NUMBER TWENTY-THREE.

BOND QUOTA FOR FULTON COUNTY IS LARGEST EVER

Every Man, Woman and Child Must Buy War Bonds To Put Over Third War Loan Drive

The Third War Loan Drive to raise 15 billion dollars is now on! Have you purchased your "quota" yet, to help Fulton County go over the top and reach the goal of $287,000?

This is the largest quota yet set up for Fulton County, or the nation as a whole. It is $50,000 greater than was sold in this county during the Second War Loan Drive. $287,000 is a tremendous amount of money to raise in three weeks, but the people of this vicinity will do it, for they have never failed to boys on the fighting fronts.

Let us not become complacent about winning this war because the news is good at this time. Because war bond sales have topped the goal in the past is the reason that plenty of ammunition and supplies are getting to the armed forces. The greater the support from home, the easier it will be to reach that final victory, and the more lives of American boys will be saved.

War costs have kept pace with the change from defense to offense by the Allies. The daily war costs of $71,000,000 in 1942, increased to $198,000,000 a day in the fiscal year 1943, and will be increased $265,000,000 a day for the current year. That is $10,000,000 an hour.

It is apparent, then, that bond purchases must be increased in this campaign, it is pointed out by Clyde Williams, and J. A. Whipple, county 3rd war drive chairman and assistant chairman, respectively. War bond purchases are voluntary, whereas the men who are fighting this war have no choice. The men on the fighting fronts cannot let up in their efforts, and it is the duty of every patriotic, loyal citizen to "Back the Attack with War Bonds."

Leroy received $3.00 in war stamps. Ellen Gifford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Gifford, and Margaret Ann Newton, placed second and third in the girl's division. Each of the fifty-five contestants received a war stamp.

TO ALL NEWSPAPER PUBLISHERS

September 4, 1943

On the eve of the Third War Loan, I want to impress upon you how heavily we are depending upon the newspapers, and upon the businesses who sponsor newspaper advertisements, to carry our urgent message to the American people.

In the past, these industry sponsored advertisements have proved the backbone of our promotional campaign. I am sure they will prove no less in the coming Third War Loan Drive.

I hope you will pass this information along to those businesses and industries in your community who can and will help sponsor this vital local newspaper advertising.

We all know that raising fifteen billion dollars—no less than five billion of it from individuals—is going to be a tremendous task. We must take full advantage of every available source of support.

Sincerely,

H. MORGENTHAU, JR.
Secretary of the Treasury

Highway Department Asks Help To Keep Dead Animals Off Highways

The highway department, under the supervision of Mr. John E. Bard, Maintenance foreman, is working under difficulties due to the gasoline rationing and rubber shortage, keeping the highway free of dead animals and fowls.

Dead dogs have been collected by the highway department with wires tied to them indicating that they were not killed on the highway. This is a violation of the Kentucky State Highway Department Law. You are asked at this time to bury or burn all dead animals and fowls at the place they die.

The highway department does not travel on all highways daily as they did in the past. Animals that are left on the highways create quite a nuisance to the traveling public and the people living on the highways.

Be patriotic and help keep the highways free of dead animals.

SICKENING RECORD.

Local newspapers in two important defense centers carried accounts a short time ago of two disastrous fires. They were nothing unusual. Similar occurrences are taking place all over the country. In one of these fires, flames swept through a planing mill and lumber yard doing an estimated $150,000 damage. In the other fire, an entire block in a congested district was wiped out, leaving 200 persons homeless. Damage was estimated at $100,000. At the end of this year the total fire bill for the nation will amount to three or four hundred million dollars—a tremendous sum even in these days of billions.

Who is to blame for this tragic and disastrous fire loss? No probing in the ashes of ruined buildings is necessary to find the answer, because everyone is to blame. We are a careless nation. Any fire prevention authority is familiar with the sickening record, and can establish proof of our national carelessness with a recital of needless destruction that makes a joke of our touted war conservation efforts. The truth is, that there can be no real conservation until destruction of property by fire is effectively curbed. Also, as any fire prevention authority will testify, there can be no curbing of the fire loss in this country until individual citizens learn to take the simple precautions which are necessary to prevent it.

Many agencies are striving to make Americans fire conscious. Fire departments, city, state and Federal officials, together with private organizations, are constantly pounding home the lessons of fire prevention. If these lessons were but received in the spirit that they are given—a spirit of appreciation of the value of life and property—fire losses would curve downward, in an amazing short time.

NOTE TO COAL MINERS

Huey Long is reported to have said that when Fascism comes to America it will be done in the name of anti-Fascism.

Those who think that government ownership is a heaven-sent answer to the problems of the workingman, should consider three recent experiences in the United States: (1) The national government passed the Hatch Act, restricting substantially the liberties of public employees. Suppose we were all government employees, would we all be deprived of our political liberties? (2) When New York City, in 1940, took over the operation of the subways, Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, with a record of labor sympathy, announced that the right to strike and the closed shop would not be tolerated. (3) When the WPA workers went on strike, then President Roosevelt said: "You cannot strike against the government."

Blood poison bugs will always be at work so long as there are protruding nails and people who wound themselves on the nails.

Any piercing wound, especially those caused by rusty nails, are very serious. There is always the possibility of tetanus (lockjaw). Avoiding cuts, scratches and piercing wounds is the best way to avoid infection. This is just a matter of caution and common sense.

The house and yard must be kept free of any upturned boards with nails in them. The best practice is to pull the nail out of the board. If you turn the board over, someone may turn it back again. Also, watch where you are stepping or walking.

There are other sources, too, which cause dangerous wounds. Ice picks, needles, razors, and knives must be handled in the safest way to avoid the possibility of injury. Cans should be opened with can openers only, preferably the revolving motion type.

Use the safest tool in the safest way.

DOWN OUR ALLEY

Whenever the President leaves Washington the news floats about over the grapevine telegraph, but newspaper men are prohibited from telling where the President is. Recently, it was whispered that he was "somewhere in the world" with Winston Churchill, and speculation broadened to include Joseph Stalin in their company. But when FDR returned to Washington and it became known that the only international importance of the journey was the President and eight or ten buddies had been on a fishing trip to Canadian waters.

We wonder about the reticence of equipment manufacturers to speak out about the need of more trucks. Farmers, livestock growers, the steel industry, the food industry and other types of business are appealing to Washington for more trucks and trailers. No one knows better than the truck industry itself that we simply cannot go on and haul needful products over the highway to maintain both our battle and home fronts without more trucks and truck-trailers. When the freeze order was put on motor truck and trailer manufacture, the companies in this business felt they could help the nation in two very essential ways. First, by not complaining, even though they had doubts about the wisdom of the policy, and second, by devoting all of their facilities to the manufacture of war goods. But now quick action is needed to avoid a disastrous breakdown in a vital part of our transportation system.

The people just don't understand Russia. It is doubtful whether they ever will. Russia isn't at war with Japan. Stalin's government seems to appreciate the six millions of dollars of war and food supplies from United States. Still Stalin continues to complain about what he claims is the failure of United States and Britain to establish a western front. This, even though these forces have cleaned up Africa, Sicily, and are now in Italy, to wipe out Axis power in the Mediterranean area; brought the French people to a point where they are ready to rejoin our fighting forces. Besides, we have bombed the daylights out of Germany itself, and made it possible for Sweden to stop Hitler's force from carrying on their traffic between Norway and the German lines. The fact is the English speaking people and the Russians and Chinese don't believe in the same political and social theories as we do. Although both these united with us in fighting a common enemy, and there is no difference of opinion on that score. We should be able to play ball with them in future years.

First, we had a story about sagging war production that disturbed the public peace of mind. On the face of Manpower statements it appeared that about 300,000 fathers would be in uniform by December 31 of this year. Months ago Government agencies issued estimates that a fighting force of 11,000,000 men would be in uniforms by the end of this year.

Despite the fact that this is the greatest war of all times, there seems to be nothing in the records to show that the United States will actually use more than a fraction of its present 7,500,000 man army.

The women of Britain fight in the Factories

TWO EXAMPLES

AIRCRAFT FACTORIES
40% WOMENROYAL ORDNANCE FACTORIES
60% WOMEN

IN BRITAIN TODAY there are 6,750,000 women in full-time war jobs, and 350,000 in part-time work. This means that approximately one out of every two British women between the ages of 18 and 65 are engaged in war work. The poster pictured above shows the increasing percentage of women workers in two typical kinds of Britain's war factories.

American and British forces took Africa with less than 200,000 men, and have operated in Sicily and Italy with about 225,000 men. Speaker Rayburn says our total forces abroad are two million men. Neither the Germans nor the Russians have used 11,000,000 men. Therefore, it is not at all surprising that there is strong public disapproval of the Manpower order to draft fathers.

You might just as well make up your mind that the chances are far more than even that there will not be enough Axis enemies left on the firing line in Europe, or anywhere in the world to call for an increase in the present size of our armies, and other military forces. The enemy is on the run, even in the Pacific, from which spot General MacArthur has reported that Japan's heaviest hitting powers have been exhausted and that Japan is "now on a defensive."

Even World War I was over so suddenly that it surprised Wilson, Clemenceau and Lloyd George. Coming down to the present war we found Mussolini dropping out of the picture so fast it was hard to believe it. So prepare for a lot of surprises!

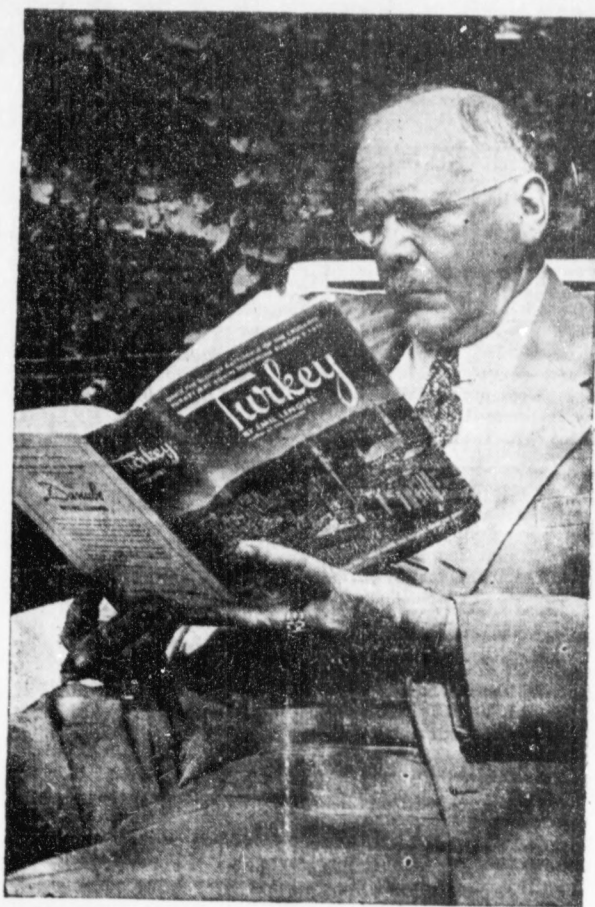

Meanwhile, it seems that it would be far better to keep some of our manpower at home to keep our farms and industries running. With only one fourth of our armed strength overseas, it stands to reason that something should be done to bolster the home front which is also vitally important to the war effort.

No better example of the interdependence of farms and industries has been offered in recent years than the effects of the increasing shortage of animal feeds. There has not been an appreciable decrease in feed available, but rather an increased demand which resulted from the progressive increase in the livestock production. Cattle and hog slaughter, long delayed while livestock was being increased, now will show continued improvement, and it is estimated that hog slaughter will be 50 per cent above pre-war levels beginning Oct. 1. Cattle slaughter will increase also.

These results will affect several industries, such as meat packers, tanners, shoe manufacturers, soap makers, etc., and etc., and railroad will be affected, too. Because they will have to organize their distribution of freight cars with extreme care to take care of the larger movements of meat, hides, tallow, soap and animals to be slaughtered.

Senators and Representatives are not disappointed in their expectations about finding out what their constituents think about the Administration and Congress. Reports indicate that the entire country stands behind the war program. On matters concerning the home front there is general and serious criticism about the

The U. S. Treasury closed its fiscal year with a deficit of $55.9 billion. Receipts fell below the estimate, totaling $23.4 billion for $1.2 billion less than the budget figure. The Treasury recently made public what has been interpreted as a preview of the new revenue bill to be proposed before Congress. This took the form of a recommendation that individual income tax rates be revised upward and exemptions downward, beginning in 1944, with a view to increasing the receipts from this source from $20 billion to $30 billion a year.

From where I sit...

by Joe Marsh

Grandma Hoskins knows a lot about history—but when we asked her where the first brewery was built in America, she wouldn't take sides.

"You see," says Grandma, "wherever the colonists settled, one of the first things they thought about was food and beer... In fact, one reason why the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock was because the Mayflower was runnin' short of beer."

Well, that was a new one on us, but Grandma showed it to us —just as it was written in the Mayflower's log. And it seems that all through our early American history beer sort of tempered the hardships and helped to make us a tolerant, moderate people.

From where I sit, beer is the American drink of moderation and friendliness—kind of a symbol of our personal liberty.

CITIZENS JOIN WITH K. E. A. IN STUDYING SCHOOL NEEDS

Public interest in education is shown by the increased activities of various civic, professional and industrial organizations throughout the state.

There met recently in Louisville a group of lay people representing many interests who discussed the problems of education. The group effected a voluntary organization which will be known as Continuing Council on Public Education. The chief function of this organization will be to assist school leaders in the matter of imparting to the parents and the public, information about the schools and their needs in this serious time and to formulate plans to counteract the teacher - salary - and - shortage - crisis.

Under direction of county and city superintendents, a series of public conferences are to be held throughout the state. These conferences will be purely local centering around the individual school. Persons who are informed on the problems of the schools will talk to the people in every school community about the need for greater support of the schools. Literature which has been specially prepared will be distributed, and with the cooperation of the press, social, civic and industrial organizations of all localities, it is hoped that great progress will be made toward the problems of salaries and closed schools.

Organized groups participating in the program of publicizing the critical plight of the schools are as follows: American Association of University Women (Kentucky Branch), American Legion, Department of Superintendents, Farm Bureau, Independent League of Women Voters, Kentucky Education Association, K. E. A. Planning Board, Kentucky Federation of Women Clubs, Kentucky Negro Organizations, Kentucky School Board Members Association, Kentucky State Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, Kiwanis Clubs, Lions Clubs, Parent Teachers Association, Rotary Clubs, Sportsmen's Clubs, State Department of Education, and the State Federation of Labor.

2. What are Independent Districts?

Answer—They are cities of one of the first five classes, or an independent graded district that has 200 or more white children.

3. Where do we get the money to run the schools?

Answer—From County or Independent District taxes, and by appropriation by the legislature from the money paid in to the state as state taxes.

4. How are state support and local support of schools approximately divided?

Answer—The state pays about 40 per cent of the cost and the local district about 60 per cent.

5. How much tax can a county district levy for schools?

Answer—Seventy-five cents on the hundred dollars. (This may be raised by the sub-districts voting as such in favor of an increase.)

6. How much tax may a city (independent district) levy for schools?

Answer—Different classes of cities may levy different amounts.

(a) A first class city (Louisville) may levy $1.00 on each hundred dollars of property.

(b) An independent district which has a second class city in it may levy as much as $1.25.

(c) An independent district that has within it a city of the third class may levy $1.50 on each one hundred dollars worth of taxable property.

(d) An independent district that has within it a city of the third class may levy $1.50 on each one hundred dollars worth of taxable property.

(e) An independent district that has within it a city of the fourth class may levy $1.50 on each one hundred dollars worth of property.

7. How are cities classified?

Answer—As to population. First class, over 100,000. Second class, 20,000 to 100,000. Third class, 8,000 to 20,000. Fourth class, 3,000 to 8,000. Fifth class, 1,000 to 3,000. Sixth class, less than 1,000.

8. Why should one district be allowed to levy more taxes for schools than another district?

Answer—There is no good reason. The children of one district deserve as good schools as children in any other district.

9. How much money did the legislature appropriate for the public schools for 1942-1943 and 1943-1944?

Answer—$9,600,000 and $9,700,000, respectively.

10. How is this money divided among the schools?

Answer—the total amount is divided by 718,548, (the number of pupils in the census.) This gives $13.49 for each pupil in the state. The state sends this amount for each census pupil to each district in the state.

11. What became of the $658,634 which the governor gave to the schools?

Answer—$558,823 of it was sent to the various districts just before June 30, and will provide about 77 cents for each pupil and is to be used by the districts to raise the salaries of the teachers in those districts. The remainder of it—$126,406 will be added to the $400,000 Equalization Fund and the total total will be distributed to districts which could not, by state and district taxes together, raise as much as $30.00 for the schooling of each pupil in the district.

An Open Letter TO OUR BOYS In the Armed Forces

You can Count on the People in This Community 100%

BOYS... yours is a tough job. Fighting this war is no fun. We know that... and this letter is to tell you that the people in this community are back of you to the limit... with everything they've got.

Here at home there is a serious pulpwood shortage. More pulpwood is needed and needed urgently for blood plasma containers, rayon for parachutes, smokeless powder, food cases and a thousand and one other things you boys need.

Well, we're starting a drive right now in this community to cut more pulpwood.

If we can't shoulder a gun the least we can do is shoulder an axe or a saw.

Our government says that it would take only 3 extra days of work this year for each able-bodied man to do the job that's needed. This is little enough to ask of any of us.

Well, if 3 extra work days will bring you boys home sooner... or even save one boy's life... we will put in the 3 extra days... and gladly.

We know our people and know the stuff they are made of. They have been fighting this War on the home front every day—buying War Bonds, working in war factories, on farms, and cutting pulpwood. But, if more pulpwood is needed, you will get it. This town and its people when called on always come through... and they won't fail you now.

We will back you up with Blood, Sweat and Trees.

WOODCUTTERS, FARMERS, CITIZENS:

This pulpwood shortage is acute. The situation is serious. We must act quickly. Uncle Sam is asking for only 3 extra days of work at regular pay. Enlist today... it's your patriotic duty. Get your button that shows you are in this Victory Pulpwood Drive. Don't let anyone say, "some boy died because you failed."

Ever think about Running a Factory?

If you've ever run a farm or dairy or store, there are a lot of things about running a factory that you'd find pretty familiar. Things like working any and all hours, training green help, planning for months ahead without letting the planning interfere with the job of the moment.

These are the responsibilities of management. And the peculiar American ability to meet and lick these problems means a lot today, both on the food-producing and weapon-producing fronts.

Ability to manage isn't picked up overnight. For good management is a skill just as much as good workmanship—learned the hard way.

It won't be forgotten overnight, either. For it is these men who, on farm and in factory, have actually produced the things from which our high living standard is derived, who can and will, by working together, give every American a more abundant life in the peacetime years to come. Grocer Gives Retonga Full Credit In His Case

"It's The Best Medicine I Ever Used," Declares Mr. Pennington. Eats, Sleeps And Feels Fine Now, He States.

Among the outstanding men and women in Southeastern Kentucky who are gratefully praising Retonga for the relief this noted stomachic and Vitamin B-1 medicine gave them is Mr. Charley Pennington, of Cawood, Ky., grocer, Deputy Sheriff, and head of a large and widely known family. Discussing his case, Mr. Pennington states:

"For several years I had to be very careful of my diet or I would suffer badly from heartburn and gas pains in my stomach. I suffered so badly from constipation that I had to keep changing laxatives to get any effect. At night I seemed to get only an hour or two of real restful sleep, and I felt so tired out all the time it was hard to look after my store.

"Retonga relieved me so remarkably that I now eat three hearty meals every day, I sleep fine, and that troublesome constipation is also relieved. I feel so much stronger that looking after my store is again a pleasure. Retonga is the best medicine I ever used."

Retonga is a purely herbal gastric tonic combined with liberal quantities of Vitamin B-1 deficiency, constipation, insufficient flow of gastric juices in the stomach, and loss of appetite. Accept no substitute. Retonga may be obtained at DeMyer Drug Store. adv.

COMMUNITY BUILDING VITAL TO WORLD PEACE

"Churches of 43 Protestant denominations, 31 state councils of churches and religious education, and more than 600 city councils and ministerial associations will take part in the observance of Religious Education Week," it was announced today by Dr. Roy G. Ross, general secretary of the International Council of Religious Education, sponsor of the program.

"Community Foundations" is to be the theme of this thirteenth annual celebration, September 26, through October 3, in which more than 90 percent of American Protestantism will participate. The observance is part of the four year United Christian Education Advance program.

"Christians can lead a divided and war torn world into a world community only as they work for community building, build where they live," Dr. Ross stated in announcing the theme for the observance. "Through united action, the churches can reach every person with Christian teaching, a major step in developing spiritual values in local communities and in the world community."

ALARMING UPSWING IN CRIME AMONG WOMEN AND GIRLS

The Quarterly FBI Police Conference will be held in the Floral Hall, Paducah Fairgrounds, 28th and Monroe Streets, Paducah, from 1:30 to 4:00 p.m., Sept. 16, H. K. Moss, special agent stated this week.

The Hon. Brady M. Stewart, McCracken County Judge, will speak on the subject of "Juvenile Delinquency;" and the Hon. Holland Bryan, Commonwealth Attorney, Paducah, will speak in the subject of "Admissibility of Fingerprint Evidence in Kentucky Courts."

The use of fingerprints in nation defense work will be discussed by a representative of FBI. Law enforcement officers of this area are urgently requested to attend.

"The alarming upswing in crime among women and girls points to the need for renewed efforts to keep the home front clean, wholesome and strong," FBI stated. "Boom conditions and 'easy money' in the hands of youthful persons, together with a possible let-down in the influence of the home, are factors which must be offset in designing programs to combat the general upswing curve among women and girls, and the increases in certain types of crimes committed by boys."

OUR SACRED FREEDOM MUST BE PRESERVED

Freedom of speech is a keystone in the American way of life. Take it away, and the torch of liberty will surely flicker out.

The conquered people know—now—how precious this freedom is. Today, they can't speak freely without fear of the bite of a whip, the slow torture of a concentration camp, or death.

But the freedom of speech must not be taken away from Americans. To preserve that liberty we're working and fighting and sacrificing as never before. What's more we're going to win this war. How long, we don't know—but win, we will.

Our enemies can find smashing proof of that in the courage and the determination of American fighting men; in the overwhelming number of planes and tanks and guns that are rolling off the production lines; and in the huge volume of war materials and supplies and fighting men that are being transported to the battlefronts.

AMERICA FIRST—BUT ALWAYS AMERICANS

By RUTH TAYLOR

America first—but always American. We have let the isolationist take the phrase "America First" and pervert it to selfish ends. America first we agree with—but not with the "and to hell with the rest of the world" spirit. They claim they are the only real Americans, the true patriots.

But—after all, when WE say America first, what do WE mean?

We mean that we will keep the ideals that have made America first among nations, first in our hearts and in our lives. Not only will we be "from many one"—but one for the many. We will work one for all, not all for one.

We mean that we believe in the equality of all men before the law with equal access to justice in fact. Or as Sumner Welles phrased it, "The equality of individuals, like the equality of people cannot be granted by fiat. Equality depends on their own achievements and upon their own intrinsic worth. But to equality of human rights, and to equality of opportunity, every human being is by Divine Right entitled. That is the essence of our democratic faith." We will put this faith into action by not discriminating against any of our fellow citizens, our neighbors in this America, whether they be rich or poor, Black or White, Jew or Gentile, Americans by birth or by choice.

We mean that we believe in the Constitution of the United States as the framework of the form of government under which we want to live. We will therefore see to it that our Bill of Rights, and its corresponding bill of duties is not infringed upon by us in any particular.

We mean that we believe in the system of free enterprise under which we have flourished, a system free from compulsory labor, irresponsible private power, arbitrary public authority and unregulated monopolies. We mean that we believe in an opportunity for productive work at a fair wage and under good standards for every man or woman who wants to work.

We mean that we believe in the freedom of the self-governed, the restraints upon our tongue and pen those of self-control and good taste, not the power of the secret police.

We mean that we believe in majority rule and that we will willingly and cheerfully abide by the decision of the majority—until the next election—cooperating with our fellow Americans to build a finer, stronger and more prosperous nation.

We mean that we believe in the great tradition for which America stands. We mean that we believe in an America so strong, so self-contained that it is capable of retaining its individual integrity while living in the brotherhood of hope and union with men of every race, or nationality.

America first—yes,—but let US keep it always American!

Waiting for a Voice from Home

Tankman, flier, doughboy—Pete and John and Bill—are waiting tonight to hear a certain voice on the wires. It's a voice that can put more spring in their stride, give them more determination to do their best until firing ceases. For Pete, John and Bill are waiting to hear—a voice from home.

When you're about to place a long distance call, won't you please remember these fellows who need a few minutes—before tomorrow's hard assignments—to talk to the homefolks? Won't you remember, too, that most of these men have to call in the evening, during that crowded period from 7 to 10? And because burdened lines can't be expanded now to meet all demands, won't you postpone your call until the less-busy hours?

When you avoid making long distance calls, or speak briefly if you talk, you're helping relieve the nation's war-crowded communications system. You're also helping bring "a voice from home" to the boys awaiting it. Pete, John and Bill will be grateful.

Wartime Meals With Rationed Foods

BY VIANNA D. BRAMBLETT,
Nutrition Consultant, Station WLW

To stretch precious ration points to a better advantage and to be able to afford some luxuries for which the homemaker may not have previously had points to spare, many grocers are suggesting one day of Pointless Meals each week.

Planning meals for one Pointless day a week can be fun, but it does take time and it does mean planning ahead. First, choose the main dishes, working in non-rationed protein foods such as poultry, fish, eggs, or pre-cooked dried beans, combine these with cereals, milk, or vegetables, in hearty soups, salads, loaves, stews, or casserole dishes. Choose foods in or near the height of their season, those that are relatively plentiful now such as eggs, young cabbage, green beans, new corn, and tomatoes. Then check your menus by the Government Nutrition Yardstick of the Seven Basic Food Groups.

Use generous amounts of milk and cottage cheese, not only for protein but for vitamins and minerals as well. Milk can be used in sauces, soups, custards, puddings and as a beverage. Look through any good cook book, you can find cottage cheese used in main dishes, salads and desserts.

Mrs. Bramblett

Cereals play an important part in Pointless meals also and can be used three times daily in a wide variety of dishes. Cereals combine well with eggs and milk to work in the day's protein requirement. Not only are whole grain or enriched cereals excellent energy foods, but they contain valuable amounts of protein, minerals, and the B-Vitamins. Include bread in a variety of ways, sliced, and in a variety of main dishes and desserts.

Vegetables are Important

Our government is asking us to give special attention to fresh vegetables now, especially since two of our chief sources of vitamin A — butter and margarine — are scarce. It is more important than ever that we make generous use of such vitamin A foods as green leafy and green and yellow vegetables. We can depend on citrus fruits and tomatoes for vitamin C, but since it is easily destroyed in cooking, meals should be planned to supply at least one raw fruit or vegetable every day.

Spreads for bread presents a problem too in pointless meals. However, spread or sandwich filler of minced raw vegetables — mixed with salad dressing — helps make up for the Vitamin A butter and vitaminized margarine normally supplied. Peanut butter, cottage cheese, chopped nuts, and chopped hard cooked eggs make tasty spreads and contribute protein too. Nor should we forget marmalade, jelly, honey, apple butter or molasses, or gravy made from meat drippings.

"No-Ration-Point" Meals
To help homemakers, here are menus for three pointless meals for one day this week. The figure alongside each dish shows where it falls into the Government Seven Basic Food Groups.

BREAKFAST

- Cantaloupe (3)
- Scrambled Eggs (5)
- Bran Muffins (6)
- Strawberry Preserves (4)

LUNCH

- New Corn Soup (3-4)
- Fresh Fruit Salad (3)
- Hot Refrigerator Enriched Rolls (6)
- Hot Tea — Cocoa (4)

DINNER

- Steamed Fish with Cucumber Sauce (5)
- New Limas (3)
- Fresh Green Salad with Tomatoes (1-2)
- Enriched Bread — (6)
- Preserves
- Chiffon Pie (using Vanilla pudding mix and graham cracker crust)
- Tea — Milk (2)

(NOTE: The Corn Soup is for appetizing. Butter is not included because of rationing. "Hot" means hot, although it is not a serving temperature, some of which should be served hot for proper nutrition.)

RECIPE OF THE WEEK

Frozen desserts, quick and easy to make, are delicacies worthy of being served at the most elaborate meal. At the same time, they fit into the simplest menu. Made with a custard foundation, they are rich in food value, and are counted as good body-building foods. More easily made are the crushed fruit and whipped cream combinations, with corn syrup or sugar for sweetening, and a pinch of salt and some lemon juice to bring out the natural flavor of the fruit.

To make peach ice cream, add a pint of cream whipped to 3 cups of crushed peaches, 1 cup of white corn syrup, juice of half a lemon and a pinch of salt. Freeze in mechanical refrigerator, stirring frequently.

Foods specialists at the Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics recommend this unusual frozen combination of grated apples and whipped cream.

Apple Freeze

1 c. cream, 1 cup granulated sugar, 2 c. chopped, grated or ground raw apple, 1-4 tsp. salt.

Prepare the apple with the peeling left on by grating, grinding or chopping. Add the sugar and salt, then in the whipped cream; pour into a freezing tray and freeze approximately four hours. Chopped peanuts or black walnuts may be added if desired.

Menu: Stuffed pork chops, sweet potatoes, string beans, mixed vegetables salad, whole wheat rolls and butter, apple freeze.

SPEAKING OF HEALTH

By Dr. VICTOR G. HEISER
Medical consultant National Association of Manufacturers

THE SNEEZES

The occasional sneeze may be slightly embarrassing if the reaction is too violent and explosive. To sneeze many times a day, and perhaps many times an hour for many days is certainly nothing to joke about. And yet, that is the lot of those who are afflicted by a condition generally called hay fever, or allergic coryza, or vasomotor rhinitis.

It all means that especially during the summer months when pollens are widely distributed in the atmosphere, a catarrhal inflammation of the eyes and of the nose and throat affects those who are susceptible. The spring type is almost always due to tree pollens, the summer type of pollens of grasses, the fall type of pollens of ragweed.

Physicians have for some years recognized that heredity may have an important part in so-called hay fever. Abnormalities of the nose as well as nutritional deficiencies and geographic location also contribute. A general lowering of resistance may start an attack. Likewise, changes in temperature, drafts, strong odors, or inhalation of dusts can bring on the condition.

The Evidence

Symptoms or evidences of hay fever may appear almost immediately after pollen has been inhaled, or there may be a delay of one or more hours. Itching of the nose and roof of the mouth as well as of the throat plus violent sneezing are sure-enough signs. Itching of the eyelids, tears, nasal discharge, stuffiness in the ears, headache are further signs, though a cough may or may not be present.

Severe asthmatic attacks may also occur. The sufferer usually recognizes these unmistakable signs, for they may occur from year to year unless treatment has been of some help.

The Treatment

Fortunately, in the case of hay fever as with many other conditions, prevention is better than cure. Prevention involves destruction of the offending weed over a wide area, correction of nasal abnormalities, change of residence to pollen-free areas when ever possible, injection of pollen exceeding the time of expected attacks over a period of months pre-treatment, and care not to chill the body.

Industry, as usual, has come to the rescue by manufacturing much-needed drugs for these victims. These, however, should be taken only on a physician's prescription. Keeping doors and windows of sleeping quarters closed and the avoidance of dust-raising may lessen the exposure. Pollen-filtering devices are available, though fairly expensive. A determination to face the seasonal difficulty, to take indicated measures, and medical preventive treatment can help the sneezer over his worst difficulties.

Aid to Enemy

"Any American who wilfully neglects to pay his taxes on time or to invest every cent he can in War Bonds is surely giving aid and comfort to the enemy. . . . We have a job to do and we are all called for service to our country. Our dollars are called to service too. Let us ask ourselves, 'Shall we be more tender with our dollars than with the lives of our sons?' " — Secretary Morgenthau.

MY JIMMY NEEDS YOUR HELP!

Jimmy's over there now, fighting our enemies to keep the Stars and Stripes flying. "Before he left, he told me they are going to need more equipment, more ammunition and more food for INVASION of enemy lands. "The more bonds the folks at home buy — the more they'll be helping us fighters to win." That's what Jimmy said.

The 3rd War Loan of 15 billion dollars must produce the money to pay for these essentials to victory. Buy at least one EXTRA $100 Bond besides your regular bond purchases—many will have to invest thousands! Don't think that what you do isn't important. It will take all every individual in America can raise to put this 3rd War Loan over the top. So buy more bonds out of your pay—out of extra income—out of "rainy-day" funds! The quicker you do that the more you'll help Jimmy and our other boys smash through to Victory. What do you say? It's the safest, soundest investment you'll ever make! Let's go!

HOME DRY CLEANING

A match, lighted cigarette, forgotten pilot light of the stove, or a spark generated by rubbing cloth could cause an explosion and fire in home dry cleaning.

The National Safety Council reports that one in every six accidental deaths in America is caused year over 6,000 people died from these causes, which was an increase of ten per cent over 1941.

Poisoning by toxic fumes is another danger in home dry cleaning. The best advice is not to do any home dry cleaning. However, if you insist, the following should be carefully heeded:

Use a nonflammable fluid. Nonexplosive products can still be inflammable. Do the cleaning outside the house where the wind will carry the vapors away. Also, dry the garments outside. Keep the children and pets away.

Be safe! Pay careful attention to these instructions.

A CALL TO ARMS AGAINST ACCIDENTS ON THE "FARM FRONT"

1941, the year when Japan so treacherously attacked America at Pearl Harbor, was also marked by a most destructive attack on the home front by our great enemy Accident. Accidents in 1941 took the lives of 102,500 Americans, more than twice the number of Americans killed in the First World War, and made 350,000 Americans permanent cripples, with an estimated cost of four billion dollars.

The manpower lost would have built 23,000 flying fortresses, made 69 battleships, or produced more than our annual wheat crop. These facts should make us all deeply safety conscious. We should appreciate the truth of the statement: "Never before have we had so little time in which to do so much."

Even without considering the loss to the war effort, these accidents caused a great deal of suffering and unhappiness in our homes.

The tragedy in the accident situation is that they are caused by little acts of thoughtlessness and can be prevented by carefulness.

Less thought has been given to accident prevention in farming than in any other occupation. Farm people need to become safety-minded.

The subsidies, ostensibly to "hold the line," are in themselves inflationary. But the main criticism that can be made against them is that they simply will not work. Our problem is too big. So big, apparently, that our hydra-headed food bureaucracy fails to see the fundamental differences between it and Britain's, and fails to work out a solution tailored to fit our own peculiar needs.—Dairy Farmers Digest.

HERE IS THE GRAND OLE OPRY!

Jamup and Honey, World's Foremost Blackface comedians To Appear Here With Their Grand Ole Opry Cast

A mammoth tent will be brought to town to house the Grand Ole Opry, popular radio program of station WSM, Nashville, Tennessee. Heading this great show will be the well known blackface comedy team, Jamup and Honey, and Minnie Pearl, "The Pride of Grindler's Switch." These fine acts will be backed up musically by Pee Wee King and the Golden West Cowboys. All of this adds up to a fine evening of fun and entertainment. This is the third season under canvas for Jamup and Honey. The first season they were supported by Roy Acuff and His Smoky Mountain Boys; the second by Bill Monroe and His Blue Grass Boys. However, this year the boys say they have by far the most entertaining show with Pee Wee King, Minnie Pearl, and the Golden West Cow-

Honey Wilds ("Honey") and Bunny Biggs ("Jamup") say they prepare all winter for the summer tent show season. Last winter all equipment was gone over from stem to stern—new seats were added in the tent auditorium, both general admission and reserves, and a new thirty foot middle piece was added to the tent proper. Another light plant was purchased, making three light plants carried by the show, two in use at all times and one for emergency purposes. The comfort of the customer is the prime consideration of Wilds and Biggs at all times.

Regular listeners to The Grand Ole Opry program know that Jamup and Honey tour under canvas each summer and thousands of people.

They will show at the Fair Grounds on September 16th, the show will start promptly at 8:00 o'clock.

LAYING PLANS FOR WORLD OF TOMORROW

On all sides are expressions about what the world of tomorrow will be like; what the peace platform will be; what should be done to prepare for the day when the war will be over, and the armed forces and war workers, will return to normal pursuits and occupations.

National leaders, statesmen, and civic leaders throughout the country, are turning their attention to plans for the future. None want to see this country lapse into the coma it experienced after the first World War.

But, while it is recognized generally among conservatives, that governmental controls and centralized government should be restricted after the present conflict, there are some who would have the federal government still dole out millions and permit the master-minding bureaucrats pan a modern Utopia. But, on the other hand, conservatives in Congress are of a different opinion, and believe industry, private enterprise and individual initiative are the main-spring of national and individual progress and economic welfare.

Throughout the nation, groups are gathering now, laying plans for the future of their country, their state, and their community. Decentralized and united individual effort on the part of the various states and communities of the nation will do more toward solving both local and national problems, they believe.

Here at home in Fulton, the people themselves can play a major role in bringing their section back to normal when victory has been won. Fortunately, this section will not be faced with the aggravated problems that will face large metropolitan centers, but by solving our own, we help others to solve theirs.

Mothers have sent their sons to fight for the "Four Freedoms," and when they return home they will want to find those freedoms preserved. The day will come when socialized and centralized government to the detriment of states rights and "government of the people, by the people and for the people" will have to be surrendered again to the will of the people themselves.

Meanwhile, our municipal, county, state and national leaders, realizing this, will do well to prepare for the day when new problems will have to be faced and met by the people. Vigilance is the way to preserve liberty and avoid economic stress.

BUSES CARRY HALF OF INTER-CITY PASSENGERS

Despite war-time restrictions, buses are now carrying more than half of all inter-city passengers and could assume an even greater burden of essential travel if road speed limitations were eased, according to the National Association of Motor Bus Operators.

Many of the restrictions which hampered the bus operators in meeting war-time transportation demands have been partially overcome, the association points out, but the industry could make a greater contribution if the highway speed limit for the intercity carriers were raised. The association's report shows that the reduction in maximum speed to 35 miles per hour has failed to produce appreciable savings in either rubber or motor fuel so far as the intercity bus industry is concerned. On the other hand, the slower speeds have interfered with the efficiency of bus operation by lengthening schedules thirty per cent, reducing carrying capacity, requiring more manpower in driver and mechanic personnel, and causing undue wear upon engines, transmissions, and clutches.

Leaders of the industry contend that if intercity buses were allowed to operate at a maximum of 45 miles per hour on the open highway, a substantially increased number of passengers could be carried without additional equipment or personnel.

The extent of the industry's contribution to war-time transportation needs is reported in a survey of current operating conditions that was made for the association by impartial investigators. The findings have been presented to government agencies and fact-finding organizations to acquaint them with the vital part the bus industry is playing in the war effort and to indicate how the easing of certain restrictions would enable the highway passenger carriers to assume even greater travel burdens.

SILO SIMPKINS SAYS

Observe the most prosperous farmer in your community. Doesn't he have cows, pigs, hens and a garden?

To help farmers with their labor problems, county farm and home agents in Tennessee have placed over 12,000 workers.

Dairymen are always busy but so are bacteria in the cream and milk. Stop them "cold" by cooling milk quickly and proper handling thereafter.

An abundance of feed is the first milk and eggs, and other animal requirement in producing the meat foods now in such great demand for the war effort.

Reports from U. S. farmers of intentions to increase by 21 percent the number of sows farrowing this fall, as compared with last year, has brought a statement from the Food Distribution Administration that feed problems will be intensified by increasing the number of fall pigs to that extent. Washington says a 15 percent increase is plenty.

Mrs. Mary Barber of Johnson Grove community and Mrs. C. E. Weeks spent Saturday with Mrs. Carl King.
