THE LISTENING POST

● It was a vastly different Winston Churchill who spoke to his people a few days ago—different, from the date on which he took over the reins of power after preceding prime ministers had fumbled and British armies had been all but destroyed. On that occasion it was a sober and depressing Prime Minister who addressed his anxious hearers. There he told his people nothing save that hard and bitter days were ahead. "I can promise you nothing," he said soberly, "save blood and sweat and toil and tears." Even then, however, he was not hopeless. On that darkest day in British history he was a fighter. He told his people and his defiant cry rang out in triumphant Germany. "We will continue to fight," he said. "We will fight on our beaches, we will fight in our streets and in our fields and we will win over these cruel forces which are opposing us."

● Relatively that has not been long ago. It was in the spring of 1940, just after France had fallen and after the British army had been driven into the sea with all equipment left behind on the beaches of France. Three years it has been, and yet in that three years a miracle has come to pass. Today Britain, along with the United States, holds the whiphand over Hitler's Germany and today Germany is getting the bitter dose which Britain took in the fall of 1940. The dose is being increased, and the latter part of Churchill's recent speech he took occasion to so inform Hitler.

● Those changes have come and a day or so ago Churchill told his people something of the situation. As usual, he did not close his eyes to facts. He still predicted heavy fighting and set the time for before the leaves of autumn fell. That is not a long time in the future, and it is likely that the time will come earlier. But in manner and in choice of words it was a new Churchill. Openly this time he spoke of victory and there was no hint of defeat. The time has passed for that, according to the British leader. Victory is in sight in Europe and Churchill had no qualifying statements on that aspect of the war. He admitted that victory would be costly, but said badly and sturdily that victory was already in the bag. All that remains is paying the price, which will probably be high.

● Turning to the Japanese area, Churchill pulled no punches, either and here his words bring reassurance to the United States. "No matter how many men are needed, no matter how many ships are required, no matter how many years will be necessary," he declared, "we will march at the side of the United States until Japan has been humbled, until they submit or are destroyed."

● There have been many in this country who doubted England's intentions on the Japanese front. Some have felt that the British would leave this war largely to the United States after Hitler had been defeated, but Churchill's words leave no room for doubt. In effect he pledged the full strength of the British Empire for the war against Japan. That will be a happy day—when the entire armed might of the two great English-speaking nations can be turned against Japan. Already the Japanese are feeling entirely too much might from the United States and it is my guess they will feel more before the summer is gone. But when the two nations, relieved of pressing duties in Europe, team together to carry the war to Japan, we may rest assured that the job will be amply taken care of.

● Churchill must have been a happier man the other day when he told his people of approaching victory. He has gone through dark hours during the past three years and as the sun begins to break through the clouds it must bring happiness to him and to his people who have suffered so much.

Martinique May Switch To Allies

Vichy Commander Asks For Change In Status

Washington.—United States authorities today took under consideration a reported offer of Admiral Georges Robert, Vichy French high commissioner at Martinique, to negotiate a transfer of his authority over the Antilles—a step which would lead to their alignment with the United Nations. Secretary of State Cordell Hull said a dispatch on that subject had been received through the Navy and that attention is being given to it. Asked at his press conference if any envoy had been sent to Martinique to discuss "terms for a change of French authority," Hull said the Navy probably would have to await further developments before any announcement could be made.

The Navy said it comment on the Martinique situation.

"We have received the note and will take it up with the State Department."

Since the United States government broke off informal relations with Robert last April 26, it has left Vice-Consul Ora S. Sliton there to protect American interests and has also maintained a naval observer there for security reasons. Hull at that time informed Robert that the consular officer would not be authorized to enter into or conduct any negotiations of a political character.

MISS LAKE ISSUES CANNING BOOKLET

Miss Nell Lake, home economist of the Kentucky Utilities Company, has just issued a comprehensive booklet regarding canning of food. This is an important part of the war effort these days, and the book, complete in every detail, will be found valuable by all home canners. The best practices are set forth in the booklet, and Miss Lake and the Kentucky Utilities Company are anxious for all interested persons to have a copy. Free copies may be secured at the local office of the utility company.

MRS. TREVATHAN DIES HERE AT HOME OF DAUGHTER

Mrs. Fannie B. Trevathan, 75, passed away this morning at 3 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Jess Woodard on Arch street, following a long illness. Funeral arrangements are incomplete, but will be held at the Baptist church in Arlington, with burial in the Arlington cemetery.

The deceased was born August 15, 1867 near Springhill, Ky., and had lived in Clinton most of her life. She came to Fulton several months ago to live with her daughter. She was a member of the Baptist church.

She is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Woodard and Mrs. J. B. Roberts of Fulton; three sons, Will, Bob and Sam Trevathan of Clinton; 12 grandchildren and four great grandchildren. A sister, Mrs. Bob Bridgeman of Arlington also survives.

Child Care Lack Hits War Effort; West Coast Experts Work On Problem

Los Angeles.—With her youngsters out of school for the summer, many a housewife is leaving the production line to take care of them and lack of adequate child-care facilities is threatening serious impairment of warplane production in this area.

The Aircraft War Production Council, Inc., so reported today, with arresting arithmetic in support of its statement:

"If one child care facility permits forty women to work full shifts in aircraft plants, that child care facility is making possible 8,000 productive manhours a month."

Plane builders in the Los Angeles area now hire more than 101,000 women, who have 19,000 children requiring care outside the home—a job for 197 child-care facilities, the council reported.

And the needs are going up, it added, declaring that, by December, 220 facilities will be wanted to care for 22,000 youngsters of war-working mothers.

The council said the Los Angeles City School Board has in operation twenty-one nursery centers established with Federal funds and plans twenty-nine more—enough, altogether, for 2,000 children in the 2 to 4 age group, when the need already is for 8,000.

620,000 WORKERS MADE IDLE BY STRIKES IN MAY

Washington.—The Bureau of Labor Statistics today reported a preliminary estimate of 395 strikes in May, the same number as in April, but the number of workers involved more than doubled.

An estimated 620,000 workers were affected and the number of man days of idleness was put at 1,275,000, compared with 200,000 workers involved in April and 675,000 man days.

The bureau said the coal strikes of May 1-3 accounted for considerably more than half of the idleness and the number of workers involved in May strikes.

Stern Steps May Be Taken To Save Gasoline

Rationing May Spread To Midwest And Pacific Coast

Washington.—Petroleum Administrator Harold L. Ickes today declared that stern steps may have to be taken in both the midwest and the Pacific coast areas to conserve petroleum supplies.

At a press conference Ickes reiterated previous statements that tighter midwest petroleum rationing may be necessary. And declining production and increased military demands on the Pacific coast "might mean rationing out there before the end of the year," he said.

Ickes said that no serious consideration has been given to the possibility of constructing a pipeline from the gulf area to the west coast.

"Reserves have been sufficient to date," he explained, "but from now on the civilian supply of petroleum will depend entirely upon future military requirements."

Ickes said that oil will be moving within two weeks through the 24-inch pipeline from Norris City, Ill., to the east coast. He emphasized that the line's full capacity of 350,000 barrels daily of crude oil will not be reached for possibly another two months, however, "because the pumps along the line are not yet completed."

FORMER FULTONIAN DIES IN ARKANSAS

Mrs. Alice Montgomery, 76, former Fulton resident, died Wednesday night at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles A. Emerson in Hot Springs, Ark. The body will arrive in Fulton Saturday night and will be taken to the Winstead-Murphy Funeral Home in Martin.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Sunday at Good Springs church, 3 miles south of Dukesdom, with burial in the church cemetery. She is survived by two sons, Mac and Boyd Montgomery and one daughter, Mrs. Emerson. Two grandchildren, Earline and Charles Emerson also survive.

More than 600 acres of Irish potatoes and approximately 350 acres of sweet potatoes are being grown in Leslie county.

Inquiry Into Detroit Riots Finds No Trace Of Axis-Born Influence

Detroit.—Officials of this troop-guarded city moved yesterday to identify basic causes of the race rioting that swept Detroit streets Monday and to seek means of eradicating them.

As a fact-finding committee reported to Gov. Harry F. Kelly lack of any evidence that the violence was planned or inspired by any enemy influence, Mayor Edward J. Jeffries, Jr., appointed a 12-member study committee and instructed it:

"To assemble immediately such data as may be available to formulate such programs as they think advisable, and to make such recommendations as their information and experience may dictate."

Six members of the group, including its chairman, William J. Norton, Executive Secretary of the Children's Fund of Michigan, are white, six are Negroes. Two are women.

DALTON CHAIRMAN OF DONALDSON ORGANIZATION HERE

Mrs. J. C. Scruggs Head Women's Organization

Chief of Police K. P. Dalton has been named as chairman of the Donaldson organization in the east end of Fulton county and has been working at the task of organization for several days. He stated today that he had the strongest organization he has ever had in past campaigns, and reports much interest is developing in the Donaldson candidacy.

Mrs. J. C. Scruggs is chairman of the women's group and has also been at work for several days getting her group ready for hard and aggressive campaign.

These two have headed several successful organizations in past years, having had charge of the Barkley campaign when he made his last race, and also handled the Keen Johnson campaign four years ago. Both are popular and keen students of political currents, and Mr. Donaldson is fortunate in securing their services for the campaign.

"We expect to carry on a hard clean campaign," Mr. Dalton said this morning. We sincerely believe that Mr. Donaldson offers the best qualifications to be found among the candidates for Governor, and it is our intention to try to convince as many voters of this belief."

SOLDIERS MAIL LIKE THAT OF LARGE CITY

Camp Polk, La.—Officers here say that despite the fact that the camp postal service handles an incoming soldier mail comparable to that of a city of 1,500,000 population and forwards some 30,000 letters monthly to all corners of the world, an average of only six letters a day must be returned to their senders.

Now is a good time to renew your subscription.

The Mayor's comment that Representative Martin Dies' Committee on Un-American Activities, planning an inquiry here, "can offer us nothing but more confusion," brought from Mr. Dies a suggestion that "we may surprise the Mayor and bring to light some things he hasn't been able to find out about."

Governor Kelley's fact-finding committee of high law enforcement officials, reporting no evidence on which to base a petition for a grand jury probe, noted that state and city police, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, Navy and Army Intelligence, and investigators of the Wayne County (Detroit) Prosecutor's Office and the Attorney General of Michigan "are at this time and will continue to conduct an intensive investigation into all phases of this riot."

YOUNG MEN WILL VISIT AIR FIELD AT UNION CITY

Special Program Is Arranged For July 4th At Embury-Riddle

July 4th is the BIG DAY when young men 17 to 18 years old will have planned for them a special program at Embury-Riddle Field, Union City, Tenn.

Charles E. Sullivan, Director of Flying, will act as Master of Ceremonies, while John V. Brannon and George W. "Flywheel" Jones will perform in two planes over the field going in opposite directions the following acrobatic stunts: Snap Rolls, Slow Rolls, Loops, Spins, Vertical Reverses, and Immelman's. Upon completion of these daring feats, Lieutenant Eugene L. Kleiderer, Jr., will join the above mentioned pilots upstairs and in formation "buzz" the field, and then carry on a three-ring circus in the sky.

The rest of the program will be as follows: The young men who do not have transportation to and from the field will meet in front of the Dwyer Crockett Hotel at 2:30. Mr. Ben F. Howard has offered his assistance and organization in obtaining sufficient civilian transportation for these boys. The field will be open for admittance at 3:00 p. m. Aviation Cadets stationed at this field will conduct groups of five of these young men around the field and explain to them the advantages offered by the Army Air Corps, however, no recruiting will be done.

These young men will be taken through a model Barracks occupied by Aviation Cadets, this Detachment, and through the Ground School. In the Link Trainer Department, these young men will observe instruments operated by expert military personnel, which teach pilots to fly "blind." The Mess Hall, Aviation Cadet Recreation Hall, and Canteen will be visited by the guests. Then to the Flight Line for an inspection of one of the Hangars, and on to the Flight Line where three types of airplanes will be on display for inspection, namely: a Fairchild, a Stearman, and a BT (Basic Trainer).

It is regretted that only this limited number, young men between the ages of 17 and 18, will be allowed upon the field, but it is planned by Major Charles E. Parsons, Commanding Officer, that an open house for every one will be held for the next graduating class, if possible.

It is suggested that any one not in the age limit, 17 to 18, wishing to observe the acrobatic stunts can park their cars on the three roads surrounding the field so long as they do not obstruct traffic.

HOW ABOUT SHORTENING THE WORD, COLONEL?

Los Angeles.—Col. James L. Walsh, U. S. A., retired, says every second counts when there's a war on.

He told the American Society of Mechanical Engineers:

"If everyone avoided saying 'hello' on each telephone call, man hours would be saved."

WEIGHT CHECKS REVEAL EFFECTS OF WAR DIETS

London.—Hundreds of housewives and employees in small businesses in three English districts are allowing themselves to be weighed once every three months to discover how war-time diet is affecting the Nation's health.

Selected at random, the people under study are given a weight card with the name of their local drug store. The clerk of the designated drug store weighs them, keeping the card which will ultimately be sent to the Food Ministry.

"Housewives are, unfortunately, often the first to be affected by any change in diet," said a Food Ministry official.

June Bombings Reach New High; Ruhr Hard Hit

Worst Is Still To Come As Bombing Forces Increase

London.—Striking from three directions, the mighty air arms of the American and British allies subjected Axis Europe to a design of destruction unparalleled in all history during the month of June, and for the enemy the worst was still to come.

During the month, Allied aerial power reached out in rising fury from bases in Britain, in northwest Africa and in the middle east—with American and British fliers cooperating smoothly to keep the offensive going virtually around the clock.

Reliable estimates placed the RAF's June bomb damage delivered from the homeland bases at a record 13,500 tons, topping by some 1,000 tons the May record of 12,500 tons. A great proportion of this June destruction was spread upon the Ruhr in nine major attacks, including an assault on Dueseldorf on June 11 by the war's greatest heavy bomber force.

CANNING DEMONSTRATION TO BE HELD AT SCHOOL

Miss Nell Lake, Kentucky Utilities Home Economist, will hold a canning demonstration Wednesday, July 7, at 2 p. m. at the home economics laboratory of the Fulton High school, and the public is cordially invited.

Miss Lake will can food in a pressure cooker, hot water bath and an electric range oven.

THE ADMIRAL'S MARCH SPED BY TELEPHONE

Corpus Christi, Texas.—Secretary Knox and Admiral A. E. Montgomery were going to inspect the Ward Island naval air technical training center and the musicians didn't have "The Admiral's March," a horn-blower scurried to the telephone and took the march, note by note, from a bandman at the nearby naval center. A bosun's whistle piped it back as a check.

When the dignitaries arrived, the band was ready.

Tram Conductor Sleuth Honored For Capturing Man Wanted For Killing

Chicago.—The dual job of piloting his street car and accepting the congratulations of passengers for his detective work in tracking down a man he suspected of shooting his friend didn't erase a big smile from the Irish countenance of William Mahoney, 43, today.

Police officials lauded Mahoney for tracking down the suspect, whom they announced had confessed slaying Joseph Schulte, 76, in an attempted holdup of his West Side jewelry store.

A resolution citing Mahoney for "service to the city" will be presented to the City Council at 10 o'clock Monday, said Alderman [name], while the Chi-

Planes Blasted As Americans Capture Viru

One U. S. Transport Is Lost After Landings

Allied Headquarters in Australia, Friday.—The Americans are consolidating all their positions in the new southwest Pacific offensive, General MacArthur's headquarters announced today.

Australian patrols are attacking Japanese forces in the Salamaua area of northeastern New Guinea, the noon bulletin stated.

The occupation of Rendova Island is believed to have been completed, the headquarters announcement said, and the Allies are shelling the nearby Munda airdrome, heart of big Japanese installations.

By John M. Hightower

Washington.—Powerful American sea and air forces beat off Japan's first aerial counterattack on the Solomons prong of the south Pacific offensive, the Navy announced today, while troops ashore on New Georgia Island captured Viru harbor, only 30 nautical miles southeast of the enemy's Munda air base.

At least 65 Japanese planes were destroyed in a violent all day battle off Rendova Island two days ago when American troops were first being discharged there in a flanking move on Munda, five miles away. This was more than half the estimated total of 110 enemy fighters, level bombers, dive bombers and torpedo planes, which took part in the successive assaults.

FATHER OF MRS. NALL DIES IN ST. LOUIS

Friends of Mrs. Maestri Nall, will be sorry to learn of the death of her father, George F. McDonald, Saturday in St. Louis, Mo. Funeral services were held Monday in St. Louis. Mr. McDonald was well known in Fulton, having visited in the home of his daughter here many times.

He is survived by five daughters, Mrs. Nall of this city, Mrs. Esther Brown, Miss Mildred McDonald and Mrs. Vincent Townsend of St. Louis.

Mrs. Nall and her two children, Mac and Tommy, have been in St. Louis for the past few weeks attending his bedside and they will return here about July 8.

CANADA TOLD SYNTHETIC TO EASE LEATHER PINCH

Montreal.—G. Elmer Johnston, federal shoe controller, told the National Shoe Retailers Association last night that the shoe leather shortage would be relieved soon by a substitute rated 25 per cent better than leather.

Johnston said that the substitute was "vinylite." He did not give details. Members of the association had expressed fear that the leather shortage would lead to shoe rationing in Canada, as in the United States.

Cheese demonstrations in several counties are encouraging homemakers to make good use of milk surpluses.

ANTI-STRIKE ACTION

Congress's slap-bang overriding of President Roosevelt's veto of the Smith-Connally Anti-strike bill is a fair gauge of the national temper in the wake of the coal stoppages. This dramatically sharp and almost nonpartisan action, taken with other signs of independence in both houses in late days, should serve to warn the President that he must take bolder, faster, better co-ordinated steps along the home front or expect that Congress will continue to run with the bit between its teeth.

It is true the United States should have a better instrument than the Smith-Connally legislation with which to deal with wartime strikes.

It is true that much more irritation with labor crept into the hastily patched-up measure. Several of its provisions are, as Mr. Roosevelt says, extraneous to the purpose of stopping wartime strikes. Possibly some of them would interfere, as he asserts, with its purpose. Certainly some of them would never have been approved in Congress except for the off-again, on-again coal strike, although we hardly see it as such a grotesque menace to national life and freedom as labor leaders have contended.

Whatever we may think of it, this view of labor is an important factor in the situation that now confronts the Nation. War production will not be promoted by increasing the feeling of many workers that they are being unfairly treated and that the enemies of unionism have seized this opportunity to throw everything but the kitchen sink at them in the guise

FIFTEEN YEARS AGO

(July 2, 1928)

Garth Ferguson of LaCenter today announced his candidacy for Congress from the First District.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bone announce the birth of a son at their home in Riceville.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bell left today for Jacksonville, Fla., to spend some time.

James O. Brown has returned to Detroit, after visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Brown.

Miss Kathryn Campbell has returned from a visit to friends in Clinton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cowardin spent Sunday with friends in Kenton.

Warren and Robert Graham are in Chicago at the furniture market.

Mrs. J. A. Puroell is visiting her brother in Lambert, Miss.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal Karmire of Shelbyville, Ind., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don Taylor.

of anti-strike bill. For that reason we wish Congress had taken the President at his word and simply enacted the seven provisions of the Smith-Connally bill which he endorsed and which would clearly empower the Government to stop wartime strikes.

But that purpose seems to us so important that to serve it some risks may be taken with legislation that is less than perfect. It may, however, still be necessary to enact a work or fight measure which would permit strikers to be drafted. Here is one instrument in which Congress ought to find itself in agreement with the President. Perhaps both of these measures need some provision to prevent unions from forcing the Government to take over mines or factories. But action arming the Government with power to end intolerable defiance of national purposes and dangerous interferences with the war effort—that is the first essential—Christian Science Monitor.

JONES, WALLACE URGED TO STRESS SUGAR PRODUCTION

New York. —William B. Craig, president of the New York Coffee and Sugar Exchange, today urged War Food Administrator Marvin Jones and Vice President Wallace, chairman of the Board of Economic Warfare, to encourage record sugar production in 1944.

He told the Government authorities in letters that increased sugar output would help avert a serious shortage of energy foods, and would aid economies of the Caribbean republics and Puerto Rico.

Reports on shipping, he added, "seem to agree that ocean transportation no longer constitutes a bottleneck in our war economy." He said the Caribbean has no manpower shortage problem.

PENNY GROWS TO $5,200 FOR NAVY RELIEF

Linden, N. J. —Employees of the Eastern Aircraft Plant planned today to turn over to the Navy Relief Fund a contribution that began with a penny and rose to $5,200.

Leo Zebolski of North Arlington found the penny on the main assembly floor and pasted it on the side of a Wildcat plane with scotch tape.

The idea caught on. Another employee pasted on a dime; someone came through with a dollar. In less than an hour the sides of the plane were covered with coins and currency.

When the money had to be removed before the plane received its final coat of paint, donations were switched to a receptacle and the pile continued to swell until $5,200 had been collected.

INDICTMENTS DROPPED AGAINST FOOD CHAINS

Kansas City, Kan. —Indictments charging the Safeway Store, Inc., and the Kroger Grocery and Baking Company, with violations of the antitrust laws were dismissed today by Federal Judge Richard J. Hopkins.

Demurrers filed by the companies to the indictments returned by a grand jury January 20 were upheld by the court in ruling the charges were indefinite and insufficient.

The grand jury action followed an investigation by the Justice Department.

NO CUT IN GASOLINE CONTEMPLATED NOW

Washington. —Price Administrator Prentiss M. Brown said today that no reduction in the value of A B or C gasoline coupons is "now contemplated."

"It is the hope of the Office of Price Administration that sufficient gasoline can be brought into the northeastern shortage area to make any further reduction in civilian use unnecessary," Brown said. He added, however, that reduction of coupon values would be necessary if all the gasoline that it is possible to transport leaves "less than enough to meet essential civilian needs."

No sir! We've never seen a vitamin—in fact, we wouldn't know it if we saw one. But during the last three years we have heard a lot about vitamins, and the deficiency thereof in cereals in American foods, including white family flour.

The truth is, we had been milling for a third of a century before it was discovered that white flour was lacking in anything. ## KENTUCKY FARM NEWS

Many farmers in Carroll county, where there is a labor shortage, were able to put in their full war-crop quota because of custom tractor work done by four tractor owners. School boys and girls have signed up to assist in rush seasons. The homemakers' market in Henderson county adds to the supply of food available by its weekly sale of home-produced foods. In May, 31 women sold $562 worth of food to 480 patrons. The market was open five days.

Herman Layman of Grayson county made a gross income of $200 per month during the winter from his flock of 400 Barred Plymouth Rock hens. He says the income from his poultry flock was greater than the combined income from swine, sheep, corn, oats and wheat.

Dr. H. K. Buttermore of Stanfill Camp in Harlan county has recommended that people needing help on the best use of ration points confer with members of homemakers' clubs. Church groups serving community dinners have also found their suggestions of value in planning nourishing and attractive meals with a minimum of points.

Poultrymen in Jackson county experienced some trouble with chickens during the past month after feeding them mash with insufficient animal proteins. The remedy, the feeding of milk, revived weak, sick chickens within two or three days.

Mrs. Marvin Black of Shelby county has made good use of the pointers learned through her homemakers' club. She has refinished and painted furniture, stripped linoleum, padded and slip-covered a three-piece wicker set of furniture, and now is slip-covering an automobile seat for use as a divan in her living room.

ROBERTS GIVES 40 YEARS TO KENTUCKY SOIL CONSERVATION

After almost 40 years of service to agriculture, Prof. George Roberts has retired as head of the Agronomy Department of the University of Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station. His successor is Prof. E. J. Kinney, who has been at the Experiment Station since 1908.

Prof. Roberts is widely known for his work with the soil. He is one of the pioneers in soil building and conservation. For almost a generation he has gone up and down the highways and byways of Kentucky preaching and teaching the restoration of the soil and the maintenance of fertility. Most of the extensive work in soils and crops at the main Experiment Station at Lexington and at the experiment substations at Quicksand and Princeton was developed under his supervision. He also established a system of soil demonstration fields in the State.

While relinquishing active duties as department head, Prof. Roberts will remain at the Experiment Station, that agriculture may continue to have his advice and counsel. Dean Thomas P. Cooper said he considered it fortunate that he would continue to be associated with the Experiment Station.

"In the 40 years that he has been at the Experiment Station he has performed a service for agriculture that is most outstanding, adding greatly to the productivity of agriculture and to the economic wealth of the state," said Dr. Cooper. "Through his leadership, farmers of Kentucky have undertaken a soils program the results of which can be seen everywhere in the State."

BALBO EYE SAVES DAY FOR DAIRYMAN

Farm Agent John T. Cochran of Gallatin county relates how a Balbo rye cover crop saved a herd of 50 dairy cows for H. J. Richards, a dairyman in that county. Usually Mr. Richards seeds cover crops upon harvesting, but because of a labor scarcity last fall, his 120 acres of Balbo rye were not sown until November. As feed became scarce in February, it was necessary to pasture the cover crops. Six weeks later, when hay, corn and silage were gone, the cows were turned on the cover crop for all their roughage. The results were gratifying, for milk increased 5 percent and the feed costs decreased more than 50 percent.

Although this was a poor cover crop year, according to Mr. Richards, he will, in addition to the pasture used, harvest 10 acres that were pastured but little, and he'll also get some seed from 40 acres. The remainder has been or will be turned under.

"We would be compelled to go out of the dairy business if it were not for our cover crop program. From now on, we plan to use it even more," declared Mr. Richards.

The Constitution of the United States?

"We, the people of the United States..."

156 years ago, these simple words began America's warranty of freedom.

Today we are deep in war—so that this warranty may endure. Should we win—and win we must—whom will it profit?

Are you a farmer, and do you love your land? Are you a worker, and do you cherish your hard-bought home? It will profit you that no man, without due process, can wrest your home, your field, your plow from you.

Do you worship God in a church, or in a synagogue, or in the secret places of your heart? It will profit you that no heathen hand can desecrate your altars.

Do you impart the truth to the printed page—or do you seek it there? It will profit you that the presses will not be shattered in the night.

Do you talk with your neighbors in the market place—or meet on the steps of the town hall? It will profit you that no bludgeon can drive you into secret cellars.

Our Constitution assures us these things. And these we fight for.

In many ways we fight. Some in small, silent ways—when our sons have gone. Some in large, heroic ways—in the roaring of wings. Farmers fight in the rows of corn; writers under the lamp; ministers from the pulpit's height.

Not the least of these are the men of industry. And proud we are to be among them.

Proud to pledge ourselves still further to the fight—that all peoples everywhere may continue to find in this Constitution of ours a heartening hope!
