VOLUME III.

HOPKINSVILLE, CHRISTIAN COUNTY, KENTUCKY, SATURDAY, AUGUST 25, 1888.

NUMBER 144

CONDENSED NEWS.

The Democrats of the Ninth have nominated Thomas H. Paynter for congress.

Sixteen new cases of yellow fever were reported from Jacksonville, Fla., Thursday.

Fourteen killed and a number wounded was the result of a boiler explosion at Neenah, Wis., Thursday night.

Bell county, Ky., is whooping 'em up; four men killed on the L. & N. extension to Cumberland Gap Wednesday night.

At Kenton, Ky., a saw mill boiler exploded and the engine was blown a hundred feet through the tree tops, the fireman was so badly scalded that he died, and several bystanders were seriously injured.

The president Thursday sent to congress a lengthy message on the fisheries question. He urged that measures be enacted in order that retaliation may be practiced to the fullest extent when occasion requires.

The steamer Oceanic, from Hong Kong to San Francisco, collided with the City of Chester in the Golden Gate Wednesday morning during a heavy fog, sinking the latter at once, thirty-one lives being lost.

The corn crop of Henderson county was badly blown by the storm of Tuesday night. In many places it is tangled and lying flat. Much tobacco was also blown down. The damage cannot be estimated, but it is known to be immense.

Billie Chandler was set upon on Sunday by Senator Rogers the other day that there are wrinkles in him yet. Chandler was boasting some more of his senatorial election frauds than in the senate and happened to name Texas. Rogers popped up and told Billie that he was a liar, physically, mentally and morally and an impudent fellow generally.

Blaine on Texas.

Very frequently since James G. Blaine's return from Europe has the remark been made that he was determined to defeat Harrison. We do not credit this statement in so far as it attributes design to Mr. Blaine; but whether or not the purpose was there, that he has given the Republican party and its candidate an excellent start on that road cannot be gainsaid.

There is nothing in the life of today that is so universally and fervently denounced and cried out against as the numerous trusts that regulate the price of pretty nearly every article of daily use, and by the pressure of combined capital force out all competition, leaving the people to be preyed upon as greed and avarice may dictate. The sugar trust has set the price of that necessary article up at 2 cents a pound. The lumber trust levies tribute on every man who builds a house or a fence; the salt trust draws its sustenance from every table in the land; the bagging trust increases the cost of getting every bushel of grain and pound of cotton on the market; the cordage trust robs every man who uses twine or rope; the rubber trust, the envelope trust, the oil trust, the cotton-seed trust, the type trust, these are some of the combinations that are robbing every man, woman and child in this country.

So oppressive and impudent had these things become that President Cleveland called the attention of congress to their rapacity and growing numbers, and in the name of the American people demanded that some action be taken against them.

Now comes the apostle of the Republican party—the man who is to lead the reform and hungry hosts into the fat larders and tempting pastures of office—and says of these trusts:

"They are largely private affairs, with which neither President Cleveland nor any private citizen has any right to interfere."

Here is the direct and explicit declaration of the recognized leader of the Republican party that no one has a right to interfere with these combinations organized expressly and solely for purposes of robbery. Not even the President of the United States, says Mr. Blaine, may lift his voice in behalf of the people, and demand that this system of robbing be stopped!

Wherein does a trust differ from a highwayman? Will you take your money against your will? Will you surrender the price the trust fixes for your necessities or do without them; the highwayman demands your money or your life, and you do without one or the other. By Mr. Blaine's logic, the highwayman is "largely a private affair" with which no one has a right to interfere.

Mr. Blaine has done not only the Democratic party, but the whole country, an enormous service in thus exposing the true spirit and intentions of the Republican party. It is now a question between legalizing the bandit that are increasing under the names of trusts, or throttling them and making their increase or reascendation impossible. As between these, there can be no hesitation, and there will be none.

"The trusts must go!"

What does Blaine mean by his defense of "trusts"? Was he wise or wise-looking to party success, in the intimation that they are not subject to legislative control?

Blaine is a far-seeing, and perhaps had effect the effect on the public mind of a party recognition by the money which the trusts would contribute to the campaign fund.

The trusts of this country are a power; they are especially a money power, and if one of the great parties goes forward to their defense, stands up for them, the other party will certainly feel their money in the election. Wonder if Blaine didn't have an eye to the money.

NEIGHBORHOOD NOTES.

Hopkins County Hunter.

On last Thursday morning the saw mill belonging to Knoblock, Osburn & Co., a few miles from town, was destroyed by fire. It is unknown whether it was accidental or the work of an incendiary. The loss will be perhaps $2,000. J. D. Martin had an interest of about $700, J. T. Robinson, $300; Isaac T. Osburn, $800 and Mr. Knoblock $500. There was no insurance on the property.

Mr. C. W. Metcalfe, of the Metcalfe Manufacturing Company, of Hopkinsville, passed through town Saturday going to Nabo, where he had sold a large saw mill.

Counterfeiting on a small scale has been discovered recently at Sebes. Wm. Adcock was recently arrested for passing counterfeit nickels. He had an examining trial last week and was held over. Several others were implicated, but proved themselves clear.

Elizabethtown has been boasting of her sixty-five widows. Our town comes in at the front and proposes to lay that little village in the shadow. We have had an agent employed to canvass Madisonville, ascertain the matrimonial standing of our people. It is found on actual count that there are 75 widows, 19 widowers, 27 bachelors, 32 old maids, and a whole regiment of marriageable young ladies. Several widows have married recently and there will probably travel the same road before long. There is not one of the list mentioned but would make a good partner for anyone wishing to join the procession of double blessedness.

Union Local.

Some impetuous cuss, desirous of much travel, broke open the O. & Y. depot office at Princeton last Monday night, and not only stole all the tickets but the case also. Capt. Banks had to make change with some fifty passengers coming of Princeton Tuesday morning.

A gentleman of unimpeachable veracity reports a singular case to the Local. It is said that a cow belonging to Mr. Thos. E. Willett, formerly of this county, but now living near Paducah, recently gave birth to a litter, one of which was about the size of a cat, while the others were very much smaller. The cow was in labor during a period of twenty-four hours, and the result was so appalling that she died at the end of that time. The calves also died in a short while. This is the first case of the kind on record, but the truth of the report cannot be doubted, since it was brought to this county by a lady, and abundant proof can be produced if necessary.

Bowling Green Democrat.

On the early train this morning, Dr. Gill, of Elkton, and Rev. Frank Perry, of Hopkinsville, arrived in this city en route to their homes from London, England, where they have been as delegates to the Pan-Frederickian Association, which convened during the early part of the month of July. Dr. Gill left today for his home, but Mr. Perry is still in the city on a visit to his brother, Wm. Perry. While in Europe, both Dr. Gill and Mr. Perry made a tour of the continent, and both are highly pleased with their trip. The many friends of the gentlemen in this city will be glad to learn that they have had a pleasant voyage and a safe return.

Terrible Forewarnings.

Cough in the morning, hurried or difficult breathing, raising phlegm, tightness in the chest, quickened pulse, chilliness in the evening or sweats at night, all or any of these things are the first stages of consumption. Acker's English Cough Remedy will cure these fearful symptoms, and is sold under a positive guarantee by H. B. Garner.

Special Correspondence.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Aug. 24.—Quite a number of young gentlemen and ladies, accompanied by Mr. H. B. Watts, attended the meeting at Salubria one evening last week and were compelled to stay over night in the church on account of the heavy rain.

Mr. M. Turnley, of Lake Weir, Fla., is on a visit to his mother.

Misses Alice Byers and Blanche O'Brien, of Clarksville, will be the guests of Mr. T. D. Jamison next week.

A most elegant entertainment was given at the residence of Mr. T. D. Jamison, Tuesday evening. Genuine Kentucky Hospitality was extended to the guest by our worthy hosts. Refreshments were served in elegant style. Would that our county was filled with such elegant people.

Mr. Frank Beaumont has sold his beautiful farm to Mr. Allen, of Westfork.

The many friends of Mrs. Annie Pendleton will be glad to hear of her rapid improvement.

Mr. Joe W. Fortson died the 19th inst; interment at the family burying grounds.

Bob Pendleton will go to Clarksville Sunday. I wonder what for? Raw. (Owing to the late hour of its arrival and the crowded conditions of our columns it was necessary to leave out a goodly portion of the above letter. We trust the writer will appreciate the circumstances.—Editor.)

A Woman's Discovery.

"Another wonderful discovery has been made and that too by a lady in this county. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest attacks, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly and could not sleep. She bought of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with one bottle has been miraculously cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz." Thus writes W. C. Hamrick & Co., of Shelby, N. C., at Harry B. Garner's City Pharmacy 50 cents and a $1.00 per bottle.

Gen. Harrison has been presented by an admirer with two bottles of hair oil. It takes soap, however, and not hair oil, to run a political campaign.

EUROPE'S ARMED PEACE.

The Terrible Strain on the Nations—The Next War.

The whole continent seems to be under some horrible enchantment. The armed peace sits like a vampire at the bedside of the people, draining their life blood while they sleep. Hence, say some, war is certain. The nations cannot stand the strain much longer. Sooner or later, and sooner rather than later, they will rush to war rather than wait to be slowly suffocated by the sheer weight of their armor.

As the armed peace is a nightmare fonder than the world has yet suffered, so the next war is an appalling catastrophe from which imagination shrinks aghast. For there is nothing in modern history that it will resemble. Hitherto, down even to the last war, when empires have gone to battle it has been a war of soldiers. The next war will be a war of peoples. In the Russo-Turkish war it was an army framed on the old system which was repulsed at Plevna, and ultimately swept in triumph to Constantinople. In the Franco-German war the French army was largely professional, and it was because the standing army of professional soldiers went down like nincompoops before the irresistible rush of an armed nation that all military systems have been revolutionized. Now every nation has armed all its able bodied adults.

In former days the mustering of a half million of soldiers was regarded as a mighty feat. Today Prince Bismarck adds to the ranks of the army of the fatherland, with one stroke of his pen, 700,000 fathers of families, and not a single voice is raised even in passing protest. Germany in the center of Europe fronts east and west with an available host of 2,000,000 French soldiers. France will have between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 ready to hand. Russia before long will be able to put 5,000,000 into line. Austria and Italy were not so content. The blast of the trumpets that proclaims the beginning of war will summon the manhood of Europe to the work of slaughter.

Not only will the number of the combatants be far beyond those which were raised even in the days of the First Napoleon—the grand army with which he crossed the frontier on his march to Moscow only consisted of the same number of men that has been added this year to the German army—but the spirit in which it will be brought out will differ for the worse. Prince Bismarck has frankly told us what kind of war it will be. We shall fight, he said, if we do not fight, until we are dead. That is the declared ideal of the foremost nation of the continent in the year of grace 1888. The imagination refuses to picture what it means. All our recent wars were short. The longest was that of the Crimea, which was little more than the siege and the defense of a single fortress by professional soldiers. The Franco-Italian war was almost an affair of weeks. The Danish war was over almost before it began. The Austro-Prussian war lasted just six weeks. The Franco-German war was over in six months. The conquest of Turkey was completed in about the same time.

But the next war will not be over in six weeks or six months. To bleed each other white, when both combatants are pretty well matched, and when there are millions of men in reserve, is an affair of years. But when all the business is suspended, and the farmers have been summoned from the farm to the battle-field, it will be impossible to carry on war on this scale for years without utter collapse and ghastly famine. Hence the embattled millions will fight with the grim and desperate energy of men who know that, like Judas, what they do they must do quickly. They will strike terror. All the tomes of rules of civilized war will be in danger of going by the board. It will be a contest of titans waged with the ruthlessness of fiends. The next war will be in danger of degenerating into the Nineteenth century version of the horrors of the thirty years' war, on a scale far more ghastly, and therefore characterized by crimes far more colossal.—Fall Mail Gazette.

When Lawyers Are Rusty.

Yes, lawyers frequently call upon clerks for points in pleadings and practice. In fact, scarcely a day passes but that some lawyer, frequently the most successful practitioner, will call upon the clerk for information relative to the details of pleadings, and the suggestions given are generally of incalculable benefit, because always accurate. A majority of lawyers are up with the law and authorities, but many of them are rusty in the ordinary pleadings, which are sometimes rather complicated.—Deputy Circuit Clerk in Globe-Democrat.

Rare and Interesting Relics.

There is a thriving industry at Nickewang in Petersburg, where ornamental articles are made from rare woods grown in this country and abroad. The proprietor has in stock a wheel belonging to a chariot in Egypt which shows the rude workmanship of those times. A lower of interesting relics has brought to the shop a piece of an old whipping post which stood in Richmond, Va., in 1699. Some pretty articles were turned out from this interesting piece of wood.—Boston Transcript.

Capable of Bearing Arms.

M. Gervais, a French authority, says there are men capable of bearing arms in Germany, 5,000,000; in France, 4,500,000; in Austria-Hungary, 1,800,000; in Italy, 2,000,000; in England, 800,000; in Russia, 6,000,000, and all the other European states, 4,000,000. That gives a total of 24,100,000. Of that number 10,000,000 are trained soldiers.—Boston Budget.

Fabric Made from Nettles.

The fabric known as Chinese grass cloth is made from the fiber of nettles. The cloth is peculiarly glossy and transparent, and is being for machinery, has double the strength of other fabrics.—Pablo Opinion.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Sult, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles, and was cured of Rheumatism of 10 years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my 20 years' experience, is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the Liver, Kidneys or Bladder. Only a half dollar a bottle at Harry B. Garner's City Pharmacy.

TRUSTS.

It is notorious that competition is too often strangled by trusts. These trusts are not newly created, but are the result of the greed of a few men who have sought to monopolize the business of the country.

Here are the opinions of the two leading men of their respective parties; each a true representative of its principles.

Take your choice.

MR. BISHOP.

M. W. Bishop went to Evansville

Tuesday to buy plate glass for the front of his store—Hopkins County Hustler.

Mr. Bishop, when you paid for that glass did you stop to consider how much it was for the material and how much for protection? or did you, like the great majority, think you were paying for the glass alone? Had you an idea of the amount you paid out for the honor of living in a "protection" country? As an example we will suppose you bought two plates,

6x12 feet each, and that you paid for them $100, or $50 apiece. Probably the glass you bought was of American manufacture, yet you paid an import duty

just the same. This may seem strange,

but it is nevertheless true. The importer of French plate must pay a duty of 60 cents per square foot on glass above

24x36 in size. This, of course makes it very expensive. The American takes advantage of this, and puts up the price of his glass accordingly. But you must give him credit for one thing—he prices his glass just a little bit lower than the importer can afford to. He does this because he loves you and the men who buy, and because it shuts out his competitor. The Democrats are unkind enough to call him a monopolist,

but the Republicans have a more enlightening term—the friend of the laboring man. As aforesaid you bought two plates, 6x12 feet each, or 144 square feet. For this you paid $100. Of this sum $79.50 was for the material and $20.50 for protection. Rather dear pro-

HE WANTS HIS SWORD.

An Open Letter to the Relatives of

Col. Woodward.

Bedford, Iowa, Aug. 20.—To any of the sons of other desperadoes of Col. Tom

Woodward, of the First Kentucky

Confederate Cavalry:

In a campaign in North Alabama, in 1862, Col. Tom Woodward, commanding an expeditionary force, attacked and captured myself and my command at a bridge ten miles west of Athens, Ala. I was then captain of Co. E, 37th Ind.

Infantry. I had a great desire to trace the sword, and I write this to ask if any of Col. Woodward's heirs know whether he preserved and retained the sword, and whether the colonel ever kept the trophy.

It would afford me great pleasure to find out anything connected with the colonel and the present whereabouts of the aforesaid sword, and I think I would make it pleasant to any one who could do me the favor to give any information on the subject.

Col. Woodward captured my command in full fight in a desperate engagement.

I was badly wounded and was treated with great kindness and humanity by

Col. Woodward and his men after the fight.

I have heard that Col. Woodward was killed in the service and that is the reason I address this letter to any relatives or friends of his.

Very Respectfully,

M. C. CONNETT.

Late Capt. Co. E, 37th Ind. Infantry.

The above letter was received Wednesday by Dr. H. B. Garner, who gave it to us with the request to publish it,

thinking that some one of the survivors of Woodward's Second Kentucky Cavalry

might be in possession of information

which will lead to the recovery of Capt.

Connett's sword.

Capt. Connett expresses a desire to know something further of the gallant

Colonel Woodward, of whom, as may be seen, he speaks in high terms.

But little is known of Tom Woodward's early life. He came to this country

several years prior to the outbreak of the civil war from New Haven, Conn.

He was a cadet from the military academy at West Point and while at home on a leave of absence became involved in a difficulty for which he was forced to

OUT AT THE PARK.

A Peep at the Quick Steppers That are There.

Thursday morning a New Era man

in company with several gentlemen

largely interested in the Driving Park visited the stables and grounds. There is no prettier or faster half mile track

in the South than this, which has been made at a great expenditure on the part of the association. The grounds are systematically arranged and well kept. The stables are divided into large comfortable stalls. A visitor is at once struck with the neatness and system

which prevails around the stables.

Mr. P. H. McNary, one of the most skillful trainers in the state, has charge of the grounds. He has the track worked daily. Mr. McNary showed the reporter through the stables, pointing out

every animal's good points, giving pedigree, etc. Following is a partial list of horses now in training at the park:

Retort, bay stallion, 4 years old, property of Mrs. Noe Dills. This is one of the finest animals in the state and the late Noe Dills a short time prior to his death refused $5,000 for him.

Cleveland, bay colt, 3 years old, property of W. E. Ragdale.

Alice Cheatham, sorrel filly, 4 years old, property of Wm. Jessup. This is one of the fastest animals on the grounds.

Headlight, bay filly, 4 years old,

property of Wm. Jessup.

Kate Castleton, bay mare, 6 years old property of J. E. Ray.

Two yearling colts, property of Mrs.

Dills.

Judge Grace—this is the splendid pace mentioned in the New Era several weeks since.

Annie Dictator, bay filly, property of R. H. Holland. This is a well bred animal and one of the most promising

two-year-olds in the stables.

M. E. M., bay filly, 3 years old, property of P. H. McNary.

Collector, bay colt, 3 years old, property of W. E. Ragdale. This is the animal recently purchased by Mr.

Ragdale at the Kelson sale. He is a magnificent colt and will make a record.

Winters, bay colt, 3 years old, property of R. H. Holland. This is one of a piece of horse flesh as was ever seen in Christian county. He is unusually fast.

Senator Upcraft, bay colt, 4 years

Too Hasty.

Wednesday night several young

"hoods" filled up on prohibition whisky

and marched down Main street whooping and yelling like Comanche Indians.

Chief Biggestaff and Officer Witty followed them around Ninth street and Virginia until they disappeared in Lily

Buckner's livery stable. The officers did not recognize the men and seeing

John Leavel and John Williams sitting in the stable supposed that they were the parties who had been guilty of the disorderly conduct, and placed them under arrest. Both men protested their innocence and Williams refused to accompany the officer. A scuffle ensued and Witty struck Williams over the head with his billy. The chief interposed and prevented further trouble by taking charge of Williams himself.

Subsequently the chief became convinced of the truth of Williams' statement that he was innocent and set him at liberty. The young men who were the cause of the unfortunate affair had passed through the stable without stopping. Williams on Thursday morning had a warrant issued for the arrest of Witty, the latter had however already surrendered himself to a justice of the peace. Witty's conduct is by no means free from blame. If he had exercised ordinary discretion the affair could have been averted.

BLINDNESS.

Should I be ready when the shadow falls?
When my heart's heaven's blue
The fatal darkness comes, and I must go
So still, so slow.

The smallest child could see our country's past
When each dear loving face
Must tell from us its lonely sorrow
Its joys or fears?

When weary plumes of golden rods shall flame
For other eyes than mine
When autumn's burning tapers shall be quenched
And the night comes on again?

When playing hands shall cease from minuet
And the music shall be still
When the light of day shall be no more
And the night comes on again?

When the light of day shall be no more
And the night comes on again?
When the light of day shall be no more
And the night comes on again?

WHY DO YOU EAT?

A Pertinent Question—Violation of Nature's Law—The Penalty.

Why do you eat? This query, if responded to by the majority of people on the spur of the moment, would, no doubt, result in answers as varied as the human mind. A query of this character is the sufficient importance for the reason it is a question of the most vital importance to the human race. It is a question of the most vital importance to the human race. It is a question of the most vital importance to the human race.

THE CITY OF QUITO.

It is not far from the equator, Quito is situated in the midst of a perpetual spring. The climate is so temperate that it is not necessary to wear heavy clothing. The climate is so temperate that it is not necessary to wear heavy clothing. The climate is so temperate that it is not necessary to wear heavy clothing.

THE WOMEN OF BULGARIA.

At home the Bulgarian woman is a sturdy, honest housewife, helpful to her husband in all that the term implies. She is not a weak, dependent creature, but a strong, independent being. She is not a weak, dependent creature, but a strong, independent being.

NEW YORK AND FOREIGN CITIES.

There is no palatial New York in the sense in which there is a Paris, a Vienna, a Milan. You can touch it at no point. It is not even there. There is no palatial New York in the sense in which there is a Paris, a Vienna, a Milan.

THE MORMON COLONY IN CHILAHUAS.

The Mormons have within the past three years been advancing their conquest of the fertile lands in this country and the opportunity to escape persecution in the United States. The results are seen in the flourishing colonies of Juarez and El Paso, the former adjoining the latter about seventy-five miles to the north.

NATIVES OF MARTINIQUE.

A Peculiar Type of Physical Beauty—A Blending of Races.

Then you begin to look about you at the black, brown and yellow faces that are studying you curiously from beneath the yellow striped Madras turbans, or from under the shadow of mahogany slatted straw hats as large as umbrellas.

IN THE SPRING.

Almost everybody wants a "Spring Tonic." Here is a simple testimonial, which shows how B. B. B. is regarded. It will knock your malaria out and restore your appetite:
