SEIGEL EMPLOYEES REJECT UNION HERE

Election By Secret Ballot Proves
By Democracy That Employees are Tired of Agitation For Union
Here

The voice of the workers has been heard, and they spoke in no uncertain terms that union activities are unwanted here.

In an election held here Friday by secret ballot, Democracy again ruled, and workers of the Henry I. Seigel garment factory in the good old American way told organizers of the Amalgamated Garment Workers union that they are not needed. The workers marched to the polls and voted their disapproval of a union by a vote of 349 to 29.

Two of the organizers protested 13 of the ballots, and they were thrown out by the election officers. Eleven of these ballots were for not organizing, and two favored organization.

No pressure was placed upon the organizers by the workers or by local business men. The election was held under a plan suggested by organizers, who agreed to abide by the result of the balloting. After the votes had been counted, and the result was known, one organizer said he would recommend to his superiors that efforts to organize a union in Fulton cease.

Harold S. Mathenke, and another organizer, have been in and out of Fulton for the past few weeks in an effort to organize a union at the local factory. Organizers have also been busy at Union City and Martin. Last week all efforts failed in Union City, so attention was turned to plans here.

It will be remembered that many months ago, organizers for Amalgamated Garment Workers union were in Fulton and attempted to establish an organization. At that time workers took more vigorous action in protest, and the organizers were given a very definite and forceful indication then that no union activities were desired by employees of the garment factory.

Many employees, adverse to having a union here, did work among the workers against the movement this time, but no trouble developed. Local business men were asked to aid in conducting an election to decide once and for all, whether to have or not to have a union. The result was 12 to 1 against the union.

Spirited talks were made—temporarily flared at times, but dissension never got beyond the bounds of talk. Several highway patrolmen, the sheriff and deputies, and city police were present, but their services were not needed.

The workers have spoken in very certain terms that they are tired of union agitation here. Democracy ruled—and only dictators' lip and subversive activities like that of war-torn Europe can enslave people against their desires. The strength of the workers have won another victory in Fulton.

Boys To Be Trained For Railroad Work

A school to train 16-year-old boys to be trainmen, switchmen and firemen for vacancies caused by the loss of men to the armed services will be opened by the Illinois Central Railroad at Carbondale, Ill., April 3, it is announced by W. A. Johnston, assistant general manager of the railroad.

First of its kind in the history of railroading in the United States, the course will run ten days, with each class limited to a total of 60 students, who will be enrolled equally from the ten operating divisions of the railroad. The faculty is composed of J. M. Chandler and W. E. Ausman of the train rules committee and L. B. Harper, personnel assistant, all of Chicago; Sid A. Law, locomotive engineer, Memphis, Tenn., and G. F. Comstock, conductor, Carbondale.

Upon successful completion of the school course, the youths will be given the customary student training on the railway division with which they enrolled, under the guidance of old-timers. Upon passing their examinations they will be ready for active service. The standard rate of pay will prevail for each boy who qualifies, transportation to and from Carbondale and board and lodging while attending school will be assumed by the railroad.

"These boys are being enlisted in railway service either for the duration or until called into military service," said Mr. Johnston. "While their regular education will be suspended, they will be earning money which can be used later for a more advanced education than otherwise might be possible. It is understood by us and the boys that they are expected to resume their education when Illinois Central men now in military service return to assume their former jobs."

Henry Ward Announces For Lieutenant-Governor

Henry Ward, Paducah newspaperman and State Representative of McCracken county since 1934, today announced as a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Lieutenant-Governor.

Ward was the majority leader in the House in the 1942 sessions and was assistant leader in 1940. He sponsored the TVA enabling act in 1942, and sponsored at a 1937 special session the REA act through which the rural electrification co-operatives in Kentucky have been formed.

Ward expressed himself as opposed to out-right repeal of the state income tax in 1944, but favors modifying it if revenues continue to exceed requirements for essential state services. He said that he will advocate increasing the state equalization fund for schools to the full 10 per cent allowed by the constitution, and pledged his support to the campaign to secure federal aid for education.

Among other planks in his platform are: creation of a state agency to aid in the industrial development of Kentucky and utilization of its resources; elimination of rural roadhouses; and increased efforts by the state to enforce liquor laws in local option territory.

As one of the most active members of the House during his five terms, Ward has been the sponsor of scores of bills now law, including acts for revision of the Kentucky statutes, anti-loan shark legislation, the bill creating a division of markets in the Department of Agriculture; and the machine act.

Ward has been a pioneer in the campaign to reduce tolls on Kentucky bridges and to bring about their freeing. A Paducah newspaperman since 1928, he has been city editor and a daily columnist of The Paducah Sun-Democrat for several years. He is a native of McCracken county, and he and Miss Gladys Lindsey, Paducah, were married in 1934. They have a seven year old daughter, Patricia.

Discussing his campaign platform, Ward said: "The 10 years I have participated in state government have taught me that the state cannot maintain essential expenditures. Therefore, it is my belief that it would be unwise for the legislature to vote out-right repeal of the state income tax in 1944. However, I agree that it is unwise for the state to continue building a surplus, for the legislature is always tempted to spend the surplus. To guarantee that the legislators will be frugal, state income should not exceed the amount absolutely necessary to carry on essential functions. If revenues continue to exceed requirements, I believe consideration should be given to modification of the income tax through liberalization of some of its features and a downward revision in rates."

Rebecca Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis left Sunday morning for Springfield, Ill. She has accepted a position in the Pleasant Plane High School near Springfield, to teach home economics. She just recently received the B. S. degree in Home Economics at Murray, Ky.

He immediately entered the practice of law with his father and one of his brothers. The firm continues under the name of G. A. and J. L. Donaldson. In addition to his banking and legal connections Donaldson also supervises the operation of three large farms in Carroll county.

4-H Honors Service Members With Ambulance Fund

Four-H Club boys and girls in Tennessee and throughout the country, who are honoring former members now in the armed forces through the National 4-H Ambulance Fund, recently presented a stock of small arms and ammunition to the U. S. Navy in a colorful ceremony at the University of Wisconsin, at Madison.

The equipment included 800 each of used rifles, bayonets, bayonet scabbards, 1,212 cartridge belts, 1,164 gun-slugs, and all of the ammunition, both blank and ball, which was purchased with contributions from 4-H Club members, leaders and agents to the 4-H Ambulance Fund, recently presented a national 4-H Club News. The contributions comprised proceeds from the sale of scrap metal and rubber, waste paper, old phonograph records and from box socials, parties, benefit programs, prize money, and in various other ways.

Previous gifts presented by the 4-H Ambulance Fund include an ambulance-station wagon and 450 comfort kits to the American Red Cross and an ambulance to the U. S. Army. Total contributions on March 15 were $4,803.22.

The 4-H Ambulance Fund Drive, which will be continued until July 4, will now be directed primarily to the collection by 4-H Club members of scrap metal which is particularly needed to make more arms and equipment for our armed forces. This is in response to the request from the War Production Board through Chairman Donald M. Nelson for 3,000,000 tons of scrap by July.

Contributions from Tennessee total approximately $70, according to G. L. Herrington, State 4-H leader. These include $30 from the girls' club of Giles County, $30 from Davidson County clubs, $7.65 from girls' clubs of Montgomery County and $2 from the Coleman 4-H Club girls at Raleigh, Tennessee.

EXTRA MEAT NEEDED
IN WAR TIME

In an appeal to farmers to give better care to their stock, the Department of Animal Industry at the Station indicates that the extra meat needed in the war could be supplied by saving animals that die from preventable causes. The statement follows:

To supply the meat and other animal products estimated to be needed for the war and civilian use, it is only necessary to prevent the loss of animals that die from preventable conditions. In Kentucky many animals die annually from infectious diseases for which there are reliable methods of immunization. Two examples are hogs from cholera and cattle from blackleg. If the animals that die from preventable causes were saved no material increase in the number of breeding animals now on farms would be necessary.

Every pig in Kentucky should be vaccinated against cholera one week after weaning, and every calf against blackleg at 4 to 6 months of age.

Sheets, calves, colts, lambs and ewes especially should be wormed after they are weaned. Lambs not sold by June 15 to July 1 should be treated for stomach and nodular worms. All sheep should be treated for worms from one to three times each year. Phenothiazine is the best treatment to use. Provide clean pastures for young animals and their mothers. This means pastures that was not used for that species of animal during the past year, or better two years.

Select healthy and prolific animals for breeders. Make sure that they have normal mammary glands. Feed the sow, cow and ewe well. It will result in better and healthier offsprings and the dam will produce more milk. Milk is the best and cheapest feed for calves, pigs, and lambs.

FIRE AND WAR

During the First World War, President Wilson declared that: "Preventable fire is more than a private misfortune. It is a public dereliction. At a time like this, of emergency and of manifest necessity for the conservation of national resources, it is more than ever a matter of pressing consequence that every means should be taken to prevent this evil."

Those words now ring with new significance. President Wilson knew that every home and factory, every man, woman and child were part of our national resources. The maximum strength of these resources is vital to military victory. In the last quarter century, preventable fire has destroyed billions of dollars worth of property and countless thousands of lives. We ignored President Wilson's warning. We have squandered our national resources. No one will ever know to what extent the war has been lengthened by our waste.

What is gone cannot be reclaimed. The problem now is to curb future fire waste. To do that people must learn that fire prevention is primarily an individual responsibility. Cluttered attics, piles of oily rags, faulty insulation, and inadequate extinguishing equipment are just a few of the causes of fire. Fire ordinances may outlaw fire hazards on paper, but enforcement is impossible without the help of individuals.

Civic leaders, fire marshals and fire prevention experts are striving to awaken citizens to the necessity of halting fires before they start. Their job would be easier if the truth of President Wilson's statement that "fire is more than a private misfortune," could be driven home once and for all.

ELECTRICAL HURRICANE

Electricity plays a tremendous role in our war effort. At Wright Field, Ohio, for instance, a 40,000-horsepower motor whips a 400-mile-an-hour gale through a wind tunnel in which new warplane models are tested. No plane ever is put into production until it has been subjected to every stress and strain it possibly would have to face at the front. In practically all these tests, electricity is an important factor.

Our fighting men are doing their share. Here at home the least we can do is put 10% of our income in War Bonds for our share in America.

CONTROL CAN DO WHAT PROHIBITION CANT!

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"I was just tellin' my brother Fred this morning, Judge...there's never been a time in our lives when we got to live up to that old sayin' 'United we stand, divided we fall' more than we have to today."

"How true that is, Herb. And for the life of me, I can't figure out why, at a time like this, some folks insist on raising a question like prohibition. I can't imagine anything that would tickle our enemies more than to get us folks over here taking sides against each other, arguing about an issue like that. We've got a he-man's job on our hands to win this war and we can't be wasting our minds, our money and our strength fighting about something we tried for nearly 14 years and found couldn't work.

"I say there's a time and a place for everything, and this is no time or place to be doing any fightin' except the kind that's going to win the war."

CITIZENS ALL

These future citizens have been in their battling long before Pearl Harbor, and from the looks of things, their morale is still a long way from cracking. Crippled children can take it. That's why, given half a chance, they grow into such useful members of their communities.

You can give them that chance by joining the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children. The annual Easter Drive is April 19 through Easter Sunday, April 25, and it's more vital than ever this year when America needs the man power of all her children.

The co-operation of Kentucky's club women in the Easter drive of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children has been solicited by Mrs. Richard G. Williams, Somerset, President of the Federation of Women's Clubs.

"Last year your co-operation in the annual fund raising campaign of the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children helped remove 1,545 indigent children from the Commission's waiting list," Mrs. Williams informed club presidents. "The fact of our being at war has not lessened the number of crippled children in Kentucky nor their need for treatment; so the Society has decided that it must carry on its Easter Campaign, a membership enrollment combined with the sale of Easter seals. Undoubtedly you and members of your club will be asked to help, and I hope you will answer the call."

"Not only does the Kentucky Society for Crippled Children provide funds to aid the state's program of clinic service and hospital care for little cripples, but it hopes soon to expand its work. Plans are being made to provide better educational facilities for crippled children and to assist other agencies with occasional guidance and placement of older cripples. These are two projects in which we, as members of an organization concerned with post-war betterment, should be vitally interested. I am glad to endorse the work being carried on for crippled children in our state."

In many counties the drive is sponsored by the local woman's club with one of their members as chairman.

The Easter Drive is scheduled for April 10 through April 25. The goal is $40,000.

SPUN-GLASS CLOTH DOES IT

Until very recently, when a battleship fired a broadside with all its heavy guns, the terrific concussion frequently shattered the brittle materials used in radio panels and other instrument banks. Now a layer of spun-glass cloth is encased between layers of a special fireproof plastic, and the panels are almost shatter-proof.

Alfalfa is too costly to risk over grazing. The best way to avoid this is to have plenty of it, both to guard against overgrazing and also to supply plenty of hay in spite of grazing.

It may be caused by disorder of kidney function that permits poisonous waste to accumulate. For truly many people feel tired, weak and miserable when the kidneys fail to remove excess acids and other waste matter from the blood.

You may suffer nagging backache, rheumatic twinges, headaches, dizziness, growing up night, hot pains, swelling. Sometimes frequent and scanty urination with smarting and burning is another sign that something is wrong with the kidneys or bladder.

There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. It is better to rely on a medicine that has won countrywide approval than on something less favorably known. Doan's have been tried and tested many years. Are at all drug stores. Get Doan's today.

From Retonga, He Says

Lost Forty Pounds, Felt Weakened Almost To Point of Exhaustion, States Mr. Faulkner. Eats Plenty Now, Gains Fifteen Pounds, Thanks Retonga

Among the latest to come forward with his strong endorsement of Retonga is Mr. John L. Faulkner, well known farm owner, stock raiser and merchant of Route 2, Mt. Sterling, Ky. Mr. Faulkner declares:

MR. JOHN FAULKNER

"I don't believe anyone in Kentucky has suffered more than I have with the distress of indigestion. It looked as if I would never be able to eat solid food again. What food I forced filled my stomach with gas that felt like it would cut off my breath. Constipation forced me to take strong laxatives, and I ached from head to foot. Jumpy nerves kept me awake nights and I often felt so smothered I had to sit up nights to get my breath. I spent money and spent money, but felt I was doomed to continue suffering.

"I will always be thankful for Retonga. From the very first bottle I could feel I had found the right medicine at last. My appetite is good, I eat anything and don't fear the gassy bloating and pain. All my distress is relieved. I don't have to take strong laxatives, and have regained fifteen pounds, feel strong and go about my work with my old time energy."

Retonga is a purely herbal gastric tonic combined with Vitamin B-1 and is intended to relieve such symptoms as suffered by Mr. Faulkner when due to loss of appetite, insufficient flow of gastric juices in the stomach, constipation, and Vitamin B-1 deficiency. Retonga may be obtained at DeMyer Drug Store.
