THE LISTENING POST

● I never saw the day after Christmas quite like the one this year. True, it was Saturday and a crowd was due to be in town on Saturday, but after watching the final week of Christmas buying which swept the town last week, including Christmas Eve night, I had the idea that Saturday would be a very quiet day in Fulton. It seemed that certainly everybody had bought all there was to buy, and my guess was that about the only trading would be exchanging merchandise that did not fit or did not suit. There is always a lot of that on the day after Christmas, I know.

● But Saturday after Christmas, or so seemed to me, was a day of intense and surging crowds, and while I did not ask any merchants whether they had business or merely turnbacks, I know that these stores were packed with men and women. It seemed a bigger day from the crowd angle than even Christmas Eve, and all Saturday afternoon the town was packed with people. It left me a bit dazed, for I had expected the day to be one of the quietest Saturdays of the year.

● Another thing which puzzles me is the size of automobile traffic. I thought when rationing first started its full effect would not be felt for the first week or so on Saturdays, because I had an idea a majority of car owners filled up their tanks before rationing started. That kept the cars rolling for a while, but now, after a month, they are still rolling. I know I do not drive a great deal, as compared to former days, but my full tank finally played out on Christmas Day and I had to use a couple of ration tickets. Believing myself to be driving less than average, having driven only 45 miles per week since rationing, I believe that many people are now pretty well along on their ration books—yet the cars still pile into town and it is difficult to believe that rationing is going on. In some ways I see a difference, however. I believe people in town are walking more. For example, I came to the office shortly after nine o'clock. As I turned into the head of Main Street, it was amazing to notice that not an automobile was in sight on the entire street. No car was moving, and no car was parked on the street. True, it was Christmas morning and most of the business houses were closed for the day, but so far as I can remember, I had not seen the entire street cleared of automobiles since they came into general use. Perhaps such a sight has been seen at some time in recent years, but I have no recollection of it. Over on Lake Street only a few cars were parked, and few were moving, but on Main there was not one in sight. One or two were parked on the side streets leading into Main, but for three blocks on the street not a car was to be seen.

● Yet on Saturdays there seems no shortage of automobiles. Perhaps people have not yet realized that four gallons of gas per week will not carry a car far, perhaps there more drivers who deserve more than an A card than I suspected in any event, gas rationing has not yet reduced Saturday

Point Plan, As Used In England, Is Adopted For System

PRODUCTION STARTS ON SECRET TYPE OF MOBILE WEAPON

Detroit.—Production of a new, still secret mobile weapon was disclosed with Army approval today by the Cadillac division of General Motors Corporation.

Cadillac engineers and production men have been working with the Ordnance Department's tank-automotive center to design and perfect the weapon.

Nicholas Dreystadt, president of Cadillac, delivered the first production model today to Brig. Gen. A. R. Glancy, assistant chief of ordnance in charge of the tank-automotive center, and Brig. Gen. John K. Christmas, assistant chief of the center.

E. S. WILLIAMS DIES SUNDAY AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Erasmus Sylvester Williams, 96, year old retired Graves county farmer, passed away yesterday afternoon at his home in the Bennett School vicinity, following a long illness. Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Hornbeak Funeral Home conducted by the Rev. B. J. Russell and the Rev. T. L. Peerey. Burial by Hornbeak will be in the mausoleum at Fairview cemetery.

He is survived by four children, Miss Clara Williams, Mrs. W. P. Pruett, Miss Irene Williams and George Williams.

REVIVAL AT THE CHURCH OF THE NAZARENE

The sermon delivered last night by Evangelist Rutherford was based on the episode of Moses recorded in the 21st. chapters of Numbers, where he made a brazen serpent, placed it on a pole so all who had been bitten could look and be healed. So, in John 3-14 our salvation today is covered by lifting up the "son of man," Jesus Christ, "that whosoever believeth in him should not perish but have eternal life." There is no need of any one continuing in sin. "Look and Live." Services will continue every evening this week beginning at 7:30. COME.

Compressed Air Gun Fires 12,000 Bullets In 60 Seconds

Los Angeles.—Inventor W. M. Hale displayed here a new gun fired with compressed air contained in a cylinder on the underside. There is no powder, no flash, no noise and no recoil.

Where the Nazis boast their newest weapon will fire 3,000 rounds a minute, Hale declares his weapon will pour forth 12,000 rounds in sixty seconds. It fires the equipment of a .50-caliber bullet.

The Dix Manufacturing Company, of which Hale is chief engineer, produced the weapon. The exact process is secret.

With no powder used, the bullets require no shell casings. Poured into a hopper, the bullets are forced into the firing chamber by vacuum.

The weapon weighs less than 300 pounds, and one man operates it.

Richard W. Adair, company president, said the gun was exhibited to Army, Navy and Marine Corps officers.

Treasury To Start Minting Steel Pennies On February 1

Washington.—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau issued an order today adding the traditional copper penny to the list of war casualties and authorizing coinage of a substitute of zinc-coated steel.

The order was issued under legislation recently signed by the President authorizing changes in the composition of the penny in order to save copper, a critical war material.

Mrs. Nellie Taylor Ross, director of the mint, said the production of the present penny, which contains about 95 per cent copper, would be discontinued on January 1 and minting of the new coin would begin by February 1.

The new penny will have a blue-grey cast which will tend to become dark with circulation and will weigh slightly less than the copper penny—41.5 grains compared with 48 grains. The steel penny will be of the same size and design as the copper penny which has been minted since 1909.

FULTON COUNTRY CLUB CLUBHOUSE DESTROYED BY FIRE LAST NIGHT

Property Only Partially Covered By Insurance Of $1,500

The beautiful clubhouse of the Fulton Country Club, a rustic, log-cabin type building, was practically destroyed by fire which was discovered about two o'clock this morning. The local fire department was called out and managed to save the men's locker house, but the clubhouse is a total wreck and insurance is understood to be only $1,500. This amount is far below the replacement value of the burned building.

Origin of the fire is not known, although it is known that unauthorized persons had been in the habit of entering the building and building fires during the past winter. Whether this was true last night is not known.

Loss of the clubhouse brings a serious problem to the country club, which already faced big problems for next season. Of course, it would not be possible to rebuild at present if financial conditions permitted, but to replace the building at all would require much more than the insurance which will be available.

CAPT. PAUL DURBIN HERE FOR SHORT VISIT

Capt. Paul J. Durbin arrived last night from Medford, Oregon for a short visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Purcell, Jackson street. He was enroute to Camp Benning, Ga., where he will take three months' training in Staff Officer's Training School.

Mrs. Durbin and the baby have gone to Asbury Park, N. J., for a visit with her parents.

23 MEN AND 1 WOMAN WITH HANGOVERS SING 'JINGLE BELLS' IN COURT

Tacoma, Wash.—Twenty-three men and a woman with hangovers stood Thursday and sang "Jingle Bells" with a will even if slightly off key. Police Judge W. A. Richmond directed.

Looking over the assorted headaches facing him when he entered court the judge said:

"I think we ought to have a little Christmas spirit here this morning. The cases of all who will stand and sing 'Jingle Bells' will be dismissed."

The 24 drunks stood with more alacrity than seemed possible a moment before, intoned the old favorite of their school days and shuffled out.

MAN WITH IMMORALITY CHARGE AGAINST HIM PAYS SANTA CLAUS

Louisville, Ky.—In spite of his personal troubles, George C. (Uncle George) Cates, Thursday played Santa Claus to residents of the Kentucky School for the Blind and the Presbyterian and Baptist orphanages homes and the inmates of the county jail.

Fruit which he ordered was sent to the four institutions by a Louisville produce firm.

Cates, 74, faces a charge brought against him in New Orleans of transporting a 19-year-old girl from Gulfport, Miss., to New Orleans for immoral purposes. He denied the charge.

Arrested here, he was released on $4,000 bond pending a hearing in New Orleans.

DR. LELAND ATWOOD, NATIVE OF CLINTON, DIES IN MEMPHIS

Had Distinguished Himself In Pastorates And Schools

Dr. Leland Atwood, 70 years of age, and for many years a noted Baptist minister and educator, died yesterday morning at the Baptist Hospital of Memphis, after a long illness. Funeral services are to be held in Memphis early Tuesday morning, with burial following in Clinton later in the day. Dr. Atwood was a native of Clinton and graduated from the old Clinton College there to begin his long career of service to his denomination and to the public. He later graduated from Georgetown College and also entered degrees from several other colleges. He held pastorates at Jackson, La., Yoakum, Texas, Brownsville and Dyersburg, Tenn., and later became president of the Tennessee College for Women in Murfreesboro, Tenn. He served as president of this institution for eighteen years.

FORMER COACH GILES IN TOWN SATURDAY

Herschel Giles, former coach at Fulton High School, who is now chief specialist in the U. S. Navy, with headquarters at Camp Bradford, Virginia, spent Saturday in Fulton and made a point of seeing a majority of the boys he coached for the past two years. He was at Harlan with his parents for a ten-day furlough and came here for the day Saturday, returning to Harlan Saturday night. He stated that he was delighted with his work, which concerns itself with conditioning the boys who come into the Navy.

HALSEY SAYS WE MUST KILL MANY MORE JAPS, SINK MORE SHIPS

A South Pacific Base.—Admiral William F. Halsey, Allied naval commander in the South Pacific, said today the United Nations must kill more and still more Japanese and sink more and still more Japanese ships.

Addressing a mustered ship's company aboard a British warship, now under his command, Admiral Halsey said "the only way we can win this war is to kill Japs, then kill some more and still more."

It was Halsey's first visit aboard a British ship since he became a British admiral. The ship is widely known for its spectacular record.

Halsey inspected a guard of Royal Marines who stood with fixed bayonets and heard him recall that he had fought alongside the British in the last war.

"We're up against a tough, shrewd, ruthless enemy who'll give us no quarter," Admiral Halsey said. "We can give him none. We must go out and sink Japanese ships—and still more Japanese ships."

DEPARTMENT STORES EXCEED 1941 SALES

Washington.—The Federal Reserve Board reported today that department store sales last week were 10 per cent higher than during the corresponding week a year ago.

In the preceding week, such sales were 17 per cent greater than in a similar period in 1941, while in the four weeks ended December 19 they totaled 9 per cent more than in the corresponding period last year.

Statistics show that Tim N. Brown, who has carried the route for eleven years, drove 23,000 miles a year, wore out 2 1-2 sets of tires and required a new car every fifteen months.

Brown's itinerary includes numerous large truck farms, a sawmill, pineapple plantation, papaya farm, chicken ranch, gladiolus farm, citrus groves, frog farm, dairy and a cattle ranch as well as stores and business houses.

NAZI-FASCIST LANDS SPEND DREARIEST YULE

Feasting And Gifts Very Rare Under "New Order"

Stockholm, Sweden.—Germany and her satellites and the countries they have overrun are spending the dreariest, skimpiest Christmas of the war, with fear of what is to come hanging heavily over the home hearth, and the fighting front.

Christmas for the Germans normally is a gay family event, but for most of them that is out of the question this year. Many fathers, sons and brothers are fighting for their lives in Russia for the second successive year and unable to return home because of the bitter defensive battle. Countless others lie dead in the Russian snows, or in desert sands.

Dispatches reaching Stockholm reflected the atmosphere of gloom hanging over the German capital and other German cities, with the Christmas tree and gift table almost bare because of the scarcity of goods, and the dinner table reduced to simple rationed fare.

Danes Feel Optimism

Although the Russian-Finnish front was reported quiet, Christmas in Finland "on the whole is leaner and drearier" than ever before, a Swedish correspondent wrote.

Jeffers Denies Spare Tires Likely To Be Taken By U. S.

Omaha.—Rubber Administrator William Jeffers said in a statement today "there is no likelihood in my opinion that the fifth tire of automobiles will be taken by the Government."

He issued the statement to clarify remarks attributed to him yesterday that owners may have to give up their spare tires. No such plan is contemplated, he explained. Jeffers stated that in response to a question as to what would happen in the event the synthetic program did not work out as anticipated, he said that "because of the absolute necessity that the maximum of farm production must be carried out and that if there was any indication of any shortage of tires, then there was always the reservoir of the fifth tires on autos and those of cars in storage."

He added "our every purpose is to keep America on wheels and the spare tires are much better in the possession of the autoist than stored in some warehouse."

Washington.—The new year will bring calls to the colors for more than 3,500,000 men 18 through 37. Selective Service sources estimated Sunday, at the average rate of 250,000 to 300,000 a month.

The 18 and 19-year olds completing their registration this month will comprise perhaps half of the inductees. If this ratio maintains, then the other 1,750,000 more or less, will be childless married men, for the pool of single men 20 to 38 available for military service has now been virtually exhausted.

9,700,000 Men in 1943

The armed forces will have to attain their planned strength of 9,700,000 men below officer rank by the end of next year almost exclusively from 21,000,000 to 22,000,000 men in the 18-through-37 age bracket, and that bracket has been tapped for most of the 6,100,000 or more men now in the ranks. A strength-in-ranks of 7,500,000 for the Army, 1,500,000 for the Navy, 400,000 for the Marines and 300,000 for the Coast Guard is planned by Jan. 1, 1944.

Starting next month, as a general rule, draft boards will begin calling up an accumulated pool of some 600,000 to 900,000 men now 18 or 19 and each month there after about 100,000 more will pass their 18th birthdays and be subject to classification for service.

Although some of these youths will be deferred for occupation, or dependents, or as college students specializing in medical and scientific work, their availability will be more than offset the additional calls made upon men 20 through 37 by the blanket deferment of men 38 or older.

Exact figures on the number of childless married men to be called next year also have been kept secret, but estimates advanced during congressional debate were that as many as 200,000 would be among this month's inductees.

CHRISTMAS TREE AT THE MISSION

Among the outstanding Yuletide activities, was the program given by The Mission, Friday evening. Appropriate Christmas songs were rendered by the choir and a more beautifully decorated Christmas tree has never been seen. Banked around the tree were numerous gifts for all the children, each gift wrapped with dainty Christmas colors and trappings, which made a most beautiful setting. Every child received one of these presents and at the close of the appropriate and inspirational address by G. H. Osthoff, the entire audience was given a generous bag of candy, nuts, fruit, etc.

Mrs. McDowell was complimented with expressions of praise of the occasion, pronouncing it the most beautiful and appropriate of her efforts. She wishes to express her gratitude to all who assisted in a financial way to the occasion.

WOULD MORTALITY REDUCED

(Ashland Independent)
When nations go to war, there must be casualties. Men are killed and wounded, die of their wounds.
When a man is killed, nothing can be done about it, but the success of efforts to save the lives of wounded men is of the utmost importance.

It is gratifying to learn that the mortality rate for American troops in the Solomon Islands fighting is being held to less than 1 per cent through use of modern medical discoveries and hospital planes.
Rear Admiral Ross H. McIntyre, surgeon general of the Navy, is responsible for the figures, which he calls astonishing but true. The 1 percent of wounded men in the Solomons who die after treatment compares with the mortality rate of more than 7 per cent for Americans wounded in the field in the last war.

Admiral McIntyre gives great credit to field application of sulfa drugs and injection of drug plasma for the saving of so large a percentage of wounded men. Hospital planes then fly them to advance hospitals where additional treatment is given them.

The admiral discloses that the sulfa drugs and blood plasma have been particularly effective in the treatment of abdominal wounds. In the last war such wounds, with their resultant infections, caused the greatest loss of life, with fatalities running as high as 60 to 80 per cent.

With modern technique the mortality rate for abdominal wounds has been reduced to less than 5 per cent. And Admiral McIntyre predicts that the rate will be decreased still further as medical officers learn more about these cases.

Apparently American medical technique gives Uncle Sam's forces a marked advantage over the Japanese, who are not credited with extensive use of sulfa drugs.
But the emphasis is on blood plasma. Sulfa drugs can be manufactured, but blood plasma comes only through the giving of human blood.

JAP AIR FORCE SLIPS, GENERAL BISSELL SAYS

New Delhi, India — "The Japanese Air Force everywhere has been materially weakened," and furthermore the Japanese admit it, Brig.
Gen. Clayton L. Bissell, commander of U. S. air forces in India, Burma and China, declared today.

Bissell's statement was made in response to a question whether the Japanese Air Force was showing signs of deterioration in Burma.

Not only in Burma, but also in occupied China, Bissell said, enemy planes have been forced to "move rapidly from one airdrome to another as airdromes get too hot."

RETAIL CEILING ON

Washington — The retail ceiling price on fuel oil in the 30 rationed states will be increased 6.3 cent a Price Administration announced today, "to defray additional costs being incurred by dealers as the result of emergency contingencies."

At the same time Administrator Leon Henderson issued a statement emphasizing that supplies in the east were strictly limited regardless of flexibility in the rationing.
"We may set the dates of the coupon validation forward," he said. "We may make a number of special provisions for meeting emergencies so far as the mechanics of the rationing system are concerned, but none of these things produce more oil. In fact, some of them are, in effect, a means of borrowing against the future, and that future is not bright."

Peggy Williams And Lt. Koelling Are Wed Saturday, December 26, In Lovely Candlelight Ceremony

Social highlight of the Christmas holiday season was the wedding of Miss Peggy Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde P. Williams, and Lt. Robert Keith Koelling, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Koelling of East St. Louis, Illinois, Saturday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in the First Christian church with the Rev. Kelsey Martin officiating in the beautiful twilight ceremony.

The setting for the ceremony was created entirely in green and white. Dozens of white burning candles illuminated the wedding scene. The tapers were silhouetted against a rich background of smilax and ferns which massed the altar and the chancel.

Mrs. Lloyd Emery of Paducah, pianist, and Mrs. Kirk Byrn, Jr., of Mayfield, furnished the wedding music. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Emery played Schubert's "Ave Maria" and accompanied Mrs. Byrn as she sang "Calm As the Night" and "The Sweetest Story Ever Told." For the processional, Mrs. Emery played the traditional "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin; during the ceremony she softly played "Liebestraum" and for the recessional rendered Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

The lovely bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory duchess satin made with sweetheart neckline, outlined with real lace and long tight sleeves fastened with tiny buttons. The very full skirt of the gown extended into a long train. The bridal veil of illusion net descended from a coronet of orange blossoms. The bride's only ornament was a string of pearls. Her bouquet was of snow white roses and fern.

Mrs. Al Gentleman attended her sister as matron of honor and Miss Miriam Browder, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. Little Miss Jane White was a junior bridesmaid.

The bridal attendants wore dresses made of white gas de linges. The tight bodices had sweetheart necklines and the skirts were extremely full. The dresses had three-quarter length sleeves and the skirts were finished with deep fringed hosiery. Their headresses were white interwined coronets. They carried bouquets of red bettertime roses and fern.

Attending the bridegroom as best man was John Lloyd Jones, Jr., and the ushers, who preceded the bride and her attendants to the altar, were Billy Cresson of Mayfield, George Boyd Crafton and Joe Browder Williams, brother of the bride.

Lt. Koelling, formerly of this city, was graduated from Texas A and M in 1942 and is now with the Perry Command at Memphis, Tenn.

WAR FRAUD DEATH URGED

Washington — Life imprisonment or death will be proposed in the new Congress as the maximum penalty for persons convicted of wilfully manufacturing and delivering inferior or defective materials for the nation's armed forces, Representative Hobbs (D. Ala.) said today.

The Alabamian, who said he would offer the legislation, told newspapermen he was "really shocked to find that the penalty is so low."

Such a crime now is punishable only under the fraud statutes, with maximum penalties running to two years imprisonment or $10,000 fine, or both, on conviction of conspiracy to defraud the United States and ten years imprisonment, or $10,000 fine or both, for consumption of such a fraud.

It is odd to differentiate between such a crime and treason, when the purposeful putting off of inferior or defective materials on the Army and Navy might cost the lives of thousands of our fighting men," Hobbs said. "Shooting is too good for a person who would do such a thing."

The only drawback, he says, is that he can't adjust the engine to the oil so that it will throw out less than a two-mile-wide smoke-screen.

WE MAY HAVE TO SLICE THEIR OWN BREAD AGAIN

Light Help In Preventing Increase In Price

Washington. — A plan to force people to slice their own bread is taking shape as a prelude to a broad program of holding down the cost of living essentials where necessary by eliminating frills.

Officials, who declined to be quoted by name, said the baking industry already has given general assent to a program of reducing the manufacturing and service costs of bread as a means of preventing a price increase and still maintaining quality. Although bread has been regarded historically as "the staff of life," in the present case the proposed changes in baking practices were viewed as fundamental for the additional reason that they may provide a pattern for many other commodities.

Slicing is just one of the costs that bakers might eliminate. Some others include fancy wrappers, unusual sizes and shapes, some types of deliveries.

James F. Byrnes, economic stabilization director, was reported to favor this device to forestall price increases instead of government subsidies, as had been proposed.

NATION ENJOYS ONE OF SAFEST XMAS IN YEARS

Death cast only a faint shadow on Christmas this year as the nation enjoyed one of its safest December holidays, with 94 fatalities recorded Friday compared to 394 reported by the day's end last year.

Highway traffic was lighter throughout the country as a result of tire and gasoline rationing, taking a toll of 52 against 301 traffic deaths in 1941.

Rufus T. Strohm

It is surprising how quickly the average young woman can adjust herself to the role of war worker.

For many it means a complete change in the way of living.

A Bureau of Census report shows that there are 15,000,000 housewives between 18 and 44 years old. They constitute the principal reserve from which additional labor might be drawn, but nearly all of them lack training for skilled or semi-skilled war work.

In the industries basic to the war effort fully three-fourths of the labor demands that will arise can be satisfied only through the use of skilled and semi-skilled labor. Only about one-fourth of the demand can be met by the type of unskilled labor prevailing in the potential labor reserve of women.

This nation's plans for manpower mobilization are said to be based largely on British experience. In Great Britain aircraft workers, skilled and semi-skilled, are mostly women. That may happen here.

sists of War Bonds bought by banks and pledged to the state as security for the state's $6,890,641 unencumbered treasury balance, but more than $3,000,000 represents purchases by state agencies.

"Since state law prohibits the state's cash balance being used to buy War Bonds," the Governor explained, "we suggested to the banks in which the money is deposited that they buy these bonds and put them up as security for the state's deposits."

The state's $6,890,641 is scattered through 50 banks, the chief executive explained and each has to put up $10 approved collateral for each $100 deposit of state money. He added that an inquiry showed the banks thus had bought $7,925,450 in War Bonds which are used to guarantee the commonwealth's deposits.

Of the remainder of War Bonds, he said the teachers retirement system which has invested all its pension fund in War Bonds, owns $2,697,000 worth; the state fire insurance fund owns $312,000 in War Bonds and the county sinking fund owns $99,826. The latter is a fund contributed to by the counties, and managed by the state, for paying off county debts.

MAKES $20 DAILY FROM CORN CROP

County Agent Joe R. Thompson of Bath county tells of a farmer who made approximately $20 a day for his own labor and his team on his corn crop of four acres. He spent two days in breaking the land, one planting the seed, and four and a half days in cultivation. Three men harvested the corn in a day. Sold by weight out of the field, the corn brought $240. His expenses were $3.50 for hybrid seed, $7.68 for fertilizer and $4.50 for help in harvesting.

REGISTERED SWINE FOR LESLIE COUNTY

Hog raisers in Leslie county are seeing to it that they do their share in war food production, according to Farm Agent S. M. Cook. Twelve registered Duroc-Jersey pigs have been taken into the county and 16 more are being contracted for through Berea College. The pigs are being well distributed throughout the county and are to be kept for breeding purposes.

TOBACCO STALKS GOOD FERTILIZER

At current prices of commercial fertilizers, tobacco stalks are worth about $20 a ton, says Prof. N. R. Elliott of the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics. They make especially good fertilizer for lawns, spaced about 4 inches apart and left until about the last of March. If left exposed to the weather in a pile outside the stripping room, they lose much of their fertilizer value. They should be spread as soon as possible.

Too, the weather may have had a certain bearing on the matter, for the last three days of the week turned into regular spring days and brought out the urge to travel. Christmas Eve was a regular spring day, and while Christmas Day was somewhat cloudy the temperature was high and made traveling quite pleasant.

Let us hope that gasoline will hold out sufficiently to keep these folks coming to town. Perhaps folks save their gas during the week in order to make the regular Saturday trip to town, and this seems a sensible thing to do. People tell me that highway traffic shows great decrease, and imagine this is true. I seldom see a highway any more, but realize that rationing must have reduced automobile traffic quite sharply.
