Daughaday Responds To Curris' Statement

Dr. Charles Daughaday, associate professor of English at Murray State University, and chairman of the MSU Faculty Organization, has responded to President Constantine Curris' defense of the tenure policy at MSU.

Curris had responded to the organization's action of censuring the board of regents and the Curris administration, an action that was taken October 10.

Curris' remarks said he regretted the censure action, and went on to say he did not apologize for the board's action in denying tenure to 21 of 45 professors eligible last spring.

Curris' statement read in part, "The university does not apologize for its high standards, nor do we apologize for our resolve to attract and retain only the most highly qualified and competent faculty."

Dr. Daughaday, said he concurs with MSU President Constantine Curris in the desire to improve the excellence of the MSU faculty, yet in doing so, Daughaday pointed out, Dr. Curris should be guided by the high standards of the AAUP rather than his own personal policies.

These AAUP standards are accepted throughout the country by all leading academic institutions, Daughaday said. These principles are endorsed by 90 professional organizations (See Daughaday, Page 12)

MSU May Receive Additional Funds To Meet Inflated Prices

Murray State University may be allocated an additional $201,399 in state funds to help meet extraordinary inflationary operational cost increases.

The Kentucky Council on Public Higher Education, meeting in Frankfort Tuesday, voted to recommend to Gov. Wendell H. Ford that the allocation be authorized following a presentation of the University's needs by its president, Dr. Constantine W. Curris.

Among the University's increasing operational expenses spotlighted by President Curris were those for coal and electricity.

In November of 1973, the University was paying $16.02 per ton for its coal. This year, the rate has jumped to $33 per ton, or an increase of more than 100 percent. Murray State uses from 3,000 to 4,500 tons of coal per year, depending upon the severity of the winter, a University official said.

The University's electricity rate also has increased, from .0087 per kilowatt hour to .01324 per kilowatt hour, or an increase of 52.2 percent.

Ford Back In Frankfort After Stand In Louisville

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Gov. Wendell Ford was back in Frankfort today after two days of U.S. Senate campaign appearances in Louisville.

Speaking at civic-club luncheons, rallies of Democratic supporters and at a local high school, Ford called for national tax reform, a stronger national energy research and development program and improvement in the economy.

He said Kentucky could set good examples in these areas, and criticized his Republican opponent, incumbent Sen. Marlow Cook, for his attacks on the Democratic state administration.

"At a time when it seems convenient for some to find fault, to criticize, or to belittle, there are numerous reasons for Kentuckians to express pride," Ford told a Kiwanis Club luncheon Wednesday.

"There are many programs underway in Kentucky which are designed to help people," he said. "These programs can be carried a step further—to Washington—by breaking down the barriers of federal isolation by creating a personal rather than an impersonal federal government."

He said Kentucky has "a far-reaching energy research and development program. Our nation can also have one."

Because of its energy program and large coal reserves, Ford said, Kentucky could be "the Saudi Arabia of the United States."

"We can be dependent on ourselves because we were smart enough to figure it out," he said.

"To eliminate reliance on foreign nations for energy," Ford said, "...this country has to move now on a workable energy research and development program."

A pressing need also exists

Defense Lawyers Challenge Playing Of White House Tape

WASHINGTON (AP)—Prosecutors at the Watergate cover-up trial prepared today to play one of the subpoenaed White House tapes but defense lawyers quickly challenged whether the recording could be used as evidence.

With former White House counsel John W. Dean III on the stand as the first prosecution witness, the government planned to play the tape of a Sept. 15, 1972, conversation Dean had with then-President Richard M. Nixon and H. R. Haldeman, Nixon's chief-of-staff and one of the five cover-up defendants.

Before the jury entered the courtroom, John J. Wilson, Haldeman's lawyer, was on his feet challenging the use of the White House tapes as evidence.

"I want to examine Mr. Dean on his memory of these tapes before they go into evidence," Wilson said.

Wilson urged U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica to set a far stricter standard for admissibility of the tapes than had been suggested by the prosecutors.

In a memorandum submitted Wednesday to Sirica the prosecutors argued that the tapes would be admissible so long as one of the participants, Dean in this case, "recalls all the participants in the conversations, identifies all the voices on the tapes as those of the participants, and who recalls the substance of the conversations as well as many details of the conversation."

The prosecutors argued there was no need for Dean "to remember each and every detail of the conversation."

Wilson, however, argued for far more questioning of Dean's memory of details.

The defense attorney also threatened to object line by line during the playing of the tapes on the grounds of relevancy.

Sirica said he would permit no such tactic.

Weeks ago, the judge permitted installation of electronic equipment in his second-floor courtroom so that everyone, from the jury of nine women and three men to the spectators, could listen to tapes through earphones.

ASC Committee Nominees Now Being Petitioned

Farmers are reminded that the county ASCS office is now receiving nominations for ASC committee election candidates, said Glenn Crawford, Chairman Calloway County ASC Committee, who encourages farmers to use this opportunity to nominate their farm neighbors as candidates in the ASC committee election.

The ASC election will be conducted by mail from Nov. 22 to Dec. 2. Eligible farm voters will be provided with instructions for filling out the secret ballot and returning it to the county ASCS office.

Most resident farmers are eligible to hold office as ASC committeemen. If a farmer would like detailed information concerning eligibility requirements, he or she should contact the county ASCS office.

In filling out a petition, farmers should be careful to include the name of only one nominee, the signatures of at least three eligible ASC voters who support the nominee, and certification that the nominee is willing to serve if elected. Petitions must contain this information; without it, they will not be accepted. The completed petition should be dated and mailed or hand-delivered to the county ASCS office no later than Oct. 29.

ASC committee elections are open to all eligible ASC voters without regard to race, color, religion, sex, or national origin. Crawford explains that any concerned farmer with an interest in serving fellow producers would be an asset to the ASC committee. For this reason, farmers are urged to petition for the farmers of their choice. The individual producer will benefit in the long run from a responsible, concerned team of ASC committeemen in the local administration of U. S. government farm programs, Crawford said.

Calloway County has four ASC communities. The names of these communities are: A, B, C and D.

Ford Denies 'Deal' Behind The Resignation Of Richard Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Ford, in a historic personal appearance before a congressional panel, said today he discussed the possibility of pardoning Richard M. Nixon if he resigned as president, but declared there was no deal behind the subsequent pardon.

Reading a lengthy statement in matter-of-fact tones, Ford told the nationally broadcast House Judiciary subcommittee hearing that "I assure you that there never was at any time any agreement whatsoever concerning a pardon to Mr. Nixon if he were to resign and I were to become President."

It was the first documented appearance of a sitting President before a congressional panel, and Ford said he agreed to voluntarily testify to fully and fairly present the facts behind his pardon of Nixon.

From the witness chair in the same room where the full Judiciary Committee conducted its hearings three months ago on Nixon's impeachment, Ford made these major disclosures:

—On Aug. 1 and 2, at meetings with Nixon's staff chief, Alexander M. Haig, and Nixon's chief attorney, James D. St. Clair, there was discussion of a pardon for Nixon if he resigned—as Nixon did on Aug. 9. But Ford said he made clear that "nothing we had talked about ... should be given any consideration" by Nixon in deciding whether to resign.

—The only condition he placed on the pardon he granted was that Nixon would accept it.

—He had no reports from physicians or psychiatrists on Nixon's health, but did talk to others who had seen Nixon after he resigned. But these reports "were not a controlling factor in my decision."

—He has decided that pardon requests of other Watergate figures will be routed through the Justice Department and he will consider them only after they are so processed.

His statement concluded, Ford answered questions put by subcommittee members in turn, and firmly rejected any suggestion that there would have been reason for Haig to advise Nixon prior to his resignation that he might be pardoned if he quit the White House.

The question was raised by Rep. Don Edwards, D-Calif.,

and Ford replied: "None whatsoever. Categorically no."

Ford said he discussed the pardon with Haig on Aug. 1 only because the Nixon adviser had told him of various options being considered in the White House, and asked him for any recommendations he might make. "I had none," Ford said.

Edwards also noted that mercy was one of the considerations in the Nixon pardon, and asked whether the same consideration might now apply to the five men now on trial in Washington for the Watergate cover-up.

Saturday Will Be Truly A Homecoming For Uniforms

Saturday truly will be a "homecoming" for 36 blue-and-gold band uniforms formerly used by the Murray State University School band, phased out in 1970.

Wearing them and marching proudly in the annual Murray State Homecoming parade will be the 36-piece marching band from Little Frederick Fraize High School in Cloverport.

In August, Murray State President Constantine W. Curris presented 50 of the uniforms, along with uniforms for the drum major and the band director, to the Cloverport school after learning that the high school of about 300 students in Breckinridge County could not participate in the town's Sacajawea Festival because it had no uniforms.

A guest band generally headed the festival's colorful parade, but no more. This year, on Aug. 10, the Fraize High band headed the parade, fully-uniformed in the gift uniforms from Murray State.

Although several years old, the uniforms are in excellent condition and had been in storage since the high school was discontinued at the campus facility.

"We will be marching Saturday to express our appreciation to Murray State University and its administration for this thoughtful gesture," said Daniel Armes, band director and a 1974 graduate of Murray State.

"The uniforms have given our band program a tremendous boost. We are well pleased with the response of the Cloverport community to the program and with the increasing interest being shown in it," he said.

Marching with the band Saturday will be majorettes Regina Brandie, Tonja Stinnett, Lisa Cander and Gail Goodwin.

Cook Charges Indifference By Ford To Coal Area Needs

PIKEVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Sen. Marlow Cook, seeking votes in this coal country, has charged his democratic opponent with indifference to the area's needs.

In speeches Wednesday to Pikeville college students, a civic club and in various interviews the Republican nominee hammered at the contention that Gov. Wendell Ford is not giving Eastern Kentucky its fair share of excess revenues from the severance tax.

"You've heard of absentee ownership of the mines," he said. "This is an absentee tax depriving your people of things they need."

Cook said proceeds from the severance tax are "going" all over the commonwealth for the whims and desires of the state administration.

He asked how a Pike County youngster could be convinced the tax, instead of helping better his life, "should go to the convention center at Louisville or boat docks."

The boat docks reference was to controversial leases the state administration has made to what Cook calls political favorites of Ford.

"If the state administration had initiative and vision it would have earmarked the severance tax proceeds for where it came from—to build roads, improve health and the quality of living," Cook said.

A specified excess of severance tax revenue now goes back to coal counties, but generally only for development and recreation facilities and under state supervision.

Partly to counter this system, Pike County recently enacted an ordinance levying a "coal franchise tax," the proceeds to be used only for construction and improvement of area roads, many damaged by overweight trucks.

Although the ordinance already is under court test, several other eastern Kentucky counties have indicated they plan similar approaches.

The severance tax—1 per cent of a minimum of 30 cents per ton—was enacted by the 1972 legislature and has been a sore point with both the coal industry and mountain people, who feel not enough of the revenue is going back to them.

The issue touched off a minor revolt in the 1974 session, with a mountain delegation pushing through a plan that was squelched by the administration, which then offered its own version.

Cook tried to make it clear he was interested in eastern Kentucky, telling the Rotary Club: "If you think I'm a senator from a tobacco state, I think I'm also a senator from a coal state."

Murray City Mayor John Scott will recommend to the City Council that another planner be hired to replace Richard Nash, who resigned his position yesterday.

"We are in a position to receive additional government grants, and we need a planner to be eligible for them," Scott said.

He added that Nash has done an excellent job in the months he has served as City Planner, and said, "I hate to see him go."

Nash announced his resignation yesterday after serving as Murray's first City Planner since last February.

Claimed to be gay, now he must pay

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by The Chicago Tribune

DEAR ABBY: I am a male, 29 years old. I served in the Air Force for three years. I worked with security police. I didn't like it, so I told my commander I wanted to change jobs, but he kept putting things off, so I went to the chaplain and told him I was gay and wanted out.

I was sent to a psychiatrist. He believed me and got me a lawyer and I got out with an honorable discharge.

I've been out for nearly four years. The Army recruiting office called me and asked me if I wanted to join the Army and get into nurse's training. (He said he knew by my record that I had worked in a hospital, which is true.) Naturally, I didn't give him any details about how I got discharged.

I am bored and would like to get back into the Army, but I don't want to be embarrassed. What are my chances for getting in?

NO NAME OR LOCATION PLEASE

DEAR NO: Forget the Army. A caper like yours cost the Air Force time and money. And who knows, you might have another dodge up your sleeve.

DEAR ABBY: I recently hired a woman to work from 8 to 4 five days a week. I pay her a top salary by the hour to do the laundry and general housework.

Fanny (not her real name) arrives at 8:00 and immediately starts to prepare herself a four-course breakfast, which usually consists of fresh fruit, hot cereal, pancakes or French toast, bacon and eggs, biscuits and four cups of coffee. I provide all the food, and have never placed any restrictions on what she may have.

After breakfast, Fanny takes a bath and changes into her uniform. By then it's 9:00.

She works until 12 noon, and then prepares herself an ample lunch which she eats while reading a foreign newspaper. This takes her one full hour.

At 1:00 Fanny resumes her work. Promptly at 3:00, she quits, takes another bath and changes into her street clothes. She leaves at 4:00.

Fanny is a good worker. She's honest, clean and dependable. But since she is being paid to work by the hour, I think a lunch break is all she's entitled to, and that she should bathe and breakfast on her own time. She lives less than a 30-minute drive from here.

If you agree with me, please tell me how to tell her.

FANNY'S MISSUS

DEAR MISSUS: Tell her in English, unless you can talk better in her language.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for 12 years and have three children, 5, 9, and 10.

Pat makes a very good living selling. He's been with the same company ever since we've been married and has turned down many promotions because he didn't want to travel out of this state.

Now he has been offered what his boss calls "the opportunity of a lifetime"—but it would mean being away from home for two weeks out of every month. He turned it down.

His boss is cool to him, and thinks he's crazy. His parents are barely speaking to us because they think he made a big mistake, but he and I still think he made the right choice.

Abby, we like money as much as the next person, but we feel that during these years, when our children are growing up, they need a fulltime father, and to us that is more important than anything else.

Are we out of our minds?

JANE AND PAT

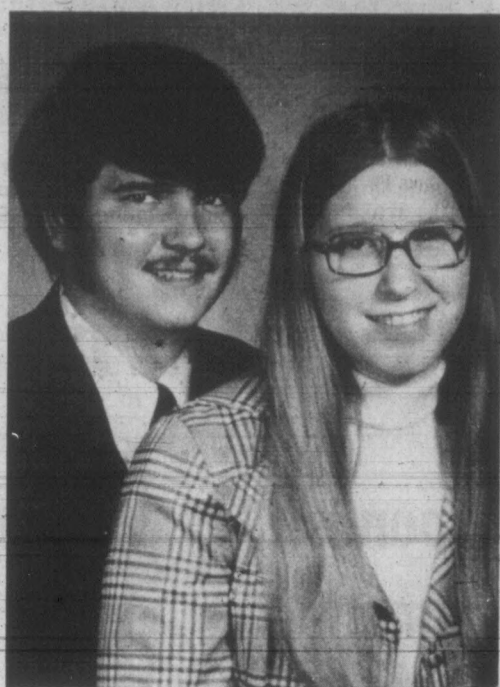

DEAR JANE: Not in my book. I think you're beautiful.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212.

A 'crisp' finale

Sprinkle with one tablespoon lemon juice. Combine one-third cup sifted all-purpose flour, one cup quick or old-fashioned oats, uncooked, one-half cup firmly packed brown sugar, one teaspoon cinnamon and one-half teaspoon salt. Add one-third cup melted butter or margarine, mixing until crumbly. Sprinkle crumb mixture over apples or peaches. Bake in preheated moderate oven (375° F) 30 minutes. Makes six servings.

Think Of Inflation Before November Vote

It seems doubtful if any Administration or congressional majority could enforce the stern measures necessary to halt inflation long enough for those measures to be effective.

What happens if a Senator or member of the House of Representatives goes home to run for reelection and his constituents find he voted for tight money policies that meant high interest rates and difficult days for the home buyer and builder.

Or what if he supported cuts in welfare programs to reduce federal spending and those cuts resulted in a loss of income for his unemployed constituents?

How many people would vote for the Congressman, who, because of his anti-inflationary policies, may have helped put them out of a job. The family with high medical bills may find it hard to vote for the Representative or Senator who was instrumental in helping stop passage of a National Health Insurance system because he knew it would have ultimately bankrupted the taxpayer or broken the federal budget.

Yet, unless there is voter support for men and women who will take such hard measures, unlimited inflation is inevitable.

The ultimate end of such a spiral is, of course, the point where money ceases to function as money and be accepted in return for real goods or services. Then it is time to start all over again.

Think about that when you go to the polls this Fall. There are always plenty of easy-way-out people and big spenders ready to give us everything for nothing and take all we have to pay for it. Will WE, as voters, follow that dead-end road?

Immunization Action Month

The real wealth of any nation is its people and this generation's most important work is keeping today's crop of children healthy, educating them and giving them a sense of integrity and respect for the nation's past, as well as hope for its future. Modern parents have unprecedented opportunities to guard the health of their children.

The month of October was first designated in 1973 as Immunization Action Month—a time to remind everyone responsible for the care of young children of their opportunity and their obligation to guard those youngsters against many diseases, now totally preventable, that were the scourges of mankind for millennia.

Under the direction of the U. S. Center for Disease Control, the Immunization Action Month (IAM) program this year is a nationwide campaign to raise immunization levels of millions of preschool children. The American Academy of Family Physicians, the American Academy of Pediatrics and the American Osteopathic Association, which coordinate IAM, are lending their support to the effort.

The goal is to immunize at least 90 per cent of an estimated five million susceptible children between the ages of one and four against polio, measles, rubella, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough by the time they enter the first grade. Physicians will be encouraged to urge parents, if available records do not indicate it, to determine if their children have been immunized against these diseases and, if not, to take immediate action.

Last year, following the first IAM program, there was up to a 20 per cent increase in vaccines used to prevent measles, rubella and polio during the two months of October and November.

During the month of October 1974, see to it that your children are protected. It is a little something you can do for America's future.

Tax And Spend—Again

President Ford really stumbled in proposing a 5 per cent surcharge on corporations and families with gross incomes of $15,000 or more. If enacted into law, the surcharge would put more billions into the hands of the federal bureaucracy.

The way to fight inflation is to deprive the federal bureaucrats of money, not give them additional funds.

Much of the money raised by the surcharge would be spent on the creation of the Community Improvements Corps, a new makework agency for the unemployed. This is the New Deal WPA program under another name. Let's not go back to vintage boondoggles.

It is dismaying that the President, who has spoken so eloquently about the need to fight inflation, doesn't realize that the fight can't be won by creating another federal agency or by placing a new tax burden on employers and other productive citizens.

As for creating public service jobs to counter a recession, that simply places a heavier burden on those who are employed or who provide jobs in a community. We have been this route before in this country—and it hasn't led anywhere. We simply must not go back to New Deal, pump-priming economics with its make-work programs and soak-the-productive philosophy.

Now is the time to cut taxes on business and to slash federal budgets of federal agencies. As U.S. Rep. Floyd D. Spence (R-S.C.), said, "the people need a reduction in taxes."

The Daily Oklahoman in Oklahoma City made a great deal of sense the other day when it noted editorially that "Taxing the money out of citizens' pockets and into the Treasury does not take it out of circulation—that was always a wartime rationale for higher taxes. The federal government today puts it back into circulation faster than it can take it away from the citizens."

President Ford's speech was lacking in such common sense economics. Clearly, he is getting the wrong advice—more of the same old liberal economic advice that got this country into a jam in the Kennedy, Johnson and Nixon administrations.

If the President and the Congress want to bring inflation under control, they will have to deal sternly with the union monopoly, which drives up prices in every industry. The President and the Congress also need to hit at the widespread welfareism and parasitism manifested in the food stamp program which provides a subsidy for more than 12 million Americans every month—more than double that number some months.

The Executive and Legislative Branches must abandon reliance on super-regulation of industry and price controls on natural gas, for instance, which restricts development of this needed energy resource.

But all that requires vision and fortitude. And accurate understanding of our national situation is lacking in the White House and the Congress, as is determination to fight the union bosses and oppose the demands of career welfareists.

That's why the country gets another proposal to squeeze the middle class and put another penalty on business.

Mr. Ford shouldn't bear all the blame, of course. Congress has been unwilling to abolish the foreign aid program, which is utterly inexcusable in the light of the country's financial plight. Moreover, the economic genius of Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Majority Leader, runs to restoring wage and price controls, which haven't worked at any time in the past.

Sen. Hubert Humphrey urges federal make-work programs on a colossal scale, plus new federal subsidies for housing—all without any consideration as to how these programs will be funded.

The country's trouble is short-sighted or uninformed legislators and public officials who prefer politics as usual to abandonment of the federal government's giant edifice of subsidies, regulations and spending programs.

The states and localities are almost as bad as the federal government. They, too, persist in funding unnecessary programs and in planning prestige projects for which there is no justification in the midst of a grave national economic crisis.

The important question is: do the voters recognize sound economic advice when they hear it? For a generation or more, Americans have been told that government can tax and spend its way out of any difficulty. They may not understand that excessive taxation and deficit spending means the ruin of the United States and every family in it.

Let's Stay Well

The Tall Girl

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

Many parents, seeing a young daughter grow unduly rapidly, become alarmed about what her ultimate height may be. Their concern is usually unjustified. Tall girls run in tall families.

To allay their fears, the parents should take their daughter to a physician who specializes in diseases of glands of the body, an endocrinologist, for study. He will determine her bone age, which reflects sexual maturity better than chronological age does; and treatment, if considered, authorities agree, should usually not begin before bone age of 13 years—certainly not before 11 1/2 years.

The question of the feasibility of treatment arises, as the small amount of height reduction may not be worth the risk of the possible side effects of the drug used—especially the unknown long-range effects.

Some time ago, Edgar J. Schoen, M.D., and associates reported in the American Journal of Diseases of Children on 38 tall girls whom they had observed. All, whose height was above the 97th percentile, were from tall families. The study was done in the Department of Pediatrics, Endocrinology Section, at Kaiser-Permanente Medical Center, Oakland, Calif.

Twenty-one of the girls received estrogen treatment (Premarin).

The study indicated "a statistically significant probability that exogenous estrogen limits ultimate height, but only by an average of about 4 cm (1.6 inch)."

The tall girl is blessed, usually, with stateliness, provided she does not slump to a lowly mien. Many are envious of her stature.

Q. Mrs. F. asks about the cause of "ganglion tumors," particularly whether they are hereditary.

A. These tumors are not hereditary. They occur near the ankle or foot but most often near the wrist or hand. Such tumors result from a tear in the fibrous tissue covering tendons. These are surrounded by a bursa or lubricating sac which allows the tendon to slide back and forth as the muscle contracts and relaxes. This bursal lining bulges out through the tear and appears as a swollen, firm, tumor under the skin. Such swellings may also be noted near other joints if the bursa or lubricating sac becomes inflamed. Surgical removal is indicated if the area is painful or unsightly. The outpocketing may recur if the tear in the fibrous lining is not, or cannot be, closed at the time of surgery.

Q. My mother is anemic, her hemoglobin being 10 grams. What is normal for women?

A. The normal value for females is 14 grams per cent (14 grams/100 ml.) and the normal for males is 16 grams per cent.

By GENE McCUTCHEON
Murray Ledger & Times Editor

The disclosure this week by a state highway department official that purchases for the right-of-way for the four-laning of U.S. Highway 641 from Murray to Benton left us gasping for breath, thinking, "Oh no. They're not actually going ahead with a four-lane in Calloway County are they?"

Surely the state government officials aren't going to try to thwart the progress of Murray and Calloway County by building a super highway that crosses the Calloway County boundary.

They have threatened us with such a move several times in the past, but each time, for reasons unbeknownst to this writer, four-lane roads through Calloway County have been headed off at the pass.

We're not sure what we've done to Frankfort to merit this punishment. All we can figure out is that our community must be growing too fast and making so much progress without a four-lane that all the communities like Hopkinsville, Bowling Green, Paducah, Mayfield, Fulton and many others that have had four-lanes forced on them, have banded together to coerce Frankfort into giving us a dose of the same medicine.

Letter To The Editor

Response To Article

Dear Editor:

In response to reporter David Hill's article in the October 16 issue describing the action of the Murray Planning Commission, it should be pointed out that the coverage is very incomplete. Such short sketches in which personal interpretations are made of remarks made by commission members and others present does not do justice to what actually took place. In many instances the point being made was entirely ignored. While I do not wish to comment on the report of remarks made by other commission members, city council members, or citizens present, I do wish to have my entire statement made public—not only that portion quoted out of context. My remarks were made in defense of planning in general and in particular in Murray, Ky. The public deserves to know what takes place at the Planning Commission meetings, and the Ledger and Times is to be commended for its interest. However, the reporter should use objectivity and report the story accurately. My remarks to the commission appear in full below:

Gentlemen: A very disturbing event took place at the last meeting of the Murray City Council which I firmly believe deserves some response by a member of the Murray Planning Commission. It is alleged that one member of the City Council took issue with planning and by insinuation if not by outright statement labeled planning as socialistic. Those of us who remember such emotional appeals made in the past realize that such a statement is irresponsible, unfounded, a discredit to the intelligence of the Murray citizenry and Planning Commission members as well as individuals who serve on the City Council. Planning, a vital part of the free enterprise system, has been the corner stone of this nation. Dreams of individuals, families, towns, cities, communities, counties, regions, states, and the entire nation have been turned into reachable goals and objectives by people planning at every level. Nothing is socialistic about it. It is just a fact of life and good common sense that we establish goals and then plan wisely to achieve or reach them.

While I have been a member of this Planning Commission for nearly three years (approximately two as secretary), I have observed only honorable, honest, and hard working citizens of Murray attempting to formulate plans that would cause the quality of life to improve for all the citizens of Murray and Calloway County. It is an insult to me as a member of the Planning Commission and should be to other commission members that our motives might be considered anything other than to seek a better environment for the people of our community. While we may disagree strongly at times—as to what needs to be accomplished, we have always pursued honorable goals. If I did not know better I would judge such remarks to be made out of ignorance. Certainly, at best they were emotional and based upon no objective reasoning.

Sincerely,
William A. Franklin, Secretary
Murray Planning Commission

Healthy Savings

As Health, Education and Welfare Secretary Caspar Weinberger sees it, $3 to $4 billion can be trimmed from his department's annual budget by eliminating ineffective, outmoded and unproductive programs.

The secretary proposes, for instance, to abandon both the Hill-Burton program that subsidizes hospital construction and the impact aid program which provides federal funds to school districts with large numbers of children of servicemen.

Both of those programs served well to meet hospital and school financing problems of an earlier day. However, it has been growing evident that they have outlived their usefulness, although Congress has been reluctant to phase them out.

For example, the nation now has 80,000 surplus hospital beds, and continued federal efforts to encourage more hospital building will only make the situation worse. While eliminating the Hill-Burton and impact aid programs would account for only part of the $3 to $4 billion Mr. Weinberger hopes to save, he insists there are other opportunities for Congress to chip away at the $110 billion outlay for current HEW programs.

Since the secretary is ready to show exactly where substantial cuts can be made, Congress has an opportunity to abandon programs that are no longer seen as necessary or effective, by the Cabinet officer responsible for their administration. The $4 billion would be a substantial step toward reduction of the federal budget to the $300 billion goal set by Congress and the President.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake

FOR FRIDAY, OCTOBER 18, 1974

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES

(Mar. 21 to Apr. 20) Don't overspend in an effort to impress others. In fact, wading out of your depth financially in any way would be extremely foolish now.

TAURUS

(Apr. 21 to May 21) Your Venus highly auspicious. Both artist and imagination stimulated. Use both well and results will please.

GEMINI

(May 22 to June 21) A good day for attaining one of your cherished goals. Someone behind the scenes is working in your interest.

CANCER

(June 22 to July 23) An excellent period for teamwork. Many useful ideas will result from an exchange of views with associates. Some good news indicated in the p.m.

LEO

(July 24 to Aug. 23) A day calling for careful discrimination. Don't waste time on nonessentials while you neglect more vital matters. As with Cancer, you may get some good ideas from others.

VIRGO

(Aug. 24 to Sept. 23) Weigh fitness and the validity of proposed action carefully. Keep eyes on the farthest horizon possible as you steer your course.

LIBRA

(Sept. 24 to Oct. 23) Despite a few obstacles, many benefits and new means of attainment are indicated. Especially favored: romance, travel, family interests.

SCORPIO

(Oct. 24 to Nov. 22) A new surge of energy should carry you far along the road to success and recognition. But be sure of your goals. Don't go off on tangents.

SAGITTARIUS

(Nov. 23 to Dec. 21) If you aim straight and do not permit emotions or a biased viewpoint to throw you off course, you will know how to cope with ALL, not some situations.

CAPRICORN

(Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Do not let a personal disappointment mar your overall perspective. Continue to aim for high goals. Your adeptness, know-how and intuition should be potent now.

Do not let a personal disappointment mar your overall perspective. Continue to aim for high goals. Your adeptness, know-how and intuition should be potent now.

AQUARIUS

(Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Just the right day to bring off something new in your occupational area. Move fast! Evening hours favor romance.

PISCES

(Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Look for some unusually pleasant communications from those at a distance; also new contacts which could prove invaluable in a business way.

YOU BORN TODAY are governed by the Sign of Libra, a symbol of justice, friendship and humanitarianism. You can accomplish a great deal in a lifetime, but must learn to curb your emotions and a tendency toward excessive pride. You have a lively imagination and a great love of beauty, but may express both in intellectual forms rather than in artistic ventures. You have a talent for writing which, coupled with a strong discriminatory sense, would make you an outstanding literary or dramatic critic. In fact, the theater in general is an excellent medium for your talents. Other fields in which you could excel: the law, statesmanship, diplomacy and business counseling. Birthdate of: Thomas Love Peacock, novelist, poet; Inger Stevens and Melina Mercouri, actresses.

Farmer uncovers Roman settlement

A farmer plowing his land near Grantham, England, has uncovered an eight-acre Roman settlement, believed to date back as far as 200 B.C. In addition to five ancient furnaces and iron slag, brightly colored wall plaster has been discovered, indicating that elaborate Roman living quarters may yet be unearthed.

NEW JOBS

Between 1963 and 1973 some 17 million additional jobs were developed in new or expanding industries.

Racer Homecoming

'Walking Wounded' Set To Host Potent Middle

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledges & Times Sports Editor
Murray State football coach Bill Furgerson may have to rent a bus, drive his team around a motel and let them carry some luggage around before they'll feel right about this weekend's Homecoming game in Stewart Stadium.

It will mark the second consecutive home game for the Racers, who opened the season in Stewart Stadium and then played three consecutive road games.

Six weeks ago, the Racers were in pre-season practice, healthy and nabbed as the team to beat in the Ohio Valley Conference.

But when the Racers take the field at 2 p. m. Saturday for their contest with Middle Tennessee, the Racers will be "the walking wound," as Furgerson describes them.

In the Racers' 14-6 win over Tennessee-Martin in Stewart Stadium last week, the club was hit with several injuries, a couple taking place in the game itself and a couple from the fight that immediately followed.

Sophomore defensive end Charles Wempe underwent a double knee operation Wednesday afternoon and is out for the season. Sophomore tight end Doug Sanders, the leading pass receiver this season for the Racers, had a broken thumb. Sanders, with 167 yards in receptions and three touchdowns, will have to wear a pin in his thumb and he will be sidelined possibly for the remainder of the season.

Fullback Bernie Behrendt of Reidland received a badly swollen knee in the game but according to Furgerson, he will be able to play against Middle Tennessee.

Furgerson did say, however, that junior Doug Baker would be alternating at fullback with Behrendt.

Middle Tennessee and Murray are both 1-1 in the conference while for the season, the Blue Raiders are 2-3 and Murray 4-1.

Eastern Kentucky leads the race with a 3-0 mark while Western Kentucky is 2-0 and Tennessee Tech is 1-0, that one win being a 26-0 shellacking of Murray.

Furgerson calls Middle Tennessee "the most underrated team in the conference."

"They have veteran players everywhere and a proven quarterback," Furgerson said. In their last outing, the Raiders were defeated 21-17 at Eastern Kentucky.

But the score was no indication of the game itself.

The Raiders stopped Eastern's explosive Everett Talbert as the sophomore tailback was held to just 73 yards.

For the season, Talbert is the leading ground gainer in the conference as he has amassed 656 yards in four games, an average of 164 yards per game. Second behind Talbert is, of course, Murray's Don Clayton. Clayton had his most outstanding game of the season last week against Martin as he rushed for 186 yards before leaving the game late in the fourth period after being knocked unconscious.

The senior All-American from Malden, Mo., now has 581 yards on the ground for an average of 116.

After Clayton was injured, his replacement was junior college transfer Art Kennedy.

Kennedy, the Most Valuable Player in the Mississippi Junior College All-Star game last year, rammed for 44 yards in just five carries in a very impressive performance.

On one run, he plowed through the Martin defense for 27 yards.

"Clayton's our starter," Furgerson said, "but Art can play."

"He certainly proved himself last week and he's going to be seeing action."

Kennedy has been the talk of the campus and of the town all week for his performance in the closing minutes against Martin.

And speaking of ground gainers, Middle Tennessee has one of the finest in the conference in the person of speedster Dwaine Copeland.

Copeland is a 5-11, 190-pound senior from Bradenton, Fla. He is the school record holder in both the 100 and 220-yard dashes at Middle Tennessee.

He has to his credit a 9.2 in the 100-yard dash and a 20.8 in the 220.

Last spring when the Ohio Valley Conference Track Championship was held at Murray, Copeland finished second to Cuthbert Jacobs of the Racers in both the 100 and 220.

Copeland has carried for 383 yards in five games, or about 77 per game. That puts him as the fourth-leading rusher in the Ohio Valley Conference. "We'll have to stop their speed and option plays to beat them," Furgerson said of the highly potent Blue Raiders.

Defensively, Middle Tennessee ranks fourth in the conference, one notch above Murray. And like the Racers, Middle has an experienced defensive unit as they return seven of 11 starters.

Furgerson said his defensive unit is strong with the only change being freshman John Farris of Sikeston, Mo., starting at defensive end in Wempe's spot.

In other conference games this weekend, Western Kentucky is at Tech for the only actual league game, besides Murray's contest, while in non-league games, North Alabama is at Austin Peay, Furman visits East Tennessee, Eastern Kentucky is on the road at Martin and Morehead plays at Ohio University.

MR. SPEED—Dwaine Copeland of Middle Tennessee is, without a doubt, the fastest back in the Ohio Valley Conference. The senior tailback of the Raiders is averaging 77 yards per game. He is a 9.2 sprinter.

OAKLAND (AP) — Pitcher Don Sutton fully realizes he's in a do-or-die situation for the Los Angeles Dodgers tonight, yet he says calmly: "This is no different than all the others. It isn't over until someone gives you either a winner's share or a loser's share."

Sutton, the hottest of the Dodgers' pitchers at the season's end, has won the only World Series game Los Angeles has captured.

The Dodgers trail the Oakland A's in games 3-1. Another Los Angeles loss and the Series is over.

The right-hander has won 12 in a row including two in the National League championship playoffs against Pittsburgh and the 3-2 triumph over the A's. He was 19-9 for the regular season.

"We know we have our backs to the wall," admitted Manager Walter Alston after Oakland's 5-2 victory Wednesday night. "But this has been a comeback team all season."

Asked if he contemplated any lineup changes for tonight's crucial battle in the Oakland Coliseum, he answered calmly: "No, this is the best we've got — we'll stay the way we are. This is the club that got us here."

Winning shares in this World Series could reach about $26,000 per man, the losers receiving about $10,000 less.

If Sutton wins tonight, the teams return to Los Angeles for the sixth game on Saturday and Alston faces a decision on who pitches that one.

It could be reliever Mike Marshall, who has appeared in each of the World Series games to date. He worked two innings in relief of loser Andy Messersmith, who gave up all five Oakland runs, one of them on a homer by opposing pitcher Ken Holtzman.

"He could still start the sixth game, but I don't know which way I'll go yet," Alston said of Marshall.

Invasion Of British To Come Saturday

Paul Revere won't be running around the Murray Country Club Saturday telling everyone the British are coming.

Everybody knows the British are going to be there and if you are there at 11 a.m., you can see them too.

The British are Western Kentucky's group of Englishmen cross country runners.

There is absolutely no way Murray, even with its best cross country ever, could come close to Western. Upsets just don't happen in cross country because this is one sport where talent always comes through.

But regardless of whether or not Murray can win, fans should come out for this meet. Western Kentucky is again, and I repeat, the top cross country team in the United States. They should win the NCAA championship hands down.

In all of their meets this season, nobody has come close to them. In fact, the first four men in each race for Coach Jerry Bean's Toppers have crossed with their arms linked in victory.

And if you've never seen four men run five miles side by side and still have enough energy to laugh and link arms and cross the line at the same time, you ought to.

Junior Nick Rose is the top runner for Western, that is, if he decided he wanted to run ahead of the other three Englishmen from Western, he could. The other three outstanding men are sophomore Tony Staynings, sophomore Chris Ridler and freshman Dave Long.

The fifth man for the Toppers is Canadian Russ Munro. The Toppers also have another outstanding runner in the person of Steve Smith, the only Black running in the conference. The final member of the top seven is Joe Tinious.

Murray has been paced all season by two outstanding freshman Englishmen, Brian Rutter and Martyn Brewer.

However, in the past meet, Brewer dropped back and finished fourth for Murray and eighth overall.

Senior Gordy Benfield has taken over the second spot and is running close to Rutter.

The course record, which is 24:31.16 and owned by All-American Sam Torres, who is still in school at Murray, will undoubtedly be broken Saturday.

Scoring in cross country is sort of like golf, where the low score wins. Counting the top five men for your team, you count the number of the places they finish and add them.

So: if Western takes the first four places and Murray takes fifth and sixth, then Western takes seventh, the Hilltoppers would have 17 points. Add them together, one, two, three, four and seven and you get 17.

Western can run as many men as they want however, they can only use two more to "protect" places. If Western were to get the first 10 places, they would be able to keep only those first seven places and Murray could get the next five automatically.

But it's unlikely that will happen, since Rutter and Benfield should finish in the top five or six.

A realistic score would be Western 17, Murray 41.

Racer Cage Sketches

The attitude of the players on the Murray State basketball team is almost unbelievable. In fact, they seem to be ready to play right now, of course they'd have to eliminate some of the mistakes they are making with the new type of running game.

As promised early in the week, here are a couple of shorts on Racer lettermen.

Jeff Hughes

Jeff Hughes is a 20-year-old junior math major from Syracuse, Ind. As a freshman, Hughes averaged 23 points per game and last year in a reserve role, he came in from the bench to spark several rallies.

Hughes' best game is his vicious defense. He is super-quick on his feet when working on the press and as a shooter, he can get the job done.

"Everyone has a good attitude right now," Hughes said.

"I think the loss of our three players (Coleman, Jamison and Adell) will help the younger guys and give them more confidence they'll be playing more."

Hughes said the weakness of the team would be for some of the people to be able to play at 100 per cent effort all of the time.

Hughes said he was glad to see the pressing and running game and he also predicts a lot of wins for the Racers in the upcoming season.

Steve Bowers

The career of Steve Bowers has been filled with disappointment but this year, the 6-5 senior guard doesn't think it will be that way.

Bowers, a physical education major from Washington Court House, Ohio, played five years ago on the only undefeated Murray State freshman team in history.

The team, coached by Kayo Willis, went through a 21-0 year and was ranked as the sixth-best freshman team in the country.

The next year, Bowers had a knee operation on his right knee and four days later, he had an appendicitis attack to add even more to his misery.

And then the next year, he had a knee operation on his left knee.

Last year, he spent most of the season on the bench, trying to come back and get in shape for this, his final season.

Known as a fancy ballhandler and a phenomenal shooter from the perimeter, Bowers expects a great season for Murray State.

"The people on the team are really friendly and right now, everyone has realized attitude," Bowers said.

Bowers said he will like the new type of game the Racers will be playing.

The running game gives everyone a better chance to display their talent more," Bowers said.

He also said he thinks the Racers have an excellent chance at winning the conference. "I came in as a winner and I plan to leave as a winner," Bowers added.

Dodgers Staggering On Ropes And A's Can End It Tonight

By KEN RAPPOPORT
AP Sports Writer

OAKLAND (AP) — The embattled Oakland A's have the Los Angeles Dodgers staggering on the ropes and plan to finish off the National League champs tonight with "Vida Blue's" left-handed punch.

"I'd be disappointed if we don't end it tonight," said third baseman Sal Bando after the A's took a commanding 3-1 lead in the 1974 World Series with a 5-2 victory Wednesday night.

"We think very positively," With Don Sutton on the mound, the Dodgers aren't dead yet — but it may be just a matter of time. Even if they don't win tonight, history is on the A's side. Rarely has a team come back from a 3-1 deficit to win a World Series.

It's only happened three times — 1925, 1958 and 1968.

"We'd like to win tonight, but if we don't, we'll go on down to Los Angeles and finish it," said Bando.

The A's hold the upper hand in this wacky series despite internal unrest, a condition that has been common with this oddball team for some time now.

The latest episode involves Gene Tenace, a sensitive player who was lifted from the lineup by Oakland owner Charles O. Finley prior to Wednesday night's game. Tenace's reaction ranged from humiliation to rage. He branded the A's eccentric owner inhumane.

Tenace, who had played first base for the first three games of this World Series, found out about the lineup change after a team meeting during which Finley gave a pep talk.

"I had to be told by coach Bobby Winkles," said Tenace, still simmering in the clubhouse a few minutes after Wednesday night's significant victory.

"Neither Finley nor (Manager Alvin) Dark would tell me. I felt humiliated." While Tenace burned, Finley kept the rest of the A's smoldering with his pregame meeting.

He read some inflammatory remarks from Los Angeles star Bill Buckner that appeared in a local newspaper. "Buckner said that we have three good ballplayers and that the other 22 are no good," Finley said. "I told them to go out and prove that he's wrong."

The A's did just that — and got excellent performances from some of those people that Buckner had termed inferior to the Dodger talent.

Jim Holt, a pinch-hitter who had been in a terrible batting slump, rifled a two-run single in a four-run sixth inning that broke the game open. Dick Green knocked in a run and made some fabulous defensive plays at second base.

And Ken Holtzman and Rollie Fingers, two pitchers that Buckner probably wouldn't mind having on his team, silenced the usually noisy Los Angeles bats. Holtzman not only dominated the Dodgers most of the time he was in there, but also hit a home run, something the A's have had a tough time doing lately.

Talking about his drive off Andy Messersmith that gave the A's a 1-0 lead in the third inning, Holtzman said: "He got behind me and I was looking for a fastball — and I got it."

The euphoria felt by his home run was quickly dampened by the Dodgers in the next inning. They took a 2-1 lead over Oakland's 19-game winner on a two-run triple by Bill Russell. It quieted the crowd for a while, but they had plenty to shout about in the Oakland sixth.

Bill North led off with a walk and moved to second when Messersmith threw wild past first attempting to pick him off. The A's took advantage of the Dodger mistake, of course. They've been doing it all Series long.

Bando drove in the tying run with a lazy, looping single to right field. Proud of his first hit in this Series, the stocky third baseman announced jokingly: "I hit the hell out of it."

Then Messersmith walked Reggie Jackson and got into more trouble when Joe Rudi sacrificed the runners along. Messersmith then issued an intentional walk to Claudell Washington, who was starting in place of Tenace, and the bases were loaded for the A's.

Holt was announced as the pinch-hitter for Ray Fosse despite a streak of recent frustration. Before the World Series, Holt had gone hitless in 25 appearances as a pinch-hitter. He came through in Saturday's first game, however, and then came through again Wednesday night with a clean base hit to right that gave the A's a 4-2 lead.

Green then grounded into a forceout and Washington came home with the A's fourth run of the inning. It was all over at that point, but the Dodgers didn't know it. They struggled and squirmed while Holtzman held them at bay and then started to make some noises in the eighth inning.

Jimmy Wynn, leader of the Dodgers' long-ball offense this season, walked with two out and Steve Garvey, another of their gold-plated hitters, singled to left with two away. Dark wasted little time in calling in Fingers, whose handlebar moustache is as renowned as his fine relief pitching.

Fingers struck out the dangerous Joe Ferguson for the last out of the inning, then got through the ninth with the help of a dazzling double play started by the omnipresent Green.

"We can't afford to think negative because we're down three games to one," noted Garvey, refusing to play dead. "You can bet we'll be back tomorrow."

Fighting Season Starts Early As Hawks And Bruins Go At It

By FRANK BROWN
AP Sports Writer

Hockey sticks, supposedly, are used for things like winning faceoffs, making passes, and scoring goals. Wednesday night in Chicago and Detroit, they were used for starting brawls and breaking noses.

Black Hawks center Stan Mikita used his stick for the proper purpose, scoring twice in Chicago's 4-0 National Hockey League triumph over the Boston Bruins. Later in the game, though, his lumber turned into a weapon.

Boston's Bobby Orr sent Mikita sprawling with a third-period check, an effort labeled a cheap shot by the veteran playmaker.

Mikita was infuriated by the attack, which started a high-sticking incident. The action marred Tony Esposito's 47th career shutout.

In World Hockey Association action, the Houston Aeros blanked the Vancouver Blazers 6-0 and the Phoenix Roadrunners bombed the San Diego Mariners 8-2.

At Detroit, Flames left wing Jacques Richard sustained a broken nose when bashed in the face by the stick of Detroit goalie Jim Rutherford.

Rutherford claimed he lost his balance, causing Richard's unfortunate collision with the goalie's stick. Richard had a different opinion.

"He'll get it back somewhere along the line," Richard said. "If he did it on purpose, he's a darn cheap sport."

Rookie Bill Lochead's goal proved the winner for Detroit, which also got two tallies from Mickey Redmond and one from Nick Libett. Bryan Hextall and Dwight Bialowis were Atlanta marksmen.

Bill Flett scored with less than three minutes left to give Toronto its tie with Los Angeles, which is unbeaten in its first five games — all on the road. Mike Murphy tallied for the Kings.

Lou Nanné got Minnesota's goal with 7:38 remaining to deadlock Vancouver. The Canucks led 1-0 on Don Lever's goal after two minutes of play.

Steve Vickers deflected a shot past Gilles Meloche with just 1:18 left in the game to give New York its tie with California. Three Golden Seals goals went in off Rangers defenseman, and another — which appeared to have crossed the goal line — was not allowed.

In WHA action, the Howe family — Mark, Marty and Papa Gordie — accounted for one goal and three assists in Houston's rout of Vancouver and Robbie Florek scored three goals to make the Roadrunners' WHA debut a successful one.

1954 Racer Grid Team To Be Honored

The 1954 Murray State football team, which won 5 games and lost 4 and finished third in the Ohio Valley Conference, will be honored at Murray State's Homecoming Saturday.

Registration and a social hour for the team is scheduled for 9-11 a. m. in the Racer Room of Stewart Stadium. Team members will have lunch at the Alumni Smorgasbord in the Student Union Building from 11 a. m. until 1 p. m. and will then be honored at halftime of the Murray-Middle Tennessee Football game, which will begin at 2 p. m.

The 1954 Racers beat Louisville 33-13, Tennessee Tech 19-12, Morehead 24-16, Austin Peay 44-0, and Western Kentucky 19-0. They lost to OVC champion Eastern Kentucky, Memphis State, Florence State, and Middle Tennessee.

Co-captains of the '54 team were Donald Harvey, Ben Chamness, Bub Holt, and Carl Walker. Fred Faurot was head coach and Jim Cullivan and Bill Ferguson were assistants.

Walker and Jack "Sugar" Cain were leading scorers on the team with 36 points each. Walker led in rushing with 596 yards and 92 carries for an average of 6.4. Cain had 347 yards in 46 rushes for an average of 7.5.

Quarterback Ronnie Phillips completed 28 of 67 passes for 587 yards and Bub Holt completed 16 or 36 for 304 yards. Don Heine was the team's leading receiver with 20 catches for 376 yards.

As a team, the Racers outscored opponents 177-148 and had a total offense of 2728 yards to opponents' 2166 yards.

750 Fans Watch Bell Drop Another Contest

By HOWARD SINER
AP Sports Writer

A record low 750 fans turned out at 90,000-seat JFK Stadium on a rainy night in Philadelphia for a World Football League game. The hapless Bell responded by trailing all the way and losing again.

The Shreveport Steamers triumphed 30-25 Wednesday night with quarterback D.C. Nobles throwing to Rick Eber for touchdown passes of 27 and 39 yards. The second TD pass scored the winning points.

"I don't know if it was the World Series, the weather or what," said Philadelphia runner John Land. "But that's the smallest crowd that I can ever remember playing in front of."

In other WFL games Wednesday night, Memphis beat Florida 25-15, Charlotte blanked Chicago 27-0, Southern California trimmed Birmingham 29-25 and Portland edged the Hawaiians 3-0.

Southern 25, Blazers 15

TENNIS

SYDNEY, Australia — American Cliff Richey and top-seeded John Newcombe of Australia scored victories in the $70,000 Australian Indoor Tennis Championships.

BARCELONA, Spain — Tom Okker and Bjorn Borg, the two top seeds, swept through the fourth round of the Spanish Open tennis tournament, while fifth-seeded Arthur Ashe was toppled.

Quarterback John Huarte, who had missed three games with a thigh injury, passed for 212 yards and one touchdown to lead Memphis, 14-2, the WFL Central Division leader, to its 11th straight victory.

Southman runner Willie Spencer, who has gained 788 yards, was apparently lost for the season due to a third-period knee injury. He had scored on a short touchdown plunge earlier in the quarter.

Hornets 27, Fire 0

Inspired by a strong defensive effort, the Hornets blanked Chicago before 20,333 hometown fans for the club's first victory in Charlotte since the franchise quit New York.

Defensive end Clarence Campbell recovered a fumble by Chicago's Reggie Sanderson at the Charlotte 18 in the opening period to set up the first touchdown.

Hornet Don Highsmith scored on runs of two and 15 yards; Ed White had a two-yard TD; and Pete Rajack kicked a 40-yard field goal.

Sun 29, Americans 25

Southern California, 11-4, clinched the WFL Western Division title after quarterback Tony Adams hit 20 of 30 passes for 316 yards and led the Sun to the come-from-behind triumph in the last period.

Trailing 17-11 going into the final quarter, Adams fired an 18-yard scoring pass to Keith Denson and led the Sun 75 yards for another touchdown. James McAlister's plunge over from the three-yard line.

It was the second touchdown of the game for McAlister, who had caught a 13-yard TD pass from Adams before the 25,247 hometown fans.

Ron Garcia booted a pair of field goals for Southern California.

For Birmingham, 12-4, Charlie Harraway scored twice.

Storm 3, Hawaiians 0
In a comedy of errors and missed opportunities, Portland managed to triumph on Booth Lusteg's 37-yard field goal late in the third period after a Storm wide receiver gained 31 yards on a surprise reverse.

The Hawaiians, 6-10, missed four field goal attempts, one a 47-yard try by R.C. Coppedge with 93 seconds remaining in the game.

Tenace Says He'd Like To Leave Oakland A's

By ERIC PREWITT
AP Sports Writer

OAKLAND (AP) — The jokes and the bitter words clashed noisily in the clubhouse of the Oakland A's, that bawdy baseball team which is one victory away from another world championship.

"I'd like to be traded," said Gene Tenace, who was benched by owner Charles O. Finley minutes before Wednesday night's fourth game, won by Oakland 5-2. "I could continue to play for the A's, but I don't want to."

Tenace claimed Finley benched him at about the time the controversial A's owner called a team meeting to try to spur his team.

Finley pulled a newspaper clipping from his jacket pocket and read the A's some words attributed to Los Angeles Dodgers' outfielder Bill Buckner.

"He said we have only three good ballplayers. I told them to go out and prove he's wrong," Finley said.

"What did I get out of the meeting? Five minutes of rest," said third baseman and team captain Sal Bando.

"It was a good meeting," said Manager Alvin Dark. "I think I'll ask Charlie back for another one."

But Tenace, who has gone the full cycle from 1972 World Series hero to benchwarmer, made it clear he doesn't want to see too much of Finley.

"Finley is trying to bury me," said Tenace. "He treats me just as another number. I'd like to be treated like a man."

Tenace was yanked from the lineup following the team meeting. The A's used Joe Rudi at first base instead and inserted rookie Claudell Washington into Rudi's spot in left field.

Washington made Dark — or Finley — look good by contributing two singles.

Tenace didn't even put on the helmet Wednesday night. The player who won a starting job with the A's just before the 1972 World Series and hit a record-tying four home runs against Cincinnati to lead the A's past the Reds, was used only on defense in the ninth inning.

Oakland's big hits came from some unexpected people, with winning pitcher Ken Holtzman belting a third-inning home run and Jim Holt delivering a two-run pinch single in the four-run sixth.

Holt was hitless in 25 consecutive pinch-hitting opportunities before the World Series, but Dark said he used him against Dodgers' starter Andy Messersmith "because he's on a hot streak."

Holt has two singles as a World Series pinch-hitter. "If that's a hot streak, I guess he's right," Holt said.

Pats Favored To Win By Three Over Bills

By BEN THOMAS
AP Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Believe it or not, it's actually much harder to come up with something clever, witty or profound to say than trying to guess whether New England will continue its unbeaten streak or if Dallas will stop its losing streak, as must be done this week.

The Patriots' Chuck Fairbanks and the Cowboys' Tom Landry may not give a hoot, but if they are like most football coaches, they'd actually prefer that the oddsmakers and the prognosticators make them underdogs. Most coaches say it makes their job easier — or at least the psychological part of it.

Anyway, having gotten past the introduction for another week, let's pause to report that last week's guesses produced a 10-3 record for an over-all showing of 44-20-1 for .688. We should be so lucky this time around.

New England (5-0) at Buffalo (4-1): The Patriots are underdogs again, just as in four of their five previous games. But there's nothing like sticking with a winner, particularly after comparing how each team played the Colts ... PATRIOTS 24, BILLS 21.

Philadelphia (4-1) at Dallas (1-4): A month ago, the Eagles beat the Cowboys 13-10 on a late field goal by Tom Dempsey. Since then the Eagles have won three more times and the Cowboys have lost just as many more times. In this case, however, let's stick with a loser — the Eagles, who haven't won in Big D since 1965 and call it ... COWBOYS 14, EAGLES 13.

Cincinnati (4-1) at Oakland (4-1): The Raiders have never lost to Cincinnati at home. With Ken Stabler throwing the ball and the Oakland defense doing its usual thing, there's no reason to suspect anything different will happen this time. So ... RAIDERS 21, BENGALS 17.

Detroit (1-4) at Minnesota (5-0): The Lions finally won one last Monday night, but weren't that impressive. So this is no time to call for an upset ... VIKINGS 31, LIONS 17.

St. Louis (5-0) at Houston (1-4): The biggest problem St. Louis Coach Don Coryell has is keeping his players from looking ahead to next week and the rematch with Washington ... CARDINALS 30, OILERS 10.

Cleveland (1-4) at Pittsburgh (3-1-1): The Steelers have sacked enemy quarterbacks an average of three times a game so far. So the guy that will be on his backside in Three Rivers Stadium on Sunday is likely to be Cleveland quarterback Mike Phipps ... STEELERS 41, BROWNS 20.

Kansas City (2-3) at Miami (3-2): The Miami Dolphins were mumbling to themselves after losing to the Redskins last Sunday. Anyway ... DOLPHINS 21, CHIEFS 13.

New York Giants (1-4) at Washington (3-2): The Redskins' rhythm to date has been win, lose, win, lose, win. That doesn't mean a loss this time, however ... REDSKINS 24, GIANTS 14.

San Francisco (2-3) at Los Angeles (3-2): The Rams are having problems, but the 49ers aren't one of them ... RAMS 24, 49ERS 10.

Baltimore (0-5) at New York Jets (1-4): Coach Charley Winner read the riot act to the Jets last Sunday after they lost to the Patriots. He should have nicer things to say in the locker-room this Sunday ... JETS 24, COLTS 7.

New Orleans (1-4) at Atlanta (2-3): Saints' quarterback Archie Manning says he is tired of getting licked on the road. New Orleans did beat the Falcons earlier, so, in the Upset Special of the Week, let's call it ... SAINTS 17, FALCONS 16.

San Diego (1-4) at Denver (2-1): Whether it's Steve Ramsey or Charley Johnson doing the quarterbacking, count on Denver to throw and throw and throw ... BRONCOS 21, CHARGERS 13.

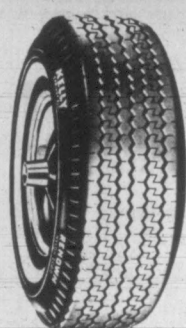

Green Bay (3-2) at Chicago (2-3): Chicago has come so close so often this season, that this Monday night game may be time to say ... BEARS 17, PACKERS 13.

all such organizations of significance - and these principles have been re-affirmed in recent studies carried out by the Harvard Tenure Commission, the American Civil Liberties Union, and the Keast Commission of the AAUP and the Association of American Colleges, he continued.

Included among those professors at MSU recently denied tenure are some who have up to 13 years of teaching service, who have been promoted and who have received regular salary raises for their competent performance; thus it makes no sense to say as Dr. Curris does, that the University has "resolved to attract and retain only the most highly qualified and competent faculty," the chairman said, and added that no one disagrees with this view, including the professors recently denied tenure. The current controversy exists precisely because of the failure to have established standards in order to determine as best as is humanely possible "qualified and competent faculty," Dr. Daughaday went on.

Daughaday concluded that the faculty of MSU agrees with the goals or ends of improving the faculty, but that it differs with the means taken. "To ignore the AAUP guidelines," he said, "is to doom MSU to national disgrace, and this makes it all the more difficult to obtain and keep qualified and competent faculty who have little desire to teach in a censored institution."

Dr. Charles Clark Attending Assembly

LOS ANGELES—Dr. Charles D. Clark of Murray is attending the Annual Scientific Assembly of the American Academy of Family Physicians in Los Angeles. The medical meeting began October 14 and runs through October 17. More than 4,000 family doctors are participating in this once-a-year continuing education conclave.

The local physician, who is a member of the Academy, will hear nationally-known speakers discuss up-to-the-minute health care topics. He will also have an opportunity to attend his choice of clinical seminars on 40 different topics and visit more than 110 scientific and 280 technical exhibits.

Subjects covered in this 4-day scientific session are of immediate interest to family doctors both in their everyday practices and in their continual endeavors to keep abreast of the latest advances in medicine. This year, topics include hypertension diagnosis and management, management of pain, synovectomy in rheumatoid arthritis, and the minimal brain damaged child.

The Academy, headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., is the nation's second largest medical association and the only national medical organization that requires its more than 36,000 members to keep "going back to school." All AAFP members must complete 150 hours of continuing education every three years.

The equipment will be displayed on the parking lot adjacent to Roy Stewart Stadium. Included in the display will be a Cobra attack helicopter, an 81mm mortar team and various mobile display boards from the 101st Airborne Division at Fort Campbell.

The 1st Battalion, 123rd Armor, of the Kentucky National Guard will display an M60A1 main battle tank and an M151A1 gun jeep.

Refreshments will be served at the Military Science Department facilities within the stadium complex, which will also be open to the public.

Spanish streaker leads 3-hour chase

A naked Spaniard may have set a record for streaking by eluding police during a three-hour chase until he collapsed exhausted in the garden of a villa in Santander on the north coast of Spain.

Police first spotted him walking nude along a street. Twice he swam across a bay, leaving more than a dozen police running along the sand in an attempt to cut him off.

the project unless something good can come to benefit the entire system," said Chief Justice Earl Osborne, council chairman.

Osborne questioned how long it would be before benefits of the project reached places like "Harlan or Hickman."

Other judges have been complaining that such a large share of anti crime funds for courts have been spent on one area in Central Kentucky, Osborne said.

Defenders of the project have acknowledged that the program has had failures, but they have also argued that long-range benefits to the judicial system have resulted.

The council is empowered by state law to suggest improvements in courts and oversee judicial training programs.

It is meeting in conjunction with the semi-annual Judicial Conference of the state's circuit and appellate judges.

The Model Courts project is a two-year-old experimental program in court improvement that involves five judicial districts encompassing nine counties. The program has been funded with federal grants totaling about $200,000 a year.

Ford Stepping Up Republican Campaign

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — President Ford is reviving some of his choicest vice presidential catch phrases as he steps up his campaign in behalf of Republican candidates.

He is calling for the election in November of an "inflation-proof Congress" and warning against possible "legislative dictatorship" if the Democrats win big.

Ford used these appeals Wednesday for the first time as President as he visited four Midwest states in his most ambitious campaign outing to date.

They were a stock part of his oratorical repertoire as vice president.

At a GOP fund-raising dinner here, Ford also tried out a new argument in behalf of his party's cause, urging that voters not "blindly penalize good Republican candidates for the unfortunate misdeeds of others."

Urging the preservation of "a vital, competitive two-party system," he said "that is exactly what you are not going to get if you and other responsible citizens stay home on Nov. 5."

As Ford traveled into Missouri, South Dakota, Nebraska and Indiana, he also laced his speeches with pledges aimed at pleasing farm state audiences.

At almost every stop, Ford vowed he would oppose any embargo on exports of American foodstuffs. He acknowledged he would have to monitor the outflow of grains in particular lest the nation's reserve stocks be depleted and thus increase inflationary pressures.

In Lincoln, Neb., Ford also declared, "We are not going to let subsidized foreign dairy imports destroy the American dairy farmers' domestic market."

The president promised early meetings with representatives of livestock producers, feeders and dairymen "to find out what they recommend that their government do" to deal with their problems.

While Ford was warmly received almost everywhere, he had to talk over the chants and taunts of demonstrators at Lincoln who sang out to the cadence of a bass drum "Vietnam, Wounded Knee, Nixon needs no amnesty."

Ford "was happy with his crowds and his reception all day," Press Secretary Ron Nessen told reporters on the plane back to Washington.

An aide on the plane figured Ford had been seen by 40,000 people Tuesday and Wednesday. "He feels he can have an effect" on the election outcome, Nessen said.

Safe With Momentos Finally Accepted By U.S. Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — After 97 years, Congress finally has accepted a massive gift of 19th century memorabilia but it has to wait until July 4, 1976, to be sure exactly what it contains.

The gift is an iron safe more than 5 feet high, 4 feet wide and 3 1/2 feet deep, packed — according to the best available information — with momentos of the 1876 national centennial celebration.

Congress has had physical possession of the safe since 1877 when Mrs. Charles F. Deihm of New York, described in records as a publisher, a dedicated patriot and a Civil War widow, turned it over with the materials she had toured the country to collect. She requested that it be opened on the bicentennial day by the president.

Congress, however, did not show itself exactly enchanted with her donation. It refused to allow the safe to be exhibited in the Capitol's Statuary Hall, moved it to semi-exposed storage where the weather worked on it for 80 years, and currently keeps it in a dusty storeroom.

In the past two days, however, the lawmakers made amends. First the House, then the Senate, adopted a resolution accepting the gift with thanks and directing that it be publicly displayed in the Capitol pending its ceremonial opening.

The safe was on view at the Philadelphia Centennial Exposition of 1876 and, according to records compiled by the Capitol architect, contains a number of autographs, a literary collection including poetry, fiction and a book on temperance, a roster containing the names of 300,000 government employees, and a gold-lined silver inkstand with two gold and pearl pens — for autographs.
