Welles Says
Martineau
Trade Haltered

U.S. Plans Pressure On Island Held by French
Washington. The United States has made a public stand on trade -with France. No ships carrying food will go with this country for the present.

France has been placed under a complete embargo, according to Mr. Welles. About a hundred ships are known to be in French ports, together with a million dollars of American wines and cognacs.

Mr. Welles said that the country was determined to make a stand on trade relations with France. He pointed out that the French government had refused to co-operate with the United States in the matter of trade, and that the United States was determined to make a stand on trade relations with France.
