Religious Again Proves Worth By Bringing Prompt Relief To Mrs. Collins. Daughter Praises Reliance.

Generally and previously proven the living faith and religious principles of Mrs. J. S. Collins, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Berry, william county, have proved again their worth in times of need. Mrs. Collins, who was left a widow nearly three years ago, is in a hospital at Fort Wayne, Indiana, undergoing surgical treatment for a cancerous tumor.

NEVER GAVE UP

When asked why she continued to trust and rely on the living faith for relief, Mrs. Collins said that without the religious instruction of the Bible and the prayers of a loving and faithful God, she would have been unable to bear up under the trials and tribulations of the recent months. She added that she knew that God would provide for her needs and that He would sustain her in her hour of need.

COUNSELOR

The Collins family, who are long-time members of the Methodist Church, have always maintained that the living faith is the best insurance against the storms of life. They have always felt that the living faith is the only true insurance against the difficulties of life, and that it is the only source of comfort in times of sorrow.

SCANT BUT SUFFICIENT

Although Mrs. Collins has been unable to work, she has been able to maintain herself and her children by the aid of the living faith. She has been able to support her family by the aid of the living faith, and has been able to maintain herself and her children by the aid of the living faith.

BELIEVED IN GOD

The Collins family have always believed in God and in the living faith, and have always relied on the living faith as their only source of comfort in times of sorrow. They have always been able to maintain themselves and their children by the aid of the living faith, and have always been able to support themselves and their children by the aid of the living faith.

Washington, D.C. — A delegation of American women and mothers, who are suffering from the war, presented a petition to the government last week, in which they urged that the government do more to protect the lives of American children. The group, which met with the approval of the government, asked that the government do more to protect the lives of American children.
