THE LISTENING POST

● Odd facts come to light now and then of curious things which take place in wartime. Recently I read an article which related how certain business deals were still carried on between warring nations because such trading is vitally necessary. If one nation happens to have something which another nation must have, and if the other nation has something which the first nation must have, the chances are pretty good that some business will be done. A few days ago I learned of another curious thing.

● For months I have wondered why it was that passenger planes could still fly in and out of Lisbon without interference from any of the warring powers. Of course I know Lisbon is a neutral capital, and is always filled with spies and diplomats of the various warring nations. On any trip to Europe almost all diplomats fly to Lisbon and then on to London. It is a regular airline, and all during the war it has continued to function. I did not know that Axis powers also flew their passenger liners into Lisbon, but recently I learned that they did, and in fact, Allied planes and Axis planes all landed at the same airport in Lisbon. That must have seemed curious—to see huge passenger planes standing side by side almost on the Lisbon airfield, when, if warplanes of the opposing nations sight each other, gunfire starts immediately.

● This new information came when a passenger liner bound for London from Lisbon was shot down, or disappeared, at any rate, while on the flight. London reported the last message received from the craft said it was being attacked by enemy planes. Twelve persons were lost, including a famous British actor. I do not know that Germany has admitted the Nazi planes actually did shoot the plane down, but the report now is that the Nazis did admit the act by inference. Allied belief is the the Nazis had some information which seemed to show that Winston Churchill was aboard the plane, and the Nazis being what they are, could not resist this apparent opportunity. Erasing Churchill would certainly bring loud cheers in Germany, for more than any other man the British premier has kept Hitler from winning the war. I imagine that Hitler knows this now. In those dark days of 1940, when England was helpless, without an army except for the beaten soldiers brought back from Dunkirk, and with no equipment whatever, Churchill was the one man who was able to rally the home front and keep England fighting. He has fought against all the tough breaks of this war until now he stands at the beginning of real victory. Naturally the Nazis would enjoy removing him from the scene, and in an effort to do so managed to shoot down an unarmed plane with a dozen unarmed and harmless passengers aboard. That is the Nazis way.

● Churchill made the trip later, but warned by what had happened, he made the journey in wartime style. He rode a bomber and this bomber was under the protection of squadrons of Spitfires and Hurricanes. Perhaps the Nazis saw that convoy, but from bitter experience they have learned to let Spitfires and Hurricanes along unless they can manage to cut off a straggler or so. They no longer attack British fighter planes unless they think they have a definite and overwhelming advantage, either in number or in position. So Churchill made the trip back to England in safety, but a dozen other persons paid with their lives for the German effort to get him.

● It is certainly not any heroic task to shoot down a passenger plane. It carries no guns and is not armed in any way. It is merely a ship that flies, and under this unwritten agreement, mistakenly called a "gentleman's agreement," it is not prepared for any attacks. Shooting one down with a fighter plane must be like shooting fish in a bathtub. Perhaps the Nazis would enjoy that sport, too.

Allies Silent On Report Of Rome, Berlin

Axis Reports Landing Effort Is Beaten Back

London.—Rome and Berlin reported today that British Commandos assaulted the tiny turtle-shaped island of Lampedusa Monday night and were repulsed in the first attempt of Allied forces massed in North Africa to invade Italian soil in the Mediterranean.

Allied military and naval quarters were silent on enemy accounts of this operation which—if true—appeared nothing more than a minor scale probing for bigger blows to come.

Despite the attempts of the Italian and German high commands to magnify the action, it was regarded in some London quarters as possibly only a forerunner of a series of widespread operations which might precede the main strike.

"The enemy attempted a landing on the island of Lampedusa," said the Italian communiqué, as recorded here in a broadcast. "The attempt was carried out by British units. It was promptly repulsed by our defenses which sank several enemy naval vessels."

Abundance Of White Bread Today Is Startling Contrast To World War I

Chicago.—One of the startling changes in food in this war as compared with that of 1917-18, grain and flour sources asserted, is the abundance of white bread. It was not that way back in the days of World War I.

Wheat was scarce 25 years ago and "ersatz" bread (they called it "war bread" or "victory bread") was a well-known, if not popular food. Millers said many people got out of the habit of eating bread during that period and, even when white bread returned, there was a gradual falling off in consumption for a number of years.

Bread eating was tied down in regulations, although there was no official rationing at the consumer level. Millers were prohibited from shipping into any territory more than 70 per cent of the amount of wheat flour they shipped into the same territory during the corresponding period of the preceding year. (Meat packers of today will recognize that one).

Another restriction provided that

EXTRA CAN GOODS RATION POINTS PLAN IS EXPLAINED

Washington.—O. P. A. announced plans to facilitate canning of the 1943 pack of fruits and vegetables by issuing extra ration points to wholesalers so that they will be able to stock up early and relieve any possible shortage of space in canners' warehouses.

The agency explained that unless wholesalers are able to take large portions of the new pack off the hands of canners quickly the pile-up at the canneries might impede full utilization of the canners' facilities.

Issuance of the extra points to wholesalers will not affect consumers' rations.

Roosevelt Will Sign Pay-As-Go Tax Will

Treasury Making Plans For New Plan Of Collection

Washington.—President Roosevelt said today he would sign the pay-as-you-go tax bill shortly. The Treasury, he told a press conference, is making preparations to put it into effect.

But he also indicated that he would ask Congress for more taxes before the legislators get away for any summer recess.

The compromise pay-as-you-go measure, he intimated, would be insufficient to close an inflationary gap in the economic system and he said he thought there would be a recommendation to Congress on additional taxes.

Nor did he rule out the possibility that, despite the success of the last War Board campaign, compulsory savings might be necessary.

Trim Little Town Is Clawed Out Of Wild Country In North Carolina

Knoxville, Tenn.—Clawing out to be living and working, TVA has built many dams, but none in such a remote, hard-to-reach spot. The first comers led lives as rugged as the pioneers.

That is changed now. The approach road which was a morass of chug holes and mud—built dozers stood by to haul in the autos and trucks—is smoother than some city streets, if much "twistier." Camp and village accommodate 2,700 in tents and dormitories, as well as 800 families. The last of the 100 TVA-designed trailer houses are being moved in.

With the problems of housing and transportation licked—"we can settle down to build the dam," said C. E. Blee, the tall, scholarly looking project manager.

Three hundred and fifty women and girls live in the war dam town. They have seven compact but comfortable dormitories in the village.

"Most of us like it," said Mary Jane Stauffer of the accounting department.

"We have movies four times a week, basketball games, roller skating. We hike. The girls at our dormitory have exercise classes. We've even had square dances just for the girls."

They take turn about planning meals—with point rationing that takes up considerable time. Besides that there is a good library.

McKELLAR BILL FINALLY SHELVED BY SENATE ACTION

Move To Exempt T. V. A. Prompts Withdrawal

Washington.—The opening of a determined campaign to exempt employees of the Tennessee Valley Authority and other public power projects from Senate confirmation caused indefinite postponement today of the McKellar Bill, which would require Senate approval of all Government employees paid more than $4,500 annually.

Recognizing that his measure faced determined opposition, Senator Kenneth McKellar, Tennessee Democrat, consented to have it put aside until the agriculture appropriation bill has been disposed of. This may mean the Senate will not get a chance to act on it before July, at which time both houses hope to take a two-months recess.

Senator Lister Hill of Alabama, who is serving as majority leader while Senator Alben W. Barkley is in Hot Springs, Ark., brought forward the amendment which would exempt T. V. A. employees. He also announced that Senator Homer T. Bone, Washington Democrat, has prepared a similar amendment covering employees of the Booneville power project.

A roll call today provided only a partial test of the measure. This was on the adoption of a Judiciary Committee substitute in place of the committee bill. The vote for adoption was 43 to 22, but many Senators who intend later to vote for amendments which will draw the teeth of the bill voted for adoption of the committee amendment.

BEEF CATTLE BRING RECORD PRICES

Chicago.—An 11-month-old short-horn bull and 39 head of young beef cattle brought record prices at an auction sale yesterday, the American Short-horn Breeders Association reported.

The yearling bull was sold for $8,000, a 25 year record price for the breed while the 39 head brought $54,205, or an average of $1,426, the highest figure paid in the last quarter-century of short-horn history, the association said.

CHEF AIDING U. S. WHILE HE'S MAN WITHOUT COUNTRY

San Diego, Calif.—He is a real "man without a country," but since the U. S. entered the war he is as patriotic as any born American.

Florian A. Gyuris, whose father was Czechoslovakian and whose mother was French, has never been able to establish his nationality because he was born on a train traveling between Vienna and Budapest. He was reared in France, but even France was not home to him after the German occupation. So he has applied for U. S. citizenship and hopes to become a man with a country.

In the meanwhile, between preparing meals for officers at the Marine Corps officers' mess, where he is head chef, he finds time between duties to tend a victory garden, which is now supplying a substantial portion of the fresh vegetables served at the mess.

Japs Lose 19 Planes In South Pacific

U. S. Losses Seven Planes—Three Pilots Saved

Washington.—For the second time in three days, Japan's South Pacific air force suffered a severe defeat at the hands of American air men Monday, the Navy reported today.

In a battle giving fresh evidence of qualitative superiority of American planes and pilots, the enemy lost 19 Zero fighters out of a flight of 40 to 50 fighters and bombers apparently attempting to raid United States positions in the Russell group of the Solomon Islands. In addition six Zeros were damaged. Seven of our planes were lost but three pilots were saved.

A Navy communiqué announced the latest South Pacific air victory shortly after Secretary Knox disclosed at a press conference that Admiral Ernest J. King, naval chief, had confirmed with Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific fleet commander, on plans for the prosecution of the war in the Pacific theater.

U. S. Maps Concerted Drive Against Widespread Black Market In Meat

New York.—A concentrated offensive against the continuing widespread "black market" in meat is being mapped by the Federal Government and will be launched in the near future, according to reports in the meat industry here today.

Local agents will be appointed in almost all of the 3,073 counties of the nation to keep a constant check on cattle production, the availability of livestock for slaughtering and the amount of cattle slaughtered. Their reports will go at frequent intervals to the Chicago headquarters of the War Meat Board, set up on May 16 by joint action of the War Food Administration and the Office of Price Administration.

The War Meat Board, which will hold its first formal meeting in Chicago on June 7, will thus have an "over-all" nation-wide picture of the meat situation when it sits down to determine how much meat

Churchill Says Invasion Now Is Imminent

Prime Minister Tells Commons Of War Plans

London.—Winston Churchill, as though raising at last the bright signal that will send the invading Allied armies plunging forward, quietly told the world today that amphibious attacks of "a peculiar complexity and hazard on a large scale" were very near at hand in the European theater—operations already "fitted into their proper place in relation to the general war."

All is in readiness for this grand assault, he made clear in a vigorous and heartening report to Commons in which he declared the Allied submarine position was getting better and better by the day and suggested, although throwing this out with his customary conservative qualifications, that the U-boat might mean the moral and actual defeat of the Germans.

The prime minister stood proud and confident before Commons—reflecting, as he had put it in another connection, that "mellow light of victory" which he saw playing over the Allied cause—and gave to the members the most confident review in the years of his leadership.

Telling of an American-British strategy and unity of war purpose "brought into full focus and punch" in the Washington negotiations recently concluded with President Roosevelt, Churchill thus proclaimed that the time of decision was now at hand.

"It is evident that amphibious operations of a peculiar complexity and hazard on a large scale are approaching."

More than once he made it plain that this coming offensive, grand though its conception, was but a part of what had been planned for the three Axis enemies.

FATHER BELIEVES IN BEING FORESIGHTED

Louisville, Ky.—One Kentucky father believes in being foresighted.

After listing 10 children on his application for War Ration Book III, he added in the margin: "Anna Ruth will arrive July 1, 1943, and is hereby applying for War Book III."

His application was set aside for special consideration.

ING PEOPLE

Speaking to the graduating class of the Connecticut College for Women, Vice President Wallace addressed himself to a subject which is a major preoccupation of thoughtful people these days, that is, the problem of the reeducation of German youth in the interest of lasting peace. There is no question that a gigantic task of decontaminating the minds of Hitler's children will face the United Nations, after the war. Hitler's theories of education have been available for many years in Mein Kampf, and the fact that the objective of those theories has been carried out with deadly efficiency is already proven. For Nazi Germany has produced, in the young men who have occupied the countries of Europe, a breed of youth before whom the world shrinks back. The Poles and the Greeks can testify that that gleam of the beast of prey which Hitler declared it was his purpose to produce, does indeed shine from the eyes of the young Nazis who take pleasure in the murder of unarmed Jews in their ghettos and who flaunt themselves upon the Acropolis, well fed and goose-stepping among a starving people.

This problem cannot be dismissed by the comfortable assertion that Germans are paranoids and that we can only deal with these diseased minds by eradicating them or keeping them in endless subjection to military occupying forces. We must plan to do a harder and a more subtle job than that. The

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

(June 9, 1928)

The delegation from the Fulton Lions Club wired the Leader today from Frankfort that the next state convention of the organization would be held in Fulton.

J. E. Fall has returned from Covington, where he attended the state meeting of building and loan associations. He was elected vice president for the coming year.

Atkins Cole was notified today that his oldest brother had died at his home in Bemis, Tenn. He was the oldest of a family of thirteen.

Mr. and Mrs. Vodie Hardin, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Smith Atkins, Dudley Smith and Mr. Shirley are in Frankfort attending the state convention of Lions Clubs.

Wade Joyner, student in the University of Missouri, is at home for the summer.

Miss Mary Martin leaves Sunday for Lexington, where she will study this summer at the University of Kentucky.

policy-forming body of the National Education Association and the American Association of School Administrators has already urged the creation of a United Nations agency to develop antidotes for the poison the Nazis and Fascists have poured into the intellectual and spiritual life of their own and occupied countries. The Vice President seems to be thinking along the same lines in his advocacy of some form of United Nations stewardship of the school system of Germany after the war. "We shall not need to send school teachers from the United States into German schools, but we can make sure the liberal element in Germany has an opportunity to replace the Nazi schoolbooks and the Nazi methods of teaching."

Various proposals have been made already by educational leaders in this country on this subject. And most views coincide with those of the Vice President, who suggests a plan to foster and develop teachers from the liberal anti-Nazi elements in Germany, to keep a strict supervision over the textbooks and the teaching methods used in the schools and to revive education devoted to its true purposes, the fostering of learning, character and morality. "I will have no intellectual training. Knowledge is ruin to my young men," Hitler said. The task of re-educating young Germans whose minds have been seduced and corrupted by their ignorant and fanatical leaders is staggering indeed. A problem as immense as this can only be dealt with by clear thinking and hard planning. To solve it will require the efforts and the good will of the best minds we have in the whole intellectual arsenal of the United Nations.

In this work the experience of such agencies as the educational committees of the League of Nations, the International Student Service and the World Student Christian Federation, ought to be of value. No less than the food resources of the world ought the resources of intellectual leadership for this work of rehabilitation to be canvassed. For the job of re-education is far more complex than that of feeding. Few hungry people will object to being given food. But the recalcitrance of the human mind faced with new or different ideas is a fact about which there can be little question. Planning on this front ought to be begun without delay. — Courier-Journal.

If Goebbels himself didn't manufacture out of whole cloth the current gossip campaign about the WAVES, along with the other uniformed women's services, then it's just so much pure velvet for the Nazis.

Loose talk has reached such proportions the nation over that Navy recruitment officials consider it is seriously hampering the Navy's fighting job which demands the immediate release of thousands of men for battle duty as soon as WAVES can be recruited to replace them.

Kentucky recruiting officers have reason to believe the back room stories and the "somebody-told-me-about-a-WAVE-that" tales are chief reasons why more WAVES are not signing on the dotted line in this area.

time in history on wide use of women in its armed forces, is enduring the same subversive attacks that met creation of England's auxiliary women's services. Everybody remembers the wave of stories about them a couple of years ago when it was a new untried service.

Everybody too has heard some of the stories now making the rounds. They usually regard the alleged immorality of the uniformed women. The cast such reflections on the individual and collective chastity of the WAVES as to make families hesitant about daughter's joining up. Sometimes they have to do with drink, other times they are simple crude jokes and, rarely, a gritty moral.

Total effect of them all is a parental reluctance, in many cases, to give permission for young women to become WAVES. Navy officials concerned about this impact on their recruiting quotas point to the Nurse Corps which for years has maintained the prestige of a woman in uniform. With thousands of women now wearing the blue there may be and are a few individuals who do not measure up, as in any human group of that size. But the current smear talk, it is reiterated, has no basis in fact and serves only to promote the enemy's cause by jeopardizing the Navy's schedule for expansion.

Parents who have sons in any of the fighting services are reminded of the link with them all is the United States Navy which transports them, fights for them and supplies them. It faces an ever bigger job on the seven seas as it convoys and fights its own battles too.

The shore jobs are the jobs scheduled for the daughters of the nation, who in many cases, because of previous training, can do the office work better than the men they replace. These jobs are a vital cog in the whole expansion program of more ships, more men, more victories; and because the WAVES are not rolling in, the entire Naval program faces difficulties. It may be the want of a WAVE to replace the man to man the ship that loses a battle.

Official advice from the Navy regarding inside stories about the WAVES is: don't believe it if it's a story a friend told a friend of yours. It is enemy propaganda whether intentional or innocent. Don't repeat it. If you personally know of a uniformed woman who's cause for talk, forget it and remember it can happen in the best of families and sometimes does.

Miss Mary Lancaster, whose marriage to Sgt. Joseph H. Frankum of Pecos, Texas, will take place this month, was delightfully surprised at a shower last evening, given by Mrs. John Lancaster, Miss Elizabeth Ward and Miss Opal Williams. The shower, which was a complete surprise to the honoree, was given in the office of the Airline Gas Company, and the guests were all present when the honoree arrived.

For the occasion, lovely bowls and vases of garden flowers were attractively arranged. The guests enjoyed several clever contests with prizes being awarded to the winners, Mrs. Bob Harris, Mrs. D. D. Legg and Mrs. Sam Jones.

Later in the evening the shower was presented to Miss Lancaster. She received many nice gifts.

The hostesses served delicious sandwiches and punch to the following guests: Mrs. Jennie Errington, Mrs. Everett Terrell, Mrs. Porter Childers, Mrs. R. T. Ferguson, Mrs. Sam Jones, Miss Martha Daws, Mrs. Joan Dowdy, Mrs. D. D. Legg, Miss Myrtle Williams, Mrs. Gilbert Lowery, Miss Allie D. Williams, Mrs. R. E. Sanford, Mrs. Bob Harris, Mrs. Neal Ward, Mrs. Bernard Adams, Miss Vada Belle Ward, Mrs. W. B. Lancaster, Mrs. S. L. Brown, and the honoree.

JAP SOLDIERS' DIET IS GOOD STUDY SHOWS

Washington.—The Board of Economic Warfare, after a study of Japanese army rations, reported today that the Japanese soldier in the field eats a highly nutritious, scientifically balanced diet.

Instead of just rice, as many Americans imagined, the ration consists of a standard ration biscuit, a health drink called "marin" which contains lactic acid, a yeast preparation called "florylin," wheat germ tablets, and a tin of ration labeled "rice and bean curd."

B. E. W. experts decided some of these foods, while strange and unappetizing to Western taste, supply all essential elements of a balanced diet.

The ration biscuit, a concentrated energy food, is made from wheat flour and seaweed, baked without leavening, and vitalized with rice polishings. Vitamins include B-1 and G and nicotinic acid.

"Marin" is a tonic and digestive stimulant and is fermented from rice.

YANK SOLDIER BUYS BARRAGE BALLOON BUT SALESMAN VANISHES

London.—An American soldier—presumably the son of the man who bought the Brooklyn bridge—purchased a London barrage balloon for $180, Scotland Yard reported Monday night.

The soldier told police that a man came up while he was walking through Hyde Park and said "Would you like to take a barrage balloon home as a souvenir of war?"

"How much?" asked the soldier, thinking of the folk back home. "One hundred and eighty dollars, cash."

"How soon can it be packed and ready?"

"Call back in an hour."

The soldier is now trying to identify the salesman from Scotland Yard photograph files.

Men In The Service

The time that night life was spoiled in Fulton was when the Old Man With the Whiskers took John Hancock, Butch Nelms and Dan McKenzie. These boys admit this themselves in writing to the Leader.

A recent letter from Pvt. Hancock repeats this assertion. John is now stationed at Camp Silbert, Ala., having recently been transferred there from Daniel Field at Augusta, Ga. His address is: Pvt. John B. Hancock (35725808); 829 Cml. Co. A. O.; Camp Silbert, Ala. The other two boys are stationed in Texas—Butch is at Camp Swift and Dan is at Fort Bliss.

If the high command could be made aware of the existence of these three boys and take steps to place them in the same battalion, they might see the Western front smashed wide open, some morning before breakfast. They are really going to do a job for our genial Uncle Sam.

Fort Benning, Ga. (Special).—Clyde P. Williams, Jr., of Fulton, was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Army of the United States today upon successful completion of the Officer Candidate Course at the Infantry School at Fort Benning, La. Williams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Williams.

The new lieutenant was inducted into the army on July 24, 1942, and served with the 379th Infantry before going to O. C. S. three months ago. He held the rank of corporal before being commissioned.

The new officer is a graduate of Fulton High school, where he was an outstanding athlete.

Sgt. Charles Looney has arrived safely in North Africa, according to word received by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carol Looney of this city.

Cpl. Neal Looney of Marietta, Pa., is home on furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carol Looney, Walnut street.

The rest-pause that refreshes

Welcome in peace...
more welcome in war work

WAR plant managers will tell you that anything that contributes to contented workers makes better workers. In plant after plant it has been found that a rest-pause breaks monotony, lessens tiredness and tension.

When you add refreshment to a rest-pause, you not only have a pause that rests, but refreshes, too. A moment for ice-cold Coca-Cola makes a rest-pause take on more meaning... promoting contentment that leads to more work and better work. Yes, contentment comes when you connect with a Coke.

Close work brings the need to pause. Ice-cold Coca-Cola brings tingling refreshment to make any pause the pause that refreshes.

The best is always the better buy!

BOTTLED UNDER AUTHORITY OF THE COCA-COLA COMPANY BY FULTON COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY, Inc.

Letters from plant managers from coast to coast emphasize that the little moment for an ice-cold Coca-Cola means a lot to workers in war plants. It's a refreshing moment on the sunny side of things... a way to turn to refreshment without turning from work.

ANNUAL MEETING OF THE FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST, SCIENTIST, MOSTON, MASS., JUNE 7, 1943

Boston, Mass., June 7. —The Christian Science Board of Directors today placed "prayer" at the top of the list of defensive and offensive weapons that free-thinking peoples are counting upon to win the global war against oppression and suppression.

MRS. DAISETTE D. S. MCKENZIE
In a statement to the annual meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts, the Directors first emphasized the word "prayer," then followed with the term "miracle of deliverance" which is to be accepted, they said, as the logical answer to righteous prayer.

Thus, deliverance from the hand of the oppressor was seen by the Directors to be no miracle at all, but rather a simple witnessing to the fact that power springs from the prayer of understanding.

"A praying people can never suffer defeat," summarized the Directors' remarks to several thousand Christian Scientists assembled in The Mother Church.

Because of the gasoline and transportation shortages, the attendance was more localized than it has been for many years. But the reports headed from the board field of Christian Science activities indicated that demands for spiritual enlightenment were as universal as ever, only growing more and more pronounced under the stress of world conditions.

From the armed services and along the home front, the reports revealed unusual demands for church literature, hinging upon an increasing effort to bring prayer to bear upon the crucial tests of the times.

"Battles are not won," the Directors said, "through trust alone, but through intelligent, scientific preparation and skillful execution. As we reach out to God through understanding prayer, the human footsteps to bring our deliverance from this cruel warfare and all evil will be revealed."

DANCE AT UNION CITY

It seems almost fantastic that Fletcher Henderson, who brings his famous orchestra to Union City for Dance Friday night, began the study of the piano as a youth by watching the keys of an old player piano.

Henderson began his career over 20 years ago as a pianist of the "Black Swan Troubadours" featuring Ethyl Waters. In 1919 Henderson was an instantaneous hit at New York's Roseland Ballroom, on his first of many stops there. From there he continued his history making climb to fame.

A sound pianist who is at his best with an orchestra, Henderson is as apt at playing the blues in slow tempo as he is at making a band jump with a touch that is as lusty as the punch of a pile-driver. The superlative Henderson technique is rivaled only by the genius of the Maestro for penning top flight compositions and arrangements.

Lyle's Knee And Foot Service

From Memphis

"Well, Dad, I just elected myself 'telephone warden' for this family. You know, we can waste an awful lot of time just chatting over the telephone. I've been reading about how important it is to the war effort for everyone to make fewer calls and keep all calls as short as possible. You see, Dad, the same telephone equipment we use, has got to serve all the folks who use the 'phone in war work, and if we talk too long or too often, we might delay important war calls. I know none of us here want to do that and as the telephone company says no new equipment can be added, on account of shortage of materials, we should cooperate and use our 'phone only when necessary. Don't you think so?"

How to serve your country in the WAVES or SPARS

THIS IS TOTAL WAR

Take a Step You'll Be Proud of All Your Life. Volunteer for the WAVES or SPARS Today!

—FRANK KNOX
Secretary of the Navy

TO EVERY WOMAN who wants a part in winning this war: Never in history have American women been offered such a chance to serve their country. Never has there been such an urgent need for their service.

This is total war—a war in which every woman as well as every man must play a part. The men in the Navy and Coast Guard are in for one reason alone—to fight! They're in to fly the planes, man the ships, smash the Nazis and Japs.

But to keep them fighting, there are important service jobs that must be carried on at home—man-size, full-time jobs which you, the women of America, can fill—jobs in which you can serve your country in your country and release the men to fight at sea.

That is what you—as a member of the WAVES or SPARS—can do to help win this war. How you can do it is explained in detail in this book. Read every word of it. Then take a step you'll be proud of all your life—volunteer for the WAVES or SPARS today!

If you have loved ones in the Army, Marine Corps or Flying Service, remember this: Everything that they get on foreign duty—be it tooth brushes, food, or bullets—it comes to them because the Navy fights to deliver the goods on every sea.

If you are between 20 and 35 years of age—with no children under 18 years of age—and are physically fit—the Navy has a place for you. If you have no special skill the Navy will teach you one at regular Navy pay.

Your future is in the WAVES.
