NUMBER ELEVEN

REGISTER FOR SUGAR RATION MAY 4, 5, 6, 7

Registration for sugar rationing coupons will be held May 4, 5, 6, 7 for individual consumers at the nearest public school according to Office of Price Administration. Commercial sugar users will register April 28 and 29. Definite information as to where to register will be carried in this paper later.

It will not be possible for the individual consumer to buy sugar at all the week of April 28 to May 5, the Price Administrator said.

Coupon books will be issued at the time of registration, when you will have to declare the amount of sugar you have on hand. The ration board will deduct enough coupons to bring you down to par with the citizens who has an empty sugar bowl, and you won't be able to get a crystal until you've used up your board, no matter how small.

One member of the family can register the entire household. He or she will fill out and sign the application, giving the name, age and address of each applicant. Each person will receive a war ration book. It will contain 28 stamps; each stamp representing a two-week sugar allotment. The exact amount allowed each person per week has not, as yet, been decided.

DEATHS

MRS. MARY BELL ARMSTRONG

Mrs. Mary Bell Armstrong, died Thursday afternoon, March 26, in Denver, Col., after a major operation.

Mrs. Armstrong, a former resident of Fulton, was a charter member of Fulton City Chapter 41 of the Eastern Star.

She leaves her father, W. A. Bell of Fulton, who left Wednesday night for Denver to attend the funeral, and Ernest Bell also of Fulton.

DAVE N. NICHOLS

Dave N. Nichols died last week at the home of his daughters, Mrs. Essie Napien, at Gulfport, Miss. The body was brought back here Thursday night, and taken to the Hornbeak Funeral Home. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. William Woodburn Saturday with interment following at Union cemetery west of Fulton.

He leaves two daughters, Mrs. Napien, Mrs. Aubrey Nugent, of Franklin, Tenn.; a son, Chas. A. Nichols, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Former Hickman Man Killed In Accident

Morrison M. Ellison, 33, died late Friday night as a result of injuries sustained when his pick-up truck rammed into the back of a larger truck loaded with cattle earlier in the night near Woodland Mills. The accident occurred when Ellison attempted to pass the cattle truck on the Hickman-Union City highway.

Ellison was enroute to the home of his wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lel Hudson, in Hickman. Two of his children had been visiting in the Hudson home and he was intending to bring them back to his home in Union City. Mrs. Elizabeth Caudle of Hickman is a sister of the deceased.

Water Valley Man Died Wednesday

Joseph Owen, age 59, died at his home in Water Valley, Wednesday, following several weeks illness. Funeral services were conducted Thursday afternoon from the Methodist church of that community, by the Rev. W. A. Swift. Interment followed at the Camp Beauregard cemetery.

The deceased is survived by two children, Neely Owen of Water Valley and Mrs. Lucile Charlton of Detroit, Mich.; one brother, George Owen, east of Water Valley; two sisters, Mrs. Neshia Robey of Wingo and Mrs. Sally Floyd of Water Valley.

KITTY MAY OPERATE AS SIX-CLUB LEAGUE

It was definitely decided at a meeting of the directors of the Kitty League here Sunday afternoon that this Class D baseball circuit will operate again this season. Six clubs, Jackson, Union City, Fulton, Bowling Green, Owensboro and Hopkinsville are ready to go. Mayfield and Paducah have not fully completed necessary arrangements whereby they will be able to participate.

President Shelby Peace opened the meeting with the blackest talk ever heard at a Kitty League meeting. He told nearly a hundred fans and directors that buses were practically impossible to get; that the draft and defense industries would get nearly all players; that gasoline might be rationed. Emphasizing the importance of turning every effort toward winning the war, he said that he could not see how it would be possible to operate the league this season.

It was decided that Mayfield and Paducah be given until Thursday night to complete plans, or the league would operate with only six clubs participating. A committee was named by the president, whose duty will be to bring a showdown on whether these two cities will continue in the league.

Directors of the league have met twice before at Mayfield, Feb. 8, and at Paducah, Feb. 22, when it was agreed to carry on this summer, but at each meeting a little more time was given Paducah to obtain funds. Paducah representatives at the meeting here Sunday expressed the opinion that with a defense industry and an air field opening there baseball was needed and should draw well.

Despite the fact that the loop, like many other baseball organizations, faces a rather dark picture from a player standpoint, due to war efforts, it was unanimously decided by representatives of Fulton, Owensboro, Hopkinsville, Bowling Green, Union City and Jackson that every effort be made to play ball again. Cecil Moss of Union City started the ball rolling by committing his club, which is linked with the St. Louis Cardinals.

K. P. Dalton, president of the Fulton club, farm of Detroit Tigers, declared that Fulton was ready for the new season. R. C. King of Hopkinsville, protégé of Atlanta of the Southern League, joined the bandwagon. Vick Smith of Bowling Green, farm of Nashville of the Southern League, pitched in his chips. Walter Johnston of Owensboro, linked with the Boston Red Sox, voted in favor of opening the season. H. G. Gilland of Jackson, an independent club, declared he was ready.

All clubs except Paducah and Mayfield have already deposited their forfeit money. Due to the fact that Dyersburg, Corinth and Clarksville are unable to replace Mayfield and Paducah, if those clubs finally are compelled to drop out, it was necessary to decide to operate as a six club league. This will be necessary unless definite action obtained from Mayfield and Paducah by Thursday midnight. At press time no report had been made.

New Furniture Store In Formal Opening

W. R. Crisiel and C. L. Soderstrom have leased the Boaz Building on upper Main street, and announce the formal opening of the People's Furniture Company. They come to Fulton with years of experience in this mercantile field, and expect to carry a good line of new and used furniture.

New furniture started arriving last week, and now the store is ready for a visit by homemakers of this section. Messrs. Crisiel and Soderstrom have made many friends since coming to Fulton, and believe that this city has a good future ahead.

We thought that women could spread gossip and rumor but the war produces new talent along this line.

25 4-H Club Boys And Girls Join The YMBC Poultry Club

Twenty-five 4-H Club boys and girls of Fulton and Hickman counties have joined the Poultry Club sponsored by the Young Men's Business Club of Fulton. The county agents of these two counties are co-operating with the project, the purpose of which is to aid children to raise poultry profitably by doing it themselves.

Each child accepted into membership is furnished 50 baby chicks and 100 pounds of starting feed. He is also furnished a blue-print of the Louisiana type brooder, which is cheaply built but very adequate. Children have complete control of raising of the chickens, but will be assisted by the YMBC committee and Swift Hatchery in solving of problems that they may meet.

There are yet a few more openings for applicants in the 4-H Club group, but immediate action will be necessary. Apply to M. L. Parker, secretary of YMBC, or to Swift Hatchery.

Some time in September a 4-H Club rally will be held, when birds raised from these baby chicks will be shown. Prizes will be awarded children doing the best work on the project. Twelve cockerels are returned in payment for chicks and feed.

These poultry projects have proven quite successful in Weakley, Dyer and Obion counties. Only a limited number will be accepted in the club this season, but the program is expected to grow with increasing membership next year. Following have joined the club: R. C. White, Billy Lanzier, Jimmy Aldridge, Helen Garber, Hazel Adams, Emily Jones, Ann Johnson, Billy Counts, Annie Louise McClure, Emma Armstrong, Virginia Carter, Katy Lou Williams, Rush Dezonio, Jr., Joe Burcham, Estelle Burcham, Mildred Martin, Jimmie Berry, Harold Byassee, Louise Lovett, Dorothy Turner, Gaile Morris, Harry Sublett, Jr., Hilda Atwell, Ladatha Fuller, Ruby Fuller, Junior Johnson, Elaine McNeil, Maybelle Arrington, Ruby Fields, Gayland Williams, Clarence Anderson, Walter Lovers, Maxine Garrigan, Anna Garrigan, Peggy Marie Lusk.

Authorities Take Steps To Control Prostitution

Mr. Scott M. Morse has been appointed to Fulton and Hickman Counties as a special investigator under the direction of the County Health Officer, Dr. J. M. Dishman. His duties will be to assist in the Health Department's Venereal disease program as a follow-up worker for contact tracing and case holding. He may also assist local police authorities in the repression of prostitution.

Mr. Morse recently completed a course of instruction given by the Bureau of Venereal Diseases, State Department of Health.

Photograph Window To Honor Boys Now Serving Their Country

Plans were completed here this week for a window display to be arranged at Baldrige's 5-10 and 25c Store, showing photographs of men of this vicinity who are serving their country in some branch of military service.

"We are asking the co-operation of citizens of this vicinity in assembling a photograph window, displaying the pictures of men in the Fulton area, who are serving in the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, or any other branch of military service," Mr. Baldrige said. "Please submit photographs of men in uniform. Write name and address on back of photograph and leave with Mrs. Al Gentleman at the office of the local Rationing Board at the City National Bank in Fulton, or if the bank is closed, leave with Baldrige's 5-10 and 25c Store, which will be turned over to Mrs. Gentleman the next day.

"The photograph will be returned to owner when it has served in this window display. Be sure to name the branch of service the subject of the photograph is serving in."

This patriotic movement for a display of photographs will do much to focus attention upon the part that this community is taking in the war. It will pay honor and respect to those who go forth to protect the American way of life, and democracy so deeply cherished by all Americans. If you have a boy or a friend in service, please submit a photograph of him in uniform, giving name, address and branch of service he is in.

Have You Got One Yet?

The booklet, A Memorial Tablet, compiled under the direction of Dr. R. T. Rudd of this city, has been published and is now being distributed among those of this vicinity, who wish to retain a record of those who have died in the past fifty years.

Over 1200 names of persons who have died in this vicinity in the past few decades are listed in this book, and some of these are perhaps your loved ones or once your close friends. If interested in obtaining a Memorial Tablet see Dr. Rudd now before the supply is gone.

CAREY FIELDS ATTENDS SERIES OF LECTURES

Carey Fields, representing the Paul Nailling Implement stores of Fulton and Union City, attended a series of lectures at Usona Hotel Monday afternoon. Other International stores sent representatives and valuable information was discussed, round table form. Refreshments were served the entire group.

Unity will not result from promiscuous and unsupported charges of inefficiency on the part of our military leaders.

BAPTIST REVIVAL TO CLOSE SUNDAY NIGHT

The revival which has been in progress at the First Baptist church here for the past two weeks, will close Sunday night, when Rev. Wade House, evangelist will deliver his final sermon. It has been well attended throughout, with many visitors from nearby communities participating.

Special services have been planned for Sunday in connection with the Easter program. Immediately after Sunday school, when a goal of 600 in attendance is expected to be reached, everyone will gather in the auditorium. The choir has arranged a special program of music, and Rev. House is prepared to deliver an appropriate Easter message. A goal of 800 in attendance at the church has been set, and every effort will be made to reach it.

Fulton Negro Killed On Illinois Central Diner

A negro dining car waiter on the Chicago-Florida train is dead here Monday, and another was under arrest as the result of a "friendly scuffle" in the diner Sunday night, a report from Kankakee, Ill., stated. Charles Hunter, 18, of Fulton, employed on the Illinois Central's "Seminole Limited" died in a Kankakee hospital. Police said he was shot by Olaf McCampbell, 29, of Paducah.

McCampbell told police he got in a "friendly scuffle" with Lowery Peyton, 26, of Paducah, as the train was leaving Chicago. Hunter, an onlooker, was hit when his gun accidentally discharged, McCampbell said.

Hunter and McCampbell were taken off the train at Kankakee, the next stop. McCampbell was turned over to Chicago police.

Fire Destroys House On Sam Steele Farm

A house on the Sam Steele farm southeast of Fulton was completely destroyed by fire Friday morning of last week. The house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goodwin. Most of their furniture was lost, as well as a brooder house and baby chickens.

3,200 Attend Victory Rally At Murray

An estimated 3,200 persons attended a Victory Rally in the Murray State Teachers College auditorium Saturday afternoon. Dr. James Richmond, Murray College president just back from Washington where he testified in a Senate committee hearing on NYA activities, was principal speaker.

Other speakers included Vego Barnes, Hopkinsville executive director of the Kentucky Unemployment Compensation Commission; Lieut. Col. Daniel Hoge, Camp Tyson, Tenn.; James Bates, Louisville; and Hall Hood, Murray, representing the American Legion.

Dr. Richmond urged Americans to "quit peddling rumors" and to stop "making cheap jokes about England." He said he found encouragement in Washington by the "serious optimism" about the war.

Limited Number Of Openings For New Vocational Course

Plans are being made for formation of a class for a night course in vocational training in preparation for defense work. This class offers a limited number of men between the ages of 20 and 45 an opportunity to obtain this training free, in night sessions that will not interfere with the working man's job.

Only a limited number of openings are available. Apply at once to The Fulton County News for further information and application blank.

OBION COUNTY GETS ARMY FLYING SCHOOL

Eighth District Congressman Jere Cooper announced from Washington Monday that the War Department soon will approve the construction near Union City of a primary training field for Air Corps cadets.

"I conferred with Assistant Secretary of War Lovett who said it was all right to make the announcement," Mr. Cooper said.

"I was informed that the Embury-Riddle Co., one of the largest civilian flying school operators in the United States, will operate the Union City school, and that further details will be released by the War Department later," he continued.

Negotiations looking toward the probable installation of a flying school near Union City have been in progress since March 3. The field will be on a site four and one-half miles east of Union City, just south of State Highway 22 leading from Martin to Union City. The field area consists of 13 pieces of property, all of which were placed under option some time back.

Development of the field will cost about $750,000, including the cost of buildings, clearing, and drainage. Training of Army cadets is expected to start during the first week in June, at which time it is understood that probably 100 cadets will report.

Payroll of those at the field, including the cadets who receive $75 a month, eventually will run to $100,000 a month, it is estimated. C. F. Wheeler, contractor of Miami, Fla., will construct the field. In direct charge here is Wheeler's general superintendent, Tom Frederick, who came here from Miami last week.

Surveyors have been working on the site for the past 10 days, it was revealed, and Monday morning a sizeable group of workmen began actual operations at the site. Employment during the construction is expected to reach 200 persons.

Present structures in the bounds of the field will be moved or destroyed, leveling operations undertaken, all trees and fences will be moved and grass planted over the entire area, it was understood. A drainage system, probably including a ditch around the field with a dike inside the ditch, is to be constructed. The field lies in the bottom near the Obion river.

Hickman Chairman Name His Committee

W. A. Johnston, of Hickman, who was named as co-chairman with Leon Browder of Fulton, of the Fulton County Defense Savings Committee, announced this week that his staff of assistants have been appointed as follows: J. A. Whipple, R. R. Gullett, E. Dobson, J. C. Lawson, Mrs. Don Henry, Roscoe Stone, Fred Stokes, J. E. Attebery, Mrs. E. J. Stahr, Mrs. J. T. Howard, Margaret Kelly, C. N. Holland, colored, A. W. Greene, P. L. Nickols.

Draft Call Soon For Feb. 16 Group

Selective Service Headquarters in Washington announced this week that men who registered Feb. 16 would be immediately classified and some probably would be inducted into service in May or June.

Questionnaires are expected to be sent out in a few days to all registrants of Feb. 16, in which they will be required to supply information pertaining to their ability to carry out many classes of work necessary in the war effort.

EDUCATION AFTER THE WAR

The present chaos and final victory will have a marked affect upon many phases of our future lives and the lives of our posterity. None possesses the inherent ability to prophesy accurately the war's definite traces on future society but many theorists have tried to study this problem analytically and profoundly.

Many young college men erecting the cornerstones for a career have met unforeseen situations as they have been called into the defense of their country.

The question among the educators today is whether these men will return to educational institutions after our victory or will they try to establish themselves in some other field of work. Common opinion from eminent authorities seems to substantiate the fact that these men will never again return to finish the task that they left incomplete. A consistent disciplined period and the consequence of actual battle will cause these men to search in quest of freedom and the pursuit of happiness rather than be confined to a book or classroom.

The utilitarianism of the mass in this category will be to accept some trade by taking a short preparatory course and then following this as a life long profession.

The higher education of our future generations will probably be about on an ego with that now. Constant afrethought and measures are being innovated to counteract certain undesirable tendencies following the war. Education for tomorrow must tend to increase as its need becomes greater and greater when our technological world moves on.

A column conducted for news, views and comments, in which readers of The News are invited to participate. Mail contributions care of THE FORUM, this newspaper.

As secretary of the Young Men's Business Club, I have recently had to keep in close contact with Mr. Sawyer of the Greater Paducah Association, and Mr. Winslow of the Mayfield Chamber of Commerce, regarding the efforts being made to obtain defense industries in West Kentucky. These two gentlemen have worked long and hard toward this goal, and they deserve commendation.

Construction work on the defense plant to be located in McCracken county is expected to get underway soon due to the urgent production requirements of the government. This plant will employ some 6,000 construction workers, and more than 1200 production workers after it is completed. It will be located on a 15,000 acre tract in Northwestern McCracken county. TNT will be manufactured at this plant.

It was pointed out to me by Mr. Sawyer that housing facilities of all communities within driving distance of the location of this plant will be needed to house those who will work there. Although Fulton is 49 miles from the location, it will be affected to some extent, it is believed.

During a recent conversation with Mr. Winslow of Mayfield, he explained that a private concern has been in Graves county, made surveys of prospective sites for a plant which would employ 3,000 workers.

The plant would manufacture ammunition. Proposed site will be adjacent to railroad and a main highway, and the plant would cost several million dollars.

A bus system operating along Highway 45, or a special train, would be necessary to transport workers to and from work. Naturally the workers would be drawn from the various communities of this section of Kentucky first, and from nearby vicinities afterwards.

Efforts are also being made to obtain a government hospital somewhere in this area, and prospects are bright for obtaining such a project, Mr. Winslow said. If either of these projects go through it will produce for this area, West Kentucky may expect extensive manufacturing developments in the next decade.

The fellows over at Union City are expecting to obtain an aviation training field in Obion county, which probably will be located west of Midway. It will be a fine thing for this section, and although Union City and Martin will benefit most, it will do Fulton a lot of good, too. Housing facilities in these communities will be taxed because of it, for it takes about 200 employees to train 200 cadets.

THE PROMISE OF EASTER

Last year all over the world there was sorrow and desolation. War laid waste the foundations of our civilization. Bombs crashed through the air to shatter the earthly monuments of past glories, and the vultures of the sea laid in wait for the proud ships that bore the harvest of the world. Everywhere there were homeless, heartbroken folk, harried here and there by their relentless oppressors.

This year our own country, sucked into the vortex of the struggle by the insatiable greed of the hate-mongers, knows first-hand the bitter pains of war. Hearts are heavy and minds are fraught with trouble. Separation, anxiety, death, weigh down the spirit and the minds of countless millions.

Across this darkness falls the light of Easter—the pledge of life and of life eternal—a life in which there shall be neither sorrow of parting nor affliction of heart and soul. The pledge of the resurrection symbolized in Easter is like a light in the darkness—a ray of sunlight falling across a woodland glade, dank and cold from the devastation of wintry blasts and the melting snows of countless storms.

To the worried, Easter brings hope; to the downcast of spirit, courage; and to those who have lost all that was dear to them in life, it brings the comfort of faith. It is the triumph of good over evil—of truth over error, of life over death, of the Eternal Goodness over the forces of evil.

There is no deeper human experience than the realization of the impermanence of evil. It is that knowledge which will sustain and support us through the dark days ahead. We know that ours is the ultimate Victory for we fight on the side of right.

Sorrow there is, and suffering and pain and loss, but beyond them all is the glory of the Easter morning when the stone is rolled away. In the words of the old hymn, "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning."

Easter is the eternal pledge of the resurrection. The voice of the prophet, Job, paraphrased and set to triumphant strains of music, still rings out: "I know that my Redeemer liveth—and because he lives, I too shall live."

FULTON CIRCUIT

E. B. RUCKER, Pastor

We hope all our members will make an extra effort to attend church Sunday. Services at Bethlehem at 11 o'clock, at Rice City at 2:30. Plan to make your Easter offering for the Benevolences.

Tuesday a group of workers stormed the parsonage from Bethlehem. They were Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Moore and son James Earl, O. F. Taylor, W. L. Rowland and sons, Virgil and Edwin with their wives, Mrs. Addie Walston, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Emerson, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Frenley. The men painted the house while the ladies enjoyed the day inside. They brought a basket lunch and spread on the parsonage dining table. It was really a feast. We thank each one for coming and helping.

It was so cold the paint did not flow freely so the job was not completed. We trust there will be others who will come soon to complete the work.

Remember our Second Quarterly Conference Wednesday, April 8 at Bethlehem. Be one hand on time to hear Dr. Clark. He is a great preacher. Have your reports up to date, and in hand.

CHRIST AND LIFE AFTER DEATH (EASTER)

LESSON TEXT—Mark 12:24-27; 1 Corinthians 15:30-58.

GOLDEN TEXT—But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.—1 Corinthians 15:57.

V for Victory! By that sign have many peoples indicated their confidence in a victory to come. It is well to have a victorious outlook, but it is even better to be able to look back to victory already attained. That is just what we are able to do as we consider man's great and final enemy—death. That victory has been won on behalf of all who believe, by the risen Christ of whom we think in a special way on this Easter day.

He is the Lord of the living, not of the dead; those who, even though they may have left this world, have only laid aside the corruptible body for the incorruptible. They are victorious, even as we are, over death.

I. Living, Not Dead (Mark 12:24-27).

The Sadducees, a rationalistic sect of Christ's day, denied the resurrection, and so they were much distressed by His plain teaching of that truth. They therefore devised an intricate hypothetical case (see Mark 12:18-23) and sought to set a trap for Him. But they only caught themselves, for He pointed out to them and to the people that what was wrong with them was that they did not understand the Scriptures nor the power of God.

That is precisely what is wrong with the modernists of our day; they misinterpret God's Word, and they deny His power.

Then Jesus turned to them and in place of their fantastic "supposing" story He spoke of three real characters from the books of Moses which they taught. He said that God still calls Himself the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, because though they had long been in their graves, they were still alive. God's fellowship with His people is not merely for the brief life span of this earth, but for eternity. That fact, of course, carries with it the truth of the resurrection.

II. Incorruptible, Not Corruptible (1 Cor. 15:50-54).

Man knows that his earthly body is marked for decay and death. That fact is written in its very members. He also knows that such a body would be entirely inappropriate for heaven—for eternity. Is he then barred from God's eternal kingdom? No, indeed, for there is to be a glorious change—the corruptible shall put on incorruptibility.

Whether we shall tarry until Jesus comes and be transformed without dying, or whether we shall await His coming for a time among those who sleep, there will come that trumpet sound, and in the twinkling of an eye we shall be clothed upon with incorruptible bodies like unto His glorious resurrection body (Phil. 3:21). There we have an assurance of victory already won on our behalf, which can and does strengthen our souls against the trials and sorrows of life.

III. Victorious, Not Defeated (1 Cor. 15:55-58).

When Satan after a long struggle finally had Christ's body laid away in the tomb, he thought he had the victory, but just then came his great hour of defeat.

"Up from the grave He arose,
With a mighty triumph o'er His foes."

"Death could not hold its prey," for it sought to hold one stronger than itself—the Lord of Life Himself. He had broken the bonds of sin by His sacrifice on Calvary; and since it was sin (the violation of the law) which brought death in the first place (Gen. 2:17; 3:17-19), there was now a complete victory over both sin and death.

The one who knows Christ need no longer fear death. For him it is not a leap into the dark, or going as a trembling wayfarer into an unknown land. President John Quincy Adams was right when, aged and frail, he replied to a question as to his welfare: "Quite well, thank you. The house in which I live is tottering and trembling, and I may soon have to move out, but I am quite well." He was ready for the departure into a better land and a better body.

Such a hope has a splendid practical application, which Paul stresses in verse 58. With victorious assurance the believer stands steadfast and unmovable at the center of life, while always abounding in the joys and duties which come at its circumference. Like the wheel which can be useful only as its center is established and steady, so man can serve the Lord and enjoy a satisfying life only as he has the steadfastness of which Paul here speaks. We trust that it is your possession by faith in Christ. If not, make it so on this resurrection Sunday!

Poultry raisers and farmers have a responsibility which should become a privilege; that is, to contribute their full share in the FOOD FOR FREEDOM program for the duration of the war. This emergency calls for greater efforts on the part of the farmer to produce more eggs and meat.

You can meet this challenge by keeping a check on your flocks for disease and parasites (Bee and mites). And, of course, selected FEEDS are important. So ask for BROWDER FEEDS... your grocer has a supply.

RE-DISTRICTING MADE IN FULTON COUNTY AGRICULTURAL CONSERVATION PROGRAM

Number of Communities Increased From 3 To 5

H. M. Pewitt, chairman of the local organization stated that in view of the number of farmers residing in any community and the additional burden occasioned by the war and other phases of the Agricultural Conservation and related agricultural programs which has been placed upon the community committeemen in rendering service to such farmers and in obtaining their fullest possible cooperation in such programs, that a revision of the boundaries of such community will result in a more effective, efficient and fair administration of such programs in the community. This revision has been made, so Mr. Pewitt states, in the first and second communities, thereby making four communities out of numbers one and two of the original set up, and letting number three remain the same as before, only changing its number from three to five.

Number one community starts at the east end of the county going west down the State Line at a point just west of Rupert Browder's farm, then north just east of C. N. Burnett, west of H. C. Brown, C. A. Binford and R. J. Cashon to the Hickman County line.

Number two community beginning west from the west line of community Number 1, goes west to just east of Moscow, Cayce and Jordan Highway on State Line road to a point in front of Charlie Everett's house, thence north just west of J. A. Asbell and Wallace Konec's farm, direct to Hickman County line.

Number three community beginning west from the west line of community No. 2, goes down State Line road to a point just west of the road west of B. M. Tull's farm; thence north to a point just west of the Sanders lane intersecting U. S. Highway 94, west down 94 highway to Dodds Crossing, thence north to creek, then northeast to Hickman County line.

Number four community beginning west from the west line of Community No. 3 goes west down State Line road to Brownsville bluff; following edge of bluff northward to City of Hickman; thence northeast to Hickman County line, which comprises all of the upper bottom farms and the section just east and south of Hickman between the two lines mentioned above.

Number Five Community the same as No. 3 before the change, which comprises all of the Delta Section including Number Eight Island and Madrid Bend. Inasmuch as Community five boundary was not changed (just in number only) there will not be an election held in this community. The same community committeemen, alternates, delegates and alternate delegate will remain in office.

These elections will be held orally at each community on Friday night, March 27 at 8:30 o'clock, to elect community committeemen, alternates, delegates and alternate delegates at the following places: Community No. 1, Fulton City Hall; Community 2, Lodgeston School House.

Community No. 3, Cayce School House.

Community No. 4, Hickman Court House.

Mr. Pewitt stated that the secretary would send each operator an individual notice stating just what community his farm has been listed in and where he should go to vote, and request the operator to notify and urge his landlord, tenant, or sharecropper, if any, to be present at his respective voting place to cast that important vote.

The Chairman wishes to point out the importance of all farmers attending these community election meetings and how important it was that each section of a community be represented by a committeeman and alternate who, as citizens of the U. S. are able and willing to serve as community committeemen.

He states that the same person may serve as a delegate or alternate delegate to the County Convention, even though he is elected as Chairman or a member of the Community Committeemen.

Mr. Pewitt also states that We Are At War, and committeemen will be called upon to devote a greater amount of time to the administration of the farm programs. Community committeemen will be called upon to furnish up to the date information to their neighbors and may need to visit each of them in connection with the program several times during the year.

It is expected that producers having inquiries about the AAA Program and the Food For Freedom Program will contact their nearest community committeemen rather than make a trip to the office of the County Association. They will be expected to check performance in their neighborhood, using a simplified system. Committeemen, like the soldier boys in the front lines, will be expected to perform over and above their prescribed duties, and service as a committeemen will call for unselfish, patriotic devotion to our great cause.

He who keeps off the ice will not slip through.

Money Talks

UNIVERSITY OF LOUISVILLE

Americans have decided by an overwhelming majority to support all-out war effort. This may mean drafting men into industry as well as into the armed forces, but one thing we all know, all-out war effort will mean sacrifice on the part of everyone.

Up to the present time many Americans have made few sacrifices. In fact, many people were more prosperous in 1941, due to war activities, than they have been for years. The 1941 national income, highest in our history, amounted to 94.5 billion dollars which was 22 per cent over 1940. Wages and salaries paid to American workmen amounted to 61.2 billion dollars which was 25 per cent above 1940 figure. The greatest amount of this increase can be traced directly to Government spending. Farm income in 1941 was the highest for any year since 1919. Do these figures look like sacrifices?

Workers and farmers are still using the war to better their positions. Labor is right now asking for a dollar-a-day increase in many of our key war industries and is pressing our Government to decide that industry should grant this increase. On the Pacific Coast the Bethlehem Company shipbuilding workers balked at a ten-hour day, even though the company offered them time-and-a-half for the two extra hours and a 10 per cent bonus.

The power farm bloc in Congress is demanding legislation which will require the Government to hold the cotton, corn, and wheat which it purchased when prices were low. This bloc is demanding that nothing be done which will prevent the rise in the price of farm products.

Caught in the middle of this political squeeze play on the part of labor and the farmer are the middle class people (white collar workers, professional worker, etc.) whose incomes have risen but little, but whose living costs and taxes have risen considerably. Also affected are business organizations, large and small, which are faced with price ceilings, higher operating costs, and rising taxes. Likewise caught in this squeeze play are the automobile distributors, tire dealers, etc. who have been called upon to sacrifice their products for the war effort.

All-out war effort calls for sacrifice on the part of everyone—labor, the farmer, and industry. Before long, the Government must face this fact and regulate all prices and all wages, or certain powerful pressure groups will be able to better their conditions at the expense of other groups. We can ill afford to have this happen at this critical time.

REDISTRICTING BILL WOULD CHANGE 49 LEGISLATIVE DISTRICTS

The committee prepared legislation redistricting bill of the Kentucky House of Representatives, introduced early this week, would provide for changing 49 of the present 100 House districts and for giving more representation to populous urban centers and to the eastern coal mining areas.

Under its terms, Jefferson county would get eleven Representatives instead of its present eight, Kenton county four instead of three, Floyd, McCracken and Pike, two each instead of one, and Harlan two instead of its present one shared with Leslie.

Four counties which are combined with others to make up legislative districts would become single county districts, Laurel, Letcher, Perry and Rockcastle.

Of the fifty-one districts that would be left unchanged under the terms of the committee bill, with their population, are: Fulton-Hickman, 24,555; Ballard-Carlisle, 17,130; Graves, 31,763; Marshall-Lyon, 25,669; Calloway, 19,041, in West Kentucky; also 46 others.

Overriding opposition attempts to delay action by adjournment, Gov. Keen Johnson's administration leaders introduced the long-awaited committee bill to realign Kentucky's House districts Monday after the Governor had made an emphatic personal demand for its passage.

HOMEMAKERS' CLUBS SPONSOR DRIVE FOR HOME FOOD SUPPLY

Members of Kentucky homemakers' clubs, 16,000 strong, are conducting a drive to help not less than 100,000 families produce more food for home use. Members of clubs in the 58 counties having home demonstration work are signing "victory leadership" pledges to assist families of non-members in having better gardens and more milk, eggs, meat and other food.

Before garden-making time 9,000 pledge cards had gone to home demonstration agents, and it was expected that several thousand more cards would be signed this spring. Each homemaker signing a card agrees to share with several of her neighbors information secured through the home demonstration program which has helped her in the greater production and conservation of food. Through the program at least 100,000 families should have better food this year, says Miss Myrtle Weldon, state leader of the home demonstration work.

The "victory leadership" drive of homemakers' clubs is a part of the program of the University of Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics to make 1942 one of the greatest food-producing years in the history of the state. Every family that can be reached will be encouraged to produce more food for home use during the growing season and for canning, drying and storing for next winter. Also, in response to war needs there will be extra production for sale of such foods as milk, eggs meat.

PARKING METERS FOR UNION CITY

A contract for installation of parking meters in the business district of Union City has been awarded to Duncan-Miller Meter Company of Chicago, Mayor Miles announced Saturday. A traffic engineer from this company will come to Union City soon to survey local conditions and determine where the meters will be located. Installation is expected to be made within the next sixty days.

The meters are to be installed on trial, and, in accordance with the signed contract, they will be paid for, if they prove successful, out of the revenue which they produce. Revenue produced by the meters will pay for actual operating expenses, and out of the balance 75 percent will go to meter company to apply on cost of the meters and 25 percent will be retained by the city. It is estimated that the meters should pay for themselves in about 18 months.

"We decided to try our parking meters in the Union City business district," Mayor Miles said, "as a means of preventing all day parking of cars in the business district, and thus make it possible for shoppers and persons having business to conduct, to park where they desire. We believe that customer and merchant will benefit by the meters."

McFADDEN HOMEMAKERS

McFadden Homemakers Club enjoyed a lemon party Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. M. E. Dawes on College street in Fulton. It was a benefit, proceeds going to the Fulton County Homemakers treasury.

Each guest gave one lemon, which was cut open and the seeds counted, with the guest giving as many pennies as there were seeds in the lemon. Various games appropriate for the Easter season were enjoyed.

Refreshments of home-made cookies, hot spice tea were served by the hostess, Mr. M. E. Dawes, to the following: Mesdames John Binkley, Ernest Brady, John Daws, Eston Daws, M. E. Dawes, Harry Hancock, Herman Sams, Wales Austin, Chester Binkley, Otho Sladen, R. D. Taylor; Misses Maude Morris and unice McAlister; Lina Sue and Ben Willy Sams, Jane Austin, Bobby and Martha Dawes.

The next regular meeting of the homemakers will be April 14 at 1:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Wales Austin.

GOVERNOR PROCLAIMS 4-H MOBILIZATION WEEK

The patriotic service of farm boys and girls has brought from Governor Keen Johnson a proclamation setting aside April 5-11 as 4-H Mobilization Week in Kentucky. Special 4-H programs have been arranged in many counties for the week.

All citizens are urged to encourage more boys and girls to participate in the Victory Program and to help in giving them a better understanding of what they may do to help in the war effort. Thru participation in the activities of the 4-H clubs the youth of Kentucky will make its own contribution to the war effort and the preservation of Democracy.

WOMEN AND STUDENTS MAY HELP FARM LABOR SHORTAGE IN THE U. S.

The tapping of new sources of workers to meet the threatened shortage of farm labor in Tennessee is in prospect, according to studies recently completed by the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

In areas where the labor shortage is likely to be acute, it may be necessary for women, high school students, and local nonagricultural workers to help harvest the crops, bureau research indicates.

During 1942 the expansion of war industries will probably bring about a further increase of two million nonagricultural workers, Dr. J. E. Wills, state BAE representative and a member of the state Far Labor Committee, pointed out. Over two million men will be added to our armed forces. Thus the 1942 production goals will have to be attained under conditions which draw more and more workers from the rural areas, and deplete the farm labor supply.

A result, agriculture may have at its disposal during the coming harvest season up to a million fewer workers than during the peak labor season in 1941. Migration of workers from rural areas will continue in 1943, and agriculture will have a still smaller labor supply at its disposal. Conceivably, there will be an even larger decrease in the agricultural labor force from 1942 to 1943 than the estimated decline from 1941 to 1942.

County farm labor committees with the county agent as chairman are being set up in all counties to assist farmers with their labor problems. Farmers desiring additional labor should consult their county committee.

ALLIES-AXIS PREPARE FOR SPRING OFFENSIVE

Action on all fronts indicated this week that both the Allies and the Axis are preparing for a major offensive this spring. Just when the great battles will take place, depend not only upon the weather, but upon which side thinks it has an advantage which should be pushed toward a victorious goal.

Highlights of latest reports from the war fronts seem to give the Allied Nations the edge. Despite tropical storms American and Australian bombing planes are continuing an unrelenting aerial offensive against Japanese invasion bases.

McArthur in Australia, and the Australian Advisory War Council, are preparing for an all-out invasion attempt by Nippon.

Although Hitler's army has been losing on all fronts, he is marshaling 2,500,000 troops for a major offensive against the Russians. It is believed that the attack would center in the 250 miles between Belgorod, north of Kharkov, and the Sea of Azov. The reward of success would be the oil-rich caucuses. The price of failure would be Hitler's quick doom.

The Japanese are pushing the British and Chinese backward in Burma, where they are said to have mastery of the air.

In Bataan the Japanese attacked the right center of Lt. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright's line, captured some of the advanced positions, but were halted in fierce hand-to-hand combat before they reached the main American-Filipino line.

Prospects are not so bright in getting India to join the Allied Nations in the fight against the Axis, and the post war dominion plan for India has been rejected by Gandhi, spiritual leader of the Nationalists. Nehru, left wing Congress leader, was for acceptance with reservations.

The aim of Hitler is a world-wide blockade to shut off Allies from United States arsenals. If he could isolate Great Britain, Russia, China, Australia and South Africa from the "arsenal of democracy" he would be a long ways toward winning a final victory over the Allies.

Time is vital to the Axis, and for that reason, Germany, Japan and Italy are expected to launch all-out offensive against their enemies this spring and summer, before the steady flow of supplies and armaments from the United States overcome their capacities to produce, and therefore to continue the fight.

BEING CAREFUL IS JUST COMMON SENSE

Anyone who analyzes safety rules soon finds out that they are nothing more than common sense statements of the right thing to do. The fellow who doesn't have time for safety doesn't have time to do anything the right way. If he is a driver and doesn't have time to obey traffic laws, he isn't a good driver. If he doesn't have time to obey safety rules while he is working, he doesn't have time to do good work—and mark my words, he won't have time to advance to a better job.

In the long run, obeying safety rules saves time. Our country's defense demands that we save time—now!

Things hardly gained are longer retained.

A bad custom is like a good cake, better broken than kept.

Better, therefore, ride alone, than have a thief's company.

THE CROSS

By Rev. E. A. Autrey
Pastor of First Baptist Church

As we come to consider the cross of our Lord and Saviour, we are reminded that there is no sweeter place on earth to assemble for the purpose of worship, because at the cross we find ourselves on high ground elevated above the low plains of ordinary life to the nearness of our Father that so loved us that He gave His Son to suffer and die upon the cross.

In our text the great apostle Paul who could have gloried in many other things such as his accomplishments, placed the cross above everything else and said, "God forbid that I should glory save in the cross of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ." Therefore, I feel that no time is wasted when we pause this day to look anew upon the cross and its significance.

This event as pictured in the gospel, no doubt, is familiar to everyone of you. As we begin to turn the pages and read the accounts, we behold a vast multitude greeting Jesus with shouts of "Hail, Hosenah!" as He entered the city of Jerusalem coming from Bethany riding upon a colt. They waived before Him palm branches expressing their adoration of Him who came in the name of the Lord. Our hearts go out in appreciation as we behold this multitude and its attitude toward Jesus. But this scene is rapidly changed. In a few days, following the undermining activities of the Judaizers in falsely accusing Jesus, and in demanding His arrest and mock trials before the Tribunals that finally consented to His condemnation. He, no doubt, was followed by the same multitude hounding every step of the Son of God as He bore His cross through the city, out through the gates and up Calvary's Mountain. This same group this time was hissing, scolding, ridiculing and shouting, "Away with Him. Let Him be crucified." I have often thought that there were those in this group who raised their once withered hands against Jesus who had made them whole. There were eyes looking upon Him that day that He had caused to see. Surely there were voices raised against Him that He had called from their state of dumbness, and there were ears listening to those heathenistic shouts and lending their support to the condemnation of Christ that had caused to hear. "But," you say, "Surely men would not be so forgetful and could never turn against Him who had so befriended them?" I ask you only to look about this city and behold the many whom Jesus has helped, sheltered, clothed and fed, yet they are using their influence, time and materials in opposition to Him through their lethargy and indifference, who merit His condemnation. The procession moved on until the place was reached and there they nailed Him to the cross which suspended Him between Heaven and earth to suffer untold agony as He bore the sins of the world and covered them with His blood.

As we stand this morning beholding this momentous, dynamic, and historical scene, our hearts cry out within us over and over, "Why should such an innocent man have to be so mal-treated and die for an ungrateful, sin-riddled, hell-smitten world?" He who knew no sin suffered the penalty of all sins! He who so willingly abdicated His throne, pulled from His shoulders His kingly robe, took from His brow the kingly crown, bade farewell to His Father and Heavenly associates, descended into this wicked earth to be born in a stable, to live an obedient life to His parents, and to endeavor to bring blessings and light into and upon this earth of poverty and darkness. Our souls cry out saying, "Why should He have to suffer so on the cross?" As we consider the infallible word of God, we find in the first place that the death of Jesus upon the tree was necessary in order to fulfill the law because the law called for an offering and man was not able to make an adequate offering for his sins. We see a trail of blood from the beginning of man's existence upon the earth throughout his history as He endeavored to make an offering to cover his sins; but all the blood spilled here were types and foreshadows of the coming atonement that was to be wrought by the Messiah and were not in themselves complete, but were pointing to the reality for which they stood which was the cross of Christ. Therefore it was necessary for Him to suffer and die in order to meet the requirements of the law. God sent the cross into the world to fulfill the words of the prophets that through the ages had proclaimed the manner of His coming and type of death that He should die. They had told the people that He was to be born of a virgin, that He was to be rejected by His own, that He would be sold for the price of a slave and would die the death of a criminal. Knowing that every word of the Bible is true, it was necessary that these proclamations should be fulfilled. So Jesus was led as a lamb to the slaughter and refused to open His mouth when falsely accused and condemned. He heroically took upon Himself the cross that was His and so fulfilled the words of the prophets. We can rest assured that the many prophecies that are recorded in the word of God will be fulfilled exactly as God has said they would be even as Jesus upon the cross thoroughly and completely fulfilled the prophecy concerning His death. The cross is an everlasting memorial to Christ. It stands for Him in all ages declaring to the world that Jesus was the greatest man that ever lived, and, indeed, was God.

I remember visiting the capital city of our nation and beholding the huge monument that was erected to the father of our land, George Washington. While standing in the shadow of that huge monument it seemed to whisper into my ear saying, "I am a symbol of a man that stood for honesty and freedom, who stood so firmly for these human rights that he was willing to give his best to see them established. And thus it is when we stand beneath the old rugged cross. It begins to speak to us saying, 'I represent a man that so loved the world that He was willing to live and die that the world might be free from its sins,' and, regardless of the foes that have arisen, it has continued to stand and so to speak. Today in the face of Communism and all other opposition to Christianity, the cross is standing and will continue to stand as an everlasting monument to Him that proved Himself a friend to man.

God planned the cross that it might become history's most vivid revelation. Man has been able to trace God by His foot-prints in the sands of time and in many ways he has been privileged to see God. We behold Him in countless stars that smile down upon us from above! We can see Him in the green groves that decorate the earth! We behold Him in the towering mountains piled up until they seem to pierce the sky! We have seen Him in the conversion of the hardest of sinners! He can be seen in providence as He steers this universe toward a chosen end, but never, nor in any place, has God been better revealed than at the cross. He wanted us all to see Him as He is and as we gather to examine the cross, we meet God face to face and see Him at His very best. It is at the cross that we understand that God is sacrificial. So much so that He was willing to give His only begotten Son that this world might be redeemed from the clutches of death. God has made many sacrifices but none to compare with the offering of His only Child upon the tree. Many so called Christians today cannot rightfully claim to be children of God since they fail to manifest a kin spirit of sacrifice as God manifested at Calvary. It was God's supreme offering for our mistakes.

Many times before God had revealed that He hated sin, but nowhere as clearly as at Golgotha. It is here that we thoroughly understand that God loves the sinner, but despises his sin. He so hated sin that He freely allowed His own Son to spill the last drop of His blood that sin might be crushed and abolished from the lives of men. One glimpse of the cross would be sufficient to cause every follower of Christ to marshal and march to the great task of driving sin out. Instead, today many are allowing sin to come in and hamper the program of the Church and muffle the influence of Christianity. No man can look into the face of the cross without feeling and knowing in his heart that God hates sin.

Looking upon the cross one sees God as a great lover. We all know that true love acts and goes beyond mere words. The cross tells us that God had such a deep love for lost souls that He counted not the suffering and shame of the cross in comparison to the redemption of our lost souls. Our hearts cry out within us as we behold the cruel scene. Oh, how God must have loved the world! This expressed love assures us that Jesus is our best friend. That is why every Christian heart can sing, "What a Friend we have in Jesus, all our sins and griefs to bear." I believe that if the Church loved the lost just one degree as much as God does, that every soul that is out of Jesus would be contacted about the matter of salvation, and if there ever was a period in the history of the world when the Church should manifest its love and concern it is today. The least we could do is to point the world to the cross and let it see for itself that there is at least One who cares. I am sure that one glimpse of God on the cross will prove to the world His love.

It is at the cross that we see the grace of God extended to all men everywhere and according to Ephesians 2: 8-9, "By grace we are saved." Indeed this grace is amazing. A poor trembling sinner stands amazed before the cross that God should bestow upon him such a precious gift as salvation by grace. No wonder every Christian enjoys singing:

Amazing grace! how sweet the sound,
That saved a wretch like me!
I once was lost, but now am found,
Was blind, but now I see.

The cross reveals the concern of God. From the beginning of time God has revealed to every generation that He was concerned for it.

He revealed this in the sending of the patriarchs to live and to teach His will. The lives and messages of the prophets reveal the concern of God. The Church in all of its activities tells us that God is concerned. The Holy Spirit and His working with us declares the concern of God. But the greatest expression of all is the cross. It tells us that God is concerned about all men to the extent that He was willing to take the penalty and die in their stead. This one thing causes many to wonder how so many of the followers of Jesus can look upon a crushed and bleeding world without expressing any concern whatsoever. Day after day they pass the multitudes that are astray and never one time mention Jesus to them. Let us resolve that we will so live and act as to show our concern for that which God willingly gave all to redeem.

NATIONAL 4-H MOBILIZATION WEEK SET FOR APRIL 5-11

In a drive to fully mobilize farm youth for greatest food production and aid with other phases of the war program, the week of April 5 to 11 has been designated as National 4-H Mobilization Week.

County Extension agents, local club leaders, club officers and program committees will plan various activities prior to Mobilization Week so that every local club may hold a meeting or plan for its members to listen in to constructive radio programs. The effort will be to encourage each of the 75,000 club members in Tennessee as well as all farm youth to take on some extra work and render greatest possible service states G. L. Herrington, state leader.

Among the specific suggestions to be developed are the following:

1. Each club member will be asked to include in his plan one or more projects that will produce meat, eggs, milk, peanuts, garden or truck products.

2. Collect and deliver scrap iron, steel, and other valuable waste products.

3. Review the 4-H health rules and the nutrition and safety programs, to aid in keeping down accidents, fires and sickness.

4. Boys to aid in keeping farm machinery in good repair.

5. Girls to can, preserve and store more food than ever before and to aid in keeping home appliances in good repair.

6. Increase the 4-H Club membership wherever it is possible to give new members the necessary supervision.

7. Help relieve the shortage of farm labor by encouraging urban boys of high school age to work on farms during spring and summer vacations.

8. Greater emphasis on purchasing war stamps and bonds.

9. Citizenship training as outlined in group discussion in the 4-H Club publication No. 259, Citizenship Training for 4-H Club members.

TELEPHONE OPERATIONS LIMITED BY WAR BOARD

Acting to save substantial amounts of critical war materials, the War Production Board has limited future expansion of telephone equipment and services of the nation's telephone companies, including Southern Bell Telephone Company. The order will affect Southern Bell's operations in this area, manager F. H. Riddle said today, but does not apply to expansion now in progress or to services required by the army forces.

"We will comply with the order by doing our utmost in every respect to achieve the desired results in saving materials," Mr. Riddle said. "The overall service to the nation will still be more adequate than that anywhere else in the world. We will endeavor to administer the order as equitably as possible and with the least inconvenience to the public. All types of instruments and services will not be available as heretofore. The public, however, has always cooperated in getting the best possible service out of the available facilities, and a continuation of the cooperation will be doubly helpful in these times."

CLEAN UP WEEK

It is a well known fact that the house fly breeds in animal manure, kitchen offal and other refuse. It constitutes the most common link between filth and food. From the uncovered garbage can and other filth he goes directly to the kitchen and dining room, depositing his filth on kitchen utensils, dishes, tableware and the food itself. For a number of years health authorities have been stressing the part which the fly plays in spreading such communicable diseases as typhoid fever, tuberculosis, the diarrheas and the dysenteries. Unfortunately, however, there still remains a degree of indifference on the part of the public regarding this menace. As a result premises are not always kept clean, and rubbish and filth are permitted to accumulate. All citizens of Fulton should cooperate with the CLEAN UP movement. Premises should be cleaned up, inside and out, and kept clean. Urge your neighbors to do likewise. Where there are no dirt and filth, there will be no flies.

The fly appears early in April, multiplies rapidly. One fly breeds millions by August. Don't let these millions come into existence. Keep the first fly from breeding. J. M. Dishman, M. D. Fulton County Health Department

PECK'S BAD BOY

When boys were models of excellence, having been reared by pious mothers and Civil War-trained fathers with a decidedly military air, a source of great joy was some book that would show the naughty world in its most alluring badness. It was permissible, I suppose, to long for bad days, when men killed Indians and scalped them in retaliation for similar deeds done the whites, but it would have grayed our parents' hair if we had expressed any such wicked desires. Life was so regulated that it was hardly possible to do anything very bad; hence we found our way out through books. And even our parents often joined us in this orgy of badness by laughing with us at the antics of comedians that seemed very funny.

One such book, long a household favorite, was Peck's Bad Boy. It was a series of sketches and stories giving the exploits of the bad boy with his father often the victim of the practical jokes. Always the dumb father found out that he had been taken in; there followed the usual parental outburst of outraged dignity; the boy found refuge in the grocery and told the merchant his yarn, meanwhile eating such knickknacks as he could pick up in the store, for which freedom the merchant charged the boy's poor father double or treble.

Looking back now at the stories, which I haven't seen for thirty years or more, I fear that I find them pretty monotonous and not nearly so risqué as they were once felt to be. But when one has been sheltered from every appearance of evil and made to fear that he will wake up some day with odor of brimstone in his nostrils, it is great to steal, even at second hand, some daring raids on smug decency. That may account in some measure for our inordinate love of Peck's Bad Boy.

Not only were the practical jokes regarded as rich, but the language was racy for us, too. Nearly every sketch, it seems now, ended in some such formula as this: "Pap told me to go to hell, and I came over here." When we heard of hell, I was usually at church, and we somewhat shivered at the word. Here was a mere boy able to use it and perish instantly; in fact, he could come back on the next page to tell how delightfully he had again taken in his long-suffering, gray-matterless father. We wanted to imitate such boldness of language but did not dare without saying it as a quotation from our great book.

Another similar book, now a sort of classic among students of American humor, was Sut Lovengoods Yarns of The Autobiography of a Natural-Born Darn Fool, by George Harris, sometime captain of a Tennessee River steamer. Sut was all that his name implied, a rough practical joker, consumer of moonshine, and lanky, ragged hillbilly. His exploits were not nearly so sophisticated as those of Peck's hero, for they took place in east Tennessee in almost pioneer times. Some of them have almost historic importance, as his experience with the shirt that had been boiled in the kettle where preserves had been made. His language was rough and coarse, giving us another thing to quote, for we somehow felt that quoting cuss-words did not make us as guilty as making them up ourselves.

Much more subtle but still naughty were the writings of Eli Perkins, otherwise Melvin D. Landon, a humorist once very popular.

Perkins represented himself as an observer at naughty watering places like Newport and Atlantic City and Saratoga. Through him we got glimpses, even though satirical ones, of the lazy, aimless, but (very strange to us) wealthy scions of great American houses. I know now that some of the things we learned from him were really great satires but we were too innocent then to guess how great they were. Anyway, these three naughty books and a few others opened up a forbidden world for us that our strait-laced life knew little of.

MT. ZION NOTES

Mt. Zion Sunday school elected new officers and teachers Sunday morning; also voted to dedicate one song each Sunday to the boys in the armed forces. One Sunday out of each quarter will be used for home missions. Randle McAlister was elected Sunday school superintendent; Miss Marcen Davis, secretary; Joe Duke re-elected adult teacher; Ellis Bizzle, teacher of young married people. EAT FRESH FRUITS

AND VEGETABLES

From now until fall there will be plenty of fresh fruits and vegetables on the market.

The more we use fresh fruits and vegetables the less canned fruits and vegetables will be required.

The less canned goods we consume the more canned goods will be available for our men in the armed services and for our Allies overseas. There is a terrible shortage of tin. Every can counts.

Every merchant in America should make it a point to keep an ample supply of fresh fruits and vegetables from now until winter and encourage housewives to buy these. Wholesalers and retailers should adopt a motto:

"Sell Fresh Fruits and Vegetables. Save Canned Goods for the War."

If every merchant in America will adopt this motto and live up to it I know that the housewives will be glad to co-operate.

American homes are giving up millions of young men to fight overseas. I know that American homes will support them in this way.

If the housewives of America will buy fresh fruits and vegetables from now until winter, this will provide a ready market for products of the farms during the summer while the surplus can be canned for winter use and for shipment overseas.

This means more and better food at home. It also means abundant supplies of canned foods for winter use and to insure that our army does not go hungry wherever it may be.

Remember Pearl Harbor. Remember Food for Victory.

He who won't be advised, can't be helped.
