25 Zeros Are Downed By U.S. Service Fliers

Army, Navy And Marine Fliers Join Up In Eight

Washington — Major General Alex B. Anderson, Chief of the Army Air Corps, today revealed that eight out of a total of 25 Japanese Zeros that were destroyed yesterday were brought down by American service fliers.

The destruction of one Japanese Zero was credited to a Marine flier operating with the American Army in China.

The Zeros were destroyed in two actions, one over Sumatra and the other in the Coral Sea area.

The American fliers were praised for their heroism.

26 Forts Are Lost In Big German Raid

Battlegrounds Yet Suffered By American Forces

Washington — The Battle of the Atlantic continued today with the loss of 26 American coastal forts to a German submarine attack.

The American forces were able to recover some of the lost equipment and personnel, but the loss of the forts is a major blow to the Allied war effort.

Baseball

Fifteen years ago

As a result of sport all of us who are members of the baseball and volyball fields should be proud of all of the boys who have given their best in these sports. It is not correct to say that it has been easy for them to do so.

The greatest cause of this community's public reputation of these places was their presence on the baseball field. Nothing could surpass them in their ability to attract the attention of the fans by their wonderful playing. Their ability to play baseball in a manner that could not but be admired by the fans was a real asset to the community.
