Teamsters Union Strike Spreads Across Country

By The Associated Press

A Teamsters Union trucking strike spread across the country today, with scattered reports of violence, after negotiators failed to reach agreement on a new national master contract.

Negotiations, which continued unsuccessfully into the early morning, resumed shortly after 9:30 a.m. CST, with wages, fringe benefits and a cost-of-living clause still the sticking points.

The strike left the nation's economy facing a crunch because of the cutback in the interstate flow of goods. The Teamsters haul about 60 per cent of the country's manufactured products.

The walkout was generally peaceful. But shots were fired at a trucker in Cleveland, in Detroit a 23-year-old man was beaten by several picketers when he tried to park his truck at a company lot, and rocks were thrown at trucks on a road in southwest Michigan.

In New York City, meanwhile, a strike by transit workers that would have affected about three million subway and bus riders was averted with the predawn announcement of tentative agreement on a new contract for 34,000 transit workers.

But across the country, San Francisco faced a second day without public transport as a strike by about 1,900 of approximately 20,000 city workers protesting pay cuts continued. Labor leaders said picketing would spread to two city-county hospitals.

Labor Secretary W. J. Usery Jr. and other federal officials had no comment on the Teamsters strike, and there was no immediate indication that the Ford administration would seek a Taft-Hartley injunction against the walkout.

The truckers' strike was building steam across the country even as Teamsters President Frank E. Fitzsimmons and William G. McIntyre, chief trucking industry negotiator, announced early this morning in a Chicago suburb that they had failed to settle on wages, fringe benefits and a cost-of-living clause in a new contract covering 400,000 members of the nation's largest union.

"There is a strike. Our people have walked off," said Fitzsimmons as picket lines appeared at truck depots from Connecticut to Georgia to Colorado and long haul drivers pulled their rigs off the road.

"We're in the ball park," the Teamsters leader said of a final industry offer made shortly before the strike began. He declined to elaborate. McIntyre told reporters the industry had substantially improved its offer in its final proposal.

Old-Fashioned Preaching Slated On Court Square

An old fashioned preaching service will be held at 1:00 p.m. Saturday, April 3, on the courthouse lawn in Murray. This service will be sponsored by the Baptist churches in Calloway County.

Gerald S. Owen, pastor of the Sugar Creek Baptist Church, will be the preacher and Leland Peeler, music director for the Blood River Baptist Association, will be the song leader.

This service is part of a state-wide celebration of the Bicentennial of Baptist preaching in Kentucky. The first recorded Baptist preaching done in Kentucky was by Thomas Tinsley and William Hickman at Harrodstown (now Harrodsburg) in the Spring of 1776, about five years before the first Baptist Church was organized in Kentucky.

James T. Garland, chairman of Evangelism for the Blood River Baptist Association says, "Kentucky Baptists are planning to have preaching services on the courthouse lawn in every county in the state, carrying on in the spirit of these early pioneer preachers in carrying the Gospel of Jesus Christ to the people where they are."

The Baptist churches extend an invitation to the public to attend this service.

Carroll Named By State Association

MSU To Initiate Program To Train Older Adults As Recreation Workers

A 750-hour training program to prepare older adults as recreation technicians for health care facilities in the Jackson Purchase will be initiated by Murray State University April 19.

Funded by a $60,798 teaching grant from the Kentucky Bureau of Manpower Services to the Department of Recreation and Physical Education at Murray State, the training program has been organized to accommodate a total of 30 people in two 21-week training cycles.

Interviews are now being conducted for the first cycle of 15 persons. Applicants must be from 45 to 65 years of age, unemployed or underemployed, and meet certain other requirements of the Manpower Services program. Trainees will be paid during the training period.

Rebekah Blaine, director and clinical coordinator for the program, said qualified persons wishing to apply for the training program should contact the Bureau of Manpower Services office in their area without delay.

Persons living in Marshall, McCracken, Ballard, or Carlisle counties should contact David Dunning, Bureau of Manpower Services, 416 South 6th, Paducah, (502-444-6395), while persons living in Calloway, Graves, Hickman, or Fulton counties should contact Grace Thomas, Bureau of Manpower Services, 319 South 7th, Mayfield, (502-247-3857).

Upon completion of the course, which includes 13 weeks of instruction on the campus and eight weeks of on-the-job experience in health care facilities in the Jackson Purchase, a participant will have the skills to become a Registered Therapeutic Technician I as accredited by the National Therapeutic Recreation Society.

Recreation technicians are qualified to direct patient activities in a variety of health care facilities, including hospitals, nursing homes, personal care homes, rehabilitation centers, and community mental health centers.

Emphasizing the people-to-people approach of the program, Ms. Blaine, who is a Master Therapeutic Recreation Specialist, said the training program is being tailored to the existing leisure needs of the health care facilities within the Jackson Purchase.

"Our purpose is to enhance the skills of older adults in the basic areas of recreation in health care facilities which already have coordinators and in facilities which have no trained people in the area of recreation," she explained.

Besides the on-the-job training, the course content of the program is divided into 10 categories — orientation to therapeutic services, delivery of services to special populations, human growth and development, basic information on disabling conditions, communication techniques, dynamics of group leadership, recreational activities skills, introduction to activity analysis, program planning and analysis, and administrative practices.

Ms. Blaine, who earned the B. A. degree in recreational administration at the University of Kentucky and is now doing thesis research in therapeutic recreation, has worked as a recreational therapist in St. Joseph's Hospital, the University of Kentucky Medical Center, and Eastern State Hospital in Lexington, and Norton's Infirmary in Louisville.

Health care facilities administrators may contact Ms. Blaine or Lloyd Brander, recreation therapist, at 762-6901 or 762-6902 at Murray State.

Carroll's Low Number Of Vetoes May Have Set Modern Day Record

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Gov. Julian Carroll seems to have set a modern day record in the low number of vetoes of 1976 legislative bills.

He vetoed four Wednesday and allowed another handful to become law without his signature, beating the midnight Thursday deadline for acting on recent legislation.

Among the vetoed bills was the administration's own consumer protection measure — the stronger of two anti-trust versions.

The four vetoes contrasted with 17 two years ago and 21 four years ago when Democrat Wendell Ford was governor.

They are far under the 48 vetoes of 1970 when Republican Louie Nunn was governor and the legislature remained Democrat-dominated.

Carroll signed about 300 measures enacted by the General Assembly which adjourned March 20.

Among the dozen he let become law but did not sign were bills allowing small wineries to operate in Kentucky and raising the interest rates for small loans.

Carroll attached a note to another — one exempting taxicab companies from overtime pay requirements which was "piggybacked" with a bill providing for seniority as top priority in employment practices.

The governor said he could not veto the seniority section, which he regards as unconstitutional, without wrecking the other part which he favors, so has let the entire version become law.

The final veto was of House Bill 37, which would have required state, municipal and county governments to make available — at the option of employees — Health Maintenance Organization (HMO) medical services instead of regular hospital and medical insurance.

"The bill is contradictory and confusing," Carroll commented.

In vetoing House Bill 646, one of his consumer versions, the governor commented that HB 644, a weaker anti-trust bill, handles the subject "in a more responsible manner."

HB 646 would have empowered the state attorney general to take legal action against businesses engaged in price fixing or other monopolistic practices.

Instead, Carroll opted for HB 644 which tends to restrain the issuance of orders and injunctions in connection with anti-trust practices.

The weaker version also repeals the so-called fair trade laws of Kentucky to conform with recent federal legislation.

The veto of HB 646 leaves a net total of 10 of 12 Carroll consumer measures passed.

A new car lemon bill failed to get through the 1976 General Assembly and the governor acknowledged it was one of the few times he could not get his way.

Carroll also vetoed Senate Bill 187 which would have allowed parent and subsidiary corporations to be considered as one corporation for licensing.

He said he has ordered the revenue department to study possible changes in the corporation license tax law.

Also vetoed was SB 269 which would have restricted work release for certain prisoners except during the 90 days before the end of their sentences.

The governor said 165 inmates currently in the program would not have qualified under the bill.

One obvious reason for the low number of vetoes was Carroll's iron control of the General Assembly and therefore the type and pace of legislation enacted.

Partly cloudy and mild today, high in the mid to upper 50s. Partly cloudy and cold tonight, low in the upper 30s. Partly cloudy and warmer Friday, high in the low 60s. Saturday partly cloudy and warmer with chance of showers.

Work is expected to be completed within the next few days on construction of a new boat launching ramp at Fenton Informal Use Area just east of the Egner's Ferry Bridge in Land Between The Lakes, TVA's public outdoor recreation area. The older, smaller ramp presently at the site is being removed and replaced with a new and considerably larger ramp, which will allow three boats to be launched at one time. The new facility is 40 feet wide and 72 feet long and consists of a 6-inch thick concrete slab. TVA employees are completing the work this week.

To begin at 10 a. m., the activities during the day will include competition in 23 individual and chapter events, election of five new regional officers; a talent show, and an awards banquet at 5 p. m. in the ballroom of the Waterfield Student Union Building.

University and community people will judge the competitive events. Robert P. McCann, assistant professor of business education and administrative management is serving as the campus coordinator for the conference.

Wholesale Prices Up

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wholesale prices reversed a two-month decline and rose two-tenths of a per cent in March despite another sharp drop in farm prices, the government said today.

The Labor Department attributed the over-all increase to higher prices for processed foods and feeds and industrial goods, which failed to offset a 1 per cent drop in wholesale prices for farm products.

HOLES IN CHEESE

Why do some cheese have holes? The holes are caused by the fermentation that occurs in the curd when a firmly pressed cheese, such as Swiss, is being cured. Heat is used to encourage the separating of the curd from the whey. This separated curd is then cut, drained in cheesecloth and then pressed, today by mechanical presses, until the curd is firm and almost dry. Then the curd that has undergone such a process is stored in a warm curing cellar, gas begins to form. The gas makes bubbles, and the bubbles create the holes. The more violent the fermentation, the larger the holes.

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van Buren

Should 'Other Woman' Help Bury His Wife?

DEAR ABBY: I am a happily married woman. I've had a very close relationship with a man who is also happy with his wife. We are both in the same type of business, and we see each other frequently to discuss business matters or just to have a friendly get-together. We have been to bed together during business trips, but neither of us thinks of it as any great love affair. We are just friends who enjoy all sides of our relationship.

About a year ago, his wife found out about us and got all uptight. (I don't blame her.) After that, we stopped seeing each other socially, but when we meet on business, the close romantic feeling is still there.

Now I've heard that this man's wife has a terminal illness and hasn't much longer to live.

When she dies, should I attend the funeral? If my husband were to die, I'd want this friend of mine to attend the funeral, but I don't know if he would feel the same way. Should I ask him? That seems so crass. Please advise me.

OLD FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Don't ask him. And don't attend the funeral. I think he'll probably appreciate your absence.

DEAR ABBY: I am a widow in my mid-50s, and I live in an exclusive high-rise apartment. Last month a bachelor moved into the apartment next to mine. This man has an electric organ, that I can hear him playing nearly every evening.

I don't mind that, but he also has a Boston bulldog that "sings" while he plays the organ. The dog's "singing" consists of a howling sound, but he very often hits the right note, begins at the beginning of every song and finishes at the end. (Sometimes the man "harmonizes" with the dog.)

The man is very attractive, and appears to be in his 60s. I understand he is a retired physician.

I suppose he is lonely, but I'm sure he could do much better than a singing dog for company. How do I meet him?

THE LADY NEXT DOOR

DEAR LADY: Invite him over for a T-bone steak dinner and tell him you'll save the bone for his dog.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in the process of seeking an inexpensive way to get a divorce. We are already living apart and are in total agreement on everything, including the custody of our child and the visitation rights. All we have to do is get it all down in writing and make it legal.

We inquired at the Legal Aid Society but were told that we don't qualify for low-cost legal aid because we are both gainfully employed.

The other alternative is a "divorce kit," which is a kind of "do-it-yourself" divorce, costing $95 for papers plus a $3 fee for filing.

As we see it, the $3 fee is the only necessary action to be taken by us. Isn't it possible to write up our own legal papers and have them notarized?

Why do we have to go through with the expense of having a lawyer write up the papers when we are in complete agreement on all the terms?

FRIENDLY PARTING

DEAR FRIENDLY: Regardless of how "friendly" and "in agreement" you two may be, I would still recommend legal counsel. Some of those "do-it-yourself" divorces are more expensive in the long run than the regular kind are.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (26¢) envelope.

Robbing The Poor

Disclosures of cheating in the Medicaid program, the federal government's answer to the health problems of the poor, indicate that up to $4 billion annually is being fraudulently siphoned from the program.

The direct victim is the American taxpayer, but the ultimate losers are the poor and elderly who are supposed to benefit the most from the program. The funds diverted to bill padding, kickbacks, duplicate billing, illegal claims and other abuses are denied to people who really need help.

Hospitals, laboratories, pharmacies and other providers of specialized services are involved in the offenses. Doctors, however, are the chief culprits, according to federal investigators. Physicians were the targets of 73 per cent of federal medicare abuse investigations last year.

They say Medicaid probes reveal the same pattern. Other dispensers of health care depend upon doctors for cooperation in their illegal practices.

Medicaid is administered by the states and it is the states that must police the problem. A swing to automated processing and auditing systems in some areas is expected to reduce fraud. Some states are experimenting with private contractors in the search for more efficient systems. The Department of Health, Education and Welfare is getting tougher.

The crackdown merits the urgency it has been given. The cheaters are robbing the government, the people, and, shamefully, the poor. And at the same time their fraudulent acts are tarnishing the good reputation shared by all in the medical profession.

Environment Push Getting Tangled

By JOHN CUNIFF AP Business Analyst NEW YORK (AP) — The nation's progress toward a cleaner environment seems to be getting tangled in the barbed wire of some physical, human and economic realities.

For some time, say the grimmer of the critics, the entire movement seemed capable of soaring over the obstructions. But now, they maintain, the environmentalists are being brought back to earth.

Just what the consequences will be isn't entirely clear, but lives, jobs, prices, profits and availability of products are involved, and there are plenty of people willing to stake everything on one or more of them.

A major paper and wood products manufacturer maintains "there is every possibility" its pollution-control measures will create even more damage, some of it not immediately seen.

A research organization finds that in order to comply with environmental requirements, some companies would have to make sizable increases in their use of energy, thus conflicting with another national goal.

The Environmental Protection Agency last month exempted eight steel plants from new water pollution restraints, saying compliance costs might endanger their existence and that of an entire local economy.

The goal of eliminating all pollution from a plant, said C. R. Dahl, president of Crown-Zellerbach Corp., which says it is spending $190 million to clean up the environment, is an "illusion."

In a talk to the Chamber of Commerce of Camas-Washougal, Wash., he stated:

"If pollution control regulations remain unmodified, there is every possibility that the control measures will contribute more to the degradation of the total environment than to its improvement."

To seek total cleansing is to squander billions, he suggested, because the environment is capable of harmlessly assimilating some degree of pollution. And then there is the rule of diminishing returns.

In the field of air quality control, he said, "moving from 98 per cent to 99.8 per cent purity requires four times as much purchased energy as it took to get from zero to 98 per cent control."

Garrott's Galley We May Have The Largest Coffee Tree In The State

By M. C. Garrott

L. D. Miller knows where just about everything in Calloway County is and how to get there.

Ever since the Legislature decreed that the coffee tree would heretofore be the official tree of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, L. D. has been trying to show me "the biggest coffee tree in the state."

A couple of days ago, I rolled into the driveway after wrestling with the problems — and opportunities — of the day to find L. D. and a couple of his men breaking up my garden for me. When they finished he was ready to show me the coffee tree.

Until that afternoon, I wouldn't have known a coffee tree had I bumped into one, although L. D. informed me as we left town that all the trees along Chestnut by the tennis courts at Murray State were coffee trees.

++++++ We headed out North 16th, across the 121 Bypass and beyond the new North Elementary School before he took a left on a little gravel road. Within minutes we were parked in the yard of the home of David Pritchett and beside of the big, old tree.

I had brought my 50-foot tape and we measured its circumference. It turned out to be nine feet around the trunk, and the best L. D., Mr. Pritchett and I could determine was about 65 or 70 feet tall. Lightning had struck it about two years ago, Mr. Pritchett said, and killed some of the upper limbs as well as burning a streak down it to the ground — but it still lived.

Two smaller ones, both about 16 inches in diameter, stand nearby, but the old coffee tree dominates the yard. Not far away is one of the biggest boddock, or iron- or hedge apple, as they are sometimes called, trees I have ever seen. We put the tape measure on it, too. It was 16 feet and four inches around its trunk.

++++++ Although Mr. H. B. Futrell now owns the 106-acre farm where the old tree stands, it was at one time the homeplace of Dr. Liza and Miss Martha Spann's grandfather. Their father, Moses (Uncle Moses) Spann, was born there. A farmer, he died in 1951 at the age of 90.

They well remember playing around the old tree as little girls when they went to visit their grandparents, but neither of them know how old the tree is.

"I'm 80 years old now, and it was a big tree when I was a little girl," Miss Martha said. Dr. Liza retired in 1971 after 37 years as a member of the biology faculty at Murray State.

"The story goes," Dr. Liza said, "that my grandfather's brother, Uncle Mack Palmer, who lived with my grandparents, brought a coffee tree sprout from somewhere in Missouri and planted it in the years. They say that's the old tree we see there now."

They both also well remember playing beneath the sprawling boddock tree, too. "In fact, it ruined Grandpa's well," Dr. Liza said, "when its roots caved in the side of the well and caused it to collapse. He had to dig another one somewhere else. We had many a cool drink of water out of that well, too. Grandpa had one of those things where you let a bucket down into the water by a rope and then crank it up full."

++++++ So, until proven otherwise L. D. and I are aying claim here and now to the largest coffee tree in Kentucky being in Calloway County.

"How did you know that tree was out there?" I asked him as we bounced home in his pickup truck.

"Why, I know where everything is in Calloway County," he said with that big grin of his. I believe he does. The coffee tree is just one of a number of interesting things he wants to show me in time.

Humanely Speaking

Written By The Humane Society Of Calloway County

For April, our "Pet of the Month" is a litter of terrier puppies. Otis, pictured here, is the biggest and strongest of the litter. He has been taken by a family in Kirkskey, but his three brothers, one sister, and his mother are all seeking permanent homes.

The mother dog and her five puppies were left behind when their owners moved from Calloway County. A kind neighbor took care of them for a week, then called the Humane Society. For the past three weeks they have been cared for in a foster home, but now the pups are old enough to leave their mother.

The mother is a small tan terrier, about two years old. Shy and unresponsive when she first reached her foster home, she has blossomed under good care and attention. Now she is friendly and affectionate, and she answers readily to the name "Mamma." We ask, however, that her new owner have her spayed as soon as possible.

The puppies are tan or tan and white, perhaps part Corgi. Though they are only six weeks old, each has already developed a distinctive personality. The runt of the litter, for example, attempts to boss the others and takes the lead in investigative tours. One large, male often sits by himself a distance apart from his brothers and sisters and watches their activity with a bemused, paternal air. All five are lively and inquisitive and seem to show the intelligence characteristic of terriers.

If you can offer one of these puppies or their mother a good home, call 753-7869.

DOG CENSUS

There are fourteen dogs at the Murray-Calloway County Dog Pound this week.

PUPPIES: five mixed breed; two collie-type.

HALF-GROWN DOGS: one collie type.

GROWN DOGS: two shepherd type; two mixed breed; one cocker spaniel-type; one dachshund-type.

Directions to the Pound

The Murray-Calloway County Dog Pound is located off Highway 641 North. Take a right turn at Penny Road. The pound is the first building on the right, just before the Fisher-Price factory parking lot. It is a small cement structure set back from the road, with a public entrance at the back.

Please note: Any dog taken from the dog pound should receive distemper-hepatitis vaccination from a veterinarian as soon as possible as it may have been exposed to disease at the pound. This is particularly important since there are epidemics of distemper in sections of Murray at the present time.

Let's Stay Well

Use Jumper Cables Carefully

By F.J.L. Blasingame, M.D.

Using a jumper cable to recharge an automobile battery can be hazardous since the cable can explode with great force.

Jumper cables can be bought at most supply shops and are handy to carry in your car in order to recharge your battery if it fails on the street or highway. With the cables, electricity can be "jumped" from another car to the one that is disabled to start its engine.

Connections of the jumper cable have to be made properly. This is not always easy to do if it is dark or if the battery is covered with grease and dust so that its terminals cannot be identified. Improper connections can cause the recharging battery to give off a hydrogen gas that can explode if ignited by a spark resulting from improper cable connections.

Business Week recently published a summary of instructions made public by the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co. to prevent serious battery accidents by the proper use of jumper cables. The instructions are:

- 1. Turn off all electrical devices in the car.
2. Remove the vent caps from both batteries so that any hydrogen gas that happened to be generated can readily escape and will not accumulate in significant amounts.
3. Attach one wire of the cable to the positive terminal (marked with a plus sign) on the good battery. Take care to see that the other end of the same wire is connected to the positive, or plus, terminal on the failed battery. A flashlight may be very helpful.
4. Connect one end of the other wire in the cable to the negative terminal (marked with a minus sign) on the good battery. Be sure to connect the other end of this wire to the bumper or engine block of the car with the failed battery — not to the negative terminal of the failed battery. Such a remote connection reduces the potential danger of igniting any hydrogen fumes that might have formed from the battery.

- 5. Start the engine on the disabled car.
6. Remove the cable connections in the reverse order from the way they were put on.
7. Replace the vent caps on both batteries.

With higher new-car prices and increased costs of automobile maintenance, more motorists are keeping their cars longer and servicing them themselves to try to save money. More education regarding the hazards of battery jumping is timely.

Q: Mr. G.S. wants to know why he continues to have sore throat trouble even though he has had his tonsils removed.

A: As you know, there is more to the throat than tonsils. They usually are removed because of recurrent, toxic (fever) and persistent cases of sore throat. One can contract an infection in his pharynx (the back and sides of the throat) after removal of infected tonsils and can be quite sick, but the illness is usually less toxic and of shorter duration. You should have an examination of your nose as well as a general check-up to determine why you are having recurrent sore throats.

Q: Mr. I.Z. resents his physician requiring a written record of when prescribed medicine was taken and wants to know if such a request is not too demanding.

A: It is common knowledge that many patients fail to follow their physician's advice by not having prescriptions filled, not taking medication as directed, or stopping medication prematurely. Therefore, some physicians are pressing their patients to see that they follow directions and take their medicines as prescribed. Such records help physicians to judge the benefits of medicine and to get better cooperation from their patients.

Cavaliers' Coach Knows How To Get His Team Motivated

By The Associated Press
 Coach Bill Fitch of Cleveland knows how to motivate his players. "When I heard that Washington had lost, I told the players at halftime that we were up against a better team than Washington," Fitch said Wednesday after his Cavaliers defeated the New Orleans Jazz 110-101 and moved into first place in the National Basketball Association's Central Division, percentage points ahead of the Washington Capitals. Cleveland has a 45-30 win-loss record for a 600 percentage. Washington, which dropped a 95-88 verdict to Golden State, is now 46-31 for .597.

In other NBA games Wednesday, Philadelphia edged Buffalo 107-103, Boston crushed Phoenix 122-102, Detroit stopped Chicago 102-96 and Seattle rolled over Los Angeles 120-109.

The Jazz are quite a ball club and this Superdome is a tough place to play, as a lot of teams have found out lately," Fitch said. "Maravich (Jazz guard Pete) is amazing, and he makes it look so easy. (Henry) Bibby came in to replace Pete in the fourth period ... and he just about killed us." Jim Clemons scored 18 points — 12 in the final period — and Jim Chones and Austin Carr chipped in with 17 apiece to pace Cleveland. Maravich wound up with 21 points although sitting out the last 10 minutes of the game.

Angelo, Reserve Cazzie Russell and center Kareem Abdul-Jabbar scored 32 and 30 points, respectively for the Lakers.

Pistons 102, Bulls 96
 John Mengell's 23-point performance paced Detroit past Chicago as the Pistons posted their sixth straight victory. Tied 59-59 late in the third period, Detroit outscored the Bulls 16-6 to put the game away. Bob Wilson topped Chicago with 19 points.

Celtics 122, Suns 102
 Boston snapped Phoenix' seven-game winning streak behind Jojo White's 22 points and Charlie Scott's 18. Nate Hawthorne led the Suns with 22 points, while Alvan Adams added 21 and Paul Westphal 18.

Bibby replaced Maravich and led a Jazz rally that cut Cleveland's 10-point lead to 95-92 with five minutes left before Clemons scored six points to ice the Cavs' victory.

Warriors 95, Bullets 88
 Phil Smith's 10-point spurge in the fourth quarter guided Golden State to its victory over Washington. Rick Barry paced the Warriors with 22 points while Charlie Johnson and Jamaal Wilkes added 18 each. Smith finished with 14 points, but his 12-footer in the final period broke a 79-79 tie and put the Warriors ahead to stay. High for Washington was Phil Chenier with 21.

76ers 107, Braves 103
 Fourteen points by George McGinnis in the final 15 minutes carried Philadelphia over Buffalo and into second place in the NBA's Atlantic Division. McGinnis finished with 26 points.

Randy Smith and John Shumate paced Buffalo with 28 and 25 points, respectively. Sonics 120, Lakers 109 Guards Herm Gilliam and Fred Brown scored 22 points apiece as Seattle downed Los-

Tennis And Outlands Helping To Put City Of Murray On Map

Murray, Kentucky, is noted for a lot of things. For instance, Murray is known for its used car industry. And tennis has put Murray on the map.

Murray State University, through various and sundry activities, has brought attention to the city of Murray. And so has tennis.

And Murray is famous for its unpredictable weather, and tennis.

Within the last eight years, there has been a tennis boom all over the world. It has especially boomed in the U.S.; specifically in Murray, Kentucky.

Among those bombed by the boom are the Outlands, Stan, Sue, and Kathy.

A 13-year old eighth grader at Murray Middle School, Kathy has come a long way since first picking up a racket at age eight.

At age nine, Kathy was already beginning to win titles that take others years to accomplish.

Her first title came at age nine when she teamed with another outstanding Murray junior player, Jill Austin. Kathy and Jill won the 12 and under doubles in the Kentucky Central Life Tournament.

And that was just the beginning. At age ten, Kathy was the youngest member of the Murray High girls' tennis team.

"When one high school player I beat found out that I was just ten, she threw down her racket and said I quit," remembered Kathy.

But Kathy, as did other young standouts, had some trouble getting into one high school tournament.

Kathy and several other younger Murray High players went to a high school tournament in Tennessee where they were almost barred from playing because they were only in the fifth grade.

It is a Tennessee state law that a player must be in high school to play on the team.

"We got to play but they told us not to come back until we were in high school," laughed Kathy.

Kathy did play in the Kentucky high school regional tournament at age ten. Again teaming with Jill, they reached the finals of the doubles before losing in three sets.

Kathy went on that summer to win the state 10 and under singles and doubles championship.

At age 11, Kathy was ranked number one in the state in the 12 and under singles and doubles category. She was invited to the Southern Junior tournament in Atlanta, Georgia, where she reached the third round of singles.

At the end of the year, Kathy was ranked 12th in the south in singles and fifth in doubles.

During all this, Kathy still played for Murray High. She teamed with Mark Smock to capture second place in the doubles at the regional tournament.

At age 12, Kathy was ranked second in the state in singles and number one in doubles. She was still ranked number 12 in the south in singles but moved up to the number two slot in doubles, teaming with Louisville's Laura Ramser. Kathy was the youngest female player to go to the state high school tournament when she teamed with Austin to win the regional doubles. They reached the semifinals at state.

Kathy played her way to the quarter finals of the 12 and under group at the Southern Junior tourney and to the finals of the doubles.

Kathy, who feels that her best shot is her forehand cross-court, is getting ready for another spring season at Murray High, where she played at the number two position for the last two years.

With all this, Kathy still has time for other teenage pursuits.

Kathy was a starter on the Murray Middle School basketball team and is a cheerleader.

At age 13, this young lady has come a long way. Along with other young Murray tennis standouts, Kathy has helped push Louisville aside for some state tennis power.

When Kathy can't get any of her teammates to practice with her, she runs to her mom and dad.

Not because she's spoiled, but because they are good tennis players too.

"Daddy helps me a lot," said Kathy, "He makes me do a lot of drills."

Stan, a junior high football coach at Paris, Tennessee, is not only a tennis player, but a pretty good handball and racquetball player. Stan was recently runner-up in the state Class B Handball tournament.

A physical education instructor at Calloway County High, Sue holds a few championships of her own.

Last year she won the Sikeston Open singles and teamed with, who else, daughter Kathy, to win the doubles title.

She is also the current Murray city singles champ and teaming with Lanette Underwood Hunt, holds the doubles title also.

Stan summed up his family's ability by quipping, "It won't be long before I'm the worst player in the family."

Racer Track Team Is Second In Triangular

Host Arkansas State easily won a triangular track meet Wednesday-afternoon-rolling up 98 points while Murray State was second with 57 and Arkansas-Pine Bluff third with 26.

Murray had only one win in the field events. Patmore Chatham won the triple jump with an effort of 48-5 while Kevin Caines was fourth with 47-4.

Cecil Wolberton got two places, taking a second in the discus with a 119-4 1/2 while throwing the shot 31-6 for a third place.

In the long jump, Chatham's 23-6 was good for a third place while Norman deCausin's 13-6 took fourth in the pole vault.

Martyn Brewer, a sophomore Englishman, set a new stadium record by winning the mile in 4:11.7, a brilliant time considering the extremely windy conditions.

In second place was sophomore Englishman Brian Rutter with a 4:13.1.

Tom Potter placed in both of the hurdling events, taking second in the 120-high hurdles with a 15.8 and fourth in the 440-intermediates with a 58.4.

Cuthbert Jacobs set a new stadium record by winning the 220-yard dash with a 21.7 while Stanford Patrick was second with 22.2 and Jimmy Jackson fourth in 23.0.

In the 100-yard dash, Jacobs was second with a 9.8 against a strong wind while Patrick was third with a 10.0.

Lester Flax took fourth in the 440-yard dash with a 49.7. In the 880, Dennis Mabbitt was second with a 1:54.0.

Rutter set a new stadium record by winning the three-mile run in 13:57.2 while freshman Ralph Cheek was second with a 14:27.3.

Murray won the mile relay in 3:18.1. Legs were: Sylvester Onyekwe 48.8, Norman Simms 51.2, Flax 50.4 and Jacobs 48.7.

The Racers will be entertaining some of the top talent in the nation Saturday at Stewart Stadium when SIU-Carbondale and Western Kentucky are here for a triangular meet.

Field events are set to begin at 1:30 and track events at 2 p.m. There will be no admission.

THREE RICH RACES
YONKERS, N.Y. (AP) — Harness racing's big Yonkers events — the Yonkers Trot, Cane Pace and International Pace — will carry a total value of $500,000.

Both the Yonkers and Cane tests will be worth $200,000 and the International $100,000. The Yonkers Trot is set for July 31 and the Cane Pace on Aug. 21.

Kathy went on that summer to win the state 10 and under singles and doubles championship.

Jim Calvin To Appear At Coaching Clinic

Murray State assistant basketball coach Jim Calvin will be one of the key speakers at the Medalist World of Basketball Clinics which will be held April 9-11 in Grand Rapids, Mich.

Calvin will be giving a demonstration on shooting. Coaches appearing at the clinic include former UCLA coach John Wooden, Dean Smith of North Carolina and the United States Olympic Coach, Dick Motta of the Chicago Bulls, Al McQuire of Marquette, Eldon Miller of Ohio State, Jim Dutcher of Minnesota and Bobby Knight of Indiana.

High school coaches on the agenda include Ernie Kivisto of East Aurora, Ill., Bob Shoemaker of St. Andrews High School in Detroit and Morgan Wooten of DeMatha High School in Hyattsville, Md.

Calvin has made his shooting presentation at such camps as the Willis Reed Camp, the Gail Goodrich and Jerry West Camp, the Walt Frazier Camp and the Johnny Wooden Camp.

For two years, Calvin served as the shooting instructor for the Milwaukee Bucks.

Calvin has made over 200 appearances at camps and clinics across the nation.

Spurs Defeat Nuggets And Colonels Get Win

By The Associated Press

It's all over but the shouting in the American Basketball Association.

The San Antonio Spurs clinched at least a tie for third place with a 117-110 victory over the league-leading Denver Nuggets Wednesday night but the Kentucky Colonels still can catch up after defeating the Virginia Squires 111-103.

In the only other contest, the fifth-place Indiana Pacers, bottom team in the playoffs, beat the second-place New York Nets 116-106.

George Gervin scored 24 points, including six in the final three minutes, to spark San Antonio over Denver. Billy Paultz added 22 points, Larry Kenon 21 and James Silas 20 as the Spurs extended their winning streak to five games. Denver was led by Ralph Simpson with 23 and David Thompson with 22.

San Antonio held a 104-90 lead with eight minutes remaining, but Chuck Williams and Simpson ignited a Denver rally that cut the lead to 113-110 before Gervin scored the final four points.

Colonels 111, Squires 103. Artis Gilmore scored 26 points and Maurice Lucas added 25 for Kentucky, including a club-record 21 in the third period. The Colonels, who led 49-46 at halftime, outscored Virginia 38-29 in the third period as Lucas broke the team mark of 19 points set by Dan Issel. Mike Green led Virginia with 21 points while Ticky Burden and Swen Nater had 20 apiece.

Pacers 116, Nets 106. Indiana's Billy Knight scored 32 points, including a Help is for the Asking... We're Asking...

When you're very young... castles are for the asking. All you need is the sand and the spot. And a little encouragement.

When you're very young and you have cystic fibrosis, like Suzanne does, help is for the asking. Equipment to help you breathe. Medication to help you digest food and fight infection. Education to aid your family and doctor to help you live. And — help to hope, from people dedicated to conquering this yet-incurable disease.

And so — we're asking. For Suzanne, and all the children with C/F, and other lung-damaging diseases. Asking for you — for your help.

Please, don't wait — volunteer today. Time is short for sand castles, and the children with C/F who build them.

TEERING OFF—Terry Brown takes a big cut and drills the ball on the ground and on down the line for a baserun in the opening game of Wednesday's twinbill victory over the Sioux of North Dakota.

Jack Givens Gets With Kids For Question-Answer Series

Associated Press Writer
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Kids ask the darndest questions when they get a basketball star cornered behind a banquet table.

Jack Givens, the leading scorer on Kentucky's National Invitation Basketball Tournament champions, was the speaker Wednesday night at the St. Paul Elementary School basketball banquet and threw himself open to questions from the kids.

His finesse verbally was as good or better than his finesse on the court.

Question: "Do you ever fight with referees?"

Answer: "No, you don't ever do that. They have all the power and they win all the fights."

Q: "What zodiac sign were you born under?"

A: "I'm Virgo. I was born on Sept. 21 and just made it."

Q: "What is your favorite TV show?"

A: "I like all kinds of TV shows. I like 'The Three Stooges' in the afternoon but I don't get to see them much during the season."

Q: "Does Coach (Joe) Hall get on you a lot?"

A: "I'm not going to answer that because if Coach Hall hears about it, I might not get to play."

Q: "Do you think the Kentucky team could beat the University of Louisville?"

A: "Louisville had a good team and it would have been a good game, but I think there's a pretty good chance we would have beaten them."

Q: "Do you think Kentucky could beat Indiana?"

A: "Indiana is the best team in the nation. I don't think any team could beat them — it would take a miracle."

Q: "How tall are you?"

A: "I'm 6-foot-4 and a lot of times I wish I was taller than that."

Q: "Are you the tallest guy in your family (of 10 children)?"

A: "Yes, but I have a brother who's 6-2."

Q: "Can you dunk the ball (which becomes legal next season)?"

A: "On a good day."

Q: "Who's the best player on Kentucky's team?"

A: "I don't think there is a best player. Even if you don't get to play a whole lot, you have to put out in practice and that contributes to the team."

Q: "Why didn't Rick Robey (injured in midseason) get to play in the final game of the NIT?"

A: "We almost had to go to Rick when some of us got into foul trouble and he was hoping we would, but his leg was just getting together and the coaches knew it was better to leave him on the bench and save him for next year."

Then Givens called on a chubby little girl who had been waving her hand for 20 minutes. Certainly, it must have been an important question, but at that instant she covered her face.

"She forgot what it was."

Dunks In College Ball To Be Legal Next Year

By BEN THOMAS
AP Sports Writer

"The dunk is the most exciting play in college basketball," said Michigan's

Hearing Set

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — A preliminary hearing was scheduled April 14 for Wichita State basketball star Robert Elmore and another athlete accused of burglary.

Elmore and Rocky Garza, a Wichita State football player, were charged last week with breaking a liquor store window with a trash barrel and taking a case of beer.

The two athletes, both 21, are scheduled to appear April 14 in Sedgwick County Court of Common Pleas on charges of burglary, theft and felonious destruction of property. They remain free on $1,000 bond each.

Elmore, the Shockers' 6-foot-10 center, was an all-Missouri Valley Conference selection this year. Garza, a defensive back, was named last year to the all-conference second team.

Johnny Orr, the sport's coach of the year, in acclaiming the restoration of the stuff shot.

The National Basketball Rules Committee, which governs all amateur basketball in the United States and Canada, voted Wednesday in Philadelphia to allow dunking during games of the 1976-77 season.

"If it wasn't good, the pros would have outlawed it and they haven't done that," added Orr, whose Wolverines lost 86-68 to Indiana in college basketball's national title game earlier this week.

"I think that's great," said Robert Parish, Centenary College's 7-foot-1 center who'll be a senior next season.

"When I'm close now, I'll just dunk it instead of laying it in. It's no easier, but you make certain it's in."

It had been outlawed for a decade for the colleges, junior colleges, high schools and YMCA leagues.

The rulemakers also decided that henceforth two free throws, instead of one, will be awarded when a coach is assessed a technical foul for his conduct from the bench.

"You're talking about a fivepoint play," said Randy Albrecht, St. Louis University coach, adding that this change could be more significant than the return of the stuff shot.

The dunk was outlawed in part to keep the big men from dominating the game in the 1960s.

But Dr. Clifford Fagan, secretary of the 23-member rules committee which wound up its two-day annual meeting on Wednesday in Philadelphia, recalled that "the practice and use of dunking sometimes pulls down baskets, bends rims and damages backboards."

With that in mind, the new rules say the dunk will be legal only during games. A technical will be called on any player who makes a stuff during pregame warmups or intermissions.

The vote for the dunk was large, but Fagan, from Elgin, Ill., didn't disclose how many of the 23 rules committee members favored it.

In another action, the rules committee voted that time be extended to rectify correctable errors in officiating. The extension of time will come when the ball is put back into play after the error.

Dr. Fagan said the extra time will mean the clock will be justified when a mistake is made.

Fight On Tube

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — A nationally televised fight for the World Boxing Association's lightweight championship has been rescheduled from May 9 to May 23.

Roberto Duran will defend his crown against Erie native Lou Bazzaro in the match, which will be broadcast live from the Erie County Field House by the CBS network.

Promoter Lou Porreco said the switch was made Wednesday at the request of the network to avoid a conflict with broadcasts of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

Rice, Durham Both Hurl Shutout Gems For 'Breds

By MIKE BRANDON
Ledger & Times Sports Editor

Little did Andy Rice and Scott Durham know it but they made history Wednesday afternoon at Reagan Field.

Rice, a freshman from Evansville Memorial High School, handcuffed North Dakota on four hits in the first game of a twinbill as he hurled Murray State to a 6-0 victory.

Then in the nightcap, sophomore righthander Scott Durham of Mount Vernon, Ind., scattered six hits as the 'Breds completed the sweep of a twinbill by winning 7-0.

Last year, Murray defeated North Dakota 4-0 and Rutgers 5-0 on the same day as Greg Cruse and Glen Petersen threw shutouts. Wednesday marked the 10th time in the history of Murray State baseball that 'Bred pitchers have hurled back-to-back shutouts.

The two shutouts plus a scoreless inning pitched by Petersen Tuesday gives the 'Breds a string of 15 consecutive scoreless innings. The record was set in 1963 when Murray's pitching compiled 24 consecutive shutout frames.

Rice, a southpaw, was superb on the hill as he fanned nine men while walking only one. He got all the help he needed in the first inning when the 'Breds erupted for five runs.

With one man out in the first, Jack Perconte reached on a single and on a pickoff attempt, wound up on third base. John Siemanowski singled to score the first run of the game then Don Walker doubled to put runners on at second and third.

Catcher Gene Steuber doubled to send in two more runs, giving Murray a 3-0 lead. Murray added two more runs in the inning, both unearned.

Steuber had three hits in the contest while Perconte had two.

Durham was in trouble only once in the second game and pitched himself out of it. He recorded five strikeouts while walking three.

Again, five was the magic number as the 'Breds erupted for five runs in the second.

With one out, Steuber singled, Robin Courtney singled, Stan Geisler walked and then Mike Cathey was hit by a pitch to drive in the first run of the contest.

With two out, David Hughes stepped to the plate and promptly smashed a low line drive over the fence in rightcenter for his second grand slam homerun of the season. That gave the 'Breds a 5-0 lead.

In the sixth, Geisler doubled and Bill Wagoner put one over the fence in left for his first collegiate four-bagger.

Hughes and Perconte each had two hits to pace the eight-hit attack of the 'Breds.

With the wins, Murray's latest winning streak stands at seven games. On the season, the 'Breds boost an 18-5 mark, having won 17 of their last 19 contests.

Murray will again play North Dakota a twinbill today with Mark Riggins hurling the first contest and Kim Burns the second. Friday, the 'Breds will play Purdue and North Dakota before traveling to Bowling Green Saturday for a conference doubleheader with Western Kentucky.

Nolan Ryan Appears To Be In Mid-Season Form For Angels

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
AP Sports Writer

Nolan Ryan is in midseason form. The question is... which season?

Is it midseason 1972-3-4, when Ryan posted 62 victories with an earned run average under 3.00 and more than 300 strikeouts each year?

Or is it midseason 1975, when injuries dropped him from a 10-3 start, including a record-tying fourth no-hitter against Baltimore, to a 14-12 log, a 3.45 ERA and "only" 186 strikeouts in 198 innings?

"That's as good as I threw all last year, including the no-hitter," Ryan said after allowing one run — Willie McCovey's homer — and striking out 10 in five innings as the California Angels won a 3-1 exhibition victory over the San Diego Padres Wednesday.

The 29-year-old right-hander had to be pleased with his control Wednesday. In his major league career, Ryan has walked 997 batters in 1,141 innings but this time he threw 72 pitches and 51 of them were strikes. He struck out the side in the first inning, mowed down two apiece in the second and third and fanned the side again in the fifth.

Terry Forster of the Chicago White Sox, who also missed much of 1975 with elbow miseries, allowed two runs and three hits in four innings in a 4-2 victory over Pittsburgh in the first game of a doubleheader. The Pirates took the nightcap 3-0 behind John Candelaria, Ramon Hernandez and Odell Jones.

Burt Hooton of Los Angeles was in midseason form, allowing five singles in seven shutout innings as the Dodgers whipped the Cincinnati Reds 6-1.

Hank Aaron, baseball's all-time home run king, made his spring debut. He singled, walked and reached on an error — as the Milwaukee Brewers beat the San Francisco Giants 4-2 in 12 innings.

Rick Monday hit two homers, a double and a bunt single, leading the Chicago Cubs over Oakland 7-2 despite a pair of homers by Reggie Jackson of the A's.

The St. Louis Cardinals raked Catfish Hunter for all their runs and nine hits in five innings, including a three-run homer by Keith Hernandez, and downed the New York Yankees 6-2.

The Texas Rangers dropped a pair of one-run 11-inning decisions. Minnesota's Larry Hisle singled, stole second and scored on Steve Braun's single as the Twins beat Texas 4-3. Meanwhile, Atlanta's Blue Moon Odom, Roger Moret, Max Leon and Ricky Camp held another band of Rangers to four hits and won 1-0 on three walks and an error.

Juhn Vukovich's bases-loaded double capped a four-run seventh inning as the Philadelphia Phillies handed the winless New York Mets their eighth setback. Larry Milbourne's single drove in a 10th-inning run and gave the Houston Astros a 3-2 decision over the Montreal Expos.

Al Cowens' two-run homer off Jim Palmer helped the Kansas City Royals hand the Baltimore Orioles their fifth straight loss 3-2 and Dwight Evans drove in four runs and Carl Yastrzemski three to lead the Boston Red Sox to a 13-4 drubbing of the Detroit Tigers.

Former Louisville Attorney Relates Horrors Of Imprisonment In Spain

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A Kentucky lawyer says he's relieved to be "home" in jail in Louisville.

"By comparison this is a hotel... just the lack of physical beatings is great," said James F. Donoghoe Jr., who spent more than three years behind bars in Spain. He returned earlier this month with horror tales of torture by guards and indifference on the part of the American Embassy.

Donoghoe was a respected lawyer in Louisville, accustomed to a $95,000 home and expensive cars until he was indicted by a Jefferson County grand jury in 1972. The lawyer, accused of cheating some clients out of about $500,000, became a fugitive.

He left the United States and three months later, on Dec. 14, 1972, he was arrested in Madrid, Spain, and accused of passing three bad checks and using a false passport.

Donoghoe says that between his arrest and his return to Louisville, where he awaits trial May 3 on three counts of forgery and two of conversion, he was reduced to the level of an animal—relying on instinct to survive.

Donoghoe was interviewed at the Louisville city jail by a Louisville Times reporter, and the paper published his account in a copyrighted story Tuesday.

He said that when he was arrested in 1972 he was taken to a prison in Madrid and led to a basement cell.

"There, I was told I was wanted for extradition back to the United States," he said. "Everything was pushing, shoving, slapping. But at this point it was minor... it hadn't gotten really brutal."

"They took me to an interrogation cell," he said. "I was stripped naked. They were very big on making people stand around naked."

Donoghoe said he was told to stand on a chair while his hands were handcuffed over an overhead pipe, then the chair was taken away.

"They first came in and just left me dangling there for about 30 minutes. And then came in a squad of about 10 people," he said.

"Some of them were taking notes and three or four of them were just sitting around laughing. The first fellow came up and said, 'All right, we want you to tell us everything you've done since you left the United States.'"

"I said, 'Well, where do you want me to start?' Bang! I got hit in the mouth for that."

Donoghoe said it took him at least an hour to convince his captors he didn't speak or understand Spanish. He yelled for a lawyer or a U.S. Embassy representative.

"They started beating me everywhere with rubber mallets," he said. "Knees, the bottom of my feet. I was cut, bleeding, both eyes were black. They walk behind you and start beating you in the kidneys."

"After that started—and believe me, I was cooperative, I just didn't know what they wanted me to say—they got out the electricity."

Donoghoe said he was doused with water, "partially to revive me" and partly to "make me a beautiful conduit for electricity."

"All of this time I'm hanging, dangling in the air, my shoulder killing me because, I found out later, it had pulled out of the socket."

"Then they take the electric business—and the first one doesn't hurt. I mean, it hurts just because of the pincers on it. But it's the second one when you get the shock and they started moving the second one around."

"I don't know how to adequately describe how bad that was. I passed out..."

He said this treatment continued for days, and that he never knew what his interrogators were talking about or what they wanted him to say. He said they also burned him with cigarettes.

At times he was allowed to sleep in a cell 5 feet by 3 feet. "I'm 6'2" and I had to sleep in sort of a fetus position... there was no mattress, no nothing, just a concrete floor" he said.

Donoghoe said he once saw guards beat a pregnant girl who was hanging by her wrists from the pipe so severely that a miscarriage resulted.

After the fifth day, Donoghoe said, he was arraigned, without counsel or an interpreter.

"That night, a fellow from the embassy finally showed up," he said. "He was cocky and arrogant... tall, immaculate, very elegant looking."

"And I was a disaster. He looked at me and said, 'Well, it looks like you're having fun.' I started relating to him all I had just been through, which I'm sure was self-evident. All he had to do was look at me."

"So he just shakes his head and laughs and says, 'Well, I can't approve of their brutal methods, but you have to admit, they were effective.' I said, 'Go—yourself.'"

"He said, 'Well, you're not going to get any help from us, anyway,' and he left, and that was the end of him... nothing from the American Embassy."

"And not just for Jim Donoghoe—there were other Americans that staggered through there and they had the same treatment," Donoghoe said.

After about eight days, Donoghoe was transferred to Carabanchel prison, just outside Madrid. There, he said, survival was a matter of learning the language, finding out which guards and prisoners posed the most serious threats, and maintaining his status with at least one fight a week with a fellow prisoner.

Donoghoe's Louisville attorney, David Heavrin, said the prisoner was not charged until March 15, 1973. At that time he was charged with writing three bad checks and nonpayment of a hotel bill.

On May 19, he stood trial for extradition to the U.S. to face the Jefferson County charges. Extradition was granted, but Donoghoe had to await trial on the Spanish charges, which took precedence. That trial didn't come until 14 months later.

He was convicted and sentenced to nine years and a day in prison. He appealed to the Spanish Supreme Court. On Feb. 10, 1976, the high court overturned his case and declared him free. He was then extradited to Kentucky.

Donoghoe said one of the best things about being back, though he is still imprisoned, "is this interview. The idea that I can say what's on my mind is unthinkable there."

E. R. Harper, former minister of the South Fifth and Highland Church of Christ, Abilene, Texas, and radio speaker on the Herald Of Truth program, will be the speaker in a series of meetings at the Hickory Grove Church of Christ, on Friday, Saturday, and Sunday, April 2-4. Services will be at 7:30 p.m. each day and also at 10:50 a.m. Sunday. The public is invited, a church spokesman said.

Morton--New Office, New Title But Job Still Remains The Same

By WALTER R. MEARS
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rogers C.B. Morton takes a new title and moves four blocks to a new office Friday, but his job is the same: trying to help President Ford win a full term in the White House.

His appointment to succeed Howard H. Callaway as manager of the Ford campaign is not expected to bring major changes to the President's political operation.

And Morton's role at Ford headquarters is not likely to be much different from his job as top political aide at the White House.

Within hours after his appointment was announced Tuesday, Morton was in Richmond, Va., conferring with about 40 Ford allies on fundraising and delegates in the race with Republican challenger Ronald Reagan.

Morton, 61, a former Maryland congressman and GOP national chairman, served as interior secretary and Commerce secretary, left the government briefly, then became a counselor to the President.

An aide said Morton as campaign manager will serve as spokesman, speechmaker and contact man, while deputy manager Stuart Spencer takes care of the tactical political questions. Morton also will be the administrative chief at Ford headquarters.

But the real change is not in the new name on the campaign door. It is the removal of the old one, with Callaway's acknowledgement that controversy surrounding him had become a potential political problem.

As he resigned from the $42,500-a-year job, Callaway declared he had done nothing wrong and would be exonerated in government probes of his role in seeking expansion of a Colorado ski resort he owns.

Callaway, who left the campaign March 13 under a suspension he requested, said he resigned when told that the Justice Department would not conclude its inquiry for at least a week and possibly two.

"There was no hint of any impropriety they found. There is none," Callaway said in an interview. "I don't blame them for taking the attitude after Watergate that we've got to investigate everything thoroughly, we can't have a whitewash."

But he said the FBI and the Justice Department could have speeded their inquiry and come up with findings more quickly. "I'm confident there will be a complete exoneration," he said.

The inquiry stems from Callaway's acknowledged role, while secretary of the Army, in seeking reversal of recommendations against expansion of his Crested Butte, Colo., ski area, which is on government land.

No final decision has been made, but the U.S. Forest Service did recommend in December that the expansion be approved.

Callaway said he did not exert pressure and there was no conflict of interest. "Those charges have been proved to be totally, patently false," he said. "There is zero merit in those charges.... There's nothing but innuendos."

Ford announced the resignation and Morton's appointment on Tuesday, with the two men at his side. Ford said he was saddened because he is confident the allegations against Callaway will be proven groundless.

100th Army Reserve To Hold Training At Murray State

Members of the Hopkinville battalion of the 100th Army Reserve Division will conduct a one-day training exercise April 9 at Ft. Campbell for approximately 90 ROTC cadets from Murray State University.

The exercise will mark the fifth consecutive year the Reservists have conducted training for the cadets at Ft. Campbell. The first three years the training consisted of rifle marksmanship, orienteering, night compass course training, and instruction with the protective mask.

However, last year and this year the day's training will be limited to familiarization and record firing with the M-16 rifle and touring the Kentucky military base, according to Capt. Dave Carr of the MSU Military Science Department.

Carr added that the cadets participating will consist of freshmen, sophomores, and seniors. The seniors will spend part of the day with lieutenants at the Army post that have the same branch to become familiar with their jobs.

Aubrey Morris, first sergeant of Princeton's C Company and civilian technician for the battalion, said that representatives of the four letter companies in the battalion would be responsible for running the ranges and conducting the training.

Company B, commanded by Capt. Ron Scruggs, and Company C, commanded by Capt. Ken Litchfield, will be in charge of the "zero" range where the weapons and sights are adjusted. The record fire range will be operated by Company D, commanded by Capt. C.W. Loftus, and Company E, commanded by 1st Lt. Steve Tawlow.

The host Ft. Campbell unit for the training exercise will be the Second Battalion, 503 Infantry.

BUTTERFLIES MIGRATE — PACIFIC GROVE, Calif. (AP) — In this Northern California town it's against the law to harm butterflies.

During the winter this coastal community is host to millions of monarch butterflies which migrate annually. The arrival of the monarchs attracts as much attention as that of the swallows which arrive at San Juan Capistrano on a certain day each year.

The Sacramento River is one of California's most important king salmon producers.

When Lassen Peak in California erupted in 1915, the resulting mudflow shoved 20-ton boulders five miles down the nearby valleys.

Kendall Found Innocent Tuesday

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Lawrence Kendall of suburban Valley Station, Ky., was found innocent Tuesday by a U.S. District Court jury of assault charges in connection with an eye injury suffered by a Louisville policeman during an antibusing disturbance last Sept. 5.

Kendall was charged with using a slingshot to fire a lead weight at policeman Michael Doughty. The weight struck Doughty in the left eye and he eventually lost the eye.

Kendall was tried on similar charges last October, but a jury was unable to agree on a verdict and a second trial was ordered.

Three prosecution witnesses testified that they had seen Kendall firing projectiles with a slingshot and two others said they saw Doughty injured.

Kendall said he was handed a slingshot by a boy in the crowd, handled it without firing it for a few minutes, and handed it back to the youth.

Reagan Continues Offensive Against Foreign Policy

By The Associated Press
Ronald Reagan has continued his offensive against the Ford administration's foreign policy, declaring it has left the nation dangerously inferior in military strength, wandering the world "without aim."

"The evidence mounts that we are No. 2 in a world where it is dangerous, if not fatal, to be second best," the former California governor — Ford's challenger for the Republican presidential nomination — said in a nationally televised speech Wednesday night.

Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger was a particular target. Reagan quoted Kissinger as saying his job as secretary is to negotiate for an acceptable second place position for the United States — a quotation Kissinger's top aide called false and "totally irresponsible."

As Reagan took to the airwaves with his message, candidates for the Democratic nomination were on the stump, preparing for primary elections next Tuesday in New York and Wisconsin.

Four of them, former Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter, Washington Sen. Henry M. Jackson, Arizona Rep. Morris K. Udall and ex-Oklahoma

Sen. Fred Harris, were due at a Manhattan hotel early today for a Democratic mayors' forum.

Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democrats' presidential candidate in 1968 — who hasn't entered the race this year but has said he would accept a draft — was expected to be at the municipal meeting, too.

Jackson was in New York City Wednesday, looking for votes from various groups. He visited a hospital in Harlem, met with a group of Puerto Ricans and conferred with representatives of the Communications Workers of America.

From New Haven there were reports Connecticut Gov. Ella Grasso will endorse Jackson on Friday. The Connecticut Public Information Network said it learned of her plans from several sources the radio news service did not identify.

Udall, meanwhile, spent Wednesday in upstate New York, and Carter planned to go there today, after the mayors' meeting. Udall was due in Wisconsin before week's end.

Reagan, who won his first GOP primary in North Carolina last week, canceled his campaign schedule to make the national address. He concentrated on foreign policy and national defense.

"Now we must ask if someone is giving away our own freedom," Reagan said. "Dr. Kissinger is quoted as saying that he thinks of the United States as Athens and the Soviet Union as Sparta. The day of the U.S. is past and today is the day of the Soviet Union." And he added, "... My job as secretary of state is to negotiate the most acceptable second-best position available." Reagan didn't cite his source for the quotation, but a campaign spokesman said it came from Elmo Zumwalt, the former chief of Naval operations who is running for the Senate in Virginia. Kissinger's top aide, Lawrence Eagleburger, said of the quotation: "He did not say that. It is pure invention and totally irresponsible."

State Board Of Elections Puts 16 Demo Candidates In Primary

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — The state Board of Elections has obligingly put 18 Democrats on Kentucky's May 25 presidential primary ballot.

In a five-minute session Wednesday, it also put President Ford and Ronald Reagan on the GOP primary ballot.

And the three-member board accepted the candidacies by petition of seven minor parties. They will appear on the November general election ballot.

Among Democrats nominated for the state's first presidential primary were California Gov. Edmund (Jerry) Brown, West Virginia Sen. Robert Byrd and former Vice President Hubert Humphrey.

Altogether the Democratic list contains perhaps half who either have stopped campaigning actively or completely.

But except for Sargent Shriver, who sent a request and affidavit to stay off the ballot, the board was inviting anyone generally advocated or nationally recognized as a contender.

Raymond Bossmeyer of Louisville, a Democratic board member, said "people have been me up" about Brown, regarded as a dark horse shot.

It's enough that Byrd "said he is running" and Humphrey is widely recognized, Bossmeyer said.

Other Democrats nominated were Birch Bayh, Lloyd Bentsen, Jimmy Carter, Frank Church, Fred Harris, Henry Jackson, Terry Sanford, Milton Shapp, Morris Udall, George Wallace and Ellen McCormack, who is running on an anti-abortion platform and had a petition with 1,000 signatures ready.

Democrat H.R.H. Fifi C.T. Rockefeller of Covington and Republican Tommy Klein of Louisville filed as presidential candidates late Wednesday.

In addition, former Sen.

Baker Is Last To File Against Mazzoli

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Another Democratic opponent beat the deadline Wednesday night and will oppose Congressman Romano Mazzoli for the 3rd District seat in the May 25 primaries.

The last to file was Philip Baker of Shively, who has run several times before. Mazzoli also faces primary opposition from James Lawrence and William Gibbs, both of Louisville.

Running unopposed in the primary are Democrat Carroll Hubbard in the 1st, Democrat William Natcher in the 2nd and Republican Gene Snyder in the 4th.

On the Republican slate are Mrs. Shirley Murray and Deniz Ramsey, both of Louisville. The American Party candidate is William Chambers of Louisville.

In the 1st District, Arthur McLaughlin of Sacramento and Bob Bersky of Sturgis are fighting for the GOP nod.

In the 2nd, state Sen. Walter Baker of Glasgow has filed and has no opposition.

In the 4th District, Edward Winterberg of Covington is the only Democrat listed against Snyder.

Incumbent Republican Tim Lee Carter has two foes in the 5th District — Elmer Begley Jr. of Hyden and Thurman Hamlin of London.

The four Democrats include Charles Smith of Williamsburg, Lyle Willis of Corbin, Jesse Ramsey of Waynesburg and Nick Augusta of Cumberland. Democratic incumbent John Breckinridge is opposed by Victor Privett in the 6th District and no Republican has filed, though, the American Party has a candidate — Anthony McCord of Lexington.

In the 7th District, Democratic incumbent Carl Perkins faces opposition from Ray Atkins of Whitesburg and Granville Thomas — is alone among Republican candidates.

One Supreme Court justice post is at stake, and incumbent Scott Reed of Lexington is the only candidate in any party up to now.

New Jersey Supreme Court Rules To Allow Karen Quinlan To Die

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — This is the decision we have been praying for," said Julia Quinlan after learning her 22-year-old, comatose daughter may be allowed to begin the natural process of dying.

The New Jersey Supreme Court ruled Wednesday the mechanical respirator keeping Karen Anne Quinlan alive for nearly a year in a "vegetative state" could be removed if doctors agree her condition is hopeless.

In a 7 to 0 decision, the court appointed Joseph Quinlan legal guardian of his daughter and said he could let her die if competent medical authorities decide the girl's condition is irreversible and that there is no reasonable possibility of her recovery.

She has been in a coma at St. Clare's Hospital in nearby Denville since April 15, 1975, after apparently ingesting alcohol and tranquilizers.

The state attorney general's office said there would be no immediate decision on whether to take the case to the U.S. Supreme Court, the only avenue of appeal. The Quinlans said they would give the state time to consider an appeal before asking to have the respirator disconnected.

"We hope at the last minute the Lord will take her and we won't have to remove her from her respirator," the girl's father said.

But, he added, they will order the life support treatment stopped if left with that decision.

The Quinlans, flanked by three Roman Catholic priests at their parish church in Mount Arlington, sat calmly and faced a room full of reporters on Wednesday night. They discussed the court's decision that their daughter and others who are beyond medical restoration have a right to die, based on the constitutional protection of personal privacy.

Two days earlier, they had observed their daughter's 22nd birthday at a private Mass.

"There is no hope and there hasn't been any," said Mrs. Quinlan, who told reporters she wept when the family lawyer, Paul Armstrong, telephoned from Trenton to tell them of the decision.

"I feel this responsibility has been put on us by God. We have to act on it. Once we made our decision, we never had any doubt," Quinlan said.

The Quinlans said their daughter's condition has not changed since last October, when one doctor said she was in "a persistent vegetative state."

State Atty. Gen. William F. Hyland said he has never opposed appointment of Quinlan as his daughter's guardian "as long as there were adequate safeguards imposed by the courts on his powers. I think the decision accomplishes this." Morris County Prosecutor Donald G. Collette, who also opposed the Quinlans, said, "I am freed now from prosecuting people who act with mercy and love in accordance with the Supreme Court's standards."

FRANKFORT, Ky. — It's too early to buy receivers to pick up broadcasts on the state's new weather radio warning system, according to James L. Mathews, director of communications for the state Division of Disaster and Emergency Services.

Mathews made the comment in response to many inquiries about the equipment.

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) can't give us the exact frequencies until April 21," he explained, "and any crystal controlled equipment purchased now might prove useless."

The radio network, which will cover the state from nine transmitters, is scheduled to begin operation May 1 and expand as equipment is installed.

The system will be the first in the nation to offer state-wide coverage and is a result of a two-year effort by Kentucky Sen. Walter D. Hudleston and Gov. Julian Carroll.

When the system is fully operational, state officials hope that every school, hospital, and public building will have a receiver. The low-cost receivers will also be available to the public through commercial vendors.

"As soon as we've got accurate details about the receivers, we'll use every available means to get the information to the public," Mathews said.

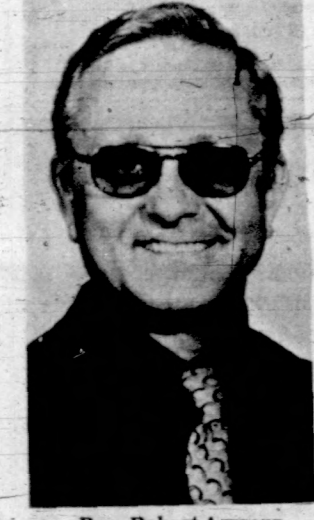

The giant redwood tree, says the National Automobile Club, was originally called Palo Colorado or red tree by the Spaniards of Don Gaspar de Portola's expedition in 1796.

Increases Boost Family Grocery Bill Last Month

By LOUISE COOK Associated Press Writer

Supermarket shoppers who have been enjoying lower prices in the first part of 1976 found during March that the savings were too good to last, an Associated Press marketbasket survey shows.

Increases for a wide range of items boosted the family grocery bill last month, although prices generally were lower than they were at the start of the year.

The AP drew up a random list of 15 commonly purchased food and nonfood items, checked the price in one supermarket in each of 13 cities on March 1, 1973, and has rechecked on or about the start of each succeeding month.

The latest survey showed a few price decreases during March — pork chops declined in eight cities, for example, and eggs in 10. But increases for butter, all-beef frankfurters and coffee offset the savings.

The marketbasket total at the checklist store was up during March in eight of the cities surveyed, increasing an average of 2.8 per cent. The total was down at the checklist store in four cities, decreasing an average 3.2 per cent, and was unchanged at the survey store in the 13th city, Miami.

On an over-all basis, the marketbasket total at the start of April was a little less than 1 per cent higher than it was a month earlier.

During February, in contrast, the marketbasket total declined at the checklist store in 12 cities for an over-all monthly drop of 2.4 per cent.

A comparison of prices now and at the start of the year showed encouraging news. The marketbasket total was down at the checklist store in 12 cities, with an average drop of about 3 per cent. The only increase was at the checklist store in Dallas, where the marketbasket total went up a little less than 1 per cent.

The March increases did not follow a consistent pattern in most cases. Items that were up in one city went down in another, reflecting local sales and specials rather than a general price trend.

Government officials have predicted that food prices will rise about 1 per cent during each of the first two quarters of this year, a smaller increase than in 1975. They are reluctant to forecast what will happen during the rest of 1976 since a lot depends on the size of summer harvests.

The lower pork prices in the latest AP survey reflect lower prices at the farm level. One reason is that the hog supply increased as the cost of feed grain came down. Increased cattle supplies also meant lower beef prices — particularly in the first two months of the year — and competition helped drive down pork prices as well.

The items on the AP checklist were: chopped chuck, center cut pork chops, frozen orange juice concentrate, coffee, paper towels, butter, Grade-A medium white eggs, creamy peanut butter, laundry detergent, fabric softener, tomato sauce, chocolate chip cookies, milk, all-beef frankfurters and granulated sugar.

The cities checked were: Albuquerque, N.M., Atlanta, Boston, Chicago, Dallas, Detroit, Los Angeles, Miami, New York, Philadelphia, Providence, R.I., Salt Lake City and Seattle.

Marcus Welby, 8 Other ABC Shows, Given Funeral Notices

NEW YORK (AP) — Kindly old Dr. Marcus Welby, who helped the ill on TV for seven seasons, has succumbed to a dread disease; Low ratings.

And ABC has canceled his series, along with eight others.

The funeral notices came Wednesday, as ABC became the first of the three networks to announce its new evening program lineup for 1976-77 after enjoying one of its best seasons in the ratings this year.

It said it was putting nine new series in its fall lineup — four situation comedies, two variety shows, an all-woman private eye show, a police show and a lawyer series.

It also said it may renew either "Rich Man, Poor Man" or "Family," two dramatic miniseries that premiered this year, for a full season. It said a decision on which will return next fall is pending.

In addition to canceling "Marcus Welby, M.D.," ABC said it also was dropping "The Rookies" after four seasons on the force.

Also out are "Harry O," in its second season, "S.W.A.T.," which began in February 1974, and three mid-season replacement series, "Superstar," "Aloft Anything Goes" and "Good Heavens."

Two familiar faces from past hit shows on ABC will be returning next season — Robert Stack and Tony Randall.

Stack, the grim-faced leader of "The Untouchables" from 1959 to 1963, is back fighting crime as a big-city homicide detective in "Most Wanted."

Randall, the prissy half of the old "Odd Couple" series, is returning in "The Tony Randall Show," a situation comedy in which he plays a Philadelphia judge constantly bemused by the antics of his family.

Another sitcom costar getting her own ABC series is Nancy Walker, who plays the mother of the title character in CBS' "Rhoda." Next fall, she stars in "The Nancy Walker Show," cast as a talent agent, who is married to a retired Navy officer and is the mother of a married daughter.

ABC's two other new sitcoms are "Hornes and Yoyo," about a cop whose partner is a robot, and "Mr. T. and Tina," about a widowed Japanese businessman who moves to Chicago and, ABC says, "unwittingly hires a scatterbrained girl as governess for his kids."

Farrah Fawcett-Majors, wife of Lee Majors, star of ABC's hit "Six Million Dollar Man," is getting her own ABC series. She'll costar as one of three female private eyes in "Charlie's Angels" next fall.

Despite the failure of CBS' "Kate McShane" and low ratings for NBC's "McNaughton's Daughter," ABC will try again with a new female attorney series called "Feather and Father."

It stars Stefanie Powers as a criminal defense lawyer and Harold Gould as her father, a former confidence man who helps her at work.

Comedian-actor Bill Cosby, whose last variety show on CBS flopped, is trying again for ABC in "The Bill Cosby Show." ABC's second new variety show is "Captain and Tennille," starring the singing duo who recorded the hit, "Love Will Keep Us Together."

Jack R. Doom Will Be Hazel Speaker

The revival meeting will be held at the Hazel Baptist Church April 4-11 with Jack R. Doom, pastor of the Hickory Baptist Church, Hickory, as the evangelist.

Bro. Doom was pastor of New Harmony and New Bethel Baptist churches in Marshall County and First Baptist Church, Arlington, before assuming the pastorate of the Hickory Church. He has served as moderator of the Blood River Baptist association and the West Kentucky Baptist Association. He is a trustee of Mid-Continent Baptist Bible College.

Morning and evening services will be at 10:00 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday and 11:00 a.m. and 7:00 p.m. on Sunday.

Dr. James B. Carlin will direct music with Mrs. Oneida White, pianist, and Mrs. Gwen Key, organist.

James T. Garland, pastor, and the Hazel Baptist Church extend a cordial invitation to the public to attend these services.
