Advance Rates By Grade Announced For Tobacco

Grade advance rates for all types of dark tobacco, which reflect support level increases of about 8.8 percent above 1973 crop levels, as required by law, were announced today by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. The 1974 rates, per pound (with 1973 rates in parentheses) are: For Kentucky-Tennessee fire-cured, Types 22-23 from 36 to 83 cents (34 to 76); for Virginia sun-cured, Type 21, from 34 to 82 cents (30 to 78); for dark air-cured, Types 35-36, from 36 to 73 cents (32 to 67); for Virginia sun-cured, Type 37, from 24 to 72 cents (22 to 69).

As in the past years, growers will offer their tobacco for sale at auction markets in the usual manner and price support will be made available through producer cooperative associations. Growers, who have complied with their farm acreage allotments and have certified that they have not used pesticides containing DDT or TDE on their tobacco, are eligible for price support advances.

Schedule of grade advance rates may be obtained from the Tobacco and Peanut Division, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service, U. S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. The department also announced advance rates by grades for the 1974 crop of Burley tobacco ranging from 65 cents to 90 cents a pound.

The rates reflect an average support of 85.8 cents a pound, about 8.7 percent above 1973. Increases over 1973 grade rates range from 5 to 11 cents per pound.

As in past years, growers will offer their tobacco at auction markets in the usual manner, and advances will be made available through producer cooperative associations. Under the poundage quota program now in effect for Burley tobacco, farmers who certify that they have not used pesticides containing DDT and TDE on their tobacco can market up to 110 percent of their farm poundage quotas with loans. However, any marketings over a farm's poundage quota will be subtracted from next year's quota.

As in the past, no advances will be made on any tobacco graded NO-G (No-Grade), U (Unsound), W (Doubtful Keeping Order), or scrap. Marketings of these grades, however, will be charged against the quotas for the farms upon which they were produced.

Burley tobacco is grown primarily in Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana & Missouri.

Cover-Up Trial Focuses On Alleged Hush Money Payments

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Watergate cover-up trial was scheduled to focus on the payment of hundreds of thousands of dollars in alleged hush money to the original seven Watergate defendants.

Herbert W. Kalmbach, once former President Richard M. Nixon's personal lawyer, was summoned to testify how he paid out $220,000 in the three months following the original break-in.

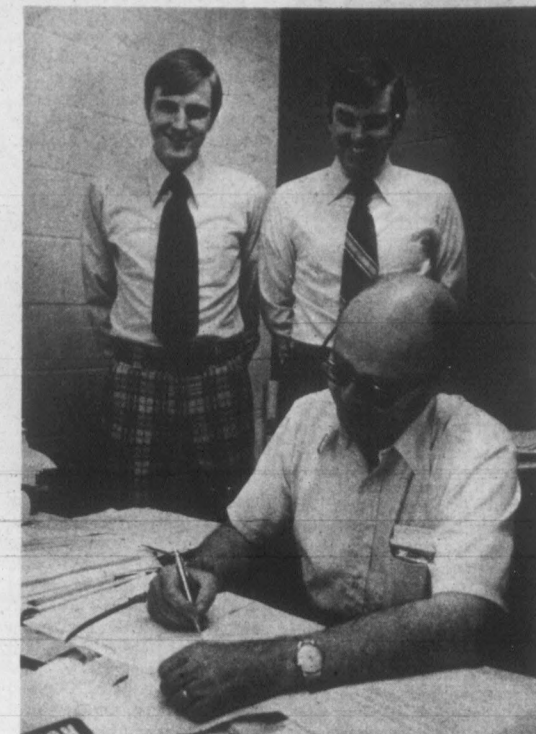

The jury also was scheduled to hear Anthony Ulasevich, a retired New York City policeman who delivered cash to the defendants or their lawyers.

On Monday, Watergate prosecutors interlarded taped segments of three June 23, 1972 White House conversations with the testimony of then top CIA and FBI officials. The prosecution was attempting to show a complex scheme to use one agency to short circuit the Watergate investigation of the other.

Deputy CIA Director Vernon A. Walters said he was summoned to the White House on June 23, six days after the original break-in at Democratic National Committee headquarters.

Walters said he was directed by defendant H.R. Haldeman to call then Acting FBI Director L. Patrick Gray III and advise him that CIA resources in Mexico would be jeopardized if the FBI continued its probe into the financing of the break-in.

Walters, then on the job for only a month, said he carried out this assignment almost immediately, although at the time he could find no CIA connection to Watergate. He testified that

Dr. Heim Views New Responsibility As Unique Opportunity For Teaching

Dr. Keith Heim, since September head of the Special Collections Division of the Murray State University Library, views his new responsibility as a unique opportunity to work with and teach students on an individual basis.

Dr. Heim, a native of Southeast Nebraska, came to Murray State from the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill, where he taught American history. He succeeds Mrs. Edna M. Milliken, who has moved to Frankfurt.

A veteran of eight years service with the Army in Vietnam, Dr. Heim is a former vice consul in the U. S. Foreign Service, having served at Duesseldorf, Germany, where he spent much of his time handling labor relations between the U. S. and German Federation trade unions. Dr. Heim earned his un-

Dr. Keith Heim science at the University of Denver. He received his doctor's dergraduate degree at the University of Nebraska, and his master's degree in library degree in 1973 from the University of North Carolina, writing his dissertation on "Hope Without Power: Truman and the Russians, 1945," a study of diplomacy in the early months of the cold war. The dissertation was nominated for the Allen Nevins Prize in history.

As head of the Special Collections Division of the library, Dr. Heim will be in charge of soliciting and organizing the materials for use by students, faculty, staff and the general public.

The present collection consists of such material as University publications, manuscripts, books on state, local and regional history, some first editions of literary works, papers of prominent area personalities, map collections, microfilm of national and local newspapers and genealogical information.

Coal Strike Casts Shadow Over Resumption Of Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — A nationwide coal strike cast its shadow for the first time today over resumption of contract talks between union and management representatives.

The strike by 120,000 United Mine Workers, another blow to the nation's battered economy, began at 12:01 a.m.

"The gut problems coal miners and their families face remain unresolved," UMW President Arnold Miller had said after the 83rd meeting with industrial representatives broke up Monday. The 84th session began just after 10:30 a.m. today.

There were few visible signs of the strike, since miners traditionally do not picket in UMW contract disputes—they simply do not show up for work and do not bother to mount pickets.

In Beckley, heart of the West Virginia coal fields, it was raining Monday night. The streets were open, but the streets remained deserted.

"This strike may last a lot longer than most people think," said Paul Runyon, sitting in a tavern at Eskdale in the late evening. "It could last as long as two months."

Many miners expect a strike of that length, although UMW

President Arnold Miller and coal operators were predicting a strike of between two and three weeks if agreement can be reached in a day or two on a new contract for the union's 120,000 members. The extra time would be needed for UMW members to ratify the agreement.

The last contract strike — three years ago — lasted 45 days.

Although wildcat miners' strike and unionizing efforts have been marked by violence, UMW contract strikes are generally quiet.

The strike is the first for UMW President Arnold Miller since he took over the reigns of the organization in Jan. 1973. Many see it as a test which could prove his worth as the union's leader.

"I think Arnold's a good man myself," said Tom Harlow, who lives near Arnold Miller's home in Ohley, W. Va. "Of course, there are some who don't, but they haven't given him a chance. They don't really know what he can do until after he's got a contract."

Following bargaining sessions Monday evening, Miller said, "I'm disappointed with the progress we made."

The chief industry negotiator, Guy Farmer, said he, too, was disappointed, but said some progress had been made. Farmer, who had earlier predicted that a contract would be settled by last weekend, said,

Students And Parents To Be Guests At Game

Area high school students and parents of Murray State University students will be the special guests of the university for the football game between Murray State and Eastern Illinois University at Roy Stewart Stadium Saturday, Nov. 16.

Complimentary tickets for "School Day—Parents Day" have been distributed to high schools and are being made available on the campus so that Murray State students may pick them up for their parents.

Locations where tickets are available are the School Relations Office in the Administration Building and the Student Activities Office in the Waterfield Student Union Building.

Representatives of the news media in the area will also be special guests on the campus and for the game that day.

Gametime will be 1:30 p.m. Murray State takes a 7-2 record into the clash, while Eastern Illinois is 3-5-1 for the season.

Tickets For Game Here Saturday To Go On Sale

Reserve seat tickets for the Regional Playoff Football game at Holland Stadium, Murray High School, on Saturday will go on sale Wednesday at 8:30 a. m. at the Superintendent's Office, Poplar at Ninth Street, and at Murray High School, 501 Doran Road, until Thursday noon for all who bought season tickets to Murray High games.

Tickets will be placed on sale at the Wallis and Scott Drug Stores and at Murray High School Thursday at noon for the general public.

The game will be played Saturday at 7:30 p. m. between Murray High School, winner of District I, and the Second District winner, either Glasgow or Warren East, which will be determined in a game to be played tonight.

Since the game is not a Murray High home game, but is sponsored by both Murray High and the visiting team, season tickets and passes will not be honored, a school spokesman said.

TVA Officials Say Mandatory Curtailments Could Be Needed

KNOXVILLE (AP)—Tennessee Valley Authority officials say they want to avoid mandatory power cutbacks in the face of the nationwide coal miners' strike.

But "a system of mandatory power curtailments could be necessary later if it becomes clear that a long coal strike is shaping up," said TVA Chairman Aubrey J. Wagner.

The agency said Monday it has a 4.8 million-ton coal stockpile at its 12 steam generator plants—enough to last 44 days. TVA produces some 75 per cent of its power at coal-fueled steam generating plants.

The TVA also generates power at hydroelectric dams along the Tennessee River and at a nuclear power plant which produces about 7 per cent of the TVA's power output.

TVA is the nation's largest single coal consumer and its largest single public utility. The agency has been complaining of declining coal stocks for several months, and an extended coal strike could cause a serious shortage of power in the seven-state TVA region, officials say.

TVA uses 700,000 tons of coal a week and it has been receiving about 500,000 tons a week. Two-thirds of this came from mines operating under United Mine Workers contracts.

A spokesman said Monday as the UMW prepared to strike that TVA wants to avoid "taking steps prematurely which will have a devastating effect on the valley's economy."

These steps could include power cutbacks on a rotating basis to industry and other large users—steps which Paul Evans, TVA information director, said would "mean hardship and unemployment."

The agency got some relief last week when the Atomic Energy Commission, at TVA request, reduced by more than 60 per cent its power use at uranium enrichment facilities at Oak Ridge and Paducah, Ky.

TVA officials said the reduction, amounting to more than 1.4 million kilowatts, would save the agency about 100,000 tons of coal a week.

Experts Predict Next Global Crisis To Be Water Shortage

ROME, Italy (AP) — Experts at the World Food Conference warn that the next global crisis may be a water shortage, and it may already have begun.

Four water-short nations — India, Egypt, Bangladesh and Pakistan — have introduced a resolution asking international organizations and the more affluent countries to provide $2 billion to $4 billion a year over the next decade to find new sources of water and improve conservation of the water already available.

"The water potential is by no means unlimited," says Lester Brown, a U.S. economist and adviser to the U.N.-sponsored conference. "In the near future the lack of fresh water rather than of land may be the principal constraint on efforts to expand world food output."

Some experts believe that the conference's goal of increased world food production would decrease already depleted water supplies, especially in areas where it is needed most.

As in the case of food, rich countries have been accused of extravagant use of water. Critics point to figures showing that residents of Florida use 40 times as much water as people in Bengal.

The U.N. Food and Agriculture Organization figures that global demand for fresh water will increase by 240 per cent by the end of this decade.

"The irrigation potential of most of the world's major rivers — the Nile, Yellow, Indus, Ganges and Colorado — has largely been realized," Brown said in an interview.

He said that rather than increasing food production, which would step up the consumption of water, countries that have plenty of food should eat less.

Brown expressed belief that disputes over water could lead to international conflicts and said a world water conference should be held within five years.

All he wants is sex and Chinese food

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1974 by The Chicago Tribune

DEAR ABBY: Sandy and I have been married for two years; he was divorced and so was I. (No dependent children.)

All Sandy cares about is Chinese food and sex. My biggest problem is that Sandy is a loner. He is not interested in being with other people. Since our marriage I have been out of touch with all my friends, many of whom are interesting, worthwhile people.

Sandy doesn't have any friends and doesn't want any. He's not stupid. He's a college professor. When he's not eating Chinese food or making love, he has his nose in a book. If I complain about our being alone all the time he tells me I am free to see my friends any time I want—but without him.

I really love him, Abby, but I don't know how much longer I can go on like this. Can you help me?

SANDY'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: I don't know how long a marriage can exist exclusively on a diet of love and Chinese food, but I think you're about to find out. Sandy is selfish and stubborn in his refusal to compromise. And only you can decide if your life without Sandy would be better than your life with him.

DEAR ABBY: I am married to a very good man. My first marriage was a disaster. Mark never came straight home. He'd stop somewhere for a "drink" and come home anywhere from one to five hours late. I couldn't take it, so after three years, I divorced him.

My present husband, Neil, has now started to come home anywhere from 20 minutes to an hour late. Now he's stopping for a drink. Neil isn't much of a drinker now, but I have nightmares about his getting as bad as Mark.

Tonight when he came home half an hour late, I put my foot down. He told me he wasn't a child, and he didn't think I had a right to clock him to the minute, and he wasn't going to put up with it.

Abby, I do not nag him about anything else but this. I want our marriage to last. It's not that I'm against one drink. I take one, too, occasionally, but this is my sore spot. Do you blame me?

SAUSALITO

DEAR SAUS: Yes, and no. Neil shouldn't have even one drink on his way home, because should he become involved in an accident (even if it's not his fault), if he's had one drink, he could be in a lot of trouble. Because of your disastrous marriage with Mark, you may be taking it out on Neil. Speak your piece, then button your lip.

DEAR ABBY: I am constantly amazed at some of the "problems" you are asked to solve. Many could be solved if the person had one ounce of common sense and a half an ounce of guts.

Being afraid to offend "friends" who habitually impose on you is sheer imbecility. Those "friends" have ultra thick skins.

The only way to handle them is to inquire: "By the way, have you ever considered minding your own business?" Believe me, it works. You can't offend such people. On the contrary, they'll respect you for not being a pushover.

So many people think that they have to be "nice" at all costs. It's especially true of Americans. People of other lands (including my native little Netherlands) do not worry about being "popular" so much as taking the right action, and being respected for doing so.

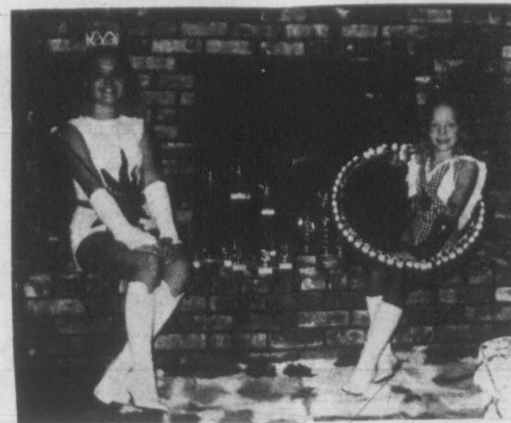

If you use my letter, please don't put my name in the paper.

Thank you for reading this. LONG BEACH READER

DEAR READER: And thank you for writing it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WISHING IN INDIANA: To quote Ben Franklin: "If a man could have half of his wishes, he would double his troubles." (And that goes for women as well.)

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please. Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Milk Saver Tips

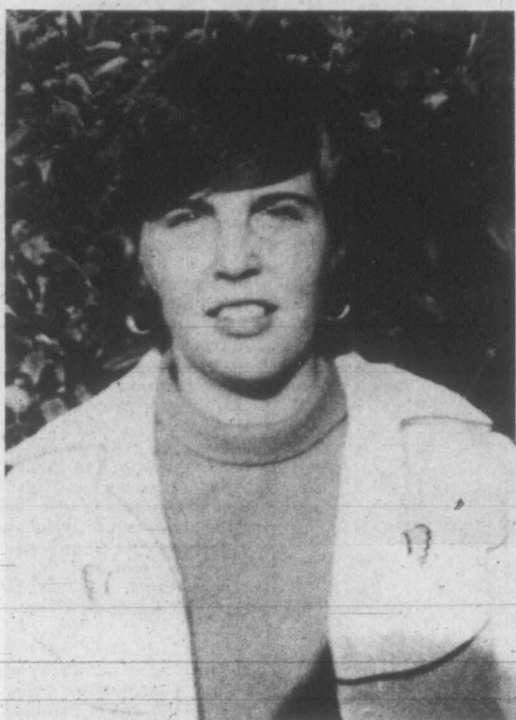

- Don't try to freeze whole milk or cream. When thawed, a flaky protein deposit forms and fat separation that occurs in freezing makes it difficult to obtain a smooth mixture after thawing.
- Before opening a can of evaporated milk, clean the top with a damp cloth. After opening, plan to use the milk within four or five days.

TIPS FOR CLEANING AROUND THE HOME: 1. To remove gum residue from trees on windows—use 3 t. white vinegar to 1 qt. water. 2. To remove screen rust on windows, use 3 t. kerosene to 1 qt. warm water. 3. To remove dirt from windows—use 3 t. ammonia to 1 qt. warm water. These can be used in old spray bottles.—Mrs. Barletta Wrather, 209 Maple St., Murray.

Vested suits for men are important this season. A matched vest, worn in place of a jacket, provides the leisure look with suits or coordinates. There are also some shorter jackets. Many wool looks appear in nonwool fabrics. Simulations include Donegal treatment in double-knits and prints on corduroy and knits.—Mrs. Dean Roper, Courthouse, Mayfield.

Here's how to recreate the lingerie flounce effect now so popular in designer ready-to-wear. On a bias cut piece of fabric—any hem or ruffle edge—fold the edge over ¼" and stretch as you zig-zag the edge in order to make it curl. The curled edge won't need facings.—Mrs. Catherine C. Thompson, Hickman.

A garnish goes a long way with color—and nutrition. A green pepper, a radish or cucumber, stuffed olives, a tomato wedge, sieved egg, spring of parsley. Let your imagination help.—Mrs. Maxine Griffin, Clinton.

Youth Appreciation
Week, Nov. 11-17

Twenty years ago, a North Carolina group of Optimists decided too much attention was being given to the negative acts of youth and too little attention given to the vast majority of youth accepting fulfilling roles as responsible citizens.

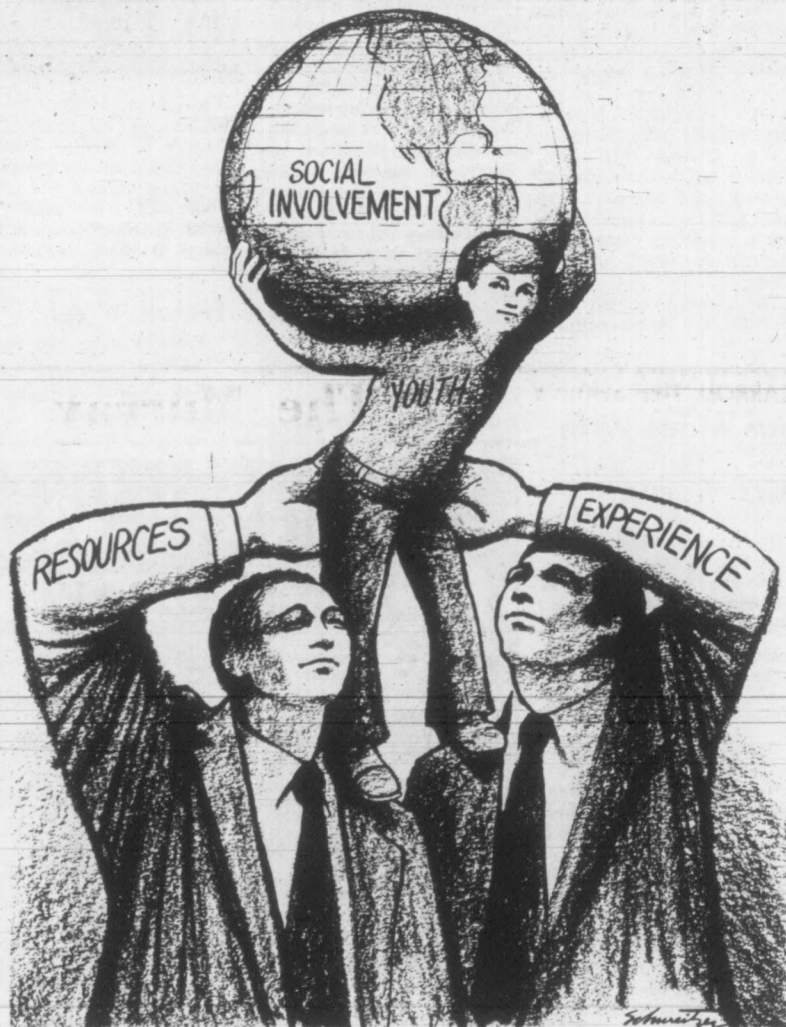

To bring about recognition of the positive actions and contributions of young people, Youth Appreciation Week was inaugurated. The Murray Optimist Club is joining with other Optimist Clubs throughout the world in the observance of Youth Appreciation Week during this week, Nov. 11-17, 1974.

The objective of Youth Appreciation Week is to publicize the fact that today's youth are not the selfish, lazy degenerates that too many adults fantasize. The vast majority of youth is well informed, concerned, willing and interested in becoming involved in efforts to improve our society. While the vitality and spirit of youth needs the wisdom and experience of adults as support in efforts toward the successful achievement of their goals, it follows each adult has a responsibility to assist youth through the transitional stage toward adulthood.

It is indeed important that we give the needed recognition to deserving youth, but we must not become complacent and overlook the necessity for continued personal dedication and involvement with community improvement.

Youth Appreciation Week is a vehicle through which all adults and youth may work together for the good of all.

Consumers Warned Of Phony Furnace Inspectors

By Ed W. Hancock
Attorney General of Kentucky

The furnace inspector who drops in to check your furnace free of charge may warn your heart, but he may not warn your house. Beware of phony furnace inspectors who may try to persuade you to have unnecessary work done on your furnace.

As the weather turns colder, consumers are reminded to have their furnaces inspected, cleaned and repaired, if repairs are needed. There are many reputable firms that will do just that.

There also may be others who want to sell you unnecessary parts or a whole new furnace, if possible.

To protect yourself against the unscrupulous ones, follow a few basic rules, according to Ed Hancock, Kentucky Attorney General.

+ Be cautious when approached by anyone who offers a free furnace inspection.

+ Don't let anyone take your furnace apart for inspection or cleaning unless you are sure that he is qualified to do so.

+ Don't take an inspector's word that he is qualified. Investigate every home improvement firm you deal with. Call the Consumer Protection Division, the Better Business Bureau, the National Home Improvement Council, the National Remodelers Association or a local home builders group.

Ask around.

+ Investigate inspectors and dealers in advance, if possible. If there is ever a real danger of an explosion or of poisonous fumes, you will want to act quickly to have your furnace repaired. Advance checking can do away with the possibility that an inspector might use scare tactics to get you to panic and sign a contract too quickly—without checking past service or shopping for the best price.

+ During an inspection, watch carefully. A fraudulent inspector may bring his own broken parts with him and pretend that they are yours.

+ After an inspection, get a second opinion. If you've been told your furnace is beyond repair, have it confirmed by a heating engineer. If an inspector recommends a particular heating engineer, it could mean that the inspector and the engineer are working together. Find your own.

+ Obtain estimates or competitive bids on replacements or major overhauls. But beware of unusually low bids.

+ As always, get any guarantee or warranty in writing.

If you have a consumer complaint, write to the Attorney General's Office, Consumer Protection Division, Room 34, Capitol Building, Frankfort, Kentucky 40601. Kentucky residents may use the toll-free hotline: 1-800-372-2960.

5-Hilled Tobacco Crop Tagged
As An Agricultural Disgrace

By M. C. GARROTT

Joe Tom Erwin will be glad to know that my tobacco crop has been plowed under without being cut. It has been source of irritation to him since the first frost. He said it was an agricultural disgrace and should have been cut and burned in a Comanche peace pipe long ago.

For those of you who didn't see it, my tobacco crop this year consisted of five hills, planted with no government in one corner of my first attempt at a garden. Sharing the garden with me was A. M. Finley, a neighbor, and a first-rate vegetable grower.

Mr. Finley had never grown any tobacco or paid much attention to the tobacco crops in the county, although he had lived here many years. So, we decided to get a few plants, put them in and watch them grow.

Faye Wells, my secretary, heard about it, and one day showed up at the office with several plants pulled from a plant on the farm of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Gertie Wells, out east on 94. She didn't know whether they were burley, dark fired or rabbit tobacco, and neither did we. But we planted them and enjoyed watching them grow.

The plants did well, too, especially when you consider they were strictly on their own. We didn't do anything to them, or for them; just watched them grow. They survived the early killing frost and looked pretty beat up until they were plowed under by Sam Spiceland a few days ago.

I really enjoyed that garden. What a way to work off the tensions and frustrations of a day!

In the past, I had never attempted anything more than a couple of tomato plants, or a couple of bell pepper plants, in a flower garden, but this past spring all the food shortage talk and Mr. Finley's confidence spurred me to try to raise some food for the table.

Many of you know Mr. Finley, his wife, the former Blanche Reed, both natives of McKenzie, Tenn., and their 21-year-old son, Mike, a marketing senior at Murray State and who feeds our dog when we go out of town.

In 1946, the Finleys started what is now the Southside Restaurant, but retired and moved to Ft. Myers, Fla., in 1969. Admitting they didn't like living in the Sunshine State as much as they did in Calloway County, they moved back to Murray in July, 1973, and bought a new home right behind ours. Now, they just take it easy and work part-time at the North Side IGA while Mike hacks away at his studies.

My dad was a master gardener. Every year, he would raise enough for the entire neighborhood and delighted in leaving a basket of fresh vegetables, gathered in the coolness of the early morning, on a neighbor's doorstep. But I have never gotten that excited about it.

Perhaps the reason is that each spring one of my chores was to take a wheelbarrow and haul all of the manure from the stalls in the stable and put it on the garden, which at the time seemed about the size of a football field. I think I am safe in saying that 95 to 100 wheelbarrow loads of manure can take a lot of the enthusiasm out of gardening.

I must admit, however, that when I came back from the Kentucky Education Association meeting in Louisville last April and saw that Mr. Finley had had our garden broken up, I had a sinking feeling in my stomach. Although my portion was only 18-by-45 feet, it looked like 40 acres of plowed ground. "I'll never get that much planted!" I moaned.

The hardest part, though, was getting started, and after that it was fun. We had radishes (although I figure they cost me about 50 cents apiece), green beans, corn, butterbeans, okra, bell peppers, tomatoes and peas. Cathryn even tried and enjoyed some canning. And, all for only $14.85!

I didn't do as well as the Finleys did from their portion, though. Mr. Finley bought himself one of those rota-tillers and was out there every day battling the bermuda and crab grass keeping his garden as clean as a whistle.

—Every time something would play out, he'd plow it up and plant something else. He raised so much stuff they had to buy another freezer. They'll eat well this winter regardless of what the economy does.

Now, we've broken an even greater area for another garden next spring, and I'm looking forward to another hitch at it. L. D. Miller, another master gardener, is anxious to help and offers good advice. He has even offered all the manure we need and a truck in which to haul it.

You can't beat a deal like that, even if it smells!

Letter To The Editor

New Concord Election
Problems Explained

Dear Editor:

In your November 8th edition of The Ledger & Times, I notice a letter from Mrs. Simone P. Taylor of Hamlin quite critical of the location chosen to hold the November 5th election.

In answer to Mrs. Taylor's remarks, I would like to state that there has been so much vandalism in our unused school buildings, and even if we used them, and took chances on a very expensive machine being destroyed, we would still be without electricity, water, lights, and toilet facilities that it seems absurd that one would even suggest we ask permission from the School Board to do so!

We regret very much that the New Concord machine developed a malfunction during the noon hour. This was the only malfunction that occurred in the entire County. We would like to thank Mr. Flavil Robertson for leaving his sick bed in our local hospital to repair this defective machine so everyone could have a chance to vote.

We are only allowed to pay $12.00 a year to place a voting machine on one's property, and very few business men feel that they can spare the space for this small amount of rent. The Hendons were very gracious in allowing us use of their building, after we were refused at another New-Concord location. We regret that there was only a six foot walkway for voters. However, we will have more room in the Hendon's store next year.

The lady you referred to checking off names outside the building was not an election officer, but a political worker, who by law must be at least 50 feet from the voting machine. Personally, I never approved of this politicking, but it is strictly legal.

Both Dr. Earl Adams and myself regret that Mrs. Taylor did not wait a few minutes until the machine could be repaired so she could cast her vote. Malfunctions do occur sometimes, even in the best of voting machines.

Very sincerely,
H. M. Scarborough

A Time To Buy Shoes

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

The best time to buy shoes is at the end of the day and at the end of the week.

This recommendation was made a few months ago by Maj. John P. Barrett, Jr., chief of the orthopedic service at the U.S. Air Force Hospital, Loring Air Force Base, Presque Isle, Me., when he spoke to a postgraduate group on the child's foot and ankle — a course sponsored by the American Academy of Orthopedic Surgeons in cooperation with the American Orthopedic Foot Society. Not only do the feet of an individual differ in size, but also each is larger at the end of the day; and by the end of the week, foot size has increased 8 per cent to 15 per cent, according to Dr. Barrett.

These "foot-facts" were arrived at scientifically by applying a long-known principle: A solid object immersed wholly or partly in a fluid displaces a volume of fluid equal to the volume of the object.

Dr. Barrett devised a volumeter to determine foot volume by applying this principle, measuring the volume of the water displaced by the immersed feet. He measured the feet of volunteers, in the morning and again in the afternoon, daily for several weeks.

This change in volume of the feet late in the day to gradually more toward the end of the week is related to the force of gravity on the blood as a result of spending more hours of the working day standing on the feet. The left lower extremity, including the foot, is slightly larger than the right because of the arrangement of the large veins in the pelvis.

The air force orthopedist began his studies in 1970 while a resident at Massachusetts General Hospital.

In buying shoes, it would be wise to heed the recommendations of Dr. Barrett. If you do, you will likely receive a more comfortable fit.

Q. Mrs. R. is worried and asks for advice because her young son holds his breath for seemingly long periods.

A. Unlike rabbits, which reportedly can hold their breath until they die, humans suffer no damage from breath-holding because automatically breathing resumes when the so-called breaking point is reached. Carbon dioxide builds up in the blood when the breath is held and is the chemical which causes the respiratory center in the brain to initiate breathing. The same mechanism keeps up breathing at a regular rate during normal sleep and under anesthesia.

Q. Is it true that Mormons and Seventh Day Adventists have fewer cancers than other persons?

A. A public health study by the University of California at Los Angeles found less cancer among Mormons and Seventh Day Adventists who follow the tenets of their faith and use no tobacco or alcohol.

Isn't It The Truth

By Carl Riblet Jr.

Current statistics inform us that 75 per cent of the wealth of the United States is owned by women, those lovely creatures who seek liberation. That means that in 1974, legacies, trusts and alimony are changing an ages - old proposition; which is to say that it is not the meek who are inheriting the earth.

Harrodsburg Named Champion In Class A State Grid Poll

By BOB COOPER
AP Sports Writer

The final votes are in and the Associated Press has named St. Xavier, Boyd County and Harrodsburg as the mythical champions of the three classes of Kentucky high school football.

With regional play beginning this week, the teams themselves will determine who the real kings are going to be.

One of the three champs named by the AP, Harrodsburg, doesn't have a chance for a real crown. The pioneers finished second to Bardstown in district play and are through for the year.

Boyd County, 11-0, meets Middlesboro, 9-1, for the Class

AA Region Four championship. Boyd resumed leadership in the AA standings after Owensboro had been No. 1 for three weeks.

Elkhorn City, 11-0, moved up from third to second in the final class A poll. The Cougars, runner-up to Paris for the state crown last season, meet Lynch in regional play Friday.

Todd County Central fell from second to third this week. Although the Rebels finished the season 8-1 and were unbeaten in district play, they lost the district title to Murray on Dickson System points.

Paris, No. 1 in Class A for six weeks before giving way a month ago, finished No. 4, but still is in the running to defend its state championship, meeting Bardstown Friday in the regionals.

Beechwood, No. 5 in the final poll, also is the regionals, entertaining Lewis County, 9-2 Friday.

In Class AA, No. 2, Owensboro is host to Mayfield, 10-1 and winner of the last five in a row; No. 3 Somerset entertains North Hardin, 10-0, and No. 4 Henry Clay is at home to Newport Catholic, 9-1.

Danville, which finished fifth in the AP Class AA poll, lost the district title to Somerset when the Briarjumper took a 29-28 victory last weekend.

St. Xavier wound up the regular season as the unanimous choice, for the fifth straight week, as the No. 1 team in Jefferson County's Class AAA.

Behind the Tigers in the final poll are Trinity, Valley, Bishop David and Westport, in that order. Westport replaced Ballard in the top five after defeating the Bruins, 28-12, last weekend.

Seneca and Westport play tonight for the district title after both finished with 2-1-1 records in championship play. Westport is 7-1-2 over-all and Seneca is 6-2-2.

Frida night, Stuart is waiting for the Seneca-Westport winner and Valley, 10-0, takes on Jeffersonstown, 6-4, for one of the county regional titles in Class AAA.

In Class AA, No. 2, Owensboro is host to Mayfield, 10-1 and winner of the last five in a row; No. 3 Somerset entertains North Hardin, 10-0, and No. 4 Henry Clay is at home to Newport Catholic, 9-1.

Laker Girls And Frosh Open Season Thursday

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

Sometime Thursday night at Fulton County High School the host scorekeeper just might throw away his scorebook and quit.

Not that there will be so much scoring going on that it will be impossible to keep the book correctly but that everyone on the Calloway County Laker girls basketball team seems to have the same name.

It seems that the Lakers are a team of sisters.

In fact, four of the starters are sisters and the other starter, Leslie Wilford, has a sister on the team but since only five can be on the floor at one time, the scorekeeper's task will be just a little easier.

Late last year, a girls team was formed at Calloway County High and they played in one tournament game and lost. That was the extent of the season.

But this year, with the new ruling by the state now in effect, the Laker girls will play in 15 regular season contests.

David Lanier, who is coaching the Laker girls this season, has been working with his girls since September 30.

"If we have a handicap, I suppose it will be our lack of height," Lanier said.

"We've been shooting well in practice but of course we can't tell how we'll shoot until we get in a game."

Lanier said the one advantage for the Lakers will be speed.

"Our game plan will be to run when we can run so we can take advantage of our speed."

Lanier said his team will play a man-to-man defense most of the time, "unless we run into someone we can't handle."

The Laker girls will play most of their games the same night the freshman boys play.

However, three times the Laker girls will play on the same card as the boys, twice against Marshall County and once against Paducah Tilghman.

The backcourt will find the sister duo of Becky and Susie Imes at the guard positions.

Becky is a 5-1 junior while

Susie is a 5-1 freshman. Both are very quick and outstanding shooters from the outside.

At the forward spots are twin sisters Patricia and Marilyn McKenzie. Both are sophomores, Patricia being 5-6 while Marilyn is 5-5.

At center will be 5-6 sophomore Leslie Wilford.

"The girls have had a great attitude so far and they can't wait to play their first game," Lanier said.

Lanier said Ballard Memorial, Tilghman and Murray High will be the strongest teams on the schedule for the Laker girls.

Other team members are Regina Cook, a 5-4 junior; Kathy Harding, a 5-3 junior; Alison Wilford, a 5-3 senior; Donna Overcast, a 5-4 junior; Lois Wilkins, a 5-8 sophomore; Felicia Pinner, a 5-6 freshman; Clara Cole, a 5-1 freshman; Patricia Phillips, a 5-1 freshman and Melessa Thorne, a 5-3 freshman.

right combination," Hargrove said.

The first home contest for the varsity girls and the freshman Lakers will be December 5 against Reidland.

Role Of Woman Athlete Taking New Direction

EDITORS NOTE: A revolution is brewing in college athletics. The women have joined up, and there's nothing the men can do about it. The government has stepped in with a law called Title IX, and to hear some tell it, the day of big-time college athletics is either over or on the way out. Here is the first of a five-part series on the role of women, who are going from "bake sales to half the pie."

The same subject drew a slightly different reaction from Katherine Ley, president of the American Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation. She said Title IX "does more for women than anything since women got the right to vote."

So why can't we switch on the tube this Saturday, settle back into an easy chair and watch women knock each others' brains out?

Well, besides the pervasive reason that these things take time, money and inclination, it's because Congress passes laws and the executive branch enforces them.

One bit of testimony to the obstacles the women's sports movement faces is that Title IX has been on the books since 1972—unenforced—while women have remained on the sidelines—uninvolved.

"I'm surprised we haven't been taken to court for foot-dragging," says one knowledgeable insider at the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, the federal agency charged with writing the enforcement regulations for Title IX.

HEW finally proposed last June a series of tentative enforcement regulations that were designed to gauge the public reaction to Title IX. Interested parties had until Oct. 15 to comment.

Now that HEW has those comments, it will study them and write a series of final regulations. They will be completed early next year, and then go to President Ford for his signature. If he signs it, Title IX, which was passed two years ago, will at last become a law that the government can force colleges to comply with.

Sooners Take First In AP College Poll

By RON JENKINS
AP Sports Writer
NORMAN, Okla. (AP) — Barry Switzer says "Walt Disney couldn't have written a better script" to the story of his Oklahoma Sooners' ascent to college football's No. 1 ranking.

But he adds there are some big stumbling blocks in the path of a storybook finish for the Sooners, who replaced Ohio State atop The Associated Press weekly gridiron poll Monday.

Oklahoma received a whopping 48 first-place votes and 1-198 of a possible 1,240 votes from a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

"It's a tremendous honor to be AP's No. 1 team," said Switzer. "We play three good football teams in the next three weeks, and we're gonna try to hold on week by week. We've got the ball now, and it's up to us to carry it."

Ohio State, which had been No. 1 for seven consecutive weeks, fell to fourth behind Oklahoma, Alabama and Michigan after the Buckeyes lost to Michigan State 16-13.

The Sooners were ranked No. 1 in the initial regular season poll, but fell to third after having trouble with Baylor. They climbed to second two weeks later and have been runners-up ever since.

Alabama, 30-0 winner over Louisiana State, received 10 first-place votes and 1,102 points. Michigan grabbed the other four first-place votes and 1,014. Then came Ohio State with 877, followed by Notre Dame, Nebraska, Auburn, Southern California, Florida and Texas A&M.

The Sooners, despite included being hit by a two-year NCAA probation before the start of the 1973 season, went on to the Big Eight crown and the No. 3 rating that year after finishing as the No. 2 team in 1971 and 1972.

They are now riding a 17-game winning streak, the nation's longest.

The Sooners' chances in 1973 were hurt because they were forbidden to accept a bowl bid as part of the probation. That's the case again this year, but Switzer says their chances are improved because there isn't a bowl game shaping up as "a national championship game" as last year's Notre-Dame-Alabama clash was billed.

Switzer notes the Sooners still must play two teams currently ranked in the Top Twenty. They play unranked Kansas this Saturday, then face sixth-ranked Nebraska and 18th-ranked Oklahoma State.

There was much shuffling in the Top Twenty this week after a flurry of upsets. Notre Dame, eighth last week, was idle but moved up three places. Nebraska climbed from ninth to sixth by defeating Iowa State 23-13. Auburn rose from 10th to seventh after a 24-20 triumph over Mississippi State and Southern California zipped from 11th to eighth after beating Stanford 34-10.

Florida slipped from sixth to ninth after losing to Georgia 17-16. Texas A&M was upset by Southern Methodist and dropped from fifth to 10th, and Penn State dropped a 12-7 verdict to North Carolina State and plunged from seventh to 11th.

Rounding out the Second Ten behind Penn State were Miami of Ohio, Maryland, Houston, Michigan State, North Carolina State, Pitt, Oklahoma State, California and Texas Tech.

Hart Gets 341 Yards But Vikings Take Win

By DAN GEORGE
Associated Press Writer
ST. LOUIS (AP) — Scrambling Fran Tarkenton ran only once in the Minnesota Vikings' 28-24 National Football League victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Monday night, but it was sufficient.

The nimble quarterback rolled into the end zone from 11 yards out midway through the fourth quarter and the touchdown he scored proved to be the winning margin in the nationally televised game.

But Tarkenton, who left most of the Vikings' rushing to bruising Chuck Foreman and Dave Osborn, afterward seemed unaware of how many times he'd run.

"I never count 'em," he said with a deadpan expression.

"The play was set up for the situation," Minnesota Coach Bud Grant explained of the Tarkenton scamper climaxing an eight-play march from the Viking 47.

Tarkenton, whose score established a 28-17 lead, did most of his damage through the air, hitting 14 of 29 aeriels for 137 yards, including a 10-yard touchdown toss to wide receiver John Gilliam in the opening period.

But it was a tough Minnesota defense that stopped St. Louis' last-ditch effort in a drive to the Viking 30.

The Cardinals advanced 65 yards in 12 plays, half of them on Jim Hart passes following Tarkenton's touchdown, and scored on a rare, four-yard run by Hart.

Minnesota was forced to punt only four downs later, and the Cardinals regained possession at their seven.

Hart, who enjoyed one of his finest performances, then propelled his team deep into Minnesota territory before his final two passes fell short.

Hart finished with 28 completions in 43 attempts for 341 yards and two touchdowns, including a 40-yard bomb to J. V. Cain in the first quarter.

But the Viking defense forced him to throw sideline patterns or throw short over the middle as the Cardinals were using up valuable time on the clock.

St. Louis Coach Don Coryell seemed baffled by his team's ability to move the ball but not score.

"My gosh, we got 436 yards and still couldn't win," he said. "That's the most we've had all year. We just didn't have enough time at the end and the two early fumbles hurt us."

The Cardinals had lost only four fumbles in their previous eight games, but they lost two in the opening period and Minnesota turned both into touchdowns.

Tight end Jackie Smith snared an 18-yard Hart pass at the St. Louis 40 but fumbled the ball, which rookie Matt Blair scooped up and returned to the 27. Six plays later Osborn plunged through the middle from a yard out to make it 7-0.

St. Louis needed just four plays to tie the score as Hart opened with a 17-yard pass to

Smith and runs by Jim Otis and Terry Metcalf advanced the ball to the Minnesota 40.

Hart then stepped back, double-pumped and cast an aerial which wide receiver J.V. Cain gathered in at the Viking 20 and took to the end zone after dodging two would-be tacklers.

Moments later, however, Metcalf fumbled after fielding a Mike Eischeid punt and Minnesota recovered at the St. Louis 13. Two plays later Tarkenton found Gilliam in the flat and the ex-Cardinal scrambled in from the 10.

Also damaging to the Cardinals, who had bounced back in the second quarter on Jim Bakken's 46-yard field goal and a 12-yard touchdown pass play from Hart to Earl Thomas, was a third-quarter injury to Metcalf.

The victory left Minnesota solidly entrenched atop National Conference Central Division standings with a 7-2 record and a 3½-game lead over the Detroit Lions.

Said Coryell, whose Cardinals are also 7-2 and a game ahead in the National Conference East, "It must've been a heckuva game on TV, but I'd rather have played a bad game and lost."

There were eight teams in the series with foreign teams competing.

In Taipei, Hsieh KuoCheng, chairman of the Republic of China Baseball Association, expressed "deep regret" over the decision.

Hsieh, a member of Nationalist China's legislative Yuan, said he is not against the idea of organizing regional competition in Asia as a substitute for the Williamsport World Series.

However, he added, "this is no real substitution, for Asian boys will have no chance to compete with their American counterparts."

No More Foreign Teams In Little League Series

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — Little League authorities, apparently upset over Taiwan's four straight championships, came up with a plan Monday to insure a U.S. team of victory next year. They banned all foreign teams from the Little League World Series.

Prior to Taiwan's four straight titles, Japan won for two years straight and Monterrey, Mexico, took the title in 1957-58.

The organization said regional championship series would be continued in Canada, the Far East, Europe and Latin America. The action does not affect the senior or big World Series programs for boys 13 to 15, and 16 to 18, respectively.

A Little League spokesman cited travel costs for foreign entries and the nationalistic approach taken abroad.

Since the Little League broadened its scope in 1957 and 1958 to include teams outside the continental United States, 20 foreign teams have competed in the program.

Robert H. Stirrat, vice president and public relations director, said in a statement announcing the change:

"Peter J. McGovern, chief executive officer and chairman of the board of directors, said the decision to limit entries to teams from the United States was reached by the board following a review and re-assessment of World Series competition for children of age 12 and under."

"We are standing by the board's resolution and will offer no further details," Stirrat said.

The Little League World Series will be played here next Aug. 19-23, he said.

Only four teams — the U.S. regional champions — will be entered.

Southwest Boys Win, East Girls Triumph

Southwest and host East Elementary split a pair of games in county basketball action Monday night.

In the seventh-grade girls game, East ripped Southwest 52-15 while in the eighth grade boys game, the visitors came from behind with a late rally and edged East 45-38.

The girls game was never any contest as East moved ahead in the opening minute and by the end of the first period, held an overwhelming 21-5 bulge.

The rest of the game proved no better for the Southwest girls as East ran up the victory margin even more.

Hot-shooting guard Mary Wagoner paced the scoring for East with 25 points in a sensational performance while teammate Debbie Claxton, likewise playing a brilliant game, tossed in 19.

The eighth grade boys game got off to a slow start as the first quarter ended with Southwest holding just a 3-2 lead.

But in the second period, the quick and scrapping East team ran for 18 points and at intermission held a 20-15 lead.

The game remained close in the third period as the teams played on even terms and going into the final period, East still had a five-point margin.

But in the fourth canto, East lost two of its starters via the foul rule and Southwest began to apply fullcourt pressure.

At one point, the Southwest Lakers rattled off six consecutive baskets and by the time the flurry had ended, East found itself on the short end of a 45-38 score.

Scott Barrow had game honors as he poured in 17 points for Southwest while Ricky Garland tossed in 10. Cunningham paced the losing East team with eight points.

Southwest will swing into action Friday as they open their home season by hosting the North Lakers.

The first contest at 6:30 p. m. will pit the seventh grade girls of each school against each other while in the nightcap, the eighth grade boys will battle.

East's next game will be next Monday when the seventh grade boys and eighth grade girls are at Southwest.

The first game, which will be the boys game, will start at 4 p. m.

Hospital Sues To Have Woman In Coma Evicted

MIAMI (AP) — The parents of a 21-year-old woman who has been in a coma for more than a year say they'll fight a trespassing suit filed by officials trying to have her evicted from a hospital.

"This girl is fighting for her life," Irwin Seaman said of his daughter Ronda, who suffered extensive brain damage in a June 1973 traffic accident. "And when someone fights for her life, she needs every edge she can get."

Officials of Doctors' Hospital have filed a Dade Circuit Court suit asking the court to enjoin the "continuing trespass" of Miss Seaman.

Seaman said he believes his daughter has a better chance of recovery while receiving hospital care.

Hospital administrator Joseph McAloon said he was forced to file the suit because the Seamans have refused to transfer their daughter for the past six months. Seaman and his wife, Adele, have run up $65,000 in medical bills since medical insurance was exhausted.

"We're not suing for the money," McAloon said. "This hospital is intended for the care of acutely ill patients."

Although doctors at the hospital say the girl is "without hope of recovery," her mother says she sees signs of progress.

"At first, her eyes were closed all the time," said Mrs. Seaman. "Now, she opens them during the day and closes

Buses Rocked By Blasts In West Virginia

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (AP) — Two school buses were struck by shotgun blasts Monday night in rural Kanawha County, where a controversy over language arts textbooks has raged for more than two months.

Earlier in the day, a car owned by parents who had been sending their children to school was firebombed. State police said there were no injuries in any of the three incidents.

The violence came one day before school was to resume here following a school board decision Friday to retain nearly all of the textbooks which opponents say undermine the religious faith and patriotism of their children.

Leaders of the protest have urged their followers to "shut down the schools" today and to send their children to private schools or educate them at home.

15,000 Auto Workers Idled

DETROIT (AP) — A souring economy and slumping new car sales sent another 15,625 workers to the unemployment lines this week as the Big Three auto makers added to the nation's growing jobless ranks.

On Monday, 5,200 General Motors assemblers began indefinite layoffs, Ford Motor Co. furloughed 1,625 workers indefinitely and Chrysler Corp. laid off 8,800 Hamtramck, Mich., workers for the week.

With new car sales off to their worst start in a decade, the recession-plagued auto companies have 53,000 workers on indefinite layoff and another 12,000 scheduled for long-term furloughs within the next three weeks.

Storm Causes Extensive Floods In Nome, Alaska

NOME, Alaska (AP) — A storm packing winds of nearly 70 miles per hour battered this Bering Sea town today, causing extensive flooding in low-lying areas and forcing the evacuation of about 100 residents.

No injuries were reported. Power and telephone lines were cut off; all roads out of Nome were flooded, the City Hall was reportedly caving in, and up to five feet of water was running through the town's main street.

Most buildings were without heat. The temperature was in the 30s and officials said this was fortunately a relatively high temperature for this time of year.

The National Weather Service issued a coastal flood warning them at night. "She certainly feels pain and discomfort but she can't tell you ... Sometimes you can see the tears in the corners of her eyes."

Roten Gallery Prints To Be Exhibited Here

About 1,000 original prints from the famed Ferdinand Roten Galleries of Baltimore will be on exhibit and available for sale at Murray State University Friday, Nov. 15.

Works spanning six centuries will be featured in the show sponsored by the Art Department at Murray State in the Clara M. Eagle Gallery on the fourth floor of the Price Doyle Fine Arts Center from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Prints by such masters as Rouault, Hogarth, Goya, Miro, and Picasso, and many of today's artists—some famous and some not yet famous—will be included, along with a collection of Western and Oriental manuscript pages, some dating back to the 13th century.

Richard Jackson, gallery director, said the prices of the prints range from $10 into the thousands of dollars, but added that most of them, including those of the masters, are priced at less than $100.

All work in the show will be displayed informally so that visitors may see and leaf through the collection of original graphics. Jackson said the public is invited to come and browse and to ask questions about the work, the artists and the various graphic techniques.

A world-respected authority on graphics of all types, Roten mounts more than 400 exhibits annually for major museums throughout the United States and Canada. These exhibits, utilized by museums to extend the range of their shows, are in addition to the 1,500 exhibits and sales arranged by Roten each year for universities, community organizations, and corporations.

Teachers Allowed To Work At Races

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The attorney general's office said today there seems to be no prohibition against a public school teachers working for the State Racing Commission on non-school days.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Walter Herdman said the courts have held one person can hold more than one state position at the same time unless the two are incompatible.

The advise went to Dudley Burke, secretary of the commission at Lexington who cited a case of a teacher in the Marion County school system.

Organization Gets Tax Exempt Status

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Planned Parenthood Center Inc., of Louisville is entitled to an exemption from property taxes, the attorney general's office said today.

The organization dispenses family planning information and services and maintains a library. It recently purchased real estate at Louisville.

Asst. Atty. Gen. William Riley said the center apparently comes under the classification of an institution of education.

Lowell said his office would attempt to fly sandbags and additional pumps to Nome but added that, "I don't know if we're going to get in there or not."

Nome has a population of 2,500.

The flooding was caused by wind-whipped water from the Bering Sea.

ORIGINAL WOODBLOCK—A 19th century color woodblock, one of a unit of three by the Japanese artist, Toyokuni (1786-1865), will be among the approximately 1,000 prints in the Ferdinand Roten Galleries exhibition and sale at Murray State University Friday, Nov. 15. Sponsored by the Art Department at Murray State, the collection of prints spans the work of artists from the 15th century to the present. The Toyokuni triptych, which includes the above print, is $195 and each of the three color prints measures 13 1/2 by 30 inches.

Coal-Dependent Industry Spokesmen Predict Problems

By GINNY PITT
Associated Press Writer
Rail, steel, utility and other coal-dependent industry spokesmen are predicting serious trouble ahead if the miners' strike is a long one.

And many rank-and-file members of the United Mine Workers union express concern about feeding their families during a lengthy strike but vow to stay out until a fair contract is negotiated.

The union has estimated that the strike will last a minimum of three weeks. A contract agreement has not yet been reached, and officials say it will take about 10 days for the 120,000 miners who produce three-fourths of the nation's coal to ratify the pact.

Most industry officials say the effects of the strike will not be felt during the first week. But as it enters a second and third week, layoffs and power cutbacks may become widespread, they say.

The nation's largest coal user, the Tennessee Valley Authority, has a 44-day supply of coal and has already asked for voluntary power use reductions of up to 20 per cent.

In Pennsylvania, where coal is used to provide 81 per cent of the electrical power in the state, officials say most utilities have about a 60-day supply.

Utilities use about two-thirds of the coal produced in the United States each year. The steel industry uses about one-sixth and other industries use the rest.

The effects of the strike were expected to hit railroads first. The bankrupt Penn Central said $5 million a week in revenue could be lost and 1,500 workers would be immediately laid off. More layoffs may follow as the strike continues, a spokesman said.

Steel officials began several weeks ago setting up some contingency plans in anticipation of the strike, and industry analysts predicted that thousands of layoffs and significant production cutbacks could accompany a strike of longer than two weeks duration.

In the coalfields on Monday, many miners spent the Veterans Day holiday worrying about the loss of their $42 to $50 a day income from the mines.

"With six kids, you can't prepare for anything," said Dwayne Leverknight of Somerset County, Pa. "It's hard for us to make ends meet. A strike puts you further in debt, and once you're there, you can't get out."

"I'm not going to get bills paid off right away, that's for sure," said Francis Emy, who started working the Pennsylvania mines 2 1/2 years ago. "We bought all new furniture and tried to get it paid off, but we didn't make it. We haven't been able to prepare at all."

Despite such complaints, union members and their families said they would reject a contract offer if it isn't good enough.

"I honestly think that this is one time they'll stand together, and if they don't get a good one, they'll sure as hell throw it back at them," said Gene Mitchell, the UMW international executive board member from Illinois.

Passenger Ferry Sinks, Many Dead

DACCA, Bangladesh (AP) — A passenger ferry with hundreds of passengers aboard capsized and sank in a river 12 miles from Dacca with a heavy loss of life.

The accident occurred Monday, and the ferry was believed carrying at least 300 passengers. Some survivors said more than 200 persons traveling inside the boat were trapped, but a fireman who was on deck put the figure at more than 100.

The fireman, Jamir Ali Khan, said the ferry, although heavily loaded, was trying to stop near the river bank to take on still more passengers when it suddenly heeled over and sank.

Gibson Expected To Withdraw Under Fire

WASHINGTON (AP) — Andrew E. Gibson was expected to withdraw under fire as President Ford's candidate to head the Federal Energy Administration, but may be offered a different government post, administration sources said.

Gibson's selection to head the FEA has become controversial because of his connections with Interstate Oil Transport Co., a Philadelphia oil-barge and tanker company.

In 1972, the Federal Maritime Administration granted a $90.6 million subsidy to a tankerbuilding venture which benefitted Interstate Oil. Gibson was maritime administrator at the time and the subsidy was signed by his deputy, Robert J. Blackwell. Six months later Gibson became president of Interstate.

While he held that job, Interstate applied for a new $107.6 million subsidy from Blackwell, who had moved up to maritime administrator.

Gibson left Interstate last May with a guarantee of $1 million for his services of only 14 months, and Interstate got its second subsidy last July.

Gibson's series of connections with the government and Interstate reportedly led Sen. Henry M. Jackson, D-Wash., to write Ford requesting the results of a routine FBI investigation into Gibson's background.

Jackson is chairman of the Senate Interior Committee, which passes on the FEA nominee, and congressional sources said Gibson's nomination was in serious trouble even though it had not yet been formally sent to the Senate.

Gibson met hastily with White House aides twice last Friday and again Monday, and Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton, the President's top energy aide, was summoned to a meeting with Ford Monday morning and later declined to talk about it publicly.

But administration sources said Gibson has asked the President to withdraw his nomination to head the FEA.

One source said Gibson wanted a chance to seek Senate confirmation for another government job and might be offered one.

This source said Gibson wanted an opportunity to show through the confirmation process that his million-dollar severance agreement with Interstate did not create a conflict of interest that would bar him from federal services.

Gibson had been selected to replace John C. Sawhill as Federal Energy Administrator after the President accepted Sawhill's resignation, as requested by Morton.

Supermarket Industry Says Its Not To Blame For Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The supermarket industry is defending itself against charges that food stores are responsible for the rapid rise in food prices during the last two years.

Clarence G. Adamy, president of the National Association of Food Chains, plans to tell a news conference today that cost and profit figures show supermarkets are not reaping enormous profits.

Industry representatives also plan to tell a House subcommittee hearing next week about costs and profits of individual food departments rather than of chains or the industry as a whole.

Adamy, whose organization represents about 200 supermarket chains, intends to dispute government figures that show dramatic increases in wholesale and retail prices but declining farm prices. Consumer groups contend those figures mean that middlemen, such as food store chains, are making up the difference with higher profits.

Agriculture Department statistics — the principal target of the food chains in counter-attacking adverse publicity for them — show that retail food prices now are averaging 15 per cent above prices of the first nine months of 1973.

A full 80 per cent of that increase has been caused by hikes in the amount of the food dollar middlemen take, according to the statistics.

That amount, called the farm-retail price spread or margin, often is taken to mean middlemen's profits. However, it includes both profits and what the middlemen themselves must pay for labor, transportation, processing equipment and all the expenses of any business.

A Wall Street Journal survey at the end of October showed profits for the 15 largest publicly owned food chains up 115 per cent over a year ago, but several chain executives have pointed out that the percentage was not expressed in relation to sales volume.

In relation to sales volume, profits would show at a normal level or slightly below, says Donald Perkins, chairman of the Jewel Co.

In other economic developments —

Columnist Sylvia Porter, chairman of President Ford's Committee to Fight Inflation, warned that wage-price controls might be imposed if voluntary anti-inflation efforts fail.

Assistant Senate Democratic Leader Robert C. Byrd predicted that Congress will pass standby authority for wage and price controls. The West Virginia senator said also that the new Congress likely would pass a standby gasoline rationing program.

Interior Secretary Rogers C.B. Morton said he hopes to send to Ford by the end of the year some policy recommendations that strongly emphasize the need for energy conservation.

Retail sales declined in October for the second straight month, the Commerce Department reported. The value of retail sales declined $193 million to $45.9 billion, down from September's $46.1 billion.

Crop losses from early frost last month meant the United States will have less corn and other livestock feed in reserve by the time 1975 harvests are ready than at any time since 1948, the Agriculture Department said.

Committee To Debate Bargaining

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — A special legislative committee will debate whether public employees should be guaranteed collective bargaining rights — one of the most controversial issues of the 1974 General Assembly.

The announcement of formation of the committee came from State Sen. Michael Moloney, D-Lexington, who will chair the committee. He said the committee will conduct public hearings so it can make "a sound recommendation to the 1976 General Assembly."

More than 3,000 state and local public officials and leaders of labor and professional organizations have been invited to testify.

Plans call for the committee to complete its work by next October in preparation for the 1976 General Assembly.

A bill to give local and state government workers, including teachers, bargaining rights was introduced in the 1974 legislature, but died in committee.

Warrant Issued For Arrest Of Earl Of Lucan

LONDON (AP) — A warrant was issued today for the arrest of the Earl of Lucan, missing since the bludgeon murder of his children's nanny and the beating of his estranged wife last week.

"We have a lot to ask him," Scotland Yard detective chief Roy Ranson said as the Bow Street Magistrates Court issued him a warrant for the 39-year-old peer.

Ranson said Lady Lucan described Thursday's attack to him and he wanted to interview Lord Lucan "as soon as possible."

The 35-year-old countess was under armed police guard in London's St. George's Hospital where she was admitted with head injuries after the beating at her home in the exclusive Belgrave section of London.

Sandra Rivett, the 29-year-old nanny to the couple's three children, was found dead in a sack. She had been beaten to death and the body trussed up with a rope.

MSU News Media Appreciation Day Scheduled This Saturday

About 80 representatives of the news media from West Kentucky and three neighboring states will be on the campus of Murray State University for the fifth annual News Media Appreciation Day Saturday, Nov. 16.

People from 18 newspapers, 11 radio stations and two television stations have indicated they will be on hand for the day of activity planned by the Office of Information and Public Services at the university.

Besides Kentucky, guests for the day will represent news media in Tennessee, Illinois and Missouri.

M. C. Garrett, director of information and public services, said the annual affair "is a gesture of appreciation for the splendid cooperation the news media gives to Murray State."

Activities planned include a welcome to the campus by Dr. Constantine W. Curris, university president, introduction of visitors, a buffet lunch, and attendance at the football game between Murray State and Eastern Illinois University.

Fred Overton, head basketball coach, will be the featured speaker for a short luncheon program.

he thought it was possible that Haldeman knew of some CIA operation of which he was unaware.

The jury then heard the first of the three tape segments on which Nixon is heard giving his approval to use the CIA to persuade Gray that the FBI was about to expose sensitive CIA operations.

A second tape of another Haldeman-Nixon meeting revealed that the former president was assessing the political impact of his actions when he agreed to have Haldeman and defendant John D. Ehrlichman meet with Walters and former CIA Director Richard Helms just a few minutes later.

During the third tape segment, Haldeman reports back to Nixon after meeting with the CIA officials. "Well, it's not a problem," says the former chief of staff.

In his testimony, Gray, now a private attorney in Stonington, Conn., said at least two crucial FBI interviews were postponed for two weeks because of the interjection of the CIA into the Watergate case.

But in early July, Gray said he insisted that any CIA objections about the FBI Watergate investigation be put in writing. Meanwhile, Walters testified, more thorough checks showed no connection between any CIA operations and the seven Watergate burglars.

Gray quoted Walters as saying he would personally notify Nixon of his resignation if he were forced to continue to declare a CIA interest in the case.

"At some point, I said the President should be protected from his would-be protectors," Walters said of his meeting with Gray.

Knox County Bus Drivers On Strike

BARBOURVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Knox County schools were closed today by a strike of bus drivers seeking higher pay.

The drivers want their monthly pay of $249 plus other benefits increased to $300. Supt. James Hampton said this would cost an additional $75,000 for the rest of the year.

Hampton asked drivers to return for 10 days while a fact-finding committee reviewed the situation. He also asked for a meeting today with driver representatives.

The superintendent said 20 of the 58 drivers were on the job Monday when schools were in session.

For all practical purposes, most UMW miners shut down operations Saturday, although loading and stockpiling continued at some facilities under contract rules for Sundays and holidays. Only a few mines were reported working Monday — Veterans Day.

One of the first industries to feel the crunch will be the railroads serving the mines. Some railroads were set to make their first layoffs today.

The Norfolk and Western Railway which runs through southern West Virginia posted notices Friday with a table of layoffs in the event of a strike.

A spokesman for the Illinois Central Gulf Railroad said, "We figure at this time that if there is a strike, we will lose about 1,000 carloads a day."

However, he said the railroad did not anticipate any substantial layoffs immediately. He said the railroad would fill sand and gravel orders which were behind schedule because of coal stockpiling.

Steel and other industries which depend heavily on coal have also been stockpiling, but many report that supplies are as low as two weeks.

Interior Department officials say a strike of two weeks would cut steel production by 25 per cent. If the walkout continued into December, it would mean a cutback of 70 per cent.

A drop in steel production would quickly be felt in the automobile, appliance and construction industries. Electric power companies have reserves of several weeks, but a long strike could have serious consequences for them.

In Ohio, Lima Mayor Harry Mover said the city will begin stockpiling debris — tree limbs or wood from demolished buildings — to hold in case the 1,577 residents in Allen County who rely on coal for heat run out.

Three local coal suppliers say they have a 60-day supply left.

Sugar Boycott Underway

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Organizers of last year's nationwide meat boycott have announced plans for a partial boycott of sugar in an effort to drive down prices.

Arline Mathews of American Consumers Together urged consumers not to buy sugar products on Tuesdays and Thursdays for the next several months. She also asked consumers not to buy sacks of sugar during the first seven days of December and January, although sugar products could be purchased during those periods.

"Our hope is consumers everywhere will cooperate in a venture that will profit them price-wise and health-wise," she said at a news conference Monday.

The price for five pounds of sugar has risen in the last year from 79 cents to $2.20 or more last week. Some retail officials say they expect the price to climb over $3 a bag in the near future.

"We have heard that the price of sugar may double again before it levels off," she said. "What we want to do is let speculators know — those investing in the futures market — that they are mistaken in investing in sugar. Sugar is not gold."
