Cancer Fund Drive Underway This Week; Workers Named For Areas

The special gifts committee of the Cancer crusade is hard at work this week.

On Sunday, April 16, volunteers of the Fulton Chapter of the American Cancer Society will call on homes of friends and neighbors to distribute educational leaflets which could save lives. The drive will be from 1:00 to 3:00 P. M. and Mrs. Elvis Babb has offered the coffee shop where the workers can turn in their money to their zone captains. There will be coffee served as thanks to them for their efforts. It is hoped every door in the community will be opened to welcome the crusaders in April.

If everyone followed the advice contained in the leaflets left at each home more than 85,000 lives could be saved. This is the number of men, women and children who die of cancer in the United States each year, but who could have been saved by heeding the simple advice stressed in the American Cancer Society educational program. The best protection against cancer is to have annual checkups and to get speedy medical attention at the earliest sign of any of cancer's seven danger signals. At least one-half of all of those who get cancer could be cured through early detection and proper treatment. The American Cancer Society could make this goal a reality if it had enough funds to do the job.

Volunteer residential workers this week are:

County Club Courts - Mrs. Felix Gossum, Jr., Chairman; Mrs. Max McDade, Mrs. Bill Homra, Mrs. Charles Blinford, Mrs. Nathan Wade, Mrs. John Joe Campbell, Mrs. Tom Lane and Mrs. Robert Rudolph Riceville - Mrs. Marshall Bonduant, chairman; Mrs. J. W. Continued on Page Four

Humphreys Sentence Is Probated by Judge

Lovett, last week. The condition was that Humphreys go to Western State Hospital at Hopkinsville for psychiatric treatment.

The conviction came on the charge that Humphrey willfully murdered Allen Erranton of Mayfield, his wife's lover. Humphrey said at the trial that he "blackened out" and didn't remember any of his actions on the night of the killing.

Merchants Plan New Trade Promotion Here

Plans were formulated at a called meeting of the Fulton-South Fulton Retail Merchants Bureau for a three-month long city-wide promotion. Clyde Williams, Jr., chairman of the promotion committee presented the following plan to the group.

Script money in the denomination of one, five and ten dollar bills will be issued with the purchase of items from the participating merchants in the twin-cities. People may take this script money to a redemption store which will be set up, and they may redeem various items with the money.

During the week of the Jaycee County Fair, the remaining items in the store will be sold at an auction and bidders will use the script money.

Several of the details are still being worked out, but the present plan calls for the program to begin around the middle of May.

Other action taken at the Board meeting included further plans for the Clean-Up, Paint-Up, Fix-Up Week to be held during the week of April 24.

No action was taken on the revision of store hours in Fulton.

Thieves Steal Auto Of Factory - Prospecting Visitor, Bringing Civic Embarrassment As Well

Auto theft doesn't occur very often in Fulton, but one this week caused double damage: to the car owner and to civic pride as well.

It seems that Winford Qualls of Detroit, a builder and insurance man out on a factory-locating mission in this area, had his 1961 Olds convertible stolen from a Fulton city street Sunday night while visiting in the home of Mrs. R. T. Taylor, a cousin.

The auto was found Tuesday by Fulton police in the Hillview hospital parking lot, but not before Qualls had voiced his unhappiness over the situation, and Fulton industrial promoters tried to hide their red faces.

Commented Qualls: "It looks

County's Needy Get Added Sums From Sales Tax

Public assistance recipients in Kentucky received a total of $5,107,576 during the month of February, Commissioner of Economic Security Earle V. Powell announced last week.

Of this amount, $36,876 went to Fulton counties on the public assistance rolls. Last year's total for February was $33,064.

Powell said the statewide total for the month represents an increase of $623,165 over last year and that the increased payments this year resulted from the larger budget, financed largely by sales tax receipts.

Public assistance payments are made in four categories. Here in Fulton county, the aged (65 or older) received an average payment of $49.52; families with one or more dependent children received an average payment of $93.82; the needy blind received an average payment of $56.92; the permanently and totally disabled received an average payment of $52.03.

like you may need better lighting on some of your dark streets". Commented local businessmen acquaintances of Qualls (a Fulton native who left here in 1935 to make a business success in Detroit): "Since he's a home-town boy, we hope he will not feel too unkindly".

Business Good In Fulton? Answer Comes From Merchants Who Report Sales Good

How is business in Fulton? It's good! Mightily good say some folks, better than average say others, and ahead of last year say still others. The national recession reported in some areas affected the Fulton area not at all, and it seems a strange economic state of affairs to note that while some areas of Kentucky and the Nation are depressed, the Fulton area is in the midst of what might be termed a mild boom. "It's a strange thing," a prominent banker told the News, "That while the metropolitan papers carried stories about a near depression our banks deposits were good, but withdrawals for spending were slow. When the papers reported that the crest of the recession had passed, spending went back to business as usual."

The information from the banker is indicative of depression talk making a depression just as it is with the merchant who fails to promote his business pointing to the Fulton city tags as a reason for factory workers buying out of town. "Not so," say both Fulton banks. "If possible, there seems to be more check cashing among factory workers in the Fulton stores than ever before," a bank official said.

And here's some reports from a spot check among Fulton business houses.

A DRUG STORE OWNER:

"Business in April was terrific.

Eight Ways To Make Your Ideas Count!

(1). Recognize your Leavening power: Just as a small cake of yeast can leaven or activate a great mass of dough, so can one person like you be a "starting point" for the transformation of society. "A little leaven leaveneth the whole batch" (I Cor. 5:6).

(2). Discover your mission in life: "Singers have a glorious mission—to transmit to their audience all the musical beauties that lie in opera". So said Giovanni Martinelli, the world-famed tenor who sang with New York's Metropolitan opera for thirty years. You also have a mission.

(3). Do more than talk: Members of a civic organization were shocked recently when their president sent them a list of 46 resolutions they had passed at meetings during the past year. No action had been taken on any of them.

Little is settled by merely passing resolutions, however excellent they may be.

Unless good ideas are backed up by more than talk, they amount to little more than high sounding principles waiting "on the shelf" to be translated into performance.

(4). Be Tactfully Persistent: Merchandisers know from long experience that to sell anything from breakfast food to automobiles they must repeat over and over again the features of their products.

To convince the prospective buyer, advertisers generally follow these three basic rules:

- Tell them what you are going to tell them.
- Then tell them.
- Finally, tell them what you told them.

(5). Offer Advice, Don't Impose it: "Advice is not disliked because it is advice but because so few people know how to give it." This wise observation was made by the English essayist Leigh Hunt in 1821.

(6). Live and Let Live: Many good works are crippled or even paralyzed by unwarranted criticism, belittling remarks or petty jealousy. Those who do nothing often try to justify their own sins of omission by throwing cold water on the efforts of others.

Nowhere in the Gospels will you find Christ telling you to criticize, discourage or sit in judgment of others. But He does say: "Do not judge, that you may not be judged."

(Matthew 7:1)

(7). Develop the Art of Persuasion: The word "persuasion" comes from two Latin words "per" and "suasio" meaning "through sweetness."

One author, describing the difference between persuasion and force, aptly said: "Force gets a violent and sudden reaction; persuasion gets a gradual and unfolding reaction. Persuasion commends itself to the heart of man; force confuses his intelligence."

(8). Keep up your courage: Everyone working patiently toward a goal feels discouragement at times . . . but don't let yourself fall into the trap of thinking "why should I knock myself out when nobody else cares". Keep striving; your sincerity and your courage will win out.

100 Years Ago This Week

An Historical review of THE CIVIL WAR DAY-BY-DAY (Material is from publication of exactly one hundred years ago; original wording from references in the Library of Congress, Washington. Reporting in the papers was usually very one-sided; we seek to be fair in coverage and preserve a national balance. . . . ED).

BY WILLIAM H. McHENRY

By William H. McHenry

Second week in April 1861 One hundred years ago, on April 12, the War Between the States began with the bombardment of Ft. Sumter.

Few Americans were surprised. South Carolina had seceded from the Union four months before (Dec. 20, 1860). Six other Southern states had followed South Carolina, and had formed the new Confederate States of America.

It was like a family divorce, with one side leaving the family and seeking to gather in her share of the family property. South Carolina had demanded that the U. S. soldiers get out of Ft. Sumter in Charleston Harbor.

Major Anderson and less than a hundred men were in the fort. Facing them were about two thousand men in well-built works. Sumter was not even finished. Masons had been working on the fort up to the time of the secession of South Carolina. There were few provisions within the fort, and no chance of getting supplies landed from the outside.

Ft. Monroe in Virginia, Key West, and Ft. Pickens in Florida were the only other Southern forts still in Federal hands. Ft. Pickens was on a strip of land at the entrance of Pensacola Harbor. It was easy to provision and reinforce Pickens by sea.

Back on March 28 there had been rumors that Jeff Davis would concentrate 5,000 men to capture Ft. Pickens "if not given up." Reports said that 400 Union troops had been landed at Pickens, and there was no want of supplies. The Secretary of War for the U. S. ordered the commander of Pickens to maintain his post, to make no hostile demonstration, and to cause no collision. But neither were the troops to shrink from action if it should become necessary to keep the fort.

Supplies had been sent to Sumter, but the fleet carrying the men and provisions were turned back by fire from the Confederate batteries. The effort was half-hearted, and Lincoln had been charged with carrying on a policy which caused the South to finally open fire so that the North would be roused to back Lincoln. Others claimed that the action was all the South's doing.

No matter. The fighting started, and it was almost a relief to have the uncertainty over (though it has taken us something like this hundred years more or less to recover our ability to see clearly the reality of the situation).

THE WAR IMMINENT said the Charleston MERCURY AND COURIER on April 11. "Final demand for the surrender of Ft. Sumter. The refusal of Maj. Anderson. The entire Government forces destined for Sumter. The bombardment to probably commence immediately."

Other headlines said: "Charleston, floating battery . . . two thirty-two pounders. Now in position commanding the barbettes of Sumter." (The floating battery was a wooden float with steel covering on top of the wooden front which was expected to protect the battery. It was openly reported that the militia had refused to man the floating battery. They called it a 'floating coffin'. Three Federal steamers had appeared off Charleston harbor, but they did not enter the harbor or take part in the defense of the fort.

Charleston was filled with troops. Two thousand men patrolled the streets. A thousand of these men were mounted and formed a cordon around the city. The day after the fall of Sumter (April 15) a northern reporter wired his paper: "I saw the first gun fired at Ft. Sumter. I witnessed the battle for six hours. At Noon I was arrested by order of General Beauregard, and as a Federal Spy was imprisoned for 24 hours, then sent out of the City destitute of funds. In Wilmington, N. C., I was aided by Mr. Price of the Daily Journal. There are conflicting reports as to the number killed. It is generally believed that nobody was hurt."

THE WAR COMMENCED, said the Charleston papers on the 13th of April. "Splendid pyrotechnic Exhibition!" The batteries are doing great execution, and have received no injury."

The firing had begun at 4:30 on the morning of the 12th. For 34 hours the bombardment continued until 2:30 on the 13th. Major Anderson's men returned the fire, but only lightly. The first shells which hit the fort started a fire which threatened to explode the magazine. Smoke from the fire threatened to smother the defenders.

Major Anderson surrendered, and the fight was over. Not a man had been killed in this opening battle, but almost six hundred thousand would die in the four years of war which followed.

Newspapers of the time report the consternation in the land. In Kentucky, a volunteer regiment was ready to go South . . . to join the Confederacy. ("Oh, my poor orphans!" said General Breckinridge after the Battle of Stones River, when many of these soldiers were killed.)

When the news of Sumter reached Pennsylvania, the State passed the War Bill, raising $500,000 for arming and equipping the militia. The State promised the Union 30,000 men.

And in Montgomery, the seat of the Confederate government, President Jeff Davis "despaired of the secession of Maryland and Virginia." Said the papers: "Davis plans to march on Washington with 20,000 men." (A curious situation . . . Virginia seceded because the Federal government planned to cross Virginia to "coerce" South Carolina. What would an un-seceded Virginia have done had the Confederates tried to cross Virginia to get at Washington?)

Letters To Editor

April 8th, 1961

The Fulton County News Commercial Ave. Fulton, Ky.

Gentlemen:

The article published in the News, Thursday April 6th, 1961, stated that the City Officials were puzzled at the disappearance of 20,000,000 gallons of water in March. There is no startling mystery as to why this water disappeared. There are only two ways in which water can be lost—

First - Leaking water mains.

Second - Water meters that are not registering properly.

Mr. J. W. McCoy has been employed by the City of Fulton for several years as a water consultant. This loss of water is not new, it has been going on for years. A competent water engineer would have discovered this excessive loss and done something to correct this expensive and wasteful situation.

It would be interesting to know what the cost to the City has been in electric power and wear and tear on the pumps by pumping this tremendous amount of water.

A recommendation by Mr. McCoy was accepted by the City Council, to spend more money to employ a competent firm to make a leak survey. The City of Fulton pays Mr. McCoy $900 per year - for this amount of money a leak detector and equipment to check water meters can be purchased. The present City water employees should be able to use this equipment and save the cost of a survey that is not necessary.

Every tax payer should be interested in this as it is your tax dollars that is being spent.

Yours truly,
Bill Rice

Dear Editor:

Will you give space in your good paper, so I can express not just my personal thanks, but of 160 institutions of South Korea, for the wonderful shipment of supplies that were sent last year by the Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of Kentucky. Also the hundreds of civic, church, and individuals that cooperated with the youth in the project. I am getting many letters of appreciation from Korea. The Prime Minister, Mr. Jung, sent his appreciation, also of his government. He especially appreciated the young men with their FFA coats. We will never know the good that was accomplished with this friendship. We liked 100 sewing machines, having as many as was needed on the Kentucky ship last year. $10.00 will send a good reworked treadle machine to Korea.

I am sure many people in Kentucky will want to have a part in the Holy Land friendship, we are now collecting for Jordan, about the same kind of supplies and material that we had on the Kentucky ship. seventy institutions have made request for these supplies. The ship will sail in July from a Florida port. Dr. Y. Hakkal, ambassador from Jordan, will be in Kentucky the week of April 17. Starting in Louisville he will make a tour in West Kentucky, with meetings in several cities.

Jordan, like South Korea, is over run with refugees, and homeless people, over six hundred thousand living in tents, have equal to $1.00 worth of food per month. In the Jordan valley that has been a desert for years, they now have found water, and have established an Arab development program where boys are given schooling and training in modern methods of farming. The Holy Land friendship will carry badly needed tools for this project, also well digging machinery. Their great need is water, and it can be had by digging 200 feet. For information, write P. O. ## Telephone Talk by

H. D. HAYES
Your Telephone Manager

ON STAGE: THE PRINCESS! There's a new star in show business with a bright future, we think. The Princess phone! Recently a white Princess phone was connected in the dressing room of the 54th Street Theatre in New York for "Bye Bye Birdie" star Chita Rivera. This hit musical also uses 30 Princess phones in a musical scene "The Telephone Hour". In addition, the current Ice Follies touring the country features the Princess in one of its acts. For a "star" that doesn't say a word, the Princess seems to be doing pretty well!

COME TO THE FAIR! To the Spring Phone Fair, that is. Right now, we have a gala display of telephone equipment at our business office. And you're cordially invited to come see—browse around—and learn about these telephone conveniences. You'll see the Bell Chime, Home Interphone system, Princess phone, Volume Control phone, as well as colorful wall and desk models. Now's your chance to see them all and perhaps decide which of these telephones best suit your needs and decorating scheme. We hope you'll come and bring the family.

"Now, girls—this is the first call your Father has had this year."

APRIL IS CANCER CRUSADE MONTH and this is just a reminder that there are two ways you can help the American Cancer Society conquer the cancer problem. First, by periodic check-ups for you and your family. Second, by giving as generously as you can. I hope that each of you will join with me in helping fight this disease that could strike any of us at any time.

Bonus Will Cost Fulton Countians $4.04 per $1

Fulton County will be second only to Fayette County in bearing the heaviest per-dollar cost of paying the bonus to Kentucky's veterans of four wars, based on collections of 3% sales tax on retail sales, of which a portion is being set aside to pay bonus bonds.

This calculation, announced this week, is by Robert G. Worden, director of tax and governmental research for Associated Industries of Kentucky. Worden arrived at his conclusions by calculating the amount of bonus money that will be paid veterans in Fulton County ($576,720) and comparing this payment with the amount Fulton County contributes in sales and use taxes.

Fayette will pay at the rate of $4.11 for each bonus dollar distributed; Fulton is next with $4.04; Jefferson—Kentucky's largest county—will pay at the rate of $3.55. Twelve counties will pay out less in sales taxes than they receive in bonus benefits, Worden calculates, with Wolfe County getting the State's best bonus bargain by paying only 62c in sales taxes for each bonus dollar paid its veterans. The state-at-large cost is calculated at $2.63.

When bonus debt is finally paid, Worden calculates that the Spanish-American War will have been over 92 years; World War I for 72 years; World War II for 45 years and Korean conflict 37 years.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Kill And Be Happy

By Joe tBreig, Author and Editor of THE CLEVELAND UNIVERSE BULLETIN

UNLESS we be crucified with Christ, we shall not rise with Him. What does that mean? For the vast majority of us it does not mean anything dreadful at all.

For the crucifixion that is necessary is not hanging upon a brutal wooden cross. The thing that we must crucify is our selfishness. That is all.

We must kill our selfishness. But we kill it only in order that we may be what we were made to be; in order that we may have the happiness that God wants us to have. The only thing that ever stands between anybody and happiness is selfishness.

For MOST of us, to carry the cross with Christ means to keep the Commandments. It means to be good sons and daughters, good sisters and brothers, good fathers and mothers. It means being good Christians in whatever we do.

SELDOM does it mean suffering terribly, either in body or in soul. For the most part it means patient and happy discharge of the jobs that we have to do on this earth.

It may mean a thing as small as weeding a garden, or a thing as large as being President of the United States. It is not the task that is important in the eyes of Christ; it is the doing of the job in a Christ-like way that matters.

Getting up in the morning when the alarm rings . . . going to work if you are a father . . . getting the children off to school if you are a mother . . . paying attention to your studies if you are a school boy or girl . . . these are some of the ways in which we are crucified with Christ in order that we may rise with Him.

Christ is on the Cross not only for our redemption but also for our attention. He would have us think not of ourselves but of the things of God. That means crucifying our self-centeredness. It means seeing ourselves for what we are—being made, precisely made, expressly designed, for certain purposes: To know God. To love God. To serve God. To be happy with God forever.

THAT'S WHY selfishness must be crucified.

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

A delightful and inspiring birthday gift was brought to the members of the Fulton Business and Professional Womens Club on their second anniversary last week. The group met for a dinner at the Park Terrace and Mrs. Nora Smith, outstanding B&PW leader in Tennessee, was the giver of the gift, a talk on "The Women of My Imagination". She emphasized her talk with beautifully wrapped gifts symbolizing her wishes for the club and its members.

The first was a wish for growth in the business effort. The second was a wish for growth in home life, the center of all worthwhile living. In the third, she expressed a wish for growth in social life and the fourth was for growth in spiritual life.

She presented a lovely red package symbolizing courage and freedom. "A chain is no stronger than its weakest link", she stated.

A true blue package was held up designating the freedom which we now enjoy and which was earned by those who gave their lives in order that people should have these freedoms today.

The last gift, wrapped in a beautiful white package, symbolized faith—faith not only in ourselves but also faith in others and faith in God.

In closing her talk, Mrs. Smith complimented the local club very highly on their many accomplishments during its two year "life".

The tables were beautifully decorated with large crystal bowls containing white carnations, pompons and green Bells of Ireland, carrying out the club theme of green and white. The crystal candelabras held white candles tied in green tulle.

The president, Annabelle Edwards, lighted a large candle which was used at the charter banquet and has been designated to be used at all official meetings of the club. Each club member then took the individual candles on the cakes at each place and lighted them from the charter candle.

Several other speakers made brief talks during the program. It was one of the most impressive ceremonies which the club has enjoyed during its short history.

Miss Virginia Jones, head librarian of Carnegie Public Library in Paducah was the guest speaker at the April meeting of the Fulton Woman's Club. She talked on "The Four Most Influential Writers of Modern Literature." She gave thumbnail sketches of the lives of Eugene O'Neill, T. S. Eliot, Ernest Hemingway and George Bernard Shaw, comparing their styles with those of other writers. Refreshments were served the guests and members from a lovely table draped with a lace cloth and centered with a bouquet of beautiful spring flowers in a milk glass bowl flanked by milk glass candlesticks.

Nine little guests were present to wish Happy Birthday to little Randal Henderson on his third birthday last Thursday. The delightful party was held at his home and was given by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Henderson, Jr.

Cake, ice cream and Pepsis were served after Randal had opened his many gifts.

Those attending were Danny Kimbel, Joel Neeley, Johnny Clark, Eddie Smith, Mark Russell, and Willis McCree, Jimmy Dale, Charles and Donna Brann.

Honorees at the dinner meeting of the Jolly Twelve Birthday Club last week were Mrs. Gilbert Brown and Mrs. Pete Green. The dinner was held at the Derby.

The beautifully decorated table held arrangements of spring flowers and miniature wheelbarrows filled with mints were the favors at each place.

Both of the honorees received a birthday gift from the club.

Mrs. Maxine Matheny, hostess for the evening, invited all of the guests to her home following the dinner and served cake and coffee to each one.

Ten guests gathered in the home of Mrs. James Shields of Union City two weeks ago to wish a happy birthday to her niece, Miss Joyce Ann McDaniel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James McDaniel. The occasion was her 16th birthday.

A delicious supper was served to the following: Janet Hodge, Donald Ray Morris, Bruce Hailey, Paula Fay Campbell, Kenneth Ray Speed, Patricia Ann Speed, Patricia Lynn McDaniel, James Gregory McDaniel, Brenda Sue McDaniel, Mrs. James McDaniel and the guest of honor.

Jack Snow and Mildred Mount, representatives of the Junior Class of Fulton High were crowned King and Queen of the Junior Carnival which was held at the Science Hall Friday night.

Games were played and the prizewinners were Jane Fuller, David Henderson, Herbert McCree and Jimmy Dale Brann.

The birthday cake, baked by Mrs. Carl Robey, was attractively decorated with the Easter theme. Party favors were plastic Easter eggs.

Cake, ice cream and Kool-Aid were served to the following guests: Jeffrey Sensing, Betty Jane Tucker, Debra Bard, Jane Fuller, Melody Rhodes, Davis Henderson, Pat Clifton, Herbert

Musicians Attend Murray Festival

Several Fulton High Band students attended the music festival at Murray State College last week. On Thursday, Ophelia Speight and Laura Hefley played piano solos and the FHS majorettes, who received a superior rating last year, did a twirling routine.

Bob Anderson, on the organ, and four clarinet players, Barry Roper, Bill Hancock, Don Reed and Ronny Wall, also performed on Thursday.

Then on Friday Don Reed, winner of a local music contest, and Mae Mann played their instruments. Also, a woodwind trio composed of Barry Roper, Bill Hancock, and Susan Walker participated in the festival.

All of these people gave their performances in an assembly program on March 29.

S. Office of Education Washington D. C. Tours were made to libraries in Memphis. This correspondent went on the tour to the Buckeye Corporation. The importance that a corporation of this kind places on its library, makes one realize that too much importance can not be given to library service that serves all people.

History rides the Illinois Central

This spring and summer you may join many others visiting historic landmarks in Mid-America. We hope you ride the Illinois Central, the railroad that history rode a hundred years ago. In those years the fortunes of war ebbed and flowed along the spidery-thin rails now united as the Illinois Central, whose heavier rails today carry the fortunes of peace for Mid-America.

Riding our trains or watching them pass, you may recall the names of many who went from these lines to war... Confederate General Beauregard, who ordered the first shot fired on Fort Sumter; General McClellan of the Union Armies; Confederate Secretary of State Benjamin; an Illinois Central lawyer named Lincoln. Remember, too, that an early Illinois Central troop train carried to war a shabby storekeeper named Grant.

Military people call the war of the North and South the first modern war, the first in which men and munitions moved en masse by rail. The first battle of Bull Run shifted from defeat to victory for the South when trains rolled up decisive reinforcements.

Those were youthful years for Mid-America and for this railroad... the seed years of today's prosperous land of farms, factories, mines and forests. North and South have grown as one land, laced together by the lines of the Illinois Central. That's why we enjoy being called the Main Line of Mid-America.

FULTON HIGH SCHOOL NEWS

By Karen Dublin

It has been said that if a person were to stand at one end of the hall at FHS and yell either "James", "Jim" or "Jimmy", any number of boys would come running. So, partly for my own curiosity and partly because I thought it might be interesting, I went to the school records and came up with the following information.

In Fulton High School, there are 21 boys whose names include either James, Jim, or Jimmy. Of these, 14 go by one of the three names. In the senior class there are 14, the juniors have two, the sophomores have two and in the freshman class there are five.

As you can probably see, it can get quite confusing in the classroom when the teacher calls on "Jimmy" and four or five boys answer!

The assembly program on Wednesday was presented by Rev. Truitt Miller and Mr. James Clark of the First Baptist Church, in connection with the revival that is in progress there this week. It was a very interesting program.

Friday will be Senior Day at Murray State College. Seniors from throughout the area will travel to Murray and take part in the various activities planned for the day. There will be discussions, tours of the campus and the buildings and several other activities.

Everyone seemed to enjoy the KEA vacation last week. School was dismissed Wednesday afternoon and the students did not have to return till Monday morning. Several students went to visit relatives and friends in places such as Florida, Michigan and up-state Kentucky. The rest of us just loafed and enjoyed this last vacation till summer.

Next week is the beginning of the last six weeks of this school year. This will be the busiest time of the year with graduation coming up and all sorts of other activities going on. The seniors received their pictures last Thursday and the graduation invitations should be coming in very soon.

Well that's all for now. Be good everybody!!!

TO THE VOTERS OF FULTON COUNTY:

I have previously announced my candidacy for re-election to the office of Fulton County Judge.

For the past three years, while serving as your county judge, I have enjoyed working with you in the different phases of our county government and have gained much experience in the duties of this office which includes being judge of the county court; judge of the quarterly court, both criminal and civil docket; Judge of the probate court; judge of the juvenile court; chairman of the fiscal court; chairman of the Fulton County Health Department and chairman of the Welfare Committee. At special times when the Circuit Judge is out of the county, the county judge acts in his stead in certain cases. This office also heads the United States Government Surplus Commodities Program in the county and all matters pertaining to the fiscal affairs and the road programs of the county.

In the exercise of my duties I have tried to be fair and impartial in dealing with the people involved in Court matters.

During the past three years quite a few miles of roads and bridges in this county have been re-built and improved and I have worked long and conscientiously on the groundwork of setting up a new road program for Fulton County patterned after the road systems of the most progressive counties in the State. This program was made possible by act of the legislature several years ago. This system will begin operation within the next few weeks.

I am happy to report that after this tax year of 1961 and the tax year of 1962, Fulton County government will be completely out of debt for the first time in many, many years and the 20c bond tax will be removed from your taxes. With this tax decrease your county government will still have $9,000.00 more each year on which to operate than it has had in the past. We have been paying $32,000.00 per year on old debts and interest. Fulton County, I am informed by State officials, will then be one of the most financially sound counties in the State. This is very attractive to new industry as well as to our taxpayers. Your county is now operated on a cash basis, every item of expenditure coming under a budget plan.

At this time I wish to express my gratitude and appreciation for the confidence which you placed in me by electing me your county judge and respectfully ask your vote and influence in re-electing me for a second term.

Sincerely,

JOHN C. BONDURANT

'I've Got A Bite' Will Ring Out In Fishing Rodeo

The cry of "I've got a bite!" will be ringing out over the area again this May. No, it won't be coming from some "old pro" fisherman at Kentucky Lake. Instead, it will probably be coming from one of the 100 possible entries in the annual Jaycee Junior Fishing Rodeo for all the youngsters of the twin-cities area.

The event will be held at the Pepsi Cola Bottling Company lake again this year. Many nice prizes will be awarded to the winner. Co-chairmen for the Rodeo are John R. Lawson and Cornell Rowland.

VETERANS

CORNER

Here are authoritative answers from the Veterans Administration to questions of interest to veterans and their dependents:

Q—What are "day centers?"
A—The centers are one of the newer developments in psychiatric care. Patients, often those who have been long hospitalized for schizophrenia, spend their time in various therapeutic activities at the centers and return home at night. The centers are located at VA outpatient clinics, and volunteers from the community play an important part in helping with the activities.

Q—What are the eligibility requirements for education or training under the Korean GI Bill?
A—At least 90 days of active service, some of what must have been between June 27, 1950, and January 31, 1955; and, discharge or separation from service under conditions other than dishonorable.

Q—I am a Korean veteran and have found an error in my service record. Can the VA straighten this out for me?
A—No. The veteran should make written application directly to the service concerned—Army, Navy, Air Force or Coast Guard.

Q—By authorization of Public Laws 382 and/or 724 the Federal government adds $6 a month to my civil service retirement check. In a year's time this $72 takes me over the $2700 limit to be eligible for a VA pension. Do I have to count that particular $6 a month as income?
A—No. The VA does not count as income that part of a pensioner's civil service retirement check which is a federal contribution for health and medical insurance.

(Veterans living in or near Fulton who wish further information about their benefits should write or visit the VA Office at 1405 W. Broadway Louisville 3, Ky).

NOW' THE TIME FOR THE DOUGHNUT BIT!

With Thanks To The Courier Journal

Remember those little proverbs that used to hang on nearly every office wall? You were sure to see "We do not need to change the work week as much as some of the weak work." Or "If you haven't the time to do it right, when will you find time to do it over?"

Businessmen called them Office Hangers. And there's one we'd like to see on office walls today. We mean the doughnut bit: "Keep your eye upon the doughnut, brother, and not upon the hole."

We at The Fulton News and Radio Station WFUL believe in the doughnut bit. We believe business will be as good as we make it. And we are by no means alone in this belief. From our close association with hundreds of Ken-Tenn Area firms, we know many who right now are keeping their eyes on the doughnut.

(SEE STORY ON PAGE ONE)

This kind of success convinces us: Offer a good value and promote it and customers will respond. We suggest that you offer that product on

Clinton Couple Arrested, Charged With Murder Of Carnie Stephens

Mrs. Violet Stephens, Arlington, and Raymond Turner, Clinton auto mechanic, were arrested at Paducah last Thursday and charged with being accessories in the murder of Mrs. Stephens' husband, Carnie, last March. Both were released under $2000 bond.

Both Mrs. Stephens and Turner testified at a coroner's inquest held last week and both also refused to take a lie detector test. They also admitted that they had been "seeing each other" for about two years and that Stephens caught them together once in Clinton.

Several clues found by investigators point to the fact that Mrs. Stephens' previous testimony in which she stated that three youths abducted the pair, killed Stephens and forced the car into a pit alongside the road was not altogether true.

The murder weapon, a piece of steel pipe, was found at the bottom of the pit earlier last week. It was identified as a piece of repair metal used at Shawnee Steam Plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Turner, Jr. On Wedding Trip After Ceremony

Miss Shelley Sue Davis, daughter of Mrs. Seth R. Brown, and Kenneth Turner, son of Reverend and Mrs. Kenneth Z. Turner of Fulton, Kentucky exchanged marriage vows in an impressive home wedding Thursday afternoon, March 23, at the Brown residence 105 Locust Street.

While the guests were being seated, recordings of nuptial music were played and Mrs. R. B. Brown played "O Promise Me" at the piano. Reverend L. B. Walkington, pastor of the Carmi First Methodist Church, read the double ring service at two o'clock.

A bridal arch decorated with lavender chrysanthemums and large cluster bows of ribbon in the same color was arranged in the living room. On either side were formal swedish candelabra holding lighted white tapers.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. Brown, wore a street length frock of white brocaded silk. Her blush veil was caught to a flat crown of white petals, studded with seed pearls and she carried a white Bible overlaid with lavender asters interspersed with tiny pearl hearts and tied with white streamers, and valley lilies. Her pearl necklace was a gift from the groom.

Mrs. W. E. Farris of Indianapolis, Indiana, an aunt of the bride, served as matron of honor. She was dressed in a lavender organza frock and had a shoulder corsage of white chrysanthemums. Her daughter, Judy Lynn Farris, carried the rings on a white lace pillow.

James E. Davis, of Arlington Heights, brother of the bride, served as best man for the bridegroom.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brown chose a beige lace over brown polished cotton. Her flowered hat and other accessories matched her dress and her corsage was bronze pompoms.

The groom's mother was attired in a blue sheer over taffeta, which she complimented with a small flowered hat and other accessories of black. She had a white carnation corsage.

Immediately after the ceremony, the wedding guests were invited to remain for the reception. A lace cloth, over lavender, covered the bride's table which was centered with a triple silver candelabra holding white tapers. A miniature bride and groom were attached to the tapers. The all-white tiered wedding cake was topped with white tulle and wed-punch bowl and the cake was cutting bells.

Mrs. Brown presided at the and served by Mrs. Burton Newman. Lavender tapers, in graduated silver candelabra were placed on the marble top table, where the guests were registered. Mrs. Bill Rector was in charge of the gifts, which were on display on the sun porch.

The newlyweds left soon after the reception on a trip to Cumberland Falls, Kentucky. They also plan to go to Fredericksburg, Virginia; Washington, D. C.; Philadelphia, Pennsylvania and New York City. They will live at New Haven, Connecticut, where Mr. Turner will enter Yale University.

For traveling, the new Mrs. Turner was wearing an olive green and beige ensemble.
