$229,593.52 Expended By W.P.A. in Calloway County

CWA HAS SPENT $86,243.00 HERE ADDITIONALLY

Local Sponsors Have Paid
Only $20,426.50 of Entire Costs of Both

MANY THINGS HAVE BEEN AIDED BY SUMS

The exact extent to which Calloway county citizens and taxpayers have benefited from efforts of the Roosevelt Administration in the relief of distress during the depression is told in a graphic set of figures released today by George H. Goodman, administrator for the Works Progress Administration in Kentucky which shows a total of $229,593.52 expended on highly constructive and permanent improvements anyone may see. This figure does not include an additional $86, 243.00 spent within the limits of the county by the Civil Works Administration.

Of all the money spent in Calloway county to provide work for needy families and to keep the wheels of industry turning local sponsors have contributed $20, 426.50. In other words, the county has built into the future by way of streets, roads, schools and similar projects to the extent of $229,593.52, plus $86,243.00 from the Civil Works Administration at an actual cost to the people of only $20,426.50.

"I am certain," Mr. Goodman said, "no merchant or business man in Calloway county has failed to feel the effect of the National Administration's efforts toward normalcy and a more abundant life for all. Dollars have been kept working where otherwise business stagnation would have prevailed.
We are proud of the work we have done thus far and invite Calloway countians to inspect the result of our efforts within their own territories, after which I am sure the consensus of opinion will be that,
with the wholehearted cooperation of Calloway sponsors, we have been able to establish needed and lasting improvements."

Under the Kentucky Emergency Relief Administration a total of $129,909.84 was spent in Calloway county of which $7,588 represented local funds and with approximately 15 per cent funds supplied by the State. Under the Works Progress Administration $99,683.69 has passed into channels of industry in Calloway county of which the taxpayers have contributed $13,068.92. From the Works Progress Administration the county has received $45,413.63 in streets, $18,352.20 in farm to market roads in an effort to life the farmer out of the mud, $1,898.12 in schools and $31,019.74 in other highly constructive and permanent improvements.
Mr. Goodman was asked about the future of the Works Progress Administration in Calloway county and immediately announced that in the State as a whole, plans now were under way for the expenditure of a minimum of $29,879,246 on 960 approved projects by June 30, 1937, providing the work relief program is continued. Calloway county will receive its pro-rata share of this amount, he said, exactly in proportion to the ability of sponsors to submit projects that will accrue to the interests of the county as a whole and carry them to a conclusion.

Phone Rates Ruled Out Would Have Saved Murray $2,900 a Year

The proposed new phone rates, which were knocked out on petition of the city of Louisville, and communities in Central Kentucky, would have saved Murray and Calloway county subscribers approximately $2,900 a year. It was estimated Wednesday by Chas. A.
Sawyer, district manager.
The reduced rates were first ordered to go into effect on November 1.
The city of Louisville obtained a hearing on its petition for November 10.

R. H. FALWELL, JR., STATE B.S.U. HEAD

Former Murray College Student
Named President of Baptist Student Organization

R. H. Falwell, Jr., was elected president of the Kentucky Baptist Student Union at its annual convention at Bowling Green Saturday, October 24. He is a first year student at the Baptist Theological Seminary, Louisville, and a graduate of Murray High School and Murray State College. R. H. was BSU student president of the Murray college association for two years while a student here at Murray. He is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Falwell, Sr., of West Main street.

About 175 delegates from Kentucky colleges attended the convention, which opened Friday night.
The convention adopted a resolution requesting the State Baptist Mission Board to employ a State BSU secretary to promote student activities at Kentucky colleges.

The convention closed Sunday morning with a sermon by the Rev. T. L. Holcomb, Nashville.
BSU organizations of Bowling Green, Western Kentucky University and Western Kentucky College were convention hosts.

Attending the convention from Murray were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph
Churchill, Flora Alcock, Wilma Lemons, Vernon Trevathan, William Hoppe, John Travis, Hawthorn Wallis, Sam Wallace, Della

State Inspectors Make Check on Trucks

Inspectors for the state motor transportation department are making checks in Western Kentucky for the enforcement of the state truck laws. The truck owners are charged with operating trucks on the highways for hire without proper permits from the state.
A. R. Steele, of Paducah, and Robert Hale Jr., of Mayfield, are the inspectors, and have preferred charges in Graves and McCracken counties before Judge Brady. M.
Stewart of McCracken county contests. They said that several other cases are pending and will be pushed when the cases before the judge are completed.

Cripple Children's Clinic at Paducah November 24

The semi-annual Cripple Children's clinic will be held in the Woman's Club building, Paducah,
November 24.

It is the desire of the committee to give every cripple child a chance to be examined. Communicate with Dr. Outland, his staff, or T. O.
Turner for definite arrangements.

3 SEWER PROJECTS COSTING $10,000.00 ARE NEARING O. K.

Wiswell, Crossland Road
Will Be Started Soon as Relief Project

WILL BE 20-FOOT ROAD-
TO TENNESSEE BORDER

Will Ed Covington, project manager for the WPA has announced that two important sewerage projects are about ready to be started here. The first calls for a 12-inch line to be laid from the disposal plant east of town, to Clark's River. This drainage has previously been accomplished only by an open ditch, which has been a breeding point for heavy mosquito swarms which infested Murray last summer.

It will run about 800 feet and will employ 40 men for about 90 working days.

The second project will employ approximately the same number of men an ddays. It includes 900 feet of sewerage on Sycamore street, which has developed rapidly during the past year. The street makes an elbow in south Murray. The plans include sewerage lines on Sycamore between South Fourth and South Sixth and South Eleventh and Twelfth.

Money for the first project is already available, having been left out of the other sewerage project.
The allotment for the second has already been approved in state headquarters and is now in Washington for final approval.

The third project calls for 2,250 feet in South Murray between Sixth and Twelfth streets.

Of paramount news to the citizens of the south west section of the county is the announcement that everything is practically in readiness for the building of the road from a point on the highway west of Murray to Wiswell and Crossland.

All the right of way has been given, the money has been allocated and a work order is expected to be issued at any moment. This road will be a modern highway, 20 feet wide.

Revival at Memorial Baptist Opens Nov. 8

The annual fall revival of the Memorial Baptist Church, which was to have begun on next Sunday, November 8, Dr. E. C. Stevens, pastor, has postponed until Saturday, November 14. Dr. Stevens will arrive in Murray on Monday, November 9, and will remain here throughout the week.

Although this meeting was planned at least six months ago to begin November 1, the Memorial Baptist Church has no desire to begin a series of services in conflict with the revival that is now going on in the First Baptist Church of this city. It is for this reason the change has been made. Dr.
Stevens is well pleased with the change and is making his plans accordingly.

Dr. E. C. Stevens is one of the outstanding Baptist ministers of the state of Kentucky. For many years he has been pastor of the Clifton Baptist Church in Louisville. For the last two years he has been Moderator of the General Association of Baptists in Kentucky. He is well known in Murray and Calloway county, having appeared here at different times in Bible institutes and revival meetings.

The Memorial Baptist Church re-joices in the coming of this able minister and desires that the entire town and community shall be greatly blessed through the messages he will bring.

CALLOWAY READY TO BALLOT FOR NEXT PRESIDENT

Virtually all Registered Persons Expected to Go to Polls Tuesday

SEVEN PARTIES HAVE TICKET OF ELECTORS

Once more a national election is about to be decided and Calloway county is ready to take a hand in the nation's choosing of its President for the four years, starting next January.

It is expected that virtually all the registered strength of the county, slightly less than 8,000, will go to the polls next Tuesday. Of these considerably more than 7,000 are Democrats.

Voting in this county will be stimulated in the magisterial districts polling the largest percentage of its registered eligibles. There will be first and second prizes, as previously announced.

This time, as an unusual thing, there will be no side issues. The big general election ballot contains only seven lists of party candidates. There are no constitutional amendments or other matters to be decided.

The parties, in order on the ballot from left to right, are: Democratic, Republican, Union, Communist, Socialist Labor, Socialist and Prohibition.

The polls will be open the usual hours of 6 a. m. to 4 p. m. There has been a change in Kentucky's famous "slow count" which previously held the counting until the next day. The election officers are now privileged to start counting as soon as the polls close and the old time "election night" is with us again.

Knocked 60 Feet by Car Little Girl Is Only Slightly Hurt

Little Miss Shirley Durham, 8 years old, had a miraculous escape from serious injuries Sunday afternoon when she was struck by a car driven by Mrs. Charles Hale, who was driving a car in front of the residence of Charles Mercer on West Main.

The accident happened at a time when traffic was heavy and visibility poor. Miss Long, who was driving Mrs. Charles Hale's car, was driving Mrs. Charles Hale's car, and accompanied by Mrs. Hale, going East did not see the child who had thrown her coat over her head to ward off the rain and darted across the street. The child was knocked almost 20 yards under the car of Ivan Forrest, who summoned Cleybourne Adams to aid him and they brought her to the clinic hospital in Adams' car.

While severely shaken up and bruised the little girl was able to return home Monday. She makes her home with her grandmother, Mrs. Horace Jones, near Lynn Grove. She was visiting her aunt, Mrs. Mercer, when the accident occurred.

Red Cross Drive to Open Armistice Day

The Red Cross draws no distinction of race, creed or color. The organized resources of its services are restricted only to need. In its eyes all people are equal who need help. The Red Cross does not discriminate, it simply aids. This is as true of the local Red Cross serving this community as it is of the national organization. If you want to help your less fortunate neighbors—the underprivileged, everywhere—do so by joining forces with this active agent for the relief of suffering through membership. The Red Cross calls the roll, invites your membership, from Armistice Day to Thanksgiving.

During the past year the American Red Cross brought permanent help to more than 131,000 families affected by disasters which struck 39 states. One hundred and five times the American Red Cross rushed trained and volunteer workers—hundreds of nurses—into the field in the wake of flood, fire, wind, earthquake and other catastrophes. The hungry were fed the homeless sheltered, the distressed clothed and the injured cared for as the "Greatest Mother"—your Red Cross—stayed on the job until all persons unable to help themselves were assured of a livelihood. The Red Cross was able to accomplish these things, only because you pledged your support through membership last year.
Join now to enable the Red Cross to relieve human distress in 1937.

The Red Cross has watched the accident problem for some time. It has brought first aid to the motorist by establishing more than 1,000 Red Cross emergency highway first aid stations manned by at least two persons trained in first aid. Trucking groups and utility companies with fleets of trucks patrolling the road have been organized into mobile units. The highway police of eight states have finished instruction—are now ready to take part. Already many of these highway first aid posts have given emergency care to the injured.

J. A. Reed Gets 5-Points Contract

Humphreys today awarded contracts on 13 road construction projects, bids for which were opened October 23.

The Calloway county project of concrete paving 251 miles from the College campus to Five Points was

00. The sale was conducted by George S. Hart, receiver.

bird Cafe.

Mr. Lampkin said that he would renovate and improve the hotel as soon as practical. A number of the furnishings and a considerable bit of the equipment were the per-

Havens To Preach To The Handicapped

"The Healing Gospel: To The Handicapped" will be the sermon of A. V. Havens, minister of the First Christian Church, at the Sunday night church service, beginning at 7:30. This will be the fifth in a series of sermons on
"The Healing Gospel."

"Most of us," Mr. Havens stated,
"recognize that something is keeping us back from doing what we want to do. We may even recognize our handicaps as being physiological, economic, social or mental. However, the minister continued, "it is not enough that we should recognize such 'thorns in the flesh.' The important thing is, what are we going to do about them. We will have to handle our handicaps or they will handle us," Mr. Havens said. "Many lives are miserable because they have not been able to adjust themselves to their situations. This sermon will seek to show how the healing Gospel can adequately deal with our handicaps."

"The World And I" will be Mr.
Havens

McElrath-Major

A wedding of wide interest is that of Miss Marjorie McElrath, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Wallace McElrath, and Mr. William Samuel Major, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel L. Major of Trenton, N. J., which was solemnized in the presence of close friends at four o'clock October the twenty-fourth in the home of Mr. and Mrs. William J. McKinney, 1008 Crest Circle, Cincinnati. Ohio. Dr. Albert G. Schatzman, pastor of the Hyde Park Community Methodist Church officiated.

Immediately preceding the ceremony Mr. Carlton Coleman sang "Al Deyning" and "I Love You Truly" accompanied by Mr. Edward B. Sudhoff. To the strains of the "Wedding March" played by Mrs. Sudhoff, the maid of honor, Miss Madge Butt of Cairo, Ga., and the bridesmaids, descended the stairs preceding the bride and took her place at the improvised altar. The bride was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Mr. George Hoffman of Wilmington, Del., and Cincinnati.

The bride wore a princess style gown of ivory satin with train. Her finger tip tulle veil was held in place by orange blossoms and her bouquet was a creation of mystery gardenias, lilies of the valley and maiden hair fern tied with white satin. The maid of honor wore a pervance blue velvet made princess style with hat and shippers to blend.

The brides mother was gowned in a chart colored velvet and she wore an orchid. The groom's mother wore a wine colored velvet dress and a slender corsage of tallsmans. The pianist wore burgundy velvet and Gerbera daisies. The hostess was charming in black velvet and a corsage of sweet peas. The groom, the best man, the vocalist and the minister wore boutonnieres of gardenias.

The decoration for a background to the altar was arranged of smilax and palms—the latter interspersed. Against this burned fourteen ivory candles and were placed several artistically arranged bouquets of cream and white pom pom chrysanthemums, snap dragons and gladioli. The path leading to the altar was formed of white linen.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McKinney. The table with its imported linen cloth had as the centerpiece a three tiered wedding cake flanked by copies, vases of white flowers and tall white tapers.

Farm Bureau Notes

By Rupert Hendon

On the 14th day of March, 1936, a group of farmers met at the courthouse and organized the Calloway county Farm Bureau with the purpose of improving the farming condition of our county, state and nation.

At this meeting a director was elected from each magisterial district. These men constituted the Board of Directors. They are: Hazel, W. E. Dick; Swann, A. O. Paschall; Wadesboro, B. W. Edwards; Liberty, L. Falwell; Brinkley, D. G. Reid; Murray, R. C. Tarry; Concord, Rupert Hendon.

The following officers were elected to serve for one year: Rupert Hendon, president; B. W. Edwards, vice-president; A. O. Paschall, secretary-treasurer.

There were 58 charter members. The organization has achieved the following in the county:

1. With the help of the business men of Murray the Farm Bureau has a terracing outfit which will terrace near 1,000 acres in the county this year.

2. Has fostered a lime crusher on the east side of the county that is running full time.

3. Purchased and made available a poultry tattoo outfit for the flock owners of the county.

4. Has aided the Extension work in the county through cooperation with the county and assistant agents. Helped with 4-H work and the TVA phosphate demonstrations in Kirksey community.

We are proud of what we have done. But we could have done much more had we been backed by a larger membership. So you farm owners who read this get ready to join the greatest farm organization for we are coming after you. Get your shoulder to the wheel and let's all push together for the benefit of the greatest known people on earth—The Farmer Who Feeds the World.

This paper has agreed to publish Farm Bureau notes for us so watch our notes and see what we are doing as a county, as a state and as a nation.

October 28, 1936—Lloyd Edwards, Backsburg, is the first farmer to tattoo his poultry flock. The entire flock of Barred Rocks were tattooed today. The tattoo mark is CI because this is Calloway's first flock to have this protection used on. The Farm Bureau is ready to furnish the material for others in the county. The service is free to Farm Bureau members and a choice of $1.00 per flock to non members. The service is free to Farm Bureau producers which is to pay the cost of tattoo fluid, records and other expenses connected with the work.

The contest closed Saturday, October 24, and four notebooks were placed on display belonging to Mrs. Lila Risenhoover, Mrs. Vae Hart, Mrs. Myrtle Tabors, and Mrs. Maggie Coleman.

For the past two weeks 328 garments have been turned over to the sponsors consisting of uniforms, shirts, dresses, underwear, and sleeping garments.

Not Everybody in Calloway county subscribes to the Ledger & Times but nearly everybody reads it!

A total of 15,400 feet of terrace have been laid by three Grayson county farmers.

"COME HITHER"

By BARBARA BENEDICT

Associated Newspapers, WNU Service.

IT WAS funny, Chloe thought, weeks after you met him. Why, two weeks hardly gave you a chance to get acquainted. No, you didn't quarrel with a man as soon as that, unless— But that was silly, even considering that she'd fallen in love. Very silly indeed. Two weeks and—Chloe tried to give her attention to Felix Burgess, who sat beside her at the wheel of the roadster. But this was hard, because a picture of Max Hayford, the man with whom she'd quarreled, kept protruding itself in her mind. This was annoying. Felix had asked her to go to the country club dance, and she had accepted. She ought at least to try to act civil toward him.

Accepting Felix's invitation was the first step in putting Max Hayford in his proper place. Max would be at the country club dance, too, and when he saw her there with Felix he'd realize that he couldn't call her a little snob and get away with it. He'd ask her to dance, or cut in anyway, and Chloe knew exactly how she'd act when this happened. Of course she was going to let him make up. Even though she hated the man. Because if she didn't, how could she expect to teach him the lesson he deserved?

Chloe squirmed in her seat, recalling for the hundredth time that awful moment when Max Hayford had called her a snob and a little. When did he think he was talking to like that, anyway? Oh, she'd bring him to his knees with a vengeance!

The country club was crowded when Chloe and Felix arrived. They were late, which was Chloe's idea, as she liked to arrive places after every one else was there. She liked to stand in the doorway for a moment, looking around sort of casually, seemingly unconscious, but wholly aware that most everybody had turned to stare at her admiringly. Oh, Chloe knew she was pretty—about the prettiest girl who had ever come to Shore Haven.

Chloe stood in the doorway, as per her custom, and looked around, but she didn't see Max Hayford, and this was annoying, because she had expected that Max would be there waiting for her, even standing near the entrance with a dull, hopeless look in his eyes.

But Max wasn't near the entrance or on the floor, and it wasn't until a half hour later that Chloe saw him, and then it was she who was watching the entrance and Max, who arrived and stood looking casually around. Max was waiting for Sue Merryfield, who had gone to the ladies' room, but who joined him presently and stood looking casually about, too.

Chloe was furious. It hadn't occurred to her that Max would take some one else to the dance, above all, Sue Merryfield. She was a brunette and had black eyes and knew how to wear her clothes. If Chloe had had a rival at Shore Haven, Sue Merryfield would have been it.

It was maddening. Just wait until Max asked her to dance or cut in! She had it all planned. She'd let him make up first. Oh, she'd be very sweet about that. Then equally as sweetly she'd lead him on, and then when all of Shore Haven was just about ready to expect an announcement of the engagement she'd throw him over. Flat. Drop him like a hot potato. Make him the laughing stock of the resort. Oh, it would be delicious revenge.

When Chloe was in a position to see the door again, Max and Sue were gone. She saw them dancing together. Sue's black head tucked under Max's chin, and this made her blood boil. She waited, black vengeance in her heart. There was nothing of appeal or misery in his eyes. He seemed perfectly content.

And he didn't ask her to dance, either, or cut in. The evening wore on, and Chloe began to experience little sensations of panic. Perhaps when she glanced at him she hadn't detected the old "come-hither" look in her eyes that had always been her main support.

Perhaps she had let too much of her true feelings reflect themselves. And so the next time she passed Sue and Max she smiled in a manner that should have proved devastating. But Max only grinned back at that, maddening, amiable fashion he had.

It was the next to the last dance before Max finally cut in. Chloe was weak from the strain. But she rallied nobly. Now was her chance.

"Hello, Max," she said sweetly. "Hello," said Max matter-of-factly. "Nice dance?"

"Beginning new it is," said Chloe. Max grinned. "You women are certainly gluttons for punishment. I'm about dead."

Chloe could have killed him. He hadn't caught her meaning at all. Why, he acted as though they'd never even quarreled. A terrible thought struck her. Could he have forgotten? Lord! Was that all the impression she'd made?

"You weren't so agreeable the last time we were together!" He looked surprised. "No? When was that?"

Chloe's eyes blazed. "When was it? It was a week ago last night. We were out sailing. You called me a snob!"

"Oh, that?" Max grinned. "Say, you've got a memory! I'd forgotten." He looked at her. "Max, have you avoided me all evening?"

"Avoided you? Why, my dear, I— He paused, looking down at her, and suddenly his lips set grimly. "Because," he finished, "you're a snob!"

"I know it, Max. I am. But I'm going to try and change." Max choked over some cigarette smoke, coughed and fought for air. Presently he retrieved his voice. "Good Lord! You! Chloe Van Merton, admitting you're a snob! Saying you're going to change! It isn't true. It's too preposterous!"

"But it is true, Max. I am a snob, and I'm going to change." There was no doubting the genuineness of her statement. Max knew she meant it. He looked down and saw only a snob and womanly submissive little girl. Something caught in his throat. He reached out and took her in his arms. She yielded. His lips found hers. He crushed her to him, held her securely for long moments.

At length he drew away. "Chloe—I love you!"

"And I love you, Max. Oh, so very much. I—I've known it all the time, but I was too much of a snob to admit it. You must be the first time in my life I've ever humbled myself. I had to, when you said you'd forgotten about our quarrel. I was conceited enough to think I'd made more of an impression than that, right, you'd be thinking. I lied. It was pride, I guess. If I let you know how I felt I thought you'd go over it. I—I'm too much of a snob. I can't stand being humiliated."

And Chloe drew his face down to hers. "Neither can I, darling. Ever again."

City People Ignorant on Terms Used on Farm

City folks who usually think they know it all while the country man is too dumb to understand the ways and wiles of the big cities have had the trick turned on them. In recent years, says Life Magazine, they have found that the people of rural America have understood city slang so well that they want little of it. They have also found that when it comes to understanding the language of the farm they themselves are the dumb bunnies. How many people who have never lived on a farm know what a "gang plow" is, or what "wild hay" is? How many could tell what a "barn-die wagon" is? These and thousands of other "everyday" farm terms are so much Greek to the average city person. But to help the city folks understand what their farm relatives, friends, etc., are talking about and what the newspapers are saying the Associated Press, with the aid of reliable farm sources, has compiled—The Farm Glossary, a glossary of farm terms and expressions.

This glossary will tell the city "smarty" that there is no "bundling" in a bundle wagon. Rather it is a hay rack. By the same token a "gang plow" is not a gangster implement. It is a combination of two or more plows on a wheeled frame to increase the area plowed by one motive power. A "barn-die" is not a mail of some kind, but a walking plow for breaking virgin sod. "Wild hay" means native stands of grass, such as the "prairie grasses" of the West. Then there is "tame hay," which is simply wild hay taken from its native habitats and introduced into new surroundings. "Laying" a farm does not mean putting it up for sale or putting it on a set of account books. It is a farm operation in which a lister is used. A lister is equipped with right and left-hand shares and moldboards and throws dirt to each side, leaving a trench or furrow as it passes.

Great Crowd Attends Church Dedication

DEBT WAS EVER ALLOWED TO ACCUMULATE AGAINST THE BUILDING, the congregation having decided to pay as the building was erected.

Three building committees have served during the erection of the present building, they are as follows: First committee, E. B. Holland, W. T. Sled, R. H. Falwell; second committee, J. T. Hughes, Treman Beale, R. H. Falwell, Elms J. Beale, W. T. Sled; third committee, R. H. Falwell, Treman Beale, J. T. Hughes. A coincidence, R. H. Falwell, secretary, issued to J. T. Hughes, treasurer, the last warrant to pay the last outstanding bill, it was the last warrant in the office of the secretary. One thousand eighty-eight warrants were drawn from first to last to pay in full all bills of every kind during the work on the present building dating from July 1924, when the old house of worship began to give way to the present commodious building.

During all these years three pastors and one supply pastor served as follows: Bro. H. B. Taylor, was the one to inspire the great enterprise and under his leadership much work of construction was done; Bro. J. E. Skinner followed, and led for four years in bringing the building to near its completion, when he was forced by failing health to yield leadership to the present pastor, Bro. Sam P. Martin, who came to the pastorate March 8, 1936. Bro. A. W. Pink was supply pastor for some months while Bro. H. B. Taylor visited Mission fields.

Three Sunday School Superintendents have served the church during these years, they are brethren E. B. Holland, Albert Lassiter, and the present superintendent, Dr. Hugh M. McElrath. Bro. Barber McElrath served as Sunday School superintendent for 23 years prior to the erection of the new building.

Brothers N. S. Castleberry and J. E. Skinner are the only living former pastors of the church.

Many of the faithful men and women who prayed, gave money, time and labor in self denial and sacrifice that this well appointed building might be built in this worldly age and stand as a monument of God's goodness to them and of the Saviour's Power of the Gospel have gone home to receive their reward, and to serve Him whom they loved and love to serve in unbroken fellowship and joy FOREVER.

Sam P. Martin, pastor

COUNTY AGENT NOTES

Lloyd Edwards, Backsburg, has rebuilt his old poultry house and has one well equipped at very little cost. Mr. Edwards' old house was a very poor one. It has a tin roof, walls that were full of cracks, wet floor, and the house was divided into a roosting room and a laying compartment. Now the house has the cracks stripped, the petition removed, a dry floor made with gravel and clay, a dropping board and the full floor space for the hens in cold weather.

And speaking of cold weather those hens will hardly know it is cold because a double wall is between them and the North and poles placed over head with straw packed on them from the ceiling.

The house faces the South with an open front, but to protect the flock against the cold a cloth curtain is lowered over this at night. The front is walled tight up high enough to keep the wind from blowing directly on the flock when they are down on the floor in the day time.

This is as good as an expensive house as far as comfort is concerned and that, after all, is what a hen house is for. The cost was almost nothing. Mr. Edwards did the work and used old timber for roosters. He is going to cover the floor with a heavy coat of straw and feed the flock in the straw to give them exercise and keep themselves warm these cold winter days. Any one interested in better poultry houses can obtain information at the office of the county agent.

Dust Blown 1600 Miles Causes "Brown" Snowfall

Winter dust storms often cause "brown" snowfalls in regions far distant. By analyzing the dust, soil department of the United States Department of Agriculture sometimes are able to determine the region in which it originated.

They found that dust in the "brown" snow, which fell in February on New Hampshire and Vermont, probably got its start in Oklahoma, Texas, or Kansas—states about 1600 miles away. Dust that discolored the New England snow showed the proportion of lime that distinguishes southeastern soils.

Weather Bureau observers estimate this storm deposited 31 pounds of dust an acre—or 10 tons per square mile—in the area which the snow fell in. Every 10 tons of dust included 1,080 pounds of lime, the chemist estimate.

Final Date For Meeting Compliance On Soil Program

Saturday, October 31, is final date for meeting compliance on Soil Program. Supervisors will start at once on final check up. Producers are asked to cooperate with him that as little loss of time as possible will result. When all help the work moves along faster.

4-H Achievement Day is a little more than one week away. Four-H boy and girls are invited to attend the program at the courthouse and to bring parents along Saturday, November 7, starting at 9:00 a. m. All clubs should try to get as many of their members to complete projects and records and attend this meeting. The county is looking for you.

4-H exhibits Merchants of Murray are donating their windows to 4-H boys and girls Saturday, November 7, to exhibit their projects. These boys and girls are proud of their work and are glad to have the people of the county see what they are doing. Next week this column will carry the names of these merchants and the club to use their window.

MEMORIAL BAPTIST CHURCH

Tenth and Main—Our Sunday School will convene at 9:30 a. m. Capable and consecrated teachers will be in charge of all the classes. Every member of the church is expected to be present for the teaching of the Word in the Sunday School; all others are cordially invited. Morning Worship at 10:45. The pastor's subject will be "THE KINGDOM FIRST." These are some of the questions that will be dealt with in this message: What is the kingdom of God? Is the righteousness of Matt. 6:33 the important rightness of Christ or the practical rightness of the believer's life? What does it mean to put FIRST in our lives the kingdom of God and His righteousness? Is modern Christianity actually putting first things first? What is the promise of God to those who put Him first in their lives?

Evening Worship at 7:15. The pastor will speak on "THE MENACE OF COMMUNISM." Many of our Christian people are wholly ignorant of the nature of Communism and of its seductive influence in our own country. It is high time that we awake out of sleep, for a deadly enemy of Christ, Christianity, the Bible, the church, the school and the home lurks at the door. Hear this message next Sunday evening. By 10 means a political talk, but a Bible message on one of the most important questions of our day.

Prayer meeting each Wednesday evening at 7:15. Teacher's meeting after prayer service. Our revival meeting will begin November 8 instead of November 1 as previously announced. The meeting will continue through November 21. Dr. E. C. Stevens of Louisville, Ky., will preach twice daily.

All are cordially invited to all of our services.

Carroll Hubbard, pastor

Holland's Amazing Tigers Brilliantly Beat Marion; Play at Fulton Friday

Ty Holland's marvelous little band of Murray High School football players showed the Marion, Ky., Blue Terrors, who have somewhat a reputation for scrappiness themselves, a few tricks in the old fight in a ball club that will not permit them to be licked.

In B. C. Allbright, Ty has one of the finest running backs in the state but B. C. is getting marvelous co-operation from all his teammates and the fine co-operation that Holland has inspired his team with is the main point in a brilliant season which has carried them thus far without a defeat.

Their season's record is marred only by the tie with Mayfield.

The Tigers won 13-6, scoring twice in the second quarter and permitting Marion to count its only time in the final period.

The outstanding play of the game was Allbright's 98-yard return of a punt, eluding a swarm of foes by beautiful stepping and some timely and effective blocking. A feature was the fine power demonstrated by the Tigers in down-field march to score. Murray made 10 first downs to the Blue Terrors' five.

The Tigers have another tough game for this week end. They play at Fulton Friday afternoon and a large crowd of boosters will accompany them. How tough the Bulldogs will be shown by their 55-0 defeat of Dresden, Tenn., last Friday.

Copeland Heads University Demos

Clay A. Copeland, first-year student in the college of Law at the University of Kentucky, son of Mrs. Janie Langston, of Dexter, was elected first vice-president of the University's Democratic club, at a meeting held last Tuesday night on the University campus.

Plans for a membership drive were formulated, as were plans for getting as many local students to register for voting at the local courthouse. The club members plan to assist election officers at the polls on election day, it was further stated at the meeting.

A series of meetings, at which prominent speakers will be heard, will be planned to create interest in the current campaign among the University's students.

Sun-Democrat to Sponsor Galen Gough in Paducah

"You can't hold a good man down" so it is said. Even if a man does make mistakes, a wise man profits by them. Truly the hazardous past episodes of Galen Gough holds no fear for this man of steel. Public opinion of Galen Gough in Paducah held him in the light of a wild man from Borneo at one time. Broken ribs, arms and necks of policemen and irate opponents gave Galen a reputation of being one of the toughest men ever known in Western Kentucky.

This foundation of Galen's decision to become a temperance advocate, gives him an excellent authority for using his past as an object lesson in his marvelous courage to return to Paducah to fight against the ethics which nearly wrecked his life. Paducah was the mecca of the beginning of his hectic career.

Time changes many courses of life. Poor men become millionaires, rich men die in poverty. The life of Galen Gough sounds like a fairy story, for in the repetition of the life of John B. Gough, Galen is following in his footsteps. John B. was renowned throughout the world as the foremost temperance advocate of his age. His books can be read in the public libraries to this day. Galen is making history and by the record he has made, nothing under the sun could stop him now. He has proven his will-power in becoming one of the strongest men that ever lived, he returned from France hopelessly invalid. Galen continues to prove his will-power by fasting and depriving himself of the greatest satisfaction known—that is to eat. Self denial is not unknown to him. Galen Gough will come out on top with his program in Paducah.

We greatly commend on his courage for going back to Paducah and facing the issues. We also greatly stress our approval and admiration for Edwin J. Paxton, editor and publisher of the Sun-Democrat for sponsoring him. Galen will not disappoint him. He did a great work here—he will also do a good job there.

Douglas Hi Homecoming Game Here Friday P. M.

RACEHORSES MEET UNION U. FRIDAY

Play at Dyersburg, Tenn.; Stewart's Team Shows Improvement in Its Play

The Murray College Thoroughbreds, who heartened their followers mightily, even though they lost the ball game by an unfortunate play, by their fine showing at Murfreesboro, Tenn., will go to Dyersburg, Tenn., to meet the strong Bulldogs of Union University Friday night.

The game was arranged by public-spirited citizens of the little Tennessee town which sent Murray the famous Tommy Chambers and his brother, Bob, Thoroughbred stars of a decade ago.

Union, where Coach Stewart played and coached before coming to Murray in 1931, always gives the Racehorses a good battle and the Big Red Bulldogs will give the Thoroughbreds a stiff battle with lots of danger looming up.

Murray Circuit Meets at New Hope Church

Faxon School

The Faxon community fair was put over with the greatest success in the history of our school. There were 35 pens of poultry and 100 entries in farm crops.

We want to thank the judges of both these departments. Every one entering products seemed well pleased with the way the judges distributed the ribbons. We certainly appreciate the splendid cooperation of the Alto school teachers in judging the school contests. The schools of this district took a large interest in the fair.

The school winning the most blue ribbons was Outland; credited with 11 ribbons; following which was Russell's Chapel, with eight ribbons. The attendance at the fair was won by Palestine with 82 per cent present.

The winners of the school contests are: Music—quartet: first, Faxon, Sue Ellis, Virginia Ann Houston, Sara Ruth McClure, and Mildred Gordon; second, Palestine, Dorothy Williams, Nell Scott, Jaunita Holland, and Opal Lee. Duets—first, Russell's Chapel, Vera Louise Grogan and Fay Wall, sec-

The Debating Club was reorganized Monday morning and expects to start work as soon as they get the material. The officers for the club were elected as follows: president, Wilson Gantt; vice-president, Wayne Dyer; secretary, Imogene Farris; treasurer, Rex Falwell; reporter, Juanita Roberts; sponsor, Mr. Jones. The club chose their former name, the "Megarian" Debating Club. The Megarians are sponsoring, for the first activity, a debate between the Sigmars and Wilsonian societies. The question is: Resolved that Modern Advancement Weeds an Influence for Bad. The affirmative is upheld by Wayne Dyer and Imogene Farris; the negative is supported by Wilson Gantt and Juanita Roberts.

Fifth and Sixth Grades
The fifth and sixth grades won six blue ribbons in the fair. We were very proud of our record, but we had worked hard to win them. Tests are coming thick and fast this week. It seems they come often than anything else, but they are not dreaded by those who have learned their lessons each day.

We believe that Mansel James Vinson, sixth grade of Outland school, set a record in entering five contests and winning five blue ribbons.

The play, "The Girl in the Fur Coat," sponsored by Mr. Walton, was exceptionally well given and well attended, and the attention was good.

For only GULFPRIDE is made from choice Pennsylvania crude... refined to equal the best motor oils on the market... and then further refined by Gulf's exclusive Alchior process.

Read the facts below. Then replace your summer-worn oil with GULFPRIDE now. At all Gulf dealers.

(Left) BEATING THE BEST. No other process refines oil so thoroughly as Gulf's Alchior process. SPECIAL CENTURY ROADMASTER LIMITED

FOUR WONDROUS NEW REASONS WHY: "It's Buick again!"

SENSATIONAL is the fervor with which the American public has taken to its heart the brilliant motor cars offered by Buick this year.

Indeed, the sweeping success of the 1936 Buick program flatly challenged us and our great parent General Motors to a momentous decision.

Should we continue this amazingly popular line of cars into next year, perhaps the prudent thing to do—or should we dare broad improvement upon their spectacular excellence?

We felt there was only one right answer to that question, the bold and progressive answer—and that's why insiders now forecasting 1937 are already saying: "It's Buick again!"

That's why on top of $15,000,000 recently spent re-tooling and re-equipping Buick's great plant, we appropriated and are now spending $14,500,000 more.

That's why every car in the 1937 Buick line—the SPECIAL, the CENTURY, the ROADMASTER and the LIMITED—has more beauty for dazzling style, more power for breath-taking action, more room for full-family comfort, more downright "road-command" for safety and pleasure. See them.

B. F. Schroeder Owns Valuable Prospectus of Stubblefield Radio; One of Supporters

BY L. J. HORTIN

"THIS INVENTION IS THE TRIUMPH OF THE AGE, AND IS WORTH A SHIPLOAD OF GOLD." Such is the description of Nathan B. Stubblefield's "Portable Wireless Telephone" as advertised three decades ago in a "Private Prospectus" by Mr. Stubblefield whose address then was 515 Sixth Street Northwest, Washington, D. C.

The prospectus is the property of Mr. B. F. Schroeder, Murray, Ky., who was then one of six "Financial Supporters" of a "wireless telephone" enterprise. Portable wireless receiving and broadcasting sets have come into commercial use only during the past four or five years; yet soon after 1900, "A Portable Wireless Telephone, The Need of the Age" was offered to the investing public by Mr. Stubblefield and his "Financial Supporters", listed as "Senator Conn Linn, Mr. B. F. Schroeder, Mr. R. Downs, Mr. J. P. Rowlett, Mr. George C. McLarin, and Mr. John B. McClair".

The pamphlet, now in the possession of Mr. Schroeder, contains a picture of the desk wireless telephone, a photo of five of the six "financial supporters," and a likeness of Mr. Stubblefield, the inventor.

"Do you think that this little instrument before you, can send and receive telephone messages, electrically, for miles, without earth connection, or line wire?" the pamphlet asks on the front page. "You will think, 'fake'; but it isn't though; its fact, like Washington Monument," the literature declares. "With like apparatus, of greater magnitude, at the distant station, sounds of the voice and music may be transmitted many miles, through space, or stone walls, without line wire, or earth connection, the advertisement continues.

In black type, the prospectus announces: "This Desk Telephone is movable, may be placed in your Office, Parlor, or Flying Car, or Auto, Airship, or Water Craft, or Other Vehicle." The climax of page one is in still larger type: "This Invention is the Triumph of the Age, and is Worth a Shipload of Gold."

Of his "Financial Supporters", Mr. Stubblefield declares: "These gentlemen believed in me, and my invention. We have been granted an allowance of the United States patent, and by our attorneys at Washington, guaranteed the issue of patents in the following Foreign countries: Canada, England, France, Spain, and Belgium, and it is our aim to apply for five additional Foreign patents, before the U. S. patent is made public, through or by some plans, presently to be cited on next page, under head of 'Private Prospectus'."

Explaining in the prospectus "we think it is a decidedly valuable proposition to withhold the issue and publication (as the law requires) of the home patent until we can get in the Foreign applications, (which will require two or three weeks)", Mr. Stubblefield offers to the prospective investor follows in part: "If you will put up one hundred dollars, we will deed you at the patent office, a one-twentieth of the Canadian patent, which can be offered on the electrical market as soon as the application can be gotten into their respective countries. I believe you may realize a few hundred dollars, if not a few thousands, on your investment, and that in the course of a few weeks or months, at most, allowing for any unseen delay, that might come, if my judgment in the matter is good, and I think it is."

The pamphlet asserts that the "financial supporters" own among them, eight-twentieths of my U. S. Patent. I own the balance, twelve twentieths. They put up one hundred dollars on each twentieth, as expense money, for getting out the patent and offering on the market, of that amount there is money on hand for that purpose, but not for the paying of patent fees in these Foreign countries. Now they, with me, are owners of these Foreign patents, in the proportion, as of the U. S. patent."

Under the caption, "Pardon Immodesty—But a Word about Ourselves," the inventor is described as follows: "The author of this invention, Nathan B. Stubblefield of Murray, Kentucky, the pioneer electrician of that town, has been an experimenter in electrical science for many years; was the author and patentee of The Stubblefield Acoustic-Telephone nineteen years ago; eight years later the inventor and patentee of an electrical battery, patented in the United States, England, and Canada, which battery invention, proved the foundation of the present inventions in Wireless Telephony. An experimental place just west of the town of Murray, is the home of the extended research necessary in the working out of problems. Here, aided by intelligent effort and eternal push, with the assistance of a son, Bernard B. Stubblefield (now 20 years of age), my invention, which I trust will be worth something to the world as well as myself, have been made."

"Long Distance Transmission" was the heading of another topic in the pamphlet. "Our patent specifications are thorough and broad in their scope, covering many valuable points, as to different applications and some scientific fact underlying long distance transmission, (as witnessed by Mr. Conn Linn and Mr. F. F. Schroeder, at my experimental place) has been fully disclosed in the claims, making us master of a means of long distance wireless telephone communication. Such fact points us to the time when wireless telephony will be recognized as the 'better half' of wireless telegraphy now practically applied all over the world. On this point various illustrations will appear in the official drawings not shown here."

Mr. Schroeder had forgotten that he had the prospectus and happened to come across it just a few days ago, while looking for some papers in an old trunk.

It is remarkably well printed in excellent typographer and the picture of his Murray supporters has a high historic value.

Landon School News

By Lavern Edwards

Our school is progressing very nicely under the supervision of Mr. Russell Watson.

Backsburg's softball team met our team last Friday afternoon. Backsburg won over Landon in the "tilt," and in turn Landon won over Backsburg in the boys and girls' mix-up team. Our boys are beginning to practice basketball and we have a new student, Preston Adams who started last Monday, who will strengthen the team.

The honor roll: first grade: Daymond Neil Carson; second grade: Freida Delle Adams, Martha Sue Hughes; third grade: W. C. Smith and Ruth LaDelle Jones; fourth grade: Ruby Carson, Jewell Whitlow, James H. Morgan; seventh grade: Mattie Lou Morgan.

Stella Gossip

Was in Murray Saturday. I saw the Ledger & Times' gigantic printing press turning out The College News which was a wonderful sight to me. Gene Boyd gave me a copy, fine as silk.

Horace Churchill showed me through their Funeral Home; caskets from $600 down to $300.00. Saw the glass embalming table, ambulance and everything. Resplendent in neatness and beauty. First coffin sold for S. L. Bazel Oct. 29, 1888 for $14.00, also coffin for Zeke Dale same year. Caskets have taken the place of old style coffins, which leaves me "hanging out."

I saw a girl humming "Shoo-fly," school-hopping on pavement, which made me glad, and two girls smoking cigarettes, which made me sad.

L. Z. Hurley will preach at Goshen Sunday at 10:45 a. m. and Cloy's Lawrence at Coldwater at same hour. We attended Sunday School and Lord's Supper service at Coldwater last Sunday afternoon, 53 in the classes, besides visitors from Graves county. Dark, rainy day. "Prepare to meet thy God." Amos 4:12.

I heard a minister say in his pulpit that he had preached 25 funerals in last 12 months, and they (7) all went to hell except 6. I suppose every one has a "be-setting sin"—thief, liar, get drunk, adultery, slander, and selfishness; and uncontrollable temper!

I want every woman in Calloway county to vote next Tuesday! Men folks, by a big majority, voted for our just and honorable rights "in the free land in our our beloved home."

Sixty-one deaths reported in Paducah paper counting auto deaths, October 20, East wind!

October 26, 1936 and no FROST, yet, but the wind is whistling from the North, and as Hoover used to say "just around the corner!"

Now—a word to Jim Cole, Billie Whitnell, and Rufe Langston: "The rose is red, my nose is too; the violet is blue—and so are you."

"End of The Trail", Starring Jack Holt, To Show at Capitol

"Teddy" Roosevelt's gallant charge up San Juan Hill at the head of the now immortal Rough Riders is thrillingly re-enacted in Columbia's "End of the Trail" showing at the Capitol Theatre next Thursday and Friday. Starring Jack Holt, with Louise Henry, Quinn "Big Boy" Williams, Douglas Dumbrille and George McKay in support, "End of the Trail" dramatizes the famous novel by Zane Grey, "Outlaws of Palouse." It was directed by Eric C. Kenton, who earns particular distinction by doubling as an actor to play the role of Lieutenant Colonel Roosevelt in the stirring battle scenes. Harold Shumate adapted the Zane Grey story to the screen.

Holt and Williams are seen as war-time buddies and rivals for the hand of lovely Louise Henry. Holt loses an eye when he saves the life of Williams on the battle field. For all their strong friendship, however, an inevitable conflict ensues when Williams is elected Sheriff on his return from the war and Holt follows the more questionable vocation of easy money and little work. What happens when these former buddies find themselves on opposite sides of the law makes for a thrilling climax.

MURRAY HIGH SCHOOL

By Clara Waldrop

The halls of Murray High have been rather quiet this past week. The senior class will sponsor a Halloween carnival Saturday night. The doors will be opened at 7:30. Thursday morning at chapel period each high school class elected their king and queen. They are as follows: freshman, Gene Fatterson and Frances Sledd; sophomore, Haron West and Virginia Seay; junior, Jehn Optland and Robbye Sykes; senior, Van Huie and Sadie Nell Jones.

Last Friday afternoon Ty's boys stuck another feather in their cap by downing the Marion Blue Terrors 13-6. Our two touchdowns were made by B. C. Albritten who ran 98 yards for one of the markers. Some run! Phil Cutchin's place kick for the extra point was good. The Tigers amaze football fans by their forceful line plays. Both scores were made in the second quarter.

Next Friday the Hollandmen will travel to Fulton to meet the Fulton Bulldogs. We are contemplating an even bigger victory than last week against Marion.
