BOMBER CRASH FATAL TO LT. STANLEY MILLS

Lt. Stanley Mills, 25-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mills of this city, met his death at 1:05 Monday night when the transport plane of which he was pilot, crashed at some point in Nebraska, while returning from a cross-country flight which had taken him to Cleveland and return. While few details have been released by the War Department, it is believed the crash occurred somewhere near Alliance, Neb., which had been the base for Lt. Mills for some time. The family was not informed as to whether a full crew was involved, but presumably on a flight of this nature this would be the case. The family received the message early last night.

Funeral plans are not complete, but it is stated that the body will be cremated and will arrive here some time Friday. Burial will take place here.

The dead airman is survived by his widow, Mrs. Jean Stanton Mills, to whom he was married on August 23, last year. She arrived here Monday night from Alliance, Neb. Also surviving are his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Mills of this city, and two sisters, Mrs. Marion Stubbfield of Union City and Mrs. C. C. Connors of Chicago.

South Fulton Graduate

Lt. Mills graduated from the South Fulton High School here in the class of 1938 and later attended business college in Paducah. On January 21, 1942, little more than a month after Pearl Harbor, he volunteered for service in the United States Army Air Corps and began his training in San Antonio. Later he was sent to Randolph and Kelly Field, receiving his wings at the latter field. He served for a time at Goodfellow Field and Garner Field, Texas and then was sent to the Officers' Candidate School at Warrenton, Mo., and then served in Florida and Fort Wayne, Ind. For special training he was sent to Yale University and later, as he was made first lieutenant. He was flight leader of his squadron and was on paratroop transport duty.

Here Three Weeks Ago
Lt. Mills visited his parents about three weeks ago, flying his plane to the base at Halls, Tenn., with his parents meeting him there and bringing him to Fulton.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the sorrowing family.

LATER DONALDSON STRESSES SECURITY, DEMOCRATIC WAYS

Lyter Donaldson, Democratic candidate for governor of Kentucky, emphasizes the importance of preserving states rights, economic security and Democratic way of life. In a message to the people, he said that the state government must prepare for the day when 150,000 or more Kentuckians in uniform return to their homes expecting jobs, when thousands of other Kentuckians now in war factories seek peacetime employment again. "That period," he said, "when internal want and fear of unemployment could constitute a potential danger to the security and preservation of our democratic institutions on domestic soil," will be a critical time for our state.

Mr. Donaldson, who has been the able administrator of the highway department, has wide experience of government and the grasp of its problems. In his opening speech seeking election as Governor he pointed to development of a broad program of state rural roads as the first consideration under post-war plans. "Rural roads will be the first consideration under the plan. I shall urge increased appropriations for rural highways from $2,000,000 to $3,000,000 a year.

Mr. Donaldson is hardworking, unpretentious, and has demonstrated a very considerable capacity in private affairs and in public life. He has vision, is a capable administrator of governmental affairs, and should steer this state's ship safely during these turbulent times.

Mr. Hall, who succeeds Mr. Bushart, has long been identified with the Country Club and will without doubt be a good choice for the presidency. For several years he has taken an active interest in the development of the Country Club and his many friends feel that he will do a fine job in his new post. Mr. Bushart also did good work there and is a matter of regret that he was unable to continue.

Efforts are now being made to secure new members for the club. The course is in better shape than it has ever been, and the best golf-playing months of the season are still ahead. The green are now in tiptop condition and in general golf is a real pleasure on the course. Many strangers who have played the course in recent weeks compliment the layout quite highly.

ALABAMA GOVERNOR SPEAKS FOR SOUTH

While addressing a recent American Legion convention Governor Chancery Sparks of Alabama, declared the South is growing tired of the title "negro haters" and being charged with unfairness and dishonesty and suggested that "when we consider how unfairly the South has been treated, we must have a suspicion that other sections also have a low standard of honesty."

"Much of the confusion now prevailing in our national effort," he said, could have been relieved "had Washington been a little more anxious to acquire efficiency than political appointments."

The governor said that if the federal government would allot the South "what is our share and not tie to it unacceptable requirements, it would render a better service. I am unwilling for the South or my state to surrender its independence for a mess of pottage."

BUSHART RESIGNS AS PRESIDENT OF COUNTRY CLUB

Due to pressure of business and without time to devote to the work, Mary Lee (Buck) Bushart has resigned as president of the Fulton Country Club and at a meeting held Tuesday night Joe Hall, well known business man, was named to succeed him. Ward McClellan is vice president and Bud Davis is secretary and treasurer.

Mr. Bushart, who served as president last year and was reelected for the year, stated that his business did not allow him sufficient time to devote to the Country Club and asked to be relieved of his duties.

Mr. Hall, who succeeds Mr. Bushart, has long been identified with the Country Club and will without doubt be a good choice for the presidency. For several years he has taken an active interest in the development of the Country Club and his many friends feel that he will do a fine job in his new post. ## WITHHOLDING TAX BECOMES EFFECTIVE ON JULY 1, 1943

The new Pay-as-you-go Tax Law requires you to pay some income tax each pay day, as you earn it, rather than wait until next March when maybe you won't have the money. The new Law does not increase the present tax rate at all.

Your company is required by this Law to "withhold" or deduct an amount from each of your pay checks. The amount deducted depends on how much you earn and whether you are married or single, and how many dependents you have. You should fill in Form W-4, the "Withholding Exemption Certificate" which has already been given to all employees, and signed by them so the employers will know how much to deduct. If your status should change at any time you should file a new Certificate immediately.

The Payroll Department has very complete tables showing how much to deduct in each case. These are too complicated to publish here, but the following simple chart will give you an idea how much smaller the pay checks you receive beginning July 16th, will be:—

WEEKLY BASIS
TOTAL TAX WITHHELD
1	2	3	4	5	6	7
TOTAL EARNINGS	Single, or Married claiming Half of Exemption (No Dependents)	One Child	Two Children	Three Children	Four or more Children	Four or more Children
$18	$1.20	$0.18	$0.18	$0.18	$0.18	$0.18
20	1.60	.24	.24	.24	.24	.24
22	2.00	.30	.30	.30	.30	.30
24	2.40	.36	.36	.36	.36	.36
26	2.80	.42	.42	.42	.42	.42
28	3.20	.48	.48	.48	.48	.48
30	3.60	.54	.54	.54	.54	.54
35	4.60	.69	.69	.69	.69	.69
40	5.60	.84	.84	.84	.84	.84
45	6.60	.99	.99	.99	.99	.99
50	7.60	1.14	1.14	1.14	1.14	1.14

If head of a family (not married) with 1 dependent, use Column 3; if 2 dependents use Column 4, etc.

If you are paid every two weeks you should use half your total earnings for Column 1, and then double the amount shown in the other Columns, according to your family status.

If you are paid twice monthly you should divide your total earnings by 2.16 for Column 1, and then multiply the amount shown in the other Columns by 2.16 (this gives approximate deduction).

MUST HAVE UNITY FOR VICTORY

We must have equality of sacrifice and effort from all Americans to hasten the day of final victory.

In prosecution of the war against the Axis nations, personal profit, in money or comfort or fame, must be forgotten.

"We must have unity. We must unite and we must remain united in the fierceness of our determination, to carry on to Victory, no matter what the cost," General Somervell, Commanding General of the Army Service Forces, has warned the nation. "We must unite and we must remain united in our willingness to sacrifice everything except our honor, in order that our honor may survive."

Each of us have his own small job to do. That job must be meshed into the stupendous job of saving the world from chaos and the people of the world from slavery.

And only the united effort of every man and every woman, no matter where employed, can give us that victory. We must face this fact squarely—we must never forget it.

PART-TIME PATRIOTS DON'T WIN WARS

Part-time patriots don't win all-out wars because winning a war takes everything everybody's got.

The full-time patriot is the man who is willing to do all he can, all the time, to help to win our battles.

This man does his work all day, every day; but he does more than this. He keeps himself fit to be on the job. An accident, he knows, will not only cripple him, but may also put his machine out of production. His part in the war will be reduced to zero.

He's careful on the job. That's part of his job. In addition, he's careful off-the-job. He knows that many industries report five to ten times as many accidents to working men and women off-the-job as on-the-job. Enough time was lost from off-the-job accidents last year to build 12,500 heavy bombers, bombers that might today have been blasting the enemy.

The part-time patriot, on the other hand, leaves safety behind when the whistle blows. He forgets that in wartime his job needs him every day.

YOU'LL NEVER MISS THEM UNTIL THEY'RE GONE

Men, you cannot buy one good eye with all the money in the world. You should care enough for your eyesight to wear goggles when necessary. Not just any old goggles, but the ones best suited to your work.

You never can tell when your goggles will save your sight, when that sturdy lens will stop a flying particle that might otherwise rob you of nature's most precious gift. If but once in a lifetime you were exposed to the loss of an eye, that time would be of vital importance and then the best is not too good.

Remember that a blind man wants nothing but his eyes. You'll never miss them until they are gone.

Safety practices will save man-hours and often serious handicaps that will go through life with you.

THE FORUM

By J. PAUL BUSHART

A column conducted for news, views and comments, in which readers of The News are invited to participate. Mail contributions care of THE FORUM, this newspaper.

Personally, I am a "states rights" Democrat and a devout believer in local self-government. I am critical of New Deal efforts to ignore many Southern customs and traditions, especially those dealing with the racial problem and the rights of states to handle their own internal affairs.

We need real representative Democratic government, and we bitterly oppose socialism, communism or totalitarianism.

The greatest service we can render those who are fighting for us is to preserve the ideals and institutions of America while they are away, so that they may not find on their return home that they fought in vain for liberty and democracy.

We are opposed to those who would destroy the ideals and institutions of America. Those who would destroy individual enterprise and regiment and socialize the people under appointive bureaus, agents and inspectors.

True to their communistic doctrines, the same people are trying to force upon us here in the South absolute political and social controls. They know they are breeding strife and dissension when the nation is fighting for its life, and we should have unity and accord.

The situation must be met with calmness and courage, but also with firmness. If we yield one inch or compromise, our ideals and our liberty are doomed.

After this war we will be in the throes of reconstruction. Problems of recovery and rehabilitation have always been no less vital and difficult than were the problems of fighting the war. The responsibility rests upon the shoulders of the people themselves, and they must be forever vigilant and alert to obtain good reliable men to represent them, and throw out those who would enact laws and regulations that put us as a nation under a yoke of imperialism.

SOMETIMES—ON SOME CALLS—
THE LONG DISTANCE
OPERATOR WILL SAY:

'Please limit your call to 5 minutes...
Others are waiting'

Many Long Distance calls go through about as fast as ever.

But sometimes there's an extra-heavy rush on certain circuits—especially to and from war-busy places.

Whenever that happens,
the operator will ask you to limit your Long Distance calls to 5 minutes.

The idea is to give everybody a fair share of the wires. That gets to be more and more important

Time is precious—and the more arms and dollars we give our fighting forces, the sooner the war will end, and the more lives that will be saved.

Sentinels of Health

Don't Neglect Them!

Nature designed the kidneys to do a marvelous job. Their task is to keep the flowing blood stream free of an excess of toxic impurities. The act of living—life itself—is constantly producing waste matter the kidneys must remove from the blood. If good health is to endure, when the kidneys fail to function as Nature intended, there is retention of waste that may cause body-wide distress. One may suffer nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—feet tired, nervous, all worn out.

Frequent, scanty or burning passages are sometimes further evidence of kidney or bladder disturbance.

The recognized and proper treatment is a diuretic medicine to help the kidneys get rid of excess poisonous body waste. See Doan's Pills. They have had more than forty years of public approval. Are endorsed the country over. Insist on Doan's. Sold at all drug stores.

Amazed At Results From Retonga, He Says

Lost Forty Pounds, Felt Weakened Almost To Point of Exhaustion, States Mr. Faulkner. Eats Plenty Now, Gains Fifteen Pounds, Thanks Retonga.

Among the latest to come forward with his strong endorsement of Retonga is Mr. John L. Faulkner, well known farm owner, stock raiser and merchant of Route 2, Mt. Sterling, Ky. Mr. Faulkner declares: "I don't believe anyone in Kentucky has suffered more than I have with the distress of indigestion. It looked as if I would never be able to eat solid food again. What food I forced filled my stomach with gas that felt like it would cut off my breath. Constipation forced me to take strong laxatives, and I ached from head to foot. Jumpy nerves kept me awake nights and I often felt so smothery I had to sit up nights to get my breath. I spent money and spent money, but felt I was doomed to continue suffering.

I will always be thankful for Retonga. From the very first bottle I could feel I had found the right medicine at last. My appetite is good, I eat anything and don't fear the gassy bloating and pain. All my distress is relieved, I don't have to take strong laxatives, and have regained fifteen pounds, feel strong and go about my work with my old time energy."

Retonga is a purely herbal gastric tonic combined with Vitamin B-1 and is intended to relieve such symptoms as suffered by Mr. Faulkner when due to loss of appetite, insufficient flow of gastric juices in the stomach, constipation and Vitamin B-1 deficiency. Retonga may be obtained at DeMyer Drug Co.

SOLDIER BOY WRITES EDITOR

Dear Paul:

The first 24-hrs. or each day belongs to the Army. After that my time is my own to write my wife, my mother and my kid brother, also in the Army, and my other friends. I'm in the 2d week of basic training with Infantry at Fort McClellan, Ala. I qualified for officers' candidate school, and will have an opportunity to go at the end of 13 weeks here.

Just to clear up a point in many minds concerning the Infantry. It is not a branch for men who do not have the necessary qualifications to belong to one of the "glamour" branches such as the Air Corps. The Infantry is a very important branch which has the respect of all Army men who know anything about it. It offers the best, most thorough and most practical training for actual combat. Fort McClellan has a high reputation in the country for training Infantry troops. For that reason I consider myself lucky that I should be sent here. If I am able to keep up the pace, I will be well able to take care of myself as well as a few of the enemy when I get "there"—and there's no doubt in my mind that I will get "there."

In one week, I have been over the obstacle course six times. You start by running full tilt across a telephone pole which has been laid across a ditch ten feet deep. If you don't fall in, your next obstacle is a ditch which you "broad jump." If you pass it without a twisted ankle, you then climb a specially built framework and cross it swinging your body, while holding on for dear life, from one bar to another. By this time your heart is pounding like a racing motor. You think your shoulders will pull out of their sockets. But you're not through—you still have a ten-foot wall to scale. You run like mad at it (which isn't so fast by this time). You try to hook your elbow over the top and pull yourself up, but if you are as weak as I am by that time you just run up against the wall and bounce back twice before you succeed in hooking that elbow over. When you leap or fall into the sawdust on the other side you are tempted to lie there from then on. But an officer's voice says, "Keep moving, soldier." You stagger to your feet, and by this time, you have made a complete circle and are ready to cross the telephone pole again, which leaves you where you started. It's really that bad, but you feel superior if you complete it because of 50 men who started, several have twisted ankles or broken limbs.

You work about 10 hours with a 5-minute break every hour. In addition to 10 hours physical training and drilling you attend lecture training movies, and demonstrations, and take notes. You are kept busy 16 hours a day. It's tough, but necessary—and it may save your neck. Men fall out, men have nervous breakdowns, men talk of desertion, but most men make the best soldiers in the world.

In my Company there are Jews, one Austrian and one Indian—with the exception of me, the rest are Yankees.

Tell everybody hello for me, for I miss the "home folks." Letters are always appreciated by the men in service, and those back home should write to them often. I'd better stop now, for if I don't I will have to write "free" on the envelope twice. TOM.

Jefferson Foresaw Need To Mobilize Manpower

Remember that old saying, "There's nothing new under the sun." Consider this, for instance! Thomas Jefferson, third president, inspirer of the Bill of Rights, and our first "Victory Gardener," thoroughly understood the need of total manpower mobilization in war-time. Military training in the colleges, classification of "the whole of our male citizens" for service, and allotment of "each age to the particular kind of service to which it was most competent" are some of the Jeffersonian conceptions that have renewed meaning and life in 1943.

Apparently, from Jefferson's words adoption of a selective service system was imminent in Congress a century before it became a reality in 1917, when he wrote James Monroe:

"... it proves more forcibly the necessity of obliging every citizen to be a soldier; this was the case with the Greeks and Romans and must be that of every free state. We must train and classify the whole of our male citizens, and make military instruction a regular part of collegiate education. We can never be safe until this is done."

Industry at the Front It does not take a doctor to tell you about the magnificent fighting equipment that American industry has produced and which is now in use on the world's battlefields. Everything from small arms to large-calibre cannon, from rubber lifeboats to flying fortresses, from radios to battleships and from jeeps to tanks, is included in the roster.

Emergency Rations. In addition, industry is equiping our fighting forces, as well as a large part of our Allies, with medical supplies, hospital field stations, and modern equipment necessary to protect the health and save the lives of our men wounded in action.

For instance, the American soldier today carries a sulfa drug with him which, should he be wounded, he uses immediately. This cuts down the possibilities of infection and greatly speeds recovery.

When he is reached by stretcher-bearers, wound-cleansing, pain-relieving, and other emergency treatments are administered.

RIISING TEMPO AIR WAR WILL CURTAIL GASOLINE

A thousand bombers raid Europe! Using about a million gallons of 100-octane gasoline.

Practically all high-octane gas comes from the U. S. When you consider a tanker's average load is less than 3,000,000 gallons, their slowness and long journeys, you get some idea of the difficulty of building up operational reserves in each war theatre.

Supplying our air force with high octane gasoline has cut into civilian supplies, because it utilized transportation facilities to provide our fighting forces.

Elvis J. Stahr
Of Fulton County
CANDIDATE FOR RE-ELECTION
To The Office Of
State Senator
First Kentucky District
SUBJECT TO THE ACTION OF DEMOCRATIC PRIMARY
August 7, 1943

TO THE VOTERS OF FIRST SENATORIAL DISTRICT, comprising Marshall, Graves, Hickman and Fulton Counties:

You know without the telling that a candidate for office this year faces unusual conditions in the rationing of tires and gasoline and in wartime economy, which prevent his getting about very much. Too, the remuneration received for serving as State Senator, the office to which I seek to be re-elected, which is a per diem during the sessions amounting to an average of but little more than four hundred dollars a year, does not justify an expensive race. Therefore, this letter may have to serve as my visit with many of you—a visit in which I shall tell you something about my record during the present term and my reasons for asking your endorsement for another term.

The State Senate is indeed a body of dignity and responsibility and you should wish to elect to it the best qualified of those who would legislate for you. Having been intimately associated with members of the law for many years as a specialist lawyer and as County Attorney and County Judge, I feel qualified to make suggestions and amendments to the statutes for the welfare and best interests of the people in my district and state. In recognition of my experience and legal training I was made Chairman of the important Senate Committee on Courts and Law in the first session of the Legislature. During my second session I was made Chairman of the Senate Utilities Committee and worked in passing the T. V. A. Enabling Act which promises to be of incalculable value to Western Kentucky. As a member of several other important committees I gave careful study to all measures brought before them and the Senate body. At the close of the first session I was accorded the honor of being appointed a member of the State Legislative Council and as such made several weeks' close study of the State's institutions and departments—their operation and their needs. I thereby gained first hand knowledge of our state's governmental and fiscal affairs which has been invaluable to me as a member of the Assembly. Any legislator, as he gains in knowledge and makes important contacts, increases by just so much his ability to serve his constituents and to carry out their wishes. That is why they are so often returned again and again.

I was born in Fulton County on a farm, was reared on a farm, and own a small farm and I know first hand of the farmer's many problems and vicissitudes. As County Judge I sponsored the farm agent movement and contributed my private means to help get the work started and keep it going. I have been a member of the Farm Bureau for years. Some of my best friends are farmers and I am deeply interested in their welfare and it shall be my purpose to assist the farmer in every way, and particularly in the great role he plays in the conduct of the war and the foundation for peace by providing food for all the people. And while touching on the subject of the war I wish to say that I am vitally interested in seeing this terrible war brought to an early victory and the safe return of your sons and my son now in the Armed Forces effected. I am for these boys now and also when peace and readjustment come.

I am acutely aware of the need for better paid teachers in order to safeguard the education and training of our greatest asset—our children and young people. The continuation of our "way of life" is dependent upon our schools. I was a teacher for several years and my interest in the work of our schools still holds. Whatever it takes to keep our schools functioning properly, you may count on me to support.

I favor a substantial increase in aid to our needy aged ones, to the blind, and to crippled children. I favor preventing our Old Age Pensioners from being harassed and annoyed by politics and politicians. As evidence of that, you may see Senate Bill No. 89 introduced by me and made a law during the 1942 session of the Legislature, which provides that all names of applicants for and recipients of old age benefits must be confidential and which makes it a heavy penalty to disclose the name of any Old Age Pensioner.

I am interested in legislation for the man who tills—whether in a white collar job or by the sweat of his brow. I commend, as do you, the magnificent job he is doing in production for this war. When historians write down the heroes of production in this war, they will spotlight those who served faithfully a life of necessity in the production of necessities that kept our fighting men and equipment in operation. I believe in fair wages and working conditions and I shall always be found ready to help bring about such adjustments between capital and labor as will serve their mutually interdependent needs and make our great Democracy a working reality.

Further, I am for good roads—especially farm to market roads; for the best health service; for improvement of conditions in all the welfare institutions of our state; for the freeing of all state-owned toll bridges at the earliest possible time. I am for whatever will benefit my district and the state, realizing that most laws are applicable to the state as a whole and that legislators must of necessity work for the good of all.

Obviously, it requires much revenue to fulfill the functions and the obligations which we have come to expect of the state and national governments—revenue to be derived from taxation. In view of this and of the burdens placed upon the people for the prosecution of the war, I favor continuous scientific study of the tax structure to the end that income from taxation may always be adjusted as soon as feasible to actual requirements. With this there should be the strictest economy and elimination of all waste in administering the state government and all its departments. Study—adjust—economize—by these methods I think—since the state debt has been paid—we can be relieved of some of our taxes and not add any new ones.

If, by the votes of the good people of this district I am returned to the Senate, I pledge that I will devote every effort to the task of helping to enact such legislation as will be for the best interests and greatest good of the people of this district and the Commonwealth of Kentucky. I will favor no county in this district above another. I have made no secret commitments or alignments. I will cooperate with the new governor in any sound, fair, and progressive state program.

I thank you for all past favors and assure you that I shall be most grateful for your vote and assistance in the Democratic primary on August 7. Is it too much to ask for a second term for a Fulton Countian?

VERY SINCERELY,

ELVIS J. STAHR
Hickman, Kentucky
