Defenders Now Face Attack From Three Sides Of Airfield

Washington, March 31—A strong landing was made by Japanese land forces here today in the New Georgia area after an extensive reconnaissance which revealed their plan for the attack. Admiral William P. Blandy, in charge of the Admiral's Office of the Federal Joint Staff, in a tel-machine report today, made
the following statement:

SPORT TALK

One of the best games played by the Conference this season, and I must say, was the West Kentucky Conference game played in St. Louis last week. While Hopkinsville and Cape Girardeau each had its share of points, neither team could be considered top-notch. In fact, the most memorable moment of the game was the 2-point conversion by Hopkinsville, which brought them within striking distance of the Maroons. However, the Maroons were able to hold on for the win, thanks in part to the strong performance of their quarterback, who led his team to victory with a series of well-timed passes.

WILL DEFENSE

The defense of the Maroons was also outstanding, holding Hopkinsville to just 14 points. The Maroons' defense was led by their star linebacker, who was able to make several key tackles and intercept a pass by the opposing quarterback. The Maroons' defense also got help from their punter, who was able to kick the ball deep into Hopkinsville's territory, setting up several field goal attempts that were successful for the Maroons.

TRAVEL in WARTIME

The fact that the United States is a nation of travelers is hardly surprising. People are accustomed to traveling by car, train, or plane, and it is part of our way of life. However, the current war effort has forced the government to take steps to reduce passenger travel. The government is encouraging people to travel by air, where possible, and to limit their travel to essential business or personal travel. This is to ensure that there is enough space for military travel and to conserve gasoline for war efforts.
