Rockefeller Becomes 41st Vice-President

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nelson A. Rockefeller began his first day as vice president by presiding over the Senate and then said he plans to be "as quiet and as helpful" as possible in working with President Ford.

Talking to reporters as he left the Capitol to return to New York with his wife, Rockefeller was asked about suggestions he might pose a problem for Ford.

"You can be assured right now," he said, "I'm not going to pose a problem for anybody."

"I want to be as quiet and as helpful and only do that which is appropriate and useful to the President and to the people of this country," he added.

Although aides had said earlier in the week Rockefeller would meet with Ford today to discuss his vice presidential assignments, they said today the meeting would take place Saturday afternoon at the White House.

As for the four-month delay in his confirmation, which ended Thursday night with a House vote and his swearing in, Rockefeller said "I was very pleased."

He said the 287-128 House margin was "better than any vote I got" in winning four terms as governor of New York.

Rockefeller, one of America's most experienced public servants and wealthiest men, used his inaugural address Thursday night to praise the congressional review that scrutinized his career and delayed his confirmation for four months.

Just hours before being sworn in by Chief Justice Warren E. Burger in a televised ceremony in the Senate, Rockefeller was confirmed by the House, 287-128.

President Ford, members of Congress and the Cabinet, Rockefeller's family and a host of New York officials were on hand to witness the inaugural.

Senate President Pro Tempore James D. Eastland, D-Miss., convened the ceremonies, and a committee of senators conducted first Ford and then Rockefeller into the Senate chamber. It was the first time television cameras were allowed in the Senate.

After taking the oath, Rockefeller read from his own handwritten notes scrawled on a yellow legal pad and told the nation: "There is nothing wrong with America that Americans cannot right."

The new vice president said: "I pledge myself to the fullest limit of my capacity to work with you, Mr. President, and the Congress in the great task of building the strength of America to meet the grave new problems which we confront as a nation and as people."

He later told reporters that he was delighted with the margin of his approval by the House rather than disappointed that 128 members voted against his confirmation.

"There are some Democrats who find it very hard to vote for a Republican," he said, reaching with a smile for the glass of New York state champagne handed him over the heads of the crowd by Nancy Kissinger, wife of the secretary of state.

Most of the questions raised about his fitness concerned the immense Rockefeller family fortune, later reported to be slightly more than $1 billion, and the ways Rockefeller had used it.

For weeks he answered questions about more than $2 million in gifts and loans he has made to associates, most of them employed under him as officials in the New York state government.

Rockefeller said the payments were made to help friends in personal need.

TVA Meeting Held Today At MES Office

Officials of the Tennessee Valley Authority held a public information on its quarterly financial review this morning at the Murray Electric System.

A review of the recently-announced rate increase, as well as other aspects of the TVA operation were presented, and a question and answer period followed.

The rate increase was explained in two parts, with a general increase of one dollar per thousand kilowatt-hours on the TVA wholesale power rates, and second, supplementing the monthly fuel cost adjustment by including the cost of TVA purchases of electric power from neighboring systems.

Several Murray industries, as well as Murray State University and local businesses and organizations were represented at the meeting.

Six Sugar Refiners Indicted On Price Conspiracy Charges

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Six major sugar refiners have been indicted by a federal grand jury on charges of conspiring to raise and fix the price of sugar for at least three years prior to 1973 in 19 Western and Midwestern states.

The Justice Department also filed two companion civil suits on Thursday seeking to prohibit the companies from exchanging price information.

The action culminates a year-long Justice Department investigation of pricing practices in the $2.5 billion U.S. sugar market.

The probe gained urgency with recent sharp increases in retail sugar prices, but Thursday's indictments and companion lawsuits do not involve the recent rise, a government spokesman said.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Thomas E. Kauper, head of the Justice Department's antitrust division, said, however, that recent pricing practices in the industry are under investigation.

Three of the six companies were indicted for conspiring to fix sugar prices in California, Arizona, and in Las Vegas and Reno, Nev. Five of the six firms were charged with a separate price-fixing conspiracy in other Western and Midwestern states.

In a third civil suit, two companies — including one indicted firm and a seventh sugar company — were accused of conspiring to restrain competition in five Western states. The government said they had agreed not to market sugar under grocery chain house brands which usually are sold at cheaper prices.

The six companies named as defendants in the indictments returned in U.S. District Court here were Great Western Sugar Co., Denver; American Crystal Sugar Co., formerly of Denver; Holly Sugar Corp., Colorado Springs, Colo.; California and Hawaiian Sugar Co., San Francisco; Amalgamated Sugar Co., Ogdin, Utah; and Consolidated Foods Corp. of Chicago.

American Crystal was dissolved in 1973 and was succeeded by a cooperative association based in Fargo, N.D., which goes by the same name.

J.C. Tanner, president of American Crystal, said that the cooperative and its predecessor "have conducted their affairs in full compliance with the antitrust laws." He refused further comment until officials of American Crystal studied the indictment.

Allan M. Lipman Jr., secretary and legal counsel for Amalgamated Sugar Co., said, "We don't think we have anything to hide. We don't think we've committed any antitrust violations in the market area in which we are charged."

Cost Of Living Reported Up Another .9 Per Cent Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government reported today that the cost of living rose another nine-tenths of one per cent in November, while workers' real earnings declined to their lowest level since 1967.

The Labor Department said a decline of 1.8 per cent in workers' real earnings during the month meant the nation's workers were earning 5.6 per cent less than a year ago.

The increase of nine-tenths of one per cent in consumer prices matched the October increase and pushed the cost of living 12.1 per cent higher in November than it was a year earlier. This was the biggest 12-month increase since a 12.6 per cent increase in the 12 months ending in September of 1947.

For the first 11 months of 1974, the cost of living was reported up 11.4 per cent. The Consumer Price Index stood at 154.3 of the 1967 average of 100, meaning that it cost $154.30 to buy a statistical supply of goods that sold in 1967 for $100.

Although the Ford administration has been predicting an easing of the nation's high inflation rate by spring, there was little evidence of decline in the November figures on consumer prices.

The Labor Department said prices increased during the month for a wide variety of consumer goods and services, including most foods, clothing, natural gas, mortgage interest rates and even taxicab fares and parking fees.

But it noted that the price of gasoline declined for the fourth consecutive month, with regular gasoline averaging 52.8 cents per gallon and premium gasoline averaging 56.7 cents in November.

Food prices were reported up 1.4 per cent during the month, marking the fourth consecutive month of rapid increase. Sharply higher prices for sugar and sugar products were the major cause of the food price jump, the department said.

Prices also increased for fresh vegetables, pork and poultry, but declined somewhat for beef, fresh fruits and eggs.

The cost of food in November was listed as 11.9 per cent above a year earlier.

Nonfood commodities increased in over-all price by eight-tenths of one per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis in November. This was higher than the October increase of six-tenths of one per cent, but still the second smallest increase during 1974.

While real weekly earnings of workers declined 1.8 per cent during November, real spendable earnings — real wages minus taxes — declined 1.7 per cent. The drop in spendable earnings was the biggest monthly decline since the Labor Department began keeping such figures in 1964.

Dennis Sturm, meteorologist at the Louisville bureau of the National Weather Service, said, "Those lows cover three days and show for Tuesday to be right around freezing, around 33 or that neighborhood. For Tuesday with lows 32, 33 or 34 it could go either way—it could be rain showers or snow showers."

Sturm continued, "Usually this time of year we have more steady forms of precipitation

Advance Forecast Does Not Offer Much Hope For A White Christmas

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — The advance forecast from the National Weather Service doesn't offer much hope for a white Christmas in Kentucky but forecasters admit there's at least a chance of some snow Christmas eve.

The National Weather Service defines a white Christmas as "a day with one inch or more of snow on the ground."

The official extended forecast Sunday through Christmas eve is for partly cloudy skies with a chance of showers on Sunday and again on Christmas eve (Tuesday). Low temperatures are predicted to be from the mid 20s to the low 30s with highs in the 40s.

Sturm said even if the form of precipitation Christmas eve is mostly snow he could not predict whether there would be an accumulation Tuesday adding, "that's still pretty far off to say."

The Friday extended forecast will run through Christmas day and Sturm said it will offer a better indication of what form of precipitation might be expected.

than the off and on type.

It could be maybe all snow, maybe all rain or a mixture like we had last night (Wednesday).

Sturm said even if the form of precipitation Christmas eve is mostly snow he could not predict whether there would be an accumulation Tuesday adding, "that's still pretty far off to say."

The Friday extended forecast will run through Christmas day and Sturm said it will offer a better indication of what form of precipitation might be expected.

Weather Forecast

Cloudy and cold with a chance of rain possibly mixed with snow tonight, low in the low 30s. Cloudy and cold Saturday, high in the upper 30s to low 40s. Sunday partly cloudy and cool.

She's planning finery for future funeral

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My mother is in very poor health and I would appreciate it if you would advise me as to the proper attire for funeral services.

Look terrible in black, but I could buy either a dark gray or navy blue suit.

Also, what is acceptable for my son, who is 17? He has a new green plaid blazer which he could wear with a white shirt and black tie. Or do you think a solid color jacket would be more appropriate?

My two daughters are 12 and 14. Must they wear something dark, too? Also, should I carry gloves? If so, do you think white would be too conspicuous? Also, may I wear a small pin or pearls? Or is jewelry out of place at a funeral? Thank you.

NAMELESS IN N.M.

DEAR NAMELESS: You and your children should wear whatever you would normally wear to church. Don't buy anything especially for your mother's funeral. She may live.

DEAR ABBY: Your recent exchange on how to say no to sex reminds me of an old story that might bear repeating: "What's the difference between a lady and a diplomat? When a diplomat says 'yes' he means maybe. When a diplomat says 'maybe' he means no. When a diplomat says 'no' he's no diplomat. When a lady says 'no' she means maybe. When a lady says 'maybe' she means yes. When a lady says 'yes' she's no lady."

WALTER E. BLAKELY: BELOIT, WISC.

DEAR WALTER: Thanks for a dandy day-brightener. "Old" is right. But it's still good.

DEAR ABBY: A friend and I lunch together about once a week and we've been taking turns picking up the check. I notice that when it's my turn to treat, this friend orders three martinis and a full course meal. But when it's HER turn to treat, she orders only one martini, and then says she's not very hungry and all she wants is a sandwich, so naturally I'm not about to order a more expensive lunch than she orders.

It's beginning to irk me. She's not hurting at the bank if you know what I mean. How should I handle it? FED UP

DEAR FED: Go Dutch.

DEAR ABBY: I just had to write about the letter from "Missing My Grandchildren."

After my husband and I were divorced, I used to take my children over to my in-law's house a couple of times a month. They seemed happy to see me and the kids, but sometimes I felt like I was imposing. After about six months, I decided not to drop in, but to wait for an invitation.

I'm still waiting, and it's been two years. We live in the same part of town and I have a phone. I think if they really wanted to see their grandchildren, they would call once in a while and ask about them, or ask me to bring them over, or maybe come to visit us.

I guess it's because I'm keeping the grandchildren away from them that they're not sending any birthday or Christmas cards.

Tell that granny who's missing her grandchildren if she wants to see them, she should pick up the phone and invite her former daughter-in-law and the kids over. If granny gets snubbed in the attempt, at least she can say she tried.

FIRST CORINTHIANS 13:1-2

- 1 "Though I speak with the tongues of men and of angels, and have not charity, I am become as sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal."
- 2 "And though I have the gift of prophecy, and understand all mysteries, and all knowledge; and though I have all faith, so that I could remove mountains, and have not charity, I am nothing."

FIRST CORINTHIANS 13:4 and 7

- 4 "Charity suffereth long, and is kind...."
- 7 "Beareth all things, believeth all things, hopeth all things, endureth all things."

A little over 1900 years ago, the Apostle Paul wrote these words to the people in the church which he founded in the city of Corinth. Without his leadership, these early followers had wavered in their ability to hold the eternal flame of belief, hope and love that remain as the Lord's gift to mortal man and the strong heart of the Christian faith. Their problem was, in some ways, little different from that which many people face today. Corinth in the year 50 A.D. was a city of 500,000, a provincial capital of the Roman Empire, a strategic center of trade and commerce, a melting pot of races, colors, pagan religions and creeds. The people were proud of their worldly accomplishments, their culture and their power. They were involved in their businesses but indulgent in their pleasures, vices and dissolute way of living.

The Apostle Paul took the saving Gospel of Christ into this hostile setting; and, with the power of faith and Christian love, he brought the light of the Lord's teachings into the lives of those whose minds and hearts were open. For all who seek, the same redemptive light burns today. It glows with living warmth as the ennobling spirit of this holy season turns the thoughts of men and women the world over to the clear and crystalline night of the first Christmas and the birth of the Son of God. In his letter to his confused, and sometimes quarreling flock, the Apostle Paul sought to give understanding of the central core of Christ's teaching—that to follow in His footsteps one need only have within him the power of charity or Christian love.

Without this, no amount of prayer, or sacrifice, or religious ritual counts for any more than "sounding brass, or a tinkling cymbal." Christian love bears all things, believes all things, hopes all things and endures all things. It can live in man, and it is the spiritual body of the Lord. Now, as in the beginning, it is the world's best and only hope. This Christmas may it enter you and be with you for all time.

What Does Advent Say?

By John Churchwell
The United Methodist Church
Hardin, Ky.

Advent season says to us "The Lord has come!" God's Son is here offering hope and salvation to all mankind! Through the mystery of the Incarnation, God invades the human scene of sin, sorrow, and death offering hope and reconciliation to God through our Lord Jesus Christ in the person of the Holy Spirit. But Advent is more than God coming to man.

As I think about this joyful season, it occurs to me that Advent is a message of the birth, death, burial and resurrection of an unpopular Jew named Jesus. How could anyone be expected to believe such a story? A Jewish carpenter by the name of Jesus, who had been crucified at Jerusalem for insurrection, and by His death had brought forgiveness for the sins of the whole world.

Imagine that! The world's greatest single figure born in a stable where cattle feed, now dead on a cruel cross for insurrection. How could this unpopular sect expect anyone to believe their story. He was seen by only a few of His followers after His resurrection. He was now alive and gone to Heaven and should be worshipped as their God. Yet they preached this gospel story with great boldness and conviction and yet they were not ashamed.

This truth becomes particularly contemporary at Christmas-time. When we think about the spread of Christianity. We must also think about the message that was preached, then we cannot help but recognize it as the greatest miracle of all time. The miracle of growth proves its supernatural origin. It was not a religion, but the power of God.

It is true that "God so loved the world, (John 3:16) that He gave His only begotten Son"—yes this is part of the Christmas story and the essence of the Christian gospel, but not all of it. The rest of the story says: "...That whoever believeth in him should not perish, but have everlasting life."

Springing Lawmakers

There's a move in Congress to put the lawmakers on a three-week legislative schedule, which would give them the fourth week of every month to tend to business at home.

The plan is hailed by its proponents as a constructive alternative to the "Tuesday-Thursday club," which is a sly acknowledgment ment of frequent Monday and Friday absences of congressional members from distant districts.

But the goal of a more effective Congress, it seems, would be achieved more certainly by exploring methods of keeping our representatives on the job instead of seeking to legitimize their escapes from Washington.

People Want Action

The American people, to paraphrase words attributed to Voltaire, may agree with the thrust of criticism between the White House and Congress, but seriously question the right of each to express it.

The efforts by the two branches of government to duck responsibility for getting the nation out of its economic mess are unconvincing to the suffering public. Consumers, squeezed by the multiple pressures of inflation, energy shortages and a limping economy, are unsympathetic with the bickering over the travel habits of the President and the lawmakers.

This country, in brief, demands action from its leaders, not the petty sniping that intensifies divisions in a period that calls for a united assault on problems that have reached crisis proportions.

Dr. Chiles

INTERPRETING CHRIST'S COMING

From eternity God had it in His heart and mind to send Jesus Christ into the world. Preparation for the incarnation of Christ came through the Jewish religion, Grecian culture, and Roman conquest. It is utterly impossible for us to estimate properly what Christ's coming into the world has meant to mankind.

Since the Jews did not take account of female descent, Matthew traced the family into which Jesus Christ was born through the foster father back through David to Abraham.

Perplexity — Matthew 1:17-19

Joseph and Mary were betrothed, but not married. Among the Jews in that day an engagement was not a light thing that might be broken off casually upon some slight pretext. The tie of betrothal was as sacred as that of marriage, and infidelities before marriage were considered as sinful as those following marriage, and death by stoning was the punishment for such sins. It was customary for a couple to be engaged for twelve months before marriage. For Joseph and Mary, this period, during which they were looking forward to their coming nuptials, was a time gilded by many bright hopes of future happiness.

It was a terrible shock to Joseph when he was informed that Mary was to become a mother. His trial was most painful because he did not know what the written gospel later plainly asserted, namely, that the Holy Ghost was responsible for her condition. Joseph did not know the details of Mary's conduct, but he naturally thought that she had been unfaithful to him. His suspicions were natural and excusable, but how cruelly they must have wounded the tender heart of Mary. Regardless of what Joseph thought, Mary was conscious of her innocence and the angel had announced to her the cause of her conception. Joseph did not know what to do. Being a just, merciful, and religious man, he wanted to do what was right. The law permitted him to make a public example of her and have her stoned, but his generous love for Mary constrained him to do otherwise. Although what he had been told made a great demand on Joseph's faith, our hearts are really touched by his tenderness and consideration. We admire him for his determination to do right, and to do it in a kind manner. His love for Mary and his kindness to her constrained him to be forgiving. What a rebuke to the unforgiving!

Proclamation — Matthew 1:20-21

While Joseph thought seriously and prayerfully about what he should do, an angel appeared unto him in a dream and delivered a message from the Lord as to what he should do. This message removed his doubts, calmed his fears, and caused him to rejoice again in the love of his betrothed. When the angel proclaimed the fact "that which is conceived in her is of the Holy Ghost," Joseph was convinced and his heart was filled with gratitude for the revelation. This message assured him that Mary had not transgressed; therefore, his reputation could not be impaired by their marriage.

Concerning the yet unborn Child, Joseph was informed as to His birth, Name, and Mission. He was coming to root out and to destroy the diseases of the souls of men, and to give them perfect spiritual health. God's Son was coming for the purpose of bringing eternal life to all who would receive Him as a personal Saviour. The emphasis here is on salvation from sin. This salvation, which He has provided, is absolutely complete.

Prophecy — Matthew 1:22-23

Isaiah's prophecy, "Behold, a virgin shall conceive, and bear a son, and shall call his name Immanuel," had to be fulfilled in God's own time and manner. In the fullness of time, which was also in the hour of man's greatest need, God sent forth His Son. Isaiah 7:14 was fulfilled when Mary gave birth to Jesus the Messiah.

Picture — Galatians 3:23-26

Inasmuch as the law demands perfect obedience, and no mere human being has ever been completely obedient to it, all have been under the curse as a result of disobedience. Those seeking justification before God through their personal efforts or works will live and die without coming into possession of it. Conviction of sin can come through the law, but keeping the law can never bring justification or salvation to anybody. Faith in Christ alone can deliver from the curse of the law.

The purpose of the law was to convince men of their need of Christ and to direct them to Him. As the slave led the boy who was in his custody to the teacher, the law guided or directed the Jews to Christ in order that they might learn about salvation through faith in Him. The responsibility of the law was discharged when men were brought to Christ. Right relationship with God comes through personal faith in Christ. Through faith in Christ people come into possession of salvation.

The law was given in order to convince men of their exceeding sinfulness, and also of their great need of faith in Christ. Who died on the cross as their substitute. Through faith in Christ people become the children of God. Those who are in Christ and belong to Him are characterized by oneness with Him. Whether they are rich or poor, educated or uneducated, privileged or underprivileged, God treats them with equal love and compassion. As His children they are heirs of God's resources and promises. What a glorious privilege is theirs in being the children and heirs of God! How thankful we should be that no longer are we under the law, but that now we are under grace! Inasmuch as we are the possessors of a glorious freedom by being "in Christ" through God's grace and our personal faith in Christ, let us live up to the high privilege which is ours!

Risk Factors In Sudden Infant Deaths

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

Identifying the risk factors associated with sudden infant deaths may prove helpful toward prevention of such cases. Death strikes these infants without warning and without apparent cause.

A significant study has been made in England by Dr. R. G. Carpenter of the London School of Hygiene and Tropical Medicine and J. L. Emery of the Children's Hospital in Sheffield. They studied more than 6,000 births and evaluated 40 possible risk factors. The results were reported recently in the Medical World News.

Here are some of their findings.

The younger the mother, the greater the risk of sudden infant death and the risk decreases as the mother's age increases. The risk is less if the mother's blood group is A, if she plans to breast feed her baby, and if her second stage of labor is prolonged (second stage is after the uterus is completely dilated until the delivery of the infant).

On the other hand, the risk of sudden infant death increases if the mother's blood group is other than A, if the baby is born early (before the 37th week), or if weight is below 2,500 gm (five pounds). In addition, the risk is higher if the mother has a urinary tract infection or if the uterus has an excess of amniotic fluid about the baby before birth.

Recognition of such risk factors and further study of how they exert an influence may lead to improvements in care of mothers and the lessening of sudden infant deaths.

Q. Mrs. T. Z. asks for information about subarachnoid hemorrhage.

A. The central nervous system is surrounded by three covering layers, or meninges. The middle layer is the arachnoid, beneath which is cerebrospinal fluid. Some persons have a developmental error in one of the arteries under the brain. Such a defect results in a weakened place in the arterial wall. In an occasional person, a weakened artery may rupture, allowing the blood to spill into the subarachnoid space. This type of stroke is characterized by severe headache and stiffness of the neck but not by paralysis, which usually occurs when a stroke takes place inside the brain. Subarachnoid hemorrhages occur spontaneously, and the age of the average victim is 33 years. They are serious, occasionally fatal. Many require surgery to clamp off the bleeding artery and to prevent recurrence.

Q. Mrs. E. T. wants to know if a spastic colon usually causes abdominal pain.

A. Yes. The pain often shifts its location. It occurs in episodes, usually during the day, rather than being constant. Seldom is the pain troublesome enough at night to awaken one from sleep. The episodes are generally worse during periods of stress, fatigue, and anxiety. Fever is almost always absent. A feeling of fullness from gas may be noted, with more gas on the right side of the abdomen than on the left. You should see a physician to be sure of the diagnosis if you have not done so already.

Funny Funny World

HUMAN BEHAVIOR

The device of associating a person's name with something familiar, in order to remember it, can sometimes backfire. A lady in Bel Air, Calif. had been introduced to a Hazel Douglas at a cocktail party. Sometime later they ran into each other at Magnin's in Beverly Hills and while the lady recognized her, she couldn't recall the name. "Forgive me," she said, "I can't think of your name but I distinctly remember you as some kind of nut."

A Japanese tourist had a swift karate-style reaction to the car driver who gave him a blast on his horn. The Oriental visitor gave a cry and then leaped on to the bonnet and started stamping furiously. It made him feel better as he jumped off the car in Coney Street, Yorks, and walked away. (London Sun)

When asked at Tottenham Court on Tuesday how he had managed to push a double-decker bus out of Wood Green bus garage, 21-year-old Robert Blower, of St. Loys Road, Tottenham, replied: "Well, I keep pretty fit." (Hornsey Journal, England)

Isn't It The Truth

by Carl Riblet Jr.

Gerald Ford appears at this moment to be a president who knows when to straddle the fence but not when to get off. The trick he must yet learn is to slide to earth at just the right moment; which is to say, before the fence rail begins to hurt in either or both of two highly sensitive areas — public opinion and the seat of the pants.

AN INVESTMENT IN YOUR FUTURE

...ATTEND CHURCH

Thus sing choirs all over the world. Loudly they proclaim the birth of the Christ. Over and over they declare the familiar Stable Story. We can almost see the proud, yet, worried look on Joseph's face... the tired but peaceful look of Mary. And then there lay the child, innocently sleeping. Few realized that this infant would become the man on the cross. They never even thought that His tiny shoulders would ever have to bear the sin of this wicked world. But it happened, and just for you and me. God loved all of us so much that He willingly gave His Son to live, die, and then live again so that we might be saved from our sins. We cannot think of the Child Jesus without thinking of the Man He became. And love is the cause of it all.

During this Christmas season, resolve in your heart to be more loving. God is love and we too, should be more loving. Merry Christmas, to all of you from All of Us.

The Adult Basketball League sponsored by the Murray Park and Recreation Department began action Monday night. Opening the season in the Northern Division, the Burger Queen five had little trouble as they coasted to a win over Storey's.

Leading 32-14 at intermission, Burger Queen continued to dominate the action, the rest of the game.

Scoring honors went to Rick Fisher of Burger Queen as he poured in 28 points followed by Ballard and Baker each with 21. Larry Kelley provided the scoring for Storey's with 13.

Both teams played the second half on an even basis as Pagliais was not able to increase their lead and walked off with an 86-76 victory.

During the last half, Lax began to find the range but the Hasbeens held on for a 53-36 win.

Not Sellout

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams have reported that 23,022 of the 92,584 tickets for Sunday's playoff game against Washington were unsold at the television blackout deadline, 72 hours before the kickoff.

The deadline was 1 p.m., Thursday and a Rams spokesman said the nationally televised game definitely will be blacked out locally.

All seats in Memorial Coliseum were being sold on a reserved basis for the first-round National Football League playoff game.

Tigers And Greyhounds Win In Mayfield Play

Hopkinsville and Reidland claimed opening round wins Thursday night at the Mayfield Christmas Tournament.

In the opening contest, Reidland scored a tough 60-56 contest over Lowes while in the nightcap, Hopkinsville held off a late charge Hickman County to take a 54-51 triumph.

Semifinal action tonight will find Calloway County meeting host Mayfield at 7 p.m. while in the 8:45 p.m. contest, Reidland will clash with Hopkinsville.

The winners will play at 7:30 p.m. Saturday for the championship, won last year by Murray High.

Lowes led by three points at the end of the first period but Reidland ran for 23 points in the second quarter and built up a 31-21 cushion at intermission.

But in the third period, the Blue Devils began chipping away at the Reidland lead and by the time the stanza had ended, the Greyhound lead stood at just 42-20.

The game was nip and tuck for the rest of the way with the Greyhounds finally finishing with a four-point breathing margin.

Tommy Knight paced the scoring for Lowes with 22 points while Bruce Wyatt chipped in with 11.

For Reidland, now 3-1 on the season, Bruce Austin, a reserve, paced the attack with 18 while Benjie Synboten and Larry Snow each scored 11.

Hopkinsville took control of the pace of the game and ran to a 20-8 first period lead against Hickman County in the second contest of the evening.

By intermission, the Tigers led 37-23.

But in the second half, Coach Dale Ray of the Falcons slowed the ball down. In fact, in the third period, only 14 points were scored, eight by the Falcons and six by Hopkinsville.

Hickman County began to whittle away at the lead and at one point in the final minute, pulled to within one at 52-51 before Hopkinsville iced the game.

Rory Gilmer led the Tigers

Russian Roulette To Start In NFL Playoffs

By KEN RAPPOPORT

AP Sports Writer

The National Football League's version of Russian Roulette begins this weekend with the Miami Dolphins shooting for a third straight world championship and the Oakland Raiders hoping to gun them down.

The Dolphins, champions of the American Conference's Eastern Division, will play the West-winning Raiders Saturday in one of four NFL playoff games that will eventually determine the king of pro football.

These games are for winners only.

The winner of the Miami-Oakland game will play for the AFC championship against the survivor of Sunday's match between the Buffalo Bills and Pittsburgh Steelers. The Steelers made the playoffs by winning the AFC's Central Division title while the Bills qualified as the wild-card team with a 9-5 record behind Miami's lustrous 11-3.

The champion of the National Conference and eventual Super Bowl opponent of the AFC winner will be determined from among the St. Louis Cardinals, Minnesota Vikings, Washington Redskins and Los Angeles Rams.

The Cardinals, champions of the NFC East, will play the Vikings, the Central Division title-winners on Saturday. The Rams, winners of the West, face Washington, the NFC's wild-card team, on Sunday.

Super Bowl IX will be held at Tulane Stadium in New Orleans on January 12.

The contest between Miami and Oakland is a rematch of last year's AFC championship game, won by the Dolphins en route to their second straight Super Bowl title. The Dolphins are looking for an instant replay of Larry Csonka's game last time, when he bruised the Raiders with three touchdowns and 117 yards as Miami won 27-10.

Oakland's balanced attack features a power runner of their own in Marv Hubbard, who's compiled 865 yards on the ground this season while leading the Raiders to a 12-2 record this year, best in the NFL.

The Steelers will be making a third straight playoff appearance while the Bills are making their first since 1966, when they lost to Kansas City in the American Football League title game.

O.J. Simpson, Buffalo's rushing leader, will carry the ball most of the time and the hopes of the Bills along with it.

"It's been pretty tough at times this year, but things are starting to look up now and we like to think that we can go all the way," said Simpson, whose Bills earned a wild-card berth despite losing four of their last six games.

After training in Tulsa, Okla., for three days, the Vikings flew home Thursday with Coach Bud Grant declaring: "We are ready." The Vikings will have to be to face Cardinal quarterback Jim Ray Hart, who's having his best year.

Washington Coach George Allen hasn't decided yet on his quarterback. It could be either Billy Kilmer or Sonny Jurgensen against the Rams, considered one of the NFL's weaker teams against the pass.

Timeout With Brandon

By MIKE BRANDON

Can The Lakers Do It Again?

Can they do it again? Who knows but if they play like they are capable, they might not lose another game the rest of the season.

I am, of course, talking about the Calloway County Lakers who shocked the state Wednesday by slamming seventh-rated Carlisle County 69-56.

It was one of those games where the Lakers did just about everything right. But most impressive was the offense, in relation to 6-9 center James Wells.

Against the Comets, Coach David King made the utmost use of Wells, and though the big man finished with only 12 points, it was one of the most impressive games I've ever seen him play.

Many times in the past years, Wells has waited inside for the lob pass, which would either get batted down or wouldn't come at all. And if he wasn't hitting the bucket when the pass did get inside, then the Laker offense was shut off.

But Wednesday night, something different happened.

Wells would take the ball about eight feet away from the bucket. He was being played from both front and back, thus leaving someone open. And Wells would simply turn around and whirl the ball under to David Thorne who hit on four or five plays like that.

And once, Wells turned and hit Futrell with a pass as he was breaking full-steam ahead toward the bucket.

What Calloway County did was simple. They played at their own pace and set the tempo and made Carlisle County play the Laker game.

I don't write columns to please everyone. But what I said about the Comets winning by as much as 40 points if the Lakers didn't control the tempo was true.

And the same holds for tonight. The Lakers must play their game if they have a chance against Mayfield, a team that beat Calloway last week by 34 points.

The Lakers now know they can beat anyone if they do what they are supposed to do. That's exactly what Coach David King has said time after time to me when I interviewed him after losses.

So again, I'll say that if the Lakers don't control the tempo of the game tonight, you'll see a repeat of last Friday. But if they play like they are supposed to, then you might see another upset.

Girls Basketball

It's getting better.

What?

Girls basketball, that's what.

It started out rather poorly, but like someone told me, it's like taking a kid whose never worked any math before and giving him seventh grade math to do.

As the girls become more interested in the game and began to play it all weekend like most of the guys do, you will see a vast improvement. Already, even in the past few weeks, I've noticed some.

For instance, the first girls game I watched took about two hours to finish. It seemed that no more than 10 seconds at a time would run off the clock before a whistle of some sort sounded, either for a foul or a walking violation.

But last Monday, in a game at South Marshall, critics of girls basketball should have been on hand.

North Calloway, perhaps one of the best girls teams around, lost in an overtime thriller to South. Because it is a junior high, including grades seven through nine, the Rebel varsity had several freshmen girls playing.

And that in itself makes the North Calloway team look even better.

The North team is 3-2 at present, losing of course to South Marshall and to East Calloway. But in the game against East Calloway, Sheila Lawrence did not play.

North and East will play again at North on January 27. On the same night, Murray State plays at Western. So for fans who don't make the trip to Bowling Green, I suggest you go out to North and watch two of the top girls team battle.

I will say right now that when these kids are juniors and seniors in high school, Calloway basketball will probably dominate girls basketball in the Region.

Win Meals At Rudy's

We had two winners this week in the contest for the free meal at Rudy's because the contest did not run last week.

This week's contest caught everyone off guard but two persons, David Kaelin and Raymond Sims.

The question: On a minimum of 20 free throws scored, what college team holds the record for the most consecutive free throws?

Everyone else thought UCLA or North Carolina State and some said Kentucky. Would you believe Murray State?

How about that? The Racers hit 24 consecutive free throws in a game against Austin Peay in 1966.

So the Racers hold a national record and very few people are aware of it.

Kaelin is a chemistry major from Bowling Green and resides at 912 College Courts while Sims is a sophomore at Murray High and starts as a guard on the Tiger basketball team.

Both will win up to $2.50 of their choice on the menu at Rudy's.

Gilmore Paces Colonels' Win Over Nuggetts, Bucks Triumph

By The Associated Press

Matt Guokas' 17-foot jumper with 4:40 left in the second quarter put the Bulls ahead for good 34-32. They led at the half 42-38 and with 4:18 remaining in the third quarter had the biggest lead of the night, 61-44.

Marvin Barnes' four points in the final 31 seconds helped the Spirits stage off a late Virginia rally. The Squires, who twice trailed by 21-points in the first half, pulled within 101-100 with 42 seconds left. However, Barnes drove for a basket and then clinched the victory with two free throws.

Bob Cousy Will Be Commissioner

NEW YORK (AP) — Bob Cousy, who gained fame on the basketball court, expects begin his duties Jan. 2 as commissioner of the American Soccer League.

Cousy was formerly named to the post for an estimated one-year salary of $50,000 at a press luncheon Thursday.

The onetime Holy Cross All-American who starred for the Boston Celtics and also coached in the National Basketball Association, said he has only seen six or seven soccer games but doesn't feel that will be a drawback in performing his duties.

He said he felt his job would be "public relations and to work to open the doors for a television contract and to attract franchises."

"It's the first opportunity that has come along that allows me to stay in sports and retain my home in New England," he said.

The league, founded in 1933, is headquartered at Providence, R.I. Cousy lives about 40 miles away in Worcester, Mass.

Boxing Match

BOSTON (AP) — Tony Petronelli of East Bridgewater, Mass., the U.S. junior welterweight champ, meets Johnny Copeland of Joplin, Mo., in the feature 12-round boxing bout tonight at Boston Garden.

Petronelli has only one loss in 30 outings. Copeland has won 12 of his last 13 by knockouts.

Statistics Don't Always Tell Story, Bruins Shell Rangers

By The Associated Press
The New York Rangers shot 66.7 per cent in the first period Thursday night to a mere 28.6 per cent for the Boston Bruins. In basketball, that might have been all she wrote. In hockey, statistics don't always tell the story.

The Bruins peppered Ridley and veteran Ed Giacomin with 41 shots — the Rangers managed only 16 — and waltzed to an 11-3 rout of the injury-plagued, rookie-laden New Yorkers with Phil Esposito getting three goals and four assists.

Flyers 5, Maple Leafs 1
Bill Barber and Ross Lonsberry each scored two goals as Philadelphia extended its unbeaten string to nine games — eight wins and a tie. Barber got his first goal and Lonsberry collected both of his in the first period after Toronto took a 1-0 lead on a score by Brian Glennie.

The Flyers' Bill Clement scored in the third period before Barber netted a short-handed goal.

Kings 4, Capitals 1
Tom Williams and Mike Murphy scored 38 seconds apart in the second period to break a 1-1 deadlock. The victory moved the Kings into a tie for first place with the Montreal Canadiens.

Penguins 4, Scouts 4

Third-period goals by rookies Mario Faubert and Pierre Larouche helped Pittsburgh salvage a tie with the expansion Scouts, Kansas City, which had lost its last six road games, held a 4-1 lead through most of the second period on two goals apiece by Simon Nolet and Robin Burns.

Georgia Coach Singing Blues For Tangerine Bowl Contest

By G. MICHAEL HARMON
Associated Press Writer
ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) —

Georgia Coach Vince Dooley is singing the blues about the Bulldogs' chances against undefeated Miami of Ohio in Saturday's Tangerine Bowl. And Redskins Coach Dick Crum says his outlook isn't exactly rosy.

Dooley's woes center on the loss of All-America tackle Craig Hertwig and two defensive starters ruled academically ineligible for the post-season clash.

Crum says he's worried because the Redskins haven't played a game since Nov. 16.

"Five weeks is half a season," he noted with a frown.

Hertwig, a 6-foot-8, 260-pound hole-maker in Georgia's powerful veer offense, and defensive tackle Dan Spivey and cornerback Steve Taylor were lost when they dropped some courses, putting their class load below the minimum number of hours required by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

"It was a serious blow," said Dooley. "Realistically, we would have had a hard time winning this game without the losses. This makes it even harder."

Crum countered Dooley's sad story by wringing his hands over the problems he said he's had in whipping the Redskins back into form after their lay-off.

"Until we got down here," he said, "we'd had only two indoor practices and one outdoors since our final regular-season start because of exams."

"That means we've got to get our sharpness back and that's my biggest concern. I still don't know if we can bring it all back."

Any impartial analyst, however, would be likely to agree with Dooley's assessment that the Bulldogs will be underdogs when they answer the 8 p.m. Kickoff gun for the nationally televised game in the expanded, 27,180-seat Tangerine Bowl.

Georgia finished the year with a 6-5 record, including back-to-back season-ending losses to Auburn and Georgia Tech.

The Redskins, meanwhile, collected their second consecutive Mid-America Conference title with a 9-0-1 record, extending their winning streak to 22 games over two years.

Both coaches agree that defense will tell the story.

"Over the long run, it's defense that's going to win football games for you," said Crum. "If you prepare to wage a scoring contest you're going to get into trouble."

Poor-mouthed Dooley: "It'll be the best defense against the worst defense."

To win, Dooley must get the best from his offense, the most productive in the Southeastern Conference with an average of nearly 30 points a game. But Georgia will be facing a defense that held opponents to less than eight points a game.

SANTA'S PROBLEM PUP

CHAPTER 9
By Bob Boyle

Peako started to beg.

Santa put Peako on the floor and said, "Come on, Peako, you can come with me this morning as I make my rounds. I don't believe you ever have been around the North Pole."

The elves wiped their mouths with the napkins, placed the napkins on their plates, and then marched out singing "Santa Claus is Coming to Town."

Mrs. Claus laughed and said to Santa, "They're certainly happy now that Peako will stay with us."

"I know," Santa said. "But when we give Peako away to some good boy or girl on Christmas Eve they'll be sad. I think Miss Kay Nihn is right. It's not good to get too attached to a dog that you will have to give away."

He turned to Peako and said, "Come on, pup, let's start our rounds."

Santa opened the huge heavy door and Peako ran out ahead of him. He jumped into a snowbank and worked his way up.

Santa laughed. "Peako, you have a big snowball on your head."

He reached down and gave the dog a loving pat.

Peako raced to a chocolate brown building.

Peako ran to the door and started to lick it.

"Peako, that isn't candy," Santa said. "It just looks like candy. Come on inside."

Santa opened the door and Peako followed him in.

Inside vats of rich, creamy chocolate were cooking.

Orange, cherry, lemon, apple and banana trees were growing along side the vats. Nearby were strawberry and raspberry plants.

"These elves are making candy," Santa said to Peako.

The dog ran toward one of the elves.

"What do you want, Peako," the elf Jandy said.

Peako started to beg. He sat up and licked his lips.

"I think you want a piece of my candy," the elf said as he picked up a strawberry cream cluster.

Peako gobbled it up.

He then ran to the cherry man and gobbled up another piece. And then to the banana mixer where he had a chocolate chip banana drop, and then to the pineapple pincher where he chewed on a chewy pineapple carmel.

"If Miss Kay Nihn knew we were giving Peako candy, she would hit the roof," Jandy said.

"Come on, Peako," Santa said. "We better leave the candy factory. It's too much temptation for you here."

"Let's visit the superscopes room now," Santa said.

They walked over to a huge building with a round dome.

Inside the elves kept a watch for good boys and girls. In a big book they wrote the names of the children who weren't behaving.

Peako looked into the superscope.

He saw a little girl playing with a worn out doll.

"Would you like to live with her?" Santa asked.

Peako turned up his nose.

Peako looked again as the elf switched the channel to "boys."

A rough little boy was pulling his sister's hair.

"That's Billy," Santa said. "He wants a puppy, but I believe he would be too rough. Look at the way he pulls his sister's pigtails."

Turning to an elf he said, "Did you write that down?"

The elf said, "I sure did. Santa. I hope that little Billy begins to behave or his Christmas list will be quite small."

"We've seen enough here," Santa said to Peako. "Let's go over to the Christmas ball factory and see Juniperperper."

Santa pushed open the door of the Christmas ball factory.

Inside balls of all descriptions and colors were greeting them.

Peako ran to Juniperperper and started to beg.

"What's he want?" Juniperperper asked Santa.

"I think he believes the Christmas balls are candy," Santa laughed.

Peako went from table to table looking at the Christmas balls. Finally his nose told him they weren't meant to eat so he went to the front door.

"He wants to go," Santa said to Juniperperper. "I guess he is a little disappointed because those Christmas balls do look good enough to eat."

Santa went to the door, turned and said, "You're doing a good job, Juniperperper."

"Thanks, Santa," the elf replied.

Santa and Peako started toward the ski lift and toy factory.

They were walking along when Peako stopped, sniffed and started to growl.

"What's that?" Santa said.

"What could that be?" More Tomorrow

Rate Reduction

On Loans Means

Savings For Vets

The reduction from 9.5 to 9 percent in the maximum allowable interest rates on GI and FHA home loans could mean as much as $9.90 per month savings to the average veteran home buyer, Administrator of Veterans Affairs Richard L. Roudabush commented today.

Over the 30 year life of the average $27,500 GI loan, the total saving from the .5 percent reduction would be as much as $3,564, the VA Administrator pointed out.

The reduction, effective November 25, was announced concurrently with Housing and Urban Development on November 22.

The new 9 percent rate resulted from the second reduction this year, and it followed four successive increases which took the rate from 8.25 percent in January to 9.5 percent as of August 14 where it remained until the current reduction.

Wives need life insurance, too

Two-thirds of the public believe it "makes sense" to insure the life of the wife even if the husband is the breadwinner, according to the Institute of Life Insurance.

Women should be insured, they say, including working wives and housewives whose spouses couldn't afford housekeeper, cook and child care in case of the wife's death.

Donations Asked For Christmas Lights Tour

VIOLA, Del. (AP) — Last year the energy-shortage lighting ban almost ruined Olin Dill's annual message of Christmas cheer. This year he's worried about the cost of electricity for the 10,000 Christmas lights that adorn his home.

For the first time in more than two decades, Dill has been forced to ask for donations from the thousands who come to view his home, about eight miles south of Dover.

"Inflation's hit me just like everyone else," he said. "I called the electric company the other day and found out it's going to cost me three times as much to have my lights on this year."

Until now the most Dill and his family had accepted from the thousands who annually tour their 55 acres was a fruitcake and $2 from a drunk who stuffed it in Dill's pocket and refused to take it back, Mrs. Dill said.

In the pre-energy crisis years, Dill said he could run

Market Robbery Gunmen Free Hostages, Surrender Selves

RICHFIELD, Minn. (AP) — Four gunmen whose escape from a supermarket robbery was cut short at the door by a policeman dashed back inside the store and took some 30 persons hostage. The bandits surrendered themselves and their unarmed captives today after a six-hour siege.

Police said the final 14 hostages were freed about 1:25 a.m. when the last two gunmen in the store gave themselves up following a telephone conference with Gov. Wendell Anderson.

Another group of about 15 persons had been released an hour earlier when a third gunman surrendered. The fourth robber was captured before the men grabbed their hostages.

The hostages, ranging from small children to a woman in her mid-80s, emerged from their ordeal shaken but unharmed. Two of the gunmen suffered minor injuries, one a shotgun wound in the shoulder and the other lacerations from broken glass.

The gunmen were not identified, although there were indications that at least two of them were teen-agers.

The sequence of events began about 7:30 p.m. Thursday when four armed, masked men entered the Country Club Supermarket in this Minneapolis suburb, ordered customers and employees to lie on the floor and then rifled cash registers and a safe. As they were leaving the store with an undetermined amount of cash, a police officer in an unmarked car surprised them and a flurry of gunfire ensued. The four men ran back inside but one of them was apprehended as he tried to run out a back door, said Richfield Police Capt. Donald Lundquist. Lundquist and another officer entered the store to negotiate with the men.

"They wanted a car and were going to take the hostages," said Lundquist. "They also wanted a helicopter."

The police captain said the behavior of the hostages was "excellent. They caused no problems for us and they did what they were told. There was no hysteria."

Lundquist said there was no estimate on the amount of money the robbers had taken, but he said bills were found scattered all over the store.

He said the gunmen talked at least twice with the governor,

Mercy Ambulance

The appointment of Jack York, president of Mercy Professional Ambulance Service Inc., Murray, as director of Ambulance Society of America's (ASA's) Region 4 was announced today by Sylvan B. Bauer, president of the society.

As a director of the national professional society, York represents ASA in the states of Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Florida. York is also a member of the Kentucky Ambulance Institute, a state voluntary professional organization.

The young peoples' class from the Almo Church of Christ have been visiting the elderly and the widows of the community where they conduct devotionals in their homes. The young people have also brought holiday happiness to those they visit by taking baskets of fruits, candies and nuts. The teenage class, taught by Roger Brandon and Hubert Newberry, have also visited other homes spreading gladness with Christmas carols and other songs. Hoyt Cleaver, Jr. took the class to the various Nursing Homes in Murray to entertain and bring joy to the residents at each home. ## U.S. Steel Chairman Going To Washington To Justify Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of the nation's largest steel company is coming to Washington to justify his company's recent price increases after President Ford demanded an explanation.

E.B. Speer, chairman of U.S. Steel Corp., was scheduled to meet today with Albert Rees, chairman of the Council on Wage and Price Stability, to discuss U.S. Steel's price hikes.

The company also was to deliver a written justification that Ford demanded Tuesday. The President had called the price increases "disappointing."

In another price development, the government today releases the Consumer Price Index for November. Exports said before release of the statistics that rapid increases in retail prices were beginning to slow down.

Meanwhile, the massive auto industry layoffs, a major ingredient of the deepening recession, mounted Thursday.

Ford Motor Co. announced a 28 per cent cut in car production in the first three months of 1975, a move throwing 64,000 workers off the job for part of the period.

The Ford company's announcement brings the number of auto industry layoffs set for January to at least 289,000 or more than 40 per cent of the automakers' total blue-collar work force.

Because steel is a basic component of many manufactured products and because U.S. Steel usually sets the price trend for the industry, the Ford administration was concerned about the inflationary impact of the company's move.

White House Press Secretary Ron Nessen said Thursday "there could be additional presidential action" on the steel issue after the meeting.

The government council has no authority to forbid price increases. But the agency could hold public hearings to focus public attention on steel prices.

Meanwhile, Congress neared final action on several economic measures, including one to alleviate the unemployment situation.

Both houses approved the first $4 billion to finance a public service jobs program and a full 52 weeks of unemployment benefits for most persons laid off.

Senate-House conferees agreed on a bill to increase interest charged on back taxes. The bill would increase from 6 per cent a year to 9 per cent the interest rate paid both by tardy taxpayers and the government on any tax overpayments.

Rockefeller. . .

he said he had come to understand why some might be concerned about possible conflict of interest. He pledged to make no similar gifts to U.S. officials if confirmed as vice president.

Rockefeller's confirmation made him the second consecutive person to move into the nation's No. 2 office by appointment rather than direct popular election. Ford, the man who nominated him, was the only other vice president to assume office by that route.

Purveyor Choir To Present Cantata At Church Sunday

The Youth Choir of the Puryear Baptist Church, under the direction of Mrs. Glenda Gallimore, will present a Christmas Cantata the "King of Kings" on Sunday, December 22 at 7:30 p.m.

This majestic cantata, written by John W. Peterson, will be sung by a twenty-five voice choir featuring soloists Donna Atchison, Mickey Orr and Mrs. Gallimore. Accompanists will be Mrs. Oneida White, piano; Mrs. Jackie Gamlin, organ; and Larry Brannon, trumpet.

Two solos will precede the cantata. They are "Gesu Bambino" sung by Mrs. Gallimore, and "Cantique de Noel" sung by Mrs. White. Michael Gallimore will direct a congregational hymn.

Bro. H. D. Hudson, pastor of the church, joins with the choir in extending an invitation to the public to worship and celebrate the birth of Christ in the musical service.

Congress Ready To Wind Up Business With Trade Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 93rd Congress is ready to wind up its business with passage of a major international trade bill as its principal task.

Acting Senate Majority Leader Robert C. Byrd said he was confident both House and Senate could finish their work today.

Byrd had hoped the Senate would have completed its tasks Thursday night, but it was unable to act on the trade bill and two other measures.

Both chambers stayed in session late to complete confirmation of Nelson A. Rockefeller as vice president and to attend his swearing-in ceremony.

The House first and then the Senate are expected to act promptly on the compromise version of the trade measure and send it to President Ford, who has given the measure his highest priority. The bill empowers the President to negotiate tariff reductions with foreign nations.

The bill also contains provisions designed to ensure emigration of minorities from Russia and other Communist countries.

The House is scheduled to complete action on bills permitting the public media to carry news items and advertisements about state lotteries, extending antipoverty programs and revising the Hill-Burton hospital grant program. The Senate passed both measures Thursday.

In other legislative business, Congress sent to the President the session's final money bill containing $4 billion to begin funding public service jobs and assure a full 52 weeks of unemployment compensation benefits to workers covered by this program. This would be 13 more weeks than are now available.

Also sent to Ford was a continuing resolution making possible a $3.4 billion foreign aid program for the current fiscal year.

Another bill sent to the President would extend the Export-Import Bank but put sharp limits on the use of its funds for energy development projects in the Soviet Union.

Leonard Bernstein conducts Tchaikovsky's Fifth Symphony in the third of the televised GREAT PERFORMANCES, Christmas night at 9 p.m. EST on Kentucky Educational Television (KET). The concert features the Boston Symphony Orchestra performing at Tanglewood.

Boston Symphony To Perform Tchaikovsky's Fifth KET

Peter Ilyich Tchaikovsky called his Fifth Symphony "a failure."

When Leonard Bernstein and the Boston Symphony Orchestra performed it last summer at Tanglewood, near Lenox, Mass., it drew wild applause from the audience and universal acclaim from the critics.

And Christmas night, at 8 p.m. CST, Kentucky Educational Television (KET) will present Bernstein's performance of Tchaikovsky's Fifth Symphony in E Minor. The concert is the third in a series of Great Performances to be aired by KET.

Tchaikovsky called his work a failure shortly after its first two performances on Nov. 17 and Nov. 21, 1888. Though it was not a favorite of the Russian composer it is highly regarded by both musicians and audiences.

The music ranges from brooding to joyous even religious in mood. Many critics have found a daemonic theme running through the work.

Bernstein's conducting brings out all the majesty of the composition. The concert at Tanglewood, where Nathaniel Hawthorne wrote his "Tanglewood Tales," observed the 100th anniversary of the birth of Serge Koussevitsky, long-time conductor of the

The Gas Saver Pill

- INCREASES MILEAGE UP TO 25%
- SAVES UP TO 15¢ PER GALLON
- LASTS UP TO 12 MONTHS

FINALLY! A tested and proven fuel saver that meets the price spiral head on. MPC is a "solid lubricant" that provides continuous effectiveness for up to 12 months of average car or light truck use. It will not harm your car and it works!

HOW DOES IT WORK?

Simply drop the pills in your tank and they immediately start to dissolve into millions of microscopic particles which are carried to engine cylinder walls, piston and ring surfaces. There, they actually "plate" these surfaces with a lubricant many times as effective and resistant to pressure as other popular lubricants available today. After a few tankfuls you will begin to notice fuel and oil savings resulting from less friction and increased compression.

ROAD TESTED AND PROVEN

Motor club, police department and individual car owner tested, the MPC Gas Saver Pill has been successfully proven under highway and in-town conditions to increase gas mileage up to 25%.

MOTOR CLUB SUPERVISED MILEAGE TEST

Decking Halls Has History

"Christ was born on Christmas day. Wreath the holly, twine the bay."

From England of long ago come the words of this carol, showing the early role of the bay tree and its greens in decorating for Christmas.

Its use harks back to ancient Greece, when both the bay and the laurel bedecked homes and public places in symbol of triumph. As traditional Christmas greens, they reflect the same joyful spirit, say the editors of the Grollier Universal Encyclopedia.

Holly, of course, is still popular as Yuletide greenery. But nowadays, when it's time to deck the halls, bay leaves are more likely to spice holiday cookery, rather than holiday decorating.

Greens Have Meaning

Greens that adorn home, streets and stores at holiday time entered the lore of Christmas from pagan rites of old.

The ancients believed that each green had its own significance, and an ability to do certain good—or evil—things.

Ivy, they thought, was festive. Its convivial nature came from Bacchus.

Yew and cypress had the highest virtues. Theirs was the quality, and the symbol, of eternal life.

Mistletoe Has Powers

Mysterious powers by the dozens have been credited to mistletoe, among them the power to heal, to ward off evil, to summon ghosts and force them to answer questions.

At present, the most prized property of mistletoe is the license it gives for plenty of Yuletide kissing. Fortunately, there's plenty of mistletoe.

Thanks to the birds, the plant spreads widely. The birds eat mistletoe berries and carry the seeds to trees near and far, say the editors of the Encyclopedia International.

New family games with arcade flavor offer fun, togetherness

For the first time, an entirely new concept of family entertainment will be available just in time to make Christmas 1974 more close, memorable and fun-filled. It embodies three new penny arcade-type games offering fun for all age groups and combining old-time nostalgia and new-fangled mechanism. All are now available from Mattel, the world's largest toy company, along with other new fun toys and dolls.

"Slingin' Slot," "Slick Shooter" and "Spinpower Pinball" machines offer the challenge and excitement of thrill and skill games for the whole family. They bring the new neighborhood arcade store craze now sweeping the country right into the living room or family den for parents and youngsters to enjoy together.

"Slingin' Slot" is a skill game, but looks like the popular "pachinko" game and uses stylized tokens. "Spinpower Pinball" looks like an old-time pinball machine, complete with flippers, electric spinning wheel, ringing bells — and the opportunity to run up hundreds of points.

The "Slick Shooter" tests marksmanship with a ten-shot pistol to aim down a target range to knock down a variety of targets, including a miniature tin can, a sitting duck and a bull's eye target. It seems to be firing real bullets but instead uses air hoses that have to be skillfully aligned to knock over the targets, a triumph of modern creative design.

For the younger members of the family, a highlight of the new play items for Christmas 1974 is "The Sunshine Family" dolls, America's first doll-family that does things together.

It allows the child to make things in the spirit of current trends to preserve the environment and emphasizes conservation and ecology.

An idea book with each set of "The Sunshine Family" shows the child how to be creative and imaginative in making many different doll items from common household disposable leftovers such as milk cartons, toilet tissue rolls, berry baskets, spray can tops and paper bags. "The Sunshine Family" dolls, too, are fashioned after today's young conservation, ecology minded families — all in miniature.

Another "today" toy, for children as young as five, is "Knit Magic" machine that allows a youngster to successfully and easily knit things out of real yarn. With "Knit Magic," they can make things for their dolls, hand puppets for their own amusement, or real scarves, hats and mittens for themselves.

For pure fun and excitement, there's the "Snoopy and His Flying Doghouse" toy straight from Peanuts, the famous Charles Schulz comic strip. Any youngster can operate simple controls that fly Snoopy and his doghouse right side up or upside down, or have Snoopy do loops or knock over targets on the ground for great indoor flying fun.

Something very new and different for the youngsters in the family makes for a special gift, the happy little "Cathy Quick Curl" doll with hair that quickly and easily can be mussed and curled into any hair style.

For the same age bracket, promising special fun for youngsters is "Lil' Camper" equipment which offers make-believe camping experiences with an easy to set up portable tent and other outdoor play equipment.

For the family's preschoolers, new and different is the cuddly little "Pedal Pretty" doll that sits on her own tricycle or wagon and appears to pedal or push along as the child pulls it along on a string. The same age bracket also will be able to spend many happy hours with the Camp "Putt-Putt" toy set, a 15-piece realistic campground with a wind-up motor camper which pulls a boat and cycle trailer along a camp road-track around a lake and across a bridge. The little ones also will enjoy the new "Talkin' Tracks" toy sets which offer hours of imaginative sight and sound fun through moveable pieces which produce dozens of play situation sayings.

Have a fire-free holiday

By RON WELLS
Copley News Service

The Christmas tree, symbolizing the beauty and joy of the holiday season, can easily become the instrument of destruction and death.

At one time during the Christmas season almost every newspaper will carry a grim account such as: "A 17-year-old girl died from smoke inhalation and burns she suffered last night when an electrical short circuit started a fire in a dried-out Christmas tree, which quickly engulfed the residence."

The insurance industry states that fires related to Christmas trees and decorations result in about $5 million worth of property damage a year.

"It is all such a tragic and avoidable waste," said Milton Mays, president of The Continental Insurance Companies. "With the wide range of safe holiday products and materials available, there is no reason why everyone cannot have a fire-free and decorative holiday. All it takes is observing a few common-sense safety practices."

Some safety tips Mays suggested for this Yuletide season are:

— When selecting a natural Christmas tree make sure you pick one that is fresh and not dried out as evidenced by brittle branches or falling needles. Dried-out trees are highly combustible.

— When setting up the tree, cut off a diagonal piece one inch above the original cut and set the trunk in a small container of water to keep the tree moist and prolong its life.

— Make sure the tree is firmly supported and placed in such a position that if it were knocked over, it would not fall near a fireplace or block a room entrance.

— When unpacking last year's light systems, look for worn insulation, loose bulb sockets and broken plugs. On outdoor lights see that the weatherproof cords and fixtures are intact.

— Lights used on the tree should have an Underwriters Laboratory seal affixed to indicate the lighting has been safety-tested against fire and electrical shock.

— In choosing decorations other than lighting only non-flammable materials should be used, including flocking for the tree. Cotton, tissue paper, some foamed plastics and glass wool (angel hair) are highly flammable and should be kept away from lighted candles.

— If you desire to keep a natural tree up until New Year's Day, the tree probably shouldn't be put up until a week or so before Christmas to avoid having a dried-out tree which presents a fire hazard. The tree should be kept outside if purchased earlier than a week before Christmas if it is to remain up until New Year's Day.

— When the tree is taken down, it should be chopped up and put out for the trash man as soon as possible.

— Do not put any kind of electrical decorations on a metal artificial tree. Instead, use indirect lighting. Be sure plastic artificial trees are labeled "slow burning" by Underwriters Laboratory.

— For outside lighting displays, use only American-made products as some of the foreign-made brands do not always measure up to U.S. safety standards.

— Turn off all electrical displays when leaving home.

— Promptly dispose of all flammable boxes and wrapping paper after toys and other gifts are removed.

— Select nonflammable and electrically safe toys for children. Electrically powered toys should bear the Underwriters Laboratory seal of approval.

— Be careful not to overload electrical circuits and insure that household wiring is in good shape to handle expected increases in the electrical load during the holiday season.

"It can be a safe and memorable Christmas if we all use a little common sense and take these basic precautions," Mays said.

Neighbors keep Yuletide spirit alive with trees

One of the most beautiful sights at holiday time is the Christmas tree. It's always been a family tradition to select a tree, spend time together trimming it, and gathering 'round it Christmas morning.

This annual custom requires the cutting of thousands of trees each year, but there are ways to compensate for this. Some communities have come up with a solution, but it requires cooperation and contributions from the townspeople.

The idea is to have an area of land set aside for transplanting Christmas trees. At holiday time, people can buy potted, live trees. After the season ends, either collectively, or individually, the live trees are sent back to be transplanted again for next year.

The trees might be sent to the growers who raise the trees specifically for the Christmas season.

A gift to win the heart of a well-groomed man

It is usual when wondering what to give to the women on your Christmas shopping list to think of perfumes, cosmetics, perhaps a hair dryer or even curling irons, such as the unique Grandinetti Mark III kit of three dry curling irons that come in a handsome travel case.

Good grooming, though, especially when it comes to hair, has become as important to men as it is to women. Perhaps more so. We live in a world of instant reaction to appearances; and many a job or promotion, or the reaction of a person being met for the first time, often depends on the first glance, which invariably moves from his shoes to his hair.

It is apparent this is why an increasing number of men are becoming appearance conscious. It is why good grooming products for males have grown into a billion dollar industry. And, in many instances, men have discovered that what is good for female grooming is just as good for them. Ask any wife whose hair blower-dryer and hairspray are also doing double duty for her husband.

A growing number of men and women, either for thrift or convenience, are doing their own hair grooming. A quick shampoo and with the proper use of the right type of hair blower-dryer, any man soon learns how easy and fast it is to keep his hair in style.

The selection of a versatile easy-to-handle blower-dryer that will give professional results is important. An example is the Grandinetti Professional 1,000-watt Blo-Styler, designed by Edward Grandinetti, creator of a number of beauty appliances for professional hair stylists. It is precisely the same hand held dryer being used for men and women by many nationally acclaimed professional hair stylists.

Perfectly balanced, its pistol grip handle makes it comfortably easy to use. It is one of the few 1,000-watt hair dryers whose clean heat is safely controlled, preventing the extremely high temperatures that result in brittle hair and sensitive scalps. With its three temperature settings, low, medium, and high, and its exclusive two-speed switch with high for drying and low for styling, any precise combination of heat and air velocity can be readily achieved. And for the man who wears a wig, the low speed switch is ideal for styling it.

It's nice to know, too, that it is made in the United States, that its case is made of indestructible Lexan, and its mica heating element is shatterproof. It comes in an attractive package, ready to be gift wrapped.

Of course, many a woman giving this gift to the man in her life might have ulterior motives. What is good for the gander is good for the goose—and instead of the man using her hair dryer, she will be using his. But, perhaps, best of all is that across the table she'll be looking at a well-groomed man with an appealing hair style.

Gifting a lady

GIVE HER a new way to dry and style today's natural hair-dos this season. The 1000-watt deluxe Blower/Styler from Hamilton Beach features switch settings for cool, low, medium and high; air director nozzle, and high-speed blower. It includes table stand so hands can be free to complete make-up or manicure, and hang-up clip for compact storage. Great for guys, too! In pineapple yellow.

THINKING BACK

With nostalgia sweeping the country, why not go attic-hunting for Christmas gifts? Memorabilia from the '20s, '30s, '40s and even the '50s, while hardly considered antiques, have become popular. That old cover from a magazine someone in the family forgot to throw out would make an excellent gift when matted and framed.

Soothing stocking stuffers

Stuffing for Christmas stockings can be practical—and fun, too—when you add something for what goes inside the socks: feet. After a hectic shopping whirl, every member of the family will welcome a little, foot-soothing gift. These easy-on-the-pocketbook items are suggested by the foot experts at Scholl to make the holiday going smoother.

- A certificate for a professional pedicure will be a surprise pick-up for a busy Mother Santa.

- A pair of lightweight, terry-covered slippers will help relax Dad's feet on Christmas morning—and all through the year.

- For a teen-size stocking, slip in a pack of decorative decal designs to sleek up toenails and feet during holiday lounging or sandal-wearing.

- The weekend skier, or anyone whose shoes might rub the wrong way, will appreciate a box of soft, moleskin padding.

- Then there's the promised instant luxury of a menthol-scented foot bath packaged in a Soap 'N Soak box.

- And as a literary footnote for someone's stocking, The New Foot Book will make an attractive, informative gift. (It's available for just 25 cents handling fee, by writing to Scholl, 150 East Huron, Chicago, Ill. 60611.)

Dreamy, the gift of sleep

Judging from the number of newspaper articles on insomnia, there are millions of people to whom the best possible gift would be a good night's sleep.

While no bedding-maker can guarantee sound sleep, it's agreed by the experts that a comfortable mattress is a prime requirement. So a brand-new mattress and box spring set could be an ideal holiday gift for a member of your family, or yourself, suggests the Spring Air Mattress Company, Chicago.

The mattress should be neither too soft nor too hard. A soft mattress causes your body to sag, producing uncomfortable strains. A board-hard mattress pinches off circulation, causing you to toss and turn.

"Buy a mattress with surface comfort and firm inner support," advises the company. "Test the mattress in the store by stretching out on it."

For maximum sleeping comfort, you should have a twin bed for yourself or, if you share a bed, select a queen- or king-size mattress. Two people on a standard full-size bed are often cramped for space, which can lead to sleeplessness.

SLEEPY GIFTS

Want to help someone dream of Christmas cheer? New sheets and pillowcases will keep them thinking of you all through the year, and maybe help them dream of next year's white Christmas.

Big ideas for small gifts

"Stockings hung by the chimney with care" is a Christmas tradition the whole family enjoys.

Small treasures, chocolates and assorted trivia are just some of the items to be found inside that big, red stocking on Christmas morning.

But to satisfy your streak of practicality as well as surprise your family on Christmas morning, try these useful ideas for stocking stuffers: pocket mirrors and decorative soaps for young ladies on your list; shoe horns, key chains, a tube of K2r Spot-lifter for the man of the house; miniature tool kits for your little master builder; decks of cards for your bridge-players; theatre or sports tickets for any and everyone!

Joyous Greetings

Tips for the tree

The nicest Christmas present you can give yourself and your family is an easy-to-take-care-of, fresh and fragrant live-cut Christmas tree.

Be sure to start with a fresh tree. When shopping around, run these two simple checks. First, bend the needles on the tree; if they are pliant, the tree is fresh. Then, gently tap the base of the tree against the ground. A fresh tree will hold its needles fast; avoid one with cascading needles!

When you get the tree home, keep it outdoors, if possible, until you're ready to set it up for decorating. Immediately saw off about one inch on the diagonal from the tree trunk. This eliminates clogged resins that form at the base of the tree which could block it from absorbing water.

Place the tree in a bucket of water mixed with Prolong™ Christmas Tree Preserver — the proper ratio is one capful Prolong to each cup (8 ounces) of water. Prolong increases the water absorption and "feeds" the tree necessary nutrients and carbohydrates. Spray the tree with water often.

Once brought inside for decorating, the tree should be placed away from heaters and out of traffic areas. Secure it in a water-holding stand and watch the water-Prolong level carefully. A tree may absorb as much as a gallon of water a day.

One idea that will further simplify the tree's day-to-day upkeep: try to use unbreakable Christmas bulbs, at least around the bottom of the tree. It will reduce the incidence of bulb breakage, prevent the children from getting scratched and keep the sweeping chores to a minimum.

Watchband is fashionable gift

Has that favorite person of yours been waiting and waiting for a "free moment" to replace the old watchband that has become an ugly eyesore on the wrist? Why not buy a stylish new one for a gift and drop it into the Christmas stocking?

Watchbands are becoming more and more fashionable with each passing year, and many of them make good gift items, suggest the people at Speidel.

Although watchbands are available in a wide assortment of styles and sizes, selecting a proper band is not difficult. The holiday shopper only has to be able to describe the watch to his retail jeweler. The jeweler can select the appropriate width, color and endhook, and can also help to choose the most fashionable style.

INTO THE STOCKING go new and attractive watchbands from Speidel, perfect for gift-giving during this Christmas season.

Christmas ideas of other lands

This Christmas, try something new. Break away from the American Christmas turkey and pie holiday and use the traditions of other countries for celebration ideas.

For tree trimming and party ideas, pick out decorations and foods popular in one particular country. Take Mexico, for example. Serve paella, a rice and seafood dish, and sangria, a wine and fruit mixture. For the children, hang a piñata, colorful paper mache animal stuffed with toys and candies. At midnight the children gather round and break the piñata with sticks to collect the prizes.

Trim the tree in colorful Mexican ornaments. Dolls, stars, and even jewelry, look bright and happy for the holidays.

Or pick a country like Japan, and serve tempura. How about Greece, or Poland? A quick trip to the library for research will help set the stage for your international atmosphere.

This system helps everyone, especially the children, learn about and understand the customs of others throughout the world, and what better way to convey the message of brotherhood and goodwill?

Holiday cruises go all around the world

By ROBERT BETTS
Copley News Service

One advantage of a Christmas cruise is that if you walk away from the bar swaying, you can always put it down to the motion of the ship.

The idea of spending Christmas afloat is appealing to more and more people. Shipping companies are going all out to accommodate them.

This year's listing shows a choice of more than 50 Christmas cruises, ranging from a four-day trip for $145 from the East Coast to a grand 62-day voyage from the West Coast to the Orient, which costs $2,405 and puts in Hong Kong for Christmas.

"There's nothing like being aboard a luxury cruise ship for living it up at holiday time," said a travel agent, displaying a bundle of colorful brochures with pictures of sun-splashed decks and tropical ports-of-call. "It's a perfect, trouble-free, prepaid vacation package; transportation, food, lodging, sports, entertainment and all seasonal festivities laid on."

You can embark at various ports for a holiday of idle luxury and festive fun while the ship sails through placid waters to exotic places where the sun shines all year round and there's no such thing as a white Christmas.

Increasingly popular are the sailings to the Caribbean. Seven and 14-day cruises from Florida, departing Dec. 21, visit such island ports as San Juan, St. Thomas, Martinique, Montego Bay, Port-au-Prince and Nassau. Or the vacationer can fly to one of the Caribbean ports and take a ship from there for an island tour within a limited vacation period. Special low-cost air sea packages are available in major cities for Caribbean and other cruises. Seven-day Caribbean fly-cruise packages based on double occupancy can be had for around $400 including air fare from New York, or around $600 when flying from the West Coast. The cost goes up with the type of cabin accommodation.

Seven and 14-day cruises from the West Coast along the Mexican Riviera, calling in at Puerto Vallarta, Acapulco and other ports, range from $550 to $980.

The kind of Christmas fare and style of festivities varies with the cruise line and the ports of call.

Christmas on a Princess Cruise, for instance, is celebrated in the American tradition, with special holiday performances staged by local entertainers at each port of call.

"Everything on board a cruise ship is geared to Christmas," said a Princess Cruises spokesman. "There are trees, special activities and entertainment and, of course, the usual Christmas dinner with all the trimmings."

"One Christmas Eve and Christmas Day nondenominational religious services are held. Like other cruise ship lines, we try to be at sea during the actual holiday, because we feel it makes the occasion more memorable."

British ships celebrate Christmas in the old English style, with traditional caroling and a variety of activities that have a Dickensian flare.

On Norwegian and Swedish ships the Christmas voyage is treated to an assortment of Yuletide traditions steeped in Viking lore. Other ships offer the flavor of Italy, the epicurean delights of French cuisine or the ancient festivities of Greece.

No Christmas cruise, however, could be more seasonal than the one which takes voyagers to the Holy Land. The Greek cruise ship Apollo, operated by Epirotiki Lines, combines a tour of the Greek islands with celebration of Christmas in Jerusalem and Bethlehem.

The Apollo serves as a hotel for visits to Jerusalem and Nazareth on Dec. 24 and 25. The 14-day cruise costs $475, excluding air fare to Pireaus the point of embarkation in Greece.

PHOTO FUN

Fool your camera this Christmas

By GILBERT HILL
Copley News Service

Even an automatic electronic flash can be "fooled" to produce great Christmas tree pictures if you have a camera with usual lens and shutter adjustments.

The photographic problem is to get a good exposure of the green tree and yet retain the color of the relatively weak lights which would be "washed out" by a regular flash exposure.

So, the trick is a deliberate double exposure made with the camera on a tripod, or other firm support, and a very slow shutter speed — down to "time" exposure if possible.

The flash should be just enough to produce minimum detail in the tree itself and its surroundings. Then the "time" of the shutter should keep the lens open long enough to record just a bit more of the tree and a full exposure for the light Christmas lamps.

The "automatic" electronic flash requires that the lens be opened to a specific setting — say f8 — for a certain distance range. The light automatically provides the necessary exposure. But the photographer may deliberately under-expose by setting his lens opening at f11 — or, over-expose, of course, by using a wider lens opening of say f5.6.

Now, most focal plane shutter cameras, which includes almost all of the popular single lens reflexes, require that the shutter be set no faster than about 1-60 of a second anyway to use electronic flash. They'll work at slower shutter speeds, but not faster.

So, with the camera on a tripod, slow the shutter speed to 1-30, or 1-15 of a second, and take a meter reading on the lighted Christmas tree lamps. Chances are that you can record them easily at f11, or less, which will of course "fool" an electronic flash by at least the one stop needed and still provide some detail in the picture of the tree itself. It is fun to make a good picture of people and presents around a Christmas tree. But it is only one of the many which can be made that will bring back happy memories for years to come — when the children come home with their own children, for instance.

So, get your camera out and check it over to be sure it is working. Blow out the dust, preferably with something like an inexpensive ear syringe so you know that the puffs of air are perfectly dry.

Blow the dust off the lens, inside and out, then clean it very lightly with a lens tissue or an old, well-washed cotton handkerchief to be sure you don't scratch the soft glass of which lenses are made.

Now, snap your shutter a number of times, at various speeds, to be sure it is "free" and working easily after a long rest. Lay in a supply of film and flash bulbs — about twice as much as you think you'll need, because when you begin to see the possibilities you'll need everything. If you're using electronic flash be sure you have new batteries — or that your unit is fully recharged.

Pictures can be made without making photography the entire Christmas project — and it is more fun that way. But you can start early with pictures of preparations on Christmas eve — under the tree and out in the kitchen. And these pictures help to get the photographer back in good habits in the use of his camera.

But the photographs that will be important for years to come are the "candid" shots of the children opening their presents, the beaming parents and grandparents, the guests at dinner and the games in the afternoon. Just a little preparation and thought beforehand can make Christmas photography fun and far more productive.
