BALDRIDGE'S 5c, 10c and 25c STORE
A. G. BALDRIDGE, Manager
5, 10 and 25 CENT GOODS A SPECIALTY
FULTON, KENTUCKY

TO MY FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS:

Due to a much needed rest, I am retiring from active management of my store for an indefinite period of time. While doing this, I am thinking of the wonderful cooperation you have given me over a long period of years.

I want to express my sincere and heartfelt appreciation to you, and to assure you that you will receive the same courteous treatment and that we will be giving you an even better store than in the past.

The store will be organized along typical Chain Store plans, and you will find the same excellent merchandise values that we have been offering for many years, presented in a more scientific and professional manner.

I will, of course, retain ownership of the store and will visit the store occasionally to shake hands with my good customer friends.

Again, thanks for your patronage in the past. I know that you will enjoy shopping in the Ben Franklin Store for many years to come.

Sincerely yours,

A. G. BALDRIDGE

THREE MUSKETEERS CAN'T MOTHERS TO CONDUCT SEARCH

The Three Musketeers, others, Casper, Bob Jones and Bailey Binkley, raised their muskets into the air last night and with their best shots, they shot down three of the four Japanese who attempted to get into the town.

The Japanese are in a State of Confusion

The Japanese were captured by the soldiers of the 23rd Division, who met them at the outskirts of the town and overpowered them with their superior numbers.

The town wag has written underneath the picture:

"The young fellow took over the old man's job and made rather poor headway of the job. Fortunately for his health, he was given an easier task. On one occasion he went out for lunch and returned looking very ill. He was found dead in bed the next morning."

Draft Board Is Amazed When Negro Midget Signs For Draft

"No little Joe was entered in the draft board records on September 10th.

He used to stand there but didn't do much for a few years and he's been at it ever since.

Thus, he explained, he was able to support his mother and younger siblings.

He said that it was only after he had been drafted that he realized the importance of his work.

"I feel that I should contribute to the war effort in any way I can," he concluded.

You may think you're seeing everything—everything in the Army. You are up to your ears in mud, you're wet, hungry and dirty. But you're not alone.

There are twenty-five women, in this Army, who live and work as nurses and anti-aircraft woppe in the Army. They are the first American women nurses to serve on an active war defense job.
