Calloway Speech Team Places Second At MSU

The Calloway County High School Debate and Discussion team placed second in overall competition Saturday at the annual Murray State University Workshop. There were fifteen schools in competition.

Calloway Debaters compiled a record of nine wins and only three losses.

Varsity debaters Rick Wilkerson and Tommy Riley defeated Meridian and Larue Counties, but lost to Union County by one point. Kevin Bowen and Randy Hutchens won debates over Trigg County and Malden, Mo., while losing to Ballard County.

Junior varsity debaters Karen Edward and Gail Tucker were undefeated Saturday. Sandy Gray and Pam Foster had only one defeat, coming from Meridian High.

The discussion team consisting of Jill Falwell, Ressa Buchanan, Bucky Erwin, Lisa Turner and Steve McCuiston won third place in team competition by compiling 555 points. Steve McCuiston was ranked 2nd in individual awards for discussion.

Speech and Debate team Coach Larry England will enter the team in the Russellville High Speech Tournament Oct. 26.

Trigg County took overall sweepstakes honors in discussion and debate competition.

Addition To County

Road Program Announced

Deputy Commissioner Otto Ingram of the Bureau of Highways today announced an addition to the 1974-75 Rural Secondary Program in Calloway County.

Acting for Transportation Secretary Billy Paxton, Ingram said the newly authorized project provides for construction of a bridge and approaches on the Squire Workman Road.

The Rural Secondary Program fund is supported by two cents of the Commonwealth's motor fuel tax.

Three Persons Hospitalized After Accidents Over Weekend

Two weekend accidents left three persons hospitalized and others injured in the Calloway County area.

At 9:17 a.m. Sunday, cars driven by Johnny R. Orr, Route Three, Hazel, and Edgar H. Overby, Route Two, collided at the intersection of Holiday and Doran Road, according to Murray City Police, who investigated the accident.

Orr was treated and released at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital for contusions; a passenger, Lisa Gaye Orr, 12, was in satisfactory condition this morning at the hospital with a possible concussion; and Overby was in satisfactory condition with lacerations, contusions and possible broken ribs, according to hospital authorities.

Police said the Orr car was going north on Doran Road, and the Overby car was going south on Doran Road when the accident occurred.

Kentucky State Trooper Guy Turner said a car driven by Kenny Lawrence, 19, Route One Hazel, went out of control and flipped over on Highway 1828 west of Midway at 2:30 p.m. Sunday. Lawrence was listed in satisfactory condition this morning with a possible head injury, according to hospital authorities. Turner said there were two passengers in the car at the time, but they were not hospitalized, according to hospital authorities.

Prosecution Opens Case In Watergate Cover-Up Trial

WASHINGTON (AP) — The prosecution opened its case in the Watergate cover-up trial today by telling the jury it would prove that "the most powerful men in the government of the United States ... even including the President" conspired to block the investigation of the Watergate break-in.

Richard Ben-Veniste, an assistant special Watergate prosecutor, told the jury of nine women and three men:

"We will prove to you in the course of this trial that the attempts of legitimate law enforcement agencies ... were met by an effort to cover up the facts and obstruct the investigations by the most powerful men in the government of the United States in a conspiracy that even involved the President of the United States himself."

The start of the trial was delayed two hours, apparently when one juror asked to be excused.

U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica excused the juror, Lucille F. Plunkett, 59, and named the first alternate, Helen D. Pratt to replace her.

The five defendants, including three of the most powerful officials in the Nixon administration, sat at five small counsel tables with their lawyers.

When Sirica entered the courtroom at 11:29 a.m., John J. Wilson, attorney for former White House staff chief H.R. Haldeman, immediately rose and moved for a mistrial, apparently because of the request by the juror to be excused.

"Motion denied," replied the judge, who also had presided at the Watergate break-in trial nearly two years ago.

"In the early morning hours of June 17, 1972, a security guard working at the Watergate complex noticed that a downstairs door had been taped so that it would not lock," Ben-Veniste began his statement.

The defendants, who sat listening to the prosecutor outline the case against them, were former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, ex-White House aides Haldeman and John D. Ehrlichman, former Asst. Atty. Gen. Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson, one-time lawyer for the Nixon re-election committee.

Lawyers for Ehrlichman, Mardian and Parkinson planned to outline their defense cases immediately following Ben-Veniste's argument.

Attorneys for Mitchell and Haldeman said they would delay their opening arguments until the prosecution had presented its entire case.

David G. Bress, attorney for Mardian, said he would move for dismissal of the single charge against his client. If, as expected, U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica rejects his motion, Bress said he then would deliver his opening argument.

All five defendants are charged with conspiracy to obstruct justice, a charge that carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

Murray High Band Wins Second At Memphis State Band Contest

The Murray High School band was narrowly beaten out of first place by Lexington (Ky.) Lafayette High School by 3 of a point in the Memphis State University Band Contest held in Memphis Saturday.

The Murray band won a second place over all others in the contest with a score of 97.0 of a possible 100. Lexington Lafayette, the unofficial Kentucky State Champions, placed first with a score of 97.3.

Two of the five judges in the contest rated Murray first, two rated Lafayette first and one rated the two bands as equal. Both bands won the honor of appearing at halftime of the Memphis State-Cincinnati football game Saturday night.

Jana Jones and Pat Baggett, Murray field commanders, won the outstanding dual drum major award at the contest. The Lafayette band was awarded the "Mayor's Trophy" and the "Highland Hundred" traveling trophy.

Bands receiving superior ratings in addition to Murray and Lafayette were: Booneville, Miss.; Bolivar, Tenn.; Milan, Tenn.; Nashville Dupont; Athens, Ala.; and Humboldt, Tenn.

In class AA competition, Milan was first, Bolivar second and Booneville, third. In class AAA Lafayette and Murray were followed by Humboldt. The drum major from Milan won the single drum major award and Milan finished third in the overall points total which entitled them to march immediately following the game. "We are extremely proud of the band members," director Joe Silis said, "primarily because of their pride and dedication that has brought them to this level of achievement. It is a cooperative effort between students, parents, administration and an interested public that results in successful educational endeavors such as the Murray Band program and the schools of Murray."

This Saturday the band, along with the 88 member 7th grade band and the 75 member 8th grade band, will participate in the Murray State Homecoming Parade. The MHS band will then travel to Mayfield for the Mayfield Band Contest Saturday afternoon.

BEST DRUM MAJOR TEAM — Jana Jones and Pat Baggett won the outstanding dual drum major awards at the Memphis State Band Contest Saturday.

Cook Asks For Disclosure Of Ford's Company Resources

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Sen. Marlow Cook said Sunday night he would like a disclosure of the resources of Gov. Wendell Ford's family insurance agency at Owensboro in connection with credit life insurance premiums.

"(It) probably has increased its ability to earn premium dollars through the operation of credit life insurance companies," the Republican nominee said.

Cook, whose Democratic rival for re-election next month is Ford, made the remark on a television news panel (WHAS), but he did not elaborate.

He said it has come to his knowledge that there are banks which have changed credit life insurance firms since the start of the Ford administration in 1971 and that "the governor's firm brokers it."

"I'm not saying any pressure has been brought," Cook added, "I don't know... it's information I've learned and garnered recently." Nor could he estimate the number of banks purportedly involved.

Ford's brother Reyburn has represented Standard Life Insurance Co. of Jackson, Miss., which according to state Insurance Department records increased the number of its agents in Kentucky considerably during the current administration.

The E. M. Ford Insurance Agency, founded by the governor's late father, now is operated by the brother, who receives a commission from Standard for placement of credit life operations with banks.

Both Wendell and Reyburn Ford have said the governor collects only dividend checks from the insurance agency and takes no part in its business.

Cook's mention of the insurance business apparently was the first such public reference in the campaign, now heading into the final three weeks.

It was preceded on the program by a discussion of Cook's earlier refusal—the same as Ford's—to make a disclosure of personal finances.

However, the senator said, before the campaign ends he probably would have no objections to making such a disclosure.

Steen House At Alto Destroyed

A house under construction at Alto, owned by Bernard Steen, was completely destroyed by fire last night about 10:30, according to a spokesman for the Calloway County Fire-Rescue Squad.

Steen had reportedly been working on the tri-level block and frame house for over two years and just about had it completed. The cause of the fire was "unknown," according to squad officials.

All three units of the squad with twenty-three men answered the call. The house was a total loss.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR TUESDAY, OCTOBER 15, 1974

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES
(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)

A fine day for advancement along lines important to you. Don't veer off on tangents, however, or efforts will be wasted.

TAURUS
(Apr. 21 to May 21)

New offerings should not be rejected until they have been thoroughly studied. Neither be too quick to accept. Emphasize prudence, forethought.

GEMINI
(May 22 to June 21)

A system may have to be revised to include a seemingly odd procedure or certain new rules. Don't be dismayed. Things should all work out for the best.

CANCER
(June 22 to July 23)

Watch out for intrigue, dubious involvements. You are usually alert to such goings-on, but even YOU could be fooled under the misleading influences which now prevail.

LEO
(July 24 to Aug. 23)

In dealings with others, be sure to note their reactions. The right word at the right time could be a big factor in putting over ideas.

VIRGO
(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)

New methods and policies initiated in sensible accord with requirements should go over well now. Be conscientious about fulfilling promises.

LIBRA
(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)

Accent is now on career achievement, possibly some unusual token of recognition. Those engaged in creative pursuits especially favored.

SCORPIO
(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)

Some interesting possibilities indicated. Day may finally see the completion of an important project; also a real improvement in your financial situation.

SAGITTARIUS
(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)

Wait on decisions until all avenues have been explored. Should temporary deterrents appear, handle discerningly, with clear-headedness, smart control.

CAPRICORN
(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)

Your ingenuity, foresight and intuition should be at a peak now. A good time to look into new offerings and gauge their real value.

AQUARIUS
(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)

Direct your innate enthusiasm into progressive channels. You can accomplish more than many others now. Especially favored: written matters and travel plans.

PISCES
(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)

You are now at a point where you can assert your views and succeed at pioneering efforts. Many are receptive and gain is indicated.

YOU BORN TODAY are endowed with lofty ambitions, unusual practicality and efficiency and a fine gift of logic. You are devoted to home and family, but are not always demonstrative in your affections. This sometimes hurts, so try to let loved ones know that you care. Your versatility is outstanding and the fields from which you could choose a successful career are almost limitless. In the art world, you could shine as writer, poet, playwright, designer or musician; in the professions, choose law, diplomacy, statesmanship or medicine. If business appeals, banking and real estate are you best bets. Birthdate of: Paul Reynaud, Fr. statesman; Virgil, Roman poet; Oscar Wilde, poet, dramatist, novelist; John L. Sullivan, pugilist.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

Better stay away from that daughter-in-law

DEAR ABBY: A man signed "Borrowed Time" asked in which state he could marry his former daughter-in-law. You replied that since they were not related by blood, he could marry her in ANY state.

Not in Massachusetts! I quote from Section 1, Chapter 207 of the Mass. General Laws:

"No man shall marry his mother, grandmother, daughter, granddaughter, sister, stepmother, grandfather's wife, son's wife, grandson's wife, wife's mother, wife's grandmother, wife's daughter, wife's granddaughter, brother's daughter, sister's daughter, father's sister or mother's sister."

RESPECTFULLY YOURS,
PAUL W. CORRIGAN
ATTORNEY AT LAW, LYNN, MASS.

DEAR MR. C: Yours was the first of umpteen hundred letters I received to signal my error. I admit that I shot from the hip on that one, using only common sense and simple logic. (It was understandable to me why people related by blood ties should not marry, but why extend that law to those related by marriage?)

The second letter pointing out my erroneous advice came from Angela Haven Bonin (also of Lynn, Mass.), and the third was from Alan I. Alford, of Alford, Tuck and Pozzi in Sudbury, Mass. (I quit counting when they got up into the hundreds.)

From Judge Blair C. Wood of Waterloo, Iowa came this word: "If a man should marry his son's former wife, the marriage would be void in Iowa. And if they lived together after the marriage, he would be subject to a penalty of 25 years in the penitentiary for incest." (Why only HIM, Judge? How about HER?)

Then, Rabbi Samuel Friedman, my honorary consultant on Jewish law, wrote from Asheville, North Carolina: "On all other affairs, I yield to brains, beauty and a blessed writer, but please bear in mind that a Jewish man is forbidden by law to marry his daughter-in-law."

Henry N. Berry III, Cumberland County Attorney, made the following contribution: "Your column has been read and enjoyed by us in Maine for many years, but please be advised, Abby, that if 'Borrowed Time' plans to marry in Maine, he may become involved in an illegal relationship. I quote from Title 19, Section 31, of the Maine Revised Statutes: 'No man shall marry his son's wife and no woman shall marry her husband's father.'"

Worse yet was the news from Samuel G. Kerall, of Johnston and Shores, attorneys in Birmingham, Alabama: "I would suggest that you retract the advice you gave 'Borrowed Time' immediately. Otherwise you may find yourself charged as an accessory before the fact to the crime of incest. Here in Alabama that might result in your becoming a guest of our lovely state for one to seven years." (Thanks, Sam. Please regard this as an official retraction. I love Alabama, but I wouldn't want to live there under the above-mentioned circumstances.)

And as if I didn't have enough trouble, Dan Bartley, of Bartley & Harrington, Attorneys in Louisville, Kentucky, wrote: "If you insist on practicing law, please do it correctly! 'Borrowed Time' said that he wanted to marry his daughter-in-law in order to make her the sole heir to his estate. You completely ignored that fact. You should have informed him that he could make those provisions in a will. He didn't have to marry the girl."

Well, dear readers, I earned the roasting I received from hundreds of lawyers, legal secretaries, law students, and readers who just happened to know more about it than I did.

In the future when it comes to legal problems, I promise to consult one of my very able legal consultants. And would you believe that both my son and son-in-law are attorneys?

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY, Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

Miss Rebecca Ann Edwards Exchanges Wedding Vows With Randall Phillips

Miss Rebecca Ann Edwards, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Edwards of Murray, became the bride of Randall Dale Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Morgan of Murray, in a late summer wedding at the Seventh and Poplar Church of Christ.

Bro. John Dale read the impressive double ring ceremony at seven o'clock in the evening. The vows were said as the couple stood in front of a wrought iron fourteen branched candelabrum which was flanked on either side by white wicker baskets of white gladioli, blue daisies, and fuji mums. The family pews were marked with white satin bows.

Music consisted of recordings by the Harding Chorus. Selections included the Traditional Wedding March and others. The recordings were played by Harry Russell.

Mrs. Albert Dodd, aunt of the bride, directed the wedding.

Bride's Dress

The bride, escorted by her father, was given in marriage by her parents. She was lovely in her wedding gown of white sheer nylon organza. The gown had an empire look with a front lace panel outlined by a scalloped square neckline. Clusters of simulated pearls and sequins trimmed the front lace panel. The long set-in sleeves of nylon organza ended with a wide lace cuff. The back was fashioned forming a chapel train with long acetate satin streamers. Her elbow length three tiered bouffant veil of nylon tulle was attached to an open crown camelot style cap of acetate and nylon lace with simulated pearl trim and acetate satin bows at the side. The bride carried a bridal bouquet of white fuji mums and blue daisies accented with blue streamers.

Her jewelry included an heirloom locket which belonged to her maternal great grandparents and a gold ring belonging to her paternal grandmother.

As the bride approached the altar, she stopped to present her mother with a kiss and a white long stem carnation. As the bride couple left the altar, the bride gave her mother-in-law a kiss and a long stem white carnation.

Miss Paula Cook, Rainbow sister of the bride, served as maid of honor. She wore a sky blue dotted swiss floor length dress with empire waistline trimmed with blue satin ribbon with long ribbon streamers in the back. Her head piece was a blue satin ribbon. She carried a single long stem blue carnation with long blue streamers.

The bridesmaid was Miss Janie Lamb, also Rainbow sister of the bride. Miss Laura Morgan, sister of the groom, served as junior bridesmaid. Both wore dresses and head pieces identical to the maid of honor. They also carried a single long stem blue carnation with blue streamers.

Little Miss Lisa Morgan, sister of the groom, was the flower girl. Her dress and headpiece was a miniature duplicate of the bridesmaids. She carried a white wicker basket decorated with blue and white daisies accented with blue ribbons. She dropped flower petals of blue.

Ricky Edwards, brother of the bride, served as best man. Serving as groomsmen and ushers were Roger Mathis and Dean McCoy, both cousins of the groom. All men in the wedding party wore blue tuxedos with black trim.

Mr. & Mrs. Lonnie Shroat Honored, 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Shroat of Murray were given a dinner by their daughter, Miss Peggie Shroat, in celebration of their 50th Wedding Anniversary on Wednesday evening, October 2. They were married on that date, 1924.

The dinner was held at the Brass Lantern, Aurora. The table held an arrangement of fall flowers of gold and bronze tone in a golden urn. Also decorating the table was an anniversary cake covered with gold roses and a large numeral "50".

Several appropriate gifts were presented.

Those present were Wayne Harvey and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Rogers of Smithland, Ronnie Calhoun of Lake City, Mrs. Marjorie Dunn and Miss Bess Hendricks of Puryear, sisters of Mrs. Shroat, daughter Peggie, grandchildren, Susan and Michael Pace of Murray, and the honorees.

Joe Tom Erwin To Present Program At Club Meeting

"How to Attract Birds to Feeders" will be the program topic for the second meeting of the Murray Bird-Conservation Club to be held at 7:30 p. m., Tuesday, October 15, at the Calloway County Public Library.

Presented by Joe Tom Erwin, the program will include a group discussion for members to exchange ideas on the best methods of attracting various kinds of birds.

The monthly field trip will be to the Land Between the Lakes to observe water bird migration. The time and date for the trip will be announced at the meeting.

Membership in the newly organized group is open to anyone interested in birds and related environmental concerns.

Hazel Woman's Club To Meet On Thursday

The Hazel Woman's Club will hold a tea for new or prospective members on Tuesday, October 17, at seven p. m. in the Community Room of Dees Bank of Hazel.

Hostesses will be Mrs. Gerald Gallimore, and Mrs. Jackie Butterworth.

The devotion will be given by Mrs. Garland Hutson.

The Hazel Club was organized and federated in 1955 and now has a membership of seventeen.

Personals

HOSPITAL PATIENT
Mrs. Paul Bailey of Murray has been dismissed from Lourdes Hospital, Paducah.

PADUCAH PATIENT
Leon Smith of Murray has been a patient at the Western Baptist Hospital, Paducah.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall Dale Phillips

Master Doug McCoy, cousin of the groom, served as ring bearer. He carried the identical wedding bands on a satin pillow edged with lace. His tuxedo was a duplicate of the groomsmen tuxedos.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Edwards chose to wear a floor length pink knit dress. Her accessories were black and she wore a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Morgan, mother of the groom, was attired in a floor length blue knit dress with black accessories. She also wore a corsage of white carnations.

Miss Tonya McCallon kept the register table which was over laid with a white cloth with a cut-glass bud vase of white carnations and greenery.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church.

The bride and groom's table was covered with a white cloth trimmed in white lace and white satin wedding bells tied with blue ribbons. In the center of the table was an arrangement of white fuji mums and blue daisies in a cut glass bowl which belonged to the bride's maternal great grandmother. Flanked on each side of the center piece were blue glass candle holders.

The three-tiered wedding cake, decorated in blue and green, was divided by columns. Miniature swans surrounded the columns. The cake was topped with a bride and groom statue. Red punch was served from a cut glass bowl. Mints and nuts were also served.

Serving at the reception were Misses Cindy Bailey, Kathy Higginbotham, Bonnie Lyons, Connie Lyons, Beverly Rogers, and Mesdames Richard Brayboy, J. C. Edwards, Wayne Jackson, James Lyons, Ora Lee Lyons, Tommy Lyons, Norval McCoy, and Wendell Norsworthy.

After the reception, the bride couple left on an unannounced wedding trip. The bride chose as her going away suit a light blue pant suit. She wore her mother's corsage of white carnations.

Out of town guest included Mrs. Wendell Norsworthy, Mrs. Wayne Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. James Lyons, Sheila Edwards, Jackie Cox, Jane Cox, Mrs. Noveda Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell Mathis, Roger Mathis, Mrs. Charles Mathis and Mr. and Mrs. Norval McCoy and sons, Dean and Doug.

Rehearsal Dinner
Mr. and Mrs. Howard Morgan were hosts for the rehearsal dinner held at Trenholm's Restaurant. Covers were laid for twenty persons.

The bride couple presented gifts to their attendants at the dinner.

Zeta Department Members Appear In Television Show

The Zeta Department of the Murray Woman's Club opened the new club year on Thursday, September 26, at 7:30 p. m. with a tour of the Communications Building at Murray State University. The theme for the evening was "Smile Zetas—You're On Camera."

Members met on the sixth floor of the Price Doyle Fine Arts Building where they were greeted by the hostesses for the evening. The meeting was held in the television studio where it was televised for the members to view later.

Mrs. James Rudy Allbritton introduced Dr. Glenn C. Wilcox of the Communications Department and he in turn introduced the students who televised the meeting.

The students were Jacob Postma, director; Marc Roberts and J. D. Williams, cameras; Katy Paschall, microphone; John Green, control room; Bill Mengel, video.

Dr. Wilcox explained and answered questions about the department which is considered one of the finest in the nation. Members were also shown the

Good Actor

George Raft, whose movie gangster roles in the '30s and '40s made him one of Hollywood's big names, was complaining the other day about having the "bad guy" image applied to him in real life.

"I've never been locked up, I've never taken a drink, I never hurt anyone, and I gave all my money away," he says. "So how come I got this bum reputation?"

Over the years his name has been mentioned in investigations of the underworld, but he asserts he has never had any such connections.

Mr. Raft's unhappiness with all of this is understandable, to be sure. Still, it would be our guess that most of his colleagues in the acting craft would be complimented that their screen portrayals had been so convincing.

Who's That Sleeping In The President's Bed?

We have a feeling that they are taking President Ford's pledge of open and frank government too far. Out of the White House comes the news that President Ford and his wife have broken presidential custom by sharing the same bed.

Next thing you know, we'll be told our new President prefers jockey-type shorts and wears a nightshirt.

We hope now that we have been told the President and his wife will not have separate bedrooms that the question of presidential privacy is left to the Fords. There still are enough questions of secrecy in government for Ford to tackle without having to divulge his bedroom habits.

He can't turn his full attention to these problems if he must worry about someone peeking in the bedroom window.

Brown Avoids Talk Of Governor's Race

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — John Y. Brown, Jr. says "The whole matter (of whether he might run for governor) has been blown out of proportion" and he prefers to avoid any discussion until after the Nov. 5 election.

"I have said nothing stronger recently than I have been telling reporters for more than a year," the multimillionaire said Sunday night by telephone from Florida where he is spending a week on business.

Some comments by Brown about the possibility he might become a Democratic candidate for governor next year have stirred concern in the ranks of Lt. Gov. Julian Carroll.

Carroll would be the odds-on favorite, especially if Gov.

Wendell Ford defeats Sen. Marlow Cook, R-Ky., in next month's senate race.

"Ellie (his wife) and I have talked on many occasions about wanting to get into public service," Brown said Sunday, and the only opportunities in the near future will be the 1975 governor's race, the 1978 senate race or perhaps the 1979 governor's race.

Brown is 40 and his wife 33. Hence, he said, "We're both young enough and wouldn't be over the hill if we waited until then."

Brown, who helped found a fried chicken empire, almost ran for the senate in 1972.

Earlier this year, he said, a key Ford aide encouraged him to run for the senate, but shortly afterwards the governor changed his mind and decided to make the race himself.

In various interviews and remarks over the past year Brown has indicated his strongest motivation is towards governorship. He said he believes his experience would have more impact and he could do more for the state. However, a few recent developments have made the situation more sensitive than ever.

For one thing, Carroll seems to have all but pre-empted the 1975 candidacy with diligent cultivation of all party factions and informal campaign. A Ford victory would give him one year as acting governor and presumably a lock on organization and financing.

For another, one potential rival of Carroll may have found a prestigious political opening that did not exist until a few days ago when Rep. Terry McBrayer, D-Greenup, disclosed he has a high blood pressure condition which is expected to take him out of contention for Lieutenant Governor.

Although Carroll has said he would not endorse anyone for second spot in 1975, the widespread assumption was that McBrayer was his preference.

Thus, Jefferson County Judge Todd Hollenbach, who has received encouragement from anti-Carroll forces to run for governor, would find another choice awaiting him.

In fact, Carroll has politely indicated Hollenbach would make a fine candidate for Lieutenant Governor. And Hollenbach said last week he is rethinking his political plans.

Since Hollenbach presides over the most populous political power base for Democrats, he presumably would have a role in whatever decisions are made for the 1975 party lineup.

But, like every other ambitious Democrat, Hollenbach has deferred any public pronouncements until after Nov. 5.

Brown's recent assessment that the Ford-Carroll link is based on convenience rather than any special warmth between their various forces is a recognition of long-known political realities.

Carroll said the senate candidacy of Ford is proof the governor feels he would be leaving the state in good hands—and that Ford has said as much.

Ford said he has not talked to Brown or other gubernatorial prospects and has not pledged any support, even to Carroll, who he said is working hard for him along with Hollenbach.

Agree Or Not

I Say What I Think

by S. C. VAN CURON

By S. C. Van Curon
FRANKFORT—At their state convention October 5 Kentucky plumbing contractors charged high level discrimination and favoritism in enforcement of state health code regulations.

Documentation of what the plumbers called violations were presented in the form of photographs and lists of five subdivisions and trailer parks were presented at the convention. The plumbers claimed these have been built in violation of the code or without a legally required inspection.

While the Kentucky Plumbing, Heating and Cooling Contractors Association shied away from making accusations of outright bribery, the irate contractors claimed the laws were relaxed for friends of the Frankfort division heads and used as a political weapon against others.

Eugene E. Perkins, director of the Division of Plumbing in the Department of Human Resources in Frankfort, could not be reached, but Carl Van Cleve, assistant to Perkins, said occasional violations are caught, but the contractor has to meet all code regulations even if he has to tear up the work so it can be inspected.

He said a services building at Lloyd High School, Erlanger, was such a case. The contractor had to submit the plans in Frankfort for approval and he then had to tear out a concrete floor so covered up plumbing could be tested. Van Cleve said everything at the building has been "taken care of and put in properly in accordance to what statutes require."

Under the statutes, Perkins runs the division almost as a dictatorship and the division is uniquely independent of the tax system. Its budget money of almost one million dollars per year is derived from $15 plumber licensing, fees and inspection charges.

The fees were increased the first of October by an administrative regulation. A flat $12 is charged for each basic inspection and $3 is added for each outlet. For a one-bathroom home the plumber must pay the Plumbing Division $25 in fees. This includes the $12 basic, kitchen sink, bath tub, commode and lavatory outlets at $3 each and one dollar for the hot water heater.

Some plumbing contractors at the convention were downright mad about the situation. In addition to the fees, plans for all public buildings must be submitted to Frankfort and the plans approved before the plumber is allowed to start work. The contractors complain some plumbers are getting by without this required procedure.

State Auditor Mary Louise Foust was asked if the Plumbing Division has been audited recently. She said, "I sent a girl up there, but she came back with just a little information and said that was all she could get." Miss Foust added, "I'm not satisfied with it, and I'm going to have to send someone else."

When the regulation to increase fees was filed with the Legislative Research Commission a member of the KPHCCA asked for a hearing, but later someone asked that the hearing be cancelled. This has some members upset.

Perkins is respected for his 29 years as head of the division. He took over from his father. The state provides regional inspectors all over the state. A veteran plumber said Louisville and Jefferson County is the only place he knows now that has its own inspections made by their own inspectors and these inspectors must pass the state tests and qualify.

Miss Foust said there are a lot of these regulatory agencies or professional boards that collect fees she feels should be audited by her department, but she said, "we just don't have the personnel and we never get enough money in our budget to the job we ought to do."

Still More Stamps?

Americans in the lowest income brackets may need some help in meeting high prices for home heating fuel this winter and the higher rates for electricity that are resulting from the energy crisis and inflation. Let's hope Congress finds a better way to solve the problem than issuing "energy stamps."

The food stamp program that is supposed to help welfare families pay for groceries is turning into a massive boondoggle as the stamps turn up in the hands of people who do not really deserve them. Before the government starts thinking about another stamp program, it should prove it can control abuse of the one it already has.

Problem

If the sun is really putting out all that energy, how come we get so lazy when we sit out under it?

No Aid For Castro

The visit to Castro's Cuba by two liberal senators, Jacob Javits of New York and Claiborne Pell of Rhode Island, is another indication of a stepped-up campaign to "normalize" relations between the United States and the Soviet Union's Caribbean satellite.

Ironically, the visit was announced only the day after wire services reported that a Soviet naval task force, including two guided missile cruisers, were expected to reach Cuba - a symbolic development.

In recent weeks, the State Dept. has been carefully promoting the idea of renewed American ties with Castro's regime. Earlier, Pat M. Holt, one of Sen. J. William Fulbright's aides on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, visited Havana, met with Castro, and recommended a less hostile U. S. attitude towards Cuba.

In view of these moves to promote ties with a brutal totalitarian country at America's doorstep, the publication of a new book entitled "The Soviet Presence in Latin America" (National Strategy Information Center) is very timely. The author of this volume is James D. Theberge, an associate of the Georgetown Center for Strategic and International Studies.

In his book, Mr. Theberge says: "The resumption of Cuban-American trade clearly would provide greater benefits to Cuba and the USSR than to the United States. Russia's economic subsidy of the Castro regime would be substantially reduced."

Why should the United States take any action with respect to Cuba which would ease the Soviet Union's economic burden there? And certainly no one can argue that the U. S. is missing a valuable market in Cuba. The Castro regime is in no position to pay for American goods.

The economic factor should not be controlling with respect to Cuba, however. Cuba is a source of political infection in this hemisphere. It represents the intrusion of an alien power—the Soviet Union. It is a particularly cruel and bloody tyranny, as thousands of refugees from the island can accurately attest. Cuba, moreover, is a base for revolutionary activity aimed at other Latin nations.

Mr. Holt of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee made the shameful statement that Cuba is on the verge of "constructing a socialist show case in the Western hemisphere." Did he visit Castro's prisons? One wonders whether Mr. Holt would dare repeat his statement to refugees from Castro's Cuba who have personal experiences of the dictator's terror.

Americans should ask: Would "normalization" of diplomatic relations with Cuba end Castro's tyranny? Would it open the doors of Cuban prisons? Or would it give the communist masters of this slave state an even greater hold over the Cuban people?

Surely, "normalization" of diplomat relations with Castro's Cuba would signal to the captive Cuban people that they had no hope of rebelling or escaping the communist terror.

If the U. S. had "normal" relations with Communist Cuba, it would hardly be in a position to grant asylum to refugees from the island or to aid those Cubans who want a restoration of freedom.

The United States should seek a true restoration of freedom in Cuba and an end to domination by forces outside this hemisphere. Any other objective is unworthy of America's traditions and the principles of the Monroe Doctrine.

Exciting Genetic Research

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

It is fair to say that society is now faced with a new potential for good or evil, brought about by genetic engineering, that is comparable to that which arose when atomic energy was first released.

This "potentially harmful" line of genetic engineering which is now feasible has caused an alarm to be sounded by a committee of eminent molecular biologists, backed by the National Academy of Sciences. Biological warfare is the worst side of the coin.

The scientists made a public disclosure of their anxiety in the hope that such genetic research would voluntarily be banned by the scientific community and in the further hope that the National Institutes of Health would call a meeting of scientists to attempt to work out guidelines for future research in the area.

The fears arise because successful, simplified techniques have been developed for combining foreign animal, viral, and bacterial DNA with the DNA of other bacteria.

The potentials for favorable manipulations of the genes are many. Theoretically, the gene for insulin production could be removed from human DNA, placed in bacterial DNA, and then start producing insulin by a new system, originating a cheap, reliable source of that hormone. Perhaps the gene for nitrogen fixation could be added to other non-nitrogen-fixing bacteria on plants for additional sources of nitrogen.

Genetic manipulation, however, may create new live organisms for which no antibiotic or effective treatment is known. Some of these new combinations might be toxic and deadly.

Concern is voiced that some may be formed — and get widespread — that are potentially able to induce cancerous changes in tissues. At the current stage of this research, the characteristics of any new combination cannot be predicted ahead of time.

If such a proposed meeting is held by the National Institutes of Health, the decisions could have much influence on future research and great significance to the health field.

Q. In my diet I try to avoid fatty foods. Could this be the cause of my dry skin?

A. No. There are many causes of dry skin. You may be deficient in Vitamin A or thyroid — the most common causes. Age may be a factor, as well as overheated living and working areas, exposure to cold, or even too many baths. This is a subject you may want to discuss with your physician.

Q. My sister, who lives in Arizona, has valley fever. Please tell me something about this disease.

A. Valley fever — called coccidioidomycosis (pronounced kok-sid'-e-o'-do-mi-KO-sis) — is an infection of the lungs by a fungus. The disease is usually mild unless the infection spreads from the lungs to other parts of the body. In that case, several months may be required for recovery. Amphotericin-B is an effective drug in treatment.

HOW DO HUSBANDS EAT?

Has it been long since you asked your husband what he had to eat? Either at a local restaurant, or out of town? It's true, you know that many men in business get almost as much of their nourishment away from home as at the family table.

We all worry about our children — whether they get enough to eat. We may not worry enough about just what foods our children are consuming. But do your wives, unless their husbands are on reducing diets, know what their spouses eat when they eat out?

As a doctor I suspect we don't know a great deal about what individual men eat. And if you ask them, a lot of men may not remember from day to day what they had either. But observing people in restaurants suggests there may be a lot of meat, potatoes and martini meals. And coffee, of course.

This is not, if true, as it should be.

Enough Calories

I have the feeling that most men will get enough calories, whatever they do. So we probably don't have to worry about whether your husband gets enough for energy. The real concern has to be for his not getting easily included in the meal. So too many calories. But at the same time, he must get the nutrients he needs.

Malnutrition, whether by way of gaining too much weight or of losing too much weight, is the creating nutrient deficiencies major source of calcium in our over the long term, is a very food supply.

subtle thing. It is almost a secret thing. An illness can be triggered by undernourishment. But in looking back, even an illness may not reveal that poor eating habits were a contributing factor.

So we have to approach nutrition on a positive note. If faithfully practiced, sound eating habits will reward you by helping you achieve maximum health, regardless, disease does strike, good nutrition will have you in stronger shape to overcome the illness.

Nag Your Husband

Thus good nutrition has a lot going for it. It wouldn't all be that bad if you nagged your husband about it once in a while. Ask him what he had at that restaurant last night. And if he didn't have portions from the four food groups, explain to him how relatively easy it is to order adequate foods from a menu.

Certainly, there is great variety in the meat-fish-poultry-eggs group of foods. You just can't miss, in any decent restaurant. And there is no reason for men to eat portions overloaded with calories. Leave some on the plate if necessary.

Vegetables and fruits (some of which are very important and easy to get) are included in the meal. So too many calories. But at the same time, he must get the nutrients he needs.

Malnutrition, whether by way of gaining too much weight or of losing too much weight, is the creating nutrient deficiencies major source of calcium in our over the long term, is a very food supply.

Farm Experts Says Kentucky Corn And Soybean Crops Have Advantage

By BILL GERGSTROM
Associated Press Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Farm experts say crops nourished by August rains and damaged only lightly by early frost give Kentucky corn and soybean growers an advantage over others in the nation.

While Iowa, Indiana and other major corn and bean producing states were parched by drought, three early-August rains saved the crops in Western Kentucky, said James M. Koepper of the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Koepper, state agricultural statistician with the U.S.D.A. Statistical Reporting Service in Louisville, told The Associated Press this week that Kentucky corn "looks good this year," despite the early frost.

In its latest crop report, released Thursday, the Kentucky Crop and Livestock Reporting Service lowered its burley production forecast slightly from the month before, but raised its corn-forecast and continued to predict record bean production.

Koepper said most corn was mature enough by the time frost arrived to survive the cold.

"We lost very little from the freeze," he said, and with the harvest statewide about 11 to 12 per cent complete, "more frost now wouldn't hurt."

"Actually it would help," Koepper said. "It cuts down on weed growth and dries out the corn."

Moisture content in this year's crop is running as high as 24 per cent, he explained, and a moisture content higher than 14 or 15 per cent necessitates drying the corn before storage, an extra expense for the farmer.

Dr. Morris Bitzer, extension grain specialist at the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture, agreed that while the early frost may result in some reduction in yield from corn planted after June 10, "I don't feel like we've lost much on corn."

"Anything planted before July 1 is going to go ahead and make corn, though there may be some unfilled kernels and chaffy ears," he said.

"There may be a 5 per cent loss in corn," Bitzer said, but he noted that acreage planted in corn is up to about 1,300,000 this year from about 1,200,000 last year. "No total production should be up a little," he said.

Daviess, Henderson and Christian counties are among the state's top corn producers, Bitzer said. "And the corn I've seen in those counties has been real good," he said.

"With 1,300,000 acres of corn this year, Kentucky is way ahead of the game," he said. "We've got the corn that other states don't have and we're going to reap the benefits in the market."

Charles Poneleit, a corn breeder and geneticist at the U.K. College of Agriculture, said trial plantings he has made this year indicate that "the crop in general should be good."

"Results I've seen indicate it could be comparable to some of our better years," he said.

Agricultural extension agents in some of the top corn and bean producing counties said this week they were encouraged by the harvest so far.

Frost hurt soybeans more than corn in Daviess County, extension agent Tom Curtsinger said.

He said losses in the bean crop could run as high as 25 per cent. But he noted that Daviess County farmers planted about 100,000 acres of soybeans this year, up from about 87,000 last year.

The corn crop this year is "outstanding," Curtsinger said. Farmers planted about 48,000 acres of corn in Daviess County, up about 5,000 acres from last year, he said.

"And we've been having yields seven or eight bushels higher this year, all the way from 141 to 199 bushels an acre," he said. "These are as good or better than any other year."

The corn harvest was about 25 per cent complete this week, Curtsinger said. "They're rolling right along."

In Henderson County, where much corn is planted in Ohio River bottom land, "the late river wiped out a lot of the corn," extension agent Bill Hendrick said.

"At least half of the crop got in late due to high water," he said. "We have about 50,000 acres in corn this year. In the past we've had as high as 75,000 acres."

More acres were planted this year in soybeans, however, Hendrick said. "Beans have almost doubled in the past few years to almost 70,000 acres this year."

The soybeans suffered some frost damage, he said and corn yields will not be as high as last year.

"I don't think we're over 20 per cent into our corn harvest," he said. "We averaged 90 to 91 bushels an acre last year, but this year we'll be fortunate if we get 80 to 81 bushels an acre."

"The only consolation is that this particular situation has occurred throughout the corn and bean belt," Hendrick said. "In Iowa, Indiana, Ohio, Minnesota, Michigan, Nebraska, Kansas—all around—there is a definite shortage."

"So we're seeing $4 a bushel corn and $10 a bushel soybeans," he said. Could the high prices make up for a short crop? "I think so, yes," he said. "In many instances it will."

In Christian County, 4-H extension agent Bruce Kell said, "the corn crop is bumper, excellent."

Kell said last year's yields in Christian County were "a little less than 100 bushels an acre. This year, he said, "I'd say it would run over 100 bushels on the average. It's really coming out. I've heard some reports of up to 150 bushels an acre."

The Oct. 1 crop predictions, released Thursday, call for a corn crop of 92,960,000 bushels in Kentucky, 4 per cent above last month's forecast and 8 per cent above the 1973 crop. Most of Kentucky's corn was near maturity and was little damaged by the frost and freezing weather early this month, the report said, and the reporting service predicted an average corn yield of 83 bushels an acre for the state.

Despite some frost losses, the reporting service forecast the state's soybean production at a record 32,180,000 bushels, 11 per cent above the 1973 crop. The forecast is unchanged from last month.

Kentucky's top cash crop, burley tobacco, fared less well, the report said.

About 10 per cent of the burley crop was caught in the fields by the early October frost, and about 10 per cent of the affected acreage was reported severely damaged.

Most of the damage was in Northern Kentucky where cutting was late, the report said.

The crop also suffered some houseburn and rotting because of rain and high humidity in September.

The reporting service reduced its burley forecast to 382.5 million bushels for Kentucky, 2 per cent below its Sept. 1 estimate but still above the short crop of 1973.

The yield prediction for Kentucky burley was reduced 50 pounds from the September forecast to 2,250 pounds an acre. The figure remains 230 pounds above the low 1973 yield.

Forecasts for other tobacco were unchanged from September, with Type 22 fire-cured forecast at 8,225,000 pounds, 8 per cent above last year; Type 23 fire-cured at 4,020,000 pounds, up 2 per cent from 1973; Type 35 one-sticker at 6,825,000 pounds, up 4 per cent from last year, and Green River Type 36 at 3,600,000 pounds, 5 per cent under 1973.

Whitney To Speak At UCM Luncheon

Wayne Whitney, Director of Veterans Services at Murray State University will speak at the luncheon of the United Campus Ministry Wednesday, October 16. Whitney will speak on Higher Education from the Vet's point of view.

Whitney, a native of Eddyville, earned his BS and MS degrees in Communications at Murray State and served for two years in the Army in the Public Affairs Office of Walter Reed Army Medical Center. He was recently named director of veteran's services at MSU which will involve him in personal assistance to veterans as well as educational and vocational guidance.

The United Campus Ministry luncheons are held each Wednesday from 12:30 to 1:20 at 202 N. 15th Street. The meal, which costs $1.00, is open to the public. For information or reservations, call 753-3531.

CALIFORNIA CROPS

Local Women Attend Clinic For Coaching

Dr. Nan K. Ward and Shirley Wilford recently attended the National Women's Coaches Conference held in Athens, Ga.

The three-day event was sponsored by the National Association for girls and Women in Sport of the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education and Recreation.

Among the speakers were Dr. Mildred Barnes of Central Missouri State College, and president of the National Association for girls and Women in Sport; and Ms. Wanda Ledbetter, the Federal Women's Program Coordinator for Region Four Health Education and Welfare, Atlanta.

An impressive list of women were also present, serving as clinicians. They included Ms. Patsy Neal of Brevard College, a three-time All-American in basketball; Ms. Billie Moore, an assistant coach at the World Games in Russia; Ms. Robert Boyce Stokes of Dade Community College in Miami, whose volleyball team has won five consecutive state titles; Dr. Nell Jackson assistant athletic director at Michigan State and coach of the 1956 and 1972 United States Olympic track team and Ms. Joan Gillette, first woman trainer in professional sports.

Dr. Ward is a physical education teacher at Murray State while Mrs. Wilford teaches physical education at the University School. Both are very active in the area of women's sports.

Golf Dinner Will Be Held Wednesday

The women of the Murray Country Club will have their annual golf trophy dinner on Wednesday, October 16, at 6:30 p. m. at the club.

This will be a potluck dinner and all lady golfers are urged to attend, according to Carol Hibbard, golf chairman. Meat and bread will be furnished.

North Says Dodgers' Best Shot Not Enough

By ERIC PREWITT
AP Sports Writer

OAKLAND (AP) — "They gave us their best shot, and if that's the best they have, they're in trouble," said the Oakland A's Bill North after the Los Angeles Dodgers squared the 1974 World Series.

Los Angeles right-hander Don Sutton picked up his 12th consecutive victory, 3-2, Sunday, with relief help from Mike Marshall, but the Dodgers must turn to something of a longshot Tuesday night when they start 33-year-old left-hander Al Downing here in Game Three.

"We're going to win the series," said North, who thinks 25-game winner Catfish Hunter will pitch the A's into a 2-1 lead Tuesday night.

Downing, 5-6 this season, was a member of the A's staff briefly in 1970, the year before he surprised the baseball world by becoming a 20-game winner with the Dodgers. He came up with the right assortment of pitches to make up for the fast ball he had lost.

"Sutton isn't a fast ball pitcher, either," said the A's Reggie Jackson when asked if he looked forward to Downing's pitches after facing 20-game winner Andy Messersmith and Sutton in the opening two games at Los Angeles.

"I don't mean to knock Sutton," said North. "He's a good pitcher, and did very well against us, but it was still a 3-2 game. With a break here or there, we could have won it."

The A's looked back at two big scoring threats that fizzled Sunday, the first when North hit into a double play with the bases loaded and one out in the eighth inning.

"I thought I had a hit there. It was the best ball I hit in two days," said North of the hard grounder fielded by Dodger shortstop Bill Russell, who stepped on second and threw into the dirt toward first base.

"I thought the ball would go up the middle, but Russell was breaking that way. Then his throw hit 10 feet in front of Steve Garvey. If it had gone through him, we still would have had two runs," North added.

"It was the toughest hop possible," said North in tribute to Garvey's backhanded pickup at first base which protected a 3-0 Dodger lead.

In the ninth, Joe Rudi singled home two runs and left the game for pinch runner Herb Washington with one out.

Manager Alvin Dark, who pleases A's owner Charles O. Finley every time he inserts Washington, decided to let the former Michigan State track star try to steal second off reliever Mike Marshall.

Washington never got near second, cut down at first on a pickoff throw by Marshall.

"I took us out of a big inning," said the sprinter who once took a class under scholar-athlete Marshall at Michigan State.

Providence Riding Club Named As Champions

The New Providence Riding Club held a meeting at Bull Durhams on Thursday, October 10.

This was a meeting to elect new officers for 1975 and to celebrate being reserved champions of the Mid-America Horse Show Association which was held in Dover, Tenn., on Saturday, October 4.

The Club had 100 percent of the members present for the Mid-America show taking numerous honors; therefore being the reserve champions for the year 1974.

At the dinner meeting held at Bull Durhams plans being made for the new year.

The officers for the past year were presented gifts who were: Bobby Spiceland - president; Earl Wilson - vice-president; Kay Bazzell - treasurer; Kathy Todd - secretary.

New officers were elected for 1975 who are: Bob Atkins - president; Billy Joe Kingins - vice-president; Kay Bazzell - treasurer; Kathy Todd - secretary.

Cross Country Teams Win At 'Racer Run' Saturday

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

What's easier for girls on a Saturday morning than for guys?

If you're guessing shopping or cleaning the house, you're going down the wrong street.

For it seems that running cross country, or at least last Saturday, was easier for the Murray State women's cross country team than the men's team.

Billed as the "Racer Run," the men's and women's team ran together for the first time, with both gaining victories.

The men's team took a narrow 27-28 win over Western Illinois University while the women had a much easier time in winning a quadrangular with Western Illinois, Southern Illinois and the University of Kentucky.

It was just a week ago that the Racers women opened their season, losing a dual meet at Carbondale to the Salukis. But at the Murray Country Club Saturday, running a two-mile course, the Racers women made up for the loss as they scored just 29 points in winning, placing six women in the top 10.

Southern Illinois was second with 44 points while Kentucky was third with 73 and Western Illinois fourth with 93.

SIU did manage to take first place in the individual competition as Jean Only held off a late bid by Murray's outstanding freshman, Lissa Moore of Frankfort.

Miss Moore was running in fourth place with about 150 yards left in the race but put on a strong kick and surpassed teammate Carol Schafer and one of the SIU runners.

Her second-place time of 12:05 was just one second off the winning pace set by Ms. Only.

In third place was Ann McRae of SIU while Carol Schafer finished in fourth for the Racers.

Rounding out the top five for Murray were Kathy Schafer in sixth, Camille Baker in eighth and Jewel Hayes in ninth.

Senior Lee Reed of Benton, in her first year of competition, took 10th while Nan Grant of the Racers was 13th.

Also running in the meet were Thais Lanning and Sharon Johnson.

Miss Lanning is a fifth-grader at Murray Middle School. Last week at Nashville, Tenn., she placed sixth in the 1.6-mile division of the Old Hickory Run.

Miss Johnson is a fourth-grader at Murray Middle School. She ran the mile in 7:15. She also works out every day with the women's cross country team.

third for Murray and sixth overall in his best effort of the year. Western Illinois took seventh while Brewer dropped all the way back to eighth.

The race was decided when Rod Harvey, the fifth man for Murray, finished in ninth place, winning by 10 seconds over Glen Bicchci, Western Illinois' fifth man.

Bob Arnet, who is usually the third best runner for Murray, was not able to finish the race due to a bad back.

The win leaves the Racers with a 4-1 record for the season. This Saturday at the Murray Country Club, local track fans will get a chance to see some of the best runners in the United States when Western Kentucky visits for a dual meet.

Western is one of the favorites to win the national cross country team championship.

STAR ON THE RISE — Art Kennedy (20) of Murray State takes the ball and carries around a pile of players for a gain. Kennedy, a junior college transfer and the backup tailback to All-American Don Clayton, gained 44 yards in just five carries. One of his runs was good for 27 yards.

Buckeyes Rip Wisconsin

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN, AP Sports Writer

No. 1-rated Ohio State threatened to join the ranks of college football's upset victims Saturday ... until the Buckeyes got the ball in their hungry little hands.

Wisconsin, the nation's 13th-ranked team, took the opening kickoff and stormed 80 yards in six plays, with Gregg Bohlig passing 38 yards to Ron Pollard for a touchdown.

Thus embarrassed, the Buckeyes exacted their pound of flesh by scoring the first four times they had the ball on Tom Klaban's 43-yard field goal and touchdown runs of nine, five and 11 yards by Archie Griffin, Brian Baschnagel and Cornelius Greene.

That made it 24-7 at halftime before Ohio State added two more touchdowns in each of the final two periods, with Baschnagel and Greene each getting another, and the final count was a staggering 52-7.

The Buckeyes were one of only seven Top Twenty teams to have a relatively easy time of it as the amazing wave of upsets continued for a fourth consecutive weekend.

Besides Ohio State, fourth-ranked Michigan trimmed Southern California routed Washington State 54-7, 10th-rated Auburn trounced Kentucky 31-13, No. 12 Arizona bombed Utah 41-8, No. 15 Penn State clobbered Wake Forest 55-0 and No. 20 Miami of Ohio whipped Ohio U. 31-3.

But runner-up Oklahoma needed a late field goal to shade No. 17 Texas 16-13 and third-ranked Alabama squeaked past winless — 17 losses in a row — Florida State 8-7 on Bucky Berrey's 36-yard field goal with just 33 seconds left shortly after Florida State took a deliberate safety.

Missouri bumped fifth-ranked Nebraska 21-10, No. 6 Notre Dame had to drive 80 yards in the closing minutes to edge winless Rice 10-3, previously unbeaten Florida fell to Vanderbilt 24-10 and No. 9 Texas Tech bowed to No. 16 Texas A&M 28-7.

Back in the Second Ten, 11th-ranked North Carolina used a touchdown and two-point conversion in the waning minutes to nip Virginia 22-21, Baylor topped No. 14 Arkansas 21-17 and Kansas needed Laverne Smith's 51-yard run with four minutes left to overcome Kansas State 20-13. Arizona State, No. 18, was idle.

Ohio State ace Griffin picked up 112 yards in 18 carries to go over the 100-yard mark for the 16th game in a row, but one of them was in the Rose Bowl so Griffin is two short of the record of 17 regular-season games held by Oklahoma's Steve Owens.

Oklahoma's winning 37-yard field goal by Tony DiRienzo with 5½ minutes left came after Texas went for it on fourth-and-one at midfield. Freshman Earl Campbell, who scored the Longhorns' only touchdown, made the necessary yard ... and then fumbled the ball away.

Leading 7-3 with three minutes remaining, the Florida State Seminoles gave heavily favored Alabama a deliberate safety when punter Joe Downey ran out of the end zone, setting up a free kick from the 20.

State then kicked into Alabama territory but the Crimson

Tide managed to drive into position for Berrey's winning three-point.

Michigan took advantage of a couple of fumbles to pile up a 21-0 halftime lead and defeat Michigan State. Missouri, which upset Nebraska a year ago, trailed the Cornhuskers 10-0 with 11½ minutes left but Steve Piskiewicz scored on a two-yard run and passed nine yards to Mark Miller for the winning touchdown. Tony Galbreath ran five yards for the Tigers' final score after an interception.

Notre Dame's Wayne Bullock barreled across from two yards out with three minutes to go, capping a 20-play, 80-yard drive that turned back Rice. Anthony Davis galloped for 194 yards and two touchdowns while second-stringers Allen Carter and Vince Evans also scored twice each in Southern Cal's rout of Washington State.

Vanderbilt committed six first-half turnovers, and also lost quarterback Fred Fisher in the early going but beat back Florida as David Lee directed four second-half scoring drives and Barry Burton caught five passes for 98 yards, including a five-yard touchdown and twopoint conversion.

Skip Walker tallied three times in the second period on runs of one, three and 23 yards en route to a 138-yard afternoon as Texas A&M downed Texas Tech. Kentucky became the first team to score a touchdown from scrimmage against Auburn; but Mitzl Jackson scored twice for the Tigers and the defense set up a pair of touchdowns with fumble recoveries.

North Carolina State's Dave Buckley completed 23 of 30 passes for 306 yards and a touchdown but the Wolfpack needed his two-yard quarterback sneak and Roland Hooks' two-point conversion run with 3:46 left to nip Virginia, which led 21-0 in the third quarter.

Bruce Hill fired two touchdown passes to "T" Bell and Willie Hamilton ran for two more as Arizona walloped Utah. Baylor's Steve Beard scored from a yard away with 68 seconds left to defeat Arkansas after the Bears recovered a fumble snap by Arkansas' punter.

Tom Shuman passed for two touchdowns and Jimmy Cefalo and Duane Taylor each scored twice in Penn State's romp of Wake Forest, which lost to Oklahoma last week 63-0.

The Kansas Jayhawks took a 12-0 lead on a touchdown run and a touchdown pass by Scott McMichael but K-State went in front 13-12 in the third quarter. Sherman Smith ran for two touchdowns and passed for another as Miami throttled Ohio U.

MSU Survives Fist Attack From Martin

By MIKE BRANDON, Ledger & Times Sports Editor

"Ladies and gentlemen, we hope you enjoyed our post-game show," the voice boomed over the public address system in Murray State's Stewart Stadium.

Most of the 14,000 fans did enjoy it. But for a couple of people on the field, the post-game fight between the University of Tennessee-Martin and Murray wasn't funny at all.

One in particular was freshman wide receiver Gary Brumm of the Racers, who in the final minutes of the game, had caught a touchdown pass to insure a 14-6 victory for Murray.

Brumm found himself minus a helmet and lying on the field under a group of UTM "animals."

After the game, he found six stitches in his lower lip. Even Racer Coach Bill Furgerson was attacked and knocked to the ground as he tried to break up one of the many skirmishes taking place on the field.

It all leads to the question: was it worth it?

For last year when Murray played at Martin, the two teams fought viciously for almost 30 minutes with fans on both sides getting involved in the free-for-all.

The Racers' All-American tailback Don Clayton wound up on the ground, throwing up blood because he had been kicked in the stomach so many times.

"We're not the only people they've fought with this year. We saw them in their game films of this season fight with several teams," Furgerson said.

"In a spring scrimmage game at North Alabama this year, they got into a fight that lasted 35 minutes."

Series Will Remain —

Many people have suggested to Furgerson the possibility of not playing UTM anymore, since the teams can't seem to have a game without bloodshed.

"We have two years left on our contract with them and you know, it's an interesting game for the people of this area. But we certainly need to stop the fighting."

"At the present time, we have no plans to stop our long-standing series with them," Furgerson added.

The physical game took its toll on Murray, leaving three or four people on the questionable list and there is a possibility that after examination of x-rays, several key players may be lost for the remainder of the season.

If there was anything good in the contest for Murray, besides the win, it was the outstanding running of Clayton.

Having his most potent offensive effort of the season, the senior Malden, Mo., native ripped through the Pacer defense for 186 yards on the ground, one gain of 68 yards in the final period setting up the insurance touchdown.

The performance boosted Clayton's total to 581 yards in five games for this season for an average of 116 per game, below his average of 140 last year when he set a single season rushing record at Murray with 1,403 yards.

Clayton carried the ball 27 times, many times breaking tackles by himself and simply gaining yardage by his "gut" play. But on several other occasions, Clayton had good blocking from right tackle Charlie Carpenter and first-time starter at right guard, Bill Lee.

Repeat Of Tech!

But in the first half, many of the fans at the huge crowd were beginning to believe they might see a repetition of what happened when Murray lost 26-0 to Tennessee Tech in the Racers' last game, two weeks before.

Just like the game at Tech, in which the offensive blocking was nil, Murray had a chance to score early in the game and gain momentum. But like at Tech, the early score didn't come.

In the first offensive series for the Racers, seven plays found Murray with a first and goal from the Martin seven.

After Clayton gained three on the first down play, fullback Bernie Behrendt was stopped for no gain.

Then two successive incomplete passes by Racer quarterback Tom Pandolfi gave the ball back to Martin.

"We should have scored on the first series," Furgerson said.

"We had a man wide open in the endzone but we just couldn't score."

The first period, which went by in a hurry, ended in a scoreless tie.

But early in the second quarter, the Racers got on the board as runningback David Brown plowed in on a fourth and one. The PAT was blocked by linebacker Larry Jasper and Martin led 6-0.

Murray did not threaten to score in the second period.

"It was the shortest half I've ever seen," Furgerson said.

"Martin threw only two passes. They tried to keep the ball on the ground and control the pace of the game."

Threaten Again

Midway through the third period, it looked as if Martin might score again as Pandolfi pitched out to Clayton, who fumbled the ball and was unable to pounce on it.

Martin recovered on the Murray 16. On the next play, the Racers picked up a first down, moving to the Murray six. But four plays later, they gave up the ball on downs as the Racer defense, stalled the Martin drive.

"We were most fortunate they didn't go for a field goal," Furgerson said.

In the next series of play for Murray, Clayton took the ball from Pandolfi on the Murray 19, ran through a hole opened by Russ Carlisle, Charlie Carpenter and Gary Brumm, and carried all the way down to the Martin seven before he was hit.

Clayton Scores

Three plays later, Clayton rumbled in from the six for the touchdown and after Flip Martin added the PAT, Murray led 7-6 with 1:36 left in the third period.

Early in the fourth period, Martin missed an attempted field goal from 39 yards. From there on, the Racers got absolutely nothing.

As the time ticked away, Murray began its drive for the one final TD.

On a third and four from the Martin 29, Clayton carried to the Pacer seven where he was hit.

And when he was hit, he went down.

"He was out cold," Furgerson said, "and I didn't want to take a chance on putting him back in then."

Kennedy Debuts

And it was at that time junior college transfer Art Kennedy made his debut. And what a start!

Kennedy, a back-up tailback for Clayton, carried three consecutive times and gained 13 yards. Then on a first and goal from the nine, Pandolfi connected with Brumm for the TD and after the PAT, Murray led 14-6 with 1:56 left in the contest.

And if that six-pointer didn't sew the decision up, then safety Bruce Martin did as he pulled down an interception on the Murray 25 and the Racers took over.

In two plays, Kennedy ran for 31 yards, one of which was good for 27. And then on the final play of the game, the Racers were lined up and just before the ball was supposed to be snapped, a Martin-linebacker roared through the line, intentionally, with the sole purpose of starting a fight.

He ran into big Dan Helfrich and was immediately met with a ringing right hand.

And for the next few minutes, at least a half-dozen different brawls broke open on the field before the teams finally stopped fighting and threw arms around each other and acted like old friends who hadn't met in years.

With friends like that, who needs enemies?

Martin Winless

Martin falls to 0-5 for the season and will have the opportunity to meet Eastern Kentucky at home this coming Saturday. Eastern is leading the Ohio Valley Conference race at the present time.

Meanwhile, Murray goes to 4-1 for the season and the conference mark still stands at 1-1.

The Racers will host Middle Tennessee at 2 p.m. Saturday in Stewart Stadium for Homecoming 1974.

Dodgers Even World Series

By KEN RAPPOPORT

AP Sports Writer
OAKLAND (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers are picking up speed in their "freeway series" with the Oakland A's.

"We've captured the momentum that we lost in the first game," said Joe Ferguson, hero of Sunday's 3-2 victory over the A's that tied the 1974 World Series at one game each. The A's won the first game by the same score.

Riding the crest of their dramatic victory at Dodger Stadium, the National League champions prepared to face the A's Tuesday in Game 3 at the Oakland Coliseum — a seven-hour car ride from Los Angeles.

Ferguson hopes he can produce as explosively as Sunday, when he belted an enormous two-run homer over the centerfield fence off Vida Blue.

terfield fence off Vida Blue.

The Dodgers will start little-used Al Downing against Catfish Hunter, the A's formidable 25-game winner. Explaining his choice of Downing over Doug Rau, normally the Dodgers' No. 3 pitcher, Manager Walt Alton noted: "Downing's been pitching better than Rau the last few times out. It's as simple as that."

The way the A's have been hitting of late, it may not take much to stop them, anyway.

"We've been having a hard time producing runs," said Al Dark, Manager of the American League champions. "We'll take them any way we can get them."

The A's were not able to score until the ninth inning Sunday. Shut out by Don Sutton through the first eight, the A's needed some breaks in the last inning to get men around the bases.

Sutton, a 19-game winner this year, hit Sal Bando with a pitch leading off the ninth and then gave up a check-swing double to Reggie Jackson that eluded Los Angeles third baseman Ron Cey.

Alston brought in strongman Mike Marshall from the bullpen at this point, but baseball's premier relief pitcher didn't exactly look in top form right away. He gave up a two-run single to Joe Rudi, and the A's were back in business.

with 10 men.

Fullback Dave Kennedy took Larson's place and made some good saves despite the fact that he had no experience as a goalkeeper.

Vandy scored five goals in the first half and three in the second. The day was theirs as they had luck and much of the officiating on their side.

Murray State's two goals came from shots by Jim Lukeman and Greg Gelhot in the last 15 minutes of the game. Also playing well for Murray were Hamid Sidat on offense and Adrian Hall on defense.

Murray State will play at home at 2 p.m. Sunday against the University of Alabama.

Vanderbilt Rips Murray State Soccer Team 8-2

By MIKE CAMPBELL

Murray State's soccer team is now 3-3 for the season after going down in a match at Vanderbilt this past weekend.

Weakened by a multitude of injuries and the exodus of the track men from the team, after the injury to track star Bert Jacobs, the Racers did well but could only score two goals in reply to the Commodores' eight.

Murray had the better of play in the first 20 minutes of the game but was set back when goalkeeper John Larson was kicked in the knee and had to leave the field.

Only eleven players had made the trip for the Racers so they had to play the rest of the game

Cards Edge Cowboys To Remain Undefeated, Pats Crush Jets

By BRUCE LOWITT

AP Sports Writer

The New England Patriots and St. Louis Cardinals are still having the time of their lives. The Miami Dolphins are starting to fight for theirs.

The Patriots, with Sam Cunningham's two touchdown runs providing the offense, ran roughshod over Joe Namath and smothered the New York Jets 24-0 Sunday while the St. Louis Cardinals, on Jim Bakken's clutch 31-yard field goal with 1:02 to play, stung the Dallas Cowboys 31-28.

That kept the two early-season surprises unbeaten through five National Football League games, along with the Minnesota Vikings, who shellacked Houston 51-10.

But the Dolphins, everybody's early-season favorite, dropped their second game of the campaign, falling 20-17 to the Washington Redskins, their old Super Bowl foes, on Sonny Jurgensen's second touchdown pass of the game, with a scant 16 seconds to play.

Patriots 24, Jets 0

Cunningham scored on a five-yard sweep around left end in the first period and a one-yard plunge in the fourth to lead the Patriots' attack. But it was the defensive unit that really sparkled, sacking the Jets' Joe Namath four times, intercepting two of his passes and two more by reserve quarterback Al Woodall, and limiting Namath to completions on just seven of 21 attempts for a meager 63 yards.

Cardinals 31, Cowboys 28

Jim Hart passed for two St. Louis touchdowns in the second period. But Roger Staubach, who had passed for one touchdown, ran one yard for the score that tied the game late in the final quarter.

Terry Metcalf then ran the ensuing kickoff 56 yards to the Cowboys' 34 and, five plays later, Bakken came through.

Redskins 20, Dolphins 17

The Dolphins shackled Billy Kilmer in their 14-7 Super Bowl victory two seasons ago. And Miami Coach Don Shula would have preferred to see him calling Washington's signals again. Instead, he saw Jurgensen engineer a seven-play, 60-yard drive in a minute and a half that ended with a six-yard touchdown pass to Larry Smith.

Vikings 51, Oilers 10

Minnesota had been forced in the past three games to scramble for victories so the trampling of Houston was more than just another notch in the win column, according to Coach Bud Grant.

"You can call it a morale day," he said.

Fran Tarkenton passed for 274 yards and three touchdowns in less than three quarters of play.

Packers 17, Rams 6

Green Bay intercepted four Los Angeles passes — three of them by linebacker Ted Hendricks — and turned two of the thefts into scores. But it was Jon Staggers who gave Green Bay the lead for good, running back a second-period punt 68 yards for a touchdown and a 7-3 edge.

Falcons 13, Bears 10

The Falcons limited Chicago to only 28 yards in the first half and 77 after three periods before the Bears struck on a long touchdown pass and added a late field goal to gain a 10-10 tie. That left the outcome in the hands — or, more precisely, on the foot — of Atlanta's Nick Mike-Mayer.

He acknowledged he was nervous when he trotted on the field with 10 seconds remaining, "but as soon as I kicked it I knew it was good," he said of the 31-yard boot.

Bills 27, Colts 14

Safety Neal Craig picked off

one of Bert Jones' few passes late in the first half and ran it back 55 yards for the touchdown that put the Bills ahead to stay at 10-7.

Jones passed for 44 yards — but was sacked five times for 43 yards in losses.

Bengals 34, Browns 24

Ken Anderson passed for 279 yards and three touchdowns — 28 yards to Lenvil Elliott, 65 to Charlie Joiner and 18 to Isaac Curtis — and ran 19 yards for another score in the Bengals' victory over Cleveland.

Raiders 14, Chargers 10

Trailing 10-7 going into the final period, Ken Stabler put the Raiders ahead to stay by ending an 80-yard drive with a four-yard touchdown pass to tight end Bob Moore.

Steelers 34, Chiefs 24

The Steelers' defense made seven interceptions with three by Glen Edwards who returned one 43 yards for a score — and two fumble recoveries. The Kansas City turnovers wrecked a three-touchdown performance by Mike Livingston.

Broncos 33, Saints 17

The Broncos' Steve Ramsey threw two touchdown passes while Otis Armstrong ran for a pair of scores, keeping New Orleans winless in 18 straight road games.

Eagles 35, Giants 7

New York took a 7-0 first-quarter lead before Philadelphia quarterback Roman Gabriel got things moving with his first two touchdown passes of the year. Jim Del Gaizo, replacing injured Norm Snead for the Giants, threw three pass interceptions, two that led to Eagle touchdowns.

Curci Proud Of Team After Loss To Auburn

By BOB COOPER

AP Sports Writer

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — It's a little difficult to be proud of a team that loses by 18 points, but Kentucky coach Fran Curci is up to the job.

Curci points to his Wildcats' offensive job over Auburn and admits that three fumbles and two pass interceptions helped to give the Tigers a 31-13 victory Saturday.

"You can't give Auburn that many fumbles and interceptions and expect to win," Curci said.

Kentucky, however, drove 236 yards on the ground — by far better than anyone this season against Auburn — and the Wildcats' Sonny Collins was responsible for 127 of them.

"Kentucky moved the ball well, as we knew they would," Auburn coach Shug Jordan said.

"They got it out from deep in a hole. When it looked like we had stopped them with an interception, the ball popped loose and they caught it. They kept the momentum and took it on in," Jordan added.

The reference was to a near-interception by Auburn safety Mike Fuller that ended in the hands of Kentucky's Tom Farmer. Three plays later Collins dashed 26 yards to set up a Kentucky touchdown.

Though Auburn was ranked 10th in the nation and Kentucky was completely forgotten by the voters who rate the nation's top teams, the Wildcats held Auburn at bay for the first half, which ended with Auburn holding a 14-7 edge.

Collins, both the hero and goat for Kentucky, fumbled on the first play of the second half to set up Auburn for its third touchdown — a drive from 17 — but was the star for Kentucky with 127 yards gained.

Kentucky meets LSU, a 20-10 winner over Tennessee last Saturday, in its next game at home Oct. 19.

"We have just got to gear up and change out thinking," Curci said. "But we proved that we can get the ball down to the goal line and take it in."

Curci was referring to three previous times this season that Kentucky got within the 10 yard line with first down and failed the score. Twice against Auburn they were at the threshold and put points on the board.

The nation's major collegians achieved an all-time high in field goal accuracy in 1973 at 49.9 per cent.

LEAPING HIGH — Murray State tight end Doug Sanders leaps high to try for a pass from quarterback Tom Pandolfi. Defending for UTM is Terry Carter (58). The Racers took a 14-6 win over their neighbors from the south.

Students Enter Three New County Elementary Schools Today

Southwest Elementary

Open - Type Classrooms

Moving Nearly Complete

By DAVID HILL

Murray Ledger & Times Writer

Students entered the three new county elementary schools for the first time this morning, and seemed to like what they saw. Although some bus routes will have to be changed and other minor modifications implemented, Supt. William Miller said things are going smoothly in the transition from the six old elementary schools to the three new ones.

"Everyone has been extremely helpful," Miller said. The parents have volunteered and worked all weekend to help in the moving, and within a week to ten days, everything should be in place.

Miller asked the cooperation of parents until the minor changes in some bus routes can be worked out by the respective principals.

The three schools have become a model for Kentucky school construction. All three were built at the same time, for an estimated savings of $600,000 to $900,000.

The $3 million project was completed in just over a year, despite bad weather, a late start, and materials shortages.

The Southwest School is the smallest of the three, with an enrollment now of 470 students. The North and East Schools are the same size, with respective enrollments of 675 and 685.

Teachers Meet For Luncheon

The First District Business and Distributive Education Teachers met for a luncheon meeting on Friday at the Holiday Inn with approximately forty teachers and guests present.

Vicki Shell, president, welcomed the group and introduced the guest speaker, Walter Apperson, publisher of the Murray Ledger & Times, who had as his topic, "How To Use Public Relations With Business and Distributive Education Programs."

Also speaking briefly at the luncheon were Nancy Wilson, Hopkinsville Community College, Kentucky president of the Business Education Association, and Buddy Rushing, Lone Oak High School, president-elect of the Kentucky Association of Distributive Education Teachers.

Officers elected for the new year were Martha Crawford, president, and Brenda Nix, secretary, both from the Murray Area Vocational Education Center.

State Won't Appeal Latest Tax Assessment Ruling In Franklin

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The state has about decided not to appeal the latest "fair cash value" tax assessment case but, instead, to use it as a spur to make future assessments nearer that level.

State Revenue Commissioner John Ross said in an interview late last week he was "95 per cent decided" not to appeal the decision handed down by Franklin Circuit Judge Henry Meigs two weeks ago.

Meigs initially ruled property assessments for tax purposes had to be at "100 per cent of cash value." Since the 1965 Court of Appeals decision ordering assessments to be at full cash value, the state revenue department has used that as a goal but in practice has allowed assessments to be as low as 85 per cent of cash value.

Preliminary 1974 figures indicate 10 of Kentucky's 120 counties might now have their property assessed at between 85 and 86 per cent of fair cash value. Another 29 counties appear to be between 86 and 90 per cent.

Meigs' initial ruling appeared to mean all property in the state had to be assessed at 100 per cent of its cash value, a degree of perfection which Ross and Property Valuation Administrators (PVAS) said was impossible.

Perhaps for that reason, Meigs modified his ruling, a week later to say property would have to be assessed at its "fair cash value." Meigs said the change in wording did not change his intent but the revenue department interpreted it as being somewhat of a reaffirmation of the 1965 Court of Appeals ruling.

Ross still said, however, that Meigs' decision "put us on notice that we'll have to improve. He indicated the minimum standard we were using for acceptance (85 per cent) was not satisfactory."

"We don't really disagree with Judge Meigs," Ross added. "We've admitted in the past we weren't satisfied with 85 per cent. Now we have a little more impetus to do better."

"Whether it's hard or not, we're under a mandate to do it," he said. Ross said the department probably would ask for more manpower in its next budget request to help it keep assessments nearer full cash value.

One way in which Ross said he hoped to get assessments raised this year in counties where they are low overall is to concentrate on inequities within counties. That will take more analysis than in the past, when only the overall assessments were examined by the Revenue Department.

Each year, the revenue department now takes the actual price of property sales in each county and divides that into the property assessment for that year. The resulting figure for the whole county gives the 85 or 90 per cent or what-have-you as the assessment level.

Ross said his department now will start looking at the dispersion of assessments within a county as well as the county as a whole. If that shows one area of a county is under-assessed substantially more than another

All but Mardian also are charged with obstruction of justice, which carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison and a $5,000 fine.

In addition, Mitchell is charged with two counts of lying to a grand jury, one count of lying to FBI agents and one of lying to the Senate Watergate committee.

Haldeman is charged with three counts of lying to the Watergate committee and Ehrlichman is charged with one count of lying to FBI agents and two counts of lying to a grand jury.

Each of the perjury counts carries a maximum penalty of five years in prison with fines ranging from $2,000 to $10,000 for each.

The indictment returned by a federal grand jury on March 1, 1973, charged the defendants "would corruptly influence, obstruct and impede" the investigation of the June 17, 1972, break-in at Democratic National Committee headquarters.

It took nine days to seat the jury of nine women and three men that will hear the case. Sirica admonished the jurors to discuss the case with no one and to "give each one of these defendants the same kind of a fair and impartial trial you would want to receive if you were seated in their place."

He ordered them sequestered for the duration of the trial, expected to last three to four months. They are lodged at a motor inn about two miles from the courthouse.

Saturday, the day after the jury was sequestered, special Watergate prosecutor Leon Jaworski announced his resignation, effective Oct. 25. Aides said Jaworski, who had served for a year, waited until the jury was locked up before making the announcement to avoid any pre-trial publicity.

He recommended that his deputy, Henry S. Ruth, succeed him.

Even as the jury finally began hearing the case, behind-the-scenes maneuvering continued among the lawyers seeking advantage for their client.

Focus of much of the maneuvering was Nixon, who, while still President, was named an indicted co-conspirator in the case.

Both Haldeman and Ehrlichman want Nixon to appear as a defense witness.

Sirica made public motions from the two former White House aides and the former President's request that subpoenas directing him to appear be dismissed.

The judge ordered responses to the Nixon requests filed by the end of the day Wednesday. He said he then would schedule oral arguments.

Nixon also was subpoenaed by the prosecution. Haldeman said he is asking that a subpoena be issued.

In asking that the subpoenas be quashed, Nixon's lawyers said the former President requires three to six months additional treatment for phlebitis.

Both Ehrlichman and Haldeman asked that the trial be delayed and each also requested a separate trial. Sirica denied Ehrlichman's request. Haldeman's, which used much the same arguments, primarily the unavailability of Nixon as a defense witness, still was pending.

Both former White House aides said they needed Nixon's testimony to support their versions of unrecorded conversations in which they indicated they either knew little of the cover-up or had advocated full disclosure of the involvement of re-election committee officials in the Watergate bugging and break-in.

Kissinger Continues Talks In Mideast Today

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger gained Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's assurance today that he will try to rally support at the Arab summit for interim agreements with Israel.

"There are positive indications that we are making progress toward a just peace in the area," the secretary said at Sadat's residence outside Cairo.

Kissinger also announced he would return to the Middle East the first week of November, following visits to Russia and the Indian subcontinent.

After his talks with Sadat, Kissinger flew to Damascus for talks with Syrian President Hafez Assad. Later, he flies to Algeria.

Sadat, the key leader in Kissinger's Middle East diplomacy, seemed to be walking on eggs as he agreed to take the initiative at the Arab summit in Morocco on Oct. 26.

"Why am I asked about guarantees?" he exclaimed when a newsman asked whether Egypt was prepared to offer them to Israel in return for a withdrawal in Sinai. "I myself, I need guarantees," Sadat said. But he added that he was "very optimistic" about the summit.

The West German news magazine Der Spiegel quoted Sadat as saying he would be ready to sign a peace agreement if Israel pulls back from territories occupied during the 1967 war.

As Kissinger arrived in Damascus, Egyptian Foreign Minister Ismail Fahmy flew to Moscow for talks aimed at improving Soviet-Egyptian ties, arranging a visit to Cairo by Soviet leader Leonid Brezhnev, and reopening the Moscow-Cairo arms pipeline.

The pipeline practically dried up after Egypt backed U.S. diplomatic initiatives to end last October's Middle East war.

In Jerusalem, former Defense Minister Moshe Dayan signed a petition opposing Israeli withdrawal from occupied Jordan.

The petition was circulated by the right-wing opposition Likud bloc, and Dayan's action raised speculation he would quit Israel's ruling Labor party and join Likud.

closure. "My financial resources are very small," he commented, saying he had to sell his home in Louisville and that incidentally Sen. Walter (Dee) Huddleston, D-Ky., also had to sell his home in Elizabethtown.

The allegations by syndicated columnist Jack Anderson came up again. Anderson wrote recently that Cook had accepted various favors from big lobbyists, including many free rides on an Ashland Oil Co. airplane.

"My opponent has used those same aircraft, and my junior senator has used them," Cook said, apparently the first mention of Huddleston riding the craft.

Cook, declaring convenience was the motive for using the plane, was asked if he feels he has done anything wrong.

"No, but I don't think I'd do it again," he said. The senator said he proudly owns up to Anderson's contention he is the most responsible senator to the tobacco industry.

Other Cook comments: "If the senate race indeed is 'flat even,' as he asserted last Friday, the visit by President Ford to Louisville next Saturday 'could put me ahead.'"

He does not know if he will support the confirmation of vice president-designate Nelson Rockefeller until he delves into the significance of newly-revealed cash gifts by the former New York governor to various officials and politicians.

It is true he once supported construction of a dam at the scenic Red River Gorge, which he now strongly opposes, but that was because he had "very little knowledge of the gorge then—I can only apologize for my ignorance."

Mills' GOP Oponent Optimistic About Chances Of Winning

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Republican Judy Petty says she is "completely, totally, absolutely optimistic" about her chances for defeating Rep. Wilbur D. Mills next month.

The 30-year-old divorcee says the Tidal Basin incident in Washington last week involving Mills will be a factor in the election, "but not because I make it so."

Mills' car, in which he was a passenger, was stopped last Monday near the Tidal Basin for traveling at high speed and with headlights out, according to police reports. Another passenger in the car, a woman later identified as a former stripper, leaped into the basin and had to be rescued by a policeman.

Many observers originally believed Mrs. Petty would make a poor showing against Mills in the general elections. But her chances for topping the chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee may have improved since the Tidal Basin incident.

She has maintained that the Mills incident is a personal matter, not a campaign issue. She has concentrated her drive against the 65-year-old Democrat on illegal campaign contributions — especially from dairy interests.

"Wilbur Mills is up to his knees in sour milk," Mrs. Petty said.

Pretending a slip-of-the-tongue, she occasionally refers to her opponent as "Wilbur Milk." Cartoonists, taking the theme, have shown a Mills-faced cat licking cream from its whiskers.

The Watergate Committee report says more than $80,000 was illegally given from corporate assets of dairy groups to "draft Mills" organizations which operated in 1971 and 1972 before Mills said he was running for the Democratic presidential nomination.

Mrs. Petty has campaigned much more vigorously than Mills, who has hardly put in appearances that could be construed as campaign ventures. In one week, she made 26 stops in one county and met factory shifts around the clock.

She has accused Mills of doing little in his Ways and Means post to rid the nation of inflation and what she calls an inequitable tax system that needs reform.

Mrs. Petty says she entered politics in order to support herself and her daughter after her marriage broke up. She and her 10-year-old daughter Debbie live with Mrs. Petty's parents in Little Rock.

Until her divorce in 1967, Mrs. Petty's political involvement was limited to work as a neighborhood volunteer for Winthrop Rockefeller in his 1964 and 1966 gubernatorial campaigns.

Murray native Dr. Joe E. Tarry, recently appointed to the Music Department faculty of Cumberland College, presented a vocal recital September 26 in the Gatliff Chapel on the Cumberland campus.

Dr. Tarry, who specializes in voice, music education, and church music, showed versatility and finesse in his presentation of music from the 17th through 20th centuries. Included in his repertoire were pieces by Bach, Handel, and Purcell from the 17th century, German and French art songs of the 19th century, arias from three Italian operas, and English songs by contemporary American and British composers. Miss Gayle Breedlove, who is also a member of the Cumberland Music Department, provided piano accompaniment.
