THE LISTENING POST

● I guess I must have read the very beginning of the famous John Henry stories, in which Roak Bradford took a Negro legend and made it into a sort of living and breathing human being. John Henry is the legendary Negro Big Shot, and everything about him is fabulous. I suppose that the first story about John Henry concerned his birth, and succeeding stories continued to tell of his feats of strength. Remembering that yarn about his birth, some of it comes back to me.

● John Henry was born large and strong, it seems, and the story tells of his first words on earth. Only a few minutes after his birth he straightened up in bed and asked in a man's voice: "Has the dogs et yet?" On being assured that the dogs had been fed, he demanded that he also be fed. "Ain't I as good as the dogs?" he questioned. Awe-struck parents hastened to do his bidding. "What is it you craves to eat?" the father asked in a voice that vibrated between fear and pride.

● I do not remember the entire menu that John Henry, the newborn infant ordered, but I do recall that he told them to "bring him turnip greens treetop tall," along with a lot of side meat and such things. From that day on John Henry continued to be big and stronger than any other baby and finally grew up to be the strongest Negro roustabout on the Western Waters. He shouldered a bale of cotton, and then, later, when a big buck from Natchez did the same thing, John Henry at once picked up two bales of cotton. Bradford really built a character out of John Henry, and John Henry built a pretty good-sized bankroll for Bradford. There is no other man who has so accurately portrayed the Negro as Bradford—at least the Negro I know.

● Bradford recently told another yarn which is amusing. It also represents the oblique manner in which the Negro thinks at times. Not long ago Bradford ran across a small Negro in an Army camp. Across the chest of his uniform ran a string of decorations for rifle marksmanship. Bradford noted these decorations as he stopped to talk to the Negro.

● "You must be a pretty good marksman, to have all those medals," he remarked. The Negro soldier looked at him, and said, "I see a pretty good shot, Boss."

● Bradford again eyed the string of medals, noting that they seemed to cover about all the field that is open to marksmanship. "Boy, do you hit the bull's-eye every time you shoot?"

● The Negro considered the matter fully before he answered. "Now, sub, Boss, I don't hit the bull's-eye ev'ry time I shoots. But when I shoots and don't hit the bull's-eye, hit sho' causes a lot of talk."

● I ran across another yarn of Army folks the other day which amused me. I'll pass it along. It seems that some time ago a newly-commissioned captain in Washington who took himself seriously asked to have a telephone installed. When the installation was delayed the new captain got quite tough about the matter. He called the staff sergeant, as he thought, over another telephone and unloaded with considerable emphasis and profanity. There ensued a short silence from the other end of the line and finally a voice asked: "Do you know to whom you are talking?" The captain gulped a bit and answered weakly: "No."

● "This is General Eisenhower." The Captain was silent, then piped up: "Do you know who this is?" and the General answered that he did not. "Thank God for that," answered the Captain and hung up hastily.

BABY WITH PIN IN WRONG PLACE FLOWN TO CLINIC

Philadelphia, — An 8-month old baby with an open safety pin in her lower esophagus was flown approximately 1,800 miles from her West Indies home to Temple University's Chevalier Jackson Bronchoscopic Clinic today.

Physicians said the child, Lorraine Henriquez of St. Andrews, Jamaica, would be kept under observation for a day or two before an operation would be attempted. She swallowed the pin three days ago while playing on the floor.

She was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Leah Henriquez, who was described by physicians as near collapse.

INSTITUTIONAL REGISTRATION

Institutional registration for coffee rationing will be held at the office of the local rationing board on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, November 23, 24, and 25, from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

This registration is only for those firms registered as institutions with reference to sugar rationing. It does not include individuals or retailers or wholesalers of coffee. Regulations concerning these users will be announced later.

Registering agents for institutions will need the following information: amount of coffee used during months of September and October, the coffee inventory as of midnight, November 21, 1942. The agent shall also present a statement containing the names and addresses of all persons from whom they bought roasted coffee during the base period and the quantities purchased from each.

SUPPLEMENTAL REGISTRATION

Supplemental registration for gasoline rationing will be held Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday, November 23, 24, and 25, from 3 p. m. to 9 p. m. in the vacant building belonging to Bob White, located on Fourth street between Bob White Motor Company and the Orpheum Theatre.

This registration will include all applications for gasoline coupons in addition to the basic "A" book, all applications for trucks and transports, for fleet rations, and for machinery.

O. P. A. Officials Says Rent Curb To Affect 75 Million By Dec. 1st.

St. Louis, — Paul A. Porter, deputy administrator in charge of the recent department of the Office of Price Administration, said today that by December 1, federal rent control would be in effect in 353 areas, covering a population of about 75,000,000.

Asserting it was the O. P. A.'s intention to hold rental profits to peace time levels, Porter told the convention of the National Association of Real Estate Boards, "It would not be reasonable to expect us to consider the war as a boom period."

He declared nation-wide surveys had disclosed "in general the net operating position of landlords is easily as favorable now as it was before the impact of war." He added there would be no change in rent ceilings until it could be shown in any area that rental income generally had fallen below the prewar level.

Porter said establishment of ceilings on the basis of a particular freeze date had proved itself equitable for at least 92 per cent of the rented dwellings, while in the other 8 per cent adjustments had been permitted because of special circumstances.

He related that the O. P. A. was cognizant that under a war economy it might not be possible for landlords to continue the same quality, quantity and type of service as on the maximum rent date.

"We have no intention of quibbling over minor changes in unnecessary services," he said. "We will, however, insist on the maintenance of those basic services which are necessary for the health of our population."

Washington, — Filibustering southerners and administration Senators almost got together today for a showdown vote on the anti-poll tax bill but Senator Chandler (D-Ky.), upset the apple-cart, fearing their plan would be the death of the measure.

The showdown would have come, under plans which Senators Barkley (D-Ky.), and Connally (D-Tex.), worked out after preliminary sparring, in a vote Monday on the question of invoking cloture rule limiting debate to one hour per Senator. A two-thirds majority of those voting would be required to impose the rule.

Connally agreed that the southerners would permit the vote to be taken and Barkley agreed that the debate limitation was not down there was no use going on because he was convinced the southerners had the power to filibuster the measure to death with the end of this Congress in January.

Chandler reviled the agreement would be accepted. Chandler jumped to his feet and objected to the request, which required unanimous consent. He was not going to be a party, Chandler said, to establishing a precedent which might require every author of a bill to invoke the drastic cloture rule to obtain action on his measure.

Evidently irked at Chandler's interference, Barkley sought to fix the time for voting by an informal agreement but Senator McKellar (D-Tenn.), insisted upon adhering strictly to the rules.

Barkley then announced that the Senate would meet in an unusual session Saturday, as well as tomorrow, and immediately began circulation of a cloture petition which requires 16 signatures before it can be filed.

The cloture petition could not be filed, however, until southerners lifted their filibuster to permit the bill to be brought officially before the Senate. They have prevented this for six legislative days by filibustering.

British Use New Spitfires To Spit Flaming Death At Enemy

London, — A new, improved Vickers-Supermarine Spitfire fighter plane, with a bigger engine and four-bladed propeller, now is in operational use, the Air Ministry disclosed today.

Speed and horsepower of the new fighter still are military secrets, but it is powered with the Rolls-Royce Merlin "61" engine instead of the Merlin "45" or "46." It carries two cannon and four machine guns in the wings. Its lines are almost identical with previous Spitfire models except that it has a longer nose to accommodate the bigger engine. The four-bladed propeller provides greater blade area to absorb increased power output.

The chief difference in appearance from the present Spitfire type is in the wings, both of which have underslung radiators. The radiator under the port wing replaces a somewhat smaller oil cooler, and is linked with the engine intercooler which is a feature of the two-stage supercharged Merlin "61."

THANKSGIVING SERVICES TO BE WEDNESDAY EVENING

Rev. L. P. Turney Will Deliver Sermon At Union Service

The Fulton Ministers Association today announced provision for the annual Union Thanksgiving Service for the City of Fulton and surrounding territory. The services will be conducted in the First Methodist Church Wednesday night at 7:30 o'clock. The Rev. L. P. Turney, pastor of the local Cumberland Presbyterian Church will deliver the sermon. The choir of the city, under the direction of Mrs. Charles Gregory will provide the anthems and lead the congregational singing. Mrs. C. L. Maddox will preside at the organ. The Thanksgiving offering will be given to the local U. S. O. for use in the American Legion lodge at the depot.

Concerning the public worship service a spokesman for the group said, "This year we should not major in a minor. Let the people, all the people, turn to the sanctuary and participate in the worship of Almighty God with praise and thanksgiving. Thanksgiving is best expressed in thanksgiving, and no man who neglects worship is living right. Since all of us are beneficiaries of God's goodness, each of us should join in gratitude. God's praise sounds best in concert, and we invite all to participate in the service."

POLICE CAR'S LIGHT GUIDES PLANE PILOT TO SAFE LANDING

Alert Policeman Saves Pilot From Crash

Palestine, Texas, — An alert policeman used the spotlight on his patrol car to signal a lost Navy flier to a safe landing last night.

Lieut. J. B. Rainey, Jr., of Houston missed Dallas on a flight from California and had only an hour's supply of gasoline in his tank when he arrived over Palestine. He flew low, his landing light burning.

Night Police Chief Elton Corley decided the flier must be in trouble. He drove his car into a residential district, away from the glare of downtown lights, and flashed the spotlight beam upward, flicking it on and off.

Rainey caught the signal. Then Corley drove toward the city's new airport, his spotlight beam guiding Rainey.

Navy Announces More Japanese Ships Were Sunk In Battle Off Solomons In Middle Of November

Battleship, 3 Large Cruisers Are Added To Total Of 23

GREW DEFENDS PRE-WAR POLICY TOWARD JAPAN

Des Moines, Iowa, — It was "plain common sense" which kept the United States from cutting off completely the supply of gasoline, scrap iron and other materials which went to Japan before the war, Joseph C. Grew, former ambassador to Tokyo, said here today.

"It's a very short-sighted policy in international relations to threaten if you are not able to back up your threat," he explained.

"If we had cut off oil from Japan, they would have gone all-out to get it for themselves. That would have meant a two-ocean war with a one-ocean navy."

FULTON COUNTY TO HAVE BLACKOUT TONITE

The local office of Civilian Defense has ordered a complete blackout and air raid alert of Fulton county for an indefinite period tonight, November 20.

Beginning of the alert will be signaled by blowing both Fulton and Spout Fulton fire sirens, followed by a steam siren of the I. C. railroad pump station. At this signal all officers will assume their proper stations and all civilians will extinguish every light in their homes. All automobile traffic will park and turn off their lights and pedestrians will seek shelter off the streets. The all-clear signal will be given by blowing of the steam siren on the pump station.

GIRL SCOUTS TO HAVE VICTORY CARNIVAL TONIGHT

Tonight is the night for the Girl Scouts Victory Carnival at the Woman's Club building and the girls are expecting a big crowd to attend. They have made elaborate arrangements for the Carnival and have worked hard preparing a program for your pleasure. It's somewhere to go before the blackout to be with the crowd when the lights go out.

A full half hour's entertainment has been planned to be presented from the stage during the blackout, including an orchestra, choruses, tap dance number, solos, whistling numbers, and various other novelties, all presented by the girls. The Girl Scout's sale of stamps and bonds will be ended and prizes presented to the winners.

Among the entertainment features will be a bingo stand, a fish pond, a country store for the sharpshooters, a cake walk and there will also be hamburger and hot-dog stands.

The carnival begins at seven o'clock.

Father Knew Son Went East; News Of His Death No Surprise

Traverse City, Mich., — When a newspaperman called today on Mark Crow to inform him that his son, Air Force Col. Demas T. "Nick" Crow of Washington, had been killed at Morocco in what his superiors called "superlative heroism," the elder Crow said quietly: "I know why you're here. Nick's dead. I expected it because he always picked up where the other boys left off."

Crow said the last word he heard from his soldier son—who died in a burst of machine gun fire after volunteering to go ashore to convince the French commander at Morocco to surrender—was five weeks ago when the colonel telephoned from Washington to say:

Washington, The great American sea victory in the Solomons assumed even more epic proportions today when the Navy announced that a Japanese battleship or heavy cruiser, three large cruisers and a destroyer were sunk including a battleship, damaged in a single engagement last Saturday night.

These heavy losses were inflicted on the enemy by an American battleship task force whose victory, coming on top of the smashing triumph scored two nights earlier, finally drove the enemy northward in inglorious retreat.

It is not yet possible to reach a total of the Japanese losses because there may be some duplication between the damage listed in today's announcement and the data made public earlier in the week.

First Glugst It was officially revealed that the tremendous Solomons fight American battleships slugged it out with Japanese battleships, for the first time during the war in the Pacific.

Today's communique was the second giving results of the series of sea fights which ensued when the Japanese tried to attack American-held territory on Guadalcanal Island with a mighty armada of warships and transports. It was their greatest effort in amphibious warfare and the latest report made clear that it failed utterly.

The first communique giving results was issued last Monday. It dealt at length with the first main battle of the series which was fought out shortly after midnight last Thursday (Guadalcanal time.)

That communique listed 23 Japanese ships, including one battleship and three heavy cruisers, as having been destroyed and said seven including a second battleship, had been damaged. It also reported that the Saturday night action had been fought but that details "have not yet been received."

American losses were reported as two light cruisers and six destroyers sunk.

Enemy Losses Following this up, today's communique said that reports just in from the South Pacific showed that enemy losses in the Saturday night battle were one battleship or heavy cruiser, three large cruisers and one destroyer sunk, and one battleship, one cruiser and one destroyer damaged. No further American losses were reported.

TINNER TUBES BEARS 75 PATCHES

White Station, Tenn., — The customer wanted S. A. Burkhardt to put six new patches on his tattered inner tube. But that wasn't what made Burkhardt gasp. The tube already had seventy-nine patches.

"Dad, I am going away for a long time and you won't be hearing from me. I can't tell you where I'm going."

"Nick," said the father, "can you interpret some rough code?" "Try me."

"I am going duck hunting tomorrow, Nick," the father said, "and every duck I shoot will be a Jap. What about you?"

"Mine won't," said the son.

Recalled the elder Crow: "I knew then he was going east, not west."

Besides the father, a conservation officer here, surviving Colonel Crow is a sister, Mrs. Jane Tromley of South Bend, Ind., who enlisted as a Red Cross nurse a week ago.

LAFAYETTE, WE ARE HERE

In going into French Africa the American forces did what the informed predicted they would do-- start a diversionary or sort of second front drive in a sector least thought of by radio "commentators."

France was mentioned most often by these swivel-tongued gentry, of the ether as a probable site of the second front. Norway received the second largest number of votes, and Sweden came in for honorable mention along with Holland, Italy, Spain, etc.

In going into French Africa America did not make the mistakes in the Philippines and the Solomons--too little in the case of the Philippines and divided command in the case of the Solomons.
Apparently all the reinforcements needed can be unloaded at the base of operation of the American invading forces. One general is in supreme command of the effort.

While there are always possibilities of surprises in actions of this sort, engaged in thousands of mile from home. Allied strategists think the situation is permanently under control. They are convinced that Hitler and his stinking little ally, Mussolini, are literally shaking in their boots--especially the latter. They are as firmly of the opinion that old Petain and his coterie of aides, who resemble nothing so much as the Franco setup in Spain and whose aims are of course identical with those of the Franco outfit, are impotent, as does Washington, of the course of Petain and his crew.

Absence of any real resistance by the French at Algiers and several other points is proof that the French people are opposed to Petain, Laval and Hitler. Obviously the Vichy gang had sent the elements in the armed forces that were supposed to be the most like Petain to these spots of possible danger. That they would not fight the Americans with any enthusiasm corroborates the opinion widely held in Allied circles that the great mass of the French awaits only the day of deliverance from everything Petain and Hitler represent. It is difficult to see how any Frenchman whose mind has not been drugged by the influence of the dark ages could feel differ-ently--Exchange.

38,000 PAIRS OF PANTIES ORDERED BY U. S. ARMY

Chicago, --Regional W. P. B. Director Joseph Overlock tonight was in the market for 38,000 pairs of winter panties.

Overlock received the order from the Army Quartermaster Corps, with the stipulation that the panties, for the Waacs, must be 75 per cent cotton and 25 per cent wool.

The order, he said, has priority over other items on the Waacs' shopping list, such as olive drab hose-tops, comforter caps and wool V-neck sweaters.

MIXING YOUR OWN WHISKY AND SODA CAN SAVE MONEY

Hagerstown, Md.—Tip to whisky and soda drinkers—don't say "whisky and soda" . . . Say "whisky, please, with soda on the side."

It may save money, Matthew J. Mullaney said today. The Office of Price Administration attorney explained that whisky and soda mixed before serving is a "prepared" drink and not subject to price ceilings. If the drinker mixes it, the drink becomes one of the "poured" variety—with price ceilings.

FULGHAM NEWS

By Miss Docie Jones

We were all thrilled Monday over the possibility of a big news item that would have made headlines for our little burg but—after Mr. X, a stranger, had given us some of the details of the incident, he then punctured the whole thing with this remark, "Please don't let this get in print." Then our story collapsed. So like other wartime customs this is a substitute for the item we didn't get.

Business Deals
W. R. Tarver, merchant at the old Hollfield Stone place east of the county line, has recently purchased the property there including a dwelling, store building and blacksmith shop, and an acre or more of ground.

W. R. purchased the stock of goods from F. B. Lee, more than a year ago and evidently finds the pasture green in Graves county.

We hear that Freeman Swift, who moved from here to Fulton last year, has purchased the Fred Bennett farm in Hickman county, one mile east of Enon. The place contains 80 acres, well improved with good buildings and electricity.

F. T. A.

In keeping with the plans to beautify our school campus, the P. T. A. bought evergreens from Yates Nursery at Paducah and Mr. Yopp, or a representative, will be here Thursday to plant the shrubbery, according to the plans of Mr. Elliott, landscape architect of State University. An outdoor U. S. flag and pole has also been purchased.

The Fulgham Black Cats clashed with the Wingo Indians there Tuesday night in a hard fought game but lost in the score 28-24. Our B. team was outclassed 45-9.
