Another Birthday and She's 107

MRS. ETHEL BYRD, center, Fulton's oldest resident, will celebrate her 107th birthday on December 19. For the past several months the little grey-haired lady, who recalls the Civil War, has been visiting in Paducah with her granddaughter, as her daughter, Mrs. S. L. Craver of Fulton, has been in ill health. The above picture was taken a few birthdays back with a couple of neighbors. A short time back a News reporter saw Mrs. Byrd, while she was in Fulton, and she was as spry as she could be.

Mrs. Byrd will receive her annual birthday from Alfred Ulm's bakery in Union City. It will be taken to Paducah by the Greyhound Bus Line without charge.

Former Fultonian's Arrangement Of New Testament On Sale Here

A former Fulton man's special arrangement of the New Testament now is available at the Singer Sewing Machine Center here.

Holland Evans, a painter and preacher of Paducah, spent seven years on research and painstaking compilation to complete the book which came off the press recently.

The book is something new for the Bible students' world.

This King James Version of the New Testament has more than a thousand correlated verses carefully inserted throughout the text.

These parallel quotations can save the reader many hours of research.

Injured Women Are Improving

Mrs. Clyde Williams, Sr., wife of the president of the City National Bank, was transferred from the Mayfield Hospital to Campbell's Clinic in Memphis Sunday in a Hornbeak ambulance.

She was seriously injured in an automobile accident in Mayfield several weeks ago, but is now reported to be improving.

Mrs. Lennie Clark of Fulton, who was also injured in the accident, was transferred to the Fulton Hospital Sunday. She is getting along fine.

Local Man Served Where Rockefeller Was Lost In Jungle

When young Rockefeller was lost in Dutch New Guinea, Hugh Fly predicted that he would never be found.

Mr. Fly is very familiar with the spot where Rockefeller was lost as he was stationed there for a while during World War II.

It is very interesting to hear him tell of the rugged country known to be the wildest and most dangerous section in the world.

Mr. Fly said that when he first arrived there, the small natives would give a shrunken head for anything—cigarettes, etc. But, a short time later, the human heads could not be found.

Did Mr. Fly purchase one? No, he certainly had no desire for one, he said.

Recreation Committee Has Great Plans

Fulton's City Park, which is rapidly becoming one of the most popular recreation areas in the entire community, is the major project for the Recreation and City Development Association.

Mrs. Ward Bushart is chairman. Louis Weeks is chairman of the Recreation and Culture committee.

Many plans for the City Park are on the agenda of this committee. They include the planting of 500 rose bushes, construction of another tennis court, and a basketball court.

DR. BUSHART NAMED

Dr. R. W. Bushart of Fulton has been named one of the new board members of the Kentucky Hereford Association.

Dr. Laine to Serve In U. S. Army

Dr. Tom Laine, who has been practicing at the Fulton Hospital here for the past year and one-half, has received his call into the armed service.

Dr. Laine, who will serve as a captain in the U. S. Army, expects to leave for active duty around January 11. His wife, Shirley, and two children, will accompany him to his post of duty.

McMinns To Observe Golden Wedding With Open House

The Rev. and Mrs. Joe F. McMinns will observe their Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday afternoon, December 17, with an open house at the Crutchfield Methodist Church from 2 to 4 o'clock.

The Rev. Mr. McMinns has preached in this area for several years.

Rev. and Mrs. McMinns have four children, James and Paul McMinns, both of Fulton, Allen McMinns of Cloudland, Ga., and Mrs. Catherine Oaks of Oak Ridge, Tenn., and seven grandchildren.

All of their friends are invited to come by and visit with them.

Jaycees Will Broadcast For Charity Over Station WFUL Next Monday

As Santa Claus time draws nearer the local Jaycees are laying final plans for the largest community disbursement of food, toys, and Christmas joy and good cheer that the twin cities have ever seen. Tons of food and toys are expected to pour in for the needs of the deserving families of our community.

Kick-off time for fund raising will be 5 a. m., December 18. At this time some 30 Jaycees and their wives, the Jayettes, will operate Radio Station WFUL.

They will operate the station the entire day, appealing to the listeners for some $1,200.00. Chairmen have announced that all radio advertising has been sold for that day. The merchants have contributed their part by buying time on WFUL from the Jaycees.

Anyone wishing to mail in contributions before Monday may send them to the Chamber of Commerce office.

Expenses for the station and other operating cost of "Operation Santa Claus" has been borne by the merchants, and the $1,200.00 needed to make the campaign a success, must come from each and every citizen, regardless of the size of the contribution.

Starting with December 18 many members of both organizations will be working almost around the clock Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will see the food being packed in baskets. Delivery will be made on Sunday. Each basket will consist of good staple food of about $16.00 to $18.00 wholesale price. On December 23 special parties will be held for needy children of the twin cities. These children will receive toys, candy, fruit, and presents for their family. Santa Claus will be present and will send special invitations to the children to attend.

All food and arrangements have been taken care of by the local club. This shows the confidence they place in the people of the community. Knowing that they won't be let down they have gone way out on a limb and far in debt. All contributions made on the 18th will be picked up by Jayettes in autos when phoned in.

Pick-up boxes will also be at Puckett's Service Station, Kasnow's Dept. Store, P. H. Weeks, Fulton Bank and Friendly Finance Co., in Fulton, Simpson's Grocery at Cayce, Gosson's Grocery at Water Valley and Arlie Batts Grocery at Crutchfield.

All children are asking that people not wait to the last minute to do their part as time is near and much is needed.

The Jaycees have purchased $200 worth of new toys for the baskets. They were assisted by the YMCA in raising food and toys at a cartoon show at the Fulton Theatre recently.

Group Forms Organization Known As 'Citizens For TVA West of Cumberland'

A large group of citizens from a number of towns west of the Cumberland River have formed a new organization to be known as "Citizens for T. V. A. West of the Cumberland". The towns represented are:

Hickman, Fulton, Paducah, Kevil, Bardwell, Wickliffe, Clinton, LaCenter, Casey, Heath, Grahamville, Columbus, Bandana, Crutchfield and Barlow.

The board of directors today issued a news release in which they told of efforts of the past few weeks to form the organization. The group's primary objective is to bring T. V. A. power to all the area west of the Cumberland River south of the Ohio River and east of the Mississippi River. On November 28, 1961, a group of citizens from this area met at Hickman, Kentucky, to start formulating the plans for organization of the group. At this meeting, Representative Hoyt Barnett was agreed upon as spokesman. From that meeting, various individuals and groups obligated themselves to contact friends for a larger meeting to be held at Fulton the following night. Representative Barnett expressed a great deal of satisfaction in that the turnout at this meeting was quite a few more than was expected. He reports that forty-two individuals from nine Western Kentucky towns were represented at the meeting. Present were: state representatives, mayors, councilmen, power boards, editors, contractors, farmers and such other representative groups. The program for bringing T. V. A. power to the area was outlined by ulian M. Carroll, former Executive Director of the Citizens for T. V. A. in Paducah. A general discussion followed, and a temporary committee was designated to act as a steering committee in organization of the group. This committee was composed of:

Representative Hoyt Barnett, Hickman; Hobart C. Adams, Jackson Purchase RECC; W. H. Harrison, Hickman-Fulton Counties RECC; Richard S. Burnley, Kevil; Noah J. Gevden, Wickliffe; Bill Brockman, Jr., LaCenter; Jack Austin, Casey; Cecil R. Lee, Barlow; W. M. Cunningham, Clinton; Ora Chester, Bardwell; Julian M. Carroll, Heath-Grahamville Area.

The steering committee met at Clinton, Kentucky, on December 6, 1961, and actually formed the organization. Representative Hoyt Barnett was elected as president; Mr. Richard Burnley, Kevil, Kentucky, was named vice-president; and Mr. Hobart Adams, Manager of the Jackson Purchase RECC was elected as secretary-treasurer. It was emphasized that other communities might become members by request and acceptance. The primary aim of the group was specified as follows: "To bring low cost T. V. A. power to all the area west of the Cumberland River; to generally develop the same area and to bring about economic improvement and increase farm income in all the area against west of the Cumberland River."

The group authorized its president to correspond with the president of the Kentucky Utilities Company advising the company of the formation of the group and its purpose. In a letter dated December 12, 1961, Representative Hoyt Barnett advised Mr. Floyd I. Fairman of the Kentucky Utilities Company, Lexington, Kentucky, as follows:

'March To Manger' Is Local Way Of Putting Christ Into Christmas

By Ouida Jewell

Each year, on the Sunday preceding Christmas, the people of the First Methodist Church in Fulton, set the stage for a miracle, proving that Christ lives in the hearts of men and still heals the bodies and souls of sick people in far places in the world.

As Christmas is becoming more and more commercialized, three years ago a small group of Fulton men, headed by the Rev. J. L. Leggett, pastor of the Fulton church decided to do something about it—to put Christ back into Christmas.

A "March to the Manger" idea was presented to the group by C. H. McDaniel, Fulton druggist, who at the time was serving both as a member of the official board and of the finance committee.

The idea was to place a manger in front of the pulpit on the Sunday morning preceding Christmas, and have members of the congregation bring a wrapped money gift. It was suggested that the gift be of the amount a person would pay for some gift for his, or her, family, and be wrapped in an attractive manner.

During the "March to the Manger" each person places his, or her, gift in the manger. Every cent received goes to a missionary doctor in Bolivia, who is sponsored by the Fulton church.

Each Christmas it is hoped that at least $3,000 will be raised in the march as that is the amount needed for the young missionary, his wife and two young children to live on in the South American country.

C. H. McDaniel is no longer a member of the church, but the Rev. Mr. Leggett has two other church members, Charles Reams and William F. Stewart, who play a very big part in putting over the project each year, and are very sincere in their fight to "put Christ back into Christmas." Also, assisting is a committee from the Methodist Men's Club of which Mr. Stewart is president.

Age Limits Of Seasonal Help Important Fact

The approaching Christmas season today brought a reminder to local merchants about age limitations of children for part-time jobs.

"Forty-five percent of all jobs are subject to a 16-year minimum age," according to Pat Meloan, Regional Director of the U. S. Labor Department's Wage and Hour Division, "while an added 5 percent are classified as too hazardous to permit those under 18 to work at them. This leaves about half of the jobs open for boys and girls of 14 and 15, provided the work is outside school hours or during vacations."

Mr. Meloan pointed out, however, that children in this age group can legally work but three hours on any day and eight hours on any non-school day; can legally work a maximum of eighteen hours in a week during any part of which school is in session, and forty hours in other weeks; that all work must be performed between 7 A. M. and 7 P. M.

Henderson Named Agricultural Chairman Here

Harold Henderson, Assistant Cashier, Fulton Bank, Fulton, has been named as County Agricultural Chairman of Fulton County by J. D. Brown, president of the Kentucky Bankers Association.

As County Agricultural Chairman Mr. Henderson will be the official representative of the Kentucky Bankers Association in activities designed to increase farm income and improve the welfare of rural communities. Such activities include the encouragement of new and improved farm practices, the support of youth leadership training in 4-H Clubs and FFA Chapters, and cooperation with farm leaders and agencies in holding educational tours, field days and achievement meetings.

The County Agricultural Chairmen meet with agricultural leaders and assist them in planning educational and promotional activities. The chairmen also help in educational programs to assist rural people in using all the services of banks, including such things as checking accounts, savings and credit. The Kentucky Bankers Association is recognized as one of the outstanding groups in the country and recently received the National Agricultural Award given by the American Bankers Association for Services to Agriculture.

Diary of Doin's

(Items gathered along Fulton's merryway for your pleasure and your scrapbook)

By the time this issue reaches you the frenzied preparations for the Christmas holidays will be at the peak of excitement. The highways, the by-ways and the airways will be heavily populated with people homeward bound from far off places, but no house, nowhere, will have the excitement of the Vernon Owen home on West Street where the Christmas holidays will join with the gaiety of not one—but two weddings—to be solemnized on December 27. Elsewhere in this issue the formal announcements of Norma Lerleen Owen and Rice Owen appear, but we could not help but comment on the announcements in the warm and friendly manner that we've known these two fine people for a good many years.

The story goes that one night, not too long ago, Rice called his mother from his Air Force post of duty and told her he was going to get married. Well, such an announcement comes as a pleasant shock to most any proud parents, and after some conversation about plans and such, big Norma, as Mrs. Vernon Owen is called, settled down to the realization that the Christmas holidays were going to be a whole lot more than the visit of Santa, a Christmas tree, and a family gathering. Wedding bells were going to chime with Christmas carols, she thought, and that was a happy future for wonderful people like Norma and "Dutch."

But the next night Norma's placid and happy approach to the Christmas season came to an abrupt halt, for little Norma called and said "... yes, you're right, she was going to get married too, during the Christmas holidays.

As we hear it Norma was said to exclaim to her lovely daughter, "you can't do that because Rice just called and he's going to get married this month, too." Well, anybody knows that you can't tell young folks when to get married when they've made up their minds, so the conversation resolved itself the second night to have a brother and sister, double wedding on December 27.

Rice has chosen for his bride Barbara Jane Bobo of Nashville and Norma will become the fair lady of Frank Davis. We've heard of double weddings before, but don't believe we've ever been so close to the preparations that go with such an event. Of course, most of Norma and Rice's friends will be home for the holidays, but since Rice is in the military service and since a lot of his friends are in the service and spread all over the country, the problem of military leaves is one item that would make any mother of the bride ... and the bridegroom, go slightly zany. But knowing these folks the way we do, we know it'll be a perfectly wonderful and sentimental occasion and we're looking forward to seeing how all the plans fit into their proper places as we know they will.

The retired postal clerks and their wives enjoyed a Christmas luncheon at the Derby Tuesday at noon.

The Annie Armstrong Circle of the First Baptist Church had its annual Christmas party Monday evening at the home of Mrs. R. H. Harrison on Carr Street. Mrs. Leland Jewell was co-hostess.

An interesting program was presented, then the group exchanged gifts. Also, each member brought a gift for some needy child. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The Jolly Twelve Birthday Club will have its annual Christmas dinner party at the Derby on Thursday night of next week. Mrs. Leland Jewell will be hostess. Following the dinner, games and exchange of gifts will be enjoyed at the hostess' home on Carr Street.

Mrs. Hampton Lillard was hostess to a delightful bowling party Saturday at Jet Lanes, honoring her son, Pat, on his ninth birthday.

Afterwards the guests were invited to the parish house of Trinity Church, where lunch was enjoyed. Birthday cake and ice cream were served as dessert.

Members of the Home and Garden Department of the Fulton Woman's Club enjoyed a delightful pre-holiday tour Friday when they visited four homes decorated for the Christmas season.

Those making the tour gathered at the club home where cranberry punch and cookies were served from a beautifully decorated table. Hostesses were: Mrs. Ray Graham, Mrs. J. C. Hancock, Mrs. Virginia Stokes, Mrs. J. A. Norment, Mrs. C. W. Francis, Mrs. J. L. Jones and Mrs. W. C. Hogg.

Following a meeting the members visited four homes, which were beautifully decorated for the Christmas season.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Wilson was first on the tour. The apartment of Jerry Atkins, next door to the Wilson home, was next.

Mrs. L. A. Clifton's home was truly a "holiday house". Last on the tour was the beautiful and spacious colonial home of Mr. and Mrs. Parks Weeks on the Union City Highway.

A large crowd, including several out-of-town guests, enjoyed the afternoon, and all who took part in the tour thought it a wonderful beginning for the holiday season.

Mrs. W. O. Locke of Fulton, Route 1 entered the Baptist Hospital Wednesday for surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. George Prichard of Evansville and First Sgt. and Mrs. William O. Locke, Jr., and children of Camp Campbell spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Locke.

Sgt. Locke plans to sail for overseas duty from California on Jan. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hicks of Donna Spraggs of Clinton and Route 1, Fulton, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Sara Jane Hicks, to Thomas Glenn Kimbro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Kimbro of Clinton.

The marriage was solemnized at the First Methodist Church in Shawneetown, Ill., at 7:30 p. m., Saturday, November 25. The Rev. John Hunt performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride was dressed in a white wool dress. Her jewelry was a single strand of pearls a gift from the groom.

Their attendants were Miss

Miss Barbara Jane Bobo of Nashville And 2nd Lt. Vernon R. Owen To Wed

Mrs. Elizabeth Bobo of Nashville is announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Barbara Jane, to Second Lieutenant Vernon Rice Owen, Junior, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Rice Owen, Senior of Fulton. The wedding will be solemnized at four o'clock in the afternoon of December the twenty-seventh, at the First Methodist Church of Fulton.

Miss Bobo received her high school diploma from West End High School in Nashville, Tennessee. She is now attending Murray State College where she is majoring in music.

Second Lieutenant Owen received his Bachelor of Science Degree in Physics from Murray State College in January 1961. He also attended the University of Kentucky where he was a member of Kappa Sigma Fraternity. He is now in Flight Training at Reese Air Force Base in Lubbock, Texas.

Miss Bennett Becomes Bride Of Wallace Stephens On December 3

In a wedding of unusual beauty of Clarksville, Tenn.

Miss Lutecia Bennett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Bennett became the bride of Wallace K. Stephens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carnell Stephens, on Sunday, December 3. The impressive double-ring ceremony was solemnized at 4 p. m. at Johnsons Grove Baptist Church near Fulton with the pastor, the Rev. Tommy Perkins, officiating.

As the guests assembled, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Anderson, pianist, gave a program of nuptial music.

The lovely young bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a beautiful formal wedding gown of white brocade, featuring scooped neckline and long pointed sleeves. A large bow in the back held a pleated drape which developed into a short train. Her tiered veil of bridal illusion fell from a queen's crown of seed pearls. Her bridal bouquet was of gardenias and stephanotis with satin and velvet ribbons.

Mrs. Marietta Hardy was her sister's matron of honor.

The other attendants were Mrs. Sondra Ferguson, sister of the groom and Mrs. Margaret Mann

Leon Rice attended the groom as best man; the ushers were John Ferguson and Jimmy Banker.

Late in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Stephens left for a short wedding trip.

Fulton Tops College High

Fulton City defeated Murray College High 69-27 there Thursday night in a game that seven points in the final half.

College High took the early lead, 8-4, before falling behind 26-20 at the intermission. Then Fulton City turned on the all-court press and coupled the defense with some hot shooting to take a commanding 52-26 advantage. College High got only one point in the last quarter.

Don Burnette led the attack for the winners with 23 points. Ladd Stokes with 15 and Terry Beades with 10 rounded out the top scorers. Franklin Rogers connected for 14 points for the losers.

Korean Homes Built Of Panels Of Rice Straw

A PREFINISHING building panel made from waste Korean rice straw will be used to build badly needed homes in Korea, the Building Research Institute reports.

The straw panels, which are reputed to have excellent thermal and insulation properties, can be used either as loadbearing elements or in curtain-wall construction. They are said to be weatherproof, termiteproof and fire-resistant.

A prototype house proposed for the project uses the material for roof deck, side walls, beams, framing members, and even flooring.

A plant is being built in Seoul to produce the panels in quantity.

Educators Meet For Workshop In Fulton

Educators from Fulton County, Hickman County and Fulton City Schools met in the library of Carr Elementary School on December 6 for a workshop on the local education association and its place in the school program.

Mrs. Lois Haws, president of the Fulton Education Association, introduced Mrs. Beulah Fontaine, Consultant for Professional Services of the Kentucky Education Association. Mrs. Fontaine discussed the present status of education in the state of Kentucky and pointed out just how much the teaching profession has grown and advanced under the leadership of strong local organization. She introduced Mr. Jennings Flathers, Field Representative of the National Education Association, who is an authority in the field of local association improvement.

Mr. Flathers has served as local, district and regional president of education associations in his home state of Texas. He served as the president of the Texas Classroom Teachers Association in 1956-57. He is a life member of the National Education Association and of the Texas State Teachers Association. During 1959-60 Mr. Flathers served on the staff of the NEA Special Project to Strengthen Local Associations. In this capacity Mr. Flathers and other members of the staff were required to visit in three to five local associations in each of the states and list those characteristics of the organization that were considered good. Mr. Flathers stated that education in the community moves about as fast as the local organization will lead.

The workshop closed at 5:45, and all teachers were invited to return at 7:30 for the main address by Mr. Flathers on, "The Services of the National Education Association". At this time he discussed many of the invaluable services of the NEA available to teachers that will help them do a better job in the classroom. This service, he explained, is made possible because the NEA is the largest research educational institution as well as the largest publishing house in the world.

Members from the Obion County School system, members of the Fulton Board of Education, as well as the teachers of the surrounding counties in Kentucky were present for the evening address by Mr. Flathers. Following his talk, Mrs. Haws asked Mr. W. L. Holland for a report on the recent meeting of school superintendents and administrators of Kentucky in Louisville.

At the conclusion of the program refreshments were served from a tea table overlaid with a cutwork cloth. The centerpiece was a silver bowl of red carnations flanked by a silver candelabra holding red baroque tapers.

Production Of Coal Up Over Year Ago

WASHINGTON.—The National Coal Association estimated bituminous production for the week ended last Friday at 8,870,000 tons, against 8,257,000 tons for the corresponding period last year.

Production for the week ended November 11 was 8,625,000 tons. Production from January 1 brought last Friday was estimated at 347,394,000 tons, compared with 371,328,000 tons a year ago.

Diary

This year Cub Pack No. 40 is having individual parties, rather than the large Pack Christmas party which has been held in past years. A number of the parties are being held at the Scout Cabin, while others are being held in the homes.

The students of Terry-Norman grade school will present the annual Christmas program at the December meeting of the Terry-Norman P-TA Thursday at 2 p. m. at the school.

The I. C. Service Club held its annual Christmas Bingo party at the One and All Club Monday evening. Employees and their families were invited.

The Fulton Homemakers Club will have a Christmas meeting and party in the home of Mrs. L. E. Kilzer Thursday. Visitors are welcome.

Mrs. Bob White, Mrs. J. H. Maddox, Mrs. Clarice Thorpe, Mrs. Harvey Caldwell, Mrs. E. N. DeMyer and Mrs. Louis Weeks attended a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Bob Taylor in Dyersburg Saturday.

It's so nice to see Mrs. Harvey Caldwell able to be out again. She was a patient in a St. Louis hospital for a while, then has been convalescing at her home here for some time.

The Fulton County Homemakers are sponsoring a Christmas Tour December 15th of five of the beautifully decorated homes of Homemakers of the county.

Two of the homes are in the Fulton area, that of Mrs. Robert Holland of Route 3, and also Miss Myra Searce of 420 Pearl St., Fulton. Miss Alice Sowell, who lives about half way to Hickman just off the Middle Road, will have her home open.

In Hickman there will be two more homes to see—Mrs. C. A. Lattus of 700 Moscow St., and Mrs. T. H. Streeter in East Hickman.

There will be open house between the hours of 1:00 to 3:00 in the afternoon and 7:00 to 9:00 at night. Everyone interested is invited to visit these homes during these hours.

A large crowd attended the second annual Christmas luncheon and fashion show at the Fulton Country Club Thursday at noon. The event was sponsored by the Auxiliary to the Fulton-Hickman counties Medical Society.

About 100 guests attended the affair, the proceeds of which go to the Auxiliary Scholarship Fund.

Carolyn Robey To Become Bride Of Glynn Omar

Mrs. Naomi Robey of Clinton announces the engagement of her daughter, Carolyn, to Glynn Omar of Gulfport, Miss., son of Mrs. Clyde Omar of Fulton and the late Mr. Omar.

Miss Robey is a graduate of Central High School of Clinton in the class of 1959.

Mr. Omar is a graduate of Fulton High, class of 1954. He is presently employed in Gulfport, Miss.

The wedding will be solemnized at 2 p. m., Sunday, December 31 in the First Baptist Church in Clinton with the Rev. John D. Redden officiating.

New Books Cover Varied Subjects

I'm sure you have noticed the new books in the library. Most of them are miscellaneous books so maybe you won't have so much trouble finding an interesting one for your book report.

There are a few new biography books including the life stories of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, Edgar Allan Poe, Ben Jonson, Madame Curie, Albert Einstein, and Isaac Newton.

The miscellaneous books include subjects such as the animal kingdom, nature, rocks, astronomy, chemistry, food and nutrition.

There are a few new fiction books but as yet they haven't been put on the shelves in the library.

The following are four book reviews—two biography and two miscellaneous books.

Einstein—His Life and Times, by Philipp Frank.

Few men's lives have been as momentous as Albert Einstein's. Philipp Frank, himself a scientist, has known Einstein intimately and long. His own rating has given him the ability to make Einstein's discoveries and formulations as understanding to us as possible.

Isaac Newton, by Harry Sootin.

So absorbed in his work that he took hardly time to sleep, Newton was a respected authority well before he reached thirty. Unmindful of physical comfort, he nevertheless completed "Principia," sometimes called the most extraordinary creation of the human mind. This book is about a brilliant mind tracking down the mysteries of time and space and the movement of the heavens.

The Story of Glass, by Freda Diamond.

Glass, functional and decorative in all its many roles—and the people who have worked with it—are vividly presented in this book by a noted glass designer.

The Taylor Manual, by Lloyd William Taylor.

This is a manual of advanced undergraduate experiments in physics. This book is a source of ideas to assist instructors in planning particularly useful reference book and guide to the student.

Club To Have New Year's Dance

The annual New Year's Eve dance will be held at the Fulton Country Club on Saturday, December 30.

W. C. Hale is chairman of the event and the following are in charge of arrangements—refreshments, Mrs. Charles Thomas, Mrs. Billy Homra, Mrs. J. R. Hogan; decorations—Mrs. Ward Bushart, Mrs. Guy Hale, and Mrs. E. E. Williamson.

Admission is $3.00 per couple for members and their house-guests.

Fire Drills Are For Your Safety

Did you obey the rules when we practiced our last fire drill?

We must all remember that these fire drills are practiced so that in case of a fire we will know how to leave the school quickly and safely.

There are certain rules that we must follow and obey. (There is a list of them on every high school bulletin board.) Students are to leave at the closest unlocked exit if not too crowded. Do not shove or crowd the person next to you. Keep about FOUR FEET APART.

During our last fire drill the students followed all orders except one. Some students failed to move fifty feet away from the building. This rule is very important since, if the building were afire, particles from the building could fall and badly hurt someone. Students are to wait until the principal signals to return to the building.

Numerous "Goofers" Forget Color Day

Who is going to remember to wear blue and white in the early hours of the morning? Most of the "faithful" FHS students did wear our school colors on the day of the big game with South Fulton, but there were a few students who were too sleepy to know what they were putting on. Some even dared to wear red!

Miss Martin in her gay pink dress, and Mr. Babb in his dark suit were tagged with "I Goofed" buttons. Mr. Babb, who had on a little grey ribbon which he claimed was blue, had to lead the "I Goofed" chorus in the Chevrolet song at the pep meeting that afternoon.

Almost thirty people "Goofed" including teachers and football players.

The first building erected in Kentucky by members of the religious sect known as Shakers, was completed in 1806, and is the only building in the Shaker community at Pleasant Hill that has only one entrance door. Since the Shakers never allowed men and women to enter a structure through the same door, it is presumed that women were not allowed inside this building, which was used as the office of the Farm Deacon.

South Fulton Junior High Chorus

At the beginning of the school year Mr. Cottrell arranged to have a Girl's Chorus organized, composed of sixth, seventh, and eighth grade girls. Mrs. Nelson Tripp was secured to be the director.

This is the first year South Fulton Elementary has had such an organization and it is believed that this will be a great asset to the school. The Chorus is financed by South Fulton Elementary School.

This newly organized group presented a program on November 7 in the High School Gym wearing new white and red robes for their first public appearance. The material for the robes was donated by Henry I. Siegel Company.

On Monday, November 17 the chorus made a tour of the county schools and presented a forty-minute program at Dixie and Troy Elementary Schools and at the new Obion Central County High School were guests for lunch.

Mr. Bobby Newton, an alumni of South Fulton School was the guest accompanist for the programs and also did a vocal-piano number.

Much interest and enthusiasm has been shown in this new addition to our school and the hard work done thus far by Mrs. Tripp and the girls has been rewarded by the high praise they have received from the people who have heard them sing.

You've got nine Chevy II models to choose from. This is the Nova 400 Sport Coupe.

Luxury and low price were never blended so beautifully

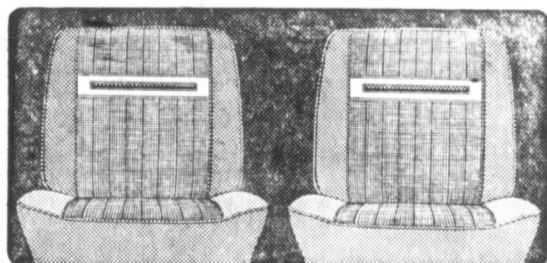

Who but Chevrolet could've done it? Price, spice and everything nice! A car that's bustin' with room, zoom and richness. One that's deep in convenience and comfort. One that won't let you squander a thing but affection. Look over the beautiful new Chevy II Nova here, and light out in it at your dealer's.

NEW CHEVY II NOVA

A SIX WITH V8 SCAT. You design a throaty Six (120 hp. strong) with special refinements like seven main bearings. You take your Six and team it with a car that is hundreds of pounds lighter than the big jobs—and, partner, you've got Go!

EASIER GOING RIDE. New Mono-Plate rear springs take the place of old-fashioned multi-leaf springs. Tough but ever so gentle, they help give you a ride that reminds you of the big Chevrolet—and you know how smooth that is.

RICH REFINED INTERIORS. Here's where you sit in the lap of luxury. Leatherlike vinyl upholstery. Foam-cushioned, of course. Carpeting and scuff mats. Vinyl overhead and chrome trim—the works!

Body by Fisher

STRIKING NEW STYLING. Any way you look at it, the Chevy II Nova is a neat, nifty fashion plate. The lines are so crisp and clean we're tempted to call them "elegant" (except that sounds downright expensive and, as your dealer will happily show you, Chevy II is anything but!).

First Methodist Church, Fulton, scene of the annual "March to the Manger".

Missions, and Mr. Stewart, supervisor of tracks for the Illinois Central Railroad in Fulton, is chairman of the committee to promote the "March on the Manger." Three years ago when the idea was conceived, it was decided to use the money to send a medical missionary to Bolivia. Dr. and Mrs. Fred Sherrill of Hartsello, Alabama were chosen. The young couple was sent to school for eight months to learn Spanish, the language of the country. They were ready to leave for South America, when Mrs. Sherrill became ill, and they were unable to make the trip.

The Fulton church had already deposited a year's salary, $3,000 with the Board of Missions in New York.

Then, in the early fall of 1960, the Rev. Mr. Leggett was chosen one of 29 ministers over the United States to go on a "preaching mission" to South America on the invitation of the Methodist churches of Chile and Peru.

It was while in Bolivia that the Fulton minister found the person the local church had been searching for—Dr. Louis Tatom, 33, a missionary working in Bolivia without support and without adequate supplies.

Dr. Tatom, who is from Denver, Colo., has a special degree in plastic surgery and had turned down a $125,000 a year offer to practice his profession in the States to become a missionary in South America.

When the Fulton minister became acquainted with the medical missionary he was working in the Pheiffer Memorial Hospital, a Methodist hospital in LaPaz, Bolivia. The doctor was working with out-moded and inadequate instruments. For example, for an emergency operation he had rigged up a vacuum cleaner as a suction pump. Since Rev. Mr. Leggett's return home he has seen to it that the doctor's rusty instruments have been replaced by a set of new ones.

the missionary doctor.

Besides the $3,000 yearly salary, individuals and groups of the First Methodist Church at Fulton send Dr. Tatom gifts from time to time during the year. The church is raising $1,250 separately (it is already underwritten) to send Dr. Tatom, so that he and his family may come to Fulton in May on his mid-term, two-month furlough.

"Bolivia furnishes the largest supply of tin and was very helpful to our country during World War II. It is very important to have Bolivia as a friend of the United States, and our Methodist missionaries are doing great work in this field," Rev. Mr. Leggett said.

The Rev. Mr. Leggett is serving his fourth year as pastor of the Fulton church. He is a native of Bells, Tennessee. Some of the churches he served before coming to Fulton were Trinity Temple of Louisville, Everett Memorial in Memphis, First Methodist Church of Camden, Tenn., First Methodist at Princeton, Ky., and the Methodist Church at Millington, Tenn. The Fulton minister attended Lambuth College, Union University, Bethel College, Tennessee Wesleyan and Emory University. Before becoming a minister, he taught school for seven years.

Mr. Floyd I. Fairman, President Kentucky Utilities Company Lexington, Kentucky

Dear Mr. Fairman:

I have been directed by the Board of Directors of "Citizens for T. V. A. West of the Cumberland" to correspond with you relative to the formation of our organization.

We should like very much to have the opportunity to meet with your company some time after the first of the year and at the convenience of both groups.

Respectfully,
Hoyt Barnett, Pres.
Hickman, Kentucky

Representative Barnett emphasized that each of the community representatives reported that public sentiment in their area was highly in favor of low cost T. V. A. power. In order to inform the people in each area as to the purpose of the "Citizens for T. V. A. West of the Cumberland" public meetings will be held in all these areas within the next few weeks. The first area public meeting decided upon was the Ballard-McCracken County Area.

This meeting will be held at Ballard Memorial High School on December 21, 1961, at 7:00 p. m. The meeting will be sponsored by "Citizens for T. V. A. West of the Cumberland" who plan to have a number of guests present to pre-

I. C. SAFETY PICTURE

As part of a system-wide safety campaign a new motion picture titled, "Never Argue With a Train," has been produced as a public service presentation by the Illinois Central Railroad. The picture emphasizes dangers at highway-rail crossings and the care motorists must exercise to avoid auto-train collisions.

Congressman Everett Honored At South Fulton Appreciation Dinner

Approximately 75 attended the appreciation dinner given in honor of Congressman Robert A. "Fats" Everett of Union City at the Park Terrace Restaurant Monday evening.

Hosts for the evening were Mayor Milton Counce and members of the South Fulton City Council.

The dinner was served buffet style, with a delicious meal including turkey and dressing, beef and pork being served. For the occasion the dining room was beautifully decorated in the Christmas motif.

The program was an informal South Fulton Siegel factory, made a few remarks. Mayor Counce said that the City of South Fulton was indeed thankful to everyone who has a part in the growth of the town. He said that he and the city officials would appreciate any suggestions from anyone as to how to make "our town a better place in which to live."

Among those present were: Congressman Everett and his charming mother of Union City, Mr. and Mrs. Huffine, Mayor and Mrs. Counce, County Judge Dan McKinnis and wife of Union City, Superintendent of Schools C. D. Parr and wife, J. C. Roberts, local School Board member, representing South Fulton, and his wife, Lester Betty, principal of South Fulton High School and wife, Earl Thorpe, Obion County Trustee, Harry Judson, Obion County Tax Assessor, Clayton Henderson, Obion County Highway Supervisor and wife, Magistrate W. L. Jolley and wife, Brooks Crockett, WCMES of Martin, and wife, Mrs. Oden Fowler, president of the South Fulton P-TA and Mr. Fowler, Brown Thacker, manager of Swift & Co. and wife, Dudley Morris and Mrs. L. O. Bradford, members of one of the oldest families in the area, Martin Henry Warren, president of the Booster Club, several I. C. Railroad employees and other interested citizens of South Fulton, present

Magistrate H. E. Reams was unable to attend. A. P. Brazelton who was formerly with TVA for 20 years or more, with headquarters in Jackson, now manager of the Paducah light system, was unable to attend because of the bad weather, but called to express his regrets. Also, Claud R. Williams, Road Commissioner of District No. 1 and 16 were unable to attend because of ill health.

Development Film To Be Shown Here

Kentucky's new development film, "Invitation to Kentucky", will be shown in Fulton on January 17 at a meeting of the Twin Cities Development Association.

The meeting, open to the public, is set for 7 p. m. at the Fulton Chamber of Commerce, Mrs. Ward Bushart, chairman of the association, said.

The sound and color film, which runs for 27 minutes will be shown by William Stratton, a representative of the Kentucky Department of Economic Development Division. Guest speaker at the meeting will be James H. Nutter, deputy commissioner in the state development agency.

Shiloh, Civil War Battle Field, Is Convenient For Weekend Trip

Located about 90 miles from Fulton, Shiloh National Military Park and Cemetery is an interesting place to visit for a weekend trip.

Containing approximately 3,700 acres, Shiloh includes the area of heaviest fighting in the battle of Shiloh, the first major battle in the western campaign of the War Between the States.

The Battle Of Shiloh

On April 5, 1862, General Grant, with about 40,000 troops, was advancing along the Tennessee River with the purpose of capturing Corinth, Mississippi, a strong Confederate railroad center. Breaking the march near a log chapel called Shiloh Church, Grant encamped to wait reinforcements from General Buell at Nashville. With no fear of attack, Grant chose his position for convenience rather than for defense.

But General Albert S. Johnston, with about 44,000 Confederate troops, made a surprise attack and drove the Union forces from their position. Johnston was killed and General Beauregard took his place.

The reinforcements from Buell's army arrived, along with a force under General Lew Wallace, on the morning of April 7. The thin Confederate line was defeated by the strong Northern counter attack.

North 13,047 men killed wounded. The two-day battle cost the and missing. Losses for the South were 10,699.

The Park and Cemetery

Before taking a tour of the park, a visit to the park museum will acquaint you with the battle story. Relics, exhibits, and maps relating to the battle and the war are displayed, and a color film on the battle is shown throughout the day. The museum is open every day from 8 a. m. until 5:30 p. m. in the summer, and until 4:30 p. m. in the winter.

Numbered markers have been placed at points of interest along the paved road which weaves through the park.

The national cemetery, containing 10 acres, is near the park headquarters on a high bluff overlooking Pittsburgh landing and the Tennessee River. More than 3,700 Federal Soldiers, of whom two thirds are unidentified, are buried here.

School Workshop For Fulton, Hickman, Graves Is Scheduled

On Wednesday, December 6, a workshop for all schools in Fulton County, Hickman County and Graves County will be held at Fulton in the library of Carr Elementary School.

This meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Beulah Fontaine, KEA Consultant for Professional Services, and Jennings H. Flathers, NEA Field Representative. From 4 to 6 in the afternoon there will be a workshop for the presidents, officers, committee chairmen of local units and the administrators of the schools in the three counties. At 7:30 Mr. Flathers will address the group.

Mr. Flathers was the South Central Regional Director of the National Education Association Department of Classroom Teachers for 1957-60. A Texan by birth, Mr. Flathers attended school in Texas, Arkansas, and Oklahoma, and returned to Texas to finish his secondary education.

After receiving his discharge from the Air Force in 1945, Mr. Flathers resumed his studies and completed his master's degree at the University of Colorado in 1946. Since that time, he has done additional graduate work at the University of Denver and the University of Southern California.

A long record of service to his professional organizations preceded Mr. Flathers' election to his new position as NEA Field Representative. He served as president of the Texas Classroom Teachers Association in 1956-57. He has also been associated with the Texas State Teachers Association, having served as district president and as a member of the TEPS Committee.

Lexington was the birthplace of the first newspaper published in Kentucky. John Bradford, without any previous experience as a printer or editor, published the first edition of The Kentucky Gazette Aug. 11, 1787.

Louisville has long been noted for its authoresses. These include Alice Hegan Rice, who wrote "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch;" Mrs. George Madden Martin, known for her chronicles of "Emmy Lou," and Annie Fellows Johnston, who wrote the "Little Colonel" series.

Junior High Football Highlights

From the HERALD, S. F. Elementary

South Fulton Junior High celebrated its first football victory in five years with a victory over Dresden here on September 21 by the score of 20 - 0. The Junior Devils went on to a .500 season, winning 2 and losing 2.

The other victory avenged an earlier defeat as Coach Allen Ferguson's boys had lost to Ridgely there on September 26 by a score of 13 - 7. The revenge was sweet as Charles Colley and Kenneth Watts led the Junior Devils to a 22 - 7 victory over Ridgely.

The final game saw the South Fulton eleven fall to arch-rival Fulton Junior High by a score of 7 - 0 when Fulton scored a touchdown late in the final quarter of the game.

Coach Ferguson and his assistant Gary Isbell, a South Fulton Sophomore, commended the hard work of the Junior High squad. The boys who made up the squad were as follows:

Student Council Election All Set For January 4th

New student council officers will be elected on January 4, 1962. The president and secretary will be selected from the eighth grade. The vice-president will be a seventh grader and the treasurer can be either a seventh or eighth grader. All candidates must register by December 19 in the principal's office. Candidates must be eligible according to rules set forth in the constitution in order to run for office. Indications are that at least some of the present officers will seek re-election on January 4. However, all candidates are sure to have opposition.

Voting will take place in both precincts one and two. Precinct one is composed of grades four and five, and precinct two is composed of grades six through eight. All students in grades four through eight are eligible to vote.

"A GENERALLY GOOD MARKET" was the way Kentucky Agriculture Commissioner Emerson Beauchamp (center), described the opening hours of the state's burley sales season to Lexington radio newsmen Mike Clooney, brother of Kentucky-born songstress Rosemary Clooney. Beauchamp was on hand to watch the opening sales at the New Burley Warehouse in Lexington. The agriculture commissioner is a tobacco producer himself on his Logan County farm. In the background, George Johnson, director of the State weights and measures service, confers with "Hi" Miranda, public relations director for the Burley Auction Warehouse Association.

News From Our Boys In The SERVICE

Frankfurt, Germany—Two soldiers from Fulton, Ky., Specialist Five George A. Gooden, and Specialist Four Jerry A. Page, recently participated with other personnel from the 3d Armored Division in Exercise Brandywine, a seven-day field training exercise in Germany.

The exercise, which involved more than 26,000 troops, was designed to test the ability of participating units to move, shoot and communicate under simulated combat conditions.

The 3d, which is known as the "Spearhead" division, is one of five U. S. divisions in NATO's "Pyramid of Power" in Europe.

Specialist Gooden, whose wife, Cordelia, lives at 413 Taylor, is a truck driver in Company A of the division's 3d Quartermaster Battalion in Frankfurt. He entered the Army in September 1950 and arrived overseas last August. The 3-year-old soldier is a 1947 graduate of Dunbar High School, Mayfield.

Specialist Page, a gunner in Company A of the division's 33d Armor, entered the Army in October 1949 and arrived overseas in March 1960. The 20-year-old soldier is a 1958 graduate of Fulton High School. He attended Murray State College.

FORT RUCKER, Ala.—Army Specialist Four Charles H. Perry, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Perry, Route 1, Fulton, Ky., completed the five-week aircraft maintenance course at The Aviation School, Fort Rucker, Ala., Nov. 17.

Nov. 17.

Specialist Perry received instruction in the servicing and maintenance of rotary and fixed-wing aircraft. He was also trained in the basic fundamentals necessary to participate in the operation of Army airfields.

Perry entered the Army in May 1959 and was stationed at Travis Air Force Base, Calif., before his assignment to Fort Rucker.

He is a 1955 graduate of South Fulton (Tenn.) High School and was employed by the Henry I. Siegel Clothing Co., in Fulton, Ky., before entering the Army.

FORT MCLELLAN, Ala.—Army 2d Lt. Jere L. Pigue, 23, son of Bertie J. Pigue, 308 Third St., Fulton, Ky., completed the four-week chemical-biological-radiological (CBR) officer course at The Chemical Corps School Fort McClellan, Ala., Nov. 17.

Lieutenant Pigue was trained in the technical aspects of chemical, biological and nuclear warfare. He received instruction in radiological defence and protection. Operations, logistics and medical training were also included in the course.

He is a 1955 graduate of Fulton High School, attended Murray (Ky.) State College and is a 1961 graduate of the University of Kentucky in Lexington. The lieutenant is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity.

FORT CAMPBELL, Ky.—Army Sergeant First Class John K. Murray, whose wife, Francis, lives on Route 6, Hilltop Dr., Hopkinsville, Ky., recently was assigned to the 11th Artillery at Fort Campbell, Ky.

Sergeant Murray, a member of the artillery's Battery A, entered the Army in 1950 and was last stationed in Germany.

Murray is the son of Mrs. Vear I. Murray, 1306 S. Fourth St., Hickman.

Surprised On 80th Birthday With Party

Mr. Clay Merrell was surprised on his 80th birthday with a party Friday night given by his daughter, Mrs. Raymond Murray. The party was held at his home at 310 Homes Street. He received many nice gifts.

Americans drank about 133 quarts of milk per person in 1960, three quarts less than in 1959. U. S. farm production during the 1950's increased faster than population—27 percent compared to 19 percent.

Here's The Way You Can Make An Approved Fallout Shelter Yourself

Do-it-yourself instructions are illustrated here for building the basement family fallout shelter to the standards recommended by the office of Civil and Defense Mobilization.

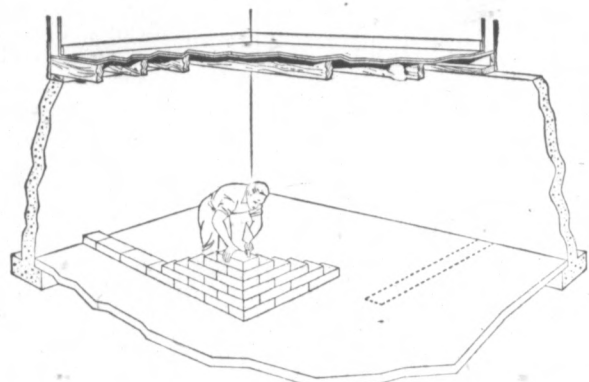

Since eight inches of concrete is necessary for effective shielding, the walls and the roof must be eight inches thick. Solid block is better, but if it is not available hollow block may be used.

It is essential, however, to fill the spaces in hollow blocks with sand or mortar.

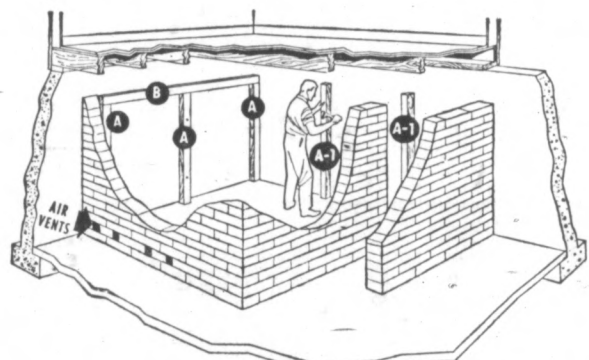

The ideal block for the shelter is solid concrete and measures 16 inches long, eight inches wide and four inches in height. The lumber required consists of four - inch-by-four-inch posts, two-inch-by-six-inch joists and one-inch sheathing on which the ceiling

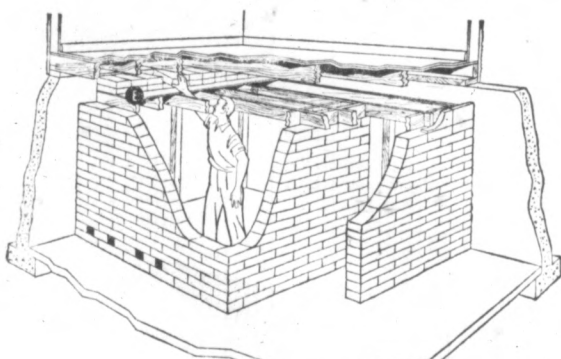

If possible, choose a corner of the basement that has no window. If a window is unavoidable, it will have to be properly covered later. Now take a piece of chalk and, allowing 10 square feet of floor for each occupant, mark guidelines on the floor where the L-shaped wall and the baffle wall of the shelter will be located. Set your first row of solid concrete blocks in about three-eighths of an inch of wet mortar along the guidelines, using a level and a plumb line, if possible.

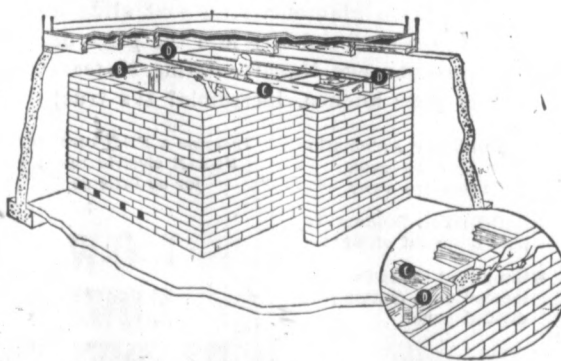

Next raise the corner of the L-shaped wall about six blocks high. Now start up with the rest of the L-shaped wall, leaving four or five holes in the second row of blocks for ventilation. When the wall is level with the corner again, raise the corner and continue in the same manner until the L-shaped wall is about 16 inches from the basement ceiling. This 16-inch space is necessary for the later construction of the shelter roof. You will not set the top row of blocks until you have completed the roof.

Now build your baffle, the wall which protects the shelter's entrance. Raise it to the same height as the L-shaped wall. Next, by means of half-inch anchor bolts, fasten the four-by-four-inch posts marked A and A-1 to the basement walls. Notice that the beam marked B (also four-by-four) is nailed to the top of the posts marked A. This combined height is the same as the height of the posts marked A-1. The mortared joints should now be given at least 24 hours to dry.

The roof boards marked E can now be placed. They can be of one-inch dressed lumber—four, six or eight inches wide. Slip the first two roof boards into place from outside the shelter. From inside the shelter, reach through between the roof beams to nail the roof boards in place. Next place the concrete roof blocks on the roof boards. They need not be mortared but must total eight inches of concrete roof. That is, two flat layers of four-inch blocks. If eight-inch blocks are used the hollow spaces must be filled with sand or mortar. Next add two more roof boards, cover with blocks and continue until the last blocks are placed from outside the shelter.

The roof supports (marked C) are installed after the walls have had a chance to dry. They are two-by-six-inch beams set edgewise on 13-inch centers. Wood braces marked D hold them in place. At the entrance side of the shelter each roof beam rests on the inside four inches of the block wall. The outside four inches is filled by mortaring four-inch blocks on edge. The wood braces marked D are placed flush with the inside of the wall. Space between the braces and four-inch blocks is filled with mortar to complete the wall thickness needed for radiation shielding. See inset for details.

In Kentucky the total cost of the material required should be from $150 to $200, according to Everett Hall, training, education and public affairs office of the Kentucky Civil Defense organization.

By Brig. Gen. William R. Buster
Assistant Adjutant Gen. of Ky.

Many people appear desperately fearful of a nuclear attack. Some declare openly that they will make no planned effort to survive, that if the dread thing happens they will accept it without any question, resigned apparently, to what they believe would be certain death.

The human race would have been extinct a million years ago had our forebears responded in this manner on any appreciable scale. It would be stupid to pooh-pooh the enormity, the overwhelming frightfulness of a nuclear war. But it is equally foolish to refuse to face the possibility and to try to appraise our chances of survival.

What defeats many people is something that has always plagued mankind—our inordinate fear of the unknown. We can plan to overcome the adversary we can see and understand. But how can one cope with an unknown menace?

Without trying to minimize the gruesome possibilities, we need to examine them intelligently and try to understand their workings. And we need not aspire to be atomic scientists. One doesn't have to be an electrical engineer to screw in a fuse or turn off a switch. It is the duty of every American, then, to learn the nature of the thing that threatens us, to bring it out of the dark unknown and see what is to be done.

Here are some questions and answers designed to help the average citizen to dispel the dread of the unknown.

Question:—Can any living thing survive an atomic explosion?

Answer:—Certainly! The farther away you are from the point of explosion the greater are your chances for surviving the blast, just as with a charge of dynamite.

Question:—Wouldn't it be certain death if one were, say 20 miles away?

Answer:—Not necessarily. Much depends on the size of the bomb. Much depends on where you happen to be. American soldiers stayed un-harmless in shelters less than a mile from a test explosion in Nevada. Even if an explosion were to kill everyone within a radius of 100 miles, people beyond the lethal radius can and will survive.

Question:—How can you know if a distant explosion is atomic and what can you do if you should see one?

Answer:—Nuclear explosions are characterized by a flash of unearthly brilliance, brighter than the sun. Such a flash will be unmistakable. It can blind you and you should look away instantly. Then seek cover—any cover is better than none. Even the small shelter afforded by a curbstone could have saved many lives had Hiroshima been forewarned.

BUYING SHRIMP?

When buying shrimp, compare prices between shrimp in the shell and shelled shrimp. Two pounds raw shrimp in the shell makes one pound cooked, shelled shrimp. If both are the size shrimp you want to buy, compare the prices and consider the work involved in cooking and shelling the raw, unshelled product.

Again, It's Christmas And Its Time For Giving; This Story Of Brotherly Love Should Guide Us

Relentlessly, obdurately roll around the days, weeks, months, and years which measure the seasons and mark the mileposts in the lives of men and women. Thus December has arrived, and again, it's Christmas—Christmas with its dollar marks, its gaudy streets clad in cheap tinsel and synthetic green—Christmas with its holy hymns set to the tunes of cash-register bells, and the heart of man in danger of asking, "How much can I get?" rather than "How much can I give?"

This editorial will have no truck with such treachery.

It purports to treat the brotherhood of man. Put aside are all grievances and complaints chased from these columns are all charges of penury and pride.

Taken from the Talmud, this is the story of the site chosen for King Solomon's Temple, a story of brotherhood.

A father left a field to his two sons, and there they plowed together, planted together, cultivated together, harvested together, and when the harvest had been gathered, they divided it equally. The one took his share to his home at one end of the field, and the other, his share to his home at the opposite end of this same field.

That night the first brother began to ask himself whether an equal division was a fair division of the harvest. "It is not," said he to himself, "for I have no one dependent upon me, but my brother has a wife and two sons dependent upon him. It was selfish of me to take full half of the harvest."

So he went to his storehouse, loaded his shoulders with sheaves and started across the field to his brother's home.

That night the second brother asked of himself this same question—whether an equal division was a fair division of the harvest. "It is not," said he to himself, "for I am blessed with a wife and two fine sons who will look after me in my old age, but my brother has no one to look after him. It was selfish of me to take a full half of the harvest."

So, he, too, went to his storehouse and loaded his shoulders with sheaves and started across the field to his brother's home.

The two met midway of the field, and seeing their shoulders laden with sheaves, each sensed the thought in the heart of the other. They dropped their bundles and embraced each other with tears coursing unashamedly down their cheeks.

And the Talmud says that on this spot, consecrated with the tears of true brotherhood, they erected King Solomon's Temple.

At Christmas time, a period of giving and sharing, let us ask not, "Will I get all that I have coming to me?" Let us ask, rather, "Will my brother, wherever he is and whoever he is, get all he is entitled to receive?" Such a question is appropriate for the season wherein we commemorate the birth of Him we call the Christ.

The South Fulton and Rives basketball teams split a pair of games on the Rives floor Friday night, as the Rives boys bowed to South Fulton 39 to 33 and the Rives girls won 54 to 37.

Members of the local Civil Defense Council are asking for volunteers to assist in this movement in Fulton.

Louis Kasnow, who is one of the most popular and best known merchants in Fulton, has recently completed remodeling of his department store on Lake Street.

W. O. Greer, employee of the Railway Express Agency, suffered a serious injury Saturday when he was accidentally shot while hunting between Clinton and Arlington.

The Fulton Bulldogs won their second game in a row here Tuesday night as they defeated the Arlington Aces 27 to 16.

Butch Nelms, end, and Jack Tosh, tackle, both star members of the Fulton High Bulldogs' football team, were named on the all-state second team which was announced Sunday.

"Sug" Willingham, Bulldogs fullback, received honorable mention.

Miss Helen Davis of Mayfield was a visitor in Fulton Tuesday.

The City of Fulton is being decorated for the approaching holiday season and the "Spirit of Christmas" now prevails in Fulton.

Paul Tosh, 13-year-old son of E. E. Tosh, Highlands, was painfully injured Monday afternoon when he was accidentally shot through the left foot, while playing near home. Paul and Lee Henry were shooting at tin cans.

100 Years Ago This Week

An Historical review of THE CIVIL WAR DAY-BY-DAY
(Material is from publication of exactly one hundred years ago; original wording from references in the Library of Congress, Washington. Reporting in the papers was usually very one-sided; we seek to be fair in coverage and preserve a national balance. . . . ED.)

BY WILLIAM H. MCHEAT

Second Week in December

By December of 1861, the soldiers making up the Union and the Confederate armies had been soldiers for six months, but there were still many young men joining the armies as a lark. To so many people, that first year of the Civil War, the trouble was just a joke.

Of all the stories from the armies the following is given to show the happy-go-lucky attitude of many of the young soldiers.

General Wm. Nelson was with an Ohio regiment quartered in Kentucky Nelson had just enrolled "thirty-six gentlemen volunteers" and was trying to make soldiers of them. Nelson was a huge man, weighing over 300 pounds.

One of the new soldiers noticed that a new wagoner had entered the Union camp with a load of supplies. The wagoner had a jug of whiskey by him, and the soldier directed the driver to go into the General's tent and "get the big fellow there to come out and unload his wagon." The youngster added that the big fellow in the tent was contrary, and the driver might have to take him "by the collar to get him to do his work properly."

Naturally, the slightly tipsy driver collared the general, and in the excitement the young gentleman soldier managed to get away with the jug of whiskey. General Nelson defended himself with a sword, the wagon-driver used a whip-handle. The general won the fight, and felt so amused that he merely sent the young joker home.

But the Civil War was no joke to the old regular soldiers! In Louisville the Union forces were under the command of one William T. Sherman. Sherman had graduated from West Point, had served in the army, then held various jobs such as that of being superintendent of a military academy in Mississippi, boss of a street railwayline in St. Louis, and recently had been in command of a brigade of Union troops at the battle of Bull Run. Sherman had brought his troops from the battlefield in good shape, and in all the confusion he was one of the few Union officers who seemed to know how to control green soldiers.

Sherman was one of the first

Union generals who took a realistic over-all look at the number of soldiers the North would need to subdue the South. Sherman asked for 60,000 men to defend Kentucky, and for at least 200,000 men to wage an offensive war.

Secretary of War Cameron, his mind filled with politics instead of military wisdom, told a few newspapermen that hard work had "unhinged" Sherman's mind. Sherman was removed from his command.

History would soon prove Sherman right. By the first of December, 1861, there were over 100,000 Union troops in Kentucky . . . the men Sherman had asked for were arriving, but General Buel was in charge.

Buel, on November 15, had been placed in command of the Department of the Ohio, which included Ohio, Michigan and Indiana. An expedition against East Tennessee had been ordered. This force was to capture Cumberland Gap, enter East Tennessee, and cut the all-important railroad running from Virginia west to New Orleans. In Washington the supreme commander of the Union forces, Maj. Gen. McClellan, wanted that railroad destroyed for it would weaken the Confederate forces in Virginia.

McClellan had three or four times as many Union troops in and around Washington as the Confederates had facing him in Virginia, but no one ever thought that McClellan was crazy because he asked for more and more men for the coming battles.

Sherman's trouble was that he had angered loose-tongued newspaper reporters who visited his camps. During the Civil War the old American idea of "free speech" had permitted reporters to write about anything. The most secret orders had a way of being published on the front pages. Sherman had chased reporters from his camp and the newsmen wanted to get even.

On Dec. 11, 1861, the Cincinnati COMMERCIAL said "Gen William T. Sherman, later commander of the Department of the Cumberland, is insane!"

Sherman had, however, a few friends. On Dec. 19, the Louisville JOURNAL said: "His mind is probably unsurpassed in power and comprehension by that of any military man of our country . . . he has been deemed insane only by those who could not comprehend him. . . ."

The COMMERCIAL meanwhile had apologized but the damage had been done. Sherman's reputation was damaged, and the man himself suffered from having to send untrained soldiers into combat.

Within a month the North knew that Sherman had been right. It would take 200,000 men to defeat the Confederates in the West . . . yes, and many times than that. It was only a month until the beginning of the Ft. Henry-Ft. Donaldson campaign, and then would come the Battle of Shiloh in April.

Never again would caution be considered a sign of insanity in a Union General.

About Town With

Ouida Jewell

There are still some honest people in the world, it seems.

In Saturday's mail, Hugh Fly, owner of the Derby Cafe in Fulton, received a nice letter, containing ten cents, from a woman from Missouri.

The woman said that she had forgotten to pay for a package of chewing gum she purchased at the Derby and was sending it in the letter. She went on to say that she had eaten at the Fulton restaurant three times and had found the hospitality wonderful.

Mr. Fly said that his mail ever so often brings money from Memphis, Chicago, St. Louis or some other place over the United States, for some ticket someone has gone out and failed to pay.

But, the smallest amount he has received in the mail was the dime he got Saturday.

He put the letter and the dime on his bulletin board at the Derby.

Have you noticed the recent improvement on Broadway in South Fulton? An old house which was about to fall down, was torn-down last week.

Expansion of Salant and Salant Inc. facilities in Union City and Obion County which will result in an increase in employment in Obion County by at least 100, and possibly 250, has been announced at Union City by Robert S. Salant, of New York, president of the company.

"Pete" Byars of Fulton was pictured on the front page of the Sun-Democrat last Wednesday. He represented Fulton and Union City at a meeting of the Four Rivers Boy Scout Council at Mayfield on Tuesday night of last week. It was expected that by last weekend the 30,000th boy was expected to join the Council.

We were sorry to learn that the mother of Pete Green was injured in a fall at her home in Mayfield last Wednesday morning. She's in a Mayfield hospital.

Each December for the past few years, Dorothy Exum and I became competitors and we have fun at it. Each day over a cup or two of coffee, we discuss who and what we have sold—that is in Christmas greeting ads. And, sometime we even assist each other a little. There's nothing like being friendly competitors, we say!

One of the nicest and friendliest men we know about town is Magistrate Wilburn Allen. And in our rounds, we often hear nice compliments about him.

Miss Nancy Jane Taylor of South Fulton has been selected D. A. R. Good Citizen of South Fulton High School by her classmates and the faculty. She was selected as possessing to an outstanding degree, the qualities of dependability, service, leadership and patriotism. She will receive a Good Citizen certificate and pin.

By writing an essay of not more than 300 words on the subject "A Republic—If You Can Keep It", Miss Taylor becomes eligible for the honor of District, State and National D. A. R. Good Citizens.

Jerry Speight brought into town recently some of the biggest turnips we've ever seen. The largest one he had weighed six and one-half pounds. Jerry said that his uncle threw the turnip seed down while they were hunting. The huge vegetables grew from these seed. To get them to town Jerry said that he had to carry them for several miles.

SERMONETTE OF THE WEEK

Religion Is Playing An Important Part In Our Lives

By Enid A. Haupt, Editor and Publisher of Seventeen Magazine.

Religion is playing an increasingly important role in the daily lives of America's ten million young women under twenty. According to a recent survey, millions of young women of the U. S. attend church regularly on Sunday morning. Millions more go to Sunday afternoon and vesper services, participate in parish youth activities and receive religious instruction after school during the week.

What are the reasons behind their interest in the Church?

1. THE YOUNG woman under twenty is "grown up." She is already assuming a responsible place in society. She realizes that religion is an important part of her life.

2. It's "in" to do good. Today's teen society is characterized by a passion for doing good unto others. One young friend said to me recently, "A girl is 'out' if she isn't busy with some form of helping people."

3. SHE KNOWS that she needs the security of faith to withstand the pressures of current times and international confusion, her own doubts and social insecurities.

4. From the age of sixteen on, she's thinking about a possible husband. Because of this, she finds guidance in the church—and often a husband too!

So along with increasing attendance at church and synagogue comes an awareness of the problems of interfaith dating.

Our young women face the problem of interfaith dating with the same mature and realistic attitudes that they use in all areas of their daily living. Their comments range from "It's just like an invisible shield" to "We just stopped dating—we didn't have enough in common." At sixteen and seventeen they are already anticipating the areas of trouble: children, pressures from friends and families, social difficulties and basic beliefs.

The intelligent concern with interfaith matters, the increased teen church attendance, the popularity of working for youth councils and church charity camps, taking part in church meetings and choral groups demonstrates for each and all what fine, responsible, law-abiding citizens our teen-age girls of 1961 are.

I WISH everyone knew of the good deeds of our young women: that over 43 per cent hold down full time or part time jobs—that four out of five market for the family food—that five out of ten sew their own clothes—that millions give spare hours to community, charity and church service.

TODAY'S teen-age girl has two aims: To become a happy adult and to make the world a happier place to live in. To a large extent her strength and courage is based on an abiding faith in God.

Farm News, Meetings, Events

(Ed's note: the following information, supplied THE NEWS by the USDA, ASC, nearby County Agents and agricultural agencies will be of special interest to progressive farmers in the Kent-Tenn area):

FARMERS AUTHORIZED TO PASTURE DIVERTED ACRES

R. O. Wilson, Chairman of the Kentucky State ASC Committee, has announced that farmers are now authorized to pasture their 1961 Feed Grain Program Diverted Acres. The authorization became effective November 15, 1961.

Wilson said the authorization was granted to allow livestock to get to water supplies and to allow livestock to range over diverted acres to pasture adjoining stalk fields; however, when the authorization was granted, it was decided that all diverted acres would be eligible for pasturing.

Farmers are still restricted from harvesting any crop from the diverted acres until after their 1961 Feed Grain Program Contract expires which is December 31, 1961.

WINTER BARLEY PROGRAM SIGNUP REPORTED:

Through November 22, 1961, growers on 8 farms in Fulton County had signed up to take part in the 1962 winter barley feed grain program, according to Roy Bard, Chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Altogether, the applications call for the diversion of 171.2 acres from average 1959-60 barley plantings of 209.0 acres on these farms. This represents about 82 percent of these farms' barley base.

The report shows that of the estimated 83 winter barley producing farms in the County, about 8, or 10 percent, have been signed to divert acreage under the 1962 feed grain program.

For the farms signed up, possible advance payments under provisions permitting about half of the payments to be made this fall during the sign-up period come to about $1115.57. Cashable sight drafts issued to participating farmers amount to $275.65.

The 1962 feed grain program for winter barley provides payments to farmers who divert barley acreage to approved conserving uses. Such diversion will help to achieve a better balance between production and utilization of feed grains, and the payments to producers will maintain their income during the period of supply adjustment. Farmers who are interested in signing up in the winter barley feed grain program are urged to file their applications at an early date.

Eddie Van Meter is crowned state tractor winner by Tractor Queen Kay Botard of Alice, Texas, and R. L. Crawford, representing Standard Oil Company (Kentucky) congratulates him at the 40th National 4-H Club Congress held this week in Chicago. As the champion of the Kentucky 4-H Tractor Program, conducted nationally by the Cooperative Extension Service with the National 4-H Service Committee, Inc., Eddie won a free trip to Chicago as the guest of Standard Oil, sponsor of the program in Kentucky.

BARLEY AND WHEAT PROGRAMS BROADENED

A double cropping provision has been added to the 1962 Wheat Stabilization and Barley Programs according to R. O. Wilson, Chairman of the Kentucky State ASC Committee.

Farmers who have double cropped land during the 1959 and/or 1960 crop year by planting barley or wheat followed by corn or grain sorghum, can now claim double history and receive payment for diverting both crops on the same acreage. Also, farmers who have made a practice during the same base period of seeding soybeans for beans or seeding grasses or legumes in their wheat or barley and harvesting the grasses or legumes for hay or seed, they will be permitted to harvest hay, except soybeans hay, or seed from double cropped diverted acreage if approved by their ASCS County Committee.

County ASCS Offices will continue accepting 1962 Wheat Stabilization and Barley Applications through December 1, 1961. Wilson said farmers who have already signed applications may increase their participation in these programs by applying at the county office by the final date for filing applications.

Competition he subdues, who advertises in The News.

PLAN NOW FOR 1962 PROFITS

The farm countryside is fast taking on the restful look of fall and winter. I am impressed, as I travel from one area to another, by the fall dress some fields have taken on... this required planning in advance. Other fields have the fresh clipped look where weeds were taken off before the seed had matured. This also took time and some planning.

As the fall season progresses, we need to begin thinking about plans for the coming year. Dairying is still out front in the outlook picture, so it will be a good idea to save those heifers, especially those from high producing cows, and bred artificially.

If you need a little extra income in the new year coming up, why not try raising dairy heifers. They are in demand now and very few farmers are raising them for sale. We are in need of cows on the milk line that were well grown out as heifers. I know there is a profit to be made in heifers if they are managed properly. By this I mean that they need to be fed a grain mixture from weaning to calving. The mixture will not be the same, however for all stages of growth. It is most important that a 17 percent protein be used for all calves under one year. The protein may be reduced as the calf advances in age and when on legume pasture. The winter ration should include the best legume hay on the farm, and in some cases that is not high enough in quality for the young herd.

We all enjoy the summer and everything that goes with it, but when fall comes we know that this is the season of the year when we are really able to count our "BLESSINGS". This is the time of year when harvest means that debts can be paid, and needed items for the family can be bought. It is a feeling that all our efforts have been worth while.

Mr. Wayne A. Johnson, President of the Illinois Central Railroad, recently stated, "A bountiful harvest means more profit to the farmers who are the guiding light to a stronger America".

HAVE YOU MOVED?

Failure of veterans to promptly report changes of address to the Veterans Administration and the Post Office again was the trouble behind the bulk of the inquiries on non-receipt of benefit checks during the first week of the month.

GEOLOGICAL MAP

The State of Kentucky is in the second year of a geological mapping program to cover the entire Commonwealth. The 750 individual maps when completed will be useful in promoting industrial sites and developing natural resources.

WHO GETS IT?

Who gets that dollar you spend for food? Less than 40 cents of the dollar goes to the farmer. On the average, 60 cents of each dollar spent for food goes for processing, transporting and distributing costs.

I. C. CLERKS PARTY

Over one-hundred Illinois Central clerks gathered at the Derby Restaurant Monday evening for their annual Christmas dinner party. Following a delicious meal, a delightful program was presented and guests were introduced. For the occasion, the Derby dining room was gaily decorated for Christmas.

CHECK 'EM NOW!

Young shrubs, evergreens and trees planted during last year should be checked now. See if they have swayed in the wind and make sure the soil is not too far away from the stem of the plant. Holes around the stems of young plants collect and hold water that freezes during winter and causes damage to bark of the plant.
