CITIZENS JOIN WITH K. E. A. IN STUDYING SCHOOL NEEDS

Public interest in education is shown by the increased attention of various civic, professional and industrial organizations toward the schools.

There are many questions that need study, and the Kentucky Education Association (K. E. A.) is planning to study these questions. The program for this purpose was adopted at the Fall meeting of K. E. A. The first task of this committee is to have the superintendents of all districts in the state give detailed reports of the educational work in their respective districts.

The program is a cooperative one, and it is hoped that this study will be of great value to all the superintendents of the state's districts.

A summary of the program and the tasks of the superintendent committees will be distributed, and with this information the people of the state will be able to judge the value of the reports and the work of the committees.

Only 3 extra days of work this year for each able-bodied man and woman. Fighting this war is no fun. We know that... with every tiling they've got. We've lost too many good men and those "in the know" to start moving packages for us. Every single thing they've got, we're going to make sure is in the right place, at the right time, for the right job. We know our people and know the stuff they've got. We know we're going to win this War on the home front every day—buying War Bonds, working in war factories.

BOYS... yours is a tough job. Fighting this war is no fun. We know that... and this letter is to tell you that the people in this community are back of you to the limit... with everything they've got.

Here at home there is a serious pulpwood shortage. More pulpwood is needed and needed urgently for blood plasma containers, rayon for parachutes, smokeless powder, food cans and a thousand and one other things you boys need.

Well, we're starting a drive right now in this community to cut more pulpwood. If we can't shoulder a gun the least we can do is shoulder an axe or a saw.

Our government says that it's going to take only 2 extra days of work this year for each able-bodied man to do the job that's needed. This is little enough to ask of any of us.

Ever think about Running a Factory?

If you’re ever in a farm or dairy area, there are a lot of interesting things about farming that you might not have noticed. From the working men and all the chores, to the grain elevators and the farms themselves, there are many different aspects of farming that are interesting to see.

For instance, have you ever noticed how many different types of farming there are in a given area? There are large-scale farmers and smaller scale farmers, and each has its own unique set of challenges and opportunities. Some farmers are focused on growing crops, while others are raising livestock. Some are using modern farming techniques, while others are relying on traditional methods.

Despite these differences, there is one thing that all farmers seem to have in common, and that is a deep appreciation for the land they work on. From the soil that supports their crops to the water that quenches their thirst, farmers are constantly reminded of the importance of their land and the challenges it presents.

One of the most interesting things about farming is the way that it can bring people together. From farm auctions to local fairs, farmers are always looking for ways to share their knowledge and experience with others. Whether it’s through a community garden or a local farm tour, farmers are always eager to welcome new people into their world.

As we continue to learn about farming and its many different aspects, it’s important to remember that it is a truly unique and fascinating industry. From the challenges that farmers face to the many different ways they can work the land, there is always something new and interesting to discover about farming.

Wartime Meals With Rationed Foods

BY MAMIE D. BRAMBLETT, Nutrition Consultant

As we struggle through times of rationing, it is important to remember that vitamins and minerals are as essential to us as are the foodstuffs themselves. Many of our daily foods are not as rich in the vitamins and minerals as we need them to be. This is true of some of our favorite foods, but it is not true of all of them. Some of our favorite foods are rich in vitamins and minerals, and these should be included in our diets as much as possible.

Vegetables are important in a rationed diet because they are rich in vitamins and minerals. They should be included in the diet as much as possible. A well-balanced diet includes a variety of foods from each of the seven basic food groups. These groups are meats, fish, and poultry; milk and milk products; fruits and vegetables; breads and cereals; fats and oils; and sweets.

Fruits, although rich in vitamins and minerals, are not as rich in vitamins and minerals as are the vegetables. However, they should be included in the diet as much as possible. Some of our favorite fruits are rich in vitamins and minerals, and these should be included in our diets as much as possible.

The government recommends that we eat a well-balanced diet that includes foods from each of the seven basic food groups. These groups are meats, fish, and poultry; milk and milk products; fruits and vegetables; breads and cereals; fats and oils; and sweets. These foods provide the necessary nutrients for good health.

In conclusion, it is important to remember that vitamins and minerals are as essential to us as are the foodstuffs themselves. It is important to include a variety of foods from each of the seven basic food groups in our diets. This will ensure that we get the necessary nutrients for good health.
