MONSTERS AND MANIACS GALORE—Assorted ghouls and monsters, as evidenced by these photos, are lurking in the dark corners of the Haunted House and Kappa Carnival which opened at the Jayces Pavilion of the Murray-Calloway County Fairgrounds last night. The Haunted House continues tonight and Wednesday night and is under the sponsorship of the Kappa Department of the Murray Woman's Club. In addition to the frightening tour of the Haunted House, the Kappa Carnival offers games and enjoyment for the younger children. Cook Attacks Ford Campaign Slogan As Election Day Nears

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Sen. Marlow Cook, R-Ky., is trying to shatter the slogan, "For The People," used by his Democratic foe, Gov. Wendell Ford, who opposes him for reelection. "A fellow is supposed to represent all the people, not just the ones he selects," Cook said. "That's the issue in this Senate race." And again in remarks to a rally Monday night at Harlan, the senator said of Ford: "He says he is for the people. What people? J.R. Miller?" Miller, a former state Democratic chairman, has been the target along with others of Cook, who charges that all are cronies of the governor and have been rewarded with state leases and contracts at taxpayer expense. The main theme, as Cook wound up days of campaigning in the bedrock Republican 5th District, was that Ford represents a narrow segment of the electorate while Cook has served and will continue to serve all Kentuckians regardless of party affiliation. That was the gist of his comment about The Courier-Journal and Louisville Times endorsement of Ford the past Sunday, when the newspapers said he has become Kentucky's first urban governor. Cook told his mainly Republican listeners from Irvine south to Middlesboro that a governor should be both rural and urban. Including the rally in Harlan, he said, of Ford: "If he wants to go down in history in the pages of The Courier Journal as the governor for Louisville, I want to go down in history as the senator of the Commonwealth."

Gov. Ford Says President's Programs Not Inflation Answer

EMINENCE, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Wendell Ford today said that regardless of what President Ford says, "We are in a recession." The governor, who is seeking election to the U.S. Senate charged that the President's "latest anti-inflation speech substitutes public relations for public programs." Ford said the President's programs do not provide an answer to inflation and a recessionary economy. "What about tax reform and relief for those hardest hit by inflation?... What about curbing the windfall profits of oil companies? What about plugging the tax loopholes? What about a minimum tax for the wealthy so that they pay their fair share?" Ford asked. Ford said that in Kentucky, "We restored more equity to our tax system and reduced taxes. It's time to do the same in Washington." Ford remarks were in a written statement released in Eminence, where he was waging his Democratic campaign for the seat now held by Republican Marlow Cook. He walked along Main Street in Eminence shaking hands with passers-by, heading into stores to greet customers and to stump for votes in the Nov. 5 general election. Ford spent the entire day campaigning in the Fourth Congressional District, winding up with a rally at Latonia at night. Ford appeared Monday night in Louisville on the WHAS radio program, "Metz Here," where he predicted he would win the Senate race by a wide margin if there is not wide voter apathy. He reiterated his opposition to busing, any change in the tobacco acreage-poundage program, his opposition to the proposed surtax and explained his "restrictive" position on the amnesty question. One telephone caller asked Ford if he believed the pardon of former President Nixon and the Watergate situation would help his cause in seeking election. Ford replied he believed the President's action in pardoning Nixon was premature and turned some people against the Republican Party. The governor stressed that when he announced for office, he said he would not make the Watergate problem an issue.

President Declares Economic Plan Sound

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Ford declared today that his present economic programs are sound and should deal with both inflation and recession — but added "I will be open to suggestions" if they don't cure the current economic slump. Ford, holding his first impromptu news conference in the White House press center, was asked — on a day when the federal government's measure of leading economic indicators showed the sharpest one-month plunge in 23 years — if he still insisted the country was not in a recession. "Whether it's a recession or not a recession," Ford said, "we have problems." He indicated he did not want to argue the semantics of the matter.

Second Of Forums On Churches In Kentucky To Be On Thursday

The second of the three public forums on the role of the churches in Kentucky history will be held Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Murray-Calloway County Public Library under the joint sponsorship of the library and the Western Kentucky Bicentennial Committee. Dr. Ken Harrell will be the chairman for this event. Dr. Joe Cartwright and Dr. Ken Wolfe of the history department of Murray State University and Rev. Phil Porter will serve on the panel with Dr. Harrell. The subject for discussion will be "The Church and Public Issues." The first forum was held in the library October 24, with Dr. Jim Hammack as chairman and Rev. Charles Moffett, Rev. Fred Morton, Father Mattingly as panel members. The audience was given a comprehensive background of the early days in Kentucky history when the pioneers founded various forts and built their log houses and the early churches were established. It was pointed out that the population grew from 73,000 in 1790 to 220,000 in the early 1800's. David Rice 'came to (See Forum, Page 12)

Scholarships Available For Essays On Democracy

For the seventh consecutive year, undergraduate students at Murray State University have an opportunity to win scholarships totaling $300 for the best essays submitted on democracy in America. The scholarships are provided annually from a fund set up at the University by Dr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Levine of Centralia, Ill. Since the program originated in 1969, eight Murray State students have received the scholarships. The first place winner of the 1973-74 contest was Jeff Taylor, 20, a junior political science major from Elizabethtown. Second place went to Brenda Louise Croft, 19, a sophomore business education major from Marion, Ky. This year's topic is "Amnesty in The American Political System," according to Dr. Riley Venzla, chairman of the Department of History at the University and also chairman of a special committee administering the Levine program. First prize is a $200 scholarship and second prize is a $100 scholarship, both to be used at Murray State.

Popcorn Yields Here Reported Far Below Earlier Predictions

By DAVID HILL Murray Ledger & Times Writer What could be called the "Great Depression" of popcorn nationwide could be coming to an end as bad weather and yields that are less than expected are increasing the void between supply and demand. The problem locally does not appear to be as severe as in other areas of the country, but yields here are far below what was expected. While the price of popcorn paid to farmers has doubled in the last year, at least part of this increase can be attributed to inflation, and not to a corn shortage. For most processors and farmers, the increase is the first in as long as 10 years. For several years, popcorn was almost a giveaway item in most areas, because corn was grown on land in the government's soil bank, and wasn't on a competitive basis with other crops. Now, processors have to pay a price that will attract farmers to put out popcorn, and so prices are having to come more in line with what the corn is actually worth. Ed Chrisman, owner of Chrisman Popcorn Co., said this morning that although the acreage is pretty large this year, there will still be a serious shortage, and prices will be a good deal higher than last year. "Our yields are disappointing this year," Chrisman said, "and certainly not up to expectations." Chrisman, who said most of his corn comes from the local region, said he is puzzled over the cause of the shortage, and (See Popcorn, Page 12)

Fisher-Price Announces Layoff Of 80 About 80 employees of the Murray plant of Fisher-Price Toys are beginning a period of temporary layoff according to a company spokesman. According to a company spokesman at the East Aurora (New York) headquarters of Fisher-Price, similar reductions will take place at other company facilities, affecting direct labor personnel primarily. Fisher-Price said it was experiencing little let-up in the demand for toys from consumers, but that inflation was causing some retailers to curtail their buying. "Because it is prohibitively expensive to finance high levels of inventory, due to interest rates, we have had to adjust production schedules in all our domestic facilities," the spokesman said. Fisher-Price said it hoped to resume normal production schedules sometime in the first half of 1975. Approximately 275 hourly workers will remain on the job at the local plant, a company spokesman said.

World Community Day Program To Be Friday At Local Church Mrs. Alfred Lindsey, Jr., vice president of the local Council of Church Women United, in charge of plans for the November 1 observance of World Community Day, announces that plans are complete for the Service to be held in North Pleasant Grove Cumberland Presbyterian Church at 10:30 a. m., on Friday. Mrs. W. E. Glover and Mrs. Nix Crawford are the committee from the host church to make local arrangements. The world-wide theme, "Discover the Aspiring Majority," will be presented by the guest speaker, Mrs. H. J. Simpson, of Paducah, state president of the sponsoring organization, Church Women United. This theme leads into the subject matter of the United Nations International Women's Year which will be observed in 1975. As women, who are now a majority in the world, examine their values and goals, they will discover the aspirations which bind them together. In celebrating this Day women will be giving expression to the stated goals of the International Year which are those of striving for justice for women, and increasing their participation on all levels to bring the welfare of the world — and the course of peace nearer to realization, Mrs. Lindsey said.

Miss Patty Ann Greer And Ricky E. Harris Married At Spring Creek Church

Mr. and Mrs. Ricky E. Harris

The marriage of Miss Patty Ann Greer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Greer of Almo Route One, and Ricky E. Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harris of Murray Route Three, was solemnized on Friday, October 4, at the Spring Creek Baptist Church with Bro. Stanley Letterman performing the double ring ceremony. The pianist, Mrs. Danny Cossey, presented a program of nuptial music preceding the traditional wedding marches.

Bride's Dress
The bride, escorted down the aisle by her father and given in marriage by her parents, was lovely in a three-tiered, light mint green dotted swiss floor-length dress. Each layer of the dress was trimmed with eye-let trim, which was also around the neck and cuffs. The veil was of sheer dotted swiss with lace around the bottom layers. The bouquet was a single orchid on a white ribbon, accented with white Stephanotis. The groom's boutonniere was of Stephanotis from the bride's bouquet.

The ceremony was performed before an altar decorated with two baskets of mint green gladioli and yellow daisy mums. Miss Margaret Greer, sister of the bride, served as maid of honor, and Miss Jane Greer, sister of the groom, served as the junior bridesmaid. Their dresses were a multi-floral with green ribbon on the sleeves and around the high-waist and green streamers down the back. They carried bouquets of pink, blue, and white carnations.

Jimmy Greer, brother of the bride, was best man, and Michael Sample, friend of the couple, was the groomsmen. Donald Greer served as usher. Mrs. Chester Vied, maternal grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Elsie Dewese, maternal grandmother of the groom, and Mrs. Ruby Harris, paternal grandmother of the groom, were each presented with a corsage of white carnations. Mrs. C. W. Nance, sister of the groom, and Miss Peggy Colson, friend of the couple, presided at the guest register. After the wedding the reception was held at the home of the parents of the bride. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Greer chose a green floor-length dress with pink accessories. She was presented with a corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Harris, mother of the groom, chose to wear a blue floor-length dress with gold accessories and was presented with a corsage of blue tipped carnations. After the wedding the couple left for a short wedding trip and now reside at their home on Murray Route Three. Rehearsal Dinner

Newly-rich, he wants armor against gold-diggers

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have had lots of problems but I never had one like this, so here goes my first Dear Abby letter. I am a 57-year-old working man. I lived with my folks most of my life, but they are both dead now, so I'm living alone. I was younger I would ask girls for dates, but I got turned down, mostly because I wasn't very good-looking and didn't have much money. Being alone so much caused me to be kind of shy. I never enjoyed being alone, I just got used to it. Well, I took a chance on the state lottery, and won $100,000. I had never won anything in my life. I still can't believe it, but it is true. Now I've got so many friends (mostly women), I almost have to hide. I would like some female companionship, but don't want to end up married to some gold-digger. I don't have any experience at all when it comes to judging women, Abby, so how can I protect myself? E.B. IN ATTLEBORO, MASS

DEAR E.B.: Don't go in for anything as permanent as marriage until you know the woman well enough to trust her completely. Then see a lawyer about a pre-nuptial agreement. (He'll explain it to you.) You took a chance on a lottery and won, and marriage is a bit of a gamble, too, but the better you know the candidate, the smaller the risk.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter and her husband (married only a few months) both go to college and live with me. He is a fine young man and I like him, but he has one serious fault. He will not get up in the morning for his classes. It breaks my heart to see my daughter calling him, going back to their bedroom, shaking him, pleading with him, and wearing herself out trying to get him up in the morning. He was dropped from his 8 o'clock class because he missed so many classes. Naturally, he lost that credit. Now he is sleeping through his nine o'clock classes! I have wanted to tell her to simply pour ice water on him, but I've used remarkable restraint staying out of this daily hassle. Any suggestions? MOM

DEAR MOM: He's your daughter's problem, not yours. If she were wise, she'd wake him once only, set the alarm to give him a five-minute grace period, then go about her business. If he knows he has to get up—he will. And if he doesn't, let him suffer the consequences.

DEAR ABBY: I wonder how many people realize the difference between the way HER mother is treated and the way HIS mother is treated? So many young husbands are so busy with earning a living that they leave such matters entirely to their wives, and consequently on Mother's Day, HER mother will be honored, and when (and if) it's convenient, HIS mother will be honored.

Another thing. Let's have a Grandma's Day for HIS mother. With so many broken marriages these days, the paternal grandmother loses all contact with her grandchildren. It's always HER mother who gets to see the grandchildren, and do for them. HIS mother loses out and is soon forgotten.

My son is married and divorced. His wife has the children, and now it's almost as though I have no grandchildren. Maybe if you print this, it will be seen by mothers who don't realize the hurt some grannies suffer from divorce. Thank you.

MISSING MY GRANDCHILDREN

DEAR MISSING: When marriages break up, there is usually bitterness on the part of the wife. And just or not, she usually gets the kids. There are exceptions, but the ex-wife doesn't usually feel kindly toward her ex-in-laws, and part of the punishment she feels "his family" has coming is depriving them of their grandchildren.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Your Individual Horoscope

Frances Drake
FOR WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1974

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 20)
Planetary restrictions lift now so you will find achievement considerably easier. Not only should routine matters go well, but you may even have an opportunity to cash in on an avocational skill.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 to May 21)
Though many means for advancement exist, you COULD throw a wrench into the machinery if your attitudes are suspicious, your approaches tactless. Beware!

GEMINI (May 22 to June 21)
Place your confidence in hard facts rather than "feelings" and, in discussions with others, don't be overly imaginative. You could read too much in their words.

CANCER (June 22 to July 23)
Personal relationships should be highly congenial now. In fact, some of your brighter and more amusing companions could give you some stimulating ideas.

LEO (July 24 to Aug. 23)
Great activity indicated in your area—which should prove highly stimulating. Especially favored: creative interests, community projects, travel plans.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 to Sept. 23)
Stars warn against vacillating, changing plans or projects before they have been given a chance to prove themselves. Be steadfast, optimistic.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 to Oct. 23)
Skepticism could defeat the fully charged action this day deserves. Believe in yourself and in your goals—and keep forging ahead.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 to Nov. 22)
Stellar influences now favor novel pursuits, imaginative revitalizing of all interests. Display your talents in marketable areas.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 to Dec. 21)
Avoid being led astray by those who are heedless of consequences, careless of responsibilities. You will face more distractions than you think, so keep up your guard.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20)
You rarely imitate, preferring to produce in your own way. However, this day will require more attention to others' methods and know-how.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19)
Express your ideas and opinions discreetly but firmly. Don't leave stones unturned which may have gems beneath. A generally good day—if you cooperate.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20)
A conservative and prudent attitude will keep you from going overboard through misguided enthusiasm—a tendency now. Be especially cautious in romantic matters.

YOU BORN TODAY are extremely versatile and could make a success in any one of many fields. You have an excellent mind and an outgoing personality; could, if you make the best use of your potentials, become a leader in any line you choose. In literature, your work would have a highly dramatic quality; in medicine, you could cure not only the body but the mind; in the legal field, your sense of the dramatic would make you an outstanding trial lawyer. You have a definite affinity for science; also outstanding financial acumen. Statesmanship and agriculture are other fine outlets for your talents. Caution, Common Sense Urged For Halloween

The annual trek of ghosts, goblins, witches and various other monsters through our city streets, seeking candy and other goodies from cooperative residents, will be upon us on Thursday as the annual observance of Halloween.

Many things come to mind as we reflect on Halloweens of the past, from our childhood days when we, too, imitated a monster, to more recent years when reports have been in the news of ogres who apparently don't like children and show their dislike in the sickening acts of putting razor blades in apples and poison in candy.

As we approach this Halloween, we urge our local residents to observe this holiday for children in the spirit in which it was intended. We do not believe our town contains any of the ogres that have been reported in other cities but, even so, we also caution the parents of each Halloween monster, to check their child's bagful of morsels before allowing him or her to eat the night's take.

We further caution all motorists to drive with extreme care on this night, when children, caught up in the spirit and excitement, might dart across a dark street at a moment's notice, right into the path of a car.

And for the older children, who don't care as much about the "treat" as they do the "trick," we urge you to exercise good judgment and common sense. A "trick" on Halloween, that is carried out in the right spirit, will be accepted by most as just in fun, but a "trick" that is destructive to the property of others, or harmful to others, will be thought of as exactly what it is, criminal vandalism.

One other thought for the parents. While most residents do not begrudge handing out candy to the young trick-or-treaters, many of these same residents do not enjoy answering the endless knocks at the door until late at night.

The trick-or-treaters should begin their rounds in the early evening hours and their parents should make sure they are back home at a reasonable hour.

And for safety's sake, be sure your young goblin is dressed in light, easy-to-see, nonflammable clothing. A reflective arm or leg band, like those worn by cyclists, would make your child even more noticeable to passing motorists.

Ban The Buzzing

Now that Congress has finally approved a sensible daylight saving time schedule, perhaps the lawmakers could do the American public one more favor before adjourning for the political campaigns.

In fact, if they enact legislation to make seat belt buzzing and light-flashing optional in automobiles, they may not have to return home in order to stay on the good side of their constituents.

We won't dispute the seat belt safety factor but think it's a bit ridiculous for the motorist to buckle up just to get the car in and out of the garage.

GARROTT'S GALLEY

Insignificant Observations Of Gerald terHorst's Visit

By M.C. GARROTT

Jerald terHorst, President Ford's former press secretary who spoke at Murray State last Thursday night, reminds me of my friend and neighbor, Ted Lawson, give or take a little around the middle.

It was an interesting experience to be included in a small group which visited with him informally at the Holiday Inn after his lecture. I couldn't help but think of Ted as I watched terHorst, perched on the corner of a desk, puffing away at his pipe and fielding the steady barrage of questions fired at him.

TerHorst was one of the most cooperative national figures to come to the Murray campus since I've been there. Very graciously and willingly he permitted himself to be led from a "rap" session with students in the lobby of Ordway Hall, to a televised press conference on the 6th Floor of the Fine Arts Center, to Lovett Auditorium for his 8 p.m. lecture and then to the Holiday Inn for "relaxation" and an hour-and-a-half more of questions from an invited few.

I marveled at his patience as he carefully answered many of the same questions as if he was handling them for the first time. Here are some of the things he said which apparently were too insignificant for the news media covering his visit but which I thought interesting.

He had been on the road lecturing since the previous Saturday, and from Murray he was going to Phoenix, Ariz., to speak on Friday night, then back to St. Louis for a Saturday night lecture at Washington University, and then to his home in Alexandria, Va.

I didn't know it at the time, but terHorst was practically a neighbor of ours back in 1965-66 when we lived in Alexandria. He knew exactly where I had lived, in an area called Riverside Gardens, just off the Mt. Vernon Parkway and just across a chain link fence from Fort Hunt High School where his daughter now goes to school. I knew the general area where he lived but couldn't place the street.

He also had known a good friend of mine from my St. Louis newspapering days, Aaron Bensch, for many years chief of bureau in Washington for the St. Louis Globe-Democrat. Mr. Bensch, who reminded you of a sawed-off Telly Savalas, was city editor of the old St. Louis Star-Times when I knew and worked for him. When the paper closed in 1961, he went to the Globe and eventually to Washington as their news bureau chief there. He died several years ago.

We were interested in terHorst's working hours as a member of the White House press corps. He said he generally went to work about 10 a.m. and had a news briefing by the President's press secretary somewhere between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m. This informed the press of the various meetings being held in the White House that day as well as the individuals who would be having private meetings with the President. He had to file his copy with his Detroit newspaper in time for the afternoon editions since their big competition is the electronic, mainly television, media.

Mrs. Pat Nixon has a great admirer in terHorst. He considers Mrs. Nixon the glue that has held the family together through the past difficult months, labeling her a "real strong person."

As for President Ford, who he has known and covered as a newsman for more than a quarter century, terHorst says "he is just plain good people." Ford likes everybody and everybody likes him, he said, adding that the President was an Eagle Scout in his youth and relishes that image in the nation's highest office.

"He's just the opposite of Nixon," terHorst said. The former President on occasions worked hard to make friends with the press and those around him, but he had a knack for saying the wrong thing at the wrong time and turning people off. "I don't think he really had a truly sincere friend," he said.

I asked him if Wilbur Mills' recent escapade with the Argentine belly-dancer and the midnight ride around the tidal basin reflected something of which Washington society or the press corps had long been aware, he replied, "It was a complete surprise to me. I always thought Wilbur was the type who would run home at the end of the day and read the Constitution to his wife."

He didn't foresee any difficulty on Mills' part in getting reelected down in Arkansas because of the incident. "People are just laughing about it and saying, 'There must be life in the old boy yet.'" He also expressed the opinion that Mills' opponent, a pretty young Republican lady, couldn't capitalize on the incident to any great degree, mainly because she is a divorcee. "And that's the Bible belt, you know," he said.

Catapulted into the national spotlight when Ford named him as his press secretary in early August, terHorst was asked if he would have resigned had he been in on all the discussions and the weighing of the possibilities involved in the Nixon pardon, rather than having it come as a complete surprise to him.

"I certainly would have," he replied without a moment's hesitation, "for I feel some of my highest principles have been violated by it."

He and the President are still good friends, he said. "We're not at all bitter toward each other because of my decision to resign. I guess that's a peculiarity of those of us from Grand Rapids (Mich.). We can disagree and still be the best of friends."

Let's Stay Well

Immunization Month

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

October was designated by the health professions and public health authorities as Immunization Month. Families should review the needs of each member and obtain immunizations from their family physician or public health department.

This emphasis is needed because studies show that most of us have become careless and failed to keep up our immunization.

Infancy and childhood immunizations include pertussis (whooping cough), diphtheria, tetanus (lockjaw), poliomyelitis (infantile paralysis), rubella (measles), and rubella (German measles).

Smallpox vaccination is optional. Since the chance of exposure these days is so remote (except in foreign travel to certain countries), your physician may feel that the occasional systemic reaction to smallpox vaccination is such that the vaccination is not justified.

You will note that rubella (measles) was included. This disease has been the point of jokes, but a case of measles is not a joking matter. Measles can be a rough experience, occasionally being associated with an inflammation of the brain (encephalitis).

The measles virus has been blamed by researchers as a contributing cause of multiple sclerosis, which may appear in certain persons in later years.

Rubella vaccination should be given to all children 1 to 12 years of age. Women of childbearing age should also be immunized when they are susceptible and not pregnant. They should be instructed to avoid pregnancy for two months after rubella vaccination.

Q. Our 3-year-old son, nearing 4, wets his pants occasionally. Most of the time he makes it to the toilet. What can I do?

A. Your son's behavior sounds normal. He likely concentrates on what he is doing and fails to respond to the urge to urinate until he cannot control his bladder. Reward his good behavior by complimenting him when he makes it to the toilet. Try interrupting his activities and sending him to the bathroom when you think it is time for him to urinate. If you have not done so, consult a physician. He will test a urine sample. If the urine is abnormal, the cause should be determined.

Q. Mr. G. asks what is meant by a Colles' fracture.

A. A Colles' fracture is a break in the lower end of the radius (the bone on the thumb side of the forearm), in which the lower piece of bone is displaced backward (same direction as the back of the hand). Such fractures usually occur when the weight of the body in a fall is caught against the outstretched hand.

Isn't It The Truth

State Government Report

Property Assessments

By SENATOR CARROLL HUBBARD

MAYFIELD, Ky.—The Kentucky Court of Appeals last Friday ruled that the state Revenue Department can use one property assessment figure for allocating state aid to local school districts, and a later, higher assessment for determining how much school money must be raised locally.

The ruling, in a case brought by the Jefferson County Board of Education and nine other school boards, thus rejects the board's contention that one assessment figure should be used for both purposes. The ruling upholds a lower court decision.

Ernest Grayson, deputy superintendent in charge of finances for the county schools, said that the different assessments used by the Revenue Department could mean a difference of as much as $4 million in the amount of state aid received by the county system.

Local school districts in Kentucky receive state aid according to a formula based on local property assessments. They are also required to raise a definite share of their money through taxation, that share being based on local assessments.

Grayson said that the state uses assessment figures gathered during the summer to determine how much state aid a school system will receive in the next fiscal year. Then later, on Jan. 1 of the next year, the Revenue Department certifies a new set of assessment figures based on more recent property sales which are usually higher. These later figures, said Grayson, are used to determine how much the school system should raise locally.

Because of the difference between the two assessments, the Jefferson County schools in recent years have had to raise about $500,000 more locally each year than they would if the midsummer assessment figure had been used, Grayson said. Conversely, he said, if the later assessment was used to determine the system's share of state funds, the system could gain as much as $4 million annually in state aid.

The county's argument, he said, had been that whichever assessment figure was used, it should be used for both purposes.

Ted L. Crosthwaite, executive secretary of the Kentucky Retired Teachers System, has announced that on Oct. 31, $3 million will be distributed to approximately 10,000 retired teachers, with an additional $3.5 million scheduled for distribution this time next year. Paid for the third consecutive year, the amount of each bonus will depend upon the length of time the teacher has been retired. Every teacher who retired prior to July 22, 1973 will qualify for the special payment.

General Fund receipts for the first quarter of the 1974-75 fiscal year (July, August and September) totaled $218,178,764 for an increase of 36.5 per cent over the same period last year. Sales and use tax receipts accounted for $93,148,592 of that total. Coal severance tax receipts of $22,125,584 represented a 132 per cent increase over last year, and 47.5 per cent over the $15 million estimate for the quarter.

Kentucky can capture a greater share of both the domestic and world markets for agricultural products, a marketing specialist has told the legislature's subcommittee on agriculture.

Scott Sawyers, managing coordinator of market development for the Governor's Council on Agriculture, based his report on a study of present and future markets for Kentucky agricultural products prepared by the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture. The study was released last month.

Sawyers told the subcommittee that by 1980 Kentucky, by fully using its agricultural resources—land, labor and capital—can increase its production of tobacco, corn, soybeans, wheat, milk, slaughter hogs and feeder calves. He said, however, there was an immediate need to let farmers know that it is worthwhile for them to make long-term investments in expanding or improving their production. "The producer is unaware of what the viable market demands are going to be. We need a better education network," Sawyers said.

He said the long-range outlook is good for all the state's major agricultural products despite the economic problems currently facing certain kinds of farmers such as beef producers.

Sawyers also said Kentucky, particularly eastern Kentucky, had the potential for developing a relatively new agricultural field, supplying garden items such as perennial flowers and potted plants.

The Kentucky Association for Mental Health has released a report that is "generally critical" of the state's network of comprehensive mental health care centers. The report was based on "major impressions and concerns" of more than 50 association members who visited every comprehensive care center in the state during the spring and summer.

One of the major concerns raised was that, with a few exceptions, persons requiring inpatient treatment must be sent to state mental hospitals. "This is the case because many private hospitals have no beds available for psychiatric services," the report said. "And in areas where such beds are available, psychiatrists and physicians from the comprehensive care centers are sometimes not allowed to admit patients."

When a center is located far from a state hospital, jails are still being used for emergency inpatient treatment, the report said.

While the problem with inpatient services is acute, the report indicated that out-patient services, in some centers, are the "best accepted and administered part of the comprehensive care center's program."

"However, many patients are still placed in mini-care homes, personal-care homes, and other places, some of which are unfit for human habitation," the report said. Many patients are still "lost" after they are removed from a hospital, and many centers "observe only regular office hours and haven't made themselves accessible to their clients," according to the report.

Is This Another Promise?

Dear Editor:

How many years have we waited and waited for the four-laning of 641 North? Too many!

Now, suddenly, a few weeks before election, Governor Ford appears, checks in hand, and with much hoopla and fanfare buys two parcels of land!

The great extension has begun. I just wonder how fast it will continue after the election? Me thinks not too fast.

Maybe this is another promise such as we heard a few years back, quote: "I will not raise taxes. I will take the sales tax from food" ad nauseum!

He sure did take the sales tax from food. But he added it to gasoline.

Mr. Ford, do you really think we in Western Kentucky are that dumb and gullible?

Consumer Comments

Beware Of Homework

By Ed W. Hancock

It doesn't always pay to do that homework! Consumers should be wary of work-at-home schemes promising hundreds of dollars of weekly income in return for a few hours of cutting, pasting or sewing in their own living rooms. Homemakers, the elderly or those physically unable to leave home often are attracted by ads offering $100 per week for part-time work done at home, with no training or experience necessary.

The schemes usually require the consumer to send money for instructions or materials. Sometimes the scheme ends right there, with the consumer losing his fee. If instructions or materials are received, the consumer may find they are incomplete.

Earn-at-home schemes may involve such activities as addressing envelopes or writing form letters. The consumer may find out, too late, that he or she is expected to furnish envelopes or paper. After a mailing is sent out, a company may inform the homemaker that the worker will not be paid unless a mailing generates a good deal of business for the company.

Another type of homework scheme offers great pay for knitted garments. Later, consumers discover that they are required to buy an expensive knitting machine. When the consumers try to sell the garments back to the company, they are told that the garments are below company standards—just an excuse to refuse to buy the garments. The company makes a profit, of course, on the machine.

Naturally, there are many legitimate ways to earn money while remaining at home. To ensure that you deal with a responsible company, ask lots of questions.

Ask for names of others who have worked at home. Contact those people and see if they did, in fact, earn money as promised. Inquire if a major fee or purchase is required before you are able to earn money. Find out if you are assured of sales to the company or to clients. If you are assured of future sales, get that assurance in writing.

Remember, if there's little or no work for you to do, why would they pay you?

If you know of any homework schemes like these, write to the Attorney General's Office, Consumer Protection Division, Room 34, Capitol Building, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. Kentucky residents, use the toll-free consumer hotline: 1-800-372-2960.

Conference Races Discussed In Thoroughbred Club Meeting

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor
Ohio Valley Conference races in football and cross country were the main topics of discussion Monday night in the Student Union Ballroom at Murray State University at the first meeting of the Thoroughbred Club.

Five coaches appeared on the agenda and gave brief accounts of their respective athletic seasons.

Also introduced were Murray State basketball coach Fred Overton and MSU President Deno Curris.

Following the meeting, a highlight film of the 1973 Cincinnati Bengals was shown. Dr. Jim Frank was the emcee for the evening and the first coach to be introduced was Johnny Reagan, who is in his 18th year at coaching baseball at Murray State.

Reagan's fall season concluded last week with the 'Breds sweeping all six games in the western division of the conference. In all, including exhibition games, the team posted an 11-0 record.

Reagan said the spring season will begin March 6 with several Big 10 schools, Ivy League schools, Southeastern Conference schools and some top major independents highlighting the schedule.

Last year, Murray was ranked as high as 15th in the nation in the major college baseball poll.

Golf
The second person to speak about his season was golf coach Buddy Hewitt, whose team had just returned from a successful trip to the Louisiana State Intercollegiate Tournament.

At the LSU Tourney, senior Bruce Douglass of Murray set a new course record with a six-under par 210 for the 54 holes of play.

It marked the first time ever a golfer outside the states of Louisiana or Texas had won the highly prestigious event.

worked at his game and his goal is going back to the NCAA Tournament this year. He has helped to improve the caliber of golf at Murray State and he has helped improve the incentive of his teammates," Hewitt said.

Soccer
The coach of the most exciting sport on campus is Schellas Hyndman, a native of Czechoslovakia and an outstanding young man on the rise in the world of athletics.

Thus far, the soccer team at Murray is 3-5 for the season but there are several reasons for that.

Hyndman said the highlight of the season will be the 10-team State Tournament which will be held at Berea College.

Play will be broken into two divisions, with the winner of each division meeting a week later for the state title.

Hyndman said, "of a team playing four 90-minute games in two days."

Cross Country
Racer cross country coach Bill Cornell, a native of England, got in several good lines in his part of the program.

Cornell spoke of the English rise in cross country, noting that Western Kentucky has five British on the team and Murray has two, both of whom are destined to become All-Americans.

"We tried to recruit regional athletes, Dr. Curris," Cornell said.

"But we couldn't get them so I decided to get them from my hometown," said Cornell, as the crowd exploded into laughter.

Cornell promised that Western Kentucky would win the national championship.

The first step toward that for the Hilltoppers will come this Saturday at the Murray Country Club when the Ohio Valley Conference meet is held.

"There is no way anyone could beat Western, unless four of them fell into a hole or something," Cornell said.

Later, Dr. Frank replied and asked "Where do you want that hole?"

Cornell said the battle for second place will be between Murray and last year's champions, East Tennessee.

Cornell urged club members and townspeople to come to the meet, which will begin at 11 a.

m., and support the team.

Ferguson said Eastern Kentucky will be the best football team the Racers have played this season.

"What it all amounts to is we're not finished yet and I'll see you at the next meeting."

The next meeting, which will be opened to the ladies as the Thoroughbred club is planning to go coed, will be at 6 p.m. November 25.

Coach Fred Overton will introduce members of the Racers basketball team and following the program, the annual Blue-Gold game will be held in the MSU Sports Arena.

Usually the "Don Rickles of the program," Ferguson was serious as he talked about the crucial game coming up this weekend at Eastern Kentucky.

At the present time, Eastern, Western and Murray are all 3-1 in the league while Tennessee Tech is 2-1.

"We have a possibility of where we can play two of those teams so we can do something about the tie, one way or the other."

"But Tech's already done, we blew it," Ferguson quietly said of Murray's 26-0 loss to the Golden Eagles.

Coming into last weekend's games, Eastern and Tech were undefeated in the conference as they trekked to Western and Morehead, respectively.

"It couldn't have worked out any better if someone would have taken a pen and written a script," Ferguson said.

Harris And Bradshaw Lead Steelers' Win

By GARY MIHOCES
Associated Press Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP)—Terry Bradshaw predicted it. He's back, so is Franco Harris and so is the Pittsburgh Steelers' running game.

"And it feels good, real good," Bradshaw said after he made his first quarterback start this year and Harris rushed for a career high of 141 yards in a 24-17 victory over the Atlanta Falcons on Monday night's nationally televised National Football League game.

On opening day, Bradshaw was on the bench behind Joe Gilliam, who led the NFL preseason passers by throwing almost twice as often as Bradshaw had in Pittsburgh's two previous playoff seasons.

"Joe's had the hot hand," Bradshaw said in September, "but the time will come when we have to establish a running threat. My style is ball control and I'll wait until this thing runs its course."

After Gilliam's 5-for-18 passing day in a narrow win last week over Cleveland, Coach Chuck Noll opted for Bradshaw, even though the Steelers were atop the AFC Central Division.

"It was pretty much a return to the bread and butter," Noll said after Pittsburgh climbed to 5-1-1 and Atlanta fell to 2-5 under beleaguered Coach Norm Van Brocklin.

"We battled them. We fought as hard as we could," said Van Brocklin, target of a "Dump the Dutchman" campaign in Atlanta.

The Steelers pounded out a season high of 235 yards rushing against the Falcons, and stumpy Rocky Bleier added 78 yards to Harris' career high total.

"I get a kick out of making the running game go," said Bradshaw, who completed nine of 20 passes for 130 yards with two interceptions.

It was the first 100-yard game of the season for Harris, who had a career high of 28 carries, and he gained all but 29 of his ground yards in the second half. He also ran 29 yards with a swing pass from Bradshaw to set up the winning touchdown.

Harris, who had rushed for 206 yards previously this season, powered seven yards for what proved to be the winning touchdown in the final quarter.

Pittsburgh jumped to a 14-0 lead in the first quarter. Bleier plunged one yard for the first touchdown, set up by Lynn Swann's 52-yard punt return, and Bradshaw dove in from the one for the second score to cap a 57-yard march.

Atlanta quarterback Bob Lee, sacked seven times by the hard-charging Steeler front, fired a pair of touchdown passes in the second quarter to knot the score at 14-14 by halftime.

With Harris leading the way in the third quarter, Pittsburgh marched to the Atlanta 16-yard line before Roy Gerela booted a tie-breaking 33-yard field goal.

Harris' seven-yard touchdown in the opening minute of the first quarter capped a 55-yard drive.

Nick Mike-Mayer added a 32-yard field goal for Atlanta about five minutes into the final period, and the Falcons recovered a fumble by Bleier at their 47-yard line on the next kickoff.

However, tight end Jim Mitchell lost a fumble at the Pittsburgh 40-yard line six plays later, and the Falcons were held inside their own 30-yard line the rest of the game.

Field Trial Club Event Is Saturday

The Calloway County Field Trial Club will sponsor a membership trial on Saturday, November 2, at the field trial area of the Land Between the Lakes, Tennessee side.

The trial will be open to anyone in Calloway County and will include shooting dogs and puppies up to two years old. The shooting dogs will be judged on hunting dog standards and the puppies will be judged on shooting dog standards.

Trophies will be awarded to four places in each class.

Persons desiring additional information should contact Marshall Gilliam, 753-4149 or Jerry Lassiter, 753-7787.

Paul (Bear) Bryant at Alabama entered the 1974 football season as the winningest coach with 231 college victories. Woody Hayes of Ohio State ranks second with 192.

Owls (Who, Who?) Move Into Football Ratings

By JAN PRIDDY
Associated Press Writer
PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A winning attitude has helped the Temple Owls topple its first six foes this year.

In recent years "we found more ways to lose football games than win them," Temple Coach Wayne Hardin said. "But we have now learned how to win and have a winning attitude."

Following last Saturday's 21-17 victory over small-college power Delaware, Temple moved into 19th place in The Associated Press' major college football poll.

Hardin cited the Delaware game as the difference between this season's Owls and the past. Delaware took a 17-14 lead in the third quarter only to see the Owls win 21-17 on a 33-yard scoring pass from senior quarterback Steve Joachim to Jeff Stempel.

"A few years ago we might have folded when Delaware went ahead on us," Hardin said. "But the kids hung tough and made the big plays when they had to."

The nation's Top Ten teams maintained their positions in the AP poll, with runner-up Oklahoma chipping away slightly at the No. 1-ranked Ohio State's comfortable lead.

Harrodsburg Leading In Class A Ratings

By BOB COOPER
AP Sports Writer
After making Paris its eighth victim of the season, Harrodsburg has taken over as the state's No. 1 Class A team in The Associated Press Kentucky High School Football Poll.

Not only did the Pioneers bounce Paris for only its second loss in the past 26 games, but the Greyhounds were shut out 16-0 and gained only 22 yards, both passing and rushing.

Owensboro, 9-0, remained at the top of the heap for the second straight week and St. Xavier was voted No. 1 in Jefferson County's Class AAA for the sixth week in a row.

While Yeast-George, that is—finally made Harrodsburg rise, the 5-foot-9 junior, who scored both touchdowns for the Pioneers, sent Paris plunging from second to fifth in the AP poll.

Beechwood, a 47-14 winner over Bellevue, moved up from third to second and unbeaten Elkhorn City, victor 29-12 over Johns Creek in the Cougars' last outing, jumped from fifth to third.

Talbert won the honor for the fourth time this year when he gained 132 yards in 15 carries and scored touchdowns on runs of 73 and 9 yards in Eastern Kentucky's 34-24 loss to Western Kentucky.

He has gained 941 yards in six games for an average of 157 yards a game.

Winning defensive player of the week honors was Murray State's Les Stinnett, a tackle who was credited with 11 tackles, including five quarterback sacks, and six assists in Murray's 17-3 victory over East Tennessee.

Talbert is a 5-foot-8, 175-pound sophomore from Lexington, Ky., and Stinnett is a 6-foot-2, 217-pound junior from Harrodsburg, Ky.

The OVC also cited these players for outstanding performances Saturday:

Eddie Wright, Joey Graves, David Fritts and William Jenkins, Middle Tennessee; Joe Alvino, Art Bledsoe and Ron Catlett, Eastern Kentucky; John Humphrey, Van Pittman, Dale Young and Dave Male, Western Kentucky.

Bill Van Wagener, Frank Jones, Keith Mescher and Mike Marksberry, Morehead; Don Clayton and Bruce Walker, Murray; Brad Gordon, Tennessee Tech; Lee Trawick, Peewee Brown and Benny Denton, East Tennessee; and Richard Woods, Henry Yarbler and Dwight Houston, Austin Peay.

Ali Will Win By Cutting Up Foreman

One way or another, the great career of Muhammad Ali will probably come to an end tonight.

Either he will win back the crown that is deservingly his or else young George Foreman will prove himself to be the Black Rocky Marciano.

Twice in his life, Ali has been floored in fights. Englishman Henry Cooper was the first to do it and then Joe Frazier floored Ali in the 15th round of their first controversial battle.

Like Canadian George Chuvalo, whom both fighters have beaten, Foreman has never been knocked down. And the odds are Ali isn't the man to do it. For if Ali is to win the fight, it will be by his "Boxing". I consider Ali as a skillful boxer while Foreman is a lunging fighter.

The strategy is simple. Ali will come out and try to make Foreman punch himself out. That is, Ali will invite Foreman to hit him, which sounds rather silly doesn't it?

But, Ali's strategy will be to block all the punches coming at him. His theory is that after a couple of rounds of missing punches, his opponent's arms become tired and they began to drop on defense.

Thus, if he can do that with Foreman, Ali should be able to get inside and work on the face and eyes of the champion.

If a sparring partner can cause a gash over Foreman's eye, while the champion has on protective headgear, stop and think what a man like Muhammad Ali can do.

Ali is 32, yes. But show me a dozen men in the world who are 25 and in the shape that Ali is in at the present time. Age is only what you make it.

The fact is, Ali's legs are in shape to go 15 rounds. And if he can stay away from Foreman, even many fighters say, Ali can win it. Joe Louis has said if the fight goes three rounds, Ali will win.

And that is the key.

The first three rounds will decide the fight for Ali. So if you are listening tonight to a round-by-round summary and hear the fight has gone into the seventh round, take heed.

For Ali will soon win by cutting Foreman into ribbons and he will regain the title that was wrongly stripped from him.

Once more, the day of the crawl is Wednesday at 3 p.m. on the track behind Murray High.

I expect those 11 people to be there, regardless of whether or not they have to crawl.

Cage Report

Ready or not, it's almost here. Basketball season officially opens next Thursday (November 7) when the Calloway County Junior Highs swing into action.

All three of the schools will have four teams, seventh grade girls, seventh grade boys, eighth grade girls, and eighth grade boys.

East Elementary School is in the process of making out its schedule and principal Bob Allen reports that as of now, the boys teams have seven games set and the girls have four.

There will be basketball going on every night this winter and even in the afternoons. On two occasions, the Calloway County girls varsity team will play on the same program with the boys.

The rest of the time, they play with the freshman team.

Many of the elementary games will be in the afternoon.

It would appear Murray Middle School will join with the three county schools to form a four-team tournament sometime next year.

At Calloway County High School, Coach David King reports practice is going well for the season opener November 8 at home against Sedalia.

Already, 6-9 James Wells has been selected as an All-American. He was listed by "Basketball Special," a quarterly cage publication, as being one of the top 50 high school players in the United States.

That list of All-American honors will undoubtedly grow even more as he is a cinch to be named to many more teams and it would appear he will likely be Kentucky's Mr. Basketball this season.

Wells will be featured in a story next week as will the Laker team when the Ledger & Times begins its basketball coverage.

For the past week, I've been working on a system of ranking both high school teams and Ohio Valley Conference teams and that should make for some interesting reading, once I get the bugs worked out of the system.

For those who are wondering about my predictions, I hit 10 of 13 games last weekend and tied one. That brings the season record to 55-20-2 for a mark of .733, which isn't too bad.

The misses included Murray's win over Hopkinsville, Russellville's win over Trigg County and Morehead's win over Tech. And if I had the same three games to pick this weekend, I'd still pick them the same way.

Predictions on this week's games will be in Friday's sports section.

Wins Meal At Rudy's

Jonathan Brockoff of Kirkwood Drive was the winner of last week's contest for the free meal at Rudy's Restaurant.

He correctly answered the following question: "Name the individual in Murray who missed breaking the four-minute mile barrier by one-half second."

That person is Murray State track coach Bill Cornell. Several people guessed Sam Torres but the former All-American for the Racers was almost five seconds away from the elusive barrier.

Cornell ran his 4:00.5 mile as a sophomore at Southern Illinois University in 1963.

His 880 time of 1:47 is three seconds better than what the winning time was in last spring's Ohio Valley Conference meet.

So that shows you how qualified the man is to be the track coach doesn't it?

On occasions, he still gets out and runs with his cross country men. And he usually beats most of them too.

Bongo Drums Beat Unnerving Tattoo In Setting Fight Mood

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
KINSHASA, Zaire (AP) — Muhammad Ali continued his taunting tirades and George Foreman remained somber as a monk as the two whiled away the hours leading to their pre-dawn battle Wednesday for the heavyweight boxing championship of the world.

It was a scene that staggered the imagination. Bongo drums beat a unnerving tattoo on the sensitive inner ear. Strident African music — with its heavy jumpy and jivy beat — poured out from the buses and shops. Native dancers, part of a carnival, sashayed with their bumps and grinds from the back end of trucks parading the boulevards.

Tension began building to an electric pitch in this humid, sultry capital where two black Americans have come to pay homage to their ancestors and battle 15 rounds or less for the ring's richest prize.

Both Foreman, the titleholder, and Ali, a former champion who had the crown taken from him outside the ring because of his failure to enter the military, have made much of their odyssey to the land of their forefathers but don't shrug off other motivations.

Each is guaranteed a $5 million purse — richest of all time. It is money in the bank. And neither has to be overly concerned whether the strange conglomeration of producers and backers reaches the aim of $20 million to $30 million gross.

The fighters themselves have been overshadowed somewhat by the fanfare and wild trappings surrounding the event but as time for the opening bell approached — 4 a.m. local time, 10 p.m., EST, Tuesday — Foreman held firm as the favorite despite escalating Ali sentiment.

The latest odds quoted from Las Vegas are 14-5. More conservative London bookies give the champion the edge 11-5. The international press corps, which has had the two boxers under close scrutiny for a week, has swung to Ali by a small majority. Ali has been very impressive in workouts — physically, mentally and vocally. Veteran Ali watchers contend that they have never seen him fitter or sharper. At 216½ pounds, he looks every inch the skilled meticulous assassin who twice stopped the awesome Sonny Liston in 1964 and 1965.

Foreman's advantage appears to lie in his age — 25, seven years younger than Ali — and his brute strength. He has demolished every opponent he has faced in the past two years, none going more than two rounds, and his victims have included such fighters as Joe Frazier and Ken Norton, who scored victories over Ali.

"Foreman didn't knock them out, he pushed them out," argues Ali. "He is a pusher. He is big and strong. But he is slow-footed, awkward, dumb. He has never met anybody like me."

"I am a dancing master. I am the best in the world. I am preparing to score the biggest upset in ring history."

There have been unusual heavyweight title bouts before.

But the sport never has seen a spectacle to match this one. At midnight tonight, when even all respectable leopards and zebras are asleep, tens of thousands of Zairians will be winding slowly toward the Stadium of the 20th of May to witness the first heavyweight fight ever staged in this part of the world.

They are expected to fill most, if not all, of the 62,889 seats in the massive soccer stadium, paying between $250 for the choice ringside chairs to $10 in the upper reaches.

Since President Mobutu Sese Seko and his government have paid $1.4 million as a guarantee of the live gate, the portals may be thrown open if all tickets are unsold.

The weird hour was picked to conform with prime time in the United States where the bout will be viewed coast-to-coast on theater television screens at a cost of $20 to $30 a seat.

This is the main source of revenue.

The 19-foot ring, with its red, white and blue ropes, is set up under a sprawling roof so that the fighters and the press rows will be protected in case of rain. Rain is possible. This is Zaire's monsoon season.

Units of Mobutu's army will be out in large numbers to control the highly demonstrative crowd, which already has shown a strong favoritism for Ali.

The crowd's favorite chant is: "Ali, boma-ye Ali, boma ye." "Kill him, kill him."

The controversial Ali has fed their emotions by terming Foreman an American Uncle Tom and even calling him a Belgian, an ugly word here where the Belgians held the old Congolese under their thumbs for decades.

Foreman, a one-time juvenile delinquent in the ghettos of Houston who joined the U.S. Job Corps and became very religious, shrugs off Ali's tantrums.

"Ali is a pitch man; talking is his game," Foreman says. "His fists are not as dangerous as his tongue."

Foreman is a hulking athlete — 6-feet-3 with the shoulders of a bull elephant and hands as big as ham hocks. Although just as tall and only 3½ pounds lighter, Ali looks much leaner.

Ali is the master craftsman — a mover, a sticker. He is like a man with a rapier in the ring — cutting, chopping, hurting, rarely knocking anybody out.

Foreman is just the opposite — powerful, a plodder with primitive skills which wreak devastating results.

"I hope to knock him out," Foreman said. "Nobody gets hurt as much that way."

Americans To Collide With Florida Blazers

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

The Florida Blazers and Memphis Southmen are within one victory of clinching ties for World Football League divisional titles — but a couple of other teams will have plenty to say Wednesday night whether that big step is taken.

With three games remaining, the Blazers, 12-5, are two games ahead of the Charlotte Hornets in the East and the Southmen, 14-3, hold a two-game Central Division margin over the Birmingham Americans.

And it's the Americans who'll be trying to stay in the Central race by knocking off Florida. Memphis will have its hands full with the revived Hawaiians, 7-10 and still scratching to stay in second place in the West.

In Wednesday night's other games, Western champion Southern California, 12-5, is at Charlotte, 10-7, and Chicago, 7-10, visits Philadelphia, 7-10. On Thursday night, Shreveport hosts Portland in a battle of Western teams tied at 6-10-1.

Birmingham's got plenty of firepower in George Mira's passing to Dennis Homan and Alfred Jenkins — but the Americans, who won their first 10 games but have dropped five of their last seven, are running up against the WFL's top defense.

The Blazers have allowed an average of less than two touchdowns per game.

Florida, which has won five of its last six games, knows how to score, too, behind Tommy Reamon, the league's leading rusher with 1,298 yards.

Memphis ran off 11 straight victories before losing to Portland last Thursday night. Now they face the Hawaiians, who equalled the WFL scoring record with their 60-17 swamping of Chicago a week ago.

The power of the Southmen is on the ground, with J.J. Jennings, John Harvey and Willie Spencer all among the top 10 rushers. The Hawaiians will counter with an aerial attack headed by quarterback Randy Johnson passing to WFL receiving leader Tim Deaney.

Charlotte can keep its slim hopes of an Eastern title alive with a victory over the Sun — but the Hornets will have to do it without quarterback Tom Sherman, out the rest of the season with a dislocated elbow.

Brian Dowling, who has thrown only 20 passes all year, will call the signals. Opposite him, Southern California has the league's leading passer in rookie Tony Adams. He'll be throwing to John Land, a 1,000-yard gainer, and air with Jim Corcoran, the No. 2 passer.

Chicago has lost eight in a row but the Fire, doused by injuries, is counting on quarterback Bubba Wyche, acquired from the defunct Detroit Wheels, to help turn things around. The Bell, coming off a stunning 45-7 rout of the Sun, has both land and air power — land with John Land, a 1,000-yard gainer, and air with Jim Corcoran, the No. 2 passer.

Boxing Match

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Hungarian Olympic team and the United States National AAU team will have their first boxing match in the United States on Nov. 30 in the newly-opened Coliseum here.

Many Scouts Enjoy Camporee Held Here Over Weekend

Scouts from nine counties of Kentucky and one county in Illinois were in attendance at the Four Rivers council camporee held here over the past weekend.

Officials reported 28 units, including 282 Scouts, 87 Webelos, five explorers and 65 adult Scout leaders, attended the camporee.

The Scouts checked into the camping area, located on the new city-county park property on Friday, October 25, and were entertained by the Order of the Arrow dancers at a campfire that night.

"Be-fit" activities were conducted on Saturday with the assistance of the Alpha Tau Omega fraternity at Murray State University. The Scouts were guests of the university at the Murray State-East Tennessee football game Saturday night.

Church services were conducted Sunday morning by Rev. Steve Davenport.

This was the first time that a district camporee had been held in Murray, local officials said. Don Henry of Murray served as field event chairman and Bill Robertson of Fulton served as camporee coordinator.

Staff Photos by Dave Celaya

Maybe not a world record, but his broad jump looks pretty good.

A mighty hurl of the discus (hidden in shadows) by this Scout.

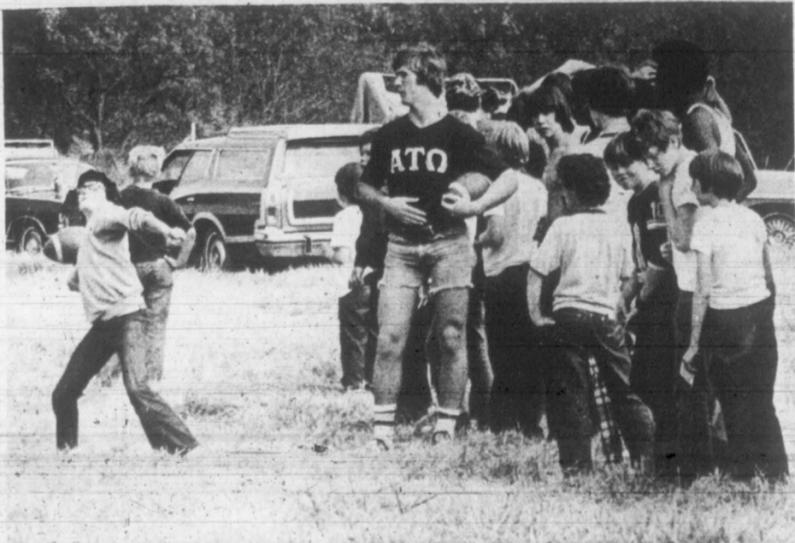

An all out effort is seen in the softball throw.

"Look out, over there, this may hit your toe."

John Williams (background with dark glasses) chairman of the Four Rivers Boy Scout council board of directors, discusses Scouting with several adult leaders.

This football toss has the makings of a touchdown.

All eyes are on this young quarterback in the football toss.

Hunt Says 'Rude Awakening' Persuaded Him To Stop Lying

WASHINGTON (AP) — E. Howard Hunt Jr. says a "rude awakening" brought on by release of the White House tapes persuaded him to stop lying about Watergate.

Hunt testified Monday at the Watergate cover-up trial that he lied more than a dozen times before grand juries in the spring of 1973, even though he could no longer have been prosecuted for his part in the Watergate break-in or subsequent attempts to cover it up.

Hunt, free on appeal from his guilty plea for the burglary, was to return to the witness stand today for the first cross-examination by defense lawyers who represent the five defendants — H. R. Haldeman, John D. Ehrlichman, John N. Mitchell, Robert C. Mardian and Kenneth W. Parkinson.

As the sixth week of the trial opened Monday, the 56-year-old retired CIA agent said he read published transcripts of the presidential tapes last spring shortly after he was released from prison.

The tapes disclosed increasing discussions among former President Richard M. Nixon and aides about Hunt's continuing demands for money. Former White House counsel John W. Dean III told Nixon it was blackmail.

"I felt a sense of rude awakening and I realized that these men were not worthy of my continued or future loyalty," Hunt testified near the end of his first day on the stand.

By March 16, 1973, Hunt by his own testimony had received at least $165,000 for lawyers' fees and other expenses. However, by last spring the money had long since stopped.

Hunt cited another reason for telling the truth about Watergate. He said his four children "were not fully persuaded that the testimony I had given in prior public forums was in all respects factual and candid."

Hunt, a CIA agent for 21 years who now lives in Miami, was a major witness at the Senate Watergate hearings in the spring and summer of 1973.

He is testifying at the trial as a court witness, which allows Watergate prosecutors to ask questions that suggest the answers. Under that arrangement, agreed to by U.S. District Court Judge John J. Sirica, neither the prosecution or the defense vouches for Hunt's credibility.

Sirica on Monday suggested that when and if defense lawyers get Nixon on the stand, they might want him called as a court witness.

Nonetheless, most of the defense lawyers complained repeatedly about the prosecution's unwillingness to stand behind Hunt's testimony.

Coal Workers Contract

WASHINGTON (AP) — Coal industry negotiators report major progress in contract talks with the United Mine Workers and say a tentative settlement is possible by the end of the week.

"We're hoping to make an agreement this week," said Guy Farmer, general counsel for the Bituminous Coal Operators Association. "It's moving and I think we've got a shot at it."

Farmer joined UMW President Arnold Miller in saying that a tentative agreement could be wrapped up quickly.

However, Miller said last week that a contract would have to be agreed on by Nov. 4 to avoid a strike.

The UMW's contract with the soft-coal industry expires Nov. 12, and union officials say ratification will take about 10 days.

Even if the negotiators reach a tentative agreement, the question remains whether the union's 120,000 members will approve the first package submitted for ratification.

An indication of progress in the talks came Monday when the negotiations shifted for the first time to a general discussion of economic proposals, including wages, sick pay and pensions.

Since the talks began Sept. 3, the negotiators have concentrated on such issues as work rules and mine safety, which the union says are more important than money.

Sources close to the talks said that while some "odds and ends remain" in these areas, "the basics are pretty well understood."

Popcorn...

(Continued from Page 1) attributed it to a combination of several factors. Excessive rain at planting time, then heat at the wrong time, and a quick crop of grass in August have all combined to reduce the popcorn yield.

While the supply is not going to come close to meeting the demand, according to Chrisman, he does not see $1 a pound for popcorn. He did admit that the corn could go as high as 50 cents per pound.

"Popcorn is still a good buy," Chrisman said, noting that 14-16 boxes of popcorn could be obtained from one pound of raw corn.

Herman Ellis, of Ellis Popcorn Co., was not quite as pessimistic, saying that although the weather has reduced yields by 20 per cent, he doesn't see a drastic price increase.

"The supply is not what we need," he said, but added that he feels it should be nearly adequate. Ellis noted that the national shortage is not caused by the local situation, but is reflected more in the northern states of Iowa, Indiana, and Illinois.

Jack Bryan, of Parker Popcorn, said that this year's yield is by far not a bumper crop, but said in most areas is about normal.

Bryan said that wet weather in the spring caused planting not to be uniform in this area. He noted that harvesting is coming along nicely, and is about finished in this area.

The Parker official said this is exceptionally early to be nearing completion of the harvest, but said that some corn is still to come in.

Bryan, whose firm wholesales mainly to theatrical concerns, said "We're paying the farmer about double what we did last year, and this will naturally be reflected in our rates."

Popcorn has always been a depressed item, Bryan said, noting that the price hasn't increased in 10 years, and even went down in some cases.

Bryan, however, echoed what seemed to be the sentiments of all three, that popcorn is indeed still a good buy.

Nixon Condition Reported Stable Following Surgery

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Former President Richard M. Nixon's surgeon said today that "Mr. Nixon is doing well" following an operation to stop a blood clot in his left leg from traveling any further toward his heart or lungs.

Dr. Eldon Hickman, who performed the hour-long operation, said Nixon's condition was "stable." He said Nixon returned to his room on the top of Memorial Hospital Medical Center of Long Beach for recovery.

Nixon's personal physician had said, the operation was required because the clots in Nixon's leg posed a threat to his life.

"With the threat the clot could become a pulmonary embolus, we placed a mild clip ... partially occluding but not completely occluding the vein," Hickman said. He said the clip was permanent.

He said the operation was uneventful and that the former president was "recovering in the normal manner."

The doctor said he had the usual postoperative effects of being sleepy and was confined to bed.

Kentucky and the first Presbyterian church, was established in 1783. In 1775 the Catholics came to Harrodsburg with the coming of Dr. George Hart and the William Coomes family. Mrs. Coomes was the first woman to make salt.

By 1793 it was estimated that three hundred Catholic families had settled in the State and the Bishop sent Rev. Stephen Baden to care for these people and he was with them for 40 years.

James Haw and Benjamin Ogden were the first traveling Methodist preachers sent in 1786 under the control of the church. By 1788 there were 143 members and three circuits had been established.

The public is invited to attend the services, a church spokesman said.

Officers said Patterson waived extradition and was returned to Tennessee last night.

Police also investigated the theft of a $75 radiator and heater hoses and cooling lines valued at $25 from a car at Brandon Bros. Used Cars. The theft was reported by J. P. Walker.
