BAPTIST REVIVAL STARTS SUNDAY

The Baptist revival will begin Sunday morning at the First Baptist church. Rev. Martin will be in charge of the services with the song services being conducted by Stanley Armstrong of Memphis, Tennessee.

The morning services will be held every morning from 7:15 to 7:55 and in the evenings at 7:30.

A car will be at the USO club to carry all the service men that would like to attend these services.

A series of cottage prayer meetings have been held the past two weeks in preparation of these services.

Every one is invited to attend these services and hear the Word of God.

CHARLES CANNON RECEIVES DEGREE AT U. T.

Charles Cannon, son of Mr. Ernest Cannon, Route 5, received B. S. degree from the University of Tennessee on March 15th. Charles is a graduate of South Fulton High, class of '39.

This is the first graduation exercise to be held at the University of Tennessee other than June and August graduation organizations in 1794. One hundred and eighty seven students received Bachelors degrees at this unusual graduation, which is being held to accommodate the many graduating seniors who go immediately into the armed services.

DEATHS

JAMES R. TAYLOR

James R. Taylor died suddenly at his home in Chicago, Ill., Thursday morning.

The body arrived in Sharon, Tenn., Saturday morning and was taken to Mose Taylor's home near Sidonia where it remained until the funeral which was held at Alma Baptist Church Sunday at 3 o'clock by the Rev. J. C. Cooper and buried in nearby cemetery.

He leaves his companion, one son, James Taylor, two daughters, Mrs. Wanda's Modlock and Mrs. Dorella Davis and nine grandchildren all of Chicago, Ill., three brothers, Robert Taylor of River, Tenn., and Ben Taylor of Union City, Tenn., and one sister, Mrs. Willey Gardner of Martin, Tenn.

He was born in Hardin County, Tenn., January 1st, 1891, age 52 years. He moved to Weakley County, Tenn., about 35 years ago. He married Miss Mary Watson and to this union three children were born.

MRS. KATE WHITESELL

Mrs. Kate Whitesell, vice president of the First National Bank and of the Whitesell Brick and Lumber Company at Corsicana, Texas, died Friday. She was well known here, having visited here many times.

She had been prominent in Corsicana business and social circles for half a century. Survivors include several nieces and nephews. Her husband, the late James E. Whitesell, was a former resident of Fulton and was related to the Fields and Whitesell families of Fulton and Union City.

Funeral services were held Saturday.

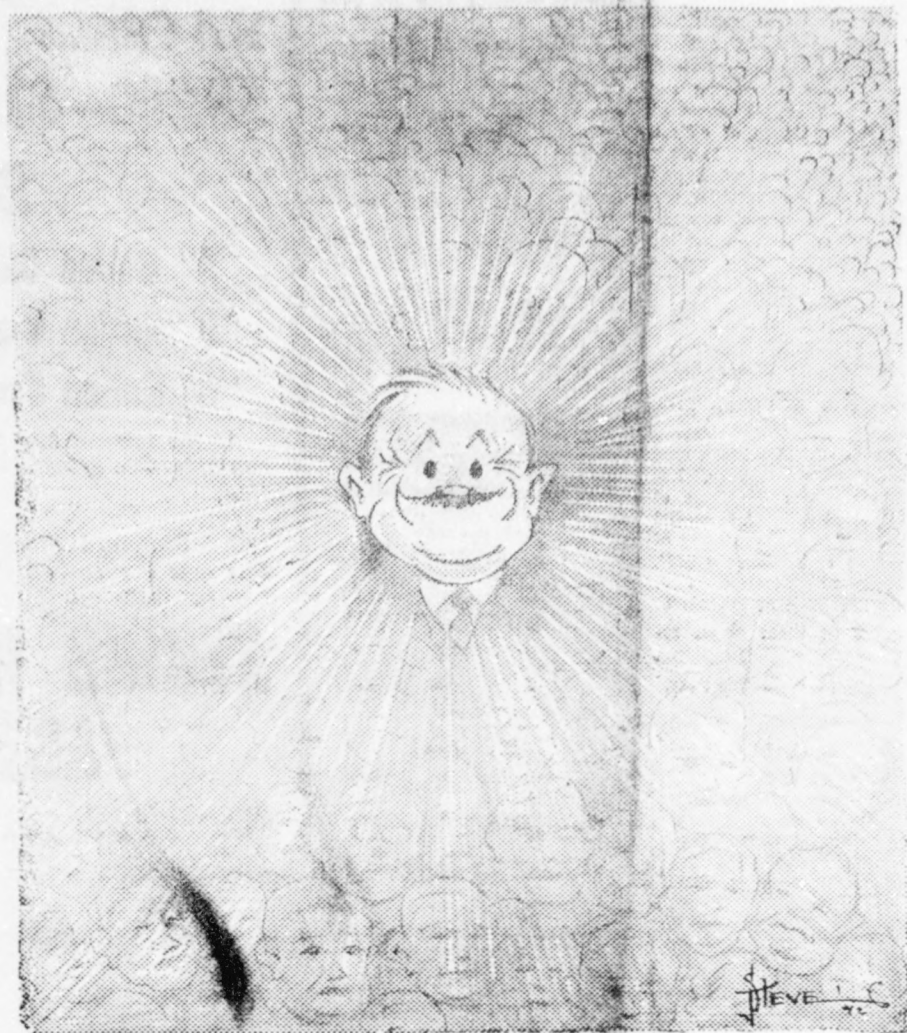

She established the James E. Whitesell scholarship for the University of Texas students as a memorial to her late husband.

ORVIN WEAKS

Orvin Weaks, former Water Valley, merchant died in Bloomington, Indiana from a fall downstairs in which he suffered a broken neck. He was brought back to Water Valley for funeral which will be held this afternoon (Friday) at the Methodist church.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Clara Dudley Weaks, three sisters, Mrs. Paul Pigue of Water Valley, Mrs. Millie Thompson and Mrs. Grace Yates both of Detroit, Mich.

School Faculty To Adopt Resolution

Realizing that the schools must adopt a definite policy regarding the national war effort which has made it necessary for students to fill vacancies created by men leaving for the armed forces, the Fulton High School Faculty in a meeting on Monday afternoon, March 8, adopted the following resolution:

1. Permission to work during school hours will be granted only upon the receipt of a statement from the employer saying that the student's work is necessary for the war effort or that his work will help to meet an emergency.

2. A student must be willing to cooperate with the faculty and to observe the regulations of the school if such permission is to be granted.

3. Five class absences per term will be excused provided no absence occurs on the day of a test which has been announced two days in advance. Credit is to be deducted for such absences unless the work is made up at the student's initiative within a week after the absence.

4. The student must bring a statement from the person under whose supervision he has worked in order to secure an excuse.

5. If a student is absent more than five days in each six week, such absences will be unexcused.

6. Parents and friends of students are asked to limit their telephone calls to students to those which are essential.

7. Dental and beauty parlor appointments are to be made by students after school hours. Appointments made otherwise are to be considered unexcused absences.

MANY SERVICE MEN REGISTER AT LOCAL U. S. O. CENTER

It was three months ago, on Dec. 2, 1942, that the first service man signed the register at Fulton's USO center, and since that time about two thousand men in the armed forces have registered at the local center. The USO organization here has been very successful and under the able guidance of Mrs. Charlotte Smith, chairman, the local center has proved a big aid to the many service men who are in Fulton daily between buses and trains or just passing through. Although there are no army camps near here, Fulton still has a number of service men, this is due to this being a railroad crossroads and many of the boys have long waits here between trains. The local center has been very popular with these boys.

It also serves as a headquarters for the military police and shore patrols, who work the various trains; the group between Chicago and Fulton and the other between New Orleans and Fulton. Sandwiches and coffee are provided at the center, as well as recreation. The center is equipped with all sorts of reading material, victrolas, radio, piano and "juke box". Various games are also provided. Many of the boys use the center for sleeping quarters.

Mrs. Smith has a splendid organization, with a chairman in charge of each day, who has charge of seeing that the sandwiches and coffee are made and that all the hostesses are to be present. The hostesses serve on two hour shifts, with two hostesses working each shift. Mrs. Smith deserves the praise of the entire community for the fine work she has done in making this building into an excellent center for the service men.

The service center stays open all night, and after 10 o'clock, J. C. Wilson, the caretaker is in charge.

During the month of February, the center was four short of six hundred. A total of 596 service men visited the center during the month. These boys are from all over the country, and there have been two from Trinidad in the West Indies and three were one from British Columbia in Canada. Thirty-five States were represented this month, he was the Deline of Columbia.

Boys registered from Illinois, Tennessee, New York, South Carolina, Mississippi, Georgia, Minnesota, Massachusetts, Kentucky, Alabama, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Michigan, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, Indiana, Oklahoma, Wisconsin, North Carolina, Washington, Connecticut, Maine, Arkansas, Rhode Island, Colorado, Delaware and New Hampshire.

Rev. Armond Calvert, pastor of the Nazarene Church brings food supplies every Monday of each week.

MARRIED WOMEN ELIGIBLE FOR WAVES AND SPARS

The Paducah Navy Recruiting Office has just received information that married women are eligible to enlist in the WAVES and SPARS of the United States Navy and Coast Guard. Single women must agree to remain unmarried through their training period.

Both men in draft age and between ages of 38 and 50 are wanted in the Construction Corp of the United States Naval Reserve. Carpenters, Electricians, Pipefitters and Plumbers, Steel Workers and many other skill trades are now open. For those who qualify good ratings are offered. Call in person or write the Paducah Navy Recruiting Station, 333 Post Office Building, Paducah, Ky., or call Phone No. 932. Ensign R. N. Palmer will be in Louisville, Ky., on March 1943 to interview and assign rates in the Construction Corps.

Willard Payne spent Sunday in Paducah.

Hilda Harwood spent the week end with her parents in Palmersville, Tenn.

WAAC Recruiting In Paducah Saturday

Lt. Ruth Essary and Lt. Ruth Brewer of the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps from the Louisville WAAC Enrollment Station will be in Paducah at the Irving Cobb hotel Saturday, March 20, and Sunday, March 21, for the purpose of interviewing and giving information concerning the WAACs. They will be there from 10 a. m. until 6 p. m. Saturday and on Sunday from 1 p. m. until 6 p. m.

The qualifications for enrollment in the WAACs are that a woman be between the age of 21 and 44, inclusive, strong physically, alert mentally, a citizen and have no children under 14 of financial dependents. There are no formal education requirements.

There are places for women with all types of skills and experience in civilian employment. Pay in the WAAC corresponds to the Army, the Auxiliary receiving the pay of a private, $50 per month. She also receives her clothing, food, quarters, medical and dental services. As a non-commissioned officer she may receive up to $138 per month, clear as a Chief Leader or Master Sergeant. Officers start at $150 per month, base pay, with allowances and clothing issued. As an officer she may receive pay up to $4000 a year in the WAAC.

After approximately three months the women who are trained are sent out in groups of about 150 to some army camp in this country or wherever our armed forces are serving abroad.

There are no restrictions about marriages. WAACs may be married to men in any branch of the service or civilian life, or may get married at any time during their training or service. They continue to get allotments if they are married to men in the service. They are entitled to wear civilian clothes off duty.

SOLDIERS AT FRONT CAN'T WAIT

One of the most perplexing problems confronting the nation's war production plants today is personal absenteeism. This question means of solving it are receiving the attention of high governmental authorities, for the combined absenteeism in all our war plants in any one day represents a staggering total of lost man-hours of work.

Closely associated with absenteeism is the factor of rapidly changing production schedules caused by the shifting fortunes of war. Officials admit that much absenteeism may be attributed directly to employees' belief that if a plant reduces its working schedule from seven or six day a week to four or three days, then it is of minor importance whether a worker takes a day off now and then.

Nothing could be further from the truth, and it would be wise for every company to explain to its employees just what production schedules mean in the light of producing goods for a nation fighting a global war. The fact is that regardless of whether a plant is operating 24 hours a day and seven days a week, or eight hours a day and three days a week, the armament being turned out at that plant must be equivalent to all that possibly could be produced during the time it is operating.

There has come to hand an unusually clear explanation of why such production conditions exist. It was made by E. F. Fisher, general manager of the Fisher Body Division of General Motors, in remarks to employees when the Fisher tank plants won the Army-Navy "E." It would be well if these words could be transmitted to every production worker in the United States.

Says Mr. Fisher: "There have occurred in this and other of our plants what may have appeared to you to be inexcusable interruptions in work. It certainly does not appear on the surface to be efficient operation when we work long hours of overtime and then find it necessary to close down for a day or two while waiting for materials or necessary tool changes. Unless all the facts are known such facts abouts may easily be interpreted as managerial blunders, poor planning, or even governmental inefficiency.

"But we cannot operate, in war, on the 'steady flow' basis to which we are accustomed in peacetime. Frequently engineering changes are required immediately to meet the continually changing conditions on the fighting front. Frequently materials must be quickly transferred to other and, for the time being, more important projects. Sometimes schedules must be changed in the middle of a day's production to meet an emergency requirement.

"That is war. That is what we all are up against. But let us remember that the soldiers at the front cannot wait. When our boys in the foxholes are running low on munitions they can't take a few days off to wait for more. They must fire every gun as long as it will fire.

"That is exactly what we on the production front must do—work to our utmost each day with all the resources at our command. Material shortage may have handicapped us yesterday; tomorrow the government might find it necessary to alter our entire program. Nevertheless, our job today is to be on the job, producing all we can the best way we know how. Regardless of the consequences, we must gear our production to the ever changing requirements of the men at the front—not to the convenience of those of us working safely at home."

This logical explanation might well be given to every American worker.

LAMBS SELL BEST MAY 15-JUNE 10

Kentucky lambs sell best from May 15 to June 10, according to a study which the Agricultural Experiment Station at Lexington made of prices paid on four of the principal auction markets in central Kentucky. However, more lambs are sold in June and July, when prices are steadily going down, than in May, when prices are highest. After May, as a rule, the later the sale the lower the price.

One reason why the average price of lambs goes down after mid-June is the fact that receipts later in the season contain a larger proportion of lower-quality lambs. The average price declines more rapidly than the price of better-quality lambs.

In some seasons lamb prices follow a somewhat different course, and the peak fails to come from May 15 to June 10. Those years, however, are the exception and not the rule. Those farmers who have their lambs ready to sell in late May or early June year after year hit the market right more often than they miss.

Lambs weighing between 76 and 84 pounds bring higher prices than lambs of other weights regardless of time of sale. Eighty-pound lambs sold in May bring the highest price. Average weight of lambs declines, as a rule, as the season progresses. For lambs of any average weight, the value per head de-

EASIER WORK WAYS STUDIED BY WOMEN

In a number of counties of Kentucky where homemakers' clubs are studying the quickest ways of getting work done, "Mrs. Ever-ready" and "Mrs. Never-ready" have had leading parts in the club program under the direction of Miss Ida C. Hagman, home management specialist of the State College of Agriculture and Home Economics.

In comparative demonstrations in potato peeling, salad-making and dish-washing, "Mrs. Ever-ready" proved the importance of collecting supplies before starting to work, sitting while working when possible, having a comfortable rest chair in the kitchen and convenient working surfaces, organized work, sufficient storage spaces, sharp knives, well-cared for equipment and exercise periods.

FARMERS MAKE MONEY GROWING HEMP SEED

John H. Ewing, farm agent, notes that farmers in Green county made some worthwhile hemp seed production records last year. Lee Price, who operates the farm of Milton Vaughn, harvested 58 bushels and 16 pounds from three acres of hemp, netting approximately $464, or an average of $154 an acre. J. W. Pickett harvested 57 bushels of hemp seed from three acres, receiving approximately $455. He plans to plant 10 acres this year.

BETTER THAN CORN

Farmers in Monroe county who grew seed hemp last year received an average of $103 per acre, notes Justis L. Ellis, agricultural agent. The highest yield was on the farm of Henry Richardson, where 110 bushels on three acres were realized. Mr. Richardson said that the creek bottom, overflow land he used for hemp would have produced only 50 to 60 bushels of corn to the acre, and the growing of hemp was little more work.

Be Quick To Treat Bronchitis

Chronic bronchitis may develop if your cough, chest cold, or acute bronchitis is not treated and you cannot afford to take a chance with any medicine less potent than Creomulsion which goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes.

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter toxins and other impurities from the life-giving blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feet constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination.

Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

TEN PER CENT INCREASE ALLOWED ON COTTON ALLOTMENTS

H. M. Pewitt, Chairman of Fulton County A. C. A. announced Tuesday that all 1943 cotton producers are allowed to exceed their 1942 acreage allotment determined for their farm as much as 10 per cent without being penalized in any way. He also stated, by allowing this 10 per cent additional increase to the growers, it would not cause them to lose their Agricultural Conservation payments nor would they forfeit any of their cotton loan privileges.

In clarifying the status of the ACP payments, he stated that each grower if he did not harvest in excess of the 10 per cent additional, his payments would be the same. In other words, he will be paid only on his allotment that he now has assigned to him. However, cotton marketing quotas will be retained, and all excess cotton grown beyond the 10 per cent increase will be subject to the marketing quota tax or disposed of.

Seed Money

There's only one thing more foolish than killing the goose that lays the golden eggs. That's living up the money that has been put away to buy the seed for next year's crops.

Although G-E turbines and lamps and refrigerators don't grow from any seed you can buy at a seed store, yet any manufacturer—no matter what he makes—has a seed problem just the same. For next year's models, and improved designs, and new products—all these cost money. Money for research, and engineering, and new tools, and advertising to tell the public where a product can be obtained, and how much it will cost.

And the only place this money can come from is out of past earnings, or borrowing on the promise of earnings in the future. In other words—from seed money.

From the seed of research and engineering, planted in years past by General Electric, have come some pretty amazing crops. Incandescent lamps five times as efficient as Edison's, vacuum tubes that made radiobroadcasting possible, refrigerators for the home and electric machines for industry to make important jobs easier.

Right now the crops we're growing are all of the "Victory Garden" kind—weapons that are serving with our armed forces on land and sea and in the air.

But we mustn't neglect the seed money for the future. We're looking forward to the continuance of the industrial system that will allow us to open up and cultivate other new and promising fields. So, tomorrow, look for important developments in television, fluorescent lighting, plastics, electronics. These will be familiar words in the post-war world. GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, SCHENECTADY, N. Y.

CONTROL CAN DO WHAT PROHIBITION CAN'T!

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Well, Bob, I hear you're leaving for the Army."

"Yes, Judge, next Tuesday. Hope my job will still be open when I come back—if I do come back."

"You'll come back alright, Bob. But you remind me of that poll made among service men. A big national magazine interviewed 10,000 boys at Y.M.C.A. and U.S.O. and Salvation Army places—asked them what duties the American public had during the War. And answer No. 1 was 'to make sure that all soldiers can get jobs when they come home'."

"That's a good point, Judge. Do you remember any others?"

"Yes, Bob, one of the most important points was that we prevent the draftees from putting prohibition over on the boys while they're away."

"Well, I agree with that, too. I don't drink, but I don't see how you can dictate to people about personal things like that, and still claim you live in a Democracy. To me, that's just plain un-American."

Young Americans set the "grown-ups" an example in patriotism during the recent scrap collection campaign. Now their cooperation and that of every telephone user is needed in a matter equally important to the war effort.

The daily number of local and long distance telephone calls throughout the "war busy" Southeast is mounting in ever-increasing volume, seriously crowding the lines of communication vital to the war effort.

To help keep these lines clear for the essential messages of war, we urgently ask every telephone user to adopt the "Pledge of Cooperation."
