give the Class Will. The Grumblers are Judy Moore and Mike Walker. James Gordan will write the Class Poem. Sandra Williams and Mike Callham are the Giftarians. We hope all of the people here in Fulton will come to Class Night because it promises to be one of the best in the history of Fulton High.

Well, the KENNEL came out this week, but not without just about as much trouble as anyone could ever expect! To begin with, due to the absence of the regular linotype operator, we had to "borrow" one of our staff members, Bill Leneave, who works part-time over at the Leader office. Then the linotype machine only broke down five times in two days! When we finally went to press on Monday morning, the press decided it was time for it to stop running, so we had to wait another couple of hours! But we finally got the papers ready and handed them out on Tuesday. I think the staff has decided, however, never again to try to put out an "easy" little four page edition!

Congratulations to the four new Quill and Scroll members who were selected at the last meeting. They are Bill Leneave, Martha DeMyer, Mary Bondurant and Lynn Williamson. All are KENNEL staff members and all have done outstanding work on the paper this year. They did not know of their election to the chapter until the paper came out on Tuesday.

The assembly program next week at FHS will be concerning the revival at the Baptist Church in Fulton. Rev. Miller and other leaders of the church will be in charge of the program.

When school turned out Wednesday afternoon, we were all given our "freedom" for the rest of the week. The KEA meeting started in Louisville, Wednesday morning, but the Fulton City Schools were not dismissed until that afternoon. The two-day vacation (Thursday and Friday) is the last one before graduation.

That is just about it from the halls of Fulton High School this week. Be good and don't forget to tune in next week, same time, same place!
