Rev. Martin Speaks To Lion's Club

Rev. Kelsie Martin, pastor of the First Christian Church, was the speaker at the regular meeting of the Lions club at the Rainbow room Friday afternoon. The speaker, who was introduced by Frank Beades, gave an interesting talk on "View Points." He brought out the necessity of building up and strengthening the community by having the view point of unselfishness, loyalty and cooperation.

The club started a "horae-sense" quiz, with each member's name placed has to answer four out of five questions. Aaron Butts answered all the questions to be the first winner.

The "Cigarettes for Soldiers" campaign has ended with Fulton people giving enough pennies, nickles and dimes to furnish 1580 packages of cigarettes to soldiers on overseas duty.

W. G. BRADY MADE HONOR RECORD

A formal review was conducted at this Third Air Force base this week for the purpose of awarding Good Conduct Medals to enlisted personnel of the command. The medal, which is awarded on the basis of one year of excellent service and is given only to the enlisted personnel of the United States Army, was presented to the following men from Kentucky:

Master Sergeant Ralph B. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Brown, Bronston Technical Sergeant Roger M. Taylor, Cromwell.

Staff Sergeant W. G. Brady, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Brady, 302 Cedar street, Fulton.

Staff Sergeant Homer L. Hensley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruns Hensley, 209 Montgomery avenue, Ashland.

Staff Sergeant William M. Reisz, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Reisz, route 5, Owensboro.

FULTON MAN CHARGED WITH VIOLATION

George W. Dodd, of the Pipe Line Gas Co., Fulton, Kentucky, has been charged by the Louisville OPA with having violated provisions of ration regulations, and has been cited for hearing before OPA Hearing Commissioner Dennis F. Dunlay, in the Circuit Court Room in the City Building, Fulton, July 16, at 9:30 A.M.

The alleged violations include the selling and transferring of gasoline in the fuel tanks of consumers' motor vehicles without receiving in exchange consumers' coupons bearing license number and state and registration of the vehicle on the reverse side. He is also charged with the transfer of gasoline without requiring the presentation of coupon books of consumers and without detaching coupons from the consumers' books but permitted this to be done by the consumers themselves.

A further charge was made for failure to have sufficient gasoline coupons, rationing credits and other evidences equivalent to 22,293 gallons or more of gasoline, which, when added to the number of gallons of gasoline on hand, would be equivalent in gallonage to the gasoline storage capacity of 39,620 gallons after due allowance made for evaporation, handling, accidents or other extraordinary circumstances.

CONTAINER SHORTAGE THREATENS NATION'S FOOD, EXPERT WARNS

Tons of vitally needed food will go to waste in the fields unless the shortage and distribution of wooden containers is stepped up appreciably to offset the current shortage, a spokesman for the nation's leading buyer of fresh fruits and vegetables said today.

"From the south as well as other sections of the country come reports of produce losses suffered when wooden crates were not available at the time crops were ready to be harvested," said Harvey A. Baum, head of A&P Food Stores' produce-buying operations. "The shortage is due largely to the diversion of millions of containers to overseas shipment of army food and equipment. The cases and crates that go to war never come back, and are almost impossible to replace on account of a lack of wood and labor and a shortage of labor."

The emergency which threatens essential wartime food can be relieved, Baum said, by cooperation of growers, distributors and retailers in reclaiming used containers. The A&P alone with many other distributors is already cooperating by salvaging large quantities of containers from stores and returning them to producers for re-use, he added.

In connection with the lumber shortage phase of the problem, Baum explained that many types of wood, such as cypress, ash, pine and others formerly used by box manufacturers are now going into the production of smokeless powder, rayon for gunpowder sacks and parachutes, containers for shipping ammunition, paint and planning papers and many other wartime essentials. There has also been a shift of labor from box-making to war plants.

Mr. and Mrs. Ruphas Wainscott of Chicago, Ill., have returned home after visiting her sisters Mrs. Shelby Waggoner of Crutchfield and Mrs. John Dawes of Fulton.

Charles Dawes Thomas of Parkin, Ark., has been visiting his uncles, Jim, John and Eph Dawes.

Miss Eileen Radical has returned to her home in Jackson, Tenn., after spending the past week with her aunt, Mrs. J. B. Manley.

Local Teachers To Get Salary Increase

The teachers of the Fulton City school system will receive a six dollar per month raise in their salary for the coming year, it was decided by the Fulton Board of Education at the regular meeting Monday night.

It was also decided to place a rental fee of the new Carr Institute auditorium and the price agreed upon will be $30 per night, during the summer and $35 per night during the winter. Mr. Lewis was instructed to get bids on paint and labor for painting the outside of the high school, Science Hall, Terry Norman and Milton school. Also the floors of the buildings are to be refinished.

C. C. Coward of Mayfield was named to audit the books for the year. Permission was granted the colored people to use the Milton school for their Daily Vacation Bible school.

The resignation of Miss Fannie Lee Nix, Carr Institute first grade teacher, was accepted, but her successor has not been elected.

Miss Ann Valentine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Valentine formerly of Fulton, now living in Paducah was elected mathematics teacher in Carr Institute to fill the place occupied by Mrs. Lois Hawes, who did not apply for re-election. Miss Valentine, a graduate of Christian college and the University of Kentucky, Lexington, has been employed in the Lone Oak school for the past two years.

WOMAN'S LAND ARMY

Miss Myrtle Weldon, State Leader of Home Agents, was in Fulton County Saturday, July 19 to discuss with the home agent the new ruling in regards to the Woman's Land Army. In May the Legislature made provision for a Woman's Land Army and ruled that only city women are eligible. Since that time the ruling has been changed whereby farm women are eligible for the WLA which is a part of the U. S. Crop Corp.

Farm women desiring membership in the WLA should register at the County Home Agents office in the basement of the Post Office in Hickman. Physical examination and training are not necessary for farm women. The main requirement for membership is one month's agricultural work which may be done continuously, 1-4 months for four months, 1-6 months for six months, etc. It is expected that most of the work done by farm women in Fulton County will be gardening, tending to chickens, making butter, picking cotton, and gathering fruit. However, other work such as operating farm machinery, may be done by some women if the need arises.

Members are eligible to wear the regulation uniform which consists of one pair dark blue denim overalls, light blue blouse, cap and dark blue jacket. The material is lighter in weight than that used in Men's work clothes and insignia is attached to the hat and overalls.

A group of homemakers met on Friday, July 9 with Miss Ida C. Hagman, Home Management Specialist, to complete the plans for the Fulton County Homemakers' major project which is based on the war-time situation. The subject of the major project will be "Conservation of Time, and Equipment, Let Suds do the as follows: Conservation of Energy, Keeping Tools Fit, Care of Utensils and Equipment, Let Suds do the Work, Housecleaning Aids and Taking the Blue out of Monday. In addition to these six lessons the homemakers plan for their September and October lessons to be on Victory lunches and the storage of fruits and vegetables.

SUBSIDIZING MISTAKES OF GOVERNMENT

Steps taken by government to reduce food prices threaten the life of the retail food distribution industry. These agencies hesitate to tackle the inflation problem at its roots where it would affect one and all alike. Failure to establish an adequate tax and war financing program, temporizing with pressure groups, appeasement of labor racketeers, political aspirations that take precedence over the welfare of the nation—all of these things contribute to the rising cost of living. And it is the merchant who must pass the accumulated costs on to the ultimate consumer, as those costs are beyond his control.

Irrationally, the politicians, as they witness their mistakes advertised on the price tags of necessities, are seeking to force food distributors to cov-

Laughing Around the World With IRVIN S. COBB

The Confusing Geography of Jersey

By IRVIN S. COBB

YEARS ago, when I earned my daily bread and occasional beer on Park Row, one Andy Horn ran a cozy bar in the shadow of Brooklyn Bridge. A grubby person known as Smitty was a fixture at Andy's. He cut up food for the free lunch counter, did odd jobs and in rush hours helped to serve the trade. He had been born on Cherry Hill, right around the corner; he had never ranged further than Coney Island or Far Rockaway. Greater New York City was all the world he knew or cared to know. His sister married a German market gardener over in New Jersey, and when his summertime vacation came Smitty went to visit her for two weeks. His new brother-in-law had bought a car and had promised to tour Smitty about over the state and show him the sights. At the end of a week Smitty was back at work. One of the regular patrons hailed him: "Hey, Smitty, I thought you were going to stay longer. Didn't you care for country life?" "Nix on dat stuff for me," said Smitty. "I'm offen it fur life. Say, dat Joisey sootly is one funny place. Why all dem towns over there is got different names!" (American News Features, Inc.)

That Nagging Backache

May Warn of Disordered Kidney Action

Modern life with its hurry and worry, irregular habits, improper eating and drinking—its risk of exposure and infection—throws heavy strain on the work of the kidneys. They are apt to become over-taxed and fail to filter excess acid and other impurities from the life-giving blood. You may suffer nagging backache, headache, dizziness, getting up nights, leg pains, swelling—feel constantly tired, nervous, all worn out. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder are sometimes burning, scanty or too frequent urination. Try Doan's Pills. Doan's help the kidneys to pass off harmful excess body waste. They have had more than half a century of public approval. Are recommended by grateful users everywhere. Ask your neighbor!

er up for them by establishing prices wholly out of line with costs.

The mistakes of food administration in the war emergency cannot be kept from the public by a "cover-up" policy which attempts to make retailers the goat. Retail distributors have done a magnificent job of carrying out price and rationing controls, just as they have in maintaining an efficient distribution system in the face of overwhelming handicaps. But they cannot and should not be expected to subsidize the mistakes of government.

Attempting to "roll back" or "freeze" retail prices before the cost of production is controlled is like trying to hold back the tide by an edict that it shall not rise.

"THE WOUNDED DON'T HATE"

By RUTH TAYLOR

A newspaper man brought that line back from the battlefields. It was "craws" in his eyes for it had come as a surprise to him that those who had been hurt most, hated least—that those men, wounded unto death, had risen above hatred of those who had struck them down.

He went further. And he found that where the hand of war had been most heavily felt, there was less bitterness, less desire for revenge than where war had not touched.

He could have learned it from the refugees. Those who lost most, talked least and hated least. Those who got out safely with some possessions and found only their accustomed way of life disrupted were the most angry. So it always is. Those who suffer, learn from suffering. They see what the act of cruelty does to the cruel. They know the warping of spirit in justice vents upon the unjust. They sense the erosion of soul intolerance sets festering in the intolerant. They have learned that hatred is a home-rang and that he who hates lives only as the hated.

"The wounded don't hate." They who have brushed wings with death have learned the truth; that life can only be saved by willingness to live and die in a good cause; that no man liveth unto himself, or for himself; that giving does not impoverish; that humility and mercy are more important; than ambition and pride; and that righteous indignation can be devoid of personal hatred.

"The wounded don't hate." This does not mean a withdrawal from the battle but a resistance to any weakening of the spirit through those dagger thrusts of prejudice and resentment which disable the hardest soul.

"The wounded don't hate." Not only on the battlefields must this be true, but here in the midst of the tragedies in the battle lines at home. Can we who are safe at home have less self-control than our boys overseas? Can we hate our neighbors, at home or abroad? We can and must despise and condemn the evil deed. We can and must determine to wipe out the cruelty and oppression for all times—but we must not becloud the issue with the ed mist of personal hatreds. "The wounded don't hate." And we must so.

THE COMMON CAUSE

The Indispensable Something

Much is required to win the war, and, after all, that peace. But here is one thing we can't do without—absolute enthusiastic belief in the soundness and strength of American democracy.

The Nazis proclaim their falsehood to the world—"the Aryan alone... founded a superior type of humanity"—a falsehood rejected by religion, morality, and science.

We must proclaim our truth. Like a bright flame in a dark night, democrats must lift their own clean and shining creed: We believe in men, essentially the same wherever he is to be found, made in the image of God, endowed with reason, fashioned nobly, created free and destined to be free; of many races, but one humanity. Where he is civilized, he can advance; where he is backward, he can be educated; where he is weak, he must be protected; where he is strong, he must learn responsibility.

This is our truth, America's truth, every man's truth. Let us proclaim it—let us shout it—in the new world that is struggling to be born. Let Americans who, from the birth of democracy, have been the custodians of this truth, join now with the whole mankind for its recognition in the world that is to be.

Who else can champion the cause of man as well as we; who, with better reason than Americans, renounce the creed of Nazi exclusiveness and racial supremacy?

For who are we? Look at us. Look at America—not Aryan America, or Italian America, or Slavic America, a nation of nations, a people of peoples, humanity in miniature.

This is democratic America which proved, and is proving again today, that strength, intelligence, and civilization are things common to mankind, to any particular race of man whatsoever.

We shall go on that way—purifying what is corrupt here, correcting what is in error, reforming what is amiss, establishing what is right—and extending to all the people of the earth our strength and our faith for the creation of that better world toward which we have shown the way.

"And this be our motto"

"PRAISE the power that hath made and preserved us a nation! Then conquer we must, for our cause it is just, And this be our motto: 'In God is our trust!'"

Through the ages singing has been instrumental in arousing courage and uplifting faith. Today amidst world turbulence people are being urged to sing more. Individually and collectively, therefore, they are participating fervently and frequently in the singing of their national anthems.

The deep spiritual significance of the above inspiring declaration in the last verse of the national anthem of the United States of America is worthy of thoughtful meditation at this time, and serves to remind us of the wisdom of those words (Proverbs 3:5), "Trust in the Lord with all thine heart; and lean not unto thine own understanding." All through both the Old and the New Testament are accounts of victories and rejoicings by faithful ones who put their trust in God when in need of a sustaining power greater than their own limited human abilities. Their faith that righteousness must prevail, and that their strength was of God, was their assurance of ultimate victory.

Christ Jesus taught his disciples and followers the importance of recognizing and acclaiming God as Father of all. His earthly ministry was entirely devoted to urging men to renew faith in God, to trust Him, and to seek an understanding of Him, and he proved through his healing work that this understanding was vitally necessary to their joy and happiness.

The following elucidating definition of God is given on page 587 of the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science: "The great I AM; the all-knowing, all-seeing, all-acting, all-wise, all-loving, and eternal; Principle; Mind; Soul; Spirit; Life; Truth; Love; all substance; intelligence."

God is Spirit. He is the only cause and creator, and man, created in His image and likeness, therefore is spiritual. Man is not material, mortal; he reflects Spirit and is immortal.

Knowing God as Principle enables us to discern that the real man in God's image is righteous in all his actions. Man, the perfect idea of God, divine Love, is loving and lovable, incapable of either hate or fear. Because God is good and has created everything good, man, His reflection, is the manifestation of good. The understanding of the allness of good eliminates any opposite belief, and demonstrates the nothingness and unreality of evil and its claims to power.

As we intelligently place more trust in God's ever-presence, His omnipotent power, and His plan and purpose for His creation, our happiness and success are ensured. We soon find ourselves expressing more harmony in our daily affairs; confusion gives way to calm and poise; intolerance is replaced by tolerance; and we awaken to a greater sense of love and unselfishness. We gain an understanding of real security and substance, proving that "they that trust in the Lord shall be as mount Zion, which cannot be removed, but abideth for ever."

As we strive to consecrate our thinking to good, to glorify God in all our activities, and trust His unerring guidance, we shall be able to prove true the words of Mrs. Eddy (Science and Health, p. 444): "Step by step will those who trust Him find that 'God is our refuge and strength, a very present help in trouble.'"

War Takes 96¢ Of Each Dollar

Out of every $18.75 that is invested in a War Bond, $18 goes into guns, planes, tanks, ships and other military equipment. The 75 cents goes for ordinary governmental expenditures. Out of every dollar 96 cents goes toward the war effort and 4 cents goes for Government "business as usual."

The same ratio applies to all other securities the Government has offered investors in the Second War Loan campaign for 13 billion dollars.

Are you fighting mad about this? Does it mean anything to you personally? Then dig down and buy more and more War Bonds.

FULTON BOY WEDS IN MIAMI, FLA.

Of wide interest here is the announcement of the wedding of Miss Jeanette Brown, daughter of Mrs. Alie Brown of Union City, Tenn., and M. H. Stubblefield, U. S. N. R., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stubblefield, south of Fulton. The wedding was performed at the White Temple Methodist church in Miami, Fla., Wednesday, June 30, 1943, by the Rev. Glenn C. James.

The only attendants were Miss Jean James and W. L. Spicer of the U. S. Navy.

The bride wore a pretty two-piece white jersey dress with white accessories. Miss James wore a model of blue crepe.

Mrs. Stubblefield attended school at Mt. Pelia, Tenn., and is employed at present at the Salant & Salant Company in Union City.

Mr. Stubblefield, a graduate of South Fulton High school class of 1933, enlisted in the Navy October 2, 1941. He is a fireman, 3c. He served aboard the Aircraft Carrier Ranger for a while, later being sent to a Diesel Engine school at Miami, Fla. He has now been transferred to Norfolk, Va.

Mrs. Stubblefield has returned to Union City to make her home for the duration.

IT'S TIME YOU KNEW ---- by LAWRENCE

LARGE CALIBER ANTI-AIRCRAFT GUNS DO NOT SHOOT DIRECTLY AT LOW FLYING TORPEDO PLANES. THEY SHOOT INTO THE WATER, CREATING HIGH COLUMNS OF WATER. WHY IS THIS DONE?

ALTIMETERS PRODUCED BY THE BULOVA WATCH COMPANY ARE VITAL INSTRUMENTS IN AIRPLANES. WHAT IS AN ALTIMETER?

NINE FORMER GENERALS OF THE U. S. ARMIES HAVE BECOME PRESIDENTS OF OUR COUNTRY! CAN YOU NAME 5 OF THEM?

THE EYE OF A FLY HAS OVER 4,000 FACETS! DOES THIS UNUSUAL CONSTRUCTION PROTECT THE FLY IN ANY WAY?

Answers to "IT'S TIME YOU KNEW" by Lawrence

Large caliber anti-aircraft guns shoot into the water at low flying torpedo planes since it is difficult to hit the fast moving planes at close range. The columns of water act as a barrier.

The former Generals of the United States Armies who became presidents of our country were:

George Washington Zachary Taylor Rutherford Hayes
Andrew Jackson Franklin Pierce James Garfield
William Harrison Andrew Johnson Benjamin Harrison

The altimeters manufactured by the Bulova Watch Company are precision instruments which indicate the altitude at which a plane is flying.

The four thousand facets of a fly's eye allows the fly to see an approaching enemy in almost every direction without moving.

and a delicious supper was served buffet style. The guests were seated at the dining table, which was covered with a lace cloth and held a bowl of garden flowers for the centerpiece. Covers for seven were laid. The honoree received a gift from the hostess.

Those present included: the honoree, Mrs. Al Gentleman, Miss Ann Godfrey, Miss Kathryn Taylor, Miss Helen King, Miss Martha Moore and the hostess.

MRS. HUGH FIGUE ENTERTAINS BRIDGE CLUB

Members of the Saturday night club and two visitors, Mrs. J. H. Maddox and Mrs. Wilmon Boyd, enjoyed a delightful picnic supper on the back lawn of the home of Mrs. Hugh Figue, Saturday night. The picnic was a pot-luck affair and a tasty supper was enjoyed.

After the supper, the guests enjoyed games of contract, and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Boyd, high for the guests, and Mrs. A. G. Baldridge.

Club members present included: Meslimes A. G. Baldridge, Elizabeth Snow, M. W. Hays, W. R. Wardlow, Paul Hornbeck, Nora Alexander, J. C. Seruggs, Gay Gingles, B. B. Henderson, M. C. Payne and Hugh Figue.

Retonga A Blessing States Mrs. Burgess

Years of Distress Relieved, She Can Eat Plenty and Take Pleasure in Her Housework Again, She States. Gives Retonga Strong Endorsement.

Declaring that Retonga proved a blessing to her, Mrs. M. S. Burgess,

MRS. M. S. BURGESS

well known resident of 119 Hardin

St. Raleigh, adds her name to the hundreds throughout this section giving this noted hyper-stomachic and Vitamin B-1 medicine their strong endorsement.

"I had suffered so much from nervous indigestion that I did not see how I could stand it much longer," declares Mrs. Burgess. "My food just seemed to form a lump in my stomach and generate gas until I felt like the pressure was going to cut off my breath. I felt badly undernourished, weak, and rundown. I was too nervous to sleep much, and mornings I could scarcely drag myself into my clothes. I was forced to take strong laxatives, and everything I tried to do seemed a burden."

"Retonga relieved me in so many pleasant ways I cannot find words to express my thanks. My appetite is much better, my food seems to give me lots of strength, and my nerves have settled down. I sleep splendidly, and the sluggish elimination is relieved which is in itself a blessing. Retonga is the grandest medicine I ever saw."

Thousands praise Retonga. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at DeMyer Drug Store.

HERE'S THE WAY IT IS WITH RAILROAD TRAVEL THESE DAYS:

MORE Americans will travel more miles by railroad this year than ever before in our history.

Those who must travel are going about your business. They include men and women in uniform, traveling in organized groups, to the number of two million a month. They include other uniformed millions traveling as individuals on regularly scheduled trains. And uncounted civilians whose travel is related to the war effort.

On the Illinois Central alone, passenger traffic is two and a half times what it was two years ago—five and a half times what it was ten years ago.

There are only 6800 sleeping cars in the United States. More than half of them are assigned to military service. There are only 17,500 coaches. A third of these are no longer available for civilian use. And there will be no more until after the war.

That is why—to our mutual regret—those who must travel find some stations overtaxed, some trains overcrowded, and accommodations sometimes hard to get.

JOSEPH B. EASTMAN
PRESIDENT

ILLINOIS CENTRAL SYSTEM

"It's just as important to save travel facilities as it is to save food... and other things needed for the war."—Joseph B. Eastman, Director, Office of Defense Transportation.
